The Russian Government has ordered that the Jewish and Catholic rights which have been enjoyed by every other country, and that the Jews shall be forced to live in the cities of the country for their residence, and that the Jews shall be forced to live in the cities of the country for their residence, and that the Jews shall be forced to live in the cities of the country for their residence

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.
W. I. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY,
AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XX. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, AUGUST 12, 1887. No. 32.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its limitations as in its authorities."—MADISON.

Rates of Advertising

Space	1 W	2 W	1 M	3 M	12 M
1 in.	$1.00	$1.50	$2.00	$5.00	$10.00
2 in.	1.50	2.00	3.00	8.00	15.00
3 in.	2.00	2.50	4.00	10.00	20.00
4 in.	2.50	3.00	5.00	12.00	25.00
5 in.	3.00	3.50	6.00	14.00	30.00
6 in.	3.50	4.00	7.00	16.00	35.00
7 in.	4.00	4.50	8.00	18.00	40.00
8 in.	4.50	5.00	9.00	20.00	45.00
9 in.	5.00	5.50	10.00	22.00	50.00
10 in.	5.50	6.00	11.00	24.00	55.00
11 in.	6.00	6.50	12.00	26.00	60.00
12 in.	6.50	7.00	13.00	28.00	65.00
13 in.	7.00	7.50	14.00	30.00	70.00
14 in.	7.50	8.00	15.00	32.00	75.00
15 in.	8.00	8.50	16.00	34.00	80.00
16 in.	8.50	9.00	17.00	36.00	85.00
17 in.	9.00	9.50	18.00	38.00	90.00
18 in.	9.50	10.00	19.00	40.00	95.00
19 in.	10.00	10.50	20.00	42.00	100.00
20 in.	10.50	11.00	21.00	44.00	105.00
21 in.	11.00	11.50	22.00	46.00	110.00
22 in.	11.50	12.00	23.00	48.00	115.00
23 in.	12.00	12.50	24.00	50.00	120.00
24 in.	12.50	13.00	25.00	52.00	125.00

All Electo's must be solid nonel.
"Little of Everything" column, 5 cts. per line.
Double cols. 30 per ct. advance of above rates.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

O. L. JENKINS, M. D.,
Homœopathist,
successor to Dr. Smith, No. 301 Front Street, near Front Plainfield, N. J. Office Hours—9 to 9 a. m., 1 to 3 p. m. & 7 to 9 p. m.—ly 1817.

JACKSON & CODINGTON,
Counsellors-at-Law,
Commissioners of Deeds, Masters-in-Chancery, Notaries Public. Office corner of Park Ave. and Second street.—1m57

GEORGE W. DAY,
General Auctioneer,
Sales of Personal Property solicited. P. O. Box 182, Plainfield, N. J., or address or leave at Gen. Delivery Post Office.—ly1316

CHARLES R. THEIS,
Dentist,
30 West Front street. A new local anesthetic applied to destroy sensation entirely without pain. Gold filling a necessity.—ly1

H. HAND,
Auctioneer,
P. O. Address, Lock Box 71, Somerville, N. J. Orders left at T. J. Cheney's second-hand store, 42 West Front street, Plainfield, N. J., will receive prompt attention.—ly1301

OSCAR S. TEALE,
Auctioneer,
247 Broadway, New York city. Sales a Specialty. (Importers' and Traders' Bank Building.) Residence, Plainfield, N. J.—ly1

WM. K. MCCLURE,
Attorney-at-Law,
MASTER IN CHANCERY, NOTARY PUBLIC,
Commissioner of Deeds. Office, North avenue opposite the depot.—1m47

E. R. FRETHEY,
Veterinary Surgeon,
Office in A. M. Sayder's livery stable, corner Main street and Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Day and night calls promptly attended to. Horses examined for soundness. Residence, 19 East Front street.—1m47

DR. GEORGE GIDNEY,
Veterinary Surgeon,
Removed from Second street to 113 West Front street, Plainfield, N. J.—1m47

ARTHUR P. MILLER,
Attorney-at-Law,
(Successor to the late W. H. Magoun), Solicitor in Chancery, Notary Public, Conveyancer and real estate, loan money, rent, and take charge of property. Office over First National Bank.—1m47

F. A. DUNHAM,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor,
No. 7 Park avenue, Cleaver's building. Particular attention given to the adjustment of disputed boundary lines. Maps and reports for all parts of the country.—1m47

DR. J. P. GRIFFEN,
Electric Baths.
Dr. Griffen treats all Nervous affections, Chronic complaints, Skin diseases, Asthma, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Paralysis, etc., by Electricity combined with Medicated Baths. Lady attendant for the ladies, at East Second street, corner Washington.—my47

BUSINESS CARDS.

ROBERT JAHN,
TIN AND COPPER-SMITH,
Scotch Plains,
(Fanwood) N. J., Roofing, Spouting and Heater work, Pumps, Lead pipe, all kinds of sheet metal work. The best and the cheapest goods always on hand. Repairing promptly attended to.—ly1302

TO THE PUBLIC!

We wish to inform our customers and the public generally that we have on hand the best quality of

LEHIGH COAL,

Fresh from the Mines.

It is under cover and well protected from the weather. We are prepared to deliver it well screened and in good order promptly. We are also prepared to furnish all kinds of Building and Masons' Materials at short notice.

A. D. COOK & BRO.
[ontly]

J. Hervey Doane,
9 PARK AVENUE.
(Formerly Cleaver's.)

Watches,
Clocks
And Jewelry.
Repairing ..eatly and promptly done.
ly1

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, VEGETABLES, FRUITS, ETC.
STABLES, DRIED FRUIT, ETC.
CORNER EMILY AND DUER STREETS
North Plainfield, New Jersey.

Celebrated Pilsbury Flour,
THE BEST IN THE MARKET.
ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED.
Thanks for past patronage. Intellect a continuance thereof.
WILLIAM H. SHOTWELL.
ly917

BOSTON CLOTHING HOUSE
42 W. FRONT ST.
Reliable Goods at Low Prices.
Order Department
Under the well-known Cutter,
NEWTON P. DRAKE.
Correct Styles. Right Prices
Geo. A. Moore,
(Of the late firm of Moore Bros.)
is now the sole proprietor of the old established market at
No. 24 NORTH AVENUE,
Where he will continue to supply patrons with the finest grades of Meats and the choicest Fish of all kinds. Oysters, in all shapes to please the taste, the newest market price. Anything not meats, kept in stock. Remember the number.
Edward Ramonetti,
OYSTER AND ICE CREAM SALOON.
OYSTERS BY THE QUART, 100 OR 1000.
CHARLOTTE RUSSE MADE TO ORDER.
All Orders Promptly Attended to.
24 NORTH AVENUE,
Plainfield, New Jersey.
Telephone Call No. 32.

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

Force's Hotel!
NORTH AVENUE
Near R. R. Depot, Plainfield, New Jersey.
JAMES H. FORCE, - Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY HOTEL.
Transient guests taken at reasonable rates.

Bottled Liquors a Specialty.

Laing's Hotel!
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
J. B. MILLER & BRO., - Proprietors.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.

James Conneely
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a Saloon
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 36 PARK AVE.,
Where he will be pleased to receive his friends and customers, including brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors. 1m51

TURF EXCHANGE HOTEL,
72 Courtlandt street,
CORNER WASHINGTON, NEW YORK CITY
FRED. W. BALLARD, - Proprietor,
(Formerly of Jersey City), is now conducting the Southeast Corner Washington and Courtlandt streets, where he will be pleased to see his former Van Ness Pets, and by Wm. Shakespeare. All first-rate brands of Wines, Liquors and Cigars.

PURE WINES, LIQUORS AND SEGARS. ly1301

SOMERSET HOTEL,
Cor. Somerset & Dailly Sts., North Plainfield, N. J.
Permanent and Transient Board, at Reduced Rates.
First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all reasonable hours. 42ly

C. E. JOHNSON,
At late firm of Shepherd, Johnson & Cochran,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
Office, adjoining City Hall, on Berson, street, near Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey. Residence, 15 East Second street. Jobbing solicited.—1m47

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent,
SALESROOM—Madison Avenue, near Front St.
First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Goods received on consignment.

MRS. E. J. MARTIN'S
MAGIC RENOVATING FLUID.
For taking out grease from any kind of goods, without changing the color, or leaving a spot. Also, for cleaning kid gloves, straw, hats, mats, carpets, and woolen goods generally. Also, for cleaning and restoring ground agate and coal oil stoves; renders them as good as new. Also, for cleaning and polishing all kinds of furniture. For sale at 20 East Second street, and at Mrs. W. L. Force's, 9 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.—1y1301

JOHN JOHNSTON,
DEALER IN
COAL!
YARD AND OFFICE, SOUTH AVENUE,
NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
Thebest quality of screened coal at the lowest market price for cash. Address all orders to Netherwood, New Jersey.—1m1274

Park Avenue Bakery!
JOHN WALKER, Prop'r
FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied With the Choicest
VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS,
And all Varieties of
Pies, Cake and Confectionery,
Always on hand.

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.
THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS,
BEST IN THE WORLD.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE
—1m47

MICHAEL UHDAL,
CONTRACTOR
AND LANDSCAPE GARDENER
Residence:
NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
P. O. BOX 787, PLAINFIELD.
P. O. Box 2, Nottingham, N. J.—1m47

FINE FOOT WEAR,
BEST MAKES,
LATEST STYLES,
AT THE
NEW SHOE STORE
Doane & Van Arsdale
22 WEST FRONT STREET.

SANITARY PLUMBING,
Brick and Portable Furnaces,
GAS FITTING,
TIN ROOFING,
Etc., Etc.
I am prepared to do any of the above branches in strictly first-class, workmanlike manner.
Having associated myself with the Water Supply Company of this city, I am now able to put water into any house in the city, and will guarantee satisfaction at all times and in all seasons.
D. W. LITTELL,
No. 4 NORTH AVE., opp'te Plainfield, N. J.

EDUCATIONAL.

DORSEY W. HYDE,
PRACTICAL TEACHER OF
Piano, Harmony & Guitar.
Full Term commences MONDAY, Sept. 12, 1887. SEND FOR CIRCULAR. P. O. BOX 1139.

MR. LEAL'S SCHOOL
WILL RE-OPEN
Monday, Sept. 19, 1887.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

J. B. MILLER & BRO., - Proprietors.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.

A SCHOOL FOR BOYS
WILL BE OPENED IN THE PARLORS OF THE PARK AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH,
SEPTEMBER 15, '87.
APPLICATION MAY BE MADE AT NO. 20 PARK AVENUE, UNION HEIGHTS STREET.
ANNA J. MOORE, Principal.
sp35 1y

Pennington Seminary,
PENNINGTON, N. J.
40th Year. On direct line of N. Y. Pennsylvania, N. J. & Delaware R. Rs. Offers the educational facilities for both sexes. Terms moderate. Delightful location. High and healthful. Thorough instruction. Refined home. Sanitary arrangements. For catalogue, letter of Dr. Hoose, and local references, address
THOS. HANLON, A. M., D. D., President.
1-12 m1

NEW JERSEY
State Normal and Model Schools,
TRENTON.
Fall Term will commence Monday, Sept. 19th.
TOTAL COST FOR BOARD, TUITION, BOOKS, etc., at the NORMAL SCHOOL, $154 for Ladies, and $160 for Gentlemen; at the MODEL SCHOOL, $200 per year. Buildings thoroughly heated by steam; the Model School Building for both young Ladies and Gentlemen superior advantages in all its departments, viz.: Kindergarten, Primary, Grammar, Commercial, Musical, Drawing, and in Boiler-Letters. For circulars containing full particulars, address
W. HASBROUCK, Principal,
8 12 m1 Trenton, New Jersey.

MISCELLANEOUS.

ARTESIAN WELLS.
F. & W. STOTHOFF
Are prepared to sink wells of any depth up to 500 feet, and Tube them if need be. Pumps and Pipe furnished. Address, F. & W. STOTHOFF, Box 1, Bonhotes, or Plainfield, P. O. address, Fleming-ton, N. J.

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST
Residence—Harmony street, North Plainfield, Subscribers can have their nativities cast, and all information imparted as regards future prosperity and success in life, by sending their name, age, sex, and one dollar, with three 3-cent stamps, and a lock of hair. Nativities guaranteed, else correct.
In English, German and French.

My husband is a Gentleman Cooper, and repairs tubs, pails, barrels, etc., cheap for cash.

Electrical Work!
ELECTRICAL WORK—WE ARE PREPARED to do work not taken care of by Boards of Electrical Underwriters. We guarantee all our work. We will have a practical electrician in charge especially for the year, visiting and inspecting it at regular intervals and maintaining it. Telegraph, electric

PLAINFIELD DISTRICT TELEGRAPH CO.,
NO. 4 PARK AVENUE.
C. B. GODDARD, - Manager.
jy1017

NETHERWOOD FARM!
MOUNTAIN AVE., NEAR FARRAGUT AVE.
A JERSEY STOCK FARM!
OVER
50 HEAD OF JERSEY CATTLE 50
Good family cows for sale at Moderate Prices. Milk and Cream delivered anywhere in Plainfield. Orders left at the Farm.
J. HERBERT JOHNSTON, Manager, N. J. mlm6

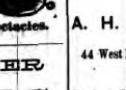
CAREY'S
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE, NO. 18 WEST FRONT STREET.
Nearly opposite Leland's Hotel. Plainfield, N. J.

Having leased the above premises I am prepared to buy and sell second-hand Furniture, Stoves, etc., on commission. I will also take Furniture in exchange for moving. Furniture, etc., stored. P. O. Box 696.—m971

JOHN MORTON,
PURE SPRING WATER
ICE
Delivered daily in any part of the city at the lowest market price. Orders left at Mrs. Frost's, No. 27 West Front street, will receive prompt attention. Ice will be delivered in the morning to all patrons for last evening, and in the evening to all patrons for last morning. Orders left at the office of the Company, No. 1 Somerset street, or at the residence of the President, No. 5 Somerset street, will receive prompt attention. Ice will be supplied only at the lowest rate in the market.—ly1317

DOOR NUMBERS,
DOOR BELLS,
DOOR PLATES,
AT
DICKINSON & CLAWSON'S,
12 PARK AVENUE,
Sole Agents for



Dr. King's Spectacles.
1y1417

SUMMER
HATS.
CAPS, GLOVES,
Trunks, Valises, Etc
Call and Examine the Elegant Stock of
Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods at
F. A. POPE'S,
(Successor to H. Vermeule.)
No. 5 W. Front st,
sp1317

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPPLIES

Paints, Varnishes, Glass,
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALL PAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.
sp33

Weaver Bros.
House & Sign Painting, Graining,
Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a specialty.
Office and Shop in the rear of
16N EAST FRONT STREET,
D. WEAVER. P. O. Box 93. F. WEAVER

W. N. ROWE,
PAINTER AND DECORATOR.
Dealer in Paints, Oil, Varnishes, Glass, Brushes, Wall Paper, Window Shades and Fixtures. Notice but strictly first-class workmen employed. Orders promptly attended to. 1y1317

L. D. VOORHEES. J. P. BOGERT
Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS,
Wall Papers,
PAINTERS SUPPLIES. 20 NORTH AVENUE
sp1317

MILLINERY.

Mrs. J. M. Dunn,
FASHIONABLE MILLINER,
LATEST SHAPES OF
BONNETS AND HATS.
FRENCH IMPORTED FLOWERS.
Feathers, Velvets, Plushes, Ribbons, Laces, etc. Also, Fancy Goods and Notions; Dress and Infants' Caps a Specialty.
PINKING, BLEACHING & PRESSING.
Feathers Dyed. Cleaned and Curled AT SHORT NOTICE.
14 West Front street.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR,
The best cigar sold in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Stock.
CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of Key West Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars. Cigarettes and Smokers' Articles in Great Variety.
Sign of

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
—SEGARS!—
A. M. PARK AVE., (near corner of SECOND ST.) PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Segar Materials, of every description.
The celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, with other popular brands constantly on hand.
sp1317

--PICTURE FRAMES--
OF ALL KINDS, AT
S. E. FLOWER'S.
At New York Prices, Studio 18 West Front street. Headquarters for drawing and oil painting. sp1317

A. T. SMALLEY, N. S. SMALLEY
Smalley Bros.,
DEALERS IN
Fresh and Salt Meats, Poultry, Etc.
IN SOMERSET STREET, 1 DOOR FROM PLAINFIELD.
Orders called for and delivered. A share of the public patronage is solicited.—1m47

Benj. F. Moore,
(Late of Moore Bros.)
BUTCHER,
And dealer in FRESH AND SALT MEATS, POULTRY, ETC., corner Park avenue and Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J. Orders left at the store will be promptly delivered. Telephone Call 111.—ly1302

MAYNARD & HILL,
PRACTICAL BARBERS
AND
Artistic Hair Dressers,
No. 20 PARK AVENUE,
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residence. Shaving, Shampooing, &c. satisfactorily performed.—1y1317

GO TO ALLEN'S
For Stationery.
23 E. FRONT STREET.

A. H. BOUGHTON,
44 West Fourteenth street, N. Y.
(NEAR MACY'S.)
Boy's Clothing and Hats EXCLUSIVELY.
The most complete stock of Boy's Fashionable Goods in the city and at popular prices.
KILT SUITS,
SHIRT WAISTS,
EXTRA PANTS.
Former stand of Taylor & Co.
sp1317

KING OF COUNTERFEITERS.

The Cleveland Corner of One of the Most Remarkable American Criminals.

The man Tom Ballard, pardoned by the President from the penitentiary, is said to be one of the most brilliant counterfeiter who ever followed the business. He started out as a Washington correspondent. He is still a young man, though old in crime. He was born in 1846, and before he was eighteen years of age had become a counterfeiter. He was employed by a man named Hinsley, who was connected with Jake Hill, the New York counterfeiter, who, while apparently carrying on a legitimate business, was secretly the leader and head of a great counterfeiter of note in the country. Hinsley came to New York to see Hill, and he was engraver, and in course of time Tom Ballard became a very expert engraver. Then, under Hinsley's patronage, he began to engrave plates for counterfeit bills. Ballard's first work was a plate for the one-dollar greenback; then the three-dollar on the Phœnix National Bank in New York; then came the five-dollar bills of the First National banks in Poughkeepsie; twenty-dollar State and Leather bills, and plates for the one-hundred-dollar bills on the one hundred-dollar Treasury notes. Ballard was a very rapid engraver, and was engaged for years that her bush kid was a counterfeiter, also working for Hinsley. Behind never dead or arrested, he was perfectly regular in his habits, and was a hard drinker. His residence were never secured the detectives. Often and often they searched his house, but Ballard's wife, who lived in the house, 108 West Fifty-third street, ostensibly for Boman's shop, but went by the name of Hughes, was the most perfect money was made. Here he shut himself up in his room and stayed there until toward night. On living street he was understood to be a night engraver in the custom-house, who, of course, slept all day and went to work as evening approached. In this way he worked for years without being suspected by his neighbors. They were down on by detectives and arrested. He escaped from the Ludlow Street jail, was a fugitive from justice for three years, and was again arrested in August, 1874, and a large stock of bills passed by him, counterfeiters' tools and counterfeit money was found secreted in his house. He escaped jail in October of the same year was again taken in Worcester, Mass., and after three months or less he had engraved a full set of plates, made a fresh stock of bills, distributed the bulk of the counterfeiting materials, and got a good deal of money together. He was then betrayed and pleaded the plate for the face of a Canadian bank bill. This bill was pronounced by the Treasury one of the finest pieces of engraving ever done. Mr. Risser Washburn, who was president of the Fifth National Bank, was then chief of the Secret Service Department, and was positive that Ballard did not escape. He was tried in January, 1876, and sentenced to thirty years in the penitentiary. He must have served about eleven and a half.

Ballard was the only person who ever successfully imitated the fiber paper on which Government bonds are printed. He made it perfectly. He could also imitate the proof work, which is done by hand. The paper was made at Dalton, Mass., by the famous geometrician Eaton, so perfectly that it could not be detected by experts and by a microscope. Ballard's paper was made by the same famous work. It was so perfect that two of them were redeemed by the Treasury Department, supposed to be genuine, and were sent to the Treasury in Chicago. The only way they were detected was by the clerk, Quincy Adams, at the left-hand end of the bill. The button was not exactly round, but was oval. Ballard's work would notice it if he were not looking for it. Ballard's bills were good. The bills were ever put in circulation, except by inadvertence on the part of persons on board from a ferryboat while crossing Hudson river.

DEACON BURDETTE.

The Genial Humorist as an Humble and Successful Baptist Preacher.

Mr. Burdette, the Burlington Hawk-Eye Watchman, sought a resting place last summer, and a friend from the city went to look for him and found it on the shore of Thirteenth Pond, on Father Bennett's farm. But "Bob" is a spirit of the times, and the company of believers in the church near by found him out, and the first thing he knew found that a Christian man of some culture and ability was living in their midst. They had no pastor, and they asked him to preach for them. With some hesitation he consented. Then he spent the summer, enjoying his new experience among the farmers, and the good old farm folks more than they can tell him. He is known to the world as a wit who can not help saying funny things, but the bubbling streams of quiet humor. But the brethren of Deer Park were not slow to discover a smile to the face of his hearers. He commanded the Scriptures as a man who believed them and loved his hearers. Inexhaustible in his supply of thought and doing good, he delighted and profited them. In prayer, as well as in the discourse and the same—as humble follower of Jesus and as a minister of His Gospel. The people were delighted. Telephone Call 111.—ly1302

BEATS ENOCH ARDEN.

A True Story of Love, Separation, Remarriage and Final Reunion.

Years ago in the mining town of Pesto Fort, Mexico, lived a family named Rice. At the onset of Wales, George Poland and Miss Rice married, and settled down to the quiet routine of their many friends, Mr. Poland being employed by the Tribune. All things at first conspired to make their wedded life a happy one, and their union was blessed by the coming of a bumble home. Poland had risen and become the manager of one of the mines, and Mrs. Poland was the landlady of a country inn. Poland's work necessitated his absence from home several nights in the week. A domestic trouble led the husband to threaten the departure, to doubt his wife's fidelity. His profession was that of being a quick-tempered man he upbraided Mrs. Poland. She in turn answered him hastily, and he in the heat of passion left her off. Rushing out of the house, he left the estate until he should have married bound for America.

In 1861 he left Pittsburgh and obtained work to one of the coal mines near the city. There he worked steadily and endeavored to forget the woman he had once believed that she had wronged him in the hills of Wales. After two years, or a few months he received a letter from a friend in Pesto Fort, which stated that his wife was ill, and would never recover.

In 1861 Poland met Mrs. Mary Simpson, a widow who kept a boarding-house at Hardsville, and, being told that Poland's wife was dead, he proposed and was accepted by the fair widow as a husband. They were quietly married, which was not generally known in their friends, and Poland continued his work in the mines. Several months passed without disturbances until 1885, when they were surprised in a manner by a visit.

One summer day, two years ago, a travel-stained little lady walked into the Hotel Stevens Tower, in Pesto Fort, Mexico, and, with a pronounced Welsh accent, asked for accommodations for the night. The proprietor jokingly asked her if she had a husband. She replied in the affirmative, with such seriousness that the host determined to send for Poland, as he was a countryman and friend of his. The two separated couples met in the dining-room, when the proprietor left them to tell their stories.

Mrs. Poland then explained that after a few years of toil and hard work, which was successful, she determined to come to America and find her husband. She went to Wilkesbarre, Pa., her home obtained work and found that Poland had left the city. Poland she heard nothing, until two years ago, when a family from Pittsburgh moved to Wilkesbarre, and told her that as where her husband was. She came to the city, and found Poland married to another woman. He had little to say, but she determined to leave him to enjoy his married life. She wedded a man in the company returned to Wilkesbarre.

Poland could not forget his wife, but did not live with his second wife, who soon after fell ill and died. Poland, in the meantime, had become a widower. He was a man of first class appearance and refinement, and his speeches always read like classical essays. When Poland called with one of the editors of the Herald, the speech he brought his private secretary to write down for him.

"Do you get any of the President's copy?"

Yes, occasionally, though most of his matter is copied before hand and comes to us in type-writer. The message was prepared long before the reporters knew what it was to be, and was all done long to be still at work upon it it was given to the printers. It was cut up, into very small pieces, and the different parts distributed among the boys in the office, so that no one could get the whole message. These takes were put together by the proof-reader early and the two-word slips corrected and reinserted the proof until it was in type ready for delivery. Most of the manuscript, however, that comes from the White House is written by the secretaries. President Arthur used large foolscap paper and his writing was very large. Mr. Cleveland used many of his messages and I saw an order for a thousand of the best paper a few days ago sell for four dollars at an auction the other day. Hayes wrote a peculiar hand, and Garfield's was very fine and good copy, and Grant wrote usually on foolscap paper. The two would sign the order and send it to the secretaries. President Arthur used large rocking paper and his writing was very bad. Mr. Cleveland's writing is the best part of his handwriting."

Story of Emperor William.

The Kreuz Zeitung relates a pretty incident which occurred during the visit of the Kiel. When steaming past the iron-clads which were anchored in parade order, on his return from Copenhagen, the Emperor, who was known as wooers, and it could be heard for a distance of two or three miles, was injured. But if a single drop of the blood fatal results would at once follow. To prove his experiment he took a needle, and injected a drop into the veins of the stomach of a dog, which a cried to be dead in a few moments. A rabbit was then injected with a drop of bacteria, and in a few moments was dead. Then a guinea pig was

The Constitutionalist.
W. L. FORCE, A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors.

DEMOCRATS OF UNION.

You have a resp perform, more so than usual.

It is to select candidates for four very important offices, namely—

Senator,
Sheriff,
Clerk,
Surrogate.

Each and all of those positions demand incumbents of proven ability, honesty and unsullied personal character.

Election day is only three months ahead.

Is it not time to actively canvass for the right men to vote for next November?

For the sake of the public good and Democratic honor; let them be in every particular the very best.

THE TRUTH OF DEMOCRACY.

It has always been a distinctive and treasured doctrine of the Democratic party, that a strict construction of the wording of the Federal Constitution is essential for the preservation of the vitality of our representative form of government, and the only sure guarantee of popular freedom.

Or, speaking more in detail, that the General Government derives its sole authority from powers specifically granted to it by the States, through the Constitution, for the equitable welfare and protection of the whole Union; and that all powers and privileges not so delegated belong exclusively to the respective States, and to the people thereof.

That is Constitutional Democracy, and upon such recited foundation the Government of the United States was founded, and has grown to its present grand proportions.

For a century the Democratic party has battled against the opposing theory of centralization, which means in effect, the exercise of national authority not clearly given by the Constitution to Congress or the Executive.

As supporters, under any and every circumstance, of the true character of the compact of Union, the party of Democracy has at frequent intervals been fiercely denounced by political foes, but truth is mighty and will finally prevail, for the day has come when prominent Republicans like Justice Miller of the United States Supreme Court, and Senator Hawley, of Connecticut, publicly declare that vicious construction in the vital essence of the Constitution.

So is Democracy vindicated.

MAGNIFICENT PROTECTION.

There is an iron mine and furnace in North Carolina owned and operated by a company of Pennsylvania capitalists.

The business is profitable to the owners, very satisfactory.

But, how does it compensate labor, American labor, to protect which we are told the necessity exists, and will forever exist, of continuing enormous war taxes in time of peace upon all articles of family use, and all crude products for manufacturing industry?

The company of tariff tinkers gathered in question allow their workmen, American workmen mind you, not foreign paupers, the magnificent wages of eighty cents per day.

Stupendous!

And only nominal at that, because those poor half-paid wage-earners are compelled to dwell in and pay full rent for houses belonging to the company, and to purchase living supplies at high prices only from the company's store.

Is that fair and just treatment of labor?

Is that protection?

We fail to see its virtue.

The enterprising employers above referred to are a few of the many at the present time earnestly engaged in pocketing unbridled wealth at the expense of labor, and artfully calling the process labor protection.

We believe in honestly and practically protecting labor first, last and fully, and at the same time affording a broad and vital its rightful due, but the protection we advocate is very different from the kind wolves render defenseless lambs.

It is mutual and general, not one-sided and sectional, patriotic, not sordid.

The annual dinner to the members of the press, will be tendered by the New Jersey State Agricultural Society at Waverly Park, Wednesday afternoon of next week.

The Vice Chancellor has decided that "Where a sale is effected by the vendor holding the land for the benefit of the vendee and must account to him for the rents and profits, and the vendee holds the purchase money for the benefit of the vendor and must account to him for the interest."

The annual reunion of the veterans of the Thirteenth Regiment New Jersey Volunteers, will be held at Paterson on September 18th. The Seventh Regiment Veterans will hold their reunion at Somerville on September 7th, and the Grand Army, citizens and citizens of that place have taken hold with the determination to make the affair a success. Generals Carr and Sickles, who were present at the reunion in this city, recently, are expected to be present.

The Elizabeth Herald, in an article commenting on the political situation in Union county, thus alludes to our distinguished citizen, Hon. E. L. Livingston: "On the Democratic side of the house for senator, there is but one idea, and that is that by all the honored usages and customs of the Democratic party the present incumbent is entitled to and will get a renomination for the senatorship. In the conduct in the last legislature for United States Senator, Robert Livingston never flagged in his Democratic devotion, and though he did not vote as much, as some empty political orators do, but he performed a wonderful amount of thinking, and was invariably on the right side of every important question. Then, too, he is extremely popular in the Republican city of Plainfield, where he will get numerous republican votes, now favoring Corbin. The knowing ones say that notwithstanding the Republican "combine" for Miller, the stately and polite senator has a walk-over."

BOROUGH COUNCIL MEETING.

Mayor Cooley Makes a Statement in the Simpson Matter—The Council has no Power—Special Election for an Extra Appropriation.

The August meeting of the Borough Council was held in the Warren engine house on Friday, with Mayor Cooley in the chair. The following Councilmen were present: Messrs. McCutchen, Miller, Ingham, Wescott, Wagner and Conover. Clerk was unavoidably absent. The Clerk read the minutes of the regular meeting of July 1st, and they stood approved as read.

The following applications were presented, referred to the License Committee, and later, returned with the Committee's approval, and a recommendation to grant:

Conselman Weaver presented a communication from residents on Manning avenue, asking Council to have sidewalks built on the north side of said avenue where none now exist, and to cause repairs to be made to walks now existing on that thoroughfare. Referred to street committee.

Bill of J. A. Peebles, $7.80, was referred to the Street Committee, and Geo. F. Becker, $37.50 and $7.50 were sent to the License and Marshal Committee.

Clerk Arnold presented his monthly statement. It was as follows: Balance on hand at last report, $184; received for licenses, $42.50; Adsit, $20.

Mayor Cooley sent the following communication to the Council, relating the facts in the Robert Simpson case. It was received and filed, and ordered spread in full upon the minutes:

To the Honorable, the Council of the Borough of North Plainfield:

GENTLEMEN:—As the Simpson case has attracted so much attention and caused so much discussion I deem it proper that you should have a statement of the facts in the case.

Both Mr. Simpson and his man had been warned that they were violating the ordinance of the borough in carting without a license, and as they persisted in defying the law both men were duly arrested and pleaded guilty and was fined $5 and costs. He contended that we could not tell the horse while he went to notify Mr. Simpson of his arrest. Mr. Simpson appeared and acknowledged that it was the horse and that the man was working for him, admitting too that he had been warned before. He said that he would call and settle the fine and take out a license. The man was then released from custody.

As Mr. Simpson did not keep his word and pay the fine, Mr. Miller, the Borough Attorney, advised me to lay upon the horse and cart, which was done by a constable, and subsequently the chattels were deemed insufficient to satisfy the fine and Council advised that they be returned to the owner. Still Mr. Simpson deliberately persisted in violating the ordinance. As he had commenced suit for damages, no action was taken until Marshal Becker made a sworn complaint and a warrant was issued. This was on the 22nd of August. Mr. Simpson was arrested and brought before me. He admitted the guilt and that the facts in the defense as charged in the complaint. Thereupon I adjudged him guilty of the offense and for each offense I sentenced him to the lock-up for ten days. Mr. Simpson's counsel then asked me with a view to having his client released. It was then explained that the chattels were deemed insufficient to satisfy the fine and Council advised that they be returned to the owner. Still Mr. Simpson deliberately persisted in violating the ordinance as charged in the complaint. Thereupon I adjudged him guilty of the offense and for each offense I sentenced him to the lock-up for ten days. Mr. Simpson's counsel then asked me with a view to having his client released. It was then explained that Mr. Simpson had commenced suit for damages, no action was taken until Marshal Becker made a sworn complaint and a warrant was issued. This was on the 22nd of August. Mr. Simpson was arrested and brought before me. He admitted the guilt and that the facts in the defense

CITY DEPARTMENT.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION.

J. A. DEMAREST, - - City Editor.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

[TIME TABLE]

CLOSE—8.30 and 9.30 A. M.; 1.00 and 4.00 P. M. ARRIVE—7.30, 9.00, 11.45 A. M.; 2.30 and 5.30 P. M.

NEWARK, ELIZABETH, &C., MAILS.

CLOSE—8.30 A. M. and 4.00 P. M. ARRIVE—7.30 A. M. and 5.30 P. M.

SUNDAY MAILS—Arrive at 8.15 A. M. Close at 4.00 P. M. Mail for Europe via Boston closes on Tuesday at 1 P. M.

Mail for Wattersville closes Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 12 M.

POST OFFICE HOURS—From 7 A. M. and closes at 7.30 P. M. Saturdays, closes at 9.00 P. M., then every second until 10.00 P. M., to oversee of box holders.

MONEY ORDER AND SAVINGS BANK—8. 10 P. M. Saturdays to 4 P. M.

SUNDAY—9 to 10 A. M. and 5 to 6 P. M.

—Politics will ripen long before the buckwheat crop is ready to harvest.

—The roof is on the new chapel now being built on Park avenue, Plainfield, and the accommodations of the growing Bethel Mission.

—The oil clerk works have shut down for repairs. A new floor is being laid throughout the building and other improvements made. The work will require about two weeks time.

—A lazy and clam shooter succeeded in breaking one of the large panes of glass in the show window of E. M. Adams' paint store on Park avenue last Friday. The lazy one is not known.

—Nearly ninety barrooms doing business openly in the small prohibition city of Bangor, Maine! That is the result of a recent taken by the anti-Prohibitionist organ, the New York Times.

—Everybody should do Mayor Cooley the justice of reading carefully his statement to the Borough Council Friday evening, in relation to the Singer manufacturer. We publish it in full in another column.

—We are informed that a Veteran Grand Army Post is about to be organized in this city, consisting of veteran soldiers who have served a year and a half at the front. A meeting will soon be called to perfect the organization.

—The Board of Education has awarded the contract for furnishing 175 tons of coal for next Winter's use in the public schools, to Mr. Charles E. Lunt of this city. Mr. Rand also secured the contract from the Board last year.

—Officer Grant says he hired a man named Totten to bury the dog found dead in Cutler's Alley, last week, as reported in the Press, and that the job was satisfactorily done, notwithstanding all false reports to the contrary.

—A new witness is responsible for the assertion that one of the dog poisoners died a raving maniac, after two days suffering that he had killed the animal, and that the owner came along the next morning and found the dog home, the latter apparently in perfect health.

—An opportunity for investment in some choice building lots in the city of Plainfield, will shortly be offered. We understand that about fifty of these lots, on Lone avenue—being a part of the Wm. B. T. Lane homestead property—are soon to be put up at public sale.

—It is reported on good authority that a syndicate, who have purchased 15 acres of machinery will erect works and locate near where the Pond Tool company are, constructing works, in the lower end of the city. Plainfield is destined to become a populous and enterprising city.

—Mr. O. S. Carey, Advance Manager for the Hurlburt, Hunting & Frost's Hippodrama, menagerie, gymnasium and trained animal show, was in town Friday arranging for the appearance of the Company in this city on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 18th, 19th and 20th.

—At a meeting of Engine company No. 2, held last Thursday, Foreman Thomas Kelley sent in his resignation. Foreman Kelley stated that this action was taken because he found want of time to perform the duties devolving upon him. The resignation was laid over, no action being taken on it.

—A youth named Vail attempted to board the first section of the excursion train as it was leaving the depot Friday morning. He was thrown to the ground and nearly rolled under the wheels. He jumped to his feet and made another attempt, this time being more successful.

—Constable Moffett was sitting in a chair in front of Andy Nash's office on Park avenue, holding his hat in his hand, an evening or two since, when a lady who chanced to pass at the time, dropped a dime in it, remarking: "There, go and get some one to clear off the sidewalk under the railroad bridge."

—Because of the past continued humidity of the atmosphere, the Concert of last Tuesday evening was no out of time the recital promised for last Saturday evening was postponed. The music committee feel that in justice to Mr. Taft, the organist of the occasion—he should have a concert, as adverse criticism would reflect upon him.

—The Plainfield Bicycle Club met in regular business session last Monday, adopted a new constitution and by-laws as offered by the committee appointed to draft them. Their provisions are about the same as those of the club they have in better shape. The uniform adopted is that at present worn, and is set forth in the rules from shoe to necktie.

—How all things work together for our good. The heavy and frequent rains and steady moisture of the past several weeks may not have been pleasant to our feelings, but had the long and steady drought been experienced by continuous fair weather it would most surely have resulted in such a drought as to cause great and wide spread agricultural disaster.

—Dog catcher Babbitt had an exciting tussle with a black setter dog, at the corner of Front street and Park avenue, about eleven o'clock Saturday. Amboy fashion, Bill met and a boy joined on with the dog catcher waltzed around with the dog in the gutter. Some cried "shame," and others said "take him along," and James took him—and the dog.

—A large number of our best people drove to Bolton Roll Hill, on Sunday, and unveiled the crowd that was so fortunate as to hear the Rev. Dr. McDyer's address. An effort may be made to secure this able and impressive speaker's presence in this city, and The Crescent would then probably be engaged by the association of the brooks that would gather to hear him.

—The next excursion to Ocean Grove from this city is the justly popular one that leaves each season under the superintendence and management of Messrs. Laing & Nelson. The best day for bathing is always selected, and the entire trip is more convenient than almost any other. The train leaves at 8.45 A. M. in the morning, and permits of a stay at the Grove until 7.30 in the evening.

—A young man from the country, who has heretofore chased the "festive" bicycle one to and from journey, came to town yesterday to see the sights. He dropped into a place on Park avenue, where the clerk in charge sent him from store to store with a paper bag in which he was to get fifty cents worth of wax dust. At one place where he applied, the proprietor asked the unsuspecting country-man whose his track was, at the same time calling on three men to load it up.

—Boatbuilder Cigan of the Easton and Amboy Division of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, has resigned his position.

—Week fish are again biting finely off the coast. Bluefish, blackfish, sea bass and croaking is splendid. Crabs were never more plentiful.

—The Board of Freeholders of the county of Somerset, have made the annual appropriation for county purposes, $75,000 was the appropriation fixed, the same to be raised by taxation throughout the county. This amount exceeds the appropriation of last year by $5,000, which was occasioned by the damage the county sustained by the freshet.

—Five Commissioners Livingston and Brown being off on their vacation, Commissioner Knowland being away, and only Commissioners Jones, McClure and Rogers being present at the time for holding the regular meeting of the Board of the Fire Board, last Tuesday, there was no quorum. Unless a special meeting be called for Saturday, there will be none until the regular one of Sept. 13th.

—Reform Club Excursion.

The excursion to Asbury Park on Tuesday, given under the auspices of the Plainfield Reform Club, was a grand success both financially and socially, and the affair will net the club about the sum of $130. The excursion train consisted of thirteen passenger coaches, and the excursionists numbered 765 persons, of which number 660 were adults and 105 children. The steamer Grand Republic conveyed the party to the beach, arriving at that place at 10.30 A. M. The pavilion museum fiend was out in full force, and the merry-go-round and clam chowder shooter pulled himself hoarse during the day. The latter is not known.

—Nearly ninety barrooms doing business openly in the small prohibition city of Bangor, Maine! That is the result of a recent taken by the anti-Prohibitionist organ, the New York Times.

—Everybody should do Mayor Cooley the justice of reading carefully his statement to the Borough Council Friday evening, in relation to the Singer manufacturer. We publish it in full in another column.

—We are informed that a Veteran Grand Army Post is about to be organized in this city, consisting of veteran soldiers who have served a year and a half at the front. A meeting will soon be called to perfect the organization.

—The Board of Education has awarded the contract for furnishing 175 tons of coal for next Winter's use in the public schools, to Mr. Charles E. Lunt of this city. Mr. Rand also secured the contract from the Board last year.

—Officer Grant says he hired a man named Totten to bury the dog found dead in Cutler's Alley, last week, as reported in the Press, and that the job was satisfactorily done, notwithstanding all false reports to the contrary.

—A new witness is responsible for the assertion that one of the dog poisoners died a raving maniac, after two days suffering that he had killed the animal, and that the owner came along the next morning and found the dog home, the latter apparently in perfect health.

—An opportunity for investment in some choice building lots in the city of Plainfield, will shortly be offered. We understand that about fifty of these lots, on Lone avenue—being a part of the Wm. B. T. Lane homestead property—are soon to be put up at public sale.

—It is reported on good authority that a syndicate, who have purchased 15 acres of machinery will erect works and locate near where the Pond Tool company are, constructing works, in the lower end of the city. Plainfield is destined to become a populous and enterprising city.

—Mr. O. S. Carey, Advance Manager for the Hurlburt, Hunting & Frost's Hippocyanogen, menagerie, gymnasium and trained animal show, was in town Friday arranging for the appearance of the Company in this city on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 18th, 19th and 20th.

—At a meeting of Engine company No. 2, held last Thursday, Foreman Thomas Kelley sent in his resignation. Foreman Kelley stated that this action was taken because he found want of time to perform the duties devolving upon him. The resignation was laid over, no action being taken on it.

—A youth named Vail attempted to board the first section of the excursion train as it was leaving the depot Friday morning. He was thrown to the ground and nearly rolled under the wheels. He jumped to his feet and made another attempt, this time being more successful.

—Constable Moffett was sitting in a chair in front of Andy Nash's office on Park avenue, holding his hat in his hand, an evening or two since, when a lady who chanced to pass at the time, dropped a dime in it, remarking: "There, go and get some one to clear off the sidewalk under the railroad bridge."

—Because of the past continued humidity of the atmosphere, the Concert of last Tuesday evening was no out of time the recital promised for last Saturday evening was postponed. The music committee feel that in justice to Mr. Taft, the organist of the occasion—he should have a concert, as adverse criticism would reflect upon him.

—The Plainfield Bicycle Club met in regular business session last Monday, adopted a new constitution and by-laws as offered by the committee appointed to draft them. Their provisions are about the same as those of the club they have in better shape. The uniform adopted is that at present worn, and is set forth in the rules from shoe to necktie.

—How all things work together for our good. The heavy and frequent rains and steady moisture of the past several weeks may not have been pleasant to our feelings, but had the long and steady drought been experienced by continuous fair weather it would most surely have resulted in such a drought as to cause great and wide spread agricultural disaster.

—Dog catcher Babbitt had an exciting tussle with a black setter dog, at the corner of Front street and Park avenue, about eleven o'clock Saturday. Amboy fashion, Bill met and a boy joined on with the dog catcher waltzed around with the dog in the gutter. Some cried "shame," and others said "take him along," and James took him—and the dog.

—A large number of our best people drove to Bolton Roll Hill, on Sunday, and unveiled the crowd that was so fortunate as to hear the Rev. Dr. McDyer's address. An effort may be made to secure this able and impressive speaker's presence in this city, and The Crescent would then probably be engaged by the association of the brooks that would gather to hear him.

—The next excursion to Ocean Grove from this city is the justly popular one that leaves each season under the superintendence and management of Messrs. Laing & Nelson. The best day for bathing is always selected, and the entire trip is more convenient than almost any other. The train leaves at 8.45 A. M. in the morning, and permits of a stay at the Grove until 7.30 in the evening.

—A young man from the country, who has heretofore chased the "festive" bicycle one to and from journey, came to town yesterday to see the sights. He dropped into a place on Park avenue, where the clerk in charge sent him from store to store with a paper bag in which he was to get fifty cents worth of wax dust. At one place where he applied, the proprietor asked the unsuspecting country-man whose his track was, at the same time calling on three men to load it up.

—Mrs. F. F. Hoag of East Front street, is at Cooperstown, N. Y., for the Summer.

—Miss Lizzie and Ella Dunn, are summering at Neptune and Clover Hill, N. J.

A letter received from Carmen Paine, Esq., states that his party is almost from up, in the Adirondacks, and all hands will start for home on Friday.

Dr. B. D. Keeney and Miss A. E. Weaver start on Saturday for a pleasure drive through New York State, intending to be absent a couple of weeks.

An infant child of Edward Plank of East Front street, died at Easton, Pa., Tuesday morning, where the family have been visiting for several weeks past.

Samuel B. Hayden, a Minister of the Society of Friends, expects to be present at their meeting house, corner of Peace and Third streets, on First day, 14th inst., at 11 o'clock, a. m.

Miss Anna March of East Fifth street, started last Tuesday for an extended trip through the far west, going on a visit to her brother in San Francisco. Before returning in the fall she will visit friends in Denver, Col.

The Misses Louvrie of Park avenue are home again after a long visit at Greenwood, Pa. While there they were the guests of an uncle who is the superintendent and in charge of some of the largest coal mines in the State.

Station Agent J. A. Haynes will take a month's vacation, and with Mr. Clarence Neale started yesterday for Newton, N. J. They will make some bicycle trips through Sussex county, and generally enjoy themselves in such ways.

Mr. W. P. Phillips and family of Broadway are spending some weeks in the Adirondacks. Mr. Phillips' sister, Miss Capron, accompanies them. They have taken their horses and carriage, and are thoroughly enjoying themselves.

What stirs West Point from such a scandal that recently culminated in the elopement of Lieut. J. A. Darr with the wife of Lieut. J. R. Totten. The man in the case is a resident of Plainfield, a resident of Union avenue, this city, and the son of Gen. Darr, an old army officer, who was recently brought into considerable prominence by reason of his part in the unpovering of Kissane, the alleged California forger. While he was a cadet the young man officiated as teacher in the Sunday school attached to the Catholic church at West Point, and was noted for his piety.

North Plainfield Township Election.

The voters of North Plainfield Township (outside the borough) held a special election on Wednesday for the purpose of voting, by vote, on the issue of $1,000 for pairs on the roads within the township, damaged by the recent freshet. After the election the borough authorities will only have to look on while their neighbors, the Township Committee, are putting the roads throughout the township in an excellent condition.

Trotting at the Fair Grounds.

Several exciting contests of speed took place on the Park Fair Grounds on Saturday afternoon. The day was fine, and a large number of persons were present to witness the sporting. The first trot was between Mr. E. Waring's "Ledger Boy," and George Phillips' brown mare, mile heats, best two in three. "Ledger Boy" won. Time 2.44 and 2.43.

"Copeland," Mr. O. T. Waring's handsome horse, driven by the owner, trotted to a 3-eighth mark, a quarter in 36 seconds. This is at the rate of 2.24 for the mile. Mr. Waring then drove "Copeland" a full mile in 2.33.

A Good Show.

Hurlburt, Hunting & Frost's 10 cent show, which occupied the silk mill lot on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, was a first-class performance in every respect, and universal satisfaction was expressed by every person present. The feats of the educated dogs and horses were unrivaled, and most heartily applauded, while all the other acts were in keeping. One thing the management is to be congratulated upon is the absence of all vending going on around or in the tents. A menagerie of eight cages of choice animals, owned by the veteran, Hyatt Frost, were added to the show.—Honesdale (Pa.) Citizen.

The Man Who Smiles.

A New York paper of Monday contained the following: "Members of the Union County Farmers' Club were greatly incensed at the rude treatment to which they have been subjected by Warren Ackerman, the wealthy owner of the village of Feltville, known as the 'Deserted Village,' on account of its having been in a dilapidated condition several years ago, and since then fallen into the condition so eloquently described by Oliver Goldsmith in his famous poem. Mr. Ackerman, who is said to be the owner of the delightful spot, was waited upon by a committee of the Farmers' Club, who wanted to hold their annual harvest home, or invitation picnic, on his domains, to which they have invited Gov. Green and several other distinguished notables. To their astonishment they were met at the gate with a blunt refusal by Mr. Ackerman and withdrew in a chopfallen state of mind. They had extensively advertised the spot where they proposed to hold their festive gathering, and sent out invitations, thinking the proprietor would feel highly honored. The picnic will now be held Aug. 18 in a large grove in Union Township, and all the farmers and their wives will do their best to make everything pass off in a pleasant manner."

Many years ago, when "Jersey Central" tumbled, monied institutions and individuals who held the Company's stock and bonds, were not slow to severe any company directly or indirectly connected with it, began to sell. Mr. Ackerman began to buy. The Broadway Bank surrendered at a great sacrifice a lot of bonds at about 17 that are now worth ten times that figure, and Mr. Ackerman was the one man who looked ahead to see months further than the whole Board of Directors could. While they frowned and were disappointed, he smiled and was confident. They grew disappointed and angry, he still smiles and is confident still. But his smiles are for everyone; his confidence he keeps to himself.

A Board will be accompanied for as Manitou, Col., by Mr. Eli Sherman, a former journalist of this city.

Mr. Charles Stillwell, with his wife and child, are visiting for a few days at the residence of Mr. Stillwell's father, Mr. Samuel France, on New street. Mr. Stillwell, whose sister was the late wife of Thos. Edison, is Manager of one of the largest electric light stations in the British provinces, at Hamilton, Ontario. Increasing business necessitates its extension, and the Manager is now on a flying trip to consult with Chief Edison.

A few days ago Mr. John Dunning, of Brooklyn, who is stopping for a few weeks in this city, took a stroll through the Notch to see the great damage done by the recent rains in that neighborhood. While stopping at Deuler's hotel he made a drawing of the hotel building, barns and sheds adjoining, which he thought to be a very good representation. Mr. Dunning will take the drawings to Brooklyn with him when he returns, from which he intends to make a painting.

After a hard struggle and fierce competition for the contract to place a fire alarm telegraph service in the city of Altoona, Pa., the franchise was secured last Monday by the Union Company after a practical test had been made of the systems soliciting the right. Mr. Charles Wann of North Plainfield, who brought Superintendent Hamilton, the inventor, and the electric light into this city, was the representative of the victorious company that gained the victory as above.

Obituary.

At his home near Rockwell's Mills, in Somerset county, a little after twelve o'clock of Thursday, departed the spirit of Peter J. Sapplee, aged 66 and highly esteemed citizen of that locality. The deceased, whose illness dates back for a period of four months when he was attacked with stricken down with heart troubles, was born in the locality in which he died in 1807. At one time during his illness he was thought to be terminated, but he rallied about the house, but he subsequently took to his bed, and continued to grow worse until yesterday when he succumbed to the inevitable. During his life time Mr. Suydam carried on the occupation of farming, and was extensively engaged in it up to the time of his death, reaping the valuable farms in Somerset county. In early life he married Catherine VanNuis, who died about thirty years ago. The surviving children are Cornelius V. S. Suydam, a farmer living near Millstone; Elias J. Voorhees, the wife of a prosperous farmer in Somerset county, and ex-Corporation Counsel George F. Sayland of this city.

He Want All the Same.

A man named "Davie" Nuttall went into Smith's saloon on Front street, and was on two different occasions ordered from the place. The third time he returned Officer Grant was called in to arrest him, which he did with considerable difficulty and with the assistance of Officers McCue and Mahon, and two other persons. The prisoner fought desperately for his freedom, but he went all the same, the officers being obliged to carry him all the way. A large crowd followed the prisoners to the station house, and two of the number were locked up for interfering with the officers in the discharge of their duty. They were released on bail Sunday, and on Monday Judge Ulrich, before whom they appeared, severely reprimanded each and suspended sentence. Nuttall was arraigned on three separate charges of being drunk and disorderly, resisting an officer, and assault and battery on Officer Grant. On the first two charges he was sentenced to pay a fine of $15 or be committed in the County Jail for fifty days. On the latter charge he was fined in the sum of $100 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

The Governor's Next Appointments.

The following are the appointments at present disposed of by Governor Abbett: A chief of the bureau of statistics in place of James Bishop; a lay judge of the court of errors and appeals in place of *John Clemente; a judge of the first district in Newark in place of Henry F. Gocken; three commissioners of fisheries in place of Richard S. Conover; five judges—in Bergen county in place of William E. Skinner, in Hudson county in place of Judge Boyle, in Passaic county in place of Judge Beach, in Union county in place of Francis Child, in Essex county in place of Thomas F. McCormick, and in Warren county in place of Silas W. Dewitt; lay judges—in Atlantic county in place of John Seull, in Burlington county in place of Clayton A. Black, in Camden county in place of Isaiah Wooddon, in Cape May county in place of Solomon Gandy, in Cumberland county in place of Nathaniel Stratton, in Essex county in place of John C. Johnson, in Gloucester county in place of Samuel T. Miller, in Hunterdon county in place of John C. Dilcham, in Mercer county in place of William S. Yard, in Middlesex county in place of Charles S. Newton, in Monmouth county in place of Samuel T. Hendrickson, in Ocean county in place of Richard H. Conover, in Passaic county in place of Isaac Ingalls, Jr., in Salem county in place of Wm. Plummer, in Somerset county in place of John M. Garretson, and in Sussex county in place of Hiram C. Clark.

The Governor will also nominate Prosecutor of the Pleas in Atlantic county in the place of Judge Thompson, in Cape May county in place of Jonas S. Miller, in Essex county in place of Oscar Keen, in Hudson county in place of Charles H. Winfield, in Morris county in place of William W. Cutler, and in Sussex county in place of Theodore Simonson.

Base Ball.

The Y. M. C. A. now claim that they do not impose on the Juniors, and the umpire says that he not only favors the latter when the decision is close but also when it is not.

An interesting game of base ball was played on the grounds just east of the oil cloth works, Saturday afternoon, between a nine composed of the employees of the Scott Press Works, and a picked nine from East Third street. Each side did some good work, and at the close of the game the score stood 12 to 8 in favor of the Scott nine.

A correspondent writes that in a game of base ball on Saturday between the "Little Giants" of Fourth street and "Nine of Scott" on the latter line, the latter was defeated by a score of 8 to 2. D. Gilbert was the captain, and D. White the champion batsman of the "Little Giants" while Wilson was the same for "Nine." He had a curved pitcher and J. Dowd, the latter the principal catcher, we might have beaten the "Little Giants. Patrick Lyons, the umpire, was called out the first innings and J. Kane umpired the rest of the game.

A fine gentlemanly set of fellows led by Captain Gavett of the Plainfield Y. M. C. A., crossed bats with the Y. M. C. A. nine of Y. M. C. A., Saturday, and won. The ground was in poor condition owing to the heavy rain which had fallen an hour before, and for this reason most of the errors were excusable. Newark went to the bat first and scored two runs, and then Plainfield went to the latter. In the seventh inning Newark was blanked, while Plainfield scored six runs in singles of Cadmus, Gavett, Doane and Murray, two bases on balls and an overthrow by Kane. After, all this the game was hotly contested throughout, and many fine plays were made by both teams. Noteworthy among the latter were the catch by G. Cadmus on second, a running fly captured by Wood, and a double play from right to second base. The score by innings was called at the end of the seventh inning, after which the boys met in the gymnasium and partook of a lunch served by the Knickerbocker R. R. C. A pleasant feature of the game was the fine umpiring of Cadmus, who gave general satisfaction. Both teams were literally applauded, and the Hon. Sam. V. D. Bonnell, Jr., could be heard for Plainfield's good plays as well as Newark's. The boys left on the eight o'clock train amid the cheers of their friends and comrades. The following score will tell the credit each story:

PLAINFIELD Y. M. C. A.
W. Cadmus, p.	0	2	1	2	0	0	0	0	5
Gavett, l. b.	0	1	1	1	0	0	0	0	3
F. Cadmus, s. s.	0	1	1	1	0	0	0	0	3
Doane, c.	0	1	1	1	0	0	0	0	3
Murray, r. f.	0	1	1	1	0	0	0	0	3
Somerindyk, 1 of.	0	1	1	1	0	0	0	0	3
Wood, c. f.	0	1	1	1	0	0	0	0	3
J. Murray, 2 of.	0	1	1	1	0	0	0	0	3
	0	9	7	9	0	0	0	0	26
NEWARK Y. M. C. A.
Collins, 1 b.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Richardson, c. s.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Wood, 2 b.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Kane, p.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Fowler, 1 f.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Bonnell, r. f.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Bowers, c. f.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Bonnell, 3 b.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
PLAINFIELD	3	0	0	0	0	0	3	0	0
NEWARK	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0

Earned Runs—Newark, 1. Plainfield, 5. Two Base Hits—Wood, W. Cadmus, G. Cadmus. Base on Balls—Plainfield, 5. Struck Out—Newark, 1, Plainfield, 3. Time Base Hits—Newark, 4, Plainfield, 5. Umpire—Cadmus.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER Co., 106 Wall Street, New York.—apr21

DEMAREST'S

NEW STORE

Specialty in Creamery Butter, Ferris Hams, Bacon and Tongues, Pillsbury and La Favorita Flour, Fruits, and Vegetables all kinds. 5 pounds of French Prunes for 25c., No. 1 French Peas 20c., Ex. Quality Dates, 10c. All goods First-class and at Bottom Prices. Please call and examine stock and prices.

Special Notice!

WE HAVE JUST ADDE

500 BOYS' SUITS.

SOME AS LOW AS $2,00

SOME AS HIGH AS $7.50.

OUR OWN MANUFACTURE.

Sebring Bros.,

Music Hall Entrance.

COCKLE'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY

For Liver, Bile, Indigestion, and Nervous Disorders. Sold by druggists, or sent by mail. Address: Dr. COCKLE'S PILL Co., New York.

Special Sale!

CLOSING OUT BALANCE OF

Summer Stock

AT

LOW PRICES!

AT S. H.

WHITNEY'S!

Dry Goods & Carpet House.

PECK'S CORNER. PECK'S CORNER.

LADIES' HOSIERY.

Special Bargains!

AT PECK'S!

Ladies' English Lisle Thread Hose!

BLACKS AND COLORS,

48 Cents.

AT PECK'S.

MOURNING GOODS

A SPECIALTY,

AT

E. D. SALL'S!

The best place to buy all kinds of Dry and Fancy Goods, Laces, Ribbons, Hosiery, Gloves, Ladies' and Gents' Furnishing Goods, Corsets, etc.

CARPETS, OIL-CLOTHS,

Mattings, Rugs, Curtains, all guaranteed at New York Popular Low Prices.

GREEN HAS OPENED!

P. M. DEMAREST,

27 PARK AVENUE.

EVERYTHING NEW. COME AND SEE ME.

LOWEST PRICES MARKED ON EVERYTHING.

BED-ROOM SUITS.....$16.00
LOUNGES.....$ 6.00
BED LOUNGES.....$ 7.00
GOOD MATTRESS.....$ 3.50

REPAIRING AND UPHOLSTERING IN ALL BRANCHES.

Great Bargain Sale of Remnants

AT

POPE'S.

Remnants of Dress Goods.
Remnants of Lawns.
Remnants of Seersuckers.

CARPETS, MATTINGS, &C.,

REGARDLESS OF COST.

A. M. Vanderbeck & Co.,

(Successors to A. Vanderbeck.)

DEALERS IN SPORTING GOODS,

Musical Instruments,

SHEET MUSIC, CUTLERY, ETC,

No. 33 Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey.

C. K. COMPTON,

Confectioner and Ice Cream Caterer,

Only the Best of Ice Cream and Ices Furnished for Weddings, Parties, Receptions.

TRY MY CREAM AND HOME-MADE BREAD.

First-class stock. Hot in the afternoon at 5 o'clock. Please remember I manufacture my own Candy and use only the best of sugar and No. 1 flavoring matter and vegetable coloring materials. Goods promptly delivered.

C. K. COMPTON,

26 West Front Street. Near the Opera House.

HALL'S

ELASTIC COTTON-LAP

MATTRESSES.

Next to a Focus Hair Mattress the most

COMFORTABLE AND DURABLE

In the World, and at

LESS COST.

ALL MADE IN LAPS OR LAYERS.

WILL NOT MAT DOWN.

MANUFACTURED AT

THE HOWARD MILLS.

FRANK A. HALL,

SOLE AGENT,

No. 4 New York.

EAST FRONT STREET—Y. M. C. A. HALL.

ASK YOUR DEALER FOR THEM.

SETTLING A BULLY.

A New Guelard Story Related by an Aged Attorney.

A tall, raw-boned man, dressed in a suit of gray homespun that hung loosely about his bent form, swaggering at his shoulders a well-filled bag dragged himself into the superintendent of the police office the other afternoon, and dropping his bag into the corner on the floor deposited himself in a chair with a heavy sigh. Removing a half-worn slouch hat from his head he displayed a pair of bloodshot eyes that bulged out beneath a thick forehead. The visitor was rather an odd specimen of humanity, and attracted the attention of an Albany Argus reporter. His clothes were badly worn, and about his prostrate chin a stubby iron-gray beard was visible. His feet were encased in a new pair of coarse cowhide shoes, while about his ankles were wound strips of flannel. He said that his name was George McCauley, and that he was forty-eight years of age. Pointing to the wrappings about his legs McCauley said he had ulcers and would like assistance. Questioned about his occupation Clark Brennan questioned him closely, and learned that he was a boatman and that he had followed the canal in the capacity of a driver, steersman and deckhand ever since he was about twelve years of age, with the exception of nearly four years that he was in the army.

McCauley said he was born on his father's boat, the "Thomas Jefferson," near Newarville, on the Erie canal, in 1839. When the war broke out he enlisted in the First Ohio regiment and served nearly four years throughout the conflict. He was in eighteen engagements, and in the battle of the Wilderness received a saber cut across the right side of the head, extending below the ear, and a bullet in the left hip. McCauley claims to have been well acquainted with the late Jesse James of Missouri. He said that he and "Jim" were employed for two months each there at the same time by Roger Willard, at fifteen dollars per month. They worked on a farm and had to do some very hard work. On one occasion he loaned James a shirt and Mr. McCauley describes the house in which Gardfield's early days were spent and in which he was born as the largest "log cabin" he ever saw. The home of the Garfields stood on a hill overlooking the Chagrin river valley in Ohio. The unfortunate old man spoke feelingly of his former companion, and said that Gardfield was a "square" fellow. He was a good man to work for, a kind reader, and when seated on the back of one of the canal horses would frequently read but he always had a book in his hand. He was always very respectful, and Mr. Cauley said he never heard him swear or saw him take a drink. McCauley said that Gardfield "hated" to be called "Jim" quiet, he never allowed himself to be imposed upon. He could lick any fellow, on one occasion, young Garfield was accused of having struck him best fellow with another. He never did say he had nothing to do with the cause of the difficulty, and instantly resented the false charge. Words led to a challenge from the driver of the opposing boat to fight. "Jim" Garfield got down from his horse and met the delinquent in the middle of the tow-path. A ring was formed by the crews of the two crafts and the bout a began in earnest. After both were pretty well used up, both boys being about evenly matched, the driver gave it up. Immediately Garfield was declared the victor. That was the last fight he ever had while following the canal, as the driver, who had whipped his man stepped up and down the deck of the boat, very free to say that there was nothing to be afraid of

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY,
AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XX. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, AUGUST 19, 1887. No. 33.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its limitations as in its authorities."—Madison.

Rates of Advertising.

	1 WEEK	2	3	4	5	6	13 WEEKS	26	52
1 in.	$1 00	1 50	2 00	2 50	3 00	3 50	3 00	5 00	8 00
2 in.	1 50	2 00	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	5 00	8 00	12 00
3 in.	2 00	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	4 50	7 00	10 00	15 00
4 in.	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	4 50	5 00	9 00	12 00	18 00
5 in.	3 00	3 50	4 00	4 50	5 00	5 50	11 00	14 00	20 00
6 in.	3 50	4 00	4 50	5 00	5 50	6 00	13 00	16 00	22 00
7 in.	4 00	4 50	5 00	5 50	6 00	6 50	15 00	18 00	24 00
8 in.	4 50	5 00	5 50	6 00	6 50	7 00	17 00	20 00	26 00
9 in.	5 00	5 50	6 00	6 50	7 00	7 50	19 00	22 00	28 00
10 in.	5 50	6 00	6 50	7 00	7 50	8 00	21 00	24 00	30 00
11 in.	6 00	6 50	7 00	7 50	8 00	8 50	23 00	26 00	32 00
12 in.	6 50	7 00	7 50	8 00	8 50	9 00	25 00	28 00	34 00

All Electric's must be solid metal.
"Links of Everything" column, 5 cts. per line.
Double rate, 50 per ct. advance of above rates.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

O. L. JENKINS, M. D., Homœopathist, successor to Dr. Smith; is at Rest. Front Street, Front Room, Up Stairs. Office Hours—7 to 9 A. M., 1 to 3 P. M. —7 to 8 P. M. —sep 19tf.

JACKSON & COLEMAN, Counsellors-at-Law, Commissioners of Deeds, Master-in-Chancery, Notaries Public, Offices corner of Park Avenue and Second street —jan27

GUSTAVUS W. DAY, General Auctioneer, Rules of Personal Property solicited. P. O. Box 124 Dunellen, N. J., or address 19 care as Our-ANT CONSTITUTIONALIST, Terms reasonable.

DR. CHARLES S. TRESIS, Dentist, 33 West Front street. A new local anesthetic applicable for extracting teeth without pain. Gold filling a specialty.—jan 23

H. HAND, Auctioneer, P. O. Address, Box No 11, Scotch Plains, N. J. Orders left at P. J. Carey's corner Second Avenue and Front street, Plainfield, N. J., will receive prompt attention.—mh

QUAIN & TEALE, Architect, 247 Broadway, New York City, and 32 Chancellor and Trader's Bank Building, Brooklyn, New York. —jan 23

WM. K. McCLURE, Attorney-at-Law, MASTER IN CHANCERY, NOTARY PUBLIC. Commissioners of Deeds. Office, North avenue opposite depot.—jan27

J. E. FERSTER, Veterinary Surgeon. Office in A. N. Seguine's livery office, corner Main street and Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Horses and other cattle examined, Telephone call No. 15, connects with office. Calls promptly attended to. Residence, 10 East Pike street.—jan27

DR. GEORGE SIDNEY, Veterinary Surgeon. Removed from Second street to 124 West Front Street, Plainfield, [illegible]—jan27

ARTHUR P. MILLER, Attorney-at-Law, (Successor to the late W. B. Mayhew), Solicitor in Chancery, Notary Public, Conveyancer, real estate, loan moneys, rent and take charge of property. Office over First National bank.—jan27

F. A. DUNBAR, Civil Engineer and Surveyor. No. 7 Park Avenue, Gossett's building. Particular attention given to the subdividing of unimproved property tracts. Parties cent to all parts of the country.—jan27

DR. A. F. GRIFFEN, Electric Baths. Dr. Griffen treats all Nervous affections. Uterine complaints, Skin diseases, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Dyspepsia etc. Drop-sy and Chronic diseases generally by his Electric Vitalizing Baths. Office hours, 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M. —sep 19tf.

BUSINESS CARDS.

ROBERT JAHN, TIN AND COPPER-SMITH, Scotch Plains, (Postoffice) N. J. Roofing, Spouts and Heater work, Pumps, Tinware, and all kinds of sheet metal work. Repairing done promptly. Pumps and Ventilators Chgs. Repairing promptly attended to.—jy2tf

TO THE PUBLIC!

We wish to inform our customers and the public generally that we intend to lead the best quality of

LEHIGH COAL,

Fresh from the Mines.

It is under cover and well protected from the weather. We are prepared to deliver it well screened and in good condition. We are also prepared to furnish all kinds of Seasoned Lumber and Masons' Materials at short notice.

A. D. COOK & BRO.

jan27

J. Hervey Doane, 9 PARK AVENUE. (Formerly Clerk.)

Watches, Clocks And Jewelry.

Repairing neatly and promptly done. dly

WM. H. SHOTWELL, DEALER IN GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, Vegetables, Fruits, etc. No. 36 Park Ave. OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE. THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS, BEST IN THE WORLD. ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE

MICHAEL UHDAL, CONTRACTOR AND LANDSCAPE GARDENER! Residence: NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY. P. O. BOX 787, PLAINFIELD.

FINE FOOT WEAR. BEST MAKES, LATEST STYLES, AT THE NEW SHOE STORE Doane & Van Arsdale 22 WEST FRONT STREET.

SANITARY PLUMBING, Brick and Portable Furnaces, GAS FITTING, TIN ROOFING, Etc. Etc.

I am prepared to do any of the above branches in a neatly finished, workmanlike manner.

Having associated myself with the Messrs Plumbers Association of New York City, I am prepared to do work in accordance with their rules. I believe in every man charging his own customers at as cheap a rate as I do myself.

D. W. LITTELL, No. 5 NORTH AVE. Plainfield, N. J.

All Orders Promptly Attended to. 24 NORTH AVENUE, Plainfield, New Jersey. Telephone Call No. 39

CHARLOTTE RUSSE MADE TO ORDER.

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

Force's Hotel! NORTH AVENUE Near R. R. Depot, Plainfield, New Jersey. JAMES H. FORCE, - - Proprietor. A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY HOTEL. Transient guests taken at reasonable rates.

Bottled Liquors a Specialty.

Laing's Hotel! PLAINFIELD, N. J. J. B. MILLER & BRO., - Proprietors. A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.

James Conneely Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a first-class WINE and LIQUOR ROOM, AT NO. 32 PARK AVE., Where he will be pleased to furnish his friends and patrons with the choicest brands of imported and Domestic Liquors. —mh12

TURF EXCHANGE HOTEL, 73 Courtlandt street, CORNER WASHINGTON, NEW YORK CITY FRED. W. BALLARD, - - Proprietor, (formerly of Jersey City), is now conducting the above commodious Hotel on the European plan. This house, formerly kept by the late James Van Pelt, and is well known to Jerseymen. All their old friends will be most courteously received.

PURE WINES, LIQUORS AND SEGARS. 13tf

SOMERSET HOTEL, Cor. Somerset & Dunly Sts., North Plainfield, N. J. Permanent and Transient Board, at fair rates. First-class Stables and Sheds attached. Meals at all reasonable hours. 3jan27

C. E. JOHNSON, Of late firm of England, Johnson & Graham, CARPENTER AND BUILDER. Office, adjoining City Hotel on Second street, near Park Avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Orders by mail, Box 1, Dunellen, Middlesex county, promptly executed. —mh19tf

T. J. GILLIES, Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent. SALESROOM—Madison Avenue, near Front St. Plainfield, N. J. Goods received on consignment.

MRS. E. J. MARTIN'S MAGIC RENOVATING FLUID. For taking out grease from any kind of goods, without changing the color, or leaving a spot. It will remove Paint, Varnish, Oil, Tar, Pitch, Shoe Blacking, etc., from carpets, &c. Also for taking out Iron Rust, Ink Stains, Fruit Stains, &c. For sale by all druggists, or address Mrs. E. J. Martin, Box 1, Port Reading, N. J., and at Mrs. W. L. Force's, 20 Park Avenue, Plainfield, N. J. —sep19tf

JOHN JOHNSTON, DEALER IN COAL! YARD AND OFFICE, SOUTH AVENUE, NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.

The best quality of screened coal at the lowest market price for cash. Address all orders to Netherwood post-office.—jan27-1

Park Avenue Bakery! JOHN WALKER, Prop'r FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the Celebrated VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS, And all Varieties of Pies, Cake and Confectionery. Open from 5 to 10 A. M.

Jas. M. Dunn, Dealer in GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, Vegetables, Fruits, etc. No. 36 Park Ave. OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE. THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS, BEST IN THE WORLD. ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE

BOSTON CLOTHING HOUSE 42 W. FRONT ST. Reliable Goods at Low Prices. Order Department Under the well-known Cutter, NEWTON P. DRAKE. Correct Styles. Right Prices apr22

Geo. A. Moore, (Of the late firm of Moore Bros.) Is now the sole proprietor of the old established stand at NO. 14 NORTH AVENUE, Where he will continue to supply patrons with the finest grades of Fresh and Salt Meats, Fish of all kinds, Oysters, Clams, Game in season at the lowest market price. Anything not usually kept in stock furnished at short notice. mh12

Edward Ramonetti, OYSTER AND ICE CREAM SALOON. OYSTERS BY THE QUART, 100 OR 1000.

EDUCATIONAL.

DORSEY W. HYDE, PRACTICAL TEACHER OF Piano, Harmony & Guitar. Fall Term commences MONDAY, Sept. 12, 1887. SEND FOR CIRCULAR. P. O. BOX 1018.

MR. LEAL'S SCHOOL WILL RE-OPEN Monday, Sept. 19, 1887. Attendance of those not added, facilities make it now possible to open another Class for Boys from the ages of 8 to 12 years. Several such pupils have been much year declined. Circulars and references on application. —aug26tf

A SCHOOL FOR BOYS WILL BE OPENED IN THE PARSONS OF THE PARK AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH, SEPTEMBER 15, '87. Applications may be made at Dock Park Avenue, corner Sixth Street.

ANNA J. MOORE, Principal. aug5 1y

Pennington Seminary, PENNINGTON, N. J. 40th Year, to direct trains of R. R. from Philadelphia, N. Y. Opens Sept. 8. Offers rare educational facilities for both sexes. Terms as liberal. Delightful location. High and healthful. Steam heating; gas; fire escapes. Perfect sanitary arrangements. For catalogue, letter of admission, address THOS. HANLON, A. M., D. D., President. 6 12 84

NEW JERSEY State Normal and Model Schools, TRENTON. Fall Term will commence Monday, Sept. 19th. TOTAL COST FOR BOARD, TUITION, BOOKS, etc., at the NORMAL SCHOOL, $154.00; at the MODEL SCHOOL, $200 per year. Buildings thoroughly heated by steam. The Model School offers to both young Ladies and Gentlemen superior advantages in all the departments, viz.: Mathematical, Classical, Commercial, Natural, Drawing, and in Belles-Lettres. For circulars containing full particulars, address W. HARBRUCK, Principal, 8 12 m1 Trenton, New Jersey.

MISCELLANEOUS.

ARTESIAN WELLS, F. A. W. STOTHOFF Are prepared to Sink Wells any depth up to 1,000 feet, and Tube them if need be. Orders may be left at the Constitutionalist office, Plainfield, N. J., Jenkins, of Plainfield, P. O. address, Florida N. J. —jan27

Mme. J. BERNARD, ASTROLOGIST. Residence—Harmony street, North Plainfield, fourth house from Somerset street, left hand side. Consultation hours—Wednesday and Saturday from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M. Private interviews, business marriages, journeys, &c. Nativities written. Life reviews. Has reviews In English, German and French.

My husband is a first-class Cooper, enterprise 1885, and Indian Secrets, the Astrologer.

Electrical Work! ELECTRICAL WORK—WE ARE PREPARED (as to repairs, etc.) also to do all kinds of Gasfitting, Steam and Water Fitting. We are completely equipped with the latest and most improved tools, and have a 6-2-4 price take care of electrical apparatus by the year. Charges reasonable. Satisfaction guaranteed and maintaining it in thorough working order. Park Avenue Bakery! JOHN WALKER, Prop'r FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the Celebrated VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS, And all Varieties of Pies, Cake and Confectionery. Open from 5 to 10 A. M.

NETHERWOOD FARM! MOUNTAINVIEW, NEAR FANWOOD P.O. A JERSEY STOCK FARM! OVER 50 HEAD OF JERSEY CATTLE 50 Good family cows for sale at Moderate Prices. Milk and Cream delivered anywhere in Plainfield. Visitors are always welcome. C. W. SCHEELE, Manager. J. HERBERT JOHNSTON, Plainfield, N. J. m1tf

CAREY'S Furniture and Freight Express! OFFICE, No. 42 WEST FRONT STREET. Nearly opposite Lathy's Hotel, Plainfield, N. J. Having removed to above premises I am prepared to buy and sell second-hand Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, etc. I will also take Furniture to or from Dunellen, Bound Brook, Furniture, etc., stored. P. O. Box 686.—mh19

JOHN MORTON, PURE SPRING WATER ICE Delivered daily to any part of the city at the lowest market price. Orders left at Morton's Store, P. O. Box 265. Orders left at Sherrick's store will receive prompt attention. I hereby return my thanks to my old patrons for past favors, and solicit a continuance of the same. I have increased my facilities for supplying the trade, and will be prepared to supply all with the best ice in the market.—apl7

DOOR NUMBERS, DOOR BELLS, DOOR PLATES, AT DICKINSON & CLAWSON'S, 13 PARK AVENUE. (Next door to Post Office)

Dr. King's Spectacles. jy16yr

SUMMER HATS. CAPS, GLOVES, Trunks, Valises, Etc Call and Examine the Elegant Stock of Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods at F. A. POPE'S, (Successor to E. Terwilliger) No. 5 W. Front-st. apr29

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPPLIES.

Paints, Varnishes, Glass. WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES. WALL PAPERS! PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY. A. SWALM, No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield. apr29

Weaver Bros. House & Sign Painting, Graining, Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a specialty. Office and Shop in the rear of 108 EAST FRONT STREET, P. O. Box 381. P. WEAVER. D. WEAVER.

W. N. ROWE, PAINTER AND DECORATOR. Dealer in Paints, Oil, Varnishes, Glass, Window Shades, WALL PAPER and WINDOW HEADING. Paper Hanging and Kalsomining executed in the best manner and satisfaction guaranteed. No. 22 E. FRONT STREET, Plainfield. (Old stand.) Residence, No. 6 E. 7th St. P. O. Box 1128.—aplsyr

L. S. WOOLSTON, L. F. BUCKLE. Woolston & Buckle, PAINTERS, PAINTERS' SUPPLIES. 20 NORTH AVENUE apl5tf

MILLINERY.

Mrs. J. M. Dunn, FASHIONABLE MILLINER, LATEST SHAPES OF BONNETS AND HATS. FRENCH IMPORTED FLOWERS. Feathers, Velvets, Plushes, Satins, Laces, etc. Also, Fancy Goods and Notions; Dress and Infants' Caps a Specialty. PINKING, BLEACHING & PRESSING. Feathers Dyed, Cleaned and Curled AT SHORT NOTICE. 14 West Front street. mh12

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING, No. 17 Park Avenue, PLAINFIELD, N. J. Manufacturer of the Celebrated C. O. D. CIGAR. The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made with the choicest of the finest tobacco. CLARA KUHARA SEGARS A SPECIALTY. A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Cigars and Smoking Tobacco, Cigarettes and Tobacco, always on hand. Smokers Articles in Great Variety.

C. M. FINE, Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC SEGARS! 6.25 PARK AVE., (Next corner of SECOND ST.) PLAINFIELD, N. J. Tobacconist and Smoker's Materials, of every description. The celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, with other popular brands constantly on hand. —mh19

DAINTY, BUT DANGEROUS.

Her complexion matte lost Pearl-tinted soft, pearly suit Vanished out. That elusive flow in witching charm, Without meaning any harm, Pouf! Has gone and closed!

Just a single little glance Filled my life with wild romance— Sparkling eyes and soft brown hair, Such a picture I can't forget I had sought.

So I wooed the charming maid, Fond caresses paid my court. By her hand, Now, alas! I'm sorry to swear Boots and trousers seldom are Built for love.

For our friendship opened fast, And, before a year was past, We were wed.

Now both hosts and other things Blackened with the clothes slings All my fault! —Somerville Journal.

BLITZER'S PUNISHMENT.

How the Good Dutch Settlers of Austerlitz Dealt Out Justice to a Criminal.

The murder of Dirck Van Patzel was the first tragedy in the history of Austerlitz, Blitzer.

The village was a little Dutch colony on the extreme western frontier of Texas, remote from other settlements, and without railway, or even postal facilities.

For the most part the honest citizens of Austerlitz had lived in their new home in the undisturbed enjoyment of the agreeable monotony of their existence disturbed by a single unpleasant event.

Dirck Patzel's death was a shock and pained the entire community. The circumstances surrounding the crime lent it with additional interest. Patzel had unquestionably been murdered in a fit of hear belonging to one Blitzer, and had then filled up the hog with water. When the body was found it was clear he had been treated his wrath overmastered him. The murderer was unknown.

In their simplicity and good fellowship the people of Austerlitz had never thought of organizing anything like a town government. They had no courts, no machinery of justice. Under the circumstances they were at their wits' end. What was to be done with Blitzer?

Several days were allowed to pass without any one's being able to decide. Blitzer went about his work as usual, and kept his mouth shut. He knew the law would not touch him. He had given him commit the bloody deed. He was set down as a lucky man, and was not to blame for it.

"Whatsmatter him by lynch law," said Hans Muller, one day to a group of villagers.

New Muller was supposed to know all about American customs. He had spent some time at Fort Worth and El Paso, and his fellow-townsmen looked up to him as a man of superior knowledge.

So, when Muller came out in favor of lynching, the others thought it best to do so, but there was a general call for an explanation of the law by our neighbor.

"It is very simple," said Muller. "We organize ourselves into a court. Somebody we send for Blitzer and tell him the charge against him. If he says he is guilty we pass just a moment, and then we hang him."

"Suppose he save he is not guilty?" suggested one of the crowd.

"O, that ends it, of course," was the reply.

"Blitzer might object to the whole business," said Hans.

"Well," answered Muller, thoughtfully, "we might overrule his objection on his part, but we could not in any case force him, unless it was satisfactory to him. With Blitzer present we can hear the pleas and warnings of the American system of trial by jury. Then we can all of Austerlitz all declared that they saw nothing unusual about the body, and were sure that Blitzer's case should be disposed of at once.

Shortly Hans Muller was selected to preside over the meeting. He had interpreted the law to the best of his ability. It was proper that he should manage the affair.

When every thing had been explained to the criminal, Muller put an awful question:

"Guilty or not guilty?"

"A guilty!"

The answer created a sensation, but there was no outburst of indignation. Blitzer's fellow-citizens looked at him coldly and disappointment.

Then Blitzer, who was equal to the emergency. Fixing his eyes sternly upon Blitzer, he said:

"Then your case is final it disposes of the case. But I warn you now that it will be the duty of your fellow-citizens and neighbors will always look upon you as a man of bad character, and will handle a false hoof. Now, what say you, Blitzer; guilty or not guilty?"

After deliberation," was the calm reply, "I feel it is my duty to answer guilty."

"Spoken like a true Austerblitzer," said Muller. "You have proved yourself to that you're taken to Eagle Bluff and hanged by the neck until you are dead. Have you any thing to say?"

"Any time," replied the doomed man, with the utmost indifference to his fate. "Any time will do, and as this seems to be a general holiday, why not now?"

"The sentence is satisfactory, is it?" said Muller. "Then we will proceeds and subscribers unto me?"

"I am ready," replied O us were then appointed a committee to take the condemned to Eagle B uff and execute him.

Every body crowded around Blitzer and shook hands with h m. They patted him on the back, and told him that he was a fine fellow, and would carry with him the good wishes of All.

The procession with the prisoner called at Muller's house, where they were refreshed with beer, and then set out on several g nions of beer. Then they started in a two-horse w gon for Eagle B uff. The following is a correct list of the authentic ones of the Austerlitz corps.

Before they were about half way to their destination, Hans remarked that it did not look right for Blitzer to be riding. To have a hand in hanging a neighbor, when he was riding in the just and well. Why not allow him to use who should be hanged? The suggestion was adopted on the spot. It was left to Van Dooter just then a wagon met them on the way to his wi ow's cabin. Blitzer and his guards forced themselves to it, leaving Van Dooter and Blitzer to continue their journey.

When the ex-cutioner and his prisoner reached Eagle B uff the former was engaged in selecting the best place for the hanging. A pole across the arm of the W ld Elm excited their attention, and Van Dooter listened one end of his rope to it, and made a noose on the other end.

"Now," said he, "it is all right. Shall I put the rope, old fellow, before you take Our journey?"

Blitzer's three eyes were beginning to grow perceptibly bigger during these preparations. He looked around upon scenery, and the sun sank down and puffed away for the night for half an hour.

"Why didn't I think of it before?" soliloquized Van Dooter.

"What is that you say?" asked Blitzer.

"Why, just this; It is nonsense for me to pay for all this trouble. You may as well jump over yourself, and save me an unpleasant piece of work. Bah! It makes me sick to look at it."

"But it might be irregular," objected the prisoner.

"I don't know. I'll keep it a secret. Won't you agree to it to oblige me?"

"Well, if you understand it," said Blitzer finally said that he would not go back on a friend, and he knew his feelings he would hang himself.

Then Blitzer warmly shook hands with him upon this promise, and adjusted the noose around his friend's neck.

Then Van Dooter and his victim back to the village as fast as I can, and tell them that it was done.

He jumped into the wagon, and in a few moments was lost to sight behind the hills.

Left alone, Blitzer filled his pipe again, and then he smoked and smoke. The preceding excitement him that night was conducive to sleep.

He longer erect and manly, but shame-faced and cringing. Blitzer took the noose from his neck. With a hurry that showed the rope in two and, throwing the pieces into the air, he began the other piece over the cliffs. His actions were to make it appear that the rope had broken accidentally, and that the body had fallen into the water.

Then Blitzer, with a wretch scanned the surrounding hills. Nobody was in sight, so up, and a living thing.

With a long-drawn sigh that sounded like a groan of despair, Blitzer ran madly away and plunged into the depths of the forest.

* * *

In their innocent confidence in the integrity of mankind the inhabitants of Austerlitz had never thought of using locks and bars for the protection of their property. They had heard of such a thing as theft among them until Patzel was murdered Blitzer's deed.

One morning shortly after the lynching episode, Van Dooter found some provisions missing from his cabin. The worthy fellow could not account for it, and the matter passed out of his mind. He told Goos about it, and the next morning Goos came to him with the information that he had seen some one in the cabin on the night before.

That night Van Dooter kept watch with his rifle in his hand. Toward morning he saw the figure of a man emerge from his kitchen with a bag of something. Van Dooter was about to fire when the thought struck him that he was in the moonlight.

It was Blitzer!

Van Dooter fell back too horrified to speak or move.

He had watched that Blitzer had hung himself at Eagle Bluff, and yet here he was, apparently in the flesh, and in search of provisions. He rubbed his eyes. The man was still there, big and strong.

"I have seen a ghost," said poor Van Dooter sadly, "the spirit of Blitzer walks the earth to reproach his murderers." And their cruelty in compelling him to yield to it.

In the course of another day or two the story of Blitzer's return had seen the ghost flitting about at night.

Hans Muller was the next man to suffer. He missed a number of hens, and a demijohn of Holland gin was not to be found in the cellar of his house.

"Don't talk to me about a ghost that eats and drinks gin!" he said in his wrath.

Late that afternoon there was an infernal uproar at the upper end of the village. Muller's military clothes, the regalia he had put on, and their masterable to stand. Muller was in the act of congregating around like a wind bag in consequence. The effect was simply that of an drunk that he made an attempt to control himself, but howled and swore, and gave the assistance of rivings.

When the first surprise was over the townspeople gathered together in a large crowd of stout fellows, and thrown into a state of excitement by the affair.

If the Austerblitzers were puzzled over the course to pursue when Blitzer killed Dirck Patzel, they were even more bewildered. As explanation from Van Dooter made all that was mysterious in the appearance of Blitzer perfectly clear, but none could tell what action to take.

Goos said that in some communities it was the custom to reprimand an offender who had been guilty of something incredibly base, and in his opinion, Blitzer deserved the punishment.

The suggestion met with emphatic approval, and the case of Blitzer was duly called. It was laid before the tyrant of a tribunal again.

This time Muller loomed up grandly. He reproached the prisoner for his bad faith, his cowardice, and his ingratitude.

"And now," said Muller in conclusion, "Austerblitz has expelled her unworthy son and visits the public wrath upon him. The prisoner may go!"

Blitzer hung his head like a beaten dog, and without a word sneaked out into the woods.

The more thoughtful Austerblitzers said that Muller's reprimand would be the end of Blitzer, but they were wrong.

For days and weeks the outcast lingered under the scenes of his disgrace. Occasionally he slipped into the village, but he was shunned as a leper, and never looked at or spoke to him.

How the man lived no one knew. At times rumor had it that he was dead, and at time he was seen in Austerblitz he was a mere skeleton. After that he was not seen. It excited no surprise when his body was found one day in Van Dooter's field.

Van Dooter had the unfortunate desire to say:

"After all," he remarked, "it pity him. He was a good fellow when he was not crazed by liquor. He died of a broken heart."—Wallace P. Reed, in Atlanta Constitution.

An Intrepid Bishop.

Rt. Rev. Dr. W. F. Adams, who has been elec ed Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Easton, Md., was consecrated Missionary Bishop of Kio and Atlanta in 1875. On his way to his d ocese he stopped at Key West, where he found many of them as they lay. South American travelers, who had seen the Rt. Rev. Dr. Adams in Brazil, describing the latter's wonderful escapes from wild beasts and wilder men. Birds from trees with poles. A marine animal of which he was the discoverer, was discovered in the islands, near Bahia dos Tiraits, more than a century ago by Bishop Pedro da Magalhaes de Gandavo by having become utterly paralyzed by touching it. It is a native animals of New Zealand, Australia, South America, New Guinea, etc., can hold their own against the dog, and will face with quadrupeds and it do from the wild Indians of Brazil, whose ancestors have had for ages a training in the art of hunting the jaguar and other foes. The wife and the dogs have succumbed to modern times. With others, such as the sloth or the ant-eater, it is a question only of time. On the far distant plains of Australia the dingo, or native dog, has its own, and is surrounded with quadrupeds, a wonderful species of animal, the larger wild animal not to engage with the dingo. Most of these have been doomed by the very weapon or charms which first gave their surgeons and their followers a foothold on the land and the bird of paradise for its feathers.

When Bishop Adams left the Iron Mask was in Trance. When Hannibal crossed the Alps elephants were used in the African possessions of Carthage. Naturalists are telling us that within the memory of man lyre-birds have been almost exterminated by the advance of civilization. New Zealand is becoming, so many, so lately as the Rt. Rev. Dr. Adams found to his sorrow, has ever been found in lonely, desolate regions. Only in such places, scarcely, treasted, and where no carnivorous animals exist, would we expect to find the dodo, the apteryx, and the kiwi without wings. When we turn from the animal world and see how slowly and how slow the progress and how immense the labor of man has been in subduing the earth to the use of the human race, we cannot but feel that the Rt. Rev. Dr. Adams, who has ever since devoted his energies to the good of his fellow-men, has done a noble work, and has a right to look back upon his life with a sense of satisfaction.

Better than the Debates.

An Excel-lent woman is about to start "A School for Wives." The pupils will be instructed in cookery, dressmaking, physiology, book-keeping, music and dancing. The curricu um has its good points, but the chief is the one which seems to be a paper facility. As a means of matrimonial efficiency the ability to waltz is overdone. It has been said that that is the happiest nation which has no history. It is certainly be asserted that that is the happiest family which has no debates.

IN HUSBANDRY.

Tne ground for sweet potatoes should be mellowed heavily with mold from the woods, barn-yard matter and wood ashes. Remove the slips in a morning of cool, cowyard matter and water, spread out the leaves roots and firm the soil about the stem.

Hemp as a rule are not given a variety of soil. The "sandy" soil was recommended for sheep because they do not refine the quality of food that is relished by other animals; but to get sheep in prime condition they should receive careful attention, which does not depend so much upon the quantity as upon the quality of the food allowed.

The following is said by a reliable farmer to be an excellent plan for the prevention of corn-pulling by the crows. A day or two after the corn has been planted scatter over the field a few quarts of shelled corn of a poor grade. If the crows get a taste of these they will feed in this manner the corn plant is very likely to escape them.

Another method of exterminating the ground-hog has been practiced for years by an Illinois farmer. Every year he sets apart a certain number of days, and during these kills them with powder and inserting them into the holes, burning the remaining. Then, after packing the earth firmly down at the mouth of all the holes, he waits for the concussion which kills the animals in their burrows.

Where the beets are up enough to see the rows, thin out a one horse cultivator between them. Cultivate once, and then go over them once with the hoe, cutting out all weeds missed by the cultivator, and leaving a stand of the best beets on the plants to ten inches in the row. Cultivate with the horse about once a week for the next four times, and by that time the plants will have nearly covered the ground.

Head is an ingenious substitute for the old-fashioned working of corn. Drive two long forked stakes into the ground about ten feet apart leaving them about eight feet high. Across this lay a pole, from which suspend bundles of corn with the heads out. Several of these in a corn field will preserve the crop, and the inventor of no crow if he has not tasted the corn plant.

The working day of a good farmer is from early morning until the chores are done at night. He who confines his farm work to factory hours will make a failure of farming as a business. The kind of help needed on the farm is the man of intelligence who does what he is told as he is told and as soon as he is told without any plan or waiting time in advancing his own business; he is the man who makes knowledge of his business to do a piece of work as it should be, and when it is completed he can set himself to that another job if the owner is away at the time.

There are many who turn their stock out in the morning too early in the spring to save hay and grass, but they do not consider how much nourishment there is in the grass when it first starts, and fail to realize the loss of the flesh of the animal the previous month. Not only is there a loss of the required nourishment, but the loss from exposure generally and consequent loss of weight. Much the better plan is to keep the stock until the grass is a good start, and then turn the stock out for an hour or two each day, giving a little more time each day for the first week or two, which will prevent scouring. In this way the stock will become accustomed to the grass, and later do well on that alone.

NAMES OF NEWSPAPERS.

Curious Titles Invented by Imaginative American Journalists.

The "American Newspaper Directory," lately issued by George P. Rowell & Co., New York, makes an interesting exhibit of the names of American papers. The most common names are indicated in the following list:

Eyes, 24; Argus, 7; Times, 92; Herald, 168; Journal, 5; Democrat, 155; Gazette, 160; Republican, 75; Enterprise, 31; Courier, 31; Sentinel, 28; Independent, 24; Press, 186; Star, 108; Record, 30; Mail, 6; Transcript, 15; Sun, 42; Advertiser, 14; Leader, 12; Reporter, 10; Register, 10; Item, 9; Tribune, 8; Bee, 7; Ledger, 6; Post, 6; Post, 32

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE, } A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors.

POLITICAL FACTS.

We extract as follows from the columns of the New York World:

"Unnecessary taxation is unjust taxation.

"It is a monstrous injustice that the Government should collect from the people $130,000,000 a year beyond its needs.

"A Treasury surplus is a standing temptation to extravagance.

"The entire upon sciences for spending the surplus is to perpetuate for another generation the already wickedly prolonged war taxes.

"To make extravagance the national policy is to mortgage the future and to discount prosperity that may not continue."

"The best place for every dollar not needed for the legitimate expenses of the Government is in the pockets of the men who earned it."

The foregoing form an array of sterling political facts, which partisan ingenuity cannot truthfully controvert, and around which intelligent legislation should throw the authority of enacted law.

A NOXIOUS BROOD.

The Government Commission to examine into the financial transactions of the Pacific Railways has been endeavoring in the face of interested opposition, to discharge assigned duty at San Francisco.

Referring to a fifty thousand dollar voucher, the Commissioners very appropriately asked the question—"Was any portion of that sum of money used to influence legislation?"

An inquiry thoroughly correct.

Yet, to it, a high and honorable millionaire railroad official and California statesman rejoined—"I decline to answer your question."

Why did he decline?

The reason is obvious to all honest men.

He dared not tell the truth.

If the records of that Railway Corporation were unsullied by bribery and corruption, by legislative lobby trafficking, would a question so just and appropriate as that have been scornfully repulsed?

Never.

Refusing to answer does not imply innocence, but quite the contrary.

A Railway magnate and manipulator by the name of Jacob Sharp was recently found guilty in New York, after an impartial trial before an intelligent jury and upright judge, of the crime of bribing legislators, and will go to Sing Sing, unless some evil influence is powerful enough to thwart the ends of justice.

There are scores of Sharps throughout this country, fees-and and law-defying revelling in ill-gotten wealth, and on the quick hunt for more of the same sort, regardless of how or of whom it can be fleeced.

Every one of them, we care not how rich and assuming, ought to be speedily brought to the bar of offended justice.

Until the entire noxious brood is exterminated, the rights of honest people will continue to be a cruel mockery and honor a discarded virtue.

Gov. Green Tuesday appointed State Prison-Keeper Patterson as delegate to the International Prison Congress, which meets at Toronto, Canada, on Sept. 15.

The firemen of New Brunswick are erecting themselves in anticipation of the annual meeting of the State Firemen's Relief Association which convenes in that city on September 20th. Delegates from this city will be in attendance.

A law, passed February 4th, 1863, requires Boards of Freeholders to keep a sun-dial within 100 feet of the court-house. A supplement passed a year later requires a compass and table of latitude and longitude corded thereon to be placed near the dial.

The Lake Hopatcong Land Improvement Company has begun the construction of a castle bridge 240 feet long and forty feet high in the centre, just south of the Hotel Breslin. It will cross a beautiful glen will cascade and water falls.

The survivors of the Fourteenth Regiment, New Jersey Volunteers, will hold their annual reunion at Toms River, on Friday of next week. There are several members of the Regiment in this vicinity who will probably be present and take part in the proceedings.

A new encampment of Odd-Fellows will be instituted at Washington Hall, Elizabeth, on August 25th. Ex-Councilman Isaac Van Hart has been selected as Chief Patriarch of the new lodge, which will be instituted by the State officers. Noah's Dove Encampment, of Plainfield, will visit Elizabeth in a body on this occasion and participate in the inaugural ceremonies.

The Central Railroad has just issued a neat pamphlet on "Lake Hopatcong, and What People Say of It." It is full of interest, and all information that may be sought is therein found. What it is, how to get there, and cost and accommodations for transients or permanents, is all set forth. Copies will be sent those desiring, upon receipt of their address at the company's office in New York.

The Federal Grand Jury will be drawn on the 25th instant at Trenton. There is every indication that they will have a great deal of work to do, as there have been many arrests for smuggling and counterfeiting since the session here, etc. The court term opens on the 20th of September, and as there are defendants who have been awaiting trial for months, the petit jurors will likewise have a busy time of it.

There are many important offices to be filled at the coming Fall election, and politicians all over the State are canvassing for candidates, and the prospect is that the woods will be full of them before long. A State Senator will be elected from each of the following counties: Camden, Essex, Gloucester, Hudson, Salem, Union, Warren and Warren. Sheriffs will also be elected in all counties in the State, except Cape May and Somerset. Surrogates will be elected in Atlantic, Cape May, Middlesex, Monmouth, Salem, Somerset and Union, and County Clerks will be elected in Camden, Essex, Gloucester, Mercer, Sussex and Union.

A Batch of Law Breakers.

One young man was arraigned before the City Judge at the station house last Monday, for being drunk on the streets Sunday. He was ordered on paying a five dollar fine imposed.

Edward Miller, colored, was arrested on Somerset street at noon Sunday, by Borough Marshal Becker, for using profane language. He was taken before Judge Dunham on Monday Mayor Cooley sentenced him to pay a fine of five dollars or be committed ten days. At last accounts he was still waiting for the five dollars.

Mrs. Sullivan, a well-known offender from the Fourth Ward, was arrested on Saturday for being drunk and using foul language. This morning she was up and told how many times she had been arrested within the past three months. Two different times she was brought out of her cell in the station house to plead to the double charge, and each time she refused to plead guilty. Judge Ulrich remanded her for trial. This afternoon Judge Ulrich suspended sentence.

On Wednesday, August 3d, Mary Kane of Westervelt avenue, North Plainfield, went before Mayor Cooley and swore out a warrant for the arrest of John Barry of Ball Poug City, charging in the complaint that the said Barry "in violation of the eighth and ninth sections of an ordinance of the said Borough of North Plainfield entitled 'An ordinance relating to the morals, peace and good order of the Borough of North Plainfield,'" was drunk and disorderly and gave intoxicating liquors to minor persons. The warrant was issued and on Saturday afternoon the accused was apprehended and paraded in his own recognizance to appear at a hearing before Mayor Cooley on Thursday morning.

Plainfield's Public Schools.

As a marked instance of the good and extended repute of the Public Schools of Plainfield, a communication was recently received from an official in one of the eastern counties of New Jersey, desiring the publication of the modus operandi of successful school management in this city. To that inquiry, the Secretary of the Board of Education made the following reply:

BOARD OF EDUCATION,
PLAINFIELD, N. J., August 2, 1887.

DEAR SIR:

I cannot in response to your letter of July 30th, furnish, as requested, a copy of the rules and regulations governing the Public Schools of this city, because we have no formulated data of the kind.

Our schools are conducted under a special act of incorporation and supplement thereto to be found in the Laws of New Jersey passed from 1869 to the beginning years ago, pursuant to which the Board of Education consists of five members, holding office for the term of five years, one member being elected by the people in each ward annually on the first Monday in April.

The system of public instruction here is graded, having primary, grammar and high branches, and the earnest and single purpose of the Educational Authorities have ever been to provide suitable buildings for the health and comfort of pupils, and employ all the time the most able, efficient and progressive institutions of instruction through the agency of well qualified and faithful Principal, aided by his Principals and Assistants, who are selected with reference to their practical ability and personal worth. Such, I feel safe in saying, is the status of the Public Schools of Plainfield enjoy the honorable prestige of a reputation well.

Our schools re-open September 5th, and should any gentlemen of your Board desire to visit them, they will be most cordially welcomed.

I am, very respectfully,
NATHAN HARPER,
Secretary.

There is no public interest more deserving of liberal aid and encouragement than the free and thorough education of the rising generation. It is also among the most able foundation of not only individual prosperity in life, but of the welfare of society and the integrity of government.

Plainfield has certainly always had a liberal proud of their Public Schools, and to honor the memory of the late Doctor Stillman Smith for his long and devoted services in connection therewith. Contributing as much, if not more than aught else to build up Plainfield, her schools now enjoy the high and excellent credit of which it is so justly declared and generally admitted the very best in the whole State.

Another Barn Added to the List.

About two o'clock Sunday morning, John McIlroy, a watchman employed by Mr. William Thompson about his house on the corner of Central avenue and Park, heard a man pass along Sixth street in the direction of New street. The man was walking in the gutter at the time, and the watchman followed him, supposing he was about to seek lodgings in the unoccupied house at the corner of New and Fifth streets, but McIlroy's surprise was great when he saw the man enter the barn of Mr. Sharp, who lives on the opposite corner had arrived, and with assistance forced an entrance into the barn and secured to getting out the buggy belonging to Mr. Hasbrouck. The fire spread very rapidly, although those who were aroused by the fire soon found that the blaze could have easily been extinguished with a few pails of water when it was first discovered. The heavens were brilliantly illuminated for a time, and some were drawn to the place by the bright light. The structure was frame one-story high with rear, and belonged to William H. Hutchison of North Plainfield, who for several years ago bought it from the late Peter Baier at a cost of about $300 and removed it to the lot on which it stood. The barn was partly destroyed, and the loss is said to be covered by insurance in one of the companies in which Mr. Hutchison is agent. William Graydon with his family occupies the house on the premises. He had a cow, stone stored in the building, which is the only loss he sustained. Adjoining the burned building was a frame barn belonging to James Clark. This was damaged $100, and was uninsured. It was somewhat scorched, being in the rear of the burning barn, and some lumber, fortunately but little was lost. Hearing in the time or the result would have been more disastrous, although as the alarm was promptly responded to a number of frame dwellings. As usual the firemen experienced trouble with the hydrant water, but they did efficient service in keeping the fire from spreading. Officer Flanagan told a Press reporter Monday, that the man he had followed into the barn was about five feet seven inches in height, dark complexion, and had a slender build. He was dressed in dark clothes, was out of the first appearance of the man, and he is well acquainted with him, and for a long time has been under surveillance. He has been applying the torch to barns in this city. The officer carefully watched the man's movements, and was in progress and pointed him out to several persons who saw him. The officer proposes to make a good foundation for the arrest and conviction of the criminal, and when he has sufficient evidence of the guilt of any one will lay hands upon him.

In Aid of St. John's Church.

A grand picnic will be given on the grounds of the Middlesex Gun Club at Dunellen, on Thursday, August 18th, in aid of St. John's Evangelical Church of Dunellen. Prof. Bixby will furnish the music for dancing, and refreshments will be offered for sale. For price of admission and other particulars, see the announcement on another page.

A Child Fearfully Burned.

George, the three-year-old son of Mr. Geo. H. Bangley of Eighth and Union streets, was frightfully burned on the chest and arms a few evenings since. The little fellow was sitting at the supper table, when he accidentally overturned a bowl, officiating hot porridge, the contents of the bowl covering his arms and running down the chest. T. H. Tomlinson was called in and under his efficient treatment no fatal results are anticipated.

Hetherington's Head.

MASSON, EDITOR:—I learn from your esteemed paper, that some members of the Street Committee, accompanied by Mayor Hetherington, have been on an investigating tour for the purpose of individually ascertaining the improvements and repairs needed. It is to be hoped that they have seen the condition of South avenue, as well as the streets in the neighborhood of Prospect avenue, and that the much needed repairs in those parts of the city will have immediate attention.

TAX PAYER.

Frighten The Loafers.

Ex-Councilman Arnold, the present Clerk of the borough of North Plainfield, offers ten dollars reward for the sake of putting the grip of the law on the "man" Alcker that among themselves nights by stealing or exchanging gates, loafing on the corners, insulting ladies and in other ways disgusting the laws of peace and morals. They laugh at the authorities, and the only way to protect ourselves and our lady folks is to make a move, as Mr. Arnold is doing, and pay for an example that will be all the warning necessary.

Hurt On a Tricycle.

Miss Florence Burke, the eleven-year-old daughter of Mr. T. S. Burr of La Grande avenue, met with an accident last Friday that might have resulted fatally, and is yet a very serious matter. She was riding on the front of her father's tricycle sitting on the handle bars which are the ordinary seat on a bicycle. As the machine turned the corner of La Grande avenue and Broadway, the little girl slipped down, and suddenly and with all her weight struck the base of her spine on the sharp projection built to hold the lantern. Dr. Davis, who was fortunately at hand, took charge of the case at once, and summoned Dr. Rushmore in consultation. It was necessary to put the patient under the influence of ether while the deep wound was sewed and dressed.

Played the Confidence Game.

A well known Plainfielder who, until a few weeks ago, did a flourishing business in this city, and who was a leader in the shining light in the Reform Club, entered the office of a Plainfield gentleman in New York a few days since, and proceeded to ing that he had come to New York to purchase a supply of stock for his business, expending all of his ready cash for the purpose, and that he was a stranger in the city, he said, he had lost his return ticket, and kindly asked for a loan of two dollars so as to get home, at the same time presenting his business card, telling the gentleman to send around to his office the next day when he would return the borrowed money. The gentleman to whom the request was made, became rather suspicious and said, "my friend, I don't know you." "I know him, father," said Tom, stepping forward, "and he is all right." The loan was made, and the father was somewhat indignant the next day when his son called at the "office" in this city, only to learn that the borrower had vacated the place several weeks before, and was now a frequenter of the Bowery dives.

"Uncle Abe Runyon."

The following item concerning the aged father of ex-Chancellor Runyon, is taken from a New York paper:

Abraham Runyon of Plainfield calls the father of ex-Chancellor Runyon "Uncle Abe Runyon." His lean figure and snowwhite hair are familiar sights on the streets now, for he prefers to spend his Summer with his son in Plainfield rather than at the ex-Chancellor's more aristocratic Summer home at Elberon. During the Winter he lives in Newark with his son. "Uncle Abe" was born in 1803 at Greenbrook, near Plainfield, on a farm that is still in the family. He is therefore eighty-six years old. His father and mother, Ephraim and Elizabeth, after raising a family of ten children, died at the ages of eighty-seven and eighty-six respectively. He is now the only survivor of the ten children. "Most of them lived to a ripe old age and lived them reached fifty-six in single-digit. But "Uncle Abe" will not reach and pass the age attained by any one of his family, for he is in excellent health, although his age has rounded his shoulders he walks with a step that is firm and elastic. He has but two children, the ex-Chancellor and a daughter, the latter a very handsome woman and the wife of William H. Stanbury of Scotch Plains. He is proud of his ex-son-in-law, and often refers with a chuckle to the time when Mr. Grimsby predicted that the ex-Chancellor's wife was throwing herself away when she married him.

"Uncle Abe," as he is familiarly known, every year makes his annual visit to THE CONSTITUTIONALIST office, and places his name on the subscription list with the thousands of other readers—each year remarking that "this will be the last."

Improving Music Hall.

The repainting of the Music Hall scenery is progressing rapidly under the clever brush of Mr. Seymour Parker, the scenic artist of the Criterion Theatre, New York. Already the curtain is lifted, disdrawing room set, that has been so long repugnant to the good taste of our cultured community, has been blotted out. The foreground of the fourth ago. In its stead has developed an interior rich but soft, including twenty-one tints combined with pleasing effect in a style most elaborate. Other sets are to be altered or touched up to their great improvement, and from the evidence of the work he has done it is apparent that as far as Mr. Parker is permitted to go, just so far will the satisfaction of next season's patrons result. But unfortunately the Board of Managers cannot afford the sum it fully realizes should be expended. The people's patronage of the past does not justify the Board in saddling the stockholders with a great increase in the way of additional expenses. Consequently the most hideous curtain possessed by any opera house or theatre in the World, will continue to chill us as we enter during the long Winter to come. Messrs. Alex. Gilbert and O. T. Waring of the Committee on Improvement, have been visiting all the New York theatres to learn from the experience of their managers, what remedies may be taken for last accounts. Something they feel must be done, although in a question whether the difficulty in hearing often found by the audience, is due to the faulty of the player's articulation. From our own experience we should be just enough to say—we can give a long list of actors that have appeared on Music Hall, whose every utterance was heard distinctly and clearly. But already a simple plan has been adopted that resulted Monday evening in the pleasing discovery of the audience enjoying the entire programme. Invisible wires have been stretched across the gallery in front of the proscenium arch, that break the body of sound and so confine it that it cannot fill all parts of the house. This plan is a scheme of Stage Director Mattox's who is always trying to do something for the people's gratification.

The Organ Recital.

So many of Plainfield's cultured people are out of town for the season, the audience was not very large at the organ recital by Prof. Bixby, in the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening. Those who were present, however, enjoyed a real musical treat. Mr. Taft having had a chance to more thoroughly familiarize himself with the ability of the organ, rendered the programme published by us, with one substitution, in a thoroughly artistic and appreciative manner. Dudley Buck's "Bridal Song" was given instead of the Gavotte by Holst, and, of course, was one of the gems of the evening.

Presenting a Cold Medal.

The Turn Section of the Plainfield Gesang and Turn Verein, celebrated the seventh anniversary of its organization last Sunday. A large number of the active members went to Florida Grove in carriages, and spent the day there in thorough enjoyment. The great feature of the occasion was the presentation to Turnwart Piker—who had occupied that office for the past five years—with a handsome gold medal. Mr. H. Hausser made the presentation speech, and the rest all joined in the chorus of cheers. The medal was presented as a token of the Turners' great admiration and regard for their Turnwart.

Brotherhood of Man.

On Thursday, as the excursionists were returning from Boynton Beach, and when about one mile this side of Unionton—facing the furious storm of lightning, wind and rain, making it dangerous to proceed further—load after load of drenched men, women and children found shelter and heaven under the spacious sheds upon the beautiful farm of a celebrated French dentist whose name was not learned. All were made welcome, and remained for the time being, from the storm. The present occupant, nephew of the late doctor, deserves this slight recognition and thanks for so practically demonstrating the much agitated subject of Brotherhood of Man.

Weather Predictions.

Prof. DeVoe, the weather-logist, has again let himself loose, and predicts the following changes in the atmosphere for the month of August: 1st, 2nd and 3rd, proven quite correct up to date; August will enter very close and sultry, with heavy thunder showers on the 3d and 4th. A sudden change will take place on the 5th, with cool northerly winds. Pleasant weather will prevail from the 6th to the 11th, and on the 12th warm, with heavy thunder showers; the 13th, 14th and 15th, pleasant weather; 16th, 17th and 18th, very warm and sultry, with dense fogs; thunderquake period; 19th, sudden fall in temperature, followed by bright, pleasant weather to the 26th; rising temperature and thunder showers on the 26th, 27th, 28th and 29th; cool and pleasant, 30th and 31st, heavy thunder showers."

Not in Favor of Dams.

In conversation with a Press reporter Friday last, the well-known well-known resort in the Notch said that he was not in favor of mill dams. "The mill dams through the Valley," said he, "caused all the trouble during the late rains, and we are called upon to pay for the same by extra taxation." Our informant declared that he was in favor of having good roads and thoroughfares, but was for the entire appropriation on Tuesday. He said this was the second vote he had exercised and considered it nothing less than killing time—the first one being for Horace Greeley. Five years ago a similar state of affairs existed, caused by the breaking away of a number of the dams on the Rahway River, and then several thousand dollars were required to complete the repairs.

The Kinney's Arraigned.

William Kinney, his wife and daughter, Sarah Warren, who were arraigned for being drunk and quarreling in Pruden's Alley on the 9th inst., were arraigned before the Mayor on the 10th and fined Friday last. Kinney's wife and daughter were arraigned on a charge preferred by William H. Totten and his wife for violating the second and eighth sections of the Peace and Moral act of the city. Totten testified that both were drunk, and submitted substantiated his statement. Both the prisoners plead guilty to the charges," and the Judge said he would grant the requests at the expiration of ten days. Kinney was next brought out and demanded a hearing. He was arraigned on a charge entered by officer Lynch, of being drunk and using foul language. Mr. and Mrs. Totten were identified to Kinney's acting as a peacemaker the night the fracas took place, but a second on the bridge of his nose was sufficient proof that he had been drunk and fell against a post. He was fined three dollars.

North Plainfield Township Election.

A special election took place in North Plainfield township on the 16th, on the matter of making an extra appropriation of $1,000 for repairs on the roads and bridges in the township where the same become necessary by reason of the high waters a few weeks ago. The good men for damage done 16 the roads in the township is in the neighborhood of the Notch and it is thought that the whole appropriation will be wholly expended in that locality with nothing to spare. As was expected the vote was unusually light, which is largely accounted for by the fact that the election was not thoroughly advertised. During the hours when the polls were open yesterday an occasional voter would walk up to the polls after first waking up the election officers, throw in number, would cast his ballot into the box. Up to noon township residents were the source of the only jokes of a disinterested show. By one o'clock, however, the tally sheet footed up a total of three votes—all for money. At 3.30 p. m., the number was increased to seven, and when the hour arrived for closing the polls, the total number of votes cast during the day in token from the election returns was seventeen, every one of which was for the extra appropriation. The result of the election was announced as "unanimously in favor of money." The total cost of recording the seventeen votes, will be something less than $50.

Thursday Evening's Storm.

A terrific storm struck Plainfield a little before seven p. m., Thursday last, and while it lasted almost equaled in violence the storm of a few week's ago. The storm was accompanied by a section of a Western cyclone, and the damage done by the wind will exceed that caused by the water. For a time the rain came down in torrents, and many of the streets through out the city were entirely submerged. On Friday many of the gardens presented a dishevelled appearance, where corn and other vegetables were laid flat on the ground. The wind blew a perfect hurricane, and uprooted a large elm tree in front of Mr. L. E. Gaston's residence, Fourth street and Central avenue. On West Seventh street huge branches were torn from the trees, falling to the ground with a crash. A maple tree on Prince street, near Front, was split in two by the wind, and a portion of the chimney on Mr. P. Thorn's building was blown down. Between this city and Dunellen, a field of corn belonging to Fred Martin was blown down, and the stalks cut off as with a knife. Many other sights of the total loss. Other reports of the damage done by the wind have come in, but most of them are trifling. After the heaviest of the downpour passed over, there were two loud reports of thunder, distinctly resembling the discharge of huge cannons. So far as known no damage was done by it. No Court in Jersey that it has not taken place long ago.

RICHARD BERRY.

Tax Rate for 1887.

The total valuation of property according to the Assessor's duplicate examined and approved by the Council, last Tuesday, is $5,327,000. The tax rate for all purposes fixed at $1.80, apportioned as follows:

	Rate.	Tax.
County	.60	$31.96
State School	.30	15.98
Library	.10	5.33
Interest	.80	42.62
Poor	.10	5.33
School	.90	47.94
Totals	1.80	$95.86

This rate is six cents lower than last year.

Trotting at the Fair Grounds.

The usual weekly trials of speed took place at the Fair Grounds on Saturday afternoon, and the usual large number of persons were present to enjoy the sport. The track was in good condition and all of the horses trotted to good advantage. In the first race Edward Warfield's "Ledger Boy" was matched against Geo. Phillips' bay mare "Gypsy." "Ledger Boy" won two straight heats in 2.53 and 2.53 respectively. In the second race Mr. Hayes' "Nat" Robbins' black colt, and Mr. Hayes' bay horse "Andy," the latter horse winning the first heat in 2.30, and the former the second heat in 2.30. Time, best in 3.00. The deciding heat in the race was adjourned over until next Saturday.

DUNELLEN.

Mrs. Jos. Edder is at the Park Hotel for the Summer.

Miss Venie VanWhy, one of the young society ladies of Dunellen, is stopping at the Arlington, Ocean Grove.

The baker employed by M. Finger, had both limbs scalded while taking a kettle of water from the stove Monday. Dr. Shotwell was called in and dressed the wounds, and left him as comfortable as can be expected under the circumstances.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER.

Several members of the Middlesex Gun Club attended the shooting tournament of the Union Gun Club at Springfield, N. J., on the Saturday last, and participated in sports of the day. They however failed to secure first money in the grand event of the day, which was a contest at fifty clay birds—$2.50 entrance. There were eighteen entries for this—Mr. Hobart of the South Side, taking first by breaking forty-seven out of fifty. Mr. Joseph Miller took second with forty-five. In the double bird match, Dickens of the Middlesex Club took second money with seventeen double showers; the third prize money was "Old South Paw" of the Jersey City Heights Club. The visitors all report having a good time.

WASHINGTONVILLE.

Frank I. Frayne, who has a country house between this place and New Providence, is arranging with his manager, Oscar Rahn, for next season's business. Mr. Rahn has secured his company, which includes Miss Gussie DeForest, Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Chester and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ayres. The repertoire will consist of "Marie, the Midget," "The Red Flag," "Si Slocum" and "Kentucky Bill." The company will open the season at Brooklyn Sept. 5.

A tornado swept through Washington Valley Thursday which, while it lasted, was the most violent of any experienced in this section for many years. This was followed by a heavy fall of rain, which impaired by which thunder and lightning. Great damage was done to crops. Stacks of hay and grain were blown down and entirely obliterated. In the direct path of the storm corn that was earing was laid low on the ground, and to use the expression of some of our residents, "looks as though a road roller had passed over it.

WESTFIELD.

The annual Election of officers of Engine Co., No. 1, will take place at their rooms Friday evening.

The genial "Al" Berner, of Westfield, has been in the way, only two months about five months, having formerly been proprietor of the well-known Diamond "B" express, of New York, which he sold to Almont manager of Thatcher's Rock Cottage Farm and Dog Kennel) has met in successful operation an incubator of his own get up, which costs nothing to run—as it is heated by hot water. Friends are generously furnished him twice a day by his good-natured wife from the kitchen stove. After experimenting for a few weeks, he set the machine going, and at the same time set two hens. After a lapse of twenty-one days, the hens' eggs were still rotten, but one chick hatched. But the latter produced three fine Brahma chicks! Therefore he feels it a perfect success and says he will become a full-fledged Jersey man, and add chickenhatching to his farm, and any one wishing to inspect the same is cordially welcome to do so. "Al" is also learning to be a good fellow-man. He had a friend, Robert Taggart, of West Side Storage-Warehouse fame, of New York, drive down to see him with his famous horse "Darby," and they both went fishing at New Market lake. "Al" landed a black bass weighing three pounds—largest catch in lake this year—and in landing him sent his friend overboard. Upon emerging to terra firma, Bob claimed that, heretofore, he considered himself fire-proof, but now he is satisfied he is also waterproof, and will hasten to advertise his warehouse accordingly. After being dried out by the sun, they got home at night, proud of their days' catch—summed up—two bass, also been sun-fish and three cat-fish; Bob claiming "Al" to be all he is—a clever fellow.

NEW MARKET.

Mr. Charles S. and Mrs. George W. Day have returned from Canada.

A man claimed to have been robbed on Saturday afternoon last of $442.25 on the bridge crossing of the Lehigh Valley Railroad on Prospect avenue, but no credit is attached to the story.

Good progress has been made in the repairs and improvements at the Dunellen School house, Messrs. Rountree and Place are making headway with the new well notwithstanding the trouble with surface water caused by the late heavy rains.

The ex-principal Mrs. Toombs is going to start a private class in Round Brook; several of her late scholars I hear are going to join her class, the parents of whom are unwilling to lend the opportunity of their advancement under her guidance.

The watchman employed during the late burglary excitement has put in a claim for the rewards offered to the public. It will be remembered that after the first burglary $25 reward was offered for information leading to an arrest and conviction; $25 for the detection and discovery of any party committing a similar depredation and $25 for the detection dead or alive of any party sought in the act. Up to the present time no information leading to any arrest for the first robbery has been given, no detection or discovery or conviction been made by the watchman or anyone else, and even had such been the case with a party paid for his services to accomplish what the rewards were offered for, he could have no possible claim. The information leading to the arrest of Burke and Runyon upon the charge of breaking into the postoffice was not even derived from the watchman, and how the latter got in it, that these parties are held so long, nearly six months without a trial! No wonder people think that criminals are entitled to a constitutional privilege of a speedy trial and it is a disgrace to the

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FORD & STILES,
Funeral Directors
and Practical Embalmers.
Office and Residence, Front and Madison Sts.
No. 14 EAST FRONT STREET.
Telephone Call No. 44.
GEO. C. FORD. 2-27-87 OTIS M. STILES

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
Undertakers and Embalmers,
60 Park avenue.
Telephone Call 59.
Residence—60 Park avenue
Telephone Call 59.
"Office of Hillside Cemetery."

P. CASEY & SON,
UNDERTAKERS.
Office, No. 5 Somerset street,
(1) Tabot street, corner New, Plainfield, N. J.
Will attend funerals promptly in this city or vicinity. Charges reasonable. Orders left at either place will receive prompt attention.
Residence of P. Casey, No. 5 Somerset street.
Telephone Call No. 21.
Office Open and Only Promptly Answered Day or Night.—21293

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors
Union County, Surrogate's Office.
"All" is also hearing to be a good fellow-
John Thompson, the Executor of Zipporah Ivy deceased.
On application of the above named Executor, it is ordered that he cause notice to be given to the Creditors of the said deceased to bring in their debts, demands and claims against the estate of the said deceased within nine months from the date of this order, or they will be forever barred of any action against the said executor, and that public notice be given to the creditors to bring in their debts, demands and claims against the said deceased within nine months from the date of this order, or they will be forever barred of any action against the said executor, and that public notice be given as aforesaid, by advertising the same in The Constitutionalist, a newspaper printed and published in the County of Union, once in each week for the space of three months next after the date of this order.
And it is further ordered that all creditors shall appear before me at my office in the City of Elizabeth, in the County of Union, on the 15th day of October next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, to show cause why the prayer of the petition of the said executor should not be granted.
And it is further ordered that all creditors who shall not appear and exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim on the day aforesaid, or such further time as the said executor may allow, shall be forever barred of any action against the said executor touching the said estate.
By JAMES J. GERBER, Surrogate.

ATTENTION EVERYBODY.
Monmouth, The Banner County
OF NEW JERSEY, WILL HOLD ITS 34th Annual Fair,
AT
FREEHOLD, N. J
ON
Sept. 13, 14, 15, '87.
$8,000
IN CASH PREMIUMS.
Thoroughbred Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Swine and Poultry, Choicest Productions of the Farm, Garden, Orchard, Dairy, Household and Factory, Beautiful Display of Art Work, Grand Executions of Needle, Pencil and Brush, Handsome Collection of Fruit, Grain and Vegetables in the Stalk. Trotting, Running and Pacing Races. Good Music in attendance. Reduced Rates, with tickets admitting to Grounds, on all railroads to Freehold Depot, also, address
CHAS. E. D. FORMAN, Sec.,
Freehold, N. J.

WANTS and INFORMATION

Cards for newspapers, 1 1/2 lines. Rates for other insertions, 1 cent a word. Professionals' cards subscription strictly.

LOST—SATURDAY, AUG. 13TH, IN QUIMBY, Dunellen, Pocket Book containing money and papers belonging to Rahway, Mass. Address Rahway, Mass. Finder will be rewarded.

FOR SALE—BAY HORSE, 16 HANDS HIGH. Address Box 120, Plainfield. 8-11-2t

A PLEASANT ROOM TO LET WITH board, at 20 Somerset street. Address Box 1, Plainfield. 8-11-2t

A BARGAIN—First-class Piano, Square, 7 1/2 octaves, rosewood case. Although cheap, is in good order and will be sold at a bargain. Apply at Porter's hat store, or of owner, H. Van Dorn, Somerset street, Plainfield. 8-11-2t

WANTED—AN INTELLIGENT ACTIVE BOY about 15 or 16 years of age. Address in own handwriting, stating age, and where last employed, P. O. Box 1, Plainfield. 8-11-2t

MISCELLANEOUS.

Narrow Escape From Drowning.
Mrs. Case and her daughter May Ida, of Pittsfield, Mass., are visiting at the residence of Mrs. F. Westphal on Liberty street. The daughter is about eleven years of age, and on Friday afternoon last she started out in company with a companion named Laura Mattis, also eleven years old, for a stroll along the bank. In the rear of Mr. Charles Hyde's residence on East Front street, while the children were playing on the bank, May Ida accidentally fell into the water, which at that point is several feet deep. The girl was unable to swim and for a time struggled to keep her head above water. Laura Mattis discovering her companion in such a perilous predicament nobly rushed to her rescue and at the peril of her own life succeeded in dragging the distressed unconscious girl to land. The latter, however soon recovered sufficiently to go home, where she related her experience to those around her. To a friend she said: "Oh, I felt as I was drowned, my poor mamma and papa would go crazy." When telling of her commendable bravery in rescuing her companion from a watery grave, Laura Mattis is reported to have declared that she would have "died too, if May Ida did." Green Brook, in the vicinity of Dunellen, is very shallow, but during the late freshet a number of deep holes were washed into the bed of the stream, and it is supposed that the young lady fell into one of these. At any rate her rescue is credited to her friend.

Fourteenth Regiment Re-Union.
The following circular has been sent out concerning the ninth annual re-union of the Fourteenth Regiment New Jersey Volunteers:

Comrade—The Ninth Annual Reunion of our regiment will be held at Toms River on Friday, August 26th, 1887, it being the Twenty-fifth Anniversary of our muster into the U. S. service.

Comrades will be met at the different trains by the Reception Committee, and escorted to A. E. Burnside Post rooms rooms and welcomed as the guests of Burnside Post G. A. R. and the citizens of Toms River.

The line will form in front of the Post room at 11.30 a. m. with our old Colonel at the head of the line, and a very short parade the column will halt at the Court House. Capt. Thos. W. Middleton will deliver the Welcoming address, which will be answered by Col. J. R. Hall. After dinner an oration by Rev. A. H. Bashiell. At 3 p. m., business meeting, followed by short addresses from eminent guests. This will be the grandest gathering ever given to us during the time of our organization. Come if you can, and tell any comrade you may see.

Take trains as follows: On the Pennsylvania railroad from Jersey City, New-ark, Elizabeth, Plainfield, Perth Amboy, New Brunswick so as to take the train at Bay Head Junction, leaving Toms River at 10.38. Comrades from Freehold, Red Bank, Asbury Park, Manasquan and Point Pleasant will take the 8.30 a. m. train at nearest point. The circular is signed by Col. J. R. Hall, President of the Reunion Committee. The following surviving members reside in this city, many of whom are expect to attend the re-union: Brown, Elwood Mrs. McMahon, S. Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Moore, H. Mrs. Cowan, D. F. Mrs. Murphy, W. Mrs. Dunn, Bridget Mrs. Pedder, Mary Mrs. Ryder, Rachel Mrs. Fraser, R. Sexton, Mrs. Gardner, Mrs. Thomas, Emily Hawkins, Jacob Wagner, Mrs. Hawkins, Lizzie White, Maude E. Hall, Mrs. Wright, H. E. Persons calling for above please say advertised

W. L. FORCE, Postmaster.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

CHICAGO & NORTHWESTERN RAILWAY
Direct Through Car Line
Most Complete Service
Best Equipment
Fastest Time
CHICAGO
MILWAUKEE, ST. PAUL,
MINNEAPOLIS.
COUNCIL BLUFFS, OMAHA:
THE IRON DIVISIONS OF MICHIGAN
THE FREE LAND DIVISIONS OF IOWA
AND NORTHERN NEBRASKA.
THE GREAT SUMMER RESORTS OF THE BLACK HILLS
THE PIONEER LINE TO CALIFORNIA
For maps, time tables, and information in the following detail, address Eastern Agent, 461 Broadway, N. Y.
H. A. CROSS, Trans Pass Agt., Lancaster, Pa
MARVIN HUGHITT, R. C. MICKER, E. P. WILSON
President, Freight Agent, Gen. Pass. Agt.

Carney Bros.,
PRACTICAL
Plumbers, Tinners & Gas Fitters.
Heaters, Ranges and Stoves.
Dealers in all kinds of Stoves, Heaters and Ranges. Agents for all kinds of Stoves constantly on hand. Jobbing promptly attended to. Will give personal supervision to all our personal supervision, by which we can guarantee satisfaction. We will have them inspected as often as necessary.
The Economic Gas Engine.
The little Gas Engine may be run at any time for any length of time at a cost of two cents. In a season of six months the average cost will not exceed $2.00. It will be found to be the most economical power in use.
Our Sanitary Plumbing
Department is, as it always has been; under our own direct supervision, and for the past years in the only recommendation we want. We have the best of workmen, and only the best of materials and our patrons are always assured of a good job at a very reasonable price.
We Guarantee Our Work.
We are under many obligations to our numerous patrons for their kind words and their unsolicited recommendations of the same to their friends, and we hope by our future efforts to merit a continuance of the same.
And all additional favors solicited.
Yours truly,
ALEX. P. WRIGHT, Manager.

DOMESTIC RATES—PER ANNUM:
1st lamp.....$6
2d lamp.....$7
3d lamp.....$8
4th lamp.....$4
5th lamp.....$5
6th lamp.....$6
7th lamp.....$7
And all additional lamps at.....$1 per annum each.

DOMESTIC LIGHTING BY INCANDESCENCE.
HOUSES CAN BE WIRED WITHOUT DISFIGUREMENT TO WALLS AND CEILINGS, AND EXISTING GAS FITTING CAN BE USED.

P. H. BENNETT,
(Successor to B. H. Buckman)
DEALER IN BUTTER,
EGGS AND PRODUCE,
MEATS OF ALL KINDS,
Fruits & Vegetables
IN THEIR SEASON.
42 Park avenue, Plainfield N. J.
Goods Delivered to any part of the City.

A. W. RAND,
24 W. FRONT ST.
Fishing Tackle, Hammocks, Croquet,
Tennis and other means of enjoying a Holiday.

OWNS AND OPERATES OVER
6,000 Miles
OF PERFECTLY CONSTRUCTED RAILWAY.
PENETRATES THE BEST PORTIONS OF
ILLINOIS, IOWA, WISCONSIN,
MICHIGAN, MINNESOTA,
DAKOTA, NEBRASKA,
and WYOMING.

NOW FOR SUMMER!
It has been rather tardy, and recent storms gave little promise of its coming; but it's got here all the same." It's safe now to divest ourselves now of Winter underwear and don a Summer suit. Because herself hardly assumes a greater change in color, style and beauty, than do our counters as the seasons make their approach. Summer suits are bl

CITY DEPARTMENT.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION.

J. A. DEMAREST, - City Editor.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS
Close—8.00 a.m.and 12.30 p.m. and 4.30 p.m.
Arrive—7.30 9.00 11.45 a.m. 1.30 and 4.30 p.m.

SOMERVILLE, RARITAN, &C., MAILS.
Close—8.00 a.m. and 4.30 p.m.
Arrive—8.30 a.m. and 4.30 p.m.

SUNDAY MAILS—Arrive at 9.15 a.m. Office open from 5.00 a.m. to 10.00 a.m. Mail closes at 7 a.m.

MAIL for Warrenville closes Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 12 M.

Post Office open at 7 a.m. and closes at 7.30 p.m. Sundays, closed at 9.30 a.m. Open every evening until 8.30 p.m. for owners of lock boxes.

Money order office open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturdays to 9 p.m.

W. L. FORCE, Postmaster.

—Watermelon Lawn Parties are becoming quite popular.

—Mumbles may be worn by dogs for several weeks yet with perfect safety.

—Blackberries don't appear to have been too cheap this season, have about gone.

—The lawn mower has done excellent service this season, and well kept lawns are the result.

—A large band of gypsies came to town last evening, and are camping near the Fair Grounds.

—The luxuriant growth of weeds this Summer is declared to be a prognostication of a very cold Winter.

—A garter snake about four feet in length was killed near the Pond tool works yesterday afternoon.

—Before another football rolls by the public school scholars will begin to think of entering upon another school year.

—The Netherwood Hotel guests are arranging a subscription ball for next Wednesday evening, as a benefit to the musicians.

—One of two things is certain: Either sunflower stalks are not growing as tall as usual, or else we have grown taller in their premises are not saying much about them.

—The public schools of the city will reopen on Monday, September 5th. The various school buildings have been going repairs and the grounds about them put in good condition.

—It has been suggested that the dog catchers take a wagon with them when they make their rounds in this locality, as a wagon load of dogs can be gathered up there at almost any time.

—The New Jersey Kennel Club will hold a bench show at the grounds in Waverly, the same week the State Fair is in progress, and thus far the outlook is good for a large number of entries.

—On next Sunday and the Sunday following, the 28th and 29th of the Heavenly Rest, at Evesn, will commence at 7 30 p. m. After September 1st, they will commence as usual at 11 a. m.

—Mr. George Scott, of Second avenue, North Plainfield, whose barn was washed away by the high water a few weeks ago, has decided not to rebuild the structure on account of its low ground.

—The Lamy and Nelson excursion to Asbury Park, Wednesday, consisted of seven passenger coaches, well filled. The scholars of Grace Church Sunday school went along, and the day's a perfect one for enjoyment at the beach.

—At every station on the road, no matter how unimportant, the thirsty traveler is furnished cool water, unsurpassed in Plainfield. For Summer after Summer the thousands of passengers from and to this city, drink lukewarm tank-water, or go without.

—A sociable and ball, under the auspices of Stone Square Lodge, F. and A. M. of this city, was given in Cutter's hall Thursday. The music enjoyed and about 30 full force to honor the occasion by their presence, and all report having had a good time.

—The star attraction at Music Hall will be on Tuesday evening next when Tony Pastor and his grand company of European and American Vaudeville stars will appear in a specially arranged programme. See advertisement for cast of stars and other particulars.

—There have recently been reports made of burglarious places that are to be looked during the night, when they should be barred and bolted against thieves. The constant recurrence of this sort of carelessness on such unnecessary annoyance to the police.

—The following persons composed the Committee of Arrangements who had charge of the picnic in The Crescent on Thursday evening: Moses Cain, President; Thomas Keena, Vice President; Daniel Nolan, Secretary; Michael Powers, Treasurer.

—Another warning to excursionists was illustrated at Asbury Park, Wednesday, when an elderly gentleman attempted to jump on the excursion train after it had started. As usual he miscalculated the distance and missed the step. Only the assistance from one of the train hands saved him from rolling under the cars, and probably losing his life.

—Mr. William Wyckoff, Monday, staked out the lines for a new building, 20x32, at the corner of Steiner place and Linden avenue, to be used as a grocery store with apartments above. Wm. H. Smith will do the carpenter work, and Mr. S. M. Williams the masonry.

—There is a board walk on the south side of Central avenue, between Seventh and Eighth streets, which has for many people of late to quote liberally from the Revised Edition. Most of the boards are broken and arranged on a privet, so that when a pedestrian steps on one end the other flys up, cracking him on the shins.

—Some people are inclined to think that the suspicions looking individual who was seen at the Netherwood Monday morning, should have been immediately arrested and made to give an account of himself. Such views are worth following up and if the man who is instrumental in causing the arrest of the criminal will need no better protection than the city.

—Col. Hope, of Roselle, writes to the New York Press and Knickerbocker Daily as follows: "I travel daily on a railroad where there is no trouble about car windows. Not only the windows, but the doors, may be wide open during the warm months, and yet there is no dust and cinders. Stone ballast and hard road do it. Why should we suffer this terrible discomfort of dust and soft coal on roads that profess to be first class?"

—Larry Green, an employee at the Scott Printing Machine Works, is carrying his arm in a sling since Tuesday, and may not be able to be at work again for a week or two. While putting together a cylinder press, the whole weight of a ponderous piece of the machine was thrown on the hand and wrist while the forearm was upright and the elbow rested on the bed of the press. A terrible strain resulted.

—Three carriages are said to have drawn up in front of a store on Liberty street, during Sunday afternoon, and the occupants of each entered the store for the purpose of "filling in" with hard cider. The owner of the place refused to dispense his liquids on the Sabbath, and the men finally became very demonstrative and left, declaring that they would never patronize the place again. The proprietor of the store was evidently aware of the fact that cider selling on Sunday is in direct violation of the city ordinance, and acted accordingly.

—A New Brunswick paper says: "Judge Ulrich, of Plainfield, attempted to get Green, the driven-well man, expects to collect the $50 royalty on each of about fifty wells in Second Brook and vicinity.

—The summer girl complains that the pienics and excursions follow so thick and fast upon each other that her mother cannot get her white dress washed quick enough for her to keep up with the procession.

—One day last week a valuable horse by the name of "Tom," the property of Mr. Clark Balcom, of Metuchen, which had been put out to pasture, became frightened in a small pond and was drowned. The horse was worth about $200.

—The fatality among horses seems to be on the increase. During the past week sixteen horses died in this vicinity, most of which were attacked with a complaint known as spasmodic colic. The animals are taken suddenly ill, and oftentimes drop down and expire while in harness.

—A bit of exceedingly good advice is given to workingmen generally by the Trenton Times. "Don't work too hard. It is so ready to drop his tools at a moment's notice to carry out a strike had better look over the papers for drought news, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, and one or two other States are about burned up, and provisions will take a big jump before Winter sets in."

Withdrew the Complaint.

Mary Kane of Westervelt avenue who caused the arrest on Saturday of John Barry of Bull Frog city, for drunkenness, assault, and disposing liquors to minors, has withdrawn the charge of assault. The case was to come up for trial before Mayor Cooley to-morrow morning, but it is understood that the defendant will appear before his Honor this evening and plead guilty to the remaining charges, thus getting off with a light fine.

Trap Pigeon Shooting Declared Legal.

A pigeon shooting case of importance to sporting men was tried Monday in Newark before Justice Bedle and a jury. Charles Baker, a bartender for John Erb, of Bloomfield avenue, was accused of shooting pigeons from a trap. He admitted that he did so, but in his defence claimed that this did not come under the act relating to cruelty to animals. It was contended that pigeons were exempted, and the jury took the view of the matter and dismissed the case.

Rev. Dr. Vincent Presented With a Cavel.

At Chautauqua, N. Y., on Saturday they had a meeting of the graduates of Waverly, the same week the State Fair is in progress, and thus far the outlook is good for a large number of callers.

On next Sunday and the Sunday following, at the close of the services of the Heavenly Rest, at Evesn, will commence at 7 30 p. m. After September 1st, they will commence as usual at 11 a. m.

Mr. George Scott, of Second avenue, North Plainfield, whose barn was washed away by the high water a few weeks ago, has decided not to rebuild the structure on account of its low ground.

The Lamy and Nelson excursion to Asbury Park, Wednesday, consisted of seven passenger coaches, well filled. The scholars of Grace Church Sunday school went along, and the day's a perfect one for enjoyment at the beach.

At every station on the road, no matter how unimportant, the thirsty traveler is furnished cool water, unsurpassed in Plainfield. For Summer after Summer the thousands of passengers from and to this city, drink lukewarm tank-water, or go without.

A sociable and ball, under the auspices of Stone Square Lodge, F. and A. M. of this city, was given in Cutter's hall Thursday. The music enjoyed and about 30 full force to honor the occasion by their presence, and all report having had a good time.

The star attraction at Music Hall will be on Tuesday evening next when Tony Pastor and his grand company of European and American Vaudeville stars will appear in a specially arranged programme. See advertisement for cast of stars and other particulars.

There have recently been reports made of burglarious places that are to be looked during the night, when they should be barred and bolted against thieves. The constant recurrence of this sort of carelessness on such unnecessary annoyance to the police.

The following persons composed the Committee of Arrangements who had charge of the picnic in The Crescent on Thursday evening: Moses Cain, President; Thomas Keena, Vice President; Daniel Nolan, Secretary; Michael Powers, Treasurer.

Council Moves.

We feel a little satisfaction after our efforts to agitate the city and the committee upon the question of "our Asbury Park the City's Disgrace," because the Council Tuesday last adopted unanimously the motion of President Marsh requesting the Committee on Streets and Public Health to report at the next meeting specifications and estimates for putting the Park in order. It is to be only hoped that the committee will not be so penurious for it being permitted to violate the peace and morals of Plainfield. The undersigned has not failed to see at Asbury a light or two erected to drive away those who love darkness better, and the benches repaired. The Council begins to appreciate the City's disgrace, at last.

Running at Large.

Some day, if they have not already, the dog-catchers will exceed their official duties and levy upon the citizens at large upon to pay damages for the illegal acts done by a dog accompanied by its owner passing through here Wednesday, ranged from one to two miles and was at once seized by a dog-catcher for running at large without a muzzle. Now these very officials, with their dollar-and-a-half badges, although engaged in a good work when acting according to the provisions of the ordinance defining their powers, must not be permitted to run at large without the muzzle, themselves. The question arises in the case we speak of above—was that dog running at large? And the same question applies to cases of the past.

Running at Large

Some day, if they have not already, the dog-catchers will exceed their official duties and levy upon the citizens at large upon to pay damages for the illegal acts done by a dog accompanied by its owner passing through here Wednesday, ranged from one to two miles and was at once seized by a dog-catcher for running at large without a muzzle. Now these very officials, with their dollar-and-a-half badges, although engaged in a good work when acting according to the provisions of the ordinance defining their powers, must not be permitted to run at large without the muzzle, themselves. The question arises in the case we speak of above—was that dog running at large? And the same question applies to cases of the past.

Burning an Ice House.

At about 10:30, p. m., Tuesday last, telephone communication in this city and a bright light in the northern sky, led some to think Netherwood Hotel was burning down, and the fire alarm was rung loud and long. The hotel was not turned out, but upon learning by experience the distance of the conflagration, all turned back again. The fire was located in Westfield, where an incendiary had lighted the ice house of ex-Surrogate and Postmaster Addison Clark. The Westfield hook and ladder truck succeeded in saving the bricks of the foundation and the cellar. The Bucket and Engine company got first water, and with the assistance of all hands the Clark residence adjoining was saved. The building was empty and was a total loss of about $600. No insurance.

An Ex-Policeman Injured.

Robert Randolph, colored, an ex-policeman in this city who is employed in the coal yard of the David J. Baird Co., on the river, so that when a pedestrian steps on one end the other flys up, cracking him on the shins.

Some people are inclined to think that the suspicions looking individual who was seen at the Netherwood Monday morning, should have been immediately arrested and made to give an account of himself. Such views are worth following up and if the man who is instrumental in causing the arrest of the criminal will need no better protection than the city.

Col. Hope, of Roselle, writes to the New York Press and Knickerbocker Daily as follows: "I travel daily on a railroad where there is no trouble about car windows. Not only the windows, but the doors, may be wide open during the warm months, and yet there is no dust and cinders. Stone ballast and hard road do it. Why should we suffer this terrible discomfort of dust and soft coal on roads that profess to be first class?"

Larry Green, an employee at the Scott Printing Machine Works, is carrying his arm in a sling since Tuesday, and may not be able to be at work again for a week or two. While putting together a cylinder press, the whole weight of a ponderous piece of the machine was thrown on the hand and wrist while the forearm was upright and the elbow rested on the bed of the press. A terrible strain resulted.

Three carriages are said to have drawn up in front of a store on Liberty street, during Sunday afternoon, and the occupants of each entered the store for the purpose of "filling in" with hard cider. The owner of the place refused to dispense his liquids on the Sabbath, and the men finally became very demonstrative and left, declaring that they would never patronize the place again. The proprietor of the store was evidently aware of the fact that cider selling on Sunday is in direct violation of the city ordinance, and acted accordingly.

Personalia.

Miss Julia Stelle of Central avenue, is visiting her sister Mrs. Randolph of Randolphville, this State.

Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Reynolds, of Washington Park, have gone to West Willington, Conn., the former home of Mrs. Reynolds'.

William H., the ten-months-old son of Edward E. and Charlotte Wolverton of La Grande avenue, died Sunday after a week of illness.

Mrs. Charles W. Dodd received a telegram from Londonderry last Tuesday stating that Chief Dodd had arrived there safely after a delightful passage.

Ex-Councilman John Cameron returned to Memphis, Mo., where he is engaged in building a railroad, on Saturday last after a week's visit here on account of his health, but one of them lost about twenty pounds of flesh.

Rev. J. Taylor of Rome, N. Y., who so ably occupied the pulpit of the Crescent avenue church, Sunday morning and afternoon, is a guest of his nephew E. R. Taylor, of Duer street.

News has been received from Pittsburgh of Messrs. Frank Hubbard and Eli Shermer, who started West the other day. They are all well, and find the traveling good and food plentiful.

Miss Lilian V. Marsh, formerly of Plainfield and now of Hartford, Conn., daughter of Randolph Marsh, Esq., of this city, was married on August 3d, at Hartford, to Mr. Alonzo Evans, of that city.

Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, who his friends hardly recognize since he has sacrificed his handsome beard, says his daughter seems to be slowly gaining, although still seriously ill. She cannot be moved in an upright position without fainting away.

Mrs. Wright, widow of the late Frank Wright, of this city who has been many years a faithful employee of this office, died at her home in Cornwall, N. Y., during last week. A sad sight was the presence of the two orphaned children by their mother's coffin.

Mr. George Phillips of 19 Park avenue, is the owner of the trotter "Little Gypsie" who has been attending the fat folks on the Park avenue driving track, recently. He has already been offered a large price for the little mare, but he has faith enough in her.

At the National Council of the Order of American Firemen, held in New York recently, Mr. T. H. Keller, Foreman of Hook & Engine Co., of this city, was elected a Deputy National President. Mr. Keller has gone with his family to Mystic River, Conn., for a few weeks.

An infant grandchild of Constable Amos Moffett, of West Sixth street, has been lying dangerously ill for about ten days past with cholera infantum. Much of the time the child's life was despaired of, but with careful nursing the little one is now on the way to recovery.

Samuel B. Haines, a minister of the Society of Friends, delivered an earnest address at the Hicksite meeting-house on Peace street, Sunday. Mr. Haines is, and has been for many years past, teller in the Bowery Savings Bank of New York city, and has frequently spoken in this city before.

Mr. A. J. Smalley, of the firm of Smalley & Co., of North Plainfield, was presented with a handsome boy, Saturday. He has been married eleven years and the happy home of himself and wife has been brightened by the coming of two daughters. But the young son has all the attention and admiration, just now.

Mr. James McMullen, the newspaper writer from New Brunswick, who has been confined to the City Hotel in this city for the past month from an attack of typhoid fever, is rapidly regaining his health, and is now able to be about in his room. He will probably return to New Brunswick in a day or two.

Mr. Robert J. Gill, of the County Down Flax Spinning Company, of Belfast, Ireland, is a guest for a few days of Mr. Justice House of Seventh street, this city. Mr. Gill is in this country on business for his firm. He brought over with him a beautiful and valuable collie dog as a present to his friend, Mr. House.

Justice Y. W. Nash left last Thursday for Richmond, Va., to be in attendance at the bedside of his father and mother who were seriously injured in a railroad accident near Richmond a few days since. The Justice has requested us to announce that all civil suits coming up before him, will be adjourned over for one week.

Among the donations of money to Muhlenberg Hospital that help to provide comforts and delicacies for many a sick forer, was a little sum raised by Master Robbie Howard from a magic lantern exhibition at Netherwood Hotel. The quick sympathy and generosity of such little folks should put older hearts with fuller pockets to shame.

Ex-Councilman Jasper G. Cadmus was in town a few hours Monday. Himself and wife have been spending the Summer months at Belvidere, Warren county, N. J. Mr. Cadmus returns there a couple of weeks longer while Mr. Cadmus goes to his favorite fishing grounds, Seavren, N. J., where he will engage in the sport with the weak fish.

Dr. J. T. Fritts and Mr. W. C. Kelly returned on the 10th from their trip to the Cumberland mountains, as announced by us at the time of their departure. They were themselves as much pleased with their journey, and with the location of the property of their company. They left arrangements for further development of the resources of the same.

We received a call from Bro. Mason of the Bound Brook Chronicle the other day, who is in quest of a new power to meet the demands of his increasing business. He viewed the workings of our new press which prints the DAILY PRESS, and by Bro. Mason of this city, and expressed himself as highly pleased with its mechanism and workmanship. He can do no better than buy a duplicate of the PRESS from us.

By the "City of Chester" on Saturday, Mr. Frank W. Morse, formerly of this city, and Mrs. Morse, daughter of Morgan Bird, Esq., will sail for Europe. Mr. Morse goes in the interest of the Tide Water Oil Company which he represents, and will probably be absent at least two years. As we stated with our issue of last week, he will establish receiving stations at some of the most prominent seaports on the Continent, and arrest enormous tanks and warehouses for the storage of the oil in bulk and after being barrelled. The Company will try the experiment of shipping its export oil in bulk in large ships constructed for the purpose, instead of in barrels as now.

A telegram was received in this city Monday night stating that the physicians in charge of Justice V. W. Nash's father in Richmond, Va., would not permit his removal to his home in Brooklyn. In a letter to this office Justice Nash says: "The Retreat for the sick (where he is at present with his father) is an unendowed benevolent institution—the only one of the kind in the South—is mentally located, and under the immediate control of a Board of Lady Managers, composed of representative committees from the various religious denominations of the city. It is open both Winter and Summer for the reception and care of the sick. The Lady Managers make every effort to render "The Retreat" as home-like as possible, and provide for the comfort of the patients."

Mr. David Lennox is back from Lake Hopatcong.

Judge Bertine of Somerville was in town Tuesday on official business.

Mrs. Charles D. Wadsworth, of Central avenue has returned from Washington, Conn.

Mr. James Smith of Elm street left Tuesday to spend a week with his sister on Long Island.

Miss May Sutphen of Flemington, is the guest, for a few days, of relatives in North Plainfield.

Mr. George Westervelt, Librarian of the Y. M. C. A., has gone to Albany, N. Y., for three weeks.

Miss Gertrude Spaulding, of Syracuse, N. Y., is the guest of the Misses Green, of Eighth street.

Mrs. Thines and child of Trenton, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Coriell of West Front street.

Senator Robert L. Livingston, who has been summering in the Adirondacks, returned home Wednesday.

Miss Virginia P. Randolph of East Front street, is visiting Miss Lissignole of Montague street, Brooklyn.

Ex-Mayor John B. Van Winkle and family of North Plainfield, are at the Grand Avenue Hotel, Asbury Park.

Mrs. Depew and the Misses Depew have returned from the West End, Long Branch, to their Crescent avenue residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig A Marsh leave town Wednesday for a visit of a week at least at Stockbridge, Mass., and probably elsewhere.

Miss Ponieton and Master Richard Peniston of La Grande avenue, have gone to Spring Lake, for the remainder of the Summer.

Mrs. Isaac Brokaw of North Plainfield, and Mrs. W. Pike of this city, left yesterday to attend the camp meeting at Mount Tabor.

After an absence of about two months at Clinton, N. J., during which recreation and health were sought, Miss Georgie Cornell returned to this city Tuesday.

Mr. Seymour G. Smith of Central avenue, who is with his family at their Summer quarters in New York State, is nursing a sore foot, wounded by a rusty nail.

Mr. Adam Fritz starts this week for Western Virginia and Kentucky on business and pleasure combined. He will bring back with him a car load of horses.

Mrs. Edward Hoyt of New York, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rutter-worth of East Second street, during her husband's absence on business in the South.

Dr. and Mrs. George W. Endicott, who have been recuperating at Minnewaska Mountain House, N. Y., have gone to Wachusette House, Princeton, Mass., for a month.

Mr. Harry Thorne, of Franklyn place, is anticipating a trip to Denver, Colorado. He expects to leave the latter part of the present month, and will remain there indefinitely.

No cahlegram has been received from "Signor di Segromigno," otherwise known as "Peanut John," who sailed for "Tuscan, Leone, Italia," on July 9th, but it is supposed that he arrived safely in Italy.

The W. C. T. U. of New Brunswick gratefully acknowledged the receipt of $21 from the Union of 220 from North W. Pike, both of this city, received at the annual meeting of the State Sons of Temperance at Boynton Beach on Thursday.

Mrs. David Jones and three children of Park place, are spending three weeks at the Ocean Hotel, Long Branch. The children have just recovered from an attack of the measles, contracted at Easter, and the mother was also sick at the same time with the measles.

The aged mother of Freeholder Vanderbeek, who has been visiting her son in this city for the past week, left Wednesday evening for a visit to other relatives at North Branch. The Freeholder accompanied her for a fish in the South Branch, to-day. Mrs. Vanderbeek is 96 years of age, but travels all over as active as her great grandchildren.

Dr. William Riley, a wealthy and highly esteemed physician of Baltimore, died suddenly at his home during last Sunday evening. He was the father of Mrs. Dr. Rushmore of Park avenue, this city. Mrs. Rushmore received the news of her loss by wire from her brother, Dr. Charles Riley, early Monday morning, and left at once for Baltimore. Dr. Rushmore followed Tuesday, after arranging for the care of his practice during his absence.

Base Ball.

The Newark Y. M. C. A.s are getting worried because they expect to come here to play the "Crows" their Campbell Park, of this city, and yet they saw it stated that a game had been arranged between the New Brunswickers and Philadelphia for August 20th. We can only warn the Newarkers to believe no paper but THE PRESS, and to keep cool because they'll get a strong game to stand up against our Y. M. C. A's will give them next Saturday.

Electric Railway for New Brunswick.

The Board of Alderman at New Brunswick Monday received a favorable report from the committee appointed to investigate the Vandepoele electric system of street railroading, and a resolution was framed granting the City Railroad Company the right to erect poles along its route, provided no opposition was encountered from property owners. The resolution was allowed to remain inoperative in the hands of a special committee until the next meeting of the Council, when final action will be taken upon it. In the meantime the railroad company is to prepare a guarantee offering to give bonds for the good repair of the streets if the franchise is given at the coming meeting.

Runaway.

Mr. R. V. Sauers, the builder, is engaged in the construction of a handsome new residence for Mr. Marks, the artist, on Netherwood avenue. Between noon and one o'clock Tuesday he sent his horse to the new building in charge of a workman, and when the man arrived there the animal was not to be found. The roadway Presently a portion of the scaffolding which surrounds the building, fell with a crash. This so frightened the animal that of his harness, and he started off down to reach town started across the fields. The horse scaled several fences, and before he reached Richmond street the wagon was reduced to kindling wood. The horse was captured, however, before doing further damage.

Glenside, not Feltville.

The Township Committee of Fanwood met on Tuesday evening, August 9th, at 7.30 o'clock. Present—Kyte, Miller and Terry. Treasurer reported balance on hand, $412.25. Mr. Kyte, committee on macadamizing Front street, reported progress. The Township Clerk was instructed to notify Overseers of Road Districts 1, 2 and 4, to repair and scrape gutters in each within their districts, and authorize Overseer of Road District No. 1 to change name on guide board at intersection of Mountain avenue and Miller road, from Feltville to Glenside Park. Mr. George Kyte, committee to purchase crushed stone for Road Districts 1, 2, 3 and 4, reported he had finished the business and was discharged. The following bills were presented and ordered paid: J. G. Cook, crushed stone furnished road district No. 3, $69.32; E. G. Rich, overseer, on second stone and labor furnished road district No. 4, $25; F. A. Dunham, duplicate copy Fanwood road map, $30; Albert Brown, repair of road culvert. Justice Kyte was requested to renew tax warrant to Henry Cook, special constable, for collection of delinquent taxes. Adjourned to meet Tuesday, August 16th, 1887, at 8 p. m.

Plainfielders at Chautauqua.

Messrs. Harrison Three citizens in America are closely connected by the Chautauqua Idea. They are Chautauqua Basil; Mendville, Pa., the home of the Chautauqua, the official organ of the C. L. S. C.; and Plainfield, which is not only the business centre of the Chautauqua University, but the home of ten of its business heads. This ten forms an interesting group at the Assembly now in progress. At the head stands Dr. J. H. Vincent, first and foremost in everything pertaining to Chautauqua. The Doctor is the busiest man on the continent in his line of work. No sooner had he returned from his trip to Europe than he started on a lecturing tour through the Northern States. He has just returned from the Silver Lake, N. Y., and Lake Bluff, Ill., Assemblies, where he had the pleasure of distributing diplomas of the C. L. S. C. to graduates of the class of 1887. He will perform the like office at Chautauqua on commencement day, August 17. The Doctor presides at all the public sessions in the great Amphitheatre and is in constant demand elsewhere almost every hour of the day. Dr. Vincent's assistant is his son, George E. Vincent, perhaps the most popular young man at Chautauqua. Besides transacting all the business at the Assembly during his father's prolonged absence, he presides at the public sessions in the Amphitheatre. The Chautauquans elsewhere usually call Dr. Vincent in a manner on these occasions: "Mr. George E. Vincent manages the platform with tact and skill in absence of his father, the Chancellor. George has a splendid voice—well trained, and with just enough of words to make the announcements and introduces the lecturers. His style is a good one, which may be profitably studied by a good many public men who visit the amphitheatre."

Chancellor Vincent's family are comfortably quartered in their cottage on Lake Avenue—an ideal Summer home. The rear portion is a frame building, and the tented projection—open to the roadway—is prettily furnished by Mrs. Vincent's artistic hands.

Next in rank to the Chancellor Vincent is genial Dr. J. L. Hurlbut. Dr. Hurlbut is just closing his first year as Principal of the C. L. S. C., and by his tact, enthusiasm, and fine courtesy to every one has won general appreciation. He led the South Framingham, Mass., Assembly, the oldest of Chautauqua's children. From South Framingham Dr. Hurlbut traveled west to Moscow Lake, Minn., and conducted the Assembly there, whence he returned to Chautauqua, and received a hearty welcome. Dr. Hurlbut's specialty is the training of Sunday School teachers, and the success of his system is shown by its adoption by more than twenty Assemblies. Dr. Hurlbut is quartered at the Hotel Athenæum.

Another Plainfielder prominent in work at Chautauqua is the Rev. R. S. Holmes, Vice-Principal and Registrar of the College of Liberal Arts, and Professor of English and Ecclesiastical History. Professor Holmes is happy in the new building in which the five hundred students of the College are pursuing their Summer studies. The building is of Moorish architecture, and stands on the highest hill on the grounds. It has twelve class rooms all of which command a noble outlook over the Lake. Professor Holmes has an industrious student and an acknowledged authority in his departments. With his wife and three children he is pleasantly located at the Herrick Cottage.

Connected with Professor Holmes in the management of the College, is Miss G. L. Palmer, Secretary of the College, of the Chautauqua Teachers' Retreat and of the various Summer classes at work on the grounds. Miss Chamberlin is quartered at the Assembly Cottage on Terrace Avenue.

Professor Bridge is Dr. Vincent's private secretary, and in addition to the duties this position requires of him, he is teacher of several popular classes in typewriting, the stenograph and phonography. Professor Bridge holds a high position in the phonographic world as a successful teacher of the graham system of short-hand. The badge of his typewriting class is the Remington. The building is of Moorish design, and is a fine cottage near the Amphitheatre.

Settled at the Aldine, next the Hotel Athenæum, is Mr. Ernest Knauth, leader of the musical classes of the Chautauqua Society of Fine Arts. Mr. Knauff is a pupil of Frank Fowler, the director of the society and also of Signor Batterse and of the Art Student's League. Though young for a man of his attainments, he has secured a thorough education and a rare experience. He has charge of the Chautauqua classes occupy pleasant rooms in the Museum building. Mr. Knauff is in frequent attendance at the Assembly lectures between and in other ways has evinced his enjoyment of Chautauqua.

Another busy worker among the Plainfielders is Mr. Kimball, Secretary of the C. L. S. C. and of the whole catalogue of sub-societies connected with that organization. To Miss Kimball belongs the task of marshalling the thousand graduates of the class of 1887 into line for commencement day. Her other duties are impossible of enumeration and it is sufficient to say that her friends that she finds the time in which to perform them all so thoroughly and satisfactorily. Miss Kimball's office assistants at Chautauqua are her under secretaries Miss Ida Anglesman and Miss E. B. Belcher. The three are lodged at the cottage of Mr. Kimball's brother on Terrace Avenue. The cottage overlooks the lake.

Though thus so busily and constantly engaged, the Plainfield party at Chautauqua manage to find time for recreation now and then. THE PRESS correspondent had the pleasure recently of taking a peep upon a group of them through the red curtained window of the Assembly Cottage. Seated in a rocker was Dr. Hurlbut with a volume of Browning on his knees. Upon a sofa near by Professor Bridge was busily, the Doctor gave a public reading from Browning; and as Eastern journal gave him great praise for his efforts in doing justice to the poet's work. On the Doctor's left were Rev. W. D. McClintock and his wife, professors of English Literature in the College of Liberal Arts. Before the day of his honeymoon, the professor was a frequent visitor at the home of Miss Ella Bruns Kentucky, spent some weeks in Plainfield, where he left a number of friends. Next the McClintocks was Mrs. Frank Bedell, who was formerly the famous "Chalk talker," Miss Kimball. Miss Anglesman, Miss Bellemere and another lady guest completed the group. Chamberlin completed the pretty group.

REDBOTTLE.

The Church of Our Savior at Netherwood.

After the morning services of Sunday last, the congregation of the Church of Our Savior at Netherwood, had a meeting for the purpose of taking steps to found a diocesan mission under the proper and legal-elastical authority. The meeting organized with W. J. Leonard as chairman, and H. E. Haines as Secretary. A letter from Bishop Scarborough was read, stating that he had been made acquainted with the action of Grace church in the matter, which he considered favorable to the organization of a diocesan mission. Accordingly, the congregation proceeded to organize by selecting a committee, or board of trustees, whose names are to be sent to the bishop of the diocese for his approval. The gentlemen selected as members of the committee are Messrs. S. A. Jones, J. J. H. Pedlow, Charles C. Boring, George Taylor and Dorsey W. Hyde. The meeting directed the Secretary to request the bishop to appoint a clergyman to officiate in the mission on the fifth Sunday in September. The meeting then adjourned.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and can not be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in Cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER Co., 106 Wall-street, New York—adv'y

DEMAREST'S
NEW STORE
Choice Creamery Butter. The best in the city. Try it and be convinced. Mason's jars, with porcelain lined tops. Lighting Jars and Jelly Tumbleri. Pure Spices, all kinds. Green Ginger Root, Mustard Seed, and Fruits of all kinds, in their season. All of which are sold at Bottom Prices.
P. M. DEMAREST,
27 PARK AVENUE.

Special Notice!
500 BOYS' SUITS.
SOME AS LOW AS $2.00
SOME AS HIGH AS $7.50.
OUR OWN MANUFACTURE.
Sebring Bros.,
Music Hall Entrance.

COCKLE'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS.
THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
For Liver, Bile, Indigestion, etc. Free from Mercury. Sold by Druggists. Wholesale Agents: C. N. CRITTENTON, New York.

Special Sale!
CLOSING OUT BALANCE OF Summer Stock
AT LOW PRICES!
WHITNEY'S!
Dry Goods & Carpet House.
4 EAST FRONT STREET—T. E. G. A. HALL.

COMMON COUNCIL MEETING.

The Council met in regular adjourned meeting, last Tuesday. Present—President Marsh and Councilmen Bowers, Dunham, Taylor, Sutphen and Voorhees. Absent—Councilmen Carey, Cox, Dumont, Waring, Wilbur.

The minutes of the regular meetings of July 5th and August 1st, were approved as read.

PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS.

Mrs. Rachel Boice submitted, as desired, a proposition for adjustment of damage of the street line on Park avenue at the south corner of Fifth street. The authorities offered to set the fence back to conform with the line of other fences, re lay the sidewalk and curb, &c., if the city would agree to pay $100 for the property that must necessarily be surrendered as part of the public thoroughfare, to make the street in accordance with the line established. Ref'd to the Streets Com.

Petitions for gutters and curbs were received from Mr. Frank Totten, of Mount Horab, and Mr. J. Gatley, of Newark. Ref'd to License Com., and subsequently granted.

Mr. F. A. Miller and others—residents and property owners in the vicinity—appeared to the effect that the proper lighting of two lamps on Carlton avenue between Broadway and Putnam avenues, Ref'd to the Lamps Com., with the petition of Mr. James W. Bennett and others that the lamp on Crescent avenue, opposite Third Place, be lighted.

CLAIMS.

The following claims were presented and referred to the proper committees; N. Y. J. N. J. Globe Gaslight Co., burning gasoline lamps for the month of July, $165.08; O. B. Leonard, salary as City Clerk for one quarter, $112,50; stationery, $7; J. Hervey Doane, two badges for the official dog-catchers, $3; Jones & Co., cleaning sewer basins, $10; J. B. Gable, rent of room to city poor, $4.

The Clerk read a communication from the absent Chief of Police, thanking the Council for the leave of absence granted him, and assuring them of the willingness of the officers to do extra service, if necessary, to make up for his absence.

The Committees on Aims, Finance, Lamps, Salaries and Streets, reported as referred matters in their hands for examination. Ref'd to Auditing Com.

Mr. Bowers, from the Committee on Lamps, reported a reduction of seven lamps in the district covered by the Company in the July bill of the Plainfield Electric Light Co. He stated that the allowance was because of the turning off of the lights upon some occasions during the month; but, he also said, the Company had considered it was giving so much gratuitous service in these places, the bill had originally been made without the reduction. The Committee also reported against the lighting of the electric light that had been located by certain citizens at their own expense at the corner of Fifth and Division streets. Mr. Bowers stated that the appropriation for electric street lighting would not permit at present, and the precedent would be a bad one to establish, as the Council would be called upon for every single private citizens may might erect by contribution.

Upon the opening of "new business" the Council went into a Committee of the Whole, with Councilman Dunham in the chair, for the purpose of receiving the Assessor's books of valuation and assessments for the year. After a general examination the Committee arose, and chairman Dunham reported to the Council the Committee's approval of the duplicate as submitted and investigated, and recommended its acceptance and the increasing of the assessment on "The Crescent" building by $2,500. It was so adopted and the books with the valuation of $3,500 on Assessor's tax rate for the year of $1.80, was approved.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the Police Board to purchase new uniforms for police officers, the same as last year.

The President called Mr. Dunham to the chair, and presented the resolution which was carried, requesting the Street Committee to report to the next meeting of the Council the expense of putting in good pavement for the gutters of the City Park.

Mr. Bowers presented a request informally to the effect that members of the Council personally investigate the system of incandescent street lighting now in service on a portion of Seventh street. He stated the Company was probably going to make the Council a favorable proposition, in the near future, to light the entire city by the same plan.

President Marsh having resumed the chair, he took occasion to thank the Council individually and collectively, for their words of sympathy and expressions of condolence, expressed at the last meeting, upon his late illness and bereavement.

The Auditing Com. reported its approval of the following bills, for which warrants were ordered drawn:

Plainfield Elec. Light Co.	$243 00
N. Y. J. N. J. Globe Co.	165 08
J. H. Doane	3 00
O. B. Leonard	119 50
Jones & Co.	24 25
F. A. Dunham	46 35
John Johnston	4 50
J. H. Doane	3 00
J. B. Gable	4 00

The Council then adjourned.

From Plainfield to Central America.

By fast freight leaving here late Tuesday night, a car load of handsome Jersey cattle from the farm of Mr. Jacob Johnson, was shipped to Jersey City to be sent by Steamer "Atlas," leaving New York Wednesday for Central America. The stock is consigned to Rich Bros. & Co., averaging just over a year old and worth about $200 each. On the same train was a car of six Holsteins, selected by Mr. William F. Williams of Somerset, and also from Senator McPherson's herds, to be shipped to the same destination. The Jerseys are the first ever sent to Central America, and the Holsteins are the second. The short-horns just arrived from England—are consigned to an American dealer in Rio Janeiro, Brazil, South America, this city, a shipping merchant of New York. The cattle will be placed in single stalls between decks, and the transportation will cost about $100

AMAZING ADVENTURE.

A Self-Possessed Soldier Plays with a Tiger for Half an Hour.

I was in charge of a party making a survey for a railroad line between Nagpoor and Hyderabad, India (said Major White to a New York Sun reporter), and when there was no hurry about the work, our party was in such a hurried as a surveying party. We might bend about thirty-eight miles in a day, and then we might rest two men. Owing to the difficulties of the country, we had no saddle-horses, but took along a lot of light pack animals, and each native also had a pack to bear. The very difficulties in the way of building a line made the country a sportsman's paradise. Twenty years ago it was overrun with wild and savage game to the acre in that district than elsewhere south of Lucknow, now, for the sake of providing food, doubtless driven the big wild game away by this time.

We were traveling along the north branch of the Godavery river—sometimes upon its bank and again a dozen miles or miles from the water; sometimes travelling five or six miles a day, and again halting for a couple of days to fish or shoot—when a most singular incident befell my individuality. I had been out camp all an early hour in the morning to fish. While I carried my rifle with me, it was not my intention of going out of my way to find game. On the previous afternoon I had observed what seemed to be a capital fishing spot in the bend of the river, and it was to this place I started. I found a fine stretch of the entire screams were astir and saw me set out with a load, and I was in high spirits. It was pretty thick jungle between the camp and the bend, but at the latter there was a clear spot of an acre in extent, with a heavy forest growth and a bathing pool in front. I halted on the edge around before sitting down on the bank to my sport. I presently found a good spot for wild beasts, but as there was nothing in sight I went right to work with my fishing-tackle.

I had landed half a dozen good-sized fish, and was at play, playing the largest one, when a slight noise startled me, and I looked around to see—not a sight as has seldom come to the eyes of a sportsman. A full-grown tiger was within five feet of me, lying flat on one side of the bank. He was the last fish pulled out, and in its struggles to get free it jumped about on the grass. Every time it moved the tiger would reach out a paw in a playful way, and once or twice it struck hard enough to more than six inches or four feet. I tell you I was a cool man at that moment and all I could do was to act there with mouth and eyes open. The tiger had crept down from the bluffs, and why he hadn't attacked me was a mystery. He went from fish to fish, batting them about with his paw, and time and again brushing my with his tail as he passed me. My rifle was ten feet away, leaning against a bush, and I might as well have been sixteen miles to try to reach it but for a moment I was bewildered, and followed me, to see what I would do. I have often read the neighborhood while the tiger was playing with the fish and, that it was a good spot for wild beasts, but as there was nothing in sight I went right to work with my fishing-tackle.

I had landed half a dozen good-sized fish, and was at play, playing the largest one, when a slight noise startled me, and I looked around to see—not a sight as has seldom come to the eyes of a sportsman. A full-grown tiger was within five feet of me, lying flat on one side of the bank. He was the last fish pulled out, and in its struggles to get free it jumped about on the grass. Every time it moved the tiger would reach out a paw in a playful way, and once or twice it struck hard enough to more than six inches or four feet. I tell you I was a cool man at that moment and all I could do was to act there with mouth and eyes open. The tiger had crept down from the bluffs, and why he hadn't attacked me was a mystery. He went from fish to fish, batting them about with his paw, and time and again brushing my with his tail as he passed me. My rifle was ten feet away, leaning against a bush, and I might as well have been sixteen miles to try to reach it but for a moment I was bewildered, and followed me, to see what I would do. I have often read the neighborhood while the tiger was playing with the fish and, that it was a good spot for wild beasts, but as there was nothing in sight I went right to work with my fishing-tackle.

"Do you know anything about horses, master. He is a Nimrods, and if you do not—no matter—he will go away."

He meant that the sheriff of a good native had been in the neighborhood, and it was always the common-sense way to follow his advice. As the beast gave me no attention, I turned to the fishing-rod at my hand and landed him. He was of good size and full of fight and activity, and after making a playful way until I removed the hook and threw the fish on the grass. Then he sprang for me as I would for a fish or a bird of yore, and he played with it in the same way. It was not unchaste, in spite of the circumstances, to witness his actions. He would toss it up in the air, and when it came down a young dog do, sometimes almost leaping over me, and then again he would become the victim of a fierce rush forward to poison upon one of the fish. Each one as caught he took in his mouth, but it was a full half hour before he grew tired of the sport. I do not know that he would have left sooner or later, but there was another change of demeanor first and chilled:

"Master, the Khansie is going to play with you! He as clay in his power."

The tiger suddenly left the last fish landed, and came stealing up to me, purring like a cat, and acting very playful. He first rubbed his head on the bank my left arm, and then rolled over on his back and this he got hold of with his mouth and played with it for ten minutes, or until he had tired of it all by himself. I was still a ball to fish with, and sat there waiting for the end to come. When the tiger had finished he sat he came over and rubbed against me and purred in a pleased way, and I put my left hand on his head from nose to tail. I gradually got over my scare, but I was still very cautious to know how the affair would end. The sun was getting well up and very hot, and the beast would soon be seeking his lair. In about thirty minutes from the time he appeared in the bend he began to show signs of demeanor. He acted nervous and uneasy, and the hair on his back stood up at intervals. I judged that he had got the scent of the servant, and much proved to be the case.

I dared not rise to my feet, but I made up my mind that if the thing came to me I should make a spring off the bank into the river. I had seen no alligators about, but there was not much choice between being eaten by beast or saurian. Once the tiger gained a scent of my person, at the moment without as if afraid, and edged up toward me in a half crouching attitude. The servant had been scenting a waterfall eye on my stream and came up. When he neglected the time had come for decisive action. He, therefore, dived his pistol and shouted at the tiger. The effect was immediate. The beast dropped his tail, stood for a length of time as if in doubt with a sort of farewell glance at me he bolted for the bank and disappeared. He had looked him over pretty well, and had decided that the thing to eat he had a broken claw on the right paw.

We did not break camp that day. Just before sunset, as we sat in front of our tents eating our pipes, a tiger charged boldly in among the servants and would have killed one and attempted to make off. We rallied to prevent, and the beast knocked two other men over and got away. It was the tiger. When we came to examine the body I had not the slightest doubt in the world that it as that of my playmate of the morning.

A Michigan Lady's Novel Dress.

MRS. NORMAN, of Northville, a North Branch, Mich., has made a dress, the like of which is probably not to be found. The material is a combination of wool and silk, and the entire dress is hard crocheted, with the exception of the sleeves and collar and ten thousand yards of thread were used in its construction. The sleeves are crocheted in the shape of a gauntlet and are fastened in by a lock crocheted stitch. It is very handsome indeed, and Mrs. McCormick was six months completing it.

Sores of pests upon children may be easily removed by washing them with sugared lime and soda which should remain on for twenty-four hours, then washed off with warm water.

Sour people use sal soda for the purpose of cleansing the hair, but a teaspoonful is used very often. The yolk of an egg well rubbed into the roots and washed out with warm water is said to make the hair grow and cleanse the hair.

RYE CAKE.—Beat up one egg, two cups sour milk and one teaspoon soda dissolved in boiling water; enough rye meal to form a batter. Add salt, sugar and egg, stir in the soda and beat thoroughly. Bake at once on hot griddle or in muffin rings. Eat while hot, as cake half an hour in a hot oven.

CREAM BISCE.—One pint of warm water, one teacup of sugar, one teacup of rich cream, one cup of yeast, flour enough to make stiff batter. Let rise over night, work down in several times, and when light roll out and cut in small round cakes, put in greased pans; when light, bake and sprinkle sugar over them.

YANKEE CHICKEN PIE.—Cut up two young chickens, put in a pot with enough for a pan with crust, puts in a layer of chicken, then strips of dough and the remainder of the chicken, then a few beaten eggs, a few sliced potatoes, one small onion, pepper and salt; pour in the gravy, with two ounces of butter. Bake slowly in moderate oven until brown.

A VELVET or brussels carpet may be cleansed and freshened by washing or scrubbing with cold tea and water and flannel cloth and the application of a compound made of one pint of bran, one scraped fine, a quarter of a pound of washing soda, and spirits of turpentine sufficient to form a paste. Rub well into the carpet in the direction of the nap. After application, rub up the nap by brushing the carpet with a long or hard brush, and then sweep it well. The cloth is sufficiently damp to prevent the dust from flying, and the carpet should not be used until perfectly dry.

REMNANTS of fish are very palatable cotten up in this manner: Pick fine, taking out the bones. To a pint of fish add a quart of milk, a little thyme, a few sprigs of parsley, a little onion; simmer together till well flavored. Rub up a tablespoonful flour with a lump of butter as large as a walnut; when the fish is sufficiently seasoned take out the thyme and parsley, and add the flour. Stir well it thickens, and pour on the yolks of two eggs. Put some of the sauce in a pudding dish, then a layer of fish, and so on until the dish is full, putting sauce on top. Cover with grated bread crumbs, and put in oven until of a nice color, and bake until brown.

PROSPEROUS BEGGARS.

Professional Mendicants Who Live High and Keep Banking Accounts.

Like thousands of deserving poor are daily dying of starvation, Mme. Straus writes a Paris correspondent, there are in Paris scores of professional beggars, like the "queen" referred to in Beranger's song, who are a happy race. Only a few days ago Mme. Rachel, who was found dead in her rent in the Belleville quarter, was ejected from his quarters by order of the landlord because he was found that he had left his estate. After having made up three in the neighborhood, the person obtained the undesirable distinction of being expelled. He was by the landlord from a relation. Already in the morning. He found the blind man installed in a comfortable villa, the door of which was opened by a tidy servant who said that her master was at dinner and could not be disturbed. The intruder, however, made known his errand, and the beggar sent down a message by his man, who replied that he had given his last to a lame man from Batignolles, who had taken a house for a franc, but that he had not made up his mind to go in to-day. Finally, the alsacian was told to meet the blind man on the boulevards at 4 o'clock, when, if any, would be restituted. Only recently a true narrative of professional beggary has been given. It was told by M. Thrust before the tribunal of correctional police. The accused, named Samuel was being tried for begging. Samuel is about sixty-four years old, and has a wife and child and a comfortable house to house. When arrested he was in possession of 2,000 francs, the proceeds of his day's begging. He was sentenced to the Iles Hommines, for which he paid 200 francs more. Samuel is a type of the begging also found in his rooms, in which he entered his talents. These in some cases amount to genius, and, played on a larger scale, would make him a millionaire. Samuel is one day. M. Thrust, the prosecutor, said that in December last Samuel went to his house and presented himself as a commercial traveler, imploring him not to try to reach it but for a moment. My personal servant had followed me, to see what I would do. He went into the neighborhood while the tiger was playing with the fish and, that it was a good spot for wild beasts, but as there was nothing in sight I went right to work with my fishing-tackle.

I had landed half a dozen good-sized fish, and was at play, playing the largest one, when a slight noise startled me, and I looked around to see—not a sight as has seldom come to the eyes of a sportsman. A full-grown tiger was within five feet of me, lying flat on one side of the bank. He was the last fish pulled out, and in its struggles to get free it jumped about on the grass. Every time it moved the tiger would reach out a paw in a playful way, and once or twice it struck hard enough to more than six inches or four feet. I tell you I was a cool man at that moment and all I could do was to act there with mouth and eyes open. The tiger had crept down from the bluffs, and why he hadn't attacked me was a mystery. He went from fish to fish, batting them about with his paw, and time and again brushing my with his tail as he passed me. My rifle was ten feet away, leaning against a bush, and I might as well have been sixteen miles to try to reach it but for a moment I was bewildered, and followed me, to see what I would do. I have often read the neighborhood while the tiger was playing with the fish and, that it was a good spot for wild beasts, but as there was nothing in sight I went right to work with my fishing-tackle.

MATHIAS SPLITLOG.

The Wonderful Career of an Indian Who Has Become a Millionaire.

Mathias Splitlog is a full-blooded Wyandotte Indian, and was born on the Walpole Island Reserve, and shortly afterward moved to Ohio. While a boy he was apprenticed to learn the trade of a wheelwright, and, although his wages were only seven dollars per month and board, he thought he was getting rich. He imbibed a love for machinery and invented a reaping machine before he had a helping hand to many a poor fellow who had a useful to-day he died and make it happy.

Hjalmar Hjorth arrives at Neesho correspondent to the St. Louis Republic, on the Pacific railroads were built, the company with his brother. They launched out the boat upon the S. Clair river and started for Detroit. But the Indian's luck still followed him, and the boat struck a log and sank. Splitlog was not to be discouraged, however, and he went to work at his trade and finally, after his arrival at Wyandotte, Kansas, he had a shop and was a full half hour before he grew tired of the sport. At last the beast would have left sooner or later, but there was another change of demeanor first and chilled:

"Master, the Khansie is going to play with you! He as clay in his power."

The tiger suddenly left the last fish landed, and came stealing up to me, purring like a cat, and acting very playful. He first rubbed his head on the bank my left arm, and then rolled over on his back and this he got hold of with his mouth and played with it for ten minutes, or until he had tired of it all by himself. I was still a ball to fish with, and sat there waiting for the end to come. When the tiger had finished he sat he came over and rubbed against me and purred in a pleased way, and I put my left hand on his head from nose to tail. I gradually got over my scare, but I was still very cautious to know how the affair would end. The sun was getting well up and very hot, and the beast would soon be seeking his lair. In about thirty minutes from the time he appeared in the bend he began to show signs of demeanor. He acted nervous and uneasy, and the hair on his back stood up at intervals. I judged that he had got the scent of the servant, and much proved to be the case.

I dared not rise to my feet, but I made up my mind that if the thing came to me I should make a spring off the bank into the river. I had seen no alligators about, but there was not much choice between being eaten by beast or saurian. Once the tiger gained a scent of my person, at the moment without as if afraid, and edged up toward me in a half crouching attitude. The servant had been scenting a waterfall eye on my stream and came up. When he neglected the time had come for decisive action. He, therefore, dived his pistol and shouted at the tiger. The effect was immediate. The beast dropped his tail, stood for a length of time as if in doubt with a sort of farewell glance at me he bolted for the bank and disappeared. He had looked him over pretty well, and had decided that the thing to eat he had a broken claw on the right paw.

We did not break camp that day. Just before sunset, as we sat in front of our tents eating our pipes, a tiger charged boldly in among the servants and would have killed one and attempted to make off. We rallied to prevent, and the beast knocked two other men over and got away. It was the tiger. When we came to examine the body I had not the slightest doubt in the world that it as that of my playmate of the morning.

A Michigan Lady's Novel Dress.

MRS. NORMAN, of Northville, a North Branch, Mich., has made a dress, the like of which is probably not to be found. The material is a combination of wool and silk, and the entire dress is hard crocheted, with the exception of the sleeves and collar and ten thousand yards of thread were used in its construction. The sleeves are crocheted in the shape of a gauntlet and are fastened in by a lock crocheted stitch. It is very handsome indeed, and Mrs. McCormick was six months completing it.

Sores of pests upon children may be easily removed by washing them with sugared lime and soda which should remain on for twenty-four hours, then washed off with warm water.

Sour people use sal soda for the purpose of cleansing the hair, but a teaspoonful is used very often. The yolk of an egg well rubbed into the roots and washed out with warm water is said to make the hair grow and cleanse the hair.

RYE CAKE.—Beat up one egg, two cups sour milk and one teaspoon soda dissolved in boiling water; enough rye meal to form a batter. Add salt, sugar and egg, stir in the soda and beat thoroughly. Bake at once on hot griddle or in muffin rings. Eat while hot, as cake half an hour in a hot oven.

CREAM BISCE.—One pint of warm water, one teacup of sugar, one teacup of rich cream, one cup of yeast, flour enough to make stiff batter. Let rise over night, work down in several times, and when light roll out and cut in small round cakes, put in greased pans; when light, bake and sprinkle sugar over them.

YANKEE CHICKEN PIE.—Cut up two young chickens, put in a pot with enough for a pan with crust, puts in a layer of chicken, then strips of dough and the remainder of the chicken, then a few beaten eggs, a few sliced potatoes, one small onion, pepper and salt; pour in the gravy, with two ounces of butter. Bake slowly in moderate oven until brown.

A VELVET or brussels carpet may be cleansed and freshened by washing or scrubbing with cold tea and water and flannel cloth and the application of a compound made of one pint of bran, one scraped fine, a quarter of a pound of washing soda, and spirits of turpentine sufficient to form a paste. Rub well into the carpet in the direction of the nap. After application, rub up the nap by brushing the carpet with a long or hard brush, and then sweep it well. The cloth is sufficiently damp to prevent the dust from flying, and the carpet should not be used until perfectly dry.

REMNANTS of fish are very palatable cotten up in this manner: Pick fine, taking out the bones. To a pint of fish add a quart of milk, a little thyme, a few sprigs of parsley, a little onion; simmer together till well flavored. Rub up a tablespoonful flour with a lump of butter as large as a walnut; when the fish is sufficiently seasoned take out the thyme and parsley, and add the flour. Stir well it thickens, and pour on the yolks of two eggs. Put some of the sauce in a pudding dish, then a layer of fish, and so on until the dish is full, putting sauce on top. Cover with grated bread crumbs, and put in oven until of a nice color, and bake until brown.

AROUND THE WORLD.

The Time Required for an Earth-Girdling Trip Reduced to Ninety Days.

A year or two ago, making the best possible time, a traveler could not have gone around the world in less than about one hundred days, writes the New York correspondent of the Detroit Free Press. From New York to Liverpool is a little more than six days, from Liverpool to the eastern boundary of Europe is one hundred hours; but from the very verge of Asia all the way across that vast continent, around it, was a slow journey; from Yokohama to San Francisco across the continent again. In America and in Europe, and between them, travel has long been reduced to a science, but in Asia it is half around the globe. Two great railroads have now been put on foot—one of which has just been accomplished and other is approaching its finish—but found that he had left his Within five years—whereby the Pacific can readily be crossed in about twenty-four days, and the Asiatic continent will be traversed by a railroad. Already in the spring of 1887 the Russian railroad was opened greatly by the construction of the Trans-Caspian road, now all completed by Russia. The Russian General and soldiers who have conquered Central Asia have also opened property, and the railroad engineers who constructed the Trans-Caspian railway did not spend more important service, for they have already opened a continent. Its construction presented difficulties equal to those of any hazardous military campaign.

The Trans-Caspian railway was at first elevated than Clay was brought from a large distance, and when it was laid down water was brought and sprinkled over that uneasy element; at last it does more than sprinkle—it drinks. Coal was brought to the railway stations from the Caucasus mountains, and it was shipped in pipes, without any pumps. As to fuel, it comes from Baku proper; but the best substitute for wood and coal—petroleum—is found in the region, in which he entered his talents. Those in some cases amount to genius, and, played on a larger scale, would make him a millionaire. Samuel is one day. M. Thrust, the prosecutor, said that in December last Samuel went to his house and presented himself as a commercial traveler, imploring him not to try to reach it but for a moment. My personal servant had followed me, to see what I would do. He went into the neighborhood while the tiger was playing with the fish and, that it was a good spot for wild beasts, but as there was nothing in sight I went right to work with my fishing-tackle.

I had landed half a dozen good-sized fish, and was at play, playing the largest one, when a slight noise startled me, and I looked around to see—not a sight as has seldom come to the eyes of a sportsman. A full-grown tiger was within five feet of me, lying flat on one side of the bank. He was the last fish pulled out, and in its struggles to get free it jumped about on the grass. Every time it moved the tiger would reach out a paw in a playful way, and once or twice it struck hard enough to more than six inches or four feet. I tell you I was a cool man at that moment and all I could do was to act there with mouth and eyes open. The tiger had crept down from the bluffs, and why he hadn't attacked me was a mystery. He went from fish to fish, batting them about with his paw, and time and again brushing my with his tail as he passed me. My rifle was ten feet away, leaning against a bush, and I might as well have been sixteen miles to try to reach it but for a moment I was bewildered, and followed me, to see what I would do. I have often read the neighborhood while the tiger was playing with the fish and, that it was a good spot for wild beasts, but as there was nothing in sight I went right to work with my fishing-tackle.

I had landed half a dozen good-sized fish, and was at play, playing the largest one, when a slight noise startled me, and I looked around to see—not a sight as has seldom come to the eyes of a sportsman. A full-grown tiger was within five feet of me, lying flat on one side of the bank. He was the last fish pulled out, and in its struggles to get free it jumped about on the grass. Every time it moved the tiger would reach out a paw in a playful way, and once or twice it struck hard enough to more than six inches or four feet. I tell you I was a cool man at that moment and all I could do was to act there with mouth and eyes open. The tiger had crept down from the bluffs, and why he hadn't attacked me was a mystery. He went from fish to fish, batting them about with his paw, and time and again brushing my with his tail as he passed me. My rifle was ten feet away, leaning against a bush, and I might as well have been sixteen miles to try to reach it but for a moment I was bewildered, and followed me, to see what I would do. I have often read the neighborhood while the tiger was playing with the fish and, that it was a good spot for wild beasts, but as there was nothing in sight I went right to work with my fishing-tackle.

A SERMON TO WIVES.

A Baptist Minister Tells Them How to Manage Their Husbands.

Rev. Bird Wilkins, of Bethesda Baptist Church, is a very practical preacher, says the Chicago Herald. Last night he took for his text a verse in section 20, a recent Sunday's sermon. He said that the great secret of drawing devotions and the benefit to be derived from them depended largely on the spirit of the matter. If you wish to help your husband begin every day in the year as a Christian, you can do it. If you mean you should get up in the morning and make the fire, get breakfast, wash the dishes, and then go to church and pray, though this may be of service if you do anyway, it is not giving your husband hearty help and benefit. Before or after breakfast, if you can, read a chapter in the Bible, and then kneel down and speak to God as you would to your husband, and then you will find him more willing to help you. Many men backslide while their wives are attending to matters of their daily routine of household duties, which is done to make pleasant. A woman who loves her husband will study his every interest, and find him daily growing nearer to her heart. Many women who pray a good deal but neglect their husbands' bread has ruined many good husbands."

DEADLY WIND-STORMS

Oldest Pests Relating to the Cause and Frequency of Tornadoes.

According to the Washington correspondent of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, the terrible cyclone of Mississippi, Alabama and Tennessee, and the cyclone in Kansas, which, with the cyclone of the eastern Kansas, Missouri army, reveal to some extent the danger in each region, which will do much to allay unnecessary fears. The cyclone of Mississippi, Alabama and Tennessee, and the cyclone in Kansas, which, with the cyclone of the eastern Kansas, Missouri army, reveal to some extent the danger in each region, which will do much to allay unnecessary fears. The cyclone of Mississippi, Alabama and Tennessee, and the cyclone in Kansas, which, with the cyclone of the eastern Kansas, Missouri army, reveal to some extent the danger in each region, which will do much to allay unnecessary fears. The cyclone of Mississippi, Alabama and Tennessee, and the cyclone in Kansas, which, with the cyclone of the eastern Kansas, Missouri army, reveal to some extent the danger in each region, which will do much to allay unnecessary fears.

The first and only instance of the killing of the crew of a vessel by lightning has recently occurred in a California paper. The vessel was struck during a heavy thunder-storm, a gentleman observed a flash of fire dart from the mainmast to the deck. Suddenly a flash of lightning burst forth and apparently shattered the deck. Several of those on deck fell to the deck, but without the slightest marks of violence upon them. This phenomenon is the commonly accepted belief that the shattered condition of the air are secure from the darting fire of heaven.

The arrest of a criminal under very peculiar circumstances is the latest reported case, by the police of Ok City. As a carload of sheep had been delivered at the city by the railroad by thieves of whom there was no clue. As the train was moving down the yards early one morning observed a rough character in the act of driving a sheep from the car. He was the officer watching him, disappeared into a neighboring church. Following the officer entered and saw the latter, clad in a new pair of shoes on a kneeling man apparently deep in prayer. On the floor were tracts mark of the young fiend upon the floor, and the sheep in the aspect bending of all the guilty sons.

A SEA CAPTAIN relates a recent occurrence which is still more remarkable as a mysterious disappearance of numerous articles of food. During a storm a large meteor, looking like two balls of fire, dropped from the clouds, accompanied by a tremendous roaring. Before reaching the water the upper atmosphere was disturbed, and a shower of rain, accompanied by a sulphurous smell, followed. Every thing appeared like a sea of fire. The meteor struck the water and the surface of the copper sheeting was blistered."

THE BLANKET FISH.

An Unpleasant Sea Monster Which Infests California's Coasts.

"Do you see that shark, thick-set man sitting on the boat?" asked a lounger at the San Francisco Call one day to a correspondent. "Well, he is an ex-post driver, ex-navigator, ex-everything, and can give a long account of his life's part of the world."

A little later I was introduced to the man, who was a half-breed Mexican. He was a fine specimen of his race, very reserved in, and replied: "They were nothing. I have left the business, and have never had. I was in the city of Mexico, life, this during, and I would not go back to it for anything you could offer. They Well, I am tired of it, and I was covered with a blanket fish on my head and the second time means death. Am I sure?" And the half-breed smiled. Well, I never knew it to fail. I have been Russian, Nova, Natives, all from Mexico to Cape Horn, and I have had every one had his warning. It is not necessary for me to tell you how I escaped, but something was wrong—that something was the blanket fish. It would strike the bottom. I called among all sorts of pearl shells, and had begun to fill the bag when I felt a sudden chill and darkening about me, and looked up. I saw what appeared to be a blanket slowly settling down over me. I knew I had to get out of the way or be caught. I dropped the bag and started to run, but I was not quick enough. The blanket fell, and I was caught. I struggled and struggled, but it was of no use. I was at least thirty feet below the surface, and I could do nothing but wait for the end. I could

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY,
AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XX. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, AUGUST 26, 1887. No. 34.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well as its limitations as to its authorities."—Madison.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

O. L. JENKINS, M. D.,
Homeopathist.
successor to Dr. Scott,) 30 East Front Street, (east Front), Plainfield, N. J. Office Hours—7 to 9 a. m., 1 to 3 p. m., 7 to 9 p. m.—sp 19-87.

JACKSON & CODINGTON,
Counsellors-at-Law,
Commissioners, &c., &c. Masters-in-Chancery, Notaries Public. Offices corner of Park avenue and Second street.—3y6f

GEORGE W. DAY,
General Auctioneer,
Sales of Personal Property solicited. P. O. Box 126, Dunellen, N. J., or address in care of Constitutionalist. Terms reasonable.

CHARLES H. THEIS,
Dentist,
20 West Front street. A new local anæsthetic application for extracting teeth without pain. Gold fillings a specialty.—jy22

H. HAND,
Auctioneer,
P. O. Address, Lock Box 31, South Plainfield, N. J. Orders left at J. C. Cook's, railroad depot, Middlesex, will receive prompt attention.—jy22

OSCAR S. TEALE,
Architect,
142 Broadway, New York city, Rooms 33 and 34, (Importers and Traders' Exchange Building.) Residence, Plainfield, N. J.—jne6f

WM. K. McCLURE,
Attorney-at-Law,
MASTER IN CHANCERY, NOTARY PUBLIC,
Commissioner of Deeds. Office, North avenue opposite depot.—jne6f

J. B. FORSTER,
Veterinary Surgeon.
Office in A. N. Sommer's livery office, corner Main street and Harrison avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Day and night calls promptly attended. Telephone Call No. 31. Graduate of the New York College of Veterinary Surgeons, Revolution, 71 East Fifth street.—jne6f

ARTHUR P. MILLER,
Attorney-at-Law,
(Successor to the late W. B. Mayo), Solicitor in Chancery, Notary Public, &c. Real estate and loans. Office, Front street, next door to Somerset House, Plainfield, N. J.—jne6f

F. A. DUSHAW,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor,
No. 2 Park avenue, Coward's building. Particular attention to all kinds of drainage. Parties wanting to connect their sewer with a main sewer in the street will be given information.—jne6f

DR. J. F. GRIFFEN,
Electric Baths.
Dr. Griffen treats all Nervous affections. Uterine complaints, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Paralysis, Sleeplessness, Dyspepsia and Chronic diseases generally by Electricity and Electric Baths. Consultation free. Lady attendant for the ladies. 60 East Second street, Plainfield.—jne6f

BUSINESS CARDS.

ROBERT JAHN,
TIN AND COPPER-SMITH,
Scotch Plains,
(Fanwood) N. J. Roofing, Stove and Heater work, Pumps, Conductors, &c., all kinds of sheet metal work. The best and the cheapest Sanitary and Ventilating Caps. Repairing promptly attended to.—jy16f

TO THE PUBLIC !

We wish to inform our customers and the public generally that we have on hand the best quality of

LEHIGH COAL,

Fresh from the Mines.

It is under cover and well protected from the weather. We are prepared to deliver it well screened and in good order promptly. We are also prepared to furnish all kinds of seasoned Lumber and Masons' Materials at short notice.

A. D. COOK & BRO.

Jan'84 ly

Park Avenue Bakery !
JOHN WALKER, Prop'r
FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the Oldest and Best Bread.

J. Hervey Doane,
9 PARK AVENUE.
(Formerly Clark's)
Watches,
Clocks
And Jewelry.
Repairing neatly and promptly done.
dly1

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, VEGETABLES, DRIED FRUIT, ETC.
CORNER EMILY AND DUER STREETS
North Plainfield, New Jersey.
Celebrated Pilsbury Flour,
THE BEST IN THE MARKET.
ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED.
Thanks for past patronage. I solicit a continuance Respectfully,
WILLIAM H. SHOTWELL.
ap23 ly

BOSTON CLOTHING HOUSE
42 W. FRONT ST.
Reliable Goods at Low Prices.
Order Department
Under the well-known Cutter,
NEWTON P. DRAKE.
Correct Styles. Right Prices
mysly

Geo. A. Moore,
(Of the late firm of Moore Bros.)
is now the sole proprietor of the old established
NO. 14 NORTH AVENUE.
Where he will continue to supply patrons with the finest groceries that can be had south. Fish of all kinds, Oysters, Clams, Game in Season at the lowest market prices. Anything found usually kept in stock furnished at short notice.
may6-ly

Edward Ramonetti,
OYSTER AND ICE CREAM SALOON.
OYSTERS BY THE QUART, 100 OR 1000.
CHARLOTTE RUSSE MADE TO ORDER.
All Orders Promptly Attended to.
24 NORTH AVENUE,
Plainfield, New Jersey. Telephone Call No. 29
jan'84 ly

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

Force's Hotel !
NORTH AVENUE
Near P. R. R. Depot, Plainfield, New Jersey.
JAMES H. FORCE, - - Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY HOTEL.
Transient guests taken at reasonable rates.

Bottled Liquors a Specialty.

Laing's Hotel !
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
J. B. MILLER & BRO., - Proprietors.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.

James Conneely
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a saloon at
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 22 PARK AVE.,
Where he will be pleased to furnish his friends and patrons with the choicest brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors.—may6

TURF EXCHANGE HOTEL.
73 Courtlandt street,
CORNER WASHINGTON, NEW YORK CITY
FRED. W. BALLARD, - - Proprietor,
(Formerly of Jersey City), is now conducting the above-named hotel, and respectfully solicits a call. Its convenient restaurant, No. 19 E. Front street, will be most courteously conducted.

PURE WINES, LIQUORS AND SEGARS. 1y36

SOMERSET HOTEL,
Cor. Somerset & Canby Sts., North Plainfield, N. J.
Permanent and Transient Board, at fair rates.
First-class Wines and Meals attended.
Meals at all reasonable hours. 2jan87

C. E. JOHNSON,
If late firm of Shepard, Johnson & Grimm.
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
Office adjoining City Hotel on Second street, near Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey. Residence, 15 East Second street. Jobbing especially.

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
SALESROOM—Madison Avenue, near Front St., Plainfield, N. J.
Goods received on commission.

MRS. E. J. MARTIN'S
MAGIC RENOVATING FLUID.
For cutting out grease from any kind of goods, without changing the color, or leaving a spot. Warranted not to contain any acid, grease, alkali, chlorine, hot soda, gums' clothing. Leaves the nap in a natural position. Does not injure the finest carpets in the least. Price 25 cents per bottle. For sale at Mrs. Martin's dress making rooms, 24 East Front street, and at the Ladies' Store, 20 and 22 Fourth street, N. Plainfield.—jy2 ly

JOHN JOHNSTON,
DEALER IN
COAL!
YARD AND OFFICE, SOUTH AVENUE, BETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
The best quality of screened coal at the lowest market price forced. Address all orders to Bethersood post-office.—jne6f

A. D. COOK & BRO.
Jan'84 ly

DORSEY W. HYDE,
PRACTICAL TEACHER OF
Piano, Harmony & Guitar.
Fall Term commences MONDAY, Sept. 13, 1887. SEND FOR CIRCULAR. P. O. BOX 1178. aplm87

MR. LEAL'S SCHOOL
WILL RE-OPEN
Monday, Sept. 19, 1887.
Abundance of room and added facilities make it now possible to form another Class for Boys from eight to ten years of age. Several such pupils have been much "over crowded." Circulars and information on application.—sp13tf

A SCHOOL FOR BOYS
WILL BE OPENED IN THE PARLORS OF THE PARK AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH,
SEPTEMBER 15, '87.
APPLICATION MAY BE MADE AT NO. 30 PARK AVENUE, CORNER SIXTH STREET.
ANNA J. MOORE, Principal.
aug6 1y

Pennington Seminary,
PENNINGTON, N. J.
40th Year, on direct line of N. Y. from Plainfield, N. J. Opens Sept. 5. Offers rare educational facilities for both sexes. Terms moderate. Buildings new. Steam heated. Location healthful. Steam heating; gas, fire escapes. Perfect sanitary arrangements. Catalogue, letter of Dr. McClain, and testimonials, address
THOS. HANLON, A. M., D. D., President.
jy15 1y

NEW JERSEY
State Normal and Model Schools,
TRENTON,
Fall Term will commence Monday, Sept. 19th.
TOTAL COST FOR BOARD, TUITION, BOOKS, etc., at the NORMAL SCHOOL, $154 for Ladies, $170 for Gentlemen; at the MODEL SCHOOL, $200 per year. Buildings thoroughly heated by steam. The Model School offers to both young Ladies and Gentlemen superior advantages in all its departments, viz.: Mathematical, Classical, Commercial, Musical, Drawing, and in Modern Languages. For circulars containing full particulars, address
W. HASBROUCK, Principal,
8-12 m1 Trenton, New Jersey.

MISCELLANEOUS.

ARTESIAN WELLS.
F. A. W. STOTHOFF
Are prepared to Sink Wells any depth up to 1,000 feet, and guarantee a full supply of water. Pipe furnished at fair prices. Residence, corner Madison and Second streets, Plainfield, N. J. P. O. address, Box 1,078, Plainfield, N. J.

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST,
Residence—Harmony street, North Plainfield, opposite Grace Methodist Episcopal church. Will read your horoscope, tell you your future husband or wife, describe marriages, how happy you will be, and when you will marry. Satisfaction guaranteed.

In English, German and French.

Electrical Work !
ELECTRICAL WORK—WE ARE PREPARED to do all kinds of electrical work, from a call bell to a completely equipped factory. Estimates furnished on application. We are a Rand prize take case, of electrical apparatus by the Paris exhibition of 1881. All of repairing timers and maintaining it in thorough working order.
PLAINFIELD DISTRICT TELEGRAPH CO.,
NO. 4 PARK AVENUE.
C. H. GODDARD, - Manager.
jy20tf

NETHERWOOD FARM !
MOUNTAIN AVE., NEAR PARSAUNK AVE.
A JERSEY STOCK FARM !
OVER
50 HEAD OF JERSEY CATTLE 50
Good family cows for sale at Moderate Price. Milk and cream delivered anywhere in Plainfield. Visitors are always welcome.
P. WHEELER, Manager.
HERBERT JACKSON, Plainfield, N. J. aug6

CAREY'S
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE, NO. 45 WEST FRONT STREET.
Nearly opposite Laing's Hotel, Plainfield, N. J.
Having leased the above premises I am prepared to buy and sell second-hand Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, etc., at the highest cash prices. Will also receive Furniture in exchange for new goods. Furniture, etc., stored. P. O. Box 480.—my21

JOHN MORTON,
PURE SPRING WATER
ICE
Delivered daily to any part of the city at the low-est rates. Leave orders at Wm. Ward's, 27 West Front st., P. O. Box 780. Orange office at Stoneridge avenue and Main street, where orders can be left or sent by mail. Factory at Stoneridge avenue, Orange, N. J. Will also receive Furniture in exchange for ice. Furniture stored. Prompt attention.
jy15 1y

DOOR NUMBERS,
DOOR BELLS,
DOOR PLATES,
AT
DICKINSON & CLAWSON'S,
12 PARK AVENUE.
Sole Agents for

Dr. King's Spectacles.
jy14 1y

SUMMER
HATS.
CAPS, GLOVES,
Trunks, Valises, Etc
Call and Examine the Elegant Stock of
Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods at
F. A. POPE'S,
(Successor to E. French.)
No. 5 W. Front-st.
ap23

EDUCATIONAL.

DORSEY W. HYDE,
PRACTICAL TEACHER OF
Piano, Harmony & Guitar.
Fall Term commences MONDAY, Sept. 13, 1887. SEND FOR CIRCULAR. P. O. BOX 1178.
aplm87

MR. LEAL'S SCHOOL
WILL RE-OPEN
Monday, Sept. 19, 1887.
Abundance of room and added facilities make it now possible to form another Class for Boys from eight to ten years of age. Several such pupils have been much "over crowded." Circulars and information on application.—sp13tf

A SCHOOL FOR BOYS
WILL BE OPENED IN THE PARLORS OF THE PARK AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH,
SEPTEMBER 15, '87.
APPLICATION MAY BE MADE AT NO. 30 PARK AVENUE, CORNER SIXTH STREET.
ANNA J. MOORE, Principal.
aug6 1y

Pennington Seminary,
PENNINGTON, N. J.
40th Year, on direct line of N. Y. from Plainfield, N. J. Opens Sept. 5. Offers rare educational facilities for both sexes. Terms moderate. Buildings new. Steam heated. Location healthful. Steam heating; gas, fire escapes. Perfect sanitary arrangements. Catalogue, letter of Dr. McClain, and testimonials, address
THOS. HANLON, A. M., D. D., President.
jy15 1y

NEW JERSEY
State Normal and Model Schools,
TRENTON,
Fall Term will commence Monday, Sept. 19th.
TOTAL COST FOR BOARD, TUITION, BOOKS, etc., at the NORMAL SCHOOL, $154 for Ladies, $170 for Gentlemen; at the MODEL SCHOOL, $200 per year. Buildings thoroughly heated by steam. The Model School offers to both young Ladies and Gentlemen superior advantages in all its departments, viz.: Mathematical, Classical, Commercial, Musical, Drawing, and in Modern Languages. For circulars containing full particulars, address
W. HASBROUCK, Principal,
8-12 m1 Trenton, New Jersey.

MISCELLANEOUS.

ARTESIAN WELLS.
F. A. W. STOTHOFF
Are prepared to Sink Wells any depth up to 1,000 feet, and guarantee a full supply of water. Pipe furnished at fair prices. Residence, corner Madison and Second streets, Plainfield, N. J. P. O. address, Box 1,078, Plainfield, N. J.

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST,
Residence—Harmony street, North Plainfield, opposite Grace Methodist Episcopal church. Will read your horoscope, tell you your future husband or wife, describe marriages, how happy you will be, and when you will marry. Satisfaction guaranteed.

In English, German and French.

Electrical Work !
ELECTRICAL WORK—WE ARE PREPARED to do all kinds of electrical work, from a call bell to a completely equipped factory. Estimates furnished on application. We are a Rand prize take case, of electrical apparatus by the Paris exhibition of 1881. All of repairing timers and maintaining it in thorough working order.
PLAINFIELD DISTRICT TELEGRAPH CO.,
NO. 4 PARK AVENUE.
C. H. GODDARD, - Manager.
jy20tf

NETHERWOOD FARM !
MOUNTAIN AVE., NEAR PARSAUNK AVE.
A JERSEY STOCK FARM !
OVER
50 HEAD OF JERSEY CATTLE 50
Good family cows for sale at Moderate Price. Milk and cream delivered anywhere in Plainfield. Visitors are always welcome.
P. WHEELER, Manager.
HERBERT JACKSON, Plainfield, N. J. aug6

CAREY'S
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE, NO. 45 WEST FRONT STREET.
Nearly opposite Laing's Hotel, Plainfield, N. J.
Having leased the above premises I am prepared to buy and sell second-hand Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, etc., at the highest cash prices. Will also receive Furniture in exchange for new goods. Furniture, etc., stored. P. O. Box 480.—my21

JOHN MORTON,
PURE SPRING WATER
ICE
Delivered daily to any part of the city at the low-est rates. Leave orders at Wm. Ward's, 27 West Front st., P. O. Box 780. Orange office at Stoneridge avenue and Main street, where orders can be left or sent by mail. Factory at Stoneridge avenue, Orange, N. J. Will also receive Furniture in exchange for ice. Furniture stored. Prompt attention.
jy15 1y

DOOR NUMBERS,
DOOR BELLS,
DOOR PLATES,
AT
DICKINSON & CLAWSON'S,
12 PARK AVENUE.
Sole Agents for

Dr. King's Spectacles.
jy14 1y

SUMMER
HATS.
CAPS, GLOVES,
Trunks, Valises, Etc
Call and Examine the Elegant Stock of
Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods at
F. A. POPE'S,
(Successor to E. French.)
No. 5 W. Front-st.
ap23

PAINTERS & PAINTERS' SUPPLIES.

Paints, Varnishes, Glass.
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALL PAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.
apr

Weaver Bros.
House & Sign Painting, Graining.
Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a specialty.
Office and Shop in the rear of
16½ EAST FRONT STREET.
D. WEAVER. P. O. Box 281. P. WEAVER

W. N. ROWE,
PAINTER AND DECORATOR,
Dealer in Paints, Oil, Varnishes, Glass, Brushes, etc. WALL PAPER and WINDOW SHADES in great variety. Paper hanging promptly and satisfactorily executed. No. 19 E. FRONT STREET, P. O. Box 1208.—apr6y1

Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS,
Wall Papers,
PAINTERS' SUPPLIES, 20 NORTH AVENUE
apr6y1

MILLINERY.

Mrs. J. M. Dunn,
FASHIONABLE MILLINER,
LATEST SHAPES OF
BONNETS AND HATS.
FRENCH IMPORTED FLOWERS.
Feathers, Velvets, Plushes, Satins, Laces, etc. Also, Fancy Goods and Notions; Dress and Infants' Caps a Specialty.
PINKING, BLEACHING & PRESSING
Feathers Dyed. Cleaned and Curled AT SHORT NOTICE.
14 West Front street.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made on the principle of "Best Goods Only."
CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigarettes always on hand. Always in Stock.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety
apr7

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
SEGARS!
No. 20 PARK AVE., (Under Second Floor), PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smoker's Materials,
Of the Choicest Brands.
The celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco with the best cigarette and cocoa in the world.

--PICTURE FRAMES--
OF ALL KINDS, AT
S. E. FLOWER'S,
21 New York Prices, Studio 26 West Front street. Estimates for drawing and oil painting. ap16y1

A. L. SMALLEY. N. B. SMALLEY
Smalley Bros.,
DEALERS IN
Fresh and Salt Meats, Poultry, Etc.
76 SOMERSET STREET, 3 SOUTH PLAINFIELD.
Orders called for and delivered. A share of the public patronage is solicited.—ly37

Benj. F. Moore,
(Late of Moore Bros.)
BUTCHER
And dealer in FRESH AND SALT MEATS, POULTRY, etc., corner Park avenue and Second street will be open and ready for business on WEDNESDAY, March 30th. Orders called for and promptly delivered. Telephone Call No. 29.—ly37

MAYNARD & HILL,
PRACTICAL BARBERS
AND
Artistic Hair Dressers,
No. 20 PARK AVENUE,
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residence. Shaving, Shampooing, &c., satisfactorily performed.—ly37

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.
TO HIRE. CHARGES REASONABLE.
Hugo Weigman.
20 EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J. apr6y1

IF YOU WANT TO BUY
Books, Music, Stationery, Toys,
Summer Games,
Hammocks,
Baby Carriages, etc., at LOW PRICES !
GO TO ALLEN'S
THE STATIONER,
NO. 23 EAST FRONT ST.

ALEX. THORN
(Late of Berry & Thorn.
CAN BE FOUND AT 37 SOMERSET STREET,
WITH A FULL LINE OF FURNACES, RANGES,
STOVES,
TINWARE, Etc.
Repairing in His Line Promptly Attended To.
ly1

OUR DARLING.

When do we miss our darling most?
I sometimes wonder, then is most
Of tender memories and sad,
When we have heard the last good night
We shall not hear? I question, till
When most she's missed I do not know,
Whether when she is here or gone.

At early morn she's mouse her face
In the soft pillow, which she presses,
And, nestling on the new born day,
With rosebud mouth and sleepy eyes
Awaits the pretty daylight come.
Thinking of that I know our house
Is brighter for her being here.
That must to make it fair and bright.

Her modest hands, her feet, her face,
Her mouth would seem incomplete
Till grace was added of God above
Through the sweetness of her love.
Then she would say with reverence dear:
"Our Father, hallowed be thy name."
How bright her lovely eyes would shine,
How fervently her prayer would rise
To her her sweet face beaming there,
"Thy kingdom come, thy will be done."
We daily, almost hourly prayed,
And we had learned the secret then.
Was whispered back, and now, although
We miss her, miss her sore, we know
The secret still.

And evenings, closely rolled in white,
When prayers were said, and last, good-night,
Was kissed by all,
And last, with sweet, low rest to rest;
Then, when the house was still,
So full of innocence and grace,
We heard whispered with mother love
And mother fear. Oh, God above,
Thou knowest how we loved her then.
How dearer the way our eyes rested on
Her sweet face, her curls, her form,
Our darling, and we miss her.
When most we miss her, we do not know,
For each and hour we miss her so.
—Inter Mist, in Farm and Fireside.

THE GREEN-EYED JACKSON.

A Strange Tale of Summer Love and Cold-Blooded Murder.

I hated Jackson from the first moment I set eyes on him, when I caught him standing at gaze with his malevolent green eyes, as if he would like to do me a mischief. From that day I have lived in constant fear. Perhaps I was. Other people liked him; I was the only one who detected the sinister in first impressions.

You, dear, liked him. Mrs. Shillingsworth, the rich old lady who had the back parlor, spoke of him on that first day in high terms of praise.

"Jackson is a great favorite. All the ladies like him," she said to me later; and I don't think he knows which he loves best."

"Oh, he pretends to love us all round!" I asked.

I was afraid there was a little sarcasm in my tone, but Mrs. Shillingsworth did not notice it.

"Why, Mrs. Abbot, I am sure you could not expect that. They never do," she answered, "Never."

"I know I shouldn't," I said.

Still I reflected that I need not have my opinion of Jackson; and as the house seemed pleasant and the boarders generally nice, I had with them last winter daughters old enough to be in society; Governor, Colorado; Governor, Dakota; Kentucky; Brown, Georgia; Butler and Hampton, both of South Carolina; Cameron, Pennsylvania; Chandler, New Hampshire; Dillon, Illinois; Dawes, Massachusetts; Edmunds and Mitchell, both of Oregon; Edmunds, Vermont; Foster, Louisiana; Gibson, Texas; Gordon, Georgia; Hampton, Jones, Arkansas; McMillan, Minnesota; Farwell, Illinois; Mahone, Virginia; Pugh, Alabama; Sawyer, Wisconsin; Voorhees and Wilson, Iowa; and Windom, Minnesota. Senators Brown, of Senators Bock, Eustis, Farwell, Payne, Pugh and Sawyer are married. Senator Jones, of Nevada, Senator Vance, late of Senator Butler's daughters, and Senator Vance's daughter, Cheney. Mahone, Whitthorne and McMillan each have two married daughters. Senator Logan's daughter is married to Senator Cockrell's son. Some of the others were debutantes last season. Senator Cullom was married in February, had her Sebastian in the New Orleans just before, accompanying her parents to Washington early in March. Senators Evarts, Allison, Ingalls, Conkling, Edmunds, George Eustis, the grandson of the late Secretary of War, and Senator Hill are most conspicuous among mechanics, children and servant girls. Frequently carriages with liveried drivers and men servants in livery at the house doors, as the delivery of beans and other articles of food at the back door of the bakers. Winter and summer the crowd about the Capitol is the same every morning, and the bakers say their trade increases constantly. One who has been a resident of Washington for forty years says that his Sunday trade is almost double what it was a few years ago.

Saturday evening says that his Sunday trade is almost double what it was a few years ago.

In the hotels and restaurants the Senators costs all the way from five to 30 cents. At the best hotels the latter price is charged, while the former prevails only in the cheapest eating-houses and the three-in-hash places. At the most first-class restaurants, even of the middling kind, he is 30 cents. At the best hotels and restaurants and small dining-rooms, the Senator is 50 cents. At the restaurants of Parker's and Wormley's and the best hotels the calls for baronial dishes are rarely if ever heard constantly. It is in the baked meats that the Senator leads the world. There are signs that the caucus habit of the Senate is spreading to some of other parts of the country, perhaps on account of the value of the canned meat industry. It is said that the Democratic assumption of white house is becoming evident in the South and South.

Certain Death, Just a Time.

Cotton, according to a recent estimate, is not a blast, but a plant hair. It is found to be spun, with a considerable peculiar twists in each hair, shown by the microscope, especially in polaris of light. Linen threads may be spun because the flax fibers have certain roughness on their surfaces which cause them to cling together. Hence it is impossible to make linen thread on cotton cloth, but it is much stronger.

A Magistrate Of Himself.

A police justice in the city of New York is an officer of great importance. Take your Police Justice Duffy, who has had thirteen years, passed sentence on more than 16,000 culprits, and has the most difficult of the duties of a police justice, to perform, that of sentencing his own conscience. By long training he thinks that he always knows when a prisoner is lying, and he says: "Judge, I am guilty," he declares, is to say: "Judge, I am guilty," he declares, is to say: "Judge, I am guilty," he declares, is to say

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE, A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors.

DEMOCRATIC DOCTRINE.

The Labor party of New York, in Convention assembled at Syracuse last week, among other resolves adopted the following:

"We declare the true purpose of government to be the maintenance of that sacred right of property which gives to every one opportunity to employ his labor and security that he shall enjoy its fruits; to prevent the strong from oppressing the weak and the unscrupulous from robbing the honest, and to do for the equal benefit of all such things as can be better done by organized society than by individuals."

"And we aim at the abolition of all laws which give to any class of citizens advantages, either judicial, financial, industrial or political, that are not equally shared by all others."

Which in fact is nothing more nor less than a reiteration of doctrines espoused by the Democratic party from the days of Jefferson, and to make them effective, we fail to see the necessity of any other political organization.

It is a truth patent to every candid observer, that a system of laws, measures and customs antagonistic to personal rights and the time-honored creed of the sovereignty of the people, is due to all the people," have, during the past twenty years, been allowed to grow and consolidate mercenary power, until now the privileged few in various ways, lord it over the dependent many.

Out of such an unjustifiable and anti-Democratic condition of affairs has been born the vampire spirit of monopoly, and its attendant evils—unscrupulous, illegal, mortal speculation, wealth distribution, taxation tribute, corporation arrogance, extortion, favoritism and fraud.

Each and all of them being enemies of legitimate enterprise and honest labor.

It is time for public sentiment, girding on the armor of determined action, to arouse and demand, not supplicate a change.

We need in this country a radical and permanent change. A going back to the original intent of Constitutional Government, which designed—

That every citizen should be amply protected in exercising and enjoying the free and equal opportunity of trade, and industry, unobstructed by any species of enacted law or selfish combination; and that taxation should be only required just and full equivalent, but wage-earners be sorely guaranteed against cunningly devised imposition of every name and kind.

To preserve unimpaired the civil and religious rights of American citizenship, irrespective of class, condition or creed, as ordained by the Constitution, remains to be mentioned among the duties of the Democratic party, and for which it has fought many a fierce battle.

LIVINGSTON FOR SENATOR.

In suggesting as wise and proper Democratic action the Senatorial re-nomination of our fellow citizen Robert L. Livingston, we are simply doing what we conceive to be public duty.

Senator Livingston has served one term in the State Senate with distinguished ability, and at all times has shown himself entitled to him, and thereby reflected honor upon New Jersey and the County of Union. He is a practical and intelligent business man, conversant with the details of legislation, ever watchful of the best interests of constituents, gentlemanly in all his intercourse with the people, and justly the recipient of public confidence and esteem. As Senator he is the right man in the right place. Keep him there!

ONE-SIDED JUSTICE.

The Coroner's jury summoned to pass judgment on the recent Illinois railway disaster which buried four-score persons out of existence and mangled a greater number, in consequence of the barping of a rickety wreck, rendered a one-sided verdict virtually exonerating the railway company from blame, and casting criminality upon the section foreman.

If the employee of the road was derelict in the discharge of duty, to hold him personally responsible therefor may have been right, but, the question properly arises, did such even a grievous degree of criminal negligence attach to the employers, the railway officers, who permitted their human-freighted trains to encounter death-traps in the shape of cheap wooden bridges, instead of safe structures built of iron, stone or brick?

The poor section foreman is locked up in jail, and the railway corporation, will doubtless continue to do business at the old stand.

Such apparently one-sided justice is not calculated to enlist public approval.

Let no guilty man or association of men escape, ought to be made a universal decree and as imperatively binding as were the laws of the Medes and Persians.

CHANCE IN COLOR OF STAMPS.

The Post Office Department, about Sept. 15, will make certain changes in the color and design of some of the adhesive stamps and impress upon envelopes.

The two cent stamp now issued in red will be changed to green. The three cent stamp now in green will be changed to vermilion. The design will remain unchanged. In stamped envelopes, the two cent envelope will be changed from red to green; the four cent envelope from green to carmine; the five cent from dark blue to dark blue; the thirty cent from black to brown, and the ninety cent from carmine to purple. The design of the stamped envelopes will also be the same as now, except with the one, two, four and five cent denominations. The bands on these stamps have been re-engraved and have a slightly different appearance from the old stamps. The ornamentation around them is also slightly different.

The ore shipments over the High Bridge Branch of the Central Railroad for July were: To Phillipsburg and points beyond, 30,110.06 tons; local to Chester and Port Oram, 1,373.10 tons; total, 31,484.01 tons. Limestone to Port Oram, 1,684.17 tons.

The new law by which all moneys remaining to the credit of a school district on the 1st of September are confiscable to the County Collector will probably give district trustees to pay better salaries and make sure that there is no balance to be confiscated.

A DWELLING HOUSE BURNED.

Another Fire Credited to an Incendiary.

About 1 o'clock Friday morning fire was discovered in a two-story house and stable, situated on the south side of West Fifth street, between Liberty street and Plainfield avenue. The place is owned by a Mrs. Dodd, of New York, and was occupied by Mr. A. J. Dent, who was formerly employed in the Potter Press Works, but is at present an agent for a Philadelphia Publishing House. Mr. and Mrs. Dent left the city Thursday morning to spend the day with relations at Somerville, expecting to return Friday, and consequently no one was in the house during the day. The fire was first discovered by Mrs. C. M. Wilson, who lives next door, and to whom a Press reporter is under obligations for such valuable information concerning the fire. That lady said that her son returned from the street about midnight, but he saw nothing unusual about the place. She said about one o'clock she was awakened from her slumber by a strange crackling noise, and on looking out of her bedroom window discovered fire in the next house. She immediately aroused her husband, who at once dressed and tried to force an entrance into the building through the front door. Meanwhile her son had come to town and given the alarm. With the assistance of a colored man, who was soon on the scene, the door was broke out one of the front windows and entered the building which by by this time all in a blaze on the inside. The heat was very oppressive and it was impossible to do much effective stifling, but the two men worked heroically and with assistance, which came soon afterward, succeeded in removing most of the parlor furniture. In general alarm was sent out and two engines and the truck responded. When the firemen arrived on the spot the entire structure was enveloped in flames, and their efforts were directed to saving the frame houses on either side of the burning building. In this they were very successful, and great credit is due them for the manner in which they handled the fire by not allowing it to spread. The building in which the fire originated was but sparsely furnished, together with most of the furniture. It was erected by Mr. Solomon Dunn several years ago at a cost of about $2,500. We are unable to learn the exact amount of insurance on the house, but understand the loss is covered by about one-half. Mr. Dent's loss will probably not exceed $600, on which there is said to be $700 insurance. An offer of $2,250 was recently made for the premises but the offer was refused by the owner.

Mrs. Wilson told the reporter Friday morning that when she first looked out of the window, the dining-room in the next house appeared to be all in a blaze. She also noticed that one of the shutters—which had been closed all day, was thrown wide open. This would seem to indicate that the incendiary had entered the house by jimmying the window. A report was in circulation Friday that one of the windows on the west side of the house was broken out and that a man was seen around the building shortly before the fire was discovered, but this is denied by the neighbors. Other persons were also seen among the first to arrive on the scene, say that the house seems to have been fired in many places, as the flames issued from the windows on the side and roof simultaneously. From a careful investigation there appears to be no doubt that the fire was the work of an incendiary, and it may as well here be stated, that if this state of affairs continue to exist, about the only effectual way to rid the community of the fire fiend will be to form a Vigilance Committee, and equip each of the members with a shot gun and a coil of rope. Said a colored man this morning, "I'm ready to hang the fire fiend to see why it is that they don't ketch them fellers; I'll bet you, if I see a man settin' fire to my house I'll shoot him on the spot and the undertaker will want him the next mornin', or else it will be because I can't shoot straight."

STILL ANOTHER BARN GONE.

The Fire-Bug Detected in the Act, But as Usual He Makes His Escape.

It is safe to say that within the past few months Hunterdon has lost more incendiary fires than any other town of any size in the United States. For several weeks past there has been an average of one fire or more, and in not a single case in origin has been traced and credited to an incendiary. In most cases large barns have been singled out and burned to the ground, aggregating a loss of thousands of dollars. A noticeable fact is that all of the fires are discovered in the neighborhood of one or two o'clock in the morning, when all are supposed to be at rest, and the fire bug has the greatest chance to escape. Although rewards have been offered and the police have exerted themselves, not enough evidence has been secured to warrant the arrest of any one.

About two o'clock Sunday morning the Parker barn, 30x32 feet, 30 feet to the eave and two stories in height, belonging to Mr. Isaac P. Brown on Broadway, below Kinsla dairy, was discovered to be on fire. Mr. Brown was awakened by the crackling of the flames, and hastily donning a scanty supply of clothing rushed out of the house and succeeded in rescuing a large lot of farming implements. A hired man known as "John" was asleep in the barn, but when Mr. Brown arrived he was up and had removed two carriages to a place of safety. "John" returned from town about midnight and went to sleep on an improvised cot in the North corner of the barn. About six feet from the head of the cot was the barn door, but as the night was warm, this was left open. Some time during the night he was awakened by the barn and running up to the doorway threw a bundle of some combustible material into the building. The bundle came on fire and immediately burning brands fell. It landed on the stairway in the midst of a pile of hay, and the fire soon communicated with the woodwork, running into the mow. The man then ran away. Everything was dry and the flames spread with great rapidity, so that when the owner arrived on the spot the whole interior of the building was on fire and the flames soon after burst through the roof. An alarm was sent out and two companies of the city responded, but the latter company were obliged to draw their apparatus by hand. Then, as usual, there was a scarcity of water. Finally the engines got to work and the firemen labored hard to save the wagon house situated about twenty-five feet to the Northward and the corn crib adjoining. The barn was burned to the ground, and the roof and upper story of the wagon house was also burned off. The corn crib and contents were considerably damaged. In the barn was stored about $200 worth of furniture belonging to Jane Seaman, a colored woman, now employed as a hotel keeper at Bound Brook, N. J. This was all destroyed, and the loss is total, together with a lot of clothes belonging to the workmen, etc., such as coats, dust pan, harness, a sleigh belonging to William Moore, and some other traps. Fortunately a horse belonging to Mr. Brown was out in the meadow and escaped. The loss will probably amount to $2,000 or $2,500, on which there is said to be $1,000 insurance. The fire was discovered by Mr. Brown's son, who was awakened by the crackling of the flames, and hastily donning a few articles of clothing, ran out of the house. Mr. Brown was awakened by the cries of his son, and on looking out of the window saw the flames leaping high in the air. He then ran out of the house and gave the alarm. Mr. Brown says he does not know of any one who would want to be bothered in this way. Two years ago last Spring, a barn standing in the same place was totally destroyed. The horse being the only thing saved, and the owner was fearfully burned at the time when rescuing the animal. Mr. Brown told a reporter of yesterday that if his horse had been burned, he would have depended on Hunterdon's fire fiend with the Pinkerton Detective Bureau for the purpose of hunting down the criminal. He says he will now give the horse to some one who will kindly care for it, as he considers it useless to rebuild the structure. He also says that he had anticipated that the barn would be burned, and had taken the extra precaution to thoroughly wet the floor all around a door on the lower side of the building, every day or two. Four weeks ago last Friday night, an attempt was made to burn this barn, but the fire died out before doing any damage. During that night the dog woke him up several times, and when he yelled to the dog to remain quiet, the hired man heard him and came out of the barn, thus frightening away the fire bug before he had time to accomplish his work. Mr. Brown thinks he can name the man who fired his building, but like all other instances, there is not enough proof to warrant an arrest. We will here state that the manner of burning barns will reach a climax before long, and now be until the man who is caught applying the torch.

Lively Trotting.

Mr. Mount Morris, the jockey of Rose Brunswick, on Thursday handled a well known horse, "Lady B." on the Plainfield track. She trotted the first half mile in 1.18½ and repeated it in 1.18, which is remarkably fine time when it is remembered that the mare has not been driven for speed until within a few days, and was new to the Plainfield track. Mr. Boorsem, the owner of "Lady B." is much pleased with her trotting, and Mr. Morris is confident of scaling the time down to 2.30, with care and careful handling.

High Tea at Netherwood.

Mrs. James R. Plum of New York city gave a tea at The Netherwood, recently, and it was a specially recherche affair. As for this Hotel which is of late attaining such a reputation as the scene of so many refined and elegant affairs, it is needless to say the guests were Mrs. Guild, Mrs. Robins, Mrs. R. Howard, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Parsons, Mrs. Dana, Mrs. Swain, Mrs. Tobey, Mrs. Hubert, Mrs. Townsend, Mrs. Rouse, Mrs. Wood and Mrs. E. Howard. Mrs. Plum received in a tea-gown of heliotrope satin elaborately trimmed with white lace. The groups of Mrs. Wm. Rice and Mrs. Howard also attracted much admiration by their style and elegance.

"Ah There."

The Perth Amboy Republican of Friday, contained the following news item: "Ex-Chief Jennings and Foreman Thos. Keller of the Third Fire Co. of Plainfield visited this city one day last week for the purpose of catching all the fish in Princess Bay. The veteran fishermen, Mr. Hugh Scudder, undertook to bring the fish ashore, and consequently went with the party. These two fire laddies had not made the proper arrangements for a boat ride, and Hugh and he sent in his big rollers and called them to an account. They rendered up everything—even to a breakfast that had been eaten—and departed. Hugh, we did very well for fire laddies, however, in regard to fishing. Counting the toad-fish, they had fifteen in all."

Sued for Fifty Cents.

Some time since John Krowson, of Grandview avenue, Mt. Airy, Philadelphia, hired some porter from Mr. Cash Knorth of East Second street, for which he paid fifty cents. It appears that a man employed by Mr. Knorth was wrongly directed as to where it should be taken, and when he went to deliver the goods was told that no such man lived there, and that no order had been given for such a house. The man returned the order to his employer, and Mr. Krowson subsequently demanded the return of his fifty cents, which was refused. Suit was then brought before Justice Nodyne to recover the same, and the case came up for trial Friday. On motion of Mr. W. R. Cottington, counsel for the defendant, a nonsuit was granted on a defective return of the summons. After the Judge granted a nonsuit the defendant tendered the plaintiff the fifty cents, which was refused. Now papers have been drawn up and the case came up for trial again this week.

Smart Eli of Hightstown.

Mr. Elias C. Taulan, of Hightstown, N. J., is what may be comprehensively called a "Smart Aleck"; and the local paper of the little village he inhabits, is materially proud of him. The Hightstown Independent of last week says:

"Elias C. Taulan on Tuesday of last week shot on his barn a pigeon, which turned out to be a carrier. The left wing was marked S. Dorman, Philadelphia, 58, left leg had a brass ring on the right. Mr. Taulan says we are not sure but may be, when Elias points, down it comes."

What a great big editorial head it must be that is stuffed with a brain so big as the brain that conceived that last paragraph. And what a great big town it must be that can contain so big a boy as Lias; yet it was Wm. Tell's boy when he shoots a little pigeon on a barn. Brave Eli! Noble-minded editor! Proud village of Hightstown!

But, fortunately, it seems probable that the bird killed is not the "silver" hen of Mr. Dorman's, whose wonderful flies have given her a proud name throughout this and all other states. It is supposed to be the missing one of a number of young birds that were released recently at Wilmington, Del. The "silver" hen is safe over, has not yet been heard of. A few days ago a gentleman living in Elizabeth City, Pasquotank county, North Carolina, interested through the newspapers in the bird and her journey of 700 miles from Charleston, S. C.—sent word to her owner that she had been found in his barn-yard and he had captured her. Mr. Dorman left at once, and, reaching the address designated at midnight, called his correspondent out of bed. Only to find that bird was not his, although answering somewhat her description.

Rebecca and Jeremiah.

1. And it came to pass that on the fourth day—which is Wednesday—that Rebecca, whose surname is Peter, did arrive from the city of Baltimore, and her companion cometh with her.

2. And when they had come they straightway went forth to the house of one Mary Jane Field, and there was great rejoicing thereat.

3. But, lo! their gladness turneth to woe and lamentation. For Rebecca had lost her glasses and she knoweth not where. And she cometh naught, and refuseth to be comforted.

4. And they bring others from near and from afar. But she seeth not without her own. And there is great fear lest she starve, for she heareth no food.

5. But as the night cometh a man knocketh on the door of her lest. And his name is Jeremiah, or by some called Shepherd and Master.

6. And he holdeth in his hand a pair of specs, and he saith, "Is them thos's?" For he knoweth that they be glasses, and that they cometh together for the quarterly meeting of the Friends.

7. And then is loud rejoicing. And Mary Jane and Rebecca, and Martha, and Hannah and all were went to fall upon his neck in thanks. And he did blush thereat.

8. And he saith, "Verily they were found in the car that bringeth ye hither. And knoweth I you might have come to the habitation of sister Field, and I did bring ye hither."

9. Then they sought urgently to reward the faithful master of the baggage. And they did cry out: "Jerry the Good; and they did laugh.

10. But he refuseth the purse they offered, and went his way. But his reward shall be the greater hereafter, Jerry.

WRECK ON THE CENTRAL RAILROAD.

Two Coal Trains Run Together—Thirteen Cars and an Engine Piled Up—Three Killed, but the Engineer and Fireman Escape.

About 4 o'clock Wednesday morning a wreck occurred on the Central Railroad, midway between Westfield and Cranford, which resulted in piling up one engine, a caboose and thirteen loaded coal cars in a promiscuous heap. Fortunately no lives were lost, but the engineer and fireman on one of the engines had a miraculous escape from violent death. Engine No. 187 in command of Engineer Peter Young, and Fireman Thos. Berry, was attached to an East-bound loaded coal train, passed through this city soon after three o'clock. Conductor Andrew Crater was in charge of the train. When the train reached a point about a mile and a half East of the Westfield station, the engineer brought his train to a sudden stop for some unaccountable reason. The night was dark, and a slight fog prevailed at the time. Engineer Young had just opened the throttle of his engine, and before the train was fairly under way, Engine No. 87, Engineer Jacob Walters, Fireman John Everitt and Conductor Weldeles, came thundering down upon him. Presently there was a crash and immediately afterward the wreckage of thirteen cars and a locomotive were strewn along the tracks. Four tracks were completely blocked and travel was delayed for several hours. Wrecking trains were sent out from Junction, Jersey City and Elizabethport, and Superintendent Stuart and General Track Master Abbott were soon on the spot to superintend the removal of the debris. By right o'clock the fourth siding was cleared and for an hour or two all trains were obliged to use one track in passing the wreck. An hour or two later the East siding was opened for travel, and by noon the tracks were running on time as usual. The paper train was delayed several hours, and the New York morning mail did not arrive in this city until after nine o'clock. All East-bound trains were held at the depot here and at Westfield awaiting orders.

LATER AT THE WRECK.

When a PRESS reporter visited the scene of the accident, early Wednesday, everything was excitement. Engine No. 87 lay on its side, on the top of a big heap of splintered cars. The cab was torn away, the machinery bent and twisted, and the pilot and headlight completely buried under the locomotive. The tender was overturned at the side of the track about fifty yards in the rear, while the caboose, No. 833, was the forward car torn from its trucks and thrown down an embankment several yards away. Coal covered the sleepers for a long distance. Just how the wreck of the thirteen coal cars were attached to 87 engine. The place where the accident occurred was on a heavy down grade, and fortunately the brakes held the train in check, or more scattered over the cars when the crash came. The side track on either side was filled twice-told, and the earth was torn up for a long distance where the cars had plowed through it. Engine No. 188 in command of Engineer Jacob S. Rodenbough attached to the East-bound freight train, was going West at the time. When the coal cars jumped the track this engine was directly alongside and its pilot and headlight were badly damaged.

THE ENGINEER'S STORY.

Engineer Walters of 87 engine told a reporter that he was running at the rate of six miles an hour when he struck. He did not see the train ahead of him until he was within thirty cars' length of the caboose. He whistled for brakes, and immediately reversed his engine. Then the fireman and himself jumped, and both escaped with slight bruises. When one train stops slightly in front of another, as in one, it is customary for the brakeman to walk back and flag approaching trains and before starting, to attach a cartridge to the track as a warning. This was not done following. Engineer Walters says there was no cartridge on the rails and that no danger signals were displayed from the caboose in front of him. From his story the whole blame seems to rest on the hind brakeman of the forward train. Superintendent Stuart told a Press reporter that the matter would be thoroughly investigated, and the blame fastened on the right person. The total loss to the company will amount to thousands of dollars.

A Small Fire.

About 10 o'clock, p. m., 17th inst., Borough Councilman Weaver and Thomas & Young were conversing together in front of the latter's residence on Somerset street, when a lady passed by Mr. Highstown and told him that his house was on fire. The two gentlemen rushed into the house and ascended the stairs to the second story, where a bright fire was discovered burning in one of the back rooms. The flames had already burned through the floor and were climbing the wood work of the roof when discovered. When the two men entered the room a stream of burning oil was descending from a lighted lamp, which had been overturned by the jarring of a bracket. With considerable difficulty the lamp was thrown out the window, and the fire extinguished. Although the inventories of the household were at home at the time, they were not aware that the house was on fire until the alarm was raised in. The carpet on the floor was badly damaged, otherwise the loss is trifling.

They Cut There all the Same.

The latest advices from Messrs. Runyon and Stevens, two young men from this city, who have been "hooding it" in Pennsylvania this week, report a series of experiences barely equaled by any of the hunting parties who have gone before them. The hardships and perils of DeLong, Gordon and Stanley, sink to insignificance beside their report of Tuesday's and Wednesday's work. The mosquitoes are wild animals attiled in those days was eighty-two—extensive of mosquitoes and other insects of like harmless nature. Among the snakes included eleven rattlesnakes, twelve dogs, seven rats, three rabbits, a bear, two wild men, (escaped from a circus) and sixteen cat-fish. The first evening the careful Jersey farmers refused them admission to their houses, or even barns, and the only alternative was to lie out under the cool, shimmering starlight, counting the revolutions of the lazy-dids' cylinders per minute. Finally, locked in each other's embrace, they fell asleep, only to "shake with the sun" to new perils. On the second day the bear and the wild men broke camp, and went forth in search of

CITY DEPARTMENT

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION

J. A. DEMAREST, - - City Editor.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS.
CLOSE—5.00 and 7.30 A. M. 2.30 and 5.30 P. M.
ARRIVE—8.30, 11.30 A. M. 2.30 and 8.30 P. M.

SOMERVILLE, RARITAN, &C., MAILS.
CLOSE—9.30 A. M. and 4.30 P. M.
ARRIVE—8.30 A. M. and 5.30 P. M.

SUNDAY MAILS—ARRIVE at 8.30 A. M. Office open from 9.00 A. M. to 10.30 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Mail for Waynewood closes Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 11 M.

Post Office open at 7 A. M. and closes at 7.30 P. M. Saturday, closes at 8 P. M. Open every evening until 8 P. M. for delivery only.

Money order office open from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. Saturdays to 6 P. M.

W. L. EARLE, Postmaster.

—The match talked of "humidity" has almost entirely gone out of sight—and as a consequence, all breathe freer and enjoy life more.

—Some of our exchanges are continually telling their readers—"How to help a town." There is good reason to believe that some people could best help a town by moving out of it.

—A woman was seen to pass through the city last week seated on a coal train between two men. The novelty of seeing a woman ride on coal cars was witnessed by several persons.

—On our next page the Treasurer of the Fire Department gives official warning to all delinquents, that if their taxes be not paid by September 15th, their names will be returned to the Justice of the Peace for prosecution.

—Robert Randolph, the colored man who was injured in the coal yard of the David L. Bonnell estate a few days ago, is rapidly recovering from his injuries, and it is thought he will be able to be about as usual in a few days.

—As was alluded to in THE PRESS last week, John Barry, of Bull Frog City, appeared before Mayor Cooley, of North Plainfield, and entered a plea of guilty to the charge of drunkenness, preferred by Mary Kane. He was fined five dollars and costs.

—"Mister" Baldini claims that he is unjustly censored for trying to employ men in the dog business. He says if any one has he has carried out the law to the letter, and has not illegally impounded a dog. In other words, he says, he "gets there just the same."

—Those who attended the picnic in aid of St. John the Evangelist church, of Dunellen, on the Middlesex Club House grounds, Thursday, August 18, report having had a good time. The affair was a success in every particular and reflected credit on the management.

—"Silver," the handsome white faced horse belonging to No. 2 engine company, was taken with a congestive chill on the 17th, and for several hours the animal's life was despaired of. A veterinary surgeon applied the usual remedies, with successful results.

—City Judge Ulrich informs us that all but one of the owners of dogs in the city this city have promptly paid over the ten dollars royalty on each well as soon as they were notified, and that particular one was recently fined a dollar for not settling at once or suit would be instituted to recover the same,

—The fire well at the corner of Sixth and Liberty streets is in a dangerous condition, and should be repaired at once. The heavy weight of the fire engines pumping on the well Thursday night, caused the ground to settle several inches, and in one place the earth caved in to the depth of a foot or so.

—Fairs and fat hogs; news and sausages; pumpkins and potatoes; beer, beasts bulls and beats; corn and calves; grapes and lyres; horses and hose; turbines and trots; melons, music and mirth; men and mows; President and people, will soon be in order at the various county agricultural throughout the land, and all will rejoice over their great products.

—An item recently quoted in this paper and credited to a New Brunswick journal to the effect that Judge Ulrich of this city expected to collect the $50 royalty on 1,000 of about fifty wells in Bound Brook and vicinity, is being extensively published throughout the State. The whole matter is that only 80 royalty is claimed on each well and not fifty dollars, as stated.

—From the present indications it is plain to see that a public bath will be established in this city the present season. We had hoped to see some public spirited man take the matter in hand, and fit up a suitable house for bathing purposes. But the city cannot afford to enjoy too many luxuries at once, and perhaps another season will bring about the result sought for by all.

—The successful comedy of "The Highest Bidder" was again placed on the boards of the pretty Lyceum Theatre, New York, last Monday evening. Mr. Sothern, Mr. Lemoyne, and the other members of Mr. Frohman's original company have returned after their brief vacation and the comedy will remain on the Lyceum stage until the production of "The Great Pink Pearl."

—A man was arrested in the Borough on the 17th inst. for being intoxicated and leaning against a post. Next morning Mayor Cooley asked him what he had to say for him five dollars and costs. "I haven't got five cents," said the prisoner. He was given two weeks in which to pay the fine and in his failure to do so at the expiration of the time, the prisoner is to surrender himself and be committed for ten days.

—We hear complaints of a notion vendor who is in the habit of calling customers, even from the front yards, when he does not meet with success in the sale of his wares. People in the borough have threatened to post bills to the effect that he comes around again. In Morristown Friday a man named Michael Murter was sentenced to four months' imprisonment for destroying plants and trees.

—Officer Lynch was summoned to Mr. Seymour Hall's residence on Union avenue, Friday afternoon, to eject a man and his wife—who were both employed in the family—because they were drunken and unruly. When the officer arrived at the place he found the couple packing their wardrobe preparatory to leaving and after exacting a promise that they would not return, the officer allowed them to depart.

—Since the ornamental lamp post in front of the Crossing Avenue church has been wired for incandescent lighting with such satisfactory results, it has been suggested that provided all the electric light wires were put under ground, in the event of the Council entering into a contract with the company for incandescent street light, the wires could be easily attached to lamp posts now standing, and the unattractive poles would then be done away with.

—There was a sudden outpouring of electric fluid from a converter on one of the poles in front of Dr. Lovell's residence on Park avenue, about 7 o'clock Friday evening. One of the electric light men was up the pole making some repairs, and the report made by the sudden outbreak frightened the discharge of a huge cannon. A Press reporter happened along at the time, and in his effort to escape, he never before displayed such speed since the time the school master has assumed the playground for throwing putty balls at his classmates.

—The grand shooting tournament of the Middlesex Gun Club occurs on their grounds at Dunellen, October 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8th.

—The last chance for an excursion to Asbury Park will be offered by the Crescent Avenue Sabbath School, on Tuesday next, leaving Plainfield at 9:15, a. m. and Asbury Park at 5:30, p. m.

—Monday afternoon's storm was very severe in the vicinity of Elizabeth. Nearly two inches of rain fell, and the wind blew a hurricane. Trees were blown down, many basements were flooded. Considerable damage was done by the lightning, which struck in several places.

—An exciting bicycle race took place around the triangle in front of Crescent Avenue church Friday evening. Spencer Conway, on his home-made machine, glided over the course at the rate of about two blocks in ten minutes, but he was unable to catch up to a youth on his "safety" bicycle. Several spectators watched the proceeding with evident delight.

—THE PRESS some time ago called attention to the matter of allowing certain persons to go about the city collecting from the butchers, bones and fat substances, and stated that complaints had been made against a Perth Amboy dealer. The police, evidently acting on the suggestion, arrested one of the offenders and arraigned him before Judge Ulrich, on Saturday afternoon. The Judge released him with a reprimand.

—The leader of a passenger locomotive jumped the track Tuesday morning on account of a broken main driving box between Elizabeth and Elizabethport. The train, which was filled with people, was going at a high rate of speed at the time. The engineer, discovering the accident, immediately applied the brakes, bringing the train to a stop in a few seconds. There was much excitement among the passengers, but no panic. It was nearly an hour before travel was resumed.

—The seventeen mile level of the Morris Canal and the Pompton feeder in the northern part of Morris county are usually shocked with black bass in June, but the coming probably from Lake Hopatcong. When the water is drawn off those fish are destroyed, but this year they have to draw the waters through a net and transfer the fish to Lake Hopatcong, Greenwood Lake or the Passaic River. Miller's Pond, near Denville, and the Middle Forge Pond, both in Morris county, have recently been stocked with black bass by Commissioner Wright.

Crushed His Thumb.

John Whitehead, an employee of the Potter Press Works, met with a painful accident at the Works on Monday afternoon. With his helpers he was engaged in turning over one of the heavy two-revolution press beds when his thumb was piece of iron fell, crushing the thumb on his right hand. The injured man walked to Muhlenberg Hospital and had the wound dressed.

Exceeds All Others.

The Hotel Mail of New York, the paper that stands highest in the estimation of the fraternity of any journal of its class in the country, goes out of its way to show its appreciation of a success that is apparent to all. In a recent issue appears the following:

"The Plainfield Daily Press, only a few months published within a radius of fifty miles of this city, and in each issue contains one whole page of local news."

Fell Down Stairs.

George Winkler, a resident of Netherwood, sustained painful injuries by falling down stairs at his home, Sunday morning. He was about to descend from the second story, when he stumbled and fell headforemost to the bottom landing. The fall stunned him, and he lay in an unconscious condition for some time. A severe scalp wound was inflicted on the forehead and the right arm at the wrist was badly sprained. Later on the injured man called at Dr. Long's office to have the wounds dressed.

Colored People's Salt Water Day.

The Colored People's Salt water day will fall on Saturday, the 27th instant, and preparations are making to have the day equal any of the former years. Every one the proprietors of Florida Grove has one day apart for the colored people when they are invited to come and spend the day in the most pleasant manner they can fix it. On that particular day the colored folks from far and near gather there and amuse themselves to their hearts content. The management assures that a grand clambake will be a feature this season. If the day should be stormy, colored people's day will be postponed until Saturday, September 3d. Officers will be out on this day to maintain the best of order.

Another Factory for Plainfield.

This city is rapidly getting into favor as a manufacturing place, and a new and extensive manufacturing concern is about to locate here. The particulars we are not yet at liberty to divulge, but this can be said. On Saturday parties from Eastern were in town, surveying ground with a view of purchasing the same for the erection of a large factory between Grant avenue and Evons. The factory, it is said, will be on a far more extensive scale than that of the Bound Brook Co., now in course of construction near the Grant avenue station. The high quality of the water, the excellent railroad facilities, and the desirable sites for mechanics' residences, are the principal inducements offered the company for locating here, all of which shows the desirability of Plainfield as a manufacturing centre as well as a residence place.

A Warning to Corner Loafers.

The police promise us to make an effort to rid the corners and curbstones of the city's sidewalks of the lotterers that now crowd us into the streets, and of the loafers that insult our ladies with bad language, and expectorate ponds on the pavement for us all to wade through. To those who are fond of the latter, and have no fair warning to the guilty, we publish below the section of the city ordinance that governs the matter:

"If any person obstruct the free passage of pedestrians by loitering or assembling on the streets, or on the corners of the streets, or on the sidewalks in front of any private or public building, or church, or place where religious services are held, and being duly warned by any police officer to move, refuse going to or remaining from any place where religious or other meetings are held on such days, such person so offending shall on conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding ninety days, or by both fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the Court.

Clenside.

The once famous "Feltville," near Scotch Plains, has been turned into a veritable paradise, with the aid of enterprise and energy. Since the property passed into the hands of Mr. Warren Ackerman, neat cottages have been erected on the tops of the diagonal and lateral roads, while shantzes, the grounds laid out in an artistic manner, and level macadamized roads built to and through it. The name Feltville has been changed into the elegant and "Clenside" is now its title. Beautiful flower-beds, with the name of the place and appropriate mottoes interwoven in bright letters in the centre, are scattered about the romantic grounds. The cottages are occupied during the Summer by New York people. Much praise is due to Mr. Frank Hoedgner, the able superintendent of the grounds for the neat and attractive appearance of the grounds. Visitors are not prohibited from visiting the place, and quiet picnic parties are not allowed to use the premises as in times of old. It will repay any person to visit this beautiful spot.

Personalia.

Miss Florence E. Keep of New York City, is visiting at Mr. H. P. Reynolds', Washington Park.

Mr. Fred T. Cuthbert left Plainfield for St. Paul, today, at which latter city he will reside permanently.

Among the recent guests would to Americans was one to Mr. F. S. Rottman of this city, for a tripod.

The beautiful new residence of Dr. W. E. Stelle on Park avenue, will be a model of its kind when completed.

Mr. E. W. Sampson, Jr., of this city, is seriously ill of consumption at Asbury Park, and is not expected to live.

Mr. F. Honsinger and family have returned from Europe and taken possession of their Prospect avenue residence.

Judge E. W. Runyon has removed his family from Asbury Park to this city, where he will open a law office shortly.

Mr. George W. Randolph, wife and daughter, are at the "Palmer House," Spring Lake, for the remainder of August.

Miss Caroline Busenbery of West Fifth street, sister of Mrs. J. H. Vincent, left Thursday, for a short visit in the White Mountains.

Mrs. Charles Wann and family, Mrs. B. A. Potter and family and Mr. E. C. Wolfe, all of Plainfield, are at 43 West Windsor Villa, Spring Lake, N. J.

Mrs. J. Hervey Doane, of Lafleande avenue, and Mr. Charles Doane, Mrs. S. O. Doane and Miss Beatrice Craig, of Fourth street, are at the "St. Claire," Asbury Park.

The Asbury Park Journal says: "Henry C. Squire, of Plainfield, N. J., is with his family at the Metropolitan. Mr. Squire is President of the Adirondack Preserve Association."

The Asbury Park Press says of one of Netherwood's citizens: "General Raffo, the Consul from Italy to the United States, passes his evenings at a game of chess with his estimable wife."

Mr. L. T. Porter of Ninth street and Arlington avenue, struck out afoot last Thursday for Central New Jersey. He will probably continue to strike out as long as the walking remains good.

Mr. Charles D. Wheeler of Manning avenue, North Plainfield, has gone to Ocean Grove for a week's outing, after which he will go to New Brunswick on a visit to his many friends there.

The Allantic Journal of May's Landing, N. J., says: "Dr. and Mrs. George W. Endicott are now at Princeton, Mass. The Dr.'s wife reports her health as steadily but surely regaining his health."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Edwards, formerly residents on Eighth street, were in the city over Sunday visiting friends, their household effects to Brooklyn, N. Y., where they will permanently reside.

Mrs. Marguerite P. House, wife of Judge Edward H. House, died at 39 Spring street, Friday morning. The funeral service took place from her residence on Monday, the 22nd inst., at 2:30 p. m.

Mr. Percy Jones of Elizabeth street, one of the faithful carriers of THE PRESS, has gone to Long Branch where he will spend the rest of the Summer. His subscribers will be served, however, as usual.

Miss Ella McAndrews, sister of the efficient night operator at the depot here, who has been spending a week at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scherneborn, left for her home at White Haven, Pa., Saturday.

A large number of the parishioners of St. Olive Baptist church tendered their pastor, Rev. Mr. Mitchell, a donation party on Thursday evening. Several hours were agreeably passed with the pastor at his residence.

Mr. Dr. Ketcham was conducted the funeral of the young son of Mr. Edward E. Wolverton, from the house on La Grande avenue, on the 17th inst., at three o'clock. The remains were interred in the Presbyterian Cemetery, North Plainfield.

Mr. William Walker, a brother-in-law of Mrs. John Walker of Park avenue sailed for London last on his return trip with his host. Mr. Walker came to this country in March last, and has since traveled extensively on the continent. Mrs. Walker will accompany him to New York.

Freeholder Vanderbeek still retains the belt. Recently, in the South Branch, he captured two bass and five catfish, while the five others of the party caught but one fish collectively. He also caught a fine lot of peaches from somebody's orchard, that we assisted in thoroughly eclipsing.

Miss Carrie Stryker, one of the newly-appointed teachers of the Bound Brook public school, has asked the trustees to release her from her engagement, as from the care of her sister, during her long illness, she has become so worn out as to be unable to undertake the arduous duties of the schoolroom.

The beautiful plot of ground at the corner of Park and Crescent avenues, that was recently purchased by Mr. George Wilson, is to be transformed into a lovely home lawn. For many years the land has been allowed to remain idle, but after the new owner gets through with it, it is said, the change will be noticeable.

Sheriff Stiles' fig tree forms a centre of attraction for many persons who pass up and down East Front street every day. Some of the figs on the tree are so large and juicy that they have actually burst open, and some persons think it is a shame to see the luscious fruit going to waste for want of some one to eat it.

An item started by some irresponsible scandal-mongering the strange intimacy of the Pikes and Savages by their singular relationship, is copied throughout the State as a remarkable fact. The fact is, there is no such fact at all; and the peculiar connection of the two families by marriage is the result of the ignorance of the writer of the item.

Mr. George Washington Boerum dropped into our sanctum, recently, and the following words of wisdom fell from his lips: "Pride often miscalculates and leads to disappointment. The proud man places himself at a distance from other men. Seen through that distance, others appear little to him, but he forgets that that very distance causes him to appear equally little to others."

Mr. Samuel J. Mount, so long a faithful employed in the establishment of the Rev. Mr. Love, of this city, has just accepted an advanced position in the same line of trade with a New York firm. He Saturday took leave of his friends and companions in this city, and on Monday left for Brooklyn, where he remains in New York State, will at once enter the new place offered him.

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Angerhauser, No. 48 Pearl street, South Plainfield, last week, was given a birthday party in honor of three of their oldest children, aged respectively 22, 21 and 19 years. All those of the children were born in the month of August—on the 30th, another on the twelfth and the third on the fifteenth. Guests were present from this city and Netherwood and all apparently enjoyed themselves. The members of the Singing and Tuning Society were present and rendered some fine vocal selections.

Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Honeyman of Somerset street, returned last Thursday, after an absence of four weeks at Pine Hill, N. Y. Rev. Mr. Honeyman reports having had a delightful time and says that the "quiet" is unknown in that locality. Every night they were obliged to stop under blankets in order to be comfortable, and a Spring overcoat is required in the morning and evening. The latest sojourners from this city now at Pine Hill are Messrs. J. W. Yates and family, James Clark, wife and Miss Gertie Lathrop, S. C. Milliken and family, and Miss Miller.

A boy baby came to gladden the household of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Daly of West Third street Sunday night.

Mrs. R. O. Horton, Mrs. Wm. Cory and Mrs. H. C. Randolph, are enjoying the sea air at Cedar Creek, Ocean county, N. Y.

Mrs. R. A. Hegeman, Jr., of Sycamore avenue, Washington Park, has returned to her home after a sojourn in the White Mountains.

Mrs. J. Runyon and Miss Runyon of Central avenue, and Mr. David Lyon, have gone to Atlantic Highlands for a short vacation.

Mr. Al. Day of New Market has leased a new house on Madison avenue, between Eighth and Ninth streets, where he will hereafter permanently reside.

Mr. Emil Dreyer, a brother-in-law of ex-President Bogueiln of the City Council, has returned to Plainfield, after an absence of two months in Europe.

"Chief Grant" he is now known as, the Council at its last meeting having authorized Officer Grant to perform the duties of chief in the absence of Chief Dodd.

Mr. Thomas Pettis who rides a Kangaroo, doesn't laugh any more at the gentleman who rides the home-made bicycle. Why? Because the latter beat the former in a race on Broadway, Friday evening.

Miss Maggie Flynn of Madison avenue, and Miss Lizzie Carney of West Third street, left town on the 10:30 train Saturday morning for a two weeks' vacation at Greenwood Lake, Passaic county, N. J., where they will be registered at the Brandon House.

The young son of Mr. George H. Babcock of Eighth and Union streets, who was so seriously burned about the head and arms, by the overturning of a bowl of porridge, is said to be rapidly recovering and is now thought to be out of danger.

Mr. Love, designer, decorator, and his corps of able workmen in the manufacture of elegant wall paper designs, corner Park and North avenues, are having a two weeks' vacation, and all are enjoying themselves at various places and in divers ways.

Mr. H. R. Fairchild and family, of Grandview avenue, North Plainfield, started Monday for an extended tour across the Continent. During their absence they will visit the Yellowstone National Park and San Francisco, and will be absent for several weeks.

John S. Bishop, of Bound Brook, the lightning-rod man, has received many new orders to repair and erect lightning rods on dwellings and outbuildings, since Monday's severe shower. Among others he will put in thoroughly under the rods on the Westfield Public School building.

Mr. Fred T. Cuthbert, whose departure for St. Paul we noticed last week, will in all likelihood accept the offer of a very lucrative position with the Standard Oil Company. His father, ex-Councilman Cuthbert, it will be remembered, has been connected with that company for some time past.

Mr. Eli S. Sherman, who acted as correspondent for the New York World from this city, recently, but who was obliged to leave the city on account of ill health, has arrived in Denver, Colorado, and is said to be captivated by the beauty and business energy of the "Queen City of the West."

Mrs. Sarah Winans, aged eighty years and six months, died suddenly at the residence of her son in North Plainfield, Saturday afternoon. Deceased was the mother-in-law of Mr. A. H. Martin of No. 27 Jackson street, North Plainfield, where the funeral will take place this morning at ten o'clock.

Mr. Charles F. Powlison, connected for some months past with the establishment of Mr. M. Hall, gents' furnisher on Park avenue, left on Saturday last and left Monday for a vacation at Troy and Saratoga Springs, N. Y. Monday Sept. 5th, he will go to Somerset, Mass., and begin a two years' course of preparation for the profession of a Y. M. C. A., secretary.

Messrs. George and Will Craig of Somerset street returned Friday evening from Lexington, Ky. They report having found their grandfather in a feeble condition. His throat and tongue are partially paralyzed, but his mind does not seem to be affected. The Messrs. Craig returned by way of Niagara Falls, stopping off to view the scenery. They left for Maine, Saturday.

Mr. Geo. F. Brown, of North Plainfield, who is connecting with his invalid wife at Asbury Park, with a view of the latter regaining her health, was here Tuesday. He reports the condition of his wife as steadily improving, and says that during the past few days she has been able to walk across the room with assistance. Should she continue to improve, as now, for the next PATRIOTISM FOR GIRLS.

Miss Cleveland Offers Some Good Advice to Her Young Countrywomen.

American girls can help being American very easily; they are the very most American without half trying. I shall not try, writes Miss Rose Elizabeth Cleveland in "An August Day's Sashion," to speak of all the ways by which this very tenderest sentiment may be expressed, but there are two ways which are so much to the point I wish to make, that I will speak of them, and leave you to enumerate others for yourselves.

In the first place, then, you can be very un-American, indeed, and become more and more so, and when you have become just as un-American as you can, then can keep on by simply being and remaining ignorant about your country.

It is a good rule about good things that if you wish to feel very little interest in them, you must know very little about them; and if you wish to have no interest at all you must know nothing. This rule holds particularly good about this particular good thing we call America. The girl who wants to be un-American must know nothing about her country; she must make this feel no interest in it, until if she has no interest in it, she will have no pride, no love, no Americanism. This is the first, and the most effective way to set about it. In the second place you can be very un-American indeed by being very something else—very French, very English, very German, or, alas! very English." There is no better way for the world to know of yourself from an old friend or benefactor than to be ashamed of his person. The very best way in the world for a shallow girl to lose admiration for one friend is to compare him with another who does not seem ordered by every one else; who is "the fashion." If you wish to be very shallow, it is a dangerous experiment, if you wish to be sure that you will lose your sense of loyalty, for any girl to expose a dear friend to too much comparison with others, and to too much criticism from others. It is a good thing to let your friends alone to do this at all. If your old friend, your brother, your sister, your mother, your father, does not seem to you worthy of surface qualities by people in general, or is not thought to be "the fashion" or to be fair; be or she is, after all, yours, and yours to love, to work first and best, always and forever.

A very good way, indeed, to be thought to be un-American, and to cease to become so, is to compare your country with other countries with a constant effort always to believe the criticism of other people which makes America come out of the comparison with a small face. Do not imitate, as much as possible, the manners and customs of foreigners; endeavor to catch all the foreign expressions and "ways" you can, and use them. Learn French or just as English as you possibly can be. You will lose your sense of loyalty toward your own land in no time, and then you will find it very easy to dislike America. Above all, be sure that you cannot find it very easy, always, to dislike every body and every thing which is a reproach to us.

To be a truly American girl is to be a truly country girl; that is to love, and love truly patriotic; and that is to love, and honor, and be ready to strike anyone down at all times and in all places. Plenty of times and plenty of places will be found for one is looking for them.

No American girl can possibly help loving and looking her friend country if she knows any thing about it. The long, thrilling story of the Revolution, and the last, from its beginning way back in the history of the world, to its present day greatness, will sink deeper and deeper into the hearts and hearts of all who study it, and cause admiration and pride to grow on. Learn all you can, girls, of every country you choose to learn, but learn much. But first and last, and in the middle, learn all you can of your own country. You will never, in a twenty of not over $10,00 a year. Their part of the arrangement was that they were to receive such exchanges in the leading cities and per 20 cents per word for transmitting a word, but in no event were they to receive over $10,000 a year. They were unable to have the company pay money in cases where over exchange before their option expired. Meyer—Gould, had the option to buy, and, to get the biggest end of the telegraph business, and a controlling interest, of about the same time sold a block of the Western Union Telegraph Company for $11,00). Mr. Gould and Mr. Sidney Dillon were being president of the Western Union Telegraph company, Mr. Gould being abroad. When she use of the telephone was explained to Governor Cornell he said: "But, gentlemen, it will not do for what do most want to talk about?" Then he went on to say that he would not be inclined to submit their secrets over a wire, where, as he was informed, others might hear them. Then he indicated that they would prefer to use written messages, and finally ended in a way very much like nobody could see them and have them read by others, and by others knowing any thing about them. Hence the Cornell system, which was reported that he was offered a fourth interest in the telephone for $50,00, but it was understood that Mr. Gould's offer of Gerdia's big interest for a small sum of money and the Cornell system of course not be right, but the general fact has at least passed into current public belief.

A Postmaster's Commission.

According to the New Haven Postmaster English of New Haven has received a letter from the postoffice department. The letter reads: "Please hand to the most beautiful and intelligent young lady in New Haven, between eighteen and twenty-four years old, and who moves in the best society. Also, that she is a blonde. Be excited. It is understood that if the most beautiful young lady in society in New Haven will call for it, it will be handed to her.

Colorblindness for Young Ladies.

In a certain city dwells a beautiful woman, a great belle. To keep up appearances at her figure she stands one hour every day before dress at a table, with her hands on her face before a long mirror, and, bending her knees, out from each other, sinks down and rises again. In her as low as possible, then again as slowly as possible, and so on. She says there is no way way to tone stomach length, out or up, for waist or any other part of the human specie, they are ready to be placed on her hips again. Each movement is repeated, every time a little more graceful, and at the end of thirteen minutes it is done quite quickly and a beautiful order is given on her chime for then lies down with her breath ordered and rested and refreshed as well as she was minutes left in her quarter of an hour. To a friend, who asked how she could afford to keep the time she replied: "When you are I shall be forty-five, I shall be then twenty-five or more years younger than you than the sum of those hours or exercise."

They Like Our Meat.

President and Mrs. Cleveland ate very food at one meal, and always eat it for breakfast. Mr. Cleveland is also very fond of baked beans, and seldom passes more than one day, and this one immediately after dinner.

How Chautauqua Got Its Name.

Chautauqua, the name that is now famous death," and the Moravia (N. Y.) Republican tells this story of how the lake got its name: "An Indian maiden, mourning over the death of her lover, wandered away from her people, seeking a pleasant pool. A secluded place by the shore she found it, partook freely and then lay down to await death. But the poison caused delirium and a burning thirst. Her lover seemed to come to her and offer her water, yet when she reached out her hands for the grateful draught he vanished. She dragged herself to the lake, and, bending and stooping over to cool her parched lips in the water, saw her lover beneath the water holding up his arms to her. Joyfully she threw herself in, and was never seen again."

Two Kindred Souls.

"Young man," said the long-haired passenger, "my step-father died without a will."

"Well—er—I am sorry it is so," confessed the young man with a blush, "but I assure you I unconsciously drink a little, sir." "Well, try a wrig at that," said the long-haired passenger, passing over a quart bottle.

HOW TO COUNT BANANAS.

The Simple Way of Determining the Number Contained in a Bunch.

"Stop a moment, please, and count the bananas in this bunch for me, please," said a genial dealer in fruit the other day to an Evening Star reporter. The reporter stopped, wondering at such a request, and proceeded to count them. The first number all those hanging on the outside in plain sight, and then lifting up a few more of them aside, counted the bobbin ones below. "There are exactly 162," he said.

The dealer smiled a pitying smile and remarked modestly that he "had counted bananas for a newspaper man once before." Then the reporter proposed to count them again to prove how accurate he was. This he observed they were arranged in circles or tiers about the stalk, and he ventured that carefully, but not fast. At last for his boasted accuracy. He found there were 167 bananas in the bunch. Fully aroused to the precarious situation in which his mathematical ability was placed, he began again, while the dealer stood by with arms akimbo, unmoved by the criticisms or applause being showered upon him. The final count gave 139 as the result, and the newspaper man looked for a place to hide his abashed head when the dealer told him to wait a minute.

"You see," he said, with inflated with pride at your numerical ability now, are you? Well, I counted them myself, and there was not. "Well, then, I'll tell you that not one man in a hundred can count bananas correctly, and I can't do it myself. In the first place, there are always a few that are broken in handling, and in the second place, the dealer stood by with arms akimbo, unmercifully criticising my every motion

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY.
AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XX. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1887. No. 35.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its limitations as in its authorities."—Madison.

Rates of Advertising

Space	1 WEEK 1	2	3	4	1 MONTH 2	3	4	12
1 in.	$ .50	$ .75	$ 1.00	$ 1.25	$ 2.00	$ 3.00	$ 4.00	$ 10.00
2 in.	1.00	1.50	2.00	2.50	3.50	5.00	6.00	15.00
3 in.	1.50	2.25	3.00	3.75	5.00	7.00	8.00	20.00
4 in.	2.00	3.00	4.00	5.00	6.50	9.00	10.00	25.00
5 in.	2.50	3.75	5.00	6.25	8.00	11.00	12.00	30.00
6 in.	3.00	4.50	6.00	7.50	9.50	13.00	14.00	35.00
7 in.	3.50	5.25	7.00	8.75	11.00	15.00	16.00	40.00
8 in.	4.00	6.00	8.00	10.00	12.50	17.00	18.00	45.00
9 in.	4.50	6.75	9.00	11.25	14.00	19.00	20.00	50.00
10 in.	5.00	7.50	10.00	12.50	15.50	21.00	22.00	55.00
11 in.	5.50	8.25	11.00	13.75	17.00	23.00	24.00	60.00
12 in.	6.00	9.00	12.00	15.00	18.50	25.00	26.00	65.00

All Electro's must be solid metal.
"Lists of Everything" column, 5 cts per line.
Double cols. 50 per ct. advance of above rates.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

O. L. JENKINS, M. D.
Homeopathist.
NORTH AVENUE
Near R. R. Depot, Plainfield, New Jersey.

JAMES M. FORCE, - - Proprietor,
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY HOTEL.
Transient guests taken at reasonable rates.

Bottled Liquors a Specialty.

Laing's Hotel!
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

J. B. MILLER & BRO., - Proprietors.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.

James Conneely
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a first-class

WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 32 PARK AVE.,
Where he will be pleased to furnish acquaintances and patrons with the choicest brands of imported and Domestic Liquors. mh111

TURF EXCHANGE HOTEL.
73 Courtlandt street,
CORNER WASHINGTON, NEW YORK CITY
FRED. W. HALLARD, - - Proprietor,
(formerly of Jersey City), is now conducting the business corner Washington and Courtlandt streets, New York, formerly kept by late Johann Van Pelt, and by Wm. Sullivanger. All their old friends will be most cordially received.
PURE WINES, LIQUORS AND SEGARS. jy1387

SOMERSET HOTEL,
Cor. Somerset & Emily Sts. North Plainfield, N. J.
Permanent and Transient Board, at fairness.
First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all reasonable hours. 3jan87

C. E. JOHNSON,
Of late firm of Shepherd, Johnson & Co.
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
Office adjoining City Hotel on Second, street, near Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey. Residence, 113 East Second street. Jobbing specialty. 1y

BUSINESS CARDS.

ROBERT JAHN,
TIN AND COPPER-SMITH,
Scotch Plains,
(Fanwood) N. J., Keeps always in Stock Heater work, Pumps, Tinware, and all kinds of other Sheet Iron Work. Tin and Slate Roofing, Repairing and Ventilation Caps. Repairing promptly attended to. apr15

TO THE PUBLIC!

We wish to inform our customers and the public generally that we have on hand the best quality of

LEHIGH COAL,
Fresh from the Mines.

It is under cover and well protected from the weather. All we are prepared to fill orders promptly and accurately and in good order promptly. We are also prepared to furnish all kinds of Seasoned Lumber and Mason's Materials at the lowest rates.

A. D. COOK & BRO.
jan1887

J. Hervey Doane,
9 PARK AVENUE.
(Formerly Gere's.)

Watches,
Clocks
And Jewelry.
Repairing neatly and promptly done. apr1

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, VEGETABLES, DRIED FRUIT, ETC.
CORNER EMILY AND DUER STREETS
North Plainfield, New Jersey.

Celebrated Pilsbury Flour,
THE BEST IN THE MARKET.
ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED.
Thankful for past patronage I solicit a continuance Respectfully,
WILLIAM H. SHOTWELL.

BOSTON CLOTHING HOUSE.
42 W. FRONT ST.
Reliable Goods at Low Prices.
Order Department
Under the well-known Cutter,
NEWTON P. DRAKE.
Correct styles. Right Prices
myst87

Geo. A. Moore,
(Of the late firm of Moore Bros.)
is now the sole proprietor of the old established market of
NO. 44 NORTH AVENUE,
Where he will continue to supply patrons with the finest grades of Fresh and Salt Meats, Fish of all kinds, Oysters, Clams, Game in season at the lowest market prices. Anything not usually kept in stock furnished at short notice. mh14

Edward Ramonetti,
OYSTER AND ICE CREAM SALOON.

OYSTERS BY THE QUART, 100 OR 1000.

CHARLOTTE RUSSE MADE TO ORDER.

All Orders Promptly Attended to.

24 NORTH AVENUE,
Plainfield, New Jersey. Telephone Call No. 37

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

Force's Hotel!
NORTH AVENUE
Near R. R. Depot, Plainfield, New Jersey.
JAMES H. FORCE, - - Proprietor,
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY HOTEL.
Transient guests taken at reasonable rates.

Bottled Liquors a Specialty.

Laing's Hotel!
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

J. B. MILLER & BRO., - Proprietors.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.

James Conneely
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a first-class

WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 32 PARK AVE.,
Where he will be pleased to furnish acquaintances and patrons with the choicest brands of imported and Domestic Liquors. mh111

TURF EXCHANGE HOTEL.
73 Courtlandt street,
CORNER WASHINGTON, NEW YORK CITY
FRED. W. HALLARD, - - Proprietor,
(formerly of Jersey City), is now conducting the business corner Washington and Courtlandt streets, New York, formerly kept by late Johann Van Pelt, and by Wm. Sullivanger. All their old friends will be most cordially received.
PURE WINES, LIQUORS AND SEGARS. jy1387

SOMERSET HOTEL,
Cor. Somerset & Emily Sts. North Plainfield, N. J.
Permanent and Transient Board, at fairness.
First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all reasonable hours. 3jan87

C. E. JOHNSON,
Of late firm of Shepherd, Johnson & Co.
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
Office adjoining City Hotel on Second, street, near Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey. Residence, 113 East Second street. Jobbing specialty. 1y

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
SALESROOM—Madison Avenue, near Front St.
P. O. Box 1033, Plainfield, N. J.
Goods received on consignment.

MRS. E. J. MARTIN'S
MAGIC RENOVATING FLUID.
For taking out grease from any kind of goods, such as clothing, carpets, rugs, etc. Also for cleaning kid gloves. Gentlemen's kid gloves, trimmings, etc., cleaned in a few minutes. Ladies' dresses cleaned without ripping. Also for cleaning silk, etc. Price 25 cents per bottle, sent by mail or express, on receipt of price. Address Mrs. E. J. Martin, 1 Dover street, or Mrs. W. L. Force's, Spring Brook House, No. 4 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. 1y

JOHN JOHNSTON,
DEALER IN
COAL!
YARD AND OFFICE, SOUTH AVENUE,
NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.

My husband is a first-class Cooper, and repairs tubs, pails, barrels, etc., cheap for cash.

Electrical Work!
ELECTRICAL WORK—WE ARE PREPARED to put in bells and speaking tubes for residences or stores, from a call bell in a compositor's case to a first-class electric annunciator. Also, we are a first-class electrician for gas fixtures, and putting it up regular and maintaining it in thorough working order.
Address
PLAINFIELD DISTRICT TELEGRAPH CO.,
No. 4 PARK AVENUE.
C. H. GODDARD, - Manager.
jy1387

NETHERWOOD FARM!
MOUNTAIN AVE., NEAR FARRAGUT AVE.
A JERSEY STOCK FARM!
OVER
50 HEAD OF JERSEY CATTLE 50
Good family cows for sale at Moderate Prices. Milk and Cream delivered anywhere in Plainfield. Visitors are always welcome.
S. B. WURTELE, Manager.
J. HERBERT JOHNSTON, Plainfield, N. J.
mh84

CAREY'S
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE, NO. 42 WEST FRONT STREET,
Nearly opposite Leiby's Hotel, Plainfield, N. J.

MICHAEL UHDAL,
CONTRACTOR
AND LANDSCAPE GARDENER!
Residence:
NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
P. O. BOX 787, PLAINFIELD.
P. O. Box 8, Netherwood, N. J. 1y87

FINE FOOT WEAR.
BEST MAKES,
LATEST STYLES,
AT THE
NEW SHOE STORE
Doane & Van Arsdale
22 WEST FRONT STREET.

SANITARY PLUMBING,
Brick and Portable Furnaces,
GAS FITTING,
TIN ROOFING,
Etc. Etc.
I am prepared to do any of the above branches in a thorough manner, promptly and workmanlike.
Having associated myself with the Water Purifying Association of New York City, I can place most Hot Air Furnaces in a way that will not burn out. Also, a every man desiring to put in furnaces at all times, and in all parts of the city, will find it to his interest to call on me before contracting elsewhere.
D. F. LITTELL,
No. 8 SOUTH AVE. apr87 Plainfield, N. J.

EDUCATIONAL.

DORSEY W. HYDE,
PRACTICAL TEACHER OF
Piano, Harmony & Guitar.
Fall Term commences MONDAY, Sept. 12, 1887.
SEND FOR CIRCULAR. P. O. BOX 179.
sp1387

RODMAN SEMINARY,
25 E. 5th Street. Will Re-open
SEPT. 15.
For circulars apply at MRS. R. C. DINGEE, Principal.
sp1387

MR. LEAL'S SCHOOL,
WILL RE-OPEN
Monday, Sept. 19, 1887.

Pennington Seminary,
PENNINGTON, N. J.
49th Year. On direct line of N. Y. from Philadelphia. Sept. 7. Offers rare educational facilities for both sexes. Terms moderate. Desirable location. High and healthful. Home influences. For catalogue, letter of Dr. MacLean, Jr. M., D. D., President.
THOS. HANLON, A. M., D. D., President.
5-12 ns

NEW JERSEY
State Normal and Model Schools,
TRENTON,
Fall Term will commence Monday, Sept. 19th.
TOTAL COST FOR BOARD, TUITION, BOOKS, etc., at the NORMAL SCHOOL, $154 for Ladies, and $160 for Gentlemen; at the MODEL SCHOOL, $200 per year. Buildings thoroughly heated by steam. The Model School offers to both young Ladies and Gentlemen superior advantages in all the departments, viz.: Mathematical, Classical, Commercial, Musical, Drawing, and in Belles-Lettres. For circulars containing full particulars, address
J. HASBROUCK, Principal,
8-12 ns Trenton, New Jersey.

MISCELLANEOUS.

ARTESIAN WELLS,
F. & W. STOTHOFF
Are prepared to Sink Wells any depth up to 400 feet, and Tube them if need be. Pumps and Piping furnished. Address F. & W. STOTHOFF, Jenkins, of Plainfield, P. O. address, Plainfield, N. J. 1y

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.,
TO HIRE. CHARGES REASONABLE.
Hugo Weigman,
No. 9 EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST.
Residence—Harmony Street, North Plainfield, 100th house from Somerset street, left hand side of the road going from Somerset street. Will tell the future events, Sickness, marriage, journeys, success in business, and all affairs of life. Terms moderate.
Address
In English, German and French.

Electrical Work!
ELECTRICAL WORK—WE ARE PREPARED to put in bells and speaking tubes for residences or stores, from a call bell in a compositor's case to a first-class electric annunciator. Also, we are a first-class electrician for gas fixtures, and putting it up regular and maintaining it in thorough working order.
Address
PLAINFIELD DISTRICT TELEGRAPH CO.,
No. 4 PARK AVENUE.
C. H. GODDARD, - Manager.
jy1387

NETHERWOOD FARM!
MOUNTAIN AVE., NEAR FARRAGUT AVE.
A JERSEY STOCK FARM!
OVER
50 HEAD OF JERSEY CATTLE 50
Good family cows for sale at Moderate Prices. Milk and Cream delivered anywhere in Plainfield. Visitors are always welcome.
S. B. WURTELE, Manager.
J. HERBERT JOHNSTON, Plainfield, N. J.
mh84

CAREY'S
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE, NO. 42 WEST FRONT STREET,
Nearly opposite Leiby's Hotel, Plainfield, N. J.

MICHAEL UHDAL,
CONTRACTOR
AND LANDSCAPE GARDENER!
Residence:
NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
P. O. BOX 787, PLAINFIELD.
P. O. Box 8, Netherwood, N. J. 1y87

JOHN MORTON,
PURE SPRING WATER
ICE
Delivered daily to any part of the city at the lowest market prices. Orders left at the office of P. O. Box 246. Orders left at Sherwin's store, No. 18 West Front street, will receive prompt attention. Thankful for the liberal patronage in my old patrons for the past, I now increased my facilities for supplying the trade, and hope by strict attention to business to merit a share of the public patronage. Yours truly,
JOHN MORTON.

DOOR NUMBERS,
DOOR BELLS,
DOOR PLATES,
AT
DICKINSON & CLAWSON'S,
12 PARK AVENUE.
The Agents for

Dr. King's Spectacles.
12ja87

SUMMER
HATS.
CAPS, GLOVES,
Trunks, Valises, Etc
Call and Examine the Elegant Stock of
Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods at
F. A. POPE'S,
(Successor to M. Thompson.)
No. 5 W. Front-st,
jy1387

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPPLIES.

Paints, Varnishes, Glass,
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALLPAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.
ap88

Weaver Bros.
House & Sign Painting, Graining,
Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a specialty.
Office and Shop in the Rear of
130 EAST FRONT STREET,
D. WEAVER. P. O. Box 92. P. WEAVER.

W. N. ROWE,
PAINTER AND DECORATOR,
Dealer in Paints, Oil, Varnishes, Glass, Brushes, etc. WALL PAPER and WINDOW SHADES. Those not strictly first-class workmen employed need not apply. Shop, 2 and 4 FRONT STREET, (C. C. Also, Factory corner Somerset, N. J. P. O. Box 1308.—ap787

S. D. VOORHEES. A. P. SCHELL
Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS,
Wall Papers,
PAINTER'S SUPPLIES. 20 NORTH AVENUE
ap1887

MILLINERY.

Mrs. J. M. Dunn,
FASHIONABLE MILLINER,
LATEST SHAPES OF
BONNETS AND HATS.
FRENCH IMPORTED FLOWERS.
Feathers, Velvets, Plushes, Satines, Laces, etc. Also, Fancy Goods and Notions; Dress and Infants' Caps a Specialty.
PINKING, BLEACHING & PRESSING.
Feathers Dyed, Cleaned and Curled
AT SHORT NOTICE.
14 West Front street.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana.
CIGAR HAVANA SMOKE A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of Pipes, Tobacco, Cigarettes and Foreign and Domestic Cigars. Cigarettes and Tobacco always fresh.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety.
Sole Agent for
C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
—SEGARS!—
No. 38 PARK AVE., (next door to Post Office)
Tobacconist and Smoker's Materials, of every description.
The celebrated Jockey Club Smoking Tobacco with other popular brands constantly on hand. 20ap87

—PICTURE FRAMES—
OF ALL KINDS, AT
S. E. FLOWER'S.
at New York Prices, Studio 19 West Front street. Instructions for drawing and oil painting. ap1887

A. L. SMALLEY. F. S. SMALLEY
Smalley Bros.,
DEALERS IN
Fresh and Salt Meats, Poultry, Etc.
20 SOMERSET STREET, NORTH PLAINFIELD.
Orders called for and delivered. A share of the public patronage is solicited.—1y87

Benj. F. Moore,
[Late of Moore Bros.]
BUTCHER.
And dealer in FRESH AND SALT MEATS POULTRY, etc., corner Park avenue and Second street, where he will be pleased to meet his friends. FRIDAY, MARCH 20th. Orders called for and promptly delivered. Telephone Call 111.—mh386

MAYNARD & HILL
PRACTICAL BARBERS
AND
Artistic Hair Dressers,
No. 26 PARK AVENUE,
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residence, if desired. Shampooing, &c.—ap1887

ALEX. THORN
[Late of Berry & Thorn,
CAN BE FOUND AT 31 SOMERSET STREET,
WITH A FULL LINE OF FURNACES, RANGES,
STOVES,
TINWARE, Etc.
Repairing in His Line Promptly Attended To.
4ja1

OWNS AND OPERATES OVER
6,000 Miles
OF PERFECTLY CONSTRUCTED RAILWAY.
PENETRATES THE BEST PORTIONS OF ILLINOIS, IOWA AND SOUTH DAKOTA,
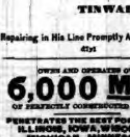
MICHIGAN, MINNESOTA,
DAKOTA, NEBRASKA,
and WYOMING.



CHICAGO & NORTH-WESTERN RAILWAY
CHICAGO
MILWAUKEE, ST. PAUL, MINNEAPOLIS,
COUNCIL BLUFFS, OMAHA,
THE BEST ROUTE TO NORTHERN AND WESTERN POINTS.
THE ONLY LINE TO THE BLACK HILLS.
THE FAVORITE ROUTE TO CALIFORNIA.
For Tickets, Rates, Maps, Folders, and all information, apply to nearest Coupon Ticket Office, or address
W. A. GARDNER, Gen'l Manager, Chicago.
JAMES BARKER, Gen'l Pass. & Ticket Agent, Chicago.
E. P. WILSON, Gen'l Agent, Pass. Dept., 244 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

IN AN INSANE ASYLUM.

Hallucinations of Unfortunates Confessed to by Their Keepers.

In an asylum for the insane. The long-lane light of a dying day falls through the high, narrow, iron-barred windows into a large, gloomy corridor.

With the drabness of a caged tiger, says the Philadelphia Record, one of the inmates of whom are bereaved, afflicted with a million types of dementia, pace the floor and gibber and mutter.

Ranged on either side of the corridor are a number of doors, each one of which has a pair of wild eyes glaring sullenly through a small aperture covered by bars.

They remind one of a Sale Sill-ide air. The time is impressive, and is well adapted to the solemn mood of the place.

How the sounds are low and pathetic, and how they seem to float through the room, and how it is shrill and scattered, a series of high-pitched trills.

The keeper, and the player, coaxing, adds his instrument, with a grating, unmelodious sigh, thrums down the accompaniment with desperate energy.

Then he arrives at the other end he has forgotten his record, and he slowly retraces his steps to obey the most capricious direction of the inmate behind the bars.

The reporter, conducted by a keeper, asked to see Mr. Leary.

The cell nearest the stairway is tenanted by a dark-featured man, who clutches the bars with his hands, and who at first threatens to snap them like so many match sticks.

There is no danger, however.

"Pshaw," said the keeper, "he one of our most violent patients. He is a German, and was educated in Heidelberg. His wife died a few months ago, and the recollection of his scholastic career he made a study of medicine, and from that he believes he saved the daughter of some nobleman from death. He fell deeply in love with her.

"She returned his affection, and they were engaged to be married, but before the event could be consummated the girl was taken ill with a malignant fever and died. Her death deeply affected the man before you, and at the solicitation of friends he left his native country, and came to this place, finally coming to this country. Before he left Germany he was then only a moderately insensible to every thing good and pure, but he attained a high rank in his profession.

"Ha! ha! ha!" he laughed, wildly. "They didn't get killed, but she didn't, ha! ha! I killed her. Yes, killed her. Oh, my, but wasn't it a fine night for such a devil's deed! The darkness and the vivid lightning blazed forth with demoniacal fury from the heavens. The thunder shook the earth quiver like a reed in the blast. All the imps of Satan were out."

The man stood with an excessive frenzy and dashed from his distorted face the gray hair that was matted in profusion from his forehead, and continued in the same wild strain:

"I stole her when she was asleep, and fled like some arch-demon from the black pit of hell. Ha! ha! ha! Oh, my, but the night was dark. Ha, ha, ha, ho, ho, struggled like some frightened bird. But that good' did it do? I—I had her. Oh. We went, through the fierce storm and darkness, and we came to a precipice. A blazing pit yawned before us. Oh, how it blazed! The lightning played with fiendish glee around the pit. The thunder rolled in the pit. Her cry—that of a lost soul—rang out.

And the maniac sank exhausted to the floor.

"It seems strange," said the keeper, as the two descended the stairs, "that a man can be driven to insanity by such a fault so coherently at times. That man's imagination is as powerful and wonderful as his mind."

TOLD THE USUAL LIE.

Spence Morrels at Long Branch—Observed by a Dakota Farmer.

A man from the East was driving through Dakota, in Spink County, Dak., one day last summer looking for land, and he stopped at the farmhouse of Benjamin Pond, according to the Dakota Bell, got into conversation with a settler. The stranger observed that vegetation made unusually rapid growths in this section, and the farmer assented to the proposition.

"That beats any thing I ever heard of!" said the stranger. "Why, back in my country I had some pole beans. It got pretty dry on 'em, but one day there come a good shower. They had a rapid growth after that. I went out to see the shower, and them beans had grown so fast that in five minutes, when the rain had soaked down, them beans began to climb them poles as fast as they could, and pulled themselves up by the roots an' went on travelin' toward the clouds. I had to hop up on the roots dangling in the air."

"Say," the man's you putting that just a little strong?"

"Put a bit of it, sir! I've saw trees in this country that was so tall that I had to climb the bark open like a gun. Hop vines usually grow about so fast that when I went out to harvest, an' stick up'n the air straight's a string. Once sometimes leaves up so that I pumped my hand for them to hop up into a stand—"

"Hold on!" said he, "I don't believe half you are telling me."

"I don't believe it? Well, all right—you needn't. It's the regular story I tell to all you fellers that comes 'long looking for land an' you'll find it out after you've been in the State a little mixed—I don't believe it, eh? Say, you'll get my turnover 'most yet, I s'pose?"

Philosophy for the Home.

No man cares much for puddings if he can get pie. Pie is the standard dish of civilized, and he never can expect to have his wife's pies appreciated if she is obliged here to cook them; and as for short biscuit, men don't wear them at all any more. Pie is the thing for a man's every day pudding, and pie is the thing for Sunday dinner and Sunday tea. Pie can be made in a thousand delicious ways, and no man could be expected to see on short biscuit never eats any figure, and was therefore unacquainted with the delights of pie. Pie is the thing for a man's every day pudding. Learn how to keep plain cooking and plain economy, and then you can begin to pay some attention to them, but business they are in general ways which do not admit of any of the luxuries and can be learned in the same time and with the same care.

Major Sheridan's Story.

Major Sheridan has been in Chicago since he has entered his first money. He said that he got it by reading by a rich man who died and left it to him. The man who died not see the appointment by influence, but he had been reading to him for years and years, and he had become very much interested in the books read to him, and he left the major a legacy of $100,000 in consideration of the pleasure he had received from the books. The major has been reading to a rich man who died and left him $100,000. He has been reading to a rich man who died and left him $100,000. He has been reading to a rich man who died and left him $100,000. He

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE, A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors.

WAR! WAR!!

The Presidential contest of next year promises to be a lively affair. From present appearances a larger number of rebellion combatants and their immediate followers will then crowd the political battle field than were ever seen before. Regulars and guerrillas, fully equipped and war painted, shouting and dashing, fighting for something and fighting for what they know not, buzzing for this and denouncing that, will shake the earth and raise clouds of blinding partisan dust.

Come on MacDuff!

The old Democratic party will be there, eager for the fray, and its natural opponent the Republican, and there too will be marshaled the bold anconfered Prohibition party, and the Labor party, in two or more sections, and the irrepressible Greenbackers and the dark-lantern Know-Nothings, about being reorganized in Philadelphia, and how many others time alone can tell.

Let them rally!

It matters not to what discordant music they march.

A Democratic giant will be met at every turn.

After the conflict, a noble victor form, holding firmly and high the triumphant banner of Democracy, will greet the eyes and cheer the hearts of the patriotic masses. His name will be

GROVER CLEVELAND.

PROTECT JUSTICE.

There cannot be any reasonable doubt as to the guilt of Jacob Sharp, who was fairly convicted of bribe giving by an intelligent jury, selected with great care, and before one of the most upright and clear-headed Judges in the city of New York.

A trio of lawyers did their best to secure his acquittal, and failing therein, applied to a Justice of the Supreme Court residing in an interior section of the State for a stay of proceedings, or, in other words, for a chance to get their heads-full of money, from Sharp's pile, and what kind of personal stay he would likely thereafter adopt is not difficult to imagine. The rural Judge, upon an assumed flaw in the trial evidence, granted Sharp a request, but, thanks to the vigilance of District Attorney Martine, who, evidently forecasting the future, invoked the legal authority of Governor Hill to prosecute the case, General Hill has called session at an early day for the special purpose of deciding the point at issue.

That well taken action, it is to be hoped, will protect justice from wanton assault.

It cannot be truthfully denied that the repeated efforts, and too often successful, put forth by implicated parties to thwart Justice and thereby escape the penalty for wrong doing, fill the public mind with and defiant power of money, is the cause of wide-spread and despondent bitterness of feeling among the honest people.

They ask—Why are rich rascals allowed to roam free, when poor ones are quickly hustled off to jail?

It is a pertinent question.

The people rightfully too indignant.

The contempt which Sharp has fargazed outrage upon them, deserving of the severest condemnation, and should be accorded punishment to the full extent of statutory law.

Proven crime ought to be punished promptly and impartially, and without a moment's consideration whether the culprit is a man of millions or a homeless tramp.

That is the doctrine of equity, the only guarantee of security, the corner-stone of moral supremacy and the conservator of popular rights.

Let no criminal escape the clutches of violated law, be he high or low, rich or poor.

STATE BOARD OF AGRICULTURE.

At a meeting of the Executive Board of the State Board of Agriculture held recently in Trenton, brought by reporting insects was discussed. In the forthcoming report of the Board considerable attention will be paid to this subject, which will be of great advantage to fruit growers and farmers. The President departed the fact that the Board had no permanent secretary, thus hindering one of its records and data. The authorities have promised the Board a room in a new addition to the State House. The Board decided upon a list of circular to be sent out to county boards for data to be embodied in the annual report. The answers to the questions contained in the circular must be handed in by December 15.

CIRCULAR TO STOCKHOLDERS.

The New Jersey Central Railroad Company recently sent out the following circular to stockholders: "We enclose for your signature an assent of stockholders to certain agreements in the purchase by the Central Railroad of New Jersey of its necessary construct railroads with a view to bring them more effectually under the general management and furtherance of the plan of reorganization, as set forth in the circular of June 3, 1887. At this company owns all their capital stock, except one-fourth part of the capital stock of the New York and Long Branch railroad and the North Branch railroad, which are being acquired under agreements in the hands of "dummy roads," the purchase of the railroads in question involves no outlay of money or issue of stock or bonds other than as provided in the plan of reorganization. The assent includes the railroads of the following companies, which are now necessary constituent companies and the stock of which is not owned by this company, but which will be purchased hereafter if it should prove expedient so to do, viz., the Cumberland and Maurice River, the Cumberland and Maurice Extension, the Dover and Rockaway and the Ogden Mine Railroad company."

The papers sent out for signatures assents to the purchase of twelve, viz.: the Constable's Hook, the High Bridge, the Lake Hopatcong, the Longwood Valley, the Manufacturer's, the Long Branch and Sea Shore, the New Jersey Southern, the New York and Long Branch, the South Branch, the Passaic River, the Vineland and the West End.

The biggest blaze the bugs ever kindled in the line of excitement that Plainfield has been to since Sunday.

A company has just been incorporated in this State for the purpose of manufacturing Waldrach gas burners to be sold in the South. It is to be known as the Wohlbach Incandescent Gaslight company, and its capital stock is $2,500,000.

Dune Rumor Sets.

The trio of benedict bonnies, who so long have been the targets of the bright eyes of the maidens and the shafts of envy of their respective pulpits, are to lose one of their number, in a few days. A happy and a blessed union of sects and sexes is to be consummated. Rev. Ann E. Hills will be married to the daughter of an Episcopal clergyman. The bachelor pastors of the Congregational and the Trinity Reformed churches are thereafter to only take one pair between them. Mrs. Grundy, however, says the latter "soon will be, but even gossip is silent regarding either the hopes or the successes of the former."

Middlesex Gun Club.

At a regular meeting of the Middlesex Gun Club held at Force's Hotel, this city, Saturday evening, Aug. 27th, the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That from this date the Live Pigeon Trophies shall be contested for on the grounds of the Club, at Dunellen, N. J., on the second Wednesday of each month, and the Inanimate Target Trophies on the third Saturday of each month, at 2 p. m. The entrance fee to be $2 for live birds and $2 for inanimate targets.

The regular Club shoot days at live birds is the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month. The third Saturday of each month is set apart for exclusive inanimate target shooting.

The Club will also hold the last Saturday of each month at 2 p. m., at Force's Hotel, North avenue, this city.

Children Must Attend School.

Under the laws of this State children must attend school at least twenty weeks each year. For the benefit of parents we herewith produce the law on the subject. Within sixth of the act is as follows:

And be it enacted, that in all cases having a duly organized police force, it shall be the duty of the Board of Education, or of one or more of the trustees of districts and townships, or of the school authority, to detail one or more members of said force to assist in the enforcement of this act, and in districts having no regular police force, authority to this act. It shall be the duty of the Board of Education, or of the school district officers, to designate one or more constables of said city, township or village, who shall be required to assist in the enforcement of this act, as occasion may require, and said Board of Education, or said district officers, shall cause the services so rendered by police officer or constable for the purposes of this act to be certified to the members of any police force or any constable desiring to assist in the enforcement of this act, as provided in this section, shall be sworn in as special officers; provided, that in districts where no organized police force exists, such officers shall have power to appoint some other suitable person as truant officer.

Section 9 and 10 of the act are as follows:

And be it enacted, that all children between the ages of seven and fifteen who are habitual truants from school, or who shall habitually wander about in public streets or places during school hours, and who absent themselves habitually from school, and habitually wander about and neglect to attend school during school hours, shall be deemed juvenile disorderly persons, and shall be liable to punishment as such.

And be it enacted, that two weeks' attendance of children between twelve and fifteen years of age at some school shall be sufficient to excuse such child, for all purposes of this act, be counted as one week at a day school.

Granted a Divorce.

Testimony was taken before Special Master in Chancery, John H. Van Winkle, a few weeks ago, in the case of Charles E. Morris against his wife of this city, against her husband, Charles Edward Morris for divorce on the ground of desertion. The testimony was referred to Wednesday of Williams of Jersey City, to whom all exparty cases are referred. He in turn passed upon it and Chancellor McGill yesterday granted the decree. The case was brought in the Court of Chancery by Charlotte C. Morris, petitioner, and the defendant was her husband, Charles Edward Morris, charging that "the said defendant has been guilty of wilful, continued and obstinate desertion of the petitioner during the three years next before the filing of the bill." It is therefore on the 23d day of August, by his honor, Alexander T. McGill, Jr., Chancellor of the State of New Jersey, sitting in the Court of Chancery, by authority of this court and of the acts of the Legislature in such case made and provided, ordered adjudged and decreed that the said Charlotte C. Morris be and the said defendant, Charles E. Morris be decreed from the bond of matrimony for the cause aforesaid and the marriage between the said parties be dissolved accordingly and the said parties and each of them are and is hereby freed and discharged from the obligations thereof. Signed Alex. T. McGill, Jr., Chancellor. Accompanying the decree is the following:

I, Alan McDermott, Clerk of the Court of Chancery of the State of New Jersey, the same being a Court of Record, do hereby certify the foregoing to be a true copy of the final decree of divorce in a certain cause therein depending, wherein petitioner and Charles Edward Morris is defendant now on the files of my office. In testimony whereof I have hereto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court at Trenton, this 25th day of August, A. D., one thousand, eight hundred and eighty-seven.

"ALEX. MCDERMOTT."

City Judge Ulrich appeared as counsel for the petitioner, and he is to be congratulated on so successful a termination of the case in so short a time after the testimony was taken.

New Jersey County Fairs.

The following are the dates upon which the various County Fairs are to be held throughout New Jersey:

Atlantic county, at Egg Harbor, Aug. 29, 30.

Hunterdon county, Flemington, Sept. 27, 30.

Mercer county, Trenton, Oct. 4, 7.

Salem county, Woodstown, Sept. 13, 16.

New Jersey State Fair at Waverly Park, beginning Sept. 19 and closing Sept. 23.

Secretary, B. T. Quinn.

The Egg Harbor City Agricultural Society give the only fair held in Atlantic county. It is held at Egg Harbor Sept. 27 to 30.

The Burlington County Society have extensive and well-appointed grounds at Mount Holly. A new iron grand stand is now in course of erection. The fair next day will be Monday, Oct. 10, and will continue until Saturday, Oct. 15. Secretary, Henry L. Budd.

The Cumberland County Society Fair will be held at Bridgeton, Sept. 6 to Sept. 8. Secretary, W. O. Garrison.

The Vineland Fair Association will have an exhibition about the latter part of September. The date is not yet announced.

The Essex County Society's fair will be held at Caldwell Sept. 13 to 17.

The farmers of Hudson county will devote the better of the last week of September to attending the Fair of the Hudson County Agricultural Society, which will be held at Flemington Sept. 27 to Sept. 30. Secretary, F. S. Holcombe, of Flemington.

The third annual fair of the Mercer County Agricultural Society will be held in Chambersburg from Oct. 4 to Oct. 7. Franklin Epps, Secretary.

Secretary C. D. B. Forman, Freehold, announces that the Monmouth County Exhibition will be the best in the history of the county society. It will be held at Freehold, Oct. 4 to Oct. 6, inclusive.

The West Jersey Agricultural and Horticultural Society's Exhibition opens at Woodstown. Secretary J. D. Lawson announces that the date this year will be from Sept. 13 to Sept. 16.

The Somerset county fair will have a display of local products at Somerville, Oct. 4 to Oct. 6. Secretary, W. S. Potter.

A. H. Kneisley, Secretary of the Sussex County Agricultural Society, states that the people in Sussex expect an unusually excellent display of what that county can produce at the fair which will be held at Newton, Oct. 4 to Oct. 7.

The Moorestown Society in Burlington county had only a Spring exhibition.

Meeting of the City Rep. Ex. Com.

The City Republican Executive Committee held a meeting in the Republican rooms, Park place, on Monday evening, Thursday evening. Present—Messrs. F. A. Dunham, M. Runyon, W. R. Codington, J. B. Coward, Geo. M. Stiles, C. M. Goddard and the other gentlemen. Mr. C. M. Goddard acted as Chairman of the meeting, and Mr. J. B. Coward was chosen Secretary. The following officers were elected: President, C. M. Goddard; Vice-President, George M. Stiles; Secretary, Joseph B. Coward; Treasurer, Orville T. Waring. The meeting adjourned subject to a call by the Chairman.

The Railway Mystery.

Prosecutor William Wilson arrived home from Rahway Sunday evening, and at once set about arranging for the coming investigation of the noted basket case in the case of Railway's unknown girl murder. Detectives, ex-Chief Keron and Chief Jenkins, of Elizabeth, and Mayor Daly, of Railway, are to hold a conference today, it is said. The Prosecutor will be made familiar with all the developments in the mysterious case during his stay abroad, and then the Grand Jury will listen to the affidavits of the three witnesses who claim they identify the basket as the one they saw in Baker's grocery store in Milton. Stewart Baker and his mother and wife will be brought before the Grand Jury.

Murphy, Go Slow!

Edward J. Murphy, the "Cow-Boy Detective" who was never a cow-boy and never a detective—is just now high in the hearts of the people because of their feelings of thanksgiving and rest. He has driven them from the lores of the incendiary. But even Murphy must go slowly. He burst into our office Tuesday and arrested without cause or provocation two gentlemen who had come in to see our presses run. They were of course immediately discharged by the authorities.

If Murphy sees fit to growl and grab at every citizen that does not please him, he will soon overcome the gratitude of the people and lose ever atom of the admiration of those who approve the ways of informants.

Handsome Badges.

Mr. Robert Radford of this city has furnished the Middlesex Gun Club the finest handsome badge or device, which the members of this popular and growing club will contest for once every month. To become personal property the trophy must be won three times. The five pigeon trophies represent a gold bar with pendants and wreath. On the face of the bar is a silver hammerless gun. In the centre of the gun's body is a silver shield, with a circle over the bird appears in black enamel the words "Middlesex Gun Club." Below is a space left for the name of the holder and date. The clay pigeon trophies differ in the substitution of a silver clay bird for the five one. Three of the four trophies are now on exhibition in the show windows of the Force office.

Concerning the K. of P.

The Supreme Lodge Records and Seals' annual report has been published and shows the order to be in a prosperous condition. At the beginning of the year 1886 there were 7,695 subordinate lodges, a membership of 183,683. There are 21 Past Supreme Chancellors, 695 Past Grand Chancellors, 148,684 Knights, 1,604 Esquires, and 1,870 Pages. The receipts in all the lodges during the year were $1,711,927.01, which, with balances on hand, made $2,080,578.07. From this there was paid for relief and burials, $320,975.75; for current expenses, $756,157.73, leaving on hand at interest the sum of $2,362,398.82. The sum of $94,464.14 also credited to the fund for orphan or school purposes. The Supreme Lodge fund shows $11,471.75 in the hands of the Supreme Master Exchequer, and stood at the close of 1886. Pennsylvania is the largest jurisdiction, with 357 lodges, and 56,170 members; Ohio comes next, with 232 lodges, and 36,000 members; New York has 214 lodges, with 183 lodges and 11,875 members.

A North Plainfield Man Killed.

John Bordenkircher, an aged resident of North Plainfield, received injuries near Messrs. Coddington Bros.' ice houses in the Notch, Thursday afternoon, which caused his death on Friday night. The party is engaged with other men making repairs to the river bank, a part of which was washed away by the late freshet. In some manner the earth fell on Bordenkirchen. By the fall he was thrown astride a wheelbarrow, and injured internally. He was immediately taken to his home and medical aid summoned. The attending physician was unable to discover any broken bones, but physical prostration overcame him and he lingered in great agony until Friday morning, when death relieved him of his suffering. The deceased was about 55 years of age and had lived in the neighborhood of Middlesex for many years. He was a member of Winfield Scott Post, No. 79, G. A. R., of this city, and was awaiting a pension from Washington for injuries received in the war. The pension papers were now in Washington awaiting disposition by the authorities. The funeral services took place from his late residence on Sunday afternoon at half-past two o'clock, Rev. Mr. Koechli officiating.

Corner Stone Laying.

A number of people assembled Thursday to witness the laying of the corner stone of the chapel at Willow Brook. The services had been arranged for Wednesday, but owing to the inclemency of the weather they were postponed. The Sunday school assembled in the morning for the march to Spring, and at 3 o'clock they marched in procession to the site of the chapel, and stood around the hole in the platform awaiting to sprinkle the mortar. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Owen, of the Woodside Methodist church. Speeches were made by Rev. R. J. Ketchem of Plainfield, and Rev. C. E. Dunn, of Hempstead, Long Island. The latter gentleman was born in the vicinity, and the Willow Brook Sunday School was the first one he attended. The corner stone laid Thursday is on the site of his great grandfather's farm house. A report of the school from its organization in 1826 was read by Mr. Jacob Clark of Westfield. Among the papers placed in the stone was a copy of the DAILY PRESS, which was the only Plainfield newspaper used on the occasion. After the exercises, the school and guests returned to the grove where ice cream and cake were served.

The Squirrel Law.

A statement had unfortunately appeared in the columns of the PRESS on Wednesday of last week, relative to the law of this State about the legal months in which squirrels may be killed. The item made it appear that squirrels may legally be killed during the month of September. This is erroneous. The last enactment of the Jersey Legislature governing this subject was approved April 26, 1886, and reads:

CHAPTER CCVIII.

An act for the preservation of squirrels.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall not be lawful to shoot, kill, take, expose for sale or have unlawfully in his or her possession after the same has been killed, any gray squirrel, except during the months of October, November and December in every year, under a penalty of fifteen dollars for each gray squirrel killed, taken, exposed for sale or had in possession contrary to the provisions of this act.

2. And be it enacted, That the penalty provided for in the foregoing section shall be recovered in the manner provided in the act, entitled "An act to provide a uniform method of procedure for the recovery of penalties for the violation of laws relating to game and game fish," passed March 27, 1874, and all moneys thus collected shall be paid to the overseers of the poor.

3. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Approved April 26, 1886.

Property Out of Market.

About all of the property belonging to the Central N. J. Land Improvement Company is now controlled by the Central Railroad of New Jersey, and some of the lots in the vicinity of the Pond foot works, has been taken out of market for the present. Land that would have been sold for a few weeks ago at a fair price, cannot now be had for any price. We hope to be able in a few days to give our readers some additional facts concerning the new manufacturing establishment which is about to locate here.

WESTFIELD.

Dr. F. A. Kinch, Sr., is seriously indisposed at his residence.

The Board of Health have ordered new health ordinances printed for distribution in our township.

The several clergymen have raised $150 to pay for the large tent wherein the gospel meetings have been held during the Summer.

Emily, wife of George Keyser, gave birth to triplets on Tuesday, 23d. One of the children died in about half an hour after birth. The other two are healthy and strong.

A detail of eighteen men of our new Military company went to Elizabeth on the 24th to the 22d Regiment headquarters to be sworn in and measured for their suits.

The grounds in front of the M. E. church have been greatly improved by removing the front fence and shrubbery, grading the lawn and the laying of flag pavement to the street.

The public school will re-open on Monday, September 5th. The new Principal, Marcus Ward, will then take charge, and Prof. Demarest, the retiring principal, will assume charge of a school at Nyack, N. Y. The new Principal comes highly recommended by the school committee, and will undoubtedly follow in the footsteps of his predecessor.

At 2.30 o'clock Friday afternoon, the barn located in the rear of the dwelling house on Broad street, occupied by Mr. Wm. Barton, was discovered to be on fire in the hay-mow. The fire department promptly responded to the alarm and succeeded in extinguishing the fire after the roof had been burned off. Mr. Barton kept his horse, carriage and harness in the barn, which together with the hay and grain was fully insured. His loss consisted of one ton of hay, a hay cutter and part of the harness; the rest were removed from the barn. The building belonged to Mr. Wm. H. Moore, which was fully insured; loss $300. It is supposed the barn caught fire from the sparks of a locomotive which was passing on the adjoining yard in close proximity to the barn. The Little Giant got first water, Engine Co., No. 1, second and Empire Engine Co., third.

DUNELLEN NEWS.

The Public School will re-open for Fall term on Monday, September 5th.

Mr. William J. Hamilton and family are Summering at Ocean Grove, having taken a cottage there early in the season. They will return about September 1st.

The Misses Hungerford and Fannie Smith, teachers in the public school, have returned from Asbury Park, where they have been spending a portion of their vacation.

Borough Commissioner John Handren, is one of the sort of people who believes in enjoying life. Just now he is cruising with his family and a party of friends on his handsome yacht, "Rena." Late advices locate the party at Newport, and all are enjoying excellent health. The return trip will be made about the first of September.

Mrs. A. C. Craft, aged about 50 years, was recently stricken down with paralysis. She retired as usual at night, but when she awoke next morning the entire left side was paralyzed, and she was unable to talk. Mrs. Craft's late husband was a well known hotel keeper in New York city. During the Summer he conducted a large hotel at Rockaway Beach.

Mr. Abner Cortell, a former resident of this place, but now residing at Somerville, has returned on a visit. It may not be generally known, but nevertheless Abner's prolonged absence proved $50 reward stands in the mind of his former most estimable young lady of this place, who became ill, and a letter addressed to Tennessee soon had the desired effect. Mr. Cortell and the young lady in question have been rusticating at Budd's Lake for some time past, where the latter is rapidly improving in health and spirits. Mr. Cortell's mid-ice return it is said, worked like a charm, and it is whispered that when he returns to the South, he will not travel alone.

SCOTCH PLAINS ITEMS.

George Sleight is improving his residence by the addition of another story to the same.

Robert John is doing a fine business in the Standith's line, receiving the patronage he deserves.

The name of Prince Brown's deceased canine was "Tah-hoo." Only Prince knows how to pronounce it.

Mr. John Cook is running his stone crusher on full time, and has more orders on hand than he can supply.

The new arch bridge on "Midway" is nearly completed, under the immediate supervision of William Johnson, the contractor.

A trotting horse belonging to Harry Insley, escaped from the pasture field Friday. Harry, look out for the pasture master.

Thomas Whitenack lost one of his best horses last week, by death, which greatly interferes with his success as a competent and reliable teamster.

The line is now delivered regularly to our residents since carrier Knudson has assumed charge of the route. New subscribers are being added to the list daily.

Mr. Daniel Allen has recently leased of the owner of a valuable (?) team of trotters which he purchased for about $80. He is frequently seen seated in Knudson's sleighing wagon, speeding down the road. With careful nursing and an extra feed every day it is thought the animals will become sufficiently acquainted to outstrip the fleet of the winter. It is to be used for a double purpose—that of a wagon body for sulky purposes. He has applied for a patent on his new novel invention. When completed he will name it "Mossbankenk."

Remember This.

In giving credit to one and another of our home offices for the part they have each played in the capture of the incendiaries, do not forget Acting Chief of Police, George S. Grant. Since Chief Dodd's departure for Europe, he has been untiring in his efforts to bring about the arrest of the accused, and deserves as much credit—even if no more—as any officer of the entire force.

One of the Accused Hung.

George Reed, one of the accused firebugs, now in that uncomfortable situation called "dungeon-rile," was hung in effigy by the employees of the Scott Works, Monday morning. Reed was once a fellow workman of theirs, but has since been employed at the Potter Works. We are assured by Foreman Keller that Reed never was a driver of No. 2 Engine company.

Assisting Justice.

Jackson pleads guilty to two fires, and thus saves the State the necessity and expense of convicting him.

Why did he so plead in those particular cases only?

Because one—the Lee house—the officers caught him in the act of firing.

Because the other—the McCutchen barn—the fires caught him in the act of leaving, and convicted him in its columns.

That kind of newspaper enterprise will never defeat the ends of justice.

A Home in Time.

About half-past ten, a. m., Wednesday, a valuable horse, attached to a buggy, the property of Mr. Ellis A. Campbell, broke loose from its fastenings in front of Mr. R. P. Thorn's in Park Avenue, and started down the avenue. Numerous efforts were made to stop the animal, by pedestrians, but he continued on in his flight, barely missing numerous vehicles standing on Front street. Reaching Liberty street, the runaway turned in and ran to Eighth street, where he collided with the horse and buggy of Mr. Wm. A. Clarkson, and gentleman, who was the only occupant, was thrown out and his buggy and harness damaged. The runaway then turned to the south, and was brought to Force, passing through that street to Front street, where he collided with the horse and wagon of Mr. Wm. Scribner. He then turned into Par's Lane, and coming into one of that gentleman's heavy tee-wagons, was thrown to his side by the collision and secured. The animal received bruises on the off hind leg. The buggy suffered from a bent axle and scratches. Mr. E. P. Thorn followed after the runaway in his wagon.

WAS IT "WINKIE" CONOVER?

Additional Facts Concerning the Body Found at Bound Brook Yesterday.

Again THE PRESS comes to the front as a model newspaper, having published in detail a full and accurate account of the finding of the trunk and legs of a human body, which proved to be that of a week or two ago, and which was identified by Mr. Field, acting under instructions from the Coroner, and the inquest was held at that place in the afternoon.

Residents of Bound Brook are still strong in the belief that the body is that of "Winkie" Conover. Those who felt the fragrance on the night of the post office robbery claimed that he entered the waters and sank but a short distance from shore. Another point which illustrates the possibility of the body floating down stream and becoming tangled up in the wire fence is the fact that the Raritan river on that eventful night was very much swollen from the heavy rains. The place where the remains were found is the offendings merged, when the water in the river is high. Several reporters have been put into circulation about the robbery to the effect that "Winkie" Conover has frequently been seen in various parts of the State, but no truth is attached to the reports.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Aug. 25.—Coroner Hayter empanelled a jury today to investigate the facts in the case of the remains of the unknown man found in a ditch near Field Ville," near Bound Brook, yesterday. The jury met at the morgue, and after viewing the remains, adjourned over until Monday, September 5th. The adjournment was made so as to produce important evidence in the matter.

It is presumable that the important evidence referred to in the dispatch is to be furnished from pals of Conover, and the prisoner who was with the alleged Conover at the time of the robbery.

LIST OF ADVERTISED LETTERS.

REMAINING IN PLAINFIELD POST OFFICE FOR WEEK ENDING SEPT 3, 1887.

Ayres, M Mrs
Bennett, Miss Mary
Bassett, J Mrs
Bell, Miss Lizzie
Cannon, J O Mrs
Clark, Miss Mary
Clark, Eder A
Delaney, J
Daniels, Fanny Miss
Davis, Frances E Miss
Davis, Chas A Mrs
Dunn, Miss Mary
Duffy, Annie Miss
Field, Susan E Mrs
Gould, Miss Emma
Hoover, Virginia Miss
Hopkins, J
Hopkins, Jno
Hopkins, Jno
Hopkins, Jno
Mallory, Peter
Mallory, Peter
Mott, Sarah
Mott, Sarah Miss
Mott, Annie Miss
Rose, Thos H
Rose, Jno
Sayles, Geo H

Persons calling for above please say advertised.

W. L. FORCE, Postmaster.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FORD & STILES,
Funeral Directors
and Practical Embalmers,
Office, Rear of Store,
No. 14 EAST FRONT STREET.
Open Day and Night. Telephone Call, No. 6.
Geo. O. Ford. Geo. W. Stiles

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
Undertakers and Embalmers,
50 Park avenue,
Opposite Post Office.
Residence—50 Madison avenue.
Telephone Call.
Office of Hillside Cemetery.

P. CASEY & SON,
UNDERTAKERS,
Office, No. 5 Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.
Third street, corner Roe, Plainfield, N. J.
Residence, No. 5 Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.
Telephone Call, No. 6.
Open Day and Night.

WANTS and INFORMATION

FOR SALE—Lot of second-hand Sewing Machines, cheap for cash. Enquire at 20 Somerset street.

A SMALL PERMANENT BOOK TO LET WITH board, in private family, for gentleman and wife. Address, "Permanent," this office.

A CARRIAGE—Second hand, for sale cheap. Apply at 20 Somerset street.

NOW SUBSCRIBERS, 10 CTS. ADDITIONAL.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Miss S. G. Kenny's
SCHOOL FOR GIRLS
WILL RE-OPEN
Thursday, Sept. 22d, 1887.
For particulars address,
MISS S. G. KENNY, P. O. Box 560.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the accounts of the undersigned, executor of the last will and testament of Harriet Cordon, late of Plainfield, in the County of Union, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate of said County of Union on Wednesday, the ninth day of November next.

HARRIET CORDON,
JOHN F. RANDOLPH,
Executors.

Dated August 29th, 1887.—6w$5

FOR SALE,
Farm and Country Residence!

Located on the main road leading from Plainfield to Railway, on elevated ground, with a commanding view of surrounding country, 2½ miles—no more healthy location to be found; has ten rooms, portico front and rear; large lawn beautifully shaded, good neighborhood; convenient to churches and schools; contains 15 acres of land suitable for any variety of farming purposes; also, 2 acres of choice fruit, consisting of peaches, pears, etc. For further information enquire of the editors of this paper or of Box 1, Post Office Box 155, Railway.

Aug. 26th, 1887.—4w$

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors

Union County, Surrogate's Office,
August 24th, 1887.

John Simpson, the Executor or Executrix of Peter Simpson, deceased.

On application of the above named Executor it is ordered that the creditors of the said deceased to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the said deceased, within nine months from the date hereof, or be forever barred of recovery against the said Executor, and that a copy of this Order, within twenty days hereafter, be published in the Constitutionalist and Press, newspapers printed in Plainfield, in the said County of Union, and that all other creditors or persons interested in the said deceased shall then and there appear before me, if they see cause, and contest the allowance of the said account, and all creditors who shall not bring in their debts and demands within the time aforesaid, and all creditors who shall not appear at the time and place aforesaid, and contest the account aforesaid, will be forever barred from any action thereafter against the said Executor.

Aug29-6t By JAMES J. GERBER, Surrogate.

New York and New Jersey
TELEPHONE COMPANY!

SPEAKING CONNECTION WITH OVER 1500 SUBSCRIBERS—PROTECTION FROM FIRE AND BURGLARY—PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Central Office cor. Front st. and Park ave.

Address.	Name.
Anthony, Alice B.	Netherwood.
Arrow, Chas.	Park ave. and Front st.
Alert Hose Co., No 1	Madison ave.
Bowen, Henry E	Netherwood.
Babcock, Geo B	5th st. and Clinton ave.
Beale, F P	Front st.
Brown, Josiah	South end Grant ave.
Brown, Mrs J. Munn	Netherwood.
Bogardus, E H	Putman ave.
Barnett, R. L.	Somerset st.
Barkalew & Dunn	18 North ave.
Bostwick, John	Central ave. and 9th st.
Bell, Wm	Somerset st.
C. L. S. C.	Park and North avenues.
Cleveland, Rich	Front st.
Case, C W	Rockview ave.
Children's Home	Jackson ave.
Clark, Alfred	Park ave. and 2d st.
Closson, James T	Richmond and Front sts.
Central Railroad Office	North ave.
Cook, J. D & Son	Peterboro st.
Cooley, Dr J H	Manning and Westervelt ave.
Cox, Edward	Somerset st.
Daily Press	North ave.
Darling, Mrs. F G	Netherwood.
Dorr, Mrs. E. Rose	78 Clinton ave.
Dell, Leo	Putman ave.
Dorr, Fred	Peterboro and 8th st.
Day, S M	Rockview ave.
Dar, Frank	North ave.
Demarest, P H	41 Somerset st.
Dunn, John Ballock	7th st. and Park ave.
Dunnell, John P	Netherwood.
Dall, Daniel	Netherwood.
Radicott, Dr Geo W	Park ave. and 4th st.
Dunnell, John P	Netherwood.
Engine No 1	West 2d st.
Engine No 2	Somerset st.
Engine No 3	Somerset st.
Fanning & Anderson	28 North ave.
Fitz, C. H	64 Front st.
Force, J S	North ave.
Force, W. L. & Bro	5 North ave.
Force's Hotel	5 North ave.
Ford & Stiles	14 E. Front st.
Fisher, Mrs. C. H.	6 E. Front st.
Fraser, P M & Son	Somerset st.
Fritts, Dr J T	12 Park ave.
Gaddis, Wm	11 Front st.
Gaylord, Don A	Madison ave.
Gilbert, C	18 Front st.
L. Heyniger	46 & 48 Somerset street.
Hodges, Mrs. Ella W	64 Park ave.
Hyer, Chas	141 Front street.
Hart, De Cha A	Crescent ave and 2d Place.
Hadden, Henry	619 st. near Park ave.
Jackson, Dr. G. L.	84 W. Front st.
Jones, Evan	Park ave.
Jones, Isaac	41 Front st.
Kirkner, J	8th and Division sts.
Kinney, Wm	Somerset st.
Laing's Hotel	West Front st.
Lowry, Rev Robert	Madison ave and 8th st.
Leonard, L. S.	North ave.
Mariner, John	Putman avenue.
Mallory, A D	34 Somerset st.
Mitchell, Hugh	Madison ave.
Mojeo, Henry A	Willow ave.
Mallory, Peter	Willow ave.
Mills, J B & Bros	W. Front st.
Miller, J G	18 E. Front st.
Mason, Wm	10 E. Front st.
Moore, Benj F	Cor. 2nd st. and Park ave.
Manning Hospital	South ave.
Murray, J W	Central ave and 8th st.
Murray, Dr. Wm. H	21 Park street.
Myers, Jos M	21 Park street.
Mallory, E. C	35 & 37 North ave.
Mack, Fred	Somerset st.
Myers, Lawrence	Front st.
Netherwood Hotel	Netherwood.
Netherwood, Mary	Netherwood.
Opdyke, E B	Farmers ave.
Osborn, J J H	27 Putman avenue.
Plainfield Dist Tel. & Fire Alarm Co	5 Front st.
Plainfield Electric Light Co	Madison avenue.
Park Hotel	6th and Park ave.
Pay Station	Park ave and Front st.
Plainfield Beef Co	32 and Washington sts.
Potter, Wm	Park avenue and 6th st.
Potts, W B	7th, near Plainfield ave
Potter, Wm	Front st., opp. Park ave.
Potter Press Works	North ave.
Potter, S A	Grove st. and Madison ave.
Perkins, J J	41 Front st.
Perkins, Edward C	Central ave., and 8th st.
Page & Co. A. G	6th and Park ave.
Randolph, Wilton	Netherwood.
Reynolds, H P	Park and North ave.
Reynolds, R. P	Park avenue and 6th st.
Roberts, D S	31 North avenue.
Rockefeller, J D	Front st., opp. Park ave.
Rockefeller, G W (Rev)	160 Park ave.
Runyon, A M & Son	Park ave.
Runyon, A M & Son	Orchard ave.
Sommer, Dr Edward	Park ave. near Fifth st.
Sommer, Isaac W	5 Madison ave.
Roome, Mrs J	Cor. Mercer & Seventh sts.
Rusk, S. G	8th st.
Revell, Lemuel W	Somerset st. and Park ave.
Sagoine, G J	60 Front street.
Smith, F A	Front st., opp. Park ave.
Stanley & Son	118 E. 2d st.
Smith, C. M	7th and Madison avenue.
Smith, F A	118 E. 2d st.
Smith, Miss E. P	La Grand avenue.
Smith, H M	Park ave. and Front st.
Stelle, H M	Orchard ave.
Stelle, S M (Pay Station)	Park ave and Front st.
Stelle, A B	Somerset st.
Tompkins, Beach P (Rev)	Netherwood.
Tompkins, Mrs. Beach P	Netherwood.
Thorn, E P	17 Park ave.
Thorn, Mrs. E P	17 Park ave.
Tracy, J Irving	8th and Division sts.
Van Sickle W J	Orchard ave.
Wadsworth, W R	Park avenue.
Wagon Company, The	Depot.
Yates, J	Somerset st. and Park ave.
Young's Hotel and Ladder Co	Second street.

TELEPHONE TOLL RATES,
FOR FIVE MINUTE CONVERSATION,
PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.

Trenton	$0 25
Bordentown	0 25
Burlington	0 25
Camden	0 25
Philadelphia	0 25
Elizabeth	0 25
Rahway	0 25
Perth Amboy	0 25
New Brunswick	0 25
Somerville	0 25
Bound Brook	0 25
Dunellen	0 25
Metuchen	0 25
Woodbridge	0 25
Rockaway	0 25
Dover	0 25
Morristown	0 25
Orange	0 25
Newark	0 25
Jersey City	0 25
New York	0 25
Long Branch	0 25
Asbury Park	0 25
Ocean Grove	0 25
Red Bank	0 25
Matawan	0 25
Keyport	0 25
Freehold	0 25
Hightstown	0 25
Princeton	0 25
Lambertville	0 25
Flemington	0 25
Phillipsburg	0 25
Easton	0 25
Bethlehem	0 25
Allentown	0 25
Hackettstown	0 25
Washington	0 25
Belvidere	0 25

CITY DEPARTMENT.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION.

J. A. DEMAREST, - City Editor.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS.
Closes—Is due at 10.00 A. M.; 2.30 and 5 P. M.
Arrive—Is due at 8.15 A. M.; 12.30 and 5.30 P. M.

SOMERVILLE, EASTON, &C., MAILS.
Closes—5 P. M. and 8.30 A. M.
Arrives—8.15 A. M. and 5.30 P. M.

SUNDAY MAILS—Arrive at 9.30 A. M. Office open from 9.30 A. M. to 10.30 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

MAIL for Fairmount closes Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 11 A.

Post Office opened 7 A. M. and closes at 7.30 P. M. Saturdays, closes at 9 P. M. Open every evening until 8.30, P. M., to owners of lock boxes.

Money order office open from 8 A. M., to 5 P. M. Saturdays to 6 P. M.

W. L. FORCE, Post Master.

OUR "MISH MARK."

We just crave a moment's time and a few inches space to tell of the circulation of THE PRESS and why.

Our presses were started at five o'clock a. m., and the first paper was bought by a passing night-watchman on his way home to bed.

Again and again during the day were big editions run off, and at seven o'clock in the evening the last number was "got up," and the last run was made.

The record of sales is:

To 7 a. m.	720
" 11 a. m.	1,977
" 11:30 a. m.	2,503
" 3 p. m.	3,307
" 5 p. m.	3,523

Now for a paid Fire Department.

A pleasant country residence for sale. See advertisement in another column.

Next Saturday's ball game on the Park avenue grounds will be between the Y. M. C. As of this city and the "Browns" of Harlem, at four o'clock.

Dog catcher Babbitt says the excitement of the past few days has seriously interfered with his business. Yesterday he only gathered in seventeen dogs.

Again, the convicted fire-bug realizes his doom, and says he expects to spend the remainder of his days behind the prison walls. He also says it is too late now to retract.

The pulpit of the Park Avenue Baptist church is to be supplied during the month of September, in the absence of the pastor, by Prof. H. H. Harris, of Brooklyn. Morning service, 10:30; evening, 7.45.

Councilman Tunis J. Carey's barn is to said to be the next place down on the "list," to be fired by the incendiaries, and the barn in the rear of Officer Grant's residence on West Seventh street, was also included in the programme.

On the opposite page Miss Kenny makes her annual announcement of her school for girls. The perfection of her methods of teaching and training and the desirable results attained, have gained her a reputation most enviable.

The Rev. Edward Mortimer, D. D., is to speak again at the Christian Mountain House, near Summit, Sunday afternoon, at two o'clock sharp. Conveyances will be at the Westfield station on the arrival of the 1.30 p. m. and 12.30, m. trains from New York.

THE PRESS stated on Monday that it had now come to light, on information obtained from Special Officer Flannigan, that Jackson was the person who was seen to pass along West Fifth street on the night the McCutchen barn was burned, just a few minutes before the fire was discovered, and that he was pointed out to several persons at the fire, as the party suspected of starting it. A confession of the assertion is denied by Jackson himself, when he pleads guilty to the charge of starting the fire.

Paste This in Your Hat.

THE PRESS is the only newspaper that has published one single fact or name in the incendiary matter that was not already publicly known.

The Monday morning's issue contained the whole story of the case before the few that knew it would say a word.

The Rewards.

The only publicly offered rewards, now in force and existence, covering the matter we are at present writing about, are $200 each. They are offered by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. One for information that will lead to the conviction of the party or incendiary who fired the Jones barn near the corner of Park avenue and Sixth street; and the other for his who fired the Cook house in Union avenue. If the guilty parties are the same, however, only one reward will be paid. Before the reward is paid the guilty party must be legally held under sentence of the Court for the crime.

Slander.

Among the amusing inaccuracies of the reports given by other papers of Plainfield's great glory and accusation of the following is the New York Telegram's description of our proud jail, its imposing site and fascinating surroundings:

Standing all alone on a vacant lot on the outskirts of the city and which looks up a hill and is much used by tenement and farmers from the surrounding country, is a ramshackle, dilapidated looking structure, whose old bricks are barely holding by a coating of brown mortar that has evidently been doing duty for years. It looks like a cage and is a drop-ping off piecemeal.

This is identified by the title of police station, but even the name that the average resident gives it is not flattering to what it stands for it. On the ground floor is the examination, or rather court room, for it is the only room in the place. Field has which can be used for such purposes. Chief Sergeant Dodd, of the police force of Chief Dodd, of the police force, and there what is left of the ground floor of the building. Thirty ladies, which is not much, is occupied by the seven cells, each of which is 6x8 feet in area. The second, which is also the top floor, is tenanted by the keeper's family.

Another Out-Door Concert.

Messrs. Joseph and George Miller, the bounteous proprietors of Laing's Hotel, are always doing something for the pleasure and gratification of their friends. Now they are trying, without considering the expense, to satisfy the public taste by giving them all the music they want. They were the only ones among us generous enough to start the out-door band concerts, and since the first night they started it so thoroughly by the three thousand who heard it, we are to have another this evening. For this has been so arranged that celebrated Drake Zouave Band of Elizabeth, under Mr. William McDowell Drake, Musical Director. Commencing at eight o'clock of Friday evening, in front of the Hotel, this Band will render the following

PROGRAMME.

1. March.....Wandering Bards.....Williams
2. Waltz.....Waltz-dal.....Waltz-dal
3. Jolly Musicians.....Dec. London
4. Selection.....Pirates.....Jakobowski
5. Intermezzo.....Little Grace.....Casey
6. Descriptive Piece—Recollections of Home.....Beyer

Introducing the assembly, sun rise gun, the sun rises, the assembly, the sun sets, the battle, the battle, the sun resigned banner, the vacant chair, etc.

INTERMISSION.

7. Overture.....Macbeth.....Verdi
8. Patrol Comique.....Mulligan Guard Ball.....Hughey
9. Quick Step.....Selected.....W. McDowell Drake
10. Idyl.....The Peace of the Evening.....Blanchard
Flute Obligato—Mr. Robt. Drake of Elizabeth.
Description—Night, Morning, with the sounds of the City, Life, early, up the brook with the sounding of the water, the people bed station fire, the Mechanics prepare for work, while the band performs the morning prayer. Finale—The Forge in the Forest.
11. The Rage in Ireland.....Lamy
12. Polka.....Our Darlings.....Lamy

CAPTURE OF THE FIRE-BUGS.

Just half an hour after midnight of Saturday, and as another Sunday was beginning in a flood of moonlight that illuminated the city like midday, Officer Patrick Lynch laid his hand on Night-Watchman John M. Jackson, and said, "I'll take care of you for the rest of the night." And Plainfield's second fire incendiary jumped three feet in the air, and was at last in captivity.

HOW THE CAPTURE WERE APPREHENDED.

Shortly after midnight of March last a machinist named Edward Murphy came to this city from down-east and secured a position in the South Plainfield Machinery Works. That he was a good workman is proved by the fact that he helped build the presses on which THE PRESS is printed. Being thus assured of continuous work he sent for his wife and a son nine years of age, who are now living here with him. Shortly after his settling in Plainfield the Scott Sacial Club was formed among the employees at the Works, and Murphy because of his social nature and capability of telling a good story and singing a good song, was made Chairman. THE PRESS has told from time to time of the many evenings the Club had enjoyed together, and also how the members of No. 2 Engine Company had on many occasions joined with them. In this way Murphy was brought into close companionship with the firemen. The Club has since disbanded, but Murphy has continued to be an active member of the Engine Co, ever since—in fact, as the sequel will prove, a little too active. He, by his sociability, soon ingratiated himself with those who are the accused incendiaries, and knew it all in a very short time. The authorities who have long tried every means to catch the fiends at last noticed signs that pointed plainly to Murphy as being a possible accomplice. In fact his actions would have been an suspicious for some that Officer Mattox and others had, as the saying is "been onto him." Shortly before Chief Dodd left for Europe, he said he suspected, but he does Murphy to give the mystery away. Murphy told one of his fellow workmen that Dodd had sent for him to come to the police station, but that he Murphy supposed the Chief wanted him about a board bill he failed to settle. Some days subsequently Murphy again

SMART OLD FARMER.

Story of a Granger Who Knew What He Was About and Had the Tact.

Darwin Davis, an old-fashioned and well-to-do farmer of the neighboring town of Norwich, tells the New York Times of a recent interview with a couple of whittle strangers, followed by other and by many scenes of his showdowns were told, some of them as follows:

The merchant, having occasion to buy many horses of every kind, several dealers or others, which, as usual in such cases, varied widely. The salesman for one of these dealers was one of the first to call on the merchant with a call in a few days.

"Good morning, sir. I have no use for neighbors," and the merchant: "I have bids from responsible houses at from twenty to fifty cents on the dollar, cash."

"Don't see how they can do it," said the salesman; "we quoted fifty cents flat cost."

"So?" queried the merchant; "well, I'll think it over."

Days passed, and the head of the coal house was called to know the result of the merchant's negotiations.

"I have made up my mind not to give you a commission," said the merchant, "as I should feel very sorry for you to be out of pocket for your time." Then, in a somewhat sarcastic tone, "it might so strike you that you would be unable to get up the contract, and where would I be? Now your neighbors, of whom I have spoken to, have a third interest and will fully come below your bid, acknowledging that they are getting the advantage, and I think I prefer to trade with prosperous concerns, for my own safety."

"Lose money? break me?" shouted the coal man. "What do you mean?"

The other had to quote the salesman's remark to make his present position understood, when he was taken by the throat and shaken like a rat by a terrier. The reply of the disappointed competitor, and the grocer has that document framed, was severely tailed to by his employer.

A Cure for Rheumatism.

The Eagle Mechanic prints the following as a speedy cure for rheumatism. One quart of milk, quite hot, into which stir one tablespoonful of lard. Take it on the retiring, and before breakfast next morning. Do not break the restraints imposed by the laws and rules of the society. The old ones were sticklers, and too rigid in their interpretation, and the young men rebelled. After a time the latter left the society in the locality settled in a body at Nauvoo, Ill., but soon after the organization of this section into counties. The founder was Etienne Cabet. The society was composed of mechanics and bodies, has no religious forms, believing that morality consists in practice rather than in creed, the members regarding Sunday as a day of amusement. The marriage bonds are of the slightest nature, the fair brains scheme is the one feature of the society which has survived. It is a communistic experience, is located in a very fertile section of the country, and believes in working together, and has all things in common; and sold their possessions and goods and chattels and turned the proceeds into the common stock."

For nearly a generation as time is measured in the life of man the Icarians dwelt happily and contented. Their property, a farm of 1,500 acres, was held by them in common. A council of the oldest men conducted all their affairs and told off to each person was to perform. There was likewise the association for many years with the Fourierites, and the Icarians were the last French and the old men were slow in getting knowledge of English. As already intimated, the young people who have grown up since coming here were anxious to break the restraints imposed by the laws and rules of the society. The old men were sticklers, and too rigid in their interpretation, and the young men rebelled. After a time the latter left the society in the locality settled in a body at Nauvoo, Ill., but soon after the organization of this section into counties. The founder was Etienne Cabet. The society was composed of mechanics and bodies, has no religious forms, believing that morality consists in practice rather than in creed, the members regarding Sunday as a day of amusement. The marriage bonds are of the slightest nature, the fair brains scheme is the one feature of the society which has survived. It is a communistic experience, is located in a very fertile section of the country, and believes in working together, and has all things in common; and sold their possessions and goods and chattels and turned the proceeds into the common stock."

SELLING BELOW COST.

How a Boston Merchant Rebuked a Tow Smart Salesman.

The peculiarities of a well-known Boston merchant are described by a writer in the Boston Transcript, and many stories of his showdowns were told, some of them as follows:

The merchant, having occasion to buy many horses of every kind, several dealers or others, which, as usual in such cases, varied widely. The salesman for one of these dealers was one of the first to call on the merchant with a call in a few days.

"Good morning, sir. I have no use for neighbors," and the merchant: "I have bids from responsible houses at from twenty to fifty cents on the dollar, cash."

"Don't see how they can do it," said the salesman; "we quoted fifty cents flat cost."

"So?" queried the merchant; "well, I'll think it over."

Days passed, and the head of the coal house was called to know the result of the merchant's negotiations.

"I have made up my mind not to give you a commission," said the merchant, "as I should feel very sorry for you to be out of pocket for your time." Then, in a somewhat sarcastic tone, "it might so strike you that you would be unable to get up the contract, and where would I be? Now your neighbors, of whom I have spoken to, have a third interest and will fully come below your bid, acknowledging that they are getting the advantage, and I think I prefer to trade with prosperous concerns, for my own safety."

"Lose money? break me?" shouted the coal man. "What do you mean?"

The other had to quote the salesman's remark to make his present position understood, when he was taken by the throat and shaken like a rat by a terrier. The reply of the disappointed competitor, and the grocer has that document framed, was severely tailed to by his employer.

TWO COMMUNITIES.

Brief History of Some Socialistic Experiments in the State of Iowa.

The Icarian settlement at Corning, Ia., has, according to the Sioux City Journal, practically dissolved. The trouble which has existed for several years has not broken the restraints imposed by the laws and rules of the society. The old ones were sticklers, and too rigid in their interpretation, and the young men rebelled. After a time the latter left the society in the locality settled in a body at Nauvoo, Ill., but soon after the organization of this section into counties. The founder was Etienne Cabet. The society was composed of mechanics and bodies, has no religious forms, believing that morality consists in practice rather than in creed, the members regarding Sunday as a day of amusement. The marriage bonds are of the slightest nature, the fair brains scheme is the one feature of the society which has survived. It is a communistic experience, is located in a very fertile section of the country, and believes in working together, and has all things in common; and sold their possessions and goods and chattels and turned the proceeds into the common stock."

For nearly a generation as time is measured in the life of man the Icarians dwelt happily and contented. Their property, a farm of 1,500 acres, was held by them in common. A council of the oldest men conducted all their affairs and told off to each person was to perform. There was likewise the association for many years with the Fourierites, and the Icarians were the last French and the old men were slow in getting knowledge of English. As already intimated, the young people who have grown up since coming here were anxious to break the restraints imposed by the laws and rules of the society. The old men were sticklers, and too rigid in their interpretation, and the young men rebelled. After a time the latter left the society in the locality settled in a body at Nauvoo, Ill., but soon after the organization of this section into counties. The founder was Etienne Cabet. The society was composed of mechanics and bodies, has no religious forms, believing that morality consists in practice rather than in creed, the members regarding Sunday as a day of amusement. The marriage bonds are of the slightest nature, the fair brains scheme is the one feature of the society which has survived. It is a communistic experience, is located in a very fertile section of the country, and believes in working together, and has all things in common; and sold their possessions and goods and chattels and turned the proceeds into the common stock."

A MODEST REQUEST.

An Anecdote of the Czar Nicholas and a French Traveler.

The Czar Nicholas is the subject of the following anecdote, which is vouched for as authentic by Anatole Leroy-Beaulieu, a recent visitor to Russia. He surely visit to one of his daughters, married at the door of a stylish house, and was met by a footman with a cigar in his mouth. Nicholas could not tolerate the smell of tobacco. "Where is the master of this?" he asked. "Yes, General," was the reply; "I have just arrived from Paris." "Then you have no right to smoke in the streets of St. Petersburg is forbidden. I will excuse you this time, but don't make trouble." "Thanks, General." And the Parisian threw away his cigar. But if sticking to it followed, and he was not permitted to address the Emperor, and scarcely had time to explain who he was when two police officers approached the traveler, and he was soon on his way to the station, in custody of a gendarme. In the evening in the society of the thieves and dandies who had been arrested on the previous night. When the superintendent questioned him he told his story; how accustomed to the freedom of his own country he had arrived him to throw away his cigar, and how he had cried out: "And you didn't know who the General was?" "No, I didn't." "Then you are the Frenchman at liberty, and made his report to the chief of the third section. The following day the Parisian received a note of apology. The incident might have some unpleasant political consequence—that the Frenchman might make a complaint with his Ambassador, and that he (the chief) might be blamed for the action of the Emperor—but he went to inform the Emperor of what had happened. "Ah, that Frenchman!" exclaimed the Emperor, "he ordered, 'I wish to express to him, personally, my regret for the insult which he has unjustly subjected.' When an officer is unfortunate enough to be the bearer of bad news, the loss of Sebiria, and began to regret bitterly having yielded to his desire to visit "the empire of Alexander Nevski." He was escorted to his bound ignominy when Nicholas came to the window of his study for his pleasant adventure. "Forget this little misunderstanding," he said to the exile. "I am glad if you remain any time in Russia it will give me pleasure to prove to you that we are not uncivilized, as you seem to think to be." "Since your Majesty is so kind, I implore you to allow me to return to France." "What is it?" "That if your Majesty should meet me again you would not notice me."

Result of Eating Hot Meat.

The Paris correspondent of the Daily News telegraphs: "A death is reported of a greater interest than usually attaches to a stout talon from an ox belonging to him which choked him. He died from blood poisoning, the sting of a venomous fly. Possessed had a grave farmer at Forges, near La Selves. He died of a carbuncle on the back of the throat. Decomposition was so rapid that the surgeon in charge refused to perform the autopsy, and the authorities his burial within the time prescribed by law.

FEMALE WORKERS.

Occupations in Which Women Are Employed in England and France.

Writing in the Nineteenth Century on "A Woman" says: "The number of women employed in the various industries of New England and Wales was, at the census of 1881, 4,809,918. Of these 1,566,730 were employed in various industries and occupations, while over one-fourth of the industrial population, 3,243,188, were engaged in agriculture, and 1,246,982 were domestic servants. Domestic service is the largest of the female occupations, because it implies that complete surrender of liberty and that subordination to another's will which are the birthright of the female sex; but even here woman's superiority is daily marked by lower wages, the butler being more highly paid than the housekeeper, the valet than the lady's maid, the chef than the why why the word has a masculine, and not feminine, ending. The female cook. The reason is that the butler, valet and chef's work are employed in teaching, nursing, laundry and other women occupations. Outside domestic service the women are "unoccupied"—that is, unpaid—and whom the men are employed are mostly married and employed in domestic and other work. As these do not render service for pecuniary remuneration, they get her concerned with them, save to make them the more dependent upon their own food number but 1,566,730 less than their so-called "more fortunate sisters."

Statistics of Women Workers.

When Senator Conger, of Michigan, was a young man he was engaged to a young woman, a very estimable young lady, and in time, such married. Twenty years after he, a widower, was in Congress, and a widow, sat in the gallery and listened to his speech. It was the first time they had seen each other for twenty years. Then she sent her card to him; he came down to the gallery. After a little talk she asked him so call on her at her friend's, Mrs. Hedgepeth. He did so, and found that he could call as he used to in those long past days of youth. In a few weeks they were married at Mrs. Adolphe Dahlgren's residence.

A Slap at Queen's Young Dames.

He had an auburn haired girl, and persuaded to take her to church. She sat in the pew the door when he drove up in a buggy and whistled—"Come out, Mary, I want to understand him, and they don't spend now. Then along talkey another step at lovey, young dream.

No Happiness in Riches.

The busiest sorrowers of the world are in the houses of people of self-esteem, who are always in the midst of luxuries and enjoy daily toil for bread; but if the children of the rich are not happy, their misery can be compared with the sickness of the children of the rich both would reach their parents, but their misery is no wealth but the content of industry.

WELL-TRAINED CRABS.

A Curious Performance Every Quiet Night in Fredericksburg Park.

Of all the queer characters that ever existed in Fredericksburg, says the Norfolk Landmark, none was more Fisherman Brown has his habitat upon Kahn's wharf, and has created a miniature exhibition by catching and selling crabs. He is to dark Old Dominion, and would call anywhere for crabs. Yesterday the side had resolved to an unusual degree, leaving boats of crabs practically high and dry on the ground. Andrew Kahn's wharf the water was partially left low, but Fisherman Brown seemed to like it. In the slip which the wharf company had cut out to accommodate dry dock Brown launched his boat, and was eagerly peering over its sides into the sluggish, muddy water. As soon as he saw a response was made, he would haul in his crab pot, and, with a satisfied look, would say: "Come, sir, come, sir," and the crab would come. There is the blue-shelled, back family, the brown-backed family and the mottled-back family. You do not catch one of those of the streak-back family bite in the night. They are the finest crabs caught around Padre Island down the coast. I speak only of crabs to be found in the Gulf and Bay. They are the finest to be found in many waters. I have seen men catch many crabs but I never saw so many. Ah! you smile, but I speak in truth. On the Japanese coast the crabs look like the crabs running into the sand. They come up on the sand dunes just like turtles, and run away with the water. You are tired when any one approaches them. How they fight! Their bodies are small, but their legs are long and strong. They can straighten catch you with their legs like a struggling fish. They have three eyes, green eyes, and they look at you like a serpent. When all the Japanese coast one time we all put on our best clothes and clean after the big crabs. The only way we could catch them. We would do it by sweeping them with a big stick or cutting and cutting them off at the legs.

"I have long studied the habits of crabs in Galveston waters, and I know 'em well. They have one, too, for sometimes I make pets of my crabs. You no believe dat? Come; I show you."

Leading the reporter to the stern of the boat the browned fisherman lifted a cloth from the stern and revealed a crab tank in which several crabs were swimming around. The tank had holes bored through the bottom, letting in a constant supply of fresh water.

"Now you watch what I do," said Fisherman Brown.

He took a small stick and beat a tattoo upon the stern of the boat, the while addressing the crabs as though they were human beings, and giving each a name. "Come up, my beauties, there is a gentleman come to see you," he said, which was followed by such exclamations as "don't be afraid. The pot's not ready, yet, sir-ree! Is the partyer?" After each one's name his tattoo figuratively. Whether it was from the effect of the adjuration or from a desire of their own is not known, but the crabs were at once attracted by the invitation, and began to rise to the surface, some coming within a few inches of Brown's hand. "Now," said Fisherman Brown, "you see me make a crab mind." Taking up an ordinary fishing-line with sinker attached, he suspended it over the back of one crab and said: "think, my hearty, aint." The crab had been paddling lazily about, but as soon as the voice was heard it immediately sank and sent up a number of bubbles. This seemed to please Brown, who, with a surprising degree, as he drew in the line and chuckled to himself. Presently he picked up a piece of raw pork, rubbed it smooth on one side, and said that was for the crabs. Then he called them by the names, while the others betook themselves to the bottom of the tank. Finally

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY.
AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

Rates of Advertising.

Inch	1 Week	2 Weeks	3 Weeks	1 Month	2 Months	3 Months	6 Months	12 Months
1	$1.00	$1.50	$2.00	$3.00	$4.00	$5.00	$8.00	$12.00
2	1.50	2.00	2.50	4.00	5.00	6.00	10.00	15.00
3	2.00	2.50	3.00	5.00	6.00	7.00	12.00	18.00
4	2.50	3.00	3.50	6.00	7.00	8.00	14.00	21.00
5	3.00	3.50	4.00	7.00	8.00	9.00	16.00	24.00
6	3.50	4.00	4.50	8.00	9.00	10.00	18.00	27.00
7	4.00	4.50	5.00	9.00	10.00	11.00	20.00	30.00
8	4.50	5.00	5.50	10.00	11.00	12.00	22.00	33.00
9	5.00	5.50	6.00	11.00	12.00	13.00	24.00	36.00
10	5.50	6.00	6.50	12.00	13.00	14.00	26.00	39.00
11	6.00	6.50	7.00	13.00	14.00	15.00	28.00	42.00
12	6.50	7.00	7.50	14.00	15.00	16.00	30.00	45.00

All Electric's must be paid until.

"Gates of Everything" inches, 5 per line.

Double cols. 20 per cent. advance of above rates.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its limitations as in its authorities."—MADISON.

VOL. XX. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1887. No. 36.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

O. L. JENKINS, M. D.,
Homœopathist,
successor to Dr. Smith, 16 East Front Street, Plainfield, N. J. Office hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.—ap12-ly.

JACKSON & CODINGTON,
Counsellors-at-Law,
Commissioners of deeds, Masters in Chancery, Notaries Public. Office corner of Park avenue and Second street.—ap1-ly

GEORGE W. HAY,
General Auctioneer,
Sales of Personal Property solicited. P. O. Box 186, Dunellen, N. J., or address in care to CONSTITUTIONALIST office, Plainfield, N. J.

DR. CHARLES R. THURSTON,
Dentist,
39 West Front street. A new local anesthetic application for extracting teeth without pain. Good fitting a specialty.—jy22

H. HAHN,
Auctioneer,
P. O. Address, Lock Box 71, South Plainfield, N. J. Office for all P. C. Carey's second-hand store, 49 West Front street, Plainfield, N. J., will receive prompt attention.—ap1

OSCAR S. TEALE,
Architect,
167 Broadway, New York city, Rooms 21 and 23. (Carpenters and Builders' Bank Building.) Residence, Plainfield, N. J.—ap22

WM. E. McCLURE,
Attorney-at-Law,
MASTER IN CHANCERY, NOTARY PUBLIC.
Commissioner of Deeds. Office, North avenue opposite depot.—jy15

J. H. FERSTER,
Veterinary Surgeon.
Office in A. M. Sogtime's livery office, corner Main street and Academy place, Plainfield, N. J. Day and night calls promptly attended to. Telephone call No. 4. Special attention to diseases of all domesticated animals. Residence, 72 East Fifth street.—jy15

ARTHUR P. MILLER,
Attorney-at-Law,
Successor to the late W. B. Maxson, Solicitor in Chancery, Notary Public, etc. Will attend to all legal matters, real estate, loan money, rent and take charge of property. Office over First National Bank.—jy15

F. A. DUNHAM,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor,
No. 7 Park avenue, Consult's building up. Particular attention given to all parts of the county.—jy15

DR. J. P. GRIFFEN,
Electric Baths.
Dr. Griffen treats all Nervous affections, Uterine complaints, Skin and Blood diseases, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia and Chronic diseases generally. Office hours—9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Residence, 15 East Second street, corner of Washington.—jy15

BUSINESS CARDS.

ROBERT JAHN,
TIN AND COPPER-SMITH,
Scotch Plains,
(Fairwood) N. J. Roofing, Spouts and Heater work a specialty. Terms, all kinds of work strictly cash. The best and the cheapest house for Tinware in the State. Repairing promptly attended to.—jy22

TO THE PUBLIC !

We wish to inform our customers and the public generally that we have on hand the best quality of

LEHIGH COAL,

Fresh from the Mines.

It is under cover and well protected from the weather. We are prepared to deliver it well screened and in good order promptly. We are also prepared to contract all kinds of Grand Trunk and Manor Materials at short notice.

A. D. COOK & BRO.

Park Avenue Bakery!
JOHN WALKER, Prop'r
FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the Choicest

J. Hervey Doane,
9 PARK AVENUE.
(Formerly Clerk's).

Watches,
Clocks
And Jewelry.
Repairing neatly and promptly done.

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, VEGETABLES, FRUITS, ETC.
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.
THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE

CORNER EMILY AND DUER STREETS
North Plainfield, New Jersey.
Celebrated Pilsbury Flour,
THE BEST IN THE MARKET.
ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED.
Telephone connection. Leaflet and Shopkeepers Receipt Book.—jy22

BOSTON CLOTHING HOUSE
42 W. FRONT ST.
Reliable Goods at Low Prices.
Order Department
Under the well-known Cutter,
NEWTON P. DRAKE.
Correct Styles. Right Prices

Geo. A. Moore,
(Of the late firm of Moore Bros.)
Would inform the public generally that he has opened a new
NO. 45 NORTH AVENUE.
Where he will continue to supply patrons with the finest grades of Fruit and Fruit Syrups, Fish of all kinds, Oysters, Clams, Game in Season at the lowest market prices. Ice cream furnished in any quantity kept in stock furnished at short notice.—jy15

Edward Ramonetti,
OYSTER AND ICE CREAM SALOON.
OYSTERS BY THE QUART, 100 OR 1000.
Etc. Etc.
CHARLOTTE RUSSE MADE TO ORDER
All Orders Promptly Attended to.
24 NORTH AVENUE,
Plainfield, New Jersey. Telephone Call No. 39

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

Force's Hotel!
NORTH AVENUE
Near R. R. Depot, Plainfield, New Jersey.
JAMES H. FORCE, Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY HOTEL.
Transient guests taken at reasonable rates.
Bottled Liquors a Specialty.

Laing's Hotel!
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
J. B. MILLER & BRO., - Proprietors.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.

SOMERSET HOTEL,
Cor. Somerset & Emily Sts., North Plainfield, N. J.
Permanent and Transient Board, at Reduced Rates.
First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all reasonable hours. ap27

C. E. JOHNSON,
If late firm of Shepherd, Johnson & Osborn.
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
Office adjoining City Hotel, on Second street, near Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey. Residence, 12 East Second street. Jobbing especially. mch25-ly

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
SALESROOM—Madison Avenue, cor. Front St., Plainfield, N. J.
Goods received on consignment.

MRS. E. J. MARTIN'S
MAGIC RENOVATING FLUID.
For taking out grease from any kind of goods, without changing the color, or injuring a spot. Also for cleaning the gloves, crape, lace, satin, ribbons, silk dresses, feathers, and all kinds of fancy work; removes grease spots and soils from carpets, &c. Sold by the pint bottle. Send a strong stamp, or Mrs. E. J. Martin's stamp-making paper (5 in the world). Sent by Mrs. W. L. Force's Fancy Goods Store, No. 9 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. ap22

JOHN JOHNSTON,
DEALER IN
COAL!
YARD AND OFFICE, SOUTH AVENUE.
NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
The best quality of screened coal at the lowest market price for cash. Address all orders to Netherwood post-office.—jy15

Park Avenue Bakery!
JOHN WALKER, Prop'r
FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the Choicest

VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS,
Assorted Varieties of
Pies, Cake and Confectionery.

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.
THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS,
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE

MICHAEL UHDAL,
CONTRACTOR
AND LANDSCAPE GARDENER !
Residence !
NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
P. O. BOX 767, PLAINFIELD.

42 W. FRONT ST.
Reliable Goods at Low Prices.
FINE FOOT WEAR,
BEST MAKES,
LATEST STYLES,
AT THE
NEW SHOE STORE
Of Doane & Van Arsdale
32 WEST FRONT STREET.

SANITARY PLUMBING,
Brick and Portable Furnaces,
GAS FITTING,
TIN ROOFING,
Etc. Etc.
I am prepared to do any of the above branches in strictly first-class, sanitary and workmanlike manner.
Having thoroughly moved with the Master Plumbers Association of New York City, I can give some by practical instruction and can assure you that I understand perfectly running the sewer business at all times. Call in or address
D. W. LITTELL,
No. 5 SOUTH AVE. opp'te Plainfield, N. J.

EDUCATIONAL.

DORSEY W. HYDE,
PRACTICAL TEACHER OF
Piano, Harmony & Guitar.
Full Term commences MONDAY, Sept. 12, 1887.
SEND FOR CIRCULAR. P. O. BOX 1126.
ap27-ly

RODMAN SEMINARY,
26 E. 5th Street. Will Re-open
SEPT. 15.
For circulars Address,
MRS. E. G. DINGEE, Principal.
ap20-3

Miss S. G. Kenny's
SCHOOL FOR GIRLS
WILL RE-OPEN
Thursday, Sept. 22d, 1887.
For particulars address,
MISS S. G. KENNY, P. O. Box 506.
ap6-3

WILL RE-OPEN
Monday, Sept. 19, 1887.

Pennington Seminary,
PENNINGTON, N. J.
40th Year. On direct line of R. R. from Plainfield, N. J. Opens Sept. 5. Offers unsurpassed facilities for both sexes. Moderate. Delightful location. High and healthful. Steam heating; gas, fire escapes. Perfect sanitary arrangements. Catalogues, testimonials, address WM. HANLON, A. M., D. D., President.
8 13 ap6

NEW JERSEY
State Normal and Model Schools,
TRENTON.
Fall Term will commence Monday, Sept. 19th.
TUITION, COST FOR BOARD, TUITION, BOOKS, etc., at the NORMAL SCHOOL, $154 for Ladies, and $160 for Gentlemen; at the MODEL SCHOOL, $200 per year. Buildings thoroughly heated by steam. The Model School offers to bold young Ladies and Gentlemen superior advantages to all its departments, viz.: Mathematical, Classical, Commercial, Musical, Drawing, and in Button-lettering. For circulars containing full particulars, address
J. HASBROUCK, Principal,
8 12 ad Trenton, New Jersey.

MISCELLANEOUS.

ARTESIAN WELLS.

F. A. W. STOTHOFF
Are prepared to Sink Wells any depth up to 1000 feet. Pumps, Tanks, Iron Pipe and Fittings Furnished at fair prices. Before Buying Call on F. A. W. Stothoff, P. O. address, Plainfield, N. J. jy22

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.,
TO HIRE. CHARGES REASONABLE.
Hugo Weigman,
29 EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
mch26-ly

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST,
Residence—Harmony street, North Plainfield, south bounce from Somerville road, left hand side, informs the public that she can reveal present and future events, likewise marriages, journeys, law suits, etc. Satisfaction guaranteed. Consultations in English, German and French.

My husband is a first-class Cooper, and repairs tubs, pails, barrels, etc., cheap for cash.

Electrical Work!
ELECTRICAL WORK—WE ARE PREPARED to furnish our limits for all kinds of Electrical Work, from a call to a complete equipment of house. We guarantee all our work. We will be pleased to furnish estimates upon application, and if desired, visit and inspect it of Postal Card and Matchbox if in thorough working order.
PLAINFIELD DISTRICT TELEGRAPH CO.,
NO. 4 PARK AVENUE.
C. M. GODDARD, - Manager.
jy22tf

NETHERWOOD FARM !
MOUNTAIN AVE., NEAR PARKHURST AVE.
A JERSEY STOCK FARM !
OVER
50 HEAD OF JERSEY CATTLE 50
Good family cows for sale at Moderate Prices. Milk and Cream delivered anywhere in Plainfield. Visitors are always welcome.
S. S. WICKLER, Manager.
J. HERBERT GOODRICH, Proprietor, N. J. ap15-ly

CAREY'S
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE, NO. 45 WEST FRONT STREET,
Nearly opposite Laing's Hotel, Plainfield, N. J.
Having leased the above premises I am prepared to buy and sell second-hand Furniture, Carpets and Stoves. Will also take Furniture in exchange for new goods. Furniture, etc., stored. P. O. Box 426.—ap22

DOOR NUMBERS,
DOOR BELLS,
DOOR PLATES,
AT
DICKINSON & CLAWSON'S,
13 PARK AVENUE.
Sole Agents for

Dr. King's Spectacles. jy15ly

SUMMER
HATS.
CAPS, GLOVES,
Trunks, Valises, Etc
Call and Examine the Elegant Stock of
Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods at
F. A. POPE'S,
(Successor to M. Fernandes.)
No. 5 W. Front-st,
ap22

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPPLIES.

Paints, Varnishes, Glass.
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALL PAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.

Weaver Bros.
House & Sign Painting, Graining,
Paper Hanging and Calsomining a specialty.
Office and Shop in the rear of
126 EAST FRONT STREET,
P. WEAVER. P. O. Box 88. P. WEAVER

W. N. ROWE,
PAINTER AND DECORATOR,
Dealer in Paints, Oil, Varnishes, Glass, Brushes, etc. WALL PAPER and WINDOW SHADES. Sign Painting and Graining. Satisfaction and satisfaction guaranteed. No. 11 E. FRONT STREET, (C. G. Hooker's old stand.) Plainfield, N. J. P. O. Box 1082.—ap6-ly

J. D. BUCKLEY
S. S. WOOLSTON
Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS,
Wall Papers,
PAINTER'S SUPPLIES. 26 NORTH AVENUE
ap6-ly

MILLINERY.

Mrs. J. M. Dunn,
FASHIONABLE MILLINER,
LATEST SHAPES OF
BONNETS AND HATS
FRENCH IMPORTED FLOWERS.
Feathers, Velvets, Plushes, Satines, Laces, etc. Also, Fancy Goods and Notions; Dress and Infants' Caps a Specialty.
PINKING, BLEACHING & PRESSING
Feathers Dyed, Cleaned and Curled
AT SHORT NOTICE.
14 West Front street.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and sold on the guarantee from The Exact Reverse.
CLEAN HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Tobacco, always on hand. Orders promptly filled.

Imported Cavaliers in Great Variety.
C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
SEGARS
No. 28 PARK AVE., (next door to FIRST NATIONAL BANK) PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacconist to Gov. Leon's Mansion.
Tobacco and Gov. Leon's Materials, of every description.
Thanksgiving "Old Judge" smoking Tobacco, with other popular brands—cheaper by the pound.

--PICTURE FRAMES--
OF ALL KINDS, AT
S. E. FLOWER'S.
At New York Prices. Studio in West Front street. Mirrors for drawing and oil painting. ap22

A. L. SMALLEY, N. B. SMALLEY
Smalley Bros.,
DEALERS IN
Fresh and Salt Meats, Poultry, Etc.
IN DOR RESIDY STREET, SOUTH PLAINFIELD
Orders called for and delivered. A share of the public patronage is solicited.—ap27

Benj. F. Moore,
(Late of Moore Bros.)
BUTCHER
And dealer in FRESH AND SALT MEATS OF ALL KINDS, and Poultry in season. Stall will be open and ready for business Wednesday, April 6th. Orders left at residence will be promptly delivered. Telephone Call 111.—ap13-ly

MAYNARD & HILL,
PRACTICAL BARBERS
AND
Artistic Hair Dressers,
No. 26 PARK AVENUE,
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residence. Shaving, Shampooing, &c., executed in perfection.

ALEX. THORN
(Late of Berry & Thorn.
CAN BE FOUND AT 37 SOMERSET STREET.

WITH A FULL LINE OF FURNACES, RANGES,
STOVES,
TINWARE, Etc.
Repairing in His Line Promptly Attended To.
d1yr

OWNS AND OPERATES OVER
6,000 Miles
OF PERFECTLY CONSTRUCTED RAILWAY.
PENETRATES THE BEST PORTIONS OF
ILLINOIS, IOWA, WISCONSIN,
MICHIGAN, MINNESOTA,
DAKOTA, NEBRASKA
and WYOMING.
CHICAGO
AND NORTHWESTERN RAILWAY
MILWAUKEE, ST. PAUL,
MINNEAPOLIS.
COUNCIL BLUFFS, OMAHA.
THE HIGH ROAD TO THE BLACK HILLS.
THE FAVORITE LINE TO PICTURESQUE
Watering Places, Summer Resorts, Hunting and Fishing Grounds.
H. A. GROSS, Vice-Pres. Agt., Lancaster, Pa.
JAMES BARNETT, R. C. HOKER, E. P. ROSE,
Gen. Manager. Gen. Pass. Agt. Gen. Sup't.

WITHOUT ME.

Lines by a Convict in Prison.
How dims the lustre of the day,
Without me?
Its laugh of joy, its dark, its cross,
The sun, the stars, the rolling moon,
The breaks, the caves, across mean to me
Without me!

Sar, in the busy world the same
Without me.
Its men seek fortune afield, and fame,
Bear with each other with shams,
Or is existence but a name,
Without me?

And how slow the passed street
Without me!
Its friends, and family want to meet,
And in the bonds of friendship greet
Each other, with affection sweet,
Without me!

Within the realms of "home, sweet home,"
Without me!
Listening for steps that never come,
Or a word uttered or a face seen,
And in it silence, sadness, gloom,
Without me.

Is there ever all a destitute calm
Without me?
Do "breathe that over" best high and warm
With love, now feel that promised rhythm
Broken, and nowhere seen a balm
Without me?

O God forbid! O world go out!
Without me!
Ye moon and stars, and thing sun,
Roll eternity on and on,
Our friendship's a name no deffity upon
Without me!

And in that eerie, broken still
Without me,
Bind up the broken by Thy sweet will,
And to their lives Thy power instill,
Protect them, Lord, from every ill,
Without me.

Will there hereafter come a day
Without, nate Harper Hutt in the Chicago Herald, is perfect without existence and association of grandparents. Among the choicest memories of youth which every human being cherishes with a fondness that only increases as the years pass on is the reverent form of grandmother. How mistakenly the slippered feet, more than the same, have trod the cadence of the quavering voice, how gentle her remonstrances, how meek her answers her questioning, how anxiously does she look for the first gray specks, and the shining silver pieces does her little old steel purse contain. Surely no one can call grandmother's necks in the market basket; no one has such supplies of forgiveness, and such ready cures for juvenile ailments; no one has such soft comfortable pocket satchels ready to wipe away baby's tears; no one can tell such fairy stories, or read from infant fancy; no one so much patience to suggest laughed stories. Who else would a boy whistle on rainy days but grandmother? In her pocket there always contains such rare bonbons of peppermint and wintergreen to allay childish woes; and who else has a grandmother's knife to lend you if your in hand, and to receive the same back with the full assurance that it is necessary. Another question is, how many grandmothers are there who can refer to certain distinct displays by intervening from station to station. If a boat be built in the line running from the depot to the nearest station is six miles, grandmother knows, and when the signal, repeating the operation until a section is reached where grandmother's house is located, and where the boat is moored. When a storm sweeps over a country side, and the lightning plays havoc with the trees, grandmother is found in the house bowing about his ears, tongs of warm assurance that there is no danger. Grandmother always knows where to find the fallen apples in the orchard, and where the nuts are to be found in the woods. It is no unusual occurrence to hear that grandmother has been seen in town, but not the meaner estate that there are put in the dock again in such an incredibly short time.

CLERKS AND FARMERS.

Their Fattening Process in War-Time Discussed by Old Soldiers.

A party of old soldiers met at an uptown hotel the other night, says the New York Tribune, the talk drifted at the discussion of the high prices of food. One of the party, a big-hearted fellow who had been in the army himself, and had a son in the service, declared that the clerks and farmers were the ones who could explain the high prices. "Why, they're the ones who have always got the money, and are going to get it no matter what it costs. They're the ones who could explain the goddess's privates with the high cost of living." The party at the table all day on clerks and coffee and right all day on a highway robbery."

Three Affectionate Sisters.

It is well known how attached the three young children of the Duke of Edinburgh are to each other. His Majesty is fond of relating an instance of this attachment. While the Duke was staying with the Governor of Prince of Wales and the Czarina with their children came to pay a visit to Athens. One morning the King was going out on a very early expedition and before he left the palace he went to see if the children were awake. Such is not the case. It was only seven o'clock, and the sun had not yet risen. He had a fair chance to see a fine beauty of coloring and feature had the three girls, all in their night dresses, short golden curls was half hidden under a large shade hat, pushed back to leave the little small curls free to the air. The lot over and delicate features. The eldest girl had a big and dainty cloak in a gray traveling suit, and the tiny foot half hidden by the gray skirts, of about walking length. She stalked the young state sprang from his bed and, with a bound, landed on the next-fated old lady Tom was carefully laid to rest in a bed of fine moss.

"Good morning," Mrs. Trassil said.

"Good morning," the stranger answered, in a gruff voice, as if afraid to speak. "Please tell me are you from Woodhaven?"

"Yes."

"Then you can direct me there. I start from the Dean station to walk over to Woodhaven. I have walked until I am tired, and am resting here."

"But you must have made the wrong turn at Smith's. Fruit farm."

"Where the roads fork?"

"Yes. You took the one to the left. Well, you must go back to Smith's and drive you back, that's one comfort."

"No, thank you! but—have you the room?"

"Seats of four, and we are but two. Where are you shopping at Woodhaven?"

"I am to board at Mrs. Birch's."

"Mrs. Birch's!"

"Oh, indeed. That is five. My name is Mrs. Trassil. Are you?"

"And mine is Trassil! This is my son!"

And Tom, who had not lost one word of this conversation, came forward to be formally introduced.

There was much pleasant, easy chat as he lay on the grass at his mother's feet, which he eyes could not keep upon the lovely face that grew animated with conversation and gradually lost long reserve. It was of sorts, of fruit. They talked of books, and of Boston, and Miss Browne was frankly pleased.

"I guess, Tom, you will have to go over to your friend Sarah's after all," said Mrs. Trassil, with merry eyes. "She depends on Tom," she explained, "to show her how to harbor the beauties of Woodhaven, wood Tom—"

"Mother!" cried Tom.

"Well, you see," said Mrs. Trassil, not heeding the imploring look, "Sarah's got a Yankee school-mamm coming there to board, and Tom's afraid of her."

"Afraid of me! Miss Browne, puzzled.

"Yes, afraid," said Tom, stoutly. "There was a Yankee school-mamm in the house where I boarded last summer, and it took me all winter to recover from the shock she gave me. She wore spectacles, and she used to glare through them in a manner

TOOK IT ALL BACK.

Why Tom Trassil Changed His Opinion of School-Ma'ams.

Mrs. Birch was in the wide farm kitchen, making pies, when Tom came in, whistling cheerily. Tom was her nephew, of whom she was proud to say:

"Going to college never spoiled Tom one bit. He is just the same manly, obliging fellow he was before he went to Harvard, while some of the rest of the set at the quiet country ways of his old home."

"Hope you are, auntie," he cried, depositing a basket on the table—"here are fruit and beans! The mammy will be over after them to help you. How many new boarders to-day?"

"Only one, Tom. That makes four in all. She is just from Boston, and is a nurse's—teaches in the same school."

Tom whistled. That was a signal of dismay, not of cheery tone.

"Now, Tom," his auntie added, "perhaps she won't be as bad-natured as you imagine."

Tom looked doubtful.

"A friend of Miss Elmore's, and a school-marm, and not dreadful! Oh, auntie!"

"You sauey boy! Don't you want to get out the wheelbarrow and help me bring in the darlin's?"

The armful of wood deposited beside the stove, and several other little "chores" cheerfully performed, Tom started homeward, and the cider was pressed, and cheese and cakes and pies were made, and more ringing out in a brisk tune. He was whistling, indeed, when, approaching Woodhaven, the owner of a splendid farm, whom he had known from childhood, stopped him to converse on a fine gentleman, and to tell him of a chance to purchase, or establish himself in a city business. Loving the free out-door life on the farm, Tom had no thought of being tempted to desert the home he employed. He was a rich man himself, and could afford to be generous and servants to do her bidding, and, as her neighbors said, half enviously, "never need to lift her hand to anything but her fan or her needle."

"Mother," Tom said, entering the cozy room where the old lady was sewing, "Good Jerry over to Aunt Sarah's for the day, will you, and let him to do any little work she wants done. I'm not going out."

"Why, Tom," said his mother, "whatever is the matter?"

Then her face caught the reflection of a suppressed merriment in his, and she added, with a little laugh:

"Miss Elmore!" she said, presently.

"Yes, and the other one, too. Come, mammy, and get ready to go with me. I'm not going to leave you over to the Falls until dinner time."

The Falls, a favorite resort of Woodhaven people, was a beautiful spot, three miles away, and fell over great rocks in a picturesque manner. The road to it, also, was drowned in the rush and roar of the cataract.

Tom carryall drove up, Tom's eyes espied a stranger seated upon the trunk of a tree, with a book in her hand, and Tom's heart gave a bound. Surely those were the tiny feet half hidden by the gray skirts, of about walking length. She stalked the young state sprang from his bed and, with a bound, landed on the next-fated old lady Tom was carefully laid to rest in a bed of fine moss.

"Good morning," Mrs. Trassil said.

"Good morning," the stranger answered, in a gruff voice, as if afraid to speak. "Please tell me are you from Woodhaven?"

"Yes."

"Then you can direct me there. I start from the Dean station to walk over to Woodhaven. I have walked until I am tired, and am resting here."

"But you must have made the wrong turn at Smith's. Fruit farm."

"Where the roads fork?"

"Yes. You took the one to the left. Well, you must go back to Smith's and drive you back, that's one comfort."

"No, thank you! but—have you the room?"

"Seats of four, and we are but two. Where are you shopping at Woodhaven?"

"I am to board at Mrs. Birch's."

"Mrs. Birch's!"

"Oh, indeed. That is five. My name is Mrs. Trassil. Are you?"

"And mine is Trassil! This is my son!"

And Tom, who had not lost one word of this conversation, came forward to be formally introduced.

There was much pleasant, easy chat as he lay on the grass at his mother's feet, which his eyes could not keep upon the lovely face that grew animated with conversation and gradually lost long reserve. It was of sorts, of fruit. They talked of books, and of Boston, and Miss Browne was frankly pleased.

"I guess, Tom, you will have to go over to your friend Sarah's after all," said Mrs. Trassil, with merry eyes. "She depends on Tom," she explained, "to show her how to harbor the beauties of Woodhaven, wood Tom—"

"Mother!" cried Tom.

"Well, you see," said Mrs. Trassil, not heeding the imploring look, "Sarah's got a Yankee school-mamm coming there to board, and Tom's afraid of her."

"Afraid of me! Miss Browne, puzzled.

"Yes, afraid," said Tom, stoutly. "There was a Yankee school-mamm in the house where I boarded last summer, and it took me all winter to recover from the shock she gave me. She wore spectacles, and she used to glare through them in a manner

WIRES AND POLES.

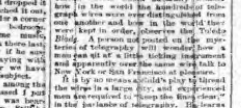
How They Are Kept in Working Order by the Telegraph Inspectors.

A man walking along Fremont and other Bay shore streets, says the Argonaut, would see how in the world the hundreds of telegraph wires were ever distinguished from one another and how the world they were kept in order, observes the Toledo Blade. A person not posted on the mysteries of telegraphy will wonder how a man can sit at a little table in the telegraph office and apparently over the same wire talk to New York or San Francisco at pleasure.

It is the simplest matter in the world when the wires in a large city, and experienced men are employed for the purpose. There is in the parlance of telegraphy. He learns by experience, and does not require his attention to be called to the fact that a pole is sadly out of a line. He begins as a telegraph lineman, and after having made a small and unimportant repairs on first, until he gradually works up. He learns to climber up the poles with spikes on his feet, and must needs learn to keep a clear head as he is perched on high.

The commutation of a lineman is from $60 to $75 per month, and he has no fear of losing paid in rural districts and the latter in cities where the work requires the most skill and attention.

The question will naturally arise in the mind of the curious, "If the wires should cross a lineman knew which end of the telegram to send to the one to be repaired?" In telegraph offices there are large blues containing descriptions of every wire, with diagrams of the same, as follows:



Take the wire No. 1 as example. Starting from the office of distribution, it runs along the side of the room directly opposite, and similar to diagram No. 1. When it reaches the window it turns up the side of the room, and pushes smaller to diagram No. 2, but changes its course and runs to the ceiling, as in No. 3. Again launching off, it runs upon poles similar to diagram No. 2 again, changing from one to another as it goes. Now, Mr. Everyman has a small book containing the names of the streets in the city and the district, copied from the following the Western Union Telegraph Company, and a wire needs repairing, he has only to find how it is out in hand, and he reaches the number of the pole by the wire, and the repair is necessary. Another question is, how does the lineman find the wire that belongs to certain distinct? Simply by intervening from station to station. If a break between the line running from the depot to the nearest station is six miles, grandmother knows, and when the signal, repeating the operation until a section is reached where grandmother's house is located, and where the boat is moored. When a storm sweeps over a country side, and the lightning plays havoc with the trees, grandmother is found in the house bowing about his ears, tongs of warm assurance that there is no danger. Grandmother always knows where to find the fallen apples in the orchard, and where the nuts are to be found in the woods. It is no unusual occurrence to hear that grandmother has been seen in town, but not the meaner estate that there are put in the dock again in such an incredibly short time.

CLERKS AND FARMERS.

Their Fattening Process in War-Time Discussed by Old Soldiers.

A party of old soldiers met at an uptown hotel the other night, says the New York Tribune, the talk drifted at the discussion of the high prices of food. One of the party, a big-hearted fellow who had been in the army himself, and had a son in the service, declared that the clerks and farmers were the ones who could explain the high prices. "Why, they're the ones who have always got the money, and are going to get it no matter what it costs. They're the ones who could explain the goddess's privates with the high cost of living." The party at the table all day on clerks and coffee and right all day on a highway robbery."

Three Affectionate Sisters.

It is well known how attached the three young children of the Duke of Edinburgh are to each other. His Majesty is fond of relating an instance of this attachment. While the Duke was staying with the Governor of Prince of Wales and the Czarina with their children came to pay a visit to Athens. One morning the King was going out on a very early expedition and before he left the palace he went to see if the children were awake. Such is not the case. It was only seven o'clock, and the sun had not yet risen. He had a fair chance to see a fine beauty of coloring and feature had the three girls, all in their night dresses, short golden curls was half hidden under a large shade hat, pushed back to leave the little small curls free to the air. The lot over and delicate features. The eldest girl had a big and dainty cloak in a gray traveling suit, and the tiny foot half hidden by the gray skirts, of about walking length. She stalked the young state sprang from his bed and, with a bound, landed on the next-fated old lady Tom was carefully laid to rest in a bed of fine moss.

"Good morning," Mrs. Trassil said.

"Good morning," the stranger answered, in a gruff voice, as if afraid to speak. "Please tell me are you from Woodhaven?"

"Yes."

"Then you can direct me there. I start from the Dean station to walk over to Woodhaven. I have walked until I am tired, and am resting here."

"But you must have made the wrong turn at Smith's. Fruit farm."

"Where the roads fork?"

"Yes. You took the one to the left. Well, you must go back to Smith's and drive you back, that's one comfort."

"No, thank you! but—have you the room?"

"Seats of four, and we are but two. Where are you shopping at Woodhaven?"

"I am to board at Mrs. Birch's."

"Mrs. Birch's!"

"Oh, indeed. That is five. My name is Mrs. Trassil. Are you?"

"And mine is Trassil! This is my son!"

And Tom, who had not lost one word of this conversation, came forward to be formally introduced.

There was much pleasant, easy chat as he lay on the grass at his mother's feet, which his eyes could not keep upon the lovely face that grew animated with conversation and gradually lost long reserve. It was of sorts, of fruit. They talked of books, and of Boston, and Miss Browne was frankly pleased.

"I guess, Tom, you will have to go over to your friend Sarah's after all," said Mrs. Trassil, with merry eyes. "She depends on Tom," she explained, "to show her how to harbor the beauties of Woodhaven, wood Tom—"

"Mother!" cried Tom.

"Well, you see," said Mrs. Trassil, not heeding the imploring look, "Sarah's got a Yankee school-mamm coming there to board, and Tom's afraid of her."

"Afraid of me! Miss Browne, puzzled.

"Yes, afraid," said Tom, stoutly. "There was a Yankee school-mamm in the house where I boarded last summer, and it took me all winter to recover from the shock she gave me. She wore spectacles, and she used to glare through them in a manner

MATRIX AND MOULD.

The old Chaldean sorcerer and scribes,
Of Assyria and Semitic tribes,
Dug clay-cylinders, and with a stylus
The storied walls of Babylon!
And printed many a work upon them we trace
Through all the records of our race.

The sinners were on primeval hands,
Who, in the days of the Pharaohs, printed
The stencilled cards whose king and knave
Adorned alike the gay and grave.
And image prints of poison bright
Which the Borgias used to anoint
The sturdy blocks carved to secure
The pictured Bibles of the poor.
And letters small graved and stamped
In Latin on the bookbinder's hand
All served a purpose in their time,
As printers do in the present prime.

But Printing in the form that gave Strength to the free, hope to the slave,
Came not till modern days would give
Their crowner sister this to live:
Nobel conception! This was prize
To welcome in the perfect type.

The witness of knowledge, deep and strong
To carve Chaldean sorcerer's song,
Rich fruits upon their decorator,
Betrayed and set at naught between.
While over all with arms up bared,
Bringing the hammer down, was heard
The Spirit of the Age—science born,
Unsupported in its morn.

Then typographical Printing come—
Sum of all trials in that name:
Loose leaf by leaf, and page by page,
By simpler chance or sudden thought,
But, by persistent skill inwrought,
Came forth the matrix and the mould!

The matrix shapes the head and face,
Well-poised and matchless lines of grace,
The brain of thought, the heart of love,
And type from shoulder unto feet;
And thus each type is strong cast,
A mold for a thousand more.
Yet independent each on each
Each work to do and learn from.
And letter only when included
In the right order finds the fair-house, and Becomes, without a sigh, the mighty city life and the dignity of a school-marm.
—N. Y. Ledger.

PURE JAPANESE TEA.

How the Fragrant Leaf Is Planted, Grown, Picked and Prepared for Market.

According to a Yokohama correspondent of the Boston Herald, the tea plant is a favorite ornamental shrub in Japan as the aloe and orange are in Italy, and the entering mosaic at the seaports where they reside. The tea leaf partly cured is bought by the native dealers and packed for export. Although the tea plant is the same, there are many ways to prepare it. The manner of the leaf the farmer fits for sale—to the Japanese way. The soil and particular locality have much to do with the flavor. Nature blesses the foreign exporters just the leaf through a process that is a signal of death to most of its original beauty.

"Now, Tom," his auntie added, "perhaps she won't be as bad-natured as you imagine."

Tom looked doubtful.

"A friend of Miss Elmore's, and a school-marm, and not dreadful! Oh, auntie!"

"You sauey boy! Don't you want to get out the wheelbarrow and help me bring in the darlin's?"

The armful of wood deposited beside the stove, and several other little "chores" cheerfully performed, Tom started homeward, and the cider was pressed, and cheese and cakes and pies were made, and more ringing out in a brisk tune. He was whistling, indeed, when, approaching Woodhaven, the ow

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE, A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors.

DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES.

Unflinching loyalty to the Constitution of the United States, both as regards its authorities and its limitations.

A Union of co-equal States, each one of them unmolested in the sovereign exercise of reserved rights and privileges, and the free development of home rule.

A tariff that will furnish needed revenue, and at the same time adequately protect American labor, capital, skill and enterprise, by equitably, honestly, and according to the rules of practical intelligence, encouraging and animating all industrial, manufacturing and business pursuits, but withholding tribute from mere usury extortioners of every name and grade.

The holding of all public offices strictly accountable as trustees for the public welfare, and making their selection depend upon personal ability, integrity and fidelity to official duty.

Taxation, whether direct or indirect, to be for the necessary expenses of a government judiciously and economically administered, including the honest, prompt payment of every public obligation, but not a dollar for the creation of a needless and corruption breeding treasury surplus.

Reservation of the public domain for the use of actual settlers, and no more squandering of it by Congress in the shape of gifts to corporations, cormorants, or its disposal by thousands of acres to single individual proprietors, or colossus speculators.

Recognition of the important fact that labor is the direct producer of real wealth, and as such, entitled to and should receive just and liberal reward.

Hostility to monopolies of every kind, and to all money combinations that seek for sordid gain to advance the cost of the necessaries of life—food, fuel and raiment.

The total abolition of sectional animosity, and in lieu thereof, the permanent establishment of national brotherhood, peace and prosperity.

For President,
GROVER CLEVELAND,
of New York.

For TODAYISM.

The American people possess many strong and commendable points of character, yet, truth declares that a certain class, calling themselves high toned, exhibit the weakest kind of weakness in their fondness for anything and everything coming over the ocean and wearing a title of nobility!

Let a profligate Duke, Marquis or Lord arrive in this Republican land, no matter how notorious and unsavory his personal record at home, he is at once surrounded by a bevy of fashionable ladies, cordially welcomed by rich leaders of society, introduced into the most exclusive circles, feted, wined, complimented and damned with, not because he is a moral, respectable and intelligent gentleman, but because he is a scion of English aristocracy, although a worthless specimen.

He is a Duke, you know!

Such tomfoolism to titled foreigners by people claiming to be American citizens is disgusting in the extreme, and shows clearly into what dances wealth and fashion can and do transform quality aping mortals.

The only badge of nobility worthy of respect and permissible within the Republic of Washington, Jefferson and Franklin is purity and dignity of personal character, rectitude and usefulness of intentions, ability inherent in the individual, and all totally regardless of birth or riches. That constitutes genuine nobility, and it is as far removed from the tinsel and fraud of aristocratic pretension, as the highest snow crowned mountain peak rises above the waters of the sea.

A STEP BEYOND.

The recent Democratic Convention in Iowa among other resolutions adopted one declaring in favor of the passage of legislation as will grant to employees of corporations the liberty to buy of whom they please."

That is all right and very good so far as it goes, but would have better served the cause of truth and justice by going a step by and and antagonizing the tyrannical impositions so often inflicted by moneyed combinations, and punishing such offenders upon the great mass of consumers, in the way of advancing far above legitimate cost the actual necessaries of life.

That is a crying and increasing wrong. Legislation ought to protect industry by declaring illegal everything designed, either directly or indirectly, to plunder it.

Another Relic.

THE PRESS has in its possession some very interesting relics which kind friends have donated to the office. The latest relic is a piece of the charred door-casing taken from the house on Union avenue which John Jackson, the fire-bug, set on fire Saturday night, 27th, when he was caught in the act and immediately taken into custody. From the appearance of the board it would seem that the fire gained considerable headway before it was extinguished. We are indebted to Mr. James H. House, the agent for Messrs. Lee & Force, for this relic in addition to our curiosity shop. The relic is on exhibition in the window of THE PRESS office.

Y. M. C. A. Rambles.

A party composed of Messrs. J. W. Gaven, John W. Murphy, Jr., J. Harvey Doane, Elmer E. Runyon, H. T. Barnes, John J. Fraed, Jr., C. C. Tyler, M. A. Craft, John B. Drayton, C. S. Myers, W. L. Sperry and J. H. Manning, left the Y. M. C. A. Rooms last Friday evening after 7 o'clock, for a moonlight walk to Searing's Mountain View Farm. The company received an enthusiastic welcome, not only from the Cadmus brothers, the battery of the Y. M. C. A. team, but also from Mr. and Mrs. Searing and the boarders at the house. After supper the company adjourned to the parlor where they were entertained in various ways, but especially by music rendered by guests of the house, as well as by Messrs. Barnes, Runyon and Tyler of their own party. The ramble was a success, in spite of the fact that there was but very little moon.

—The festive mosquitos which a short time ago were so numerous along the seashore have all gone, and the places that know them once won't know them any more until next season. They stayed until the beachfiends commenced to prospect their bills and then left precipitately. They couldn't stand the contrast.

"Detective" Murphy Got Left.

Murphy, the alleged "Cow-Boy Detective," had better not undertake too many jobs on the start, or he may slip up on all of them. That he considered himself equal to the distance in bringing about the arrest of Jackson and the other accused fire-bugs, all will admit, but that he "got left" when attempting to purchase liquor for the entertainment of his friends, last week, he himself must admit. Murphy, in company with a companion, as our informant says, went into the Washington House on Front street, in the neighborhood of three or four o'clock, and approaching the proprietor's wife, who was alone at the time, asked for a drink of beer. The lady was not in a humor, and told him she did not know what he meant. Murphy then asked for something to drink privately, and was told that the place was a temperance boarding house, and that no liquors were dispensed within it. He next sought to secure a small vial—not the quart, for himself and friend, as he again was told that no liquor was allowed in the house except that brought in by the guests. Being unable to secure anything, he simply said "my name is Murphy," and left, while the boarders engaged in a general laugh, after he had departed. Thursday it was said that persistent Mr. Murphy was again called at the Park House, but some one who impersonated him.

Borough Council Meeting.

The Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield met in regular session Friday evening. Present—Mayor Cooley and Councilmen McCutchen, Milne, Slater and Conselman. Minutes of the last meeting were read and stood approved as read.

Petitions were presented asking for a sidewalk on the northwest side of Park avenue, between Somerset street and Front, and filed. In it he stated that the following cases were pending and undetermined in which the Borough was a party:

Borough Court of Errors and Appeals. The Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield, plaintiff vs. The State, Tunis J. Carey, Pros. On appeal from judgment of Supreme Court. This case had both argued on briefs and decision reserved until November term.

New Jersey Supreme Court. The State, The Mayor, H. Council, Pros. vs. The Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield.

On certiorari to Justice Mattison on like conviction, also likely to be argued at November term.

Mr. Milne, as chairman of select committee, stated that the committee was engaged in some work which he hoped to be able to report on at the next meeting.

Mr. Slater, from the committee on roads, said that all bills presented during the evening must necessarily lay over, as there was but one member of the committee present.

Mr. Milne from the license and marshal committee, made a report concerning Shockley. He said that he had had refused to make repairs to the building at the same rate of rent. He also said that the council could secure suitable quarters in the new building now being erected by Mr. Freech on Somerset street, provided the council would also lease a portion of the building to be used as a council chamber. Mr. Milne made a request that no action be taken on the matter during the evening. Mr. Slater made a motion to refer the matter to the license and marshal committee with power to act. Mr. Milne thought it would be advisable for the committee to make inquiries regarding the proposed change of quarters, and report on same. Councilman Slater said it was the intention of the committee, provided, of course, that suitable arrangements could be made with Mr. Freech, to have a portion of the upper story set apart as a council chamber, and also to have a separate room wherein court business could be transacted. The total cost would not exceed that now paid by the council for use of No. 3 Engine company's parlor as a council chamber, the lockup, and by the Town Clerk's committee for the use of the engine house for Township elections. Mr. Slater's motion to refer the matter to the license and marshal committee with power to act prevailed.

Chairman Milne of the Street Committee read the following report:

In accordance with a resolution passed at last meeting of the Council, the Committee obtained from the City National Bank an order for $500 made drawn by the Mayor and Treasurer, and on the 5th inst. five per cent discount. During the month repairs have been made on the following streets: Madison avenue, both sides, to bridge; Somerset street, from Hillman's lodge to a point near Borough line. On this work on Somerset street to date there has been used about 345 tons of second-class stone, and 1,000 loads of dirt. It will require about one day's labor and about 25 tons of second-class stone to complete the work on Somerset street. Through the dirt that will be finished as soon as stone can be obtained from the crusher. About one-half day was spent in cutting weeds on Washington

CITY DEPARTMENT

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION.

J. A. DEMAREST, City Editor.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS.

Close—8.00 and 10.00 A. M.; 2.00 and 5.30 P. M.
Arrive—7.30 P.M. 9.40 A. P. 12.20 and 6.30 P. M.

SOUTHERN MAILS, SOUTH, SOUTH.

Close—2.30 P. M. and 6.00 P. M.
Arrive—10.30 A. M. and 6.30 P. M.

SUNDAY MAILS—Close at 8.15 A. M. Office open from 9.30 A. M. to 10.30 A. M. Mail closed at 7 P.M.

Mail for WESTFIELD closes TUESDAY, THURSDAY and SATURDAY at 12 M.

Post Office opens at 7 A. M. and closes at 7.30 P. M. Saturdays, closes at 8 and 9 P. M. Open every evening until 8 P. M. Sundays, 9.30 to 10.30 A. M.

Money order office open from 9 A. M., 10 P. M. Saturdays to 9 P. M.

W. L. FORCE, Postmaster.

—R. Bewley oysters.

—The advance sale of seats for Thatcher, Primrose and West's Minstrels amounted to $500.

—All kinds of coal, and of the best quality, is offered by Hetfield Bros., delivered at your house for $4.85 a ton.

—There is said to be a movement on foot to organize, in this city, a Union Veteran Post, to be composed of non-members of the G. A. R.

—Watch next week's issue of this paper for the advertisement of auction sale of valuable building lots, being part of the Wm. B. T. Lane estate.

—The attention of those desiring to purchase blooded jersey cattle at public auction, is directed to advertisement in another column of this paper.

—The annual meeting of the W. C. T. U., will be held in Reform Hall, Monday, September 12th, at three P. M. A full attendance of members is earnestly requested.

—The attention of those contemplating the heating of buildings by steam is directed to advertisement in another column, of our fellow townsman, J. N. Schenck.

—Mr. Charles Monfort of East Front street is entitled to a leather medal, Monday last, for landing a grub at Boynton Beach which measured 19 inches from tip to tip.

—Prosecutor Wilson, of Elizabeth, having returned, in the Supreme Court, the indictment concerning the "Railway murder," will be put in shape to lay before the grand jury next month.

—The Union county Republican Executive Committee met Saturday night at Elizabeth and organized for the campaign. It was decided after a long discussion to hold the convention this year as late a date as possible.

—Messrs. Laing and Nelson, who so successfully conducted an excursion to Asbury Park, a few weeks ago, will take an excursion to Marsh Chunk and Glen Onoko on Tuesday September 27. Further particulars will be given hereafter.

—The Scott Printing Machine Company has commenced the erection of its presses, the exact duplicates of the one that prints THE PRESS, for Mr. Wm. R. Lyons, of Asbury. N. J., who has secured the contract for doing the State work.

—George Reed one of the prisoners accused of setting fire to Isaac P. Brown's barn, says he is thirty-nine years old, and that he never heard his father, utter an oath, or knew him to either chew or smoke tobacco or drink rum.

—John Jackson was suspected of firing Isaac P. Brown's barn on Broadway a week or two ago, from the fact that he is known to have seated Mr. Brown's workman in the wheat time before the fire, whether he slept in the barn or not.

—Dog-catcher Babbitt insisted on taking Councilman Waring's valuable bird-dog, Saturday, in spite of the protests of the family. Tuesday he returned to the way of North avenue, near its owner's carriage. It was unmuzzled and Jim took it to the pound.

—As a proper courtesy to the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Plainfield, whose tenth anniversary is appointed to be held in the Seventh Day Baptist church on the evening of Thursday, 8th inst., the Reform Club will postpone its usual Thursday evening meeting for one week.

—The Crescent Division, 13, Knights of Pythias, will meet faithfully every Monday evening in The Crescent, and will be in fine shape to take part in the annual parade at Jersey City, Monday the 19th. The Division will show itself a credit to the city to its members and to its name.

—Drake's Band of Elizabeth treated Plainfield last Friday, to the finest concert it ever heard, through the generosity of the proprietors of Miller's Hotel. The music was well rendered and was enthusiastically applauded. The leader's cornet solo received one of the evening's encores. Come again.—

—A petition is being circulated for signatures, which is designed to present to State Council of New Jersey, Jr. O. U. A. M. asking that a charter be granted to a new council of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics about to be instituted in this city. The paper has already been largely signed.

—The man who is alleged to have had (but we don't think he did) an interview with any one concerning the Bishop "committee," is just the one the authorities are looking after, and will probably be called upon to tell what he knows about the matter when the examination comes up on the 12th instant.

—The counsel for one of the prisoners arrested on Sunday the 28th, on a charge of setting fire to a barn, it is said will apply for a change of venue, so as to have the trial come off in another county. It is claimed that a fair and impartial trial cannot be had in Union County, where popular feeling is strongly against the prisoners.

—The minstrel show proved too great an attraction for the Councilmen Monday evening, and at the hour announced for the regular monthly meeting of the Council but only members present were Messrs. Bowers, Dunnint, Taylor and Simpson. After waiting until nearly nine o'clock the meeting was adjourned over for a week.

—Labor Day, like all the other holidays was observed in a very quiet manner in this city. Business in most lines was entirely suspended a noontime, and the day was generally given up to enjoyment. The shooting section of the Plainfield Rifle and Burning Society's grounds, Pistic in Keller's grove during the afternoon and evening, which attracted a large number of people to the place.

—It is now said to be a settled fact that the Music Hall Association will have a new drop curtain. Seymour Parker, the artist, who recently painted the scene of the old curtain into attractive new ones, recently sent out a miniature model of the new drop curtain, for inspection. The scene on the curtain represents a beautiful illustration of ancient architecture in Athens, and is said to be very realistic.

—Complaints are becoming numerous again against certain parties who are in the habit of driving fast on Park avenue, east of the railroad bridge. It is said that several small children have recently narrowly escaped being run over by fleet-footed drivers, and such an accident will probably result in a suit for heavy damages. Complaints frequently reached us the fact that trotting on the public highways of the city is in direct violation of the city ordinances, and provision for the arrest and conviction of the persons so offending.

Providence Provides.

Since our publication of Friday, the interest of the public has naturally been enabled somewhat over the approaching marriage of the Rev. Asa E. Dille, pastor of Park Avenue Baptist church. He leaves today for Providence, R. I., the personal home of his prospective wife, and will be gone from Plainfield for about six weeks. The marriage will take place during Tuesday, the 20th inst. The young Mrs. Dille is now Miss Rice, the daughter of a high-church rector of the most prominent Episcopal church in Providence. The fine three weeks of the bridal tour will be spent at the Goodnow House, Franconia, N. H. Mr. Dille, like a true gentleman, has looked up the home of his wife and he has not looked in vain. And like a good wife she will be baptised and enter the faith of her husband.

Oh! For a City Hall.

The catching of the fire-bugs brought to Plainfield a reporter from every newspaper of enterprise in New York. Their printed opinions of our "jail" would have opened the eyes of the very blind indeed, but as a building it is a disgrace to Plainfield. The eyes of all others had been opened already by the shameful use it by the fact of its utter insufficiency to hold prisoners over-night in safety. The occasion of "busy day." The special committee with full power in their hands for consummating the project of a City Hall, and are moving as fast as is possible in the case. The city wants a handsome building that will be convenient it, and one that will accomodate fair convenience upon the many occasions necessary, and containing the offices of the Mayor, the Recorder, the Collector, and the Clerk; the City Judge's consulting and Court rooms; the Chambers of the Council, and private rooms for its committees; offices for the Chief and the Corporation; the Police Court and its cells, and any other apartments necessary.

"Murphy," the "Detective."

Last week THE PRESS had occasion and occasion to speak of "Murphy." But some idiot burst forth in the enthusiasm of ignorance of what he was talking about, and wanted to know "Who Murphy was and did Bless You?" The latter seemed best suiting his disposition, alias "Ed ward J. Murphy"—or some one impersonating him—has been around this city ever since. But it is the people of our vicinity alone that are blessing him.

Thursday morning last, just after midnight, Mr. John Vaughn, the night operator at the Dunellen station, was startled by the fierce kicks and blows of somebody from the outside on the door of the office. Fortunately the door was not locked or it would have been kicked to pieces, but being only latched, it gave way and admitted a half-crazed man. The night operator judged in the darkness, was rather under the influence. Being afraid that the racket the visitor was making would disturb Night Agent Carnegie and his family, who slept above, Vaughn rushed out of his office and impatiently demanded the cause of the trouble. The visitor, although bespattered by paralysis for much active work in a fight, is no brave as a lion and takes no back talk; so he turned on his heel and left the station, shoved a Plainfield police badge. "I don't care who you are," said Vaughn. "You'll get right out of here though." And alias "Murphy" did "get."

Outside in a buggy was a friend patiently awaiting "Murphy," or the man who claims to be "Murphy," or the person who says he is the man who is known as "Murphy, the detective." Being scared off his bluff by the plucky night operator, "Murphy" ordered to the buggy he came in and drove with his companion to Nelson's Hotel at New Market. Here everybody is asleep at that time of night, and soon given to understand that "Murphy, the detective" was looking for young Michael Gallagher. Back to Dunellen returned "Murphy" and two o'clock of the same morning, and aroused everybody in the neighborhood from their sleep, that the proprietor of Taylor's Hotel came to see what they demanded, and let them in. If he had expected in that way to quiet his transient guests, Mr. Taylor was doomed to disappointment. Things were lively about the hotel office during their short stay, and the boasts of the man who called himself "Murphy," were many and loud. Mr. Taylor tried to reason with the men, and pointed out that they should show their appreciation of his opening his hotel to them, by their quietude. But the man who had the most to say, wanted it understood that he was "Murphy, the detective," and that he was looking for Gallagher." Mr. Taylor at last succeeded in ridding his house of the unwelcome visitors, and is now ready to give them a warm reception if they return—especially the one wearing and displaying a Plainfield police badge. All this followed the event of the preceding afternoon, as pointed out in THE PRESS, when a man who certainly showed a big badge on his vest and said he was "Murphy, the detective," tried to purchase "a smile" at the Park House, the French Evangelical Church, in West Sixteenth street, at 1:30 p. m. Merchant at Greenwood followed. A number of gentlemen had hastily left the church from the establishment of Mr. Wm. H. Brower, Broadway and Twenty-third street.

By the Natchez, Miss., Daily Democrat, we learn that Mr. Charles Schermerhorn has been sent on to that city from Vicksburgh to take temporary charge of the water works, pending the arrival of a new Superintendent. Mr. Schermerhorn is the son of the genial Manager of the Western Union Telegraph Co., at this city. Young Charley has been here since the months employed in the interest of Messrs S. O. Bullock & Co., the great water works contractors, and has so rapidly advanced in position, that he is now one of their most trusted and valued employees.

Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed Church, occupied the pulpit in his church Sunday morning and evening, after a month's solid rest. He looks and feels thoroughly invigorated, and says he is glad to be with his people again. At both services he was greeted with a full house. His morning discourse was from the 20th chapter of St. John, 26th and 31st verses, and was a masterly effort. In the evening his theme was the "attire of the soul"—Colossians, 3d chapter, and the 12th, 13th and 14th verses. The several graces were beautifully explained, and the large assemblage present was held spell-bound, as it were, by the speaker's earnestness.

The last and funeral rites following the death of the late Eugenie S. Wilcox, who died on Friday, took place from the house on Manning avenue, North Plainfield, Monday afternoon, in the shape of a large number of the relatives and friends of the deceased. In the room with the casket there were several beautiful floral tributes, among the gifts of loving friends, one-side among which were a crown, pillow and anchor. Rev. Dr. Ketcham, pastor of the church of which the deceased was a member, officiated and paid a loving tribute to the departed dead. The pall bearers were Messrs. Manning, Ford, son, Watervelt and Perry, and the child were consisted of Mrs. St. John, Mrs. Pruden, Messrs. Van Arsdale and R. J. Shaw. At the close of Rev. Dr. Ketcham's remarks the body was borne to the Presbyterian Cemetery and forever laid at rest.

Personals.

Mr. Herbert Peck has returned from Milton, Ohio.

Mr. D. A. Lowitz and family are at home again from Asbury Park.

Mr. C. S. West and family of West Fifth street, are at home from Spring Lake.

Miss Aiken of New York city, is the guest of Miss Murray of Grove street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Bloodgood returned from their European tour on Sunday, in the "Servia," of the Cunard line.

The family of Mr. John W. Murray returned to their Central avenue residence on Monday, from Bay Shore, L. I.

Charles A. Reed, Esq., of the law firm of Clark and Reed, of Somerville, has taken possession of the firm's new office in this city.

Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, pastor of the First Baptist Church, has returned to his people, after a sojourn of several weeks at Saratoga.

Rev. Charles E. Dunn of the First Presbyterian church of Hempstead, L. I., exchanged pulpits Sunday with the Rev. Dr. E. P. Ketcham of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Brown, of Grove street, also Mrs. Wm. Smalley and her daughter, Miss Lizzie, of Craig Place, are at home again from Asbury Park.

Mr. W. R. Codington on Thursday received pleasant news from Chancellor McGill, appointing his partner Mr. John H. Jackson, a special master in chancery.

The Rev. Cornelius Schenck was compelled to correct from his pulpit, Sunday morning, one of many misstatements published by a paper which it is needless to state was not THE PRESS.

"The Gypsy's Prophecy," a pretty poem in the July number of the The Wideawake, is by a twelve year old genius, Miss Theo Serrill, a second-cousin of Mr. Charles Sandford, of North Plainfield.

Miss May Ralton, daughter of the distinguished tragedian and dramatic author Mr. D. E. Ralton of Massachusetts, is visiting Mrs. John H. Jackson at her residence, Dour street, North Plainfield.

Mr. A. H. Bushnell and wife have returned to their home in East Sixth street, after an absence of six weeks at Asbury Park. Mrs. Bushnell, especially was greatly benefitted by the change of air.

Rev. Dr. K. P. Ketcham, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, having rented his house, has taken rooms at the Park House, where after the 12th instant he will be happy to see his parishioners and friends.

The Rev. Dr. Simms, President of the Seventh Day Baptists, preached morning and afternoon in Crescent Avenue Church, last Sunday. He proved to be the best of the supplies that have been provided in the pastor's absence.

Mrs. J. F. Sheppard and two children of West Front street, returned from Asbury Park last Friday, after an absence of nearly four months at that favorite summer resort. The change of air greatly benefitted all of them.

The price of claims has considerably increased, it is said, since Messrs Charles Boice and R. J. Swackhammer, two representative citizens of Dunellen, went to Glen Island on Thursday, and made a dinner of the "festive bivalves."

Mrs. H. H. Cooley of North Plainfield severely wrenched one of her feet while passing along Elm Place (Water street) a few evenings ago. The board walk in the neighborhood of the bridge is in a dilapidated condition, and should be repaired at once.

Rev. Dr. J. H. Vincent delivered an address before the members of the M. E. Sunday School on Sunday afternoon, and his son George presented to each of the younger scholars a beautiful card, containing mounted crushed flowers from Jerusalem.

Geo. W. F. Davis, of Evona, cashier of the Westfield Bank, of New York, is busy recreating among the Catskills. His predilection for banks has impelled him to a bank wherein "the wild thyme blows," but he doesn't intend to carry on himself the wild time that is associated with the history of bank cashiers.

Prof. T. E. Hazell, and son Elden, of North Plainfield, have returned from a pleasant vacation at South Hartswell, Me. Mr. Hazell was compelled by his duties as the instructor of music in our public schools, to be at home when the schools opened, but Mrs. Hazell and the other children will not return until later.

Mr. Samuel H. Jacobus, who has just returned from the Adirondacks with his family, is naturally proud of his record of the biggest catch of the season. From the waters of the Upper Inlet, Racquette Lake, he landed a brook trout, 18 inches long, and weighing three pounds. The many two-pounders he captured, he made good of.

Mr. Jacob Blimm, of Somerset street, left Monday to accompany the members of the Veteran Firemen's Association, of New York, on their trip across the continent. The party left New York city at noon of Monday, and expect to arrive at San Francisco on Thursday, returning about October 1st. On the return trip stops will be made along the route at points of interest.

Funeral services over the remains of the late Eugene Louis Allison were held at his late residence, Somerset street and Mountain avenue, Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock. The remains were then taken to New York for services at the French Evangelical Church, in West Sixteenth street, at 1:30 p. m. Interment at Greenwood followed. A number of Plainfield people were present from the establishment of Mr. Wm. H. Brower, Broadway and Twenty-third street.

Mr. Schermerhorn is the same couple went to Mr. Thomas Cellar's grocery store on Richmond street, and asked to be directed to a clergyman, saying that they wanted to get married. They appeared to be in joyous spirits and were both well pleased when told that Rev. Mr. Hodnett lived in the next distance from the place. The couple hurried off for Rev. Mr. Hodnett's house, but did not find him at home. They were next directed to Rev. Dr. Ketcham's house on East Fifth street, but he was also absent, enjoying himself at Beach Haven. Whether or not they succeeded in procuring the services of a clergyman to tie the knot is not known, but the supposition is that on account of the lateness of the hour, the affair was abandoned until yesterday, when it is thought they were privately married. The couple were still in the city last evening.

Since the above was written it has been ascertained that the girl whose name it is Jennie W. Smith is respectably connected at Newburgh. Until last Friday, the day on which she left home, she was employed as a saleswoman in the dry goods house of Burnet & Garvey, No. 75 Water street, Newburgh. By some of her associates it was considered as a settled fact that she was engaged to a young man named "Ed." Williams, although her mother was not aware of it. She is said to have run away with another named William Moore. The young woman is known to have received a letter, postmarked "Plainfield," a few weeks ago, but the writer's name is not known. Whitmore, it is said, has entered himself to associate the whereabouts of the woman of his choice, but probably will not know until he reads the account in the newspapers. Saturday, Special Officer Whitmore had a telegram from Newburgh, stating that nothing had been heard from the runaway couple.

The Cranford Regatta.

The village of Cranford was alive on Saturday night, and the whole town was ablaze with excitement. The occasion was the regatta given under the auspices of the Cranford River Improvement Association. Promptly at 6 o'clock the procession of boats was formed, and moved up the river amid a shower of fireworks. The boats were beautifully decorated with colored lanterns and magnificent arches trimmed with flags spanned the river. The river banks were lined with spectators on foot and in carriages. Fully two thousand people witnessed the spectacle. The Excelsior Corset Band of Round Brook furnished the music for the occasion.

Coroner's Inquest.

The coroner's inquest into the finding of the dismembered body of a man on the premises of Benj. B. Fields, near Round Brook, recently, was continued for a brief period at the office of coroner Hayler, at New Brunswick, on Monday. No proof for or against the supposition that the remains were of "Winkie" Carson, who it is alleged was engaged in the post-office robbery at Round Brook, could be obtained, and the inquest was adjourned until the 13th instant. The following are the names of the jury: William A. Rossell, foreman; Edw. E. Kelly, Morris Farrell, Jr., Benjamin, Garret VanLiew, G. W. Grover, John M. Downey, Edward Finegan, William McElheeney, Jeremiah Hennessy, Michael Cortes and Howard Ryan.

A Small Fire.

About five o'clock a. m., Thursday, Mr. Warren Stewart, in company with Samuel Hedden, was passing along Somerset street on the way to his shop near French's mills, when he noticed a small fire in the frame building occupied by Mr. Rich. C. Elliott as a grocery store near Chatham street. The fire originated on the North side of the building, at the base, and was burning its way to the roof between two beams when Mr. Stewart first discovered it. That gentleman at once went to Mr. Elliott's residence, No. 20 Chatham street, and with some difficulty aroused him. Meanwhile the fire had communicated with the roof, and when the front door was opened, there was a sudden outbreaking of the flames from within. The smoke was stifling, but the door was again closed so as not to admit a draft. Water was poured into the building from buckets, through a large hole burned in the weather-boarding, but as the fire was rapidly gaining headway, an alarm was sent out. No.'s Two and Three Engines and the truck responded, and the store was soon flooded with water and the fire extinguished. In the store there was a bank of kerosene oil, and about twenty-five pounds of powder, but fortunately these did not take fire. The entire stock, consisting of groceries, vegetables, etc., is ruined, and the building 12x30 feet, in dimension, one story in height, which is owned by Mr. Elliott's father, was badly damaged. The loss on the structure is total. The loss on the stock, the owner told a PRESS reporter, would not exceed five or six hundred dollars, and is covered by insurance to the extent of $300. The fire is supposed to have been caused by tramps, as a load of hay in the house was found near the place where the fire broke out. Some people are disposed to think that the fire was the work of an incendiary, and a report to that effect was circulated.

Eloped From Newburg.

On Wednesday night, there arrived in this city on the 1.25 a. m. train from New York, a young man apparently about twenty-five years of age and a young woman about twenty years of age. The couple were well dressed. The female was attired in a light gray dress, with black braid, was rather tall, slim and said to be very pretty. Her companion was of medium height, wore dark clothes, black derby hat and cleanly shaven face. When the couple alighted from the train, they at first made a general survey of the surrounding and then proceeded down North avenue to Park avenue, where they met Special Officer Hope. They inquired of him the way to a hotel, stating that they had arrived in town late, and were unacquainted with the streets. The officer accompanied the young couple to Miller's Hotel, but they were unable to get accommodations there as all the rooms were occupied. The officer noticed that the young woman was very quiet in what she said, but did not suspect that anything was wrong. He next took them to the City Hotel, and accosted the porter, where they were assigned a room for the night, and after thanking the officer for his kindness, bid him "good night." The couple, it is said, did not gather, and a glance over the hotel register this morning verified the fact. After breakfast in the morning, the young man stepped up to the office, paid his bill, and the couple quietly left the hotel without even disclosing their identity. During Wednesday afternoon arrived in town the girl's mother was almost distracted with grief over the action of her daughter who had left home unobserved. He also said that the girl had never been keep company with any man, but supposed the couple had met clandestinely, and perhaps arranged the elopement by letter. He did not disclose the name of the young man, but said the leaving instructions with the police to telegraph him in case the couple were apprehended, he left for home.

On Thursday evening, presumably the Conflagration.

At a little before three o'clock Tuesday morning, fire was discovered in a group of barns belonging to Mr. Moses Lee, brickers on Terrill road, near Two Bridges. The premises are occupied by John Gordon and his family, who were the first to discover the fire. A general alarm was sent out and the fire department responded with alacrity, but as the barns were located outside the city limits, the department apparatus was not taken there. In the group there were two barns 30x38 and 22x24 feet in dimensions, and a cow-shed 12x16 feet in dimensions. These were all destroyed, along with a lot of farming untensils, thirty tons of hay and about one hundred bushels of corn. The dwelling house stood but a few yards from the burned building, and this caught fire, but through the exertions of the neighbors the house was spared, and was but little damaged. All the fences about the buildings were burned for some distance. One of the Lee brothers told a PRESS reporter this morning that the loss would not fall short of $2,500 or $3,000, and was insured for $800 in the Mutual Company. The fire was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary, and it would seem that some one was carrying out the work alleged to have been laid out by Jackson. One thing, however, is certain, Jackson did not set fire to the barns this morning, and this fact will strengthen the supposition that all of the firebugs have not yet been captured. The Lee brothers and others offer a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the firebug.

An Interesting Suit.

Ex-Chief August Saltzman has just returned from a Summer vacation with his family in the vicinity of Kingston, N. Y., and Rondout. He was directed to Rev. Dr. Ketcham's house on East Fifth street, but he was also absent, enjoying himself at Beach Haven. Whether or not they succeeded in procuring the services of a clergyman to tie the knot is not known, but the supposition is that on account of the lateness of the hour, the affair was abandoned until yesterday, when it is thought they were privately married. The couple were still in the city last evening.

Since the above was written it has been ascertained that the girl whose name it is Jennie W. Smith is respectably connected at Newburgh. Until last Friday, the day on which she left home, she was employed as a saleswoman in the dry goods house of Burnet & Garvey, No. 75 Water street, Newburgh. By some of her associates it was considered as a settled fact that she was engaged to a young man named "Ed." Williams, although her mother was not aware of it. She is said to have run away with another named William Moore. The young woman is known to have received a letter, postmarked "Plainfield," a few weeks ago, but the writer's name is not known. Whitmore, it is said, has entered himself to associate the whereabouts of the woman of his choice, but probably will not know until he reads the account in the newspapers. Saturday, Special Officer Whitmore had a telegram from Newburgh, stating that nothing had been heard from the runaway couple.

OBITUARY.

HENRY D. STRAUSS.

At his home at New Market, on Sunday there passed away Mr. Henry H. Strauss, a former well known resident of this city, in the 53th year of his age. Death resulted from cancer of the stomach, after an illness of about one year. For many years he carried on the mineral water business which disposition of the same about two years ago on account of failing health. Later he purchased the house in which he now lives, and in earriages. Fully two thousand people witnessed the spectacle. The Excelsior Corset Band of Round Brook furnished the music for the occasion.

Coroner's Inquest.

The coroner's inquest into the finding of the dismembered body of a man on the premises of Benj. B. Fields, near Round Brook, recently, was continued for a brief period at the office of coroner Hayler, at New Brunswick, on Monday. No proof for or against the supposition that the remains were of "Winkie" Carson, who it is alleged was engaged in the post-office robbery at Round Brook, could be obtained, and the inquest was adjourned until the 13th instant. The following are the names of the jury: William A. Rossell, foreman; Edw. E. Kelly, Morris Farrell, Jr., Benjamin, Garret VanLiew, G. W. Grover, John M. Downey, Edward Finegan, William McElheeney, Jeremiah Hennessy, Michael Cortes and Howard Ryan.

A Small Fire.

About five o'clock a. m., Thursday, Mr. Warren Stewart, in company with Samuel Hedden, was passing along Somerset street on the way to his shop near French's mills, when he noticed a small fire in the frame building occupied by Mr. Rich. C. Elliott as a grocery store near Chatham street. The fire originated on the North side of the building, at the base, and was burning its way to the roof between two beams when Mr. Stewart first discovered it. That gentleman at once went to Mr. Elliott's residence, No. 20 Chatham street, and with some difficulty aroused him. Meanwhile the fire had communicated with the roof, and when the front door was opened, there was a sudden out-breaking of the flames from within. The smoke was stifling, but the door was again closed so as not to admit a draft. Water was poured into the building from buckets, through a large hole burned in the weather-boarding, but as the fire was rapidly gaining headway, an alarm was sent out. No.'s Two and Three Engines and the truck responded, and the store was soon flooded with water and the fire extinguished. In the store there was a bank of kerosene oil, and about twenty-five pounds of powder, but fortunately these did not take fire. The entire stock, consisting of groceries, vegetables, etc., is ruined, and the building 12x30 feet, in dimension, one story in height, which is owned by Mr. Elliott's father, was badly damaged. The loss on the structure is total. The loss on the stock, the owner told a PRESS reporter, would not exceed five or six hundred dollars, and is covered by insurance to the extent of $300. The fire is supposed to have been caused by tramps, as a load of hay in the house was found near the place where the fire broke out. Some people are disposed to think that the fire was the work of an incendiary, and a report to that effect was circulated.

Eloped From Newburg.

On Wednesday night, there arrived in this city on the 1.25 a. m. train from New York, a young man apparently about twenty-five years of age and a young woman about twenty years of age. The couple were well dressed. The female was attired in a light gray dress, with black braid, was rather tall, slim and said to be very pretty. Her companion was of medium height, wore dark clothes, black derby hat and cleanly shaven face. When the couple alighted from the train, they at first made a general survey of the surrounding and then proceeded down North avenue to Park avenue, where they met Special Officer Hope. They inquired of him the way to a hotel, stating that they had arrived in town late, and were unacquainted with the streets. The officer accompanied the young couple to Miller's Hotel, but they were unable to get accommodations there as all the rooms were occupied. The officer noticed that the young woman was very quiet in what she said, but did not suspect that anything was wrong. He next took them to the City Hotel, and accosted the porter, where they were assigned a room for the night, and after thanking the officer for his kindness, bid him "good night." The couple, it is said, did not gather, and a glance over the hotel register this morning verified the fact. After breakfast in the morning, the young man stepped up to the office, paid his bill, and the couple quietly left the hotel without even disclosing their identity. During Wednesday afternoon arrived in town the girl's mother was almost distracted with grief over the action of her daughter who had left home unobserved. He also said that the girl had never been keep company with any man, but supposed the couple had met clandestinely, and perhaps arranged the elopement by letter. He did not disclose the name of the young man, but said the leaving instructions with the police to telegraph him in case the couple were apprehended, he left for home.

On Thursday evening, presumably the Fire Tuesday Morning.

At a little before three o'clock Tuesday morning, fire was discovered in a group of barns belonging to Mr. Moses Lee, brickers on Terrill road, near Two Bridges. The premises are occupied by John Gordon and his family, who were the first to discover the fire. A general alarm was sent out and the fire department responded with alacrity, but as the barns were located outside the city limits, the department apparatus was not taken there. In the group there were two barns 30x38 and 22x24 feet in dimensions, and a cow-shed 12x16 feet in dimensions. These were all destroyed, along with a lot of farming untensils, thirty tons of hay and about one hundred bushels of corn. The dwelling house stood but a few yards from the burned building, and this caught fire, but through the exertions of the neighbors the house was spared, and was but little damaged. All the fences about the buildings were burned for some distance. One of the Lee brothers told a PRESS reporter this morning that the loss would not fall short of $2,500 or $3,000, and was insured for $800 in the Mutual Company. The fire was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary, and it would seem that some one was carrying out the work alleged to have been laid out by Jackson. One thing, however, is certain, Jackson did not set fire to the barns this morning, and this fact will strengthen the supposition that all of the firebugs have not yet been captured. The Lee brothers and others offer a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the firebug.

An Interesting Suit.

Ex-Chief August Saltzman has just returned from a Summer vacation with his family in the vicinity of Kingston, N. Y., and Rondout. He was directed to Rev. Dr. Ketcham's house on East Fifth street, but he was also absent, enjoying himself at Beach Haven. Whether or not they succeeded in procuring the services of a clergyman to tie the knot is not known, but the supposition is that on account of the lateness of the hour, the affair was abandoned until yesterday, when it is thought they were privately married. The couple were still in the city last evening.

Since the above was written it has been ascertained that the girl whose name it is Jennie W. Smith is respectably connected at Newburgh. Until last Friday, the day on which she left home, she was employed as a saleswoman in the dry goods house of Burnet & Garvey, No. 75 Water street, Newburgh. By some of her associates it was considered as a settled fact that she was engaged to a young man named "Ed." Williams, although her mother was not aware of it. She is said to have run away with another named William Moore. The young woman is known to have received a letter, postmarked "Plainfield," a few weeks ago, but the writer's name is not known. Whitmore, it is said, has entered himself to associate the whereabouts of the woman of his choice, but probably will not know until he reads the account in the newspapers. Saturday, Special Officer Whitmore had a telegram from Newburgh, stating that nothing had been heard from the runaway couple.

THE TRUTH.

We can excuse a few errors that are liable to creep into any out-of town newspaper that is trying to give an account of something it does not know anything about. But we are bound to be surprised that a newspaper that is at some pains to be always accurate, should—after having almost a week to write the account in—and The Press to read every day—make so many glaring misstatements as have crept into the Somerville Gazette in article of Thursday headed "The Plainfield Firebugs." We can only spare the time and space to correct a few.

Plainfield has a sensation in the arrest of seven citizens charged with incendiarism during the past three years. Work after work from one to three buildings have been burned there until a reign of terror grew up driving many people to other cities, and keeping those who stayed behind in constant fear of being burnt out any night.

This is utter nonsense, pure clap-trap, and most pernicious.

Up to last Sunday morning the police seemed to be utterly unable to find a trace of the firebugs, and the result of entrapping the gang of incendiaries felt at last is an amateur detective, Edwin J. Murphy.

The police have found traces innumerable for months past, and those found, besides, but no evidence to fasten the crime. As to the gang being entrapped by an amateur detective—we do not yet know that there is any gang of any kind, but we do know that it was no detective but simply an informant who brought about the arrests.

The constant watching of the gang at night finally resulted in the Chief's illness, and about three weeks ago he went on a fortnight on a trip and left Lynch in charge. As was expected, the gang was emboldened by success with the Chief absent, and the fires became more frequent.

Nights of watching cost Chief Dodd such sickness and weariness. He left for Europe because there was no more probability just then of the firebugs being apprehended, than at any other time within the past six months. He left officer George W. Grant in charge, and under his orders officer Lynch, and Messrs. Carey and Mercer took their rest. Fires were no more frequent after Dodd's departure.

Murphy came to Plainfield about eight months ago and went to work at Scott's. Where he came from and why, our columns are open for him to state and thus quiet, at least, our most impatient curiosity to know.

So well did Murphy play his part that the neighbor merchants of Scott's, not in the secret, looked upon him as one of the toughs of the city.

That is true, and it stands out in the article as almost its only sentence of entire correctness.

Murphy ingratiated himself into the confidence of the gang and took bail all the conspirators numbered.

As we said before, we have no proof—not even evidence—that there was any "gang." Anyway, we have not yet been presented by him with the "conspirators numbered," nor any number of conspirators.

On Saturday night he was met by Jackson, who asked him to go along with him and try for a shot at some of the fires. Murphy says he ones again tried to induce Jackson, who is of good family, and who has a wife and nine children, to give up such work.

That fire was the only fire Murphy was ever at. If there had been a "gang" organized for the purpose, he would before have been on the spot and would now have some evidence. Saturday night, for the first time, he succeeded in roaxing Jackson—a rum-sodden, crazy and villainous crank, and drunk at the time—to take him to the barn. The above facts the reader can judge of the truth or the absurdity of the last sentence quoted. The evidence will show that after the drunken lunatic had poured the paper and kerosene and left the house, and the flames had died away, Murphy tried to induce him to go back and try again.

Other arrests are expected. It is thought Murphy's identity will not be discussed until all the persons wanted are in jail.

Of course, because all the excitement and the talk has not yet subsided—and because of just such an article as appears in the Gazette—other arrests are expected, but there is no reason to expect them. As to disclosing Murphy's identity—he will take care of that. He is one of all that are wanted are in jail, for we are willing to stake our reputation for discernment on that point—and that there is not a man outside of those now in custody, that has had actually and personally anything to do directly with the barn-burnings in Plainfield of the past year.

It is believed that the motives were of those who belonged to the Volunteer Fire Department, for jealousy of the latter's discipute and thus abolish it to make room for a paid department, in which they would secure employment.

The members of the Plainfield Vounteer Fire Department, elected to a man, are emphatically against a paid fire department. They have fought always and almost unanimously against its creation, and those arrested are certainly not of those the most emphatically against the project.

We have taken the trouble to correct a few of the above errors of a single article, not to be only critical but at the same time to set at rest the reports and rumors that are started by the irresponsible and for-related to those not in any of belief. We would say to our contemporary of Somerville—who we much admire and regard—and to every man, woman and child able to sit up and think for themselves—read last Sunday night's account of the capture and the correct and proper reporting of the case as published in The PRESS of Monday morning at daylight. Remembering that officer Lynch laid his hand on Jackson's shoulder and arrested him on those eight columns—clearly told and connected—is authentic and accurate. We believe this is a record never equalled, in any of the four that all other papers put together went home and to bed unable to gather any information.

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING COLUMN.

"Rackety-tack," a lasting and fragrant perfume. Price 25 and 50 cents. Sold by Field & Randolph.

Shiloh's Cure will immediately relieve Croup, Whooping Cough and Bronchitis. Sold by Field & Randolph.

The Matchless Cough can be so quickly cured by Shiloh's Cure. We guarantee it. Sold by Field & Randolph.

Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy—A positive cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria and Canker Mouth. Sold by Field & Randolph.

"Dr. Bull, Bought of Bourbon, Ind., says: "Both myself and wife use our time to Shiloh's Consumption Cure." Sold by Field & Randolph.

"The total cost of the second improvement on Somerset street, up to date, amounts to $392.87.

By Dropping and Lever Complaints, you have a printed guarantee on every bottle of Shiloh's Vitalizer. It never disappoints. Sold by Field & Randolph.

"Are you made miserable by Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Yellow Skin? Shiloh's Vitalizer is the remedy for you. It is almost wonderful in its effects. Sold by Field & Randolph.

"Dr. Bull, Bought of Bourbon, Ind., says: "Both myself and wife use our time to Shiloh's Consumption Cure." Sold by Field & Randolph.

"I am thoroughly pleased with Dr's Cream Baking Powder. It is the best I have ever used in the 20 years I have lived in housekeeping." Mrs. Lizzie Hall, Dallas, Texas. Sold by Field & Randolph.

"I have been for several years a sufferer from hay fever and severe head colds, and have tried almost everything without relief, but have found more than one, compared with Ely's Cream Balm, to be a perfect cure. Have no hesitation in saying it is almost wonderful in its effects." Sold by Field & Randolph.

"I am thoroughly pleased with Dr's Cream Baking Powder. It is the best I have ever used in the 20 years I have lived in housekeeping." Mrs. Lizzie Hall, Dallas, Texas. Sold by Field & Randolph.

"I have been for several years a sufferer from hay fever and severe head colds, and have tried almost everything without relief, but have found more than one, compared with Ely's Cream Balm, to be a perfect cure. Have no hesitation in saying it is almost wonderful in its effects." Sold by Field & Randolph.

"Dr. Bull, Bought of Bourbon, Ind., says: "Both myself and wife use our time to Shiloh's Consumption Cure." Sold by Field & Randolph.

"The total cost of the PLACE YOUR HAND IN MINE.

"In a round-twenty years to-day
Since we were man and wife—
And that's a tidy slice, I say,
From anybody's life.
And if we want in looking back,
To find how time has flown,
There's Jack, you see, our baby Jack,
With wisdom of his own.

There used to be a hand in mine, when
We've loved each other true;
And still, in shade or shine, when
There's love to help us through.

It's not been all smooth sailing, wife—
Not always that, my dear;
Sometimes it's been a weary strife
To keep the wolf away.
We've had our little tiffs, my dear;
We've quarreled and we've cried;
One lad has cost us many a tear,
And one has died.
Place your hand in mine, when
We've loved each other true;
And still, in shade or shine, when
There's love to help us through.

'Twas not the trade we are the least
That's been so long,
To ways we can not understand,
Still bringing us more wrong.
You've had no time and sept me true,
You've made me trust and pray;
My pride of dear when
That blessed the close of day.
Place your hand in mine, when
We've loved each other true;
And still, in shade or shine, when
There's love to help us through.

—Professor Longfellow.

TO DIE AT HIGH NOON.

A French Scout's Narrow Escape from a Horrible Death in the Mexican Desert.

There was not a more daring and active scout in Bazaine's army than Pierre Dandon.

When Pierre volunteered to slip into Quinquandon he knew what the risk meant in doing, it never occurred to him that there was the slightest danger.

Quinquandon was a little mountain village, with a small garrison, and Pierre determined to find out for himself its character. The son of a Spanish mother, he did not look much like a Frenchman, and spoke the language of the country like a native.

But there was one thing the scout had not thought of. Colonel Campos, when commanding the post of Quinquandon, had served out a number of rifles to the loyal part of the war. If Pierre had known this fact he would have left Quinquandon alone rather than play the spy in the vicinity of the terrible Campos.

At sunset the Frenchman waited boldly into the village and gave himself up to the first soldier he met.

His story was plausible enough. He had lost faith in Maximilian and his cause, and had grown weary of hard fighting and scanty rations. Moreover, he had fallen in love with a high-bred senorita, and could no longer bear arms against Mexico.

The sentinel called a corporal, and the story was repeated. To those simple soldiers it seemed that the deserter was telling the truth, and nothing but the truth.

"Ah, that French devil, Bazaine!" said the corporal, "he is frightened, is he not?"

"Unmistakably," said Pierre. "I have spoken truly. Bazaine is in despair. His army is starving for ammunition. They have nothing to eat, and the usurper is without money to pay them."

"In a few weeks they will be driven into the sea," said the enthusiastic corporal.

"You are a prophet," said Pierre, accepted the spy.

In the presence of Colonel Campos the Frenchman measured his words. The veteran listened without showing any interest or surprise. His leathery, weather-beaten face never changed its expression, and his eagle eyes were apparently fixed upon the ground.

"And you would serve the republic?" he asked, coldly.

"Try me," was the enthusiastic response.

"How shall I know that your story is true?"

"Let me escape," began Pierre.

"No!" shouted the Colonel in a voice of thunder.

The officers and soldiers gave a start of surprise, and for the first time Pierre felt uneasy.

"Bind him hand and foot!" was the unexpected order.

Despite the protestations two men carried out the Colonel's instructions, and then bracket the scout against a sitting posture against a convenient wall.

"A year ago," said Campos, "I captured that fellow near Nuevo Leon. I shot off the little finger on his right hand, and he made some fine work on the forehead with his saber. The villain escaped that night, but another prisoner told me all about him. He is not a soldier. He is a spy. He has caused more trouble than any other man in Bazaine's army. Why do you deny it? What have you to say?"

"The Colonel is mistaken," said Pierre, "I never saw him before, and I am no spy. My name is Jean Rouville."

"Lie!" shouted the Colonel.

A glance showed that the prisoner's right hand was minus a finger.

"Only a coincidence," muttered Pierre.

"Guard him well," said the Colonel. "No scout married is scouted here," and the garrison soldier walked off.

During the night he was, Pierre saw that he could not escape. His eyes moved restlessly about, but there was nothing to encourage hope.

"The barbarians," he growled. "They will butcher me in cold blood. I doubt whether they will be kind enough to hang me. No, they will break their necks to get the chances are that he is even now inventing some diabolical tortures. Well, it is the fortune of war."

Quinquandon did not look very interesting by the light of the moon, but it was strongly against the Colonel's headquarters. There was a plaza and a few scattered houses around it, and on one side, a church they had been destroyed by fire. There were no officers, and the soldiers had either abandoned the town, leaving it to the garrison.

"There are not more than three hundred of the rascals," thought Pierre, with regret. "Less! Wouldn't I like to see some of our cavalry scouts along. They would find a place in the twinkling of an eye."

Just then a bugle sounded, strong, and lifting Pierre in their arms, carried him to the center of the plaza. The captive at first thought that the hour had arrived, and the men proceeded in solemn silence to tie him to the stake. But they merely produced an old-fashioned twelve-pounder, pointed at the vacant side of the square. They loaded the gun, and Pierre thought it made of the gun, so serenely that it was impossible for him to be alarmed.

Pierre thought of the brutal British fashion of blowing the prisoners from the mouths of cannon, and wondered whether he was to be served in the same way.

"It will be talked about all over Mexico," said the scout, summoning up courage. "The French will get it into their heads that they are not the only people who fight well, and very few will be willing to face such a death."

"Comrade," said Pierre to one of the soldiers, after the Colonel had gone, "does he mean to kill me?"

"When the noonday sun strikes that," replied the soldier, "it will be all over."

Pierre looked at the sun, which was then work over the breech of the gun. On the top of this was a little sight, which he bright and dazzling that it made his eyes blink.

"If not mistreated," he said.

"The burning sun," explained the soldier, "is so placed that it fires the powder over the gun. It never misses its mark."

The victim shuddered. There was something horrible in the idea of being killed by the bright luminary whose rays had all his life given him light and warmth.

He knew that even in the large cities of Mexico what was called the noonday gun was fired by the sun's rays passing through the dry season. For six months in the year there was never a cloud in the sky, and the scientific toy was a never-failing farm itself.

The guard paced up and down his beat, and Pierre was left to his meditations.

He struggled until his strength was gone, trying to loosen the cords, but they was useless.

His head fell upon his breast, and he closed his eyes. But he could not calm himself, and he again looked at the sun square. All of the soldiers were marching off with the exception of one company. It was evident that the French scouts were supposed to be in the neighborhood.

"Stranger things have happened," thought Pierre, "I may yet be rescued."

His eyes turned upward, and he saw that the sun was almost directly overhead.

He planted down the gun to the priming, and it seemed to be all over. Could have the fining noise of the powder.

The sun was intensely hot, and this inspired terror.

"Saints above!" groaned the poor wretch, "I've seen a day as that before. I will go off ahead of time!"

What did it matter? A few minutes would not save him. The glass shone with an infernal brilliancy, and not a speck of cloud was to be seen.

"If ever I do get out of this," groaned Pierre.

He did not say what he would do. There was no use in making any promises.

Higher and higher in the heavens moved the flaming orb. Surely it was noon!

The half-fainting prisoner held his breath. The muscles of his face twitched nervously, and his every nerve fixed in the intense stare upon the other end of the gun.

Like the echo of an echo came a familiar sound wafted upon the mountain breeze.

"Cuckoo! cuckoo!" sounded faint through his pallid lips.

Was it a bugle? Even if it was it was too late. If relief came it would have to be at once.

Louder, clearer, sounded the triumphant note, proving forth the sweetest ring that the listener had ever heard. He threw his head back, and the light of hope and joy once more flashed in his eyes.

"Thank God!" he shouted, "whether I am saved or not, those yellow dogs will soon be in full flight."

The Mexicans heard the French bugles, and in another moment Quinquandon was in a tumult of disorder.

But the defenders of the town, weakened by the departure of their comrades in the morning, were unable to cope with any thing like a strong force, and no sooner did the French flash through, and pursue him the Mexicans fled to the woods, fully half of them being shot down before they reached shelter.

Pierre's bonds were cut by a trooper, who, in his three attacks of his sword, left the prisoner free.

To Pierre's immeasurable gratification, Colonel Campos and his command had been captured on the way and brought to town by the advance.

"I must see him," said the spy. "I have a little statement to make to the Colonel."

Boom!

"There!" yelled Pierre. "I had forgotten all about the gun!"

The smoke slowly lifted, and on the open side of the plaza was seen a group of dead and dying Mexicans. The discharge had accounted just as the prisoners were marching by.

One of the unfortunates was lying on his face, but turned over at the cry of an officer of high rank.

Pierre forced this man over, gave one look at his face, and then fell upon his knees in deep prayer of thanksgiving.

The dead man he had recognized Colonel Campos!—Wallace P. Reed, in Atlanta Constitution.

THE PONY EXPRESS.

How the Late Bea Halliday Reduced Time Between San Francisco.

The death of Ben Halliday continues to call forth the praise of the many associations and triumphs of overland transportation before the period of transcontinental railroading, says Springfield (Mass.) Republican. Halliday was a born organizer and manager, and he originated Colonel Campos!—Wallace P. Reed, in Atlanta Constitution.

The death of Ben Halliday continues to call forth the praise of the many associations and triumphs of overland transportation before the period of transcontinental railroading, says Springfield (Mass.) Republican. Halliday was a born organizer and manager, and he originated the Pike's Peak and Montana stage lines, and was for a long time the owner. In 1859 Russell sent Halliday to Salt Lake to solicit a contract to supply the government posts in Utah with mail at one-half cents per pound. But the transcontinental railroad was only twenty-five and one-half cents more. Halliday discovered that Russell, Majors & Waddell had a great quantity stored up, and bargained with him to mail and deliver it for seven cents, by which Halliday cleared $100,000 by keeping his eyes open. Mr. Russell had organized the Pony Express, although Halliday was the first to put it in operation. The contract for the service was awarded at twenty days and after a million had been spent upon the enterprise, as reported in the papers below, on the 8th of April, 1860, police would start from San Francisco and St. Joseph, Mo., and the riders along the overland express route being provided with frequent relays. There were to be ten days' transportation. People gathered at St. Joseph as the pony started west from the Missouri River terminus, and in eight days and four hours the letters were delivered in San Francisco. For this express walked off with the government contracts and, as letters were five dollars beside postage, there was money in it.

"And you would serve the republic?" he asked, coldly.

"Try me," was the enthusiastic response.

"How shall I know that your story is true?"

"Let me escape," began Pierre.

"No!" shouted the Colonel in a voice of thunder.

The officers and soldiers gave a start of surprise, and for the first time Pierre felt uneasy.

"Bind him hand and foot!" was the unexpected order.

Despite the protestations two men carried out the Colonel's instructions, and then bracket the scout against a sitting posture against a convenient wall.

"A year ago," said Campos, "I captured that fellow near Nuevo Leon. I shot off the little finger on his right hand, and he made some fine work on the forehead with his saber. The villain escaped that night, but another prisoner told me all about him. He is not a soldier. He is a spy. He has caused more trouble than any other man in Bazaine's army. Why do you deny it? What have you to say?"

"The Colonel is mistaken," said Pierre, "I never saw him before, and I am no spy. My name is Jean Rouville."

"Liar!" shouted the Colonel.

A glance showed that the prisoner's right hand was minus a finger.

"Only a coincidence," muttered Pierre.

"Guard him well," said the Colonel. "No scout married is scouted here," and the garrison soldier walked off.

During the night he was, Pierre saw that he could not escape. His eyes moved restlessly about, but there was nothing to encourage hope.

"The barbarians," he growled. "They will butcher me in cold blood. I doubt whether they will be kind enough to hang me. No, they will break their necks to get the chances are that he is even now inventing some diabolical tortures. Well, it is the fortune of war."

Quinquandon did not look very interesting by the light of the moon, but it was strongly against the Colonel's headquarters. There was a plaza and a few scattered houses around it, and on one side, a church they had been destroyed by fire. There were no officers, and the soldiers had either abandoned the town, leaving it to the garrison.

"There are not more than three hundred of the rascals," thought Pierre, with regret. "Less! Wouldn't I like to see some of our cavalry scouts along. They would find a place in the twinkling of an eye."

Just then a bugle sounded, strong, and lifting Pierre in their arms, carried him to the center of the plaza. The captive at first thought that the hour had arrived, and the men proceeded in solemn silence to tie him to the stake. But they merely produced an old-fashioned twelve-pounder, pointed at the vacant side of the square. They loaded the gun, and Pierre thought it made of the gun, so serenely that it was impossible for him to be alarmed.

Pierre thought of the brutal British fashion of blowing the prisoners from the mouths of cannon, and wondered whether he was to be served in the same way.

"It will be talked about all over Mexico," said the scout, summoning up courage. "The French will get it into their heads that they are not the only people who fight well, and very few will be willing to face such a death."

"Comrade," said Pierre to one of the soldiers, after the Colonel had gone, "does he mean to kill me?"

"When the noonday sun strikes that," replied the soldier, "it will be all over."

Pierre looked at the sun, which was then work over the breech of the gun. On the top of this was a little sight, which he bright and dazzling that it made his eyes blink.

"If not mistreated," he said.

"The burning sun," explained the soldier, "is so placed that it fires the powder over the gun. It never misses its mark."

The victim shuddered. There was something horrible in the idea of being killed by the bright luminary whose rays had all his life given him light and warmth.

He knew that even in the large cities of Mexico what was called the noonday gun was fired by the sun's rays passing through the dry season. For six months in the year there was never a cloud in the sky, and the scientific toy was a never-failing farm itself.

The guard paced up and down his beat, and Pierre was left to his meditations.

He struggled until his strength was gone, trying to loosen the cords, but they was useless.

His head fell upon his breast, and he closed his eyes. But he could not calm himself, and he again looked at the sun square. All of the soldiers were marching off with the exception of one company. It was evident that the French scouts were supposed to be in the neighborhood.

"Stranger things have happened," thought Pierre, "I may yet be rescued."

His eyes turned upward, and he saw that the sun was almost directly overhead.

He planted down the gun to the priming, and it seemed to be all over. Could have the fining noise of the powder.

The sun was intensely hot, and this inspired terror.

"Saints above!" groaned the poor wretch, "I've seen a day as that before. I will go off ahead of time!"

What did it matter? A few minutes would not save him. The glass shone with an infernal brilliancy, and not a speck of cloud was to be seen.

"If ever I do get out of this," groaned Pierre.

He did not say what he would do. There was no use in making any promises.

Higher and higher in the heavens moved the flaming orb. Surely it was noon!

The half-fainting prisoner held his

BARBER PHILOSOPHY.

A Mint of Information on an Interesting Subject.

Points from an Observer Who has Heard His Fellow-Men Variously Talk at Fraschers, Dorrins and Brakers Near Trade Rush.

"It is not true that peachy-cheeked boys are less prominent to shaving," said a fifth officers of the Barbers' Union, who has been connected with the trade for thirty years, to a New York Sun reporter. "The tendency to shave early is on the increase. The fashion now is to have a heavy razor with a wide edge and more the beard off.

"Boys are not easy to shave well. The hair on their face has no strength, and the razor glides over it without taking it off. One of the barber's latest patrons which is Colonel Campos and his command had been captured on the way and brought to town by the advance.

"I must see him," said the spy. "I have a little statement to make to the Colonel."

Boom!

"There!" yelled Pierre. "I had forgotten all about the gun!"

The smoke slowly lifted, and on the open side of the plaza was seen a group of dead and dying Mexicans. The discharge had occurred just as the prisoners were marching by.

One of the unfortunates was lying on his face, but turned over at the cry of an officer of high rank.

Pierre forced this man over, gave one look at his face, and then fell upon his knees in deep prayer of thanksgiving.

The dead man he had recognized Colonel Campos!—Wallace P. Reed, in Atlanta Constitution.

THE PONY EXPRESS.

How the Late Bea Halliday Reduced Time Between San Francisco.

The death of Ben Halliday continues to call forth the praise of the many associations and triumphs of overland transportation before the period of transcontinental railroading, says Springfield (Mass.) Republican. Halliday was a born organizer and manager, and he originated the Pike's Peak and Montana stage lines, and was for a long time the owner. In 1859 Russell sent Halliday to Salt Lake to solicit a contract to supply the government posts in Utah with mail at one-half cents per pound. But the transcontinental railroad was only twenty-five and one-half cents more. Halliday discovered that Russell, Majors & Waddell had a great quantity stored up, and bargained with him to mail and deliver it for seven cents, by which Halliday cleared $100,000 by keeping his eyes open. Mr. Russell had organized the Pony Express, although Halliday was the first to put it in operation. The contract for the service was awarded at twenty days and after a million had been spent upon the enterprise, as reported in the papers below, on the 8th of April, 1860, police would start from San Francisco and St. Joseph, Mo., and the riders along the overland express route being provided with frequent relays. There were to be ten days' transportation. People gathered at St. Joseph as the pony started west from the Missouri River terminus, and in eight days and four hours the letters were delivered in San Francisco. For this express walked off with the government contracts and, as letters were five dollars beside postage, there was money in it.

WIDOWS IN THRONGS.

Every Species Known to the Genus to Be Found in Saratoga.

A correspondent of the New York Times in enumerating the various classes of widows of importance to no other attraction at Saratoga. Apropos of the paper below, the widows. If any man wanted to make a rotten paper he could do it by getting every grocery, post-market package stamps, coins and other very interesting things, he would find widows in every one of them, and in the course of the present century at any one of the hotels he would find a widow to every permanent is a widow, but she is a nice widow, and a rich one in every case, the richest widow in the world, and she is also of some embarrassing. Of them all a certain Philadelphia widow is looked upon as the most effective. She has fine jewelry, but nothing startling about it compares with a pair of eyes—widow's eyes which she uses with matchless ability. They are black, and when she is most attractive, commonplace faces, a little melancholy, but not enough to make her features mellowed by time. Some of them, in fact, have a little of it, but not to help make hopes of that second bridal ring and inquire with Christian diligence into the widow's affairs.

Their leader, by common consent, is a Mrs. Colonel Hughes, who has been for days and woes of three marriages have invested her with an experience to which the Sphinx is a child of a day. She comes back with tears to two occasions, when the number of the casket grew to a number that richer has made them faint with agony, but she is the only one who looks upon the melancholy of that kind and lived. As she is the best of company, has a sympathetic heart and $1,000,000, it is within the possibility that she may yet again listen to the Mendelssohn wedding march, and will be more than welcome.

Next to her in point of interest are the moments of his hair and beard to see which are most becoming, and—should consult with his valet as to the size of a pin for a clam. A barber can not do what's best for a man because he is a barber, and that is the secret in it. The owner of the hair should be consulted. There are men who look well in a full beard, while others look well with a mustache, and there are men who look well with a full beard, while others look well with a mustache, and there are men who look well with a full beard, while others look well with a mustache, and there are men who look well with

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY,
AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XX. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1887. No. 37.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union as it is; its authorities." —Madison.

Rates of Advertising

Space	1 Week	2	3	1 Month	2	3	6	12
1 in.	$ .50	.90	1.20	$ 1.50	2.50	3.50	5.00	8.00
2 in.	1.00	1.60	2.00	2.50	4.00	5.50	8.00	14.00
3 in.	1.50	2.40	3.00	3.50	5.50	7.50	11.00	20.00
¼ col.	2.50	4.00	5.00	6.00	9.00	12.00	18.00	30.00
½ col.	4.00	6.50	8.00	10.00	15.00	20.00	30.00	50.00
1 col.	7.00	11.00	14.00	18.00	28.00	36.00	50.00	90.00

All Electro's must be solid metal.
"Lists of Everything" column, 5 cts. per line.
Double cols. 50 per ct. advance of above rates.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

O. L. JENKINS, M. D.,
Homœopathist,
office: No. 20 North Second Street, next Front Street. Office Hours—7 to 9 A. M., 1 to 2 P. M. and 7 to 9 P. M. apr 16-87.

JACKSON & CODINGTON,
Counsellors-at-Law,
Commissioners of deeds, Masters-in-Chancery, 3 Spruce Street, Fifteen minutes' walk from Arcade and Second street cars.—1oct

GEORGE W. DAY,
General Auctioneer,
Sales of Personal Property solicited. P. O. Box 102, Dunellen, N. J., or address in care of Constructive Locomotive Works, Dunellen.

DR. CHARLES S. TERRIS,
Dentist,
20 West Front street. A new local anæsthetic applied to the gums for extracting teeth, without pain. Gold filling a specialty.—jy16

H. BABB,
Auctioneer,
P. O. Address, Lock Box 22. Branch Parlor, No. 2 Mason block, east of F. J. Carey's second hand store, at which place of business, Mr. Babb will be found. Terms reasonable; prompt attention.—may27

O'GRADY & TRALLE,
Architects,
317 Broadway, New York, and Rooms 9 and 10, (Insurance Building), Plainfield, (Netherwood Building), Rockdenvia, Plainfield, N. J.—jan21

WM. E. MCCLURE,
Attorney-at-Law,
MASTER IN CHANCERY, NOTARY PUBLIC.
Commissioner of Deeds. Office, North avenue opposite depot.—may27

J. R. FENSTER,
Veterinary Surgeon.
Office in R. M. Sergeant's livery office, corner Main Street and Madison avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Horses and cattle carefully attended. Telephone call No. 14. Residence, Rockdenvia, 72 East Fifth street.—jy22

ARTHUR P. MILLER,
Attorney-at-Law,
(Successor to the late Wm. M. Kinney), solicitor in Chancery, Notary Public, Conveyancer and Real estate agent. Office and lake adjacent property. Office over First National Bank.—1oct87

F. A. DENBAW,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor,
No. 3 Park avenue, Cowan's building. Public improvements, drainage, sewerage, topographical surveys. Perfect work, to all parts of the country.—jy22

DR. J. F. GRIFFEN,
Electric Baths.
Dr. Griffen treats all Nervous affections. Chronic diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint successfully by Electricity and Electric Baths. Consultation free, at his office, 317 Broadway, Rooms 9 and 10, Second street, corner Washington.—my14-87

BUSINESS CARDS.

ROBERT JAHN,
TIN AND COPPER-SMITH,
Scotch Plains,
(Fanwood P. O.), Window Screens and Heater work; Pumps, Troughs, and all kinds of sheet metal work, the best and the cheapest. Second Hand Ventilated Caps. Repairing promptly attended to.—jy16

TO THE PUBLIC !

We wish to inform our customers and the public generally that we have on hand the best quality of

LEHIGH COAL,

Fresh from the Mines.

It is under cover and well protected from the weather. We are prepared to deliver it well screened and in good order promptly. We are also prepared to furnish all kinds of Seasoned Lumber and Masons' Materials at short notice.

A. D. COOK & BRO.
jan21

J. Hervey Doane,
9 PARK AVENUE.
[Formerly Grier's.]

Watches,
Clocks
And Jewelry.

Repairing neatly and promptly done. apr1

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, VEGETABLES, DRIED FRUIT, ETC.
CORNER EMILY AND DUER STREETS
North Plainfield, New Jersey.

Celebrated Pilsbury Flour,
THE BEST IN THE MARKET.

ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED. Thankful for past patronage I solicit a continuance Respectfully,
WILLIAM H. SHOTWELL.
apr15

BOSTON CLOTHING HOUSE
42 W. FRONT ST.
Reliable Goods at Low Prices.
Order Department
Under the well-known Cutter,
NEWTON P. DRAKE.
Correct Styles. Right Prices
myst87

Geo. A. Moore,
(Of the late firm of Moore Bros.)
is now the sole proprietor of the well-established market at
No. 14 NORTH AVENUE,
where he will continue to supply patrons with the finest grades of Fresh and Salt meats, Fish of all kinds, Oysters, Clams, Game in season, at the lowest market prices. Anything not usually kept in stock furnished at short notice.
Edward Ramonetti,
OYSTER AND ICE CREAM SALOON.

OYSTERS BY THE QUARE, 100 OR 1000.

CHARLOTTE RUSSE MADE TO ORDER.

All Orders Promptly Attended to.
24 NORTH AVENUE,
Plainfield, New Jersey. Telephone Call No. 19.
jy29

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

Force's Hotel !
NORTH AVENUE
Near R. R. Depot, Plainfield, New Jersey.
JAMES H. FORCE, - - Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY HOTEL.
Transient guests taken at reasonable rates.

Bottled Liquors a Specialty.

Laing's Hotel !
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

J. B. MILLER & BRO., - Proprietors.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.

James Conneely
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a first-class
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 32 PARK AVENUE,
Where he will be pleased to furnish his friends and patrons with the choicest brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors. apr15

TURF EXCHANGE HOTEL.
72 Courtlandt street,
CORNER WASHINGTON, NEW YORK CITY
FRED. W. BALLARD, - - Proprietor.
(Formerly of Jersey City), is now conducting the above popular hotel, and will be pleased to see his friends and patrons. Restaurant, 72 East Fifth street.—jy22

Permanent and Transient Board, at reasonable. First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all (reasonable) hours. 3jan87

SOMERSET HOTEL,
Cor. Somerset & Emily Sts., North Plainfield, N. J.
Permanent and Transient Board, at reasonable. First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all (reasonable) hours. 3jan87

C. E. JOHNSON,
If late firm of Shepherd, Johnson & Godson.
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
Office adjoining City Hotel on Second street, near Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey. Residence, 15 East Second street. Jobbing especially.—jan87

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
SALESROOM—Madison Avenues: From St. Plainfield, N. J.
Goods received on consignment.

MRS. E. J. MARTIN'S
MAGIC RENOVATING FLUID.
For cleaning out grease from any kind of goods, without soaking or injuring the finest fabric. Also, for cleaning kid gloves, crape, lace, satin, ribbons, fur hats, and all articles of wearing apparel on record; removes grease spots and dirt from carpets, &c. Agents wanted. Depot for the sale of Mrs. Martin's Magic Renovating Fluid, at Mrs. E. J. Martin's dress-making establishment, No. 6 Somerset street, Mrs. Hoyt's and Porter's Fancy Goods Store, No. 5 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. apr24

JOHN JOHNSTON,
DEALER IN
COAL!
YARD AND OFFICE, SOUTH AVENUE, NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
The best quality of screened coal at the lowest market price for cash. Address all orders to Netherwood P. O.—jan7-87

Park Avenue Bakery!
JOHN WALKER. Prop'r
FAMILIES can find FRESH supplied with the Celebrated
VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS,
Also all Varieties of
Pies, Cake and Confectionery.
apr27

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.

THORBURN & CO.'S GARDEN SEEDS.
BEST IN THE WORLD.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE.
apr87

MICHAEL UHDAL,
CONTRACTOR
AND LANDSCAPE GARDENER
Residence :
NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
P. O. BOX 787, PLAINFIELD.

P. O. Box 2, Netherwood, N. J.

FINE FOOT WEAR.
BEST MAKES,
LATEST STYLES,
AT THE
NEW SHOE STORE
Doane & Van Arsdale
22 WEST FRONT STREET.

SANITARY PLUMBING,
Brick and Portable Furnaces,
GAS FITTING,
TIN ROOFING,
Etc., Etc.

I am prepared to do any of the above branches in a workmanlike manner, and guarantee satisfaction. Having purchased the stock with which Mr. Wm. Fitzgerald has been connected with for the past 20 years, I believe I can please those who favor me with their patronage. Shop on Second street, rear of Dunellen Hotel. Residence, 72 East Fifth street. Jobbing especially.

D. W. LITTELL,
No. 2 NORTH AVE. opp. Depot Plainfield, N. J.

EDUCATIONAL.

RODMAN SEMINARY,
20 E. 5th Street. Will Re-open
SEPT. 15.
For circulars address,
MRS. R. G. DINGEE, Principal.
stmh

Miss S. G. Kenny's
SCHOOL FOR GIRLS
WILL RE-OPEN
Thursday, Sept. 22d, 1887.
For particulars address,
MISS S. G. KENNY, P. O. Box 309.
stmh

MR. LEAL'S SCHOOL
WILL RE-OPEN
Monday, Sept. 19, 1887.

MISCELLANEOUS.

ARTESIAN WELLS.

F. A. W. STOTHOFF
Are prepared to Sink Wells any depth up to 600 feet, and Tube them if needed. Pumps and Force Pumps of all kinds. Orders left at Jenkins, of Plainfield, P. O. address, Flemington, will receive prompt attention.

STEAM HEATING,
FOR CHURCHES, SCHOOLS, and DWELLINGS.
J. N. SCHENCK,
Plainfield, N. J.
P. O. Box 1051.—sp9y1

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.,
TO HIRE. CHARGES REASONABLE.
Hugo Weigman,
No. 8 EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
jan87

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST,
Residence—Harmony street, North Plainfield, (north from the Depot). Consultation hours, 9 A. M. to 9 P. M. Satisfaction guaranteed or no charge.
In English, German and French.

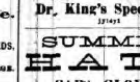
My husband is a first-class Chopper, and repairs sofas, pa'ls, barrels, etc., cheap for cash.

Electrical Work !
ELECTRICAL WORK.—WE ARE PREPARED to contract all kinds of Electrical work, from a call bell to a completely equipped house. We guarantee all work done by us, and as a third price take care of electrical apparatus by the year. Satisfaction guaranteed in all cases. Terms and maintaining it in thorough working order.
PLAINFIELD DISTRICT TELEGRAPH CO.,
No. 8 PARK AVENUE.
C. M. GODDARD, - Manager.
jy30tf

CAREY'S
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE, NO. 45 WEST FRONT STREET.
Nearly opposite Laing's Hotel, Plainfield, N. J.

Having leased the above premises I am prepared to buy and sell second-hand Furniture. Carpets, Stoves, etc. I will also take Furniture in exchange for moving. Furniture, etc., stored. P. O. Box 489.—may1

DOOR NUMBERS,
DOOR BELLS,
DOOR PLATES,
AT
DICKINSON & CLAWSON'S,
13 PARK AVENUE.
Side Agents for



Dr. King's Spectacles.
jy1y1

SUMMER
HATS.
CAPS, GLOVES,
Trunks, Valises, Etc
Call and Examine the Elegant Stock of
Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods at
F. A. POPE'S,
(Successor to H. Formosella.)
No. 5 W. Front-st.
apr30

WERNER'S
—ONE PRICE—
Clothing House !
COME AND SEE US IN OUR
NEW STORE,
NO. 30 W. FRONT STREET.

JUST RECEIVED.
The Newest Styles
OF Seasonable Goods,
FOR—
MEN, BOYS AND CHILDREN.
AND IN NECKWEAR AND GENT'S FURNISHING GOODS.

Which we will gladly show you, even though you do not wish to buy. Call at front and rear and we are confident we can please you. Call and see us before purchasing elsewhere. No trouble to show goods.

WERNER'S
CLOTHING HOUSE,
30 30 WEST FRONT STREET.

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPPLIES

Paints, Varnishes, Glass,
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALL PAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.
apr2

Weaver Bros.
House & Sign Painting, Graining,
Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a specialty.
Office and Shop in the rear of
126 EAST FRONT STREET,
D. WEAVER. P. O. Box 301. P. WEAVER

W. N. ROWE,
PAINTER AND DECORATOR,
Dealer in Paints, Oil, Varnishes, Glass, Brushes etc. WALL PAPER and WINDOW SHADES from the cheapest to the finest. Paper hanging and whitewashing promptly attended to. No 18 E. FRONT ST., Plainfield. P. O. Box 1142, and 1, Fairfield, N. J. P. O. Box 138.—sp9y1

L. D. WOOLSTON. J. P. BUCKLE
Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS,
Wall Papers,
PAINTER'S SUPPLIES. 28 NORTH AVENUE
apr87

MILLINERY.

Mrs. J. M. Dunn,
FASHIONABLE MILLINER,
LATEST SHAPES OF
BONNETS AND HATS
FRENCH IMPORTED FLOWERS.
Feathers, Velvets, Plushes, Ratines, Laces, etc., Fancy Goods and Novelties; Dress and Infants' Caps a Specialty.
PINKING, BLEACHING & PRESSING.
Feathers Dyed. Cleaned and Curled AT SHORT NOTICE.
14 West Front street.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana.
CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Tobacco always on hand.
Smoke a Segar in Great Variety.
apr87

O. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
—SEGARS!—
No. 28 PARK AVE., (near corner of SECOND ST.) PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Segar Materials, of every description.
The celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, with other choice brands constantly on hand.

S. E. FLOWER'S.
All New York Prices, Sundis to West Front street. Scissors for drawing and oil painting. apr30

C. L. TRALLEY, N. D. SMALLEY
Smalley Bros.,
DEALERS IN
Fresh and Salt Meats, Poultry, Etc.
IN SOMERSET STREET. 69TH PLAINFIELD.
Orders called for and delivered. A share of the public patronage is solicited.—1may

Benj. F. Moore,
(Late of Moore Bros.)
BUTCHER,
And dealer in FRESH AND SALT MEATS POULTRY, ETC., etc. Somerset and Second street will be open and ready for business WEDNESDAY, MARCH 30TH. Orders called for and promptly delivered. Telephone Call 111.—mh30

PICTURE FRAMES—
OF ALL KINDS, AT
S. E. FLOWER'S.
All New York Prices, Sundis to West Front street. Scissors for drawing and oil painting. apr30

MAYNARD & HILL,
PRACTICAL BARBERS
AND
Artistic Hair Dressers,
No. 20 PARK AVENUE,
Ladies and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residences. Shaving, Shampooing, &c., satisfactorily performed.

Every Visual Defect Corrected.

WM. H. EINHAUS, Optician,
43 NASSAU ST., NEAR LIBERTY,
3 Minutes Walk from Cortlandt Street Ferry,
NEW YORK.
My improved system of fitting glasses by perfect adjustment of the optical centres, with a newly designed ophthalmometer, enables me to suit the most difficult cases of defective vision. Persons who have been unsuccessfully fitted elsewhere would do well to their advantage to give me a trial. I make no charge for examining the eyes, and will be pleased to show the use of the instrument to any one who may call.

THE BEST
BRAZILIAN PEBBLES,
In Fine Steel Frames, $2.50.
ESTABLISHED 1867.

Carney Bros.,
PRACTICAL
Plumbers, Tinners & Gas Fitters,
And Dealers in
Heaters, Ranges and Stoves.
Dealers in all Kinds of Stoves, Heaters and Ranges, Repairs for all kinds of Stoves kept constantly on hand. Stoves, Heaters and Ranges put up and repaired under our personal supervision by first-class workmen. Special attention to heavy Steam Heating. All orders left at our store will receive prompt attention.

The Economic Gas Engine.

This little Gas Engine may be daily seen in operation in our window, pumping the water for water for hour at the small cost of 1½ cents per hour. A number of prominent gentlemen have purchased them, and in every case we have received satisfactory testimonials.

Our Sanitary Plumbing

Department is, as it always has been, managed and conducted by a practical Plumber, who has had years of experience in the most intricate and difficult jobs of Plumbing, and we guarantee the best of materials and workmanship in every job done by us.

We Guarantee Our Work.

We are under many obligations to our friends and patrons for favors in the past, and hope by strict attention to business to merit a continuance of the same. Thanking you for favors in the past, we are yours truly,
CARNEY BROS.
apr87

7 and 9 Somerset street.

LIFE'S JOURNEY.

As we speed out of youth's sunny shore
To the misty ocean in whose wide sea
But in suddenly shoots over steamer
Are the lights of the harbor of night,
And the hearts that soon leave in the morning
Are the hearts that return at noon.
As they pause at the City of Sorrow
Or glide on to the port of Joy.

But the road of this perilous journey
The hand of the Master has made;
With a love infinite and unfailing
We meet not by art or afraid.
For the Hand that first launched the ocean,
Ways plunging from silence to despair,
Wind out from the Unknown forever
To feeds that are bounding and fair.

That the cocks and the shadows surround us,
That the sea wears the gloom of a day
Answers, fair riders are hanging
Just dipping white feet in some bay
And always, eternal, forever,
The Hand on the Chart rests the way.
The last final end of our journey,
There lies the Great Haven of Rest.

'Tis the Grand Central point of all railways,
All roads center here when they end;
Thus the Lines that run East and run West
All royal lines meet Love and bend.
All highways, all byways, all paths,
If stains or tangled for or bright,
All crooked and straight and devious,
Will bring you at last to this spot.

If you pause at the City of Trouble
Or linger in Valley of Woe,
Be patient, the train will more onward
And bear you to Love's Repose.
Whatever the place is you look for,
Whatever the goal you pursue,
You shall come at the last with rejoicing
To the mansion Home of Rest.

You shall store all your baggage of sorrow,
You shall feel perfect peace in this realm,
You shall drink of the Fount of Forgiveness
While joy and delight at the helm.
And the souls who have loved you and pardoned
With those who have loved you the best,
And those who have lost by your passing
You shall find in the City of Rest.
—Alice Wilson Fitch, in Kind Words.

MONTANA GOPHERS.

Cunning Rodents That Infest the Territory by Millions.

A Fort Keogh (M. T.) correspondent of the New York Times is authority for the statement that the gopher has been a source up in that Territory during the past twelve months, and from present indications the short (for it is neither more nor less than fiendish and fun) promises to eclipse in point of destructiveness the record and industry of former years. To be sure there are plenty of the natural enemies which, except in the shot it be classed wolves, prairie coyotes, badgers, foxes, and the like, prey on the bears. The latter boasts are carnivorous, and while not exactly dangerous in this latitude, never hesitate to attack when opportunity offers and, as a rule, wilfully destroy more than they eat at first, except when opposed to breech-loaders. We have seen the bear, wolf and many other beasts, kill these latter animals are never seen in the vicinity of the haunts of the berries and tender shrubs of the mountain foot hills to beef, lamb, veal, mutton or any other kind of meat.

All last winter and in former winters cowboys and ranchmen in other than these hands found it profitable as well as fruitful to lay in a supply of traps, poison or capture coyotes and wolves for the bounty offered by the Territory for the scalps of these animals, and the fact that the skins at profit obtainable afforded from furnishing cold clothing for a family for a year made last winter in one night $120 in bounties alone. Everybody was busy, and some thirty miles, but unfortunately a portion of the gophers, for the fall rains appeared subsequent to the destruction of the prairie dogs, which resulted in considerable loss, or rather a diminution of the prospective profits.

Referring to gophers or prairie groundsquirrels, as they are often here in Montana perhaps in greater numbers than elsewhere, it is the opinion of the writer, well known fact that they are prolific breeders, bearing their young early, eight, ten and ten at a litter, and sometimes as high as a dozen. A Crow Indian told me that he had killed twice a litter of as many of ones. A pair will produce from fifteen to twenty young annually, and as they are fully matured the vast numbers of them destroyed by the bounty hunters have been inhabitants of this northern belt for many years, it is not unreasonable to the thought of transforming the great American desert into a stockman's paradise; and the Crow Indians forward with a portion of the country by ranchers and farmers for the scalps of filling river bottoms and tributaries particularly sun-ying. Now the Crow Indians forward with a portion of the scalps of prairie dogs and gophers, and although not much for each head (ten cents for the cold climate of the year is the latter), yet so numerous are the little pests that the aggregate would be handsome, that even the Indians, with an eye to business, have begun to look upon it as a resource, besides numerous white hunters and cowboys out of employment, who thus find an easy way of obtaining a livelihood.

To those who are not familiar with the habits of the gopher, or prairie squirrel, he is a most interesting subject of study. The gopher is little animal, from eight to ten inches long, have a tail three to three and one-half inches in length, and a little animal weighs from one to two pounds. But any member of the family is likely to be found filling river bottoms and ravines from a chestnut to a reddish-brown, and in the Crow Indian reservation to a dark sallow gray, while the tips of the feet are a soft, velvety white. They are a great industry in the way of excavation, digging holes, eating the roots of trees, shrubs and grasses and filling river bottoms in many ways, which radiated from the home nest in the manner of the rabbit. They have always been a great annoyance to the writer when in camp. So sure as a piece of table cloth was left on the ground within reach, some prowling, sneaking, thieving gopher was just as sure to steal it out and carry off the plunder.

They run away with bacon, shoe-blacking, and in fact anything all possible for them to handle, and should one miss any article from camp, search for it in vain, for they don't change the much-abused aborigines with the theft, but go down to the gopher hole and find poor missing property without much trouble. The ramifications of the runways are curious constructions and well worthy of investigation. One would imagine that the animal was in the long run, where the big pile of dirt is; that the entrance to the hole is filled with the earth out at the exit once and left it there to be washed away by the rains. Instead, the creature first digs a hole in the ground, leaving the dirt at the mouth or entrance until the subterranean channel is long enough, then he stops up the mouth of the burrow on the inside, so that he can hardly find it afterward himself. As in-stances of their industry, one was seen by seeing these mounds would, upon finding no hole or cavity near by, come to the conclusion that the animal was dead. But the gopher, after extending his tunnel the desired length, takes a short upward and opens his way to the surface, then comes down to the hole without leaving it, and is buried or so of dirt around his front door.

From the main entrance of their dominions the rodents have their laterals in every direction, abandoning one and taking up another or lengthening out an old one as the food supply in the vicinity is exhausted. These laterals are not runways, but simply a supply room for the family larder.

When the gopher hunt was inaugurated in this Territory early in the spring the supply has been far in advance of the demand. In order to keep down the price Territorial authorities were a little taken aback at the enormous number of skins which have been and are still being brought in for bounty purposes. April 23 last, was given this respect, as the beauty surrounds found from the Territorial treasury office, for scalps of gopher skins, aggregated something over $1,000. Maybe not. Another day the officials on that day carefully waded the scalps of ground squirrels, and after the hole and pulled his hole in after him in order to escape the persistent and pedantic pursuit of man and dog. On the 24th of May 2,000 squirrels were received on that day, and on the 25th of May 3,000 more scalps were brought into Bozeman for bounty. On May 27 the number increased however, so as less than 10,000 gopher skins were carried to the treasury office for bounty. Of course the hunt for gophers will go on during office hours during the summer, and the result will be a large number of captures and slaughter.

A letter to Dr. Trenmor Proulx's report for the two months ending May 31, 1887, the number handed in at the ground squirrels captured, slaughtered and destroyed.

The result of the greatest activity seems to be the beautiful and fertile valley of the Yellowstone, which promises to be the garden of the Territory, and is largely belonging to be heard from the fruitful soil of that section being a particular favorite with the little burrowers. Phosphorous and strychnine seem to be the most successful poisons to catch the animals, although all of shooting, made up any good-sized pills of flour paste, dose the business quite effectually, although it may result in the killing of a horse or a barn-yard poultries, such as ducks, geese, chickens, dogs and possibly horses and cows, yet the yield is bound to be so great in one night that the Territorial bounty amply compensate for the destruction and them, after all, the object is accomplished in getting rid of the gophers in a twenty-four hours.

To sum up, forth, the gopher has positively created a boom all over Montana. The supply is simply inexhaustible, and, if the war of extermination is to be carried on to the bitter end, it is likely the Territorial treasury will profit before the nuisances are gotten rid of. The prairies and mountains will be covered with their runways, and in some cases the mountains themselves, as far as the perpetual snow line, are covered with the little gophers, who seem to thrive and prosper in the very body and the most glorious climate. The boys have lots of fun capturing them. While the bullets and arrows, cross-bows-clubs and guns they pay away at the innocent little thing's handsome sum each day in addition to the fun and pleasure it affords.

On July 7 the Territorial auditor and treasurer made their quarterly reports to Governor Leslie. The amount paid out for bears, wolves, coyotes, mountain lions, and squirrels, up to June 30, $21,000 of this sum has been paid for gophers alone, which will show to some extent the extent of the ravages of this species of immense promises to continue, and as it was the auditor's duty to attend Territorial expenses, $30,000, promises to exhaust all moneys in the Territorial treasury. Probably the most successful way to hunt gophers is to follow up or down the runways and shoot them. Ed. Kind.

Knowing the manner in which the runways are constructed, it is easy for a small in dimension, not of excessive length and accommodations, to enter at one hole and by the gopher themselves, a number of "learned" whether in pursuit of food or vision out each hole. Pour the water into the aperture, stand by with the club, and the gopher will surely run to the surface, but bear your soul in patience; and when you have killed one of the kind, do not go for air but rim on the scent with a club and secure for your own gopher for the job.

FATHER OF FORTY-ONE.

A Pennsylvania Housekeeper's Remarkable Experience with Twins.

A Harrisburg (Pa.) correspondent of the New York Times writes as follows: "I read a few days ago," said a member of the Reading bar, on a visit to the city, on account of a man in Western Pennsylvania who died the father of thirty-three children, as the papers said. When John Heffner, of Reading, was accidentally killed by a train in this city, in 1882, at the age of sixty-nine, he was the father of forty-one children, all by one woman, to whom he had given birth to twins. Heffner was one of Reading's characters, and was to the full vigor of his manhood when killed. His youthful fix record in the parochial line was never equaled by a Mormon bunchback. He was born in Berlin in 1813, and came to this country in March, 1833, Reading. Until he death he made a living by collecting and selling rags an i paper. His reputation for honesty was such that the records of the Berks County courts, in which he was often sued, were searched to see if he had ever been sued for debt. He was a witness in a law suit.

He was married first in 1835. In eight years his wife bore six seventeen children. The first and second years after their marriage she gave birth to twins. For four successive years she had twins at each birth to triplets. In the seventh year twins were born. The eighth year twins followed soon afterward. O the seventh year twins were born. The eighth year twins followed soon afterward. O the seventh year twins were born. The eighth year twins followed soon afterward. O

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE, A. L. FORCE.
Editors and Proprietors.

A COMBINE.

Some Republicans in the State of New York propose as an imaginary winning Presidential ticket the combined names of Robert T. Lincoln and Fred. D. Grant. Not because the suggested candidates are personally fitted for the two highest offices in the land, but with the delusive idea that, being sons of illustrious sires, the renown of the fathers may by chance become a talisman of success.

The day has passed by for that species of partisan engineering.

Majorities in this country have become too intelligent and watchful to be snared by vote-fowlers.

Candidates cannot at the present time extract character and ability from ancestral fame.

Every political tub must now stand upon its own bottom, or be rolled away.

VOX POPULI.

We have before commented on the fact that President Cleveland is exceedingly popular with the people, irrespective of partisan name, because they are thoroughly convinced of his honesty, executive ability and intention to do right.

Proof that he occupies such a high and deserving position in public favor throughout the entire United States, is every day increasingly manifest.

Ex-Governor Washburn, of Massachusetts, says—

"I am a Republican still, and shall probably remain so all my life, but I am free to say that Cleveland has made a capable and honest President. He has made good appointments, but the pressure on any President is always tremendous, and I think Mr. Cleveland has done what he thought was right."

That is the testimony of a distinguished Republican, one who does not condemn the President simply because he is a Democrat, but justly applauds him for the well-founded reason that he has made a capable and honest Chief Magistrate.

Governor Washburn echoes the voice of the people, not the clamor of scheming politicians, but the deliberate and truth-formed judgment of the voting masses, who prize aright the blessings of good government.

HONESTY AND CAPABILITY.

A broader platform cannot possibly be erected than those two words signify; and it is an encouraging sign that the people are growing more and more determined to pull down and break up every other kind.

For President,
GROVER CLEVELAND.

A GRAND BONANZA.

Flaming announcements have lately appeared in the public journals concerning alleged extraordinary concessions granted by the Chinese Government to a certain Baron Munchausen, or some other titled somebody, and a syndicate of American financial patriots, by the purchase of stretching telephones and telegraphs, and building railroads throughout the Flowery Kingdom, and establishing a grand Chinese-American Bank, with millions of capital and authority to manufacture and issue money, &c., &c., &c.

How much reality there is in a bonanza of that peculiar size and style cannot be ascertained, but if one half the story be found true, it will certainly denote the most remarkable instance of given confidence the world ever knew.

What a glorious prospect for a horde of modern American speculators and manipulators, these industrious gentlemen who reap where they sow not!

How their appetites will crave and eyes glisten as they view in thought the chance to bag such fat game!

For the safety of any surplus funds now in or which may hereafter come into the Imperial Treasury, we hope the above named concessions, if really made, have been surrounded by astute Chinese statesmen and iron-clad precautions.

It is a disreputable national fact, that a ludicrous class of American financiers, so called, expect to make money out of water into stocks, float more dubious bond obligations to the square yard, and transfer more corporation assets into their own individual coffers, with brazen assurance, than any other people on the face of wide earth. This country is filled with costly evidences of their skill along that unsavory line of action.

Look out for them, Johnny Chinaman.

The State Agricultural Society.

The Twenty-ninth Annual Exhibition of the State Agricultural Society will be held at Waverly park, Houston, Texas, and will continue for five days. Since the last Fair the Society has made many needed improvements, such improvements as will be appreciated by exhibitors as well as visitors. Among these are a large number of commodious and comfortable cattle sheds on the north side of the grounds, where cattle can be stalled and exhibited this year. Besides these, thirty, or more new box stalls for horses will be completed. All of the sheds and awnings have been put in thoroughly repair. It was the unanimous expression of the guests at the recent press lunch, that the Fair grounds never looked more attractive. The prospects for a large exhibition look most promising in every department. The entry books are now open, and we learn from the officers of the Society that there will be a larger display this year than there was last, when the total entries exceeded six thousand in number. Besides the fine show of horses, thoroughbred neat cattle, sheep, swine, poultry, farm products and improved machinery, there will be other attractions worth seeing. The State Kennel Club will hold a bench show during the Fair week which will be an interesting feature. There will be spirited trotting and running races on the track every afternoon, and a grand parade of all prize animals, on the last day. It is expected that President Cleveland will visit the grounds during the exhibition. The Waverly Fair grounds are accessible from all parts of the State, and the railroad companies will issue tickets at reduced rates. A day or two spent at the exhibition will be time and money well invested.

Captain William Hand is at present engaged in constructing a substantial log wall along the bank in the rear of Mr. George Duggan's residence on Rockview avenue, North Plainfield. The wall when completed will be about 100 feet long and four feet high, or at least it was intended for. Captain Hand built a similar wall for Messrs. Hayland and Cook, last Fall, and it was found to stand the great water pressure occasioned by the late flood.

W. C. T. U.

CELEBRATING THE NINTH ANNIVERSARY.

Interesting Exercises—The Origin, Growth and Work Accomplished by this Noble Band of Ladies Reports by the President, Treasurer and Other Members of the Union Congratulatory Remarks by the State President.

Thursday (5th) was the time set apart for the celebration of the ninth anniversary of the organization of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in this city. The place chosen for the occasion was the Seventh Day Baptist church, and when the hour arrived for opening the exercises this commodious edifice was well filled with an appreciative audience. The pulpit and about the organ loft was redolent with the perfume of fragrant flowers, while at convenient points on the platform were located baskets, stands and vases of red and white flowers and ferns. The ushers were Messrs. M. Cowen, D. Rose, jr., M. VanArsdale and W. Hubbard. Miss Jessie Utter presided at the organ, and the following members of the Dunham Goodsell Choristers, under the efficient leadership of Tomlinson M. M. Dunham, composed the choir: C. H. Farley, W. H. Hardy, Geo. Belcher, E. E. Vail, Henry Williams, Edward Freeman, Miss Freeman, William Martin, Andrew Carpenter, C. P. Wheeler.

Mrs. Dr. T. H. Tomlinson, President of the Plainfield W. C. T. U., was escorted by Mrs. S. J. C. Downs, President of the State W. C. T. U., and Rev. Mr. Schenck, pastor of the Trinity Reformed Church occupied seats on the platform with the other clergymen were noticed in the gathering. The exercises opened with an organ voluntary, followed by the Choir singing "Marching On." Rev. Mr. Schenck then read from the Scripture a portion of the 87th Psalm, beginning with the words, "Peer Not," etc. He also led in prayer, the congregation joined in singing "Sound the Alarm." Mrs. Dr. Tomlinson, the presiding officer, then addressed a few words to the audience. She said among other things that two of the organizers of the Union—Mrs. J. C. Bliss and Mrs. J. E. Stockbridge—were about to be present at the Anniversary Exercises, but each had sent a letter regretting their absence. Miss Clemmie Yates, the Corresponding Secretary, read the letters.

The President next called upon the Treasurer, Mrs. Geo. F. Opdyke, who read her yearly report as follows; and to which Mrs. Frame is obligated for a copy of the same:

MRS. PRESIDENT:—I respectfully submit the following report as Treasurer of the W. C. T. U. for the year ending Sept. 8th, 1887.

RECEIPTS.
Annual Membership dues:
Plainfield	$224 87
Grantwood	145 00
North Plainfield	36 00
Convention Expenses	146 23
Miscellaneous:
Mrs. Bonnell	40 00
Mrs. Force	5 00
Literature	4 34
Entertainments	30 00
Kitchen Garden Branch	20 25
Loan:
Grocer Bonnell	127 97
Mrs. Bonnell	100 00
Donations to Flower Mission Fund	12 00
Band of Hope	5 00
	$1,001 19
To balance on hand	339 47
Total	$1,340 66

DISBURSEMENTS.
Paid Convention Expenses	$170 00
Paid Salaries of Officers	100 00
Speakers	72 50
Stationery	20 00
County Treasurer	26 00
Flower Mission Fund	12 00
Literature	47 11
Kitchen Garden Fund	20 25
State Treasurer	15 00
Miscellaneous Expenses	10 00
Services and Expressage	34 25
Rent	36 00
Temporary Premises	20 00
Organist	10 00
Band of Hope Committee	5 00
Bible	2 50
Flowers and Asters	5 00
Furnishing Fund	27 00
Sundries	34 76
Total	$1,000 04
Balance on hand	$339 47

BALANCES IN THE DIFFERENT FUNDS.

Paid Convention Fund	$26 23
Flower Mission Fund	11 34
Kitchen Garden Fund	19 00
Home Fund	150 00
Total	$206 47
Plainfield, N. J., Sept. 8th, 1887.
Respectfully submitted,
MRS. GEO. F. OPDYKE,
Treasurer W. C. T. U.

WORK OF VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS.

The president called for reports from the various departments of the W. C. T. U. In the following order: Mrs. Louisa Wood, Secretary of the Loyal Temperance Legion Society reported a membership of nearly 100. The order was organized the January last and the name of "Company A of the Loyal Temperance Legion Union" was adopted. The officers feel greatly encouraged in their work.

Hygiene and Heredituarian, reported on by the Secretary, Mrs. Coard, showing that fermented liquors were the product of putrifaction. The report went on to say that according to the United States census about 24,000 persons were idiots which resulted from intemperate parents. The total according to the census of 1880 race is good health. Dr. Flint of Bellevue Hospital, N. Y. is the authority for the assertion that incidentally alcohol aids in the formation of disease. She gave other illustrations showing how alcoholic stimulants worked on the body and mind and urged the necessity of the temperance department in the W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Geo. F. Opdyke next told of the Sunday-school work.

The choir sang a fitting selection entitled "Labor On," and Mrs. Winters, Superintendent of the Bible Reading Department, related the work of the department which she organized in 1884. She gave other illustrations showing how alcoholic stimulants worked on the body and mind and urged the necessity of the temperance department in the W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Geo. F. Opdyke next told of the Sunday-school work.

The choir sang a fitting selection entitled "Labor On," and Mrs. Winters, Superintendent of the Bible Reading Department, related the work of the department which she organized in 1884.

She gave other illustrations showing how alcoholic stimulants worked on the body and mind and urged the necessity of the temperance department in the W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Geo. F. Opdyke next told of the Sunday-school work.

The choir sang a fitting selection entitled "Labor On," and Mrs. Winters, Superintendent of the Bible Reading Department, related the work of the department which she organized in 1884.

CITY DEPARTMENT

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION.

J. A. DEMAREST. - - - Cit. Editor.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS.

CLOSE—8.30 and 10.30 A. M.; 2.30 and 5.30 P. M.
ARRIVE—1.30, 9.30, 11.30 A. M.; 2.30 and 5.30 P. M.

NORTHVILLE, RAHWAY, &C., MAILS.

CLOSE—9.30 A. M. and 5.30 P. M.
ARRIVE—8.30 A. M. and 5.30 P. M.

Sunday Mails.—Mail closes at 9 A. M. Office open from 8.30 A. M. to 10.30 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Mail for Warrenville closes Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 10 A. M.

Post Office opens at 7 A. M. and closes at 7.30 P. M. Saturdays, closes at 8.30 P. M. Open every evening until 10 P. M., to deliver mail only, same.

Money Order office open from 9 A. M., 10 P. M. Saturdays to 4 P. M.

W. L. FORCE, Postmaster.

The Greatest on Earth.

The threatening condition of affairs in Europe having prevented the Great Barnum and London Ten Talked Shows from visiting that hilldown and bighted region, it will be pleasant news to our readers that they are positively to exhibit at Plainfield on Friday, Oct. 21st. This famous railroad world of wonders grows and grows with each succeeding year, and it is not surprising that one hears from the tremendous crowds, which it every where and always draws, such complimentary protests as "too big," "too much for the money," "the half of it," "will they never stop?" The lovely features and rare attractions of the two menageries, museum, three circuses in three rings, hippodrome, elaborate and high elevated stage for the display of Olympian games, have grown and multiplied. The grand free street parade has grown still bigger and richer, and the satisfaction of the growing crowds grows more demonstrative and enthusiastic.

St. Mary's Church.

The seventh anniversary of St. Mary's church was observed Sunday with appropriate services, the following report of which was unintentionally omitted in yesterday's issue. Rev. Father Smyth celebrated High Mass, and Rev. Father Flood of St. Patrick's Church, Cavan, Ireland, preached the sermon. Sunday being the feast of the Holy Name of Mary, he preached for his text the words of the Gospel according to St. Luke, 1st Chap., verses 26 and 27: "The angel Gabriel was sent from God into a city of Galilee called Nazareth, to a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary."

The preacher commenced by reminding the congregation of the origin and history of the feast, setting forth the opinions of the most eminent scholars both ancient and modern of the origin of the word "Mary." Then by a natural transition he explained the doctrine of the Catholic church on the subject of the Virgin. He blessed Mother of God in the economy of redemption—showing clearly how consistently Catholic doctrine on this point harmonizes with the teachings of Holy Scripture and tradition. He dwelt forcibly on the devotion of the faithful to Mary in the 5th century. He referred to various touching events of that period when the doctrine of the virginal and divine maternity was defined at the General Council of Ephesus against the heresy of Nestorius. He complimented the congregation on their beautiful church, erected to the name of Mary, and regarding it as the fruit of their great devotion to the blessed Mother of God; he congratulated their Rev. Pastor on being placed over such an intelligent, generous and devout Catholic people. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Anderson, rendered Borlowe's "Messe Solennelle." At the offertory, Mr. Quinn, of New York, sang Lozzi's "Ave Maria;" Miss Harberger and Mr. Quinn, the "Agnus Dei," and Misses Flannigan and Kelly, the "Tres Coupin."

In the evening Father O'Grady of New Brunswick was to have lectured in the church, but he was accidentally delayed in that city and telegraphed a pound to three and three-quarter pounds.

The committee for the rental of pews will be in attendance at the Trinity Reformed Church on Thursday evening of this week, from 7½ to o'clock, to accommodate any who may wish sittings or pews.

—Mrs. E. J. Martin, a well-known resident of this city, is selling a Renovating Fluid for removing grease, cleaning kid gloves, &c., that should be in every household. It does all it is claimed to do and gives great satisfaction. Read her advertisement on the first page of this paper.

—The carpet factory of Messrs. VanDerwoker and Horn is being fitted for incandescent lighting, and when completed between sixty-five and seventy lamps will be required to light the building. One of the lamps are already in position, and electricity was turned on for the first time Wednesday evening of last week.

—By a change in the schedule of the New York and Long Branch R. R., the trains connecting for this city at Elizabethport at 8.14 and 10.12 a. m., and 2.10 and 10.30 p. m., are discontinued. Trains leaving Plainfield at 8.40 a. m., and 2.25 and 5.25 p. m., do not hereafter connect for stations on the Long Branch division.

—A petition is in circulation, which it is intended to present to the City Council, asking for the grading and macadamizing of East Fourth street from Park avenue to Sycamore street, sixteen feet in the centre of the roadway, and of about four inches. The property owners along the line agree to pay 12½ cents per lineal foot.

—Arrangements are already making for the meeting of the Grand Lodge, K. of P., of the State which is to take place in this city during February next. Over 400 delegates will be present, will be present, representing 100 lodges distributed throughout the State, and a grand time is anticipated. The session will continue for two days.

—The Crescent Avenue Church, which claims to furnish the majority of the teachers in the Warren Mission, and all the workers in the Bethel Mission, are soon to start another Mission probably on West Fourth street in the vicinity of the Pond Works. The building now occupied by the Bethel Mission will be moved to the new location as soon as the Chapel at Fifth and Washington streets is completed.

—The Twilight ball club of Scotch Plains, it is said, are eager to play a match game of ball with the Centrals of this city, for a purse of from $50 to $100 a side. Provided satisfactory arrangements can be made the game will be played somewhere in the State on enclosed grounds. Both clubs are very indignant over a lifeless article published in the Times on Friday with reference to the last game between the two clubs.

—Complaints have been made against a lot of boys who congregate in front of Cassard's store, on Front street, at the head of Washington avenue, every pleasant afternoon, and engage in base ball practice, to the annoyance of persons passing by rolling and using profane language. Officer Lynch recently went to the place and dispersed the crowd. He also obtained the names of some of the boys, who will probably hear from him again.

—Rev. J. L. Hurlbut explained Christ's Sermon on the Mount, Sunday afternoon, to the Berean Class of the Y. M. C. A. Mission, and those who heard him, went home with their hearts full of love for the Heavenly Father, and a kind and forgiving feeling toward all their earthly brethren. Mr. Hurlbut clearly and most truthfully remarked that this short sermon of Christ contained more good for the elevation of the human family than all the ancient or modern history yet published. Next Sunday, Sept. 18, at the same hour and place, Rev. J. H. Vincent, D.D., will instruct the class, and all others who wish to hear him.

—The Asbury Park Journal of last week says: "The Coleman House closed on Thursday. It is thought that the absence of Mr. Woodruff, the manager, will be satisfactorily arranged in the near future. Much unfavorable criticism has resulted from his selection, but to those who familiar with the business of the house the past Summer the only reasonable ground of complaint is believed to be in his desire to pay off old debts. These payments footed up larger than he anticipated, and cost weather coming at the end of August shortened the season and proved him of considerable profit. We believe the landlord is fully protected in his claims and other creditors will be paid in full."

Personalia.

Architect Fosgate has been called suddenly to Auburn, N. Y., by the death of his father. He will be absent about two weeks.

Mr. A. W. Day of Dunellen, has rented Mrs. Maxson's cottage on Madison avenue, and will soon become a resident of this city.

Rev. J. H. Parks and wife of South Plains, recently returned from Block Island where they have been spending their Summer vacation.

The beautiful new residence of Dr. Stelle, on Park avenue, is nearing completion, and will be ready for occupancy within a few weeks.

Rev. George W. Endicott of Park avenue is at home again, thoroughly recovered in health and ready once more to assume the care and responsibility of his extended practice.

Miss Kate Tier, formerly of New York, is visiting Mrs. George H. Polhemus, of Duer street, North Plainfield, prior to her permanent location in Pasadena where she will permanently reside for the future.

A cablegram from Mr. Clarence Watson, of Crescent avenue, now in Europe, was received last week, announcing the good health and thorough enjoyment of his trip. He expects to sail for home on October 15th.

Messrs. William D. and George H. Craig have returned to their residence on Somerset street, after a long trip to New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, and the enjoyment of a deal of field and stream that there are offered.

Mr. E. K. Adams, who was run over by the cars at the Cranford depot Friday morning, is much better off than he would be had one of the best known and highly esteemed families in the town. He died at his home at one o'clock a. m., Saturday.

Mr. Paul Symons, the engineer in charge of one of the largest New York plants of the Edison system of incandescent lighting, expects to return to Plainfield about October 1st, and again reside in his own house here after an absence of a few years.

Mr. George Watson having purchased the handsome plot of ground adjoining his residence on Crescent avenue is transforming the same into a beautiful lawn. Most of the trees and shrubbery have been moved away, and a new and substantial fence has been erected about the place.

Rev. Dr. Lewis now returns to Plainfield regularly every week and conducts his own church, the Park Baptist, every Saturday. Dr. Lewis reports his daughter as improved, so that at intervals she can sit up for a few minutes. She will return from the seashore about October 1st.

Ex-Judge Geo. P. Saydam left Thursday for a few weeks' trip to Colorado, where he will seek rest and restored health after many months of close attention to the interests of his long list of clients. His many friends and professional brethren hope to see him back again in the health and spirits of the past.

The N. Y. World, of last Monday, under the head of "People Talked About," says: "Mrs. Alfred Ely, of 9 East Fifty-first street, whose name is a household word among the 100,000 members of the Chautauqua circles in her capacity as Secretary of the University, is still a young woman in her twenties."

The Borough Council at its last meeting, in compliance with an ordinance adopted at a previous session, authorized Mayor Cooley to appoint a suitable person to number the stores and dwelling houses in North Plainfield. The Mayor has appointed as such person, Mr. H. H. Baker, of this city, who is now engaged in doing the same work on this side of the brook.

The congregation and friends of the Church of Our Saviour, Nethenwood, while congratulating one another over the success of the recent Fete, are most sincere in their appreciation of the unusual beneficence of James L. Anthony, Esq. They thoroughly realize how necessary to the prosperity of the affair was that gentleman's gift of the use of his residence and grounds, and understand that there is not possibly another who would so completely lay aside self interest for the pleasure of the public and the profit of the church.

The August number of the American Book Maker—a recognized authority with all connected with or interested in book publishing—contains considerable space to a flattering review of the talents and skill of Mr. George Wharton Edwards, the artist of this city. It also introduces in this connection a number of specimens of Mr. Edward's recent success in elaborately illustrating "Tanglewood Tales." The article says, in connection: "Many artists would injure the delicate fabric of Hawthorne's imaginations, others might be so ultra-refined as to do them no absolute harm; but this illustrator has been fortunate enough [we should say talented enough] to beautify what he has touched."

Y. M. C. A. Entertainments.

We are authorized to announce that the Lecture Committee has engaged with Mr. H. H. Kassar for five of his beautiful illustrated lectures during the coming season, the dates being as follows: Tuesday, November 15; Saturday, November 19; Monday, November 22; Tuesday, November 29; Thursday, December 22. Besides these lectures there will be given a series of four concerts by the Young Philharmonic Club—all on Tuesday evenings, the dates as follows: December 6; January 31; February 21; March 20. All necessary details will appear in a future issue.

Down an Embankment.

Mahlon Titus a farmer residing near Warrenville in Washington Valley drove into town with a load of garden truck, being disposed of his product, Titus is reported to have made a tour of the city and at short intervals would stop to "wet his whistle." By the time he was half-way over when he started to drive home about seven p. m., last Tuesday. The night was very dark and consequently rough for the Notch on Somerset street so extremely dangerous at night to a man in possession of full faculties, is especially so to one whose mind is not entirely free from the effects of "fire water." Near the stone crusher there are several bad washouts caused by the high waters of a few days ago, and though a fence has been erected around the most dangerous places, there are still plenty of them left where travel at night is considered as hazardous. Titus was ascending the incline near the stone cracker when his horse stumbled and toppled over down the embankment, dragging with him the wagon and driver. The wagon was reduced to kindling wood and the driver was thrown into the swollen waters, but finally succeeded in reaching the opposite shore, where he peacefully reposed on a heap of rocks until morning. The horse made frantic efforts to extricate himself, breaking the harness in several places. The animal, too, was obliged to remain in the pit until morning, when assistance came and both horse and driver were rescued. The latter was not injured and considers his escape miraculous, but the animal was considerably out about the head and hips. The North Plainfield Township authorities have not been negligent in repairing the damage done by the late freshet, but they should at once attend to the matter of placing proper danger signals at these places at night, until permanent repairs are made.

A brother of Titus met with a misfortune on the same road Sunday, a few years ago. He was thrown down an embankment with his horse and the latter was instantly killed.

Cut His Foot.

George Stewart a resident of Somerset street, in the Notch, received serious injuries on the 6th, which nearly resulted in his bleeding to death. He was at work cutting wood in a strip of woodland in Washington Valley, about two miles distant from his home, when the axe came in contact with his left leg, near the ankle. His overalls and pantaloons were cut through, and a deep gash was inflicted on the leg, penetrating and splitting the bone, so that two pieces about an inch and a half in length were taken from the wound. Blood flowed from the wound profusely, but Mr. Stewart managed to reach his home where he nearly fainted from loss of blood. The leg was tightly bandaged, and that morning the patient was somewhat improved, although yet very weak.

Chautauqua Vesper Service.

Last Sunday, despite the weather, the M. E. Church was well filled upon the occasion of a Chautauqua Vesper Service, as announced in THE CONSTITUTIONALIST of Friday. Rev. Dr. J. L. Hurlbut, D. D., Principal of the C. L. S. C., presided, and was assisted in the responsive readings by Rev. J. B. Vanhorn, pastor of the church. The Rev. Dr. J. H. Vincent, Chancellor of the C. L. S. C., delivered an eloquent and interesting address on the Chautauqua movement, and Dr. Hurlbut announced that a meeting would be held in the parlors of the church, Monday evening, September 26th, for the re-organization of the Local Circle. Every one possessing the slightest interest in the matter—whether they desired or intended to join, or not—was cordially invited to be present, and the speaker assured all that the C. L. S. C. and its branches were entirely undenominational. The meeting was opened by members of all sects. The following prelude to the printed order of service used last evening, explains the nature and intent of the meeting:

It is the custom of true and faithful members of the C. L. S. C. to observe the hour of 9 o'clock, every Sunday evening, as a time for religious thought and prayer; remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy; members of our wide-reaching circle; prayer according to the needs of each; that at that hour another can exercise, even though it be no more than an uplift of soul toward the Father of all, for the well-being and comfort of those with whom in this blessed fraternity we are associated.

To guide the thought of individual members in such attempt, and to make it a part of the service where numbers of the Circle desire to recognize the hour in a more public way, the "Sunday Vesper Service" has been prepared.

Saturday's Trotting Contests.

Saturday was the most exciting day this season on the track of the Gentlemen's Driving Park Association at the Fair Grounds. Every Saturday afternoon during the season the members of the Association have met there from time to time and engaged in friendly trial contests of speed. No prizes are offered, the only object being to promote social amusement among the members and owners of fast horses. The announcement on Saturday that Mr. A. Vail's "Betsy Bobbitt" would test against Mr. O. T. Waring's "Copeland," gentlemen drivers, to wagon, served to draw a large number of spectators to the fair grounds, and all of them in themselves as highly gratified at the results. The Judges for the occasion were Messrs. Rodens of Metuchen and A. W. Johnson of this city. When time was called for opening the races, Philip Jackson's Grey Stallion beat John Osborn's "Clipper" a half mile heat and won trotted, the grey stallion winning in 2.37½.

The next race was between John Osborn's "Lady Love," George Phillips' "Grey Girl" and John Stelle's "Nellie C." Mr. Osborn's "Lady Love" won two straight heats to harness in 2.46½ and 2.46.

The last race the event of the day was a race between Mr. O. T. Waring's "Copeland" and Mr. A. C. Vail's "Betsy Bobbitt." These two well known horses have trotted many a race on former occasions, and in each instance "Copeland" was declared the winner. All during the race excitement was at fever heat, and the contest was considered the most hotly contested of any that has taken place on the track for a long time. The owners drove their own horses to wagon, and the first heat was won by "Betsy Bobbitt" in 2.35½, with "Copeland" about a length in the rear. The second heat was also up and down for "Betsy Bobbitt" again coming in ahead in 2.37½, but a few feet in advance of "Copeland." Old Horsemen say that 2.35½, the time made by "Betsy Bobbitt," is the fastest time ever made to wagon, owners driving, on a half mile track in the State. If this be the case, then the record to road wagon is broken, and Mr. Vail is entitled to the belt. The two horses will in all probability trot again next Saturday.

The fourth and concluding race was between Mr. Edward Waring's "Ledger Boy," Mr. Wm. Van Sickle's "Sag Maw," and Mr. John Osborne's "Care Not," mile heats to harness. Ledger Boy won two straight heats in 2.43½ and 2.35½.

Our Position—And Murphy's.

We are fully aware that some of our friends also are so stupid as to imagine we are trying to create a sympathy for fire-bugs, the most malicious of all wretches, because we insist on continuing our legitimate business as a newspaper in publishing the escapades of "Mr. Murphy" outside of his legitimate business as a "detective." Even our truly esteemed contemporary, the Central Times, when for the first time, in its last issue, how dull it can be by saying: "To seek to break down his testimony in advance by creating a public sentiment against him is hardly wise, as we look at the matter."

To an enemy there would be no use replying. To a friend, however, who is also so blinded—but not by prejudice—a word in defence from so preposterous a charge, may not be profitless. We have given "Mr. Murphy" both credit and criticism, because he deserved both. We shall always give public persons posing for the people's endorsement just what they deserve. We even give the Central Times credit for knowing better than it speaks.

Were we the first to give "Mr. Murphy" credit for his success in delivering Plainfield from the torch of the incendiary, and the subsequent capture of the scoundrel of them all—was apprehended, is incarcerated and will spend the remainder of his worthless life behind a prisoner's bars. Not only was our credit the first given, but it was the most became it spread the furthest. The circulation of the WEEKLY CONSTITUTIONALIST and the DAILY PRESS, exceeds any other paper in the city—or the county. We are glad of this opportunity to again acknowledge our appreciation, of the skill with which the entire community is under to "Mr. Murphy."

So much for the credit; and now, we hope you will agree as well with us in our criticism. Subsequent acts of "Murphy's" that we thought inconsistent with the police badge displayed, have been related to us by those columns as matters of fact and news. They bear no relation to the conviction of the incendiaries, and in no case could their publication "break down his testimony." "Mr. Murphy" is said to have told a young brother of one of the prisoners that "if I thought you felt any sympathy in this business, I'd take you in too." He threatened one of the accused's counsel, Monday, in his face—"I'll put you in a close corner," he said. He announced that if we "were a little bigger he would crack our head down our throat."

Now these are vulgar papers who endorse all that. We do, and And we won't believe the Central Times does, though it sounds so. The above is our position—and "Murphy's" is the better one we have stated the case, and we hope our friends can see better. If so, we have no anxiety as to which position they will approve of.

COMMON COUNCIL MEETING.

At precisely a quarter after eight p. m. Monday last, President Marsh called the City Council to order, and the roll call showed the full board present. The clerk read the call for the meeting which was for the purpose of transacting general business in the order of a regular meeting. After the Clerk had recorded the words that the unanimous consent of the Common Council had been obtained, the regular order of business was proceeded with. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS.

Under this heading petitions were presented as follows: From H. M. Stockton for eight others, property owners on Central avenue below 9th street, stating that the plans for macadamizing purposes had been secured at expense of owners and asking Council to have the same spread on roadway at expense of city. Referred to street committee, and later granted by resolution offered by Mr. Dumont.

From B. B. Gray, N. W. Nash, and others, asking for improvements on Park Place. Referred to street committee.

Mr. I. W. Rushmore communicated with the Council to the effect that he had provided for macadamizing Grant street, provided the street commissioner would spread the stone, and have the gutters graded up. Referred and subsequently granted.

From property owners on West Fourth street, asking for repairs to roadbed from Park avenue to Central avenue. Referred to street committee and refused, as the resolution published elsewhere will indicate.

Sundry peddlers and cartmen petitioned the Council for licenses, and they were referred to the proper committee.

From Amy L. Moore, owner of property on northwest corner of Front and Washington streets, asking for grading of streets in that locality so as to keep the water from backing up and flooding her cellar. Referred to street committee.

From H. H. Morris, for Mr. Beddoe and others calling attention to the bad condition of Kensington avenue South of Broadway, and asking for repair of same. Referred. The petition stated that not a cent had been spent on the avenue for many years past, and the roadway was in a disgraceful condition, and called duly advertised.

Mr. Dunham offered a resolution, which was adopted, that an appropriation of $600 be placed to the credit of Mayor's hands for police purposes, and to be used for "the detection and violation of the law, and to defray expenses in relation thereto" under the rule.

Mr. Boers asked for information on the matter of locating a lamp on Tenth street. Some discussion followed, and Corporation Counsel Dumont was asked to give an opinion. He said the matter of street acceptance had been discussed in the courts, and whenever any expenditure had been made on any street by the farmers, that was considered an acceptance without any formality.

Mr. Cox moved to take from the table the ordinance relating to the repair of sidewalks. Motion so ordered, carried, and the ordinance was ordered engrossed and ordered.

Mr. Bowers called up Mr. H. H. Baker's communication, and upon motion of Mr. Dumont, the Clerk was instructed to report with the next meeting how many signs would be required for the different class of streets.

Mr. Chadwick stated the proposition offered by the D. J. Boice estate to widen the street at Park avenue and Fifth street for $500, and asked the opinion of the Board on the proposition, as stated by the President. The proposition was accepted, and carried to vote.

It was decided that when the Council adjourn it be to meet again in one week, and that it then meet in regular session.

The Auditing Committee filed its report through Mr. Simpson, returning as correct all claims. The report in full on the payment of the bills was unanimous, except that of the Plainfield Gas Company, when Messrs. Marsh and Simpson voted "No." Council then adjourned.

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the following ordinance has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time, and passed finally preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of said Council to pass the same on the 19th day of September, 1887.

Plainfield, N. J., September 14, 1887.

A GENERAL ORDINANCE

Concerning the Construction, Maintenance and Repair of Sidewalks.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield by their Common Council do enact as follows:

Section 1. That all sidewalks in said city shall be laid and sufficiently supported in accordance with the ordinances of the abutting lands owners, so as to be even on the surface and at the proper grade as fixed by said Council, and for the width of at least four feet in the whole width thereof, free from grass, weeds, stones and other obstructions.

Sec. 2. That within that portion of said city described as follows, to wit: Beginning at the intersection of the north easterly side line of Richmond street with the northerly side line of Broadway, thence in a northerly direction along said north easterly side line of Richmond street to the intersection of the same with the southerly side line of Third street, thence in a westerly direction along said Third street and the same line produced to its intersection with the west westerly side of Plainfield avenue; thence with the south westerly said line of Plainfield avenue to the intersection of the same with the north westerly side line of Broadway; thence with the north westerly said line of Broadway to the place of beginning, in all cases in which sidewalks shall hereafter be constructed, reconstructed, cement, concrete, brick or hard and durable substance shall be used, and the same shall be of the width of the abutting land-owners, and unless otherwise ordered by the Common Council, shall be composed of four clear flagging, or such other number of flags as shall be sufficient to cover the entire width of the sidewalk, and the flags shall be not less than two feet in width, and not more than three feet in width or flagged at any time of the greatest length of which said flags shall not be less than two feet, nor more than one and a half inches thick, and not less than one and a half inches in the thickness of the walk.

Sec. 3. In no case shall the daily of the sidewalk be less than one inch to the foot, nor more than one inch to the foot, without the consent of the abutters. The street Commissioner is hereby authorized to give the necessary grade to the owners or occupants of said lands requiring the same, specified above, and to notify the said owners or occupants within a period of ten days after the passage of this act, or the expiration of such notice; if any of said lands are unoccupied, then the said notice may be served upon the agent of said owners, if such agent can be found in his or her post-office address, if the owner or agent cannot be found, then upon the occupant of the city and his or her post-office address is unknown, then the said notice may be published in some newspaper printed in said city two weeks once a week in "Central, N. J., Times," and "Plainfield, N. J., Press," and "Plainfield, N. J., Courier-News."

Sec. 4. In case the owner or occupant of such lands shall neglect for the space of ten days after the service of such notice, or the publication thereof, as the case may be, to construct such sidewalk, said street commissioner shall proceed to construct the same, and the expense of the service or publication of the notice aforesaid, and the expense of the construction of the sidewalk, shall be paid by the owner or occupant of such lands, and the same shall be collected as other taxes are collected.

Sec. 5. All ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent with the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Sec. 6. This ordinance shall take effect immediately after its passage and publication according to law.

Passed September 12, 1887.

Attest: JOHN F. RANDOLPH, Clerk.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

DEMAREST'S

NEW STORE

Choice Creamery Butter. The best in the city. Try it and be convinced. Mason's jars, with porcelain lined tops. Lighting Jars and Jelly Tumblers. Pure Spices, all kinds. Green Ginger Root, Mustard Seed, and Fruits of all kinds, in their season. All of which are sold at Bottom Prices.

P.M. DEMAREST,

27 PARK AVENUE

TUESDAYS Sept. 20th Oct. 11th

CHICAGO NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

WILL RUN

HARVEST EXCURSIONS

TO POINTS IN

DAKOTA, NEBRASKA, WYOMING, MINNESOTA, NORTHERN IOWA,

For which Excursion Tickets will be sold at

ONE FARE for the Round Trip.

FIRST-CLASS ACCOMMODATIONS.

Tickets will be good 30 days from date of sale.

For descriptive and full particulars apply to the nearest Ticket Agent of the Company, or address

H. A. GROSS, Traveling Passenger Agent, 20 Central Square, LANCASTER, PA.
W. HIGBITT, Gen. Pass. Agt. R. C. WICKER, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt. P. P. WILSON, Gen. Pass. Agt.
CHICAGO.

Special Notice!

REPAIRING AND UPHOLSTERING IN ALL BRANCHES.

GOODS TAKEN ON STORAGE.

Blankets, Flannels, Dress Goods and Hosiery.

WE HAVE JUST ADDED

FALL GOODS

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION AT

LOW PRICES.

AT POPE'S.

FRONT AND SOMERSET STS.

LOOK AT

Fall Dress Trimmings

AT PECK'S

EDSALL'S!

SEPTEMBER 7th.

We are now receiving our lines of Dress Goods, Plushes, Velvets, Trimmings, &c., for the coming Fall and Winter, and we will mention a few of the specialities that have arrived to date.

1st.

We have an elegant assortment of All Wool Checks (16 styles) at 50c. a yard. These goods are 40 in. wide and are a special lot.

2nd.

Is a SILK PLUSH, heavy and rich. We have it in eight colors, and as we intend to sell it at $1.15 (special price), we are sure it cannot be equalled elsewhere. It is now on sale.

3rd.

Right here we wish to say a word about SILK VELVETS. Our line this season is more extensive than ever, comprising an elegant assortment of novelties and staple styles. The plain Silk Velvet we are selling at 90c. a yard is the best value ever offered in this city. Black and all colors. For $1.25 we sell a better quality than usual, in all colors and black. For $1.98 we have a special Black Velvet 27 inch width.

4th.

Is EIDER DOWN FLANNELS, plain colors such as Pink, Light Blue, Cardinal, Cream White, Plain and Mixed Gray. Best quality 75c. Same colors with dots (new) 80c.

5th.

Our line of Trimmings will be exceptionally fine. We cannot begin to enumerate the styles and prices. We are sure an inspection will prove what we say. Our line of JERSEY JACKETS is much larger than heretofore. We invite inspection. WOOL BLANKETS, Flannels, &c. In these goods we will keep a better line than ever before. Watch for our announcement.

PECK'S CORNER. PECK'S CORNER.

GREEN HAS OPENED!

EVERYTHING NEW. COME AND SEE ME.

LOWEST PRICES MARKED ON EVERYTHING.

BED-ROOM SUITS	$16.00
LOUNGES	$ 6.00
BED LOUNGES	$ 7.00
MATTRESS	$ 3.50

REPAIRING AND UPHOLSTERING IN ALL BRANCHES.

GOODS TAKEN ON STORAGE.

500 BOYS' SUITS.

SOME AS LOW AS $2.00.

OUR OWN MANUFACTURE.

Sebring Bros.,

SOME AS HIGH AS $7.50.

Music Hall Entrance.

A. M. Vanderbeck & Co.,

(Successors to A. Vanderbeck.)

DEALERS IN SPORTING GOODS,

Musical Instruments,

SHEET MUSIC, CUTLERY, ETC.

No. 33 Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey.

COCKLE'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS,

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY

For Liver, Bile, Indigestion, &c. Free from Mercury. Sold by druggists. Depot for United States, Agent C. K. CRIPPENDEN, New York.

ATTENTION!

Carpets. Carpets.

For Fall season. Just offered to the trade at the

LOWEST PRICES

ever known in this city.

DRESS GOODS

New Styles. Large Assortment.

Mourning Goods,

A Specialty.

Wear the

MIGNON KID,

Every Pair Warranted.

HOUSEKEEPING GOODS, MUSLINS, TABLE LINENS, TOWELS, NAPKINS, &c.

We offer at Reduced Prices.

AT E. B.

WHITNEY'S!

5 E. FRONT ST., OPP. POST OFFICE.

HALL'S

MACHINE PICKED.

STEAM AND DRY AIR BLAST FEATHERS

NO DUST. NO ODOR. NO ANIMAL MATTTER.

NO QUILLS.

Trade Mark Registered.

Prepared only by PATENTED MACHINERY, at Factory of FRANK HALL, NEW YORK.

The CLEANEST and BEST for Family Use.

Packed in Hermetical Metallic Bags of the following sizes: 2 lbs., 3 lbs., 5 lbs., 10 lbs., 25 lbs., 50 lbs.

Every Bag bears the above TRADE MARK & RULE OF.

TAKE NO OTHER, ASK YOUR DEALER FOR THEM.

IN SUNSET LAND.

Oh tell me, you who dwell in sunset land,
Whose white tents in the purple shadows stand
Far down the westward slope,
Can me it you still hear the voice of hope
If within your gates
You know that few and bloom will never come again?

For there no sons with bridal song of love
Go task or forest field or field or grove;
Pale cities through the sea,
And empty nests hang in the branches bare,
Nor ask in all or near
For grieving backward gaze on many a home appear.

I hear no words, but written in the eyes
Lifted, sage-taut, to the vesper skies,
In answer to my call
"Passion is real when the day's task is unwound,
Pleasant the tranquil hour,
And the night light falls on dying leaf and flower."

"Yet tarks are cool and still in sunset land,
Worth that are raised and then we understand,
We know and we know.
Flowers, dreams and visions are for those who rest,
And past the star and strife,
We rest and ponder well the meaning of our life.

"Nor deem, beloved, that we dwell alone;
Though from that gate no child nor dog are gone,
As each is not shaken appear,
More beautiful they seem and strangely near.
Morning is night to us,
But God's own angels walk the earth at evening light.

"Then let me enter into sunset land,
Nor fear to wear the silenced wreath and stand
Near to the unbarred gate
Where darkness and the world's oblivion wait,
Though I shall know
New heights shall be revealed, and a sublimer day to——Frances L. Mace, in Journal of Commerce.

HIS FAIR EXPERIENCE.

A Satirical Letter by Honest Old Zachariah Waybackle.

What the Venerable Gentleman Saw at an Agricultural Fair and His Frequent Use of the Eyes with Those Who Abused Him.

According to the Dakota Bell, the secretary of the Dakota Agricultural Fair Association has received the following letter:

"I am a farmer, and I hope you are going to have another Agricultural Fair next fall, and I thought I would write and tell you that I am going to attend it.

"You probably don't remember me, but I attended your fair last year. I brought the doggondest purtiest punkin I ever see around the fair ground, though I reckon maybe you don't know it, sort of your punkin fair ain't up keeping a record of the different ranch of punkins entered. I also had a fine thoroughbred cow, while my wife brought a big loaf of bread at night it wouldn't hardly lay still, and two bottles of he made, every thought you might an of saw them either, as I understood that you had not been provided with had enough work for one man keeping permits to those stirely farmers which had three-and-per pounds of punkin and such other agricultural products.

"And, after all, it cost me ten dollars to see the other side of the cards one of those gentlemen which had charge.

"I reckon I may say I had hard luck at your fair last fall. When I first drove in the Dolby Landing gate I met a man which I knew met that had just come off that my boss pet beast, and I reckon you have heard my wife's yarn. While I was looking around for a good place to put the big punkin a man come along and said he was judge on wines and drank up both bottles of wine.

"I afterwards saw him standing in front of a tent and I says to him, 'Mister, I reckon you've got chance to see the liver half woman at the fair, and I reckon you've been all over on the island of Chattanooga? Only one thing.'

"I then went to tie up the cow, and when I come back a tramp had his face in the loaf of bread. I didn't care to see much of that as that I missed him when I kicked at him.

"I stayed three days, and each night some Gypsies which were camping right on the fair ground stole my cow, and pounded her with a rubber wagon which fellow became to me from the fair.

"I watched the races most of the time, they not being much else to look at, and the day I had to pay about fifteen dollars because the hoss that come in way ahead on the first two heats was the last one in on the other three. I think that hoss must have been trained to run the last way.

"The next day a pickpocket got my silver watch.

"About every hour Bill (that's my boy) would come to me and get another bottle of wine. He had a right to suppose that it was certain must finally beat the wines of fortune, and after he had drunk a bottle, and the man down back of the barn who was throwing the loaded dice. I couldn't see that he was winning any book. Bill with me to show him how I was going to clean out the fair, three-card monte, and that time it cost me ten dollars.

"My wife bought some boiled liquid glue, which proved to be mostly water, and a redeipt for some whirl she afterwards discovered was printed in Sanscrit, while she would have bought some other things, probably, only she had no money left.

"In the mean time I might mention that my mother-in-law, my wife's sister, and my son, and one-legged, and monkey-ki-ority my wagon and cut all the very rings off'n the harness.

"When the fair was through I demanded of my boss that he pay me for the time they were the only ones there. I got them after some time, with little pieces of paper which would be worth a good deal when I turned round to go out a big fat man stepped up to me and said he was the owner of one of the race-horses and was about to start selling it, but as he had the treasurer had just paid him as his share of the purses, to put it in his pocket, and so didn't have any.

"That, Mr. Secretary, is a brief and condensed history of my visit to your fair. The fair isn't fair fall. I shall come this year, but before I do I want you to answer me this:

"I shall make no estimate, but I have got a two-wheeled cart and every day I hitch old Dick to it and run her around the five acre field. I shall either charge in the senior citizens' rate or I shall charge the judge she is old enough.

"Should I purchase a threshing-machine and has whittled some dice out of the bone of a mule's leg and has inscribed 'best on earth' on the sides of my wagon, I shall not be allowed to enter the ring-fair?

"My wife is preparing liquid glue by the wholesale, the same kind she bought, and will probably be on hand.

"For myself, beside entering old Dan and betting all my money against him I shall work the hull week and bet on him when it is worth. I can already throw the cards so as never to get the same man up my wife and occasionally foot Bill.

"I am also painting the seat of the express in book title which I shall charge pigs in its month and let people throw rolling-pins at it, three washes for a quarter, and expect to get rich. I also have broke a pipe you get a sickle cigars.

"I shall also have a shooting gallery on the grounds and sleep under the grand stand. If I can get a chance I should like to be selected to enter for a diploma; I shall do so. In fact, to sum the whole matter up, I am going to make a study of agricultural fair as we understand it.

"Yours truly, ZACHARIAH WAYBACKLE.

P. S.—I shall wear a poker dot shirt and stogie hat, and will have a bull dog stick out his chin and crook his elbows with a w.

THE LABOR WORLD.

A new glass factory is to be built at Port Huron, Mich.

Boys of thirteen are working in the Fall River (Mass.) mills for 75 cents a day.

Tin stonecutters between Detroit and Omaha propose to form a national assembly.

The cloth and tailoring trades of Louisville, Ky., have organized Local Assembly No. 8,042.

The New York organized bat salesmen are reporting to court all storekeepers who sell on Sundays.

The Detroit assembly formed in England is numbered 3,000. It has nine local assemblies in good working order.

The plumbers and steam-fitters all over the World are forming a National Union. The membership will be about 12,000.

The labor of 500 convicts in South Carolina penitentiary is offered at 40 cents a day for women and boys and 50 cents for men.

The Brooklyn Federation of Labor's monument committee will then celebrate, and the trades committee are after that date.

There are over 100,000 children under fourteen years of age employed, contrary to law, in the factories and workshops of New York.

The British steel mills are running full time now, some of the heavy firms having orders booked ahead up to the first two months in 1888.

The Belleville (Ill.) nail works are establishing a branch at Saint Louis, and will employ 1,000 persons for rolling 1½ T rails for street-car lines.

The Hatters Union, which has been in existence for forty years, is now National Trade District Assembly No. 23 of the Knights of Labor.

The Carpenter says the Brotherhood of Carpenters now numbers 80 local unions and 45,000 members. This is a very encouraging showing for a society less than six years old.

A PERFECT COW'S HEAD.

Vaccination Causes a Picture of a Bull's Face to Appear on a Boy's Arm.

It is a disputed question among members of the medical fraternity as to whether the disease inserted into a human being's system really possesses the power which for so many years has been attributed to it of preventing the person so vaccinated from falling a victim to the dreaded disease, small-pox. Recent years many the San Francisco Bee, are urged both for and against the practice of vaccination. Disputants on the vaccination school boldly proclaim that the deadly malignant virus of the bovine species inoculates the human blood with all manner of diseases and disorders, more and less severe, while in rare cases are reported where persons have suffered fatally as the result of the after course of vaccination. The afflicted ones are not always children, but of late years and it is not long since that a case was reported from a little town in Connecticut where an infant was made the same through the effects of the "poisoned" heifer virus, but in this little city there has at last passed its shining example in this line. It seemed up recently in the health office, and as the case is probably not marvelous, manifestation of the freaks that vaccine matter will play with the blood of the human system.

"I want to see the doctor," said a tall woman, with a pig-tyne face and a Roman, entering the health office during a morning call, and there, leading a boy about 8 years old by the hand.

"You've just got into line with your little," said the attendant, pointing to the boy.

"Oh, you," cried the woman fiercely, as she drew back and planted the child before her, and, "you would just like to rope me in again, wouldn't you, with your smoothly ways?"

"What do you mean, ma'am?" asked the astonished attendant.

"You don't recollect me, probably, but I do, you" was the rejoinder, "it came in here three years ago and you vaccinated the boy and left on his arm. Say, what more is that you see?"

"Best matter from the finest cow farm in Pennsylvania," muttered the attendant, while the loquacious matron became the center of attraction in the office.

"Stuff from a cow farm? I should say it was! It's just about full of cow, I should judge," she cried, "and that's being my little girl here. You'd have had a hard of cows operated on for her, to spoil her beauty. Just see here!"

As the woman was speaking she drew the sleeve of the "little darling's" shirt up to his shoulder, baring the arm. A cry of horror escaped the lips of the attendant as he looked at the white flesh just below the shoulder, and where it is considered proper to locate the vaccine matter. There, in the distinct blotch of irregular shape. It was almost the exact counterfeit of a bull's head and plainly showed that the irregular blotch of matter had gathered in such a fashion enough, a closer inspection proved conclusively that the blotch was caused by the presence of a picture in the boy's flesh. It was a cow's head down in blood, with the horns and spreading ears for back, to spoil her beauty. Just see here?"

As the woman was speaking she drew the sleeve of the "little darling's" shirt up to his shoulder, baring the arm. A cry of horror escaped the lips of the attendant as he looked at the white flesh just below the shoulder, and where it is considered proper to locate the vaccine matter. There, in the distinct blotch of irregular shape. It was almost the exact counterfeit of a bull's head and plainly showed that the irregular blotch of matter had gathered in such a fashion enough, a closer inspection proved conclusively that the blotch was caused by the presence of a picture in the boy's flesh. It was a cow's head down in blood, with the horns and spreading ears for back, to spoil her beauty. Just see here?"

"Stuff from a cow farm? I should say it was! It's just about full of cow, I should judge," she cried, "and that's being my little girl here. You'd have had a hard of cows operated on for her

The Constitutionalist
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.
W. I. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY,
AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XX. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1887. No. 38.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its limitations as in its authorities."—MADISON.

Rates of Advertising.

Space	1 W.	2 W.	3 W.	1 M.	2 M.	3 M.	6 M.	1 Y.
1 in.	1.00	1.50	2.00	3.00	5.00	6.00	10.00	15.00
2 in.	1.50	2.00	2.50	5.00	8.00	10.00	15.00	25.00
3 in.	2.00	2.50	3.00	6.00	10.00	12.00	20.00	30.00
4 in.	2.50	3.00	3.50	8.00	12.00	15.00	25.00	40.00
5 in.	3.00	3.50	4.00	10.00	15.00	18.00	30.00	50.00
6 in.	3.50	4.00	4.50	12.00	18.00	22.00	35.00	60.00
7 in.	4.00	4.50	5.00	14.00	20.00	25.00	40.00	70.00
8 in.	4.50	5.00	5.50	16.00	22.00	28.00	45.00	80.00
9 in.	5.00	5.50	6.00	18.00	25.00	30.00	50.00	90.00
10 in.	5.50	6.00	6.50	20.00	28.00	35.00	55.00	100.00
11 in.	6.00	6.50	7.00	22.00	30.00	38.00	60.00	110.00
12 in.	6.50	7.00	7.50	24.00	32.00	40.00	65.00	120.00

All Notices must be sold notes.
"Locals of Everything" column, 50 cts. per line.
Double rate, 50 per ct. advance of above rates.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

O. L. JENKINS, M. D.,
Homœopathist.
Successor to Dr. Smith's 30 East Front Street, near Peace Street, Plainfield, N. J. Office hours—7 to 8 a. m., 12 to 2 p. m., 7 to 9 p. m. apr 15-tf.

JACKSON & ODDINGTON,
Counsellors-at-Law,
Commissioners of Deeds, Masters-in-Chancery, Notaries Public, Office corner of Park avenue and Second st. over Gaskill's store. apr 15-tf

GEORGE W. DAY,
General Auctioneer,
Sales of Personal Property solicited. P. O. Box 139, Somerville, N. J., or address as care of the Constitutionalist. Terms reasonable.

DR. CHARLES H. THEISS,
Dentist,
29 West Front street, is now fitted scientifically as possible for extracting teeth without pain. Gold filling a specialty. apr 15-tf

H. HAND,
Auctioneer,
P. O. Address, Lock Box 31, Scotch Plains, N. J. Orders left at N. P. G. Shirley's Hardware Store, at West Front street, Plainfield, N. J., will receive prompt attention. apr 15-tf

CHARLES TEALE,
Architect,
287 Broadway, New York city, Rooms 28 and 29. (Opposite the Astor House, Bank Entrance.) Residence, Plainfield, N. J.—[y-41]

WM. E. McCLURE,
Attorney-at-Law,
MASTER IN CHANCERY, NOTARY PUBLIC.
Counsellor-at-Law of Deeds. Office, North Avenue opposite Depot, Plainfield. apr 15-tf

J. H. FRISTER,
Veterinary Surgeon.
Office in A. H. Sutphen's livery office, corner Main street and Second avenue. Residence, Somerville, N. J. Calls promptly attended. Telephone connection. Horses examined as to soundness. Terms moderate. Graduate of the Royal Veterinary College, London, England. apr 15-tf

ARTHUR P. MILLER,
Attorney-at-Law,
(Successor to the late W. S. Mayhew), Solicitor in Chancery, Notary Public. Will buy and sell real estate, and will loan money on bond and mortgage on property. Office over First National Bank. apr 15-tf

F. A. DURHAM,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor,
No. 9 Park avenue, above Second st. Parties wishing plans or to the erection of dwellings or manufacturing establishments, will please call on any part of the country.—mh1

DR. J. F. GRIFFEN,
Electric Baths.
Dr. Griffen treats Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Chronic Constipation, Skin diseases, Asthma, Catarrh, Blood, Nervous Prostration and Chronic Diseases generally by his Electricity and Galvanic Batteries. Consultation Free. Office hours—9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. 15 East Second street, corner West Section.—mylst

BUSINESS CARDS.

ROBERT JAHN,
TIN AND COPPER-SMITH,
Scotch Plains,
(Fairwood Station, Central Railroad of New Jersey), Works and Repair work, Pumps, Tanners, and all kinds of steam work done to order. Steam Heating, Ventilation and Ventilation Caps. Repairing promptly attended to.—jy2tm

TO THE PUBLIC!

We wish to inform our customers and the public generally that we have on hand the best quality of

LEHIGH COAL,

Fresh from the Mines

It is under cover and well protected from the weather. We are prepared to deliver it well screened and in good condition. All orders will be promptly attended to. Office and yard at Somerset Junction and Manning Machine Co.'s Coal Sheds.

A. D. COOK & BRO.
jan21

J. Hervey Doane,
9 PARK AVENUE.
(Formerly Clute's.)

Watches,
Clocks
And Jewelry.

Repairing neatly and promptly done. apr1

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, VEGETABLES, DRIED FRUIT, ETC.
CORNER EMILY AND DUER STREETS
North Plainfield, New Jersey.

Celebrated Pilsbury Flour,
THE BEST IN THE MARKET.
ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED.
Thankful for past patronage I solicit a continuance Respectfully,
WILLIAM H. SHOTWELL.
apr15y

BOSTON CLOTHING HOUSE
42 W. FRONT ST.
Reliable Goods at Low Prices.
Order Department
Under the well-known Cutter,
NEWTON P. DRAKE.
Correct Styles. Right Prices
myst

Geo. A. Moore,
(Of the late firm of Moore Bros.)
Is now the proprietor of the old established market at
NO. 24 NORTH AVENUE,
Where he will continue to supply patrons with the finest grades of Fresh and Salt meats, Poultry and Game, Oysters, Clams, Fish, &c. Success as the lowest market price. Anything not usually kept in stock furnished at short notice.
Edward Ramonetti,
OYSTER AND ICE CREAM SALOON.
OYSTERS BY THE QUART, 100 OR 1000.
CHARLOTTE RUSSE MADE TO ORDER.
All Orders Promptly Attended to.
24 NORTH AVENUE,
Plainfield, New Jersey. Telephone Call No. 39.
jan29

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

Force's Hotel!
NORTH AVENUE
Near P. R. R. Depot, Plainfield, New Jersey.
JAMES M. FORCE, - Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY HOTEL.
Transient guests taken at reasonable rates.

Bottled Liquors a Specialty.

Laing's Hotel!
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

J. B. MILLER & BRO., - Proprietors.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.

James Conneely
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened the old-established
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 32 PARK AVE.,
Where he will be pleased to furnish his friends and patrons with the choicest brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors. mh14

TURF EXCHANGE HOTEL.
73 Courtlandt street,
CORNER WASHINGTON, NEW YORK CITY
FRED. W. BALLARD, - - Proprietor,
formerly of Jersey City, is now conducting the above centrally located hotel. Convenient to the business center Washington and Cortlandt streets, New York, and directly for the late Grand Van Fort, and by W. R. Stirlingue. All their old friends and the public generally are invited to call.
CURE WINES, LIQUORS AND SEGARS. lyinet

SOMERSET HOTEL.
Cor Somerset & Emily Sts., North Plainfield, N. J.
Permanent and Transient Board, at Reasonable.
First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all reasonable hours. tjyinf

C. E. JOHNSON,
If late firm of Shepherd, Johnson & Gideon.
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
Office, store, etc., Hess' Building, Corner Second street and Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey. Residence, 11 East Second street. Jobbing especially. mch12

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
SALESROOM—Madison Avenue: Front St. Plainfield, N. J.
Goods received on consignment

MRS. E. J. MARTIN'S
MAGIC RENOVATING FLUID.
For taking out grease from any kind of goods, without washing. Ladies' coats, silk dresses, &c., also, for cleaning lace curtains, crape, lace, satin, ribbons, velvets, &c., without rubbing. Also for cleaning carpets, rugs and shawls. Orders left at my residence, No. 5 Park Place, Plainfield, N. J., will receive prompt attention. Send at once for a bottle. Sold at wholesale and retail by Mrs. E. J. Martin, No. 5 Park Place, Plainfield, N. J. myl5tf

JOHN JOHNSTON,
DEALER IN
COAL!
Park Avenue Bakery!
JOHN WALKER, Prop'r
FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the Celebrated
VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS,
And all Varieties of
Pies, Cake and Confectionery.

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.
THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS,
BEST IN THE WORLD.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE.

MICHAEL UHDAL,
CONTRACTOR
AND LANDSCAPE GARDENER!
Residence:
NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
P. O. BOX 787, PLAINFIELD.

P. O. Box 8, Stelton, N. J.
FINE FOOT WEAR.
BEST MAKES.
LATEST STYLES,
AT THE
NEW SHOE STORE
Doane & Van Arsdale
22 WEST FRONT STREET.

SANITARY PLUMBING,
Brick and Portable Furnaces,
GAS FITTING,
TIN ROOFING,
Etc., Etc.
I am prepared to do any of the above branches in a neat and satisfactory manner. Estimates furnished upon application.
Having associated myself with the firm of Wm. Hall & Co., I am now prepared to do all kinds of Plumbing, Steam and Gas Fitting, Tinning, Roofing, etc., in the most first-class manner. Estimates furnished upon application. Orders left at my residence, No. 5 Park Place, or at the store of Wm. Hall & Co., No. 9 North Avenue, will receive prompt attention.
D. W. LITTELL,
No. 9 NORTH AVE. opposite Plainfield, N. J.

EDUCATIONAL.

RODMAN SEMINARY,
26 E. 6th Street. Will Re-open
SEPT. 15.
For circulars address
MRS. R. C. DINGEE, Principal.
6tmch

Miss S. G. Kenny's
SCHOOL FOR GIRLS
WILL RE-OPEN
Thursday, Sept. 22d. 1887.
For particulars address,
MISS S. G. KENNY, P. O. Box 500.
aug6

MR. LEAL'S SCHOOL,
WILL RE-OPEN
Monday, Sept. 19, 1887.

MISCELLANEOUS.

STEAM HEATING,
FOR CHURCHES, SCHOOLS, and DWELLINGS.
J. N. SCHENCK,
Plainfield, N. J.
P. O. Box 1051.—ap9y1

JAMES K. ARNOLD,
GROCER,
Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts., North Plainfield.

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.,
TO HIRE. CHARGES REASONABLE.
Hugo Weigman,
38 EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J. dec4tf

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST,
Residence—Harmony Street, North Plainfield, fourth house from Somerville street, left hand side of the road. Nativities cast, Horoscopes and Future events, likewise marriages, journeys, law suits, etc. Satisfaction guaranteed. No interview

In English, German and French.

Any husband in a first-class Cooper, Anthracite tube, patent, burner, etc., stove for sale.

Electrical Work!
ELECTRICAL WORK—WE ARE PREPARED to furnish estimates for all kinds of Electrical Work, from a call to a complete Electric Light Plant. Guarantee all our work. We will be pleased to call and see you at your residence or place of business, whether and it-putting it at market. Orders left at Roeburne's store will receive prompt attention.
PLAINFIELD DISTRICT TELEGRAPH CO.,
NO. 4 PARK AVENUE.
C. M. GODDARD, - Manager.
jy30tf

CAREY'S
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE, NO. 45 WEST FRONT STREET,
Nearly opposite Lehigh Hotel, Plainfield, N. J.
Having leased the above premises I am prepared to buy and sell second-hand Furniture. Chargeable for storing, etc. I will also take Furniture in exchange for moving. Furniture etc., stored. P. O. Box 274.—apr21

DOOR NUMBERS,
DOOR BELLS,
DOOR PLATES,
AT
DICKINSON & CLAWSON'S,
12 PARK AVENUE.
Below Netherwood Depot.

Dr. King's Spectacles.
jy14tf
Fleming & Angleman.

BUTCHERS.
Fresh, Salt and Smoked Meats,
Poultry, Fish, Vegetables, etc.
ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED.
No. 24 North avenue.
[New Stand.]
S. A. FLEMING, apl1 J. F. ANGLEMAN.

WERNER'S
—ONE PRICE—
Clothing House!
COME AND SEE US IN OUR
NEW STORE,
NO. 30 W. FRONT STREET.
JUST RECEIVED.
The Newest Styles
OF Seasonable Goods,
—FOR—
MEN, BOYS AND CHILDREN.
AND IN HECKWEAR AND GENT'S FURNISHING GOODS,
which we will gladly show you, even though you do not mean to buy. Call and look at them, and we are confident we can please you. Call and see us anyhow. Polite salesmen. No trouble to show goods.
WERNER'S
CLOTHING HOUSE,
30 W. FRONT STREET.

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPPLIES

Paints, Varnishes, Glass,
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALL PAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.
apl2

Weaver Bros.
House & Sign Painting, Graining,
Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a specialty.
Office and Shop in the rear of
138 EAST FRONT STREET,
D. WEAVER. P. O. Box 88. P. WEAVER

W. N. ROWE,
PAINTER AND DECORATOR,
Dealer in Paints, Oil, Varnishes, Glass, Brushes, etc. WALL PAPER and WINDOW SHADES. None but strictly first-class workmen employed. Estimates cheerfully given. Shop, 17 East Second street, Plainfield, N. J. Residence, 17 Grant street, Plainfield, N. J. P. O. Box [illegible]—apr9y1

A. D. WOOLSTON. J. P. BUCKLE
Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS,
Wall Papers,
PAINTER'S SUPPLIES. 20 NORTH AVENUE
apl22tf

MILLINERY.

Mrs. J. M. Dunn,
FASHIONABLE MILLINER,
LATEST SHAPES OF
BONNETS AND HATS
FRENCH IMPORTED FLOWERS.
Feathers, Velvets, Plushes, Ruchings, Laces, etc., Fancy Goods and Notions; Dress and Infants' Caps a Specialty.
PINKING, BLEACHING & PRESSING.
Feathers Dyed. Cleaned and Curled at SHORT NOTICE.
14 West Front street.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana.
CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the finest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Smokers Articles in Great Variety.
Call and see us.
C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
—SEGARS!—
No. 30 PARK AVE., (next to WEST SECOND ST.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smoker's Materials, of every description.
The celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, the finest mixture brought to this city to date.

--PICTURE FRAMES--
OF ALL KINDS, AT
S. E. FLOWER'S.
81 New York Prices, Studio 39 West Front street. Skrakers for drawing and oil painting, apl22tf

A. J. SMALLEY, S. D. SMALLEY
Smalley Bros.,
SELLING IN
Fresh and Salt Meats, Poultry, Etc.
25 SOMERSET STREET. (O ITH PLAINFIELD
Orders called for and delivered. A share of the public patronage is solicited.—jy30

Benj. F. Moore,
(Late of Moore Bros.)
BUTCHER,
And dealer in FRESH AND SALT MEATS
POULTRY, GAME, ETC.
Store next to former Park avenue hotel site.
Orders left by mail or otherwise promptly attended to. Goods delivered free of charge.
Telephone Call 111.—mch26

MAYNARD & HILL,
PRACTICAL BARBERS
AND
Artistic Hair Dressers,
No. 26 PARK AVENUE,
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting a specialty. Shampooing, &c., satisfactorily performed. tf[illegible]

Every Visual Defect Corrected.
WM. H. EINHAUS, Optician,
43 NASSAU ST., NEAR LIBERTY.
(5 Minutes Walk from Cortlandt Street Ferry)
NEW YORK.
My improved system of fitting glasses by very carefully testing each Eye separately on a newly invented apparatus, enables me to suit every case and avoids any possible error. Persons who have been troubled by getting suitable glasses will find it to their advantage to give me a trial. I make a specialty of Spectacles for Children, and am pleased to show the use of the instrument to any one who may call.

THE BEST
BRAZILIAN PEBBLES,
In Fine Steel Frames, $2.50.
ESTABLISHED 1847. ofm4

Carney Bros.,
PRACTICAL
Plumbers, Tinners & Gas Fitters,
Heaters, Ranges and Stoves.
Dealers in all kinds of Boston, Scotch and Glasgow Boilers. Also all kinds of Pipe, Valves, Fittings, etc., kept constantly on hand. Steam, Hydro and Gas Fitting a specialty. Orders left at our premises in Plainfield will receive prompt attention. Telephone connection with Somerville. Estimates furnished upon application. Shop in rear of 9 Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.

Our Sanitary Plumbing
Department is, as it always has been, perfect in its arrangements, and one of the best in the country. Our Steam Heating and Ventilating Department is under the charge of a thoroughly competent man, and we guarantee satisfaction in every case. Our Tinning, Roofing and Gas Fitting Departments are in charge of skilled workmen, and we guarantee satisfaction in every case. Our Stock of Heaters, Ranges and Stoves is the largest in this section of the country, and we can suit the most fastidious in style and price. Our Stock of Hardware is complete in every particular, and we can supply anything in that line at the lowest prices. Our Stock of Pumps is the largest in this section of the country, and we can supply anything in that line at the lowest prices.

The Economic Gas Engine.
This cut shows the engine in operation in our store. We have the agency for this engine, and have it in operation in our store. We have had it in operation for over a year, and can recommend it as the best gas engine in the market. It is simple in construction, and is not liable to get out of order. It is under the control of the operator at all times, and can be started or stopped at any moment. It is economical in the consumption of gas, and is the cheapest power for the amount of work it will do. Call and see it in operation, and get our prices before buying elsewhere.

We Guarantee Our Work.
We are constantly receiving new goods in our line, and are prepared to offer to the trade and consumers the best goods at the lowest prices. Our facilities for doing work are unsurpassed, and we are prepared to do work in any part of the country. Our Stock of Goods is complete in every particular, and we can supply anything in our line at the lowest prices. Our Stock of Pumps is the largest in this section of the country, and we can supply anything in that line at the lowest prices.

7 and 9 Somerset street.

LITTLE OLD-FASHIONED.

As prim as a city in easter quiet nook,
She sate by herself, with her skein or her book,
And heard, with an air patronizing and cool,
The voices of other sweet children at play,
Their laughter and shouts, which grew shrill as they Each romping and merriment sate sat for But some one's heart whispers that she is not glad;
Her little home-body, her old-fashioned girl,
Who never has learned to be gay or to romp,
Rocks hater to sleep with a matronly air,
Or, seated on some low stool, sits down on, she
A perfect effigy of granny would be.
When mother looks earnestly, ah! quickly she
And knows how a free-nothing love-waits with
Then in that dear lap lays each soft, shining
She's a mother's own comfort, her old-fashioned girl.
When twilight has mellowed the last playtime dim,
She whispers: "Are the children all in?"
Or, watching the gate, when a footstep comes near,
She whispers: "That's father; I'm so glad He's home!"
The youngest of shoulders, the oldest of
Does any one know a sore darling who needs
A heart full of love, and a lap full of rest,
Like mother's home-body, her old-fashioned
girl.
George Cooper, in Harper's Young People.

DIVING FOR PEARLS.

How the Gems Are Drawn from the Depths of the Sea.

The oldest pearl-fishery in the world is that which has been worked from time immemorial in the Gulf of Manaar, which lies opposite coast of Southern India; but, says a contributor to Chambers' Journal, at the present day the region where the pearling business is carried on chiefly is the coast of Ceylon, and very little more in the eastward, in the seas between the northwestern coast of Australia and the islands to the north and the Philippines on the north. Visitors to Ceylon find, as is known, the Cingalese remember the great pillars glittering with mother-of-pearl shells that decorated one of the Australian cities. The pearl oyster is of the "exhibits" of the northwest Australian colony. The pearls themselves were to be seen in the same department of the exhibition, the great of the whole collection being the curious natural cluster known as the Queen of Scots' Crown. Mr. Hedley Stretcher, the greatest living authority on such matters, has described it as the recently published work on Pearls and Pearling: "So far as is known, it is the most remarkable unique position in the history of pearls. It consists of a group of nine pearls, arranged in a cluster, in the most perfect manner as to form an almost perfect Latin cross. The largest pearls compose the shaft, which measures an inch and a half in length; while the arms, each of the same length, are made up of one pearl on each side, almost opposite to the second pearl, reckoning from the top every pearl of the composition is of rare size of fine orient, and would be of great shape even were they found singly. Discussion during growth, they have become slightly flattened on their opposed sides, and are thus fitted to one another, while they are distorted into drop-shapes at the back." The cross-piece is said to be worth £2,000 or three thousand pounds; but experts hold that this estimate is too high. It was found in 1872 at Roeburne, near the headquarters of the Australian fishery.

Pearling goes on that coast not quite twenty years ago, and, like many great industries, it began in a very small way. At first, the shells were simply picked up from the beach, but in a few years men row-boats with a few native diggers began to work in the shallows near the shore, and then, as the shells in these

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE, A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors.

CENTENNIAL.

The Centennial celebration in Philadelphia last week of the adoption of the Constitution of the United States was, in every particular, a grand affair, well instituted, thoroughly planned, and successfully carried out. It afforded to the immense assemblage of American citizens illustrations of the material progress of this country, and the march of enlightened knowledge during the past one hundred years, and thereby not only imparted profitable information, but enlivened the spirit of patriotism.

It moreover taught the highest lesson of value, that our wonderful national growth and prosperity was directly due to the organic law of 1787.

The wise action of the statesmen of a hundred years ago has produced a fruitful harvest.

The principles of government embodied in the Constitution have made the Republic what it is, States united what they are.

May that truth be lastingly remembered by the people!

Support the Constitution in its entirety defeat it from every innovation and assault, and the mighty million-ed of America in 1987, will then possibly noting a greater change wrought by the work of a century than we do now, will treasure as the best of all ancestral gifts the freedom protecting Constitution of Washington, Franklin, Madison and their illustrious co-laborers.

May it live and abide forever.

LABOR.

It has been stated, and no doubt correctly, that men employed in and around the Pennsylvania coal-breakers receive average par of about 80 cents per day, being $4.80 a week, or $21 a month, or $250 a year, provided they do not lose time, and on such starvation wages the poor toiling fellows are expected to incur the expense of house rent and to support wives and children.

Talk about protecting American against foreign pauper labor on such a poor house basis as that.

It is the wanton cry of hypocrisy, and an insult to honesty and intelligence.

Away with it.

If paying an American working man eighty cents a day, and at the same time saying, as he may prevails, heavy war taxes upon him for all the necessaries of life, is not running close to the line of human destitution, truth must indeed be a scarce article in this loud-professing land.

It is pauperizing, not protecting labor.

That and nothing else.

With all the evils attending pogro tory, the dark-skinned victims were suffered a relief of the pangs of hunger and feverishness of anxiety now encountered by thousands of free white American laborers.

Happily, black personal servitude has been forever abolished. Let the people be careful that none other takes its place.

Mine owners and coal operators can and do combine to extort enormous profits from consumers. Many of them count private fortunes by millions of dollars, live in luxury and splendor, and are waited upon every day by well fed and finely dressed household servants who receive greater money recompense than those poor creatures at the mines, protected American laborers mind ye, who are expending strength and vitality in order to make the rich richer, and for themselves, fighting the cruel battle of life early and late, merely to keep ravenous wolves of want from miserable homes.

It ought not to be so.

In view of known facts, who can truthfully assert that Labor in America, not in Europe, has no wrongs to right, no just cause to advocate?

We admit any hostility to Capital, individual or associated, when it is honestly acquired and legitimately employed, but we do wage bitter warfare against every system that robs labor and industry, of every kind, of just privileges and rewards, and which would, if possible, keep the artificers of wealth down to the degraded level of bevies of wood and drawers of water for bodily manhood.

A change is surely coming:

This country cannot permanently exist half immensely rich and half intensely poor, as monopolists would elect, any more than it could half free and half slave.

Money is might, but remember, the victorious battle of right has often been on the side of the weak.

The name of Col. Charles W. Thomas, of Bound Brook, James Van Cleef, of Somerville, H. M. Beekman, of North Branch, Branchburg township and Andrew Lane of Hillsborough township, are mentioned in connection with the senatorial nomination on the Democratic side in Somerset county. Col. Thomas would make a formidable candidate, while Mr. Van Cleef would command the votes of a large percentage of the voters of the county should he be selected as the standard bearer of the party on the convention. He is experienced and active. Mr. Beekman also has a large following among the county voters. It behooves the Democracy of North Plainfield to be on the alert and select suitable delegates to the Convention. On them may rest the honor of nominating a successful candidate for the Senatorship.

Veterinary surgeons estimate that between 150 and 200 horses have died recently from spinal meningitis in Southern New Jersey since the disease made its appearance. The disease is now abating.

State Prison Keeper Patterson had established a night school among the convicts, which is said to have progressed satisfactorily during the first week of its existence. A room next to the class room has been reserved for John M. Jackson, Plainfield's barn burner.

Commissioner Muirhead, the master appointed to investigate the management of the Savings Institution of the city of Hackney, E. J., which failed in 1877, has made his report. He finds that there was reason for some of the charges brought against the managers, condemns them for some of their acts and concludes that the bank's affairs should be closed up at once.

THE FIREBUG EXAMINATION.

The following is the testimony of "Edward J. Murphy," taken at the hearing of Thursday last:

STUART SWORN.

"Edward J. Murphy," was next sworn. He said: I know the two prisoners; have known them for some time; was with them from 8 to 12; after coming out of Cooper's Jackson said: 'Let's go to a feed of oysters.' I said, 'I want to see, will you go with me?' I told him it was tea time; it was 6 o'clock; it was 10 o'clock at midnight; Jackson said that would be all right. I said I was tired and didn't care to go. He said: 'Murphy, what's the matter with having a shine to-night?' I told him I was tired. He said: 'Your mother would do me good. Jackson said: 'Will you walk home 'till I come back; I said 'Yes.'" He went off and came back smelling of turpentine. Jackson told me (Murphy) and Van Nest) good night, telling them I was going home. The prisoners then went down Second street. I went into the house, slammed the door, and then walked slowly and sought other Lynch; met Officer McCoy, and asked him where Lynch was; McCoy not knowing where I was as I said nothing to him about it. Lynch knew it, because Jackson told him afterwards. I went to catch fire-bugs; not succeeding in finding Lynch, I went home and went to bed; some afternoon of fire; put on my coat, pants, shoes and hat and went to fire; saw Jackson and Van Nest standing together at fire; Jackson said "Come here, Murphy, we've got a bottle. All took went short distance to corn-field where I took a "pull at the bottle," Jackson cause: "Say, Murphy, I'd set you down again to-night." I asked: "What shine?" Jackson made no reply. I asked: "Have to us—nothing to Van Nest and him?" said: "No, but didn't care if they'll, but remarked that will was a pretty hot shine. We were then 25 or 30 feet from the fire. Jackson said: "Let's go home with them." words "shine" used in connection with "runs" and "fire."

EXAMINATION BY COUNSELLOR HETFIELD.

Murphy said—Was first led to believe that there was to be a fire; Met Theodore VanNote that Saturday morning at the carpenter's saloon about eight o'clock. He was in there when I entered, talking at a table with Jackson. I said 'good morning,' and stood about ten feet from them. I cannot tell about how long I was in there with them. My business called me in and out again. Went out about three quarters of an hour after I first went in, and was not alone together with them during that time. Drank with them all the time—they paid for it, but a good deal I said back. If I had drank as I could never have been sober here. I would have had to be a young hogshead if I had drank every time they did. That is the point that I expected to any questioning as to the conduct of Jackson and VanNest, and the Court sustained the objection.] The witness then went on to state that he was sober at the time. Had lived in Plainfield about seven months.

Mr. Hetfield then asked, "Mr. Murphy, what is your correct name?"

The Prosecution objected at once. He said that the defendant's counsel should not find out the real name of the witness. The prosecution had a reason for not giving the real name of the complainant, and knew no objection for the witness to the information that was sufficient to have the case held. Mr. Hetfield replied to the effect "that such a position was most ridiculous. In this case the liberty of the defendant is involved, as he was charged with the most heinous crime on the statute books. The only witness that the charge is a stranger in this city. The Court does not know who he is, the defendant does not know who he is, and his counsel does not know who he is. But they all have a right to know. He cited authorities in support of his demands. Mr. Corbin replied to Mr. Hetfield. He held that the authorities cited were not applicable to this case. There were principles adopted in this country. There he said, were in effect to leave with the Court to say in the exercise of its sound discretion—what questions of a personal character should be answered and what will be allowed.

Judge Lurch ruled that the question as to the name of the witness would not be allowed. That the examination was for the purpose of getting at the facts of the case. So ruled. Also that whether the witness was married, or where he lived just prior to coming to Plainfield, were also irrelevant questions and not "cross-examination."

The cross-examination was then resumed, and the witness, Murphy, continued: Am keeping house in Plainfield, and have a sweetheart in it. Am working for the City of Plainfield at the present time.

Mr. Hetfield's next question as to who employed him was not admitted, but the prosecution stated that Mr. Dodd had paid and assumed the cost of the services of the gentleman as a detective. The Court then permitted the question to be put. The question himself, and he continued: Was first employed by Charles Dodd about the latter part of April, and later by the Mayor. I do not expect any fee or reward for my services or compensation as the result of a conviction in this case. When I made the arrests I knew nothing about any rewards offered for the arrest or conviction of incendiaries in this city. [The question, "Have you been already paid for your services?" was not allowed.] I have carried on a fight on Van Nest since I do know of my own knowledge that VanNest stole the McClellan horse. I have a strong belief that way, based on facts from his own lips. First he said he'd never get me. Then he said: "Come out at the fire when Jackson and VanNest called together and said: "This is our shine," and as Van Nest did not deny it, therefore I take it he did it. He also did not say anything else that I remember concerning the fire while I was there. I have stated all the facts in this examination whereby I think VanNest is guilty of the fire. There were a number of other people, and also the engines, at the fire when I got there. Jackson and VanNest were both at the far side of the bank across the road. They were surrounded by people until Jackson stepped up to where they saw me. I did not call them out. The paper was not in my hand when I beckoned. Jackson asked me to have a quiet from the bottle. I thought others were implicated in the fire, as I was sick and sick. The parties I suspected was the night on the fire. I went to bed. I saw a doctor's, and I thought by getting down by I could get to sleep. I did not sleep. I went in a room told to take a drink; I went about five feet back of the bars. It was between 8 and 9 o'clock in the night before the fire. I left them all together. I left them that I saw them again at the fire. I fell into a door and was helped by my wife. I was boarding on Second street with Mr. Crater, near Park avenue, Plainfield.

The defendant's counsel then stated he could not get Jackson and VanNest here. Mr. Hetfield replied that the State's case was all in and Judge Lurch promptly rendered his decision. He said there were a number of circumstances set forth in the testimony that should be considered before the Grand Jury—that Jackson and VanNest were seen together on the night said to Murphy 'you will be sure to see shine,' and VanNest to Jackson 'what's our shine,' and VanNest by his silence tacitly admitted his share in the deed. The Court is satisfied, however, in view that as to whether there was enough evidence to convict the accused before a petit jury or not, was not the question. The Court felt it would not be justified in releasing the prisoner, and would therefore commit him to await the action of the Grand Jury.

The further hearing in the cases of Louis and Thomas VanNest, of the arson incendiaries, came up before City Judge Lurch Thursday last. There was present, Prosecutor Wilson for the State, and Corporation Counsel Hetfield for the City. When the case of Horace VanNest was called, his counsel, Mr. Arthur P. Miller, not not present and Mr. Corbin stated for him. Among those present were President of the Council F. E. Morris, Councilmen Dunham and Taylor, Chief of Police Dodd, Rev. T. Logan McMurray, ex-Chief of the Fire Department Seltzman.

Just as the Court was warning Counsel that the cases stood, he moved a time. Mr. Miller arrived. The prosecutor stated the hearing would be commenced by the witness Purse fire on the night of March 15th, for which Jackson and Horace and Louis and Thomas VanNest were charged. He waived all examination, the proceedings would be in relation to the charges against the two VanNests.

MR. CAMBON PARSE SWORN.

Cambon Parse was first sworn and stated—I owned in March, 1887, a dwelling on Seventh street near Grand avenue, Plainfield. Had insured it for $2,000 in VanNest previous to its burning on March 15th, 1887. Had no agent in the city. Was in charge of it. He had been in the house about one month. Moved into it, burned, and lived there with his family. It was not rented to anyone else, but after he had moved out he left it. Had been a day before the fire, and his bureau had been emptied. He had moved out, not before the fire, and was living in the house at that time. I think his brother Horace was also living in the house at the time.

The witness here described the house, and proceeded to state that it was discovered burned, the morning after the fire. Went to the place and saw that it was burned. Saw Louis VanNest there. I think he told me—or someone on the ground did—that he had found the house was burned in the house. I am not certain but think I had a conversation with Louis VanNest [looking at him]—either him or Horace. Don't think he said anything to me about the fire, or that he had said anything that was insured. Mr. Honeyman had moved some goods into the house before the fire.

CROSS-EXAMINATION BY W. B. CODDINGTON.

Notified Louis VanNest on the street four or five days before the fire. Said to him that I should not insure the property for a few days. He said he would insist for a few days. He said he would insist for me to insure the property, and observed no objection to surrendering the house. I think he did not make the price for insuring. Saw no one else in the room. Perhaps I told him he might for a few days.

EXAMINATION OF MR. NEWTON HOSEMAN.

I know the house spoken of. During the Friday, before the 15th of March, had moved my goods into the house. Did not see Louis VanNest on the day I moved my goods in. After they were stored I went through the house. Horace took me through the house and showed me Louis' goods in three rooms on the south side of the house. From my examination of Louis' goods, I judged they were worth sixty dollars. At the time of the fire, my goods and chattels were all destroyed, and those down stairs were carefully taken out and afterwards stolen. I went to the fire the next morning about half-past seven o'clock. My goods were not insured. Can't say whether Louis Van Nest had any insurance on his goods.

CROSS-EXAMINED.

Went in front room. Horace opened the door. In there was a brussels carpet and linoleum in the floor of the other. A bedstead, bedding, a bureau and three or four chairs. That was all I saw in the room. Know the goods were Louis Van Neste. Saw them out doors the next day and he claimed them. In the second room was an extension table, a lounge, some chairs and a small-sized bedstead. There was a carpet on the floor. Was through every room in the house the day before the fire. In the third room I only looked in the door. Saw a bedstead and bedding. Had no carpet on the floor. There were some goods in the parlor that I do not know who owned. Horace claimed them. I think I have mentioned all the goods in the three rooms. Did not go in the cellar. Don't know what goods were in there. The goods in that house belonged to Louis VanNest, who was living somewhere else more than sixty dollars. Nothing called my particular attention to the goods. I only noticed the rooms were sensibly furnished. Make my estimate by looking at the goods. Was not in the pantrys. Saw no kitchen furniture or crockery. I don't think I looked into the closets in the rooms that day.

On redirect examination said he thought there was nothing in the cellar, because Louis said after the fire that it was forbidden to him that he [the] [illegible] full of butter. He had been out some days and had been going to New York to buy.

MR. BUTLER TESTIFIED.

Mr. W. C. Butler was the next witness. He said: I am an insurance agent in this city, and was so previous to the 15th of March of this year. I knew Louis VanNest. Insured his property for the last time on the 15th of March. The property consisted of household furniture, and land, butter and eggs when stored in the cellar. The amount of insurance was a year at the time of the fire. The policy was then in the hands of Louis VanNest, who took it. I don't remember. It was to the amount of $400 on the furniture anywhere in the house, and $200 for goods stored in the cellar. The insurance on produce in the cellar was after he had moved in the Parse house. The policy on furniture was in the books. The only change transferred to the Parse house on Seventh street Dec. 29th, 1886. The policy was issued to Louis and Van Note on Second street. We paid him $70. I think one tub of butter in the cellar of the Second street as lost. He said it was an inferior article. I can't say now how much he said was lost. I think there was one tub of butter in the cellar.

CROSS EXAMINATION.

The articles were not enumerated in policy. VanNest only claimed one tub of butter on the day of the fire. Saw no coal in cellar. He brought list to my office of furniture claimed as lost. Adjusted the loss for $260 without further proof of the fire. Have not the list, and can't state what it contained.

On redirect examination—The policy was issued by the Hanover Fire Insurance Co., of New York.

THE HACKMAN'S TESTIMONY.

James McCormick was next sworn, and examined by Mr. Hetfield. He said: I am a hack driver in this city. Know Louis and Thomas VanNest, Jackson and John M. Jackson. First saw them the night of the fire. Charge Smith, a liquor saloon at the corner of Front and Somerset streets. They were together at the bar. Louis said: "Will you take my charge to take us home." I said, "fifty cents." He said, "all right." He then came out and got in my wagon. He [Parse] understood him to mean the Parse house. Before he got out there they said "let's get out and walk." They did not. It was almost 12 o'clock. I do not believe it was the night of the fire. I left them about five minutes to nine with their horse. I think they were talking first about throwing dice. I asked them to haul the fire-wood, which was in the way. Jackson said: "No, I'll be d—d if I'm haunted. Hot said he looked the doors and windows after the fire would open again. I knew there was no talk after that in my carriage. After they left me I came right home and did not go to the fire afterwards. I did not hear the alarm.

CROSS EXAMINATION.

Let the VanNests and Jackson out there a driveway leading to their house. I undergood that they had been in that there were three to go. I heard all the conversation between the three in the bar. Horace had told me he lived with Louis. I don't know whether Jackson is related to Horace.

On redirect examination—I don't know whether Jackson lives with them. The Counsel for the defence admitted, at this point, that Jackson did not live there.

CROSS-EXAMINATION RESUMED.

Being duly sworn, Officer Lynch, upon examination by Mr. Wilson, said—Was a police officer of this city on the night of the Carmen Parse fire. Knew John M. Jackson, Horace, Louis and Thomas Van Nest, and know what they are charged with the fire spoken of. They were arrested and came to the police station here. While there had a conversation in the part with what I [Mr. Coddington here objected to this conversation being repeated. In his opinion the Prosecutor stated what was intended to be shown. That the three were left at the house by the lieutenant, and within a half-hour afterwards the fire broke out. And that Jackson and what one man was given for starting the fire. The Court admitted the conversation objected to by the prisoner. He says: "Pat, I wanted to see Tom Price. I want to get a lawyer to defend me in the burning Parse's house." Jackson said: "I will tell Mr. Price to come and see you." He said: "Hot and Louis met me in the saloon and asked me up to their house. I asked him if he didn't live in the same house with Louis and Hot." Jackson said he told them it was too late, he was a night watchman and had to go on duty. They asked Jackson to take a drink, and he went with them. They then left him with them. They then asked Jackson down to their house with them. They got the hack and hired him to take them to where they lived. They all three went in and commenced to play cards. They played for a while and Mrs. VanNest said, "its time to sleep and stop playing now, go and get him." Hot and Lou went out the back door and Jackson said he staid by the stove for awhile. Then he went out in the yard and met Hot and Lou. Hot said, "Oh —, that's nothing," and opened the door and window and pulled the wire, that was already loose, on the ceiling. Jackson said he then left them, and said that Hot VanNest struck a match and threw it in the box, and said "the box is already half of shine." Jackson said that Lou gave Hot VanNest ten dollars for starting the fire. He also said there was three or five hundred dollars reward and the VanNests kept him like a fighting cock" for two or three weeks.

The conversation took place in the yard near the station house door. It was not in the presence of any of the other prisoners. To my knowledge the ten dollars was paid for the burning of the house. I gained that knowledge because what Jackson told me. That was my only knowledge. He said he was like a fighting-cock" for two or three weeks.

The counsel for the prisoners objected to the testimony as irrelevant, and moved it be entirely stricken out. The Court replied it would not strike out the testimony. The Court thought it was relevant, and put it further hearing until Thursday afternoon, the 22d inst., at two o'clock.

The October term of the Union County Court promises to be a long and important one. Several notable cases will be tried among them the Chandler who so brutally murdered his family in Stager alley, and the accused Bridgeport wife murderer. The trial of the Kinney murderer may turn up by that time.

COMMON COUNCIL MEETING.

The Colector's Books Accepted—Other Business of a Routine Nature.

The City Council met in adjourned regular session in the Council Chamber last Monday. President Marsh in the chair. The roll call showed the following Councilmen present: Messrs. Berdan, Dunham, Dumond, Cox, Taylor, Wilbur. As there was no objection the reading of the minutes was dispensed with. Under the head of reports of standing committees and communications," the following were presented, and except when otherwise stated, were referred to the proper committees:

To the Common Council of the City of Plainfield:

GENTLEMEN:—Enclosed herewith I hand you a copy of costs in proceedings for mandamus in the case of the inhabitants of the City of Plainfield vs. Nelson Rogers, City Judge, wherein "the inhabitants" got left by a large majority. Have the goodness to direct that a warrant be issued for the amount of said costs, and much oblige

Yours Respectfully
NELSON ROGERS.

Mr. Cox said he did not altogether like the tone of the communication, and his motion to lay the matter on the table, prevailed.

[The case in which Judge Runyon published judgment for costs was begun and argued over seven years ago, and decided in November 1885 when some of the present members of the Council were in office. Messrs. Sugdam and Jackson were attorneys for the city and Judge Runyon appeared in his own person. The mandamus was brought to compel the latter to issue tax warrants for the years from 1875 to 1879 inclusive. The court decided that the list of delinquents had not been properly returned to the Judge, or at least that the one did not show that such a return had been made and until that was shown defendants duty to issue the warrants did not arise. The rule was therefore discharged with costs.]

From Samuel B. Hart for permission to remove the frame building from East corner of Fourth street and Park avenue, through East Fourth street to a point on the corner of North Fourth and Fifth streets. Referred to the Committee on Fire, Water and Lamps.

From H. H. Baker, accompanied by samples of metal, for casing streets. The communication was filed.

The President stated that the object of the meeting, besides the transaction of regular business, was for the purpose of examining and passing upon the Collector's books. He said the matter was in the hands of the Finance Committee and the members could adjourn to the anteroom and examine the books, the same to be reported on during the evening. Hours. Taylor, now for ten months President of Council, moved that the books be referred for a brief examination of the books.

Bills were presented and referred as follows, the first to the Street Committee and the latter to the Auditing Committee: George H. Angleman, work on streets, as per Bonniwell bill, $10; A. VanDevender, rent of room for City Court purposes, $45.

Mr. Bowers, from the Fire, Water and Lamps Committee, reported favorably on Hetfield's petition of April 4th, 1887, and recommended that the same be granted. Council then took a recess to wait the pleasure of the Finance Committee, and upon re-assembling Mr. Bowers' recommendation was adopted.

Mr. Taylor from the Finance Committee reported that the Committee had examined the Collector's books, and offered a resolution in effect that the same be accepted. The resolution was adopted.

The same Committee returned as correct the report of the Treasurer and Collector, referred at the last meeting. They were received and ordered on file. He also returned as correct the above bill of Mr. A. VanDevender, and it went to the Auditing Committee.

The rules were suspended to allow one Councilman to make a report, and Mr. Dumont, from the Street Committee, returned as correct the bill of Geo. M. Angleman, $301.50. It passed into the hands of the Auditing Committee.

Mr. Dumont called attention to several instances where sidewalks had been laid at such a low grade that water congregated on them, and stated that the present maps were so complicated as to mislead a person in search of information by consulting them. He offered the following preamble, which was adopted:

WHEREAS the city grade maps are in an imperfect condition and some of the grades in the immediate vicinity are incorrect, and

WHEREAS There is no such office as City Surveyor and no change of existing grades can be lawfully made without the sanction and direction of the Street Commissioner, Therefore be it

Resolved, That notice be hereby given to all concerned that all changes in existing grades made otherwise than under the direction of the Street Commissioner are without authority and at the peril of the person making the same and are liable to be changed by order of the city establishing a different grade.

He also offered a resolution that the clerk cause to have returned to the city, all grade maps, etc., and that the same be placed in a map closet in the Council Chamber. The resolution was adopted.

The President called upon the clerk to make a statement concerning the numbering of houses, street maps, etc. Clerk O. Bond reported that he had been directed to have the houses renumbered and the numbering was going steadily along. Property owners were unable to find purchasers for their property as long as the thoroughfares were known by its present name, and had asked that the name be changed to a more desirable one. Considerable discussion followed on the subject, Mr. Cox suggesting that it may be well to give the property owners a vote in the matter.

Mr. Dumont suggested, which assumed the form of a motion and prevailed that the clerk report to the Committee for duty in detail where complications are likely to be met in the numbering, so report to the next meeting on the Ordinance now in the hands of the Committee, with reference to changing the names of certain streets.

The Auditing Committee, through Mr. Cox, reported correct the above claims, and on motion of Mr. Bowers they were ordered paid by warrants.

Council then adjourned.

Won the Trophies.

Saturday last was regular Club shoot day for the inanimate target trophies on the Middlesex Gun Club Grounds at Dunellen. The attendance was large and the class A. Mr. Charles Smith of this city, captured the trophy, and Mr. Elisha A. Shephard of Bound Brook, the class B trophy. These trophies are considered for open a month—the third Saturday.

Happeny Released on Bail.

Phillip Happeny, one of the men accused of being an incendiary, was last Friday released from the Elizabeth Jail on bail, as THE PRESS stated that he would be. Bail was fixed in the sum of $1000, his mother and Mrs. Sullivan each qualifying in that amount. Happeny had been in the jail since the night when the order was presented at the Jail, arresting his release. He jumped out of bed, dressed and was on his way to the depot in a few minutes, arriving home almost nine o'clock.

Comparison of Gas Bills.

The following figures will show the consumptions of electric lights connected in the various houses of the Plainfield Fire Department for the months of June, July and August, as presented at the Fire Board meeting of last week:

	June.	July.	August.
Gazette Engine house	$12.50	$9.50	$13.75
No. 1 Engine house	4.00	4.00	4.00
No. 2 Engine house	3.50	3.50	3.50
Hook and Ladder	3.50	3.50	3.50
Alert house	3.50	3.50	3.50
Total	$26.50	$23.50	$28.25

NEW MARKET.

Mr. Frederick Ward has started a bank and lunch counter opening all trains at Dunellen and New Market depots. There is ample room for him and his accommodation.

DUNELLEN.

Chris. Huff, who has been running a hack here, has retired from the business. When we left two hackmen, possessing an upon arrival of trains were frequently unable to obtain a conveyance at the depot. There is a good opening and a good living for a live man with proper accommodation.

L. C. MULLER,
Cor. Secy Missionary Society for the Elizabeth District.

Opening the State Fair.

The State Fair opened at Waverly on Monday, but the first day was almost entirely devoted to receiving and classifying the exhibits. Tuesday there were a large number of visitors in attendance and the only thing to mar the success of the festivities was an accident on the race track, whereby Charles Wooley, a driver, was seriously if not fatally injured. He was driving a "sulky" in a race, when at a 2.37 gait, and just as he turned to come down the homestretch he attempted to pass Ida Bell, who was just in front of him. Suddenly there was a crash and horses, drivers and buggies went down in a heap together, Wooley's sulky was badly broken up, a wheel striking him in the himself, covered with blood and dust, lay unconscious on the track. Two of his ribs were found to be broken and he was badly cut about the head. Displays in the various departments are said to be unusually fine. Tuesday the awards were announced at the bench show, Mr. Percy C. Ohl of this city, being one of the judges.

MISCELLANEOUS.

PIANO INSTRUCTION.

MISS CARRIE C. DEWEY
WILL RESUME HER LESSONS
OCTOBER 1, 1887.

MR. A. VENINO

Has resumed his Lessons in Plainfield. Please apply early for choice of Hours.

Plainfield Seminary or Steinway Hall, N. Y.

DISSOLUTION NOTICE.

WESTFIELD, N. J., MARCH 18, 1887.

J. P. Stelle retires from and his interests in our firm of Stelle & Miller cease this day. We are pleased to say that the firm are to be connected with the same business as before by the undersigned, who will continue to enjoy the remaining members of the firm.

IRVING & CO.

Witness:
S. C. IRVING,
S. M. IRVING,
J. W. MILLER,
J. P. STELLE.

AUCTION.

SALE OF FURNITURE ON Monday, September 26th,
At one o'clock P. M., on North Street, second house from Front, Plainfield.

I will sell Cabinet Extension Table, 3 W Suffed, 3 R Suffed, Rocking Chairs and Recliner, Folding and Dining Room Chairs and Recliner, Upright Piano, Tables, Mirrors, Bureaus, Bedsteads, Hall Rack, Mattresses, Spring Mattresses, Feather Bed, Bolsters, Pillows, Bed Clothing, Blankets, Comforts, Sheets, Pillow Cases, Hanging Rock Shelves, Brass Andirons and Fender, Screens, Bronze Lamp, Hall Carpet, Stair carpets, large and small Rugs, Screen, Dresser Set of Crockery, Glassware, Tinware, Kitchen Utensils and Iron Ware, Decorated Toilet Sets, Kitchen Table, Step Ladders, &c.

Terms Cash. OLLIER, Auctioneer.

REGISTRY OF VOTERS.

Notice is hereby given that the several Boards of Registry of the City of Plainfield will meet on the

Tuesday, October 18, 1887,

at the following places, beginning at 7 o'clock, A. M., the registration of the persons entitled to vote at the General Election to be held on Tuesday, November 8, 1887, within the corporate limits of the city, and remain in session at the place of the meeting:

The Board of Registry in the several wards will meet at the following named places:

In Assigned by the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, as follows:

1st Ward, Vail's Real Estate Office, North Avenue.

2d Ward, The Crescent Building, Broadway.

3rd Ward, Sharp's Carriage Factory West Fifth st.

4th Ward, Laing's Hall, West Front st.

In accordance with an Act to Legislature of New Jersey entitled "An Act to Legislate Elections," approved April 17th, and supplements thereto.

By order of the Common Council.
OLIVER B. LEONARD,
City Clerk.

Plainfield, N. J., Sept. 22, 1887.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors

Union County Surrogate's Office,
September 24, 1887.

Jacob Lang, the Executor of Rachel Arnett, deceased.

On application of the above named Executor it is ordered that said Executor give public notice to the Creditors of the estate of said deceased to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the said deceased, and that he shall give such notice by causing the same to be published once in twenty days hereafter in the two of the most public places in the county of Union, and also within the next twenty days, by advertising in three of the most public places in the same county of Union; and if any creditor shall neglect to bring in his debt or demand to him within the said period of nine months, public notice of which as aforesaid, such creditor shall be forever barred of his or her action thereof against the said Executor.

JAS. J. GERDEN, Surrogate.

P. H. BENNETT,

(Successor to B. H. Buchanan)

DEALER IN

BUTTER,
EGGS AND PRODUCE,
MEATS OF ALL KINDS,

Fruits & Vegetables

IN THEIR SEASON.

42 Park avenue, Plainfield N. J.

Goods Delivered to any part of the City. ag20

TUESDAYS {Sept. 20th / Oct. 11th

CHICAGO NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

THE GREAT

HARVEST EXCURSIONS

TO POINTS IN

DAKOTA,
NEBRASKA,
WYOMING,
MINNESOTA,
NORTHERN IOWA,

For reliable Excursion Tickets call on

ONE FARE for the Round Trip.

Tickets will be good 20 days from date of sale.

For full information call on the nearest Agent of the Company, or address

R. C. LINDEN, Gen'l Pass'r Agt.
CHICAGO, ILL.

MISCELLANEOUS.

CHAS. YAEGER,

Practical Upholsterer

35 WEST FRONT STREET,
OPPOSITE MUSIC HALL.

25 Years Experience in all Branches.
P. O. BOX 323. ag20

LUTKINS & HUMMER,

Dealers in

Butter, Eggs & Produce.

Meats of all Kinds.

FRUITS and VEGETABLES IN THEIR SEASON.
No. 34 PARK AVENUE, Plainfield, New Jersey.
Goods delivered to any part of the city.
A. LUTKINS. L. A. HUMMER.
ag13 tf

A. W. RAND,

24 W. FRONT ST.

Fishing Tackle, Hammocks, Croquet,

Tennis and other means of enjoying a Holiday.

ALEX. THORN

(Late of Berry & Thorn,

CAN BE FOUND AT 21 SOMERSET STREET,

WITH A FULL LINE OF

FURNACES, RANGES,
STOVES,
TINWARE, Etc.

Repairing in His Line Promptly Attended To.
6715

The Present Want

of a great many at this season is School Books and School Supplies, of which

ALLEN,

THE STATIONER,

has a full and complete assortment at the lowest prices.

Second-Hand Books

used in the Plainfield Schools, taken in exchange and for sale.

Auction Sale
OF BUILDING LOTS!
ON
Saturday, Sept. 24th, 1887.
ON THE PREMISES.

There will be sold at auction 50 to 75 of the Choice Building Lots, being that portion of the late

Wm. B. T. Lane Estate, situated on Lane and Pemberton avenues. This is the Healthiest Location in Plainfield, and the most desirable for residences. No other property in this neighborhood is for sale.

TERMS---10 Per Cent. and Auctioneer fee on day of sale. 40 per cent. on Oct. 24th, when deeds will be given. The balance may remain for 3 or 5 years.

Size of Lots 50x150,

Nearly ¼ of an Acre each.

TITLES PERFECT.

This is a great opportunity for home seekers or speculators, as a real estate boom is rapidly approaching.

Plan allowed

PUBLIC SALE OF REAL ESTATE.
CITY OF PLAINFIELD.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a warrant issued by the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, in the county of Union, to the undersigned, I will expose to public sale at auction, hereditaments and real estate, in the said City of Plainfield, on Monday, the twenty-third and eighty-five, the subscriber, the officer hereinafter named, will sell the lands, tenements, and real estate, for the purpose of paying the assessments and interest thereon, in the City of Plainfield, sell the lands, tenements, and real estate, for the purpose of paying the assessment, at public vendue, for the shortest time for which any person will take the same, and pay such taxes, together with interest and costs, as may be due thereon.

Also, on Front, Hall, s or st and Plain

Sold and [illegible]	$56 20
Bonnell, Mary A., Lot W Front st adjoin [illegible]	15 60
Bonnell, Mary A., Lot E, Lot W Front st, [illegible]	1 74
Bonnell, John, Lot E of a lot laid [illegible]	1 74
Burke, Michael, H & L, Plainfield ave, between [illegible]	1 74
Craig, James, H & L, Dunellen ave, near [illegible]	16 56
Craig, est Adam, 1 if and 8 a farm, North [illegible]	174 60
Craig, est Adam, H&L, Front st, Dunellen [illegible]	13 92
Corwin, Mrs Esther, Lot E, Lot W Front st, [illegible]	1 74
Corwin, Mrs Esther, State, North ave near [illegible]	1 74
Corbett, Michael, H & L, 10 West 18th st, [illegible]	20 88
Dowling, D. J., W. 4 lots, Arlington ave, [illegible]	20 88
Dowling, D. J., W. 4 lots, Arlington ave, and Orchard ave, [illegible]	20 88
Dowling, D. J., W. 2 and 3 lot, 140 east [illegible]	13 92
Davis, Patrick, H & L, 56 West 3rd st, [illegible]	20 88
Dunellen, Joseph, for Park Place, Sewage of Coffee, [illegible]	1 74
Dunellen, Joseph, for Park Place, Sewage of Coffee, [illegible]	1 74
Hart, Levi S., Lots 6 and 7 Block 3, Sixth [illegible]	3 48
Hyde, Charles, lot Woodbridge ave, corner [illegible]	1 74
Hoyer, Henry, H & L, 56 E Front st, [illegible]	20 88

CITY DEPARTMENT

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION.

J. A. DEMAREST, - - City Editor.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS.
Close—5.00 A.M. 12.00 M. 4.15 P.M. and 7.30 P.M.
Arrive—7.30, 9.30, 11.00 A.M., 2.00 and 5.30 P.M.

SOUTH MAILS, EASTON, BY MAIL.
Close—9.00 A.M. and 5.30 P.M.
Arrive—9.00 A.M. and 6.30 P.M.

SUNDAY MAILS—Arrive at 9.30 A.M. Office open from 8.00 A.M. to 10.00 A.M. and Closed 1 P.M.

Mail for Warrenville closes Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 12 M.

Post Office opened 7 A.M. and closes at 7.30 P.M. Saturdays, closes at 8.00 P.M. Open seven evening until 9 P.M. No, to prevent mail boxes

Money order office open from 9 A.M., to 5 P.M. Saturdays to 6 P.M.

W. L. PERCE, Postmaster.

—The approach of Fall is heralded by the coloring of the leaves on maple and elm trees.

—The fences and driveway leading to St. Mary's Cemetery on Berckman street, are being repaired.

—The carpet factory shut down last week, so as to make some necessary repairs to the machinery.

—The matter of a public subscription "for the better accommodation of the firemen," is not being discussed as eagerly as it should be.

—Most of the grocery stores in the city are adhering strictly to the new early closing movement, closing their stores promptly at seven o'clock.

—Mr. Mahlon Mulford has received the contract for tabling the Sanford cottages now in course of erection opposite the Potter press works.

—The new barber shop of Mr. Theo. Kurzbah, on West Second street, near Park avenue, is finished, and he has removed thereto the early part of this week.

—A young lady from New Market, who is attending school in this city, had the misfortune to lose a purse of twenty dollars, with which she intended to pay her tuition.

—So that all parents of the scholars may feel fully assured as to the thoroughness of the building, the Misses Scribner and Newton will not occupy their new school on Latirande avenue until Monday, Oct. 3d.

—The members of the Plainfield Hunting Club are shortly to have a race for the Club championship. The birds will be liberated from the Club house, and will be sent down for Friday morning at ten o'clock, to Mr. Edward Wilson's. The Democratic Association rooms on West Front street.

—A further examination of Horace and Louis VanNest, who are charged jointly with Jackson Hill, settler, with the burglarious Parse house, will be resumed before City Judge Ulrich in the City Court room on Friday afternoon at ten o'clock. The Democratic Association rooms on West Front street.

—A further examination of Horace and Louis VanNest, who are charged jointly with Jackson Hill, settler, with the burglarious Parse house, will be resumed before City Judge Ulrich in the City Court room on Friday afternoon at ten o'clock. The Democratic Association rooms on West Front street.

—The frame dwelling at the corner of Park avenue and Fourth street is to be removed to the lower side of Fourth street, Fourth and Sycamore streets, by the owner, Mr. Lemuel E. Hart, who will erect in its stead, a handsome new brick structure.

—To notice of a meeting of "the Order of American Firemen at Zephyr's house on the 11th, was unintentionally omitted from THE PRESS of last week, and in consequence, there was no quorum—in attendance. There will probably be no meeting now until the month.

—The dirt on Park avenue from Front to Seventh street is a disgrace, and that the property owners are permitted to soak it all down into malaria-breeding mud, is an outrage. If our premises cannot be cared, be kept clean, wasting money to macadamize them should stop right here.

—A religious weekly recently spent much time in discussing "how to bring young men into the church." That is easy enough. Hire a policeman to prevent young men from standing around the church doors during the services. Then they will have to go in or miss the girls.

—The Firemen's Relief Association of this city held a meeting on Wednesday, the 14th, and elected delegates to attend the State Firemen's Relief Association to be held at New Brunswick on the 20th inst. The following were elected delegates: Messrs. W. B. Cook, J. A. Hubbard and T. O. Deane.

—The issue of the extra edition of THE PRESS, last Friday, containing the evidence in the fireing hearing, prove that the public will wait all night even to get the correct news. Those who received it that had been circulated, was not only incomplete but, as those present agree, full of errors and blunders.

—Justice Keach on Friday entered judgment in favor of the plaintiff, in the case of Collins vs. Collins, et als., brought to recover the balance due on a note given in payment for a horse. The amount of the judgment was $35, together with costs, and an execution was issued and placed in the hands of Constable Moffett to serve.

—Westfield people are discussing the question of changing the system of village government to a borough. The largest property-owners are in favor of the change. The Citizens' Association has taken hold of the matter, and a petition will be presented to the Court asking for authority to hold a special election to decide the question.

—In the shooting tournament on the grounds of the Jersey City Heights Gun Club, at Marion, N. J., on Friday and Saturday last, four members of the Middlesex Gun Club, two of them Plainfielders, were fortunate in securing prizes. Their names are Fred. W. Quimby, of Newark, "Pop" Seigler, of Manhtaic and Dan and Will Terry, of Plainfield.

—Justice Ayres, of North Plainfield, on motion of Judge Ulrich, of this city, the counsel for the woman, dismissed the complaint she had recently lodged against a young man of Edgewood. Judge Ulrich's intent in such course is to allow the accused time for anger thought and an opportunity to make amends and to redeem himself without trial.

—Special policemen Charles Geise and James Babbitt, who were nominated by Mayor Male and confirmed by the Council at the meeting on Monday, the 12th, took the oath of office on the following day. Mr. Geise will watch over the people in the Second Ward, and Mr. Babbitt will dispense the unruly gatherings in the neighborhood of Mt. Olive Baptist Church.

—It is said that the license and marshal committee of the Borough Council, to whom was referred, at the last meeting, the matter of ascertaining the probable cost, accommodations, etc., of the new truck building on Somerset street, as a Council Chamber, Court room, Lockup and other accommodation for Borough officials, have examined the property in question, and will report favorably on the same at the next meeting.

—There will be an interesting contest on the grounds of the Middlesex Gun Club at Dunellen on Saturday afternoon. Fifteen members of the Middlesex Club will shoot a return match with fifteen of the Kingston Gun Club members, and for a ten clay pigeon each. The first match resulted in a victory for the Kingston Gun Club on their own grounds. The next match was won by the Middlesex Club on their grounds. The coming event will be the deciding match out of three. The Kingston Club select the Middlesex grounds for the deciding match in consequence of the many natural advantages of the same.

—Evening services will be resumed in Warren Mission Chapel on Sunday next.

—The audience in Music Hall Tuesday numbered 1,000 persons. The seating capacity of the building is about 957.

—The adjourned annual meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held in Reform Hall, Monday, Sept. 26th, at 3 p. m. Members will please note day and hour.

—The case of Vleit vs Angleman, on contract, which was to have been tried before Justice Wadsworth last Wednesday was adjourned for a week.

—Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. and A. M., held a regular meeting last Tuesday after an adjournment of about two months. The usual business was worked on a number of new members.

—The reception committee of the Y. M. C. A. held an adjourned meeting in the Association rooms on Monday evening, completed their arrangements for the Fall and Winter work.

—The members of the Dunellen bowling club engaged in a series of contests on the grounds adjoining Mr. C. Bodine's residence, Tuesday afternoon. Handsome prizes were awarded the winners.

—Elsewhere appears the announcement that Mr. A. Vento has resumed piano instruction in this city for the season. He is now too well and favorably known to need further endorsement by the press.

—The latest acquisition to Mr. Edsall's popular dry and fancy goods store is a great special sale of woolen blankets and comfortables to commence next Monday, Sept. 26th. See announcement elsewhere.

—The Middlesex County Prohibition Convention will be held at New Brunswick on Thursday the 29th instant. The basis of representation will be one delegate for every 25 votes or fractional part thereof, cast at last Gubernatorial election.

—At a special contingment of Winfield Scott Post No. 73, G. A. R., held Tuesday evening, September 20th, 1887, a resolution was offered and adopted tendering the use of their Post Rooms to the new Post for their muster service.

ROBERT WALKER, Adjutant.

—The Street Commissioner is now engaged in spreading crushed stone on Grant avenue, between Front and Second; Sherman avenue, and on Central avenue below Ninth street. The stone is provided by the property owners along the line, and the spreading is done at the expense of the city.

—The examination of George Reed, one of the prisoners now confined in the County Jail at Elizabeth on a charge of being implicated in the burning of Mr. Jesse Brown's barn, a few weeks ago, is set down for Friday morning at ten o'clock, before Justice Wadsworth, in the Democratic Association rooms on West Front street.

—A further examination of Horace and Louis VanNest, who are charged jointly with Jackson Hill, settler, with the burglarious Parse house, will be resumed before City Judge Ulrich in the City Court room on Friday afternoon at ten o'clock. The Democratic Association rooms on West Front street.

—The frame dwelling at the corner of Park avenue and Fourth street is to be removed to the lower side of Fourth street, Fourth and Sycamore streets, by the owner, Mr. Lemuel E. Hart, who will erect in its stead, a handsome new brick structure.

—To notice of a meeting of "the Order of American Firemen at Zephyr's house on the 11th, was unintentionally omitted from THE PRESS of last week, and in consequence, there was no quorum—in attendance. There will probably be no meeting now until the month.

—The dirt on Park avenue from Front to Seventh street is a disgrace, and that the property owners are permitted to soak it all down into malaria-breeding mud, is an outrage. If our premises cannot be cared, be kept clean, wasting money to macadamize them should stop right here.

—A religious weekly recently spent much time in discussing "how to bring young men into the church." That is easy enough. Hire a policeman to prevent young men from standing around the church doors during the services. Then they will have to go in or miss the girls.

—The Firemen's Relief Association of this city held a meeting on Wednesday, the 14th, and elected delegates to attend the State Firemen's Relief Association to be held at New Brunswick on the 20th inst. The following were elected delegates: Messrs. W. B. Cook, J. A. Hubbard and T. O. Deane.

—The issue of the extra edition of THE PRESS, last Friday, containing the evidence in the fireing hearing, prove that the public will wait all night even to get the correct news. Those who received it that had been circulated, was not only incomplete but, as those present agree, full of errors and blunders.

—Justice Keach on Friday entered judgment in favor of the plaintiff, in the case of Collins vs. Collins, et als., brought to recover the balance due on a note given in payment for a horse. The amount of the judgment was $35, together with costs, and an execution was issued and placed in the hands of Constable Moffett to serve.

—Westfield people are discussing the question of changing the system of village government to a borough. The largest property-owners are in favor of the change. The Citizens' Association has taken hold of the matter, and a petition will be presented to the Court asking for authority to hold a special election to decide the question.

—In the shooting tournament on the grounds of the Jersey City Heights Gun Club, at Marion, N. J., on Friday and Saturday last, four members of the Middlesex Gun Club, two of them Plainfielders, were fortunate in securing prizes. Their names are Fred. W. Quimby, of Newark, "Pop" Seigler, of Manhtaic and Dan and Will Terry, of Plainfield.

—Justice Ayres, of North Plainfield, on motion of Judge Ulrich, of this city, the counsel for the woman, dismissed the complaint she had recently lodged against a young man of Edgewood. Judge Ulrich's intent in such course is to allow the accused time for anger thought and an opportunity to make amends and to redeem himself without trial.

—Special policemen Charles Geise and James Babbitt, who were nominated by Mayor Male and confirmed by the Council at the meeting on Monday, the 12th, took the oath of office on the following day. Mr. Geise will watch over the people in the Second Ward, and Mr. Babbitt will dispense the unruly gatherings in the neighborhood of Mt. Olive Baptist Church.

—It is said that the license and marshal committee of the Borough Council, to whom was referred, at the last meeting, the matter of ascertaining the probable cost, accommodations, etc., of the new truck building on Somerset street, as a Council Chamber, Court room, Lockup and other accommodation for Borough officials, have examined the property in question, and will report favorably on the same at the next meeting.

—There will be an interesting contest on the grounds of the Middlesex Gun Club at Dunellen on Saturday afternoon. Fifteen members of the Middlesex Club will shoot a return match with fifteen of the Kingston Gun Club members, and for a ten clay pigeon each. The first match resulted in a victory for the Kingston Gun Club on their own grounds. The next match was won by the Middlesex Club on their grounds. The coming event will be the deciding match out of three. The Kingston Club select the Middlesex grounds for the deciding match in consequence of the many natural advantages of the same.

Personalia.

Master Walt of Lafirande avenue gave an afternoon party on the 14th, to a select number of his young friends.

Dr. C. M. Field is now at Berlin. There is some probability of his returning home to Plainfield during next month.

Mr. Seymour Hait of Union avenue is erecting a handsome and substantial family vault at the new Hillside Cemetery.

Minor Smith, a son of Constable Smith of West Second street, is spending a few days with relatives at Philadelphia.

The mother of Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of the Trinity Reformed Church, is visiting her son, at his house on East Front street.

Mrs. James H. Frazee, of West Front street, is today rejoicing over the advent of a daughter, which arrived this morning. Weight nine pounds.

The Rev. R. S. Holmes has accepted a unanimous call to the Presbyterian church of Warren, Pa., and will enter upon the work about November 1st.

Miss Bellamy of Massachusetts, daughter of the Secretary of War of President Cleveland's cabinet, will be the guest of Miss Anthony of Netherwood in a few days.

Mr. Edward A. Campbell, City Treasurer of Elkhart, Indiana, a former resident of Railway, N. J., is visiting Mr. Hasbrouck and family of East Second street.

Mr. Fred Veickman of Brooklyn, Vice President of the New Jersey Game and Fish Protective Society, was in town Wednesday on business in connection with the Society.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hoadley, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. W. H. Smith, their assistant physician, Dr. E. W. Hedges, and their servants, left on a parlor car last Thursday for Brooklyn.

Mr. Charles DeGraw, of Park avenue, while breaking an egg at his breakfast table Friday, found inside another egg perfect in every particular, shell and all. Print of this variety are six to the dozen.

Mr. E. V. Sutton, the well-known builder of Evona, lost a valuable horse, on the 14th, from inflammation of the lungs. The animal was valued at $200, and had been owned by Mr. Sutton but one week.

The many friends of Mrs. W. B. Codington, of this city, will be pleased to learn that she is recovering from her recent serious illness, with which she was stricken down at Pleasant Valley about two weeks ago.

The old established drug business heretofore conducted by Mr. Wm. H. Voorhees on West Front street, but lately conducted by Messrs. Field & Randolph, will hereafter be known as the "City Pharmacy."

Mr. R. J. Leonard, editor of the Central New Jersey Times, conducted the services in the Methodist Episcopal Church Chapel, Sunday forenoon. The attendance was large, and the services very interesting and instructive.

Mr. E. V. R. Sofield, wife and son, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas West, from Perth Amboy, N. J., spent Sunday in a pleasing way with his brother on Central avenue, driving home during the early part of the evening.

Ex-Councilman Jasper G. Cadmus, has returned from his pleasant quarters in Force's Hotel, after his Summer's sojourn at Belvidere and Scwaren. Mrs. Cadmus will join him in a few days from her visit among friends in New York State.

Mr. William Runyon, of Second street, gave a reception at his residence last Thursday in honor of his cousin, Miss Runyon, of Boston, Dancing, with other social pleasure and a supper, entertained the guests most satisfactorily until morning.

The final interment of the remains of the late William L. Jones, occurred during Saturday last, at Hillside Cemetery. This last ceremony had been postponed awaiting the arrival of the deceased's grandson, who had been traveling in Europe.

The Paterson Labor Standard thus speaks of Senator Robert L. Livingston of this city: "Men of Union county, stand by your friends! Renominate and re-elect Senator Livingston than whom there has not been in the senate of New Jersey a truer friend of labor."

Mr. Ashland Horton, for a long time employed as a salesman in Pope Bros., Park avenue dry goods store, has gone into business on his own account, having purchased the entire stock of hats, caps, furnishings, etc., of Mr. J. A. Pope, successor to Mr. Manning Vermeule.

Mrs. David A. Zeagler (nee Miss Carrie W. Laing) and young son, of Denver, Colorado, are expected to arrive in this city during this week on a visit, accompanying them, returning to her home in this city, by Miss Anna March, who has been on a delightful trip to the Pacific coast.

The young son of Mr. Henry Voehl, of Somerset street, who was severely scalded by stepping into a pail of boiling water on Thursday, Monday, is still in a dangerous condition. All the skin on the leg, from the knee down, was scalded off, and a long time will be required for the wounds to heal.

The Long Branch Record of last Saturday, contains a cut of the high school of that place and an interesting account of the recent dedication of an addition that has been made to it. The Rev. Dr. K. P. Ketcham delivered the invocation, and the Rev. J. H. Vincent the principal address of the occasion.

A letter received in this city announces the marriage at Bristol, Pa., of Mr. J. C. Palmateer, a former clerk for ex-Mayor Sidney Mellen, and Miss Emily Gedge, a young lady from this city. The newly wedded couple, it is said, are keeping house at Bristol, where the groom is employed in an extensive grocery trade.

Dr. C. M. Field, who sailed for an extended trip abroad a few weeks ago, has returned to Paris from a visit to Berlin. His many friends here will be glad to learn that he has recovered his accustomed health and sprits, and is now enjoying better health than for years past. The Doctor expects to return home early in October.

The Misses Harned of Madison avenue held a progressive euchre party, last Friday, at which a large number of invited guests were present. Besides the social pleasures of the evening, refreshments were served, and all were most satisfactorily entertained. Mr. William Hallock secured the first prize, and Mrs. John Burnett the last.

The marriage of Miss Mattie Rose, elder daughter of ex-Councilman John Rose of Lafirande avenue, and Mr. C. Arthur Bayless, will occur in the Crescent Avenue Baptist church, Thursday, October 6th, at seven o'clock in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Bayson will thereafter reside in the handsome house presented the bride by her father, adjoining his own.

Chief of Police, Charles W. Dodd, arrived from Europe at 7 o'clock Monday morning, and reached his home in this city some time afterwards. He found his mother, whom he had journeyed so many miles of sea to see, unable at first to recognize him after an absence of twenty years. She was in good health and spirits, and of course overwhelmed with joy to see her son.

At the residence of the bride's father, Middlebush, Somerset county, N. J., on the p. m., last Thursday, Mr. Wm. E. Day, son of Mr. C. C. Day, of Dour street, North Plainfield, was united in marriage to Miss Bertha E., daughter of Mr. Albert Voorhees. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. T. Corwin, of Millstone, in the presence of a large number of the bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Day will take up their residence in North Plainfield.

Miss Annie Clayton, of Princeton, N. J.,

is visiting her friend, Mrs. George Phillips, of Park avenue.

Mr. John Lockwood and family have returned to their residence on West Seventh street after a three months' absence.

Borough Councilman and Mrs. David Seaver, returned this morning after a two week's absence at South Plainfield.

After a pleasant visit with her cousin, Miss Georgie Cornell of Kensington avenue, this city, Miss "Lou" Holt returned to her Brooklyn residence Tuesday.

Officer Grant was again put on night duty Monday last. During Chief Dodd's absence, Acting Chief Grant has creditably performed the duties of the office.

The Young Men's meeting in the Y. M. C. A. Hall on Monday was a very enjoyable one. Mr. C. T. Kissam conducted the services, taking for his subject: "My Relation to Christ."

Mr. Adelbert Vail, an assistant in the First National Bank, and his sister, Miss Isabella V. I of Green Brook, are back from Bennington, N. Y., where they have been visiting among relations.

Assessor Isaac Brokaw, of North Plainfield, has further added to the beauty and value of his property on East Front street, by the purchase from Mrs. P. Drake of a strip of land with a frontage of ten feet, which he has converted into a driveway leading to the rear of his premises. The front fence is also being reset.

Francis Grant Drake, youngest son of Gen. J. Madison Drake, commander of the Veteran Zouaves, died at Evona on Friday, day of diphtheria. The little one was eight years of age, and accompanied the Zouaves on their famous trip to California, a year ago, marching through the streets of San Francisco at the head of the column.

Warren Mission Industrial School.

In view of the re-opening of this organization Saturday, Oct. 1, there is much work to be prepared for the scholars to commence with. The Superintendent and officers of the school invite the assistance of all the former teachers at the Chapel, Friday afternoon of this week, Sept. 23d, from 3.30 to 6 o'clock, also as many friends of the school as can find it convenient to meet them at this time. The cleaning of garments will be the work of the afternoon.

EMMA L. CADMUS, Sec.

Eggbert as She Wrote.

Here is one of many specimens of ignorance taken from a paper that the people pity because it knows no better. We suppose the names because of the disease they have suffered:

Mr. R—— of West Front street has become a grandpa. This has come about by a little daughter being born to Mr. and Mrs. M—— Mrs. M—— was visiting at her mother's.

As Mrs. M——'s mother is in Heaven the visit was as unusual an occurrence as the birth of a niece to its parents.

His Clothing Took Fire.

Harry Shepherd, aged about two years, a son of Mr. George Shepherd of Warren avenue, Plainfield, was slightly burned on Sunday. The little fellow was playing with some children on the back stoop of his father's residence, when his clothes accidentally took fire from a lighted paper. The fire in the boy's clothing was extinguished, but not until the child had been slightly burned about the face and neck and his hair singed from his head. The little one suffered very little pain and went about as usual.

New Brunswick Also Disgusted.

A large number of the members of the Young Men's Christian Association of New Brunswick, about one o'clock p. m., last Friday, met in a body at the office of the Plainfield paper that had also insulted them. The ceremony took place on Church street, New Brunswick, in front of the Y. M. C. A. Hall, and was witnessed by several hundred persons. The effigy was afterwards burned. The cause of it all was an article written by the Y. M. C. A. of New Brunswick of having members who were not fit to belong to the organization. Mine of them were branded as "toughs and rowdies." The real cause for this attack was said to be their conduct at a recent base ball match with the Plainfield Club; when the truth of the matter is those censured were of this city and not of New Brunswick.

Bats By the Wholesale.

For many years the attic in the Friends meeting house, corner of Third and Peace streets, has been a regular rendezvous for bats. There they have multiplied from year to year, and their number became so great, that they became a nuisance and the elders decided to "vacate the premises." So a force of corps of carpenters were put to work stopping up the passage ways and making other decided improvements about the building. On Saturday the men entered the bat threshold, and war was immediately declared on the occupants. As a result about one hundred were slaughtered, and the remainder driven from the places. Two windows have been placed in the upper story, and other improvements completed, adding to the appearance of the building by a coat of paint.

Uniformed Rank K. of P.

Those members of Crescent Division, Uniformed Rank, K. of P., of this city, who attended the annual parade and installation of the First Regiment Uniformed Rank, K. of P., of New Jersey, at Jersey City on Monday afternoon, report having had a delightful time. In the evening a grand reception and ball was given in the rink. The order, as is well known, is one of the strongest in the United States. Speaking of the organization one of its writers says:

"It embraces within its castle halls the legislator and the judge, the highest officers of the States and the United States, the humble artizan who, while poor, is an honest and noble man. It spreads its benevolent wings over the widow and orphan, and cities, separated, in many instances, by thousands of miles of land or water, yet linked together by that love which is the golden chain of the order, are brought now applaud; they who once derided are now among its fervent supporters."

It is understood that Crescent Division will be actively preparing for a grand exhibition drill, to take place, probably, in the Crescent, during the Winter.

New Officers for the St. Cub.

In response to a call posted on the Club House bulletin, a number of members of the Plainfield Bicycle Club gathered in caucus, last evening, for the purpose of agreeing in nomination a list of officers to be elected by the Club at its meeting of the 29th inst. Entire harmony prevailed during the proceedings, and the lighting of a cigarette was the only incident that occurred to mar the smoothness of fraternal feeling. The officers of this year and those nominated, are as follows:

FOR	NOMINATED.
Pres.—Dr. J. H. Cooley.	Dr. J. H. Cooley
Vice Pres.—L. C. Marsh.	C. S. Hart.
Sec.—F. L. C. Martin.	F. L. C. Martin.
Treas.—F. Randolph.	F. Randolph.
Capt.—A. L. C. Marsh.	F. L. C. Martin.
1st Lieut.—R. F. Murray.	R. W. Baker.
2d Lieut.—A. Shotwell.	A. Shotwell.
Directors.	Directors.
E. E. Sutton.	E. E. Sutton.
J. S. Ackerman.	J. S. Ackerman.
E. F. Murray.	J. H. Green.
H. Randall.	H. Randall.
A. McElhinny.	A. McElhinny.
Consul—J. S. Bonta.	J. S. Bonta.

Other Business—J. Sandford, Jr.

Whose a change was made in any of the officers nominated at the meeting, or whether the present incumbent declined a reelection. The Trustees select the Auditing, Membership and House Committees.

The Death Record.

John Potter, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Troell, of Central avenue, died Tuesday, after a short illness. Notice of funeral will be given hereafter.

John McQuade an elderly gentleman, died at his home on Arlington avenue, Tuesday, from paralysis. The deceased was in the 74th year of his age. Funeral was held from his late residence yesterday afternoon at half-past two o'clock. Interment in Hillside Cemetery.

Truderic Regis.

Recognizing by past failures their inability to publish anything complete and accurate until the day after THE PRESS, no other paper even attempted to give one word of the fireing hearing of Tuesday. Our regular issue, however, contained the testimony it full, with served up "hot" for others Wednesday. It was interesting reading, too, as the story told by Officer Lynch was the first evidence of weight that has been presented in court since the arrest of Lyle accused, Sunday morning, August 28th.

Mr. Adgate at the Park School.

The scholars of the High School, ere Tuesday morning treated to an address by Mr. Adgate, who spoke on missionary work. The address by the Trinity Reformed church last evening. The speaker was attired in Oriental costumes and related some of the superstitions among the people of those lands. He said that the inhabitants there believed that the rising and towering of the tides was due to a huge sea serpent or monster of the deep coming from and entering a cave in the ocean. The natives, too, had queer ideas as to the cause of day and night, supposing that when the sun went down behind the Hymalaya Mountain and it was night time in Siam, the day was breaking beyond the mountains; he recited the alphabet in Siamese in a few letters and stated that in the Siamese language a love letter could be written on an ordinary postal card, which would require but little room. He closed by saying he knew English. He also sang a love song in his native language, which furnished great amusement for the scholars.

Rev. Mr. Honeyman Declines.

Rev. W. E. Honeyman of North Plainfield, a gentleman whom was conferred the honor of the nomination for State Senator by the Prohibitionists of Somerset County, has declined the nomination, and on Saturday sent the following official letter to that effect:

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Sept. 13, 1887.
Mr. WILLIAM W. WILSON.

Dear Sir.—Your letter of the 12th inst. came to hand today, notifying me that the Somerset County Prohibition Convention had nominated me for Senator from Somerset County. Was sincerely grateful for the honor thus conferred, I am obliged to decline it on the ground of ill-health. I have not yet fully recovered from a protracted and serious sickness, and do not think that it would be prudent for me to accept any position that involves much care. My ministry, however, in the cause is by no means abated, but rather increased, as the editor of "Nollie B." won two heats in 2.44 and 2.46½.

Next came a race between Edward Wang's "Ledger Boy," John Osborn's "Lady Love," and William Van Sickle's "Sag Waw." Mr. Waring's horse took the first straight heats in 2.39½, which is the fastest time "Ledger Boy" has ever trotted.

The concluding and laughable event of the day was the race between Mr. Hayes' bay horse to sulky, and a sorrel horse from New Brunswick to buggy, one mile heat. Merriment was at its highest when Mr. Hayes' horse came in ahead, and the judges, after a long conference, announced the time as "22"—presumably meaning 22 minutes.

A Dwelling House Burned.

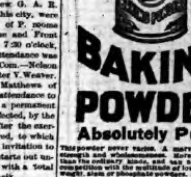
At half-past 10 p. m. last Sunday, word was brought to the town hall headquarters of the Central Railroad, John Taylor Johnston's house on East Front street was on fire. Three separate alarms were rung from the fire alarm box and Nos. three and three Engines and Alert Hose Carriage were soon on their way to the fire, which proved to be two-story and an attic frame house opposite Mr. Johnston's residence, and occupied by G. W. Hann, his wife, mother, and sister. The fire originated from a defective flue in one of the upper stories and burned very slowly. The neighbors and firemen succeeded in getting out a portion of the furniture before the building was completely gutted, and the house almost totally destroyed. The firemen did excellent work in preventing the fire from spreading to adjoining property. Nos. two and three Engines took water from the brook in the rear of Mr. Johnston's property, No. Two Engine being supplied by hose from Alert's Hose carriage.

Ex-President of the City Council, Tell A. Begeutin and Judge L. F. Wadsworth, were among the first to arrive on the spot, and directed their attention to saving the furniture. Mr. Hann is insured with the Associated Press of New York, but fortunately he was at home when the fire broke out. He had been absent but a day a wood fire had been burning in the grate in the parlor, but at night it had been allowed to die out, leaving nothing but a few cinders in the grate. With the exception of Eddie White, a ten-year-old boy employed about the place, the family were all seated in the parlor conversing together, when they heard crackling noises; but supposing that squirrels were running about the building, as they are accustomed to do, no one thought of it. Soon the crackling sounds became more numerous, and when Mr. Hann went into the yard he discovered flames eating through the weather boarding. His sister rushed up to the attic to arouse the hired boy, and the latter groped his way out through the dense smoke with difficulty, and reached the ground in safety. Mr. Hann estimates his loss at between $2,000 and $3,000, which is covered to the extent of $1,500 in the Commercial Union Company, of which Messrs. J. C. Pope & Co., of this city, are the agents.

The building was I-shaped in appearance, and was one of two erected several years ago by Messrs. Hart and Dunham, at a cost of about $5,000 each. It was built by Mr. J. W. Paterson of No. 223 Washington avenue, *Brooklyn, formerly a mem*ber of the well-known firm of Paterson, Clapp & Co., of the Tower Building, New York. We are unable to ascertain the exact amount of insurance on the building, but presume it has been covered by about one-half. The house adjoining is occupied by Mr. C. G. Ferguson, who estimates his loss by water at about $100. The fire department was $225. Insured. Mr. Ferguson desires us to thank the firemen and others who so kindly assisted in extinguishing the fire, which at one time threatened to destroy his house.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

DEMAREST'S



NEW STORE.

Choice Creamery Butter. The best in the city. Try it and be convinced. Mason's jars, with porcelain lined tops. Lighting Jars and Jelly Tumblers. Pure Spices, all kinds. Green Ginger Root, Mustard Seed, and Fruits of all kinds, in their season. All of which are sold at Bottom Prices.

P. M. DEMAREST,
27 PARK AVENUE.

Special Notice!

500 BOYS' SUITS.
SOME AS LOW AS $2.00
SOME AS HIGH AS $7.50.

OUR OWN MANUFACTURE.

Sebring Bros.,

Music Hall Entrance.

COCKLE'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS.
THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY
For Liver, Bile, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, &c.
Agents: C. S. CRITTENTON, New York.

ATTENTION!

Carpets. Carpets.
For Fall season. Just offered to the trade at the LOWEST PRICES
ever known in this city.

DRESS GOODS
New Styles. Large Assortment.

Mourning Goods,
A Specialty.

Wear the
MIGNON KID,
Every Pair Warranted.

HOUSEKEEPING GOODS, MUSLINS, TABLE LINENS, TOWELS, NAPKINS, Etc.
We offer at Reduced Prices.
AT S. E.

WHITNEY'S!
8 E. FRONT ST., OPP. POST OFFICE.

PECK'S CORNER.

THE Winthrop Kid Glove.
ALL THE
New Styles of Embroidered
IN THE FALL SHADES.
AT PECK'S!

EDSALL'S!
ON MONDAY, SEPT. 26th,
WE WILL DISPLAY THE LARGEST AND MOST VARIED STOCK
OF WOOLEN BLANKETS
AND COMFORTABLES.
Ever offered for sale in this city, and at the
LOWEST PRICES.
We propose to make this Great Special Sale
The "New Sensation" of Plainfield
For a short time. We will devote the entire front space in our Store for the display of this line of goods alone, which will afford purchasers a splendid opportunity to examine them and make their selections.

Some Advantages In Buying At This Sale:
1st.
The variety will be large to select from, and the goods the best the market affords.
2nd.
The prices will be a great deal LOWER than the same goods can be purchased for later in the season.
3rd.
If you do not wish to pay for the goods at the time of the purchase you can select them and we will keep them for you until you need them for use, by merely paying a small amount thereon.
4th.
The large stock will be arranged in separate lots containing various styles and weights at one price, thereby affording an opportunity to please the most fastidious.
5th.
And while buying these goods you will have an opportunity to see the Finest Line of New Fashionable Dress Goods, Plushes, Velvets, Braids and Trimmings, Ribbons, Lace Nets, Laces, Hosiery and Gloves, all kinds of Staple Dry and Fancy Goods, Merino Underwear, Carpets, Oil Cloths, etc., to be found anywhere—all good reliable Goods offered at the LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES.
NOTE—A descriptive printed list will be distributed next Friday and Saturday or can be had at the store on application. Don't fail to visit the store during this GREAT SALE.
NOTE—Those who come early will have the advantage of the choice of selections.
STORE OPEN EVERY EVENING.
EDSALL'S!
GREEN HAS OPENED!
WE HAVE JUST ADDED
EVERYTHING NEW. COME AND SEE ME.
LOWEST PRICES MARKED ON EVERYTHING.

BED-ROOM SUITS	$16.00
LOUNGES	$ 6.00
BED LOUNGES	$ 7.00
GOOD MATTRESS	$ 3.50

REPAIRING AND UPHOLSTERING IN ALL BRANCHES.
GOODS TAKEN ON STORAGE.

Blankets, Flannels, Dress Goods and Hosiery.
AT POPE'S.
FRONT AND SOMERSET STS.

FALL GOODS
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION AT LOW PRICES.
AT POPE'S.
FRONT AND SOMERSET STS.

C. K. COMPTON,
Confectioner and Ice Cream Caterer,
Only the Best of Ice Cream and Ices Furnished for Weddings, Parties, Receptions.
TRY MY CREAM AND HOME-MADE BREAD.
First-class stock. Hot in the afternoon at 5 o'clock. Please remember I manufacture my own Candy and use only the best of sugar and No. 1 flavoring matter and vegetable coloring materials. Goods promptly delivered.
C. K. COMPTON,
36 West Front Street. Near the Opera House.

HALL'S
ELASTIC COTTON-LAP
MATTRESSES.
Next to a Horse-Hair Mattress, the most COMFORTABLE AND DURABLE
in the World, and at LESS COST.
ALL MADE IN LAPS OR LAYERS.
WILL NOT MAT DOWN.
MANUFACTURED AT
THE HOWARD MILLS.
FRANK A. HALL,
SOLE AGENT.
NEW YORK
ASK YOUR DEALER FOR THEM.

BETTER THAN GOLD OR FAME.

Better than grains when applied
To worn that aids the wrong;
In conscience linked to common sense
In effort's every throng.

Better than gold by cheating won
Is honest labor's pay;
Better than one enriched by fraud
Is he who toils each day.

Better than deeds by sin inspired,
Though they impress mankind,
Is one kind act that friendship gives
To cause your pulses bind.

Better than fame by sacrifice
Of manhood's honor won,
Is honest reputation placed
By sparky actions done.

Better than vice, though it be clad
In purple rich and rare,
Is virtue, though a homespun dress
Is worn to hide its wear.

Better than praises where loved eyes
Bless never held its reign
Is home where true affection dwells,
Though it be'n't so plain.

—Udell Dunn, in N. Y. Ledger.

DEAD OR ALIVE.

How a Detective Was Outgeneraled by a Clever Rogue.

At St. Lazare Station, Paris, the long tidal train stood ready to start for Dieppe. I wanted to get a compartment to myself after the selfish manner of many travelers, and I waited till the hands of the clock had pointed to ten minutes past seven, at which time the train was to leave. There were only four or five passengers on the platform of the train. It was a through express, and we were not to stop until we reached Rouen, after five in the evening. At the last moment I opened the door of the only vacant compartment in the train. Just then my valise, and, following, closed the door behind me. The guard, who had locked me in, announced that the time was up. At that moment a man rushed past the window to the door of the carriage in front of the only one occupant, forced back, twisted the door handle, threw it open and jumped in. Before he could close the door a second bearded traveler sprang on the foot-board and leaped into the other compartment. The train was moving out of the dock station, and the guard, who had locked me in, was in full motion at having one man locked and the other thwarted. He looked at me gloomily and silent in the corner. The first man in settled himself down in his place, and the other took a book and began to read. In this unsociable state we sped through the suburbs and reached Asnières a little before eleven o'clock. We had a fair passage over to Newhaven. About half-past three the London train was signaled for us at that station. By a singular coincidence the very same thing that had happened at Paris occurred on the London train. I had got myself comfortably seated, when the train started and a man jumped the first passenger and after him the guard, who locked me in with a violent thumbing in and took their seats beside me.

"Parley vou Prunay?" said the first passenger to me.

"Not a parley," I answered.

"Oh, you are an Englishman," continued the other. "I took you for a blooming Frenchman."

"How long have you been over in Paris?"

"Two weeks."

"Should know myself. I say, didn't you get sick and tired of Paris? I did."

"Yes; I don't like Paris as well as London."

"So more do I. I get tired of their macdrin cookery. That 'ere?"

"Yes, I do."

"Never the good old roast beef of old England, say I. I ate this patterin' about with a little bit of this and a little bit of that, like the rest on 'em. Sweets."

I quite agreed with him. All this time the passenger who had been locked in paid no attention to us, but read on, and seemed not to hear a word we said. I just told him that every thing was bettered in London, and so I did, and, as he hates it like poison, I think it will suit him." I presume it did, for curse him, for I never heard from either party after.—Detroit Free Press.

Kissing as a Punishment.

Kissing as a punishment was to me quite a new idea, and I wrote to the editor of the New York Commercial Advertiser, but it was not printed, and I suppose the editor, as I never answered, a very successful one. A little fellow came to me one day and said: "Mr. A., we've been trying to find out a punishment for you." "Why?" said I, "don't you like me?" "Yes, sir, we do, but we've very decided't. Not being able to get any more information from his posting lips, I went back to my desk and found in pencil on my box of twelve, and asked an explanation. "Why, sir," said he, "we've got a rule in *our way and troubling me, and, as he is too small for me to hit I just told him that every time he bothered me I'd kiss him, and so I did, and, as he hates it like poison, I think it will suit him." I presume it did, for curse him, for I never heard from either party after.—Ard.

CATALEPSY AND TRANCES.

When Man Is Like a Machine Ready to Go, But Alaska Is Out of Gear.

By catalepsy is meant a condition of suspended perceptual manifestations on the part of the individual, while the body is left in a rigid or somewhat or nervous hyper-excitable condition, but not to the degree of rendering flexible, or preserving indicatively any attitude imparted to them; in other words, the subject is unable to put to this condition by any motions. Unless the individual is in the bed at the time of the plastic fixity of the cataleptic limbs can not be changed, and they remain in the exact aspect of the position in the two conditions moreover, offers striking differences, the former being characterized by a condition very rigidly with the perfect antithesis of the latter, which is flaccid, and in which there offers no case absolute inexcitability even to the most painful stimuli. It is also to be noted that the latter is not observed in some individuals. In rely especially upon the eye of the light corresponding side of the body is curare, tissé of the eyelid, and the nerve phenomena of the hypnotic state may or may not be present, with the initial display of their outbreak in the eyes.

The third condition, that of somnambulism, may exist in the cataleptic or trance state, or may exist in a slight degree of pressure or running on the top of the head. The hysterical patient then passes into a state of somnambulism, which is similar to the cataleptic condition. The muscles have the same flexibility of the body in the plastic fixity of the cataleptic limbs can not be changed, and they remain in the exact aspect of the position in the two conditions moreover, offers striking differences, the former being characterized by a condition very rigidly with the perfect antithesis of the latter, which is flaccid, and in which there offers no case absolute inexcitability even to the most painful stimuli. It is also to be noted that the latter is not observed in some individuals. In rely especially upon the eye of the light corresponding side of the body is curare, tissé of the eyelid, and the nerve phenomena of the hypnotic state may or may not be present, with the initial display of their outbreak in the eyes.

The third condition, that of somnambulism, may exist in the cataleptic or trance state, or may exist in a slight degree of pressure or running on the top of the head. The hysterical patient then passes into a state of somnambulism, which is similar to the cataleptic condition. The muscles have the same flexibility of the body in the plastic fixity of the cataleptic limbs can not be changed, and they remain in the exact aspect of the position in the two conditions moreover, offers striking differences, the former being characterized by a condition very rigidly with the perfect antithesis of the latter, which is flaccid, and in which there offers no case absolute inexcitability even to the most painful stimuli. It is also to be noted that the latter is not observed in some individuals. In rely especially upon the eye of the light corresponding side of the body is curare, tissé of the eyelid, and the nerve phenomena of the hypnotic state may or may not be present, with the initial display of their outbreak in the eyes.

SHODDY FOOT-GEAR.

Composition and Scrap Leather Used in Cheap Goods.

Soles That Last Only a Few Days and Will Not Stand Wetting.

Cheapskates Made Up to Represent Prime Goat.

In the manufacture of boots and shoes for men, women and children, some of the cheapest grades, especially, are frequently carried on, says the New York Commercial Advertiser. A well-informed mechanic said to a reporter the other day:

"It is an outrage that manufacturers of boots and shoes should be permitted to throw such trash as they do upon the market. Why, just look at my shoes, and I bought them last week. Why, they are almost on the ground. I might be said to be walking on a pair of rags."

"What's the trouble?" asked the reporter.

"Trouble! why there's trouble enough; and I am only one out of thirty or forty thousand who have had to buy a pair of boots victimized by the manufacturers and retailers of this shoddy shoe. Why, I thought I was getting a pair of shoes now wearing they looked as well as any to be seen in the windows of a Fifth avenue store. But when I came to strike the soles began to peel off, and upon examination I found that the bottoms of my shoes were made up of paper and scraps of leather, which at first glance looked like the real thing. I went to the store where I had purchased them, but the proprietor gave me no satisfaction. He said he didn't make them; told me I had bought them cheap; and refused to have anything further to do with the matter. Now I am

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.
W. L. RUNK & A. L. RUNK, Editors and Proprietors.
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY,
AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XX. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1887. No. 39.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its limitations as in its authorities."—Madison.

Rates of Advertising.

Space	1 Week	1 Month	3 Months	6 Months	12 Months
1 in.	$1 00	$3 00	$5 00	$8 00	$12 00
2 in.	1 50	5 00	8 00	12 00	18 00
3 in.	2 00	6 00	10 00	15 00	24 00
4 in.	2 50	7 00	12 00	18 00	30 00
5 in.	3 00	8 00	14 00	20 00	36 00
6 in.	3 50	9 00	16 00	22 00	42 00
7 in.	4 00	10 00	18 00	24 00	48 00
8 in.	4 50	11 00	20 00	26 00	54 00
9 in.	5 00	12 00	22 00	28 00	60 00
10 in.	5 50	13 00	24 00	30 00	66 00
11 in.	6 00	14 00	26 00	32 00	72 00
12 in.	6 50	15 00	28 00	34 00	78 00
13 in.	7 00	16 00	30 00	36 00	84 00
14 in.	7 50	17 00	32 00	38 00	90 00
15 in.	8 00	18 00	34 00	40 00	96 00
16 in.	8 50	19 00	36 00	42 00	102 00
17 in.	9 00	20 00	38 00	44 00	108 00
18 in.	9 50	21 00	40 00	46 00	114 00
19 in.	10 00	22 00	42 00	48 00	120 00
20 in.	10 50	23 00	44 00	50 00	126 00
21 in.	11 00	24 00	46 00	52 00	132 00
22 in.	11 50	25 00	48 00	54 00	138 00
23 in.	12 00	26 00	50 00	56 00	144 00
24 in.	12 50	27 00	52 00	58 00	150 00
25 in.	13 00	28 00	54 00	60 00	156 00
26 in.	13 50	29 00	56 00	62 00	162 00
27 in.	14 00	30 00	58 00	64 00	168 00
28 in.	14 50	31 00	60 00	66 00	174 00
29 in.	15 00	32 00	62 00	68 00	180 00
30 in.	15 50	33 00	64 00	70 00	186 00
31 in.	16 00	34 00	66 00	72 00	192 00
32 in.	16 50	35 00	68 00	74 00	198 00
33 in.	17 00	36 00	70 00	76 00	204 00
34 in.	17 50	37 00	72 00	78 00	210 00
35 in.	18 00	38 00	74 00	80 00	216 00
36 in.	18 50	39 00	76 00	82 00	222 00
37 in.	19 00	40 00	78 00	84 00	228 00
38 in.	19 50	41 00	80 00	86 00	234 00
39 in.	20 00	42 00	82 00	88 00	240 00
40 in.	20 50	43 00	84 00	90 00	246 00
41 in.	21 00	44 00	86 00	92 00	252 00
42 in.	21 50	45 00	88 00	94 00	258 00
43 in.	22 00	46 00	90 00	96 00	264 00
44 in.	22 50	47 00	92 00	98 00	270 00
45 in.	23 00	48 00	94 00	100 00	276 00
46 in.	23 50	49 00	96 00	102 00	282 00
47 in.	24 00	50 00	98 00	104 00	288 00
48 in.	24 50	51 00	100 00	106 00	294 00
49 in.	25 00	52 00	102 00	108 00	300 00
50 in.	25 50	53 00	104 00	110 00	306 00
51 in.	26 00	54 00	106 00	112 00	312 00
52 in.	26 50	55 00	108 00	114 00	318 00
53 in.	27 00	56 00	110 00	116 00	324 00
54 in.	27 50	57 00	112 00	118 00	330 00
55 in.	28 00	58 00	114 00	120 00	336 00
56 in.	28 50	59 00	116 00	122 00	342 00
57 in.	29 00	60 00	118 00	124 00	348 00
58 in.	29 50	61 00	120 00	126 00	354 00
59 in.	30 00	62 00	122 00	128 00	360 00
60 in.	30 50	63 00	124 00	130 00	366 00
61 in.	31 00	64 00	126 00	132 00	372 00
62 in.	31 50	65 00	128 00	134 00	378 00
63 in.	32 00	66 00	130 00	136 00	384 00
64 in.	32 50	67 00	132 00	138 00	390 00
65 in.	33 00	68 00	134 00	140 00	396 00
66 in.	33 50	69 00	136 00	142 00	402 00
67 in.	34 00	70 00	138 00	144 00	408 00
68 in.	34 50	71 00	140 00	146 00	414 00
69 in.	35 00	72 00	142 00	148 00	420 00
70 in.	35 50	73 00	144 00	150 00	426 00
71 in.	36 00	74 00	146 00	152 00	432 00
72 in.	36 50	75 00	148 00	154 00	438 00
73 in.	37 00	76 00	150 00	156 00	444 00
74 in.	37 50	77 00	152 00	158 00	450 00
75 in.	38 00	78 00	154 00	160 00	456 00
76 in.	38 50	79 00	156 00	162 00	462 00
77 in.	39 00	80 00	158 00	164 00	468 00
78 in.	39 50	81 00	160 00	166 00	474 00
79 in.	40 00	82 00	162 00	168 00	480 00
80 in.	40 50	83 00	164 00	170 00	486 00
81 in.	41 00	84 00	166 00	172 00	492 00
82 in.	41 50	85 00	168 00	174 00	498 00
83 in.	42 00	86 00	170 00	176 00	504 00
84 in.	42 50	87 00	172 00	178 00	510 00
85 in.	43 00	88 00	174 00	180 00	516 00
86 in.	43 50	89 00	176 00	182 00	522 00
87 in.	44 00	90 00	178 00	184 00	528 00
88 in.	44 50	91 00	180 00	186 00	534 00
89 in.	45 00	92 00	182 00	188 00	540 00
90 in.	45 50	93 00	184 00	190 00	546 00
91 in.	46 00	94 00	186 00	192 00	552 00
92 in.	46 50	95 00	188 00	194 00	558 00
93 in.	47 00	96 00	190 00	196 00	564 00
94 in.	47 50	97 00	192 00	198 00	570 00
95 in.	48 00	98 00	194 00	200 00	576 00
96 in.	48 50	99 00	196 00	202 00	582 00
97 in.	49 00	100 00	198 00	204 00	588 00
98 in.	49 50	101 00	200 00	206 00	594 00
99 in.	50 00	102 00	202 00	208 00	600 00
100 in.	50 50	103 00	204 00	210 00	606 00

All Notices must be sold out.
"Lists of Everything" column, 1 cts. per line.
Locals, 5 cts. per line. Notices of above rates.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

O. L. JENKINS, M. D.
Homœopathist.
Successor to Dr. Smith, 36 East Front Street, next Peace, Plainfield, N. J. Office hours—7 to 9 A. M., 1 to 3 P. M., 7 to 9 P. M. —ap 16-1y.

JACKSON & CODDINGTON.
Counsellors-at-Law,
Commissioners of Deeds, Masters in Chancery, Notaries Public, and Solicitors for Court of Pardons and Secretary's Office. —jan7

G. DUDLEY DAY,
General Auctioneer,
Sales of Personal Property a Specialty. P. O. Box 152, Chatham, N. J., or address in care of Constitutionalist, Plainfield, N. J.

DR. CHARLES T. TRUSH,
Dentist,
29 West Front street. A new local anæsthetic administered to render any tooth painless. Best of references. —jan7

H. HAND,
Auctioneer,
P. O. Address, Box 1, Plainfield, N. J., or Dunellen, N. J. Orders by postal card, letter, or at West Front street, Plainfield, N. J., will receive prompt attention. —jan22

OSCAR S. TEALE,
Architect,
247 Broadway, New York city, Corner 28 and 29, (Carpenters' and Trust Co.' Bank Building.) Residence, Plainfield, N. J.

WM. E. MACLISE,
Attorney-at-Law,
MASTER IN CHANCERY, NOTARY PUBLIC.
Counsellor-at-Law of Deeds, Office, North avenue opposite depot. —jan7

J. E. FORSTER,
Veterinary Surgeon.
Office in A. H. Sanford's livery office, corner Main street and Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Horses examined and reports promptly attended. Telephone call No. 14. Residence, 12 East Fifth street. Horses examined and shod. Residence, 12 East Fifth street, Plainfield, N. J.

ARTHUR P. MILLER,
Attorney-at-Law,
(Successor to the late W. S. Babcock, Solicitor in Chancery, etc.) Office, 2 Arcade Court, Real estate, loan, money, rent and tax agency at present office of the late Wm. S. Babcock. —jan7

F. A. OGDRAM,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor.
No. 1 Park avenue, Cleaver's building. Particular attention given to the adjustment of claims of boundary lines. Parties sent to all parts of the Continental Divide. —jan7

DR. I. P. GRIFFEN,
Electric Baths.
Dr. Griffen treats all Nervous affections, Diseases complained of, Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Malaria, Dyspepsia and Chronic diseases controllable by Electricity and Magnetism. Office hours—9 to 12 and 1 to 4. Long experience in the Indies. 40 East Second street, Plainfield, N. J. —jan7

BUSINESS CARDS.

ROBERT JAHN,
TIN AND COPPER-SMITH,
Scotch Plains,
(Formerly N. J. Hoeing, North and Hamilton Place, New York.) Will attend to all orders in Metal Roofing, Spouting, Ventilating, Chimney Tops and Ornamental Caps. Repairing promptly attended to. —jan7

TO THE PUBLIC !

We wish to inform our customers and the public generally that we have on hand the best quality of

LEHIGH COAL,
Fresh from the Mines.

It is under cover and well protected from the weather. We are prepared to deliver it well screened and in good condition. We are also prepared to furnish all kinds of Seasoned Lumber and Masons' Materials at short notice.

A. D. COOK & BRO.
Jan21

J. Hervey Doane,
9 PARK AVENUE.
(Formerly Clark's.)
Watches,
Clocks
And Jewelry.
Repairing neatly and promptly done

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, VEGETABLES, DRIED FRUIT, ETC.
CORNER EMILY AND DUER STREETS
North Plainfield, New Jersey.
Celebrated Pilsbury Flour,
THE BEST IN THE MARKET.
ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED.
Tickets for grist patronage will not be redeemed by Shotwell.

WILLIAM H. SHOTWELL.

BOSTON CLOTHING HOUSE
42 W. FRONT ST.
Reliable Goods at Low Prices.
Correct Styles. Right Prices
AT THE
NEW SHOE STORE
Doane & Van Arsdale
22 WEST FRONT STREET.

Geo. A. Moore,
(Of the late firm of Moore Bro's.)
Is now the sole proprietor of the old established market at
NO. 14 NORTH AVENUE.
Where he will endeavor to supply patrons with the finest grades of Fresh and Salt meats, Fish of all kinds, Oysters, Clams, Game in season at the lowest market prices. Anything not usually kept in stock furnished at short notice. —jan7

Edward Ramonetti,
OYSTER AND ICE CREAM SALOON.
OYSTERS BY THE QUART, 100 OR 1000.
CHARLOTTE ICES MADE TO ORDER.
All Orders Promptly Attended to.
24 NORTH AVENUE.
Plainfield, New Jersey. Telephone Call No. 39.

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

Force's Hotel !
NORTH AVENUE
Near R. R. Depot, Plainfield, New Jersey.
JAMES H. FORCE, - - Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY HOTEL.
Transient guests taken at reasonable rates.

Bottled Liquors a Specialty.

Laing's Hotel !
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
J. B. MILLER & BRO., - Proprietors.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.

James Conneely
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has purchased the well known
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 32 PARK AVE.,
Where he will be pleased to furnish his friends and patrons with the choicest brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors. —jan7

TURF EXCHANGE HOTEL,
73 Courtlandt street,
CORNER W. BALLARD, - - Proprietor,
(formerly of Jersey City), is now conducting the above popular resort, and respectfully solicits a call. New York, formerly kept by the late James Van Nostrand, and more recently by Mr. Ballard, is still a most desirable family home. —jan7

FURS WIRE, LIQUORS AND SEGARS. jan21

SOMERSET HOTEL,
Cor. Somerset & Canby Sts., North Plainfield, N. J.
Permanent and Transient Board, at fair rates.
First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all reasonable hours. ap23

C. E. JOHNSON,
N. Side Front of Shepherd, Johnson & Graham,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
Office 41 Park avenue, City Hotel or Second Street, next Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Residence, 12 East Second street. Jobbing especially solicited.

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
SALESROOM—MADISON AVENUE, NEAR FOURTH STREET,
Plainfield, N. J.
Goods received on consignment.

MRS. E. J. MARTIN'S
MAGIC RENOVATING FLUID.
For taking out grease from any kind of goods, without changing the color or leaving a spot. Also, for removing ink stains, grape, ink, satin, paint, and all kinds of stains. Also for the use of ladies in restoring ruinous complexions to their original freshness and beauty. Prepared only by Mrs. E. J. Martin, Grove street, Plainfield, N. J. Sold by druggists generally. Agents wanted in every town in the United States. Address, E. J. Martin, Plainfield, N. J. —jan7

JOHN JOHNSTON,
DEALER IN
COAL !
YARD AND OFFICE, SOUTH AVENUE,
NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
The best quality of screened coal at the lowest market price for cash. Address all orders to Netherwood post-office. —jan7

Park Avenue Bakery !
JOHN WALKER. Prop'r
FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the Celebrated
VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS,
And all Varieties of
Pies, Cake and Confectionery.
Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.
THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS,
KEPT IN THE WORK.
ALLGOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE.

MICHAEL UHDAL,
CONTRACTOR
AND LANDSCAPE GARDENER !
Residence :
NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
P. O. BOX 787, PLAINFIELD.

EDUCATIONAL.

RODMAN SEMINARY,
26 E. 5th Street. Will Re-open
SEPT. 15.
For circulars Address,
MRS. R. O. DODGE, Principal.
aug4

Miss S. G. Kenny's
SCHOOL FOR GIRLS
WILL RE-OPEN
Thursday, Sept. 22d, 1887.
For particulars address
MISS S. G. KENNY, P. O. Box 500.
sept

MR. LEAL'S SCHOOL
WILL RE-OPEN
Monday, Sept. 19, 1887.

MISCELLANEOUS.

STEAM HEATING.
FOR
CHURCHES, SCHOOLS, and DWELLINGS.
J. N. SCHENCK,
P. O. Box 1051.—aug31 Plainfield, N. J.

JAMES K. ARNOLD,
GROCER,
Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts., North Plainfield.

C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana.
CLEAN HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Tobacco and Snuff always on hand.
Cigars and Tobacco Stored in Bond.
Satisfactory Articles in Great Variety.
Jan21
G. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
SEGARS!!
6 1/2 PARK AVE., (Near Railroad Crossing),
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Snuff a Specialty.
Orders solicited from Dealers in Segars, Tobacco and Snuff of every description.
The celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, with other superior brands constantly on hand.

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.,
TO HIRE. CHARGES REASONABLE.
Hugo Weigman,
No. 8 EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST.
Nativities—Harmony from Discord—Life Chart—Future Events—Love Affairs—Marriage—Business Speculations—Lucky Days—Lucky Stones—Secret Arts—Occult Powers—Lost Articles—Journeys—Lawsuits—Speculations—Marriages, Journeys, Law suits, etc., accurately described. Interviews every day.
In English, German and French.

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
SALESROOM—MADISON AVENUE, NEAR FOURTH STREET,
Plainfield, N. J.
Goods received on consignment.

Work Executed in a Workmanlike Manner.
Orders left at Shop, Park avenue, between Second and Third streets, or at residence, No. 20 Somerset street, will receive prompt attention. Jobbing, Carpenter Work, Repairing, Painting, Paper Hanging, Graining, Kalsomining, Furniture Repairing, Upholstering, Mattress Making, Shop Fitting, Store Fitting, Window Shades, Awnings, Tents, Flags, Etc. Estimates furnished on all kinds of work. Orders by telephone promptly attended to. Residence, No. 20 Somerset street. Shop, Park avenue, between Second and Third streets. Telephone Call No. 14. P. O. Box 1051, Plainfield, N. J.

D. W. LITTELL,
No. 2 NORTH AVE. opposite Plainfield, N. J.

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPPLIES.

Paints, Varnishes, Glass
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALLPAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.
apr2

Weaver Bros.
House & Sign Painting, Graining,
Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a specialty.
Office and Shop in the rear of
139 EAST FRONT STREET,
2d. WEAVER. P. O. Box 90. P. WEAVER

W. N. ROWE,
PAINTER AND DECORATOR
Dealer in Paints, Oil, Varnishes, Glass, Brushes, etc. WALL PAPER AND WINDOW SHADES. Jobbing promptly executed. No. 19 E. Front street, Plainfield, N. J. Residence, 15 Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J. P. O. Box 1051.—aug31

A. P. MORRIS. D. WOOLSTON.
Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS,
Wall Papers,
PAINTER'S SUPPLIES. 28 NORTH AVENUE
apr2

MILLINERY.

Mrs. J. M. Dunn,
FASHIONABLE MILLINER,
LATEST STYLES OF
BONNETS AND HATS
FRENCH IMPORTED FLOWERS.
Feathers, Velvets, Plushes, Satines, Laces, etc. Also, Paper Boards and Notions; Dress and Infants' Caps a Specialty.
PINKING, BLEACHING & PRESSING.
Feathers Dyed. Cleaned and Curled
AT SHORT NOTICE.
14 West Front street.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana.
CLEAN HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Tobacco and Snuff always on hand.
Cigars and Tobacco Stored in Bond.
Satisfactory Articles in Great Variety.
Jan21

--PICTURE FRAMES--
OF ALL KINDS, AT
S. E. FLOWER'S.
41 New York Price. Studio, 20 West Front street. Sunbeam for drawing and oil painting. apr22

A. L. SMALLEY. N. S. SMALLEY
Smalley Bros.,
DEALERS IN
Fresh and Salt Meats, Poultry, Etc.
20 SOMERSET STREET, NORTH PLAINFIELD
Orders called for and delivered. A share of the public patronage is solicited.—apr7

Benj. F. Moore,
BUTCHER,
And dealer in FRESH AND SALT MEATS, POULTRY, ETC. Orders called for and delivered. Stall will be open and ready for business WEDNESDAY, MARCH 30th, 1887. Telephone Call 11. Satisfaction guaranteed. Telephone Call 11.—mh26

MAYNARD & HILL,
PRACTICAL BARBERS
AND
Artistic Hair Dressers,
No. 26 PARK AVENUE.
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residence during Shampooing, &c., satisfactorily performed. apr22

Dr. King's Spectacles.
1716y1

Fleming & Anderson,
BUTCHERS,
Fresh, Salt and Smoked Meats,
Poultry, Fish, Vegetables, etc.
ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED.
No. 24 North avenue.
(Near the Depot.)
M. A. FLEMING. apr22 J. P. ANGLEMAN.

WERNER'S
—ONE PRICE—
Clothing House !
COME AND SEE US IN OUR
NEW STORE,
NO. 30 W. FRONT STREET.
JUST RECEIVED.
The Newest Styles
OF
SANITARY PLUMBING,
Brick and Portable Furnaces,
GAS FITTING,
TIN ROOFING,
Etc. Etc.
Department is, as it always has been, conducted on correct principles, and our work in the past years is the only recommendation we need. With an enlarged force we are now better prepared than ever before to execute all orders in the best of workmanship and our patrons are always assured that they will receive prompt attention and work done at a very reasonable price.
Estimates Cheerfully Given.
Shop, Rear of 139 East Front Street.
Residence, 20 Somerset Street.
Orders may be left at Store, Smalley Bros., 20 Somerset street, or at Residence, 20 Somerset street.
Telephone Call No. 11.
P. O. Box 1051.
Plainfield, N. J.

THE SECRET DRAWER.

In the round I touched the curious
That opened with the secret drawer,
To gaze on half-forgotten things
That swayed the memories of years
Small scraps of letters loosely tied
With ribbons bleached of faded hues,
Containing words of love and pride,
Written from days known when life was new.

A lock of ruddiest golden hair
That once adorned a glorious head
Of a young maiden, fair and rare,
And long since numbered with the dead;
A dark brown curl—a tress of gray—
A braw woman lost and gone,
The portion of my joys and pain,
Whose smile and sunlight where it shone.

I sighed, I kissed them like a fool—
As fondly as in days of yore
With wisdom learned in sorrow's school—
Then laid them in the drawer once more,
And locking counsel with my thought
I asked myself the reason why
Why these fond relics, dusty-fraught,
Should be preserved with pain or pleasure?

Live with their tale of threefold or dead,
For nevertheless in sunshine's mart,
The saddest life is sometimes glad,
So I answered me:
"I will not open what I cannot read
Before I know the reason why
Why these fond relics, dusty-fraught,
Should be preserved with pain or pleasure?"

To build rainbows from my life,
Or wreathe with flowers the bitter truth
From shadows of long-ended strife
And sickness, agony and death?
Take them, ye flames! such fate is best!
And let them perish in the fire!
To wear upon my living breast,
And perish in me as the grave.
—Charles Mackay, in Temple Bar.

AMONG THE KIRGHESE.

Their Peculiar and Complicated Betrothal Customs.

The Kirghese nomads never marry within the tribe or "nuk." They are strict exogamists, and would consider it a sin for a daughter-in-law from a remote settlement, with hundred virgins, to be denied in accordance to go to order to make a suitable match. Nothing, in this, and the complicated betrothal, a betrothal becomes an extremely complicated method to arrange, the bidding and counter-bidding to and fro on the part of the intermediaries. A series of entertainments is held by the family at which innumerable fat sheep-tails are consumed, all of which make him the pride and envy of the young women belonging to an inferior "nuk." The bridegroom receives the title of "Dshanutchi," and plays an important part at the transactions. As the "nuk" is a purely patriarchal community, it may take place years after the betrothal before the bridegroom is able to fulfil his share in honor of the visitor and procure a daughter-in-law. He then starts for the aul where he expects to find a suitable bride, and, after a week or so of looking around him there, makes his choice. He thereupon formally calls upon the girl's father and makes a tender for the daughter's hand. If the offer is accepted the usual calls in a servant and orders him to fulfil a sheep in honor of the visitor and present supper. The unexpressed betrothed—"Dshanutchi" understands that his offer has been accepted. Over the meal, which is now stew and "shoulue" the negotiations proceed a step further and a day is appointed—a Wednesday or Saturday, whereon, these being the two lucky days of the week in the Kirghese calendar, the parties are instructives to pay a visit to the aul and agree upon the bride-price and the dowry.

On the day fixed the father of the young man, accompanied by fifteen male friends, who act as witnesses, presents his appearance in the aul. All are got up in gala costumes, and are received by the bride's father and conducted to a "yurta" specially erected for the occasion. A grand dinner is prepared, and it is customary to have a couple of sheep to be killed

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE, A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors.

DEMOCRATS.

We counsel you to remember that in union there is strength.

That important fact applies to every organized body, and to none more vitally than to political parties.

If you are a true-hearted Democrat, it is worse than folly to inflict injury upon fellow Democrats because of mere personal ill feeling, or some imaginary slight.

Be loyal to your party.

Stand firmly and united for the success of principles.

Trample down and cast out everything that savors of enmity towards individuals, or in the least degree imperils partisan welfare.

Every man who no desires cannot be a nominee for anything.

It is impossible.

Rally to the support of regular nominations.

Strive to make them the very best.

Under all circumstances cheerfully abide by the will of the majority.

Withhold aid and comfort from the enemy.

As Democrats battle manfully and honorably for the triumph of Democracy.

THAT SURPLUS.

There is a large and increasing surplus in the National Treasury over and above the needs of the public service and the payment of public obligations.

That surplus has no right to be there.

It honestly belongs to the taxpayers.

It is the result of collecting war taxes in time of peace, contrary to justice, absolute protection, and sound business principles.

Permitting it to exist will not only foster legislative corruption, but surely disturb and injure the financial interests of the people.

Would that we had more intelligent statesmen and fewer mercenary politicians in Congress. Men with brains enough to know what the general public good means, and courage sufficient to champion the cause of right.

PATRONAGE.

Some people apparently think that the sole object of a political party is to secure patronage, by fair means or by foul, and then provide, as partisan exigencies arise, well-paying offices for its followers, and that without much regard to per sonal qualifications and good repute.

Such gentlemen mistake entirely the intent of free institutions and the true meaning of politics.

Political parties are designed and supposed to represent certain principles and definitely presented measures of government, and honestly doing that, exercise a healthful influence and become worthy of public respect, but, without principles to guide and integrity of action to triumph, they degenerate into mere scheming and spoils-distributing machines.

Offices in this country never were intended to be created as merely rewards of partisanship. Their natural existence rests solely upon governmental necessity, and for the sake of good government, and consequently, for the welfare and security of the people, they should be filled strictly according to the Jeffersonian requirement of honesty, capability and character.

Under Democratic appointing authority it is just and proper that Democrats should be office-holders, and so should Republicans when their party wields like power, but, let such and every appointee be a known patriot and honest man, and not a corrupt spoilsman.

Public sentiment is rallying with determination around that standard.

HONORING EX-REBELS.

Governor Forraker, in his Caldwell speech, says that up to the time of Cleveland's inauguration "there was no where any open defence or laudation of the 'lost cause;' no complaint that slavery had been abolished; no honoring of secession or the men who had led in upholding the miserable doctrine." If Governor Forraker had the least spark of political honesty in his make-up he would have said neither has there since been any laudation of the lost cause, nor complaint that slavery had been abolished, nor honoring of secession. But when Forraker says that up to the time that Cleveland was inaugurated there was no honoring of "the men who had led in upholding the miserable doctrine," meaning secession, he made a statement that, like most of his statements, the facts will not bear him out in.

Did not General Grant intend to honor ex-rebel Brigadier Amos T. Ackerman when he appointed him to a seat in his Cabinet. Did not R. B. Hayes intend to honor ex-Brigadier General Key when he appointed him Postmaster-General in his Cabinet, and afterward to a district judgeship? What about the appointment of John S. Mosby as Consul to Hong Kong, Hughes to a federal judgeship, Gen. Little to a like position, the Barringers, Orr, of South Carolina, Northrop, Memphis Hunt, Hardee, Walker, Longstreet, United States district attorney, and scores of other ex-rebel brigadier generals who were placed by Republicans and Republican Presidents in the highest offices of trust in the nation. No rebels were honored then, Mr. Forraker! Let us see what to honor means. Webster says it means "to dignify, to raise to distinction or notice, to elevate in rank or station, to exalt, to glorify, to render illustrious."

We leave Mr. Forraker and his statements to the tender mercies of his fellow citizens.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Extensive arrangements are being made for the reunion of the 102d Regt. N. J. Vols., which is to take place at Somerville on Oct. 19th. A meeting of the Executive Committee was held on Tuesday, when it was decided to invite all ex-soldiers of the different Companies that were raised in the county. It was also decided to extend an invitation to Winfield Scott Post G. A. R., No. 32, Plainfield; Gen. Wadsworth Post G. A. R., No. 70, the Commissioners of Somerville, Raritan, Bound Brook and Bloomington; the Fire Departments of Somerville and Raritan; the Board of Freeholders and Lt.-Gen. P. H. Sheridan.

THE FIREBUG HEARING.

Friday morning being the time set for further examination in the firebug case, Chief of Police Dodd brought Farmer Horace VanNest, linked together, from the County Jail; and Constable Moffett handcuffed himself to Reed and brought him also from Elizabeth. The first hearing was that of Reed who was represented By Charles A. Reed, Esq., and appeared before Justice Wadsworth in the Democratic Association Rooms. Prosecutor of County Attorney Wilson and Corporation Counsel Marsh were present for the prosecution. Upon agreement between the opposing counsel the testimony taken when there was no hearing, and the accused was merely held in light bail as a witness.

Prosecutor Wilson, addressing the Court, said: Feeling that we have not yet sufficient evidence to present before you, and finding that the accused may be a most valuable witness before the Grand Jury, and upon the trial of the case in the Court below, we would ask that the defendant Reed—as we have agreed upon consultation with his counsel, Mr. Reed—be discharged by you on a light amount of bail to appear as a witness when required by the Grand Jury.

Justice Wadsworth replied: The Court supposes that the counsel has made diligent inquiry and finds it impossible to present sufficient evidence of guilt to justify me in holding the accused for trial. I therefore dismiss the complaint against him, and hold him on his own recognizance in the sum of $500 to appear as a witness before the Grand Jury.

Any freehold security being all that was necessary, John S. Reed of Somerset county, father of the prisoner, was accepted, and Reed released.

A further hearing in the case of the two VanNests, Horace and Louis, who are charged jointly with Jackson of setting fire to the Carmon Purse house, which was adjourned over from Tuesday, owing to the fact that the counsel for the State, Prosecutor Wilson, assisted by Corporation Counsel C. A. Marsh, conducted the case for the State before City Judge Hall, and the prisoners were represented by their counsel. The Court room was filled with spectators, several ladies being among the number. As the hour for the hearing arrived the prisoners was not present, some delay was occasioned on this account. The first witness called was THADDEUS O. DOANE.

Mr. Doane sworn: I am 42 years old; lived here since 1865, and have been a member of Fire Department since Feb., 1866; have held all positions—from private to Chief; have had charge of most of fires, and made study of origin, etc., of. remember Purse fire, March 15th: was in bed at the time, heard bell, dressed, and went to fire; No. 4 Engine, on Front street; went direct to Seventh street, then to fire; reached fire inside of 15 minutes; saw Horace and Louis VanNest at fire; Horace is Chief's brother-in-law; saw nothing. I saw no light except from blaze of conflagration. I asked Louis—"How ever did this house get on fire?" He said he guessed it was the work of a tramp. I said—"Why that's funny isn't it." He said "yes, we were just preparing to go to bed, had my boots off when I came out to the fire." When I arrived the front back stoop where he said the fire originated, the platform had burned off and the fire was creeping up to roof; pantry was also on fire. I first helped to get the engine to work and then went into the kitchen, through rear kitchen door; when I entered the kitchen I saw the fire was creeping along the sill pipe, and tore down some of the wood work. If we had water inside, some good work could have been done. I called to Mr. Murray that there was water but could find no bucket, vessel, or anything to put the water in. I found a china vessel, finally; Mr. Murray said he could get no water at the pump as it broken; I then saw that the axle pin was missing from the pump handle; we looked for the pin in the shop; I went out and found a piece of iron which I found; for holding from kitchen to front hall was locked; went outside of house and proceeded to front of house, when I saw bright light in cellar: I pried cellar door up with Mr. Murray's help, and entered cellar; saw cellar all on fire and brightly illuminated; saw no furniture in the cellar; it was empty; I thought it queer that the fire in the cellar and also one at back stoop were burning at the same time, and remarked it to Mr. Murray. I knew the fire would have to burn through the floor of woodwork to get to it; then went upstairs; tried first to get in bathroom; had to force our way in. Mr. Murray found a stout instrument; forced the bath room door so arranged as to require the strength of two men to force the door open; there was no other furniture in the room; there was water from bathroom but could get no water; we came out—meaning Mr. Murray and himself—and closed the door. Next entered the room adjoining, by forcing open the door. In the room the heat was intense, and near window on West side, about two feet from the partition noticed flames coming through hole eight or ten inches in diameter, the sides of which were burning. I considered this extraordinary, and said to Mr. Murray, "how in the world did the fire ever get up there"; in my opinion the fire from below could not have burned up where I saw the flames in the second story; we next went into the front room and found that room full of furniture; I have since learned it belonged to Mr. Honeyman, but at the time I supposed it belonged to Mr. VanNest; next went in attic, but there was no water in the tank. When I arrived at the fire, in my estimation, two men could have put out the fire; quicker the flames if water could have been had. I could have saved all the furniture if I had given my attention to that alone. Upon reflection, but my efforts were directed towards extinguishing the flames. The VanNests showed no disposition to save their furniture. I heard neighbors inquiring for the VanNests—"get to work," which they afterwards did.

MR. DOANE CROSS-EXAMINED

By Mr. Codington—I am not prepared to state that there was not a tub of butter of inferior quality in the room. I think I remember that the three were probably a dozen neighbors there; I met some of them in front of house, the others in the yard; they were not inside of house; I was in the kitchen; do not know whether it had been used recently or not; I think there was a carpet on the floor in the room when the fire was burning in the upper story; about one minute after I arrived water was directed on the building from the hose; I do not know of any openings under porch; if fire had started in cold air box it could easily have reached the floor above and in that case it would not be necessary to burn through the floor; the timbers to get into cellar, I would not have been surprised if I had known the fire originated in the cold air box. "Lou" VanNest said he put the bedding on the upper floor on the back stoop. Do not know how long fire had been burning, only from what the Van Nests told me. I helped to carry out furniture, and saw others assist. I would not swear there was no lamp burning in the house when I first went in; I have had the best of many knowledge and belief there was not.

To the Prosecutor the witness said, in answer to a question, the VanNests had told him the fire was burning in the upper story; also one minute after I arrived water was directed on the building from the hose; I do not know of any openings under porch; if fire had started in cold air box it could easily have reached the floor above and in that case it would not be necessary to burn through the floor; timbers to get into cellar, I would not have been surprised if I had known the fire originated in the cold air box. "Lou" VanNest said he put the bedding on the upper story; about

CITY DEPARTMENT.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION.

J. A. DEMAREST, - - City Editor.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS.
CLOSE—5.00 A.M. 12.00 M. 3.30 P.M. 6.30 P.M.
ARRIVE—8.30 A.M. 12.45 P.M. 4.30 P.M. 10.30 P.M.

NORTHERN, EASTERN, &C., MAILS.
CLOSE—8.00 A.M. 3.30 P.M.
ARRIVE—10.30 A.M. 6.30 P.M.

SUNDAY MAILS—ARRIVE at 10.30 A.M. Office open from 8.00 A.M. to 10.00 A.M. Mail closes at 7 P.M.

Mails for Washington, Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 12.30 P.M.

Post Office opens at 7 A.M. and closes at 7.30 P.M. Saturday, closes at 9.00 P.M. Open every evening until 9 P.M., or sooner if box fronts are filled.

Money order office open from 8 A.M. to 5 P.M. Saturdays to 6 P.M.

W. L. Force, Postmaster.

The total number of visitors from this city to the State Fair during last week was 425.

—The second section of the one o'clock train from New York on Saturday afternoon has been discontinued.

—Mr. Theodore Kurzhals the teneral artist, has taken possession of his attractive new shop on West Second street.

—The sale of lots on the W. T. Lane estate last Saturday was adjourned until Saturday next, Oct. 1st., of which due notice will be given.

—The Blunkett land is to favor us with another public concert, at the same place as the last, on some evening during the first week in October.

—The Fall term of the Union county Courts will open at Elizabeth on Monday, October 4th, when the names of the Grand Jurors will be announced.

—City Clerk Leonard's city directory, the first of the kind ever compiled for any of the community has ever possessed, was placed in the hands of the printer, last week.

—It is said that twelve other veterans of the late war are desirous of joining Major Anderson Post, G. A. R., and their names for membership will be presented at the next meeting of the post.

—Treasurer McClure has his checks all drawn for the audited claims against the Fire Department, and is really impatient that those who have his due should come and get their money.

—Five years ago, last week, the terrible frosbet occurred in this locality, when most of the hedges always grown for Cedar Brooke were washed away, and several of them were entirely obliterated.

—We are requested to say that some of the board walks in the Borough are in a dilapidated condition, and are dangerous stumbling blocks for evening pedestrians. A suit for damages may be the result if they are not soon repaired.

—Mr. A. J. Wineglee Monday began the erection of a board fence 12 feet high by 125 feet long on North avenue, facing the depot, which he says is to be used as a yard for Barnum's show. The entire combination will visit this city on Friday, Oct. 28st.

—It is said that a German carp was caught in the Raritan River near its junction with the Millstone river a few days ago. The fish is probably a descendant of those planted in Prof. Dietrich's fish pond on Arlington avenue, this city, some time since.

—An action in tort was brought before Justice Hetfield this morning, in the Plainfield township court. W. S. Codington, Esq., for the plaintiff and Counsellor C. A. Marsh, for the defendant. The jury brought in a verdict, in the afternoon, of "no cause for action."

—Dog catcher and special policeman James Babbitt says he has not paid much attention to the matter of the destruction of dogs, but will hurry out again in a few days and gather in the remaining few worthless curs, now roaming about the streets of the city. His fall total is to date, numbers in the neighborhood of 40.

—The electric street lights we have been hearing about the arrival of the new machine, satisfy even chronic fault-finders. There seems to be never a flicker in the steadiness and brilliancy of the light, and although it undoubtedly will cost to pay more than the city will pay for the entire year's service, the fault has been remedied just the same.

—The excitement over the wholesale arrest of the alleged firebugs has subsided, and it is not expected that any new developments will be brought to light at the next meeting of the Grand Jury meets the first Tuesday in October. The Grand Jury will undoubtedly find bills of indictment against the firebugs, and the following trials of the prisoners will be lengthy and interesting.

—The third and concluding shooting match in the series of three, between teams from the Kingston and Middlesex Gun Clubs took place on the grounds of the latter club at Dunellen, on Saturday. Each club had twenty men on the line, and considerable speculation was made as to which of the two would be successful in the series. The match was after a clay pigeon style, men on each side. The Middlesex team came out victorious by 19 birds.

—The various societies connected with St. Mary's Church are meeting in St. Mary's Hall, at four o'clock Sunday afternoon, to complete arrangements for the coming church fair, which opens the Thursday following. Full particulars for about ten days. It is the intention of those having the matter in charge to eclipse, if possible, all previous efforts, and to make the fair the most successful of any yet held in connection with St. Mary's church.

—A pert youth at the time was employed by a family on East Front street, is accused of appropriating a diamond ring valued at $125, belonging to a gentleman of the household. The ring was shown friends in Newark she displayed it with the story that it was given her by her lover in Plainfield. The ring was traced back by the police and it returned. The accused thief is at large, and just now engaged, it is said, in trying to hoodwink someone's else character. She should be careful.

—Through E. C. Mulford's office we are informed that Mr. Peck, late owner of the property on Grove street, rear of First Baptist church, has sold the same to Mr. E. Eden of Brooklyn, N. Y., who has had it surveyed and mapped to improve 125 feet on Prospect place and 200 feet on Grove street with improvements suitable for persons of moderate means. Work to that end will be commenced immediately. Mr. Mulford has charge of the sales. He also informs us that he has leased to William C. Boone, M. D., the Mrs. Neal mansion on Front street, at the head of Grove street, for a term of years. Dr. Boone takes possession the first of November next.

—Rev. Columbus Schenck entertained the Berean Class of the Mission Chapel Sunday afternoon last, by an interesting talk. He went over the quarter's lessons as thoroughly and explicitly as the short time allotted for this session would permit. He portrayed the benefits to be derived from a pure and religious life, and enjoined all to resist all temptation of evil, as Jesus had done, who was subject to like temptations as we are. He spoke strongly and earnestly for the suppression of the liquor traffic by all fair and legal means, and hoped all present would give their hearty assistance to that end. Rev. Mr. Holmes, whose ability and eloquence is well known, will be the class leader on Sunday Oct. 2d and 9th.

—The second section of the equinoctial storm set in Wednesday.

—There is a movement on foot to organize a New Jersey State Gun Association for the purpose of holding monthly shoots in different parts of the State.

—The new German Reformed church on Craig Place, is now nearing completion, but it is not likely that the edifice will be opened for worship much before the spring.

—Reports coming from the County Jail at Elizabeth, state that Jackson and the VanNoste, the alleged firebugs, are becoming more down-hearted every day.

—The members of the Women's Relief Corps will tender the members of Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R., a recital and supper at the Post rooms, this Friday evening.

—The committee appointed by the T. W. C. T. U.—as noticed in our issue of the last meeting—for the purpose of selecting permanent headquarters for the association, do not seem to exceed for various reasons.

—The September term of the United States Circuit Court opened at Trenton, Tuesday. On the term calendar there are twenty-two actions at law, but only four equity and several demurrers to be heard. None of them are of any direct interest to Plainfield.

—The members of the Plainfield Cornet Band went over to Milburn in Captain Hand's stage Friday evening, as guests of the cornet band of that place. They report having had "a fine time" and were courteously treated by the members of the Milburn band.

—The Blunkett land is to favor us with another public concert, at the same place as the last, on some evening during the first week in October.

—The champion chestnut of the age is the paragrapher who discovers that "Hard as nails" is a new anybody yet seen the last rose of Summer? The community is anxious to hang the chap in effigy before the first week in October, when the names of the Grand Jurors will be announced.

—The Commercial Union Insurance company has promptly adjusted the loss on the Grand Street mansion where the Frost street was almost totally destroyed by fire about eleven o'clock of Saturday evening, 17th. Mr. Hann's policy was for $4,000, and the company gave him back for $200 in settlement.

—Having obtained permission from the Council, Mr. L. S. Hart will soon remove the frame dwelling house from the corner of Park avenue and Fourth street, recently purchased by him, to make room for a substantial brick building. Mr. Hart will probably not begin the new building until the frost is out of the ground in the Spring.

—At the regular meeting of the Y's, Tuesday, Oct. 18th, Miss Mary Mather, formerly of Hall's Hill, will address the members on the subject of health work in their Union. Miss Mather is now a student of Wilmington, Del., and is the National President of the Health Work Department of the Young Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

—A number of persons from this city went west in New York on Sunday evening, to attend the grand reception tendered to Hon. Neal Dow of Maine, by the citizens of the city of Rochester. The Hall, and was given under the auspices of the Manhattan Temperance Association of which Mr. J. B. Gibbs, a well-known Plainfielder, is the worthy President.

—The superintendent and officers of the Warren Mission Industrial School, will hold a reception at the school house in the Warren Mission Chapel Friday afternoon, and spend several hours in planning and arranging the work for the scholars to begin with at the opening of the Fall session on Saturday, October 1st.

—There will probably be no more ball matches in which the Y. M. C. A. nine of this city will take part, until next Spring. Then we hope the people will join in underwriting the bills and build a fence for their use and the public's accommodation. Plainfield, this season, has cause to be proud of its Y. M. C. A's in their new field.

—Mad to your ankles or dust to your eyes. There is no happy medium in the condition of Plainfield's principally traveled roadways. There was once a committee appointed by the Council to agree upon ways and means to prohibit the flooding of the streets with pond water in large quantities, and to square their sprinkling machine. Is that Committee ready to report yet?

—There are in and around this section a number of forks and cross-roads where there are no guide boards to direct strangers. The law of New Jersey defines the duty of township committees, requiring them to come to the conclusion and kept in repair posts and guide boards containing the necessary directions together with the distance to towns and villages on such roads. Guide boards come mighty handy sometimes.

Murray—Tiffany.

The marriage ceremony that united Miss Marie Tiffany, of Crescent avenue and Dr. William Murray of Broadway, took place in the Crescent Avenue Church Wednesday, 21st inst. It was meant to be a quiet affair because of the late death of the bride's uncle, Mr. Charles Tiffany. No cards were issued, but the hosts of friends that flocked to do honor to the bride filled every seat and even the aisles of the church, and included numbers from New York and other places more distant. The affair was in many respects the most pleasing of any like ceremonies of the kind that have filled the church so often with beauty, and fine clothes, and Lubin's extracts, and sentiment. Mrs. Freeman provided all the organ and presided over the bow-pot played many sweet selections as an antidote to the impatient expectancy that is natural upon such occasions, especially with the ladies. The arrival was unusually prompt, and at three o'clock the bride stepped gracefully from her carriage and along the velvet carpet beneath the white satin and lace ugly canopy, into the church. Mendelssohn's wedding march swelled forth from the organ, and the party took position in front of the altar—and curiosity. The bride was escorted to the altar on the arm of her aged grandfather, O. B. Tweedy, Esq., and was followed by the ushers—Mr. Dexter Tiffany, the bride's half-brother, Mr. Richard Richards, the groom's cousin, and Messrs. Vail and Armstrong. The groom was accompanied by the clergyman's step with his brother, Mr. James Murray, who acted as best man. The ceremony was of the written, but brief and impressive, and performed by Dean Rodman. At its close, the bridal party turned and came down the aisle in the face of five hundred people, standing on each side of the aisle, to several judges. But the low murmur of admiration that unintentionally arose was almost an audible applause, a tribute to the bride's sudden beauty. As to what she wore, discussion began at once. The majority said corded silk and many thought it really; so it remains for us to solve the mystery. The dress was of the heaviest white satin, with a unusually deep and broad train. The bulle veil fell suddenly over it and took away the glisten of the satin somewhat, and gave it the shimmer of a fine grain. The front of the skirt was of interwoven silver threads, and the body was trimmed with choice point lace. Around the throat was tied a narrow ribbon of white satin from which swung a single pearl pendant, and the bride carried a bouquet. An enormous bouquet of white roses was carried in the hand. At the bride's residence after the ceremony, a light lunch was served to friends and intimates from afar and of the neighborhood. An array of handsome presents, and written and oral congratulations befitting the occasion, were heaped on so many for the bride. A waiting carriage at five o'clock, took the couple to the depot and a train for parts unknown only to themselves.

Personals.

Miss Plummer is visiting Mrs. H. E. Bowen of Netherwood Heights.

Mr. E. N. Erickson of Eighth street, has gone to the west on a grading the spacious grounds about his residence.

Mr. William D. Thickston of Central avenue, son of Dr. D. H. Thickston, will enter the New York College of Dentistry, Oct. 3d.

Mr. George N. Burdick of Park avenue has been on a three weeks visit to his former home at Pulaski, N. Y. Sunday he returned.

Mrs. John Carney, whose dangerous sickness we spoke of a few weeks ago, is more comfortable and hope of ultimate recovery had now arisen.

Mr. John L. Hall, the prosperous lumber merchant, of Williamsport, Pa., is spending a few days in this city, his former place of residence.

Mr. Newton P. Drake, formerly in the tailoring business in this city, has accepted a lucrative position with Rogers, Peet & Co., clothiers of New York city.

Rutgers College at New Brunswick was formally opened for the Fall term on the 21st. Among the new students was Mr. William Hubbard, elder son of Assessor Hubbard of this city.

Mr. J. D. Fraley, Jr., left last week for a month's trip through the principal Western cities, with a sharp eye to business probabilities, and a keen scent for judicious investments.

Major Taylor of Cleveland and Mr. F. M. Ramos of the Long Island Gun Club, will shoot a match at blue rock pigeons on the grounds of the Middlesex Gun Club at Dunellen on Saturday.

Mr. Dominick and family, who have been occupying Mr. Edward Perkins' house on Central avenue, left for their Winter home last Wednesday. Mr. Perkins expects to return from Europe early in October.

At a regular communication of Eastern Star Lodge, No. 182 F. and A. M. of Bound Brook, held on September 16th, the following resolutions of condolence were passed on the death of John S. Bishop, who died suddenly in the Bound Brook hotel, a few weeks ago.

Major and Mrs. Loyal Farragut are the guests for a few days of Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor Johnston. Major Farragut, who formerly lived on Farragut avenue, is the son of Admiral Farragut, and his wife is a niece of Mrs. Johnston's.

Hello, Central! We hear that Miss Emma Martin, the very prompt and superintendent of the Bell Telephone Company, is busily engaged in having the wires run over the country, near Camden, N. J., on Friday today. The conditions of the match are 100 live birds each for $250 a side. Herlingham will be present at 10 city, with 50 from five traps. This match will undoubtedly attract a large crowd as both men are crack shots.

Young Baptists' Reunion.

The reunion of the Young Peoples' Association of the First Baptist Church, was largely attended in the Sunday school rooms last Thursday, and its session of social entertainments was thus auspiciously begun. The late President, Mr. Frank Jones, delivered a short address and introduced his successor, Mr. Frank Raymon, who responded briefly. The musical programme consisted of a vocal duett by Messrs. Elmer Runyon and B. T. Barnes, recitations by Miss Recap, piano solo by Miss Cooley, and also one by Miss Mabel Phipps a graduate of the Boston Conservatory of Music. The latter lady's performance was a marvelous one. Refreshments were served, and all apparently greatly enjoyed themselves. Refreshments were served in abundance about 9.45 p. m. and an hour later the gathering dispersed with the usual "good night."

The Young People's Society of the First Baptist Church is full of its infancy, having been in existence but about six months. The membership numbers about 60. Following is a list of the officers:

President—Frank Raymon.
Vice President—Charles Case.
Secretary—Miss Lizzie Hubbard.
Reception Committee—Messrs. D. H. Lenox, Chairman; Wallace Sherrill, Fred S. Thorn, Will Williams, J. Barnet Case, Miss Belle Case, Miss Nettie French, Miss Anna Hull, Miss Emma Hudson, Miss Lizzie Hubbard.
Lookout Committee—Messrs. Frank Jones, Chairman; L. Warren Randolph, J. T. Sperling; Misses Lizzie Hubbard, Mary Lincoln Sutton.
Social Committee—Messrs. George F. Brown, Chairman; Edward Wilson, Miss Grace Tertes, Miss Ada L. Gardner, Miss Edith Runyon.
Prayer Meeting Committee—Messrs. Harold Sewell, Chairman; Edward Wilson, Miss Mary Lincoln Sutton, Miss Nettie Worth, Miss Louise B. Taylor.

The Mauch Chunk Excursion.

Messrs. Laing and Nelson's excursion train to Mauch Chunk and Glen Onoko, Tuesday, consisted of four attractive and comfortably heated passenger coaches and a baggage car, drawn by engine No. 1, William J. Barnet on the head. The excursionists arrived at Mauch Chunk about eleven o'clock and passed the day in sight seeing and various other amusements, for which the place is noted. All enjoyed the exciting trip over the gravity road, and after dinner several hours were pleasantly passed in the Glen. The party left with the solicitation of Mr. Everett B. Decker, the gentlemanly editor of the Mauch Chunk Daily Times, to make a tour of the town, and through the courtesy of Mr. James Rose, the sexton, were shown the interior of St. Mark's Episcopal church, erected in memory of the late Asa Packer by his family. The church, in 1881, at a cost of about $500,000. The edifice, both in design and style of architecture is said to be unsurpassed in the State of Pennsylvania, and situated as it is on the side of a steep incline commands a fine view for a long distance. Mr. Rose stated that a paragrapher had said it was a great deal to make out of wind. But, he continued, Jay Gould has spent $500,000 out of water. So if there be so much to be made out of wind and water, why not let George have the land? All this from a man of sterling character, was interesting.

Old Mason W. Tyler has returned from a long Summer vacation in New Hampshire and The Catskills, but is not yet decided as to the subject and date of the lecture he has graciously offered to deliver for the increase of the book-purchasing fund of the public library. Another member of the Board of Trustees has expressed his intention of contributing the rent of Music Hall for the purpose, so the gross receipts will be the net profits.

At the First Reformed church of Somerville, next Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock, will occur the marriage of Miss Katherine Clark, daughter of ex-Congressman Alvah Clark of that town, to Mr. Charles Arthur Reed. The groom is of the firm of Clark & Reed, Counsellors at Law, who have just opened a branch office in this city. The senior member of the firm is the bride's father. After the ceremony the new couple will hold a reception at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Clark, from eight to nine-thirty o'clock.

Last week's issue of Harper's Weekly contains the latest of a number of exceedingly interesting articles on the North River Island that have emanated from the able pen of Mr. S. D. V. Burr of this city. The last of the pens have appeared in the Newspaper Assessor, of which publication Mr. Burr is a member, and have been quoted and praised all over the world. The article we speak of, however, is of additional value because illustrated from photographs taken by Mr. Burr himself. They are the only photographs ever taken of the interior of the tunnel, and when is considered the fact that light for the purpose could only be obtained by the burning of magnesium, we at once add to our high regard for Mr. Burr as a scientific and intelligent artist. Our admiration of him as an author,

A Week's Shooting Match.

The second grand shooting tournament of the Middlesex Gun Club will be held at its grounds at Dunellen, during all the days of next week. The first three days will be devoted entirely to shooting at blue rocks for a trophy of $50. The last three days will be arranged for shooting at live birds and inanimate targets. The guaranteed prizes amount in value to over $1,000. Every endeavor will be made to classify experts and amateurs in a manner satisfactory to all.

A Cow Dies Under Peculiar Circumstances.

A milkman named Underhill, living in Washington Valley is the owner of a valuable cow, which yesterday suddenly fell ill, with symptoms bordering on pleuro-pneumonia. The bovine continued to grow worse until Sunday evening when Dr. J. H. Kenney, the veterinary surgeon, was summoned. The doctor made a hasty examination and at once pronounced the animal incurable. The cow died during Sunday night, with all the symptoms of pleuro-pneumonia. Monday morning the doctor dissected the animal, and to his surprise found a sewing machine needle embedded firmly in the heart, which had resulted in death. The case is considered extraordinary, nothing of the kind ever before having occurred here.

Resolutions of Respect.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of "The Middlesex Gun Club" held in this city, Saturday evening, Sept. 24th, 1887, the following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Supreme Being of the Universe, to remove by death from our membership, Mr. John S. Bishop, a valued member of this organization, a public-spirited citizen, and a most genial and agreeable companion; therefore, be it, Resolved, That in the death of John S. Bishop, "The Middlesex Gun Club" has lost a valued member and friend.

Resolved, That the sympathies of this organization be extended to the relatives of the deceased, and that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes, published in the Plainfield CONSTITUTIONALIST and Bound Brook Chronicle, and a copy sent to his immediate relatives.

Folly To Be Ignorant.

We are requested by some of the members of the W. C. T. U., to make a very unnecessary statement. They want us to assure the public that THE Paper list of the Union's new officers, published Tuesday, is absolutely correct. But this the public always knows. However, as we are also always ready to serve the public, we will call attention to a few of the errors that appear as usual in a list that has published without authority. The vice-presidents for the State street Baptist church are omitted to the First Baptist church, and the latter's representative is omitted entirely. And a majority of the names of the officers are incorrectly spelled, and wrongly initialed. In this city where we have found that for a newspaper Gideon is bliss, for other papers it is folly.

First Presbyterian Church Y. P. S.

About thirty of the members of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the First Presbyterian church were tendered a reception at the residence of Mrs. Edward St. John, on Rockview avenue, North Plainfield, last Tuesday. The object was for the advancement of plans for the coming Winter, and a programme consisted of vocal and instrumental music, games, etc., each selection being accorded a hearty encore. Every part of the programme was warmly received, and all apparently greatly enjoyed themselves. Refreshments were served, and in abundance about 9.45 p. m. and an hour later the gathering dispersed with the usual "good night."

The Young People's Society of the First Presbyterian church is full of its infancy, having been in existence but about six months. The membership numbers about 60. Following is a list of the officers:

President—J. H. Manning.
Vice President—Miss Emma L. Cadmus.
Secretary—A. E. Hoagland.
Treasurer—Miss Alice Bedford.

W. C. T. U. Officers for 1887-88.

At the adjourned annual meeting of the W. C. T. U., of this city, held Monday, the list of officers for the ensuing year was completed as follows. Those marked with a * were elected Monday—all others were chosen at the regular meeting of Sept. 12th, two weeks before.

President—Mrs. Helen M. Bates.*
Corresponding Secretary—Miss C. S. Yates.
Recording Secretary—Mrs. M. Emma Frosch.*
Treasurer—Mrs. Lincoln Sutton.*

CHURCH VICE PRESIDENTS.

Methodist Episcopal—Mrs. Wm. E. Honeyman, Mrs. Rose M. Hall.*
Seventh Day Baptist—Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson, Mrs. Ida Randolph.*
Congregational—Mrs. Dr. Barnes,* Mrs. Andrew Muir.
First Baptist—Mrs. M. I. Cooley, Mrs. D. J. Rose.
Park Avenue Baptist—Mrs. J. W. Johnston, Mrs. J. E. Stanley.
First Presbyterian—Mrs. Robert Manning,* Mrs. C. G. Shotwell.*
Trinity Reformed—Mrs. Alburtus Swain.*
Reformed Episcopal—Mrs. Dr. Jenkins, Mrs. J. H. McNaughton.
Grand Street Friends—Mrs. Rachel Hoffman.*
Second Advent—Mrs. Dr. E. F. Williams, Mrs. A. B. Woodward.
Church Reformed—Mrs. E. H. Lowrie.
Holy Cross Episcopal—Mrs. Geo. Deere Scott.*

Moon Gazing.

A number of the members of the local circle of the C. L. S. C., were the guests, Monday evening, of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Davis of Ninth street. The principal object of the visit was to study the craters of the moon through the fine telescope that is mounted in Mr. Davis' observatory of the latter's residence. The night was a good one for the purpose of scientific inspection of the moon's surface, and the party of twenty were, one by one, brought into close range and entertained to their heart's astronomical content. Mr. Davis being thoroughly acquainted by the parlor, favorable night, with thousand of the moon's dead craters, was a most interesting host. The glass of which he is the fortunate owner is a large astronomical telescope built by Alvan Clark & Sons the makers of the great Washington telescope, the thirty-six inch glass now being set up at the Lick Observatory in California. Mr. Davis' glass is of the finest grade, and was made for the Government Transit of Venus of 1874 at a cost of $1,800 apiece. In has one eye-piece of 1,000, and brings the moon within a seeming distance of 220 miles.

The Season Closed.

After a successful and a very satisfactory season, the Bond Netherwood closed its doors to the public, Tuesday, and the house resumes its way of home capacity, those males and visitors, are accommodated with every comfort and convenience, and a long time is anticipated for would require for the visitors of his guests. Now that the end for couples has come, the Bond Netherwood will remain closed for the Winter, and will be opened in the Spring, beautiful with its surroundings, and in the best possible condition for the season. The Bond Netherwood is a popular resort, and has always been filled. If the Bond Netherwood can ever be kept open all the year round it will become one of the most popular resorts in the country. Its location is unsurpassed, and its surroundings are beautiful. With the Bond Netherwood established for itself a reputation during the past short season, it is to be hoped that the proprietors will be induced to keep it full. Not only is this desirable from the standpoint of the proprietors, but from the standpoint of the people of Bound Brook, as the Bond Netherwood adds not a little to the business of the town. Besides, it is a credit to the town, and it is to be hoped that the proprietors will be induced to keep it open all the year round.

The Warren Mission Industrial School.

The Warren Mission Industrial School will commence its fifteenth term of work next Saturday afternoon, October 1st, at 2.30 o'clock, in the Chapel, Chatham street, North Plainfield. A colored department will be a new feature of the work this year. It is hoped that teachers will return promptly to the work, and any new workers who may wish to enlist will be welcomed. The outlook for a prosperous year of work is anticipated.

Better Light Assured.

The new arc dynamo for the Plainfield Electric Light Company, that we described last Friday upon its arrival here, has since been connected with the city circuit, and for the past few evenings is giving our streets the kind of illumination desired. A long delay has been caused because the new machines was being built expressly for this city, entirely different from any other dynamo ever constructed, and greatly improved in almost every respect. A repository of Tesla Patents was permitted to inspect the machine personally for his own satisfaction, after it was set up, and found it in all ways nearer perfect as a dynamo than any he had before examined. The automatic attachment for adjusting the brushes and thus controlling an even current, is the most improved, and the air blast for overcoming any liability of flashing, can be set so as to act more directly and efficiently upon the same. Among many other equally beneficial additions, is the lightning arrester that absorbs the dangerous fluid off into the ground before it can reach the machine. With all these we may feel sure of having perfect street lights hereafter.

Election of S. and T. Officers.

A regular meeting of Hewell Division, No. 97, Sons of Temperance of this city was held in the rooms of the division, corner Park avenue and Front street, last Tuesda y. Worthy Patriarch, Judge L. F. Wadsworth was in the chair, and besides the transaction of some business of a routine nature, the following officers were elected for the ensuing quarter:

Worthy Patriarch—W. R. Mattox.
Worthy Associate—Miss Lees.
Treasurer—J. Naylor.
Financial Scribe—S. A. Codington.
Recording Scribe—S. Scribner.
Assistant Recording Scribe—W. B. Ayers.
Chaplain—Sister Corwin.
Conductor—Mrs. R. A. Mattox.
Assistant Conductor—C. Johnson.
Inside Sentinel—James Johnson.
Outside Sentinel—John Johnson.
Installing Deputy—Wm. A. Reeves.

The newly elected officers will be installed into their respective offices on Tuesday evening next.

The committee appointed, as stated in Monday's Press, to examine into the association's finances, reported their thorough satisfaction as to the correctness of the Treasurer's books, and that nothing was found to sustain the charge made against that officer. Treasurer Naylor was afterwards unanimously elected to continue to serve the Division in that office.

The Coming Gun Club Tournament.

Next week will be an interesting and important one among the sportsmen of the country, the event being the second grand tournament of the Middlesex Gun Club, on their grounds at Dunellen, N. J., commencing Monday, Oct. 3d, and continuing until the 8th. The first three days will be devoted entirely to shooting at Blue Rocks, the last three days at live birds and inanimate targets. During the first day of the tournament, Mr. Sim for the Atlantic Ammunition Company's handsome trophy, will be shot off on the grounds, and the successful winner presented with same. This event alone will bring to the grounds the best shooters of the country, such men as Budd, Stice, Black, Ely, Gilbert, Smith, Fulmer, Brewer, Carver, Graham, Bogardus, etc. The entries for the contest are rapidly being filled, requiring the constant care of the Division Secretary, Mr. W. Wood, to answer communications and prepare all details. The commodious grounds of the Club have been put in fine shape, and the large grand stand will be in readiness for visitors. Refreshments will be served on the grounds under the supervision of caterer Charles Smith. The admission each days will be twenty-five cents. On Saturday, the closing day, there will be an interesting match between the champion of the State, C. W. Budd, and M. C. Smith, of Syracuse, N. Y., for $250 a side. This event will be one of great interest, for that day the entrance will be fifty cents, and under the present management of this popular Club, the tournament is bound to prove a grand success. Special trains are advertised for visitors at Force's, Millers and the City Hotel, this city. Visitors may reach the grounds in fifteen minutes from Plainfield.

Narrow Escape From Death.

A woman whose name is said to be Bridget McCloskey, who resides at the corner of Fourth and Washington streets, fell from the Washington street railroad bridge about 10.30 a. m., last Tuesday, and received serious injuries. During the descent it is said, she had been a frequent indulger in intoxicants, and a short time before the accident occurred, had started for town evidently to "fill her vial." Two young men who were walking along the track in the neighborhood of Washington street at the time, saw the woman approaching and hailed her. Getting her gait, one of them says, was unsteady, and in her hand she carried a "growler" of beer. The two unsuspecting men were enjoying the condition of the female, and one of them remarked that she was in danger of falling from the bridge. They started to go to her assistance, but before they reached her, the unfortunate woman threw up her arms and with a shriek, toppled over, striking the hard sidewalk below with a dull thud. A crowd quickly came upon the scene gathered on the spot and raised the almost lifeless body of the woman from the stone walk. She showed but few outward wounds on the head and formed a pool on the sidewalk. In one of the pockets of the dress was found a pint bottle of whisky. The bottle was empty. Two Willing hands carried the unfortunate victim to her home, and Dr. W. C. Boone was immediately summoned. The doctor examined the wounded woman and rendered the usual remedies. To a Press reporter who called at the house, the doctor said that the injuries consisted principally of severe bruises about the head and back. No broken bones were discovered. Persons who saw the accident declare that the woman's escape from instant death was simply wonderful, and many of them expected that her skull was crushed and her neck broken by the fall. The result of the injuries cannot yet be estimated.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and can not be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall-street, New York.—MYRIT

DEMAREST'S
NEW STORE.
Choice Creamery Butter. The best in the city. Try it and be convinced. Mason's jars, with porcelain lined tops. Lighting Jars and Jelly Tumblers. Pure Spices, all kinds. Green Ginger Root, Mustard Seed, and Fruits of all kinds, in their season. All of which are sold at Bottom Prices.
P. M. DEMAREST.

27 PARK AVENUE

Special Notice!

OUR OWN MANUFACTURE.
Sebring Bros.,
Music Hall Entrance.

COCKLE'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS,
THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY
For Liver Ills, Indigestion, etc. Free from Mercury. Sold by all Druggists. Wholesale Agents for the United States, C. N. CRITTENTON, New York.

ATTENTION!
Carpets. Carpets.
For Fall season. Just offered to the trade at the LOWEST PRICES
ever known in this city.
DRESS GOODS
New Styles. Large Assortment.
Housekeeping Goods, Muslins, Table Linens, Towels, Napkins, Etc.,
On offer at Reduced Prices.
AT S. H.
WHITNEY'S!
8 E. FRONT ST., OPP. POST OFFICE.

PECK'S CORNER. PECK'S CORNER.
LOOK AT
PLUSHES. PLUSHES.
AT PECK'S.
PRICE LIST
OF WOOLEN BLANKETS
AND COMFORTABLES.
AT EDSALL'S!
GREAT
--SPECIAL SALE!--
COMFORTABLES.

One lot	various	styles	at 80 cents	worth $1.25
" "	"	"	" $1.15	worth $1.50
" "	"	"	" 1.45	" 1.85
" "	"	"	" 1.75	" 2.25
" "	"	"	" 1.95	" 2.50
" "	"	"	" 1.99	" 2.50
" "	"	"	" 2.12	" 2.62
" "	"	"	" 2.49	" 3.00
" "	"	"	" 2.75	" 3.25
" "	"	"	" 3.50	" 4.00
" "	"	"	" 5.00	" 6.00

The above are all filled with pure cotton except the first mentioned, which is filled with wool, and made from first-class cloths, and the reason why we sell them so cheap is because we have purchased a large lot from the manufacturer and have marked them at a very small margin.

WOOLEN BLANKETS.

One lot	various	styles	at $2.50	worth $2.75
" "	"	"	" 2.95	" 3.25
" "	"	"	" 3.45	" 3.75
" "	"	"	" 3.95	" 4.50
" "	"	"	" 4.00	" 4.50
" "	"	"	" 4.95	" 5.75
" "	"	"	" 5.00	" 6.00
" "	"	"	" 4.75	" 5.95
" "	"	"	" 5.50	" 6.00
" "	"	"	" 5.95	" 6.95
" "	"	"	" 6.00	" 6.75

And so on up as high as $11.00

The blankets are purchased in the same way as the comfortables and are sold at very small profit.

NOTICE.—No one who will need these goods in the near future should fail to visit our store during this great offering and secure what they need in these goods, as they will sell, in all probability, have another such chance to get them at such extremely LOW PRICES.

Notice.—Those who come early will have the advantage of the choice of selections.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—We are ready now with our new FALL STOCK of
CARPETS,
OIL CLOTHS, MATTINGS, RUGS, &c., and will offer some very ATTRACTIVE BARGAINS in these goods during this sale.

STORE OPEN EVERY EVENING.

GREEN HAS OPENED!
WE HAVE JUST ADDED
EVERYTHING NEW. COME AND SEE ME.
500 BOYS' SUITS.
LOWEST PRICES MARKED ON EVERYTHING.
SOME AS LOW AS $2.00.
SOME AS HIGH AS $7.50.

BED-ROOM SUITS	$16.00
LOUNGES	$ 6.00
BED LOUNGES	$ 7.00
GOOD MATTRESS	$ 3.50

REPAIRING AND UPHOLSTERING IN ALL BRANCHES.
GOODS TAKEN ON STORAGE.

Blankets, Flannels, Dress Goods and Hosiery.
FALL GOODS
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION AT LOW PRICES.
AT POPE'S.
FRONT AND SOMERSET STS.

C. K. COMPTON,
Confectioner and Ice Cream Caterer,
Only the Best of Ice Cream and Ices Furnished for Weddings, Parties, Receptions.
TRY MY CREAM AND HOME-MADE BREAD.
First-class stock. Hot in the afternoon at 5 o'clock. Please remember I manufacture my own Candy and use only the best of sugar and No. 1 flavoring matter and vegetable coloring materials. Goods promptly delivered.
C. K. COMPTON,
26 West Front Street. Near the Opera House.

HALL'S
MACHINE PICKED.
STEAM AND DRY AIR BOILED FEATHERS
NO DUST. NO ODOR. NO QUILLS.
Prepared only by PATENTED MACHINERY.
Trade Mark Registered.
NO ANIMAL MATTER.
A Feature of FRANK A. HALL, NEW YORK.
The CLEANEST and BEST for Family Use.
Packed in Hinsdell Bottle Bags of the following sizes: 2 lbs., 3 lbs., 5 lbs., 10 lbs., 25 lbs., 50 lbs.
Every Bag bears the above TRADE MARK in RED INK. TAKE NO OTHER.
ASK YOUR DEALER FOR THEM.

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING—COLUMN.
SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY.
Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy, a marvelous cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria and Canker Mouth. With each bottle there is an ingenious Nasal Injector for the more successful treatment of those unpleasant without rules. Price 50 cents. For sale by Frank A. Randolph, City Pharmacy.
ANSWER THIS QUESTION.
Why do so many people we are around us suffer from Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Coated Tongue, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, &c., when they can get relief for 75 cents? We will sell them Shiloh's Vitalizer on a guarantee to cure. Sold by Frank A. Randolph, City Pharmacy.
SHILOH'S CONSUMPTION CURE.
This is the only Cough Medicine we have ever sold, that always gives satisfaction. We have sold it for years, and have never handled a medicine that sells so rapidly or gives such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to say that it will cure any case of Consumption, Incipient Consumption or Throat and Lung Disease, if directed as per circular, and taken in time. Sold by Frank A. Randolph, City Pharmacy.
"Where baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

RETURN OF THE HEARSE.

A thing ain't good as tryin' as a brother one kin meet.
In some poor fellow's funeral a-movin' long the street.
The silent hearse and the hosses—slow enough to a-try the best,
For to crave out the patience of the sentiment deceased!
The slow approach of the grave—and the slow grind of the wheels,
The slow, slow get of sorry 'em' at no speech to-day!
So I putter into the nearest when I hear the whippin'-cords creak,
A-quickenin' by the hosses,
When the Hearse
Comes Back!

Meet it goin' to the cemet'ry, you'll want to drop your head
But of the pinions don't fetch you with acted, you shouldn't—
You'll act to see the casket though you'd get to look a'hee,
And remember and save yer sighs for any other day—
Yer sympathies won't wake up the sleeper from his rest.
Yer tears won't thaw them hands o' his at's done acrossed—
And this is why—when sorrer and say a-gittin' blurred and blind—
I like the wheels and hosses
When the Hearse
Comes Back!

The tidy waitin' round here over slow mouth drop as woe
When I hear the graded joke a-jay and sensation, don't you know!
When excuses "before the parlor," sown'll pull out for the bars,
And solicitin' to "run out the dark," it pesses
the happy stars.
And so when my "solemn" comes to the, and I've got my friend
"At rest," remember my last request—I'll, mebbe, recommend
To drive slow, of they had terrain' long the outlast journey—
But I'll smile and say: "You need jus
When the Hearse
Comes Back!"

—James Whitcomb Riley, in Indianapolis Journal.

TRAGEDY ON THE BEACH.

Could Have Got In If He Hadn't Stopped for Lily.

"In the novels of the present day, from the first page to the last, nothing ever happens. It's a long chain of events, and it's all turned sugar, we have no feeling of gratitude, as if that were an incident, and we had something like that occurred to ourselves. But in real life, in the genuine realities, people are drowned, they break their necks or their backs; they die suddenly! In fact, in real life we are liable to be the most miserable of failing in love, violently and unexpectedly."

Thus I discoursed as we sat in front of our tent late one afternoon. I had been reading aloud from the novel of the season, recently published. My audience consisted of Carlos, Mrs. Randish and Mary. Mary was somewhat a good deal of the time, but would occasionally rouse up and have the appearance of being there for a few minutes, of being profoundly interested. When I had finished I found her in a state of unconsciousness. Mrs. Randish sat in a camp chair which faced the water. She had been with us since noon, having brought some hard-boiled eggs and two large cucumbers, which she insisted on slicing one at a time, and eating the whole a cent for berry cake without a slice of cucumber with it. She was knitting an "open-work" stocking for Lily. Lily was not there. The day had been one of fitful fearful heat, and Lily had gone in for a swim. Every breath of wind had now subsided, and the water lay groaning hotly beneath the sun.

Lily Randish had come with her grandmother, and had been out in the water almost as much by herself. The child was as used to a duck, Mrs. Randish said, as other children were to rain-puddles, and she seemed to think that ducks were as harmless as rag dolls.

The rest of the tent was diffusing itself through some sighing music. Mrs. Randish's eyes were directed toward the water in a beat that was rocking a little beyond the line of floats. Carlos was reading a novel figure in it with a broad white hat hanging off the head.

"I hope Lily's hurried with the cucumber," said Randy, "there's not for hours with Mary in the water. She's not a fish, she's a snail and breathes' deep. When I said it was she was bathing about once, she took me to exactly the same thing. She was just a-drinkin'! If all just had one. Oh, I do hope that child won't let that child suffer too much in this world, that she won't suffer, or injury, more in a minute than I've suffered in all my life!"

She said this after I had closed my book. Perhaps the feeling of it was behind but one remark.

"Seems to me," she said, "the fellar that wrote that book has had a pretty an awful lot of unlucky common folks. If I said on that I wouldn't stay write a line for a minute. They'd tire me to death. But he has kind of a knack, don't he somehow?"

We did not like to look at Lily on the stretch of beach to the westward, where the cottages were, every body was out. White dresses and gay raiments were there, and on the hot sand the children, men and their wives and children were out also, sitting on the atmosphere moved indefinitely but steadily; storm, for some sense of ease in this since atmosphere. Presently Mrs. Randish Yates strolled up to our party and sat down on the coarse grass. Every body talked and looked at Lily.

"Where on earth were you?" said Mrs. Yates as she drew near. "I've been out in a go-cart an hour."

"It said," went on Maria Jane, "that he couldn't stand the heat on shore another minute; and if he was to have to go in there, he shouldn't come back. Your midwight, I reckon this is the hottest night I ever did know! Is that Lily Randish Cuffee take the Lodge? I know her this long time, and her mother, but I declare I don't know her grandmother, for the life of me, if she was to die!"

Randy replied with asperity that "if a person hadn't a mind to do any thing but, as for one didn't know why she shouldn't do as she pleased, for Randy!"

"Nor I neither," said Maria Jane, heartily. "I'm sure I don't see why she shouldn't do as she pleased, for Randy! I guess you're right, Mrs. Randish!"

Randy started as if she had been stung, for seven-tare flushed a painful crimson.

"Jane Eliza!" she said, in a whisper.

"That ain't a fellar feller on the ridden, now a minute before and a-pointed," said Mrs. Yates.

Mrs. Randish had herself in hand now, though her cheeks were still red.

"I have nothing against James Balch," she said, with dignity. "I'm sure I—"

"No object was arranged.

One strong, we it began of what, sweet from the west; then, all was still again. From red hot and sparkling it turned to white hot. It was now as if thing it seemed as if it might, but it could not. It was over so and was laid down by a Titan.

Randy stood up.

"I'll get a letter come in," she said.

She put her hands beside her mouth and gave a shrill, penetrating call. Lily heard it, began to swim toward the shore, and waved toward the bluff. With the open glass we could see plainly that she immediately began to swim toward the north. Presently she turned away toward the north. I saw Mary Yates in his red shirt sitting in the boat.

"I guess I'm no good to call to Mary," said Mrs. Yates. "I might as well call to a he seemed's come in till he got ready. Besides, I made sure there's no need for me to know's there could any thing hurt him if he wasn't come to."

We all gave Mrs. Randish settled keep again into our languor, and ceased to watch the sea or the sky. Time seemed to move revolutely about. She took the opera glass and looked at the water, and began to move restlessly about. She took the opera glass and looked at the water, and began to move restlessly about. She took the opera glass and looked at the water, and began to move restlessly about. She took the opera glass and looked at the water, and began to move restlessly about.

"Where on earth's that child?" she said. "Mary Yates, you've been looking at her all the time. Where is she?"

"Why, she's in the water," she said.

I knew by the movement of her lips what her words were. Carlos stopped and looked up the turquoise. The next moment I was on my feet, and Carlos was up and shouting.

"Where will we two her? He has almost reached her!"

Every one had now leap on our feet. Mrs. Randish was standing with her hands clasped, her face white as death. Mary Yates was on his knees, staring at the water. Carlos was shouting, and I was running toward the water's edge.

"Where is she?" I said, in a voice that I scarcely recognized as my own.

"Where is she?" he answered, in a voice that I scarcely recognized as his own

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY.
AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XX. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1887. No. 40.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its limitations as in its authorities."—Madison.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

O. L. JENKINS, M. D.,
Homeopathist,
(successor to Dr. Booth,) 20 East Front Street, near Peace, Plainfield, N. J. Office Hours—7 to 8 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m. [apl-1y]

J. JACKSON & CODINGTON,
Counsellors-at-Law,
commissioners of deeds, Masters-in-Chancery, Notaries Public, Conveyancers, Agents for sale of Fire and Second + feet. [apl-1y]

EDGAR W. DAY,
General Auctioneer,
Sale of Personal Property solicited. P. O. Box 133 Dunellen, N. J., or address in care of Dunellen Post Office. Dunellen, N. J. [apl-1y]

DR. CHARLES H. THEIS,
Dentist,
29 East Front Street. A new local anesthetic application for extracting teeth without pain. Gold filling a specialty. [apl-1y]

H. HAND,
Auctioneer,
P. O. Address, Lock Box 65, North Plainfield, N. J. Orders left at Y. & A. Depot, Plainfield, or at West Front street, North Plainfield, N. J., will receive prompt attention. [apl-1y]

OSCAR S. TEALE,
Architect,
247 Broadway, New York City, rooms 22 and 23. (3 doors above Duane and 2 doors below Chambers.) Plans, Specifications, Estimates, &c. [apl-1y]

WM. K. MCCLURE,
Attorney-at-Law,
MASTER IN CHANCERY, NOTARY PUBLIC,
Commissioner of Deeds. Office, North avenue opposite depot. [apl-1y]

J. H. FERSTER,
Veterinary Surgeon.
Office in A. M. Sagendorph's livery office, near Main street and Madison avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Day and night calls promptly attended to. Residence and Tel. No. 19. Consultation on diseases of all domesticated animals. Residence, 72 East Fifth street. [apl-1y]

ARTHUR F. MILLER,
Attorney-at-Law,
(Successor to the late W. H. Mason,) Solicitor in Bankruptcy, Notary Public. Will buy and sell real estate, collect rents, and transact a general business for property. Office over First National Bank. [apl-1y]

F. A. DUNHAM,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor,
No. 2 Park avenue, Plainfield. Surveys, plans, and all other work pertaining to the adjustment or disputed boundary lines. Particular attention to all parts of the country. [apl-1y]

DR. J. P. GRIPPEN,
Electric Baths.
Dr. Grippen treats the following diseases, viz: Diseases of the Nerves, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Consumption, Diseases of the Kidneys, especially for Electricity and Electric Baths. Consultation Free. Office hours, 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Office, Second street, corner Washington. [apl-1y]

BUSINESS CARDS.

ROBERT JAHN,
TIN AND COPPER-SMITH,
Scotch Plains,
(Fanwood) N. J. Roofing, Spouts and Heater work, Pumps, Repairs, &c., all kinds of sheet metal work. Jobbing promptly attended to. [apl-1y]

TO THE PUBLIC !

We wish to inform our customers and the public generally that we have on hand the best quality of

LEHIGH COAL,

Fresh from the Mines.

It is under cover and well protected from the weather. We are prepared to deliver it well screened and in good order promptly. We are also prepared to furnish all kinds of seasoned Lumber and Mixed Materials at short notice.

A. D. COOK & BRO.

Watches, Clocks And Jewelry.

Repairing neatly and promptly done. [apl-1y]

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, VEGETABLES, DRIED FRUIT, ETC.
CORNER EMILY AND DUER STREETS
North Plainfield, New Jersey.

Celebrated Pilsbury Flour,
THE BEST IN THE MARKET.
ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED.
Thanking for past patronage I solicit a continuance Respectfully,
WILLIAM E. SHOTWELL.

BOSTON CLOTHING HOUSE
42 W. FRONT ST.
Reliable Goods at Low Prices.
FINE FOOT WEAR,
BEST MAKES,
LATEST STYLES,
AT THE
NEW SHOE STORE
Doane & Van Arsdale
22 WEST FRONT STREET.

SANITARY PLUMBING,
Brick and Portable Furnaces,
GAS FITTING,
TIN ROOFING,
Etc. Etc.
I am prepared to do any of the above Branches in a thorough workmanlike manner.
Having purchased Wright, Hall, and Mosier Plumbers' and Steam Fitters' Stock of New York City, I am now prepared to offer my customers and the trade generally the best goods at the lowest prices. Parties in want of anything in my line will find it to their advantage to call and examine my stock and prices before purchasing elsewhere.
D. W. LITTELL,
No. 8 NORTH AVE. (near Plainfield, N. J.

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

Force's Hotel !
NORTH AVENUE
Near R. R. Depot, Plainfield, New Jersey.
JAMES H. FORCE, Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY HOTEL.
Transient guests taken at reasonable rates.

Bottled Liquors a Specialty.

Laing's Hotel !
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
J. B. MILLER & BRO., - Proprietors.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.

James Conneely
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a saloon

WIN and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 28 PARK AVE.,
Where he will be pleased to furnish his friends and patrons with the choicest brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors. [apl-1y]

TURF EXCHANGE HOTEL.
72 Courtlandt street,
CORNER WASHINGTON, NEW YORK CITY
FRED. W. BALLARD, - - Proprietor,
(formerly of Jersey City), is now conducting the above corner Washington and Courtlandt streets, New York, formerly kept by the late James Van Tuyl, and by W. H. Sullivan. A first class house with the same customers continued.

FINE WINES, LIQUORS AND SEGARS. [1y]

SOMERSET HOTEL,
Cor. Somerset & Unity Sts., North Plainfield, N. J.
Permanent and Transient Board, at fair rates.
First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all reasonable hours. [1y]

C. E. JOHNSON,
Late from 47 Shepherd, Johnson & Gridley,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
Office adjoining City Hotel on Second street, near Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey. Residence, 17 East Second street. Jobbing especially. [apl-1y]

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent,
SALESROOM—Madison Avenue, one door from Plainfield, N. J.
Goods received on consignment.

MRS. E. J. MARTIN'S
MAGIC RENOVATING FLUID.
For cleaning and restoring color of all kinds of goods, such as Ribbons, Feathers, Kid Gloves, Silk Dresses, Velvets, Silk hats, Gents' clothing. Makes the nap on Velvet and Plush stand erect. Will not injure the most delicate fabric. Price 25 cents per bottle. Sent at once on receipt of price. Room 2, 3 Dunn block, 12 East Front street, and at Mrs. W. L. Force's Variety Goods Store, No. 4 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. [apl-1y]

JOHN JOHNSTON,
DEALER IN
COAL!
YARD AND OFFICE, SOUTH AVENUE, NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
The most quality of screened coal at the lowest cash prices. Address all orders to Netherwood post-office. [apl-1y]

Park Avenue Bakery!
JOHN WALKER, Prop'r
FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the Celebrated
VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS,
And all Varieties of
Pies, Cake and Confectionery.

EDUCATIONAL.

RODMAN SEMINARY,
25 E. 6th Street. Will Re-open
SEPT. 15.
For circulars Address
MRS. R. O. DINGEE, Principal.

Miss S. G. Kenny's
SCHOOL FOR GIRLS
WILL RE-OPEN
Thursday, Sept. 22d, 1887.
For particulars address
MISS S. G. KENNY, P. O. Box 500.

MR. LEAL'S SCHOOL
WILL RE-OPEN
Monday, Sept. 19, 1887.

MISCELLANEOUS.

STEAM HEATING
FOR
CHURCHES, SCHOOLS, and DWELLINGS.
J. N. SCHENCK,
Plainfield, N. J.
P. O. Box 1051.—sly

JAMES K. ARNOLD,
GROCER,
Corner Somerset and Chat-ham Sts., North Plainfield.

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.,
TO HIRE. CHARGES REASONABLE.
Hugo Weigman,
29 EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST,
Residence—Harmony street, North Plainfield, south house from Somerset street, left hand side. Information in positive and unfailing manner in future events, life or marriages, lostings, love suits, etc. Unfortunate invited. She cures

In English, German and French.

My husband is a first-class Cooper, and repairs tubs, pails, barrels, etc., cheap for cash.

Electrical Work !
ELECTRICAL WORK.—WE ARE PREPARED to furnish estimates for all kinds of Electrical work, and guarantee satisfaction in every instance. We guarantee all our work. We will be pleased to call on any one desiring estimates, by the post, visiting and inspecting it at request. Orders left at this office will receive prompt attention.
PLAINFIELD DISTRICT TELEGRAPH CO.
NO. 4 PARK AVENUE.
C. M. GODDARD, Manager.

CAREY'S
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE, NO. 46 WEST FRONT STREET.
Nearly opposite Laing's Hotel, Plainfield, N. J.
Having leased the above premises I am prepared to do all kinds of Furniture, Carpet, Stove, etc. I will also take Furniture in or out of storage at reasonable rates. Furniture, etc., stored. P. O. Box 495. [apl-1y]

DOOR NUMBERS,
DOOR BELLS,
DOOR PLATES,
AT
DICKINSON & CLAWSON'S,
19 PARK AVENUE.
Also Agents for

Dr. King's Spectacles.
Fleming & Angleman,

BUTCHERS.
Fresh, Salt and Smoked Meats,
Poultry, Fish, Vegetables, etc.
ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED.
No. 24 North avenue.
[Near the Depot.]
A. A. FLEMING, apl-1y J. F. ANGLEMAN.

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPPLIE

Paints, Varnishes, Glass.
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALL PAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.

Weaver Bros.
House & Sign Painting, Graining,
Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a specialty.
Office and Shop in the rear of
16X EAST FRONT STREET,
D. WEAVER. P. O. Box 321. P. WEAVER.

W. N. ROWE,
PAINTER AND DECORATOR,
Dealer in Paints, Oil, Varnishes, Glass, Window Shades, Wall Papers and Window Blades. Orders promptly attended to. Satisfaction guaranteed. No. 12 E. FRONT STREET, (C. O. Baker's old stand,) Plainfield, N. J. P. O. Box 1109.—apl-1y

L. B. WOOLSTON. J. P. BUCKLE
Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS.
Wall Papers,
PAINTER'S SUPPLIES. 20 NORTH AVENUE
apl-1y
MILLINERY

Mrs. J. M. Dunn,
FASHIONABLE MILLINER,
LATEST SHAPES OF
BONNETS AND HATS.
FRENCH IMPORTED FLOWERS.
Feathers, Velvets, Plushes, Satins, Laces, etc. Also, Fancy Goods and Notions; Dress and Infants' Caps a Specialty.

PINKING, BLEACHING & PRESSING.
Feathers Dyed. Cleaned and Curled AT SHORT NOTICE.
14 West Front street.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J
Manufacturer of and Wholesale Dealer in
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best cigar ever put in the Store, and made on the premises from the finest Havana.
CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of Fine Cut Chewing and Smoking Tobacco, Cigarettes and Snuffs always on hand.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety.

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
—SEGARS!—
6, 28 PARK AVE., (NEXT DOOR TO SECOND ST.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smoker's Materials, of every description.
The Celebrated Peter Dragoon Tobacco, with other brands of the finest cut tobacco in the market.

--PICTURE FRAMES--
OF ALL KINDS, AT
S. E. FLOWER'S.
At New York Prices, Duties & Wast Front street, Plainfield. Satisfaction guaranteed.

D. D. SMALLEY
Smalley Bros.,
DEALERS IN
Fresh and Salt Meats, Poultry, Etc.
70 SOMERSET STREET, 6 CTH PLAINFIELD.
Orders solicited and delivered. A share of the public patronage is solicited.

Benj. F. Moore,
[Late of Moore Bros.]
BUTCHER,
2nd door in FRESH and SALT MEATS, POULTRY, FISH, OYSTERS, Corner Park Ave. and Second street. Orders will be left with Wm. Shotwell, Grocer, Park Ave., and promptly done with. Telephone No. 111.—apl-1y

MAYNARD & HILL,
PRACTICAL BARBERS
And Artistic Hair Dressers,
No. 20 PARK AVENUE,
(under Child's Hall.) Children's Hair Cutting done at residence if desired. Shampooing, &c., satisfactorily performed.

Every Visual Defect Corrected.
WM. H. FINHAUS, Optician,
43 NASSAU ST., NEAR LIBERTY,
(5 Minutes Walk from Cortlandt Street Ferry.)
NEW YORK.
My Improved system of fitting glasses by very carefully testing each eye separately on a newly discovered principle, enables me to suit the most acute and sensitive eyes. Difficult cases fitted after others have failed. Artificial eyes inserted. Call and have your eyes tested free of charge. Those who cannot call may write for circulars. Refer by permission to those acknowledging its use as a test. Please mention this paper. Telephone call, 1111.

NELLIE GA TORIS.

Some Curious Facts About the Private Life of the White House Lady Who Returns to America—Her Unhappy Wedding Days.

[Special New York Correspondence.]

The return of Nellie Grant to America has given rise to many pleasant memories among society people who were in Washington when the White House during her father's two terms. The White House maidens were completely charmed the hearts of Washington people as Nellie Grant. She was a favorite girl to greet the old citizens in all their historic, quaint ways. The congressman's daughters were always delighted when they kept house for them. Harriet Lane was a magnificently developed woman of twenty-five when Nellie Grant became mistress of the White House. Miss Lane was an accomplished musician, and when she went to live in the historic old mansion she brought her piano and other musical instruments, and for months, or in the lighter and more informal social duties until the time came for her debut. Her musical evenings were always delightful, and her favorite of all who met her. Not long after Miss Lane left the White House she was married or formal, she was an excellent type of the healthy, natural and graceful American girl.

NELLIE GRANT.

It was not long before she became the subject of the gossip with Washington society men, and, being in the willowy age, when long curls and slender figures are the fashion, she was not abroad in her seventeenth year. Then she was in the full bloom of womanhood, and, indeed, had not yet reached the period for the climax of her career or the liberty

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE, A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors.

COUNTY DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

At a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee of the County of Union, held Tuesday, Sept. 27th, it was resolved to hold the the County Convention on

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 20th, 1887,

at Library Hall, Elizabeth, at 12 o'clock p. m., to nominate a candidate for State Senator, County Clerk, Sheriff and two Coroners. Each township was entitled to recommend Wednesday evening, Oct. 19th, as the time for holding the primary meetings.

In accordance with the above resolutions the Democratic voters of the County are requested to meet in their respective Wards and Townships on the evening above designated to elect delegates to said convention.

The ratio of representation is one to one delegate for every fifty and one extra one for a fraction over twenty-five Democratic votes cast at the last Gubernatorial election.

The number of votes cast in each Ward and Township, with the number of Delegates to which each is entitled, is as follows:

		Votes cast for Governor.	Entitled to Delegates.
Elizabeth—	First Ward,	576	12
	Second Ward,	698	17
	Third Ward,	369	8
	Fourth Ward,	321	8
	Fifth Ward,	307	7
	Sixth Ward,	169	4
	Seventh Ward,	187	4
	Eighth Ward,	112	3
Linden,		112	3
Union,		51	1
Springfield,		51	1
Cranford,		43	1
New Providence,		43	1
Rahway—	First Ward,	256	6
	Second Ward,	135	3
	Third Ward,	208	4
	Fourth Ward,	151	3
Clark,		41	1
Fairwood,		37	1
Westfield—	First Ward,	174	4
Plainfield—	First Ward,	150	3
"	Second Ward,	96	2
"	Third Ward,	48	1
"	Fourth Ward,	304	7
		3,919

The City of Plainfield will call the prime cities on each of the Democratic Executive Committee. The Committee may determine.

A meeting of the County Democratic Executive Committee for the ensuing year will be elected at the above meeting.

By order of the County Democratic Executive Committee.

CHARLES A. RYAN, Secretary.
Dated, Sept. 27, 1887.

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

The Democratic party occupies at the present time a position of high honor and great public usefulness.

It has at the National Capitol a President and Administration earnestly and honestly engaged in the work of serving the people faithfully, and securing for them, irrespective of class or section, the priceless blessing of good government.

Therein President Cleveland and his Cabinet differ widely and distinctly from many of their predecessors, and the contrast properly evokes popular approval, far-reaching and hearty, on behalf of those now in executive authority, and against which mere partisan opposition fosters no encouragement.

Democratic, with possibly few exceptions, the large and increasing body of Independents, and Republicans by scores of thousands, are enthusiastically for Cleveland.

And why?

Because as President he has been thoroughly tried and found to be one of the very best officials that ever sat in the chair of Washington.

Because he has not, and will not hold political pledges made before election to be afterwards idle words.

Because no combination can drive him from fearlessly and intelligently doing what he conscientiously believes to be legal and right.

Because he stands loyal to patriotism by making self secondary to public duty.

Because he is emphatically an honest man.

Such is the Democratic President of the United States, and the people, North, South, East and West, knowing such to be the proven truth, justly demand that their candidate next year shall be—

For President,
GROVER CLEVELAND.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Tuesday afternoon of last week, the members of the Union County Democratic Executive committee met in Elizabeth and organized for the Fall campaign. The meeting was called to order by Chairman T. B. Dodd. Sixteen members were in attendance.

Considerable business was transacted by the committee. Quite a discussion arose as to the best time to call the county convention for the nomination of senator, sheriff, surrogate, county clerk and coroners. Gen. Fay wanted the convention called one week before election day. The vote stood down almost unanimously.

A sub-committee was appointed with power to issue the call for the convention when they saw fit, the limit, however, being fixed at not later than two weeks before election day. The committee was also instructed to secure Library hall as the place in which to hold the convention.

FOUL REMARKS.

It has commenced already—before the great man to be nominated—Abner Sewell Livingston. Although the source is to be considered, it is well to refute all alleged remarks of our honored Representative which are manufactured to damage him in the eyes of the community by those in the interest of the Republicans of this county to prevent his re-nomination and re-election. Mr. Livingston is a gentleman and a loyal Democrat and a loyal party to utter the words ascribed to him. It is to be expected however, that his political enemies will do all they can to injure him, but—he will get there all the same.

The Monmouth county Democratic nominations made on Tuesday last were—Senator, Thomas S. R. Brown, of Keyport; Sheriff, Theodore Bedell; surrogate, David L. Crater. Dr. Chattle received only the votes of Ocean township for state senator. Mr. Crater is the present surrogate.

Grey squirrels and woodcock may be legally killed during the month of October.

The month of October is just the time of year to catch the big black bass if you know where he lays and what to feed him with.

It is rumored that the Pennsylvania railroad company is about to build a new railroad, to connect at Metuchen and cross the Raritan river near Florida Grove.

It is reported that the machine shops of the Central Railroad Company at Hampton Junction are to be abandoned and the machinery and tools removed to Phillsburg and Elizabethport.

The subject of pensioning the old army nurses is being strongly advocated in various parts of the country and petitions are being circulated for said purpose. Five petitions have been forwarded to the Woman's Relief corps of the city, from the headquarters of the State W. R. C., for the purpose of obtaining signatures. The papers are being circulated and freely signed.

A PLAINFIELD MAN CLAIMS HE WAS DRUGGED.

During Saturday evening of last week, Young Kinsary, one of our city's latest comers, he said by himself and his companions to have been dragged almost to death in a licensed saloon on West Third street. Whether it was an intentional crime, a wretched joke, a piece of criminal carelessness or a checkered freak of the liquor to as deep a mystery yet as the hidden history of Mysterious Mystic. There is just here, however, a chance for some one to step forward and "detect" this latest incendiary act of fire-water.

Young Kinsary, with one of his companions, entered the saloon of Paddy Day, which is located in the house he occupies at 59 West Third street. It was Saturday evening, the week's work was done, they had probably settled their board bills, and after a hearty supper foolishly thought a glass of beer would touch that variable locality, "the right spot." But this time, although it was not. Behind the bar, neatly framed and conspicuously displayed, was the license granted the proprietor by the Common Council of the City of Plainfield to keep a saloon and sell spirits and fermented liquors therein until the first day of next February. Against such license Councilmen Cot, Dunham, Marsh and Taylor protested and voted, but it was granted when the celebrated "all or nothing" deadlock was broken at the meeting of March 14th last. It hung on the wall behind the bar last Saturday evening. Kinsary and his friend faced it as they called for two beers, and I mean a long one in the

CITY DEPARTMENT.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION.

J. A. DEMAREST, - - City Editor.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS.
CLOSE—5:45 a.m. 10:00 a. m., 2:00 and 5:30 p. m.
ARRIVE—7:30, 9:45, 11:45 a. m. 12:30 and 5:30 p. m.
SOUTHERN, EASTERN, &c., MAILS.
CLOSE—9:30 a. m. and 5:30 p. m.
ARRIVE—8:30 a. m. 2:00 and 8:30 p. m.
SUNDAY MAILS—CLOSE at 9:30 a. m. Office open from 8:30 a. m. to 10:00 a. m. Mail closes at 7 p. m.
Mail for Warrenville closes Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 12 m.
Post office open at 7 a. m. and closes at 7:30 p. m. Saturdays, closes at 8:00 p. m. Open every evening until 8:30 p. m. for ownership of mail matter.
Money order office open from 8 a. m., 10:30 p. m. Saturdays to 12 p. m.
W. L. PERCE, Postmaster.

Winfield Scott Post.

At the regular encampment of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R. held Wednesday evening, Sept. 28, 1887, an amendment to the post by-laws was adopted, changing the night of post encampment from Wednesday night to Tuesday night, which reads as follows: "Post meets every second and fourth Tuesday evenings of each month."

Official:
ROBT. WALKER, Adjutant.

The Netherwood Church.

The trustees of the Church of Our Savior at Netherwood, have just had built a fine mourning for organ. Mr. Balow was chosen President and J. J. H. Pollion Secretary and Treasurer. A fattering financial report of the receipts of the past year was presented to the board by Mr. Pollion. The board directed the secretary to communicate with Bishop Scarborough respecting an official visit from him on Sunday, November 13th. The bishop will be present on that date to administer the rite of confirmation.

Suicide.

Herbert E. Kenyon of Dunellen hung himself in a wood near Railway avenue, Elizabeth, during Tuesday afternoon. He was about twenty-three years of age and unhappy because his wife was afraid to live with him. The late wife was the daughter of Mrs. Avis Mosher of this city, and after her death he married a Miss Ayres of Dunellen. The latter was compelled to have her husband arrested for ill treating her. Kenyon has since desisted to live again with his wife and child, and was really despondent over the separation. He was of late employed as a coachmaker at Jersey City, and on his still warm body was found his railroad pass, a Saitch still ticking, a few dollar bill, and a note asking God to forgive him and bless his baby.

A Dwelling House Burned.

About half-past one Wednesday afternoon, smoke was seen issuing from the roof of the two and one half story frame dwelling house on Grandview avenue, North Plainfield, and soon after the flames burst through the weather boarding. The building, 22x30 feet in dimensions, is a new one, but recently built and was owned by Mr. George L. Leland, the latter having moved his family occupied the premises. All the household goods were removed to a place of safety, and many articles were broken during the excitement. The was the second fire in Mr. Leland's son, Edward, who immediately gave the alarm. No. 3 engine was soon on the spot, but found that there was a scarcity of hose by about four lengths, and a messenger was dispatched to the engine houses in this city for extra hose. While the hose was being laid, a bucket brigade was formed and the adjoining house of Mrs. Altman was thoroughly saturated with water and little damaged. To a Press reporter Mr. Leland said that he had only occupied the house since May last. The building was erected at a cost of about $1,800, and was insured for $1,800. After an hour's hard work, the firemen succeeded in saving the foundation walls and a portion of the lower story. Otherwise the building is a complete wreck. Mr. Leland attributes the origin of the fire to a defective flue.

Relief Association's Annual.

The annual meeting of the Plainfield Relief Association, was held in the parlors of the First Baptist church, Monday morning. The President called the meeting to order at ten o'clock. The minutes of the last annual meeting were read and approved. In the absence of the Secretary, Mrs. B. J. Shreve presented the report of the year's work of the Association, and followed by the

TREASURER'S REPORT.

Gross receipts for the year	$3,360 00
Expenditures	2,841 00
Balance on hand	$519 00

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Mrs. George H. Terry.
Vice-President—Mrs. Van Tuyncle.
Secretary—Miss Florence Tuvely.
Board of Managers—Mrs. C. E. Boss, Mrs. Rowland Leonard, Mrs. Edgar Drake, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Jacob Meixel, Mrs. Lawrence Myers, Mrs. W. B. Gardner, Mrs. A. Rose, Mrs. Charles Mosher, Mrs. J. Evarts Tracy, Mrs. M. W. Tyler, Mrs. D. J. Yerkes.

The President announced that it was thought best to omit the anniversary meeting for the present year. Mr. Ames of Philadelphia, a gentleman greatly interested in charities has been invited to deliver a lecture in Plainfield sometime during the Autumn, for which tickets would be sold for the benefit of the Association.

The meeting adjourned about twelve o'clock. Mrs. Rowland Cox acted as Secretary, pro tem.

Personals.

Miss Annie Clayton of Princeton, is visiting Mrs. George Phillips, of Park avenue, and other friends of this city.

Chas. Book and family, who have been spending the Summer in Walarode, Hanover, Germany, will return on the 15th inst., to Plainfield.

Mr. George Warton Edwards and wife and Mrs. A. J. Cox, returned to their home on Central avenue Friday, after summering at Monhegan Island, Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilford Mayer and daughter have closed their handsome residence on Park avenue and are at 141 W. 47th street, New York, for the Winter season.

Councilman John Cuthbert is spending a few days with his family in this city, after an extended business trip in the interest of his firm, the Standard Oil Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Mote, who have been occupying Mrs. White's residence on Crescent avenue for the Summer, have returned to their New York residence, No. 128 East 65th street.

Mr. Arthur Linzer, who left this city for Seville, Fla., and is now Superintendent of the Water Works and Sewage system of that place, is spending a vacation of a few weeks here.

The report in circulation concerning Rev. R. S. Holmes being called to Bloomfield is a mistake, based upon incorrect information, for which the gentleman is not himself at all responsible.

Mrs. Reef Harte, wife of the distinguished novelist, accompanied by her daughter, have returned from the Catskills, and are stopping at the corner of Broadway and Sixth street, this city.

Mr. Orville Stillman, wife and son Edwin, of Westerly, R. I., arrived in Plainfield Saturday evening, and will spend a few weeks with Mrs. Stillman's mother, Mrs. D. C. Green of Eighth street.

Mr. C. A. Armstrong and family, who have been Summering in Mr. L. L. Martin's residence on Washington avenue, during the Summer, have left, to take up their residence in New York city.

Mr. Wm. C. MacClyment entertained a large party of friends at his residence on Washington avenue, North Plainfield, Friday night. The festivities continued until after midnight and were highly enjoyed by all.

Mr. Fitzgerald of the Philadelphia Ledger, a thorough gentleman and sportsman, will hold after the interests of the sporting editors of the press at the shooting tournament of the Middlesex Gun Club this week.

Ex-Councilman Solomon Fisig of this city, arrived in New York Thursday, per steamer Rotterdam, after an absence of four months in Holland and Germany. He appears to have been greatly benefitted by the trip.

M. Peter Wright, the efficient clerk in the Coleman House, at Asbury Park during the Summer, will leave this week for Washington, D. C., where he expects to perform similar duties in one of the large hotels in that city.

Rev. Asa R. Ditts and wife will be given a reception by the congregation of the First Avenue Baptist church, of which the reverend gentleman is the pastor, in the chapel, on Friday evening, between the hours of 8 and 10 p. m.

Mr. Daniel Bonnell, of Lyonsville, Pa., is visiting at the residence of Mr. James H. House, on East Front street. Mr. Bonnell was born in this city, and resided here until the year 1863, when he removed to Pennsylvania, his present location.

Mr. William Thompson, the owner, has made decided improvements about his property on Central avenue, known as the Peter Bales estate. He will also erect an attractive brick barn, on the site where the wooden structure was burned a few months ago.

Judge George P. Swydam returned from his Colorado trip last evening greatly improved in health and spirits, and not only enthusiastic over that section of the country as a giver of new life but as a place of beauty. May his renewed vigor be a joy forever.

Miss Ella Shepard of West Fifth street, who spent the past year in preparation at Alfred University, has successfully passed his entrance and freshman examination at Rutger's College and has been admitted to the sophmore class. He will pursue the engineer course.

Rev. George Stevens of North Branch, who was recently called to the pastorate of the Flanders Reformed church, was married in the Annandale Reformed church on Wednesday, the b de being Miss Mary Cleveling of that place and a sister of Mrs. J. P. Laire of this city.

Mr. and Miss Shepherd of Scotch Plains, who have been on an extended "driving" California with their uncle, Elliot F. Shepherd, and party, are now "driving" the Dominion, and will probably go as far as Quebec. They are expected to return home in about a fortnight.

Mrs. David A. Zeagler and son, Norwood, arrived from Denver, Col., last Thursday, and will spend a few weeks with Mrs. Zeagler's mother, Mrs. J. G. Laing of West Fourth street. On the way East they were delayed a day and night on account of a railroad accident near Lake City, Neb.

Mr. Feegate, the architect, is perfecting the plans for a handsome residence for Mr. George Thatcher, of Thatcher, Primrose and West minister, on the corner of Central avenue and Seventh street, also plans for another handsome structure in the same locality for Miller Bros., proprietors of Laing's Hotel.

Mr. Louis Apgar of Evona, who was admitted to Muhlenberg Hospital about eight weeks ago, suffering from an abscess on his side, was last week discharged as practically cured. Mr. Apgar feels that he is under obligations to Dr. Hedges and the managers of the Hospital for the kind treatment he received while an inmate of the institution.

A number of intimate friends of the late John S. Bishop, members of the Middlesex Gun Club, of which deceased was an honored member, engaged Artist Flower of this city to reproduce from a photograph a life-size oil portrait of their departed friend, which was placed in the Club House building on the grounds during the tournament this week.

The September number of The Rogal Chefflemd, of which our esteemed friend, City Judge Ulrich, is the competent editor, is out. The front page contains an excellent likeness of R. W. Gerner, Esquire, J. G., W., and the whole paper is filled with interesting reading matter, devoted entirely to the interests of the Masonic fraternity. Its typographical appearance is all that could be desired.

Rev. R. S. Holmes gave universal satisfaction to the Berean Class Sunday afternoon, at the Mission Chapel. He solicited twenty or more questions bearing on the Lesson, ten of which were asked; all being ably and satisfactorily answered and explained. He told the class to study up the lesson for next Sunday and come prepared to ask all the questions they chose, and he would answer them to the best of his ability. The hour was most agreeably spent by all present.

Mr. Geo. Thatcher and Ed. Marble, of the famous Thatcher, Primrose and West minister Combination, were in our city last week. George was exercising a new blooded colt recently purchased by him in Maryland, and Ed. was following in a carriage, taking in all the surroundings of our beautiful city—and the sly glances of the pretty girls. Mr. Thatcher has recently purchased property of Mr. J. H. Miller, on the corner of 7th street and Central avenue, and will eventually make Plainfield his residence.

The death announcement at Bryn Mawr, Pa., of the estimable wife of Attorney-General John P. Stockton, which occurred at that place Thursday. The deceased had been an invalid with rheumatism for several years and was seeking relief at the time of her death. A husband, three sons and a daughter survive her. Mrs. Stockton's maiden name was Marks. She was in childhood a resident of New Orleans and an adopted daughter of Mr. J. L. Florence of Philadelphia. At one time being considered a belle in that city.

The St. Joseph, Mo., Daily Herald in a recent issue says: "The Wyatt Park Cable Company let the contract yesterday for constructing the cable road to Mr. F. T. Lorned, the cable builder of Plainfield, N. J. Mr. Lorned is a well known resident of this city, and he to be congratulated upon his success in securing so valuable a contract. The line for the new cable road is about four and a half miles in length, and if the weather is favorable the entire line will be completed and in running order by January 1st, 1888. The contract was awarded at a cost slightly in advance of $800,000.

Mr. Gabriel Bachman, a former resident in this city, died at his home, No. 48 Union street, Newark, Sunday, from a complication of diseases. The deceased was universally esteemed in this city, where he carried on the dry goods business for many years, and until two years ago, when he removed to Newark. He was a Director in the Plainfield Building and Loan Association and one of the officers of the Savings Bank in the Association up to the time of his removal. A wife, daughter and two sons survive him. The funeral took place from the late residence of the deceased Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Ahrendt Seventh street, gave a house-hang party in honor of their friends, Mr. and Miss Dean of Yonkers, N. Y., last Friday evening. All enjoyed a very pleasant evening. Among those present were: Mrs. C. C. Cokefair, Mrs. C. C. Butler, Miss Dean, Miss Lelia Butler, Miss Emma Butler, Miss Louise Butler, Miss Drake, Miss Tuttle, Miss C. Tuttle, Miss Mary Martine, Miss Guion, Mr. Dean, Mr. Stover, Mr. Raymond, Mr. F. A. Cokefair, Mr. Edward Raymond, Dr. D. Godfrey Ahrendt, Mr. E. Hasch, Mr. F. L. C. Martin. Refreshments were served during the evening.

Oliver Dunham, the colored man who was tilled at New Brooklyn on Sunday evening, was married and about 35 years of age. He occupied and worked the farm at Piscataway belonging to ex-Councilman John Ross of this city. He was spoken of as a steady, hard-working and industrious man, and as a feudent of New Brooklyn says, there was not one colored man in ten thousand who could beat him for honesty. Dr. Nelson, of New Brunswick, made an examination and found that the shock had forced the bank bone to penetrate the brain. The remains were taken to the late home of the deceased.

THE CITY SAUNTERER.

Matters and Things as Observant Citizen Hears, Sees and Tells About.

Before letting loose the vagarious communications that our correspondent threatens before, we desire to state for your own reputation—and, safety—that everybody connected with this paper declines the responsibility for and endorsement of anything and everything he may say. We knlw him to be a man who can tell them a matter in wrong and who knows a good thing when he sees it. But he is a widower and he is bilious. In the midst of such a concatenation of circumstances he cannot always be responsible and we do not propose to be responsible for him. Today the "City Saunterer" is in a kindly mood—he speaks of the Ys in a spirit of kindness and justice unexcelled —but no one knows yet of the warm-wood and the pill that may flow from his pen before the month is out. With a blue pencil we shall endeavor to hold him in restraint. With white ink we are nursing the pencil with "City Saunterer" to open his throttle.

MY DEAR PRESS:—Excuse me please, but newspapers published in country towns and suburban towns have a little grit and courage it makes me tired to hear them talk of upholding the interests of the community. Why don't you say something about "the condition of our streets." Its a hackneyed subject, but one in which we are all interested, whether we ride or walk. The inches of mud that cover our fifteen-thousand-dollar macadamized pavements, is a dirty disgrace. I was told the other day that the Street Commissioner claimed the mud was necessary to protect the streets from wear. If the comfort of smooth macadam must not be enjoyed for fear of wearing out the roadbed, a cheaper way to protect it is to leave it in the stone cracker. But some of our citizens go too far in their censure. An old man who has lived in this town all his life—and Sughter know better—said to me the other day—"If you want to ride over macadam pavement you must drive through the streets in the rear of our Councilmen live." Now that's a false proposition. There is no macadam in front of President Mann's house, and Laing of West Fourth street. On the way East they were delayed a day and night on account of a railroad accident near Lake City, Neb.

Mr. Feegate, the architect, is perfecting the plans for a handsome residence for Mr. George Thatcher, of Thatcher, Primrose and West minister, on the corner of Central avenue and Seventh street, also plans for another handsome structure in the same locality for Miller Bros., proprietors of Laing's Hotel.

Mr. Louis Apgar of Evona, who was admitted to Muhlenberg Hospital about eight weeks ago, suffering from an abscess on his side, was last week discharged as practically cured. Mr. Apgar feels that he is under obligations to Dr. Hedges and the managers of the Hospital for the kind treatment he received while an inmate of the institution.

A number of intimate friends of the late John S. Bishop, members of the Middlesex Gun Club, of which deceased was an honored member, engaged Artist Flower of this city to reproduce from a photograph a life-size oil portrait of their departed friend, which was placed in the Club House building on the grounds during the tournament this week.

The September number of The Rogal Chefflemd, of which our esteemed friend, City Judge Ulrich, is the competent editor, is out. The front page contains an excellent likeness of R. W. Gerner, Esquire, J. G., W., and the whole paper is filled with interesting reading matter, devoted entirely to the interests of the Masonic fraternity. Its typographical appearance is all that could be desired.

Rev. R. S. Holmes gave universal satisfaction to the Berean Class Sunday afternoon, at the Mission Chapel. He solicited twenty or more questions bearing on the Lesson, ten of which were asked; all being ably and satisfactorily answered and explained. He told the class to study up the lesson for next Sunday and come prepared to ask all the questions they chose, and he would answer them to the best of his ability. The hour was most agreeably spent by all present.

Mr. Geo. Thatcher and Ed. Marble, of the famous Thatcher, Primrose and West minister Combination, were in our city last week. George was exercising a new blooded colt recently purchased by him in Maryland, and Ed. was following in a carriage, taking in all the surroundings of our beautiful city—and the sly glances of the pretty girls. Mr. Thatcher has recently purchased property of Mr. J. H. Miller, on the corner of 7th street and Central avenue, and will eventually make Plainfield his residence.

The death announcement at Bryn Mawr, Pa., of the estimable wife of Attorney-General John P. Stockton, which occurred at that place Thursday. The deceased had been an invalid with rheumatism for several years and was seeking relief at the time of her death. A husband, three sons and a daughter survive her. Mrs. Stockton's maiden name was Marks. She was in childhood a resident of New Orleans and an adopted daughter of Mr. J. L. Florence of Philadelphia. At one time being considered a belle in that city.

—The St. Joseph, Mo., Daily Herald in a recent issue says: "The Wyatt Park Cable Company let the contract yesterday for constructing the cable road to Mr. F. T. Lorned, the cable builder of Plainfield, N. J. Mr. Lorned is a well known resident of this city, and he to be congratulated upon his success in securing so valuable a contract. The line for the new cable road is about four and a half miles in length, and if the weather is favorable the entire line will be completed and in running order by January 1st, 1888. The contract was awarded at a cost slightly in advance of $800,000.

Mr. Gabriel Bachman, a former resident in this city, died at his home, No. 48 Union street, Newark, Sunday, from a complication of diseases. The deceased was universally esteemed in this city, where he carried on the dry goods business for many years, and until two years ago, when he removed to Newark. He was a Director in the Plainfield Building and Loan Association and one of the officers of the Savings Bank in the Association up to the time of his removal. A wife, daughter and two sons survive him. The funeral took place from the late residence of the deceased Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Ahrendt Seventh street, gave a house-hang party in honor of their friends, Mr. and Miss Dean of Yonkers, N. Y., last Friday evening. All enjoyed a very pleasant evening. Among those present were: Mrs. C. C. Cokefair, Mrs. C. C. Butler, Miss Dean, Miss Lelia Butler, Miss Emma Butler, Miss Louise Butler, Miss Drake, Miss Tuttle, Miss C. Tuttle, Miss Mary Martine, Miss Guion, Mr. Dean, Mr. Stover, Mr. Raymond, Mr. F. A. Cokefair, Mr. Edward Raymond, Dr. D. Godfrey Ahrendt, Mr. E. Hasch, Mr. F. L. C. Martin. Refreshments were served during the evening.

Oliver Dunham, the colored man who was tilled at New Brooklyn on Sunday evening, was married and about 35 years of age. He occupied and worked the farm at Piscataway belonging to ex-Councilman John Ross of this city. He was spoken of as a steady, hard-working and industrious man, and as a feudent of New Brooklyn says, there was not one colored man in ten thousand who could beat him for honesty. Dr. Nelson, of New Brunswick, made an examination and found that the shock had forced the bank bone to penetrate the brain. The remains were taken to the late home of the deceased.

NEW MARKET.

Mrs. Stanley Day has returned from Cassia, where she has been spending the Summer with her daughter.

Mr. W. J. Davis has been appointed by the county Superintendent a Trustee for this school district, to fill the vacancy caused by the removal and resignation of Dr. Edwards.

Mr. C. B. Kelley, who has been known as the section boss on the L. V. railroad, has resigned, and it is understood to be on account of inability to work satisfactorily with the road master who was appointed a few months ago. This road official is disposed to employ the cheapest class of labor that can be found, men inexperienced in railroad work, and one would imagine from a business point of view, the worst possible economy. The highest priced labor is the cheapest labor in the market today, and the change in policy is one that would not have been allowed in Asa Packer's time. We regret losing a good citizen and the L. V. railroad certainly parts with a good servant, who has shown much fidelity to their interests and certainly endowed with marked ability for the position he occupied.

BROAD BRIM.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

A valuable carriage horse belonging to Mr. A. D. Shepard, who is at present absent from home, broke the bridle and escaped from one of the hired men this morning, and running away, collided with a load of hay on the farm of Mr. Shepard's premises. The animal was badly cut about the legs and body.

Considerable excitement has been occasioned by the sudden disappearance of a prominent business man of this place, who has been missing from home for about a week. The missing man employs a large number of men in his business, and they have become discouraged by his prolonged absence, and quit work. The employer, it is said, is considerably involved in certain work, and his sudden disappearance cannot be accounted for. Some fear that he has been foully dealt with.

WESTFIELD.

Our Town Committee met on Monday evening to tax dogs, and fixed the rate at where it is in front of other Councilmen's residences you'll find that they pale for part of the expense out of their own pockets.

That band of earnest workers, the "Ys," have, I hear, rented a house as their Winter headquarters for the carrying out of their plans of reclaiming way ward young men and women, and sowing for the needy. Now that's an association of young ladies any city might be proud of. They have over $200 in the treasury, which beats the record of any charitable organization in Plainfield, of any age. The Young Women's Christian Temperance Union is going to show itself a power for good. One of the members told me the other day that Tux Paxse had encouraged them more in its work than any paper. She said you had not "nauseated them with fulsome gush," (that's what she said), but had always stood up for them in the right spirit—square and true—and did not fall down upon the just and upon the unjust. I guess you would like to know her.

Saturday evening being rehearsal night with many of our choirs—and when the Devil's choir is in full blast, he is first foothold in the choir, you know. I was sauntering past certain open church windows to see what I could hear. Suddenly from the direction of the station, the most unearthly yells ascended from the earth beneath to the skies above. Neighbors began gathering, and while them had lesser heard. They were like the blended discord of a misfit calliope, a film-jammed eat, and a mother-in-law set out on the cold shoulder and the door locked on her for the night. I listened a moment for the fire alarm, and heard the New Brunswick steam gong sound its notes in sympathy and the belief that Plainfield was being totally destroyed. Following the crowd that was now rushing in the direction of the continuing sounds, I came to a stand still as one of those from all parts of the city, who had gathered around the home of the Plainfield Bicycle club. They are in no great hurry as they wish the taxpayers, to thoroughly understand the workings of a borough government so that they may vote intelligently for or against the change.

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING COLUMN.

For Costiveness, Biliousness, Headache and all kindred habits use Dr. Seth Arnold's Billous Pills. 25c.

E. S. Clark, of Ames, Kansas, says: "Dr. Ward's Indian Liver Killer is the best seller he has and it gives universal satisfaction."

When baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she was a Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

We have a speedy and positive cure for Catarrh—Ely's Cream Balm. A Rapid Injector in Ely's Catarrh Remedy. A Hazel Injector with each bottle. Price 50 cents. Sold by Field & Randolph, City Pharmacy.

Have you a cough, cold, pain in the chest, or bronchial? In fact, have you the commencement symptoms of consumption? If so, know that relief is within your reach in the shape of Dr. Winter's Balsam of Wild Cherry, which, in many cases, has snatched the victim from the yawning grave.

DYSPEPSIA AND LIVER COMPLAINT.

Is it not worth the small price of 75 cents to be positively cured of every symptom of these distressing complaints, if you think so call at our store and get a bottle of Dr. Seth Arnold's Billous Pills. Sold by Field & Randolph, City Pharmacy.

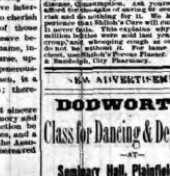
I have been a sufferer from catarrh for the past eight years. Having tried a number of remedies advertised as "sure cures" without obtaining any relief, I had resolved never to try any other patent medicines, when a friend advised me to try Ely's Cream Balm. I am happy to say it has done me more good than all other remedies, and can now testify with pleasure to its wonderful curative powers. It is a most agreeable remedy.—Ira Rogers, Druggist, 64 Genesee avenue, Brooklyn.

IT HAT A COUSH.

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that fell disease, Consumption. Ask yourself if you can afford to neglect a cough, cold, or sore throat, when at the cost of 25 cents you can get a bottle of Piso's Cure which will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a million bottles were sold last year. Sold everywhere. 25 cents. If your child has the croup, use Piso's Cure. Sold by Field & Randolph, City Pharmacy.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

DODWORTH'S
Class for Dancing & Department
—AT—
Seminary Hall, Plainfield, N. J.,
Wednesdays from 3:30 to 5:30 P. M.,
Commencing Oct 26th, 1887.
THEO. J. DODWORTH.
October 7th, 1887.



PAXINE is the best of all remedies for the cure of Dyspepsia and chronic Nervous Debility, and all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys and Blood. It is a powerful tonic and nervine, and will cure any case of Dyspepsia or Nervous Debility that can be cured by any medicine. It is a positive cure for Fever and Ague and Chronic Liver Complaint. It is a powerful blood purifier, and will cure any case of Scrofula, Blood Poisoning, Boils, Carbuncles, Eruptions, Pimples, Sores, Ulcers, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Kidney Complaints, Female Weakness, Irregularities and Suppressions. It is a perfect Spring Medicine, and will drive out all impurities of the blood. It is a perfect Blood

A SEASON SONG.

Our orchards are red, our vines are bending
Low in the sun down their purpling rows;
The golden streak of the noble pippin
Betrays the core.
And the breath of the morn
Is as rich as the wine from the vintage that flows.

The stubble shows of the grain fields gleaned
With a tinge like gold on the fleet days gone;
The wheat-sheaf's in many a farmer's barn,
Mourning low,
Where smith, now silent, and a rarest quiet lies over the grass.

Through wine and orange the wood's leaves shimmer,
Have painted the land like a beauty fair;
Oh, how can we help but feel the old year's ending,
When it blossoms ew
In the season's close
That in soul of an art as cold well dream!

There's a muffled sound as of pots drawing-room
And the ring for swap of a lively fault:
The sweet June hay from the moon is mowed ping,
And the dim rows wait
At the barnyard gate,
While the cherry-boy jogs with the milking pail.

The dusk shrinks shorter, the nights grow chilly,
The wood-pile swells to enormous size;
The sharp hint of the winter fields hills
Goes down the air
To be greed for the mill,
And the farmer waits for a drop prior rise.

Now gay is the land as with rejoicing laughter,
There's a ring in the air that shakes the hills,
Away with the sorrow of the yellow after!
There's no time for sighing
While the year lies dying,
With fruits in the arcades and nuts on the hills.

—Adelle Thomson, in Harper's Weekly.

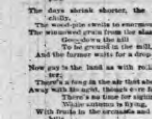
A GREAT GATHERING.

The International Military Encampment to Be Held in Chicago Will Be the Largest Affair of the Kind Ever Held in America—Troops from Abroad and All Over the Union Will Be Present—Some of the Programme.

[Special Chicago Correspondence.]



COMMENCING October 1 and continuing until October 31, 1887, there will be held at Chicago, the first international military encampment of the United States. The Central Driving Park Association and the West Side Driving Park immediately adjoining. This will be the first international gathering of military that has ever been held. The taken place. For years down years past representatives of the various States and in America have met in annual encampment in order to test their military organizations at drill and their skill at rifle shooting.

Among the first to recognize the importance and advantages of a citizen soldiery to our Government was General Alexander J. Dentler, of Dodgeton, Ia., of the First Brigade of Iowa troops. He commanded the camps at Mobile in 1886 and at Washington a few months later. He is now the manager of the International Encampment. Associated with him are General John L. Beveridge, ex-Governor of Illinois; Brevet Major General A. L. Chetlain, W. A. Giles, Philo J. Beveridge and Major C. C. Dail Lee. The object of this international event is to bring into closer relations the master minds of the military powers of foreign Nations with those governing American troops to show that there may be a free interchange of views and, from the experiences of all, such improvements in military tactics be added as will increase the proficiency of American soldiery.

In order to do this the managers have secured the railroads have contributed over $10,000, and Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa received from the hotel proprietors, merchants and others until $42,000 has been secured, which will be offered as prizes as follows: For best battalion of infantry, prize, $2,000; for best company of infantry, prize, $1,000; for best company of Zouaves, drill to be those of the school of the company, prize, $1,000; for best company of cavalry, drill, prize $1,000; for best company of artillery, drill, prize $1,000; in the school of the company, prize, $1,000; for best musical, prize, $1,000; for best drum corps, prize, $1,000; for best battalion of cadets, prize, $1,000; for best drilled cadet corps from any military school not under National control, prize, $1,000; for best drilled soldier in manual of arms, individual prizes amounting to $1,000. Rifle practice, close one, teams ten men each representing regimentes National Guard, State, rifle associations, class two, teams of ten men each, open to any military organization in the world, $1,000. Individual rifle practice, open to the world, soldier or civilian, $1,000.

DOTSON'S SHOTS, DUBUQUE, IA.

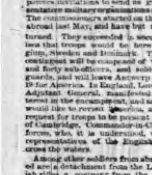
The band prizes are as follows: Bands, first class, twenty-five or more instruments, full set. Hospital corps, prize, $1,000. Bands, second class, fifteen or more instruments, second prize, $500. Bands, third class, field corps, fifteen or more, set of drums, fife. Best trumpet corps, souvenir cabinet at $100. Best drum corps, souvenir cabinet at $100. Prizes for the encampment, to be given by the decision of judges will be: tune, tone, time, attack, precision, evolution, step, unison, license, character of composition, and leadership.

The United States Government, recognizing the importance of this National encampment, has detailed Lieut. Col. Bayard, Secretary of State, to give to the commissioners, Governor Beveridge and Chetlain, executive officer, to enable these gentlemen to extend to foreign powers invitations to send as guests representative military organizations to the encampment. The commissioners started on their mission abroad last May, and have by no means returned. They succeeded in securing promises that troops would be here from Belgium, Sweden and Switzerland. The Belgian contingent will be composed of ten officers and forty non-officers and privates of the guards, and will leave Antwerp September 19 for America. Colonel Lund, Lord Wesley, Adjutant General, Sandelsen, a great deal interest in the encampment, and said that he would like to meet the Queen and present a request for troops to be present to the Duke of Cambridge, Commander-in-Chief of the forces, who, it is understood, will permit representatives of the English troops to cross the waters.

Among other soldiers from abroad expected are a detachment from the Canadian militia, a company from the graduating class of the government military academy at St. Cyr, France, a company with officers from the Netherlands, which will serve as an escort to Lieutenant-General Cronje, the aide-de-camp General of the King, and a company of riflemen from the Argentine Republic. Colonel Cornhusking & A. W. Greer and Major J. Shelton Van Velzalty, of the grenadiers, will accompany the commissioners to the Hague, and Lieutenant-General Baron Van der Grenaen, Colonel Dupont, Lieutenant-Colonel Dusart, of Brussels, will appear with the Belgian troops.

From every part of the United States where there is a military organization will come representatives of that order. Among this number are the Third Infantry Wisconsin National Guard, Colonel Bloodgood, mander; Colonel Mason, Third Infantry Illinois National Guard; Colonel J. G. Ull, Second Infantry Ohio National Guard; Colonel H. S. Mead, Second Infantry Connecticut, with his company of riflemen; four companies First Infantry Missouri National Guard; Colonel Campbell, Fifth Iowa; Governor Drake, Governor Dahlgren, Missouri; Governor Hoyt, Wyoming; Gen. J. L. Beveridge, Ret., of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Montgomery Tuttle Blount, Twenty-Sixth Infantry Brooklyn; San Antonio Rifles, Texas; Louisiana Rifles, New Orleans; National Rifles, of Washington; Knox Lancers, New York; Toledo Cadets; Milwaukee's famous Light Horse Squadron, and Battery A, Milwaukee. Cleveland sends First City Troop; St. Paul, First Troop; St. Louis, First Troop; County A, Indianapolis Light Artillery; Battalion Washington Artillery, New Orleans; and Battery A, Rhode Island, Greenwich, R. I., organized in 1774, under perpetual charter. The famous National



GEN. J. L. BEVERIDGE, Ret., of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Montgomery Tuttle Blount, Twenty-Sixth Infantry Brooklyn; San Antonio Rifles, Texas; Louisiana Rifles, New Orleans; National Rifles, of Washington; Knox Lancers, New York; Toledo Cadets; Milwaukee's famous Light Horse Squadron, and Battery A, Milwaukee. Cleveland sends First City Troop; St. Paul, First Troop; St. Louis, First Troop; County A, Indianapolis Light Artillery; Battalion Washington Artillery, New Orleans; and Battery A, Rhode Island, Greenwich, R. I., organized in 1774, under perpetual charter. The famous National

Jackson Band, of Staunton, Va., will be here, likewise the Marine Band of Washington, and noted bands from California, Texas, North Carolina, Pennsylvania and other

THROUGH THE LAND.

FORTY MILLION dollars is supposed to be the amount of money involved in all the industries of this country together, and the annual products from which is estimated at more hundreds than that.

RECENT says a company with a capital of one million dollars has been formed for the coal mines of Illinois to St. Louis, a distance of eleven miles.

ASHLEY CARMEN, the iron king, is constructing a palace for a barbecued and to be erected by him on the highest point of the Allegheny Mountains. The cost is said started as high as $500,000.

IN NEW YORK there are several young ladies who make a good living by personally conducting rich female visitors to that city to the various dry goodsstores, places of amusements and other points of interest.

THE vicissitudes of life were one day recently illustrated in the case of a man who spent two hours in a New York office waiting to borrow ten dollars from a millionaire friend, who, after keeping him waiting, met by him as a check. Speculation has evidently not been successful in either case.

THERE are 153 female physicians in New York, while more than double that number are to be found in Brooklyn and other suburban cities. Among those in New York are many who are quite accomplished, who have incomes of 10,000; two or three make yearly incomes ranging from $15,000 to $20,000, and one has averaged for the last four years a steady income of $25,000.

THE Indians will be present at the opening of Pueblo Indian Cavalry and one of native Mexicans. These are the finest riders in the tragic, as do the Pueblo Indians, or Lagunas. We are your neighbors of Zuni and Moqui. They have all seen active service against the hostile Apaches and Comanches, and have displayed great courage and bravery, and is said to be wonderful. Colonel Emerson, commanding at Isleta, and Colonel Pino will send a Indian spear corps. These Indians are said to be the best drilled troops in the State. They drill Upton's company and skirmish drill, and all the Knights of Pythias about the Legion have adopted the movements.

Lieutenant-General Sheridan has ordered the headquarters's band and four companies of the Twenty-third Infantry from Fort Whipple, Ariz., to Fort Riley, Kan., Artillery, from Fort Sanders, Minnesota, and one company from Fort Custer, Montana. Lieutenant-Colonel Dandy, commanding at Fort Riley, has ordered the first battalion of the Twenty-third Infantry from Fort Wingate, N. M., to Fort Riley, Kan., and will send a battalion of the Twenty-first Infantry from Fort Lewis, Col., to Fort Riley,

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY,
AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XX. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1887. No. 41.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in the limitations as in the authorities."—MADISON.

Rates of Advertising

Space	1 Week	2	3	4	13 Weeks	26	52
1 in.	$1.00	$1.50	$2.00	$2.50	$3.00	$5.00	$10.00
2 in.	1.50	2.00	2.50	3.00	5.00	8.00	15.00
3 in.	2.00	2.50	3.00	3.50	8.00	12.00	20.00
¼ col.	3.00	4.00	5.00	6.00	12.00	20.00	35.00
½ col.	5.00	7.00	9.00	11.00	20.00	35.00	60.00
1 col.	9.00	12.00	15.00	18.00	35.00	60.00	100.00

All Electro's must be solid metal.
"Little of Everything" column, 5 cts. per line.
Double rate, or per cent. in advance of above rates.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

O. E. JENKINS, M. D.,
Homeopathist,
successor to Dr. Smith, 10 East Front Street, next Peace, Plainfield, N. J. Office hours: 9 to 10 A. M., 2 to 3 P. M. and 7 to 8 P. M. apr-19-87.

JACKSON & CODINGTON,
Counsellors-at-Law,
Commissioners of deeds, Masters-in-Chancery, Notaries Public. Offices over the Post Office. Deeds and Second s. cor. —post

GORDON W. DAY,
General Auctioneer,
Sales of Personal Property solicited. P. O. Box 1 or DUDLEY PL. N. J. or address in care of Constructionalist office. Terms reasonable. —post

DR. CHARLES S. TITUS,
Dentist,
20 West Front street. A new local anesthetic applied for extracting teeth without pain. Gold filling a specialty. —jy12

H. BAND,
Auctioneer,
P. O. Address, Lock Box 61, South Plaine, N. J. Orders may be left at the Constitutionalist office, 20 West Front street, Plainfield, N. J., will receive prompt attention. —jy15

OSCAR A. YEALE,
Architect,
247 Broadway, New York City. Rooms 31 and 32. (Elevator and Tenants' Hall Boarding & Residence, Plainfield, N. J. —post

WM. E. McCLURE,
Attorney-at-Law,
MASTER IN CHANCERY, NOTARY PUBLIC,
Commissioner of Deeds. Office, North avenue opposite depot. —jan17

J. H. CORSTER,
Veterinary Surgeon.
Office in A. M. Sutphen's livery office, corner Main street and Somerset, Plainfield, N. J. Day and night calls promptly attended to. Residence and No. 18, Alexandria place, Plainfield, N. J. Graduate of the Ontario Veterinary College, 12 East Fifth street. —post

ARTHUR F. HIGBIE,
Attorney-at-Law,
(Successor to Hon. Wm. H. Macaulay), Solicitor in Chancery, Notary Public. Will buy and sell Real Estate on commission, and transact a general property. Office over First National Bank. —jan6

F. A. DUNHAM,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor,
No. 1 Park avenue, Cleverly building. Surveying or elevation given to the adjustment of disputed boundaries. Parties sent to all parts of the country. —post

DR. A. P. GRIFFEN,
Electric Baths.
Dr. Griffen treats all Nervous affections. Diarrhœa Consumption, Skin diseases, Asthma, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Piles, Neuralgia, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, Impotency, Sexual Debility, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Stomach and Bowels. Consultation free. Office hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M. Second street, corner Washington. —may14-87

BUSINESS CARDS.

ROBERT JAHN,
TIN AND COPPER-SMITH,
Scotch Plains,
(Fairmount, N. J. Roofing, Spouting and Heater work. Furnaces, Ranges, and all kinds of stoves repaired. Orders left at Constitutionalist office, Plainfield, will receive prompt attention. —jan29-86

TO THE PUBLIC !

We wish to inform our customers and the public generally that we have on hand the best quality of

LEHIGH COAL,

Fresh from the Mines.

It is under cover and well protected from the weather. We are prepared to deliver it in any of Fremont and in good order promptly. We are also prepared to furnish all kinds of seasoned Lumber and Mason's Materials. Orders solicited.

A. D. COOK & BRO.

jan6-87

Park Avenue Bakery!
JOHN WALKER, Prop'r
FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the Celebrated

VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS,

And all Varieties of
Pies, Cake and Confectionery.

Watches,
Clocks
And Jewelry.

Repairing neatly and promptly done. —apr1

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, VEGETABLES, DRIED FRUIT, ETC.
CORNER EMILY AND DUER STREETS
North Plainfield, New Jersey.

Celebrated Pillsbury Flour,
THE BEST IN THE MARKET.

ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED. Thankful for past patronage I solicit a continuance Respectfully, —apr29
WILLIAM H. SHOTWELL.

BOSTON CLOTHING HOUSE

42 W. FRONT ST.

Reliable Goods at Low Prices.

Correct Styles. Right Prices

Geo. A. Moore,
(Of the late firm of Moore Bros.)
is now the sole proprietor of the old established merchant tailoring
NO. 14 NORTH AVENUE,
Where he will continue to supply patrons with the finest grades of Foreign and Domestic Cloths, Coatings in Scotch and all kinds, Cassimeres, Clasps, Goods in Season at the lowest market prices. Anything not specially kept in stock furnished at short notice. —may-87

Edward Ramonetti,
OYSTER AND ICE CREAM SALOON.

OYSTERS BY THE QUART, 100 OR 1000.

CHARLOTTE RUSSE MADE TO ORDER

All Orders Promptly Attended to.
24 NORTH AVENUE,
Opposite New Jersey Telephone Co. —may28

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

Force's Hotel!
NORTH AVENUE,
Near R. R. Depot, Plainfield, New Jersey.
JAMES H. FORCE, Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY HOTEL.
Transient guests taken at reasonable rates.

Bottled Liquors a Specialty.

Laing's Hotel!
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

J. B. MILLER & BRO., - Proprietors.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.

James Conneely
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a first-class

WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 32 PARK AVE.,
Where he will be pleased to furnish his friends and patrons with the choicest brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors. —may13

TURF EXCHANGE HOTEL.
73 Courtlandt street,
(CORNER WASHINGTON), NEW YORK CITY
FRED. W. BALLARD, - - Proprietor,
(formerly of Jersey City), is now conducting the well-known Turf Exchange and Courtlandt streets. New York, formerly kept by the late Benjamin Van Pelt and by Wm. Stoltzenger. All first-class in every respect, conveniently located. —jan6

CURE WINES, LIQUORS AND SEGARS. —jy30

SOMERSET HOTEL,
Cor. Somerset & Emily Sts., North Plainfield, N. J.

Permanent and Transient Board, at fair rates.
First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all (reasonable) hours. —jy23

MISCELLANEOUS.

C. E. JOHNSON,
If late firm of Shepherd, Johnson & Osborn,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
Office, adjoining City Hotel on Second street, near Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey. Residence, 11 East Second street. Building superintended. —may14-87

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent,
SALESROOM—Madison Avenue, one door West of Second street.
Goods received on consignment

MRS. E. J. MARTIN'S
MAGIC RENOVATING FLUID.
For cleaning out grease from all kind of goods, without changing the color. Also, for removing ink stains, &c. Also, for cleaning kid gloves, crape, lace, &c. Also, for cleaning carpets, &c. Price 25 cents per bottle. Sold at the residence of Mrs. E. J. Martin, corner Somerset and Chatham streets, 55 East Front street, and at Mrs. W. L. Force's Fancy Goods Store, No. 8 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. —may21

JOHN JOHNSTON,
DEALER IN
COAL!
YARD AND OFFICE, SOUTH AVENUE,
NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.

The best quality of screened coal at the lowest cash price. Prompt attention to all orders at residence, post-office. —jan21

JAS. M. DUNN,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.
THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS,
BEST IN THE WORLD.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE —may7

MICHAEL UHLDAL,
CONTRACTOR
AND LANDSCAPE GARDENER!
Residence!
NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
P. O. BOX 787, PLAINFIELD.
P. O. Box 8, Netherwood, N. J. —may7

HEADQUARTERS
FOR
Boots, Shoes and Rubbers
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION. OUR STOCK
IS COMPLETE, AND OUR
Prices the Lowest!
Doane & Van Arsdale
[NEXT TO ESSALL'S]
22 WEST FRONT STREET.

SANITARY PLUMBING,
Brick and Portable Furnaces,
GAS FITTING,
TIN ROOFING,
Etc. Etc.

I am prepared to do any of the above branches in a neat and first-class manner and workmanlike manner.
Having associated myself with the Master Plumbers Association of New York City, I can give you best bid for plumbing and gas fitting on the city. I believe in every man living his own business at all times. —may28-87
D. W. LITTELL,
No. 9 NORTH AVE. opposite Plainfield, N. J.

EDUCATIONAL.

MUSIC—VOCAL AND PIANO,
By Miss Anna M. Stabler,
Graduate in the CONSERVATORY method. Residence by permission to Miss Emily Wilmot, also to Mrs. H. S. Potts and Mrs. Wm. Blodgett, and Plainfield Seminary, of Plainfield. Address,
19 PARK PLACE, N. Y. —may28

RODMAN SEMINARY,
25 E. 5th Street. Will Re-Open
SEPT. 15.
For circulars address,
MRS. R. C. DINGEE, Principal,
Plainfield, N. J.

Miss S. G. Kenny's
SCHOOL FOR GIRLS
WILL RE-OPEN
Thursday, Sept. 22d, 1887.
For particulars address,
MISS S. G. KENNY, P. O. Box 500.
aug5

MR. LEAL'S SCHOOL
WILL RE-OPEN
Monday, Sept. 19, 1887.

DODWORTH'S
Class for Dancing & Deportment
—AT—
Seminary Hall, Plainfield, N. J.,
Wednesdays from 3:30 to 5:30 P. M.,
Commencing Oct. 26th, 1887.
THEO. J. DODWORTH.
October 7th, 1887.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST.
Residence—Harmony street, North Plainfield, (corner Arlington street). Self made known. Information in matters as regards present and future events, success in business, journeys, lawsuits, etc. Satisfaction guaranteed. Interviews

in English, German and French.

My husband is a first-class Chemist, and prepare the same herbs, and always on hand.

Plainfield District Telegraph
and Fire Alarm Co.
Prompt Messenger Service Furnished.
Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph Co.
LOW RATES. QUICK SERVICE. MONEY TRANSFERRED BY TELEGRAPH. CO.
MUTATION STAMPS FOR SALE.
OFFICE—4 PARK AVENUE.
W. S. SLITER, Manager.

STEAM HEATING
FOR
CHURCHES, SCHOOLS, and DWELLINGS.
J. N. SCHENCK,
Plainfield, N. J.
P. O. Box 1051.—ap2y1

JAMES K. ARNOLD,
GROCER,
Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts., North Plainfield.

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.,
TO HIRE. CHARGES REASONABLE.
Hugo Weigman,
38 EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
apr8-87

CAREY'S
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE, NO. 45 WEST FRONT STREET.
Nearly opposite Laing's Hotel. Plainfield, N. J.

Having remodeled the above premises I am prepared to store and pack household Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, etc. I will also take Furniture to or from Passenger and Freight Depots. Furniture, etc., stored. P. O. Box 494. —may1

DOOR NUMBERS,
DOOR BELLS,
DOOR PLATES,
AT
DICKINSON & CLAWSON'S,
12 PARK AVENUE.
Sole Agents for

Dr. King's Spectacles.
jy14y1

WERNER'S
—ONE PRICE—
Clothing House!
COME AND SEE US IN OUR
NEW STORE,
NO. 30 W. FRONT STREET.
JUST RECEIVED.
The Newest Styles
OF Seasonable Goods,
—FOR—
MEN, BOYS AND CHILDREN.
AND IN NECKWEAR AND GENT'S FURNISHING GOODS,
which we will gladly show you, even though you do not wish to buy. Goods all from and new, and we are confident we can please you. Call and see us anyhow. Polite salesmen. No trouble to show goods.

WERNER'S
CLOTHING HOUSE,
NO 30 WEST FRONT STREET.

MISCELLANEOUS.

P. P. VanArsdale,
PIANO TUNER.
Instruments put in thorough order. Terms reasonable. Orders left at 19 Park place, or at Dodworth's Music Store, No. 5 Park avenue will receive prompt attention. Residence, 24 East Front street, corner Elm street. —jy1y87

A. TITSWORTH,
Merchant Tailor,
Has removed his place of business to
No. 26 North ave.,
(Store formerly occupied by Jerome Mosher).
ALSO OFFICE OF CITY TREASURER. 8-21

JOHN CHANDLER,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Residence and shop No. 36 East 3d St.
Jobbing promptly attended to. apr9

Alex. Willett,
DEALER IN
BOOTS & SHOES,
No. 6 PARK AVENUE.
A full assortment of fashionable goods direct from manufacturers at LOW FIGURES constantly

G. W. FORCE,
18 West Front street.
OPENING OF FALL AND WINTER STOCK
Boots and Shoes at Low Prices
A FINE GRADE OF GOODS TO SELECT FROM
18 West Front street.

G. W. FORCE.
last10

J. T. ODAM,
PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL
Slate Roofer and Repairer.
Residence, Corner Fourth and Dunn ave Streets, West side Private House, P. O. Box 1005, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
☞ Work Warranted for one year. Slating done Shingles. Also, Felt and Gravel Roofing. —oct15-87

Steam Marble
Granite Works.
AND Monument & Headstones,
Fencing for Cemetery Plots,
Large assortment of Slate Mantels.
A large variety of Granite Monuments

All work executed in the most skilful manner and after reasonable prices. ☞ Orders left at Residence, corner Dr. next to M. E. Ch., Plainfield, N. J. Monuments erected in Greenwood Cemetery

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPPLIES.

Paints, Varnishes, Glass,
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALL PAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.
apr29

Weaver Bros.
House & Sign Painting, Graining,
Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a specialty.
Office and shop in the rear of
(ON EAST FRONT STREET,)
D. WEAVER. P. C. Box 86. P. WEAVER

W. N. ROWE,
PAINTER AND DECORATOR,
Dealer in Paints, Oils, Varnishes, Glass, Brushes, Wall Paper, Window Shades and Fixtures. Sole Agent for Sherwin, Williams & Co.'s celebrated Ready-mixed Paints. Also Agent for Alabastine. Decorations executed. No 15 E. FRONT STREET (P. O. Box 1268—apr29-87

L. B. WOOLSTON. J. F. BOCKLE
Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS,
Wall Papers,
PAINTERS' SUPPLIES. 20 NORTH AVENUE.
apr29

MILLINERY.

Mrs. J. M. Dunn,
FASHIONABLE MILLINER,
LATEST SHAPES OF
BONNETS AND HATS
FRENCH IMPORTED FLOWERS.
Feathers, Velvets, Plushes, Satines, Laces, etc. Also, Fancy Goods and Notions; Dress and Infants Caps a Specialty.
PINKING, BLEACHING & PRESSING.
Feathers Dyed, Cleaned and Curled AT SHORT NOTICE.
14 West Front street.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR,
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made in the premises from the finest Havana.
CIGAR HAVANA CIGARS A SPECIALTY
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Smoking Tobacco.
Somerset Articles in Great Variety
apr29

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
—SEGARS!!—
No. 8 PARK AVE., (first door west of RECORD ST. PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smoker's Materials, of every description.
The proprietor is a practical cigar packer, which is a guarantee that his cigars are well packed.

GEO. D. MORRISON,
NORTH AVENUE.
Has opened a store for the sale of
FLOUR, FEED, HAY,
Oats, Straw, Bran, Etc.,
And hopes by prompt care and fair dealing to merit a share of the public patronage. apr29

SANDERSON'S
XXXX
BEST FLOUR.
FROM MINNESOTA WHEAT. A SPECIALTY. CALL AND SEE MY STOCK. —apr29

LIVERY.

RICHARD H. DAY'S
City Livery Stable!
OPPOSITE DEPOT, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Special attention paid to Boarding Horses by the day, week or month. All kinds of Turnouts day or night at short notice. —apr29

ALBERT HEDDEN,
Livery and Boarding Stables
FOURTH STREET,
Between Somerset and Plainfield. Pleasure or shopping calls promptly attended to. Horses boarded by the day, week or month. Telephone Call No. 334.

Livery Stables!
Mr. D. S. ROBERTS
Has Removed to His New Building on
NORTH AVENUE,
Adjoining Person's Hotel. Mr. Roberts will always be found ready and able to answer demands for all kinds of first-class turnouts, by application to the office of the Constitutionalist, 20 West Front street, or at the livery stables as above.

A. M. SEGUINE,
(Successor to John W. Laing.)
Laing's Hotel Stables

Front street, opposite Madison avenue.
Coaches for Weddings, Funerals and Private Calls. Light carriages of all descriptions for hire.

RIDING OR LIVERY.
Careful, safe drivers for shopping calls or pleasure drives. Special attention given to boarding horses by the day, week or month.
TELEPHONE CALL, NO. 26.

ESTABLISHED 1868.
Westfield Horse Market.

IRVING & CO.,
DEALERS IN
Carriage Teams, Road, Draft, Speed, Saddle and General Business Horses. All horses guaranteed as represented.
Central avenue,
Near Depot, Westfield, N. J.
SHARON STABLE, NEWARK, NEW JERSEY
COR. SHERMAN AVENUE AND ASTON ST.

Best In The World!
Call at my store and get a Second-hand Organ for $10 to $25, or a new one for $30 to $40. Also Pianos for sale. Large stock of Sheet Music. Instruments to let. Tuning and repairing. Address, ALBERT HEDDEN, Plainfield, N. J. Front street.—apr1

MOTHER'S DEAR HANDS.

There's a pair of dear hands that from morning till night,
Unaided, are toiling to make the home bright—
The hands of a mother, unwearied and true,
Those dear, homely hands ever busy are mine.

Long are we taken those hands from our own
To labor for us with a love that's intense,
Long after we rest from the cares of the day
Those hands are still toiling, unwearied always.

They go in the kitchen—how often there
That sweet home-made bread and cakes, puddings and pies!
And only such cooking is known to the few
As mother's dear hands can do daintily do.

They go in the bedroom—confusion is there,
Because we scattered our things every where;
But soon, with a dear smile, they come out with pains
Most comfortable and obnoxious reigns.

They go in the sewing room—how many they try
To insure the mending piled ever so high,
For on each, as they mend, a blessing bestowed
The burden that's placed on one pair of dear hands.

In sickness our mother's dear hands we bar feel,
As low in our ortsickle so anxiously knelt;
How gentle, how tender their touch! Ah, so
Could soothe away pain into those dear hands of mother's.

Yes! mother's dear hands have a plenty to do;
Though constantly striving, they'll never get
Till some day, sans fiddled still on her breast,
In peace and forever those hands will rest.

—N. C. Dodge, in Detroit Free Press.

A CRUEL LESSON.

How Aunt Ellen Was Punished for Neglecting a Promise.

Daisy Gordon was fond of procrastination, and her Aunt Ellen, in order to cure her of the habit if she became confirmed, adopted a bitter lesson with regard to the matter that is told in the following. She said:

"I was eighteen then, Daisy, as happy and careless as you are to-day, as apt to procrastinate or to find pleasure more attractive than duty. I had a friend whom I had there came to Easton a new clergyman—Rev. Mr. Halford—a married man, and my mother's, who naturally visited frequently and upon the most cordial terms at our house.

"He was a young man, twenty-six years, and very handsome. In addition to Christian gentleman, whose heart was in his work. Little by little, by gentle counsel and mild solicitation, he roused me from girlish frivolities to take a more serious interest in the duties and claims that I, the daughter of a man of wealth, position and influence, had to answer for. He found, even to his poor attempts, and to the neighbors on all sides.

"After trying a number well-imposed plans for doing some good in the world, I finally unconsciously fell into the habit of visiting the hospital, and became quite skilled in the preparation of strengthening broths and appetizing delicacies for the sick and suffering.

"I thought, dear, that my heart was in my work, not realizing how much of my interest centered in my desire to win my cousin Ray Halford's smile of approbation, or word of gentle encouragement. Praise he seldom gave, preferring all self-denial as a positive duty.

"One of my favorite contributions to the hospital was a basket of choice fruit, for at that time we had the only hot-house, as well as the only garden, in the village, and I was allowed perfect freedom in selecting such delicacies as I wanted for my favorite patients.

"For I made that mistake from the first, Daisy. I had favorites among the choice of my contributions, while I forgot that all were equally in need of my care and sympathy.

"One of those who did not hold a special place in my favor was Marianne Doyle, who had been injured in the machinery of one of the factories. She lay in a crowded ward, growing slowly but surely worse every day, and I could not help but notice her shockingly, and I, in my heartless love of beauty, avoided the sight of her face as something unbearable, and was in the habit of hurrying past Marianne's cot, though I had set in the habit of going to follow my basket longingly.

"One day, in the early fall, I was carrying the first ripe grapes from my garden-house to the hospital, when I met Ray Halford coming out. He said:

"'I was going this afternoon,' he said, 'to ask you for some of your grapes.'

"He admired my grapes, arranged in a shallow basket upon fresh green leaves, but would not be persuaded to take one.

"'They will refresh so many fevered lips,' he said, 'that I will not rob you of even one; but I will call to-morrow, if nothing prevents, and gather some for myself.'

"I think he knew I was glad to hear this, for we were something over a mile apart at that time, although there had been no coldness or estrangement between us.

"At the hospital my basket was soon emptied, and I lingered by the cots, reading to some, chatting with another, going down wards to be supplied; busy and happy, though full of regret that Ray, who had graver and more painful duties to perform, joined me.

"'I am sorry you came, we all gone,' said he, as he glanced at my empty basket. 'I wanted some of those grapes for those needs will be very few in this life she is fast leaving.'

"'Who is it?' I asked.

"'Marianne Doyle; the most patient of sufferers; whose life has been a constant struggle with pain, and whose heart has been crushed by the greater agony.'

"I was startled, and Ray as he moved toward the bed, evidently expecting me to follow him. The poor girl looked surprised to see me voluntarily coming towards her; but I spoke gently.

"'I am sorry that my grapes are all gone,' I said; 'but I can bring you some. If you would like them, Marianne.'

"Her poor, patient eyes brightened with feverish longing.

"'You are so kind,' she said, 'I should like some so much, so much.'

"I was shall like to have this afternoon, I said, and after a few more words I left her.

"Ray walked home with me, and never had he been so gentle and tender, never had I seen the love of his heart in his eyes so clearly as in his face that day, for his own time. We parted at the door, and I had no time to lay aside my hat before I was summoned to dinner.

"It was an unpreviously warm day, and I had been twice over the half-mile lying between the hospital and my home. No other dinner I took at that time was so welcomed and cool, more ready for a fresh draw on my appetite, or serving than a second long hot walk to the hospital.

"I dressed slowly, debating within myself, as my conscience weighed up on my consciences, though I tried to think of it lightly. I was tired, I argued with myself, and a great deal of work to do the next day; so I spent my afternoon in embroidering a dress, and the hours in reading a book.

"My broken promise troubled me but little, just in the passing, as I could have made amends to Marianne Doyle.

"I took a basket into the garden, and made a beautiful border of leaves and late flowers, filling the center with both purple and white grapes, and a few with yellow pear in the middle. It was very tasteful and tempting, and I was well pleased with my work as it stood upon my bureau, while I dressed for my long, but not over long walk, and as I could hear the carriages at any time, but I liked to fancy my self-denial was as good as a reliable charities if they involved some personal sacrifice and inconvenience.

"I was quite late in the forenoon when I took up my dainty basket and started on my walk. As it was not at my accustomed visiting hour, I had only Marianne Doyle to give to. I walked quickly and very leisurely, thinking far more of my anticipated embroidery than of the sufferer I was going to relieve. In the outskirts of the hospital I met the matron, who asked me my errand, and when I told her, my turn came in the accident ward, and then hurried on to prepare the operating room for the day.

"I went to the long ward with my basket, and at the door I met Ray Halford. There was no smile upon his lips as he saw me, and I felt more than ever as he glanced at my basket.

"'You are too late, Marianne Doyle died half an hour ago. She expected your return, Ellen.'

"I think then that he pitied me, for I grew dizzy and faint with the sudden pain, and would have fallen had he not put his arm

"No! I understand that she was not one of your favorites,' he answered, with a piercing emphasis upon the last word. 'But she was a gentle, sweet girl, purified by suffering, and dying she has gone to a world where no happier would than this, and she has been so tried.'

"She has been detained, but she will be sure to come, because she promised.'

"But my worst punishment lay in Ray's utter withdrawal of all confidence. He was always gentle and kind, but never loving again. He left us before another year, and I felt, when he died some years later. When he knew that his life was fast ebbing away, he sent for me, as the matron promise to give me, and I hurried to his bedside.

"'I left Easton,' he wrote, 'because it was better to me to be near you, and to tell you how I loved you. For, I did love you, my darling, and I love you still, only I know now that it is wrong to set sacred duties after you had broken a positive promise. I was a man, I said, and I have been too harsh, and I ask you to forgive me. I am dying, Ellen, and I know, as many cases of a conscientious minister's wife into careless or thoughtless keeping—'Your dear hands have a plenty to do.'

"And, Ellen, my dear hands have a plenty to do; though constantly striving, they'll never get rest.

"Fill some day, sans fiddled still on her breast, In peace and forever those hands will rest.

—N. C. Dodge, in Detroit Free Press.

A CRUEL LESSON.

How Aunt Ellen Was Punished for Neglecting a Promise.

Daisy Gordon was fond of procrastination, and her Aunt Ellen, in order to cure her of the habit if she became confirmed, adopted a bitter lesson with regard to the matter that is told in the following. She said:

"I was eighteen then, Daisy, as happy and careless as you are to-day, as apt to procrastinate or to find pleasure more attractive than duty. I had a friend whom I had there came to Easton a new clergyman—Rev. Mr. Halford—a married man, and my mother's, who naturally visited frequently and upon the most cordial terms at our house.

"He was a young man, twenty-six years, and very handsome. In addition to Christian gentleman, whose heart was in his work. Little by little, by gentle counsel and mild solicitation, he roused me from girlish frivolities to take a more serious interest in the duties and claims that I, the daughter of a man of wealth, position and influence, had to answer for. He found, even to his poor attempts, and to the neighbors on all sides.

"After trying a number well-imposed plans for doing some good in the world, I finally unconsciously fell into the habit of visiting the hospital, and became quite skilled in the preparation of strengthening broths and appetizing delicacies for the sick and suffering.

"I thought, dear, that my heart was in my work, not realizing how much of my interest centered in my desire to win my cousin Ray Halford's smile of approbation, or word of gentle encouragement. Praise he seldom gave, preferring all self-denial as a positive duty.

"One of my favorite contributions to the hospital was a basket of choice fruit, for at that time we had the only hot-house, as well as the only garden, in the village, and I was allowed perfect freedom in selecting such delicacies as I wanted for my favorite patients.

"For I made that mistake from the first, Daisy. I had favorites among the choice of my contributions, while I forgot that all were equally in need of my care and sympathy.

"One of those who did not hold a special place in my favor was Marianne Doyle, who had been injured in the machinery of one of the factories. She lay in a crowded ward, growing slowly but surely worse every day, and I could not help but notice her shockingly, and I, in my heartless love of beauty, avoided the sight of her face as something unbearable, and was in the habit of hurrying past Marianne's cot, though I had set in the habit of going to follow my basket longingly.

"One day, in the early fall, I was carrying the first ripe grapes from my garden-house to the hospital, when I met Ray Halford coming out. He said:

"'I was going this afternoon,' he said, 'to ask you for some of your grapes.'

"He admired my grapes, arranged in a shallow basket upon fresh green leaves, but would not be persuaded to take one.

"'They will refresh so many fevered lips,' he said, 'that I will not rob you of even one; but I will call to-morrow, if nothing prevents, and gather some for myself.'

"I think he knew I was glad to hear this, for we were something over a mile apart at that time, although there had been no coldness or estrangement between us.

"At the hospital my basket was soon emptied, and I lingered by the cots, reading to some, chatting with another, going down wards to be supplied; busy and happy, though full of regret that Ray, who had graver and more painful duties to perform, joined me.

"'I am sorry you came, we all gone,' said he, as he glanced at my empty basket. 'I wanted some of those grapes for those needs will be very few in this life she is fast leaving.'

"'Who is it?' I asked.

"'Marianne Doyle; the most patient of sufferers; whose life has been a constant struggle with pain, and whose heart has been crushed by the greater agony.'

"I was startled, and Ray as he moved toward the bed, evidently expecting me to follow him. The poor girl looked surprised to see me voluntarily coming towards her; but I spoke gently.

"'I am sorry that my grapes are all gone,' I said; 'but I can bring you some. If you would like them, Marianne.'

"Her poor, patient eyes brightened with feverish longing.

"'You are so kind,' she said, 'I should like some so much, so much.'

"I was shall like to have this afternoon, I said, and after a few more words I left her.

"Ray walked home with me, and never had he been so gentle and tender, never had I seen the love of his heart in his eyes so clearly as in his face that day, for his own time. We parted at the door, and I had no time to lay aside my hat before I was summoned to dinner.

"It was an unpreviously warm day, and I had been twice over the half-mile lying between the hospital and my home. No other dinner I took at that time was so welcomed and cool, more ready for a fresh draw on my appetite, or serving than a second long hot walk to the hospital.

"I dressed slowly, debating within myself, as my conscience weighed up on my consciences, though I tried to think of it lightly. I was tired, I argued with myself, and a great deal of work to do the next day; so I spent my afternoon in embroidering a dress, and the hours in reading a book.

"My broken promise troubled me but little, just in the passing, as I could have made amends to Marianne Doyle.

"I took a basket into the garden, and made a beautiful border of leaves and late flowers, filling the center with both purple and white grapes, and a few with yellow pear in the middle. It was very tasteful and tempting, and I was well pleased with my work as it stood upon my bureau, while I dressed for my long, but not over long walk, and as I could hear the carriages at any time, but I liked to fancy my self-denial was as good as a reliable charities if they involved some personal sacrifice and inconvenience.

"I was quite late in the forenoon when I took up my dainty basket and started on my walk. As it was not at my accustomed visiting hour, I had only Marianne Doyle to give to. I walked quickly and very leisurely, thinking far more of my anticipated embroidery than of the sufferer I was going to relieve. In the outskirts of the hospital I met the matron, who asked me my errand, and when I told her, my turn came in the accident ward, and then hurried on to prepare the operating room for the day.

"I went to the long ward with my basket, and at the door I met Ray Halford. There was no smile upon his lips as he saw me, and I felt more than ever as he glanced at my basket.

"'You are too late, Marianne Doyle died half an hour ago. She expected your return, Ellen.'

"I think then that he pitied me, for I grew dizzy and faint with the sudden pain, and would have fallen had he not put his arm

"No! I understand that she was not one of your favorites,' he answered, with a piercing emphasis upon the last word. 'But she was a gentle, sweet girl, purified by suffering, and dying she has gone to a world where no happier would than this, and she has been so tried.'

"She has been detained, but she will be sure to come, because she promised.'

"But my worst punishment lay in Ray's utter withdrawal of all confidence. He was always gentle and kind, but never loving again. He left us before another year, and I felt, when he died some years later. When he knew that his life was fast ebbing away, he sent for me, as the matron promise to give me, and I hurried to his bedside.

"'I left Easton,' he wrote, 'because it was better to me to be near you, and to tell you how I loved you. For, I did love you, my darling, and I love you still, only I know now that it is wrong to set sacred duties after you had broken a positive promise. I was a man, I said, and I have been too harsh, and I ask you to forgive me. I am dying, Ellen, and I know, as many cases of a conscientious minister's wife into careless or thoughtless keeping—'Your dear hands have a plenty to do.'

"And, Ellen, my dear hands have a plenty to do; though constantly striving, they'll never get rest

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE, } A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors.

COUNTY DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

At a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee of the County of Union, held Tuesday, Sept. 27th, it was resolved to hold the County Convention on

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 20th, 1887,

At Library Hall, Elizabeth, at 7 o'clock p. m., to nominate a candidate for Super Senator, County Clerk, Surrogate, Sheriff and two Coroners. It was also resolved to reconvene on the following evening, Oct. 12th, at the same time for holding primary meetings.

In accordance with the above resolution the Democratic Executive Committee of the County are requested to meet in their respective Wards and Townships on the evening of the 12th instant, to hold delegate meetings to said convention.

The basis of representation will be one delegate for every 25[illegible] and one for every fraction over twenty the Democratic vote cast at the last gubernatorial election.

The number of votes given to each Ward and Township, with the number of Delegates to which each is entitled, is as follows:

	Votes.	Entitled to Delegates.
Elizabeth—First Ward	676	11
" Second Ward	1,016	16
" Third Ward	560	12
" Fourth Ward	1,111	18
" Fifth Ward	1,000	16
" Sixth Ward	1,000	16
" Eighth Ward	367	6
Linden	151	2
Clinton	221	4
Springfield	53	2
Cranford	67	2
New Providence	49	2
Summit	288	5
Railway—First Ward	155	3
" Second Ward	234	4
" Third Ward	139	3
" Fourth Ward	118	2
Clark	41	1
Fanwood	39	1
Westfield	174	3
Plainfield—First Ward	178	3
" Second Ward	91	2
" Third Ward	46	1
" Fourth Ward	304	5
	7,273

The City of Plainfield will call its primaries on such evenings as the City Democratic Executive Committee may designate.

Commencing at 8 o'clock p. m. the Democratic Executive Committee of the respective Wards and Townships will meet at the places particularized.

By order of the County Democratic Executive Committee.

THOS. R. BUDD, Chairman.
CHARLES A. REAR, Secretary.
Dated, Sept. 27, 1887.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES.

Pursuant to the call of the Democratic Executive Committee of the County of Union, the Democratic electors of the city of Plainfield are requested to meet in their respective Wards in said city in the County Democratic Convention, to be held at the City Hall, in said city, on Thursday, October 20th, 1887, at 7 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of designating, nominating and electing delegates as follows, viz:

First Ward—3 Delegates, Democratic Association rooms, Monday, Oct. 17th, 8 p. m.
Second Ward—5 Delegates, Democratic Association rooms, Tuesday, Oct. 18th, 7 to 9 p. m.
Third Ward—1 Delegate, Democratic Association rooms, Monday, Oct. 17th, 8 p. m.
Fourth Ward—3 Delegates, Democratic Association rooms, Monday, Oct. 17th, 8 p. m.

At the same times and places the Democratic electors of the several Wards of said city in the Third Assembly District of said County are requested to be held at the city of Plainfield, aforesaid, and there to proceed to elect the representatives of the several wards as follows:

First Ward	2 Delegates.
Second "	2 "
Third "	1 "
Fourth "	2 "

By order of the Democratic Executive Committee.

JAMES P. MARTINE, Chairman.
LOUIS F. WARWICK, Secretary.

SOMERSET COUNTY.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION.

The Democratic County Convention will meet at the County House, in Somerville, on Monday, the 17th day of October, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Senator, two candidates for Members of Assembly, Surrogate and three Coroners, recommending delegates to the National Convention and transacting such other business as may properly come before it.

Each Township is entitled to five Delegates, and they will be selected by the Democratic Executive Committee of each Township, or a majority thereof, and will be chosen by the Democratic voters of the several Townships at primary meetings to be held on Friday, October 14th, 1887, between the hours of 4 and 8 o'clock in the evening.

Townships.	Place of meeting.	Number Delegates.
Bedminster	Bonner's Hotel, Bedminster	5
Bernards	Republican Headquarters, Basking Ridge	5
Branchburg	Coddington's	5
Bridgewater	No. 1—E. N. Beach's Hotel, Somerville	7
Bridgewater	No. 2—Republican Headquarters, Somerville	7
Franklin	Hummer's Hotel, East Millstone	5
Hillsborough	Alma Hall, Hillsborough	5
Montgomery	Harlingen Hotel	5
North Branch	Republican Headquarters	5
Warren	Mount Bethel Hotel	5

By order of the Executive Committee,
WM. A. SCHOMP, Chairman.

A TRUE DEMOCRAT.

If a man is really a Democrat, he will loyally adhere to party organization, except himself to perpetuate harmony, and accord cheerful support to regularly selected candidates.

It is true, Democrats may at times justly differ among themselves in regard to public measures, and have personal preferences as to candidates for office, but every genuine Democrat will constantly bear in mind that the triumph of principles is far superior to the advancement of any individual.

And furthermore, he will honestly endeavor to correct within, not without the party, any errors that may seemingly exist, and never for a moment encourage, either directly or indirectly, aught that tends to demoralize and defeat.

MEANNESS.

Some politicians in their eager search for material wherewith to manufacture partisan capital, often fire guns that kick back with damaging effect.

Not content with willfully misrepresenting the purposes and doings of political opponents, twisting facts out of shape in order to gain a fancied advantage, they frequently, without stating the truth as if really is, insinuate evil against men in office whom they know would not intentionally do wrong.

To oppose a political party with energy of action and dignity of expression is honorable, to maliciously assail official or personal character for the attainment of a political design is contemptible meanness.

No party ever derived lasting profit from such an investment.

Fourth-Class Mail Matter.

New postal regulations are now in effect relative to the transmission of fourth-class packages, including samples of merchandise. They must not contain any writing or printing upon the face beside the address, except the name and address of the forwarder, preceded by the word "from," and a description of the articles inclosed. Otherwise the package must pay letter rates. Heretofore any printed matter not partaking of the nature of personal correspondence could be attached to the article sent. The new regulation is made under a ruling of the assistant attorney general of the post office department.

Library Directors' Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Public Library was held Wednesday. The session was short and the following Directors were present: President Main and Messrs. Baldwin, Tyler, Talmadge, Dumont, Stillman—6. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved, and the salary bills for the months of August and September were paid. The treasurer reported a balance of $750 to the credit of the special fund. The report of the Librarian for August showed 6,761 volumes in the library; 851 card holders and 1,563 visitors to the building during the month. Following is the September report in full:

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT.

Vols. on Accession book, Aug. 31st, 1887 6,761
No. of Card holders, 902
Cards issued from time and notice, 23
Visitors to building during month, 1,849

CIRCULATION.

Fiction	799
Juvenile	203
Biography	48
Travel, etc	71
Philosophy	4
Religion	17
Sociology	17
Philology	1
Natural Science	30
Useful Arts	16
Fine Arts	26
Literature	16
History	52
Total	1,300

Borough Council Meeting.

The roll call at the North Plainfield Council meet Friday evening showed the following members: Mayor Cooley and Councilmen Milne McCutchen, McGee, Riker and Weaver. Mr. Slater was absent. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Two peddler's and two canteen's license application were presented, referred, and subsequently granted.

Petitions were received from the following: From property owners along Dane street asking for a walk along certain lands on said street belonging to Mr. P. M. French. This with another petition presented by Mr. McCutchen, asking for the repair of certain sidewalks along Washington avenue, were referred to the Street Committee.

Mr. McCutchen presented a petition from Messrs. Martin I. Gosley, Geo. F. Draper, A. W. Haviland and Chas. W. McCutchen, representing the property owners on Washington avenue, Rockview avenue and Madison avenue, and asking that the following portions of said avenues be macadamized to a width of sixteen feet; six inches deep in the centre and sloping to the sides, said petitioner pledging themselves to bear the entire expense of the same at a rate not to exceed 40 cents per lineal foot: Washington avenue from bridge at Greenbrook to Rockview avenue; Rockview avenue from Grove street to Madison avenue and Madison avenue from Rockview avenue to the bridge over Stony Brook. The matter was referred to the Street Committee.

The following claims were sent to the Auditing Committee: Jas. K. Arnold, salary and sundry items, $76.08; Geo. F. Becker, salary, $37.50; T. J. Young, laying board walk, $39.50. Mayor Cooley made a verbal report on the matter of "numbering the houses and stated that Mr. Baker was awaiting instructions; a street map was also necessary for the proper carrying out of the work. A petition for a continuous walk on the easterly side of Washington avenue as far as Rockview avenue, took the usual course. The matter of house numbering was again taken up and discussed at length. Mr. Milne suggesting that on Somerset street the numbering commence at the bridge and with the numbering from the bridge, where it was left off by the authorities in this city, so as not to confuse or interfere with the free delivery system. The Street Committee was requested to report an opinion as to the best method of numbering the houses, etc.

Mr. McCutchen from the Street Committee submitted a list of general rules for governing the various committees. The list be dismissed as an incomplete report, and Mr. Meiser's motion to lay the matter on the table prevailed.

Mr. Riker from the Auditing Committee returned as correct the above bills, and the following additional ones, previously presented: J. W. A. Rauenzahn, $1; Geo. F. Becker, $37.50; Warren Engine Co., $75. With the exception of an itemized bill of Mr. Arnold for $1.80 which was credited to the road fund all were ordered paid by warrant from the borough fund.

Mr. Milne, from the License and Marshal Committee reported that the committee were unable to make satisfactory arrangements with Mr. French for quarters for Council Chamber and borough lockup in his new building, as the owner considered it detrimental to his interests to have the lockup located in the building. The committee had secured no other suitable quarters. The report was accepted. The Street Committee submitted the report for street work during the month. It was in part as follows: During the month the repairs on somerset street from the Hillman bridge to borough line has been completed. On this work about 275 tons second size stone and 815 loads of dirt were required. Total cost of material and labor $803.81. Distance covered by the repairs is about 1,145 feet. On Washington avenue the gutters have been plowed up and cleaned. The same repairs were made on Grove street, Manning avenue and Harmony street. On Green Brook road a washing was required. On Grandview avenue, Grand street the Board of Freeholders furnished pipe for culverts and laid the same which necessitated filling in and grading by the Street Commissioner. Sidewalks have been laid in various streets. It is the purpose of the Committee in the future to prevent immediately after the expiration of the time allowed to lay walks of all property owners who have received notification and have not complied with the ordinance.

Mr. Milne also submitted the financial report, showing a total cost of $498.50 for repairs of the streets during the month. $111.18 have been disbursed leaving a total borough indebtedness of $304.68. The same councilman handed in a bill of Mr. J. H. Wisner for about $115.61, with the recommendation to pay the same. Both of the above reports were received and ordered on file and Mr. Wilson's claim was ordered paid from the road fund. After an hour's discussion followed on the matter of granting the above petition of Messrs. Cooley, Haviland, McCutchen and Gosley, the same Councilmen were of the opinion that the entire work of grading, macadamizing, etc., would not exceed the amount pledged by the petitioners, and others thought it would be better to first ascertain the cost of grading. Mr. McCutchen offered a resolution recommending the granting of the petition and that Mr. F. A. Dunham or some other competent person be engaged to stake out the route for the established grade, the Street Committee to have supervision of the purchase of stone, and to personally superintend the work; the completion of the work and joint Committee reported at the next meeting to the Council. The resolution was, after a long debate, laid on the table until the next meeting, and a motion prevailed that when the Council adjourn it be to meet again in adjourned regular session on Tuesday evening next.

The Chairman of the Street Committee was requested to ascertain from Mr. Dunham the estimated cost of grading and cutting along the proposed route of the improvement, to report to the Council at the next meeting. Mr. Weaver called attention of the Street Commissioner to a heap of ogrips dirt left in front of property owned by Messrs. White and Stelle, after which the meeting adjourned.

An adjourned regular meeting of the Mayor and Council of the borough of North Plainfield was held Friday evening. Mayor Cooley tapped the bell calling the Council to order at 8.30, and the roll call showed the following Councilmen in attendance: Messrs. Milne, McCutchen, McGee, Riker, Slater and Weaver. Mr. McCutchen moved to dispense with the regular order of business and it was so ordered. He spoke about the adjournment being made for the purpose of considering the petition of property owners on Rockview avenue, with reference to macadamizing, and called up the resolution relating thereto.

Councilman Slater then reported from data furnished by Mr. F. A. Dunham, the civil engineer engaged to ascertain the exact amount of grading on the proposed route, and the estimated cost of the same. Following is the route of the proposed improvement asked for in the petition: Rockview avenue from Grove street to Green Brook to Rockview avenue; Rockview avenue from Grove street to Madison avenue, and Madison avenue from Rockview avenue to bridge over Stony Brook. Mr. Slater said that in order to grade the entire route from curb to curb, so as to conform with the established grade it would require the removal and handling of about 1,370 yards of dirt; to complete the work will also require the filling in of about 1,130 feet, this latter to be done by scratching like 1,000 yards of dirt to be taken out and deposited elsewhere. As to cost, he said, allowing at the rate of 11 4-10 cents per load for the removal of the dirt, and this added to 35 cents, the estimated cost per foot of macadamizing would make an aggregate cost of about 47 cents per foot. The entire distance of the proposed macadamizing is 3,000 feet, and the total cost of the work at 47 cents per foot would amount to $1,692. The petitioners pledged themselves to pay 40 cents per lineal foot on an estimated distance of 4,000 feet. At this rate the total cost would amount to $1,600, or $92 less than the actual cost at 47 cents per foot. Mr. McCutchen spoke at length on the subject, and asked in connection whether the Council was willing to assume any share of the expense incurred in the completion of the work. He asked for an informal expression as to whether the Council would entertain a proposition from the petitioners to undertake the work by private contract. General of the Councilmen exchanged views on the matter. Mr. Weaver did not want to incur any obligations which the Council could not meet. Mr. Milne thought it was the duty of the Council to donate toward the improvement; at the same time he thought the Council should be secured against any future obligations which may arise, concerning payment for the work. Mr. Slater also spoke in favor of granting the petition. Mr. McCutchen moved to again table the resolution, and his motion prevailed. At this juncture of the proceedings Mr. McGee asked to be excused.

A long discussion followed on the subject of amending the ordinance relating to house numbering. Mr. Milne said that the Mayor, Mr. Baker and himself had held a conference, and had come to the conclusion that a building located on a corner lot should be numbered on both streets; they were also of the opinion that the numbering on Somerset street should begin at the bridge and proceed in succession to the numbers already designated by the authorities in this city. Mr. Weaver was in favor of "going it alone," and stated the people of Plainfield in order to get the free delivery system, had included the population of North Plainfield. He was in favor of beginning the numbers at the bridge with No. 1.

Mr. McCutchen offered a resolution that the carrying into effect of the ordinance relating to street numbering be referred to the Mayor and members of the Street Committee; the resolution was subsequently amended, so as to begin the numbering on Somerset street in succession to the numbers already established in this city, and carried, Mr. Weaver voting "no."

A petition was presented asking for a cross-walk at the intersection of Somerset street and Grandview avenue; also for a sewer on Grandview, on the westerly side of Somerset street, between Green Brook road and Linden avenue. It was referred to the Com. on Streets.

Mayor Cooley presented a statement of the moneys collected for fines, accompanied by his check for $50—the amount collected. The report was received and filed and the check ordered into the hands of the Clerk, to be deposited to the credit of the borough fund.

Council then adjourned.

LIST OF ADVERTISED LETTERS

REMAINING IN PLAINFIELD POST OFFICE FOR WEEK ENDING OCT. 14, 1887.

Burnett, Miss E
Batty, G
Bonnet, Miss M L
Clough, Grace
Cox, Mrs Frances
Carr, Lillie
Carr, Mrs W L
Calkin Mrs W
Dalton, Mrs
Dupont, Theresa
Davis, Lucy
Hudson, Annie
Hockman, Mrs G
Jefferson, Linda (2
Lotus, Maggie
Lockwood, Charlie
Labelbell, Miss
McDuff, Oliver
McKenly, Edna
Nemerly, Jacob
Meyer, Addie L
Mercelly, Lawrence
McCain, S Jessie
Randolph, Lewis
Randolph, Sara
Rhinehart, Jacob
Smith, E A
Simpkins, Charlotte
Sanders, Rev E D
Stevens, Mrs J E
Vanderbeek, Sarah M
Wright, Phebe C
Wilson, Mrs

Persons calling for above please say advertised.

W. L. FORCE, Postmaster.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

GRAND
Musical Festival!
AT
Bound Brook, N. J.,
COMMENCING
Monday Evening, October 31st,
and continuing Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Nov. 1, 2, 3 and 4.
TWO GRAND CONCERTS
Monday and Friday evenings, Nov. 31 and 4.
Every effort is being made to make this Convention the largest and best ever held in the state.
Church Music will be the Main Feature.
For circulars and full particulars, address HENRY SHEPHERD, Manager, Bound Brook, N. J.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE First National Bank,

At Plainfield, in the State of New Jersey, at the close of business, October 5th, 1887.

RESOURCES.

Loans and Discounts	$695,164 16
Overdrafts	847 87
U. S. Bonds to secure circulation	300,000 00
Other stocks, bonds and securities	50,000 00
Due from approved Reserve Agents	176,56 38
Due from other National Banks	11,000 00
Real Estate, Furniture, and Fixtures	15,000 00
Current Expenses and Taxes Paid	5,000 00
Premiums paid on Bonds	1,000 00
Checks and other Cash Items	1,911 10
Bills of other Banks	2,000 00
Fractional Paper Currency, Nickels and Cents	302 52
Specie	24,413 60
Legal Tender Notes	17,500 00
Redemption Fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent of circulation)	9,000 00
Total	$1,291,210 10

LIABILITIES.

Capital Stock paid in	$250,000 00
Surplus Fund	50,000 00
Undivided profits	20,559 20
National Bank Notes outstanding	270,000 00
Dividends Unpaid	1,697 00
Individual Deposits subject to check	696,953 90
Demand Certificates of Deposit	15,000 51
Due to other National Banks	12,000 51
Due to State Banks and bankers	1,550 19
Total	$1,291,210 10

State of New Jersey, } ss.
County of Union, }

I, Clement Page, Cashier of the above named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

CLEMENT PAGE, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of October, 1887.

E. W. RUNYON,
Notary Public of N. J.

Correct—Attest:
GEORGE F. SUTPHEN,
D. F. RANDOLPH,
WM. MOIR, COFFILL,
Directors.

FORD & STILES,
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
AND
PRACTICAL EMBALMERS.
Office, Warerooms and Residence,
No. 14 EAST FRONT STREET.
Telephone Call No. 44.
GEO. C. FORD. apl9y1 GEO. M. STILES.

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
UNDERTAKERS, EMBALMERS,
60 PARK AVENUE.
Telephone Call 68.
RESIDENCE—60 MADISON AVENUE.
Telephone Call 29.
"Office of Hillside Cemetery."

P. CASEY & SON,
UNDERTAKERS.
Office, No. 11 Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.
Residence, No. 31 Thomas street, New Plainfield, N. J. Everything pertaining to the Undertaking business attended to. Orders left at either store or the house. All Calls Promptly answered Day or Night.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

READ WHAT
WATSON & CO.
HAVE TO SAY ABOUT CLOTHING!

Since our REMOVAL to our NEW BUILDING we have been busy preparing an entire NEW STOCK of THE BEST SHAPED AND FINEST FINISHED GARMENTS ever shown to our customers; and today we have an immense stock, ALL NEW, STYLISH, HANDSOME and VERY LOW in price. Never was such a stock of ELEGANT GARMENTS shown in the city, each a perfect copy of the most expensive custom-made work, and never before were such low prices named for garments of equal style and durability. It requires no expert to judge of the merits of our stock; for even the most inexperienced at a glance will see their IMPROVED DRESS APPEARANCE when they try them on. Think of the FINEST CASSIMERE PANTS cut by special patterns, marked in plain figures, at $5, $5.50 and $6 a Pair. The new Cheviots and Shaded Striped Pants, now so popular in custom trade, selling for $3, $3.50 and $4, or our broken lots of FINE PANTS MARKED DOWN daily to close out quick at $2, 2.50 and $3.00 A PAIR. We are quoting prices that can only be made under LOW EXPENSES. We may not be clearing large profits; but we are selling goods, and lots of them, pleasing our old customers, and making new ones, simply by giving them BETTER GOODS than they ever saw, ALL READY TO PUT ON, and saving them all useless expenses like the cost of shows in windows, circus wagons, signs on fences, gifts, commissions, or discounts to favored customers or their friends. You can surely save from 20 to 25 per cent. on your FALL SUITS by coming direct to us. We are finishing daily full lines in all the New Cuts, complete for $10 and $12. The popular COLD THREAD CHEVIOTS that merchants tailors are using, we get up very handsome, and sell at $12 and $15 for complete suits, and in Dress Suits, we have a complete department, stocked with the very latest garments, where you can select a suit for $15, $18 and $20, for which a merchant tailor would surely charge you twice as much and rarely give you such elegant garments. OUR NEW OVERCOAT SALESROOM, on second floor, is now open; and here you can find Montaignac Beavers, satin-lined, for $25; Elysians, all new shades, at $22; Kerseys, in solid and mixed colors, at $18 and $20; Diagonal Velours, (new this season) at $15 and $16, and All-wool Chesterfield Overcoats, lined with cassimere, in all the long cuts, at $10 and $12; besides a Hundred Stylish and durable designs, in all shades, at $7, $8 and $9. Remember, these garments are all cut single by special patterns drafted from actual measure taken in our custom department, kept on convenient racks, and handed to you fresh from the hands of our tailors, free from all creases, wrinkles, or any of the usually objectionable ready-made look. The materials from which FINE CLOTHING is made were never as low as now, and as labor is only a trifle higher you should buy your clothing from 20 to 30 per cent. below the rates of former years; and this you can do if you save all Intermediate Profits and Useless Expenses and come direct to the makers for it. Before ordering your Winter Clothing you should try on our New Garments. They are Custom Made in every detail. No tailor uses Finer or Newer Fabrics, our Trimmings are the same, the BEST CUSTOM TAILORS WORK for us. Then how can the difference in the garments be told when worn from the most expensive work? Besides you can see just how the goods Look when Made Up and have no trouble in waiting. This is where we are pushing our "fine city trade," a REALLY HANDSOME, CORRECT CUT GARMENT FINISHED WITH ALL CUSTOM EXTRAS, ALL READY TO PUT ON. It's a fact well known to the public, and not disputed in the trade, that our garments are extensively copied, but NEVER REPRODUCED as we set THEM OUT. SEE THEM and none of the ordinary styles will look right to you.

GEORGE WATSON & CO.,
MAKERS OF PERFECT-FITTING CLOTHING,
795 BROAD STREET,
Four Doors Below Market Street, Newark, N. J.

DEATHS.

KNOGHS—At Flemington, N. J., John W. Knoghs, aged 61 years.

SANDOLF—In this city, Oct. 9th, of paralysis, Isaac F. Sandolph, aged 74 years.

SCHLITZ—In Philadelphia, Saturday, Oct. 8th, Mrs. Chas. Schlitz, formerly of this city, aged 56 years.

WARNER—At Holmville, N. Y., Oct. 7th, 1887, Joseph C. Warner, Jr., son of Joseph C. and Martha A. Wagner, aged 3 months and 7 days.

WANTS AND INFORMATION.

Parties who desire information of their friends, or wish to advertise for any article, can have such advertisement inserted in this column for one cent per word. Fifteen cents for each subsequent insertion of ad.

WANTED TO RENT—A HOUSE FOR $10 OR $12 per month; within ten minutes walk of the depot. Address R. S. P., Box 42, Plainfield, N. J. 1165

BOARDING.—NEWLY FURNISHED ROOMS, 2 pleasant rooms, central location, home comforts. The Terrace, also some choice rooms for gents. L. Dumont, 31 W. Second street, between Park and Madison avenues. 1165

BOARDING—PARTIES MAY BE ACCOMMODATED with board and lodging at No. 21 Somerset street, with pleasant rooms on Central avenue near Somerset street. Terms reasonable. Inquire at above address, Box 75. 1165

STORAGE FIRST-CLASS ACCOMMODATIONS for storage of furniture, pianos, etc., at reasonable rates and free from vermin. Separate rooms if desired. Apply to or address, P. O. Box 1, Plainfield. Two teamsters for sale cheap.—3m1287

WANTED—AGENTS IN EVERY TOWN AND village to sell our New Patent Saw Vise. Sells on sight. Every mechanic and farmer will buy one. Sells for $1.50. One agent sold 50 in one day. Another sold 20 in one hour. Another sold 100 in two days. Another sold 200 in one week. Another sold 300 in two days. Another sold 500 in a village of only 300. Try it and you will be convinced. Sent by mail on receipt of price. Address, GARRELL & CO. (Limited), 302 Broadway, N. Y. 1287

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TAXES.

Notice is hereby given to the Tax Payers of the City of Plainfield, that the Taxes assessed in said City for the year 1887, are now due and payable, and that

If the said Taxes be not paid by the 30th Day of December next, the names of the defaulters, with their respective Taxes, will be returned to the City Judge for collection.

The Commissioners of Appeal in cases of Taxation will meet and sit for said City will meet at the Common Council Chamber on Tuesday, the 25th day of October, 1887, and all from 10 o'clock in the forenoon to hear complaints relative to assessments.

By order of the Board of Commissioners of Appeal.
Dated Plainfield, Oct. 26th, 1887. Oct.1616

In the District Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York. In the matter of Howard F. White, bankrupt, in bankruptcy. To the creditors of Howard F. White, of Plainfield, in the county of Union, and district aforesaid, and in the southern district of New York, a bankrupt: Notice is hereby given that on the 3d day of October, A. D. 1887, the said Howard F. White was duly adjudicated bankrupt upon the petition of himself; that the first meeting of his creditors will be held at the office of Edward Bentham, No. 2 Park Row, in the city of New York, in the county of New York, in said district, on the 20th day of October, A. D. 1887, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their debts, appoint an assignee, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting. EDWARD BENTHAM, Clerk. Register in Bankruptcy. Oct.1616

Dime Savings Institution
OF PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Is now receiving deposits payable on demand, with interest at the rate of three (3) per cent. per annum payable semi-annually. All moneys deposited on or before Oct. 5th, will draw interest from Oct. 1st.

JOHN W. MURRAY, President,
WILLIAM WHITE, Vice " NATHAN HARDER, "
ELIAS S. POPE, Treasurer.

DISSOLUTION NOTICE.

WESTFIELD, N. J., March 19, 1887.

J. P. Stelle retires from and has interest in our firm company by mutual consent this day. All debts due and owing to said firm are to be paid to the undersigned, and all claims against said firm are to be presented to them for payment.

IRVING & CO.,
J. P. STELLE,
J. E. IRVING,
JOHN J. STELLE.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

BUT WHEN THE HOUR OF PARTING CAME, SHE FOUND SHE WAS FIGHTING AGAINST HIM—HIS SUIT HAD BEEN SUCCESSFUL.

The young fellow who buys his suit at a country store, must not expect such success at "sparking" as he who "goes in for style," and gets the best the city stores afford.

A four button cutaway will do for "best" or for business, and is the most becoming coat a well-formed man can wear. We make that shape in plain corkscrews and many stylish mixtures, $15.00 to $25.00 includes the most desirable range.

Come and see us when you want a suit of this or any other style.

No difficulty in securing a perfect fit.

ROGERS, PEET & CO.,
CLOTHES, HATS AND SHOES,
Broadway and Prince St. Broadway and 32d St.
NEW YORK.
FASHION CATALOGUE MAILED FREE ON APPLICATION.

SPECIAL NOTICE.
New Store! New Goods! New Firm!
BARKALEW & DUNN,
Fancy and Staple Grocers,
NO. 18 NORTH AVENUE.
We sell for Cash and will give Special Inducements.

A. VANDERBEEK,
(CHAUTAUQUA BUILDING.)
NO. 33 PARK AVENUE, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
HAVING DISPOSED OF THE MUSICAL AND SPORTING Goods Department I am now prepared to devote my entire time to the sale and renting of
—PIANOS AND ORGANS—
Having many years of experience in the Piano Trade I am prepared to furnish first-class Instruments as reasonable as they can be had in New York city. Pianos tuned. Give me a call before purchasing.

John Brown,
(Successor to John Burke.)
Cesspools, Vaults, Etc., Etc.,
CLEANED!
Plainfield, N. J., Orders left at CARNEY BROS., No. 11 Somerset street, or addressed to P. O. Box 744, will receive prompt attention.

PUBLIC SALE OF REAL ESTATE.
CITY OF PLAINFIELD.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a warrant issued by John Ulrich, Esq., City Judge of the City of Plainfield, in the county of Union, to make the unpaid taxes assessed on lands, tenements and hereditaments within the said City of Plainfield, in the year eighteen hundred and eighty-six, I, the undersigned, the collector duly appointed by the Common Council for that purpose, will on Friday the eighteenth day of November next, at the hour of three o'clock in the afternoon, at the office, No. 7 Park avenue, in the City of Plainfield, sell the lands, tenements and hereditaments and real estate hereunder described, at public vendue, for the shortest time for which any person or persons will agree to take the same and pay such taxes, together with the costs thereon, and all costs, fees, charges and expenses.

Block, Lot, Owner's Name, Amount.
Bonnet, William, 16 Lot, W Front-st, $20 10
Brokaw, Mary A., Lot W Front-st adjoining Rooney's (1), 13 88
Bodine, William, 16 Lot, W Front-st, bought of J. Keefe, 1 74
Bowne, Jonathan Jr, 2 to 30 a low land Randolph Road, 5 32
Burke, Mary, H & L, Plainfield-ave, between 2nd and 3d-sts, 7 85
Cook, Clarence, H & L, Dunellen-ave, near Cedarcroft, 26 10
Craig, est Adam, 4 H and 30 a farm, North and Dunellen-ave, 190 62
Craig, est Adam, H&L, Front-st, Dunellen 13 92
Cole, Mildred, 2 H & L, n cor Plainfield and Jefferson-aves, 34 80
Cole, Silas, H & L, east cor South and Leland-aves, 26 10
Cole, Silas, H & L, 30 and 32 west 2nd-st, 26 10
Cole, Silas, H & and 75a n, East Front-st, 171 07
Cooper, H & L, corner Somerset and Front, 26 10
Day, Frank, stable, North-ave, 87 00
Dowling, est J. M., Plainfield-ave, 34 80
Everett, John, L. H. S and 13a8, 140 vast Front-st, 370 40
Gavin, Patrick, H & L, 36 West 3rd-st, 6 00
Gosbach, Joseph, H & L, 24 East 2nd-st, 26 10
Gosbach, Joseph, 1st Park Place, Bought of Coffin, 8 32
Hart, Levi E, Lots 8 and 9, Block 3, North-ave, 3 46
Hyde, Charles, 1st Woodland-ave, where he now lives, 8 70
Ivers, Dr. James, 2 H & L, 16 E Front-st, 52 20
Jourdan, Edward, Hal., south side 5th-st, near Clinton-ave, 26 10
Mayo, Mrs. Elizabeth, 8, No. 1, Madison ave, adjoining Rockridge, 43 50
McNamara, Patrick, H&L, 39 S 2nd-st, 5 22
McNamara, Isaac S., and 6a, Madison-ave, Dunellen and Clinton-aves, 17 40
McConnell, J. C., and Donnelly, Jas. and Thomas, Lot, Block 4, Plainfield-ave and O'Keefe-st, 4th-ave, 26 10
Osgood, Mrs. Ann, H & L, Madison-ave, 26 10
Rogers, Marietta, H & L, Madison-ave, adjoining Isaac S Rogers, 26 10
Rosenbach, Magnus, H & L, 31 east 6th-st, 31 32
Rosenbach, Robert, H & L, north end Park and Washington-aves, 26 10
Rosenbach, Robert, H & L, 31 East 6th-st, 31 32
Titsworth, Lizzie, H & L, 46 Madison-ave, 34 80
Titsworth, Martin, 2 H & L, 2 Madison-ave, 6 and Liberty, 13 92
Van Horn, Mrs. Mary, H & L, 2 E 4th-st, 26 10
Wilson, Martin, 2 H & L, 2 Madison-ave, North-ave, 6 08
Expenses any land thus left on day of September, A. D. 1887.
E. ADELBERT BOWNAM,
Special Policeman and Collector of Delinquent Taxes.
Sept. 9-11 weeks—Fees $22 00.

REGISTRY OF VOTERS.

Notice is hereby given that the several Boards of Registry of the City of Plainfield will meet at the following places, beginning at 7 o'clock, a. m., the registration of the persons entitled to the right of suffrage at the next general election, November 8, 1887, within their respective limits of this city, and remain in session until 9 o'clock in the evening:

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1887,

The Boards of Registry in the several wards will also meet at the same hour and place on

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1887, for the purpose of revising and correcting the original register and adding thereto the names of other legal voters.

PLACES OF REGISTRATION,

as designated by the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, are,

1st Ward, Vail's Real Estate Office, North avenue.

2nd Ward, The Crescent Building, Broadway, and Ward, Sharp's Carriage Factory, West Sixth street.

4th Ward, Laing's Hall, West Front street.

Done in accordance with an Act of the Legislature of New Jersey entitled "An Act to Regulate Elections," approved April 18, 1876, and amendatory thereof.

By order of the Common Council.
OLIVER D. LEONARD, City Clerk.
Plainfield, N. J., Sept. 22, 1887.

Pure Wines and Liquors,

Persons desirous of procuring Pure Liquors for Family use are requested to call, as my goods are of the choicest brands, while the prices are lower than those charged by first-class grocers in the larger cities, and quality superior.

E. P. THORN, 17 PARK AVENUE.

None but the best is offered and the National and European reputation of the different brands of Ales, Wines, Beers, Liquors, etc., is a guarantee, and a liberal public endorsement the result, of this carefully selected mellow stock.

NO EXTRA CHARGE TO DELIVER GOODS.

BEFORE KINGS

The good book says: "See'st thou a man diligent in business, he shall stand before kings." The only reason we can think of why we do not stand before kings is that those remnants of an efete civilization do not exist on this continent. But we like to stand, and we do stand before the people, as the Leading House in our line of business—Clothing. And the people are the kings, this side the water. Year after year, for nearly a quarter of a century, we have occupied this prominent position. This fact speaks volumes. It's worth more than anything we can say about our goods or prices. If we had not served you well, you would not have endorsed us for 25 years at a stretch. As it is, your endorsement and patronage grows with our age. We stand before you this Fall with a stock at which no one can fail to look and be pleased, while each week increases the variety and assortment. New Suits come in daily; the tables are full; customers are plenty; clerks are busy, and there is every indication of a Fall business which will beat all previous records.

McGregor & Co.,
850 and 852 Broad st., Newark, New Jersey.

The Plainfield Electric Light Co.
OFFICE, 35 AND 37 NORTH AVENUE.
Opposite R. R. Station. Mulford's Real Estate Agency.

DOMESTIC LIGHTING BY INCANDESCENCE.

HOUSES CAN BE WIRED WITHOUT DEFACEMENT TO WALLS AND CEILINGS, AND EXISTING GAS FITTING CAN BE USED.

DOMESTIC RATES—PER ANNUM:

1st lamp	$6
2d lamp	5
3d lamp	4
4th lamp	3
5th lamp	2
6th lamp	1
7th lamp	1
And all additional Lamps at	$1 per annum each.

ALEX. P. WRIGHT, Manager.

Bowker's and Stockbridge Fertilizers.

IRON AND STEEL.

J. P. LAIRE & CO.

AH

CITY DEPARTMENT.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION.

J. A. DEMAREST, - - City Editor.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS.

Close—8:30 A.M.; 1:00 and 7:30 P.M.
Arrive—12:30 P.M.; 11:00 A.M.; 2:30 and 5:30 P.M.

ELIZABETH MAILS.

Close—8:30 A.M.; 12:00 M.; 4:00 and 7:30 P.M.
Arrive—8:30 A.M.; 12:00 M.; 4:00 and 7:30 P.M.

Money order office open from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M. Office open for business from 7 A.M. to 8 P.M. Sundays from 9 A.M. to 10 A.M.

Register Warrants will be drawn Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday of each week.

Mail other than by R. R. and closes at 7:30 P.M. Saturdays, closes at 6:30 P.M. Open every evening until 8:30 P.M., for delivery of box holders.

Money order office open from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M. Saturdays to 12 P.M.

W. K. PRICE, Postmaster.

—Sixty-three items of local news in THE PRESS of Monday.

—THE PRESS began the sixth month of its existence on Monday. Its success is apparent to its readers.

—The Rev. R. S. Holmes instructed the Bovard Class Sunday afternoon at the Warren Mission, with his able interpretation of the Sunday school lesson.

—The Y's say their new rooms are going to be a success. They should be, but they need not blame anybody but themselves. It's their own fault.

—Many of the crack shooters who have been in attendance at the Monmouth Park Tournament, during the past week, left for their homes at the close of the day's shooting on Saturday.

—It is understood that certain ladies, prominent in the M. E. church, will demand a retraction of the article published in a local paper last week, which they claim reflects upon them.

—Financially the success of the open air concert by the Plainfield Cornet Band on Monday evening was greater than the previous one. Outside of the actual expenses the band cleared over $40 dollars.

—Last Saturday thirty-seven black bass were captured by "Amateur Billy" and "Iron John" from the waters of the Raritan river. They were all well hooked in the mouth after being with fish. It was the largest catch of the season.

—The trial of Alexander Williams, the colored man who gained notoriety by stealing some clothing, will come up at Somerville on October 25th. Williams was committed by Major Cheesman in default of $500 bail.

—The three Plainfield dealers who assumed themselves at Scotch Plains on Sunday evening, by pulling off packets are all known, and will be dealt with in the speedy manner that no matter if public settled in the courts.

—The Thursday evening of next week the Milburn Band will give a concert for the Plainfield Cornet Band. Our home people should not fail to patronize all march of town, most their visitors on the road, and extend them in to a big time and a big supper.

—Sunday afternoon about five o'clock, a wagon load of young men, apparently under the influence of liquor, were driving recklessly down Front street in the vicinity of Netherwood by driving through the streets singing, yelling and otherwise disgracing the locality in which they were.

—We unintentionally offended the Hook & Ladder Co., Wednesday, in omitting to mention that the work of the members saved the house adjoining the one burned on Grand Street last week. But everybody knows the Truck boys always get there, and do their share of the work.

—The contest for the handsome New Home sewing machine that is to be given at St. Mary's fair Thursday evening, Miss Maria Tooley was the winner, she having received 1080 votes. The other contestants were Miss Kelly who received 920 votes and Miss Murphy who received 680 votes.

—There is a new mine organizing for the Y. M. C. A., this Winter. It seems a thing to be regretted, that they will not good work before Summer. We must not say too much about it, however, just now. We know you later with full particulars, and we will say, that the cost to be had.

—The following notice written in a bold Spencerian hand, was copied from the front of Somerset street's leather grocery store, the other afternoon: "Gone home to something better; gone to attend a wedding. Notice, etc." P. S.—Will return sometime between nine o'clock and Next Year A."

—Edward Mills, a colored man from North Plainfield, who was released from the Somerville Jail on Saturday, after serving out a term for assault and battery and disorderliness, was again gathered in by Borough Marshal Beeler on Saturday night. This morning Mayor Cooley remanded him for five days.

—Plainfield Lodge No. 44, I. O. O. F., of this city, is enjoying an era of prosperity unprecedented in its history, no less than thirty candidates having been initiated during the present year and still they come. Their meetings on Monday nights are well attended and interesting, and visiting brethren are made heartily welcome.

—The regular business meeting of the Y. W. C. A. will be held in their parlors, 35 East Front street, Friday, the 28th inst., at 3 o'clock quarter before four instead of four o'clock. Miss Mary Mather, formerly of this city—at present National Secretary of the Right Kind of Work for the Y. W. C. T. U.—will address the meeting. A full attendance is earnestly requested.

—Pundita Ramabai, a High Caste Hindu lady who is soon to be said for work like a charm that recently been put in operation in one of the public schools at Trenton. It is that all the junior pupils who are perfect for the week shall go out of school forty minutes before the others do. In consequence the lessons are well learned. Probably the same rule could be applied with satisfactory results in the schools of this city.

—The wife of the missing mason and builder, who mysteriously disappeared from Scotch Plains, on Sunday, as reported in these columns, several days ago, has received a letter from her husband, who is at present in Jacksonville, Fla., stating that he does not know how he got there. He sent on directions for his wife to settle up his accounts, but, it is said, he did not ask her to join him.

—The Faelker Christian Work Society of the German church, which has been in operation for the past five months, now has a total membership of 76. The object of the Society is to support the church in its good work, and in view of this fact it has decided to hold a grand fair in the edifice on Craig place, North Plainfield, during the month of November. The proceeds of the fair will be devoted to paying attractive windows in the church and for the purchase of furniture.

—Notices have been posted warning the taxpayers of this city that their taxes for the year 1887, are now due, and payable, and in case the same are not paid by the 30th day of December next, the names of the defaulters, with their respective taxes, will be returned to the City Judge for prosecution. The Commissioners of Appeal in cases of taxation, will sit in the Council Chamber on Tuesday, November 2d next, from 1:00 to five p. m., to hear complaints relating to assessments.

—Where to Buy: What to Wear. Again as another season approaches Messrs. Watson & Co. make their announcement to their many customers among our readers. Everyone of their patrons from experience can with us endorse all this firm claim in their advertisement, and can assure everyone else that their goods will please. The trimming of the finest, their cut of the most stylish and their prices of the closest.

Close of St. Mary's Fair.

The fair in aid of St. Mary's church which has been in progress in St. Mary's Hall for the past ten days closed last evening. The success of the undertaking far exceeded the expectations of those having the matter in charge and the church will receive a rich reward. The total receipts will amount up in the neighborhood of $1,500, but the exact yet ascertained. The various contests were all decided satisfactorily, and throughout the fair everything has been harmonious and pleasant.

P. B. C.

The regular monthly meeting of the Plainfield Bicycle Club, was held last evening but no business of public importance transpired. Notice was given by the Racing Committee, as announced in THE PRESS of last Friday, that the road race to New Brunswick and return would positively come off next Saturday, "rain or shine," "murder no mind." A meeting of the Board of Trustees is called for next Friday evening at the residence of Vice President and Paternity, S. S. Sutton. There will then be appointed the Committees on membership, rooms and audit.

Grand Musical Festival.

A musical convention will be held at Bound Brook, N. J., commencing Monday evening, Oct. 31st, and lasting five days. Dr. H. H. Palmer, of New York, will be the Director, and his name alone should be sufficient to draw the largest and best musical convention ever assembled in this State. Professional soloists of the highest order have also been engaged and every effort has been made by the management to make entertaining as it will be instructive. Church music will be the main feature of the convention. The advertisement appears in another column.

Winfield Scott Post.

At the regular encampment of Winfield Scott Post No. 73, G. A. R., held Tuesday evening, October 11, 1887, the final arrangements on going to Philadelphia, on Saturday, October 15th, 1887, as an invitation from Winfield Scott Post No. 114 of Philadelphia, were completed. The comrades will report at Post Headquarters on Tuesday morning, October 18th at 7:30 o'clock sharp, in full uniform and canes. The commander makes a special request that every comrade of Post 73 be present on this particular occasion without fail.

Official:
ROBERT U. LEES, Adj.

An Attempted Robbery.

A rather unsuccessful attempt was made to rob the Jewelry store of J. Hervey Doane on Park avenue, but the robbers were unsuccessful. A work employed by Mr. Doane had left his tools in the store when he arrived at the store the next morning and found the Front doors sprung outward several inches forming a V. The robbers, who had evidently been used to force open the doors, were left on the woodwork, and the general supposition is that the intruders were disturbed in their work before accomplishing their work. The police were notified and the place has since been carefully guarded.

Personals.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Arthur Baynon are at home in their residence on LaGrande avenue.

Mr. S. C. Roney, a former resident of North Plainfield, but now of Knoxville, Tenn., spent Sunday with friends in this city.

Mr. C. S. Park and family have removed from their home on Union avenue, Bound Brook, and taken up their residence in Plainfield.

Mr. Fred C. Marsh, of the well-known law firm of Messrs. Gilhooley & Marsh of Elizabeth, has been retained as counsel for the defence in the cases of the accused firemen.

We are informed that Dr. W. C. Boone has purchased the property known as the Neal estate at the corner of Front street and Central avenue, and will shortly remove thereto.

Mr. William D. Murray of Central avenue entertained at dinner Friday evening, the Officers and Directors of Young Men's Christian Association and the Chairmen of its standing committees.

Senator and Mrs. Robert L. Livingston entertained the Rev. and Mrs. A. B. Hyde and Miss Lillian Dorman at dinner, Tuesday evening, at their residence at Broadway and Kensington avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolphus B. Paine hild of North Plainfield, returned on Monday from an extended trip across the continent. The trip included San Francisco, the Yosemite Valley and other noted points.

Mrs. C. C. Butler and daughter of San Francisco, Cal., who have been residing in this city for some time past, left for their home on Saturday. Mrs. Butler is a sister-in-law of Mr. W. C. Butler of E. Front street.

Miss Davis of the High School, having been confined to her home on Island bed on account of her mother's serious illness, her place is being acceptably filled by Miss Lucia Wood who is a member of this year's graduating class.

So many have enjoyed so often the social gifts of Miss Alice Holmes, the regret will be general when it is known that because of a severe attack of bronchitis, her physicians have ordered she shall not sing again for some weeks.

At the regular meeting of the Young People's Association of the First Baptist church, Seventh street, on Friday evening Oct. 14th, at 8 o'clock, upon the condition of the women of India."

A new rule has been said to work like a charm that recently been put in operation in one of the public schools at Trenton. It is that all the junior pupils who are perfect for the week shall go out of school forty minutes before the others do. In consequence the lessons are well learned. Probably the same rule could be applied with satisfactory results in the schools of this city.

Mr. C. B. Clawson of New Market, and Miss Addie M. Wilson of Dunellen, daughter of Mr. J. Y. Wilson, a former contractor of this city, will start out on a year's missionary work at Shanghai, China, starting on their journey early in the coming month.

Rev. J. P. Taylor, pastor of the Clinton Avenue Church of the Heavenly Rest, is one of the luminaries of the city's clergymen. On Sunday he conducted three services—morning and evening in his own church, and in the Episcopal church at Dunellen in the afternoon.

The Iron Era of Dover, N. J., in its issue of Saturday says: "Dr. John J. Staats, of the City Hotel, Plainfield, and Dr. J. H. Staats, of the Madison House, Elizabeth, in two days last week caught 80 pounds of pickerel and bass from a pond at Allamuchy."

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Garret celebrated the second anniversary of their wedding, Thursday evening. Their home on Tenth street was filled with a few intimate friends, and Mrs. Garret's mother, Mrs. Thompson was served on one of the most beautifully furnished of tables.

At his home in Flemington, Hunterdon county, N. J., Monday, there passed away Mr. John W. Higgins, the father of Mr. J. B. Higgins, of Crescent place, this city. The deceased was eighty-three years of age, and for many years past been a resident of Flemington.

Mr. Ephraim Miller of Union and Grant avenues, has recently leased the handsome house on Ninth street, opposite 24 Place. He has taken up his residence there with his family, and will still this Winter be thus nearer the circles of best society which Mrs. Miller and her daughters grace.

Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Pierson of Broadway started this week on a ten days drive principally through this State. They will visit Lake Hopatcong, the iron mines about Dover, Passaic's Falls and other points of interest—and under scenery just now specially charming in its richness of Autumnal beauty.

The Rev. Field of New York—a credit to everyone connected with it, from editor to devil—has just entered upon the 11th year of its prosperous existence. As Mr. A. J. Lester of Door street, North, Plainfield, is now in entire charge as business manager, still greater financial success will crown the ensuing volume.

In another column Mr. Thos. J. Dodworth announces the opening of his classes in dancing and deportment at Seminary Hall. After over 25 years connection with his brother, Mr. Dodworth, he has a just claim to the possession of all the knowledge and experience necessary to place him at the head of teachers in this line.

The attendance at Warren Mission chapel Sunday night was large, considering the unfavorable weather. Mr. Wm. H. Sampson was announced as the speaker, but owing to the inclemency of the night, he avoidably absent on account of sickness, and after the usual brief service of song, Mr. Hillman took charge of the services and delivered an interesting address.

The pall-bearers at the funeral of the late Mrs. J. L. Brewster, of Broadway, Saturday morning at ten o'clock, were Messrs. W. Wm. H. Sterling and Messrs. W. VanAlstyne, Ephraim Miller, Samuel Huntington, Francis Wood and Stephen Cahoone. The vocal quartette consisted of Messrs. Elmer Runyon, David Titsworth, Morris VanArsdale and B. T. Barnes.

Mr. Hiram Hornish of No. 23 West Second street, this city, while in the vicinity of Sterling Sunday, found an old Indian tomahawk, perfect in every particular. It is supposed to have belonged to some Indian, who used to inhabit that section many years ago. Mr. Hornish has quite a collection of ancient curiosities, among which is a stone which is an old-fashioned sugar bowl, with the date of 1730 inscribed thereon.

Mrs. Margaret J. Brewster, widow of the late Jacob D. Brewster, died at her home on Broadway, Tuesday at four p. m., in the 78th year of her age. The deceased was stricken down with paralysis some time since, which ultimately resulted in her death. She was the mother of Mr. J. L. Brewster, a former resident of Union avenue, this city, but now of Europe. The funeral service took place from the house on Saturday at ten a. m., interment in Trinity Cemetery, New York.

At the residence of the bride, on West Front street, Thursday evening, Irene B., daughter of Mr. Wm. H. Voorhees, was united in marriage to Mr. Arthur Elmer, formerly of this city, but now of Seville, Fla. Rev. Mr. Schenck performed the ceremony, in the presence of about twenty-five guests. The presents were rich and tasty. After receiving the congratulations of those present, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer left on a short trip, after which they will take up their residence at Seville, Fla., where the groom finds a lucrative position.

Rev. R. S. Holmes gave a most interesting talk Tuesday night at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A., before the Senior Society of the Boys' Branch. His descriptions of the habits of the Hindoos, their manners, especially of the life were so natural that it seemed almost like a living presentation of them. He held the audience in close attention for over an hour, the effect of which will long be appreciated by those who were fortunate enough to be present. The loss experienced by this community in the death of Mrs. Ramabai Rhanade will be felt most keenly by the Y. M. C. A., who have enjoyed so greatly his ministrations.

During Saturday at her late home in Philadelphia, Mrs. Charles Schlita, formerly of this city, died of paralysis of the brain. Her death recalls her husband's marriage just nine months ago, to Henrietta Langenbahn, whose sister was the wife of Schlita's stepson. Mr. Fred Schlita for a long time with Wm. N. Bell and their mutual husband, in North Plainfield. The deceased's death was probably hastened by her husband's faithlessness, which preyed upon her mind and broke her heart. She was forty-four years of age. The funeral took place from the residence of her son, Mr. John Gable of Cottage place, Tuesday afternoon.

Messrs. Clarence Teal and Edward Nelson, representing the Central Railroad Company; Prothobler Vanderteek, representing the County and ex-Mayor Beekley, Randolph Stelle, Martin M. Thom, Halstead Compton and Alburtus Swain, all representative citizens of this city, spent Tuesday evening in the town of Raritan Bay at Perth Amboy. A gondola car was run on the siding at Perth Amboy to carry the day's proceeds to the city, and it is said that the total catch was only twenty weak fish, ten eels, a spike, blue fannel shirt and a cross-tie. Some of the fishermen were late getting to Plainfield yesterday morning, being detained at home sorting out the fine bones.

Mr. William H. Moore, who has just been appointed Business Manager of the Plainfield Electric Light company, is already in charge and deep in the local service of the Westinghouse people here. He finds he can give the public no better light than they are now getting—the best in the country—so no radical change will be apparent at once in any way under the new regime. Mr. Moore does not even know about lighting by incandescence, is not yet discovered. Years ago he was sent by Edison to Japan to secure the services of a certain coon to make the little horse-shoe filament that glows inside the lamp. Mr. Moore got it after going deeper into the country than any but a few had before been permitted.

The Favorite Line to California.

The Great Rock Island (C. R. I. & P. Ry), offers a choice of routes beyond Missouri River, on both single and round trip tickets. First-class exceursions every week. Rates as low as the lowest. Trains composed of elegant day coaches, superb dining cars, magnificent chair cars and Pullman Palace sleeping cars. For full information, address, E. A. Holbrook, G. T. & P. A., Chicago, Ill.

North Plainfield Primary Meeting.

The regular Democratic primary meeting of North Plainfield township, will be held in the basement of the new School House, Friday evening, Oct. 14th, 1887, to elect delegates to represent the township at the County Convention to be held at Westfield, on Monday, Oct. 17th, at which time and place the delegates there assembled will choose the candidates for the offices of Senator, Assemblyman, Surrogate and three Freeholders to be supported at the coming election, Nov. 8th. It is the privilege, as well as the duty, of every true Democrat to attend the caucus and see that sound, wise and able men are elected as delegates; pledged to no man, but to the best interests of the Democratic party in the State, County and Township.

THE CITY SAUNTERER.

DEAR PRESS.—When the 8:15 p. m. train for Philadelphia on the Pennsylvania railroad pulled out of Jersey City last evening, it carried a couple made happy by the bands of wedlock, whose future life is to be spent in this city. The groom, Frank Willis Rougeux, we all know. The army of selfish bachelors that live in this place looses the most genial of its number. The bride was formerly Mrs. Vandalia Rougeux of New York. The ceremony occurred at the Church of the Epiphany, West 55th street, New York, last evening at seven o'clock. But a few invitations were issued. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. William Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Lindsley, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stillman, Mr. W. B. Cook, Mr. P. B. Wright, the groom's many relatives and others from this city. The Rev. R. R. Tyler officiated and Messrs. Curtis and Gilles acted as ushers. After the ceremony a quiet reception was held at the late residence of the bride, West 51st street, and they left for Philadelphia and Washington (this) p. The groom needs certainly be given the credit of being the only one who got the better of Plainfield society. Even when you engage men with not smart enough to find it out. I'll bet he told you himself before you even suspected he'd look at a lady. Upon the return of Mr. Rougeux and his wife next week, they will occupy the home the groom has leased and furnished at 24 East Fifth street. There they will be "at home," I understand, after the 19th.

Tonight is to occur a wedding long looked forward to, various ones there expectancy and curiosity. There has been so much mystery about the ceremony, everybody is on the qui vive. Things are very well run, and although I'm entirely ex rapport with the tout ensemble, why you know that entre nous it wouldn't do to tell. [Now I think that's a very considerate and done justice to the subject and to me]. Certain novel features to be introduced into the ceremony this evening in Grace church have helped to add to the beauty and impressiveness of the service. At seven o'clock, you know, Miss Mattie Rose, eldest daughter of ex-Councilman John Rose, is to marry Mr. C. Arthur Baynon. I believe Dominie Richards ties the nuptual knot, and Miss Utter is to be the organist. Oh, dear! I wish I'd dared tell you, and you dared publish in advance, what I know of certain novelties that are to make the occasion one of the finest this city ever witnessed. But to disguise them beforehand would take the novelty all out of them. Then I'd like to tell you of some of the handsome presents already received.

The wedding of another but a "former" Plainfielder is to take place Wednesday afternoon the 19th inst., at 3:30 o'clock. But it takes place at the bride's residence in New York State. It's a good ways off for Plainfield society—at least 34 miles, inch of the distance he will travel from the lumber regions of Michigan. Mr. Walter Hewitt is the happy man. He grew up in this city and scores of us are proud to be called his friend. His mother, Mrs. Captain Wm. B. Ostrom is envied his possession of so noble a son and mother. He is a self-made man and on the road to wealth. He is a nephew of Mrs. Emma F. Fox of Broadway and marries a niece of Mrs. Fox's. The bride is in connection (at present) of his. The bride is Miss Ada Daughter of Mr. Alanson J. Fox of Painted Post, N. Y. Mrs. Alanson Fox, the bride's stepmother, was a Miss Stebbins, formerly of Broadway, this city. The groom for many years past was the Superintendent of probably one of the largest lumber yards in the World, at Manistique, Mich. The pay roll was $35,000 a month, and the sawed and dressed pine boards in enormous piles stretched along the yards for fifteen miles continuously. In the Spring of this year he was appointed Manager of a portion of a corporation owning and operating yards and mills at St. Ignace, Michigan, which position he still occupies.

Oct. 6.

DEAR PRESS.—Can't you join in and help the expectant sufferers residing at the East end of town in the vicinity of the new chapel that has been erected for the accommodation of the Rev. Mr. Ginna, Esq., for the colored folks. Its neighbors hear that a bell is to be placed on this pretty new Bethel chapel, and they are terribly exercised. Every little property owner in the vicinity now regrets he or she didn't chip in and buy the premises at Fifth and Watchung. The location streets with the little old building formerly located there. In such case their rights—as they call them—could have been protected. Their "rights" in this particular instance seem to be mainly the privilege of sleeping late on Sunday mornings without the disturbance of a church bell. As such a privilege, however, is useless and a discomfort to the sick and an annoyance to the well in its neighborhood. It is a "rite of barbarism," and at the same time a nuisance generally. Three days when a watch goes with every pair of trousers, and a clock is exchanged for a half-dozen tea tinkets, what is the use of a clanging church bell, I should like to know? However, the neighbors of Bethel Mission are in a state of dismay and apprehension. They cannot even find out whether the chapel is to have a bell or not. I myself have interviewed Superintendent Ginna but can tell you nothing definite in the matter. He is one of the most affable men in the whole community. High-hearted, full of Christian spirit and charity. He will do what he thinks is right every time. So I guess the anti-church-bell-ringers will be sati-fied.

THE CITY SAUNTERER.

Baynon—Rose.

The wedding of Miss Mattie Rose and Mr. C. Arthur Baynon occurred in the Grace Church, this city, last evening. There was hardly standing room in the building. The bride was dressed in white satin and tulle veil. She was accompanied to the altar by her sister in pink organ, and met there by the groom with Mr. David Lenox, his best man. The regular choir of Grace church sang the wedding march from Lohengrin. The Rev. Dr. Richards performed the ceremony with a service unusually pleasing. The ushers were Messrs. Roger Williams, L. W. Serrell, Jr., James Hallock and T. B. Aldrick. A supper was served the relatives and friends of the parties present after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Baynon left on the 8.46 train for New York. They will hold a reception during the evening of the 27th inst., at their new home on La Grande avenue.

Notice to the Rev. and Mrs. Ellis.

The reception held in the beautiful chapel of the Park avenue church, last evening, by its pastor the Rev. Mr. Ditts and bride, was largely attended and it went off happy and hearty affair. The chapel's interior of polished oak was subdued yet brightened by the gorgeous Autumn leaves contained in green vines that encircled pillar and wall. Mr. and Mrs. Ditts arrived shortly after eight and stood in the centre of a gorgeous bridal rug beneath a gleeful chandelier that supported a canopy formed of leaves of scarlet, gold and emerald. The large number present filed in slow procession past them—each stopping for a warm grasp of the pastor's hand, or to give a cordial greeting to the bride. Refreshments followed, and about ten o'clock the guests left the evening. The presence of the others of the city's clergy, was noticeable. During the evening Rev. Mr. Ditts was presented with a beautiful purse of gold, and his salary was increased to the extent of $200.

We have not seen a new reporter in town for a month, but there is promise of a large bush-whoot crop this Fall.

A Serious Case.

The case of young Kinsary is a particularly serious one if his accused is guilty. He claims he was dragged in a city saloon and sued for $1,000 damages. But besides this he is only 19 years of age, and that may mean a prosecution under the city ordinance for selling liquor to minors. As it will not be the first offence of Kinsary in this direction, and since this last could mean the imposition of a penalty of imprisonment, this feature is more serious than appears on the civil suit for damages. Mr. Day's statement will be published to-morrow, signed by him.

Who Will be Boss of the Road?

That perpetually postponed road race for the championship of the Plainfield Bicycle Club is now set down for Saturday of next week, rainer-shine. The racing committee realizes if it is not ridden then the interest will be dead this season. Those who will contest are Messrs. Marion Ackerman, P. Hoyaigear and Frank Martin. When the race was to be contested two weeks ago, Mr. George Morrison was unable to compete and withdrew his name but it is hoped that he will take part on the 15th. The more of such riders the merrier will be the race.

Struck With Paralysis at Two Years of Age.

The two-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sichle is to be treated by the most skillful physicians in the country at the New York hospital to which the unfortunate little one will be removed. The case is a strange one. The child, not two years of age, has received a stroke of paralysis that entirely destroys all use or action of the body from the waist down. Everything possible has been done since, but the patient is still in the same condition. It is hoped that at the age, and with the skill of those whose treatment will be sought, the child's good condition will be renewed.

220 Miles in 290 Minutes.

Word was received Friday, as given below, from express messenger C. E. Brawner of Manassas, Va., who liberated the birds of the Plainfield Homing Club upon the occasion of the championship race to hold the result of in Monday's issue. It will be seen that the birds made the extraordinary record of 220 miles at the rate of almost a mile a minute continuously during their long journey. Even without considering that they were "this year's birds"—only 5 and 11 months old—the feat seems almost incredible.

MANASSAS, VA., OCT. 6, '87.

PLAINFIELD HOMING CLUB:

Birds liberated eleven o'clock a. m. Telegraph office closed then, so could not send message. Time en route 5 hrs. 50 min.

C. E. BRAWNER.

It really seems that Plainfield's birds have been the record of the United States. The best we can find is that made by Mr. Wagner's birds, of Boston, which are the present champions with a record of 237 miles in 413 minutes.

A Great Day for Trinity Reformed Church.

The pastor, Rev. Cornelius Schenck, knows how to arouse the people to their due and must be paid some six weeks hence, Sunday morning unexpectedly preached a sermon from the text, "How long halt ye between two opinions?" the conclusion of which he made a statement that the ladies of the Christian Work Society in the church had undertaken to pay the church, had set about the work in June last to raise what they could for the above object, and had accomplished a noble work by raising some $2,075, in pledges and cash. The pastor then made an earnest appeal to the congregation present who had not already contributed, for the amount necessary to secure the balance, when something over $900 was pledged. At the evening services, the pledges were again circulated, when something over $100 was pledged, making the total amount contributed during the day, $1,025; the entire amount now raised being $3,100. Quite a number of this society has sustained in the death of Mrs. Frank Wells, who was also a most interested helper that her services deserve public recognition. It is fitting, at such a time, when a retrospective glance reveals what firm friends of the organization were such men as Mr. Joseph M. Myers and Mr. Charles Tweedy, that we acknowledge our indebtedness to them for their deep interest. Mrs. Joseph M. Myers, who has been a most efficient Treasurer of this society ever since its organization, has also filled Mag. 1119. Her resignation was accepted with profound regret and Mrs. V. A. Hodge was appointed in her stead. At the eighth annual meeting, Oct. 5, 1887, Mrs. Myers read, from Montclair, delivered an able and interesting address, and at the annual Thanksgiving dinners to be distributed among the poor of the congregation, Mrs. Myers and many homes were gladdened by the good cheer that fell to their lot. Officers of this society are due and gratefully tendered to Mrs. Myers, Mrs. Hodge and Mrs. Wells, and appeals to all Christian women who desired instructions in sewing, have met each Friday afternoon during the Winter, at the house of one of the members. The system of giving marks for completed garments, with which now and then some joyful words are spoken and where a light tea is served for their pleasure, at the close, is like a rift of sunshine to poor women, in whose lives more than their share of rain has fallen. In reviewing the work done by this society, it is clear that

INDIAN CUSTOMS.

The Marriage Rites of the Muskokees and Choctaws.

Romance in the Camps of the Red Men—How the Young Warriors of Two Noted Tribes Woo Their Brides—Religious Ceremonies.

J. F. Cooper, in his "Leather Stocking" tales, and Longfellow, in "Hiawatha," have made all the literary world acquainted with the traditions, customs and manners of life among our Northern Indians, writes Mr. H. Paxon in the Kansas City Times. But to these books a new field, so long will live the beautiful, familiar imagery of these tribes, but the Indians whose homes were further south, who were subdued later, have been neglected. Little has been written of the tribes who for so long wandered through our Southern States, powerful when conquered and asking only to be allowed the free range of their hunting grounds.

Most of these tribes of the South are now gathered into the territorial land given them. They have a government, a semi-civilized state of society in this section, three of them have reached the romance and sentiment usually connected with thoughts of the noble Indian, possessing but little attraction to the casual observer. Yet to study the daily life of the people is to be reached, when the outer form of stolidity is probed, and the real heart of the people revealed, a study to attract the romancer.

The Indians are very fond of recalling many of the exploits of their ancestors, and when they gather around the camp fires at night, pipes are lighted and many tales are told of the strength and prowess of their race. Some of the stories of Indian face made women of their braves. There the young Indians are carefully instructed in the laws by which the tribe the formerly governed.

Among the most interesting of these former customs, now almost extinct, was the marriage ceremony, which differed widely in the different tribes. Among the Muskokee or Creek Indians the ceremony was quite amusing. The loving youth desirous of taking into his wigwam some captivating, blue eyed maiden first went to the father of the girl and bargained for her. He could give a sufficient number of ponies the contract was concluded. But the wooing of the girl was to come. As human nature is much the same, be the skin white or red, it is supposed that the girl is not totally ignorant of her lover's preference. But, true to her feminine nature, she would not betray his knowledge. In a few days the lover comes, riding his fleetest pony and leading another. There he ties in a clump of trees some distance from the home of his lady love. Then the next piece of action showing the natural love of the Indian for stealthy action. The family is expecting him, and the best the wigwam affords for him; yet he approaches the hut as though his life depended upon concealment. So for ever invaded an enemy's camp with more caution. Springing from one tree to another, going behind bushes, crawling across open spaces, he approaches nearer and nearer. When at last their concealment is impossible he rises erect and walks to the hut or tent. He is invited to enter and eat supper. He no sooner accepts the invitation than the girl, who has watched him in supposed ignorance of his mission, takes a gourd and goes to the spring for water. She is soon followed by the lover, who picks her up in his arms and carries her to the ponies previously tied. Of fiery go to his home and people, and the brave has married a wife.

The Chatah or Choctaw tribe has a more public ceremony. After the preliminaries have been arranged with the parents, the friends of the families are called together in some pleasant grove near by, and a certain distance is marked off on the smooth, level ground.

The girl is given a start of a few yards, and at the signal begins to run to the end of the course, the lover in close pursuit. If he overtakes her, he must carry her back to the starting point, notwithstanding her struggles, and she is then his lawful property, being captured in the chase.

It may be presumed that when the young lover has found favor in the sight, the girl would not run very fast; but if he chanced to be old and ugly the girl sometimes showed great fleetness of foot.

The religious ceremonies of the tribes are many and interesting. All worship a supreme being, and have much the same ideas of Heaven as the happy hunting ground, and all of hell as a place of torment. The great religious service of the year is known as the "busk fa season," or green corn dance. Not an Indian eats a grain of corn until after the celebration. The man prepare for this by a system of purification, eating of bitter herbs and taking of emetics. Then some mysterious mixture them very sick, but is always rigidly adhered to as a certain appetite the day all the tribe gather together in one place and a sacrifice of Thanksgiving is offered to the Great Father in this burning of a fish, the heart of a deer and an ear of corn. Then the dance begins. There are separate dances for the men and the women, and another dance in participated in by all. In this last dance the inner circle is for the women, the next for the men and the outer one for children. These lines are strictly watched, and any unwary stranger who in his ignorance of customs his line is immediately besieged until he pays one dollar, or an equivalent. The dance is kept up during the entire day, and at night, tired and happy, all returns to their homes.

FOOLED A FOX.

A Package of Confectionery Destroyed in a Fox's Track.

According to a Boston correspondent a young man named Theodore Cabot recently set up a furniture out of an old four-through full of rubbish at Frank Fisher's old barn the other day. The rubbish used to belong to George Fisher, the well-known horse-trader, who died a short time ago, and covered several hundred thousand dollars' worth of property. G. Young Colburn was cleaning away a lot of rubbish, when he came to an old trunk formerly used for mixing food. It was under a window, and was filled with all kinds of rubbish. He went to work at one end of the trough, removing the various articles that it contained and placing them upon the floor. Finally he came to a box, which contained two or three bundles, besides other useless things.

One of the bundles was done up in paper and carefully tied with a string. Curiosity led the young man to examine the contents of the bundle. Hastily breaking the string, he undid the bundle, and was almost dumb-founded to have disclosed to his view a large pile of greenbacks. The pile, he says, made the largest pile of money he ever saw. He carefully retied up the money again, and announced the discovery made to Mr. Fisher and some of his neighbors. He will not disclose the amount of his find, but he says it was "a big pile." He was asked if there were several thousand dollars in the bundle.

"Yes, there was," he replied.

All manner of speculation are indulged in as to how the money could be put in storage a hiding place. The most generally accepted theory is as follows: George Fisher, who died so sudden, carried all his affairs in his head. His death was caused by apoplexy. He went to bed in his usual health, and in the morning he was found dead. It is thought that that night he had a large amount of money about him, and, being afraid of burglars, as he had been troubled by them before, he placed the money in the trunk. In the excitement attending his death the money was forgotten.

MILLINERY FASHIONS.

Parisian Women Who Study a Bonnet as If It Were a Poem.

A writer in the Paris Temps gives an interesting account of how fashions are made. Heaving aside the "Chappy Longy" sea to be the last of the season, first whistler, he called on a Paris modiste whose name is almost as well known as that of M. Pasteur. Said he: "I have journed something of the history of fashionable hats. As a typical instance, the mild linen reminds the history of the Derby. Having known when the 'top rage' was at its height, before the appearance on the race of 'Coutance Sarah.' Mme. Jane Hading came to the milliner in question, ordering a hat to be worn on the course. 'Tell me the line of the race,' said Mme. B., the milliner. From the account the journal that she would have to make a hat for a windy, changeable day, and very eccentric woman. Evidently, indeed, should be the headgear. Mme. Jane then shown in the hat of 'Constance Sarah.' Besides this, Mme. Hading's individual hat had to be considered. That charging women know that one of the principal objects of their toilet is to display their face, soft, sunny hair, which seemed at years on the point of escaping the comb which held it up and rolled down on her shoulders. Mme. Hading wished that her hair should be visible from the front as well as at the back of the head. Having made this plans, she sat down before a great looking-glass and Mme. B. put the shape of a hat on the famous hair and sketched it during two stages till it had the required shape. It was then sent to the shape-maker and an assistant came every week to the house. At each took notice of the color of the dresses to be worn by Mme. Hading on the days she was to take a 'promenade' for the hat, and the exact tone of the purple Hading at the head every dress of her wardrobe.

PLAINFIELD, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 21st.

P. T. BARNUM'S

GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH!

Combined with the Great London 3 Ring Circus

—AND—

Monster Roman Hippodrome,

Making Ten United Monster shows.

Another Show Added this Season.

Capital, $4,000,000. Daily Expenses, $7,000.

Largest and Richest Amusement Enterprise on the face of the Globe.

KING THEEBAWS REMARKABLE HAIRY FAMILY,

The most Marvelous Human Beings known to Exist. Revered and Honored as Sacred Mascots, or Luck-Bringers, to the Burmese Empire. Secured at an Expense of $100,000 in Gold. First time in a Christian Country.

Triple Circus Company in Three Big Rings. Huge Elevated Stage for Olympian Games. Two Immense Double Menageries of Wild and Trained Beasts. Mammoth Museum of Living Human Wonders. Grand Roman Hippodrome, with Glorious Races.

JUMBO—As Large as Life and quite as Natural.

And his big Polished Ivory Boned Articulated SKELETON

ALICE—The Affectionate and Distressed Companion to Jumbo.

CAPTAIN PAUL BOYTON,

The Aquatic Marvel. Performing a Series of Wonderful Feats in a Specially Constructed Lake of Crystal Water.

THE FLYING GYMNASIUM,

Breath-Taking Acts in the Flying Trapeze, while Traveling at the Rate of Thirty Miles an Hour.

Myriads of Intensely Interesting and Startling Features, collected at an Enormous Expense.

Trained Horses, Dogs, Pigs, Ponies, Lions, Tigers, Panthers, Bears, Hyenas, Leopards, Camels, Elephants, Monkeys, Birds and even Reptiles.

100 Startling Acts and Furious Races on the Hippodrome Track. 100 Phenomenal and Daring Artists performing in 3 Rings. 100 Foreign Specialists Executing Perilous Feats on the Elevated Stage. 11 Acts going on at the same time 1,000 New Features and Wonderful Attractions.

Tremendous Free Street Parade,

Containing over a Mile of Rich Objects and Rare Features, will leave the Grounds at 9 o'clock, P. M.

Admission to Everything, 50c. Children under Nine, 25c.

Two Exhibitions Daily, at 2 and 8 P. M. Doors open at 11:30 and 7, P. M.

For the Accommodation of those wishing to avoid the crowds at the wagon, an Office has been established at

R. M. Stelle's Drug Store, 2 East Front Street, where reserved numbered tickets can be bought at the regular price, and admission tickets at the usual slight advance, on the morning of the Show.

Excursion Rates on all Railroads.

WILL EXHIBIT AT HOBOKEN OCTOBER 22d.

Corporation Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the following ordinance has been introduced before the Common Council and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Council to adopt the same.

O. B. LEONARD, City Clerk.

Plainfield, N. J., October 7, 1887.

AN ORDINANCE

To establish a Board of Health.

The inhabitants of the City of Plainfield by their Common Council do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. That pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, a Board of Health of the City of Plainfield shall consist of five members, who shall be appointed by the Mayor and confirmed by the Common Council. Said Board shall be appointed by the Mayor and Council after this ordinance shall be of legal force, at the March meeting of the Council for the approval of the Common Council, and shall hold office until the first Monday in March following, and until the appointment and confirmation of their successors, and two persons shall be appointed in the same manner as above provided, but shall hold office for one year from the first Monday in March.

SEC. 2. The Board of Health so constituted and appointed shall have the powers conferred by the general laws in the premises, and shall meet at the Mayor's office every Monday evening at 8 o'clock, and upon the call of the Mayor or Health Officer.

O. B. LEONARD, City Clerk.

Plainfield, N. J., October 3, 1887.

AN ORDINANCE

To change the names of certain streets.

The inhabitants of the City of Plainfield by their Common Council do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. That the street now known as Home street, shall hereafter be known and designated as Arlington avenue.

That the street now known as Rock street, between Second street and Madison avenue, shall hereafter be known and designated as Richmond place.

That the street now known as Park place, between Second street and Madison avenue, shall hereafter be known and designated as Madison place.

That the street now known as Park place, between Madison avenue and Broadway, shall hereafter be known and designated as Fort place.

That the street now known as Park place, between Broadway and Seventh street, shall hereafter be known and designated as Sumner place.

That the street now known as Rock street, between Second street and Madison avenue, shall hereafter be known and designated as Richmond place.

That the street now known as Home street, between Richmond street and a point where it meets South Second street, shall hereafter be known and designated as Arlington avenue.

That the street heretofore known as North street, between Richmond street and a point where it meets Cottage place, shall hereafter be known and designated as Richmond place.

That the street now known as Elm street, between West Front street and Second street, shall hereafter be known, and designated as Sumner place.

That the street now known as Spruce street, between Second street and Madison avenue, shall hereafter be known and designated as Madison place.

That the street now known as Pine street, between Second street and Madison avenue, shall hereafter be known and designated as Fort place.

That the street now known as North avenue, between the South-western City limits and the point where it meets South Second street, shall hereafter be known and designated as Arlington avenue.

That the street heretofore known as North street, between Richmond street and a point where it meets Cottage place, shall hereafter be known and designated as Richmond place.

That the street now known as Elm street, between West Front street and Second street, shall hereafter be known, and designated as Sumner place.

That the street now known as Spruce street, between Second street and Madison avenue, shall hereafter be known and designated as Madison place.

That the street now known as Pine street, between Madison avenue and Broadway, shall hereafter be known and designated as Fort place.

That the street now known as Park place, between Broadway and Seventh street, shall hereafter be known and designated as Sumner place.

SEC. 2. That within that portion of said city described as follows, viz.: Beginning at the point in connection of the south-easterly side line of Rock-wood place with the north-westerly side line of Second street and running thence along said north-westerly side line of Richmond street to the south-westerly side line of Madison avenue, thence at right angles to the last mentioned line of the width of one hundred feet of boundary, thence on a straight line to the point of intersection of the south-easterly side line of Rock-wood place with the south-westerly side line of Second street with the south-westerly side line of Third street, thence north-westerly and north-easterly and Second street and the south-westerly and north-easterly sides of Third street to the point or place of beginning, and also within that portion of said city described as follows, viz.: Beginning at the intersection of the south-westerly side line of Madison avenue with the south-easterly side line of Second street, thence north-westerly along Second street to the point where the south-westerly side line of Second street intersects the south-easterly side line of Rock-wood place, thence south-westerly along said south-easterly side line of Rock-wood place to the south-westerly side line of Madison avenue, thence north-easterly along said south-westerly side line of Madison avenue to the point or place of beginning, all persons shall be required to keep their premises, grounds, yards, sinks, cellars, vaults, privies, cesspools, cesspits, privy vaults, cesspools, cesspits, privy or hard and durable materials, and shall cause the same to be done in the manner of the adopting ordinances, and under the supervision of the Board of Health of said Council, shall be composed of four stone 6-cubic feet in size, and shall be laid in cement mortar, in one course under the direction of the street commissioner, and shall be covered with a flat stone, at least 18 inches in width and 24 inches in length, and of such thickness as may be required by the engineer of the said Board of Health, and shall have a fall of not less than two and a half inches to the foot, and not less than two and a half inches in the diameter of the hole.

SEC. 3. It hereby made the duty of the owners of land fronting on the side-walks of said city forthwith to comply with the preceding section of this ordinance, and to construct and lay down such cesspools and privies in fitting order the owners or occupants of said lands adjoining the same, and to keep the same in good repair, and to be done by said owners or occupants within a period of ten days from the date of service of such notice; if any of said lands are unoccupied and the owner cannot be found in the city, the said notice may be mailed postage prepaid to his or her last known address, and shall be considered as due service upon the non-resident owner. If any person shall neglect or refuse to comply with the notice served upon him or her as aforesaid, such person shall be liable to a penalty of not less than one dollar nor more than ten dollars for each and every day that he or she shall neglect or refuse to comply with the notice served upon him or her as aforesaid.

SEC. 4. In case the owner or occupant of such land shall neglect or refuse to do the proceedings mentioned in the notice specified in the preceding section, and shall not within the time specified in the notice file with the City Clerk a written notice that he or she intends to appeal to the Common Council, the Board of Health may by resolution order the required work to be done and said Board of Health is hereby authorized to protect a lien for the cost thereof and to enforce payment of the same pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided.

Adopted October 4, 1887.

Approved October 4, 1887.

JOB HALE MAYO, Mayor.

Attest: O. B. LEONARD, City Clerk.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.—TO DANIEL J. BENTON: Mary E. Yankie, Josephine M. Hannigan, Annie S. Brown and Fannie L. Everett.

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey made on the day of the date hereof, in a cause wherein Charles H. Reed is complainant and you and others are defendants, you are required to appear and answer the bill of complaint exhibited against you in said cause before the twenty-fifth day of November next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to have certain lands in the City of Plainfield and Township of Pantwood, Union County, New Jersey, and which are described thereof subject to a judgment obtained by Hiram Hedges against you in the New Jersey Supreme Court on February 8th, 1887, for the sum of $1,000 and costs of suit, sold and conveyed by the other said defendants named therein, and also to have a satisfaction of said judgment, as to said Daniel J. Benton, declared null and void as fraudulently obtained.

JACKSON & CHETWOOD, Complainant's Solicitors, Plainfield, N. J.

Dated, Sept. 23rd, 1887. adv4

Fleming & Angleman,

BUTCHERS,

Fresh, Salt and Smoked Meats,

Poultry, Fish, Vegetables, etc.

ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED.

No. 24 North avenue.

[Near the Depot.]

R. S. FLEMING. apr20 J. F. ANGLEMAN.

PAXINE

CURES Nervous Debility, Fever and Ague, Malaria, Indigestion, Liver Complaint.

PAXINE is the result of the best efforts of eminent physicians and chemists, and its merits are endorsed by the profession to the extent that it is recommended. It is not a secret remedy or patent medicine, but is a scientific preparation of the chemical salts, with which every physician is familiar, and is prescribed daily by them. PAXINE is not a cure-all, but is a specific for the diseases mentioned above, and will cure them in every case. Sold by druggists, price $1.00 per bottle. Pamphlet free. Prepared only by the Dennis Mfg. Co. Elmhirst, N. Y. and N. Y.

A WONDERFUL COUNTERFEIT.

Counterfeits of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are numerous, and the only way to avoid them is to buy only of a reliable dealer. We warn the public against buying any of the nostrum sold by druggists, which are claimed to be "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery." They are not. Their makers have no such record of cures as we have made with the "Discovery." Don't be persuaded to buy anything else. Sold by druggists.

Central Railroad of New Jersey

Station in New York—Foot of Liberty Street.

Time Table in Effect June 27, 1887.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield (via Elizabeth) for New York, 5.40, 6.40, 7.05, 7.30, 7.55, 8.05, 8.30, 9.05, 9.30, 10.07, 11.00, 11.05, a.m., 12.05, 12.30, 1.05, 2.05, 3.05, 3.30, 4.05, 4.30, 5.05, 5.30, 6.05, 6.40, 8.10, 11.10, p. m. Sunday—5.37, 8.02, 9.07, 10.07, 11.07, a. m., 12.07, 1.07, 2.07, 3.07, 4.07, 5.07, 6.07, 7.07, 8.07, 9.07, 10.07, p. m.

Leave New York from foot of Liberty Street, 6.00, 6.30, 7.30, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 a. m., 12.00, 1.00, 2.00, 3.00, 4.00, 4.30, 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00, p. m. Sunday—8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00, a. m., 12.00, 1.00, 2.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, p. m.

Passengers for Newark change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 5.40, 8.02, 7.30, 9.02, 9.40, 10.30, 11.30, 12.30, 1.30, 2.30, 3.30, 4.30, 5.30, 6.30, 8.27, 9.30, 11.35, p. m. Sunday—8.30, 10.34, 11.34, a. m., 12.34, 1.34, 2.34, 3.34, 4.34, 5.34, 6.34, 7.34, 8.34, 9.34, 10.34, p. m.

Leave Somerville 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30, 12.30, 1.30, 2.30, 3.30, 4.30, 5.30, 6.30, 8.00, 9.30, p. m. Sunday—8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30, a. m., 12.30, 1.30, 2.30, 3.30, 4.30, 5.30, 6.30, 7.30, 8.30, 9.30, 10.30, p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield 8.30, 9.30, 9.35, a. m., 2.05, 3.35, 4.35, 5.35, 6.35, p. m. Sunday—8.35, a. m., 6.40, p. m.

Leave Easton 6.52, 8.27, a. m., 12.40, 4.15, 7.05, p. m. Sunday—7.30, a. m., 7.05, p. m.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

LEAVE PLAINFIELD

6.35, a. m.—For Easton, Allentown, Bound Brook, Bethlehem, Mauch Chunk and connecting at High Bridge for Schooley's Mountain, Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c. Sundays, 6.40, a. m.

7.14, a. m.—For Flemington.

8.32, a. m.—For High Bridge Branch, Schooley's Mountain, Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c. Sundays, 8.40, a. m.

9.35, a. m.—For Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Scranton, &c.

3.35, p. m.—For Bound Brook, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, &c.

4.35, p. m.—For Easton, Phillipsburg, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Shamokin, Pottsville, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c.

5.35, p. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Schooley's Mountain, Lake Hopatcong, Easton, &c.

6.05, p. m.—For Flemington.

6.20, p. m.—For Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, &c.

Leave Plainfield 8.30, 9.05, 11.05, a. m., 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, p. m. Sundays except Ocean Grove, 8.40, a. m.

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c.

Leave Plainfield 8.30, 9.05, 11.05, a. m., 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, p. m. Sundays except Ocean Grove, 8.40, a. m.

BOUND BROOK ROUTE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia and Trenton, 6.35, 7.44, 9.35, 11.44, a. m., 1.37, 4.07, 6.21, p. m. Sundays, 7.44, 11.44, a. m., 6.21, p. m.

RETURNING.—Leave Philadelphia Ninth and Green streets, 8.30, 9.30, 11.00, a. m., 1.10, 3.45, 5.15, 6.00, 12.00, p. m. Sunday—8.30, 12.00, p. m.

Leave Trenton, Market and Warren streets, 8.50, 10.20, a. m., 1.30, 4.05, 5.40, 6.40, p. m. Sunday—8.50, 10.20, a. m., 6.40, p. m.

Leave Trenton, Warren and Tucker streets, 1.20, 2.50, 10.30, a. m., 2.30, 4.35, 6.10, 7.40, p. m. Sunday—1.20, 8.35, 6.40, a. m., 6.10, p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked* change cars at Bound Brook.

I. H. OLMANSTEAD, Gen'l Sup't.

E. B. WALDWIN, Gen'l Pass. Agent.

LUTKINS & HUMMER,

DEALERS IN

Butter, Eggs & Produce

Meats of all Kinds.

FRUIT and VEGETABLES IN THEIR SEASON

No. 18 PARK AVENUE, Plainfield, New Jersey.

Goods delivered to any part of the city.

A. LUTKINS. L. A. HUMMER.

TWENTY

Years experience in the business.

GROUND FLOOR, 2 doors above Postoffice.

Mr. JOHN R. STEVENS, Horse-shoer gives particular attention to Cloving, Forging, Shoeing and Interfering Horses. Any Horse stopped in an incomplete shortness of time. Horses with flattened feet treated in a particular manner by experienced workmen.

P. H. BENNETT,

(Successor to B. H. Beckman)

DEALER IN

BUTTER, EGGS AND PRODUCE.

MEATS OF ALL KINDS,

Fruits & Vegetables

IN THEIR SEASON.

42 Park avenue, Plainfield N. J.

Goods Delivered to any part of the City again!

The Present Want

of a great many at this season is School Books and School Supplies, of which

ALLEN,

THE STATIONER,

has a full and complete assortment at the lowest prices.

Second-Hand Books

used in the Plainfield Schools, taken in exchange and for sale.

TUESDAYS { Sept. 20th / Oct. 11th

CHICAGO NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

WILL RUN

HARVEST EXCURSIONS

TO POINTS IN

DAKOTA, NEBRASKA, WYOMING, MINNESOTA,

NORTHERN IOWA,

For which Reasonable Tickets will be sold at

ONE FARE

for the Round Trip.

Tickets will be good 20 days from date of sale.

TWO THROUGH TRAINS DAILY

Without Change between Chicago and Council Bluffs, Omaha and Sioux City.

Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars, Elegant Day Coaches, Magnificent Dining Cars.

For Tickets, Time Tables, Maps and Folders, call on your nearest Ticket Agent, or address

W. A. GARDNER, Gen'l Pass. Agent, Chicago, Ill.

J. M. WHITMAN, Gen'l Manager, Chicago, Ill.

Chicago & North Western Railway is the Direct Line to Hot Springs, Black Hills, Yellowstone Park, Deadwood, Sioux Falls, Watertown, Huron, Aberdeen, Pierre, Mitchell, Yankton, Fremont, Norfolk, Grand Island, Kearney, Ogden, Salt Lake City, Helena, Butte City, Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and all points in the Northwest, Southwest and Pacific Coast.

NOTICE.—The Books of the Overseer of the Poor, containing a list of the applicants for relief, can be seen, at the office of that officer in Stillman Building.

C. OAKLEY RODPER, O. P.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the executors of Mary Ann Hubbard, late of Scotch Plains, deceased, have exhibited their account for settlement to this Court of the county of Union on Wednesday, the ninth day of November next.

HARRIET OSBORN,
CARROLL E. HUBBARD,
JOHN R. VANWINKLE,
Executors.

Dated August 25th, 1887.—aug26

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors

Union County, Surrogate's Office.

Greg A. Marsh, the Executor of Frederick P. Olmsted, deceased.

On application of the above named Executor it is ordered that said Executor give public notice to the creditors of said deceased to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the estate of said deceased, and also within six months from the date hereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the Plainfield Press, a newspaper printed in the county of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in Two Conservative, one of the same papers of these; and if any creditor shall not bring in his debt, demand or claim within the said period of nine months, publication, he or she will be forever barred of his or her action therefor against said Executor.

By JAS. J. GERBER, Surrogate.

aug26/10

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors

Union County Surrogate's Office.

Joseph E. Monfort and Elsa B. Pope, the Executors of Frances Monfort, deceased.

On application of the above named Executors it is ordered that said Executors give public notice to the creditors of said deceased to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the estate of said deceased, and also within six months from the date hereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the Plainfield Press, a newspaper printed in the county of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in Two Conservative newspapers of these papers; and if any creditor shall not bring in his debt, demand or claim within the said period of nine months, publication, he or she will be forever barred of his or her action therefor against said Executors.

By JAS. J. GERBER, Surrogate.

aug26/10

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors

Union County Surrogate's Office.

Jacob Long, the Executor of Rachel Garrett, deceased.

On application of the above named Executor it is ordered that said Executor give public notice to the Creditors of the estate of said deceased to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from the date hereof, and also within six months from the date hereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the Plainfield Press, a newspaper printed in the county of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in Two Conservative newspapers of these papers; and if any creditor shall not bring in his debt, demand or claim within the said period of nine months, publication, he or she will be forever barred of his or her action therefor against said Executor.

By JAS. J. GERBER, Surrogate.

sep10 By JAMES J. GERBER, Surrogate.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors

Union County Surrogate's Office.

Jacob Long, the Executor of Rachel Garrett, deceased.

On application of the above named Executor it is ordered that said Executor give public notice to the Creditors of the estate of said deceased to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from the date hereof, and also within six months from the date hereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the Plainfield Press, a newspaper printed in the county of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in Two Conservative newspapers of these papers; and if any creditor shall not bring in his debt, demand or claim within the said period of nine months, publication, he or she will be forever barred of his or her action therefor against said Executor.

By JAS. J. GERBER, Surrogate.

MISCELLANEOUS.

ELY'S

Cream Balm

Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Allays Pain and Inflammation, Heals the Sores, Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell.

TRY THE CURE.

CATARRH

ELY'S CREAM BALM CATARRH HAY-FEVER

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists, by mail, registered, 60 cents. ELY BROTHERS, 235 Greenwich street, New York.—6y1

ALEX. THORN

[Late of Berry & Thorn.

CAN BE FOUND AT 21 SOMERSET STREET,

WITH A FULL LINE OF

FURNACES, RANGES, STOVES, TINWARE, Etc.

Repairing in His Line Promptly Attended To.

6ly1

INSURANCE

ISAAC BROKAW,

Real Estate and Fire Insurance.

12 OGDEN ST., NORTH PLAINFIELD.

Agent for the following first class companies: GERMANIA of New York. HANOVER, of New York. JERSEY CITY, of Jersey City, N. J. Losses collected on all kinds of property, for which insurance is effected. Also agent for MONEY TO LOAN ON FIRST MORTGAGES IN PLAINFIELD REAL ESTATE BOUGHT, RENTED AND COLLECTED. NO MADE. PROMPT RETURNS.—6m1

FIRE INSURANCE!

Best and strongest Clearing Rate opposite Legend Office

Star and Merchants

Fire Insurance Co's of the City of New York, are prepared to furnish substantial indemnity against loss by Fire on dwellings, stores and household furniture in Plainfield and vicinity.

NATHAN HARPER

J. C. Pope & Co.,

GENERAL AGENTS OF THE

German American Ins. Co., of New York.

Also representing other first-class Fire Insurance Companies. Agents of the Texas Steamship Line. Brokers in Texas Land Scrip. First and City National Bank Stock Bought and Sold. Also,

BUILDING LOTS

And Other Real Estate for sale.

OFFICE:

6 E. FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD

JAMES D. POPE. ELIAS E. POPE.

WILLIAM A. WOODRUFF,

Fire Insurance Agent,

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.

With years of practice and experience, knowledge of the business, and the best of connections, I confidently ask a continuance of the patronage of my friends and others.

AUTHORIZED AGENT FOR

Fire Association, of Philadelphia.

Liverpool, London & Globe, England.

Westchester, of New York.

Hamden Union, of England

North British Mercantile, of Edinburgh.

The Northern, of England

The Queen, of England.

The Merchants, of Newark.

The Washington Life, of New York.

And other well known companies. Insurance effected on Dwellings, Merchandise, Household Furniture, Stock in Trade, Barns, Stables, Carriages, Horses, Cattle, Farming Implements, Crops, Etc., Etc., in Plainfield and vicinity, at the lowest rates consistent with safety. Losses promptly adjusted and paid at this office. Office in Dorcas Berry's building, 5 East Front street, Plainfield, N. J. Telephone connection with all parts of the city.

FURS. FURS.

W. H. & R. BURNETT

Invite attention to their stock of

FINE FURS,

SEAL SKIN

AND

FUR LINED GARMENTS,

GENT'S

FUR LINED OVERCOATS,

ROBES,

CAPS,

COLLARS,

GLOVES,

FOOT MUFFS.

COACHMEN'S FURS,

FUR RUGS in ASIATIC TIGER, LEOPARD SKINS, BLACK and POLAR BEARS, FOX, WOLF, WILD CAT and GOAT. CHILDREN'S FUR CLOAKS in Grey and White Lamb, and CHILDREN'S FUR CARRIAGE ROBES. Particular attention is called to our NEW STYLES of SEAL SKIN PALETOTS, ULSTERS, WRAPS and JACKETS. FUR TRIMMINGS in great variety, and at lower prices than can be found in any other establishment in the State. Our stock is the largest and is all to be made, equal in ASSORTMENT, QUALITY and PRICE to any in the country. SEAL SKIN GARMENTS to be RE-DYED or MADE OVER and FUR LINED GARMENTS, to be ALTERED, REPAIRED, or MADE OVER cannot be promised, in any definite time, after Oct. 1st. All other ALTERATIONS and REPAIRS should be made early in the season. Correspondence solicited.

W. H. & R. BURNETT,

17 ACADEMY STREET,

(Near the Post Office)

NEWARK, N. J.

adv4

ATTENTION!

Carpets. Carpets.

For Fall season. Just offered to the trade at the

LOWEST PRICES

ever known in this city.

DRESS GOODS

New Styles. Large Assortment.

Mourning Goods,

A Specialty.

Wear the

MIGNON KID,

Every Pair Warranted.

HOUSEKEEPING GOODS, MUSLINS, TABLE LINENS, TOWELS, NAPKINS, Etc.,

We offer at Reduced Prices.

AT P. H.

WHITNEY'S!

8 E. FRONT ST., OPP. POST OFFICE.

Special Notice!

WE HAVE JUST ADDED

500 BOYS' SUITS.

SOME AS LOW AS $2.00

SOME AS HIGH AS $7.50.

OUR OWN MANUFACTURE.

Sebring Bros.,

Music Hall Entrance.

Accommodation Express.

PETER RICKERT, Proprietor

Office—Vanderveer's Manchester's, Park avenue, Plainfield. Leaves Plainfield for Dunellen and intermediate points at 7:30 a. m. Returning leaves Dunellen at 8:30 a. m. Leaves Plainfield for Somerville and intermediate points at 9:30 a. m. Returning leaves Somerville at 11:30 a. m. Leaves Plainfield for Bound Brook and intermediate points at 2:30 p. m. Returning leaves Bound Brook at 4:30 p. m. Leaves Plainfield for Dunellen and intermediate points at 5:30 p. m. Returning leaves Dunellen at 6:30 p. m. Parties desiring to go to Dunellen, Somerville or Bound Brook at other hours than those specified can be accommodated by leaving their orders at the office. Prompt attention given to all orders.

R. R. FAIRCHILD,

FURNITURE WAREROOMS,

21 East Front street.

Walnut, Cherry, Oak and Ash

Cottage Chamber Sets.

Dining Room Outfits.

Parlor Furniture.

Lounges and Extension Tables.

A LARGE LINE OF FANCY CHAIRS.

MISCELLANEOUS.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The handsome newly-built addition to our store is now open, which gives us the largest store in the State. This new department is stocked with an unusually fine line of MEN'S CLOTHING, ranging in price from $12 to $25 per suit.

Our General Stock is now Complete.

MENS' SUITS, FROM $8 TO $15.
MENS' OVERCOATS, FROM $6 TO $20.

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN have come to untimely deaths through being improperly clothed.

OLD BOREAS WILL SOON BE HERE and his rude blasts will penetrate the marrow of the little ones if they do not wear comfortable Clothing.

AVERT DISASTER

by taking them to the Spacious Stores of

Marshall & Ball,

and fitting them out with Seasonable Garments.

BOY'S SUITS, $2 50, 3 00, 4 00, 5 00 6 00;
CHILDREN'S SUITS, $1 50, 2, 2 50, 3, 3 50, 4.
OVERCOATS, $1 50, 2 00, 3 00 to 8 00.

REMEMBER

That our Goods are all Manufactured by us, and we hold ourselves responsible for any possible defects in wear, not observed before sold.

MARSHALL & BALL,

Largest Clothing House in the State,

807, 809, 811 and 813 Broad St., Newark.

221 & 223 Main St., Paterson.

58 & 60 Newark Ave., Jersey City.

MARSHALL & BALL CO.

JOHN A. THICKSTUN,

DEALER IN

BEST QUALITIES

COAL, WOOD,

AND

BLUE-STONE.

YARD—Cor. 3rd st. and Madison ave.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."—H. A. Archer, M.D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion.

Without

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY.
AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XX. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1887. No. 42

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its limitations as in its authorities."—Madison.

Rates of Advertising.

Space	1 Week	2 Weeks	3 Weeks	1 Month	2 Months	3 Months
1 in.	$1.00	$1.50	$2.00	$3.00	$5.00	$7.00
2 in.	1.50	2.00	2.50	5.00	8.00	10.00
3 in.	2.00	2.50	3.00	7.00	10.00	13.00
4 in.	2.50	3.00	3.50	9.00	12.00	15.00
5 in.	3.00	3.50	4.00	11.00	14.00	17.00
6 in.	3.50	4.00	4.50	13.00	16.00	19.00
7 in.	4.00	4.50	5.00	15.00	18.00	21.00
8 in.	4.50	5.00	5.50	17.00	20.00	23.00
9 in.	5.00	5.50	6.00	19.00	22.00	25.00
10 in.	5.50	6.00	6.50	21.00	24.00	27.00
11 in.	6.00	6.50	7.00	23.00	26.00	29.00
12 in.	6.50	7.00	7.50	25.00	28.00	31.00
13 in.	7.00	7.50	8.00	27.00	30.00	33.00
14 in.	7.50	8.00	8.50	29.00	32.00	35.00
15 in.	8.00	8.50	9.00	31.00	34.00	37.00
16 in.	8.50	9.00	9.50	33.00	36.00	39.00
17 in.	9.00	9.50	10.00	35.00	38.00	41.00
18 in.	9.50	10.00	10.50	37.00	40.00	43.00
19 in.	10.00	10.50	11.00	39.00	42.00	45.00
20 in.	10.50	11.00	11.50	41.00	44.00	47.00
21 in.	11.00	11.50	12.00	43.00	46.00	49.00
22 in.	11.50	12.00	12.50	45.00	48.00	51.00
23 in.	12.00	12.50	13.00	47.00	50.00	53.00
24 in.	12.50	13.00	13.50	49.00	52.00	55.00

All Electros must be solid metal.
"Lists of Everything" column, 5 cts. per line.
Double rate, 50 per ct. advance of above rates.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

O. L. JENKINS, M. D.
Homœopathist.
Office and residence, No. 21 East Front Street, front door. Practice, N. J. office hours—7 to 8 a. m.; 1 to 2 p. m.; 7 to 9 p. m.—sep 16-y2.

JACKSON & CODINGTON.
Counsellors-at-Law.
Commissioners of deeds. Masters in Chancery, Notaries Public. Offices corner of Park avenue and Second street, (2nd floor).

G. EUGENE W. DAY,
General Auctioneer.
Sales of Personal Property solicited. P. O. Box 222. Dunellen, N. J., or address as care in City advertisements. Terms reasonable.

DR. CHARLES R. TRIBUS,
Dentist.
20 West Front street. Use of local anesthetic applications for extracting teeth without pain. Gold filling a specialty.—jn16

H. RAND,
Auctioneer,
P. O. Address, Cook Row St., North Plainfield, N. J. Orders left at E. Cherry's Coal Office, corner of West Front street, Plainfield, N. J., will receive prompt attention.—may20

OSCAR S. TEALE,
Architect,
247 Broadway, New York city. Success to and Successor of Post & Teale, Mail Building. Send for circular, Plainfield, N. J.—jy30

WM. E. McCLURE,
Attorney-at-Law.
MASTER IN CHANCERY. NOTARY PUBLIC.
Counsellor-at-Law. Office, North avenue opposite depot.—jan7

J. E. FERSTER,
Veterinary Surgeon.
Office in A. M. Sanford's livery stable, corner Main street and Madison avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Day and night calls promptly attended to. Residence, Call No. 15, communication on diseases of all domestic animals. Residence, 19 East Fifth street.—jan27

ARTHUR P. MILLER,
Attorney-at-Law.
(Successor to the late W. S. Mount). Solicitor in Chancery, Notary Public. Will buy and sell real estate on commission. Will attend to property. Office over First National Bank.—jy27

F. A. DUNBAR,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor.
Nos. 7 Park avenue, Plainfield, and 5 Mulford Parlor street, Dunellen. Topographical and hydraulic attention given to the subdivision or disputed boundaries of property. Surveys in all parts of the country.—jy15

DR. J. P. GRIFFEN,
Electric Baths.
Dr. Griffen has had 15 years' experience. Chronic complaints, Skin diseases, Asthma, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Paralysis and Chronic diseases cured only by Electricity and Electric Baths. Consultation free. Residence and office, 15 East Second street, corner Washington.—my14tf

BUSINESS CARDS.

ROBERT JAHN,
TIN AND COPPER-SMITH,
Scotch Plains,
(Fairwood) N. J.
Dealer in Stoves and Heater work, Pumps, Troughs, and all kinds of sheet metal work. The best and most modern Ventilation Caps. Repairing promptly attended to.—jy15-y1

TO THE PUBLIC!

We wish to inform our customers and the public generally that we have on hand the best quality of

LEHIGH COAL,

Fresh from the Mines.

It is under cover and well protected from the weather. We can prepare it to deliver it well screened and in good order promptly. Weigh and guaranteed to burnt all kinds of seasoned Lumber and Kindling Material for sale.

A. D. COOK & BRO.
jan27

J. Hervey Doane,
9 PARK AVENUE.
(Formerly Clerk's.)

Watches,
Clocks
And Jewelry.

Repairing neatly and promptly done.
dly1

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, VEGETABLES, DRIED FRUIT, ETC.
CORNER EMILY AND DUER STREETS
North Plainfield, New Jersey.

Celebrated Pilsbury Flour,
THE BEST IN THE MARKET.
ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED.
Thanks for past patronage. I solicit a continuance Respectfully,
apr15y WILLIAM H. SHOTWELL.

BOSTON CLOTHING HOUSE.

42 W. FRONT ST.

Reliable Goods at Low Prices.

Correct Styles. Right Prices
myly2

Geo. A. Moore,
(Of the late firm of Moore Bros.)
Is now the sole proprietor of the old reliable and enlarged

No. 14 NORTH AVENUE.

Where he will continue to supply patrons with the finest grades of Fresh and Salt Meats, Fish of all kinds, Oysters, Clams, Game in Season at the lowest market prices. Orders promptly attended to. Goods delivered free of charge to any part of the city. Telephone connection. Your patronage is solicited.—jan27

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

Force's Hotel!
NORTH AVENUE
Near P. R. Depot, Plainfield, New Jersey.
JAMES H. FORCE, - Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY HOTEL.
Transient guests taken at reasonable rates.

Bottled Liquors a Specialty.

Laing's Hotel!
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

J. B. MILLER & BRO., - Proprietors.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.

James Conneely
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a first-class
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 32 PARK AVE.,
Where he will be pleased to furnish his friends and patrons with the choicest brands of foreign and domestic Liquors.
m1513

TURF EXCHANGE HOTEL.
72 Courtlandt street,
CORNER WASHINGTON, NEW YORK CITY
FRED. W. BALLARD, - Proprietor,
(formerly of Jersey City), is now conducting the business corner Washington and Courlandt streets, New York, formerly kept by the late James Tate, and by Mr. Ballard, all their old friends will be most cordially welcomed.
PURE WINES, LIQUORS AND SEGARS. jy30tf

SOMERSET HOTEL.
Cor. Somerset & Emily Sts., North Plainfield, N. J.
Permanent and Transient Board at fair rates.
First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all (reasonable) hours. 2jan27

C. E. JOHNSON, of late firm of Shepherd, Johnson & Graham
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
Office adjoining City Hotel on Second street, near Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey. Residence, 11 East Second street. Jobbing especially solicited

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
SALESROOM—Madison Avenue, cor. Front St., Plainfield, N. J.
Goods received on consignment.

DRS. E. J. MARTIN'S
MAGIC RENOVATING FLUID.
For taking out grease from any kind of goods. Also for cleaning the scurf off the head. Will not injure the most delicate fabric. Ladies' dresses, kid gloves, kid hats, gents' clothing, flavors the gay goods. Sample of any kind of goods sent to us for carpets, &c. Price 25 cents per bottle, not at retail. Office, 1 and 2 Mulford Parlor street, Dunellen, N. J. 22 East Front street, and at Mrs. W. L. Force's Book Store, No. 3 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. myly1

JOHN JOHNSTON,
DEALER IN
COAL!
YARD AND OFFICE, SOUTH AVENUE,
NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.

The best quality of screened coal at the lowest cash price for delivery. Orders left at office or exchanged post-office.—jy29-y1

Park Avenue Bakery!
JOHN WALKER, Prop'r
FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the Choicest

VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS,
And all Varieties of
Pies, Cake and Confectionery.

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.
THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS,
BEST IN THE WORLD.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE
ap8-y1

MICHAEL UHDAL,
CONTRACTOR
AND LANDSCAPE GARDENER!
Residence:
NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY
P. O. BOX 787, PLAINFIELD.

BOSTON CLOTHING HOUSE.

HEADQUARTERS
FOR
Boots, Shoes and Rubbers
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION. OUR STOCK
IS COMPLETE, AND OUR
Prices the Lowest!
Doane & Van Arsdale
22 WEST FRONT STREET.

SANITARY PLUMBING,
Brick and Portable Furnaces,
GAS FITTING,
TIN ROOFING,
Etc., Etc.
I am prepared to do any of the above branches in a neat and workmanlike manner, and at reasonable prices.
Having associated myself with the Master Plumbers' Association of New York City, I can guarantee my work to be done according to the rules of the Association, and will be responsible for them. I believe a every man needs his work done at all times. Call and see me.
D. W. LIVTELL,
No. 2 NORTH AVE. apr22 Plainfield, N. J.

EDUCATIONAL.

MUSIC—VOCAL AND PIANO,
By Miss Anna M. Stebler.
Singing by the RUDIMENTARY method. Instruction on the Piano by Miss Emily Winant, also by Mrs. W. F. Potts and Mrs. Wm. Blodgood, all of Plainfield residence, of Plainfield. Address 19 PARK PLACE, N. Y.

RODMAN SEMINARY,
28 E. 5th Street. Will Re-open
SEPT. 15.
For circulars address,
MRS. R. O. DINGEE, Principal.
ahu3

Miss S. G. Kenny's
SCHOOL FOR GIRLS
WILL RE-OPEN
Thursday, Sept. 22d, 1887.
For prospectus address,
MISS S. G. KENNY, P. O. Box 500.
s3w5

MR. LEAL'S SCHOOL
WILL RE-OPEN
Monday, Sept. 19, 1887.

DODWORTH'S
Class for Dancing & Deportment
—AT—
Seminary Hall, Plainfield, N. J.,
Wednesdays from 3:30 to 5:30 P. M.,
Commencing Oct. 26th, 1887.
THEO. J. DODWORTH.
October 7th, 1887.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST,
Residence—Harmony street, North Plainfield, fourth house from Somerville line, left hand side. Information is given as regards present and future events; those unfortunate in love, law suits, etc. Satisfaction guaranteed She converses in English, German and French.

My husband is a first-class Chopper, and repairs tubs, pails, barrels, etc., cheap for cash.

Plainfield District Telegraph and Fire Alarm Co.
Prompt Messenger Service Furnished.
Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph Co.
LOW RATES. QUICK SERVICE. MONEY TRANSFERRED BY TELEGRAPH. CON-
MUTATION STAMPS FOR SALE.
OFFICE—4 PARK AVENUE.
W. S. SLITER, Manager.

STEAM HEATING
FOR
CHURCHES, SCHOOLS, and DWELLINGS.
J. N. SCHENCK,
Plainfield, N. J.
P. O. Box 1051.—aug1-y1

JAMES K. ARNOLD,
GROCER,
Corner Somerset and Chat-ham Sts., North Plainfield.

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.,
TO HIRE. CHARGES REASONABLE.
Hugo Weigman,
20 EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

CAREY'S
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE, NO. 42 WEST FRONT STREET.
Warehouse opposite Laing's Hotel, Plainfield, N. J.
Having leased the above premises I am prepared to store and sell second-hand Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, etc. I will also take Furniture in exchange for same. Furniture, etc., stored. P. O. Box, 494.—my1

Fleming & Angleman,
BUTCHERS,
Fresh, Salt and Smoked Meats,
Poultry, Tish, Vegetables, etc.
ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED.
No. 24 North avenue.
(Near the Depot.)
S. A. FLEMING, apr22 J. F. ANGLEMAN.

MISCELLANEOUS.

P. P. VanArsdale,
PIANO TUNER.
Instruments left in (honey) order, Terre-time Music, Paper and Organs for sale and to Order by parcel. P. O. Box 106 or left at Wilson's store Dunellen, N. J. Orders attended to promptly attention. Residence, 21 East Front street, Plainfield, N. J.—jy15-y1

A. TITSWORTH,
Merchant Tailor,
Has removed his place of business to
No. 26 North ave.,
(Store form—it) occupied by Benedict Mellon).
ALSO OFFICE OF CITY TREASURER.—ofdtf

JOHN CHANDLER,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Residence and Shop No. 30 East 3d St.
Orders left at shop promptly attended to. ap22

Alex. Willett,
DEALER IN
BOOTS & SHOES,
No. 6 PARK AVENUE.
A full assortment to (Seasonable goods direct from Manufacturer at LOW FIGURES. ds6day1

G. W. FORCE,
11 West Front street,
OPENING OF FALL AND WINTER STOCK
Boots and Shoes at Low Prices
A FINE GRADE OF GOODS TO SELECT FROM
11 West Front street.
G. W. FORCE.
ja18-y1

J. T. ODAM,
PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL
Slate Roofer and Repairer.
Residence, Corner Fourth and Sycamore Streets. Yard near Freight House, P. O. Box 1041, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Roof Work executed for one year. Slating over shingles. Also, Tin and Gravel Roofing.—my20-y1

Steam Marble
Granite Works.
AND
Monuments & Headstones.
Fencing for Cemetery Plots.
Large assortment of Stone Mantels.
A large variety of Granite Monuments
—AT—
All work executed in the most skilful manner. All orders faithfully attended to. Estimates cheerfully given. Call and see us.
Factory cor. Front St. & E. Clinton, Plainfield, N. J.
Monuments erected in Greenwood (Cemetery) Lots.—jy29-y1

PAINTERS & PAINTERS' SUPPLIES.

Paints, Varnishes, Glass.
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALL PAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
A. SWALM,
No. 3 North Avenue, Plainfield.
apr8

Weaver Bros.
House & Sign Painting, Graining.
Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a specialty.
Office and Shop in the rear of
120 EAST FRONT STREET,
D. WEAVER. P. O. Box 98. F. WEAVER

W. N. HOWE,
PAINTER AND DECORATOR,
House in Plainfield, 202 Verandah, Glass, Brushes etc. WALL PAPER and WINDOW SHADES. Stock but strictly first-class workmen employed. Residence and Shop, No. 5 N. Plainfield Avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Estimates given. Orders promptly attended to.—apr22

S. B. WOOLSTON, A.P. BUCKLE
Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS,
Wall Papers,
PAINTERS' SUPPLIES. 28 NORTH AVENUE
apr22

MILLINERY.

Mrs. J. M. Dunn,
FASHIONABLE MILLINER,
LATEST SHAPES OF
BONNETS AND HATS.
FRENCH IMPORTED FLOWERS.
Feathers, Velvets, Plushes, Satines, Laces, etc. Also, Fancy Goods and Notions; Dress and Infants' Caps a Specialty.

PINKING, BLEACHING & PRESSING.
Feathers Dyed, Cleaned and Curled
AT SHORT NOTICE.
14 West Front street.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made in the premises from the finest Havana.
CLEAR HAVANA CIGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Imported and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Tobaccos always on hand.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety
—AT—
C. M. FINE,
Dealer in Havana & Domestic
—SEGARS!!—
17 PARK AVE., (Opp. Depot) SECOND FLOOR.
Tobacco and Smoker's Materials, Fancy Goods, etc.
The concentrated Odor of Smoking Tobacco, with other important brands constantly on hand.

GEO. D. MORRISON,
NORTH AVENUE.
Has opened a store for the sale of
FLOUR, FEED, HAY,
Oats, Straw, Bran, Etc.,
And hopes by promptness and fair dealing to merit a share of the public patronage.
SANDERSON'S
XXXX
BEST FLOUR.
FROM MINNESOTA WHEAT.
CALL AND SEE WHAT YOU GET.
jy8y1

LIVERY.

RICHARD H. DAY'S
City Livery Stable!
OPPOSITE DEPOT, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
special attention paid to Board of Horses by the day, week or month. All orders left at office or night at short notice. Telephone Call, No. 12.
my6y1

ALBERT HEDDEN,
Livery and Boarding Stables
FOURTH STREET,
Between Park avenue and Park avenue, Plainfield. Pleasure or shopping calls promptly attended to. Horses boarded by the day, week or month. Horses for the week or month. Telephone Call No. 12.

Livery Stables!
Mr. D. S. ROBERTS
Has Removed to His New Building on
NORTH AVENUE
Adjoining Depot of N. Y. & N. J. R. R., where he will be found ready and able to answer demands for all kinds of first-class livery turnouts, at reasonable terms consistent with good service. The Proprietor has had years experience in the business and knows how to please his patrons. Especially

RIDING OR DRIVING
Horses, safe drivers for shopping calls or pleasure drives. Special attention given to boarding horses by the day, week or month.—oct13y1
TELEPHONE CALL, NO. 24.

ESTABLISHED 1866.
Westfield Horse Market.

Dr. King's Spectacles.
jy16y1

SPECIAL SALE.
Dolls! Dolls! Dolls!
AT
A. W. RAND,
24 W. FRONT ST.
JOINTED AND KID BODIES,
Bazque & Indestructable Heads,
CLOSING AND STEADY STYLE,
From 25 cents to $5.25.

Best In The World!
Call at my store and get a Stencil Tool as a present. Only place in the city to get stencils and supplies. You don't know what you are missing if you don't call. Remember the place, 7 and 9 Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.

CITY AND COUNTRY LIFE.
The Ideal.
"I long," exclaimed the city girl,
"To fly to where the sweet grass grows,
Beneath the shady trees,
And breathe the odors delicious
That from the meadows rise.
To hear the pretty singing birds,
And watch the bees at work,
Attending with a rapt delight
To Nature's mysteries.
To taste for dinner every day
The freshest of vegetables,
And sup upon a bowl of milk,
Or soup by bread crumbed,
To score conversationing,
With what you've read or thought,
To wear a gown of satin sheen,
With lace and gems, too,
And on a velvet-cushioned couch
Luxurious to recline.
Each day, from gold and silver plate,
With company to dine,
And sip, perhaps, from crystal cups
The rarest sparkling wines;
In elegant society
Commune to-shine,
And see the noblest of the land
Bow down before my throne,
To have my morsels with my wish,
All starting in a bound,
And number, kneeling at my feet,
Devoted lovers also!
Ah me!" exclaimed the country girl,
"If such delights were mine!"

The Real.
"Oh, mercy!" cried the city girl,
"What shall I do with myself?
I'm just as hot as I can be;
There's not a bit of breeze!
Don't know, myself, I'm sure!
How the mosquitoes tease!
This sleeping car is making cold—
I'm sure I felt a season!
Don't know what I'll do!
And in the shade I freeze!
I'm just as bored as any thing
Of those great boasting boxes;
And they have fastened windows some—
A troop of young Furpees!
Of worn I in my hotel room,
With all its luxuries,
I'd never, never like to taste
Such rural joys as these."

"Dear! dear!" bewailed the country girl,
"What shall I do with myself?
In elegant society
I would not know to shine:
I can't sit down because my dress
Is so unduly low;
My gloves are small, my shoes are tight,
My skirts all about me trail;
To make life more durable
My jewels are worn on dresses;
I'm tired of seeing servants stare;
I long to have my say;
I want 2 meet at home again,
To know I'm free to be Among my chickens and my ducks,
My pigs and geese and hens,
To rise, and work, and play,
Such city pleasures miss."

—Harper's Bazar.

SHORT SAM'S BARGAIN.

An Editorial Experience in a Western Mining-Camp.

Mining-camp journalism differs, in some slight degree, from metropolitan journalism, writes Edward W. Townsend in the New York World. There is not so much luxury about it as in the latter, but more exciting. I have known it to be even more so.

Once, while occupying all the editorial chairs and reporters' desks on a weekly newspaper in a mining-camp in central Nevada, two days by mud wagon from the nearest railroad, I was informed that I would gladly have exchanged places even with a New York City editor, explaining to myself how it was the hardest life and the most terrible town.

The first time that exciting. There had been a grand ball at Rhue Peaks, a neighboring camp, and the editor of the local ball had been enhanced by the sensational elopement of the most noted gambler of Rhue Peaks with the wife of Short Sam, a Nevada as Short Sam, with a lady called Dusty Bet. At the time of the ball she was not known as such, at least in Rhue Peaks. Only three days before the ball with a stash, hidden-aged man, a Mr. Brower, who proposed building a quarry mill, he said, both he and his wife and daughter—she was introduced as such—were shown most marked attentions. There was a little doubtful about allowing his daughter to attend the ball. Not that the occasion—it was the opening of the new hall—was wanting in gentility, but the character of Rhue Peaks, here eloquent, if silent, testimony.

So the grand ball at the El Dorado was graced by the presence of the old man and the candles, in their dirt-like miner's sandstick, were stuck in bottles, and shone quite as brightly as her innocent blue eyes.

Sam, in a boiled shirt uncovered by vest or coat, was unusually affable. He had a plain to every miner and the unattached females present that Sam was hard hit. Faye Bleecker hovered about the bar, atop of which was the ball-room edifice, and made demands on his daughter's gallant escort to "join him once more." It was near midnight when Sam, long silent with the sweet poison of Cupid's dart and the El Dorado's two-old O. F. G., disappeared with Miss Bleecker.

That they had not gone to supper at the miner's boarding-house, adjoining the El Dorado, was first made known by a miner who arrived at the ball-room with difficulty in getting suitable glasses still full of champagne. Then Faye Bleecker, who had no charge in letting the night cook wallow in his own grease, made a proposition to any one who might care to listen.

Front street, opposite Madison avenue.
Carriages for Weddings, Parties and Private Calls. Livery stable of all descriptions in connection.

IRVING & CO.,
DEALERS IN
Carriage Teams, Road, Draft, Speed, Saddle and General Business Horses. All horses guaranteed as represented.
Central avenue,
Near Depot, Westfield, N. J.
BRANCH STABLE, NEWARK, NEW JERSEY
COR. SHERMAN AVENUE AND ASTOR ST.

We Guarantee Our Work.
We remember many obligations to our numerous patrons of the past for their work and they are respectfully solicited for the future. Our facilities increased and we will endeavor to merit a continuance of the liberal patronage heretofore bestowed upon us. Every thing first-class work.
7 and 9 Somerset street.

ALBERT HEDDEN,
Livery and Boarding Stables
FOURTH STREET,
Between Park avenue and Park avenue, Plainfield. Pleasure or shopping calls promptly attended to. Horses boarded by the day, week or month. Telephone Call No. 12.

Fresh and Salt Meats, Poultry, Etc.
SOMERSET STREET, 3 DOTH PLAINFIELD
Orders called for and delivered. A share of public patronage is solicited.—jan27

Benj. F. Moore,
(Late of Moore Bros.)
BUTCHER,
Dealer in FRESH AND SALT MEATS, POULTRY, etc., corner Park avenue and Second street, Plainfield, N. J. Telephone Call No. 1247. Orders called for and promptly delivered. Telephone Call 111.—ap29tf

MAYNARD & HILL,
PRACTICAL BARBERS
AND
Artistic Hair Dressers,
No. 20 PARK AVENUE,
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residence. Shaving, Shampooing, &c. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Every Visual Defect Corrected.
WM. H. BINHAUS, Optician,
43 NASSAU ST., NEAR LIBERTY,
5 Minutes Walk from Cortlandt Street Ferry.
NEW YORK.
My improved system of fitting glasses by very delicate instruments, and the use of a newly discovered opthalmoscope, gives the best results ever attained in the art of fitting glasses. Difficulty in getting suitable glasses will find it to their advantage to call on me. There will be no charge for trying the sight and will be glad to have all who are troubled with eyes to call on me as I may be able to help them.

ESTABLISHED 1866.
THE BEST
BRAZILIAN PEBBLES.
In Fine Steel Frames, $2 50.
ESTABLISHED 1867.
stfmd

Carney Bros.,
PRACTICAL
Plumbers, Tinners & Gas Fitters.
Heaters, Ranges and Stoves.
Dealers in all kinds of Stoves, Ranges and Heaters. Repairs promptly attended to. Jobbing a specialty. All kinds of Sheet Metal Work done. Roofing and Guttering put in at short notice. Orders left at our store will receive prompt attention. Store, 15 East Front street. Residence, 17 East Front street.—jy15-y1

The Economic Gas Engine.
THE ONLY GAS ENGINE may be safely used in operation in our private premises. Can be run by water for hour at the small cost of one cent. In a number of prominent businesses it has been in use for years, and is every-where. We have testimonials from all of them. Send for circulars. It will save expense into us.

Our Sanitary Plumbing
Department is so it always has been, superior over direction, and our work in this branch is known to be of the highest character. Estimates given for all kinds of Plumbing and Gas Fitting. White we employ none but workmen we can vouch for, we will not be responsible for any accidents occurred of a good job at a very reasonable price.

Dollars! Dollars! Dollars!
Dollars! Dollars! Dollars!
Dollars! Dollars! Dollars!

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE, | A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors.

County Democratic Nominations.

FOR STATE SENATOR,
ROBERT L. LIVINGSTON,
of Plainfield.

FOR SHERIFF,
THOMAS FORSYTH,
of Elizabeth.

FOR COUNTY CLERK,
JOHN L. CROWELL,
of Rahway.

FOR SURROGATE,
JAMES J. GERBER,
of Elizabeth.

THE UNION COUNTY NOMINEES.

The Union County Democratic Convention was held at Library Hall, Elizabeth, yesterday afternoon. Thomas R. Budd, Esq., Chairman of the County Executive Committee, called the assembled delegates to order shortly after two o'clock, and Dr. James S. Green was unanimously chosen permanent Chairman of the Convention. Messrs. Witton Randolph of this city and Charles H. Lambert of Rahway, were chosen Secretaries, and Messrs. Michael C. Brown, 1st District, Joseph Brown, 2d District, and DeWitt C. Hough, 3rd District, were chosen as Vice Presidents. The committee on credentials were Messrs Wadsworth of Plainfield, McCloud of Elizabeth, and Stivers of Rahway. The committee on resolutions were Messrs. Martine of Plainfield, Colton of Elizabeth, and Mooney of Summit.

Upon a call for nominations for State Senator, the following were named: Robert L. Livingston of Plainfield, Frederick C. Marsh of Elizabeth and James G. Morgan of Rahway. Mr. Marsh's name was withdrawn, and Mr. Livingston was re-nominated to succeed himself, on the first ballot.

Messrs. Thomas Forsyth, Peter L. Hughes, William H. Reynolds and John Keron of Elizabeth, and George W. Doty of Union township were named for nomination as Sheriff. After a close contest, Mr. Forsyth was nominated on the fifth ballot.

Mr. John L. Crowell of Rahway was nominated as County Clerk by acclamation, on motion of Mr. L. F. Wadsworth of this city. Mr. James J. Gerber was nominated in the same manner to succeed himself as Surrogate, on motion of Mr. James E. Martine of this city.

The Convention was most harmonious throughout and the unanimous re-nominations of the present Senator, County Clerk and Surrogate, proved the unity of the party in thought and deed.

A more detailed account of the proceedings will appear in THE DAILY PRESS of this afternoon.

THAT "BOMB SHELL."

Some of the Republican papers and politicians of the county have been in high glee during the past week, and they are pleased to call a "bomb-shell" thrown by the Republicans into the Democratic ranks at the last meeting of the Board of Freeholders. This "bomb-shell," however, is denounced by the respectable Republican lawyers and members of the party as the meanest and most contemptible piece of petty electioneering business ever attempted by any set of partizan politicians. As the editor of this paper, by virtue of his office is an interested party, it would be a little indelicate to enter into any lengthy discussion of the subject, but it is due to the reading public to know into what depths some of the Republicans of this county are descending in their efforts to make capital for the approaching election, and we will give a plain statement of the facts.

The "bomb-shell" referred to is the following resolution, which was suddenly sprung, by a preconcerted plan of a few Republicans, and the Democratic members of the Board of Freeholders not appearing to realize its purport, did not object to it:

WHEREAS, It appearing that the Jury Judges of the Court of Common Pleas have been drawing all the jury as attached to the Court in cases before them in the Court of Common Pleas, Court of Oyer and Terminer, Court of Quarter and Special Sessions and Orphans' Court for many years, and dividing such fees equally between them, and that the Presiding Judge has also been receiving certain fees for particular services rendered, and it further appearing that the Jury Judges for the present term and that period said Jury Judges are only entitled to one-third of the fees received by them, and that the other one-third has been illegally paid to them, and that said Presiding Judge is not entitled to any fees whatever outside the salary allowed him, and it further appearing that he is only entitled to the fees of the Jury Judges, and the one-third of said fees paid the said Jury Judges by the aforesaid Court; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Sheriff, County Clerk and Surrogate of this county of Union Board will hereafter require the payment to them of one-third of the fees handed to the aforesaid Courts and hereafter paid to said Jury Judges, and that the fees heretofore paid to said Presiding Judge, and that the Board will look to said County Clerk, Sheriff and Surrogate for the recovering of the same, and will hold them responsible for the same, unless now or hereafter to become due and paid to said Judges after receiving notice of this resolution.

The insinuating manner in which the resolution is directed at the Judges is to cause the public to believe that they have been "drawing" these fees knowing that they were not legally entitled to them.

Even the common courtesy due to the worst criminal would have shielded the instigators of this resolution to have first consulted with the Judges and pointed out where they were in error in drawing fees; for if such instigators know anything they know that the Jury Judges have no knowledge of what fees they are to receive until such fees are paid over to them in full by the Clerk, Surrogate or Sheriff, at the close of each term—taking what is given them without questioning as to whether it is the half, two-thirds or whole of the fees that have accrued from the business of the term; they have no hand in making out the bills of cost, and it would be impossible for them to keep track of the various matters upon which fees are allowed; hence they trust it to the officers through whose hands all the business goes, and whose duty it is to tax the costs, in all cases. Therefore, if these modern Republican seers have discovered that the officers have been paying out more money than they were allowed to do by law, why was not the resolution directed especially to those officers? Oh, no! That would not do! The sheriff from whose hands the bulk of these fees comes, is a Republican, and it would reflect upon him! The Judges are Democrats and they are the fellows at whose expense Republican capital is hoped to be made.

The resolution says the Judges have been "drawing" these fees for "many years." If there is anything in it, why did they not say, ever since there has been a Law Judge in Union County, which is the fact, and hence Republican Judges have done the same thing exactly that the Democratic Judges are doing.

As appears by the Elizabeth Journal, the County Republican organ, this resolution is based upon the following section of a law passed in 1872:

"That whenever an annual salary is now authorized, by law, to be paid to any law or presiding judge of any court of common pleas of any county in this State, having less than one hundred thousand inhabitants, such judge shall receive no per diem allowances, mileage fees, and only HOW ALLOWED BY LAW to be paid to such judge shall hereafter be paid into the county treasury."

The SMALL CAPS are ours, the Italics the Journal's.

The act creating a Law, or Presiding Judge in Union County, was passed, in 1868, and the section fixing his compensation is as follows:

"And be it enacted, That such additional judge (the law judge) by this act provided for, shall receive a salary of fifteen hundred dollars per annum, payable by the Board of Chosen Freeholders of said county, in quarterly payments, but shall receive no share of the fees or compensation now directly among the judges of said court."

Under that section the county officers have always acted, in paying out the fees, and to the credit of the county will it soon that the law of 1872 could not apply to Union County, as by the original act the Law Judge was not "allowed" any fees, and hence were not allowed him by any subsequent act, as far as we have been able to find, and no lawyer can find it for us as yet.

As to the portion of the resolution referring to fees taken by the Law Judge it appears that the Republican wire-pullers are entirely mistaken, as he has taken no fees in court—the only compensation coming to him, outside of his salary, and to which it is believed he has a perfect right, being for some act done outside of the regular court business by virtue of his position, as a Law Judge.

It seems strange that after all these long years, it has been left for our present wise Board of Freeholders and their wise advisers to make this great discovery.

We are told that at the next meeting of their Board the Attorney will be directed to bring suit against the Judges to recover the amount claimed to have been illegally paid them; and that the "little grey squirrel" in this city is actively engaged skipping through the law books, as assistant to the County Attorney, in "working up the case." There is no necessity, however, for any such suit; let the bows and the facts be referred to the Attorney-General of the State, and if he says any portion of the fees has been paid by the County Officers to the Judges illegally, and that it is their duty to sue for the amount back to the County, they will cheerfully do so, without the necessity of putting any "fees" into the County Attorney's pocket, by suit.

This manner of procedure by the majority of the Board of Freeholders is generally denounced as contemptible, and their evident intention to implicate the Judges in an illegal action is considered libelous and many are urging suitable legal proceedings against the board whose Republican majority has evidently overdone the matter in their anxiety to make political capital, and it will doubtless prove a boomerang, as the most respectable portion of the Republican party is not yet entirely lost to a sense of all decency and honor.—Rahway National Democrat.

Honor Vindicated.

The paper of a rival contemporary betrayed it, Tuesday, into the publication of an article reflecting upon the personal character of some member of the staff of this paper. We had prepared to begin at once legal proceedings in vindication of our honor, but the writer of the article becoming convinced upon the testimony of unimpeachable witnesses that he had been too ready to listen to the malice of enemies and that the innuendoes contained in the article were each and all false, has in the most honorable manner sought to make amends and publishes in his paper of Wednesday, his conviction that he was deceived in the statements and that the slanderous assertions are absolutely untrue. He has personally assured us that he acted in good faith but was deceived, and now proposes in an act of simple justice to set the matter right. Where a man publicly admits his mistake and sets about righting a cruel wrong committed, we can well afford to accept the reparation offered.

Budd Wins the Match.

The shooting match on the Middlesex Gun Club grounds at Dunellen, between Messrs. C. W. Budd of Des Moines, Iowa, and John L. Brewer of Philadelphia, for a purse of $500, took place October 13th. There was a large representation of the sporting fraternity present, including such well-known sportsmen as Kleinz, Heft, Peacock, Graham, Cannon, and many local sportsmen. The conditions of the match were 100 live birds each, 30 yards rise, according to Hurlingham rules. Mr. W. F. Quinlan acted in the capacity of referee and stakeholder, and his decisions were considered just and fair by all. It will be seen by the accompanying score that Budd led by three birds on the twenty-fifth, on the fiftieth Budd led by two, while Brewer secured the lead on the fiftieth round and led by one, and at the close of the match Budd led by two birds, he having killed 92 out of 100. Following is the score in detail:

SHOTS	Kill.	Miss.
2 1 1 1

CITY DEPARTMENT

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION

J. A. DEMAREST, - Cit Editor.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS
CLOSE—7.30 A.M., 12.30 P.M., 4.45 and 8.00 P.M.
ARRIVE—7.30, 9.30, 11.15 A.M., 2.30 and 5.30 P.M.

SOUTH MAILS, EASTON, &c., MAILS.
CLOSE—7.30 A.M., 12.30, 4.45, 8.00 P.M.
ARRIVE—9.30 A.M., 2.30, 5.30 P.M.

SUNDAY MAILS—CLOSE—8.15 A.M. Office open from 8.30 A.M. to 10.30 A.M. Mail closes at P.M. and the Watchung comes Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 12 M.

Post office open 7 A.M. and closes at 7.30 P.M. Saturdays, closes at 8.00 P.M. Open every evening until 8.00 P.M., to connect with boats.

Money order office open from 9 A.M., 10 P.M. Saturdays to 12 P.M.

W. L. FOSS, Postmaster.

The members of the Y. M. C. A. will gather around a camp fire on the evening of Tuesday, October 25th.

The 7.37 A.M. train from this city connects no more with the Long Branch division. Take the 12.35.

The last piece of timber in the Casino rink building on Grove street, was torn down and carted away Saturday last.

A regular meeting of Howell Division, Sons of Temperance, was held last evening. Only business of importance to the Division was transacted.

It looks like coming Winter to see a thousand dozen of canned goods arriving in town. Messrs. Barkalow & Dunn say the first to get in their supply.

The second of four young homing pigeons belonging to Mr. George Sanders, of North Plainfield, that were released in Washington, D. C., on Saturday a.m., returned to its loft Friday last.

The M. E. church people expect their new Sunday School rooms will be ready for occupancy by the fifth Sunday in the first of January. The ladies of the church are taking of holding a fair thereof during December.

At the morning service in St. Mary's church on Sunday, Rev. Father Smyth, the pastor, stated that the net receipts from the recent fair, in aid of the church, amounted to $2,000. This is considered an admirable showing.

The increased business of Mr. J. H. Wilson at his stone crusher in the Notch, has necessitated the addition of facilities for filling his numerous orders, and he is therefore now engaged in putting in a new boiler and engine of six horse.

The frame in front of the property of the David S. Brown estate on Park avenue, at Fifth street, has been set back on a line with the other fences. The few feet of ground thus added to the city becomes the property of the owner of the charge, cost in the neighborhood of $100.

The Board of Directors of the Plainfield Building and Loan Association held a meeting in Crater's Hall, Monday night, and besides the transaction of some regular business, elected Mr. W. B. Codington to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Gabriel Bachman.

The large ball on the spire of the Seventh Day Baptist church has been taken off and the cross and ball from the ball enclosed in a glass bottle, has been placed the item clipped from THE PRESS containing the names of the two men who are painting the steeple.

It is said that a Pinkerton detective has been in the city during the past few days looking up certain evidence which may throw light into concerning interviews before long. THE PRESS is now in possession of some of the facts, relating to the detective's work, but it cannot yet give them to the public.

On Saturday next will occur an interesting trotting match on the track at the Fair Grounds, between Councilman Warring's gray mare, "Kissing," and Mr. Tyler's "Bobby Bobbit" and Mr. W. N. Noble's horse, "Peasgood." The race will be for a handsome silver cup offered by Mr. J. W. Johnson of Kissing.

The Workers' Training Class of the Y. M. C. A. resumed its regular work on Sunday morning, Oct. 2d, under the leadership of Mr. F. E. Kissam, and will be continued every Sunday morning from 9 to 10.15 o'clock. Young men desiring greater efficiency in christian service, will find this an important means of accomplishing the same.

The generosity of Messrs. Schepplin, Baldwin, Twohy & Co., towards their employees was shown on Saturday evening last, when each of them found in the envelope containing their week's wages, an admission ticket to Col. M. W. Tyler's lecture on "The Constitution of the United States," at Music Hall on the evening of Tuesday, November 8th, the proceeds of which will go to the Public Library.

Gilbert Schroppe, an employee in the coal yard of the David J. Boice estate, was severely injured about the head and back while unloading coal at Dr. Hall's mansion on Watchung avenue, Friday last. By a sudden jolting of the wagon Schroppe was thrown from his seat to the ground, striking the stone foundation of the building in the fall. A physician dressed his wounds and he was later taken to his home on Church street.

Anna Barrett, a two year-old colored girl, living on E. 3d street, was badly burned about the face and hands yesterday afternoon, while playing around a bon-fire. The little one's clothing caught fire, and before the flames could be extinguished she was severely burned. A young cousin of the injured girl, named Josie Barrett, assisted in putting out the fire. Dr. Boone was called in and prescribed the usual remedies.

John Hildebrandt, aged sixty years, a painter employed by John Weaver, a brother of the Messrs. Weaver brothers of North Plainfield, fell from a ladder, a distance of about forty feet, while engaged in painting a house at Somerville on Saturday afternoon, and sustained probably fatal injuries. His left arm was broken at the elbow, his nose was dislocated and his body terribly lacerated. He is a prominent member of the Odd Fellows Lodge of Somerville.

A letter was received from the Anson Keag Works, at Manchester, N. H., recently, stating that Gazette engine, that was sent to the shop for repairs a few weeks ago, was now in the hands of the painters and would be ready for shipment in about two weeks. The engine has been undergoing thorough repair, and when returned to this city will be in excellent condition, having new wheels, new axles, and locomotive springs under the boiler, besides other improvements.

Personals.

Detective "Murphy" is anticipating a trip of a few days to his parents, and the community at large need have no fear as to his safety, during his absence.

Mr Frank Vosseller, son of the late County Clerk James R. Vosseller, has secured a lucrative position with the popular clothing firm of Marshall & Ball, Newark, N. J.

Dry Shaw displays in the window of his photographic studio a fine photograph of Detroit's champion ball nine. The picture was a present to the ruler-of-the-weather by President Richards, of the Club.

Joshua Bee, at one time a pastor of the Scotch Plains church, but for a long time past a resident of Hightstown, died on Wednesday of last week. His remains were interred at Fanwood Monday.

In another column is recorded the indictment by the Grand Jury of some of the Elizabethtown rioters, and through the efforts of Mr. Edward S. Worsley, better known to the public as "Murphy the detective."

Mr. Andrew Lutkins, who came near being snowed under in Northwestern part of New York State in his eagerness to supply the demand of our citizens for choice stock and produce, has returned to the more genial climate of this city.

Rev. R. W. Holmes and family left Tuesday for Auburn, N. Y., where they will remain among friends until November 1st, when they will proceed to Warren, Pa., at which place they have been called to be installed as pastor of the Presbyterian church of that place.

Mrs. C. N. Griffin, a sister of Rev. W. H. Honeyman arrived in town Friday on the way to her home at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. The lady has been on an extended trip through the West and Southwest, stopping at St. Louis, Topeka, Denver, Hot Springs, Santa Fe, and other cities. The entire trip occupied about three months.

Mr. Charles Bock and family, who have been visiting friends and relatives in Germany the past summer, returned to their home in this city, via the steamer Lessing, of the Hamburg, Bremen, Line, making the passage in the quick time of eleven days. Mr. Bock reports as having a pleasant return voyage and exceedingly interesting one.

The Plainfield Bicycle Club will be indeed fortunate if it induces Mr. John M. Crane to accept the Chairmanship of its House Committee—which honor has been offered upon him by the Board of Trustees last evening. Since Mr. Crane's withdrawal from all active personal interest and care, the Club's prosperity has not at the present—or rather, lack of "mercy"—of a few thoughtless members.

Mr. Winfield S. Angleman of this city, a correspondent reporter for many of the New York dailies, has been placed in charge as business manager of the Rev. Dr. Parker, of London, now on a lecture and tour through this country. Later he will probably act in the same capacity for Mr. Charles Dickens, Jr., who has just arrived from London, and who will read from his father's writings.

The long promised lecture from Col. Mason W. Tyler is to be given in Music Hall, this evening. Not as the 18th, as the subject will be "The Constitution of the United States." Admission will a reserved seat will be placed at 50 and 75 cents, and the entire proceeds will be given to the Public Library for the purchase of books. One of the Trustees pays all the cost of the Hall, so the gain should be a large one.

Lizzie, the nine-year-old daughter of Marks Lee, the janitor of Warren Mission chapel, died suddenly at the home of her friends on Chatham street, North Plainfield, about two o'clock Monday afternoon. The little one was about as usual last week, and on Saturday she was playing with a dog when with a cough which subsequently developed into membranenous croup and resulted in death, as above stated. Lizzie was a very bright and intelligent child for her years, and her death will be especially severe to her parents, to whom she was devoted. The funeral took place at the Warren Mission chapel yesterday afternoon at half-past two o'clock. Interment in the M. E. cemetery.

In reply to the to an invitation from Mrs. William Taylor of East Fifth street, a number of the clergyman of the city and others interested attended at that lady's residence, the evening of the 13th inst., as informal reception to Pundita Ramabai, a High Caste Hindoo lady and Vice President for India of the World's Women's Christian Union. Although very tired after long travel, she expressed herself as much pleased to meet and make hands with so many friends of her hostess. This morning Ramabai visited Plainfield's public schools and told a PRESS reporter afterwards of her surprise and admiration at the good order and fine appearance of the classes and scholars. Friday evening she addressed a meeting under the auspices of the Union Signal Committee, in place of Miss Robie Duryea, resigned; Miss Fay Young entertained with Miss Ella Burnett, who would be taught how to make their own homes cheerful with what they had.

The routine business of the "Y." followed the close of Miss Mather's lecture and the following members were appointed to fill vacancies: Miss Carrie Lowrie, on Devotional Committee, in place of Miss Lillian Mathis, resigned; Miss Josie Drake, on Visiting Committee, in place of Miss Robie Duryea, resigned; Miss Fay Young entertained with Miss Ella Burnett, who would be taught how to make their own homes cheerful with what they had.

The routine business of the "Y." followed the close of Miss Mather's lecture and the following members were appointed to fill vacancies: Miss Carrie Lowrie, on Devotional Committee, in place of Miss Lillian Mathis, resigned; Miss Josie Drake, on Visiting Committee, in place of Miss Robie Duryea, resigned; Miss Fay Young entertained with Miss Ella Burnett, who would be taught how to make their own homes cheerful with what they had.

The Work of the "Y's."

The regular business meeting of the "Y" was held at their new rooms, on East Front street, Monday afternoon. A cordial invitation extended the public, resulted in the filling of the rooms to overflowing with friends and strangers, all audibly expressive in their admiration of the Union's new quarters. The rooms were formally dedicated upon the occasion by having spoken words of welcome, the singing of a hymn, and devotional exercises consisting of prayer and scripture reading conducted by the Rev. Dr. Richards, pastor of the Congregational church. The "Y" President, Miss Hattie Burnett, then introduced Miss Mary H. Mather, of Washington, Del., National Secretary of the Health Department of the W. C. T. U., who gave a very interesting talk upon Hygiene. Among other points of work described, that which seemed particularly to attract the attention of the "Y's" was the formation of a "Church of Home Helps," at Miss Mather would be taught how to make their own homes cheerful with what they had.

The routine business of the "Y." followed the close of Miss Mather's lecture and the following members were appointed to fill vacancies: Miss Carrie Lowrie, on Devotional Committee, in place of Miss Lillian Mathis, resigned; Miss Josie Drake, on Visiting Committee, in place of Miss Robie Duryea, resigned; Miss Fay Young entertained with Miss Ella Burnett, who would be taught how to make their own homes cheerful with what they had.

The routine business of the "Y." followed the close of Miss Mather's lecture and the following members were appointed to fill vacancies: Miss Carrie Lowrie, on Devotional Committee, in place of Miss Lillian Mathis, resigned; Miss Josie Drake, on Visiting Committee, in place of Miss Robie Duryea, resigned; Miss Fay Young entertained with Miss Ella Burnett, who would be taught how to make their own homes cheerful with what they had.

New Officers of Trinity Church.

At the annual election for officers of Trinity Reformed church, held in the lecture room of the church Wednesday evening, the following were chosen:

Elders: Dr. R. Ditmarth, R. R. Field and C. Q. Dolliver, for two years each. B. A. Hegeman for unexpired term of one year.

Deacons: A. L. Force, E. E. Anthony and J. K. Arnold for two years each.

Plainfield Land Improvement Co.

The papers were filed at Trenton Wednesday of last week, incorporating the Company that owns and will build upon the property recently described in THE PRESS as having been bought of the Isaac Randolph estate, in the vicinity of the Pond Tract Works. The interested are Messrs. Jacob Kirkner, W. H. Brower, J. T. Fritts, M. D., W. C. Kelly, John I. Reilly, S. G. Smith, A. Waldron, A. Lutkins and L. A. Bushner.

New Officers.

At the regular meeting for the annual election of officers of the Young People's Association of the Crescent Avenue church, held in the church parlors Friday evening last the following were chosen:

President—Wm. T. Kaufman, re-elected.
Vice President—C. A. Barnes.
Secretary—Frank Bowman.
Treasurer—Howard Burke.

Mrs. S. A. Potter gave a "dinner" to a select few of her friends on Friday evening last, at her beautiful residence on Grove street, North Plainfield. Covers were laid for ten.

Almost A Conflagration.

The rock in the empty of Mr. D. S. Knight, who occupies Mr. Wm. Blood-good's handsome residence on Ninth street, discovered fire breaking out through the wall near the parlor grate Thursday morning last as she first came down stairs. With some difficulty the fire was quenched, but a half-hour later it was discovered, it would have developed into a blaze that would probably have destroyed the entire house and its contents. The timbers had been built too near the fire place, and had been charred until they burned their way through at last.

Mutual Aid Society

The annual meeting for the election of officers of the Potter's Mutual Aid Society, composed of members of the Potter Press Works, was held in the Democratic Association rooms on E. Front street Friday last. The financial report showed a balance of over $100 in the treasury. Officers were elected as follows:

President—Thomas Cunderlin.
Secretary—J. L. Duckworth.
Treasurer—George Titsworth.

This organization has been in existence for about one year and has a membership of 125. Its object is simply for the mutual benefit of its members in case of accident, sickness etc.

Farewell Reception to the Rev. Mr. Holmes.

In spite of other attractions in the way of entertainment the same evening, the parlors of Crescent Avenue church were comfortably filled the night of the 13th last., with those invited to take part by their presence in a farewell reception to the Rev. R. S. Holmes. After some years of residence in this city, and connection with the Chautauqua University as its Registrar, Mr. Holmes leaves to accept the pastorate of the Presbyterian church at Warren, Pa., in a few days. The members of the C. L. S. C. in this city, the scholars of his class, the teachers of Warren Mission and a few others invited from his many friends, gathered together Thursday evening last in an endeavor to make the parting less sad.

About seventy-five were present when the Rev. Dr. Richards made a few remarks and introduced the Rev. Mr. Hurlbut. The latter's speech closed with the presentation of twelve handsomely bound volumes—six of Browning's works and six of other poets. The speech was a most flattering one, but true and just, and in reply Mr. Holmes expressed his regret that it could not be preserved because he would ask for no better obituary. The class of '87 of the C. L. S. C. and Circle of the C. L. S. C., for the books presented. Later he was again called upon to give thanks, after Superintendent H. A. Goodall had presented a high standing lamp of polished brass with a beautifully made shade of yellow satin, from the members of Mr. Holmes' bible class. There was besides music by a quartette composed of Mrs. Davis, Miss Runyon and Messrs. Runyon and Barnes, and refreshments for two hundred. Dr. J. D. Vincent, who is West, sent his regret at his absence.

Royal Reunion of the Royal Arcanum.

From nine o'clock p. m., till midnight of Wednesday, 19th inst., the large Hall of Good Fellows Hotel on North av. was filled with good fellows, good words and good cheer—and the members of Plainfield Council, Royal Arcanum, and their guests were filled with good things to eat. The occasion was the fifth annual supper of the home Council, and as its guests were the grand officers of the State. The event was a tasteful one, as were its contents, and at each plate was a fragrant bouquet. The hotel exceeded even its fine supper table, and spread a supper of oysters, salads, game and pastry that was most bountiful and gratifying. The tables were set along three sides of the hall, and at the centre were located Mr. W. J. Leonard, Regent of Plainfield Council, with the grand officers at his right and left, Hardy were present, all of whom thoroughly enjoyed the occasion and fairly overflowed with fraternal feeling. During the course of the supper music was rendered in the parlor, but at additional charm. When the inner man was satisfied and cigars were lighted, Regent Leonard introduced in succession the speakers of the evening, or unexpectedly called upon others for a few words of good will. Mr. Leonard's own words of welcome to all and congratulation to the order, were well chosen and received with applause. He was followed by Supreme Representative McDowell, Grand Regent Darlock, Grand Secretary Alberts, Past Regent Miles, of Asbury Park, District Deputy Grant, of Westfield, and Mr. Cooper of Scotch Plains. These guests all spoke their appreciation of the entertainment set forth and congratulated Plainfield Council on its unprecedented growth of fifty per cent. within the past year. The benefit and fraternal features of the order were thoroughly discussed, and the Christian spirit and charity of its members was shown by the suggestion and the taking up of a collection for Muhlenberg Hospital. While they were enjoying a few hours of pleasure at themselves, they sought to contribute towards a few hours of comfort for some one less fortunate. Twenty-one dollars and fifty cents was the result of this spontaneous feeling. Of the Plainfield members who spoke were Mr. Seymour Marsh, who, by his personal effort and unbounded charity, has brought the greatest number of members into Plainfield Council; Mr. W. H. Lyon, Jr., the founder of the Plainfield Council, and Messrs. Waldo Rudolph, John H. French, E. L. Morris, B. F. Cottell, Rev. Mr. Love, and Mr. Faytell, Mr. J. J. H. Pedjon spoke as a guest of the organization of the new Council. Plainfield Council surely deserves every good word of it and for it. It has increased wonderfully in membership, and at its examination—on Monday evening passing its first one-hundred. This membership includes the representative men of the city—men of all professions and lines of business. A clergyman, a senator, physicians, lawyers, bankers, journalists and almost every other kind and condition of men are found together for one another's benefit in Plainfield Council, Royal Arcanum.

New Officers of the P. A. S. C.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Pond Ave. Social Club held Monday night, the following officers were elected for the ensuing six months:

President—H. S. Richards.
Vice President—G. S. Schlereth.
Secretary—R. W. Robinson.
Treasurer—C. C. Morris.
Sergeant at Arms—G. S. Martin.

The report of the Treasurer showed the Club to be in a very satisfactory financial condition, and its membership speaks well of its success as a social organization.

Taken to His Friends.

Early in July last Neil Ichein, a tramp, was passing through Dunellen on a coal train, when he lost his hold, and falling to the ground was run over by the cars. His left leg was so terribly crushed that amputation became necessary, and the operation was successfully performed at Muhlenberg Hospital, where the injured man was taken. THE PRESS remarked at the time of the accident, that when the man proceeded on his journey he would have to limp a leg. Since then, however, he has been gradually improving under the treatment of the efficient corps of physicians and surgeons at the Hospital. On the 13th inst. the man came out of that institution accompanied by a crutch, and through Mr. J. A. Haynes, of the Central Railroad Company furnished him with free transportation to Pittsburgh, where he claims to have relatives living. He took passage on the Baltimore and Ohio express train the same day for Pittsburgh.

Sowing at Dunellen.

An interesting game of ball was played between the members of the Dunellen and Middlesex bowling Clubs, took place on the grounds adjoining Mr. C. Schlereth's residence in Dunellen, on the 13th inst.) The match was the first of a series of contests for the Handren Challenge Cup to be completed for annually. The Club winning it three times in succession to become the permanent owner of the trophy. The skip making the greatest number of points against his opponent becomes the custodian of the cup for the year. The cup went to Hon. James Stevens of Jersey City, to be held by him during the year. The following is the result:

RINK NO'1.

DUNELLEN.		MIDDLESEX.
John Young	10	W. E. Lindsell. 1
Jno. Mc.	2	Dr. C. M. Slack. 2
James O. Haynes	1	Mr. J. B. Boyle. 3
James Stevens	4	H. L. Mowbray. skip

RINK NO. 2.

D. S. Cockefair	1	Sheriff Farrell	1
Geo. M. Stone	2	Gov. Fort-leigh	2
Dr. Adams	3	Mr. Jno. Mc.	3
Thos. Stone	skip	E. R. Wills	skip

THE RESULT:

Rink No. 1—Dunellen, 30. Middlesex, 12.
Rink No. 2—Dunellen, 42. Middlesex, 17.

Industrial School.

The one great need of the Industrial School, at present, is a reinforcement of teachers. The school has launched boldly upon the Winter's work with some thirty-five or forty classes, and the list is still growing under, excepting those which are yet destitute of teachers. While there are already engaged in the work some fifty young ladies besides the eight officers—and among these many faithful ones—yet there are not enough to carry on the system successfully, and the lack of teachers proves a hindrance to the progress of the school. Surely this good work will not be allowed to suffer for the want of helpers. A word to the patrons and friends of the school will be sufficient and it is hoped that this hint will bring the needed workers to the rescue next Saturday afternoon at 2 30 o'clock in the Warren Mission Chapel. The march by the scholars at the close of the weekly session is receiving special attention and is being made vastly more attractive—pleasing and repeatedly testify. The singing has been conducted during the past year by Miss Lilian Runyon, and as a special favor she has been induced to lead again this year until after the holidays, when Mrs. Asa Collier will succeed her and take charge of the music.

Close of the Fair.

St. Mary's Hall was again opened for business on the evening of the 13th, and the articles left over from the recent fair in aid of St. Mary's church were disposed of. The competition for "chances" by the young ladies on the various articles was very amusing, and at the close of the day the young man was heard to say that he had been "tiled" of about $2.50, and "didn't draw anything either." Articles were awarded from the several tables to the following persons:

Solidity Table—Set of China, Miss Gussie Laughlin; set of silver, Miss Nora Callahan; silver cake basket, Miss Julia Bannon; lemonade set, George Force; pin cushion, Dr. W. C. Boone; statue, Mrs. E. Berry; quilt, Mrs. Jones.

Dramatic Table—Caster, John O'Reily; doll, F. Lawler; pictures, Miss Emma McIntyre; pond lily placques, Miss M. Feeny.

St. Mary's T. A. B. Soc'y Table—French clock, Dr. W. C. Boone; Canary, Miss Sarah McNally; pair blankets, Martin Van Buskirk, J. G. Watson; boy's suit of clothes, Miss Katie Morris; barrel of flour, R. H. Burt.

Rosary Table—An elegant dinner set of 100 pieces, was awarded to Mrs. Dr. McElroy of No. 146 Thirtieth street, N. Y. This handsome prize will be presented to Rev. Father Smyth, rector of St. Mary's church. Handkerchief case, Miss Maggie McBride; silver cake basket, Miss Alice Ennis.

At the close of the fair some of the members of the Dramatic Association serenaded the Misses Carney at their home on West Third street.

An Insane Man at Large.

On Tuesday, April 19th last, Chief of Police Dodd conveyed John Day, son of Mr. P. Day of West Third street, to the insane asylum at Morris Plains. The unfortunate young man was adjudged insane upon proper examination, and committed to the asylum upon the necessary certificate signed by reputable physicians of this city. While there, under the treatment that experience has taught is the most conducive of desired results, he had grew better in health and spirits, and so much quieter and more rational that upon his mother's request he was released and placed in her care again at the home of his parents in this city. Just as it took six months in the asylum to accomplish what had his imagination, so it took about eight days at home to confuse it again. It will be just six months to-morrow since he was confined to the asylum. Tuesday he was again in Chief Dodd's charge, awaiting some disposal.

When young Day wandered away from his home Tuesday, he strolled down town in his lame feet, and up into the office of the Corporation Counsel. Here he demanded letters of administration of some estate he owned not name. He claimed, however, "that he was one of the heirs and his share was "one-half of St. Mary's Church property." Asked his name, and was inclined to think that possibly "his client" might think he had some ground for his claim, but when Day informed him his age was thirty-nine, spite of the fact so evident on the face of him that he was but about twenty—the lawyer knew what the trouble was. Later he was interviewed by a reporter of the station house to make complaint against "some women," who, he claimed, were "continually tampering with him." But he was then notified of her son's actions and whereabouts, but she seemed still desirous of having him released and placed in the charge again. Tuesday afternoon, however, young Day was taken back to the asylum in a carriage, accompanied by his father.

Malicious Destruction.

Some evil disposed person or persons broke into the corner sewing works of Van De Voort & Sloan, on South ave., Monday night, and maliciously broke and destroyed considerable of the machinery, besides stealing, however, and the damage done, although costly, did not interfere with the starting up and running of the works Tuesday morning as usual.

A Narrow Escape.

A frightened horse dashed around the corner of North avenue and Prune street, on Saturday afternoon, and came to upset the buggy behind him and throw his occupants, Mr. Berry and little daughter into the sidewalk. They miraculously escaped any injury save a few bruises, and took a seat by their home on Prune street, opposite Park place. The horse was frightened by the sudden lighting of the electric lamps, and after emptying the buggy left it under the Front street bridge, continuing his course through E. Fifth street, where he was captured by Dr. J. H. Forster.

Sixteenth Wedding Anniversary.

The residence of Mr. Seymour G. Smith, on Central ave. was the scene of gaiety and enjoyment Monday evening, the occasion being the sixteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Smith. Guests were present from New York, Brooklyn, Westfield and other places besides from this city. Entertaining music, dancing and other enjoyments filled the hours, and all present pronounced the evening a most delightful one. The refreshment tables were loaded down with delicacies of the season. The genial host and pleasant hostess were heartily congratulated by their numerous friends present over their wedding anniversary and the pleasurable events of the occasion.

A Pleasant Evening.

A few of the numerous friends of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Taggart of Sycamore avenue, Washington Park, gave them a most agreeable surprise, Monday evening, the occasion being the sixth anniversary of their wedding. All the social pleasures of congenial intercourse, music and a bountiful supper, were thoroughly enjoyed.

Among those present were the Rev. and Mrs. T. Logan Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Dupre, Mr. I. D. Yaeger, Mr. and Mrs. Chadwick Wann, Miss Grace W. Luther, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Warman, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McClymont, Mrs. J. A. Brown, Mrs. Jas. Sprouse.

Ackerman Wins.

The often postponed road race for the championship of the Plainfield Bicycle Club, occurred on Saturday as we stated. Mr. Heyniger, of the contestants, did not start, and the race was a close one between Marion Ackerman, Frank L. C. Martin and George Morrison. Secretary Poindexter started the trio at New Market, from there the course was down to Brunswick and back to a finish at New Brooklyn. It was a waiting race for all. The three kept together during the entire race until near the finish, when Morrison spurted ahead too soon, was not able to hold the position, and was passed by Ackerman, who won the race, and Martin who finished a close second. The distance, about twelve miles, with many sandy spots, was covered in 54 minutes and 30 seconds. This is fair time considering the road. The winner—it is claimed by his friends—had to ride a heavier machine than either of his competitors.

A Worthless Employee Robs His Room Mate.

About ten days ago, a German, apparently about twenty years of age, came to this city, and sought employment with the Plainfield Wire Co. The same day he was given employment for a day or two, and on Saturday, a week ago, Mr. Henry Lieske kindly took the man into his employ, although he was not at that time in need of any more help. The man could not speak a word of English, and Mr. Lieske took compassion on him, and has been induced to lead again this year until after the holidays, when Mrs. Asa Collier will succeed her and take charge of the music.

Close of the Fair.

St. Mary's Hall was again opened for business on the evening of the 13th, and the articles left over from the recent fair in aid of St. Mary's church were disposed of. The competition for "chances" by the young ladies on the various articles was very amusing, and at the close of the day the young man was heard to say that he had been "tiled" of about $2.50, and "didn't draw anything either." Articles were awarded from the several tables to the following persons:

Solidity Table—Set of China, Miss Gussie Laughlin; set of silver, Miss Nora Callahan; silver cake basket, Miss Julia Bannon; lemonade set, George Force; pin cushion, Dr. W. C. Boone; statue, Mrs. E. Berry; quilt, Mrs. Jones.

Dramatic Table—Caster, John O'Reily; doll, F. Lawler; pictures, Miss Emma McIntyre; pond lily placques, Miss M. Feeny.

St. Mary's T. A. B. Soc'y Table—French clock, Dr. W. C. Boone; Canary, Miss Sarah McNally; pair blankets, Martin Van Buskirk, J. G. Watson; boy's suit of clothes, Miss Katie Morris; barrel of flour, R. H. Burt.

Rosary Table—An elegant dinner set of 100 pieces, was awarded to Mrs. Dr. McElroy of No. 146 Thirtieth street, N. Y. This handsome prize will be presented to Rev. Father Smyth, rector of St. Mary's church. Handkerchief case, Miss Maggie McBride; silver cake basket, Miss Alice Ennis.

At the close of the fair some of the members of the Dramatic Association serenaded the Misses Carney at their home on West Third street.

An Insane Man at Large.

On Tuesday, April 19th last, Chief of Police Dodd conveyed John Day, son of Mr. P. Day of West Third street, to the insane asylum at Morris Plains. The unfortunate young man was adjudged insane upon proper examination, and committed to the asylum upon the necessary certificate signed by reputable physicians of this city. While there, under the treatment that experience has taught is the most conducive of desired results, he had grew better in health and spirits, and so much quieter and more rational that upon his mother's request he was released and placed in her care again at the home of his parents in this city. Just as it took six months in the asylum to accomplish what had his imagination, so it took about eight days at home to confuse it again. It will be just six months to-morrow since he was confined to the asylum. Tuesday he was again in Chief Dodd's charge, awaiting some disposal.

When young Day wandered away from his home Tuesday, he strolled down town in his lame feet, and up into the office of the Corporation Counsel. Here he demanded letters of administration of some estate he owned not name. He claimed, however, "that he was one of the heirs and his share was "one-half of St. Mary's Church property." Asked his name, and was inclined to think that possibly "his client" might think he had some ground for his claim, but when Day informed him his age was thirty-nine, spite of the fact so evident on the face of him that he was but about twenty—the lawyer knew what the trouble was. Later he was interviewed by a reporter of the station house to make complaint against "some women," who, he claimed, were "continually tampering with him." But he was then notified of her son's actions and whereabouts, but she seemed still desirous of having him released and placed in the charge again. Tuesday afternoon, however, young Day was taken back to the asylum in a carriage, accompanied by his father.

THE CITY SAUNTERER.

Runaway.

The horse attached to the wagon of John Albert, a baker of Cottage place, ran away Monday morning, and in turning the corner of Park avenue and E. Fourth street the vehicle collided with a tree, knocked off its wheels, broke its springs and was left a total wreck surrounded by a few hundred pieces of staff ground to the dust. Mr. Albert and his man had jumped out previously, and thus saved themselves from serious injury. The contents of the misery box were also ruined in the road but was probably all picked up after a careful search. The horse ran for home.

Another Warning to Boys.

William Watts, aged seventeen years, was run over by the cars near Somerville on Saturday evening, and instantly killed. The young man was employed in the Raritan Woolen Mills. On Saturday, at the close of the day's work he received his wages which he gave to Pandemrod to his mother, and was allowed to keep fifty cents for spending money. The mother warned him to be careful of the cars, but in company with some of his companions, he attempted to jump on a passing coal train, engine No. 182, when he slipped and fell under the wheels. Both legs were cut off at the body and he was otherwise terribly mangled.

Teachers' Association.

The Somerset County Teachers' Association met in the North Plainfield Public School building on Saturday, Oct. 15th, 1887. The meeting was called to order at ten a. m., by Mr. Gains Hoffman, President. After the opening exercises, the minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. The first thing on the programme was a talk on "Business Forms" by W. A. Coddington, followed by discussion by Mr. S. C. Hamilton. Recess then gave an address on the State Reading Circle work. The afternoon session was called to order at 1.30 P. M. Mr. Griffin, of Newark, then gave an address on "The New Education." The Committee on Resolutions made a report, after which Mr. R. B. Dodd read a paper on "Common Law." The Association adjourned to hold its next meeting at Raritan on the first Saturday in February.

A Sudden Death.

Wm. Peacock, an old and respected resident of Clinton avenue, dropped dead about half-past 7 o'clock Monday evening. He was in the 79th year of his age, and had been in feeble health for some time past, although able to be about the house. After supper he walked out of the back door, and was soon after found by his son, Wm. Jr., lying dead on the ground, where he is supposed to have fallen from the porch. On the forehead there was a deep gash, and he was severely other bruises on the head. Apoplexy is assigned by the attending physician as the cause of death. The deceased was universally esteemed by all who knew him. Until forced to desist from actual labors on account of ill-health, he was for many years in sole charge of the Havemeyer estate in New York city, since he has been living a retired life in the house in which he died. A wife and five sons survive him. The funeral took place from the house Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock.

Did They Elope?

Society at Union Village was shocked last week when it was learned that farmer Daniel Walling was on Wednesday quietly married to Miss Maggie Hamilton. The couple, it is said, have been quietly keeping company for some time, and even their most intimate friends were surprised to hear that on Wednesday Mr. Walling drove over to the house of his adored, and invited the fair one to accompany him. The young lady, whose mother is dead, acts in the capacity of house-keeper in her father's family. She transferred her household cares to her youthful suitor for the time being, and accepted the invitation of her lover. Scarcely had the two started on their journey when the report of matrimony was thoroughly discussed, and soon after when the vehicle was driven up to the M. E. parsonage at New Providence, the couple were alighted and informed Rev. Mr. Tindle, the pastor, that the object of their visit was to become man and wife. The obliging clergyman at once set about which the bride was introduced into the home of the groom, who, by the way, was a widower, and over which daughters was a most intimate friend and companion of the lady he had just wedded. The following night Mr. and Mrs. Walling's home was tendered a party by young men, constituting a tin-pan brigade. They were all invited in and treated to doughnuts and cider.

Mother Goose at Fanwood.

The Mother Goose Party held in Fanwood, last Friday night, at the home of Mr. Clarence W. Smith, was a complete success. The costumes were all cleverly gotten up, and when the characters entered it was interesting to note the different ways in which two persons would illustrate the same character. Thus one "Mistress Mary" came in the ever-popular Greenaway" picture with her flowered gown and delicately painted apron, while another empassioned the title with silver bells, and cockle shells," by a liberal trimming of tiny bells which rang at every movement. Where all was so excellent it may seem invidious to single out any for description, but one costume was so exceedingly simple and yet so effective that it may give a hint to some one in need of a dissipation. The costume was made at an immense sack into which the lady who was to wear it, got bodily, and it was then drawn up and tied above her head. Holes were cut for the head and arms which were the only things to show the quality of the mail. Dancing and games engaged most of the evening, and the party did not break up until after midnight. The characters represented were as follows:

Mr. Geo. Kyte,	"Robinson Crusoe."
Mrs. Geo. Kyte,	"Mother Hubbard."
Mr. Smith,	"Jack in a box."
Mrs. Smith,	"Fancy."
Mr. W. S. Seddart,	"Simple Simon met the pieman."
Mr. Harry Kyte,	"Crooked Man."
Mr. C. C. Eleb,	"Pieman."
Mrs. Kirkman,	"Bellringer for Church."
Mr. Voree,	"The Priest all shaven and shorn."
Mr. Bowne,	"Man all tattered and torn."
Mr. Dowsse,	"Man all tattered and torn."
Mrs. Bowne,	Eastville.
Mr. Simpson,	"As I was coming to St. Ives."
Mrs. Simpson,	"Little Bo Peep."
Mr. Bates,	"Three Wise Men of Gotham."
Mrs. Bates,	"Mary had a little lamb."
Dr. Gilmor,	"Crooked Man."
Mr. F. A. Stiver,	"Mistress Quickly."
Miss L. Wilt,	"Mistress Mary."
Miss Annie Wilt,	"Old Woman."
Miss Annie Wilt,	"Old Woman."
Miss Bertha Smith,	"Bo Peep."
Miss Jessie Smith,	"Maiden all forlorn."
Miss Jessie Smith,	"Nell."
Mr. Warburton,	"Jack."
Mr. Fancher,	Eastville.
Mrs. Fancher,
Miss Linnie Gaston,

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING COLUMN.

Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla cures Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Dandruff, Boils, Carbuncles, and Sores. Clear, healthy complexion follows its use. Sold by druggists; $1; six bottles, $5. If it produces health it will cure you. If it does not, your money will be refunded. Book and Chart free. Ayer's Pills, for Constipation and Liver Complaint.

Is it not worth the small price of 25 cents to relieve you of that terrible cough? Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will do it. Sold by druggists.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the oldest, best and most reliable remedy for Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Hoarseness, Influenza, Pain in the Chest, Sore Throat, and Consumption. Sold by druggists.

Ayer's Hair Vigor restores gray hair to its original color, and makes the hair grow upon bald heads. It is the best dressing for the hair. Sold by druggists.

Ayer's Ague Cure is a positive remedy for Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical Fever, Bilious Fever, and all Malarial Diseases. Sold by druggists.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier. Sold by

PRESENCE OF MIND.

How Man Should Act Under Trying Circumstances.

One of the Hundred Attainments Known in the Present Generation.—The Value of Keeping One's Mind in Sudden Exigencies.

Many people need presence of mind, writes J. W. Bellaw, in the Detroit Free Press. The art of keeping just what to do in a sudden case of emergency is one of the hundred attainments you can have along in your vest pocket. Many people do not know how to act, but sit in a weak daze, while it just as bad as a month's days for all the good they do.

Now, in case you fall out of the window, or are are thrown out, keep your wits about your; you can do it better if there are you pile on the walk fell to them to get out of the way, or fell thegh they will get hurt; this takes the responsibility off of you. Don't be in a hurry to reach the ground, it will be worse for you if you do. Show that you are going down feet first, which is the safest way. If there are boxes and things in the way, have them removed before you jump there. Look at your watch and see if you have time to have a feather bed brought out; you'll find it handy to light on. Come down easy and don't whirl. If you drop down on a lump it is dangerous, and without presence of mind you are likely to fall on something and get hurt.

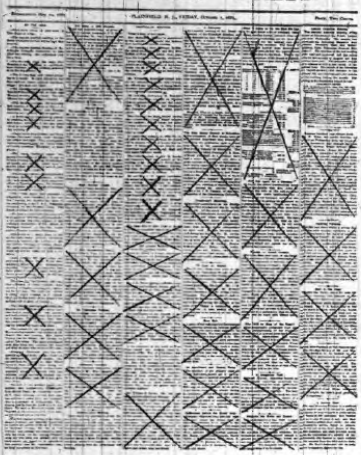
If a lady faints don't run away use get excited. Say her head is wet with ice and raised so as not to mess her back hair; rip her glasses so that the circulation may not go. Take her teeth out on a plate or they will not choke her. Call for air if there isn't any. Don't throw water in her face with a cold, wet hose, and tell her to stuff somebody's else business. Tell the other women in the crowd remark that her boy isn't as one of last summer's shoe over, but this is the time to show your good sense and patient too strong and active on a sudden.

Should you find yourself in deep water and not able to swim, don't get excited and give up the ship. Keep your head above water as it is useless to struggle. Keep in mind that the main support of life is air, and that you are going to get all of it you can. Don't be thinking of all the low, mean things you have done in your life, but try to remember the good ones with them, but not on the bottom of the river and pull off your boots and remove your coat, losing the handkerchief out of the pockets, including the ladders your self. Don't try to make a show of your

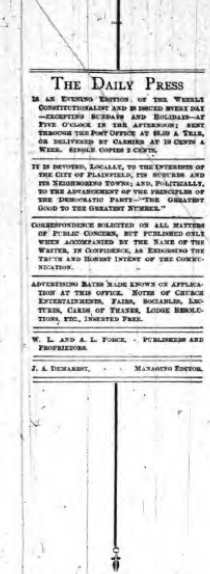
THE COMPARISON OF A DAY.

The marks below designate the
CITY NEWS ITEMS
PUBLISHED EXCLUSIVELY IN THE
DAILY PRESS OF FRIDAY, OCTOBER 7TH, 1887.

THE DAILY PRESS.



TOTAL, - - - 46.



The marks below designate the
CITY NEWS ITEMS
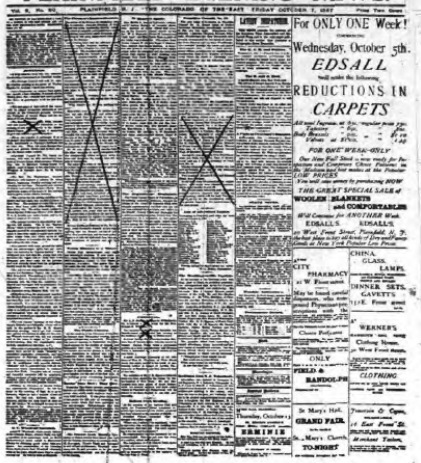
PUBLISHED EXCLUSIVELY IN THE EVENING NEWS OF FRIDAY, OCTOBER 7TH, 1887.

PLAINFIELD EVENING NEWS.



TOTAL, - - 5.

THE PRESS Published in the above Issue
60 Distinct Items of City News.

THE NEWS Published in the above Issue
13 Distinct Items of City News.

A Fact about Subscribers, and a Hint to Advertisers.

THE INTELLIGENT PEOPLE READ THE PAPER THAT PUBLISHES THE NEWS.
THE PROSPEROUS ADVERTISER USES THE PAPER THE PEOPLE READ.

READ THE PRESS AND YOU WILL BE SURE TO GROW WISE.
ADVERTISE IN THE PRESS AND YOU WILL BE SURE TO GROW RICH.

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY.
AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XX. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1887. No. 43.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its institutions as in its authorities."—Madison.

Rates of Advertising.

	1 WEEK	2	3	4	1 MONTH	2	3	4	6	12
1 in.	$ .75	1.00	1.25	1.50	$ 2.00	3.00	4.00	5.00	7.00	12.00
2 in.	1.00	1.50	2.00	2.50	3.50	5.00	6.50	8.00	11.00	20.00
3 in.	1.50	2.00	2.50	3.00	4.50	6.50	8.50	10.50	15.00	28.00
4 in.	2.00	2.50	3.00	3.50	5.50	8.00	10.50	13.00	19.00	36.00
¼ col.	2.50	3.00	3.50	4.00	6.50	9.50	12.50	15.50	23.00	44.00
½ col.	4.00	5.00	6.00	7.00	10.00	15.00	20.00	25.00	37.00	70.00
1 col.	7.00	9.00	11.00	13.00	18.00	28.00	38.00	48.00	70.00	130.00

All Rates must be paid for in advance.

"Links of Everything" column, 5 cts. per line.

Double rate, 50 per ct. advance, of above rates.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

O. L. JENKINS, M. D.,
Homeopathist,
successor to Dr. Smith, 21 East Front Street, next Peace, Plainfield, N. J. Office Hours—9 to 10 A. M., 1 to 2 P. M., 6 to 7 P. M.

JACKSON & COMINGTON,
Counsellors-at-Law,
Commissioners of Deeds, Masters-in-Chancery, Notaries Public, Agents for transfer of Park awards and Secretary of Park Board.

GEORGE W. DAY,
General Auctioneer,
Sales of Personal Property solicited. No. 7 Of Box 132 Dunellen, N. J., or address in care of CON STITUTIONALIST, Plainfield, solicited.

DR. CHARLES R. THURS,
Dentist,
26 West Front street. A new local anæsthetic ap plied that for extracting teeth without pain. Gold filling a specialty.—1y

H. HASD,
Architect,
P. O. Address, Locb Box 71, Scotch Plains, N. J., invites you at N. J. Carey's second hand store, 26 West Front street, Plainfield, N. J., will receive prompt attention.—off10

QUINN & TEALE,
Architects,
247 Broadway, New York city, Rooms 19 and 20, (Elevator and Tenth or Park Building.) Residence, Plainfield, N. J.—1y47

WM. K. MCCLURE,
Attorney-at-Law,
MASTER IN CHANCERY, NOTARY PUBLIC,
Commissioner of Deeds. Office, North avenue, opposite depot.—1y47

J. R. FERSTER,
Veterinary Surgeon,
Office in A. M. Sequine's livery office, corner Main street and Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Day and night calls promptly attended. Telephone connection. Residence, 21 East Fifth street. All diseases of domestic animals. Residence, 21 East Fifth street.—1y47

ARTHUR G. MILLER,
Attorney-at-Law,
Successor to the late W. H. MAXSON, Solicitor in Chancery, Notary Public, Conveyancer, Commissioner of Deeds, Office, No. 2 Park Place, Plainfield, N. J. Money to loan on first class real estate security.—1y47

F. A. DUBAM,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor,
No. 7 Park avenue, Corwin's building. Public work attended to with promptness. Office hours—9 to 12 A. M. and 1 to 4 P. M. Residence, 1 Second street.—1y47

BUSINESS CARDS.

ROBERT JAHN,
TIN AND COPPER-SMITH,
Scotch Plains,
Successor to C. Bedding, Stove and Heater work, Piping, Tinning, and all kinds of sheet iron work. Agent for the Gurney-at Stoves and Ventilating Cups. Repairing promptly attended to.—1y[illegible]

TO THE PUBLIC !

We wish to inform our customers and the public generally that we have on hand the best quality of

LEHIGH COAL,

Fresh from the Mines.

It is under cover and well protected from the weather. We are prepared to deliver it well screened and in good order to customers. We are also prepared to furnish all kinds of seasoned Lumber and Masons' Materials at short notice.

A. D. COOK & BRO.

J. Hervey Doane,
9 PARK AVENUE.
(Formerly Glover's.)

Watches,
Clocks
And Jewelry.
Repairing neatly and promptly done

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, HAY, STABLES, DRIED FRUIT, ETC.
CORNER EMILY AND DUER STREETS
North Plainfield, New Jersey.

Celebrated Pilsbury Flour,
THE BEST IN THE MARKET.

ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED.
Thanks for past patronage I solicit a continuance
Respectfully,
WILLIAM H. SHOTWELL.

BOSTON CLOTHING HOUSE.

42 W. FRONT ST.

Reliable Goods at Low Prices.

Correct Styles. Right Prices

Geo. A. Moore,
(Of the late firm of Moore Bros.)
is now the sole proprietor of the old establishment at
No. 44 NORTH AVENUE,
Where he will continue to supply patrons with the best grades of Fresh and Salt Meats. Fish in all kinds, Oysters, Clams, Game in season at the lowest market prices. Anything not in stock kept to order. Remember at short notice.

Edward Ramonetti,
OYSTER AND ICE CREAM SALOON.

OYSTERS BY THE QUART, 100 OR 1000.

CHARLOTTE RUSSE MADE TO ORDER.

All Orders Promptly Attended to.

24 NORTH AVENUE,
Plainfield, New Jersey. Telephone Call No. 29

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

Force's Hotel !
NORTH AVENUE
Near R. R. Depot, Plainfield, New Jersey.
JAMES H. FORCE, - Proprietor,
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY HOTEL.
Transient guests taken at reasonable rates.

Bottled Liquors a Specialty.

Laing's Hotel !
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
J. B. MILLER & SON, - Proprietors.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.

James Conneely
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has re-opened a first-class
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 32 PARK AVE.,
Where he will be pleased to furnish his friends and patrons with the choicest brands of imported and domestic Liquors.—1y32

TURF EXCHANGE HOTEL.
73 Courtlandt street,
CORNER WASHINGTON, NEW YORK CITY
FRED. W. BALLARD, - - Proprietor,
Formerly of Emery Cliff, is now conducting the corner Washington and Courtlandt streets, New York, formerly kept by Mr. Ballard, and he will welcome his old friends and many new ones.

PURE WINES, LIQUORS AND SEGARS. lyr387

SOMERSET HOTEL,
Cor. Somerset & Canby Sts., North Plainfield, N. J.
Permanent and Transient Board, at fair rates.
First-class Stables and Stalls attached.
Meals at all (reasonable) hours. 8jan1f

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST,
Residence—Harmony street, North Plainfield, fourth house from Somerset street, left hand side is formed to Readers as regards present and future events, likewise marriage, journeys, business, etc. Satisfaction guaranteed or fee returned.
In English, German and French.
My husband is a first-class Cooper, and repairs tubs, pails, barrels, etc., cheap for cash.

Plainfield District Telegraph and Fire Alarm Co.
Prompt Messenger Service Furnished.
Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph Co.
LOW RATES. QUICK SERVICE. MONEY TRANSFERRED BY TELEGRAPH. COMMUTATION STAMPS FOR SALE.
OFFICE—A PARK AVENUE.
W. S. SLITER, Manager.

STEAM HEATING,
FOR CHURCHES, SCHOOLS and DWELLINGS.
J. N. SCHENCK.
Plainfield, N. J.
P. O. Box 1051.—sly

JAMES K. ARNOLD,
GROCER,
Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts., North Plainfield.

Park Avenue Bakery!
JOHN WALKER, Prop'r
FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the choicest
VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS,
And all Varieties of
Pies, Cake and Confectionery.

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.

THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS, SENT IN THE WORLD.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE

MICHAEL UHDAL,
CONTRACTOR
AND LANDSCAPE GARDENER !
Residence :
NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
P. O. BOX 787, PLAINFIELD.
P. O. Box 2, Netherwood, N. J.

HEADQUARTERS
FOR
Boots, Shoes and Rubbers
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION. OUR STOCK
IS COMPLETE AND OUR
Prices the Lowest !
Doane & Van Arsdale
(NEXT TO HOWELL'S.)
22 WEST FRONT STREET.

SANITARY PLUMBING,
Brick and Portable Furnaces,
GAS FITTING,
TIN ROOFING,
Etc., Etc.
I am prepared to do any of the above branches in a workmanlike manner, and at reasonable prices.
Having associated myself with Prof. Lyon, the celebrated demonstrator of New York city, I can guarantee satisfaction in the fitting of eyes. Those wishing to consult me can find me at my residence at all times. Jan1y

D. W. LITTELL,
No. 8 NORTH AVE. opp. Depot Plainfield, N. J.

EDUCATIONAL.

MUSIC—VOCAL AND PIANO,
By Miss Anna M. Stabler.
Studying by the SUPERSCRIPT method. Residence, No. 27 Madison avenue, Plainfield. Address by letter, Miss Anna M. Stabler, Box 1, Plainfield, N. J. Mrs. W. R. Potts and Mrs. Wm. Woodhead, Jun., and Prof. Brandtner, of Dresden, pronounce this system the best of its kind. Sept10

RODMAN SEMINARY,
26 E. 5th Street. Will Re-open
SEPT. 15.
For circulars Address,
MRS. R. C. DINGEE, Principal.

MR. LEAL'S SCHOOL,
WILL RE-OPEN
Monday, Sept. 19, 1887.

DODWORTH'S
Class for Dancing & Deportment
—AT—
Seminary Hall, Plainfield, N. J.,
Wednesdays from 3:30 to 5:30 P. M.,
Commencing Oct. 26th, 1887.
THEO. J. DODWORTH.
October 7th, 1887.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SOMERSET HOTEL,
Cor. Somerset & Canby Sts., North Plainfield, N. J.
Permanent and Transient Board, at fairrates.
First-class Stables and Stalls attached.
Meals at all (reasonable) hours. 8jan1f

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST,
Residence—Harmony street, North Plainfield, fourth house from Somerset street, left hand side is formed to Readers as regards present and future events, likewise marriage, journeys, business, etc. Satisfaction guaranteed or fee returned.
In English, German and French.
My husband is a first-class Cooper, and repairs tubs, pails, barrels, etc., cheap for cash.

Plainfield District Telegraph and Fire Alarm Co.
Prompt Messenger Service Furnished.
Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph Co.
LOW RATES. QUICK SERVICE. MONEY TRANSFERRED BY TELEGRAPH. COMMUTATION STAMPS FOR SALE.
OFFICE—A PARK AVENUE.
W. S. SLITER, Manager.

STEAM HEATING,
FOR CHURCHES, SCHOOLS and DWELLINGS.
J. N. SCHENCK.
Plainfield, N. J.
P. O. Box 1051.—sly

JAMES K. ARNOLD,
GROCER,
Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts., North Plainfield.

Fleming & Angleman,
BUTCHERS,
Fresh, Salt and Smoked Meats,
Poultry, Fish, Vegetables, etc.
ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED.
No. 24 North avenue.
[Near the Depot.]
S. A. FLEMING. apl6f J. F. ANGLEMAN.

DOOR NUMBERS,
DOOR BELLS,
DOOR PLATES,
AT
DICKINSON & CLAWSON'S,
12 PARK AVENUE.
Sole Agents for

Dr. King's Spectacles.
jy14y5

SPECIAL SALE.
Dolls! Dolls! Dolls!
Carriage Teams, Road, Draft, Speed, Saddle and General Business Horses. All horses guaranteed as represented.
Central avenue,
Near Depot. Westfield, N. J.
BRANCH STABLE, RENARD, NEW JERSEY
COR. SHERMAN AVENUE AND ASTOR ST

A. W. RAND,
24 W. FRONT ST.
JOINTED AND KID BODIES,
Bosque & Indestructable Heads,
CLOSING AND SPRANT EYES,
From 25 cents to $5.25.

MISCELLANEOUS.

P. P. VanArsdale,
PIANO TUNER.
Instruments put in thorough order. Terms reasonable. Orders may be left at the store of Doane & Van Arsdale, 22 West Front street, where they will receive prompt attention. Residence, 22 East Front street, corner Sherman avenue.—1y[illegible]

A. TITSWORTH,
Merchant Tailor,
Has moved his place of business to
No. 26 North ave.,
(Store formerly occupied by Jeweler Meixel)
ALSO OFFICE OF CITY TREASURER.—2m

JOHN CHANDLER,
JARPENTER AND BUILDER,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Residence and Shop No. 36 East 2d St.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

Alex. Willett,
DEALER IN
BOOTS & SHOES,
No. 6 PARK AVENUE.
A full assortment of Gentlemen's and Children's Boots and Shoes always on hand. Repairing done neatly and promptly. 1y

G. W. FORCE,
11 West Front street,
OPENING OF FALL AND WINTER STOCK
Boots and Shoes at Low Prices
A FINE GRADE OF GOODS TO SELECT FROM.
11 West Front street.

G. W. FORCE.

J. T. ODAM,
PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL
Slate Roofer and Repairer.
Residence, Corner Fourth and Stevens streets, Fourth ward. Post Office Box 1205, Plainfield, N. J.

Steam Marble Granite Works.
AND
Monuments & Headstones,
Fencing for Cemetery Plots,
Large assortment of Mantels.
Always receive Granite Monuments at

All work executed in the most skillful manner and at very reasonable prices. Orders by mail or otherwise promptly attended to.
Factory cor. Scott & N. E. Ch., Plainfield, N. J.
Monuments erected in Greenwood Cemetery, N. Y.

GEO. D. MORRISON,
NORTH AVENUE
Has opened a store for the sale of
FLOUR, FEED, HAY,
Oats, Straw, Bran, Etc.
And hopes by prompt attention and fair dealing to merit a share of the public patronage.
SANDERSON'S
XXXX
BEST FLOUR.
FROM MINNESOTA WHEAT. A SPECIALTY.
CALL AND SEE THEM SELL.

LIVERY.

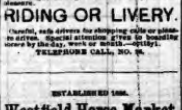
RICHARD H. DAY'S
City Livery Stable!
OPPOSITE DEPOT, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Special attention paid to Boarding Horses by the day, week or month. All kinds of Turnouts to be had at short notice. Telephone Call, No. 19[illegible]

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.,
TO HIRE. CHARGES REASONABLE.
Hugo Weigman
10 EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

CAREY'S
Furniture and Freight Express
OFFICE, NO. 6 WEST FRONT STREET,
Nearly opposite Laing's Hotel. Plainfield, N. J.
Having purchased the above premises I am prepared to rent and sell second-hand Furniture. Outgoing Freight and Furniture in or from the country or moving. Furniture, etc., stored. P. O. Box 402.—sep21

Fleming & Angleman,
BUTCHERS,
Fresh, Salt and Smoked Meats,
Poultry, Fish, Vegetables, etc.
ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED.
No. 24 North avenue.
[Near the Depot.]
S. A. FLEMING. apl6f J. F. ANGLEMAN.

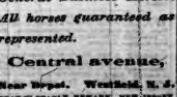
A. M. SEQUINE,
(Successor to John W. Laing.)
Laing's Hotel Stables



Front street, opposite Madison avenue.
Carriages for Weddings, Funerals and Private Parties. Light carriages of all descriptions to hire.

RIDING OR LIVERY.
Careful, safe drivers for shopping calls or attending church. Special attention given to boarding horses by the day, week or month.—apl6y1
TELEPHONE CALL, No. 40.

ESTABLISHED 1866.
Westfield Horse Market.



IRVING & CO.,
DEALERS IN
Carriage Teams, Road, Draft, Speed, Saddle and General Business Horses. All horses guaranteed as represented.
Central avenue,
Near Depot. Westfield, N. J.
BRANCH STABLE, RENARD, NEW JERSEY
COR. SHERMAN AVENUE AND ASTOR ST

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPPLIES

Paints, Varnishes, Glass,
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALL PAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
A. SWALM,
No. 8 North Avenue, Plainfield.
apr2

Weaver Bros.
House & Sign Painting, Graining,
Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a specialty.
Office and Shop in the rear of
136 EAST FRONT STREET,
D. WEAVER. P. O. Box 321. F. WEAVER

WM. ROWE.
PAINTER AND DECORATOR,
Dealer in Paints, Oil, Varnishes, Glass, Brushes, etc. WALL PAPER AND WINDOW SHADES. Has formerly occupied the store on Somerset street, opposite Depot, but has removed to 17 PARK AVENUE, (C. D. Sanders's old stand,) Plainfield, N. J. P. O. Box 1,108.—1y[illegible]

L. D. WOOLSTON. J. P. BUCKLE.
Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS,
Wall Papers,
PAINTERS' SUPPLIES. 28 NORTH AVENUE
apr22

MILLINERY.

Mrs. J. M. Dunn,
FASHIONABLE MILLINER,
LATEST SHAPES OF
BONNETS AND HATS
FRENCH IMPORTED FLOWERS.
Feathers, Velvets, Plushes, Satines, Laces, etc. Also, Fancy Goods and Notions; Dress and Infants' Caps a Specialty.

PINKING, BLEACHING & PRESSING.
Feathers Dyed, Cleaned and Curled
AT SHORT NOTICE.
14 West Front street.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR
The best cool cigar in the State, and manufactured from the finest Havanas.
CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Celebrated Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cheroots, Cigarettes and Smokers Articles in Great Variety Trade Mts.—North Plainfield.

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
—SEGARS!—
PARK AVE., (NEAR CORNER) SECOND ST.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smoker's Materials,
of every description.
Manufactured "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, which other popular brands cannot be compared.

EVENLY MATCHED.

One of the Queer Things That Happened in War Times.

The right wing of Sherman's army was marching southward from Silver Rock, a mountain village in North Georgia.

The simple villagers felt little alarm. Silver Rock was a place of no importance to either the Federals or the Confederates.

One fine morning in the early spring John Dickson started out from the little village to visit his farm, only a mile or two distant. Dickson was a young man, but a chronic lameness had saved him from conscription from military service, and as he was a man of much independence of character and independent opinion, he regarded his disability as a blessing.

Still, he was a strong Confederate, and on this particular morning, while he was jogging slowly along the rough country road, he passed more than once to listen with a frowning face to the sullen boom of cannon from the northward.

"I am not able to do much fighting," he muttered, "but if there is a battle I'll go and cut up any of their dawithy I'll kill if they will only give me a chance to do it!"

He meant what he said. This quiet young farmer had plenty of grit when he was put to the test.

The walk bored him, and he left the road and stretched himself in a grassy place under the shade of a sturdy old oak.

He threw himself on his back and clasped his hands behind his head. Then he looked up into the green foliage above him.

A queer expression flitted over his face, but his gaze remained fixed upon one point.

In a careless way he raised his hand to his face, and stroked his smooth cheek. Then the hand wandered down over his rest ing leg with such a light touch that it slipped downward to a hip pocket, and reappeared as quiet as a flash of lightning. Back came the hand to the face, forward.

"Now, you come down," said Dickson, gruffly.

"Ha! ha!" laughed some one up in the tree. "You have found me, have you?"

The hearty surprised and irritated Dickson. His keen eyes had discovered a fellow in a blue coat sitting on one of the limbs somewhat limbs of the tree. It had flashed into his head that it would be an easy matter to capture a spy, and take him prisoner to Blue Rock. And now the rascal was laughing at him!

"You'll grin on the wrong side of your mouth pretty soon, my fine bird (feather, I'll mean)," said Dickson. "Don't you know that you are my prisoner?"

"Eh? eh, no," was the cool reply. "I hadn't thought of it in that light. In fact, I was the one who captured you when you were my prisoner, and I was wondering how to dispose of you."

"Command you!" roared the young farmer. "If you don't come down at once, I'll shoot you!"

"Hey here, my friend," answered the stranger, "you don't understand the situation."

"O, I don't!" snorted Dickson.

"No, where are your eyes? Take a good look, but don't move."

The man addressed Dickson allowed his eyes to run over the soldier's entire figure. He gave a start of surprise. The Federal held in his right hand a revolver, which was at the man on the ground.

"I have you covered ever since you came," said the man in the tree.

"And what do you think of doing?" asked Dickson in a trembling way.

"I am going to shoot if you try to get up, in if you make any move that I don't approve," "but I expect to persuade you to drop your weapon and go off to the top of that hill yonder."

"You are a fool!" shouted Dickson. "Don't you know that some of our men in town will come along soon and help me capture you?"

"And don't you know," replied the other, "that some of our cavalry are coming this way, and may be here at any moment?"

Dickson studied the face above him. It was a dark, clear-cut, handsome face, very youthful and pleasant in its expression.

"Why, you are a boy, ain't you?" was his next question, as he took in the fellow's willowy form.

"Never mind what I am; my Captain is a man, and he is not to be trifled with."

"You had better drop your pistol and your carbine. I'll see that you are rewarded well."

"Thanks. Hadn't you better lay down your weapon and march over that hill, and go home to your wife and children, if you have them, and let us have peace? I suppose you have no more love for war than I have."

The frank and fearless eyes looking into Dickson's had a kind look, and the angry man found that his wrath was growing cool by moments. After all, the young fellow had the better of the argument. He had no little glory to capture that boy-soldier. And then the fellow's story might be true. If the Federal cavalry were coming this way, it was time for good Confederates to hide out.

"What are you doing here, anyhow?" he asked.

"I slipped in Blue Rock last night," was the answer, "and some of your people thinned me out. My horse was shot, and I had to take to the woods. I climbed up here to be safe until our cavalry came along."

"I'll tell you what I'll do," broke in Dickson. "I don't much want to take you prisoner, and I don't want to shoot you. On the other hand, I'd much prefer that I have no fancy for being shot myself. But I'm not going to throw down my pistol. I will lay up my arms, if you will throw down your revolver, if it comes at all, you may expect to have a bullet through your head too many for us."

There was a pause of a moment, and then the cold or in the tree spoke.

"All right, I'll trust you," he said. "On this occasion I'll take no advantage of you. But you may expect to see me in Blue Rock before night."

"We'll take care of Blue Rock," defiantly responded Dickson. "Well, I'm off. Good-bye."

And he rose to his feet, and waited off as briskly as he could. He seemed to look back. If the Federal was mean enough to break his word and fire, it was all right. But his heart bumped against his ribs until he had placed a hundred yards between him and the tree.

Then the blue jackets swarmed into the village that afternoon, and those two or three inhabitants saw that resistance was useless against such a force.

"The Captain sent me to guard your property," said a soldier, as he paused in front of Dickson's door.

"I am obliged to him," replied Dickson, "but I don't see why."

The man went on duty, and the little family found the night undisturbed, and with the feeling of safety that it gave.

The Little Widow is in her glory 6-night. She has been harder worked for her greater responsibilities, and she has many more responsibilities, and she has many sometimes as great responsibilities. A woman's work is never done. And as the family increased and intensified it, cares have multiplied faster than conveniences. Life is more complex, and the simple duties are more numerous, society more exacting, and the mother's work is complicated. You can't get there read Psalm xxiii., and kneel by her bed and pray it. Two can well find out where Heaven is.

GIVE your wife a vacation. She needs it. Life has been harder for her, with its greater responsibilities, and she has many more cares than you have. Her nervous system is a finer one than yours. She feels more keenly than you the petty worries that make life hard to bear. She is more sensitive to the pain of others. She has more solicitude for you. She does more work altogether happy. Nobody ever is who doesn't work.

The Little Widow is in her glory 6-night. She has been harder worked for her

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE, A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors.

County Democratic Nominations.

FOR STATE SENATOR,
ROBERT L. LIVINGSTON,
of Plainfield.

FOR SHERIFF,
THOMAS FORSYTH,
of Elizabeth.

FOR COUNTY CLERK,
JOHN L. CROWELL,
of Rahway.

FOR SURROGATE,
JAMES J. GERBER,
of Elizabeth.

FOR CORONERS,
A. Q. DONOVAN, of Elizabeth.
WALTER E. CLADEK, of Rahway.

FOR MEMBER OF ASSEMBLY—2D DISTRICT,
WILLIAM C. COLTON.

3rd ASSEMBLY DISTRICT DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

The Delegates to the Third Assembly District Democratic Convention, of Union county, will meet at DEMOCRATIC HEADQUARTERS, PLAINFIELD,

Tuesday, November 1st, 1887,

At 2 o'clock p. m., to nominate a candidate to represent said District in the next House of Assembly.

The basis of representation will be one delegate for every fifty Democratic votes, and one for every fraction over twenty-five cast at the last Gubernatorial election in the several townships and wards, and the apportionment is as twenty-eight, and apportioned as follows, viz:

Rahway—First Ward	13
Second Ward	11
Third Ward	10
Fourth Ward	4
Clark	2
Fanwood	2
Westfield	4
Plainfield—First Ward	13
Second Ward	7
Third Ward	6
Fourth Ward	1
Rahway, 1st, 26th, 28th	1

ALFORD B. COOK,
Chairman of last Convention.

GOOD NOMINATIONS.

An essential for the right discharge of public duty is the possession of practical intelligence and personal fidelity on the part of each respective office holder. We want men thoroughly conversant with the detailed requirements of official business and who will resolutely make duty a sacred trust.

The Democratic Convention acted wisely and well in placing before the voters of Union County candidates every way deserving of popular approval.

Vote the solid ticket,

For Senator,
Vote for LIVINGSTON.

For Sheriff,
Vote for FORSYTH.

For County Clerk,
Vote for CROWELL.

For Surrogate,
Vote for GERBER.

For Coroners,
Vote for CLADEK and DONOVAN.

DUTY OF DEMOCRATS.

The principles of the Democratic party, now, as ever before, demand unreserved fidelity to every Constitutional requirement, and, consequently, the maintenance of good and practical government, the perpetuity of civil and religious liberty, and the equality of rights and privileges among all classes of people.

Such, briefly stated, portrays the aim and intent of the party of Democracy, or, appropriately speaking, the party of popular sovereignty, and to make that grand purpose triumphant should be the earnest and conscientious effort of each individual Democrat in the land.

How can he best accomplish it?

By ignoring at once and forever every species of factional controversy and all manner of personal animosity.

By advocating the election of candidates regularly selected and pledged to carry into governing effect the time-proven political tenets of Jefferson, the statesman of the Revolution and the founder of American Democracy.

Democrats! Do your whole duty!

OFFICIAL FIGURES.

Partisan clap-trap may do fame and mislead, but figures lie not. In regard to the much talked about matter of pensions, the following facts, are taken from the official records at Washington and speak for themselves:

In two years President Cleveland approved 863 private pension bills; President Grant, in eight years of his official life, approved 485; Hayes, in four years, 363; Garfield and Arthur, in four years, 736.

President Cleveland approved the act to increase the pensions of 9,987 widows to $12 per month; approved the act to increase the pensions of crippled and maimed soldiers 10,000 in number, from $24 to $30, from $30 to $36 and from $30 and $37.50 to $45 per month, and disapproved the act placing "a horde of unworthy pretenders on the same plane with those patriot soldiers and sailors who faithfully served in the army of the Union and wear the scars of honor."

From 1865 to 1885, under Republican rule, there were issued 129,517 pension certificates; While from July 1885 to June 30, 1887, under Democratic rule, there were issued 268,697 pension certificates.

Here is what the Trenton True American has to say about our present and next Democratic senator:

"The Union county Democrats have nominated a ticket that ought to win. The nomination of Senator Livingston was, as it should have been, concealed from the first, for there has been no more careful, zealous and effective member of the body than the senator from Union. His good judgment has placed him upon the right side of most questions that came before him, and his good temper and easy ways have made him accessible to his constituents and agreeable to his colleagues. The rest of the nominees are all first-class men, in every way competent for the positions for which they have been named, and the selection has been such as to give all parts of the county a representative. The Democrats have clearly done everything possible to deserve success, and will secure it.

* * *

In Robert L. Livingston the labor element recognize a true friend. Their votes will add to the handsome majority he will receive next November.

* * *

The Republican party will make extra efforts to elect their Senator at the coming election. Let every Democrat, old or young, remember why they want to do so. The Senator elected will have a vote for United States Senator before the expiration of his term.

* * *

It is conceded on all sides that the Democratic county ticket is a remarkably strong one, from more than one standpoint. The nominees are all men of ability and integrity, and represent the Democratic and Labor party. There is no reason why every man on the ticket should not be elected by a handsome majority.

* * *

The voters of Somerset county have two excellent candidates in the Democratic nominations of Hon. James J. Bergen for Senator, and Hon. George H. Pace for Assembly. Both these gentlemen have been tried and found to be capable public servants. They should both be elected, and we doubt not will be. Every personal feeling should be buried and forgotten. Remember, a United States Senator is in the balance.

* * *

The Elizabeth Journal, true to Republican principles, assails the capability of Senator Robert L. Livingston as the people's representative from Union county to the legislative halls of Trenton. Is it really necessary for a man to make boasting speeches in order to represent his constituents? We always thought that it was necessary for men to have brains and not as the people wanted. That is what Robert L. Livingston has done in his official capacity as Senator, and what he will do again—and mind what we say.

* * *

It seems unnecessary to particularize in the nomination for county officers by the Democratic Convention of Union county. All of them—County Clerk Crowell, Surrogate Gerber, and ex-Sheriff Thos. Forsyth, have made good and capable officers. There is no reason why they should not be re-elected. Remember, Democrats, that the Republicans are bending all their energies to defeat the Democratic Union county by the election of their candidates. Vote the straight ticket, and get your neighbor to do the same thing.

* * *

Every young man who will cast his maiden ballot next November, should remember that as he casts it then he will do so in the future. Therefore let him be positive that he is right before depositing it. The people, by their votes, have declared that the Democratic party should govern the country, after years of misrule by the corrupt Republican party. A young man just entering the political arena cannot afford to cast his vote for that defunct party. He should vote for the progressive party that has been delegated the reins of government for years to come.

Common Council Meeting.

President Marsh called the Council to order in special session at 8:10 the evening of 19th inst., when the Clerk called the roll the following Councilmen responded to their names: Messrs. Bowers, Casey, Cox, Dunham, Simpson, Waring and Wilbur. Mr. Dumont came in later. Messrs. Taylor and Voorhees were absent. The Clerk read the call which was for the purpose of taking action on the proposition of the Electric Light Company to light the city with incandescent lamps.

Mr. Bowers, from the Fire, Water and Lamps Committee, to whom was referred the proposition at a previous meeting, returned the paper, with the request that the Clerk read it. The paper proposed that not less than 300 lamps, 25-candle power, be used in lighting the city, said lamps to burn every night in the year from sunset to sunrise, at the rate of $14.60 per lamp per annum. The district to be lighted is about the same as that lighted by the present system. For each additional lamp within the specified district the rate per lamp to be the same, all lamps located outside the district and within 1,000 feet of the circuit to be lighted at the rate of $17.50 per lamp per annum. The Company agrees to enter into a bond for the completion of the work within sixty days after signing the contract. Mr. Bowers reported that the Committee had met and conferred on the matter. He offered a resolution to effect that the Council accept the proposition and draw up a contract based on the one now in force. Mr. Cox moved to accept the report but before it was put to a vote, Mr. Bowers spoke at length on the cost, etc. He said among other things that the city now pays $3,046 per year for the use of 50 arc lamps, 12 gas lamps, 6 incandescent and 25 gasoline lamps; besides an additional cost for 18 bridge lamps. The total cost per annum for 300 incandescent lamps would amount to $4,380. Another point to be illustrated was the increase in the number of hours the lamps were to burn. The total saving to the city, he said by adopting the incandescent system, would be about $822. Mr. Alex. F. Wright, the Company's representative, then described the style of iron posts to be used, where it becomes necessary to erect additional ones.

Council then took a recess, and for a long time the members were closeted with each other. Upon re-assembling at 9:30 p. m., Mr. Bowers asked permission to withdraw the resolution above alluded to. The request was granted and in its stead he submitted the following:

"Resolved, That the Common Council on behalf of the City of Plainfield accept the proposition of the Plainfield Electric Light Company for lighting the streets of Plainfield with the system of incandescent lighting as offered by them for 285 lamps as located on the map, with privilege to add more from time to time, provided said contract contain a clause in relation that upon failure of the Company to light on a moonless night of the lights for a period of ten days at any time, then the Council may be at liberty to rescind the contract, and use at once upon the bond for damage; that for every failure to light and maintain any lamp any night between dark and midnight, the Company shall forfeit double the price for such lamp for that night, to be deducted from any bill paid the Company for lighting; that said lights shall be operated; stipulated that they shall maintain lights equal to 25 candle power through the night, or that lamps shall be considered as not lighted for that night; that liable to failure from the Company expressly anticipated that they only claim the right to erect the poles and maintain wires for delivering the current, and that the term of this contract or any renewal thereof, and that the Corporation Counsel be directed to draw up the contract in accordance with the foregoing the provision of the old contract as to the retention of lamps and right of Council to locate the same and locate the poles and wires; that the Clerk be directed to draw the bond called for, and to submit said contract and bond to the Law and Ordinance Committee, and when approved by them to be signed by the proper parties.

The Company, through its manager, Mr. W. H. Moore, agreed to accept the following additional clause: "That the contract be drawn for one year with privilege of two years more upon same terms."

Mr. Bowers moved the adoption of the resolution, and the vote was recorded as all ayes.

Council then adjourned.

Relief Requested.

Contributions are earnestly solicited for the Relief Association. New and pressing needs are constantly arising which call for a full treasury, and it is hoped that the many friends who have so cordially aided it in the past, may continue their generous support. Second-hand clothing is also needed and may be sent to the rooms of the Association, 45 West Second street.

F. TYRRELL, Secretary.

Mr. Ernest Knauth formerly of this city, has been appointed Director of the Chautauqua Society of Fine Arts, succeeding Mr. Frank Fowler.

Died from "Exposure."

Patrick A. Flood, the man who was found naked and bleeding in a brier patch near Governor's Hotel on the road leading to New Providence, early Friday morning last as told in detail exclusively in THE PRESS of Friday, died at 6 o'clock the same evening. He never regained consciousness, and did not speak a word during the entire day. A brother of the dead man came out from New York during Friday afternoon and from him it was ascertained that the young man was 25 years of age, unmarried, and lived at No. 129 West Fourteenth street, New York city. Persons who knew the victim say that he was not addicted to strong drink, and it is quite unlikely that he was, or he could not have held the position he did, as janitor of the 22d Regiment Armory. There are, however, others who believe that the man was either demented or that his death resulted from an attack of delirium tremens. Again, it hardly seems probable that he would have come to Fanwood on a visit without funds. It will be remembered that the hackman received 75 cents fare from the messenger, the latter receiving in return 25 cents out of a dollar. Only five cents in money was found in the pockets of the clothing. This is partly explained by the hackman who says that he purchased two cigars for his passenger, in Baker & Meade's store, giving him 10 cents in change. County Physician Westcott, who was in attendance up to the time Flood died, announced that death resulted from exposure and caused his death certificate accordingly, deeming an inquest unnecessary. This action of the County Physician is freely discussed and commented upon by people who think that the matter should be thoroughly sifted out. Louis Charles, the hackman, they claim should be called to account for his strange actions when approached by Constable Hand Friday morning, and his subsequent turning over to the Constable of the dead man's watch and pocketbook. Not a few people believe that if an inquest was held, developments would be brought out that would warrant holding young Charles for the Grand Jury. The young man, it is said, has hitherto borne a good reputation, which probably accounts for his not being arrested.

Sheriff Sidler went to Scotch Plains Friday evening and took charge of the remains, bringing them to this city. Saturday afternoon the body was taken to New York, where the funeral will take place.

A Serious Runaway.

About five o'clock Tuesday p. m., David Angerbauer, a hostler employed by Mr. Jacob Bliman, proprietor of the hotel by that name on Somerset street, started out to exercise a six-year-old bay horse, belonging to Mr. J. J. Fredericks of New York, which the owner has stabled at Mr. Bliman's for several months past. The horse was hitched to a sulky, and twenty minutes later the maddened animal came tearing down East Front street from the direction of Scotch Plains. In attempting to turn the corner of Front and Somerset streets the horse fell, and narrowly escaped obliterating John Clark's place of business. The animal was dripping wet, and was captured before doing further damage. Angerbauer and the sulky were missing. It appears that the hostler was driving along Mountain avenue toward Scotch Plains, when the horse began kicking, and finally ran away, thereby unseating the driver out. Near the Wilson farm on Mountain avenue the sulky was wrecked and with the shafts dangling at his heels the horse ran to Scotch Plains and back to the place where he was captured, at Front and Somerset streets. Angerbauer was found by a milkman lying unconscious in the roadway on Mountain avenue, blood flowing from an ugly wound on the chin. The wounded man was at once taken to the office of Dr. M. B. Long on Park avenue. The doctor made an examination of the injuries and discovered that the man's jawbone was completely cut in two, leaving a wire; the jaw was also swollen and discolored. The patient soon recovered consciousness, and later was taken to his home on Pearl street, North Plainfield. He is now very much better, although yet very weak. Angerbauer, as soon as he regained his senses, told the writer of this, that his only remembrance of the accident was that he received a stunning blow from the horse's hoof.

C. A. R. Meeting.

A regular meeting of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., was held in the Post rooms over the City Hall, Monday and Tuesday nights, Commander William Hand in the chair. All the other officers were present, excepting the Senior Vice Commander and the Surgeant. A Committee was appointed to draw up and engross a set of resolutions which, it is intended to present to Winfield Scott Post, No. 114, G. A. R. of Philadelphia in return for the courtesy shown the members of the home Post during their recent visit to Philadelphia, at the unveiling of the Slade Monument. The following constitute the Committee: Messrs. Geo. W. Moore, John E. Stewart and William Addis. At the suggestion of the ladies of the W. R. C., a Committee of five was appointed by the Post Commander, to act as a Committee of Arrangements in conjunction with the W. R. C., at the coming bazaar to be given under the auspices of the latter organization, in the Republican Association rooms during November. Messrs. William Addis, T. O. Doane, J. M. Atwood, William E. Harding and Robert Walker were appointed on such Committee. A joint meeting of the Committee and the W. R. C. has been called for this evening, when the arrangements will probably be completed.

WESTFIELD.

William A. Brown, who received the contract for grading the grounds in front of Fairview Cemetery, commenced operation on Thursday of last week. He is to have the work finished by Jan. 1st, '88.

On the evening of the 17th inst. the house of Mr. A. Trask, on Dudley avenue, Westfield, was broken into by burglars. An entrance was effected by using a jimmy and breaking the catch on the kitchen window. Mr. Trask and family are absent in New York State, and his workman, Fred Baldwin, has charge of the premises. He left the place on Monday at about six o'clock p. m., and returned on Tuesday morning, when he discovered that the house had been entered by the thief or thieves had ransacked every room in the house, taking out the bureau drawers and throwing their contents over the floor. The burglar also turned pockets. Mr. Baldwin could not say whether anything of value had been taken. He telegraphed to Mr. Trask of the robbery.

Alfred Barber, of Raritan, has been nominated for Prosecutor State Senator in Somerset county in place of Rev. W. B. Honeyman of North Plainfield, who declined the nomination.

A REMARKABLE MASONIC GATHERING

Representatives of the Grand Lodges of Four States Assemble in Plainfield—The Master Mason Degree Conferred Upon a Candidate—Honor and Distinction for a Life-Time—The Distinguished Guests—The Anchor Lodge Membership—And the Collation.

The greatest assembling of the fraternity ever known in the history of Free and Accepted Masonry in the State of New Jersey, took place in the new Anchor Lodge of this city Tuesday night. Even at the gatherings brought together by the meetings of the Grand Lodge at Trenton, and upon like occasions in other States, last night's gathering has not been excelled in the number of dignitaries of the noble brotherhood congregated together. The Grand Lodges of the States of New Jersey, New York, Connecticut and Pennsylvania were represented—the latter State sending a large majority of its Grand Officers. The oldest mason in this State, in years, was present—Mr. Timothy Meiser of Anchor Lodge, who at the age of eighty-six can remember sixty-three of them spent in the brotherhood. He is looked up to by the other masons of this city with reverence for his long service. Last night he clasped hands with one who is the oldest in years of membership of any mason in either New York or New Jersey—Brother P. S. Haines of a New York lodge and a business man of Elizabeth. This gentleman was the object of most special attention. He was one of the very few masons in the country who had taken the thirty-third degree, not to mention all the extra success he had reached, and the mystic shrines he had knelt before. In the lodge room he displayed an apron presented him by the Grand Lodge of Germany. It was made of the most delicate fabric, and handpainted by some of the best artists in the World with all the insignia of the owner's degrees and ranks.

The object of the evening was the conferring on a new candidate of the degree of Master Mason—and the candidate so fortunate as to reach that rank in the presence of such a remarkably distinguished gathering, was Mr. Charles W. Evans. Possibly not a member of either of the Plainfield lodges was ever so honored, and probably not one of the fraternity present remembered a like occasion more eminent. The degree was worked by the sixteen Masters of the lodges composing the Fifth Masonic District of New Jersey, including the lodges of New Brunswick, Westfield, Bound Brook, Somerville, Perth Amboy, Elizabeth, Metuchen, Rahway, Woodbridge and Plainfield. Brother Evans was afterwards made by the Grand Officers of Pennsylvania, R. W. Grand Sec. Elders of New York, R. W. Brother J. J. Gallie, Dist. Deputy of New York, and Past Grand Masters Rufus A. Lockwood, of New York and Wm. A. Pembrook and Henry R. Cannon of New Jersey. The lateness of the hour precluded other addresses, and the gathering adjourned for a collation.

The visitors present numbered about 400 that reported to the Tyler, besides the members of the Plainfield lodges. The grand lodge officers included the following:

The Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania was represented by:

J. Dickinson, R. W. G. M.
C. P. MacCalla, Deputy G. M.
J. S. Africa, S. G. Warden.
M. Richards, G. Secretary.
T. S. Pattin, G. Treasurer.
E. B. Day, P. G. M.
W. A. Sinn, Grand Tyler.

The Grand Lodge of Connecticut was represented by:

John A. Lockwood, M. W. Past G. M.

The Grand Lodge of New York was represented by:

Sir L. M. Rayles, R. W. Grand Secretary.
J. J. Gillie, Dist. Deputy, 6th Dist.
Geo. Van Vleet, Past Dist. Deputy G. M.

The Grand Lodge of New Jersey was represented by:

Robert A. Meiser, R. W. G. M.
Chas. H. Mann, R. W. D. G. M.
J. M. Harris, R. W. S. G. W.
O. W. Fortmeyer, R. W. J. G. W.
F. C. Fry, R. W. S. G. B.
J. W. Parnard, R. W. J. G. B.
J. G. Simpson, R. W. G. S.
R. C. Dingwell, R. W. J. G. S.
Chas. Rose, W. G. Marshall.
A. M. Loudspeaker, W. G. Pawwinner.
G. M. Black, W. Grand Tyler.

R. W. PAST GRAND MASTERS:

W. A. Pembrook, Henry Vehstage,
Hamilton Wells, Henry B. Cannon.

R. W. PAST DIST. DEP. GRAND MASTERS:

W. J. Hamilton, William Ames,
C. C. Stevenson, Walter Chandler.

J. Lloyd Tilton.

R. W. DISTRICT DEPUTIES:

Chas. Belcher, 8th District.
Adolph Lue, German District.
W. A. Freeman, 5th District.
R. S. Lucas, 3rd District.
J. W. Ryan, 2nd District.
Henry A. Bauson, R. W. G. Instructor.
Hobart Weiss, R. W. Past Instructor.
L. L. Green, 9th District.

The members and officers of Anchor Lodge are:

OFFICERS FOR 1887.

F. O. Sperling, P. M., W. M.
C. M. Goddard, S. W.
E. M. Bodman, J. W.
J. S. Mann, Treasurer.
T. A. Rogers, Secretary.
J. E. Bodine, M. D.
W. R. Cock, P. M., J. D.
W. R. Lowe, S. M. C.
G. T. Waring, J. M. C.
R. O. Bowers, S. Steward.
C. O. Crawford, J. Steward.
W. W. Hagaman, Tyler.
W. V. Mundy, No. 36, Tyler.

MEMBERS.

Bowers, R. O. | Mac Donald, J. P.
Bogarton, E. H. | Murphy, T. I.
Crane, J. M. | Marsh, C. A.
Casey, C. G. | Nash, J. W.
Cock, Wm. R. | Nash, S. C., Jr.
Dunham, C. H. | Outhouse, C. H.
Dumont, J. B. | Porter, J. J.
Davis, T. S. | Pelton, J. J. H.
Dupuy, S. P. | Person, I. C.
Demarest, P. M. | Rogers, T. A.
Evans, C. W. | Rottman, F.
Freeman, W. A. | Randolph, T. V. P.
Finch, E. L. | Redman, E. M.
Gaston, E. B. | Simpson, R. S.
Garrett, W. L. | Scott, W. P.
Goddard, C. M. | Stewart, W. R.
Hall, C. H. | Stewart, S.
Huntington, S. | Silloa, D. M.
Hagaman, J. W. | Tompkins, C. J.
Hankins, J. W. | Thompson, Wm.
Howard, L. R. | Terrill, J. R.
Hoagland, C. | Varnum, C. E.
Kinsman, J. D. | Waring, O. T.
Kilgore, A. | Wilbur, H. A.
Lewis, R. M. | Wheeler, W. A., Jr.
Lowe, W. E. | Wittmann, E. G.

Lounsbury, E. S.

The collation served in the large dining rooms of Laing's Hotel, was probably the most extensive spread of its kind the city has known. It was gotten up by Mr. L. F. Manetti, of New York, one of the widest known of caterers in the United States, and the creator of all the costly masonic dinners. The tables were loaded with the most exquisite china, glass and silverware, on which we served toothsome salads, jellies, ices and a hundred other delicacies. About 300 were fed as quickly and satisfactorily as even midnight appetites impatiently demanded. A special train carried all the visitors away during the orders of the Committee, and as some of the visitors were compelled to remain over until Wednesday at one o'clock, the first installment of departing guests left on this train at 12:25 a. m. Delegations from neighboring towns returned home on the regular express trains, while members of the local lodges strolled home arm in arm—full of pride and other delicacies—just before dawn.

LIST OF ADVERTISED LETTERS.

REMAINING IN PLAINFIELD POST OFFICE FOR WEEK ENDING OCT. 26, 1887.

Bender, Mr. L.
Bonnell, Mrs. Jennie
Bonnell, Mrs. Mary
Bonnell, Mrs. Sarah
Bonnell, Mr. Joseph
Cook, John W.
Cooper, Mrs. Ella
Compton, Mrs. Julia B.
Dunn, Mr.
Dunn, Mrs. Mary
Dunn, Mr. E. C.
Dunham, Miss Sarah
Dunham, Miss Annie

Hays, Mrs. E. B.
Johnson, Mrs. Sam J.
Johnson, Mrs. Rosa
Jackson, Mrs. Mary
Kelly, Mrs. Mary
Kennedy, Mr. Barney
Kennedy, Mr. Barney
Kennedy, Mr. Barney
Pratt, Mr. H. C.
Pratt, Mrs. Mary E.
Van Horn, Mrs. John

Persons calling for above please say advertised.
W. L. FORCE, Postmaster.

FORD & STILES,
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
AND
PRACTICAL EMBALMERS.
Office, Warerooms and Residence,
No. 14 EAST FRONT STREET.
Telephone Call No. 41.
Geo. C. Ford. 29jly1 Geo. M. Stiles.

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
UNDERTAKERS, EMBALMERS,
60 PARK AVENUE.
Telephone Call 42.
RESIDENCE—49 MADISON AVENUE.
Telephone Call 37.
"Office of Hillside Cemetery."

P. CAREY & SON,
UNDERTAKERS,
Office—No. 1 Somerset St.
Residence, No. 11 Third street, corner New, Plainfield, N. J. Everything pertaining to the business always on hand, and lower than any other firm in the State. All Calls Promptly Answered Day or Night.—ly27

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

CHARLES DICKENS
Will give
READINGS
From his father's works, at
STILLMAN MUSIC HALL,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.,
SATURDAY, NOV. 12th, 1887,
At 8 P. M., for the Benefit of the Children's Home.
TICKETS, FIFTY CENTS.
Reserved Seats 75c. and $1.00. For Sale, Monday morning, November 7th, at Reynolds' and Hoyt's Drug Stores. 26oct8

AUCTION SALE
OF SUPERIOR FURNITURE, on MONDAY,
October 31st, 1887,
At No. 14 E. Sixth street, on account of party going to Europe, the entire furniture of one p. m. Chickering 6 w. Piano, Stool and Music Cabinet, Mahogany Parlor Suite, 7 pieces, 4 Marston cost $35 Piano, 9 w. Parlor Suits, 6 pieces, Mahogany Bedroom Suite, 6 pieces, Oil Paintings and Engravings, Bronze Figures, Tidies and Mantel Drapery, Lace Curtains, Portieres, Rugs, Carpets, Oil Cloths, Mahogany Extension Table, Sideboard, Chairs, Hall Rack, China and Glassware, Breakfast Set, Kitchen Utensils, Bed Clothing, Wood Tin and Iron Ware, and many other articles. 12 Terms Cash. T. J. GILLIES, Auct'r.

AUCTION SALE
OF FURNITURE (removed for convenience of sale) at Lamon's Hall, Tompkins Block,
On Tuesday, November 1st,
At 1:30 o'clock P. M.,

1 Rosewood Parlor Suit (nearly new) and Sofa (Sofa the same), Black Walnut Cupboard and Side Bureau, Wash Stands, Mahogany Bedroom Set, Dressing, Hat Stand, Black Walnut and Ebony Hall Chairs with hat rack, 1 set Cottage Kitchen Tables, Iron-top Kitchen Chairs, 4 heavy Black Walnut Chairs, Iron Safe, Black Walnut mantels, 1 Black W lnut Bedroom Suite (Parsons maker), 1 Ash and 1 Pine Bedroom Suit, 2 Bedsteads, 1 Child's Bed and 1 Mattress, Brown Feather Bed, Hair Mattress, Spring Mattress, Wire Mattress, Wire Spring Beds, Screen-feather Beds and Pillows, Bed Clothing, Carpets, Oil Cloths, Wood, Tin and Iron Ware, and many other articles. 12

Terms Cash. T. J. GILLIES, Auct'r.

GRAND
Musical Festival!
AT
Bound Brook, N. J.,
COMMENCING
Monday Evening, October 31st,
and continuing Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Nov. 1, 2 and 4.

Dr. H. R. Palmer, of N. Y., Director.
Miss BETTIE SMITH, of N. Y., Soprano.
Miss LOTTIE SMITH, of N. Y., Contralto.
Mr. JNO. FRANCIS GILDER, of Boston, Pianist.

Two concertos daily. MATINEES every afternoon with orchestra. TWO GRAND CONCERTS Thursday and Friday evenings, Nov. 3 and 4.

Every effort is being made to make this Concert the finest ever held in Somerset County.

Church Music will be the Main Feature

SPA'S SPECIAL TRAIN will leave Bound Brook after each evening session, for the accommodation of parties from Dunellen, Plainfield and vicinity.

For circulars and full particulars, address HENRY SHEPHERD, Manager, Bound Brook, N. J. 27oct4

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscriber, Executor of John Harris, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, according to law and settled on the 7th day of December next, at the County of Union in Westminster, the County Court House, in Elizabeth.

STELLA HARRIS, Executrix.
Dated October 25th, 1887.—6w26

PUBLIC SALE OF REAL ESTATE.
CITY OF PLAINFIELD.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a warrant issued by John Tyler, City Judge of the City of Plainfield, in the county of Union, to me directed, I will expose for sale at public vendue, to the highest and best bidder, in the said City of Plainfield, in the year eighteen hundred and eighty-seven, on the 7th day of November next, at the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon, at his office, No. 1 Park street, in the City of Plainfield, all the lands, tenements, hereditaments and real estate of Joseph Dorrance, et, at public vendue, for the shortest time for which any person will pay the taxes, etc., due thereon and the said lands, together with interest and costs, to be sold on said day.

Also, at the same time and place, all the personal property of said Joseph Dorrance, et, consisting of

Allen, est Photo. Hall, 1 car 24 and Plain	$50 00
Brokaw, Mary A., Lot W. Front st, addition	1 00
Bailey, William, 2 1-2 lots, W. Front st	1 75
Bainbridge, John T. & Co. 2 lots, low land	7 00
Barber, F. C.	7 00
Bergen, Jas. J., 1 lot and 1 house, North and Dunellen ave	20

CITY DEPARTMENT

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION

J. A. DEMAREST, City Editor.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS.
CLOSE—8.00 and 10.00 A. M.; 2.00 and 5.00 P. M.
ARRIVE—8.00 and 10.00 A. M.; 2.00 and 5.00 P.M.
WESTFIELD, RAHWAY, &c., MAILS.
CLOSE—9.00 A. M. and 5.00 P. M.
ARRIVE—10.30 A. M. and 6.30 P. M.
MONEY ORDER AND REGISTRY DEPARTMENT.—Office open from 8.00 A. M. to 10.00 P. M. Sundays from 12 M. to 1 P. M. Mail for Washington closes Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 12 M.
Post Office opened 7 A. M. and closed at 7.30 P. M. Sundays, opened 8.30 A. M. and closed at 10 A. M. Money orders issued from 8 A. M. to 7 P. M. Registering from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M.
WM. L. FORCE, Postmaster.

—The Scott Printing Machine Works shipped eight presses to various parts of the country during last week.

—The net profits from the annual fair of the Union County Agricultural Society amounted to $1,765.05.

—The bans are biting at Scwaren. On Saturday last a fisherman off Mr. John F. Turner's hotel, caught twelve fine perch.

—It is said that within the past few days, a large force of men have been put to work at the Bond Tool Works, many of them being from Orange.

—The Saengerbund portion of the Plainfield Gesang and Turn Verein will give an evening sociable in their Hall on E. 2d street, on Monday evening, Oct. 31st.

—Messrs. Jasper & Co., another of Newark's popular and enterprising clothing firm, make their regular Fall announcement in this issue. Read what they offer.

—The lady managers of Children's Home have succeeded in engaging Mr. Charles Dickson who will read from his father's works, at their Hall, Saturday evening, Nov. 12th.

—Vocal rehearsals are held every Tuesday evening in Warren Mission Chapel from 7 to 8 o'clock. The music is conducted by Mr. M. M. Dunham, and the meetings are well attended.

—An effort will be made, it is said, at the coming session of the Legislature, to get a bill through declaring the rights of cyclers on the road, similar to the statute passed in New York last winter.

—Steps will be taken by the farmers this Fall to prevent the rifle pushers from using their chickens for targets when they are unable to find them, as the practice has become quite a nuisance of late years.

—A change has been made in the heating arrangements of the Netherwood chapel. The fires have been straightened, and all things perfected for give bodily warmth, at least, to this Winter's congregation.

—The Theodore Thomas Concerts of the coming season, at Steinway Hall, commence Tuesday evening, Nov. 8th. Mr. Rafael Joseffy will also appear, and the programme includes Beethoven, Chopin and Wagner.

—The city and its environs were depleted, Friday, to fill the ranks of Barnum, and the people were glad to get back to Plainfield in return for the exhibition of the remnants of some famous menagerie and the display of a second-class circus.

—If the lady who picked up by a pocket book on Sunday afternoon, Friday morning of last week, will call at this office, or send us her address, she will be put in the way of making the satisfactory job of restoring the property to its rightful owner.

—A carpet is very much needed for the office of the Relief Association. If any one has a discarded hand carpet to dispose of, card will send it to the rooms in Second street, corner of Madison avenue, or notify the Association, they will gladly send for it.

—We understand the engagement has been signed that insures for this season another week's presence in Plainfield of Ted Burgess, the humorist. He will be here during the week beginning Nov. 7th. Before Hall has again been secured for his services.

—Constable Smith Friday levied on one of the pole wagons belonging to the Barnum show, to satisfy a claim of $54 and H. Hadley, a stone mason, who sued with the show for $42.50. One of the proprietors made a deposit covering the claim, and signified his intention to test the matter.

—The monthly meeting of the McAll Assn. will be held Tuesday, Nov. 1st, at 2.30 p. m. in the Congregational church. The hour will be occupied listening to an address by a leading worker in the McAll Mission in Paris, whom we gladly welcome again, on her return to America. All are cordially invited to attend.

—Another of the entertainments offered for Tuesday evening, Nov. 8th, the night of election, is Mr. Marshall P. Wilder's monologue at the M. E. Church. He is the reverse, minus of the day, and a story humorist as well, while the variety of his repertoire can fill no entire evening without monotony.

—Mr. Charles Dickens, of London, Eng., who arrived in this country last week, and whose portrait was published in THE CONSTITUTIONALIST Monday, Nov. 7th, will read from his father's works, at Music Hall, Saturday evening, November 12th. The receipts will be for the benefit of the Children's Home of this city.

—One of our oldest resident milkmen started out the other morning to serve his customers. The first came to the wagon for his daily supply, but on looking for a bond much over the milkman's astonishment upon opening his cans and finding them empty. He had forgotten to take his cans aboard before starting.

—Thieves tried to force an entrance into the barn of Mr. D. C. Adams, of North Plainfield, Tuesday night. The burglars were frightened off by a dog, but as it opened inward the miscreants were not able to effect an entrance before being frightened off by the dog. The excellent girl, of course, "heard somebody around."

—New Jersey is the first State to name a Post Office in honor of Mrs. Cleveland. An order was promulgated on Saturday last by the Post Office department at Washington establishing a new Post Office in Atlantic county, to be known as "Folsom," in honor of the late mistress of the White House. It is three and a half miles from Hammonton and is said to be quite a breezy little village. It is believed that Senator McPherson suggested the name for the new office.

—It is quite likely, that on account of a total indebtedness to the Borough of about $100, Messrs. A. W. Hadsland, Chas. W. Mechelsen, Geo. F. Dupee and Martin I. Cooley, all well known residents of North Plainfield, will be prohibited from manufacturing certain alcoholic beverages in their residences. These gentlemen pledge themselves to pay forty cents per pound, but subject to the result of the final test of the case incurred in the interest of this slight nuisance they would fall on the Borough, which the Councilmen consider they are, at present, unable to meet.

North Plainfield Taxes Increased.

There has been an advance this year of about fifty per cent., in the North Plainfield tax rate, principally because of the cost of repairing the damages of the flood of last August. The rate for that part of the Township outside of the Borough of Dunellen, is 1.72, inside the limits, 2.10—special school excepted. The Board of Appeals will meet at Warren Engine house, Tuesday, Nov. 22d, at two o'clock.

Personalia.

Mr. J. H. Doane the West Front street shoe dealer, is passing around the cigars announcing a fresh arrival Sunday. It is a boy.

Mr. Charles Brooks and wife of First place and Ninth street, have taken up their cold quarters with Mrs. Brooks' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Ansel, of Crescent avenue.

Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis and daughter returned from Spring Lake on the 10th inst., on the 2.26 p. m. train. His daughter, Miss Mary, was able to walk from the cars to a carriage with the assistance of her father.

Sunday's New York World contained a fulsome tale of the somewhat mysterious marriage of Miss Jennie Fletcher of Brooklyn, who a few short years ago was visiting with her parents on West front street and Park place in North Plainfield.

Richard Hapenny, of West Second street, is entitled to a seat in the first row for raising 115 pounds of pumpkins from a single seed. On the vines there were seven squashes, averaging in weight from twelve pounds up to twenty.

Clarke and Co. are announcing the marriage of Miss Minnie F. Randolph, daughter of Mr. Thos. F. Randolph of West Front street, to Mr. Milan W. Hall of Plainfield avenue. The ceremony will be performed at the bride's residence on the evening of Monday, October 31st, at seven p. m.

Upon a dissolution of partnership, Mr. Orrin E. Hampton, formerly of this city, succeeds solely to the extended real estate and insurance business of Messrs. B. Burgess & Co., of Newark. Mr. Hampton's many friends will agree with us that he entirely deserves to thus succeed.

The clerks in Mr. Seeley Edsall's store were tendered a sociable in the basement of the store on Monday evening. Mr. Edsall, of Newark's popular and enterprising clothing firm, make their regular Fall announcement in this issue. Read what they offer.

—The lady managers of Children's Home have succeeded in engaging Mr. Charles Dickson who will read from his father's works, at their Hall, Saturday evening, Nov. 12th.

—Vocal rehearsals are held every Tuesday evening in Warren Mission Chapel from 7 to 8 o'clock. The music is conducted by Mr. M. M. Dunham, and the meetings are well attended.

—An effort will be made, it is said, at the coming session of the Legislature, to get a bill through declaring the rights of cyclers on the road, similar to the statute passed in New York last Winter.

—Steps will be taken by the farmers this Fall to prevent the rifle pushers from using their chickens for targets when they are unable to find them, as the practice has become quite a nuisance of late years.

—A change has been made in the heating arrangements of the Netherwood chapel. The fires have been straightened, and all things perfected for give bodily warmth, at least, to this Winter's congregation.

—The Theodore Thomas Concerts of the coming season, at Steinway Hall, commence Tuesday evening, Nov. 8th. Mr. Rafael Joseffy will also appear, and the programme includes Beethoven, Chopin and Wagner.

—The city and its environs were depleted, Friday, to fill the ranks of Barnum, and the people were glad to get back to Plainfield in return for the exhibition of the remnants of some famous menagerie and the display of a second-class circus.

—If the lady who picked up by a pocket book on Sunday afternoon, Friday morning of last week, will call at this office, or send us her address, she will be put in the way of making the satisfactory job of restoring the property to its rightful owner.

—A carpet is very much needed for the office of the Relief Association. If any one has a discarded hand carpet to dispose of, card will send it to the rooms in Second street, corner of Madison avenue, or notify the Association, they will gladly send for it.

—We understand the engagement has been signed that insures for this season another week's presence in Plainfield of Ted Burgess, the humorist. He will be here during the week beginning Nov. 7th. Before Hall has again been secured for his services.

—Constable Smith Friday levied on one of the pole wagons belonging to the Barnum show, to satisfy a claim of $54 and H. Hadley, a stone mason, who sued with the show for $42.50. One of the proprietors made a deposit covering the claim, and signified his intention to test the matter.

—The monthly meeting of the McAll Ass. will be held Tuesday, Nov. 1st, at 2.30 p. m. in the Congregational church. The hour will be occupied listening to an address by a leading worker in the McAll Mission in Paris, whom we gladly welcome again, on her return to America. All are cordially invited to attend.

—Another of the entertainments offered for Tuesday evening, Nov. 8th, the night of election, is Mr. Marshall P. Wilder's monologue at the M. E. Church. He is the reverse, minus of the day, and a story humorist as well, while the variety of his repertoire can fill no entire evening without monotony.

—Mr. Charles Dickens, of London, Eng., who arrived in this country last week, and whose portrait was published in THE CONSTITUTIONALIST Monday, Nov. 7th, will read from his father's works, at Music Hall, Saturday evening, November 12th. The receipts will be for the benefit of the Children's Home of this city.

—One of our oldest resident milkmen started out the other morning to serve his customers. The first came to the wagon for his daily supply, but on looking for a bond much over the milkman's astonishment upon opening his cans and finding them empty. He had forgotten to take his cans aboard before starting.

—Thieves tried to force an entrance into the barn of Mr. D. C. Adams, of North Plainfield, Tuesday night. The burglars were frightened off by a dog, but as it opened inward the miscreants were not able to effect an entrance before being frightened off by the dog. The excellent girl, of course, "heard somebody around."

—New Jersey is the first State to name a Post Office in honor of Mrs. Cleveland. An order was promulgated on Saturday last by the Post Office department at Washington establishing a new Post Office in Atlantic county, to be known as "Folsom," in honor of the late mistress of the White House. It is three and a half miles from Hammonton and is said to be quite a breezy little village. It is believed that Senator McPherson suggested the name for the new office.

—It is quite likely, that on account of a total indebtedness to the Borough of about $100, Messrs. A. W. Hadsland, Chas. W. Mechelsen, Geo. F. Dupee and Martin I. Cooley, all well known residents of North Plainfield, will be prohibited from manufacturing certain alcoholic beverages in their residences. These gentlemen pledge themselves to pay forty cents per pound, but subject to the result of the final test of the case incurred in the interest of this slight nuisance they would fall on the Borough, which the Councilmen consider they are, at present, unable to meet.

North Plainfield Taxes Increased.

There has been an advance this year of about fifty per cent., in the North Plainfield tax rate, principally because of the cost of repairing the damages of the flood of last August. The rate for that part of the Township outside of the Borough of Dunellen, is 1.72, inside the limits, 2.10—special school excepted. The Board of Appeals will meet at Warren Engine house, Tuesday, Nov. 22d, at two o'clock.

Your Duty, and the Council's.

We would again call the attention of the property owners of the city to the ordinance recently adopted by the Council —as published in THE CONSTITUTIONALIST of last week—requiring the repair of the sidewalks along their premises. The walks are to be even on the surface and free from grass or weeds to a width of four feet. If these requirements are not complied with, the Council is authorized by law to order the work done and paid for, and to make the amount of the expense and costs with interest at ten per cent., a lien on the land. Payment can then be enforced by action in court.

We trust, however, that the ordinance will not be permitted to fall into lamentable disuetude, and become as dead on the books as that requiring the keeping of the walks free from snow, slush and ice.

Where is the Water Works Report?

—When is each taxpayer to receive the printed pamphlet ordered sent him by the Council, containing Engineer Hamlin's report on a sewage and water-works system for this city? So a correspondent writes us. Thinking the fault may be the Clerk's, a Press reporter called on that officer—who, by the way, furnished quite some of the information and most of the statistics in the expert's report—but Mr. Leonard, however, was as unable to answer our correspondent as we are. He is all ready to send the pamphlets out as soon as received. He has published seventeen dollars worth of wrappers, and they are directed to all taxpayers including our questioner. The delay in getting the printing was let out to the cheapest bidder, but who that was the Clerk did not know as the job was awarded by the Committee. Probably, therefore, as in the case of most cut-rate contractors, the shop had not the facilities to do the work.

They Mean Business.

The Central Base Ball Club of this city still claim to be monarchs on the ball field, especially in this locality. After repeated attempts to arrange a match with the Fanwood Athletics for a purse of from $500 a side down, the two clubs have each backed their money by making a purse of $50, the same to go to the winning team in a match game at New Brunswick on Saturday next. The men that the game will be contested in good faith, articles of agreement have been drawn up, and signed by a representative of each club. The conditions are as follows:

Inasmuch as the game to come off on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1887, at the New Brunswick grounds between the Central and the Fanwood Athletic Base Ball Clubs, we do agree to play to win, and be given to the winning club. The foul strike rule to govern. If money is put up a purse is $50. On this date and hour a deposit of $25 each is to be made with the umpire in the game and he hold us to our word and agreement. Should either club not appear by 3.30 p. m. he put upon the clock p. m., on Saturday afternoon, and whoever fails to comply with the above shall at once forfeit the amount on deposit, the winning club to have the full amount. This is to be well as the gate receipts, irrelevant of any expense that may occur.

ANDREW UPJAL,
S. C. M. ALLEN.

"A Tale of Two Women."

FROM THE Pathos of Oct. 12th—two weeks ago—we extract the following: It contains all there is of truth that has been published in relation to these two ladies who visited this city upon invitation of friends here:

Mrs. Stanton and daughter, Miss Jessie, of London, England, are registered at the city from the Pacific coast, and many of the old friends here. The ladies enjoyed themselves greatly, and some of the older members in the gathering enlivened the occasion by rendering several popular vocal selections, including "Miss Healy's Piano Forte."

Robbed on the Circus Grounds.

There is no doubt that a gang of pickpockets accompanied the Barnum circus to this city on Friday, for quite a number of small thefts have been reported, but the most daring, was the robbery of a diamond pin from Miss A. L. Spencer of Madison avenue, as she was standing in a group in front of the ticket wagon, all eager to purchase tickets for the afternoon performance. She was accosted by a strange man, was thrust over her shoulder, and a beautiful and costly diamond pin removed from her necklace, which had been fastened with a safety pin. Mrs. Washington, and accused the stranger with taking it. He professed his innocence and finally abandoned the search. A uniformed policemen on the grounds, but the thief eluded them all and got away with his jewel.

W. C. T. U. Notes.

The usual Sabbath services—under the auspices of the W. C. T. U.—are held in Reform Hall, at 9.15 a. m., and at 4 p. m. for prayer and conversation.

The regular monthly meetings of the Union will be held as usual on the first Tuesday of each month at three p. m., in their rooms No. 15 East Front street, to which all are invited.

The regular monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held on Tuesday Nov. 1st, at three p. m., at their rooms No. 15 East Front street, and as the annual election will come before the Union at that time requires both grave and wisdom, it is earnestly requested that a full attendance be secured, and uniformed policemen on the grounds, but the thief eluded them all and got away with his jewel.

They Did Not Answer the Description.

Chief of Police Dodd received a despatch from the Chief of the Philadelphia Police, shortly after midnight last night to the effect that would be connected with the express package of valuables and left that city—were supposed to be on the train leaving Philadelphia at 9.25 o'clock p. m., and for Plainfield at 3.27 o'clock in the morning. A telegram had also been sent ahead to the conductor, with a description of the suspected individuals, upon receipt of which the train in this city, told Chief Dodd that two men answering the description, who had gotten on the rear of the train as it left Philadelphia, were then aleed in the sleeper. Dodd aroused them, but after they had put on their outer clothes it was plain they did not answer the description, the latter being lame nor pock-marked. As there were no others on the train, it was permitted to pass on.

Grand Musical Festival.

Many undoubtedly have heard of the musical festivals that are held annually in Worcester, Mass., and elsewhere, where musicians from all over the country assemble, forming a large chorus, and with the assistance of professional soloists, under the directorship of the best conductor, hold a week's convention of song.

Only those who have attended such a festival can comprehend the magnificent and grand amount of good accomplished. A festival of this character will be held at Round Brook, N. J., commencing Monday, evening, Oct. 31, conducted by Prof. H. B. Palmer of N. Y., director of the "Church Choral Unions," of New York city and Brooklyn, and author of the well known hymn, "Hold Not to Temptation." Choirs and singers in general, musical students, either vocal or instrumental, will attend the benefits to all attend and make this a grand musical festival. A special train will leave Round Brook after each evening session, for the accommodation of visitors from Plainfield, Dunellen and vicinity. See advertisement elsewhere.

—Owing to the filling up with sand of both driven-wells that supply the Electric Light company's boilers, last evening, it was necessary to shut down for about all of minutes shortly after five o'clock. This is the first time this has happened, and, as experience is a great teacher, it will undoubtedly be the last. The fault was no mortal's one.

Will Protect The Game.

There is said to be an abundance of game this Fall, and efforts are being made to protect it, at least until the open season begins on November 1st. Several hunters have already been arrested for shooting out of season, and dealt with as the law directs. The New Jersey Game and Fish Protective Society is doing all in its power to protect the young game, and have located private detectives in various parts of the State to detect and arrest all violators of the game laws.

More Insecurable Than Ever.

Since Prof. Reynolds the mesmerist appeared in this city, his engagements have taken him to almost every civilized country in the World. His successes have been chronicled in the newspapers of every language spoken in this Universe. The work he will spend here begins Nov. 7th, and was contracted for a year ago. His mysterious powers, from all accounts, seem to grow, and even more bewildering results than when here before, may be expected.

Eels by the Bushel.

Friday evening last the turbine wheel in French Bros. flouring mill on Somerset street refused to do its duty, and as the machinery was stopped the cause was soon discovered. The obstruction to the operation of the mill was found to be a large number of eels were the cause of stoppage. Over a bushel of eels were removed from about the wheel, some of the fish being three feet in length and over three pounds in weight. The batch of them weighed 66 pounds. It is no unusual occurrence for this species of fish to cling to the outside of water-wheels during the early part of the Fall migration down stream to salt water, but the big lot of eels, out, scarred and mashed by the turbine wheel of French's mill, created quite an excitement and comment by those who saw them.

A Goodly Estate in Goodly Hands.

In the Surrogate's office at Elizabeth, the 26th inst. was filed the inventory of the estate of the late Dr. Chaney of this city. The appraisement was that of the personal property aggregates $66,000. Adding to this the appraised value of other property belonging to the estate, the total is increased to over $120,000, every dollar of which this community well knows was honestly earned by the industry of Dr. Chase. His property is now in the hands of Craig A. Marsh, Esq., of this city, as executor and trustee, to be administered according to law for the benefit of the family of the deceased. The trust could not be better placed.

Saturday's Trotting.

The unpleasant weather on Saturday did not attract as large a number of persons to the fair grounds as usual, but all of the well-known jockeys in this locality were there in force. The time, for the most of races had previously been announced, and no one knew just what to expect. The first event took place was a trot, mile heats, best two in three. "Little Dick" won the straight heats in 2.37½ and 2.37½. The next contesting trot was between Mr. A. G. Vail's "Betsy Bobbit," and a gray gelding, "Hunter," from New York city. Mile heats, best three. The one the expression of those present, the latter horse "walked away" from "Betsy Bobbit," winning the heats in the time of 2.37½, 2.34 and 2.32. It is said that a purse of $100 a side was wagered on the race, and that there were several outside bets.

Fire and Robbery.

About five o'clock Sunday morning the wife of Rev. Joseph B. Cleaver of Dunellen was awakened by the smell of smoke, which was suffocating in her bed chamber. She aroused her husband who made an investigation and found that a fire was burning in a sitting room in the second story on the North side of the house. Rev. Mr. Cleaver immediately removed his wife and children to a place of safety and with the assistance of his coachman began to battle with the flames. Hand grenades were brought into service but they were useless, as it was found impossible to break them. The fire, which originated from a grate setting too low in the fireplace, ran directly under it, spread rapidly, and Mr. Cleaver and his man saw that they were unable to check it. A messenger was sent to Dr. H. M. Clarke's residence, a few hundred yards distant, where the firemen were summoned by telephone. When the firemen arrived on the spot, the flames had eaten through the flooring into the dining room below, and had also spread to the room above. The department succeeded in getting a stream on, on account of a scarcity of water in the well at Central avenue and Ninth street, but one engine, was put to work. By the heroic efforts of the firemen who are entitled to great credit for the manner in which they worked, the fire was confined to the interior of the house, as above described. The building, of frame, is located on Central avenue below Ninth street. The main structure is 30x46 feet in dimensions, three stories high with cupola, and has a projection 12x20 feet in the rear. It was erected several years ago at a cost of $18,000. Mr. Charles Jarvis was the architect. The house is owned by Mrs. A. Saltzman, and was insured for $5,000 in the Sun Fire Insurance Company of London. The damage, it is estimated, will exceed $1,000. Mr. Saltzman's household goods were stored in a room in the upper story, and were not insured, the policy of $2,000 having expired last September. These goods were not damaged to any great extent. The building was thoroughly fitted up, painted and papered, when Mr. Cleaver took possession last May. Rev. Mr. Cleaver's loss is to furniture, etc., will probably not exceed $2,500 and is covered by insurance in the Home Insurance Company of Hampshire company, of which Mr. J. T. Vail of this city is the agent. All of the manuscript of sermons, addresses, lectures, orations, dedicatory addresses, etc., delivered by Rev. Mr. Cleaver during the past twenty years and valued at $10,000, was destroyed, together with a valuable oil painting entitled "Blarney Castle," and a large quantity of clothing belonging to Mrs. Cleaver and the children.

While the fire was in progress some mean thief entered the sleeping apartments of Nora and Maggie Jourdan, two girls employed in the family, and stole a purse belonging to the latter. In this purse was $15 belonging to one of the girls was taken from a trunk and $20, belonging to the other. The money was stolen from a bureau drawer. A colored man was also seen to leave the place with an armful of clothing, but he was not recognized.

CARD OF THANKS.

The following card of thanks, praising the members of the Plainfield Fire Department, has been received at this office:

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Please allow me through the columns of your paper to express my thanks to the officers and members of the Fire Department for the efficient work performed at the fire in my house Sunday morning.

MRS. A. SALTZMAN.

Plainfield, Oct. 24, 1887.

Mr. J. T. Vail on Monday telegraphed for an insurance adjuster to come to this city and adjust the loss sustained by Rev. Joseph B. Cleaver, a quantity of household furniture, clothing, etc., was destroyed by the fire in Mrs. A. Saltzman's house on Central avenue, and insured in the company to which they were appointed. To the sportsman a sight of this remarkable game fish will be extremely interesting and exciting, as there will be a great display of the delight found in hunting and fishing, the keen beauty of the tarpon will surely repay a visit to it. It can be seen on the afternoon and evening of Thursday, November 3d, at the ball over Baker and Meeker's store.

A Treat For the Elizabeth Ladies.

The members of the Plainfield Bicycle Club have been invited by the Elizabeth wheelmen to take part in a lantern parade in the latter city, during Saturday evening next. Other neighboring clubs have also been bidden to the march and subsequent feast, but with creditable taste and judgment Elizabeth depends on the Plainfield Boys to add ornamental effect to the line—and so to speak, Capt. Berry, Jr., of Elizabeth, expresses the sentiments of his club in his invitation. The procession will start from the headquarters of the Elizabeth Club at eight o'clock, and Captain Martin calls on the Plainfield wheelmen to leave the 6.45 or 7.02 p. m. train from this city.

Fire at Westfield.

About half-past 4 Saturday morning a fire broke out in the house occupied by the families of Lee Hart and Joseph C. Rogers, corner of Broad and Elm streets, Westfield, and damaged the building to the extent of several hundred dollars. The firemen worked heroically to keep the fire from spreading and succeeded in confining it to two rooms in the upper story. Mr. Rogers and family were fellow citizens in this city at the time. His loss of $160 is covered by $500 insurance in the Greenwich Company. Mr. Hart's loss on the building was $100, insured for $500 in Mr. W. A. Woodruff's agency in this city. His loss on the house and furniture will probably not exceed $50.

An Aged Quaker Passed Away.

The death occurred, during Monday afternoon, of Mrs. Sarah Underhill, at the residence of her daughter, corner of Fifth and Sycamore streets. The deceased was in the 90th year of her age, but still retaining in a remarkable degree all her faculties. The cause of her death was neuralgia of the heart. She was a member of the Hicksite Society of Friends, and had been a resident of this city for some years. In the house at her death—which was not entirely unexpected—were four generations. The daughter to Mrs. Samuel Underhill, whose husband, however, is no blood relation. Four times in the history of the family has a daughter married another of the same name. Mrs. Andrew Gavett (nee Miss Anderson) of West Fifth street, and Mrs. Joseph Gavett (nee Miss Bonnell) of South street, are granddaughters of the deceased. Mrs. Christiani and Mrs. Osborne, other grandaughters of the deceased, reside with the mother Mrs. Samuel Underhill, at Fifth and Sycamore streets. The funeral took place from the house yesterday afternoon, at ten o'clock. Interment at Greenwood.

The Y. M. C. A. Entertainments.

This season's course will include a series of five illustrated lectures by Mr. Ragan, three of Prof. W. C. Richards' readings, and a concert by the Mendelssohn Quintette Club. The subjects of the lectures are as follows: Here and There in the Holy Land; Rambles in Switzerland; Glimpses of Scotland; Ramblings in Rome; Yosemite and the Yellowstone, all illustrated by magic stereopticon views in a canvass of 900 square feet. Though our people have seen something of Mr. Ragan's work before, the coming exhibition will certainly surpass anything of the kind we have had, in beauty, variety and interest. As to Prof. Richards' science lectures, it is only needful to remind our people, and especially our young friends, of the delight and wonder of the practical illustrations of science shown in Music Hall last season. The Philharmonic concerts will, of course, be the musical events of the season, and are sure to call together all the music lovers of the city. They will comprise as usual, selections of the highest class appealing to cultivated taste. The 35th will be assisted on each occasion by a prominent vocalist, the first is Louise Tower being engaged for the last concert. Full particulars as to programmes and sale of tickets—which will take place at Reynolds' pharmacy—will appear in due time.

Dwelling House Burned.

The dwelling house of John Barry, located in "Bull Frog City," was burned to the ground Friday night, while the family were asleep in the rear, together with all the household goods. Neighbors discovered the fire about 9 p. m., and immediately gave the alarm. The building was of frame, one story and a-half in height, but little time was required to reduce it to ashes. Soon after the alarm was rung No. 2 and 3 Engines, the Truck and Alert hose cart were on the way to the fire, but the distance was great, and the entire structure was a complete wreck when the firemen arrived on the ground. Consequently their services were not required. Mr. and Mrs. Barry were not aware of the fact that all their earthly possessions were being destroyed until they found themselves at the Barnum show, and were first informed of their misfortune when returning home after the performance. Mr. Barry told a Press representative that he could in no way account for the fire. When he and his wife left home at 5 o'clock, no lights were left burning, and the fire was about out. Those who first discovered the fire declare that it started on the inside of the house, and that the origin is scarcely be attributed to an incendiary. So rapidly did the flames spread that not an opportunity was given to remove any of the household goods, and all were consumed with the structure. Mr. Barry estimates his loss at about $800, which is covered by insurance to the amount of $400 in Mr. W. A. Woodruff's agency.

A Big Fish at Scotch Plains.

One of the most successful oyster festival to be held by the ladies of All Saints church, Scotch Plains, on the after, noon and evening of November 3d will be the luscious fish caught last Winter by Mr. Walter Man, when in Florida. It is said to be the largest fish ever caught, by owners of a rod. This tarpon the Florida fishermen's name for the monster, is known to the herring tribe, and is scientifically known as a Megalops Thrissoides. The fish is of decidedly silvery appearance, the giant is, however, that given him by the natives, the "Silver King" from the shining silvery coat in which he is clad. The specimen now on view at the rooms of the hall next week weighs 151 pounds and measures six feet, four inches in length. Its strength may be imagined from the fact that it towed one boat containing the captor some distance from the yacht. It took Mr. Man about an hour and a quarter to down the fish which was then secured, and its throat having been cut, a rope was fastened around the tarpon behind the gills, and it was towed back to the yacht, and hoisted by long tackle and fall lowered into the water. One can easily imagine that catching "tarpon" must be quite as exciting as any hunting, but the silvery prey when killed is the sir on being struck and then darts away, hither and thither with such quick and powerful motions that only skillful and patient engineering on the part of the fisherman will enable him to land his prey. The immense scales are used by the natives in making the pearly and opal scale jewelry which forms such an industry in that part of the country. The fish caught by Mr. Man has been stuffed and mounted by a taxidermist of New York. The rod and line with which the capture was made surmount the shining trophy, and Central avenue, south of Front street, is to which they were appointed. To the sportsman a sight of this remarkable game fish will be extremely interesting and exciting, as there will be a great display of the delight found in hunting and fishing, the keen beauty of the tarpon will surely repay a visit to it. It can be seen on the afternoon and evening of Thursday, November 3d, at the hall over Baker and Meeker's store.

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING COLUMN.

Which she was a Child, she called for Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY, a marvelous cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria, Canker Mouth and Throat. For sale by Parker & Runyon, Druggists. Price, 50 cents.

Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy, a marvelous cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria, Canker Mouth and Throat. For sale by Parker & Runyon, Druggists. Price, 50 cents.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure is sold on a guarantee. It cures Consumption. For sale by Parker & Runyon, Druggists.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure is sold on a guarantee. It cures Consumption. For sale by Parker & Runyon, Druggists.

Shiloh's Vitalizer is guaranteed to cure Constipation. For sale by Parker & Runyon, Druggists.

Shiloh's Vitalizer is guaranteed to cure Constipation. For sale by Parker & Runyon, Druggists.

Shiloh's Cure will immediately relieve Croup, Whooping Cough and Bronchitis

THE FREEHOLDERS' PROCEEDINGS

ELIZABETH, N. J., Oct. 4, 1887.

Regular meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the county of Union, held on Thursday, October 6, 1887, at 2:30 o'clock P. M.

Present—Director Hubbard and Freeholders Carmody, Doty, Beckle, Howard, Houston, Hicks, Kyte, Kienhaus, Littell, Nolte, Parsons, Reid, Thompson, Vanderbeek, Wright, West.

The minutes of last meeting, reading list of bills ordered paid were read and, on motion, approved.

RESOLUTIONS.

By Freeholder Kyte:

Resolved, That the County Collector be authorized to pay William H. Johnson two hundred and ninety nine ($299) dollars, on account contract for building bridge over Miller's Creek, on road to Glenside, Fanwood township, when bill for same is properly audited.

Freeholder Debate in vote in adoption.

On roll call adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Debate:

Resolved, That the County Collector be authorized to pay unto Joseph Wilson the sum of one hundred and eighty-nine dollars and seventy-five cents ($189 70) the amount due him on contract with the county for building line bridge over Green Brook when it shall be properly approved and sworn to.

Freeholder Kyte moved to adoption.

On roll call adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Parsons:

Resolved, That the county bill of $6,062.28 of October 5, 1887, for three months, be paid when properly audited.

Freeholder Thompson seconded the adoption.

On roll call adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Howard:

Resolved, That the County Collector be authorized to pay William H. Johnson the sum of one hundred and eighty-nine dollars and seventy-five cents ($189.75) on account of jury for the October Term, 1887, for work of twenty-five hundred dollars.

Freeholder Vanderbeek moved its adoption.

On roll call adopted by the following vote: Ayes, 16; nays, 1 (Doty).

By Freeholder Wright:

Whereas, it is pleasing that the learned judges of the Court of Common Pleas have been drawing all so-free tax to the court of Chosen Freeholders, Circuit Court of Common Pleas, Court of Oyer and Terminer, Court of Quarter Sessions and Orphans' Court for many years last past, and drawing such fees regularly between each and every presiding judge has also been receiving extra fees for particular services rendered, and it further appearing that under the law in effect during last period, that will no doubt be continued in force, that thirds of the fees received by them, and more than one-third of the time, is actually paid to them, and that said presiding judge under the law is not entitled to any thirds of the fees received by them, and that the same are illegally paid to them, and in further appearing, that the county is entitled to the fees paid to the presiding judge, and to two-thirds of all the fees heretofore paid to the said ex-officio judges of said Circuit Courts, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Sheriff, County Clerk and Surrogate be notified that the Board will not allow any fees hereafter to them or of emolument or anything else to the court, in all of the aforesaid courts, and hereby instruct each presiding judge, and each county clerk, sheriff and surrogate to an accounting of the same, and will hold them responsible for any such fees now or hereafter received, and that said presiding judge, after receiving notice of this resolution.

On motion of Freeholder Howard adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Howard:

Resolved, That the bill of William Bachman for extra work properly attested by the commissioners.

Freeholder Doty moved its adoption.

On roll call adopted unanimously.

A recess was declared for fifteen minutes.

After recess on roll call all the members were present.

By Freeholder Vanderbeek:

Resolved, That the bill of Joseph P. Stelle for $37 50 for extra work properly audited and approved by the commissioners, be paid.

Freeholder Thompson moved its adoption.

On roll call adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Vanderbeek moved that the bill of S. Cahill, Jr., for salary as Jail Warden, amounting to $375, be paid.

On roll call adopted unanimously.

The following bills, audited and approved, were read and ordered paid by unanimous vote:

Bridge Account—Elizabeth—L. Wortendyke, $8.25; Fanwood—William Manning, $8.32; Plainfield—Charles Bailey, $8.25; Thomas C. Leach, $28.75; Charles H. Frost, $27.50; Plainfield—Thomas Sexton, $8.25; Westfield, John T. Moore, $28.50; Railway—Wm. H. Hughes, $30.50; Ayers & Lafferty, $69.12; Wm. H. Hughes, $131.40; Charles Wm. Runkle, $8.25; Railway—E. T. Taplin, $11.00; Railway—Wm. Runkle, $8.25; John T. Moore, $29.50; M. R. Dunn, $8.25; Railway—Wm. Runkle, $8.25; W. Van Pelt, $58.32; Railway—E. T. Taplin, $8.80; Cranford—Charles F. Nash, $27.75; Isaac Winans, $13.; Bert Hoyt, $72.60; do., $22.50; Clark—August Ritter, $13.87; New Providence—Charles A. Smith, $7.50; Clark—Elias Skinner, $5.75; do., do.; Elizabeth—Lewis Spencer, $8.25; Elizabeth—Andrew Meisel, $7.; Plainfield—John V. Whitlock, $13.50; E. M. Sanders, $8.25; Wm. Hall, $13.; Geo. S. Hall, $8.25; New Providence—Jas. Reid, $8.50; Railway—Wm. Runkle, $8.25; Railway—Frazee, $20; Frank Elder, $10.50; Thos. Jansen, Dunn, $11; Wilson Dunn, $11; Edmund Sanders, $12; Franklin Miller, $10; Fanwood—Wm. Runkle, $8.25; Jail—Thomas Hughes, $8.32; Harris & Stockham, $8.32; Wm. H. Vosbee, $24.64; Clark—Jr., $25; Rhoda M. Brewer, $27.; Oliver J. Brewer, $10.87; Thomas S. Smith, $8.32; Wm. A. Lamson, $11.50; Committee Expenses—A. Vanderbeek, $8.50; F. H. Carmody, $7.; H. Kienhaus, $5.50; S. P. Doty, $6.50; James T. Thompson, $7.50; George Kyte, $8.40.

Members Per Account—George Kyte, $37.50; Henry C. Kienhaus, $30.; Sheriff's Account—Chas. E. Reed, $22.; Vanderbeek, $50; S. P. Debate, $37.50; Thompson, $37.50; F. H. Carmody, $37.50; James T. Parsons, $110.

Salary Account—Chas. E. Reed, $83.33; Stationery Account—C. H. Schmidt, $22; John C. Earkin, Jr., $30.

Publishing Account—Chas. H. Schmidt, $8.

Public Buildings account—William B. Tucker, $30.50; H. C. Williams, $51.47; Elizabeth Town Water Co., $55; M. W. Munford, $7.75.

Incidental account—John L. Crowell, $294.42.

Court account—Food & Hall, $20; Geo. M. Conover, $5; Samuel C. Wilson & Son, $250; Lewis S. Hyer, $30; William R. Pond, $6.15; T. F. McCormick, $225; J. C. Jacques, $6; F. R. M. Rogers, $5; George M. Sales, Sheriff, $236.52; Nathan Harper, $40.

Freeholder Doty moved to adjourn. Which was carried.

The Director declared the Board adjourned to Thursday, November 3, 1887, at 2:30 o'clock P. M.

CHAS. E. REED, Clerk.

The Railroad a Reality.

There is said to be no question now concerning the construction of the road to be known as the South Plainfield and Roselle Railroad. The road will be built on a spur of the Lehigh Valley road, and will start from a point near the South Plainfield depot, cross Park avenue, in the neighborhood of the Fair Grounds, and touch the Central railroad at Roselle. Mr. Pickell, one of the managers of the road, has been working for the past few days in paying off the property owners, through whose land the road will run. All the property necessary for the completion of the road has been purchased between New Brooklyn and what is known as the lower Railway road, and all claims for the same have been paid excepting those of the Messrs. Potter Bros., at Mt. Pleasant, and Theo. Folsom on the Railway road.

The Winter of our discontent approacheth.

ROLL OF HONOR OF THE PLAINFIELD PUBLIC SCHOOLS FOR SEPTEMBER.

HIGH SCHOOL.

Senior Class.

Lillie B. Dunham, Minnie F. Eveleigh, Sarah L. Gerrish, Mary E. Hall, Emma R. Wolf.

Junior Class.

Charlotte M. Brokaw, Ella C. Osborne, Florence D. Brown, Lizzie M. Cowell, Mary E. Fennell, Laura D. Wetzel, Jessie M. Hall.

Edward V. French.

Third Class.

Emma V. Case, Minnie M. Cowell, Mary Howe, Edward J. Patterson, Charles E. Kelly, Jessie M. Robinson, Lizzie S. Robinson, Peter Van Arsdale, Lottie V. Taylor, Albert W. Wheeler.

Albert C. Wyckoff.

Fourth Class.

Harriet S. Bogue, Ethel L. Short, Sandra A. Cowell, Bertie E. Darby.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

First Class.

Caroline L. Avery, Sarah E. Cahill, Sarah E. Calvert, Anna K. Hall, Lottie F. Jansen, Mary E. Kelly, Ida M. Loth, Lizzie D. Montanye, Lillie Mount, Grace H. Pelton, Lizzie M. Perkins, Nellie Parsons, Ida Ten Eyck.

Second Class.

Lizzie I. Bates, Minnie A. Bates, Mary A. Carter, Hattie Cowell, Iona A. Faulkner, Florence M. Kline, M. Addie Kenyon, Lizzie L. Smith.

First Division.

Anna Foose, Margaret S. Finley, Bertie T. Frank, Annie Gaillard, Mary Young, John Hall, Edward A. M. Lang, Harriet Roberts.

John C. Whitney.

Third Class, 1st Division.

Mabie Case, Mary M. Miller, Minnie Dunham, Mary E. Mount, Hattie Gooden, Minnie Pelton, Maggie S. Shaffer, Lizzie Sutton, Mattie M. Smith, Florence Van Kirk, Jessie Wilson, Lizzie Wilson.

Third Class, 2d Division.

John M. C. Bonnage, Harry C. Bates, Frank Lowrie, Charles Lowrie, Charles Mount, Irwin C. Sheppard, Stephen Wetherill.

William Mebane.

Fourth Class, First Division.

Minnie Bonnell, Florence Cowell, Cora Foose, Lizzie Hoagland, Lena Jenkins.

Phoebe Lovell, Minnie Mount, Minnie Thomas, Jessie Wilson, Lizzie Wilson.

John Cowell.

Fourth Class—2d Division.

Sallie B. Bonnell, Mary E. Cahill, Florence E. Dunham, Lizzie Gaillard, Mabel L. Hamilton, Sophia E. Kelly, Mary E. Lang, Fourth Class, 3d Division.

Annie L. Bonnell, Mary A. Sayres, Lizzie C. Foose, Bessie H. Wilson.

CHIEF OF STRANGLERS.

A Hideous Old Thug Tries His Terrible Art on a Victim.

Many of the great criminals whom I have seen hung in their faces a terrible warning of what they were and of what the things of danger it is not so. These likenesses are not always true, but I can say from a correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, every one of whom he has taken were true. Many a public man in this country, as in Europe, are to the outward eye a set of quiet, sleeping, mangled men, who might be a gang of hoodlums, a group of harmless village folk, a party of supermundane fellow workmen, or any thing on earth but what they really are.

"Can you see color?" whatever for guilt, pointing to a small, inconspicuous spot in his face. It was a mere dot on the pleasant but, packing a pistol on his knee, and attracting no stain. Below from with his hand on his shoulder. The head of his fellow was his waiter.

"Ask him," replied he, "how many murders he has committed."

A momentary gleam of cunning came in to his countenance. The old tiger is evidently suspicious, and stands on his guard.

"I can not tell," he answers, with an indifferent air, and yet with some circumstances, as is it something indescribably ghastly. "I didn't keep count of them because I regarded it as murder.

"Now, before we go," says I to our conductor, "I wish to see for myself that the strangling was done. Oblige me by letting me have that rope that was used on the wood, for I don't care to trust you with me before."

The waiter rummages with which the villainy old murderer loves to exercise, and filled with fresh hope by such a display of his art, he begins to tell us how he used my arm and how he used his knuckles together with a sudden twist, gives my wrist a squeeze and aim at making a dexterous move.

His awful change fast passes over his face as I turn and look him in the eye. I am not to be trifled with, and I tell him so. My dog, however, owns to be larger with me than he is, and I have a weapon, his service, especially as I have given him a good character from the Government employ. Lieutenant Greely, in whose command Wolf fell, presented him to General Sherman, who has ever kept him at the head quarters. The old fellow seems to have been very fond of Wolf, and I found, and the sooner for me was sent to California that he might watch the house of Senator Sharon. I signed to George H. King, of San Francisco, who had a brother-in-law in the Arctic regions, and who had seen Wolf, and he was a large animal, with fangs and claws like a lion, and of wonderful intelligence.

The old fellow seemed to see him found his fate, and produced a piece of half a dozen children who rolled about him. He evidently coaxing some likely serious to him, and I was born in Greenland eight years ago, and taught to draw sledges across the frozen snow by Esquimaux mastiffs. When Lieutenant Greely was fitting out the expedition he chose Wolf from among the dogs and the animals wonderful intelligence, that seemed almost human, was the love and devotion of "Sergt." whose name also often figured among the incidents of the expedition. Wolf was one of the dogs who led perfectly-natured band of explorers northward, often at the rate of one hundred and sixty-five miles a day.

Wolf is the sole survivor of his team, Tiger being left to his fate on the ice floe in the commander. The story is told, too, that Wolf, by the laws of the Arctic zone, could not be his self would have died, but because he was a dog he was permitted to live. Other stories of Wolf's fidelity are told. He was captured once by Indians, and was caught in the act of stealing a human arm from the carcass of one of his former drivers. He was only a dog, and they let him live. Wolf will be returned to his Eskimo home this Autumn.

A Ten-Thousand Dollar Watch.

The death of Mr. Alfred Dawson removes a well-known figure from London society. He was a younger brother of the celebrated George Anthony Dawson, Baronet of Hatton, and of Mr. Dawson-Damer, afterward Viscount Ossington. Later Oswald-gifts were made to Dawson by his wife with ten-thousand dollars for certain services. This money Mr. Dawson invested in a watch, which was the most elaborate repeater of the best mechanism was incrusted with jewels, and each jewel a picked stone. The watch was made to order by celebrated clock makers, and the signet was a scarab amount. The worst of this costly whim was that Mr. Dawson was afraid to wear the watch for fear of being robbed in the streets, and he did not leave it at home for fear of a burglary.

A Safe Burglar's Suggestion.

Perth, the Bridgeport safe burglar, says that the safe makers of our locks, are placed in a corner in such a position that the door of the safe shuts on it. This makes it necessary to move the safe in order to get the door with the wedges and jimmy, and the job is difficult and dangerous.

Central Railroad of New Jersey

Station in New York—Foot of Liberty Street.

Time Table in Effect October 11, 1887.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 3.27, 5.12, 7.02, 7.32, 7.50, 7.59, 8.32, 8.56, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30, a. m., 12.30, 1.30, 2.30, 3.27, 4.30, 5.30, 6.30, 7.30, 8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 p. m. Sunday—3.27, 5.12, 7.02, 7.32, 8.32, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 a. m., 12.30, 1.30, 2.30, 3.27, 4.30, 5.30, 6.30, 7.30, 8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 p. m.

Leave New York from foot of Liberty Street, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 a. m., 1.00, 2.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 p. m. Sunday—4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 a. m., 1.00, 2.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield 6.15, 8.35, a. m., 12.40, 4.15, 7.00, p. m. Sunday—7.00, a. m., 7.00, p. m.

Leave Easton 6.55, 8.57, a. m., 12.40, 4.15, 7.00, p. m. Sunday—7.00, a. m., 7.00, p. m.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

4.00, a. m.—For Easton, Allentown, Bound Brook, Harrisburg, Pittsburg, Chicago, connecting at High Bridge for Lebanon, Manheim, Lake Hopatcong and Saratoga, to Easton.

8.35, a. m.—For Flemington.

8.57, a. m.—For High Bridge Branch, Schooley's Mountain, Lake Hopatcong, Easton, Wind Gap, and Manch Chunk.

9.30, a. m.—For Flemington, Stockton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Manch Chunk, and Pittsburg.

12.40, p. m.—For Easton, Wind Gap, Manch Chunk, Pittsburg, Harrisburg, Reading, Allentown, Bethlehem, Stockton, Flemington.

4.15, p. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Schooley's Mountain, Lake Hopatcong, Easton.

6.05, p. m.—For Flemington.

7.00, p. m.—For Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Manch Chunk, &c.

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c.

Leave Plainfield 7.27, 8.05, 11.06, a. m., 12.10, 4.30, 7.10, p. m. Sundays connect at Elizabeth 4.25, p. m.

For Ferry Landing—7.27, 7.42, 8.05, 11.06, 11.42 a. m. (12.10, 5.00, 5.25, 5.34 p. m. Sundays—8.37 a. m. 12.10, 4.30, 7.10 p. m. Returning leave Ocean Grove 7.25, 9.30, 3.35, 4.50, 5.34 p. m. Sunday—8.30 a. m. 5.10 p. m.

BOUND BROOK ROUTE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia and Trenton, 1.22, 3.10, 5.14, 9.03, 11.44, a. m., 2.16, 3.30, 4.27, 6.17, p. m. Sunday—1.22, 3.30, 9.03 a. m., 4.30, p. m.

RETURNING—LEAVE PHILADELPHIA

Ninth and Green streets, 8.30, 9.30, 11.00, a. m., 1.15, 2.45, 4.15, 5.15, 6.30, p. m. Sunday—8.30, 9.30, 11.00 a. m., 4.30, p. m.

Leave Trenton, Market street, 8.30, 9.35, 10.30 a. m., 1.00, 2.30, 3.05, 4.05, p. m. Sunday—8.30, 9.35 a. m., 4.30, p. m.

Leave Trenton, Warren and Tucker streets, 1.30, 3.25, 5.30, 11.05, a. m., 4.30, 6.35, 8.05, 1.00, p. m. Sunday—1.30, 8.30, 8.05, a. m., 6.15, p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked "change cars" at Bound Brook.

J. H. OLHAUSEN, Gen'l Sup't.

E. P. BALDWIN, Gen'l Pass. Agent

MISCELLANEOUS.

HUMPHREYS'

DR. HUMPHREYS' BOOK Cloth & Gold Binding Sent Free. PRICES REDUCED. 1 Fever, Congestion, Inflammation, 2 Worms, Worm Fever, Worm Colic, 3 Teething, Colic of Infants, 4 Diarrhea of Children or Adults, 5 Dysentery, Griping, Bilious Colic, 6 Cholera Morbus, Vomiting, 7 Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, 8 Neuralgia, Toothache, Faceache, 9 Headaches, Sick Headache, Vertigo, 10 Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Torpid Liver, 11 Suppressed or Painful Periods, 12 Whites, Too Profuse Periods, 13 Croup, Laryngitis, Difficult Breathing, 14 Salt Rheum, Eruptions, Erysipelas, 15 Rheumatism, Rheumatic Pains, 16 Fever and Ague, Chills, Malaria, 17 Piles, Blind or Bleeding, 18 Ophthalmy, Sore or Weak Eyes, 19 Catarrh, Influenza, Cold in the Head, 20 Whooping Cough, Violent Coughs, 21 Kidney Disease, 22 Nervous Debility, 23 Urinary Weakness, Wetting Bed, 24 Diseases of the Heart, Palpitation, 1.00

HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS.

Manual of all Diseases, Sent Free. Sold by Druggists, or sent prepaid on receipt of price. HUMPHREYS' MEDICINE CO., 109 Fulton St., N. Y.

CHAS. YAEGER,

Practical Upholsterer

35 WEST FRONT STREET,

UPPOSITE MUSIC HALL.

25 Years Experience in all Branches.

P. O. BOX 152. 1687

PAXINE

CURES Nervous Debility, Fever and Ague, Liver Complaints, Indigestion.

PAXINE is the result of the best efforts of several prominent physicians and chemists. The combination of ingredients is the most powerful and effective in overcoming the disease for which it is recommended. It is absolutely prepared and is specific and certain in its action. Physicians prescribe it in their practice, and it is the favorite remedy with many. The strongest testimonials of its value can be given. Sold by druggists. Price 50 cents. Prepared only by the Paxine Mfg. Co. (Limited), 30 Vesey St., N. Y.

A WONDERFUL OCCURRENCE.

Jersey City, N. J., Sept. 1, 1887. Paxine Mfg. Co. (Limited), 30 Vesey St., N. Y. Gentlemen: I have been afflicted with nervous debility and dyspepsia for a number of years, and have tried many remedies, but found no relief until I commenced using Paxine. The first dose relieved me, and I have used but two bottles, and am now completely restored to health. I have recommended it to many friends, and all who have used it have been benefited by it. Yours truly, JOHN H. MCGUIRE, Sheriff.

OWNS AND OPERATES OVER

6,000 Miles

OF STEEL RAILS, CONSTRUCTED RAILWAY.

PENETRATES THE BEST PORTIONS OF ILLINOIS, IOWA, WISCONSIN, MICHIGAN, MINNESOTA, DAKOTA, NEBRASKA, and WYOMING.

CHICAGO NORTHWESTERN RAILWAY

Connecting Depots in CHICAGO with Depots in NEW YORK, BOSTON, MILWAUKEE, ST. PAUL, MINNEAPOLIS, COUNCIL BLUFFS, OMAHA.

THE ONLY ROUTE OF THE MILWAUKEE FAST EXPRESS TRAINS.

THE ONLY LINE TO THE BLACK HILLS.

THE ONLY LINE TO CALIFORNIA.

Ask for Tickets via this Line, and see that they read over it. For Maps, Folders, Time Tables, Rates, or any information, address any Agent, or Tom. Connecting Agent, Chicago, or MARVIN HUGHITT, E. C. BRADY, E. P. WILSON, Gen'l Manager, Gen'l Pass. Agent, Gen'l Ticket Agent, CHICAGO.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

READ WHAT

WATSON & CO.

HAVE TO SAY ABOUT CLOTHING!

Since our REMOVAL to our NEW BUILDING we have been busy preparing an entire NEW STOCK of THE BEST SHAPED AND FINEST FINISHED GARMENTS ever shown to our customers; and today we have an immense stock, ALL NEW, STYLISH, HANDSOME and VERY LOW in price. Never was such a stock of ELEGANT GARMENTS shown in the city, each a perfect copy of the most expensive custom-made work, and never before were such low prices named for garments of equal style and durability. It requires no expert to judge of the merits of our stock; for even the most inexperienced at a glance will see their IMPROVED DRESS APPEARANCE when they try them on. Think of the FINEST CASSIMERE PANTS, cut by special patterns, marked in plain figures, at $5, $5.50 and $6 a Pair. The new Cheviots and Shaded Striped Pants, now so popular in custom trade, selling for $3, $3.50 and $4, or our broken lots of FINE PANTS MARKED DOWN daily to close out quick at $2, 2.50 and $3.00 A PAIR. We are quoting prices that can only be made under LOW EXPENSES. We may not be clearing large profits; but we are selling goods, and lots of them, pleasing our old customers, and making new ones, simply by giving them BETTER GOODS than they ever saw. ALL READY TO PUT ON, and saving them all useless expenses like the cost of shows in windows, circus wagons, signs on fences, gifts, commissions, or discounts to favored customers or their friends. You can surely save from 20 to 25 per cent. on your FALL SUITS by coming direct to us. We are finishing daily full lines in all the New Cuts, complete for $10 and $12. The popular COLD THREAD CHEVIOTS that merchants tailors are using, we get up very handsome, and sell at $13 and $15 for complete suits, and in Dress Suits, we have a complete department, stocked with the very latest garments, where you can select a suit for $15, $18 and $20, for which a merchant tailor would surely charge you twice as much and rarely give you such elegant garments. OUR NEW OVERCOAT SALESROOM, on second floor, is now open; and here you can find Montaignac Beavers, satin-lined, for $25; Elysians, all new shades at $22; Kerseys, in solid and mixed colors, at $18 and $20; Diagonal Velours, (new this season) at $15 and $16, and All-wool Chesterfield Overcoats, lined with cassimere, in all the long cuts, at $10 and $12; besides a Hundred Stylish and durable designs, in all shades, at $7, $8 and $9. Remember, these garments are all cut single by special patterns drafted from actual measure taken in our custom department, kept on convenient racks, and handed to you, fresh from the hands of our tailors, free from all creases, wrinkles, or any of the usually objectionable ready-made look. The materials from which FINE CLOTHING is made were never as low as now, and as labor is only a trifle higher you should buy your clothing from 20 to 30 per cent. below the rates of former years; and this you can do if you save all Intermediate Profits and Useless Expenses and come direct to the makers for it. Before ordering your Winter Clothing you should try on our new Garments. They are Custom Made in every detail. No tailor uses Finer or Newer Fabrics, our Trimmings are the same, the BEST CUSTOM TAILORS WORK for us. Then how can the difference in the garments be told when worn from the most expensive work? Besides you can see just how the goods Look when Made Up and have no trouble in waiting. This is where we are pushing our "fine city trade," a REALLY HANDSOME, CORRECT CUT GARMENT, FINISHED, WITH ALL CUSTOM EXTRAS, ALL READY TO PUT ON. It is a fact well known to the public, and not disputed in the trade, that our garments are extensively copied, but NEVER REPRODUCED as we set THEM OUT. SEE THEM and none of the ordinary styles will look right to you.

GEORGE WATSON & CO.,

MAKERS OF PERFECT-FITTING CLOTHING,

795 BROAD STREET,

Four Doors Below Market Street, Newark, N. J.

A. M. Vanderbeek & Co.,

This year will sell

GUNS AND GUNNERS' SUPPLIES, CHEAPER THAN EVER BEFORE. BOTH BREECH AND MUZZLE - LOADERS.

Also Rifles, Pistols, Ammunition, Gun Materials, &c.

Music and Musical Instruments, MUSIC STANDS, CORNETS, BANJOS, VIOLINS,

Everything in the Musical Line.

No. 33 Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

New Store! New Goods! New Firm!

BARKALEW & DUNN,

Fancy and Staple Grocers,

NO. 18 NORTH AVENUE.

We sell for Cash and will give Special Inducements.

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE.—The Stocks of the Overseers of the Poor, containing a list of the applicants for aid, can be seen at the office of the Collector, Williams Building.

J. OAKLEY SOBYNE, O. P.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscribers, executors of Joseph N. Ludwig, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the orders and to the creditors of said deceased, on the ninth day of November next.

HARRIET OSBORN,
CARSON S. HUTCHINS,
JOHN H. LUDWIG.

Dated August 31st, 1887.—8w30

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.

Union County Surrogate's Office,
September 26, 1887.

Jacob Long, the Executor of Rachel Garrett, deceased.

On application of the above-named Executor it is ordered that said Executor cause public notice to the Creditors of the estate of said decedent to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from the date, by sending up a copy of this Order, once in twenty days hereafter, to five of the most public places in the county of Union. Forty days after said time within the said twenty days, to appear before me, at my office in Elizabeth, on the first Monday of the said time, and I will proceed to examine the claims which shall then be exhibited against the said estate, and to adjust the said demands.

JAS. C. GERBER, Surrogate.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.—TO DANIEL J. Bunyon Mary E. Vankirk, Josephine M. Saunders, Amelia S. Bunyon and Mary E. Everett.

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey made on the day of the date hereof, in a cause wherein Charles H. Pitt is complainant and you and others are defendants, you are required to appear, plead, answer or demur to the bill of said complainant on or before the second Monday of November next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to foreclose a mortgage in the City of Plainfield and Township of Fanwood, Union County, New Jersey, in said bill particularly described subject to a judgment obtained by Rhoda Runyon against Mary E. Vankirk in the New Jersey Supreme Court on February 5th, 1885, and which mortgage was given to secure certain moneys now due and owing to the complainant, and which mortgage was duly executed by the said Mary E. Vankirk to the said Rhoda Runyon, and duly recorded in the Clerk's office of Union County, New Jersey, in Book 169 of Mortgages, on page 169, &c., on the 4th day of November, 1887, at 12½ o'clock noon, and which the said Rhoda Runyon assigned

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY,
AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XX. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1887. No. 44.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its limitations as in its authorities."—MADISON.

Rates of Advertising.

Space	1 WEEK	2	3	6	12 MONTHS
1 in.	$1.00	$1.50	$2.00	$3.00	$5.00
2 in.	1.50	2.00	2.50	4.00	6.00
3 in.	2.00	2.50	3.00	5.00	8.00
4 in.	2.50	3.00	3.50	6.00	10.00
5 in.	3.00	3.50	4.00	7.00	12.00
6 in.	3.50	4.00	4.50	8.00	14.00
7 in.	4.00	4.50	5.00	9.00	16.00
8 in.	4.50	5.00	5.50	10.00	18.00
9 in.	5.00	5.50	6.00	11.00	20.00
10 in.	5.50	6.00	6.50	12.00	22.00
11 in.	6.00	6.50	7.00	13.00	24.00
12 in.	6.50	7.00	7.50	14.00	26.00
13 in.	7.00	7.50	8.00	15.00	28.00
14 in.	7.50	8.00	8.50	16.00	30.00
15 in.	8.00	8.50	9.00	17.00	32.00
16 in.	8.50	9.00	9.50	18.00	34.00
17 in.	9.00	9.50	10.00	19.00	36.00
18 in.	9.50	10.00	10.50	20.00	38.00
19 in.	10.00	10.50	11.00	21.00	40.00
20 in.	10.50	11.00	11.50	22.00	42.00
21 in.	11.00	11.50	12.00	23.00	44.00
22 in.	11.50	12.00	12.50	24.00	46.00
23 in.	12.00	12.50	13.00	25.00	48.00
24 in.	12.50	13.00	13.50	26.00	50.00

All Notices must be paid until.
"Little of Everything" column, 5 cts. per line.
Double rate, 50 per ct. advance of above rates.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

O. L. JENKINS, M. D.,
Homeopathist,
Successor to Dr. Smith, 25 East Front Street, Plainfield, N. J. Office hours—7 to 8 a. m.; 1 to 3 p. m.; 7 to 8 p. m. apr 30-1y

JACKSON & ODDINGTON,
Counsellors-at-Law,
Commissioners of Deeds, Conveyancers, Notaries Public. Offices, corner of Park avenue and Second street.

GEORGE W. HAY,
General Auctioneer,
Sales of Personal Property solicited. P. O. Box 78. Orders by mail, or address in care of Van Arsdale's restaurant, Terms reasonable.

DR. CHARLES R. THEIS,
Dentist,
28 East Front street. A new local anesthetic applied for extracting teeth without pain. Gold fillings a specialty.

H. HAND, Jr.,
Auctioneer,
P. O. Address, Box 418, or Union Place, N. J. Orders left at Hand's Hotel, Somerset street, or West Front street, Plainfield, N. J., will receive prompt attention. apr 30-1y

OGDEN TEALE,
Architect,
247 Broadway, New York city, Rooms 21 and 22. Residence, 5 and 7 East Second street, Plainfield, N. J.—apr30

WM. E. REID, JR.,
Attorney-at-Law,
MASTER IN CHANCERY, NOTARY PUBLIC.
Commissioners of Deeds. Offices, North avenue opposite depot.—jan4

J. E. FORSTER,
Veterinary Surgeon,
Office, R. R. Somerset Horse Exchange, Madison street and Railroad avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Diseases of the horse, complete treatment guaranteed. Special attention to diseases of the eye. Calls promptly attended to. Horses taken to board. Terms reasonable. jan4-1y

ARTHUR P. MILLER,
Attorney-at-Law,
(Successor to the late Wm. M. Maxson), Solicitor in Chancery, Notary Public. Will buy and sell real estate, take money, rent and take charge of property. Office, First National Bank building.

F. A. DUNHAM,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor,
No. 7 Park avenue, Clement's building. Parties desiring the services of a Civil Engineer or competent surveyor, please call at office or address as above. Prompt attention paid to all private or public business entrusted to me. apr30

DR. J. F. SCHEVEN,
Electric Baths.
Dr. Scheven treats all Nervous affections. Electric Baths, Galvanic, Faradic and Static Electricity, Massage, Swedish movements, Electric Shampooing and Vibration. Office hours—9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Sundays, 10 to 12 m. Office, Dunn Block, Limit Avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Telephone connection. apr30-1y

BUSINESS CARDS.

ROBERT JAHN,
TIN AND COPPER-SMITH,
Scotch Plains,
(Fanwood) N. J. Roofing, Spouting and Heater work. Orders left at Jahn's store, Scotch Plains, will receive prompt attention. Repairing promptly attended to.—jan21

TO THE PUBLIC!

We wish to inform our customers and the public generally that we have on hand the best quality of

LEHIGH COAL,

Fresh from the Mines.

It is called loose and well protected from the weather. We are prepared to deliver it well screened and in good order promptly. We are also prepared to furnish all kinds of rubber Lumber and Masons' Materials at wholesale and retail.

A. D. COOK & BRO.
apr30

J. Hervey Doane,
9 PARK AVENUE.
(Formerly Clerk.)
Watches,
Clocks
And Jewelry.
Repairing neatly and promptly done. apr30

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, TWO STABLES, DRIED FRUIT, ETC.
CORNER EMILY AND DUER STREETS
North Plainfield, New Jersey.
Celebrated Pilsbury Flour,
THE BEST IN THE MARKET.
ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED.
Families and boat patronage I solicit a continuance of the same.
WILLIAM H. SHOTWELL.

BOSTON CLOTHING HOUSE.
42 W. FRONT ST.
Reliable Goods at Low Prices.
Correct Styles. Right Prices
apr30
Geo. A. Moore,
(Of the late firm of Moore Bros.)
Is now the sole proprietor of this old established house at
No. 44 NORTH AVENUE.
Where he will continue to supply citizens of this and the surrounding towns with the best goods at fixed, and, consequently, low prices. Goods delivered free of charge to any part of the city. Orders by mail promptly attended to. apr30

OYSTERS BY THE QUART, 100 OR 1000.
CHARLOTTE HOUSE MADE TO ORDER.
All Orders Promptly Attended to.
24 NORTH AVENUE,
Telephone Call No. 30
apr30 Near Depot.

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

Forge's Hotel!
NORTH AVENUE
Near P. R. R. Depot, Plainfield, New Jersey.
JAMES H. FORGE, - - Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY HOTEL.
Transient guests taken at reasonable rates.
Bottled Liquors a Specialty.

Laing's Hotel!
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
J. B. MILLER & BRO., - Proprietors.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.

James Conneely
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a first-class
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 32 PARK AVE.,
Where he will be pleased to furnish his friends and patrons with the choicest brands of imported and domestic Liquors. apr30

TURF EXCHANGE HOTEL.
73 Courtlandt street,
CORNER WASHINGTON, NEW YORK CITY
FRED. W. BALLARD, - - Proprietor,
(Formerly of Jersey City), is now conducting the above popular hotel, and respectfully solicits the patronage of his friends and the public generally. The Turf Exchange is conveniently located for business men, being but a few minutes' walk from the Cortlandt street ferry. Free 'bus to and from the house. Rates, $2 per day. Special rates by the week. Telephone call, 1,000 Cortlandt. jan21-1y

FINE WINES, LIQUORS AND SEGARS. jy30

SOMERSET HOTEL,
Cor. Somerset & Emily Sts., North Plainfield, N. J.
Permanent and Transient Board, at fair rates.
First-class Stabling and Sheds attached.
Meals at all reasonable hours. jlyst

C. E. JOHNSON,
(Late firm of Shipherd, Johnson & Ordway)
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
Office adjoining City Hotel on Second street, near Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey. Residence, 17 East Second street. Jobbing especially solicited. jan21

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
SALESROOM—Madison Avenue, cor. Front St. Goods received on consignment.

MRS. E. J. MARTIN'S
MAGIC RENOVATING FLUID.
For taking out grease from any kind of goods, without changing the color, or leaving a spot, and restoring the gloss to silks, velvets, etc., and making them look like new. Also, for sale, a variety of cheap dress goods and ribbons from auction lots, at 50 per cent. less than store prices, at MRS. E. J. MARTIN'S store making trade, 21 and 23 East Front street, and Mrs. E. Porter's Fancy Goods store, No. 8 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

JOHN JOHNSTON,
DEALER IN
COAL!
YARD AND OFFICE, SOUTH AVENUE, NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
The best quality of screened coal at the lowest market price delivered. Address all orders to above, or leave at office, 109 Park avenue.

Park Avenue Bakery!
JOHN WALKER, Prop'r
FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the Celebrated
VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS,
And all Varieties of
Pies, Cake and Confectionery,
Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.
Fleming & Anderson,
THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS,
BEST IN THE WORLD.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE
MICHAEL UHDAL,
CONTRACTOR
AND LANDSCAPE GARDENER
Residence:
NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
P. O. BOX 707. PLAINFIELD.

P. O. Box 7. Netherwood. N. J.
HEADQUARTERS
FOR
Boots, Shoes and Rubbers
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION. OUR STOCK
IS COMPLETE, AND OUR
Prices the Lowest!
Doane & Van Arsdale
(NEXT TO KOGLER'S.)
22 WEST FRONT STREET.
SANITARY PLUMBING,
Brick and Portable Furnaces,
GAS FITTING,
TIN ROOFING,
Etc., Etc.
I am prepared to do any of the above branches in a strictly first-class sanitary and workmanlike manner.
Having practiced myself with the Master Plumbers Association of New York City, I am prepared to give first-class workmanship and material at reasonable prices. Satisfaction guaranteed in all cases, and in all cases.
D. W. LITTELL,
No. 8 NORTH AVE. apr30 Plainfield, N. J.

EDUCATIONAL.

RODMAN SEMINARY,
28 E. 5th Street. Will Re-Open
SEPT. 15.
For circulars address,
MRS. R. C. DINGEE, Principal.

MR. LEAL'S SCHOOL
WILL RE-OPEN
Monday, Sept. 19, 1887.

DODWORTH'S
Class for Dancing & Deportment
—AT—
Seminary Hall, Plainfield, N. J.,
Wednesdays from 3:30 to 5:30 P. M.,
Commencing Oct. 26th, 1887.
THEO. J. DODWORTH.
October 7th, 1887.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST,
Residence—Harmony street, North Plainfield, corner Second street. Parties desiring information relative as regards present and future events, likewise marriages, journeys, law suits, etc., had by mail or personal interview.

To English, German and French.

My husband is a first-class Cooper, and repairs tubs, pails, barrels, etc., cheap for cash.

Plainfield District Telegraph
and Fire Alarm Co.
Prompt Messenger Service Furnished.
Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph Co.
LOW RATES. QUICK SERVICE. MONEY TRANSFERRED BY TELEGRAPH. COM-MUTATION STAMPS FOR SALE.
OFFICE—A PARK AVENUE.
W. S. SLITER, Manager.

STEAM HEATING
FOR CHURCHES, SCHOOLS, and DWELLINGS
J. N. SCHENCK,
Plainfield, N. J.
P. O. Box 1051.—ap9 1y

JAMES K. ARNOLD,
GROCER,
Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts., North Plainfield.

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.,
TO HIRE. CHARGES REASONABLE.
Hugo Weigman
8 EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

CAREY'S
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE, NO. 45 WEST FRONT STREET,
Nearly opposite Laing's Hotel, Plainfield, N. J.
Having leased the above premises I am prepared to buy and sell second-hand Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, etc. I will also take Furniture to or from depot or country. Furniture etc., stored. P. O. Box 684.—may1

Fleming & Anderson,
BUTCHERS,
Fresh, Salt and Smoked Meats,
Poultry, Fish, Vegetables, etc.
ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED.
No. 24 North avenue.
[Near the Depot.]
S. A. FLEMING. apr30 J. F. ANDERSON.

DOOR NUMBERS,
DOOR BELLS,
DOOR PLATES,
AT
DICKINSON & CLAWSON'S,
13 PARK AVENUE.
Sole Agents for
Dr. King's Spectacles.
jly15-1

ESTABLISHED 1868.
Westfield Horse Market.
IRVING & CO.,
DEALERS IN
Carriage Teams, Road, Draft, Speed, Saddle and General Business Horses. All horses guaranteed as represented.
Central avenue,
Near Depot, Westfield, N. J.
may6

MISCELLANEOUS.

P. P. Van Arsdale,
PIANO TUNER.
Instruments put in thorough order. Terms reasonable. Pianos and Organs for sale and to rent. Orders by postal, P. P. Van Arsdale, at Laing's store, No. 6 Park avenue, will receive prompt attention. 32 East Front street, second floor, front. jly16-1y

A. TITSWORTH,
Merchant Tailor,
Has removed his place of business to
No. 26 North Ave.,
(Room formerly occupied by Proctor McGrew), ALSO OFFICE OF CITY TREASURER.—Cloth for sale.

JOHN CHANDLER,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Residence and shop, No. 36 East 2d St.
Jobbing promptly attended to. apr30

Alex. Willett,
DEALER IN
BOOTS & SHOES,
No. 4 PARK AVENUE.
A full assortment of fashionable goods direct from manufacturers at LOW PRICES for cash.

G. W. FORCE,
32 West Front street,
OPENING OF FALL AND WINTER STOCK
Boots and Shoes at Low Prices
A FINE GRADE OF GOODS TO SELECT FROM
32 West Front street.
G. W. FORCE.
apr30

J. T. ODAM,
PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL
Slate Roofer and Repairer
Residence, Corner Fourth and Sycamore Streets. Shop, Rear Dr. Green's House. P. O. Box 1008. PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Slate Work warranted for one year. Slate furnished. Also, Tin, Iron and Gravel Roofing. apr30-1y

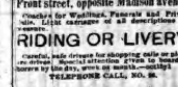
Steam Marble
Granite Works.
AND
Monuments, Headstones,
Fencing for Cemetery Plots,
Large assortment of Slate Mantels.
Large variety of Granite Monuments
All orders executed in the most skillful manner and at fair reasonable prices. All grocery debts must be paid up.
FRONT ST., NEAR N. E. CH., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Monuments erected in Green River Cemetery. jan30

GEO. D. MORRISON,
NORTH AVENUE.
Has opened a store for the sale of
FLOUR, FEED, HAY,
Oats, Straw, Bran, Etc.,
And hopes by promptness and fair dealing to merit a share of the public patronage.
SANDERSON'S
XXXX
BEST FLOUR.
FROM MINNESOTA WHEAT. A SPECIALTY. CALL AND SEE WHAT IT CAN DO. jly21

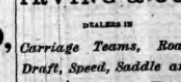
LIVERY.
RICHARD H. DAY'S
City Livery Stable!
OPPOSITE DEPOT, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Special attention paid to Boarding Horses by the day, week or month. All kinds of Turnouts for the night at short notice. Telephone Call, No. 32. may1-1y

ALBERT HEDDEN,
Livery and Boarding Stables
FOURTH STREET,
Rear of Second Reformed Church, Plainfield.
Horses or shopping calls promptly attended to. Horses boarded by the day, week or month. Telephone call No. 134.

Livery Stables!
Mr. D. S. ROBERTS
Has Removed to His New Building on
NORTH AVENUE,
Adjoining Force's Hotel. Mr. Roberts will always be found ready and willing to serve customers, and will furnish at fair rates as good turnouts as can be had in this section. Horses boarded by the day, week or month. Horses to hire a specialty. 1aply

A. M. SEGUINE,
(Successor to John W. Laing.)
Laing's Hotel Stables


Front street, opposite Madison avenue.
Carriages for Weddings, Funerals and Private use. Large carriages of all descriptions for excursions.
RIDING OR LIVERY.
Careful, safe drivers for shopping calls or pleasure parties. Special attention given to boarding horses by the day, week or month.
TELEPHONE CALL, NO. 28.

ESTABLISHED 1868.
Westfield Horse Market.


IRVING & CO.,
DEALERS IN
Carriage Teams, Road, Draft, Speed, Saddle and General Business Horses. All horses guaranteed as represented.
Central avenue,
Near Depot, Westfield, N. J.
may6

A. W. RAND,
24 W. FRONT ST.
JOINTED AND KID BODIES,
Beaux & Indestructable Heads,
CLOSING AND STEADY EYES.
From 25 cents to $5.25.

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPPLIES

Paints, Varnishes, Glass,
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALL PAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.
apr30

Weaver Bros.
House & Sign Painting, Graining,
Paper Hanging and Kalsomining A specialty.
Office and Shops in the rear of
19½ EAST FRONT STREET,
S. WEAVER P. O. Box 98. F. WEAVER

W. N. ROWE,
PAINTER AND DECORATOR,
Dealer in Paints, Oil, Varnishes, Glass, Brushes etc. WALL PAPER and WINDOW SHADES. Special attention given to Graining, Kalsomining and interior decorating. No. 19 E. FRONT ST., PLAINFIELD, N. J. P. O. Box 1008.—apr30-1y

L. B. WOOLSTON, A. P. BOGERT
Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS,
Wall Papers,
PAINTERS' SUPPLIES. 28 NORTH AVENUE
apr30

MILLINERY.

Mrs. J. M. Dunn,
FASHIONABLE MILLINER,
LATEST SHAPES OF
BONNETS AND HATS.
FRENCH IMPORTED FLOWERS.
Feathers, Velvets, Plushes, Satines, Laces, etc. Also, Fancy Goods and Notions; Dress and Infants' Caps a specialty.
PINKING, BLEACHING & PRESSING
Feathers Dyed. Cleaned and Curled
AT SHORT NOTICE.
14 West Front street.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best brand cigar in the State, and made in the premises from the finest Havana.
CLEAR HAVANA SMOKE A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the following Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Smokers Articles in Great Variety.
apr30

O. M. FINE
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
SEGARS!!
128 PARK AVE. (NEAR DEPOT) SECOND ST. PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smoking Materials,
of every description.
Prices obtained "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, with other popular brands constantly on hand. apr30

PICTURE FRAMES
OF ALL KINDS, AT
S. E. FLOWER'S.
24 New York Price, Studio 19 West Front street. Artists' materials for drawing and oil painting. apr30-1

J. L. PRALLEY. N. B. SMALLEY.
Smalley Bros.,
DEALERS IN
Fresh and Salt Meats, Poultry, Etc.
NO. 6 EAST FRONT STREET, SOUTH PLAINFIELD
Orders called for and delivered. A share of the public patronage is solicited.—1881

Benj. F. Moore,
Late of Moore Bros.,
BUTCHER,
And dealer in FRESH AND SALT MEATS OF ALL KINDS, and Vegetables in season. Stall will be open and ready for business Wednesday, April 6th, 1887. Orders promptly delivered. Telephone Call 111.—apr30

MAYNARD & HILL,
PRACTICAL BARBERS
AND
Artistic Hair Dressers,
No. 20 PARK AVENUE,
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residence. Shaving, Shampooing, &c., satisfactorily performed. City!

Every Visual Defect Corrected.
WM. H. EINHAUS, Optician,
43 NASSAU ST., NEAR LIBERTY,
3 Minutes Walk from Cortlandt Street Ferry,
NEW YORK.
My improved system of fitting glasses by very scientific methods, each lens ground to order from designed combinations, gives the best results obtainable. Difficult cases of astigmatism and difficulty in getting suitable glasses will find it to their advantage to give me a trial. I make no charge for trying the sight and would be pleased to have a few of the profession to call and see who may call.

THE BEST
BRAZILIAN PEBBLES,
In Fine Steel Frames, $2.50.
ESTABLISHED 1867.
apr30

Carney Bros.,
PRACTICAL
Plumbers, Tinners & Gas Fitters,
And Dealers in
Heaters, Ranges and Stoves.
Dealers in all Kinds of Stoves, Heaters and Ranges. Repairs of all kinds promptly attended to. Sheet Iron Work, Roofing and Guttering a specialty. Jobbing promptly attended to. Shop, 19 East Second street, Plainfield, N. J.

The Economic Gas Engine.
This Little One Engine may be daily seen in operation in our store window. Those desiring to see the power for hour at the small cost of five cents, will call and see for themselves. Intelligent mechanics wanted to operate the Economic Gas Engine, and to every one we have an engine to suit. Call and examine them, and the cheap gas they use.

Our Sanitary Plumbing
Department is, as it always has been, under competent direction, and our work in this branch is always done in the most approved manner. While we employ none but workmen we can trust to do good work, we are constantly on the watch for improvements in our line, and are always interested of a good job or a representative part.

We Guarantee Our Work.
We solicit a share of your patronage, and will endeavor to merit it by fair dealing and prompt attention to your wants. Thanking our friends, and as well endeavor to merit a continuance of their favors, we remain, yours truly,
CARNEY BROS.
7 and 9 Somerset street.

COMING INTO CHURCH.

Do you ever see them coming into church a little late,
And attempt to read their temper by the nature of their gait?
Is a very jaunting stately, and you'll find it worth your while
To observe those people walking up the carpet opposite the aisle.

First there comes, perhaps, an aged, bent and feeble man,
Whose uncertain shuffle by indicates no pleasing of a can.
That he's weary, weary, weary, and is hastened by a dread
That the next time he'll be carried, carried up the church aisle dead.

Next behind him comes a lady, rhoda a little Streaks of white in hair and age's hill-tale
Of the weather on her brow
But her walk is slow and stately and it plainly
"O, we toiled and saved when younger; we've nothing to do to-day."

Then there is a maimed daughter, and her last-gold step betrays
Her struggles with the crushing, concentrated
She with her out-arriving dress strive are declaring it a shame
To come into church so tardily, but she is not to blame.

She has children and they follow, clinging one to brother,
And they stumble, looking sheepward, asking,
"Ma, is that the last?"
But she holds them up and, stooping, softly whispers, "Hush! Hush!"

Thinking: "I'll not be so late again—contrasted if I am."

Then there comes a younger sister tripping lightly down the aisle,
Feeling on her pretty bonnet, feeling head a bet of latest style;
And the morning of her manner is: "I wish that father's gone
Was a little further forward; then I'd linger behind in view."

—C. Hooper, in Columbus Sunday News.

FOR LOVE'S SAKE.

Thrilling Story of a Duel for a Woman's Heart.

There are many episodes in the history of Fort Smith, Arkansas, which are hard to get at to record—and few are living whose large-tattered minds can now recall the days of the guard house and listened with fire-tipped tongues, to the stories of love, jealousy, revenge, death and remorse, and all the sad afterthoughts that have followed in the train of these. I will not discuss the first born of earth fed their flocks in the valleys by the fair rivers of the East.

On the pages of an ancient document I find the names of—well, I will not give you their real names for the sake of the honor of those who bear them—but the initial trappings of war to don the humble habiliments of the tomb in years that are gone.

They were two brave Lieutenants who saw service in the —th regiment during the second and last fierce struggle between the land of tyranny and oppression and the country of peace and freedom.

Both were handsome men and Russell was both brave soldiers, young and ambitious, and won their promotion by deeds of valor, and between his many glories he found time to love.

Opposite their names appear these words, written, by one who understood the art and story of their tragic ending, the words "resigned" opposite the first, and "died of wounds" opposite the name of Russell, and knotted from that bond their aged hearts shook after years of toil, and he lies at the base of Rose Hill could tell the story.

It was a bright morning in January when a courier dashed recklessly down the principal street of Fort Smith and took place on the river. Boldly urging his horse he looked and looked in vain when he reached the eastern bank, and putting spurs to his wearied charger he breasted the hill, and as the panting of his horse came into view he waved his cap above his head and gave a shout of triumph that until the frosty air took up the echo and echoed from hill to hill, and startled the deer at the pool in the southeastern corner of the fortalion.

The gates were then thrown open, and passing inside he flung himself into the arms of the commandant and cried:

"Jackson has conquered and Packenham with a thousand of his red-coats lie stiff upon the field. Victory! Victory! Victory!"

The wild notes went up from the soldiery, and the jarring Indian spy who had mourned his canoe in an eddy of the river, a mile away, was fraternized by the crowd and paddled his boat across the stream with a rapidity that would have done credit to a steamboat.

All was confusion at the fort, and as the sun ascended the zenith the hoarse thunder of nineteen guns reverberated among the hills, and the glad news of the message was accelerated as he passed and repassed the three wild notes of victory exultation.

It had taken eighteen days to bring the glorious tidings, and still the fleet-footed couriers must traverse miles of uninhabited forest ere the news of the victory could reach the other commanders situated at different points along the frontier.

But Fort Hawkins rejoiced, and all the inhabitants thereof were glad. Quite a number of them arrived at Fort Smith a few days previous and among them several young ladies who had left their homes for the first flowers of spring to the eyes of the young soldiers.

One among them was Rachel Allen, the daughter of a gentleman of wealth, who had left his home in Carolina for Ky., and in fact I could have rented a better one for in the new country.

She was young and handsome, and possessed of such charms that would make an easy conquest of less susceptible hearts than those of the two young officers who were full of that spirit of romantic love which is so common in young men of their kind.

Thomas Darrell and Raymond Russell had entered into a rivalry that was a spirit of manly rivalry that well-suited their natures as soldiers and gentlemen, and each had received his share of encouragement, while neither could claim any material advantage. The two were the favorites in the two men that any maiden would be proud to determine which was the most attractive.

Tradition says that Lieutenant Darrell was tall and slim as a willow, blue-eyed and light-complexioned, and that he was somewhat effeminate in his manners, but was his opposite. He was a magnificent specimen of manhood—tall and stout, black and dark-haired, with a face on which even the vicissitudes of wind and weather could scarcely detract from its manly beauty.

Both were brave, polished and gallant, and the inhabitants thereof were glad. Quite a number of them arrived at Fort Smith a few days previous and among them several young ladies who had left their homes for the first flowers of spring to the eyes of the young soldiers.

One among them was Rachel Allen, the daughter of a gentleman of wealth, who had left his home in Carolina for Ky., and in fact I could have rented a better one for in the new country.

She was young and handsome, and possessed of such charms that would make an easy conquest of less susceptible hearts than those of the two young officers who were full of that spirit of romantic love which is so common in young men of their kind.

Thomas Darrell and Raymond Russell had entered into a rivalry that was a spirit of manly rivalry that well-suited their natures as soldiers and gentlemen, and each had received his share of encouragement, while neither could claim any material advantage. The two were the favorites in the two men that any maiden would be proud to determine which was the most attractive.

Tradition says that Lieutenant Darrell was tall and slim as a willow, blue-eyed and light-complexioned, and that he was somewhat effeminate in his manners, but was his opposite. He was a magnificent specimen of manhood—tall and stout, black and dark-haired, with a face on which even the vicissitudes of wind and weather could scarcely detract from its manly beauty.

Both were brave, polished and gallant, and were considered, and deservedly so, the most accomplished officers of the regiment.

During the progress of the festivities, the young Lieutenants eagerly sought the hand of their fair partner in the dance, and as they whirled gracefully through the mazes of the dance and an old negro fiddler, who played with a will, sawed away on the merry chorus of youthful fun.

The night was well for the season, and the music that stood at the south when the festivities began had glided down the western slope, and was now pulsating tremulously on the distant horizon, when the ball was at its height. Did the eyes of fair Rachel detect a stain of sorrow in the shining crescent as it disappeared behind the western hills, and a shadow fall upon the river?

Days and weeks had passed that night, and quietly with drawing The Darrell and Raymond Russell had been ordered to the front, and the fair Rachel detected a stain of sorrow in the shining crescent as it disappeared behind the western hills, and a shadow fall upon the river?

Days and weeks had passed that night, and quietly with drawing The Darrell and Raymond Russell had been ordered to the front, and the fair Rachel detected a stain of sorrow in the shining crescent as it disappeared behind the western hills, and a shadow fall upon the river?

Through the remaining hours of the night Rachel tossed upon her couch, and her mind now boiling with a sense of his wrongs, now cooling as he thought of his love for her, and then the memory of the past would return to her mind, and she would see him there in the ball room, and by the way of the city, and at last the morning found her pale and haggard, and splendor among the pale faces in the east.

Lieutenant Russell sought his soldier's couch and fell asleep. He dreamed of his father's home nestled among the pine-clad hills of Maine, and then he dreamed of one whom he would long years with him when next he turned his back on war and all its hardships. His dream was a touch on the golden age, and a mutter-ed "time is up" in his ear.

The light and airy mist wreathy hung above the winding river, and the chill air of morning wrought ten thousand fantastic shapes among the trees and masses. Lieutenant Darrell passed outside the fort and walked down to the river's edge, finding road that led to the river. A light canoe was moored among the overhanging fir trees, and into this he stepped, and with a few swift strokes of the paddle placed him on the other bank of the river. Then he ascended ashore the treasures cry of a screech owl beside his canoe, and a soldier passed through his over-wrought frame as the querulous note of this bird of evil omen died away.

As Raymond Russell walked finely up and down the fort and noticed that every valley he was greeted with a morning salute by his antagonist.

"You are a coward, Mr. Russell," said Darrell, as he advanced with outstretched hand and insult his foe.

"I always make it a point to keep my engagements, Mr. Darrell," replied Russell in measured tones.

"You understand our agreement!" queried Darrell.

"I understand that we are to take position and await the signal given by the drum, and then we are to stand back to back, walk six steps forward, wheel and fire—"

"And God have mercy on his soul," said Darrell, finishing the sentence, which he grouped in such a manner that it possessed a demoniac expression.

"Gentlemen, are you ready?" asked the second of the officers, and the two replied in the affirmative.

"Then take your positions," said the officer, and the two men walked back to back.

"Attention!" cried the officer, and the drum began to beat.

"Forward!" and the two men walked forward.

"Wheel!" and they turned.

"Fire!" ejaculated the Congressional typo, "merely purposed. I have surrendered the position of foreman and a comfortable home in exchange for my seat in Congress—and honors and the reward of hard work for political salary, in Washington at least, of $5,000 a year. Those honors have come to me whom operation for six or eight months would be intolerable. I am undisposed to succeed them in the position of foreman, with the average boarding-house, and my salary does not permit me to indulge in a hansom cab especially overcoming his angry children. "Don't you see, children, that you or the other of us must fall. If it is I, you are forgiven; if you, shall I say the same locally?"

"With all my heart, Mr. Darrell. I hate you with all my heart, but if I fall you are forgiven."

Suddenly the faint blush in the east took on a ruddier tint, and then the points came like a rail and a ray of blood-red light, from the east and west, shivered the valley, and—one, two, three, four and five—sang! And the men, who had been irritated and motioned the half-frozen earth. Darrell fell, and Raymond Russell and in the latter event must separate from wife and children. This is not the life I desire to lead, and I am not inclined to be a spectator of limited means manage, if they pay their bills, to genteelly live among the fashion on their salaries, taking into consideration the almost endless expenses to which they are subjected. It is not that I possibly some body can let me into the secret of living upon my salary, and in the preliminary arrangements for the hanging of the poisonous criminals who have spent their fate here, fifty-two in all.

The first man I ever saw hung I think to do with," and he, "was John Childers, who was executed August 13, 1875. A singular incident of this execution was that when Childers was taken from the jail to the scaffold he was the only one of the fifty-two. While the ceremonies on the gallows were being held a storm came up, and just as the trap was sprung the heavy bolts of lightning I ever saw rent the air, accompanied by a peal of thunder that shook the earth. By the time the body was cut down the storm was passed, and the sun was again shining brightly."

Chatting on his general experience he continued: "I have seen more men die than whites, and seldom give their keepers any annoyance. I have seen a negro in the gallows without a murmur, seldom make any fight, and—Job is sure, over, John Ellis, a full-blooded Choctaw, who was hanged, I think, the same year that John Childers was, declared to me that he had killed any Indian I ever saw, and was so determined that if he could not get a rope to chain him to a post in a room over the court-house. He would beg me to shoot him with my pistol. I would not do it. He died game, though, and was defiant and brave to the last. Two negroes were hanged at the same time Billy was.

"His was a case of murder. I never hanged at one time, and they were, with one exception, fine-looking young men—Will Wm. Moore, Tom Wm. Moore, Tom, William Wellington, white, Sunday Lightning, Billy Lewis, Jim Lewis, Bill, a negro boy. Moore was the first man I ever saw go off mad. He glanced around at the crowd, and then stepped on the gallows defiantly, and when asked if he had any thing to say, replied: 'I see there were worse men than he standing around looking on. A stick of wood would be a fair match for Sam Foxy, whose mother, wife and children were near at hand, and I have never acquainted them with the fact that I had come to see him hanged. During the ceremonies of the day I noticed a Dutch in the crowd, with a pleasant smile on his face, nodding his head frequently as he saw I caught his eye. I asked him what he was laughing at, and he replied: 'Vell, I vas glad to see you hang, for you killed my son.' 'I am anxious to have this thing over with,' said he, 'and have assembled those I, and therefore will not make any remarks. Farewell to all.' Then he would have said more, but at this time, but Ed Butler, a negro, attempted to escape whereupon he made the break and was killed by a guard. There have been five hung at one time on two different occasions under this executioner.

"The nicest man I ever pulled a black cap over was Dr. Henry Steed, who was hung in 1879, I think for the murder of Dr. Jones, at Caddo, Choctaw Nation. He was a polished gentleman in appearance and well educated. He displayed extraordinary nerve all the way from the jail to the scaffold, and delivered a short but appropriate speech, and walked up to the trap as unconcerned as if he were going to a dinner party. By the time the body was cut down the sun was again shining brightly."

Chatting on his general experience he continued: "I have seen more men die than whites, and seldom give their keepers any annoyance. I have seen a negro in the gallows without a murmur, seldom make any fight, and—Job is sure, over, John Ellis, a full-blooded Choctaw, who was hanged, I think, the same year that John Childers was, declared to me that he had killed any Indian I ever saw, and was so determined that if he could not get a rope to chain him to a post in a room over the court-house. He would beg me to shoot him with my pistol. I would not do it. He died game, though, and was defiant and brave to the last. Two negroes were hanged at the same time Billy was.

"His was a case of murder. I never hanged at one time, and they were, with one exception, fine-looking young men—Will Wm. Moore, Tom Wm. Moore, William Wellington, white, Sunday Lightning, Billy Lewis, Jim Lewis, Bill, a negro boy. Moore was the first man I ever saw go off mad. He glanced around at the crowd, and then stepped on the gallows defiantly, and when asked if he had any thing to say, replied: 'I see there were worse men than he standing around looking on. A stick of wood would be a fair match for Sam Foxy, whose mother, wife and children were near at hand, and I have never acquainted them with the fact that I had come to see him hanged. During the ceremonies of the day I noticed a Dutch in the crowd, with a pleasant smile on his face, nodding his head frequently as he saw I caught his eye. I asked him what he was laughing at, and he replied: 'Vell, I vas glad to see you hang, for you killed my son.' 'I am anxious to have this thing over with,' said he, 'and have assembled those I, and therefore will not make any remarks. Farewell to all.' Then he would have said

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE, A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors.

County Democratic Nominations.

FOR STATE SENATOR,
ROBERT L. LIVINGSTON,
of Plainfield.

FOR SHERIFF,
THOMAS FORSYTH,
of Elizabeth.

FOR COUNTY CLERK,
JOHN L. CROWELL,
of Rahway.

FOR SURROGATE,
JAMES J. GERBER,
of Elizabeth.

FOR CORONERS,
A. Q. DONOVAN, of Elizabeth.
WALTER E. CLADER, of Rahway.

FOR MEMBER OF ASSEMBLY—2D DISTRICT,
WILLIAM C. COLTON.

FOR MEMBER OF ASSEMBLY—3D DISTRICT,
JOSEPH G. MILLER.

ATTENTION! CITIZENS!

In selecting candidates for official positions the inquiry should ever be—are they honest, of good personal repute, and fully competent to discharge public duty. That is the sound, old fashioned Jeffersonian standard, and the recent Democratic Convention of the County of Union nobly unfurled it. The Democratic nominees are all well and favorably known to the people. It is only needful to make brief mention of them individually. The ticket reads thus—

For Senator,
ROBERT L. LIVINGSTON.

He has served one term as State Senator with distinguished honor. A practical business man in the full meaning of the word, he knows thoroughly the real wants of the people and will never flinch from protecting and advancing their rights and interests. Well read and experienced as a statesman, a keen observer of current events, intelligent, honest, industrious and affable, no better selection could possibly have been made for the important office of Senator than Robert L. Livingston.

Vote for Livingston!

For Sheriff,
THOMAS FORSYTH.

Tom Forsyth, as he is familiarly called, has hosts of friends, drawn to him irrespective of political name, by those grandest of personal virtues open-faced integrity and warm-hearted generosity. Tom Forsyth is emphatically a man of the people. He is practically conversant with the duties and obligations of the Sheriff's office, having been elected thereto by a rousing majority six year ago, and no doubt will again receive his popular approval.

Vote for Forsyth!

For County Clerk,
JOHN L. CROWELL.

If there ever was a candidate worthy of triumphant election it is John L. Crowell. He has virtually filled and to general satisfaction the office of County Clerk for some time past as the trusted deputy of our lamented fellow-citizen the late James S. Vossellor, and knows thoroughly its responsible and varied requirements! He is honest, capable and of good report.

Vote for Crowell!

For Surrogate,
JAMES J. GERBER.

Similar remarks above applied to Mr. Crowell truthfully attach to James J. Gerber. He, too, ought to be elected by a rousing majority ever recorded in this County, because he has discharged the very important duties of Surrogate with fidelity, sound judgment, and uniform correctness, and never otherwise than as a perfect gentleman.

Vote for Gerber!

For Coroners,
DOCTOR A. Q. DONOVAN,
DOCTOR WALTER E. CLADER.

They are both gentlemen of high standing in the medical profession, of unimpeached personal worth, and in every particular fitted to occupy the position for which they have been regularly nominated.

Vote for Donovan and Clader!

Vote the entire ticket, and thereby fill all electoral duty aright by promoting the public welfare!

"Tom" Forsyth—plain, good old-fashioned, generous Tom Forsyth. When he received a fair nomination for the office of Sheriff, his enemies—the Republicans said they were going to sell awful things about him, and that he could not be elected. Well, now where is their evidence that Mr. Forsyth has not always proved a capable officer and conducted the affairs of the County coming under his jurisdiction in a painstaking, honest and capable manner. They cannot produce any. The next Sheriff of Union County will be a Democrat and his name is Tom Forsyth.

Probably no more popular man is on the democratic ticket than John L. Crowell candidate for County Clerk. Besides being popular with the masses, he has had long experience in the business of the office as Deputy of the late respected County Clerk Vossellor, transacting his business with regularity and promptness to the satisfaction of the public. Mr. Crowell ought to be, and we believe will be—elected by a good rousing majority, similar to that received by his predecessor in years gone by. Sehr!

As usual, there are kickers—of course Republicans, who object to the re-election of Surrogate James J. Gerber, because, besides being a Democrat, he has held the office for two terms already. That is because the people desired him in that official capacity and thought he was the proper man to re-nominate. He has made a most capable and efficient Surrogate. "Jeems" will get there again, Eli.

The firemen of Union County ought to remember next Tuesday that in Senator R. L. Livingston they have a true and tried friend. His actions and vote in the last Legislature proves it.

"Mr." Miller of Westfield is a very shy gentleman, but it is not his time yet to sit in the Senatorial chair occupied by plain "Bob" Livingston, who has just as much brains to fill the position of Senator as "Mr." Miller. And this is with all due respect to Mr. Miller, too.

It is said that the Republican managers have a barrel of money with which to corrupt voters next Tuesday. Democrats watch the polls.

Who can find fault with the excellent character and record of the candidates on the Democratic ticket. Every man on it should be elected by a handsome majority.

In Joseph G. Miller the Third Assembly District would have a representative well qualified to represent the people.

The next Senator and Assemblyman from Somerset County will be James J. Bergen and Geo. E. Pace. And just remember this.

There is not a candidate on the Democratic County ticket, who is not virtually a laboring man. Every one of them represents some industry, at which they labored in their younger days.

The Fourth Ward Division.

It is thought that the political complexion of the city Council will be a decidedly different shade after the charter election takes place in 1888. The advent of the Pond Tool Works location in the Ward, and the rapid increase in population occasioned thereby, in this particular ward, it is expected will swell the poll list, greatly in advance of 600, making it necessary to divide the ward in two, 61 names have already been registered in the Fourth ward, and over 500 votes were cast at a recent election. When the number of votes cast at any election shall exceed 800, then, according to law, the ward must be broken up, thus necessitating a change in the election of Councilmen.

Democratic District Convention.

The Democratic delegates of the Third Assembly District of Union county, met in this city Tuesday afternoon at Democratic headquarters on Front Street. The representation as follows: Plainfield, 11; Rahway, 12; Westfield, 3; Fanwood 1; Clark, 1; total, 28. Mr. August Saltzman of the County Executive Committee, called the delegates to order, and the following were chosen as permanent officers: Chairman, Wm. K. M. Jurz of Plainfield; Secretary, Mr. Gilbert H. Lindsley of Rahway; Committee on Credentials, Messrs. S. H. Leonard, L. F. Vadsworth and John C. Marsh. Upon all of wards and townships for a candidate, Mr. Jaggar, of Clark, delegate of this city was unanimously nominated, but he refused to accept. The convention then adjourned for twelve minutes. During these present were: Messrs. Thos. Forsyth, James J. Gerber, John L. Crowell and J. A. Fay of Elizabeth, H. L. Livingston, J. D. Millard, J. F. Martine, G. S. A. Davis, D. J. Carney and G. France of this city.

First Assembly Dist. Dem. Convention.

The Democratic Convention for the First Assembly District comprising the townships of Woodbridge, Perth Amboy and Piscataway, was held at Bonhamtown, near Metuchen, Thursday of last week. Luther M. Tappen, Chairman of the last Convention, called the Convention to order. Mr. James Wight, of Perth Amboy, was made permanent Chairman and Mr. Andrew Love, Jr., of Dunellen was elected Secretary. Committees were appointed on credentials, resolutions and rules and regulations. Messrs. Andrew Love, Jr., and Bethune Dunham represented Piscataway township. The secretary submitted a set of resolutions which were unanimously adopted. When the call for nominations was made Mr. Love named Mr. Ephriam Cutter of Woodbridge and he was nominated by acclamation. Mr. Luther M. Tappen with drawing from the contest. A committee was appointed to bring the candidate before the convention when he formally accepted the nomination in a neat speech. It was decided to hold the next convention at Maier's Hall, Dunellen, after which the convention adjourned.

The Sauergerbund Building.

It must likely that the work on the new Sauergerbund building, which is to be erected on Somerset street, will begin before Spring, although the members have elected to occupy the structure before that time, and last week estimates of certain parts of the work were submitted to the Building Committee and opened by them. The lot upon which the proposed building will stand, was purchased at a cost of $2,000, and the building when completed, it is estimated, will cost about $9,000. The members of the Building Committee met on Monday evening, assembled to the Society their plans and estimates for the work. The meeting also held informally, simply to give the members an opportunity to express their views for or against the undertaking. The Society includes some of our best citizens, and some of them, it is said, disapprove of the project, claiming that the total cost of the building when completed will be more than the Society can absorb.

Services at Trinity Reformed Church.

The exercises at Trinity Reformed church Sunday morning were of an interesting and impressive character. The occasion being the ordination of the newly elected elders and deacons—whose names were announced in THE PRESS of the 13th inst. Previous to the ordination, the pastor, Rev. Mr. Schenck, very appropriately read from the New Testament, the 3rd chapter of the first epistle of Paul the Apostle to Timothy. After the ordination his remarks to the newly elected officers and to the people was of an instructive and instructive nature, and one likely to strengthen both officers and congregation in the covenant discourse, by the pastor was delivered in his usual earnest manner, his thoughts being taken from the 24th chapter of Genesis, 63d verse—"And Isaac went out to meditate in the field at the eventide: and he lifted up his eyes, and saw, and, behold, the camels were coming." The attendance both morning and evening was large, an evidence of the growing prosperity of this young preacher.

Seven Class.

The clear, plain, earnest and truthful manner Mr. Gardner has of explaining the Sunday School lessons, gives us the desired satisfaction to the office as the Berean Class of the Warren Mission. The number in attendance is gradually increasing, and its former interest is being manifested by all, and the truths of teaching which God has bestowed upon Mr. Gardner to impart to the Berean Class and its friends. Last Sunday's lesson was from Matt. 3: 25-30; 10: 1-6, "The Harvest and the Laborers." Golden Text—"Freely ye have received, freely give." Central Truth—"Every one should be a laborer in God's harvest." The lesson was full of interest throughout. The hours were let down and the gates were opened wide, and all were invited to assist in the harvest, as the grain is now ripe and laborers are scarce. After you have received the gift of God, be united to assist the Mission next Sunday, Nov. 6, and hear what Mr. Gardner has to say about "Confessing Christ," "The Friends of Christ," etc., Matt. 10: 32-42.

—The "Kemble" amateur dramatic association of Brooklyn, which was secured by the Knights of Pythias of this city for an entertainment at Music Hall during the present season. The proceeds will be added to the fund destined to be raised for the reception of the Grand Lodge officers who will convene in Plainfield in February. The "Kemble" has a national reputation as the most talented of all amateur organizations.

Election Tuesday, Nov. 8th. Polls open from 7 a. m. till 7 p. m.

A Marvelous Gift.

The week beginning Nov. 7th, is the time fixed for the reappearance of Prof. Reynolds, the wonderful mesmerist, in this city. His miraculous power over the mind and body of his subjects was thoroughly exemplified during his first visit to this city a year ago, and was the subject of scientific argument and social discussion among all classes of our community for months afterwards. The gentlemen whose earnest request that he should make a return engagement has been acceded to, are to be thanked and congratulated for their success, and the whole public will feel gratified at having another opportunity of personally testing or observing the results of Prof. Reynolds' marvellous gift.

The Pagan Illustrated Lectures.

We remind our readers that the sale of tickets for this course of lectures will open at Reynolds' Pharmacy on Tuesday, Nov. 8th, at 7 o'clock, a. m. The list of subjects and accompanying advertisement is exceedingly attractive and we need not now add anything to what has been already said by way of recommendation. It should be borne in mind that tickets will be ready for immediate delivery and that "spot-payment" will be in order. For this purpose election day was selected for the opening sale, this being a holiday for business men and commuters.

A Stone Chapel.

At the time of its happening we gave a full account of the laying of the corner-stone of the Willow Grove chapel. The ceremony took place during Tuesday afternoon, and the Rev. Dr. Ketcham made an address, and in the corner-stone was deposited a copy of THE PRESS, the only Plainfield paper so honored. It is having been decided to build the chapel of granite, Mr. Warren Acker man has offered the projectors all the done for the purpose they can cart away from his quarries on Park avenue. Willing hands at once set about the work with teams, and already thirty loads have been transferred to the site of the building at Willow Grove. Mr. Lambert, who donated the ground, has expressed his intention of placing a memorial window in the chapel when completed.

No Trials Yet.

Scattered among the audience in the Elizabeth Court room, on Friday last were a number of Plainfield's citizens—called together by the possibility of the opening of the trial of Theo. VanNest for complicity with John Jackson in the burning of the McCutcheon house in New and Sixth streets on the night of August 14th. Among the prominent ones present were E. S. Worthley, the "detective," Wm. McCutcheon, whose house was burned, Councilmen Carey and Dunham, ex-Councilman Rossen, F. A. Pope and L. D. McIntosh, and Chief Clerk C. A. Marsh. G. F. Saydam, W. L. Hetfield, W. R Codington and A. P. Miller.

Jackson had Thursday plead guilty to such a charge against him, but VanNest and denied the charge as against himself. A call of the witnesses subpœnaed showed them to be present, but the case was not called and Prosecutor Wilson commenced, instead, the trial of a Summit seer seller charged with selling strong drink. This case occupied all the morning and afternoon.

Fred Marsh, Esq., counsel for the defence, was ready with his witnesses and anxious for the calling of the case. The prosecution, however, was not ready, and it is probable the case will be postponed with the others against the indicted firemen, for two weeks. Some of the prosecution say they must await the recovery of Mrs. Jackson, so that she can appear and testify in court. Others say they what expected testimony from Jackson himself. The course of the latter's counsel in presenting his plea of guilty is commended, because it shows a disposition to defend a self-confessed criminal, caught in the act.

NEW MARKET.

A few nights ago an attempt was made to enter the residence of Mr. Tabb, but the intruders were scared off by the movements of the occupants. Mr. Tabb regrets he did not pay them his respects personally.

Mr. Abner L. Corbell, real estate agent, was sold for Mr. Albert L. 100 feet front adjoining the Edwards' place, for $3 per foot. This is considered a remarkably good price. A three thousand dollar residence is to be erected thereon.

Seventy new posts, with 140 newly painted sign directions, are now being set in place in the township of Piscataway. The town committee will soon see themselves from the liability of non-compliance with a law which they have long ignored, much to the public inconvenience.

Burke and Kunyon are at large having had, we are informed, no trial. How they came to be discharged without one of an enigma which requires to be solved. Our correspondent interviewed Post Office Inspector Dosser, Friday last, who expressed surprised at their liberation. He said "I was in Trenton on Tuesday last, and our witnesses present and urged the necessity of the trial being held as ex-Inspector Hartshorne was on hand. The Assistant District Attorney Daly informed me that the case had gone off for the term." Kunyon the other day made a statement to a reputable citizen that he or they would get even with Old Booker, for trying to "put him in a hole," and with the New Market people who "helped him over the stile so smart." The inhabitants here are glad to know of his threat and in case of trouble will have a clue to follow up. BRAND BRIM.

THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE.

When we went to press last evening, the Democratic delegates of the Third Assembly District in Convention assembled in this city, had just adjourned for twenty minutes to decide on a candidate to present for nomination. Upon being called to order again by Chairman Wm. McClure, the convention by acclamation nominated without a dissenting voice in the nomination of Mr. Joseph G. Miller, of this city, as the Democratic candidate for the Assembly from the Third District of Union County. A number of speeches by the notables present as published in THE PRESS yesterday, brought the convention to an enthusiastic close, after the appointment of Messrs. L. F. Wadsworth, A. Saltzman and J. Rafferty as a Committee to wait upon the candidate and notify him of his nomination. The Committee was also empowered to fill the vacancy should Mr. Miller decline.

THE CANDIDATE.

Mr. Joseph Gilbert Miller whom the Democratic representatives of this district have unanimously chosen as their candidate to care for them in the Halls of New Jersey's Legislature, was born in Groton, Conn., Dec. 27th, 1855. He graduated with high honors from a well-known academy early in life, and after a thorough course in the College of Pharmacy, first entered the profession of druggist at New London, Conn. Some years ago he came to this city as an assistant manager of the pharmacy of Mr. R. J. Shaw, but subsequently purchased the business he now conducts in the N. C. A. building on Front street. He is the most popular young politician in the city with both parties, although a Democrat first, last and all the time, through thick and thin. He is at present at Pocono Mountains hunting for something to shoot, but will return this evening. THE PRESS wishes he could have secured his acceptance in to-morrow's issue.

WESTFIELD.

131 pounds of an out-Blown campaign sheet was sent Mr. Miller, Tuesday morning, to assist in his defeat.

Mr. John Ingram, Jr., has broken ground for a new dwelling on Broad St., adjoining the one recently erected by him.

Capt. Sampson, of the steamship "Alsia," who has been at home for the past week, sailed yesterday (Sunday) morning for Hayti, West Indies.

Jennie Campbell, the fourteen-year-old girl whose burning to death was published in those columns, was buried at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

A meeting of those interested was held in the Town Rooms, Monday night and the fifteen present decided to form a stock company for the erection of a $40,000 hotel. The meeting was very enthusiastic.

John Boppe, a farmer residing about a mile outside of Westfield, went to New York Tuesday and engaged from the intelligence office of Kalin & Tiebert, a man to work on his farm. The man was of German birth, about 40 years of age, and gave his name as Jacob Decker. Mr. Boppe took the man to his farm last evening, and after supper the two sat conversing together until about 10.30 o'clock, when the stranger retired for the night. Wednesday morning, when Mr. Boppe called to the hired man he got no reply, but heard a groan. On opening the door leading to his bed-chamber, he discovered the man lying unconscious on the bed in a pool of blood. Life was not yet extinct. Officer Marsh was immediately notified, and with Dr. Cooper went at once to the place. When the doctor arrived the victim's pulse was beating rapidly, and all efforts to restore him to consciousness proved useless. The weapon used to accomplish the deadly work was a penknife, a blunt blade of which the would-be suicide had thrust into his throat near the windpipe, making an ugly gash about an inch wide and several inches long. Blood flowed profusely from the wounds, saturating the bed clothing and pillow cases. No direct cause is assigned for the act, and so far as is known the man is without relations in this country. Dr. Cooper served up the wounds, but gave no opinion that the patient could not recover. Overseer of the Poor, J. W. Cox, has taken the matter in hand and will make an investigation.

A Tale of Two Women.

An interesting tale of two females is told in one chapter of which is now resting in the neighborhood of the Park Avenue church, and their names are withheld out of consideration for their friends. On Sunday afternoon the two started out on a tour of inspection to the new Hillside Cemetery, and after walking for a long time, they were surprised to learn that they had taken the wrong road and instead of bringing up at the Cemetery as desired, they brought up at the Dog Tavern. After other long walks they came in a dilapidated sign board which bore an inscription "80-33 miles to Rahway." On the ladies walked, supposing that they would eventually come out on Park avenue, and thus find their way home, but alas! after another long walk and as the sun was creeping down in the Western horizon, they again approached a sign board along the road, bearing these words: "28-64 miles to A. M. Griffin's, Front street, Plainfield." It is needless to say that the two ladies were embarrassed, and were obliged to inquire their way at a farm house near Rahway. They arrived home at about eight o'clock in the evening thoroughly tired out from their long walk.

—Prof. Reynolds at his mesmeric seances in Reform Hall, next week, will find his subjects in those of the audience who will voluntary to come on the stage. Anyone who is desirous as to the test of strength of will or mind power, can thus have a chance for a test.

LIST OF ADVERTISED LETTERS.

REMAINING IN PLAINFIELD POST OFFICE FOR WEEK ENDING NOV. 1, 1887.

Vernon, W C
Johnson, Miss Mary
Colgan, Miss Mary
Gilbert, G S
Oates Management Co.
Parker, Miss Ida B
Clancy, Miss Nannie
Dwyer, Mr Jas

Dupont, Miss Mary
Hopson, Mrs Anna O
Skinner, Mrs C
Miller, Mr J W
MacKinney, Alice
Olmstead, Miss Lulie
Hall, Mrs Linda B
Patterson, Mrs Amelia
Boyle, Miss L
Sheehan, Mrs Anna
Smith, Miss Ann

persons calling for above please say advertised.
W. L. FORCE, Postmaster.

FORD & STILES,
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
AND
PRACTICAL EMBALMERS.
Office, Waterrooms and Residence,
No. 14 EAST FRONT STREET.
Telephone Call No. 44.
THOS. C. FORD. 4p2921 GEO. M. STILES.

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
UNDERTAKERS, EMBALMERS,
60 PARK AVENUE.
Telephone Call 69.
RESIDENCE—48 MADISON AVENUE.
Telephone Call 37.
"Office of Hillside Cemetery."

P. CASEY & SON,
UNDERTAKERS,
OFFICE—No. 1 Somerset St.
Residence, No. 11 Third street, corner New Plainfield, N. J. Everything pertaining to the undertaking business on hand, and lower than other firm in the State. All Calls Promptly Attended Day or Night.—ot[31]

P. SASSEEN & SON,
UNDERTAKERS,
No. 5 SOMERSET STREET.
Residence, No. 11 Third street, corner New Plainfield, N. J. Everything pertaining to the undertaking business on hand, and lower than other firm in the State. All Calls Promptly Attended Day or Night.—ot[31]

DEATHS.

COREY—At Fanwood, Oct. 30, 1887, Ella R., daughter of Wm. S. and Mary E. Corey, aged 2 years.
MILLER—On Sunday, Oct. 30th, Samuel D. Miller, in his 45th year.
BLUM—In this city, Nov. 3rd, of membranous croup, Edgar E., son of Jacob and Sarah A. Blum, aged 3 years, 11 months, 3 days.
Funeral services from the house, No. 28 Somerset street, Friday afternoon, 4th inst., at 2 o'clock.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

CATTLE TAKEN TO WINTER. MAY FOR Sale. Box 110 JOHN ROSS, Plainfield, N. J. nov 1st2

LYCEUM THEATRE,
NEW YORK, 23d street and Fourth avenue.
DANIEL FROHMAN, - Manager.
Begins 8.15 Saturday Matinee 2.
The Regular Dramatic Season.
THE WIFE,
A New Play by J. D. HALLIDAY and H. C. DE MILLE.
Company Includes:
ORINDIA CAYVAN, GRACE HENDERSON, LOUISE DILLON, MRS. WHIFFEN, MISS CROSMAN, HENRY KELLY, KELSON WRAIGHTHILL, J. E. DODGE, CHAS. WALCOT, CHAS. RICHMAN, W. PAVERSHAM.
Prices, all Reserved, 50c., 75c., $1, $1.50.
ot-25

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.—TO MARY E. Bedle, Robert Peck and George Peck.
Pursuant to the order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey made on the day of the date hereof, you are required to appear and answer the bill of complaint and petition filed against you and others and defendants, you are required to appear and answer the bill of complaint and petition filed against you and others and defendants, you are required to appear and answer the bill of said complainant on or before the 20th day of December next.
The said bill is filed for partition of certain lands and premises in the said bill of complaint and petition described, situate, lying and being in the township of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, and bounded and described as follows, viz.:
Dated the twelfth day of October A. D. 1887.
JACKSON & PITNEY,
Complainant's Solicitors. o26-6w

MISCELLANEOUS.

New York and New Jersey
TELEPHONE COMPANY!
SPEAKING CONNECTION WITH OVER 6,000 INSTRUMENTS—PROTECTION FIRE, FIRE AND BURGLAR!—PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Central Office cor Front st. and Park ave.

Subscriber's Name	Address
Anderson, Wm. S	Netherwood.
Arens, Otto	Park avenue.
Ayer, Hose Co., No 1	Front st.
Bowen, Henry E	Netherwood.
Babcock, Otis B	Park and Union.
Bell, Wm. P	Front st.
Bonnell, E. C	41 Park ave.
Brown, Edwin	Seventh and Grant ave.
Brown, Mrs J. Munro	Netherwood.
Barnett, E.	Hillside ave.
Barnard & Jones	18 North ave.
Bonnell, John	Central ave, and 9th st.
Clark, E. B	West Front street.
C. L. & N.	Park and North avenue.
Case, C. W	Rockview ave.
Childress, Thomas	Jackson ave.
Clemens, James T	Richmond and Front st.
Convert Insulator Co	Park ave and R.R.
Cook, A. D	Park ave and R.R.
Conlay, Dr J. H	Banking and Watervolt ave.
Dot, Jno.	18 North ave.
D. L. & W.	Park and North ave.
Daily Press	8 North ave.
Dunham, Wm.	18 North ave.
Dunham, Bethune	Putnam ave.
Dunn, Jno.	Rockview ave.
Dunn, S. M	Rockview ave.
Day, Frank	North ave.
Dunn, Jno. A	Netherwood.
Dunn, Jno. A	Netherwood.
Emmert, P. M	36 W. Front st.
Evening Press Publishing Co	18 North ave.
Emmett, John B	19 Rockview ave.
Bartlett, Dr Geo. W	Park ave. and 4th st.
Fanning, Jno. T. W., Rev	Park ave. and 4th st.
Fanning, Jno. T. W., Rev	Park ave. and 4th st.
Fisher, Jno.	Park and North ave.
Fisher, Jno.	Front st.
Fisher, Jno.	Front st.
Fisher, Jno.	Rockview ave.
Fisher, Jno.	Rockview ave.
Fleming & Anglemeyer	38 North ave.
Fleming, J.	38 North ave.
Force, W. L. & Bro.	9 North ave.
Force, W. L. & Bro.	9 North ave.
Ford & Stiles	14 E. Front st.
Frost House	G. H. Depot.
Frank, Wm.	18 North ave.
Frank, S. & Sons, N. H	21 Somerset st.
Gaskill, C. E	73 2nd ave.
Goddard, C. E	17 Third Place.
Gruhler, A. M	12 E Front st.
Gruhler, A. M	12 E Front st.
Hedges, Dr. Ellis W	12 East Front st.
Hyan, Chas	Rockview ave.
Hyan, Chas. A	Grant ave and 2d Place.
Hedges, Albert	36W. near Park ave.
Hall, Jno.	36 E. and 2d Place.
Hopkins, Jr. O. L	Sycamore st.
Hall, Jno.	Park and Union ave.
Hall, Jno.	Park and Union ave.
Jones, David	Park Place.
Kirkner, J	8th and Division ave.
Kenney, H. S	Park avenue.
Laing's Hotel	West Front st.
Leonard, S. H. Rahway	Main ave. and Front st.
Lovell, I. S	Crescent ave.
Martine, John	Putnam ave.
Martine, J. F	4th and Grant st.
McDonnell, Hugh	6th st.
Mellon, Jeremy A	Rockview ave.
Meeker, James	Willow ave.
Miller, J. & Bro	W. Front st.
Miller, J. & Bro	Park avenue.
Moss, Geo. A	30 North ave.
Morris, Revd. J	2nd Place and Front st.
Netherwood Hospital	North ave.
Murray, J. W	Central ave and 8th st.
Murray, J. W	41 Park ave.
Myers, Jno. W	Front st.
Mitchell, E. C	6 & 8 North ave.
Murray, J. W	Netherwood.
Miller, Frank	Front st.
Myers, Lawrence	Front st.
Mitchell, E. C	Netherwood.
Newsall, Henry B	16 E 7th st.
O'Kane, H. B	Farragut ave
Plainfield Mfg. & Fire Alarm Co	13 E Front st.
Plainfield Electric Light Co	Madison avenue.
Pope, F. A	Front st.
Par station	Park ave and Front st.
Plainfield Real Co	36 and Washington st.
Pollis Construction Co	Park ave and R.R.
Potts, W R	7th, near Plainfield Ave
Porter, C. D	7th and Park ave.
Potter Press Works	South ave.
Potter, A. C	Grove st. and Marcy Place.
Perkins, Jr. J	41 Park ave.
Perkins, Edward C	Central ave. and 8th st.
Perkins, Jr. J	41 Park ave.
Randolph, Wilbert	North Plainfield.
Reynolds, H. P	North and South ave.
Reynolds, H. P	Watchung ave.
Roberts, G. S	17 North avenue.
Stockholm, Geo W	Park and North ave.
Sandfelow, O W (Rev)	140 Park ave.
Sampson, A M & Son	18 North ave.
Sampson, A M & Son	18 Madison ave.
Sanderson, Dr Edward	Park ave, near Plain st.
Sanderson, Dr Edward	Park ave, near Plain st.
Stone, Mrs J	Cor. Manor & Sycamore ave.
Scott, E. D	8th st.
Smith, Leonard	Front st.
Sexton, G	69 Front street.
Short, H	Opp. Park ave.
Smith, Jno.	30 North ave.
Smith, C. H	7th and Madison ave.
Smith, Jno.	19 E 8th st.
Smith, Rev. P	La Grand avenue.
Smith, S. M	Park ave, and Front st.
Stults, S M	Orient ave.
Stults, S M (Pay Station)	Park ave and Front st.
Stiles, A. C	14 E. Front st.
Talmadge, Henry P (Rev)	Netherwood.
Thrasher, Jno.	33 W. 7th st.
Thrasher, Jno. T	33 W. 8th st.
(Tracy, J. Evatts	8th and Division st.
Van Boskerck, W. J	Park avenue.
Vandewerth, W. B	Park avenue.
Western Union Telegraph Company	at Depot.
Zabriskie, J. W	18 North ave.
Zephyr Hook and Ladder Co	Second street.

TELEPHONE TOLL RATES.
FOR FIVE MINUTES CONVERSATION
PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY

Alton	50c.	To Hudson	50c.
Asbury	50c.	Hoboken	50c.
Ashtabula	50c.	Montclair	15c.
Bethlehem	50c.	Morristown	15c.
Bordentown	50c.	Mt. Vernon	50c.
Boston	50c.	Newark	15c.
Bridgeport	50c.	New Brunswick	25c.
Bufferlo	50c.	New Haven	50c.
Cincinnati	50c.	New York	15c.
Cleveland	50c.	Orange	15c.
Chicago	50c.	Paterson	15c.
Chester	50c.	Pittsburgh	50c.
Cleveland	50c.	Pittsburgh	50c.
Cottage Point	50c.	Pennsgrove	50c.
Crawford	50c.	Pennsgrove	50c.
Cresskill	50c.	Perth Amboy	25c.
Dover	50c.	Port Jervis	50c.
Dunellen	15c.	Rahway	15c.
East New York	50c.	Rockaway	50c.
Elizabeth	15c.	Rutherford	50c.
Englewood	50c.	Salem	50c.
Fair Haven	50c.	Scranton	50c.
Fair Mount	50c.	Somerville	25c.
Flushing	50c.	Staten Island	50c.
Glen Cove	50c.	Stamford	50c.
Hackensack	50c.	Tenafly	50c.
Hackettstown	50c.	Trenton	50c.
Hamburg	50c.	Weehawken	50c.
Jamaica	50c.	Westchester	50c.
Jersey City	15c.	Wilmington	50c.
Keyport	50c.	Woodbridge	50c.
Lambertville	50c.	Yonkers	50c.
Long Branch	50c.

ON SUBSCRIBERS, 10 CTS. ADDITIONAL

PUBLIC SALE OF REAL ESTATE.
CITY OF PLAINFIELD.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a warrant issued by John Ferris, Esq., City Judge of the City of Plainfield, to the county of Union, to me directed and delivered, I will sell at public vendue, between the hours of 12 o'clock noon and 4 o'clock p. m. of the day hereinafter mentioned, at the Court House in the City of Plainfield, in the county of Union, and State of New Jersey, the following described real estate, or such part thereof as will be sufficient to satisfy the amount of the assessment for benefits and costs, with interest thereon, assessed upon the same, and the costs of sale, viz.:

Abbott, Edward, H and lot	50 feet front	$ 50 00
Abbott, Edward, H and lot	50 feet front	50 00
Abbott, Edward, H and lot	50 feet front	50 00
Abbott, Edward, H and lot	50 feet front

CITY DEPARTMENT.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION

J. A. DEMAREST, - - City Editor

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS

NEW YORK MAIL
Close—8.00 and 10.00 A. M., 2.30 and 8.00 P. M.
Arrive—7.30, 11.30 A. M., 2.30 and 8.00 P. M.
SOMERVILLE, RARITAN, &c., MAILS
Close—9.00 A. M. and 4.00 P. M.
Arrive—11.30 A. M. and 6.00 P. M.
Sunday Mail—Office open from 9 A. M. to 10.00 A. M. Mail closed at 7 P. M.
Mail for Washington (Jones' Tavern), Warrenville and Scientific Hall, &c.
Post Office opens at 7 A. M. and closes at 7.30 P. M. Sundays, closes at 9 A. M. Open every evening until 8.00 P. M. to accommodate Money Order office open from 8 A. M. to 7 P. M.
W. L. FORCE, Postmaster.

—A tramp with a linen duster was seen on the railroad Sunday. He was going South.

—At this season of the year the attendance in the several Sunday schools is remarkably uniform.

—Our New Market correspondent in another column utters a protest against the release of the accused Post Office breakers, without a trial.

—Mrs. Wm. A. Vandusale, of Trenton, was elected Associate Secretary of the W. C. T. U., at their annual Convention, in Woodbury, Friday last.

—From present outlook there will be several changes in the City Council for 1888, and already different ones are spoken of as candidates.

—The young ladies of the Mission Band of the Presbyterian churches, will soon begin the filling of their annual Christmas box for the family of some far-away missionary.

—Gazelle Eng. arrived in town Monday afternoon, from the Manchester Locomotive Works. Many persons inspected the new engine as it stood on a gondola at the freight house.

—The ladies of the Women's Relief Corps of this city are making extensive preparations for their annual fair and bazaar, which will be held in the Republican Association rooms on East Front street, early in November.

—The sudden explosion of the nose the day of Halloween, and the appearance of the supposed victim in undoubted flesh and blood, sends the murder back again among the impenetrable mysteries of the past.

—How township officers in this vicinity should follow the example of those of Piscataway, or they may suffer a penalty for violating the supposed law of the erection of sign posts at the cross roads with painted directions thereon.

—If you want a wedding or holiday present, or anything "gift"-ed, nothing is more welcome than one or a pair of the thousand etchings and engravings on exhibition at the S. E. Brown's studio, 26 W. Front street.

—Everybody who buys a ticket for Col. Tyler's lecture at Music Hall will get his money back if he is not satisfied. Not only is the worth of the lecture, but the proceeds will go towards the purchase of books for free distribution from the Public Library.

—The elaborate supplement that THE PRESS is preparing, showing the advantages and elements of some of our enterprising merchants in growing cities, will be issued with our edition of next Saturday. The check, however, will probably be delivered earlier.

—It is to be regretted that so great an attraction as Mr. Marshal P. Wilder should make his first appearance in this city on the same evening as has been fixed upon for Col. M. W. Tyler's lecture. Both events appeal strongly to the public taste and patronage.

—The publishers of Southern Society and Home, 92 and 94 Main street, Norfolk, Va., desire a correspondent in this section to attend all church and society meetings and forward reports of same. Credentials for acquaintance furnished. Address with stamped envelope.

—Now make up your minds that you are going to learn something this coming Winter. Don't be a clam, but show that you are a progressive citizen, and one that is not afraid to spend a little money for your community. Subscribe for THE PRESS and make the long evenings that are coming profitable, and your family happy.

—The farmers of Washingtonville and vicinity are handling together and putting up notices forbidding hunting on their premises. The game is very plentiful in this vicinity each season with rabbits, shot hundreds of rabbits and take them to the city markets and sell them. Some thing must be done to keep the pot-hunters from our State.

—The annual convention of the Union County Sunday School Association will be held in the Presbyterian church at Cranford on Friday, November 11, session afternoon and evening. An unusually fine programme has been arranged and experience meetings will be held. Rev. Dr. Hall, Rev. Dr. Rice and others of this city, Rev. Carter Bolton Jones, Rev. A. W. Clark and G. W. Gardiner, Esq.

—Mr. George Herbert, who gratuitously used his name to straw Gazelle Eng. from the freight house to the Company's house on West Second street, Monday afternoon, got the laugh on the boys. He did it well in front of the Crescent Ave. church Tuesday afternoon to test the machinery before the Fire Board formally accepts the engine from the builder, Amoskeag.

—The sorrel horse belonging to Street Commissioner Angleman, which fell into the cellar of the new Corner building on East Front street, Saturday afternoon, was so seriously injured that it was considered advisable to kill the animal. Messrs. Jones & Co., removed the carcass and Monday night found that the animal's back was broken in two places, and that a bone in the neck and one of the fore legs were each dislocated.

—The young men of the 1st V. M. C. A. rooms Monday night was under the able leadership of Mr. H. R. Mongor. The subject—"What am I doing for Christ?" was considered in its different bearings, and many a man in the audience realized for the first time how little he was really doing for Christ, and how much more he could do if will from henceforth endeavor to serve the Master more diligently.

—Catherine Reinold, a half-witted woman, who was employed as a domestic in a family on East Front street, went before the City Judge on Friday and swore out a warrant for the arrest of a young man named Charles McGuire of Westfield. Third street, charging him with crime. Chief Dodd apprehended the accused on Saturday evening, and locked him up in the station house. The young man's uncle subsequently became his bondsman in the sum of $250 to appear for a hearing on November 3rd, when the matter developments may be expected.

—One of the employees of the Scott Press Works hired a horse and buggy on Day's livery stable Sunday morning, two companions drove over to New Brooklyn, where one of the wheels on the vehicle was wrecked. The men were obliged to borrow a wagon to convey home, and when they arrived at the livery stable, refused stoutly to pay for the wheel. Oliver Lynch then called in and after considerable parleying the men laid down out a roll of bills and paid Mr. Day seven dollars—five dollars for the wheel and two dollars for carriage hire.

Personals.

Mr. Andrew Lowe, Jr., is confined to his home at Dunellen, on account of illness.

Miss Lulu Tyler, a former resident here, but now of New York city, is visiting among her many friends in this city.

The Rev. D. W. Steelenger pastor of the Dunellen Presbyterian church, occupied the pulpit of the Seventh Day Baptist church at New Market, on Saturday last.

Mr. Amos Vail has purchased of the heirs of the late Jarvis Vail, a building lot at Green Brook, and which has been passed down from his great-grandfather.

Dr. Frank S. Veits and Mr. N. H. Randolph were Sunday evening unanimously elected deacons in the Seventh Day Baptist church, the latter succeeding the late Judge Randolph.

Mr. E. V. Lorton, Keeper of Records and Seals of the State Lodge, Knights of Pythias, left Plainfield Monday to be present at the instituting of a new lodge, No. 111, at Pemberton, N. J.

William Smalley, son of William L. Smalley of Craig Place, North Plainfield, has been confined to the house for the past three weeks suffering from a carbuncle. Dr. Carmon is the attending physician.

Mr. William Cochran, after an absence of several months because of illness, has returned to his position as mail agent on the Central Railroad of New Jersey. He has been filled for the past seven years with McGregor & Co., the well-known Newark Clothiers.

David Angerhauer, the hostler employed at Blatm's Hotel, who was so seriously injured in a runaway accident on Mountain avenue, a few days ago, has so far recovered from the effect of his wounds as to be able to go out.

L. L. Manning, our fellow townsman, is busily engaged in putting up two very handsome monuments in the Rural Cemetery; one of them, rustic in design, being over the remains of the late Mr. Charles S. Wood.

Mr. Jacob Hall, of Grove street, North Plainfield, tendered a donkey party to a number of their friends on Saturday evening. Among those present were the Misses Hattie and Ella Hall, Mr. Charles Veits, and Mr. (I. W. Cadmus, of Brooklyn.

The nine-year old daughter of Mr. Frank Newman was very badly scalded, last Thursday morning. The child struck a pail of boiling hot cornaline, as it was being put to her mouth, and the contents were spilled, badly burning her chin, head and arms.

James L. Anthony of Nothewood, the New street banker, who has gone to his big preserve at Lynch's, Va., will spend the next few weeks shooting quail with the Graphic Kennel puppies. He owns a happy hunting ground there of about five hundred acres.

Mr. Harold W. Milligne and family have returned to their Winter home in Brooklyn, N. Y., after a season's sojourn at Mr. Milligne's hospitable Summer residence in Washington Valley. Mr. M. and son Charley have made numerous friends in this section since their advent among us.

Mr. Samuel D. Marlow of Dunellen, who has been confined for the past two years in the Morris Plains Asylum, died Sunday in the fifty-first year of his age. The funeral services at his late residence in Dunellen, at 2.30 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon. Interment at Washington Valley.

Fish Commissioner Wm. Wright was in Bound Brook Monday making arrangements with proper parties to secure a number of fish for the streams of that section of Somerville pond. The work will probably be done next week. Mr. Wright is an energetic Commissioner, and deserves a generous support from the people.

Mr. George Thatcher, the minstrel, has commenced the work of removing the frame dwelling house from his lot, corner of Second and Park avenue, and workmen will begin at once the erection of a handsome residence on the site recently purchased by him. The old structure will be moved to the rear of the lot, and will be fitted up as a dwelling house.

Sunday was the 74th birthday of ex-Councilman Jasper G. Cadmus, and he was the surprised recipient of a handsome and valuable chair cane. His wife's family, from his son David and wife Mettie, as he returned from church in the morning; his sister Mrs. Mary Hyde, of Bloomfield, the donating of the cane is unique and massive, with suitable inscription. The gift is highly prized by Mr. Cadmus.

At her home in Fanwood, Sunday, occurred the wedding of Miss Ella Gray, daughter of William S. and Mary J. Corey, aged eighteen years. The deceased was a victim of consumption which resulted in her death on Wednesday last, after a long bout. The funeral took place from the house on Wednesday at half-past two o'clock, and from the Baptist Rev. church at three p. m. Interment in the Fanwood cemetery.

The New Jersey State Convention of the Young People's Societies of Christian Endeavor at Newark the 26th ult. was largely attended and made successful than had even been hoped for. Over 300 delegates were served at supper between the afternoon and evening sessions, and all were deeply interested in the reports, exposition of work and other addresses. Those present from this city, Rev. Dr. Carter Bolton Jones, Rev. A. W. Clark and G. W. Gardiner, Esq.

—Mr. George Herbert, who gratuitously used his name to straw Gazelle Eng. from the freight house to the Company's house on West Second street, Monday afternoon, got the laugh on the boys. He did it well in front of the Crescent Ave. church Tuesday afternoon to test the machinery before the Fire Board formally accepts the engine from the builder, Amoskeag.

—The sorrel horse belonging to Street Commissioner Angleman, which fell into the cellar of the new Corner building on East Front street, Saturday afternoon, was so seriously injured that it was considered advisable to kill the animal. Messrs. Jones & Co., removed the carcass and Monday night found that the animal's back was broken in two places, and that a bone in the neck and one of the fore legs were each dislocated.

—The young of young men at the Y. M. C. A. rooms Monday night was under the able leadership of Mr. H. R. Mongor. The subject—"What am I doing for Christ?" was considered in its different bearings, and many a man in the audience realized for the first time how little he was really doing for Christ, and how much more he could do if will from henceforth endeavor to serve the Master more diligently.

—Catherine Reinold, a half-witted woman, who was employed as a domestic in a family on East Front street, went before the City Judge on Friday and swore out a warrant for the arrest of a young man named Charles McGuire of Westfield. Third street, charging him with crime. Chief Dodd apprehended the accused on Saturday evening, and locked him up in the station house. The young man's uncle subsequently became his bondsman in the sum of $250 to appear for a hearing on November 3rd, when the matter developments may be expected.

—One of the employees of the Scott Press Works hired a horse and buggy at Day's livery stable Sunday morning, two companions drove over to New Brooklyn, where one of the wheels on the vehicle was wrecked. The men were obliged to borrow a wagon to convey home, and when they arrived at the livery stable, refused stoutly to pay for the wheel. Oliver Lynch was called in and after considerable parleying the men laid down out a roll of bills and paid Mr. Day seven dollars—five dollars for the wheel and two dollars for carriage hire.

Burned to Death.

Jennie Campbell, aged 12 years, died Sunday at Westfield at 1.30 p. m., from the terrible burns she received on Saturday last, the particulars of which were in THE PRESS of that date. The little one suffered terribly. Everything that possibly could be was done to alleviate her sufferings. It was a terrible blow to her father, who resides in New York. Jennie's mother died many years ago. Her father came out almost weekly to see his daughter, but and was the news he received on Saturday last of the accident to the little one.

The Borough M. C. Chapel.

The trustees of the M. E. Church have about decided to purchase for the location of their North Plainfield chapel the desirable spoken of in the THE PRESS of last Thursday, at the corner of Park place and Somerset street. The amount of ground taken will be 85 by 170 feet, and the price at which it had been put on the market was $3,825. The owners of the property, however, Messrs. Lotkins & Hummer, have offered a donation of $500 towards the church project. Almost $4,000 is already raised among the church people for the purchase of the lot.

Oxford League.

The "Oxford League" of the M. E. church of this city, held their regular meeting Sunday morning in the parlors of the church, under the leadership of Dr. J. L. Hurlbut. The exercises were varied and interesting—consisting of a brief general exposition by the leader, having special reference to the duties, work and responsibilities of young christians—and the offering of "Christian testimony" by many present. These meetings are held at 9.30 a. m., and all the young people of the church are most cordially invited to be present. The four chapters of Phillipians will furnish the subjects for the next four sessions of the League.

Saturday's Trotting.

Again the visitors at the fair grounds were disappointed on Saturday afternoon, as many of them had come out there with the expectation of witnessing an exciting contest between Mr. A. C. Vail's "Betsy Bobbitt" and Mr. O. T. Waring's "Copperhead." The latter horse, it was said, was in no fit condition to trot, although Mr. Vail was on the ground with his horse, ready to meet Mr. Waring's animal for a fair advanced, it is not likely that the race will now take place, and Mr. Vail can exult in the fact that his horse has made the fastest time over the Plainfield track this season. On Saturday afternoon Mr. Vail drove "Betsy Bobbitt" to top wagon, two single mile heats in 2.45 and 2.41. The only race for the day included in the entries, viz: John Stelle's "Nellie C.," John Osborn's "Care Not," and Mr. Force's "Tim Murphy." The first-named horse won two straight heats in 2.45 and 2.45½. Messrs. Nate Robbins and Wm. Vanskiekel were the judges.

Change of Date.

The next meeting of the Local Circle of the C. L. S. C., will be held on Saturday evening of this week, Nov. 5th, instead 18 Nov. 12th. The meeting will be held in the parlors of the Y's, at 55 East Front street. The programme will be as follows:

Music and Recess.
Comparison of Massachusetts and Virginia Colonies.....[Miss A. T. Sinclair.
Sketch of Harvard University.....Mr. Arthur Manford.
History of Printing in America.....Mr. George Harrison.
Reading from Bryant.....Rev. J. L. Hurlbut.

All members whose initial letters are from H. to P. inclusive, will bring one question from the November Chautauquan, upon the life or works of William Cullen Bryant, and one upon the Current Literature of England, which questions will answer from entertainment arranged by the Management.

Calligan Mellvil.

At seven o'clock on Wednesday evening of last week, a very quiet but charming wedding took place at the residence of the bride's parents in this city. The Rev. T. Logan Murphy, of the Church of the Holy Cross, performed the ceremony of marriage that united Mr. Hugh M. Calligan of this city, and Miss Katie Melvill, only child of Captain and Mrs. Samuel T. Melvill of Second place. No cards had been issued for the ceremony, but many friends have since been seen; the bride's and groom's large circles of friends. The father and brother of the bride and the wife and daughter of the officiating clergyman, were the only witnesses of the happy event. Mr. and Mrs. Calligan took the 8.46 p. m. train for Washington, and from there will make an extended tour through the South. On their return they will occupy the elegantly furnished residence in Second place, where they were married—all being the wedding present of the parents to the bride. Capt. and Mrs. Melvill expect to leave Plainfield in a few days, and permanently reside thereafter in Brooklyn.

A Brilliant Wedding Reception.

The parlors and hallway of the handsome residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. Arthur Bayson, on La Grande avenue, were brilliantly illuminated, on 27th ult., and filled with the scores of friends of the host who had been so fortunate as to receive invitations to this wedding reception of the new bride and groom. The display of youth and beauty of the city was unusual. All the young and charming of both sexes were present, and among the guests of the company were the representatives of the first families of Plainfield, and its best society. Full-dress was the order of the evening, and many of the costumes were particularly handsome. The bride wearing her beautiful wedding dress, was assisted in the reception of her guests by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Louise (nee Wyckoff). Both ladies, however, were assisted in their cordiality and rivalled in their smiles of welcome, by Messrs. Bayson and Mr. Bayson's brother, who received with them. Refreshments were served continuously during the evening, and from eight to eleven o'clock, the guests came, and showered congratulations and well-wishes.

More New Dwellings.

Plainfield including North Plainfield is the most popular dwelling place in the State. This is evident from the large number of new houses now in course of erection. The tract of land known as the Brook estate in the rear of the First Baptist church is to be improved by the construction of a row of handsome brick buildings, four stories in height. There will be ten houses in all, occupying most of the unimproved land between the Brook house and the brook. The buildings will each have a basement of the English pattern, and will contain all the modern improvements, the whole to cost, when completed, about $37,500. Messrs. Jeremiah Manning & Son, the builders of this city, have been awarded the contracts for the work, by Messrs. Eaton and Stanford of New York, gentlemen who are possessed of unlimited means. Mr. W. H. Clum of this city is the architect. The owners of the land have given the architect and contractors to understand that further improvements will be made, and other houses built, in case those give satisfaction. There is also a possibility of breaking up the old Brook residence on Grove street, and converting the same into two dwelling houses. Today the surveyors are to stake out the building lines.

—As we prophesied in THE PRESS of Saturday, the Western Union Telegraph company has advanced its rates, and the old prices went into effect yesterday. Twenty-five cents is again the lowest rate for a message from this city.

Hall—Randolph.

At the residence of the bride's parents on West Front street, Monday night at 7 o'clock, was solemnized the marriage of Miss Minnetta F. Randolph, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore F. Randolph, to Mr. Milan W. Hall, son of Mr. A. E. Hall of Plainfield avenue. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Baker, only the relatives and a few of the very near friends being in attendance, among them guests from New York, Philadelphia, Brooklyn and other distant points. The ceremony was simple and impressive, the bride being unaccompanied by maids of honor. Her dress was of dark blue velvet and very becoming. The groom wore the conventional suit of black. After the ceremony the newly wedded couple received the congratulations of their friends, and after supper left on the several o'clock p. m. train for a late train to spend their honeymoon at Boston, Baltimore and other places. The gifts were many and costly. The groom is the partner of the "Hall-Steam Pump," and is at present engaged with his father in the manufacture of house pumps under the firm name of "Hall & Sons." He has also taken several other patents on dredging machinery, etc. Upon their return to this city, Mr. and Mrs. Hall will receive a reception at the residence of the groom on Plainfield avenue, their future abiding place.

IN AND ABOUT FANWOOD.

What Our Suburban Sauntener Observes Amidst Our Neighbors.

It is surprising how many new families are coming to this town. Go down to the depot some morning, strike some old stager, and see how many of the people on the platform he can name. And why shouldn't they come? Hasn't Fanwood all the advantages that a body could to the country? A healthy location; just about a convenient distance from New York; twenty trains each way daily; THE CONSTITUTIONALIST every week, and THE DAILY PRESS every evening; and as for building sites, why just ask Geo. Hawk his opinion on the subject, and then you'll have a pretty clear idea what a desirable spot it is to live in. And then we are within easy reach of all City advantages. Many business men buy their supplies twice a week, and don't seem to mind it. But aren't we carrying this thing a little too far? We can't afford to neglect our own trade, and then we don't think it a great many of his townsmen buy everything they can in New York, and when they come to his store in the day time, it is something out of the way, Mr. Baker hasn't got it. Why? Because he can't afford to carry a full stock of those goods for which there is little demand, and many of these items must necessarily be a very small market—he may not make two sales in a year. Then your commuters complain about the disadvantages of country stores. If Broker Doe and Lawyer Roe would always make a point of procuring their Hoods Sarsaparilla here, they would find no difficulty in obtaining imported cuviar when they wanted it, and at a moderate price.

Coming from the depot what changes we find. Here is a fine looking house going up. It is for Dr. Oliver, the new physician. He, for one, does not need to apply the proverb, "Physician heal thyself," for he takes in an unlimited supply of health and strength every day, on his tricycle. He is a tandem machine, and the Doctor may often be seen riding along on his wheel, with Mrs. Oliver in front. Just now, however, Mrs. Oliver is visiting in Pennsylvania. Mr. Paul A. Oliver is another member of the family, and he has his tricycle too. It is what is known to the cycling fraternity as a "two-track." That is, it has a large wheel on one side, and a large and a small one on the other. Mr. Oliver says that for country roads it is the best machine made, as the small wheel can run in the carriage rut and the other two in the middle of the road; whereas, if the machine made three tracks, the road would be too narrow for two of the wheels would seriously retard the tricycle's progress. These machines can be geared up to a power equal to or greater than a horse, and Mr. Paul and the Olivers' machines were in line at the recent tandem parade in Elizabeth. Bicycles are growing in favor out here. Mr. Nicoll rides one to the depot and back every day; so does Mr. Sayre. "Al" Calkins and Wm. Noble use this means of getting from home to the station, and it saves them lots of time.

Mr. Force lives on Martine avenue. He has some very fine fowls, including a few of the well known Rouen variety of ducks. Building operations are going on near Midway avenue. Mr. Frentz is the builder. A hint to the Central New Jersey Land Improvement Company. Why not line your streets with shade trees? If these streets and avenues of yours now treated of young trees, when that region is built up it would add 25 per cent. to the value of your property. The removal of the post office is one topic of conversation in Fanwood. It has both its advantages and disadvantages. Mr. Seliger has completed the additions to his house. He has made a decided improvement in the looks of the building. Across the road Mr. Jahn is going on with his new shop. Mr. Jahn is a plumber and roofer. We have needed an artisan in this line for a long time, and if he will refrain from exacting the traditionary plumber's charges, he may meet with success.

Thanks to Messrs. Shepard and Kyte, we are going to have good roads this Winter. If there is one man in this community that knows how to make roads, it is George Kyte. He is a regular Pon-Bah. He is assistant Road Master in the depot district, Justice of the Peace and Chosen Freeholder for the township, besides making roads from one end of the township to the other, running a stone crusher and looking after things in New York. Last, but not least, he is Treasurer and one of the Trustees of the Episcopal church. His fellow-trustees are R. B. Dykeman, Geo. Kyte, C. G. Dowsett, D. A. Sayre, Augustus Frentz and David P. Hall. The regular election was held last Sunday and all of the incumbents were re-elected.

Mrs. Julia Ward Howe passed Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. Hall. The little lady is getting stouter, Mr. Hall says, but is gone at last, without leaving so much as a trace behind. This is a long-needed improvement. That is a strange looking object, this little pump by the fire house near by. It is fixed on the end of a long pole projecting among the boughs. It is said that the larpus caught in Florida by Mr. Mann, which is to be exhibited at the Episcopal church sale on Thursday, is the largest ever caught in this vicinity. If you think that this is a "fish story," go and see for yourself; it will well repay a visit. I understand that the club house of the Fanwood Club is about completed. That is a handsome building they are putting up. The Club is growing rapidly. They tell me that two boys of this place have adopted as their call one of the circus man's popular cries. It is said that if anyone engaged with the circus sends up that cry, every circus man in the place is bound to come to the aid of his comrade, and to defend him. If necessary, to the death. On the other hand, if a circus man gives the call without sufficient reason, his friends may murder him in their rage. Under the circumstances, the boys had better be careful how they give the fatal cry.

Returning to the depot, the Squatteer ran plumb against station master Brown. His face was wreathed in smiles, as the face of one under the circumstances usually is; the little rascal is a fine child. I turned to congratulate the happy father, but he was lost in the crowd and to the sight of your

SUBURBAN SAUNTERER.

No More Circus There.

The extensive vacant property on Plainfield avenue, bounded by Fourth and Fifth streets, and just been purchased by Mr. Wm. Cortwright of this city, from Mrs. Eliza H. Wyckoff, of Hightstown, the property in that where in times past the traveling circus man has been wont to pitch his dusty tents. He will do so no more, however and henceforth, because the whole will be cut up into low-priced building lots and probably sold at once.

Middlesex Gun Club

Over thirty members attended the regular monthly meeting of the Middlesex Gun Club at Force's Hotel, Saturday evening last. President E. M. Robinson, Vice President S. G. Smith and Secretary G. W. Watson filled the respective positions. Three new members were elected and six names proposed. The Tournament Committee made their report, which was accepted. The report shows that after all bills are paid there is a snug balance left to the credit of the Club. The committee appointed at a previous meeting to purchase grounds reported progress. The Club has disposed of over 7,000 live birds since May 1st. An invitation was received from the Lincoln Gun Club to shoot a team race. Messrs. P. W. Quimby and S. G. Smith were appointed a Committee to confer with the Elected Club in the matter. There was considerable discussion over the following proposed amendment to the shooting rules, presented by Mr. F. R. Stevens:

That the rule relating to the case of the second barrel in live bird shooting be changed so that the second barrel will cause half bird."

The amendment was defeated by a vote of 29 to 1. The following amendment to the Constitution and By-Laws, presented by Mr. M. W. Mulford, was unanimously adopted:

That a member is six months in arrears for dues, the Secretary will notify him of same; when nine months in arrears, he will forfeit his privileges as a member until his dues are paid; when twelve months in arrears, his name shall be dropped from the rolls."

Hallowe'en Festivities.

[From The Daily Press of Tuesday.]

The's pond was full of garden gates, this evening, and many who have missed their's, are trying to sort them out.

Miss Alice and Mr. Jack Bartendale gave a party to their friends at their residence on West Fifth street, last night.

Miss Graham, of West Ninth street, with a number of invited friends, enjoyed an evening of pleasing festivities, at that lady's house, last night.

The C. E. Reading Club in their Union avenue alleys until two o'clock this morning, and danced in the spacious parlors of Mr. Seymour Hall's residence until almost midnight.

The "cooking class" of Miss Kenyon's Seminary served their own supper at Miss Corbin's residence, "Road Ending," last evening, followed by dancing in which were included a number of young gentlemen invited for the occasion.

Miss Whiting of East Sixth street, entertained the members of the Young People's Reading Circle of the First M. E. church, the Congregational church, at her home, last evening, from eight until midnight. Refreshments and a fine voice appropriate to the occasion, were its enjoyable features.

The Misses Lizzie and Annie Day of Dover street, North Plainfield, entertained a few of their friends at the Hallowe'en party, last evening. The festivities included ducking for apples, and considerable fun was had in the manipulation of the various articles of the participants. Some of the vocalists were costumed especially for the occasion and each was the recipient of loud and prolonged applause. The singers are now Mr. George Laible, a brand leading in North Plainfield, sang a solo entitled "The Letter" and danced the Scotch Fling, both number of which were admirably rendered. He was also loudly applauded. At the completion of the musical portion of the exercises, the floor was cleared, and for several hours dancing was freely indulged in. Prof. France furnishing the music. Most of the members of the Rarogerhand who took part in the exercises is built up it would add 25 per cent. to the value of your property. The removal of the post office is one topic of conversation in Fanwood. It has both its advantages and disadvantages. Mr. Seliger has completed the additions to his house. He has made a decided improvement in the looks of the building. Across the road Mr. Jahn is going on with his new shop. Mr. Jahn is a plumber and roofer. We have needed an artisan in this line for a long time, and if he will refrain from exacting the traditionary plumber's charges, he may meet with success.

Thanks to Messrs. Shepard and Kyte, we are going to have good roads this Winter. If there is one man in this community that knows how to make roads, it is George Kyte. He is a regular Pon-Bah. He is assistant Road Master in the depot district, Justice of the Peace and Chosen Freeholder for the township, besides making roads from one end of the township to the other, running a stone crusher and looking after things in New York. Last, but not least, he is Treasurer and one of the Trustees of the Episcopal church. His fellow-trustees are R. B. Dykeman, Geo. Kyte, C. G. Dowsett, D. A. Sayre, Augustus Frentz and David P. Hall. The regular election was held last Sunday and all of the incumbents were re-elected.

Mrs. Julia Ward Howe passed Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. Hall. The little lady is getting stouter, Mr. Hall says, but is gone at last, without leaving so much as a trace behind. This is a long-needed improvement. That is a strange looking object, this little pump by the fire house near by. It is fixed on the end of a long pole projecting among the boughs. It is said that the larpus caught in Florida by Mr. Mann, which is to be exhibited at the Episcopal church sale on Thursday, is the largest ever caught in this vicinity. If you think that this is a "fish story," go and see for yourself; it will well repay a visit. I understand that the club house of the Fanwood Club is about completed. That is a handsome building they are putting up. The Club is growing rapidly. They tell me that two boys of this place have adopted as their call one of the circus man's popular cries. It is said that if anyone engaged with the circus sends up that cry, every circus man in the place is bound to come to the aid of his comrade, and to defend him. If necessary, to the death. On the other hand, if a circus man gives the call without sufficient reason, his friends may murder him in their rage. Under the circumstances, the boys had better be careful how they give the fatal cry.

Returning to the depot, the Squatteer ran plumb against station master Brown. His face was wreathed in smiles, as the face of one under the circumstances usually is; the little rascal is a fine child. I turned to congratulate the happy father, but he was lost in the crowd and to the sight of your

SUBURBAN SAUNTERER.

More Sunday Conners Arrested.

Special detective Geo. Becker, of the New Jersey Game and Fish Protective Society, together with special Marshal Henry A. Sterling, of North Plainfield, also Charles Willis, also a member of the society, arrested three more Sunday hunters on Sunday. Two of them were arrested near Berkley Heights, and were each fined $25 and costs by Justice Dobbs of Long Hill. The men were their names as Ralph Bender and Louis Clark. The third man arrested was John Kultz, of Scotch Plains. He was fined $25 by Mayor Cooley of North Plainfield.

Whist at Fanwood.

Both Scotch Plains and Fanwood can boast of some crack whist players, and a good natured rivalry has long existed between them. On Friday evening the respective forces met at Mr. Bowser's to try their skill. Scotch Plains was represented by Mr. D. P. Hall, Dr. Oliver, Mr. Thomas J. Nicholl and Mr. John Miller, while Messrs. A. D. Sayre, Augustus Lyte, E. C. Kleb and George Bates did battle for the Fanwood hosts. Messrs. Kleb and Bates were matched against Hall and Oliver, leaving Mr. Bowser and his coadjutor Mr. Kyte to fight it out against Nicholl and Miller. The Fanwood champions won by 26 to 17 and 21 to 17 respectively. Other combins lons were tried but somehow Fanwood always managed to "get there," and in all won by 38 points. It must be mentioned, however, that the Scotch Plains champions were thrown together for the first time, and were therefore not familiar with one another's play. Other games will probably follow.

Mrs. Jackson Speaks.

There has been so much that is utterly ridiculous and inaccurate published in sensational papers, including even such journals as the Evening Post and the Evening Post, concerning an alleged spiriting away of the wife of firebug Jackson, he considers the customary duty of THE PRESS, again, to explain the matter and set the matter and the people right. Although it has been said that all the efforts of County and City officers to find Mrs. Jackson were futile, yet she has always been under the keen surveillance of THE PRESS reporters and we know for a fact she has no more left this county than of the way and has made no effort to hide herself.

Believing she might have something to say, and knowing the public would be interested in any statement from her lips, a PRESS reporter Monday called on her at her residence West Front street, and found Mrs. Jackson, who is a woman of kindly expression, and deserving by nature of a smoother life and a better husband, was willing to make a statement in regard to the rumors afloat as to her actions and whereabouts.

She had just returned from a visit she had received and accepted an invitation to before being subpœnaed, and was just preparing to move to other rooms. As she was an accused witness in the case of the charges that had been made—accusing her of stealing away and of desiring to avoid giving her testimony—the reporter suggested that she make a public statement of the facts, over her own signature. As she readily agreed to this, such statement appears, to accompany and by a copy of Mr. Hyndman's report, which will readily prove how impossible it is for her at present to appear in court, as a witness. The letter, to which Mrs. Jackson refers, and which she says she shall adhere to, was filed in the preliminary examination before Judge Ulrich in the City Court, Friday morning, Sept. 23. She was sworn and said:

I had a conversation with Horace Van Nest a few days back in the Carmon Block fire; I don't exactly remember date; it was at my house. Horace came in and said he would have to appear in court, but he could not fix it some way so as to stay until April 1st. He said he had been notified and would have to get out. He said he could not pay the rent because his blaze before he left." I said, "Get out, you're only blowing; you wouldn't dare to do anything like that." He says he "You'll see; it will be a damned fine shine to-night I hear," and he left. Fire was in the time.

The following statement will be of interest to the officers of the law as well as the general public:

MRS. JACKSON'S STATEMENT.

"I want first to file a public statement that appeared in a local sheet on Friday, referring to my being spirited away and accusing my sister, Mrs. Horace Van Nest, with being instrumental in getting me out of the way, so that my testimony could not be used at the trial of Horace Van Nest, who is charged jointly with my husband, with firing the Carmon Parse house. In reference to the accusation I want to say, I neither ran away or left town at the solicitation of any one. Having had an opportunity to visit my cousin, Mrs. Wm. Hawley, of No. 2296 Eighth avenue, N. Y., I decided to go, and left the depot in this city on Saturday Oct. 22d, on the 8.23 a. m. train for New York. Arriving at my cousin's, I was kindly received, and at her request I remained a week, returning home on Saturday last on the 5.15 p. m. train from New York. I also wish to state that I have received no money, neither have I been offered any to leave the State. I have received no subpœna to appear as a witness at the firebug trials, but as soon as my condition will permit I will willingly answer the summons, and testify as I did at the preliminary hearing in this city, adhering strictly to the assertions I made referring to the threats made by Horace Van Nest at my house previous to the Parse fire. To verify my statement that my condition will not allow of my appearance in Court, the following was given me by Dr. W. C. Boone:

PLAINFIELD, Oct. 19th, 1887.

This is to certify that Mrs. Estella M. Jackson is physically unable to attend Court by reason of a severe nervous prostration, and the near approach of her confinement. C. C. BOONE, M. D.

So far as my children are concerned, two of them are at their uncle's in Rahway, and the third is stopping with my brother-in-law, near Elizabeth, where they have been for the last two months. For the benefit of the authorities and all others interested in my whereabouts, I would say that today I will be back at my residence in the dwelling house in the rear of Mr. L. M. French's carriage factory on Somerset street.

MRS. JOHN M. JACKSON."

—"The Wife," a comedy drama, is the name of the new play with which Manager Daniel Frohman opens his first regular dramatic season at the Lyceum Theatre. The play has been written expressly for him by Messrs. Belasco and De Mille, and it will introduce to the public the very excellent company which Mr. Frohman has spent a year in collecting together; their names are enumerated in the advertisement in another column.

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING COLUMN.

When baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY.

Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy, a marvelous cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria, Canker Mouth and Headache. With each bottle there is an ingenious Inhaler, and all directions. Sold by druggists for 50 cents. Nasal Injector free. Price 50 cents. For sale by Dr. Force, Plainfield.

ASTHMA IN FIVE MINUTES.

Shiloh's Cure will relieve any case of Asthma in five minutes. It never fails to stop the most distressing attack in five minutes. Sold by druggists for 50 cents. Price 50 cents. For sale by Dr. Force, Plainfield.

SHILOH'S CONSUMPTION CURE.

This is the great remedy that is curing so many cases of Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Sold by druggists for 50 cents. Price 50 cents. For sale by Dr. Force, Plainfield.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure
This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER Co., No. 106 Wall Street, New York.—apr1y

DEMAREST'S
NEW STORE.
Choice Creamery Butter. The best in the city. Try it and be convinced. Mason's jars, with porcelain lined tops. Lighting Jars and Jelly Tumblers. Pure Spices, all kinds. Green Ginger Root, Mustard Seed, and Fruits of all kinds, in their season. All of which are sold at Bottom Prices.
P. M. DEMAREST,
27 PARK AVENUE

WHITNEY
OFFERS FOR 30 DAYS
HIS ENTIRE STOCK OF
DRY GOODS
AND CARPETS,
AT SPECIAL
LOW PRICES!
Previous to his Annual Removal.
Do not lose the opportunity of making selections now while the assortment is complete
Opposite Post Office.

Sebring Bros.,
Clothiers,
—AND—Cutters.
Assignee Otto H. Fricke has presented a detailed report of the firm's liabilities and assets. The former are $21,000, of which about $700, is unsecured. The actual assets are about $200,000 in stock and accounts, in addition to which the firm have valuable trade marks which they think, with the stock, will make up the deficiency. The firm made a proposition to pay in full with interest. The creditors unanimously accepted the proposition, and the firm will resume business today. Mr. Henry E. Bowne, of Rotherwood, is one of the members of the firm.
CLOTHS!
COCKLE'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS,
THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY!
For Sale by all Druggists. Dr. Cockle's P

OH, BOLD IS THE FROST.

Oh, bold is the frost that comes sapping and sapping
And pouring the woodland over,
Till the woods are almost in the soft summer hues
That hidden o'er the distant never;
And the tine, crispy air to the meadow so fair
Clings with the strength of a lover.

Oh, bold is the frost that comes tipping and tipping
The pines
His phials of grass over the trees,
Till the acorns fall down from the oak's lofty crown
At every storms of the breeze,
And the woodland perfumes and the grape's purple blooms
The world wearily seem suppress.

Oh, bold is the frost that comes sipping and sipping
The breath of the steamer away,
And it talks to the stride that the spring time gave life
In the tender sensibles of May;
And it frights the wild bee in the hollow old tree,
And his every heart with dismay.

Oh, bold is the frost that comes dipping and dipping
In the beds in each river and rill,
Till it stops their bright ripples and fretlessness wine
And locks their fine wavelets to still.
Then it trails its fierce hands o'er the moistened lands
And withers the valley and hill.

Oh, bold is the frost that comes grasping and grasping
With fingers so bitter and cold,
Its help issuing, and its breath like the frost is abroad
Who have neither labor nor gold,
For the rich at their stealth they garner their wealth
With grimness that can not be told.
—Edmund Clarence Stedman, in Chicago News.

A RUSSIAN MONASTERY.

An Hour or Two with the Monks of Alexander Nievsky.

Perhaps to want is more popular in Northern Russia than Alexander Nievsky. Certainly in St. Petersburg the Nievsky festival street is named for him, where stands the white-domed monastery and rises the golden domes of the cathedral made by Peter the Great, to be himself entombed there, and there is hardly a boy but can tell you the story of this prince, soldier and saint.

It was on the 15th of July, I remember with the noise of summer, where Rolla Norton, the artist, and myself, that my fine old friend and myself searched for the monastery of Alexander Nievsky. It stands at the head of one of the long, blazed streets in the world, but when one has entered the high wall and gone under the massive archway, past the old graveyard, so crowded that its tombs seem piled high, through a second entrance where heavy iron gate stands open for the passage of a long funeral procession, one feels far from the world and its strife, and in the midst of a scene of solemn grandeur surrounded by the everlasting hills. The first gate is triangular, two of the sides bounded by the cemetery, the shaded by trees, whose graceful branches meeting overhead yet only a little of the blue sky peep through. Here, in summer, the noise is great with the passing to and fro between the different buildings, always some of finding a cool and shady retreat from the oppressive sunlight of Russian summer. In front of the public, white structures which surround the cathedral, which with the cathedral and the four chapels and the towers, form a perfect square, are corridors, protected from the severer winter cold by glass windows, which serve as a protection when the heat does not make the pack attractive.

At the time I was there I was interested with the soft, sweet air, and enchanted by the harmonious tones of color, the delicate creamy yellow of the buildings, the pale gold of dome was reflected by the foreground of green and the cool, dark shadows of the first warm breaths of May. Summer is always the delight of people of the North that to us, frozen as they are, through half the of extremest cold, when the Queen of Seasons at last comes she receives a most hearty first reception from enthusiastic subjects.

The architecture of Russia is divided into two classes: The White and the Black Clergy, the latter the clergy of parish priests, assigned to the duties of the parochial correspondent to those of clergymen in our parishes, while the White clergy, who hold the places of power in the church, are celibates, and are the monastic clergy. There has been a very bitter feeling between the two, which, in very lately passing, has been much softened, and the White Clergy on the streets in a long, black, flowing robe, with a high, round hat, and with the utmost sanctity in the shape of a Turkish fez, but carries a covering more of the head. They wear their hair and beard long, in the old Muscovite way, and this gives them a very peculiar appearance, for that one is often startled by the fire in the face of a monk who has passed you in the walk of these seemingly almost aged men. We spent two months come out, one by one, from the different rooms, and we found them as they crossed the pure threshold of the long archway which leads from the cathedral door. There were ten few, and they soon passed out of sight. We went to certainly from the warm, sweet sunlight into the dim, vast, solemn church. As we entered we were struck with the silence, only by contrast with the still bright light out side, though the church was not dark. The huge silver supports of the vast dome hung heavy with the rich ornament and over here and there burned a perpetual lamp or candelabra, before the icons or sacred pictures.

As we walked around one of those heavy incense of the Greek Church, which always came in sight of the altar. Behind which, in the Holy of Holies, a few feet in front of it the monks stood in a group, and a reading-desk, before which an aged priest was reading in the evening service in a low, sweet voice. It was a strange, silent, weird picture. The dim light, the solemn faces of the gloomy figures of those who walk, the silver and gold of the altar screen in the front of the church, the sacred pictures, and over all there a majesty and deep meaning a darkness spot in the dark shadows of the vaulted roof, the groups of monks, half in light and half in shadow, the long, white beards, some whose face and silver-gray hair were illumined by the taper fastened by his side, from each of these groups a sweet chant, who surrounded him, and they were all, pictured by another cause, enclosed within the screen. We that has not heard so-grand in the Greek church can understand what it! Tenand so perfectly that they seem like one voice, sometimes tender and prayerful, again penitent and sorrowful, suddenly swelling into an ecstatic burst of joy, the glorious words are lost in the rapt music of sound and strong, until, as the sound fills the church, and resounds under the arches and the vaulting, a sense of awe fancies that the roof may not bear and Heaven it self appear, filled with a great host singing "Glory to God in the highest, peace on earth, good-will to men."

Tired after a day of summer heat, we sat down on the edge of a little square, raised perhaps a foot in the center of the nave, where the Te Deum is always sung, and listened to the high priest, with his attendants, who was

[illegible]

was in entirely from ourselves, so that we did not notice the approach of a figure which stole silently out from the shadow of one of the pillars. It was an old woman, with scathed my friend lightly on the shoulder and said, in a low voice, "Come with me, I pray you."

Who could resist such an admonition. We obeyed at once, and the old crone led us aloft off, no doubt well content that she had done her duty and had found at least a penance, if not in this world, surely in the next.

It was not long before the music ceased, and the monks, having kissed the Bible and the small cross held up and offered to each one separately by the priest, filed out of the church. We had only time to take a hurried glance at the building itself before the lights were extinguished, but my near the fine paintings, one of St. Isaac and one of St. Catherine, copies of the beautiful originals in St. Isaac's Cathedral. "The Girls of Pansalem," opening to the altar, though not as gorgeous as in some of the churches, are still beautiful, and the back of the altar was a shrine to some saint whose name I have forgotten. It was a small parti-tin whose silver and covered with gold, was spread by some priests, and hermitage of manchild and lupe-bread. In a corresponding place on the opposite side was the shrine of Saint Alexander, to whom the church was now entirely dark, except the light which came from tapers in the hands of a few peasants who were praying in the rear before the tomb. We made ourselves of the little company, remained for the most part, of young boys and very old women. One really woman whose head was quite white, knelt the churches came from. Their name is legion, and night or day they are always to be found there, apparently the most devoted of worshipers. Before us, a little raised from the pavement, on a platform covered with rich carpet, was the glass case which holds the solid silver sarcophagus, splendid with bas-reliefs. On the lid is a painting of the warrior-saint, his eyes looking at you with a look of the open which they age said to have had ages ago. He lived in the 13th century, contemporary, for the most time when the Tartars were invading the Russian Empire, and bringing death and ruin with them. What a contrast between the quiet resting place in this solemn church, and the fighting and strife in which he took a part, and did so much for his beloved church and country! It was a strange experience, standing in the dim light with the dead, for some of ages ago, and in our care.

The priest uttered several long prayers in monotone fervency, the old women knelt again and again, touching their foreheads to the ground and mumbling their prayers. Here also there was a constant coming and going of serious faces. What a curious thing it would be to know what Christianity means to the ignorant of ages ago, and what it means to these fellow-countrymen of his, worship-ping at the same shrine. We stayed on the edge of the raised platform and listened to the priests, who, as they passed the saint had died away among the arches, and then, following the others, left the shrine and and his gold and silver splendor in darkness.

RICH AND MISERABLE.

Death of an Eccentric and Mysterious New Jersey Hermit.

The death recently of Thomas Potter, of Shamong Township, Burlington County, N. J., furnishes the people of Medford and neighboring villages something further to wonder at and discuss, says the New York World. Potter was seventy years old, and was known in his neighborhood as "the Hermit of the Pines." For fifty years he had lived alone in the primitive little log cabin in which he died, and for a greater part of the time was known to be a miser. Hence little surprise was manifested by those who found in an old chest in his cabin bills and gold and silver coins to a large amount. When Potter, then a prepossessing youth of twenty, appeared in Shamong township and built a rude log cabin, he found a home in the little parish with his dogs and books, the people knowing that he possessed a good scholastic education and polished manners, and soon had many friends among his rural neighbors. Why he left these attractions and buried himself in that out-of-the-way place he never told, but little by little a story was woven for him, in which the true-born motive of disappointed love was made to fit his case, and he received an air of interest. Then it came to be whispered about that Potter was a miser. A country people fell away from him, and he absolutely himself more and more until he was almost forgotten. Surrounded by his dogs, his mind buried in his books, with which the cabin was plentifully supplied, days would sometimes pass without his stirring abroad.

The lonelier of a dog attracted some farmers to the little log hut, and there they found the hermit in the midst of his books, and the old man easily parted away a little bag of the same of old bank-notes whose issue has been discontinued. Potter declared he refused to have a name, saying. The name would not so much. But when the end came he raised himself on his elbow, motioned mysteriously toward the old chest and said he had left a will and named the miser's effects were taken in charge by the authorities. The daughter of Potter is said to be more money secreted about the old place.

An effort will be made to find his relatives in Philadelphia, from which city it is said he came to this section.

FROM YOUTH TO AGE.

The Horrible Fate of a Young and Once Beautiful Ohio Girl.

On the Brookville road, about six miles from the town of Piqua, O., lives a farmer named Max Harmon, who came from Pennsylvania about ten years ago. Harmon's family, says a Cleveland correspondent of the Plain Dealer, consisted of a wife and three children. The eldest, named Mary, is a young lady nineteen years of age, who has passed through some of the strangest and most painful experiences that ever fell to the lot of a human being. In short time she was a plump, rosy-cheeked girl of robust health and a sunny disposition. To-day she is a pitiable object, the victim of a horrible accident, she is, in all but years, a shrunken, decrepit old woman. The story of her strange misfortunes is as follows: Mary was engaged to be married to a man named Charles Emerson, who had designed the Harmons from Pennsylvania, and after a short courtship the two were married. The home with the family. About six weeks after the marriage Mary and her husband made some purchases and to see the goods. One of the young man's friends called in front of the store to light cigarettes at the time. Emerson proposed to take the match-bottle during the process of the machinery. It appears that a broken wire of the engine or shuttle had unperceived worked its way through her dress. While passing along the store-room she felt a sudden pain in the region of the ovaries, and her hand resting on an iron pillar she received a severe shock and fell insensible to the floor. In a few minutes she received sufficiently to be removed from the place, and was taken to her home. The physicians who were called were drawn and organized, but it was thought that that would be only temporary.

Medical aid was summoned. For four days the girl lay in bed in a paralyzed condition. On the fifth day she left her limbs, but immediately began to lose flesh rapidly. Soon she was the mere shell of her former self, and began falling out. Her face grew wrinkled. Miss Harmon was able to be about and attend to most of her household duties as usual, but in that time she had been transformed from a young and handsome girl into a feeble old woman. Her hair, which had been of a beautiful brown, was thin and lost and the skin on her face and body and neck and hands. She had been a sweet-tempered, affectionate girl, but is now peevish, irritable and selfish. The physicians say that the nerves were severed and permanently injured by the original nerves of the spine and the left side of the head and that the short circuit has greatly destroyed their vitality. Strong as reliable the girl's organization is greatly affected, but her heart is almost totally destroyed. Notwithstanding her condition the physicians claim that her chances for living for a considerable number of years are materially increased, although she can never recover from her prematurely aged condition. Her mother, who is a young woman, has turned white in a single night from fright, and her usual expressive countenance shows are not gone, but this is supposed to be the first case in medical history in which a person has been known to step from the bloom of vigorous youth into the decrepitude of old age within a week.

BUSTLES OF SMUGGLERS.

They Are Now the Popular Hiding-Place for Small Dutiable Articles.

Since the Treasury Department appointed women as inspectors of customs, more attempts at smuggling have been detected than ever before, says the New York World. The women have shown great zeal and application for the work, and the male inspectors, in order to make as good a record, have been compelled to display more activity than usual. The newest expedient for smuggling is the bustle. The bustle now required by fashion is a capacious structure of wire, and many travelers of the gentler sex who desire to bring articles into this country have availed themselves of filling their bustles with new-dutiable articles. One lady from Paris recently had her bustle worn becoming the height of the fashion. It seemed as if every time she came arriving from Europe her bustle found with dutiable goods, and he bustle found with dutiable goods, and he was always detained.

There was a large number of seizures made during the last year. It is believed that nearly every woman who goes to Europe brings back a merchandise pipe for a bustle. Frank Thompson, a passenger on the steamship Trave, Inspector Watson discovered two merchandise pipe bustle. Mrs. Frank Thompson, a passenger on the steamship Trave, declared he had no dutiable goods. Mrs. Thompson was met on the dock by a friend, and the latter was also found to be carrying a bustle pipe. Mrs. Frank Thompson's person and her belongings were made. From the folds of silk, thirteen yards of velvet, twenty yards of satin, fifty yards of lace, three silk shawls and a number of pairs of gloves. Some of the stuff was concealed in her bustle, and the rest in her dress. She wore some found two pieces of cambric and another piece was found secreted in the lining of her skirt. In the bustles and on the persons of the other passengers were arrested on the Rhineland from Antwerp, were found silks and velvets.

Mrs. Bullard, arrested on the steamer Trave, declared he had no dutiable goods. She was met on the dock by a friend, and the latter was also found to be carrying a bustle pipe. Mrs. Frank Thompson's person and her belongings were made. From the folds of silk, thirteen yards of velvet, twenty yards of satin, fifty yards of lace, three silk shawls and a number of pairs of gloves. Some of the stuff was concealed in her bustle, and the rest in her dress. She wore some found two pieces of cambric and another piece was found secreted in the lining of her skirt. In the bustles and on the persons of the other passengers were arrested on the Rhineland from Antwerp, were found silks and velvets.

Mrs. Bullard, arrested on the steamer Trave, declared he had no dutiable goods. She was met on the dock by a friend, and the latter was also found to be carrying a bustle pipe. Mrs. Frank Thompson's person and her belongings were made. From the folds of silk, thirteen yards of velvet, twenty yards of satin, fifty yards of lace, three silk shawls and a number of pairs of gloves. Some of the stuff was concealed in her bustle, and the rest in her dress. She wore some found two pieces of cambric and another piece was found secreted in the lining of her skirt. In the bustles and on the persons of the other passengers were arrested on the Rhineland from Antwerp, were found silks and velvets.

Central Railroad of New Jersey

Station in New York—Foot of Liberty Street.

Time Table in Effect October 11, 1887.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 1.37, 3.45, 7.25, 7.30, 7.50, 8.05, 8.40, 9.30, 10.37, 11.05, 11.45 a. m., 12.10, 12.30, 1.30, 2.30, 3.30, 4.30, 5.14, 5.30, 6.30, 7.30, 8.40, 9.30, 11.16 p. m. Sunday—3.37, 4.05, 5.37, 7.30, 8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 a. m., 12.30, 1.30, 2.30, 3.30, 4.30, 5.30, 7.30, 9.30, 11.16 p. m.

Leave New York from foot of Liberty Street, 1.05, 4.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.15, 11.00 a. m., 1.00, 1.30, 2.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 p. m., 12.00 night. Sunday—8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 a. m., 12.00, 1.00, 2.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 5.45, 8.25, 7.05, 7.50, 8.05, 8.40, 9.30, 10.37, 11.05, 11.45 a. m., 12.10, 12.30, 1.30, 2.30, 3.30, 4.30, 5.14, 5.30, 6.30, 7.30, 8.40, 9.30, 11.16 p. m. Sunday—8.37, 9.37, 10.37, 11.37 a. m., 12.37, 1.37, 2.37, 3.37, 4.37, 5.37, 6.37, 7.37, 8.37, 9.37, 10.37, 11.37 p. m.

Leave Somerville 6.05, 8.45, 7.25, 7.30, 7.50, 8.25, 8.40, 9.30, 10.37, 11.05, 11.45 a. m., 12.10, 12.30, 1.30, 2.30, 3.30, 4.30, 5.14, 5.30, 6.30, 7.30, 8.40, 9.30, 11.16 p. m. Sunday—8.00, 11.05, a. m., 1.00, 4.30, 7.00, 9.00, 11.16 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield 3.10, 8.30, 9.37, a. m., 12.05, 4.15, 7.05, p. m. Sunday—3.10, a. m., 7.05 p. m.

Leave Easton 6.55, 8.37, a. m., 12.05, 4.15, 7.05, p. m. Sunday—7.55, a. m., 7.05 p. m.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

LEAVE PLAINFIELD

5.10, a. m.—For Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, connecting at High Bridge for Schooley's Mountain, Budd's Lake, Hackettstown, Flemington, Easton.

7.14, a. m.—For Flemington.

8.30, a. m.—For High Bridge Branch, Schooley's Mountain, Lake Hopatcong, Easton, Mauch Chunk and Mauch Chunk.

9.37, a. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c.

12.05, p. m.—For Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, &c.

4.15, p. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Schooley's Mountain, Lake Hopatcong, Easton, Mauch Chunk and Mauch Chunk.

7.05, p. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, &c.

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c.

Leave Plainfield 3.37, 8.02, 11.08, a. m., 12.51, 4.15, 5.14, 7.05, p. m. Sunday—3.37, 11.08 a. m., 4.37, p. m.

For Perth Amboy—3.37, 5.45, 8.02, 11.08, 11.45 a. m., 12.51, 4.15, 5.14, 7.05, 9.37 p. m. Sunday—3.37, 11.08 a. m., 4.37 p. m.

For Matawan—3.37, 5.45, 8.02, 11.08, a. m., 12.51, 4.15, 5.14, 7.05, 9.37 p. m. Sunday—3.37, 11.08 a. m., 4.37 p. m.

BOUND BROOK ROUTE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia and Trenton, 1.20, 5.10, 8.24, 9.45, 11.44, a. m., 2.10, 3.09, 4.20, 5.40, 7.00, 11.25 p. m. Sunday—1.20, 5.10, 8.24, 9.45, 11.44, a. m., 2.10, 3.09, 4.20, 5.40, 7.00, 11.25 p. m.

Returning—Leave Philadelphia, Ninth and Green streets, 8.30*, 9.30, 11.00, a. m., 1.45, 3.45, 5.00, 7.00, 8.15, 11.30 p. m. Sunday—8.30*, a. m., 5.30, 12.00, p. m.

From Third and Green streets, 4.30*, 8.00, 10.30, a. m., 1.00, 3.30, 5.00, 6.00, p. m. Sunday—4.30*, a. m., 4.00, p. m.

Leave Trenton, Warren and Tucker streets, 1.30, 5.30, 9.30, 11.45, a. m., 2.30, 3.30, 4.30, 5.45, 7.30, 1.40, p. m. Sunday—1.30, 9.30, 6.40, a. m., 4.15, p. m.

Passengers by trains marked change cars at Bound Brook.

J. R. OLHAUSEN, Gen'l Sup't.

E. P. BALDWIN, Gen'l Pass. Agent.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY

CURES CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS, LUNG DISEASES

Quality and unvarying excellence. Prepared by Isaac Wistar's descendants. Beware of imitations. Get the genuine, which stamped "I. BUTTS & SON, Philadelphia." Sold by all Druggists.

HUMPHREYS'

DR. HUMPHREYS' BOOK

Cloth & Gold Binding

145 Pages, with Steel Engraving, Sent Free.

Address, P. O. Box 1519, N. Y.

1	Fevers, Congestion, Inflammations
2	Worms, Worm Fever, Worm Colic
3	Teething, Crying, Wakefulness
4	Diarrhea of Children or Adults
5	Dysentery, Griping, Bilious Colic
6	Cholera Morbus, Vomiting
7	Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis
8	Neuralgia, Toothache, Faceache
9	Headaches, Sick Headache, Vertigo
10	Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Torpid Liver
11	Suppressed or Painful Periods
12	Whites, Too Profuse Periods
13	Croup, Cough, Difficult Breathing
14	Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Eruptions
15	Rheumatism, Rheumatic Pains
16	Fever and Ague, Chills
17	Piles, Blind or Bleeding
18	Ophthalmy, Sore or Weak Eyes
19	Catarrh, Influenza, Cold in the Head
20	Whooping Cough, Violent Coughs
21	Kidney Disease
22	Nervous Debility
24	Urinary Weakness, Wetting Bed
27	Sore Throat, Quinsy, Ulceration

SPECIFICS.

Sold by Druggists, or sent postpaid on receipt of price. Manual mailed free. HUMPHREYS' MEDICINE CO., 109 Fulton St., N. Y.

CHAS. YAEGER,

Practical Upholsterer

35 WEST FRONT STREET,

OPPOSITE MUSIC HALL.

25 Years Experience in all Branches.

P. O. BOX 192. o8tf

PAXINE

CURES Nervous Debility, Fever and Ague, Malaria, Indigestion, Liver Complaint.

Trade Mark.

PAXINE is the result of the best efforts of eminent physicians and chemists. Its curative ingredients are recognized by the profession as the most powerful and effective in preparations for the cure for which it is recommended. It is safe, reliable, unfailing and harmless, and can be given to infants, according to the directions given on the bottle. Ask your druggist for it. Price, $1.00 per bottle. Prepared only by PAXINE MEDICINE CO., Chicago. Sold by druggists, or delivered free by express on receipt of price. Pamphlet free. Beware of imitations. Paxine is the only medicine of the kind in the market. Don't purchase any substitute for it, and refuse to take any other medicine if offered. Paxine is for sale by druggists everywhere.

A WONDERFUL OCCURRENCE.

L. T. Bell, Esq., of Mt. Warren Street, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "I was taken with a severe pain in the region of the kidneys, which grew worse for two years from my back to my limbs, and I was unable to walk. I was induced to try Paxine, and after using two bottles I was entirely relieved. I have since recommended it to many friends, and they have found it to be a most valuable remedy."

OWNS AND OPERATES OVER

6,000 Miles

OF PERFECTLY CONSTRUCTED RAILWAY.

PENETRATES THE BEST PORTIONS OF ILLINOIS, IOWA, WISCONSIN, MICHIGAN, MINNESOTA, DAKOTA, NEBRASKA, and WYOMING.

CHICAGO NORTHWESTERN RAILWAY

CHICAGO

MILWAUKEE, ST. PAUL, MINNEAPOLIS

COUNCIL BLUFFS, OMAHA.

THE ONLY LINE RUNNING DAILY BETWEEN THE FREE LANDS OF DAKOTA AND NORTHERN WYOMING.

THE ONLY LINE TO THE BLACK HILLS, THE PIONEER LAND OF CALIFORNIA.

For Maps, Folders, Time Cards, Rates, and all information, apply at any Coupon Ticket Office in the United States, Canada or Europe, or address

MARVIN HUGHITT, R. R. CABLE, E. P. ELLIS, Receiver, Traffic Manager, Gen'l Pass. Agt.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

READ WHAT

WATSON & CO.

HAVE TO SAY ABOUT CLOTHING!

Since our REMOVAL to our NEW BUILDING we have been busy preparing an entire NEW STOCK of THE BEST SHAPED AND FINEST FINISHED GARMENTS ever shown to our customers; and today we have an immense stock, ALL NEW, STYLISH, HANDSOME and VERY LOW in price. Never was such a stock of ELEGANT GARMENTS shown in the city, each a perfect copy of the most expensive custom-made work, and never before were such low prices named for garments of equal style and durability. It requires no expert to judge of the merits of our stock; for even the most inexperienced at a glance will see their IMPROVED DRESS APPEARANCE when they try them on. Think of the FINEST CASSIMERE PANTS, cut by special patterns, marked in plain figures, at $5, $5.50 and $6 a Pair. The new Cheviots and Shaded Striped Pants, now so popular in custom trade, selling for $3, $3.50 and $4, or our broken lots of FINE PANTS MARKED DOWN daily to close out quick at $2, 2.50 and $3.00 A PAIR. We are quoting prices that can only be made under LOW EXPENSES. We may not be clearing large profits; but we are selling goods, and that means pleasing our old customers and making new ones, simply by giving them BETTER GOODS than they ever saw, ALL READY TO PUT ON, and saving them all useless expenses like the cost of snows in windows, circus wagons, signs on fences, gifts, commissions, or discounts to favored customers or their friends. You can surely save from 20 to 25 per cent. on your FALL SUITS by coming direct to us. We are finishing daily full lines in all the New Cuts, complete for $10 and $12. The popular GOLD THREAD CHEVIOTS that merchants tailors are using, we get up very handsome, and sell at $13 and $15 for complete suits, and in Dress Suits, we have a complete department, stocked with the very latest garments, where you can select a suit for $15, $18 and $20, for which a merchant tailor would surely charge you twice as much and rarely give you such elegant garments. OUR NEW OVERCOAT SALESROOM, on second floor, is now open; and here you can find Montaignac Beavers, satin-lined, for $25; Elysians, all new shades, at $22; Kerseys, in solid and mixed colors, at $18 and $20; Diagonal Velours, (new this season) at $15 and $16, and All-wool Chesterfield Overcoats, lined with cassimere, in all the long cuts, at $10 and $12; besides a Hundred Stylish and durable designs, in all shades, at $7, $8 and $9. Remember, these garments are all cut single by special patterns drafted from actual measure taken in our custom department, kept on convenient racks, and handed to you, fresh from the hands of our tailors, the left from all creases, wrinkles, and or any of the usually objectionable ready-made look. The materials from which FINE CLOTHING is made were never as low as now, and as labor is only a trifle higher you should buy your clothing from 20 to 30 per cent. below the rates of former years; and this you can do if you save all Intermediate Profits and Useless Expenses and come direct to the makers for it. Before ordering your Winter Clothing you should try on our New Garments. They are Custom Made in every detail. No tailor uses Finer or Newer Fabrics, our Trimmings are the same, the BEST CUSTOM TAILORS WORK for us. Then how can the difference in the garments be told when worn from the most expensive work? Besides you can see just how the goods Look when Made Up and have no trouble in waiting. This is where we are pushing our "fine city trade," a REALLY HANDSOME, CORRECT CUT GARMENT, FINISHED, WITH ALL CUSTOM EXTRAS, ALL READY TO PUT ON. It is a fact well known to the public, and not disputed in the trade, that our garments are extensively copied, but NEVER REPRODUCED as we set them out. TRY THEM and none of the ordinary styles will look right to you.

GEORGE WATSON & CO.,

MAKERS OF PERFECT-FITTING CLOTHING,

795 BROAD STREET,

Four Doors Below Market Street, Newark, N. J.

A. M. Vanderbeck & Co.,

This year will sell

GUNS AND GUNNERS' SUPPLIES, CHEAPER THAN EVER BEFORE. BOTH BREECH AND MUZZLE - LOADERS.

Also Rifles, Pistols, Ammunition, Gun Materials, &c.

MUSIC AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, MUSIC STANDS, CORNETS, BANJOS, VIOLINS,

Everything in the Musical Line.

No. 33 Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

New Store! New Goods! New Firm!

BARKALEW & DUNN,

Fancy and Staple Grocers,

NO. 18 NORTH AVENUE.

We sell for Cash and will give Special Inducements.

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE.—The Books of the Overseer of the Poor will be open from the 1st of October to the 1st of November, for the purpose of making out the list of persons entitled to vote for Freeholders.

S. HARLEY BODINE, O. P.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the accounts of the subscribers, executors of Joseph E. Conger, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans Court of the county of Union on Wednesday, the ninth day of November next.

HARRIET CONGER,
CHARLES E. CONGER,
JOHN E. VANDERBILT.

Dated August 30th, 1887. Sept 2-6

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors

Union County Surrogate's Office,
Elizabeth, N. J., Sept. 14, 1887.

Jacob Long, the Executor of Rachel Garrett, deceased.

On application of the above-named Executor it is ordered that said Executor give public notice to the creditors of the said deceased to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the estate of the said deceased, under oath, within nine months from the date hereof, and that he cause this order to be published once a week for three successive weeks within twenty days hereafter, in five of the most public newspapers circulated in this county, and also once a week for six weeks within twenty days hereafter, in the most public newspaper published in the county of Union, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in Ten Conspicuous places in the same space of time; and if any creditor shall neglect to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim within the said period of nine months, he shall be forever barred of the same, or any action thereupon against the said Executor.

Dated, Sept. 20th, 1887. 6w

JAS. J. GERBER, Surrogate.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors

Union County, Surrogate's Office,
Elizabeth, N. J., Sept. 14, 1887.

Benjamin A. Shoobert, Thomas B. Hewitt, Horace F. Clemmons, George D. Lee, Wilson H. Wilkins, Emma Lee et Joseph J. Bentley, deceased.

On application of the above-named Executors it is ordered that said Executors give public notice to the creditors of the estate of said deceased to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from the date hereof, and that they cause this order to be published once a week for three successive weeks within twenty days hereafter, in five of the most public newspapers circulated in this county, and also once a week for six weeks within twenty days hereafter, in the most public newspaper published in the county of Union, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in Ten Conspicuous places in the same space of time; and if any creditor shall neglect to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim within the said period of nine months, he shall be forever barred of the same, or any action thereupon against the said Executors.

JAS. J. GERBER, Surrogate.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.—TO DANIEL J. A. Runyon; Mary E. Yaukie, Josephine M. Bonnell, Charles Bonnell, Jr., and Frederick Everett.

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the 19th day of September, in a cause wherein Charles H. Hand is complainant, and you and others are defendants, you are required to appear, plead, answer or demur to the bill of said complainant, filed before the twenty-fifth day of November next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to have certain lands in the City of Plainfield and Township of Fanwood, Union County, New Jersey, said land described subject to a judgment obtained by Robert Bodine, Sheriff of Union County, in the Supreme Court of New Jersey, in favor of said complainant, and recovered by said complainant against you, the said defendants, on the 20th day of November, A. D. 1886, which judgment was docketed in the Clerk's office of Union County, in the year 1886, and which judgment was duly assigned and known by the numbers twenty-nine (29), thirty-three (33), thirty-four (34), thirty-two (32), thirty-three (33), thirty-four (34), thirty-five (35), thirty-six (36), thirty-seven (37), thirty-eight (38), thirty-nine (39), forty (40), forty-one (41), forty-two (42), forty-three (43), forty-four (44), forty-five (45), forty-six (46), forty-seven (47), forty-eight (48), forty-nine (49), fifty (50), fifty-one (51), fifty-two (52), fifty-three (53), fifty-four (54), fifty-five (55), fifty-six (56), fifty-seven (57), fifty-eight (58), fifty-nine (59), sixty (60), sixty-one (61), sixty-two (62), sixty-three (63), sixty-four (64), sixty-five (65), sixty-six (66), sixty-seven (67), sixty-eight (68), sixty-nine (69), seventy (70), seventy-one (71), seventy-two (72), seventy-three (73), seventy-four (74), seventy-five (75), seventy-six (76), seventy-seven (77), seventy-eight (78), seventy-nine (79), eighty (80), eighty-one (81), eighty-two (82), eighty-three (83), eighty-four (84), eighty-five (85), eighty-six (86), eighty-seven (87), eighty-eight (88), eighty-nine (89), ninety (90), ninety-one (91), ninety-two (92), ninety-three (93), ninety-four (94), ninety-five (95), ninety-six (96), ninety-seven (97), ninety-eight (98), ninety-nine (99), one hundred (100), one hundred and one (101), one hundred and two (102), one hundred and three (103), one hundred and four (104), one hundred and five (105), one hundred and six (106), one hundred and seven (107), one hundred and eight (108), one hundred and nine (109), one hundred and ten (110), one hundred and eleven (111), one hundred and twelve (112), one hundred and thirteen (113), one hundred and fourteen (114), one hundred and fifteen (115), one hundred and sixteen (116), one hundred and seventeen (117), one hundred and eighteen (118), one hundred and nineteen (119), one hundred and twenty (120), one hundred and twenty-one (121), one hundred and twenty-two (122), one hundred and twenty-three (123), one hundred and twenty-four (124), one hundred and twenty-five (125), one hundred and twenty-six (126), one hundred and twenty-seven (127), one hundred and twenty-eight (128), one hundred and twenty-nine (129), one hundred and thirty (130), one hundred and thirty-one (131), one hundred and thirty-two (132), one hundred and thirty-three (133), one hundred and thirty-four (134), one hundred and thirty-five (135), one hundred and thirty-six (136), one hundred and thirty-seven (137), one hundred and thirty-eight (138), one hundred and thirty-nine (139), one hundred and forty (140), one hundred and forty-one (141), one hundred and forty-two (142), one hundred and forty-three (143), one hundred and forty-four (144), one hundred and forty-five (145), one hundred and forty-six (146), one hundred and forty-seven (147), one hundred and forty-eight (148), one hundred and forty-nine (149), one hundred and fifty (150), one hundred and fifty-one (151), one hundred and fifty-two (152), one hundred and fifty-three (153), one hundred and fifty-four (154), one hundred and fifty-five (155), one hundred and fifty-six (156), one hundred and fifty-seven (157), one hundred and fifty-eight (158), one hundred and fifty-nine (159), one hundred and sixty (160), one hundred and sixty-one (161), one hundred and sixty-two (162), one hundred and sixty-three (163), one hundred and sixty-four (164), one hundred and sixty-five (165), one hundred and sixty-six (166), one hundred and sixty-seven (167), one hundred and sixty-eight (168), one hundred and sixty-nine (169), one hundred and seventy (170), one hundred and seventy-one (171), one hundred and seventy-two (172), one hundred and seventy-three (173), one hundred and seventy-four (174), one hundred and seventy-five (175), one hundred and seventy-six (176), one hundred and seventy-seven (177), one hundred and seventy-eight (178), one hundred and seventy-nine (179), one hundred and eighty (180), one hundred and eighty-one (181), one hundred and eighty-two (182), one hundred and eighty-three (183), one hundred and eighty-four (184), one hundred and eighty-five (185), one hundred and eighty-six (186), one hundred and eighty-seven (187), one hundred and eighty-eight (188), one hundred and eighty-nine (189), one hundred and ninety (190), one hundred and ninety-one (191), one hundred and ninety-two (192), one hundred and ninety-three (193), one hundred and ninety-four (194), one hundred and ninety-five (195), one hundred and ninety-six (196), one hundred and ninety-seven (197), one hundred and ninety-eight (198), one hundred and ninety-nine (199), one hundred and two hundred (200).

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

J.P. LAIRE & CO.

AHEAD!

The Largest Stock

—OF—

STOVES, RANGES,

HEATERS and REPAIRS,

GENERAL HARDWARE,

House - Furnishings,

STOVE BOARDS,

STOVE RUGS AND COAL HODS.

Blankets and Robes.

Lower than the Lowest.

P. H. BENNETT,

DEALER IN

BUTTER,

EGGS AND PRODUCE.

MEATS OF ALL KINDS.

Fruits & Vegetables

IN THEIR SEASON.

42 Park avenue, Plainfield N. J.

Goods Delivered to any part of the City. 44tf

The Present Want

of a great many at this season is School Books and School Supplies, of which

ALLEN,

THE STATIONER,

has a full and complete assortment at the lowest prices.

Second-Hand Books

used in the Plainfield Schools, taken in exchange and for sale.

TAXES.

Notice is hereby given to the Tax Payers of the City of Plainfield that the Tax Duplicate in said City for the year 1887, are now due and payable, and that

If the said Taxes be not paid by the 20th Day of December next,

The names of the defaulters, with their respective Taxes, will be returned to the City Council for prosecution.

The Commissioners of Appeal in cases of Taxation in said for said City will meet at the Common Council Chamber on Tuesday, the third day of November next, and all from Tax Payers, to hear complaints in relation to Taxes.

JOHN JOHNSON, Collector of Taxes.

Dated Plainfield, Oct. 1st, 1887. Oct.1tdd

MISCEL

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY,
Published by
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY,
AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XX. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1887. No. 45.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its limitations as in its authorities."—MADISON.

Rates of Advertising.

Space	1 WEEK	2	3	1 MONTH	2	3	6	12
1 in.	$1.00	$1.50	$2.00	$3.00	$4.00	$5.00	$8.00	$15.00
2 in.	1.50	2.00	2.50	4.00	5.00	6.00	10.00	20.00
3 in.	2.00	2.50	3.00	5.00	6.00	7.00	12.00	25.00
4 in.	2.50	3.00	3.50	6.00	7.00	8.00	14.00	30.00
5 in.	3.00	3.50	4.00	7.00	8.00	9.00	16.00	35.00
6 in.	3.50	4.00	4.50	8.00	9.00	10.00	18.00	40.00
7 in.	4.00	4.50	5.00	9.00	10.00	11.00	20.00	45.00
8 in.	4.50	5.00	5.50	10.00	11.00	12.00	22.00	50.00
9 in.	5.00	5.50	6.00	11.00	12.00	13.00	24.00	55.00
10 in.	5.50	6.00	6.50	12.00	13.00	14.00	26.00	60.00
11 in.	6.00	6.50	7.00	13.00	14.00	15.00	28.00	65.00
12 in.	6.50	7.00	7.50	14.00	15.00	16.00	30.00	70.00

All Electric's must be sold until.

"Little of Everything" column, 5 cts. per line.

Double cols. 50 per ct. advance of above rates.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

O. L. JENKINS, M. D.,
Homeopathist,
successor to Dr. Smith, 56 East Front Street, Plainfield, N. J. Office Hours—7 to 9 a. m., 1 to 3 p. m., and 7 to 8 p. m. 1y

JACKSON & CODINGTON,
Counsellors-at-Law,
Commissioners of Deeds, Masters-in-Chancery, Notaries Public, Offices corner of Park avenue and Second street. 1y

GEORGE W. DAY,
General Auctioneer,
Sale of Personal Property solicited. P. O. Box 1047. Orders may be left at Store on Corner Second and Park Avenue. Terms reasonable.

DR. CHARLES H. TRUAX,
Dentist,
20 West Front street, over Metal Association office. Nitrous oxide for administering gas, without pain. Office hours 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. 1y

H. HAND,
Auctioneer,
P. O. Address, Lock Box 70. Stock Farm, N. J. Orders left at Messrs. Hand & Nephew's, 20 West Front street, Plainfield, N. J., will receive prompt attention. 1y

OSMAN S. TEALE,
Architect,
242 Broadway, New York city, Rooms 22 and 23, (Lindenmeyer Building.) Plainfield, 7 East Second street, Plainfield, N. J. 1y

WM. E. MORRIS,
Attorney-at-Law,
MASTER IN CHANCERY, NOTARY PUBLIC.
Commissioner of Deeds. Office, North avenue opposite depot.—1y

J. H. PENSTER,
Veterinary Surgeon.
Office in A. M. Seguine's livery stable, corner Main street and Madison avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Day and night calls promptly attended to. Residence, east end No. 76, immediately in rear of Congregational church. Residence, 72 East Fifth street.—1y

ARTHUR F. MILLER,
Attorney-at-Law,
Successor to the late W. H. Marsh. Solicitor in chancery, Notary Public. Will buy and sell real estate, collect rents and take charge of property. Office over First National Bank.—1y

F. A. DUNHAM,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor.
No. 7 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Particular attention given to the improvement of disposal of sewerage matter. Plans sent to all parts of the country.—1y

DR. J. F. GRIFFEN,
Electric Baths.
Dr. Griffen treats all diseases successfully. Electric magnetism, Medicated Vapor, Sulphur, Galvanic, Electro-magnetic, Turkish and Russian Baths. Consultation free. Electric and Medicated Baths. Consultation free. Office, 128 Fourth street, Plainfield, N. J. 1y

BUSINESS CARDS.

ROBERT JAHN,
TIN AND COPPER-SMITH,
Scotch Plains,
(Fairwood) N. J. Roofing, Water and Heater work. Pumps, Tinwork, and all kinds of sheet iron work done to order. Work guaranteed. Terms and Workmanship Right. Repairing promptly attended to. 1y

TO THE PUBLIC !

We wish to inform our customers and the public generally that we have on hand the best quality of

LEHIGH COAL,

Fresh from the Mines.

It is under cover and was protected from the weather. We are prepared to deliver it well screened and in good order promptly. We are also prepared to furnish all kinds of seasoned Lumber and Mason Materials at short notice.

A. D. COOK & BRO.
1m19

J. Hervey Doane,
9 PARK AVENUE.
[Formerly Clarke's.]

Watches,
Clocks
And Jewelry,
Repairing neatly and promptly done.
1y

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, VEGETABLES, GRAIN, DRIED FRUIT, ETC.
CORNER EMILY AND DUER STREETS
North Plainfield, New Jersey.

Celebrated Pilsbury Flour,
THE BEST IN THE MARKET.
ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED.
Translate for past patronage I solicit a continuance Respectfully,
WILLIAM H. SHOTWELL.

BOSTON CLOTHING HOUSE.

142 W. FRONT ST.

Reliable Goods at Low Prices.

Correct Styles. Right Prices

Geo. A. Moore,
(Of the late firm of Moore Bros.)
Is now the sole proprietor of the old established market at
No. 14 NORTH AVENUE,
Where he will continue to supply patrons with the finest grades of Fresh and Salt meats, Poultry of all kinds, Oysters, Clams, Game in season, and the largest market privileges. Anything not usually kept in stock furnished on short notice. 6m6-tf

Edward Ramonetti,
OYSTER AND ICE CREAM SALOON.

OYSTERS BY THE QUART, 100 OR 1000.

CHARLOTTE RUSSE MADE TO ORDER.

All Orders Promptly Attended to.

24 NORTH AVENUE,
Plainfield, N. J. Telephone Call, 69.
1y19

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

Force's Hotel !
NORTH AVENUE
Near R. R. Depot, Plainfield, New Jersey.
JAMES H. FORCE, Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY HOTEL.
Transient guests taken at reasonable rates.

Bottled Liquors a Specialty.

Laing's Hotel !
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
J. B. MILLER & BRO., - Proprietors.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.

James Conneely
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a first-class
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 32 PARK AVE.,
Where he will be pleased to furnish his friends and customers with the choicest brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors. 83tf

TURF EXCHANGE HOTEL.
72 Courtlandt street,
CORNER WASHINGTON, NEW YORK CITY
FRED. W. BALLARD, - - Proprietor.
(Formerly of Jersey City), is now conducting the business corner Washington and Courtlandt streets, where he will be pleased to see his friends from Jersey City and Plainfield. Free bus to and from Pavonia Ferry. Accommodations for 200 guests. Rates $1 per day. 1y

SOMERSET HOTEL,
Cor. Somerset & Emily Sts., North Plainfield, N. J.
Permanent and Transient Board, at fair rates.
First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all reasonable hours. 52ly

C. E. JOHNSON,
(Late from City of England, Johnson & Groom,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
Office adjoining City Hotel on Second street, near Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey. Residence, 11 East Second street. Jobbing solicited. 1y

T. J. CILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
SALESROOM—Madison Avenue, cor. Front St., Plainfield, N. J.
Goods received on consignment.

MRS. E. J. MARTIN'S
MAGIC RENOVATING FLUID.
For cleaning and restoring any kind of goods, with out changing the color, or leaving a spot. Will clean a coat or vest, cravat, scarf, ruffle, ribbon, kid gloves, gents' clothing. Leaves the nap soft and glossy. Will not injure the finest silk or carpets. No. 1 Price 25 cents per bottle. Sold at all the principal stores in Plainfield, N. J. Depot for sale at Mrs. E. J. Martin's Residence, 21 East Front street, or at Mrs. W. H. Martin's Confectionery, 20 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. 1y

JOHN JOHNSTON,
DEALER IN
COAL !
YARD AND OFFICE, SOUTH AVENUE, BETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
The best quality of screened coal at the lowest market price cash. Address all orders at Yard or send word over the telephone.—1y

Park Avenue Bakery !
JOHN WALKER, Prop'r
FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the Oil Bread.

VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS,
And all Varieties of
Pies, Cake and Confectionery.

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.
THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS, BEST IN THE WORLD.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE.

MICHAEL UHDAL,
CONTRACTOR
AND LANDSCAPE GARDENER !
Residence !
NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
P. O. BOX 787, PLAINFIELD.

P. O. Box 7, Netherwood, N. J.

HEADQUARTERS
FOR
Boots, Shoes and Rubbers
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION. OUR STOCK
IS COMPLETE, AND OUR
Prices the Lowest !
Doane & Van Arsdale
(NEXT TO EDDY'S.)
22 WEST FRONT STREET.

SANITARY PLUMBING.
Brick and Portable Furnaces,
GAS FITTING.
TIN ROOFING,
Etc. Etc.
I am prepared to do any of the above branches in strictly first-class sanitary and workmanlike manner.
Having associated myself with the Plainfield Association of Sewer Tax Payers, I can give any sewer tax payer reasonable rates on the same. Shop on rear of No. 18 North avenue, and in the basement at all times, and in the evening.
D. W. LITTELL,
No. 8 NORTH AVE. opp'te Plainfield, N. J.

EDUCATIONAL.

RODMAN SEMINARY,
26 E 5th Street. Will Re-open
SEPT. 15.
For circulars Address,
MRS. R. C. DINGEE, Principal.
sept

MR. LEAL'S SCHOOL
WILL RE-OPEN
Monday, Sept. 19, 1887.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

DODWORTH'S
Class for Dancing & Deportment
—AT—
Seminary Hall, Plainfield, N. J.,
Wednesdays from 3:30 to 5:30 P. M.,
Commencing Oct. 26th, 1887.
THEO. J. DODWORTH.
October 7th, 1887.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST,
Residence—Harmony Street, North Plainfield, fourth house from Somerset street, left hand side. Information in parties as regards present and future events, likewise marriages, journeys, law suits, etc. Satisfaction guaranteed the consumer.
In English, German and French.
My husband is a first-class Cooper, and repairs tubs, pails, barrels, etc., cheap for cash.

Plainfield District Telegraph
and Fire Alarm Co.
Prompt Messenger Service Furnished.
Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph Co.
LOW RATES. QUICK SERVICE. MONEY TRANSFERRED BY TELEGRAPH. COMMUNICATION FURNISHED FOR SALE.
OFFICE—PARK AVENUE.
W. S. SLITER, Manager.

STEAM HEATING,
FOR
CHURCHES, SCHOOLS, and DWELLINGS.
J. N. SCHENCK,
Plainfield, N. J.
P. O. Box 1051.—sp'y

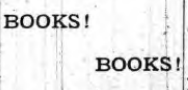
JAMES K. ARNOLD,
GROCER,
Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts., North Plainfield.

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.,
TO HIRE. CHARGES REASONABLE.
Hugo Weigman,
18 EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
special attention paid to Banking Houses by the day, week or month. All kinds of Tarpaulins made to order at short notice. Telephone Call, No 120

CAREY'S
Furniture and Freight Express !
OFFICE, No. 46 WEST FRONT STREET.
Hourly opposite Laing's Hotel, Plainfield, N. J.
Having leased the above premises I am prepared to buy and sell second-hand Furniture. Chests stored, etc. I will also receive Freight for transportation. Furniture etc. stored. P. O. Box 490.—1m11

Fleming & Angleman,
BUTCHERS,
Fresh, Salt and Smoked Meats,
Poultry, Fish, Vegetables, etc.
ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED.
No. 24 North avenue.
[Near the Depot.]
S. A. FLEMING. sept J. F. ANGLEMAN.

DOOR NUMBERS,
DOOR BELLS,
DOOR PLATES,
AT
DICKINSON & CLAWSON'S,
13 PARK AVENUE.
Sole Agents for



Dr. King's Spectacles.
1y1sept

BOOKS!
A Large Line of BOOKS!
Carriage Teams, Road, Draft, Speed, Saddle and General Business Horses.
All horses guaranteed as represented.
COME and SEE THEM.
A. W. RAND,
24 W. FRONT ST.

MISCELLANEOUS.

P. P. Van Arsdale,
PIANO TUNER.
Instruments put in thorough order. Terms reasonable. Pianos and organs for sale and to let. Organs by parlor, P. O. Box 116 or at residence 1 Madison Place. Orders will receive prompt attention. Residence, 21 East Front street. Post office Box 116. 1y1sept

A. TITSWORTH,
Merchant Tailor,
Has removed his place of business to
No. 26 North ave.,
(Store formerly occupied by Chester Mellor), ALSO OFFICE OF CITY TREASURER.—ofice

JOHN CHANDLER,
JASPERITE and GILDER.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Residence and Shop No. 36 East 3d St.
Jobbing promptly attended to. 1y19

Alex. Willett,
DEALER IN
BOOTS & SHOES,
No. 3 PARK AVENUE.
A full assortment of fashionable goods direct from manufacturers STYLISH FIGURES

G. W. FORCE.
11 West Front street.
OPENING OF FALL AND WINTER STOCK
Boots and Shoes at Low Prices
A FINE GRADE OF GOODS TO SELECT FROM
11 West Front street.
G. W. FORCE.
1y1sept

J. T. ODAM,
PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL
Slate Roofer and Repairer.
Residence, Corner Fourth and Spruce-ups Streets, Yard near Freight House. P. O. Box 1056, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
All work Warranted for one year. Shingling over Shingles. Also, Felt and Gravel Roofing. 1y

Steam Marble
Granite Works.
AND
Monuments & Headstones,
Fencing for Cemetery Plots,
Large assortment of Slate Mantels.
A large variety of Granite Monuments
All work executed in the most skillful manner and at very reasonable prices. All orders faithfully carried out. Telephone Call, No. 1. 1y
E. MASSING.

FRED'K. SCHENCK M.E.Ch., PLAINFIELD, N.J. Consulting and Operating Engineer. Steam Heating a specialty. Correspondence invited. Office, 18 East Front street. 1y

GEO. D. MORRISON,
NORTH AVENUE.
Has opened a store for the sale of
FLOUR, FEED, HAY,
Oats, Straw, Bran, Etc.,
And hopes by prompt ness and fair dealing to merit a share of the public patronage.

SANDERSON'S
XXXX
BEST FLOUR.
FROM MINNESOTA WHEAT. A SPECIALTY. CALL AND SEE WHAT YOU GET.
1y19

LIVERY.

RICHARD H. DAY'S
City Livery Stable!
OPPOSITE DEPOT, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Special attention paid to Boarding Horses by the day, week or month. All kinds of Teams for hire at short notice. Telephone Call, No 120
1y11

ALBERT HEDDEN,
Livery and Boarding Stables
FOURTH STREET,
Between Penn street and Park avenue, Plainfield. Pleasure or shopping calls promptly attended to. Horses boarded by the day, week or month. Telephone Call No. 154.

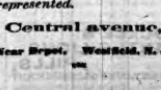
Livery Stables !
Mr. D. S. ROBERTS
Has Removed to His New Building on
NORTH AVENUE,
Adjoining Potter's Hotel. Mr. Roberts will always be found ready and able to accommodate the public in first-class turnout for either pleasure or business. All kinds of Teams for hire. Boarding and care of horses a specialty. 1y19

A. M. SEGUINE,
(Successor to John W. Laing.)
Laing's Hotel Stables

Front street, opposite Madison avenue.
Coaches for Weddings, Funerals and Private Calls. Light carriages of all descriptions for country.

RIDING OR LIVERY.
Careful, safe drivers for shopping calls or stone-top horses by the day, week or month.—1y
TELEPHONE CALL, NO. 99.

ESTABLISHED 1866.
Westfield Horse Market.



DEALERS IN
Carriage Teams, Road, Draft, Speed, Saddle and General Business Horses.
All horses guaranteed as represented.
Central avenue,
Near Depot, Westfield, N. J.

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPPLIES

Paints, Varnishes, Glass,
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALL PAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.
1y12

Weaver Bros.
House & Sign Painting, Graining,
Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a specialty.
Office and Shop in the rear of
No. 18 EAST FRONT STREET.
D. WEAVER P. O. Box 331. P. WEAVER.

W. N. ROWE,
PAINTER AND DECORATOR,
Dealer in Paints, Oil, Varnishes, Glass, Brushes, etc., at No. 7 PARK AVENUE, Plainfield, N. J. Some but strictly first-class workmen employed, and satisfaction guaranteed. P. O. Box 1, PLAINFIELD. Residence, 10 East Second street.) Promptness, and low rates. 1y

L. S. WORMSTON, J. F. BOEKER
Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS,
Wall Papers,
PAINTERS' SUPPLIES. 28 NORTH AVENUE
1y12

MILLINERY.

Mrs. J. M. Dunn,
FASHIONABLE MILLINER,
LATEST SHAPES OF
BONNETS AND HATS.
FRENCH IMPORTED FLOWERS.
Feathers, Velvets, Plushes, Satines, Laces, etc. Also, Fancy Goods and Notions; Dressed and Infants' Caps a specialty.
PINKING, BLEACHING & PRESSING
Feathers Dyed. Cleaned and Curled
AT SHORT NOTICE.
14 West Front street.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana.
CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars. Cigarettes always on hand.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety.
1y1sept

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMEST
—SEGARS!!—
No. 18 PARK AVE. (NEXT DOOR BUT SECOND ST.)
Tobacco and Smoker's Materials.
Of every description.
"Incomparable Vanity Fair" Smoking Tobacco, with other noted brands—constantly on hand.
1y1sept

--PICTURE FRAMES--
OF ALL KINDS, AT
S. E. FLOWER'S.
At New York Prices. Studio in West Front street. Skimmers for drawing and oil painting. sp'ly

A. I. SMALLEY, D. B. SMALLEY.
Smalley Bros.
DEALERS IN
Fresh and Salt Meats, Poultry, Etc.
No. 10 SOMERSET STREET, P. O. BOX PLAINFIELD.
Orders called for and delivered. A share of the public patronage solicited.—1y12

Benj. F. Moore,
(Late of Moore Bros.)
BUTCHER,
And dealer in FRESH AND SALT MEATS, POULTRY, FISH, VEGETABLES, ETC.
Orders left at my residence, 20 East Second street, or at my market, 16 North avenue, will receive prompt attention. Orders called for and promptly delivered. Telephone Call 111.—1y12

MAYNARD & HILL,
PRACTICAL BARBERS
AND
Artistic Hair Dressers,
No. 26 PARK AVENUE,
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residence during Shampooing, &c., satisfactorily performed. 1y11

Every Visual Defect Corrected.
WM. H. EINHAUS, Optician,
43 NASSAU ST., NEAR LIBERTY,
(5 Minutes Walk from Cortlandt Street Ferry.)
NEW YORK.
My improved system of fitting glasses by very careful measurement, after thoroughly testing the eyesight (without Ophthalmoscope, given the most perfect satisfaction. All kinds of Spectacles and Eye-glasses carefully fitted. Difficulty in getting suitable glasses will find it to their advantage to give me a trial. Make no charge for trying the sight and would be pleased to have one of these glasses sent to any one who may call.

THE BEST
BRAZILIAN PEBBLES.
In Fine Steel Frames, $2.50.
ESTABLISHED 1867.

Carney Bros.,
PRACTICAL
Plumbers, Tinners & Gas Fitters,
And Dealers in
Heaters, Ranges and Stoves.
Dealers in all kinds of Stoves, Heaters and Ranges. Repairing of all kinds promptly attended to. Jobbing in hand. Stoves, Heaters and Ranges set up. Orders left at our personal supervision by Mr. Carney, who has had a life time experience in the business, will receive prompt attention. Shop in rear of No. 18 East Front street. Residence, 20 East Front street. Orders left at No. 18 East Front street will receive prompt attention. Residence, 21 East Front street. 1y

The Economic Gas Engine.
This little Gas Engine may be safely left in charge of any person. It will develop 2 to 3 horse power, and will run all kinds of printing presses, sewing machines, lathes, etc. Can be run by gas or gasoline, and in every case we have satisfied the purchaser. Call and see it in operation.

IRVING & CO.,
DEALERS IN
Our Sanitary Plumbing
Department is, as it always has been, under the personal supervision of Mr. Irving, who has had over 20 years in the city recommendation we could make. Our Steam and Hot Water Heating is the best of materials and our patterns are always the latest. Our Gas Fitting is unsurpassed. Our Tinning and Roofing is done by experienced workmen and in every case we have satisfied the purchaser. Call and see us at 7 and 9 Somerset street.

We Guarantee Our Work.
We are under many obligations to our numerous customers for favors in the past, and by strict attention and reasonable charges we hope to merit a continuance of the same in the future. Thanking the public for the liberal patronage of the past, we remain, Yours truly,
IRVING & CO.,
7 and 9 Somerset street.

HYMN OF LABOR.

"Woe for the hate and the burden, the weary wasting of days!
Woe for the toil and the tangle, the dim desolation of days!
Lost, in mist of the Past, are the early faiths and hopes,
Dead, in the womb of the Future, the dream of the distant years.
Shadows lengthen and shrink, and bleak dull
Sickeneth day;
Idle all words spoken—What is there left to say?"

This—it is well, indeed, that old faiths slumber and die,
This—that the dream declined dead may one day quicken and live!
Winter is soul forgotten, but Spring and Summer are to be.
Go, turn thy face to the fields for birth of the new-born soul!
Leave thy work of the Future—thy grave of a thousand years!
Lift hard hands to the plow, and sing, and break holes for the fair!
Storm for the strife's sake only, smite not for the wish nor friend—
Strive for the sake's sake only, set no store for no end.
Set joy not for the winning, no bright hearted for the prize;
Ask no guerdon of praise, add hope thou seek'st no more than hope.
If, after in the sunrise, white wings flash and flee,
Left not thy hand from the toiling, turn not thine eyes to see!

Corn-husks gladden the stalwn, and ashes are left of fire,
Dead leaves weave on the trees—but what thing comes of Desire?
Dear is the Past after Pain, and balm for the Hurt-wast fate;
Great grow crowns of Labor—out of the Strong the Sweet.

So shall thou come to thy reaping, so shall thou
Be glad with the gladness of morn,
With lips reddened from the cursed, and soul from the utternost birth.
So shalt thou look through the sunset, glad,
and see—and not weep.
Saying: "A little space only—a little while—
Then the Rest that remaineth."
—Graham R. Tomson, in N. Y. Independent.

MARVELOUS STRENGTH.

A Little Ohio Hercules with a Never-Failing Nerve.

Away back in the sixties I was financially interested in two or more Texas enterprises with a man named George Sloane, who is a contributor to the New York Sun. That was the time when cattle and hog-rallies in Texas he was known only as Harvey George. I have seen a great many statements concerning his adventures in print, but all more or less exaggerated. Some of the statements which appeared while we were in company I will now give as the press for the first time.

Sloane was an Ohio boy, and I made his acquaintance and summered with him in the Andersonville prison pen. We went West together after the war, and at that time he was only twenty-seven years of age. He was five feet seven inches high, weighing one hundred and sixty pounds, and was the strongest man I ever saw outside of a professional wrestler or gymnast—and I think he took as hard that he could crack a walnut on his leg. On two or three occasions I knew him to do it. He was the strongest man I ever saw. He had no training of any sort, but the athletic and ruggedness were born to him. As if not satisfied in having this great muscular power, he was also the most wonderful nerve and courage. He once told me that he never felt fear. He was afraid of nothing for five minutes what fear was. I saw him in some of the hottest fights that ever took place, and I never saw him falter or hesitate or make a mistake in doing just the right thing.

One afternoon, after we had finished up some business which required a horse and buggy, we entered a saloon for a parting sip. It was full of gamblers, cowboys and all the characters generally, and every man wore a revolver in plain sight. We were supplied with four drinks in turn, big rufflers, who was a fighter from away back, insinuated himself into our company and finally asked for a treat. Sloane never carried a weapon of any sort while in a town. He looked the big fellow over in a cool and quiet way and finally asked:

"Did you intend to insult me, sir?"

"Insult you?" echoed the other. "Who talks of insults? Why, ye little gamecock from somebody's barnyard, I'll give ye two minits to git down on your knees to me."

"If you do not I will be compelled to fix this plain glass," replied George, "I will make a wreck of you."

By this time every body in the saloon had crowded around us, and it was easy to see that had no friendship for the stranger. Everything in Sloane's eye and tone which cautioned the bully to be easy, and if he knew what he was about. Sloane never moved from his position, but stood off and leered at him, and said:

"I am waiting fur ye to ax my parding fur that, banty."

The bully went for Sloane with a rush, and finally asked:

"Will you pardon me?" echoed the other. "Who talks of insults? Why, ye little gamecock from somebody's barnyard, I'll give ye two minits to git down on your knees to me."

"If you do not I will be compelled to fix this plain glass," replied George, "I will make a wreck of you."

By this time every body in the saloon had crowded around us, and it was easy to see that had no friendship for the stranger. Everything in Sloane's eye and tone which cautioned the bully to be easy, and if he knew what he was about. Sloane never moved from his position, but stood off and leered at him, and said:

"I am waiting fur ye to ax my parding fur that, banty."

Sloane never carried a weapon of any sort while in a town. He looked the big fellow over in a cool and quiet way and finally asked:

"Did you intend to insult me, sir?"

"Insult you

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE, } A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors.

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.

For abundant harvests, for commercial activity, for material prosperity, for unbroken public prosperity, for peace and order, for the continuance of our civil and religious liberty, and, for innumerable other blessings during the past year, we as a grateful people offer thanks and praise to Almighty God, Whom women cannot every good and perfect gift.

In recognition of such duty, and in accordance with established usage, I, Gilbert C. Walker, Governor of the State of Virginia, do hereby appoint THURSDAY, THE TWENTY-FOURTH DAY OF NOVEMBER, INSTANT, as a day of public thanksgiving, and recommend that on that day the people of this State, abstaining from all no ordinary secular employment, meet at their usual places of public worship and give thanks to Almighty God for His infinite mercy and goodness, with prayer for a continuance of peace, prosperity and happiness to the nation and this good people.

Given under my hand and privy seal, at the Capitol, in the city of Richmond, this third day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven, and in the one hundred and twelfth year of the United States the one thousand eighth.

[L. S.] GILBERT C. WALKER.

By the Governor,
ROBERT S. GREER, JR.,
Private Secretary.

THE DIFFERENCE.

There is one tangled public question which if it could be entirely withdrawn from political control and mercenary personal greed, and placed for final adjustment in the hands of honest and intelligent men, actuated only by patriotic motives and practically acquainted with the real wants of country and people, great would be the general good derivable therefrom.

That question is the tariff, that prolific source of contention, misrepresentation and covetousness.

It is to be hoped that the coming Congress will evince a spirit of true statesmanship and give to the whole United States judicious tariff legislation.

A genuine statesman looks over the entire country, not favored sections, and impartially strives to know what truth is, and what will confer the greatest benefit upon the largest number without inflicting wrong upon the lesser.

A mere scheming politician cannot or will not see beyond his own local domain, nor ponder a higher purpose than partisan advantage, particularly for himself.

That is the difference.

Did statesmanship bear sway among law-makers, equal and exact justice would be meted out to all classes, and war taxation in time of peace be properly declared alien to both public and private prosperity.

Labor, of all kinds, would then receive real protection.

The Next Senate.

The returns from various parts of the State show that the Republicans will control the next Senate by a vote of 12 Republicans to 9 Democrats, and the House by 37 Republicans to 23 Democrats, giving a Republican majority of 17 on joint ballot. The next Legislature will probably be constituted as follows:

THE SENATE.
County.	Senator.	Term Expires.
Accomac	John J. Gerdner, R.	1890
Berkeley	John W. Bonner, D.	1888
Buckingham	Wm. B. Carter, R.	1888
Campbell	John Duffey, Jr., and D.	1888
Cape May	Joseph H. Hines, R.	1888
Cumberland	Philip P. Baker, D.	1888
Essex	Jas. F. S. Mallory, R.	1888
Gloucester	Joseph B. Roe, R.	1888
Hudson	Edward D. Edwards, D.	1888
Hunterdon	Gen. H. Large, R.	1888
Mercer	John D. Bue, R.	1888
Middlesex	Jas. S. Conover, R.	1888
Monmouth	Henry M. Nevius, R. gain	1888
Morris	Henry V. Morris, D.	1888
Ocean	Geo. T. Cranmer, R.	1888
Passaic	John M. Ogden, R.	1888
Salem	Wm. C. Shinn, R. gain	1888
Somerset	Lewis A. Thompson, *R.	1888
Sussex	Jacob Schlech, R.	1888
Union	James L. Miller, R. gain	1887
Warren	Martin Wyckoff, D.	1891

Republicans, 12; Democrats, 9. Republican majority in number of Assembly. Dem. gain, 1. Rep. gain, 7.

THE HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.
ATLANTIC COUNTY.
James D. Risley, R.	2
ATLANTIC COUNTY.
1—Anderson Bloomer, *D. 2—C. F. Hartington, Rep.	2
BURLINGTON COUNTY.
1—R. C. Brookhouse, *R. 2—Albert Hensell, R. 3—Wm. H. Horne, *R.	3
CAMDEN COUNTY.
1—Adam C. Smith, R. 2—J. B. Harris, R. 3—George R. Higgins, R. gain	3
CAPE MAY COUNTY.
1—Walter S. Leaming, R. gain	1
CUMBERLAND COUNTY.
1—Isaac W. Smalley, D. gain. 2—Maitland Loffland, D. gain	2
ESSEX COUNTY.
1—Thos. Meeker, R. 2—Alexander Peck, *R. 3—Adrian Riker, R. 4—Chas. E. Hill, R. 5—D. F. P. Lockwood, R. 6—Alex. Brandon, R. 7—Jas. B. McDermott, *D. 8—Jos. Schwartz, D. 9—James Mariatt, *R. 10—Jas. A. Ogsbury, R. gain	10
GLOUCESTER COUNTY.
James Wood, R.	1
HUDSON COUNTY.
1—Jos. Gallagher, R. gain. 2—Jas. F. Norton, D. 3—R. D. Dickinson, *R. 4—W. C. Heppenheimer, *D. 5—Richard Bonnell, R. gain. 6—Jas. Cassidy, R. gain. 7—John F. Feeney, *D. 8—Edw. F. Farrell, D. 9—Wm. H. Lotte, *R. 10—Frank Short, D. 11—Thos. Hagerty, R. gain	11
HUNTERDON COUNTY.
1—Wm. H. Martin, D. 2—C. H. Trumbor, D.	2
MERCER COUNTY.
1—Chas. H. Golden, *R. 2—Josiah Jones, R. gain. 3—Thomas Hoffman, R. gain	3
MIDDLESEX COUNTY.
1—Ephraim Cutter, D. gain. 2—John Mulvey, *D. 3—Chas. B. Hartpence, R.	3
MONMOUTH COUNTY.
1—Edward D. Polhemus, D. 2—A. A. Higgins, D. 3—H. H. Conover, R. gain	3
MORRIS COUNTY.
1—C. B. Meeker, D. 2—Samuel S. Lyon, *R. 3—John S. Fitzsy, *D.	3
OCEAN COUNTY.
Jonathan Cranmer, R.	1
PASSAIC COUNTY.
1—Geo. Lee, *R. 2—Abram B. Myers, R. 3—Eugene Bailey, R. 4—James Keys, *D.	4
SALEM COUNTY.
M. F. Riley, R.	1
SOMERSET COUNTY.
Owen Conklin, R.	1
SUSSEX COUNTY.
Andrew J. Dean, D.	1
UNION COUNTY.
1—John J. Matthews, *D. 2—Foster M. Voorhees, R. 3—John Hirst, R.	3
WARREN COUNTY.
Reuben Hoover, D. 2—S. B. Mutchler, *R. 3—Robert Hamilton, R. gain. 4—Jas. Smith, R. Republicans, 37. Democrats, 23.	4

NORTH PLAINFIELD TOWNSHIP.

The election in North Plainfield Township passed off very quietly, and but little excitement prevailed during the day. The total number of votes cast was 631 out of a total poll of 700 at the Assembly last year. Following is the vote in detail:

SENATOR.	1st Dist.	2d Dist.	Total.	Plu.
Thompson, R.	179	164	356	117
Herpich, D.	111	128	239
Barber, P.	15	16	31
ASSEMBLY.
Codding, R.	190	165	355	118
Pace, D.	114	123	237
Winans, P.	15	19	34
SURROGATE.
Long, R.	186	168	354	138
Huff, D.	104	112	216
Sutphen, P.	16	17	33
COMMISS.
Jones, R.	191	18	359	124
Van Neste, R.	191	169	360	125
Fisher, R.	187	169	356	121
Brake, D.	113	122	235
Compton, D.	113	123	236
Taylor, D.	114	122	236
Beckman, P.	14	16	30
Reiter, P.	15	17	32
Bolding, P.	16	16	32

In the Second district one Labor ticket was voted with the name of Geo. P. Norton for Assembly and J. O. Taylor for Coroner.

—There were 19 persons naturalized by the Court of Common Pleas at Somerville on Friday and Saturday.

THE RETURNS.

ONE DEMOCRAT ALONE ELECTED.

The Result of the County Election—Figures that Only an Official Canvass Can Change.

Below we give the returns in full of last Tuesday's unexpected victory for the Republican party in Union County. The result is still a marvel to Republicans and Democrats alike; and neither party can give an indisputable cause or reason. The entire ticket of county officers nominated at the Republican convention is elected with the exception of the candidate for County Clerk. The figures further show a narrow margin in favor of popular Jack Crowell, the Democratic nominee for that office. Although printed before daylight Wednesday morning, THE PRESS announced the success of the Republican candidates for the offices of Senator, Sheriff and Surrogate, but stated that there was only a possibility of the election of the Republican candidate for the office County Clerk. As usual THE PRESS was right. Even the Central Times, issued some hours later, said: "Ita Oliver with Jack Crowell for the present." The Times should read THE PRESS more carefully. But then, who could blame a Republican in New Jersey for claiming the universe, Wednesday?

The following are the returns:

FOR SENATOR.

	Ward.
	1	2	3	4	Tot.
SENATOR.
Miller, R.	197	226	223	231	877
Livingston, D	172	119	60	271	622
Bigelow, P.	13	11	17	21	62
SHERIFF.
Glasby, R.	207	246	226	246	925
Forsyth, D.	164	100	57	265	586
McLeod, P.	12	12	19	20	63
COUNTY CLERK.
Oliver, R.	197	230	218	224	869
Crowell, D.	173	117	66	272	628
Ryno, P.	12	11	18	16	57
SURROGATE.
Ortell, R.	202	243	234	226	905
Gerber, D.	170	103	59	252	584
Woodruff, P.	12	12	18	21	63
ASSEMBLY.
Ulrich, R.	209	251	228	261	949
Miller, D.	159	92	58	232	541
Kelly, P.	12	9	15	19	55
CORONERS.
Miller, R.	203	246	224	246	919
Long, R.	204	247	224	245	920
Donovan, D.	166	99	58	245	568
Sadek, D.	166	101	58	245	570
MacConnell, P.	11	10	20	20	61
Bloecker, P.	12	11	19	21	63

MAJORITIES.

The pluralities in this city on the total vote, are as follows: For Senator, Miller over Livingston, 255; for Sheriff, Glasby over Forsyth, 339; for County Clerk, Oliver over Crowell, 241; for Surrogate, Parrot over Gerber, 321; for Assembly, Ulrich over Miller, 408.

FOR MEMBER OF ASSEMBLY.

	1st Ward.	2d Ward.	3d Ward.	4th Ward.
Elizabeth—
1st Ward, 1st Dist.	202	172	31	1
" 2d Dist.	156	159	2	1
" 3d Dist.	200	214	9	1
2d Ward, 1st Dist.	160	209	2	1
" 2d Dist.	119	200	4	1
3d Ward, 1st Dist.	138	227	1	1
" 2d Dist.	178	251	1	1
4th Ward.	266	304	2	1
5th Ward, 1st Dist.	274	192	1	1
" 2d Dist.	209	153	1	1
6th Ward.	286	187	1	1
7th Ward.	175	327	1	1
Union.	152	167	1	1
Springfield.	91	33	2	1
Cranford.	138	55	1	1
Railway.	191	460	1	1
Clark.	97	49	1	1
Fanwood.	147	97	1	1
Westfield.	362	139	1	1
Scotch Plains.	167	128	1	1
Rahway.	1044	1036	1	1
Miller's (R.) plurality over Livingston, 321.

FOR SHERIFF.

	1st Ward.	2d Ward.	3d Ward.	4th Ward.
Elizabeth—
1st Ward, 1st Dist.	201	172	31	1
" 2d Dist.	154	159	2	1
" 3d Dist.	200	214	9	1
2d Ward, 1st Dist.	160	209	2	1
" 2d Dist.	120	200	4	1
3d Ward, 1st Dist.	134	224	1	1
" 2d Dist.	181	248	1	1
4th Ward.	267	304	2	1
5th Ward, 1st Dist.	273	191	1	1
" 2d Dist.	209	153	1	1
6th Ward.	289	187	1	1
7th Ward.	175	328	1	1
Union.	153	168	1	1
Springfield.	91	33	2	1
Cranford.	138	55	1	1
Railway.	191	460	1	1
Clark.	97	49	1	1
Fanwood.	147	97	1	1
Westfield.	362	139	1	1
Scotch Plains.	167	128	1	1
Rahway.	1044	1036	1	1
Glasby's (R.) plurality over Forsyth 521.

FOR COUNTY CLERK.

	1st Ward.	2d Ward.	3d Ward.	4th Ward.
Elizabeth—
1st Ward—1st Dist.	220	172	31	1
" 2d Dist.	165	159	2	1
" 3d Dist.	205	215	9	1
2d Ward—1st Dist.	164	210	2	1
" 2d Dist.	117	201	4	1
3d Ward—1st Dist.	134	222	1	1
" 2d Dist.	181	251	1	1
4th Ward.	196	305	2	1
5th Ward—1st Dist.	280	193	1	1
" 2d Dist.	210	153	1	1
6th Ward.	289	188	1	1
7th Ward.	176	328	1	1
Union.	153	168	1	1
Springfield.	91	33	2	1
Cranford.	138	55	1	1
Railway.	191	460	1	1
Clark.	97	49	1	1
Fanwood.	147	97	1	1
Westfield.	362	139	1	1
Scotch Plains.	167	128	1	1
Rahway.	1044	1036	1	1
Ulrich's (R.) plurality over Miller 674.

IN THE CITY.

As in other parts of the county, the election yesterday was unattended by any great excitement. The city was thoroughly canvassed and out of the 1,942 names registered, over 1,500 deposited their ballots. Carriages were in waiting at the several polling places to convey the aged and infirm up to vote, and nearly all the workers in the city were relieved by presenting themselves at the polls were waited upon and prevailed upon to vote. In the 1st and 3d wards the ballot boxes did not work satisfactorily and when the hour arrived for closing the polls, the ballot box in the Third ward register. 370, although but 301 votes were polled. At the hour of adjournment the number of votes cast to each ward was as follows: First, 169; Second, 211; Third, 164; Fourth, 126. In North Plainfield the vote at one p. m. was: First District, 145; Second District 114.

In this city the total number of names registered was 1,942.

The total number of votes cast in the four wards was 1,568, divided up as follows:

First Ward—Whole vote, 385; Republican, 204; Democrat, 169; Prohibition, 12.

Second Ward—Whole vote, 385; Republican, 239; Democrat, 107; Prohibition, 11.

Third Ward—Whole vote, 301; Republican, 224; Democrat, 58; Prohibition 19.

Fourth Ward—Whole vote, 314; Republican, 246; Democratic, 245; Prohibition, 22.

PLAINFIELD.

	Wards—
	1	2	3	4	Tot.
SENATOR.
Miller, R.	197	226	223	231	877
Livingston, D	172	119	60	271	622
Bigelow, P.	13	11	17	21	62
SHERIFF.
Glasby, R.	207	246	226	246	925
Forsyth, D.	164	100	57	265	586
McLeod, P.	12	12	19	20	63
COUNTY CLERK.
Oliver, R.	197	230	218	224	869
Crowell, D.	173	117	66	272	628
Ryno, P.	12	11	18	16	57
SURROGATE.
Ortell, R.	202	243	234	226	905
Gerber, D.	170	103	59	252	584
Woodruff, P.	12	12	18	21	63
ASSEMBLY.
Ulrich, R.	209	251	228	261	949
Miller, D.	159	92	58	232	541
Kelly, P.	12	9	15	19	55
CORONERS.
Miller, R.	203	246	224	246	919
Long, R.	204	247	224	245	920
Donovan, D.	166	99	58	245	568
Sadek, D.	166	101	58	245	570
MacConnell, P.	11	10	20	20	61
Bloecker, P.	12	11	19	21	63

MAJORITIES.

The pluralities in this city on the total vote, are as follows: For Senator, Miller over Livingston, 255; for Sheriff, Glasby over Forsyth, 339; for County Clerk, Oliver over Crowell, 241; for Surrogate, Parrot over Gerber, 321; for Assembly, Ulrich over Miller, 408.

NEW MARKET.

FOR SHERIFF.

Howell, R	158
Fisher, D.	63
FOR SURROGATE.
Pick, R.	166
Kempson, D.	71
FOR ASSEMBLY.
Ten Broeck, R	153
Cutter, D.	72

DUNELLEN.

FOR SHERIFF.

Howell, R	132
Fisher, D.	85
SURROGATE.
Pick, R.	137
Kempson, D.	90
ASSEMBLY.
Ten Broeck, R	129
Cutter, D.	90

SCOTCH PLAINS.

Patrick Leddy, of Lamberstown, is visiting his friends here.

The recent Episcopal church fair netted a snug little sum for the church.

Several New York hunters spent last week in this locality. They succeeded in shooting a large number of rabbits, a few pheasants and some quail.

WESTFIELD.

On Wednesday afternoon of last week, Samuel Fine a brakeman on the local freight bound East, while coupling the caboose to the train, had the fingers on his right hand mashed between the bumpers. He was immediately taken to Doctor Harrison's office, who assisted by Dr. F. A. Kinch, dressed the wounds having to amputate the fore finger at the first joint. He is a resident of Hampton Junction, and went home on the 6:30 p. m. train.

Eliza's House in a Blaze.

Shortly after eleven o'clock of Saturday night, the reflection of a fire on its own smoke and the heavens above, caused the raising of the alarm. None of the apparatus reached the place, however, as the conflagration was the burning of a dwelling on the second range of mountains back of North Plainfield. The house was formerly belonged to a Mr. Blaze, and was located near Stiles' saw-mill. It was unoccupied at the time, and probably fired by incendiaries.

DUNELLEN.

Paul Kratzel, a German shoemaker, doing business in this place, has lately been annoyed by a lot of boys. A few evenings since the boys surrounded his store, and before they left a number of panes of glass were demolished. Paul gave chase and succeeded in apprehending one of the boys to whom he administered a sound trouncing. Six boys were arrested and on Monday the matter was amicably adjusted by the boys' parents coming forward and paying all expenses. All the boys pledged themselves not to annoy the shoemaker hereafter.

FANWOOD NOTES.

A sidewalk is being laid on the West side of Park avenue between Midway avenue and the house the source of crowded.

Dr. Oliver's house has now advanced to the roofstage, and the fact was duly celebrated by placing a large 8x12 flag on the highest scaffolding. Mrs. Oliver has returned from Laurel Run.

The sale of fancy articles and tarpon exhibition, held at Baker & Mead's Hall, Thursday night, was very much successful. Mr. Man's tarpon was really worth seeing: its length over all—as sailors say—is six feet two inches; weight 150 pounds; among other things offered at the fair scales had been painted by hand, and these found a ready sale. The candy booth was arranged in a way that did credit to its designer. It was enclosed in an arch of evergreens, and behind hung the Stars and Stripes, neatly displayed. Much amusement was caused by offering a jar containing a pound of lemon drops to the person who should guess most nearly the number of drops in the jar. The guesses were offered at five cents and they ranged all the way from 100 to 1000. The actual number was 321, and the jar was divided between Mr. Moore and Mr. Louis Kratzel, who guessed 320 and 322. The total receipts, exclusive of the sale of tickets, amounted to $1,110.84, and it is believed that the entertainment will netabout $120 over all expenses.

South Plainfield Items.

Mr. Green, who owns a large farm near the South Plainfield depot, has been engaged during the past two or three weeks in cutting up his farm into city building lots. The work is completed to about 75 acres, and has been surveyed off, with a number of streets running through the land.

Mr. Morris Higgins, the milkman, has recently made decided improvements about his place. He has erected a new barn and cow sheds, which are fitted up in the latest style. A thorough mason Messrs. Patrick Fitzgerald and Thomas Savard have also improved their dwellings and added conveniences thereto.

This suburb of Plainfield is at present experiencing a boom, and everybody is on the jump. Before another year rolls by, it is expected that the population will be doubled. The Lehigh Valley Railroad Company has already begun to unload its ties and tools for the construction of the new line from South Plainfield to Roselle. A telegraph operator will at once be located in the depot, and work on the new branch will probably begin in a few days.

City Council Meeting.

The November meeting of the City Council was held Monday evening with the following members present: President Marsh and Councilmen Bowers, Carey, Dumont, Dunham, Simpson, Taylor, Warnagaard Witter. At the minutes of the two previous meetings, regular and special, were read and approved. The Board of Education communicated with the Council in effect that the present school accommodations were inadequate to meet the increasing demand, and stated that necessary repairs, alterations and the maintenance of another school building in the neighborhood of Evona. The paper petitioned the Council for an extra appropriation for said purpose. Mr. Dumont's motion to receive the communication and file the same, prevailed, as did also his resolution authorizing the City Clerk to advertise an election for the raising of more money to be used for school purposes, the same to be voted upon at the regular charter election in December, and that the form of notice as well as the ballot be prepared by the President of the Council and the City Clerk.

A communication from M. H. Baker, agreeing to furnish suitable material for street naming within a certain limit for $80 was tabled, and later called up by Mr. Dumont with a motion to accept. The motion was carried with the understanding that the City could increase the number of signs at the same rate.

Claims were presented and referred as follows:

STREETS.

Geo. M. Angleman, per Remmel bill, $456.75; J. H. Wilson, stone, $59.95; Jones & Co., cleaning sewer basins, $41; F. A. Dunham, surveying and staking, $61.50; P. M. French, watering, $15; French Bros., carting stone, $30.30.

LIGHTS.

Plainfield Electric Light Co., (two months) $605; Plainfield Gas Light Co., $21; N. Y. and N. J. Globe Gas Light Co., $369.04.

SALARIES.

John Johnson, $119.94; John Johnson, $28.90; F. A. Dunham, $41.30; F. A. Dunham, $11.85; J. H. Platt, $25; George M. Anglemen, $41.40; O. B. Leonard, $720.50; C. A. Marsh, $125.

POLICE.

C. W. Dodd, $75; Geo. W. Grant, $60; Thos. McCue, $60; Patrick Lynch, $60; S. R. Hope, $3.

FOUR BILLS.

A. Manning, $62.50; J. O. Nodyne, $93.50; G. W. Moore, $64.50; Jas. McGinley, $6; Jas. Cannon, $4; M. J. Roll, $4; J. H. Kenyon, $18; B. Hickey, $4; Wm. M. Sandford, $5; John Bulman, $4.50; Mary Daly, $4; Mary Mahan, $12; Jas. Norton, $15; Lucy A. Connett, $6; K. Conway, $4; J. P. Snydan, $9; Muhlenburg Hospital, $180; Muhlenburg Hospital, $40; Relief Association, $90; W. H. Jennings, $30; Mrs. A. Farley, $4; M. A. Cooper, $22; Catherine Hartpence, $17.50; Chas. S. Guion, $22.95; R. J. Shaw, $15.85.

PRINTING.

Times Printing and Publishing Co., $80; T. W. Morrison, $79.50. A bill of O. B. Leonard, $54, for mailing, posting, etc., was presented and referred.

The Mayor communicated with Council, nominating, at the request of Messrs. C. A. Marsh, T. W. Nash and T. O. Doane, Wm. S. Sitter for special policeman. The nomination was confirmed.

The monthly reports of the Treasurer and Collector were presented, referred and subsequently reported back as correct, and ordered on file.

The Collector's report is recapitulated as follows:

Total State and County Collec.
Collector's Book	$5647 98
Cost and Int. State and County	2.90
Duplicate	13.75
Library	186.70
City	1,000.00
Poor	213.37
Cost and Interest less School tax	13.75
17th and 18th	11-41-91
Total amount taxes collected and paid City Treasurer	$4,844.73
City School tax Deposited to credit Board of Education	1416.72
Interest on school tax deposited to credit Board of Education	27.39
Total am't depos. to credit B'd Ed'n 1444.09
Total receipts for Oct. 1887	$7187.72
	JOHN JOHNSON, Collector.

Mr. Waring from the Select Committee, to whom was referred the matter of erecting a City Hall, reported that the Committee had considered the matter, and did not think it expedient for the present Council to undertake the work, as there were other necessities, such as water works, sewerage, etc., that should be attended to as well as the matter of erecting a public building. The Committee returned the letter from His Honor, the Mayor, with a recommendation to file. It was so ordered.

Mr. Taylor from the Finance Committee returned as correct the bills referred to him, with the exception of those of Collector Johnson for taxes collected. He said that these bills were held by the Committee, because no rate of compensation for collecting taxes had yet been established. [The Chairman of the Finance Committee informed a PRESS reporter that the established rate in Passaic City was one per cent.]

Mr. Taylor also submitted the opinion of Corporation Counsel Marsh on the power of the Board of Education petitioning the Council for a portion of the money paid to the city by the Comptroller for railroad taxes. The opinion was a lengthy one, in which the Counsel concluded that the Common Council are not required to appropriate any part of the tax in question to the uses of the Board of Education. The report was received and filed, and the Clerk was requested, by resolution, to notify the Board to that effect.

Messrs. Bowers, from the Fire, Water and Lamps Committee; Carey, from the Police Committee; Waring from the Printing, and Salaries, Officers and Elections, and Dunnent from the Street Committee returned as correct the bills referred to them, and they passed into the hands of the Auditing Committee.

Mr. Witter reported back a communication from Oscar S. Teale, with a recommendation that the same on the table. It was so ordered.

Mr. Dunham, in reporting back the poor claims, said that the Alms Committee had reported in favor of the same, but that economy exercised; two-thirds of the appropriation had already been expended.

Mr. Dumont reported back the petition for crosswalk at the intersection of Prospect avenue and Ninth street, and asked for instruction. Upon motion of Mr. Waring the Street Commissioner was authorized to lay the walk from the easterly side of Prospect avenue to the northerly side of Ninth street.

Mr. Witter from the License Committee submitted "An ordinance to amend an ordinance entitled an Ordinance to license and regulate inns and taverns, and to regulate and prohibit the sale of spirituous and intoxicating liquors." The ordinance is designed to substitute in section 16 the word "March" instead of "February" as the time when all licenses shall expire and be issued, including those granted during 1887, and all persons who are convicted of keeping their places open after midnight are subject to a fine of $100 or 60 days imprisonment. Mr. Taylor's amendment to the ordinance that the fine of $100 for the extra month was lost by a vote of six to three. The ordinance was put on its second reading and adopted.

Mr. Dumont offered a resolution that the Street Commissioner proceed to spread crushed stone on Second street, between Plaza and Washington streets, provided the same does not exceed $400, and the property owners subscribe one-half of that amount for the proposed work. The resolution was adopted.

Sundry petitions for hack, carriage and peddler's licenses were read and subsequently granted.

The quarterly report of the City Physician was received and filed.

Mr. Dumont called to its third reading "An Ordinance to establish a Board of Health." It was adopted on the third reading. The ordinance to change the names of certain streets was also adopted on the third reading.

Mr. Taylor offered a resolution that the treasurer borrow $3,000 for 60 days in anticipation of taxes, the same to be deposited in the First National Bank to the credit of the general fund. It was adopted.

Mr. Bowers took the chair to allow the President to report on the matter of purchasing the new ballot boxes. He made a motion that the City Clerk be directed to accept on behalf of the city, the new boxes, at a cost not to exceed $100. The motion was carried.

Mr. Simpson, from the Alms Committee reported that all the claims transferred to him, and they were ordered paid by warrants on the treasury.

Council then adjourned.

LIST OF ADVERTISED LETTERS,

REMAINING IN PLAINFIELD POST OFFICE FOR THE WEEK ENDING NOV. 11, 1887.

Armstrong Mrs. C.
Belding, Charles
Colgan, Miss Mary D
Cross, Miss Anna
Dunson, Miss L. R.
Gaines, Mr. John
Kerton, A. G.
Lockwood, Miss Charles
Morse, Mrs. J. A.
Morrison, Mrs. C.
Martin, Walter D.
Sanders, Miss Annie
Shone, Miss Alice
Storer, Mr. John
Sell, rs. Mrs. Marie L.
Schenck, Miss Charles
Scott, John
Smith, Mrs. A. L.

Persons calling for above please say advertised.

W. L. FORCE, Postmaster.

FORD & STILES',
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
AND
PRACTICAL EMBALMERS.
Office, Warerooms and Residence,
No. 14 EAST FRONT STREET.
Telephone Call No. 44.
GEO. C. FORD. apr9tf GEO. M. STILES.

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
UNDERTAKERS, EMBALMERS,
60 PARK AVENUE.
Telephone Call 46.
RESIDENCE—60 MADISON AVENUE.
Telephone Call 37.
"Office of Hillside Cemetery."

P. CASEY & SON,
UNDERTAKERS,
OFFICE—No. 1 Somerset St.
Residence, No. 11 Third street, corner New Market. Mr. J. J. Casey, having purchased the interest of Mr. Wm. Casey, and being more than any other firm in the State, all Calls Promptly Attended Day or Night.—8-25

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Y. M. C. A. COURSE
OF —FIVE—
Illustrated Lectures
BY
MR. H. H. RAGAN,
Nov. 15, 19, 22 & 29, and Dec. 22.
AT
STILLMAN MUSIC HALL
FIRST LECTURE NOV. 15.
Subject—"Here and There in London."
Reserved Seat Tickets for the Course, $2.00
Reserved Seat Tickets, for Single Lecture, 50c. and 75c.
Course Tickets now on sale at Reynolds' Pharmacy.
Single tickets for first lecture will be on sale at same place on Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 17th and 18th. 11-41-91

CHARLES DICKENS
Will give
READINGS
From his father's works, at
STILLMAN MUSIC HALL,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.,
SATURDAY, NOV. 12th, 1887,
At 8 P. M., for the Benefit of the Children's Home
TICKETS, FIFTY CENTS.
Reserved Seats 75c. and $1.00. For Sale, Monday, 9th, at Reynolds' and Shaw's Drug Stores. 10-41

KASKINE
(THE NEW QUININE.)

More Strongly Vouched for Than Any Other Drug of Modern Times
A POWERFUL TONIC,
that the most delicate stomach will bear.
A SPECIFIC FOR MALARIA, RHEUMATISM, NERVOUS PROSTRATION.
THEN MY SPECIFIC AND SUCCESSFUL BLOOD PURIFIER. Superior to anything.
Mr. J. Jas. Cameron, Plainfield, N. J., writes, "I got malaria in the Southern army, and for a long time suffered from its effects. At times I was worthy run down when I heard of KASKINE, and after using it for a short time, I gained 25 pounds. Have not had such good health in 20 years."
Other let ers of a similar character from prominent citizens of Plainfield, will be sent on application. Kaskine can be taken without any special diet and always in bed weather, or any time. For Sale by H. P. Reynolds, Plainfield, New Jersey, and Shaw's Drug Store, Dunellen.
THE KASKINE CO., 34 Warren St., New York.

HUMPHREYS'
DR. HUMPHREYS' SPECIFIC
Cloth & Gold Binding
Sold by Druggists, or sent postpaid on receipt of price,
50 CENTS, OR $1.00.
HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC MEDICINE CO.
Cor. William and John Sts., New York.
HOMEOPATHIC
SPECIFICS.

WANTS AND INFORMATION.

Rates per Line for one insertion of three lines, 25 cents. Each additional insertion, 5 cents. Payable cash in advance for each subsequent insertion of ads.

CATTLE TAKEN TO WINTER. RAT FOR JOHN ROSS, Plainfield, N. J. Box 330. nov7,3m2

BOARDING.—NEWLY FURNISHED ROOM, with pleasant location, central location, home comforts, and good table board. Inquire at No. 5 Somerset, E. W. Somerset street, between Park and Madison avenues. 11-41

COTTAGE.—FIRST-CLASS ACCOMMODATIONS for newly-furnished cottage. All thoroughly modern conveniences. Pleasantly situated. Apply at Second, corner of Somerset street, or at No. 5 Somerset, E. W. Somerset street, between Park and Madison avenues. 11-41

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

C. O. THOMPSON
1888 CHESTNUT ST. 1243 BROADWAY 303 WALNUT ST.
PHILADELPHIA. NEW YORK. CINCINNATI.
ECONOMY · QUALITY · STYLE · FIT·
Specialties that please Everybody
IMPORTED LONDON $15 Suits. THOMPSON'S Patent Cut $5 Trousers.
LONDON OVERCOATS $12 to $25 ENGLISH ULSTERS $18 to $30
The only house in AMERICA importing at popular Prices, READY MADE LONDON CLOTHING equal to Customer work made in the acceptable ENGLISH STYLE so highly endorsed by EUROPEAN and AMERICAN TAILORS.
N.B.—MAIL ORDERS PROMPTLY ANSWERED. SAMPLES FREE.
New York, 245 Broadway.

REFLECT ON THIS.

Besides the legal guarantee that we give to every purchaser, we have provided another safeguard that better appreciated as it is understood.

Attached to every pile of clothing is a perforated ticket, telling plainly the quality of the fabric.

Goods are classified as follows:

A. Foreign manufacture, warranted all wool, fast color.
B. French manufacture, warranted all wool, color not warranted.
C. Foreign manufacture, warranted all wool, but not absolute guarantee.
D. American manufacture, warranted all wool, fast color.
E. American manufacture, all wool, color not warranted.

CITY DEPARTMENT

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION

J. A. DEMAREST, ... Editor.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS

NEW YORK MAILS

CHARLOTTE, ROCK, &c. [illegible]

ASHFORD, &c. [illegible]

SCHOOLEY'S MOUNTAIN, &c. [illegible]

RAHWAY MAILS—Arrive at 8:30 a. m. Office open from 8:30 a. m. to 8:30 p. m. Mail closes at 7 p. m.

Mail for Saturday closes Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 12 m.

Post Office open at 7 a. m. and closes at 7:30 p. m. Saturdays, closes at 9:30 p. m. Open every evening until 8 p. m. for owners of lock boxes.

Money order office open from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. Saturdays to 9 p. m.

W. L. PIERCE, Postmaster.

—The house numbering in the borough is progressing favorably, and the work will probably be completed within a week or so.

—We were near losing our "City Park," Tuesday evening. Some dude will drop a cigarette there, some day, and burn up Our Pride.

—The Educational Work of the Y. M. C. A. is in charge of Messrs. C. E. Bess and John Leal. For particulars apply at the association rooms.

—The pew committee of the Trinity Reformed Church met in the church building on Monday evening, and offered for sale, pews and sittings in the church.

—Aaron Covington, a resident of Round Brook, Hunterdon county, was caught below the dam, a black bass weighing 5½ pounds. He also succeeded in landing several others, ranging in weight from one to three pounds.

—Our young people—especially young ladies—will soon be practicing Christmas carols, anthems, choruses, etc. The holiday season is near and all afford the fair sex an opportunity to indulge in the study of How-ology, and why abandon it they?

—Quite a number of persons visited the fatal amount of taken collected during the month of October, in round numbers, amounted to about $6,000. Last year's receipts for October amounted to about $3,500.

—Recent changes have been made to the advantage of those having tickets via The Central Railroad Company. For circular and time table address E. A. Hutchinson, General Ticket and Passenger Agent, Chicago.

—Mr. Ernest R. Ackerman will give an entertainment of a highly interesting character at the Y. M. C. A. rooms this evening, at 8 o'clock. Admission by ticket, which may be obtained upon application at the association rooms.

—It is understood that the intention in the New Jersey Central Railroad reconstruction is to apply for the discharge of the Receivers on the 31st day of December, so that their accounts may be made up for the calendar year.

—The tonsorial parlors of Messrs. Maynard & Hall, on Second street, will hereafter be open every Sunday morning from seven until half-past eleven o'clock. Such a large number of New York business men are the patrons of this shop that it has become necessary to open Sundays for their accommodation.

—On Monday next the Ladies Christian Work Society of the German Reformed church will open the fair given under their auspices, in the new Bergen Reformed church on Craig Place, North Plainfield. The fair will last three days, one week and the proceeds will be devoted to the furnishing fund.

—The Town Version section of the Plainfield Society of Art Industrial Society will give a grand ball and exhibition turning in French's Hall, Somerset street, on Thanksgiving evening. The ball will also make French's Hall its headquarters after the 15th inst., and until the new Somerset hotel building is completed.

—The sale of the Cedarcliff property on Seventeenth street, between Madison and Central avenues, to the Miller Bros., who made by the owner through exclusive agents, Messrs. Cook & Cook, has been long in the market but held too high for those times, although the original owner was once offered $10,000 for it.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Fire Commissioners was to have been held Tuesday night but the recent decision of the Supreme Court with reference to the fire limit case, or the extension contemplated by the decision, served to keep the commissioners away from the meeting place, and consequently no meeting was held.

—Mr. Ernest R. Ackerman will deliver an address in the Y. M. C. A. rooms on Friday evening, Nov. 11, subject—Reminiscences of a Trip Across the Continent. As many are desirous of taking this trip, this will give an opportunity of hearing a description of what one sees upon the journey. Probably a number of tickets can be obtained without charge, upon application at the association rooms.

—We are to make The Press a welcome visit next week on behalf of Plainfield and vicinity, a journal for the people without regard to creed, race or "previous condition" sale, and it will never commit journalistic suicide by trying absurd to look a gentleman or lunatic, and jumping off into a sea of personal abuse, but it has come to stay, and will be found always a racy, fun ready to seek, by carrier, or five dollars a year.

—It is to be hoped that the appeal of the Board of Education to the Council on Monday evening, for the relief of the citizens of Plainfield will, by their vote at the Charter Election, appropriate a sufficient sum for the maintenance of the school system. It is to be regretted that the present school accommodations are inadequate, and some action should be taken at once to provide proper accommodation for the children of school age.

—The Y. M. C. A. Lecture Committee are to be congratulated on the large sale of tickets for the Hagan Illustrated Lectures which began on election day and still goes on. Considering the great number and variety of entertainments being offered the public, the sale of tickets is larger than could be expected. The fact speaks well for the taste of our people, and for the judgment of the committee. Good music, but not too much of it, is a popular pleasure. See advertisement.

—Professor Reynolds follows his engagement at Plainfield with one in Mirror Hall, Somerville. When he was in Somerville last year people drove in from the country for miles around to see his entertainments, and he obtained some of the finest mesmeric subjects at all his performances in that place. His engagement at Rahway Hall next week will prove one of the most entertaining ways of spending an evening. His experiments are laughable in the extreme.

Personals.

Ex-Mayor L. V. F. Randolph will leave in a day or two for the West, expecting to be absent for a month or more.

Mr. John Taylor Johnston and family of East Front street, Monday took up their residence in New York city for the Winter.

After an absence of four months Mr. Julian Hawthorne and his family have returned from Bay Harbor to their house at Scotch Plains.

Captain and Mrs. Phillips arrived in Plainfield Friday afternoon on the 2:36 train, after an extended trip to and through Europe.

Among the patents issued at the United States patent office, last week, was one to Mr. Jas. Duff, of this city, for an electric regulator for hydraulic elevator system.

Mr. W. J. Boone and family, who have been sojourning in this city, have taken up their residence for the Winter at No. 20 West seventeenth street, New York city.

Mr. Joseph A. Blatz, the proprietor of Blatz's Hotel, on Somerset street, North Plainfield, will open his palatial hotel to guests, "opening" on Thursday evening, November 17.

The Rev. W. D. MacClintock, who graduated from the Theological Seminary of Chautauqua University, has arrived in this city and assumed the labors and the duties of the position.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. McGee will give a big hop to a large number of invited guests, Monday evening, the 14th inst., from 8 to 11 o'clock, at their residence on Orchard place, North Plainfield.

The many friends of Mr. Harry A. Thornell of this city who went to Colorado a few weeks ago, for the benefit of his health, will regret to learn that his condition is not improved.

Mr. J. E. White, the prosperous dry-goods merchant of West Front street, has disposed of the property which he has been located in business, and will take a long and well-earned vacation.

At the eighth annual convention of the Union County S. S. Association, to be held at Cranford to-day, Sunday, the Rev. J. L. Hurlbut, D. D., will lead a conference on "The Sunday School and the Church Service."

The funeral of the late James S. Henry who died on Thursday, took place from the Holy Cross church Sunday afternoon, Rev. T. Logan Murphy officiating. Interment was made in the Presbyterian cemetery in North Plainfield.

Edgar E. Bliss, the little four-year-and-seven-month-old son of Jacob and Sarah A. Bliss, died at his father's residence, Farmers' Hotel, the 5d inst. The child was stricken down with croup, which ultimately resulted in his death.

Master Charley, young son of Mr. Alex. Warnock, was knocked down by a horse on West Front street, Monday evening, by which he was severely bruised. His wagon was broken and he received a severe scalp wound. Dr. Long dressed the wounds.

Mrs. Alexander Jeffers, died suddenly at her residence on Sherman avenue, Monday morning, from heart disease. The deceased had been ailing for some time, although not seriously so that she expected to soon. She arose as usual on Monday but soon after expired.

Invitations have been issued for a reception by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Duff, North Plainfield, will be held shortly after Thanksgiving, in the school building adjoining the church. So many, loving hands are at work for the occasion that it is expected this year's sale will eclipse all others.

While other cities are in trouble they have to turn to one. The people of Morristown were in darkness, and sent Plainfield word. Mr. James Skelly of this city left at once, and arriving at the gas-house at six o'clock in the evening, put a pop armature in that city's dynamo and had its lights running before nine.

Mr. James B. Henry, an old resident of North Plainfield, died at his home on Linden avenue, about ten o'clock p. m., Thursday, aged seventy-six years, five months and twenty-six days. A widow and seven grown-up children survive him, a daughter being the wife of Mr. Wm. B. Granniss of West Fourth street.

Dr. C. M. Field, who has been Summering at Cape Island, N. J., returned, on Tuesday, for home. The doctor is a passenger on the City of Chicago, and will probably reach New York about the middle of next week. To his father in this city, Dr. Field writes that he has left his patient resting his disease in France, which will be glad news to his numerous friends here.

At her home in North Plainfield, early last week Thursday, passed away, Annie, the beloved wife of Mr. John Schroppe, aged twenty-six years, five months and twenty-six days. The deceased was a victim of diphtheria, having lost a son from the same complaint on October 26th. She was a daughter of Mr. John A. Schaak of Sixth and Union streets, this city, and has been a life-long resident here. Besides the husband, one son, aged about three years, survives her.

A few of the most intimate friends of Master Raymond Potter tendered him a surprise party at his residence on West Sixth street Thursday p. m. Besides partaking of the bountiful spread of which description were indulged in. Among those present were the Misses Bessie Boardman, Evelyn Jenkins, Irma Sheppard, Annie Rungo, Bertha Potter, and Masters Wm. Buckalew, A. Sydney, Nat. Dilworth, C. Mundy, Fred Rungo, Wm. Simpson. The party broke up about eleven o'clock.

Adelaide Grannatt, daughter of Mr. William B. Grannatt of West Fourth street, from Grant avenue, who was injured by jumping from the cars near the Consolidated railroad bridge, while on her way to school a few weeks since, has so far recovered from her injuries as to be able to go about the house. Mr. Grannatt considers that, the result of the accident was the fault of the railroad company, but has not decided what course proceedings against the company, as the latter organization is desirous of paying all the bills incurred for the proper treatment of the child.

The services in Grace church Sunday evening, were of an interesting nature. Bishop Brewer of Fond du Lac, Mich., was present and preached an able sermon. The Rev. Dr. Langford of New York city, Grace church parish will soon begin the erection of a $25,000 edifice on the lot at the corner of Somerset and Dunham streets. The church will face on Seventh street, and it is said, its style of architecture will be very pretty. At the service in the church on Sunday morning, about $5,000 was pledged, and a subscription paper is being circulated among the parishioners.

Miss Ada G. Marsh called Saturday last on the elegant, commodious home of Mr. Parris, where she will complete her musical studies under the eminent Prof. de la Sux. Influential friends secured for Miss Marsh a special stateroom and the personal interest of the Captain and the Purser, but, nevertheless, it was a brave undertaking to cross the ocean at this season of the year. Corporation Counsel Marsh was prevented from accompanying his sister by the approaching theatre cases in which he is to assist the prosecution. Miss Marsh's fellow-passengers were the Earl and Lady Dalhousie.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. A. Wortmann of Madison avenue, entertained a select few friends on Wednesday evening, the 2d inst., after midnight when the company retiringly departed. Among those present were Mr. Chas. Schipper, Miss Schipper, Mrs. S. A. Pope, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pope, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wann, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Lowtis, Mrs. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Wickham Acton and Dr. Hedges.

A Church Tablet.

The Trinity Reformed church people are up and doing as the handsome tablet put on the front of their church last week gives evidence. It is in the shape of a shield, gold letters, black background, and reads as follows:

TRINITY REFORMED CHURCH.
REV. D. DOUGLAS BOARDMAN, Pastor.
Sabbath Services.
10:30 A. M.
7:30 P. M.
Sunday School 2:30 P. M.
Week-day Prayer Meeting Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at 8 o'clock.
ALL ARE WELCOME.

The Ladies' Mission Band.

The Mission Band composed of the ladies of the Presbyterian churches of the city, met Monday afternoon in the First Presbyterian church. The President, Mrs. S. R. Struthers, presided. Papers on mission work in Brazil were read by the Misses Eleanor Demarest, Sarah Berthner, Mary Patton and Mary Mather, besides poems by the Misses Anna Boardman and Anna W. Miller. The next meeting will be held in the Crescent Avenue church, in December. Miss Nellie Shepard and Miss Sadie Hayes have been appointed a Committee in charge. The talk will be on the work in Syria.

A Long Ride.

The year's record of miles traveled on his wheel by any member of the Plainfield Bicycle Club, ended Monday, but the committee's report has not yet been announced. It seems possible that but few of the members have endeavored to make a record for the entire twelve months, some of those who started in best, found it monotonous after a few months, but those who persevered will probably find the record of Treasurer Wm. H. Mitchell also monotonous. That gentleman has ridden during the past year on his bicycle, six thousand four hundred and four miles. which 1,600 miles were covered in the month of October.

Jug Breaking.

The Home Mission Society of the First Baptist church held a jug breaking entertainment in the society's school room, Thursday evening. The members of the society and its friends gathered there in large numbers, and spent the evening in jug breaking and other such amusements, about $65 in all was realized from the jugs. During the evening a quartette composed of Messrs. Elmer Reeves, B. T. Barnes, Miss Ketchum and Mrs. Shearer, rendered some excellent vocal selections, Miss Emma West gave a creditable recitation, and Miss Bigelow rendered a piano solo in an artistic manner; Mr. Geo. Brown, who acted as Master of Ceremonies at each application for the breaking of the jugs, struck for more money, when he demolished one of the jugs and found that it only contained two burned matches.

The Fanwood Literary Society.

The Fanwood Literary Society commenced operations Friday night, in a way that gave promise of good times in the future. The meetings will be held each week in the house of Mr. A. F. Simpson. Mrs. Simpson favored the company with a piano solo; Mr. Carnegie W. Smith read a selection entitled "All Is Not Gold," he was given by Mrs. Walter Force, after which Mrs. Bates read "Surly Tim," which was received with applause. The members themselves amused the company with what they called the "Chronicles of Fanwood," a jingly recounting of squibs and items gathered items at the Fanwood gentlemen. Of course this was the feature of the evening. The fearful strain following the imbibing of such "literature," was relieved by the good things from Mrs. Simpson's larder. Being refreshed, the meeting was closed by all hands taking a turn in the Virginia reel. Mr. Bates was the recipient of many congratulations, the occasion being the breaking of ground for his new house. The site is on North avenue, just opposite Hunter ave.

Constable Smith's Sentence.

At Court-clock on Friday a. m., in the City Court, Judge Ulrich presided. Constable Garrett P. Smith to thirty days in the County Jail, for keeping a gambling room. The Fines at the time pleaded guilty. Proof in support of the charge, and no evidence was then submitted in defense. Ex-Judge Runyan appeared, as he stated this morning, to file affidavits of error in K. McClure, Esq., the counsel with whom he had been associated in the case. He expressed his willingness to submit the matter without argument. Corporation Counsel Marsh, however, recalled the evidence to the mind of the Court, and commented on the fact that no evidence in a defence was presented. Judge Ulrich in passing sentence, spoke of the fact that the accused had already been convicted a hundred times by the Court for the violation of the same ordinance he was again charged under. This the Court felt was a most culpable fact, but yet would push New York about the matter in case to be that he a Constable elected to preserve the peace, permitted the existence in his place where cards were played for money and liquor was furnished minors.

Upon the consummance of the City Prosecutor's statement, Judge Ulrich ordered a recognizance, until five o'clock in the afternoon, and the prisoner was permitted to depart in the custody of Officer Lyden and endeavor to procure a speal bond. The prisoner was subsequently released on filing a satisfactory bond.

Crazed With Drink.

Mrs. Sylvester Cuff, of North Plainfield, got so full of fire-water, last week that she attempted to murder her husband, out with a club, threw a kerosene lamp on the floor, set the house afire and attempted to kill her three children.

Sylvester Cuff is a sober and industrious colored man, and most highly esteemed by Capt. J. Frank Hubbard, who has employed Cuff as his coachman for the past few years. Mr. Cuff, who has been a very sick woman during the past two weeks, is the mother of three children, the youngest of which is but five days old. This infant is deformed, having one white arm and a hair-lip. Whether Mrs. Cuff had grown morbid because of her sickness, or because of the birth of such a child, cannot be known, but yesterday she sold her chickens and last evening she left the house without signifying where she was going, and returned about nine o'clock chuck full of "rot"—a beverage resembling benitine and much in demand by colored people of the baser sort, hopers because it costs little, "takes hold" quick and "lets go" slow.

So soon as the crazed woman landed in the house she performance began. With a Letter G Gallagher, she blew down on the household effects like the eruption of Mount Bulli's Indians on the Overland Mail. She smashed out the windows and throwing the kerosene lamp on the floor thus set fire to the interior of the room. Neighbors arrived in time to put out the flames and Mr. Cuff succeeded in getting the children away from the mother who was threatening to kill them. The little ones were scarcely taken around the corner to the residence of Richard Wortman, on Harmony street, for safe keeping, but the child mother feared them, and making an opportunity she saw Mrs. Wortman leave the house by a back door for a pail of coal, and Mrs. Cuff then stole into the room where the children were. She seized the five-day-old infant and started for her home through the cold streets with parts of its little body exposed. Marshal Becker, however, rescued the child from her and carried it back to the care of Mrs. Wortman, while the Cuff woman returned to her home to sleep off the effects of the liquor she had drunk.

The total Prohibition vote in North Plainfield Township on Tuesday, was but 36.

Property Changes Hands.

Messrs. J. R. Millen and Bro., proprietors of Laing's Hotel, have purchased the desirable property on W. Seventh street, known as the Goodwin estate. The site occupies the entire block bounded by Madison and Central avenues, Seventh and Eighth streets, with the exception of a plot in the extreme South corner, where Mr. Alex. Gilbert is erecting a handsome residence. The consideration paid was something like $30,000.

C. L. S. C.

The Chautauqua local circle enjoyed a very pleasant evening, Saturday last, according to the programme published in these columns of the week before. The "Sketch of Harvard University," however, was omitted because of the absence of Mr. Arthur Mulford, whose paper it was to be. The Circle was particularly pleased with the T's handsome rooms when they met with Mrs. Hubbard, from Dr. Hurlbut down, were loud in their praises of them.

All We Can Wish For.

Residents of this city have suffered for years the greatest inconvenience if not delayed by duty or pleasure in New York after 10.30 at night. The result would be a trip home on a train reaching Plainfield all the way from 1.30 to 2.00 o'clock of the next morning. Now, however, we are told, that Mr. Babbitt has promised to run a train stopping at this city, which will leave New York at 11.30 and reach Plainfield inside of an hour. We can have nothing more to ask.

Fell From a Freight Car.

John Currid, a brakeman on drill engine No. 30 which is used to drill cars about the freight house in this city, was severely injured by falling from a freight car about 9 o'clock Friday morning. He was standing on top of a car communicating with brakes, when the brake-beam broke throwing him headforemost to the ground. The injured man was assisted into the freight house, where Dr. Pitts dressed the wounds, which consisted principally of cuts on the face and head and severe bruises about the body. Later he was taken to his home at Dunellen.

Sheriff Stiles Wins.

Sheriff Stiles, of this city some time since made a formal demand on the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders for the custody of the prisoners confined in County Jail at Elizabeth, claiming that under the law he was entitled to the care and keeping of all the prisoners incarcerated in the County Jail. The demand was refused, and the case was taken to the Supreme Court. Thursday a decision was rendered by the Supreme Court at Trenton, holding that sheriff Stiles had a right, during his term of office, to the custody of the prisoners. Under the decision of the Supreme Court in favor of Sheriff Stiles, the Board of Freeholders of Union county will bring suit against the county for pay for caring after the prisoners in that county during his term of office.

Not Much

In our mail of Friday last was dropped a postal card, as follows:

Mouse, Nov. 3.

Is not the city liable for the back fire cases?

A SUBSCRIBER.

If our correspondent means what he says we must answer "no," and that in answering "no" no matter what he means. The city is not liable for anything connected with the rise, support, progress or fall of the Fire Department of this city and North Plainfield. The present Board of Fire Commissioners deserve the credit of placing the Department in the strong est condition financially it has enjoyed the comfort of in many years; and the Supreme Court deserves the credit of upsetting it all providing the Court of Errors concurs.

If our correspondent means they not someone or some body be held liable to pay back the fire taxes because the Court holds that the tax was unconstitutional? we must again answer, "not much." Many people have paid taxes in the city of the facts, cannot be recovered. If a delinquent's goods had been sold to satisfy the fire tax, then recovery might be had in some way.

The Defendants Take an Appeal and the Plaintiff Accepts Service.

Nelson Hadley, drum-major for the only P. T. Barnum, succeeded through Corporation Counsel Marsh, in justice Scudder's Court on Friday, in recovering $32.50 for wages and $1 for witness fee. Hadley had been discharged from the "Greatest Show on Earth" and his wages withheld, because he had had a quarrel among the employees. A certain stipulation on the back of all contracts of the kind, reads to the effect that any one violation of the same ordinance he was again charged under. This the Court felt was a most culpable fact, but yet would push New York about the case to be that he a Constable elected to preserve the peace, permitted the existence in his place where cards were played for money and liquor was furnished minors.

Upon the consummance of the City Prosecutor's statement, Judge Ulrich ordered a recognizance, until five o'clock in the afternoon, and the prisoner was permitted to depart in the custody of Officer Lyden and endeavor to procure a speal bond. The prisoner was subsequently released on filing a satisfactory bond.

Our Prophecy.

Monday's Press said: "Every true Republican and every true Democrat in the city of New York, will assist in re-moving from office of a candidate willing to run on any ticket, and adopt any political principles, for the sake of getting them." And Nicoll was Tuesday defeated by many thousand votes.

An Old Timer.

On Tuesday Nov. 1 our old-time neighbor Jesse Thorn, reached the remarkable age of 76, and was hale and hearty enough to receive his friends who called to congratulate him on his anniversary, and leave substantial tokens of remembrance. "Jesse" polled a straight Democratic vote last Tuesday as usual.

Talk to Men Only.

One of the series of Popular Talks arranged by the Reception Committee of the Y. M. C. A. will be given by Mr. Ernest R. Ackerman on Friday evening of this week at 8 o'clock. Subject "Reminiscences of a trip across the continent." In the course of his remarks the speaker will describe a visit to an Ostrich Farm and a night in Chinatown. Admission by ticket which may be obtained without charge upon application at the Association Rooms.

Bishop Scarborough at Rahway.

Bishop Scarborough will make his first official visit to the Church of Our Saviour, next Sunday morning. He will administer the rite of confirmation. During his sojourn in the city he will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. J. J. H. Pollion at their residence, corner of Putnam and Kenilworth avenues, where the Bishop will be given a public reception on Saturday evening between the hours of 8.30 and 10.30 o'clock, to which all his friends are invited.

Week of Prayer.

The week commencing Nov. 13 and continuing until the 19th, is observed as a week of prayer for young men in all the Associations throughout the country. It is observed by young men's meetings on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings at 8 o'clock. The first meeting will be an inspiring service on the day of prayer, Sunday, the 13th, at 9 a. m., and will be led by Mr. C. T. Richards. The meetings are open to everyone and all christian young men are especially urged to be present at this time.

Fire in the Third Ward.

The Third Ward voters came near being minus a polling place Tuesday. On Monday night, Mr. J. F. Sharp, the proprietor of the carriage factory and repair shop, held the Third ward election, was working in the upper story of the building with a lighted lamp, when he knocked over a kerosene lamp. The lamp exploded, and the burning fluid ignited with the woodwork. Despite Mr. Sharp's efforts to stay the progress of the fire, the flames spread with alarming rapidity, and only by his heroic efforts was the fire subdued before doing much damage, and before an alarm was sounded.

More School's We Must Have.

The public schools are becoming more and more crowded, especially in the Primary Department. Fifty scholars are the utmost number that one teacher can properly handle. Yet some of the rooms have seventy and eighty already, and the children are still coming in. It would be an injustice to go back to the half-day system, sending each child for only half a day; since it would require them to take two years for the work of one, and thus place them one year back in their education. We need more schools and more money to support them, and the people should vote it as soon as they have a chance.

"N. S. M."

From the list of principal meetings and speakers officially assigned by the Speaker of New Jersey for the "November Simultaneous Meetings" of next week, we learn that the principal meeting in this city will be held on Tuesday the 15th. This meeting will be addressed by Prof. Merril E. Gates, President of Rutgers College, and the Rev. F. F. White, D. D. The Rev. W. R. Richards of this city speaks at New Brunswick, Tuesday of next week, and the Rev. S. F. Ketchum, D. D., will speak at Princeton on Wednesday, the 16th inst, and at Milford the following day.

These "Simultaneous Meetings" are a new idea which, in the present widespread interest in Foreign Missions, is attracting eager attention in Christian circles all over the World. Letters showing this, come from all points; among them Mexico, our own territories, from South America, Western Africa, Turkey, India, Persia, Siam, China, Japan, and from various departments of Christians. That New Jersey is the first to show, on any considerable scale, this new plan of moving the churches, is surely of interest to all Jerseymen.

Library Directors Meeting.

The regular November meeting of the Board of Directors of the Plainfield Public Library and Free Reading room, was held in the library building Thursday evening, last, with President Male in the chair. Other members were present as follows: Messrs. Tyler, Treey, Baldwin and Babbitt. The minutes of the meeting of October 5th, were adopted as read. Claims were presented as follows: Flora M. Porter, $18.38; W. L. Force & Bro., 312; Library Bureau of Boston, 863.14; A. W. Tyler, salary for October, $100; E. M. Odam, $40; E. L. Adams, $27.45; W. H. Mitchell, $27.45; Mrs. Hubbard, $27.45; J. C. Pope & Co., insurance, $24. The bills of Mr. Williams and the Gas Company were upon motion ordered paid from the general fund. Bills of Miss Adams and the Library Bureau of Boston were ordered paid from the special fund, and the bills of Messrs. Tyler and Odam were ordered paid from the special fund, the remainder from the general fund. The treasurer reported that he had received a subscription of $100 from Mr. J. R. Hubbard for the benefit of the book fund. The following letter was received from Julian Scott, and opened upon the minutes:

Rutland, Vt., Nov. 3, 1887.

Your letter of yesterday giving official notice of the action taken by the Board of Directors of the Male Library and Art Gallery, which by resolution presented to me by Mr. Hubbard, I hold as a trust, has been received. In return permit me to say, I have always felt a deep interest in the Library and Art Gallery, and have watched its growth with pleasure, and am glad to be able to say that I have been given, only to express my interest and thankfulness. I however accept the trust faithfully and gladly, honoring the Board that its kindness will not be forgotten. I will never command gratitude and services of

Yours most respectfully and truly,
JULIAN SCOTT.

Plainfield, N. J., Aug. 8th, 1887.

The Art Committee presented the following resolution which was on motion adopted:

"Resolved, That the Art Committee be authorized to arrange for an art school in connection with the Art Gallery, provided the same can be done without expense to the general fund."

The Art Committee also reported progress on the Schoolcraft picture.

The monthly report of the Librarian for October was received and ordered on file. It was as follows:

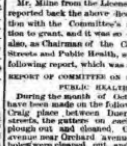
LIBRARIAN'S REPORT.

Vols. on Accession book, Sep. 30th, 1887	6,151
No. of Card holders	971
Vols. added by purchase and donation	61
Volumes in building during month	1,500
Fiction	307
Biography	32
History	31
Geography	3
Travels	12
Poetry	3
Philosophy	3
Religion	3
Natural Science	3
Useful Arts	3
Fine Arts	3
Literature	3
Periodicals	3
Total	1,500

A. W. TYLER, Librarian.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER Co., 106 Wall-street, New York.—1(2)17.

DEMAREST'S


NEW STORE.
Choice Creamery Butter. The best in the city. Try it and be convinced. Mason's jars, with porcelain lined tops. Lighting Jars and Jelly Tumblers. Pure Spices, all kinds. Green Ginger Root, Mustard Seed, and Fruits of all kinds, in their season. All of which are sold at Bottom Prices.
P. M. DEMAREST,
27 PARK AVENUE

WHITNEY
OFFERS FOR 30 DAYS
HIS ENTIRE STOCK OF
-:DRY-:-GOODS:-
AND CARPETS,
AT SPECIAL
LOW-:-PRICES!
Previous to his Annual Inventory!
Do not lose the opportunity of making selections now while the assortment is complete
Opposite Post Office.

Sebring Bros.,
Clothiers,
Large Display
—OF—
CLOTHS!

BOROUGH COUNCIL MEETING.

The regular November meeting of the Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield was held Friday night last with Mayor Cooley in the chair. The other Councilmen present were: Messrs. Milne, McCutchen, Motice and Slater. Councilmen Rikert and Noyes were absent. The minutes of the two previous meetings, regular and adjourned, were read and approved after some slight alterations were made.

Petitions were presented as follows: From August Beaman for peddler's license, referred to License Committee. From Chas. H. Green, W. Meade and others, asking for a sidewalk on the Mercer avenue side of Mr. L. L. Martin's property, referred to the Street Committee.

Claims were presented and referred as follows: F. A. Dunham, $29.50; Thos. J. Young, $7.50; Jess. P. Becker, $37.50; Geo. F. Becker, $8.95.

The Clerk presented his monthly statement, and upon motion of Mr. Slater it was ordered filed. It was as follows:

Balance on hand at last report,	$288.80
Received from Licenses,	20.00
Received from Fines,	89.00
	$397.80
Disbursed by order of Council on warrants:
Geo. F. Becker, salary for Aug.,	37.50
" " " Sept.,	37.50
Thos. J. Young, sidewalks,	39.32
Jas. A. Mead, sealer of weights,	7.00
	$148.32
Balance on hand, Nov. 4, 1887,	$ 97.76

Mr. Milne from the License Committee, reported back the above license application with the Committee's recommendation to grant, and it was so ordered. He also, as Chairman of the Committee on Streets and Public Health, submitted the following report, which was accepted:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON STREETS AND PUBLIC HEALTH.

During the month of October repairs have been made on Fisher avenue; Craig place between Dier and Grove streets, the gutters on each side were plowed out and scraped; Rockview avenue near Orchard avenue, two manholes were cleaned out and 20 loads of gravel were carted away. On Emily street between Orchard and Dover avenue and Dunham street, there were spread 80 loads of gravel, to partially fill up the low places on the road. On Dover street from Jackson avenue to Green Brook road the gutters on each side of the roadway have been cleaned out and cut down to the proper depth. At the present time this work is in progress and will probably be completed this week to Hillman's bridge on Somerset street.

A. H. MILNE, Chairman.

North Plainfield, Nov. 6, '87.

In addition to the above report, Mr. Milne said that the Committee found no money in disposition of the surplus dirt taken from the gutters, but that it is cheaper to give the dirt away where persons would haul it, than to pay thirty cents a load for same. He also presented the financial report, showing the expenditures for street work. It was received and filed.

A lengthy discussion followed on the matter of transferring the above claims to the Auditing Committee. The bill of T. J. Young, $7.50, for laying sidewalk, was held in the hands of the Committee, in order that the work might be certified to. Mr. McCutchen said that he had personally assumed the responsibility for the payment of Mr. Young's bill, and was asked to withdraw it. Mr. Slater thought it was hardly consistent for the Council to ask Mr. McCutchen to withdraw the claim, as the bill was for an order rendered, in stating out and ascertaining the exact grade required on certain streets in the borough, which properly owned, had petitioned the Council to have macadamized at a previous meeting. Mr. Milne concurred with Mr. Slater in his views, and said that a previous Council had allowed a similar claim passed it with others into the hands of the Auditing Committee.

There being but one member of the Auditing Committee present, Mr. McCutchen moved to suspend the rules so as to allow one member to make a report, and Mr. Slater from said Committee, reluctantly reported the bills of F. A. Dunham and Jess. P. Becker, recommending that the former be paid from the road fund, and the latter from the borough fund. It was so ordered.

A call of long standing held by the Auditing Committee, Mr. Slater moved to refer to the Committee on Laws and Ordinances, they to report with recommendations. Carried.

Mr. Milne reported favorably on the petition for a sidewalk on Mercer avenue, above alluded to, and a resolution offered by Mr. McCutchen, to allow the said walk be laid in conformity with the borough ordinance, prevailed.

Mr. Milne also offered a resolution providing for the laying of a sidewalk where none now exists, on the northerly side of Lansing avenue from the Somerset road and Woodruff avenue, the same to be laid so as to conform with the ordinance. The resolution was adopted.

A resolution presented by Mr. McCutchen authorizing the laying of a walk on the westerly side of Washington avenue, between Linden avenue and Park place, was adopted.

Mr. McCutchen said that the action of the Plainfield Electric Light Company in putting off the arc lights in North Plainfield, had left that borough in a bad plight. He offered a resolution that the Fire Wardens and Lamp Committee consider the probable cost of maintaining a sufficient number of lamps, during the Winter season, to light the borough, said Committee to make a report at the earliest possible convenience. After voting down the adoption of the resolution, the Mayor stated that he had consulted with Mr. Moore, the manager for the Electric Light Company, and had been informed that the company could not furnish more gas-lights until the youths had been gone over. In the event of the borough entering into a contract with the company, sixty day's time would be required after signing the contract, to complete the circuit. The company also declared to have speedy action taken in the matter, that the cold and freezing weather would necessitate the laying of the mains at a greater depth, etc. Mr. Moore had kindly consented to place a gas-lamp at the corner of Somerset and Dunham streets, for the purpose of conveying one or more of its members over the same so as to inspect the lamps referred to are 25-candle power incandescents, the same that will light the city during the Winter; Mr. McCutchen accordingly moved with Mr. Moore, the manager for the Electric Light Company, and was MARVELOUSLY MATED.

Pretty Kitty, when I asked her,
Why it was she scorned Edward,
Said: "Because you are so homely—
If you'd really like to know."

But, I think, if you will listen,
I can clearly prove it true.
I've so many points of beauty,
Wicked Kitty, as have you.

Just as many points of beauty,
Though they're differently arranged;
But, of course, it one was master
Simply what the other is changed.

You're a mouth of rosy redness,
I've a nose that's full as red;
You've a pair of pretty eyelids,
So's the hair upon my head.

Smooth your cheek, and round and shining,
So's my crown, you empty Kate.
You've two dimples, round and pretty,
I have many, and of weight.

All a mass of gold your tresses,
Mostly golding nature's few.
Should your arm, and round your shoulder,
Am not I round about, too?

You're a hand of marvelous softness,
You're head to mate with it.
You've a waist, amazing slender,
I'm match with my wit.

You've a rosie of rippling water,
I've a pair of supreme eyes.
You've a smile that fills the heavens,
I've a mouth that very size.

So you could, you pretty Kitty,
Though in beauty you excel,
If you like, by change be matched,
I compare conversely well.

J. P. Lesse, in Life.

TREASURY WEDDINGS.

An Order Which Will Bring Joy to Many Hearts.

The recent decision of Secretary Fairchild, which will hereafter afford relief to many of the Washington fiancés, to which the Post has had occasion to refer from time to time against the employment of a man and his wife both under the Government is removed, has caused a considerable flutter of excitement in the department, and may be the means of bringing about many happy unions. I know," he continued, "several cases wherein Government clerks have become attached to ladies who were also in the employ of Uncle Sam, and who have postponed their wedding day because were not satisfied that the salary of one could comfortably support them both; as one of the conditions of young men is that not suppose that he ever had a dollar three days ahead of his income, but his semi-monthly pay, and he always was in debt, though he could never give any good account of the way in which it was spent, so happened that the lady came into the office in which he was employed and fell in love with his official communication to the chief of his division. He was struck with her application, and as the official matter was one that came immediately under his control, the chief could not avoid presenting him to the young lady, and then told him to furnish the information that was required for in the letter which she brought. After she went out, he went to his chief and said:

"Do you know, I think if that girl would have me I'd marry her at once."

"The chief told him that the only way to find out was to make a personal investigation, which he was another that could not be done by proxy, at least it was not ordinarily done, and advised him to seek someone who knew the young lady and recommend her to the confidential clerk's office, which would entitle him to call upon her. The chief thought no more about the matter until about two weeks after that the young man came in one morning and said:

"Do you know, I called on Miss —— last night."

"What's Miss ——?"

"Why, you know that girl that he thought that I ought to marry."

"Then the matter came back to the official, and he asked him how he managed to secure an introduction. The young man told him the story of how he had followed the instructions of his superior officer in the department and found out where she lived, and then fortunately discovered that a friend of his resided in the same square. He called upon his friend and suddenly became quite intimate here, and readily secured an introduction to the lady through his friend. That first was the commencement of a friendship which gradually ripened into a stronger attachment, and they naturally became engaged to be married. The girl was of stronger character than the young man, and it was left to inside him tell her his exact financial circumstances.

"She replied that he was deeply in debt, and though since he had made her acquainted with the fact he had spent no extravagances that he had formerly been guilty of, he was paying over to every his rigid economy it would take him about nine months to put him of square with the world. Every dollar of exactly how his debts should be paid; and month by month, for nine months he went to work the greater portion of his salary toward the liquidation of those debts. At the end of that time he stood fair to the world as the world, and did not owe any man a dollar. Then they were married, and went to be married first, she demurred, declaring she would like to have saved something to start with, that she wanted money enough to furnish a little house and set her commence her the serious business of life when they should really make a start. But he was over six months ago. They had decided that it would be a year for them to save enough to keep the wolf from the door, and were compelled to work both night and day, she was always ready and anxious to do the greatest amount of extra work. You may imagine that they were glad to spring and every body supposed that she had long ago given up any idea of entering the married state. Nobody ever thought of her being married at all, and the younger girls in the room used frequently to scoff her and say that she had wasted the best portion of her life in the Government service, and she used to tell to get married, and that it was a shame that her amiable disposition had not been utilized to make a home for some good man. She took all this stuff in a sweet spirit, and would only reply that possibly her time might at some of them days. For myself I never believed that she would get married, because she was far from prepossessing in appearance—she was quite homely, for months ago I was very much surprised to receive her resignation. Just at the time she resigned we were doing a great deal of work, and I did not want to lose her services, so I went to her and asked her if she could not defer her resignation for a month. She hesitated for a few moments and finally said that she didn't know that a month would make any particular difference, and so she stayed another month. I asked the reason why she resigned, and she simply said that it was a personal matter, and declined to say more. I had with her treatment in the bureau, and that she had worked very hard for a number of years, she had been moderately economical with her money, and had saved enough to enable her to live comfortably without work for the rest of her life, if she should so desire. When she went away all the girls were very sorry to lose her, and all missed their regard the day she told her departure. How many the Fairy part of it. Two or three days afterwards there appeared in the Post a brief announcement of the marriage of this lady to a respectable German in this city, but the name of the marriage was many years ago. Then this woman had been employed in that bureau for nine years after her marriage, had kept her secret so well that not one of her most intimate friends in the bureau, had the slightest idea that she had ever been married. On the 1st, and I know, that had the fact become known she would have at once been compelled to resign her situation. If she had known that Secretary Fairchild would have made the order that he has recently put out, she probably would have continued in the service of the Government."

"I have as a wedding the other night," said an old resident of Washington recently the rest I of Secretary Fairchild's recent order. The groom was a messenger who sits outside of the door of the office you know, a bright mulatto, and quite an intelligent darkey. He don't get much money—only $ 7 dollars a month, and he probably thought that was hard enough to support himself and a wife, because he is very fashionable in his dress, and if you shoot one him at church some Sunday in the swell Presbyterian edifice on Fifteenth street you would think he owned the whole town rather than was connected to get on the street car line. He don't get draw fifty dollars a month. His wife is a young woman who used to be seen on afternoon after four o'clock within a room and a complete going through the corridors of the south side of the building, and is ruled on the rules as a class woman the age of thirty dollars a month. It seems to me yesterday afternoon just before the time for the office to close that I said: "I'm going to get married to-night, and I should esteem it a great favor if you would come and witness the ceremony." I looked at my watch and found that it was half past two. Of course this has greatly depleted my system, together with carriage expenses on the big hack, and I had to go to the pawnbroker to build up my system, but soon did me good until Uncle D. B. was in every spirits. It always builds me up, giving me a pleasant smile. I went over time me to mend the long, weary, overworking, hot summer days. Some three in each number to purchase the ladies and did but dirty up the wasted system as D. B. C. On each of the days during the days of both and many of mind. My color changed from a pale white to a healthy, robust composition."

Mr. G. N. Frazer, of Paint-ville, Texas, writes: "About August 1st, 1885, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which proved to be a bad case of scrofula. My physician treated me for it, but I finally commenced using Swift's Specific. I am glad to say that after using three large bottles I am entirely free from it." Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Central Railroad of New Jersey

Station in New York—Foot of Liberty Street.

Time Table in Effect October 11, 1887.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 3.37, 5.43, 6.33, 7.05, 7.39, 8.03, 8.25, 9.05, 9.30, 10.05, 10.40, 11.05, 11.35 a. m., 12.35, 1.27, 2.15, 3.05, 3.30, 3.54, 4.25, 5.05, 5.30, 6.05, 6.35, 11.05 p. m. Sunday—4.05, 5.05, 6.05, 10.30, 11.32 a. m., 1.37, 2.30, 3.34, 7.30, 7.30, 9.30 p. m.

Leave New York from foot of Liberty Street, 4.00, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 10.30, 11.00 a. m., 12.00, 1.00, 2.30, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.30, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 p. m. Sunday—4.00, 5.45, 8.00 a. m., 12.00, m., 1.30, 4.00, 5.30, 8.00, 9.00 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield 5.43, 6.33, 7.05, 7.39, 8.03, 8.25, 9.05, 9.30, 10.05, 10.40, 11.05, 11.35 a. m., 12.35, 1.27, 2.15, 3.05, 3.30, 3.54, 4.25, 5.05, 5.30, 6.05, 6.35, 11.05 p. m. Sunday—8.05, 10.30, 11.32 a. m., 1.37, 2.30, 3.34, 7.30, 7.30, 9.30 p. m.

Leave Newark—6.20, 7.34, 8.30, 9.05, 10.30, 11.30 a. m., 12.30, 1.30, 2.30, 3.30, 4.30, 5.30, 6.30, 7.30, 8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 p. m. Sunday—8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 a. m., 12.30 night, 1.30, 4.30, 5.30, 6.30, 7.30, 8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 p. m.

Passengers for Newark change corner Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 6.30, 8.00, 9.30, 11.00 a. m., 2.00, 3.30, 4.30, 5.30, 6.30, 8.00, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 p. m. Sunday—9.30 a. m., 4.30, 5.30, 6.30, 8.00, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 p. m.

Leave Somerville 6.30, 8.00, 9.30, 11.00 a. m., 2.00, 3.30, 4.30, 5.30, 6.30, 8.00, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 p. m. Sunday—9.30 a. m., 4.30, 5.30, 6.30, 8.00, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND RARITAN.

Leave Plainfield 6.30, 8.00, 9.30, 11.00 a. m., 2.00, 3.30, 4.30, 5.30, 6.30, 8.00, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 p. m. Sunday—8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 p. m.

Leave Raritan 6.35, 8.07, 9.40, 11.40, 2.40, 4.10, 5.08, 6.40, 8.10, 9.40, 10.40, 11.40 p. m. Sunday—9.40, 10.40, 11.40 p. m.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

LEAVE PLAINFIELD

5.30, a. m.—For Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg and Mauch Chunk, connecting at High Bridge for Lebanon and Lancaster, Lake Hopatcong, etc., Sundays only.

7.14, a. m.—For Flemington.

8.35, a. m.—For High Bridge Branch, Schooley's Mountain, Lake Hopatcong, Easton, Wind Gap, and Mauch Chunk.

9.2, a. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Wind Gap, Stroudsburg, Nauhauke, Upper Lehigh, Scranton, Wilkesbarre, etc.

2.59, p. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Wind Gap, etc.

5.36, p. m.—For Easton, Wind Gap, Mauch Chunk, Tuscarora, Pottsville, Williamsport, Harrisburg, Scranton, etc.

8.10, p. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Schooley's Mountain, Lake Hopatcong, Easton, etc.

6.05, p. m.—For Flemington.

8.30, p. m.—For Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, etc.

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c.

Leave Plainfield 3.37, 6.02, 11.06, a. m., 12.33, 2.41, 4.26, 5.34 p. m. Sundays—7.37 a. m., 5.16, 6.36, p. m.

For Asbury—3.37, 7.43, 8.01, 12.06, 11.43 a. m., 12.33, 2.41, 4.26, 5.34 p. m. Sundays—7.37 a. m., 5.16, 6.36, p. m. Sundays—7.37 a. m., 12.33, 3.54, 5.34 p. m. Sunday—8.37 a. m.

SOUND BROOK ROUTE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia and Trenton, 6.37, 8.37, 9.37 a. m., 12.37, 2.37, 4.37, 6.37, 8.37, 11.37 p. m. Sunday—1.37, 9.36, 8.37, 9.36, p. m.

RETURNING.—LEAVE PHILADELPHIA.

Ninth and Green streets, 3.30, 6.30, 7.30, 9.30, 1.15, 3.45, 5.15, 7.00, 12.00, p. m. Sunday—8.30, 9.30, 5.00, 12.00, p. m.

From Third and Berks streets, 5.00, 9.05, 10.30, a. m., 1.00, 1.30, 3.30, 6.30, p. m. Sunday—8.30, a. m., 4.00, p. m.

Leave Trenton, Warren and Tucker streets, 3.30, 5.10, 10.30, 11.55, a. m., 1.34, 4.15, 5.40, 7.30, 10.30, p. m. Sunday—8.30, 9.30, 10.30, a. m., 4.00, 7.30, p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked' change cars at Round Brook.

J. H. OLMSTEAD, Gen'l Pass'r Agt.

Coughs, Sore Throat, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Croup, Bronchitis, Asthma, and every affection of the Throat, Lungs, and Chest are speedily and permanently cured by the use of which does not dry up a cough and have the same belief, but loosens it, causes expectoration, relieves the lungs, and assists the cure of the complaint. ONE SATISFIED USER recommends it to his friends, and the sale is thus increased to an enormous extent. Be sure to get the genuine. Each bottle has a steel plate engraving of DR. WISTAR on the wrapper. SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE. Price, $1.00. Prepared only by SETH W. FOWLE & SON, Boston, Mass. Sold by dealers generally.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY,

CHAS. YAEGER,
Practical Upholsterer
33 WEST FRONT STREET,
OPPOSITE MUSIC HALL.
25 Years Experience in all Branches.
P. O. BOX 183. ly

PAXINE

PAXINE is the result of the best efforts of several eminent physicians and chemists. The ingredients are recognized by the profession as the best remedies known for the diseases for which it is recommended. It is superior to Quinine, Arsenic, Strychnine, and all the other poisonous preparations of the day, because it does not contain a single poisonous drug, and consequently leaves no bad effects upon the system. It is a positive cure for Chills and Fever, Malaria, Dumb Ague, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Nervous Debility, Nervousness, Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Female Weakness, and all diseases arising from a disordered Liver, Stomach, Blood or Nervous System. Price, $1.00 per bottle. Sold by druggists generally. Prepared only by the Paxine Chemical Co. (Limited), 30 Vesey St., N. Y.

A WONDERFUL OCCURRENCE.

C. T. Dingee, who has been for the past four years, and is now, agent for the Pullman Palace Car Co., was appointed to the position of Superintendent of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad. Horace Gray, the general freight agent of the Illinois Central, and General Manager E. St. John, of the Rock Island, years ago about fifty dollars a month for keeping books and assisting and helping with the freight in the Illinois Central office. Superintendent Hughitt, of the Illinois Central started in as an office boy in the 70s. President Jim Hill of the Great Northern Railway, for years, was a messenger boy in the N. P. Railroad office. Marvin Hughitt, the general freight agent of the Northern Pacific, was once drawing the pension for Peter Cooper's Railroad. Commissioner George F. Daniels was a rodman in his early railroading days. Division Superintendent Chamberlain, one of the best-liked men on the Rock Island, began as a call boy and call accountant on the New York Third avenue street railway line. Horace Porter, now the general freight agent of the Illinois Central, and General Manager E. St. John, of the Rock Island, both began by helping in the ticket offices of small roads.

OWNS AND OPERATES OVER
6,000 Miles
OF PERFECTLY CONSTRUCTED RAILWAY.

PENETRATES THE BEST PORTIONS OF ILLINOIS, IOWA, WISCONSIN, MICHIGAN, MINNESOTA, DAKOTA, NEBRASKA, and WYOMING.

CHICAGO & NORTH-WESTERN RAILWAY

CHICAGO
and
MILWAUKEE, ST. PAUL, MINNEAPOLIS,
COUNCIL BLUFFS, OMAHA.

THE FOUR REGIONS OF MICHIGAN
THE PEERLESS DAKOTAS
AND NORTHERN NEBRASKA
THE GREAT SUMMER RESORTS OF BLACK HILLS
THE PIONEER LINE TO CALIFORNIA

For maps, time tables, and information in the United States, Canada or England, apply to

H. A. CROSS, Trans. Pass. Agt., Chicago.
E. ST. JOHN, Gen'l Pass. & Ticket Agt., Chicago.
E. A. HOLBROOK, Gen'l Sup. & Pass. Agt., Chicago.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

READ WHAT

WATSON & CO.

HAVE TO SAY ABOUT CLOTHING!

Since our REMOVAL to our NEW BUILDING we have been busy preparing an entire NEW STOCK of THE BEST SHAPED AND FINEST FINISHED CARMENTS ever shown to our customers; and today we have an immense stock of ALL NEW, STYLISH, HANDSOME and VERY LOW in price. Never was such a stock of ELEGANT CARMENTS shown in the city, each a perfect copy of the most expensive custom-made work, and never before were such low prices named for garments of equal style and durability. It requires no expert to judge of the merits of our stock; for even the most inexperienced at a glance will see their IMPROVED DRESS APPEARANCE when they try them on. Think of the FINEST CASSIMERE PANTS, cut by special patterns, marked in plain figures, at $5, $5.50 and $6 a Pair. The new Cheviots and Shaded Striped Pants, now so popular in custom trade, selling for $3, $3.50 and $4, or our broken lots of FINE PANTS MARKED DOWN daily to close out quick at $2, 2.50 and $3.00 A PAIR. We are quoting prices that can only be made under LOW EXPENSES. We may not be clearing large profits, but we are selling goods, and lots of them, pleasing our old customers, and making new ones, simply by giving them BETTER GOODS than they ever saw, ALL READY TO PUT ON, and saving them all useless expenses like the cost of shows in windows, circus wagons, signs on fences, gifts, commissions, or discounts to favored customers or their friends. You can surely save from 20 to 25 per cent. on your FALL SUITS by coming direct to us. We are finishing daily full lines in all the New Cuts, complete for $10 and $12. The popular GOLD THREAD CHEVIOTS that merchants tailors are using, we get up very handsome, and sell at $13 and $15 for complete suits, and in Dress Suits, we have a complete department, stocked with the very latest patterns, where you can select a suit for $15, $18 and $20, for which a merchant tailor would surely charge you twice as much and rarely give you such elegant garments. OUR NEW OVERCOAT SALESROOM, on second floor, is now open; and here you can find Montaignac Beavers, satin-lined, for $25; Elysians, all new shades, at $22; Kerseys, in solid and mixed colors, at $18 and $20; Diagonal Velours, (new this season) at $16 and $16, and All-wool Chesterfield Overcoats, lined with cassimere, in all the long cuts, at $10 and $12; besides a Hundred Stylish and durable designs, in all shades, at $7, $8 and $9. Remember, these garments are all cut single by special patterns drafted from actual measure taken in our custom department, kept on convenient racks, and handed to you, fresh from the hands of our tailors, free from all creases, wrinkles, or any of the usually objectionable ready-made look. The materials from which FINE CLOTHING is made were never as low as now, and as labor is only a trifle higher you should buy your clothing from 20 to 30 per cent. below the rates of former years; and this you can do if you save all Intermediate Profits and Useless Expenses and come direct to the makers for it. Before ordering your Winter Clothing you should try on our New Garments. They are Custom Made in every detail. No tailor uses Finer or Newer Fabrics, our Trimmings are the same, the BEST CUSTOM TAILORS WORK for us. Then how can the difference in the garments be told when worn from the most expensive work? Besides you can see just how the goods Look when Made Up and have no trouble in waiting. This is where we are pushing our "fine city trade," a REALLY HANDSOME, CORRECT CUT GARMENT, FINISHED, WITH ALL CUSTOM EXTRAS, ALL READY TO PUT ON. It is a fact well known to the public, and not disputed in the trade, that our garments are extensively copied, but NEVER REPRODUCED as we set THEM OUT. SEE THEM and none of the ordinary styles will look right to you.

GEORGE WATSON & CO.,

MAKERS OF PERFECT-FITTING CLOTHING,

795 BROAD STREET,

Four Doors Below Market Street, Newark, N. J.

A. M. Vanderbeek & Co.,

This year will sell

GUNS AND GUNNERS' SUPPLIES, CHEAPER THAN EVER BEFORE. BOTH BREECH AND MUZZLE - LOADERS. Also Rifles, Pistols, Ammunition, Gun Materials, &c.

Music and Musical Instruments, MUSIC STANDS, CORNETS, BANJOS, VIOLINS.

Everything in the Musical Line.
No. 33 Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

New Store! New Goods! New Firm!

BARKALEW & DUNN,

Fancy and Staple Grocers,
NO. 18 NORTH AVENUE.
We sell for Cash and will give Special Inducements.

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE.—The Books of the Overseer of the Poor, containing a list of the appeals for 1887, can be seen at the office of the Collector, 1887. JOHN F. KELLY, Collector.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscribers as Executors of the last will and testament of HARRIET OSBORN, late of Plainfield, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday, the 21st day of December, 1887.

HARRIET OSBORN,
WILLIAM W. HARRIS,
Executors.

Dated August 31st, 1887. 1m$9.20

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscriber as Executor of the last will and testament of ELIZABETH D. VANWINKLE, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday, the 21st day of December, 1887.

WILLIAM W. HARRIS,
Executor.

Dated October 3rd, 1887. 1m$9.20

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors

Union County Surrogate's Office,
Elizabeth, Oct. 19th, 1887.

Jacob Long, the Executor of Rachel Garrett, deceased.

On application of the above named Executor it is ordered that said Executor give public notice to the creditors of the said deceased to bring their bills, debts, demands or claims against the estate of said deceased to him within nine months from the date hereof, by setting up a copy of this order at the most public place in each township in the county of Union, for two successive weeks within the said term of nine months, and also by advertising in the Plainfield Press, a newspaper published in the county of Union, for two successive weeks within the said term of nine months. And it is further ordered, that the said Executor shall not be compelled to pay the debts, demands or claims of any creditor who shall not bring in his bill, debt, demand or claim within the said period of nine months, and that the said Executor shall not be liable for any such debt, demand or claim which shall be presented after the expiration of the said period of nine months, and before any action be commenced against him for the same.

By the Court.
JAS. J. GERBER, Surrogate.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors

Union County Surrogate's Office,
Elizabeth, Oct. 19th, 1887.

Benjamin A. Shepherd, Executor of Henry Hoffner, Deceased, George D. Lyon, and Silas D. Wright, Executors of Jacob Lyon, Deceased, Petitioners.

On application of the above named Executors it is ordered that said Executors give public notice to the creditors of the said deceased to bring their bills, debts, demands or claims against the estate of said deceased to them within nine months from the date hereof, by setting up a copy of this order at the most public place in each township in the county of Union, for two successive weeks within the said term of nine months, and also by advertising in the Plainfield Press, a newspaper published in the county of Union, for two successive weeks within the said term of nine months. And it is further ordered, that the said Executors shall not be compelled to pay the debts, demands or claims of any creditor who shall not bring in his bill, debt, demand or claim within the said period of nine months, and that the said Executors shall not be liable for any such debt, demand or claim which shall be presented after the expiration of the said period of nine months, and before any action be commenced against them for the same.

By the Court.
JAMES J. GERBER, Surrogate.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.—TO DANIEL R. SHARPE, MARY E. VANDERBEEK, Rachel Randolph, Amelia S. Howell and Fannie L. Randolph:

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the 17th day of November, in a cause wherein Charles H. Hand is complainant, and you, Daniel R. Sharpe and others are defendants, you are required to appear and demur or plead to the said bill of complainant on or before the twenty-third day of December next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to have certain lands in the City of Plainfield and Township of Fanwood, Union County, New Jersey, in said bill described, sold under the decree of this Court obtained by Rhoda Harrison against you in the above stated cause, and to have the proceeds of said sale, less such charges as may be allowed by the Court, paid to the complainant herein, and finally owned by you, after said judgment was obtained, and to have the same applied in payment of said judgment, as to said Daniel R. Sharpe, declared void and set aside as fraudulent and void.

JACKSON & CODDINGTON,
Complainant's Solicitors,
Plainfield, New Jersey.

Dated, Sept. 23rd, 1887. 6t$9.27

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.—TO MARY E. VANDERBEEK and others:

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey made on the 17th day of October, in a cause wherein George Kyte is complainant, and you and others are defendants, you are required to appear, plead, answer or demur to the bill of said complainant on or before the thirteenth day of December next.

The said bill is filed for the purpose of certain lands in the township of Fanwood, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, and Freeman Smith their friend, and you, Mary E. Vanderbeek, and others, to be sold for the payment of the debts which you are bounden in common thereto.

Dated the twenty-fifth day of October, A. D. 1887.

JACKSON & CODDINGTON,
Complainant's Solicitors,
Plainfield, New Jersey.

TAXES.

Notice is hereby given to the TAX Payers of of the City of Plainfield, that the Taxes assessed in said City for the year 1887, are now due and payable, and that

If the said Taxes be not paid by the 20th Day of December next,

The names of the defaulters, with their respective Taxes, will be returned to the City Judge for prosecution.

The Commissioners of Appeal in cases of Taxation do and for said City will meet at the Common Council Chamber on Tuesday, the 3rd day of November next, at 10 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of hearing such complaints relative to assessments as may be presented to them.

JOHN F. KELLY, Collector of Taxes.

Dated Plainfield, Oct. 1st, 1887. Oct.1st3d

MISCELLANEOUS.

ELY'S

Cream Balm

Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Allays Pain and Inflammation, Heals the Sores, Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell.

TRY THE CURE.

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cents. Circulars free. ELY BROS., 235 Greenwich street, New York.—ad6t

INSURANCE.

ISAAC BROKAW,
Real Estate and Fire Insurance.

12 NORTH ST., NORTH PLAINFIELD.

Agent for the following first class companies: CHEMANIA, of New York, HANOVER, of New York, FIRST STATE, of Jersey City, Risks effected on all kinds of property, for one year or three years. Also agent for the sale of MONEY TO LOAN ON FIRST MORTGAGES. PARTIES IN REAL ESTATE HOUSES RENTED AND COLLECTED. SS MADE. PROMPT ATTENTION.

FIRE INSURANCE!

The undersigned having been appointed agent for the

Star and Merchants
Fire Insurance Co's of the City of New York, is prepared to grant substantial indemnity against loss by fire on all descriptions of insurable property in Plainfield and vicinity.

NATHAN HARPER
Agent.

J. C. Pope & Co.,

GENERAL AGENTS OF THE

German American Ins. Co., of New York.

Also represents other first-class Fire Insurance Companies. Agents of the Ocean Steamship Line, Dominion Ireland for sale. First and City National Bank Building, Plainfield, N. J.—ad6t

BUILDING LOTS
And Other Real Estate for Sale.

OFFICE:
6 E. FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD.
JAMES C. POPE. ELIAS R. POPE.

WILLIAM A. WOODRUFF,
Fire Insurance Agent,
PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.

With years of practice and experience, knowing the Companies and attending to business myself, I am prepared to offer the best rates and the largest indemnity to the insured in the past. ad6t

AUTHORIZED AGENT FOR

Fire Association, of Philadelphia.
Liverpool, London & Globe, England.
Westchester, of New York.
Hanvich Union, of England.
North British Mercantile, of England.
The Northern, of England.
The Queen, of England.
The Merchants, of Newark.
The Washington Life, of New York.

And other equally good companies. Insurance at fixed rates. Policies written on all kinds of buildings, merchandise, household furniture, &c., in the best companies, and for the largest indemnity. MONEY TO LOAN on approved mortgages. Office, 5 East Front street, Plainfield, N. J.

Effects Berry's sale of Real Estate, Insurance, Fruit stand and Fruit business. ad6t

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

J. P. LAIRE & CO.

AHEAD!

The Largest Stock

OF

STOVES, RANGES,

HEATERS and REPAIRS,

GENERAL HARDWARE,

House - Furnishings,

STOVE BOARDS,

STOVE RUGS AND COAL HODS.

Blankets and Robes.

Lower than the Lowest.

P. H. BENNETT,

(Successor to E. H. Backman)

DEALER IN

BUTTER,
EGGS AND PRODUCE,
MEATS OF ALL KINDS,

Fruits & Vegetables

IN THEIR SEASON.

12 Park avenue, Plainfield N. J.

Goods Delivered at any part of the City. ag31t

The Present Want

of a great many at this season is School Books and School Supplies, of which

ALLEN,

THE STATIONER,

has a full and complete assortment at the lowest prices.

Second-Hand Books

used in the Plainfield Schools, taken in exchange and for sale.

Dime Savings Institution

OF PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Is now receiving deposits payable on demand, and interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum payable semi-annually. All money deposited on or before Oct. 5th, will draw interest from Oct. 1st.

JOHN W. MURRAY, President.
WILLIAM WHITE, Vice "
NATHAN HARPER,
ELIAS R. POPE, Treasurer. a30tf.

LUTKINS & HUMMER,

DEALERS IN

Butter, Eggs & Produce.

Meats " " Kinds.

FRUIT and VEGETABLES IN THEIR SEASON.

No. 8 PARK AVENUE, Plainfield, New Jersey.

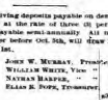
Goods delivered to any part of the city.

A. LUTKINS. L. A. HUMMER.

TWENTY

Years experience in the business.

GOOD DISTRICT. 3 doors above Passenger



Mr. JOHN H. STEVENS, (formerly above place) calls particular attention to Shoeing, Forging, Plow Shoe and Interference Horses. Can also be suspended in an incredible short space of time. Satisfaction guaranteed. Test trusted to a particular manner by experienced workmen.

ALEX. THORN

(Late of Berry & Thorn,

CAN BE FOUND AT 37 SOMERSET STREET,

WITH A FULL LINE OF

FURNACES, RANGES,
STOVES,
TINWARE, Etc.

Repairing in His Line Promptly Attended To. 4t32

R. R. FAIRCHILD,
FURNITURE WAREROOMS,
21 East Front street.

Walnut,
Cherry, Oak and
Cottage Chamber Sets,
Dining Room Outfits,
Parlor Furniture,
Lounges and Extension Tables.
A LARGE LINE OF FANCY CHAIRS.

Accommodation Express.

PETER SICKERT, Proprietor

The Accommodation Express will attend to the delivery of Packages, Baggage, Furniture, &c., between Plainfield and New York. Orders left at Stevens' Livery Stable, 5 East Front street, Plainfield, or at the office of the Express, Dock foot of Liberty street, New York, will receive prompt attention. Prompt attention given to all orders.

MISCELLANEOUS. MISCELLANEOUS.

JOHN I. BLAIR & CO.
AT RED ROCK PRICES.

Boy's good Knock About Suits, $3 to $8

Children's Great Wearing Suits $1.50 to $5.

Mens' Business Suits, $6 to $12.

Dress Suits, $10 to $15.

Pantaloons, $1 to $5.

Box Jackets, $4 to $10.

ENTIRE SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.

HONEST DEALING OUR MOTTO.

TO RETURN VALUE OUR DESIRE.

TO GIVE SATISFACTION OUR AIM.

VALUES Based upon Actual Cost With the Lowest Possible margin of profit added to cover expenses.

MEN'S OVERCOATS, $6 TO $15.

BOYS' OVERCOATS, $2 TO $10.

CHILDREN'S OVERCOATS, $1 TO $10.

Light as bright as day to examine goods.

Our Dealing is Likewise as bright as the Sunshine.

MARSHALL & BALL,

807, 809, 811 & 813 BROAD STREET, NEWARK, N. J.

MARSHALL AND BALL,

MEN'S SUITS $6 TO $12.

BOY'S SUITS $3 TO $8.

CHILDREN'S SUITS $1.50 TO $5.

807 809

BROAD STREET,

811 813

OBLIGING SALESMEN.

HANDSOMELY LIGHTED STORE.

SCIENTIFIC CUTTING AND FITTING.

MARSHALL & BALL,

ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS,

807, 809, 811 & 813 Broad St., Newark,

221 & 223 MAIN STREET, PATERSON,

58 AND 60 NEWARK AVENUE, JERSEY CITY.

MARSHALL & BALL CO.

JOHN A. THICKSTUN,

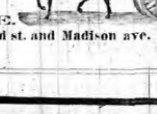
DEALER IN

BEST QUALITIES

COAL, WOOD,

AND

BLUE-STONE.



YARD—Cor. 3rd st. and Madison ave.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. Archer, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion.
Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 182 Fulton Street, N. Y.

A MAN

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y

By reason of its central position, close relation to principal lines East of Chicago and numerous connections at Missouri River points, is the favorite route between the East and Southwest. Its main line and branches penetrate the most important systems which terminate and find their gateway at Chicago, viz: Peoria, Rock Island, Davenport, Clinton, Dubuque, Freeport, Madison, Janesville, Milwaukee, Green Bay, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, Winona, La Crosse, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Duluth, Knoxville, Audubon, Harlan, Atlantic, Council Bluffs, Omaha, Des Moines, Grinnell, Grand Junction, Iowa City, Marengo, Kansas City, Leavenworth and Atchison, in Missouri; Lawrence and Topeka, in Kansas; Albert Lea, Austin, Mankato, Worthington, Sioux City, Sioux Falls, Yankton, Huron, Watertown, Aberdeen, Pierre, Jamestown and Bismarck in Dakota, and hundreds of intermediate cities and towns.

THE GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

Guarantees Speed, Comfort and Safety to those who travel over it. Its roadbed is thoroughly ballasted, its track is of heavy steel. Its bridges are solid structures of iron and stone. Its passenger equipment is unsurpassed. It has all the safety appliances that modern invention can devise, including the Pullman Vestibule Platform and Couplers, Miller Platform and Couplers, Westinghouse Air Brake, Pintsch Light, Baker Heating, Gold Steam Heating, Janney Coupler, Blake Electric Bell Ringer, Wood Vestibule Cars, Pullman Palace Parlor and Sleeping Cars, Pullman Palace Dining Cars, Pullman Palace Reclining Chair Cars.

THE FAMOUS ALBERT LEA ROUTE

Is the direct, favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul. Over

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY,
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY,
AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XX. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1887. No. 46.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its limitations as in its authorities."—MADISON.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

O. L. JENKINS, M. D.,
Homeopathist,
successor to the late Dr. Hoyt. Front Street, near Town, Plainfield, N. J. Office Hours—8 to 9, 1 to 2 p. m. and 7 to 8, evenings. 9

JACKSON & GOLDEN,
Counsellors-at-Law,
Commissioners of deeds, Mastersville Chancery, Notaries Public. Offices corner of Park avenue and Second street. 9

GEORGE W. DAY,
General Auctioneer,
Sales of Personal Property solicited. P. O. Box 182 (either on N. J. C. or address in care of Constitutionalist). Charges reasonable. 9

DR. CHARLES R. TYRRELL,
Dentist,
19 West Front street. A new local anesthetic administered to patients without pain. Good fits guaranteed. 9

H. HAND,
Auctioneer,
Real Estate, Insurance and Loan Agent, Dealer in and Valuer of Furniture, Pianos, Organs, Sewing Machines, &c. Office 5 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Will receive prompt attention. 9

OSCAR S. TEALE,
Architect,
247 Broadway, New York city, Room 31 and 35. (Limestone and Trap for Rock Building.) Residence, Plainfield, N. J. 9

WM. K. MCCLURE,
Attorney-at-Law,
MASTER IN CHANCERY, NOTARY PUBLIC.
Commissioner of Deeds. Office, North avenue and Somerset street. 9

J. H. PENNYPACKER,
Veterinary Surgeon.
Office in A. S. Runyon's livery stable, corner Main street and Park avenue. Residence, Somerset street, 2nd house from Park avenue. Horses examined for soundness, and all diseases of the horse treated in the most approved manner. Residence, 10 East Fifth street. 9

MAJOR F. MILLER,
Attorney-at-Law,
(Successor to the late W. H. Maxwell), Solicitor in Chancery, Notary Public, Conveyancer, Master in Chancery, Real Estate and Loan Agent, and Commissioner of Deeds. Office, North avenue, opposite Park. 9

P. A. DUNHAM,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor,
No. 2 Park avenue, Plainfield. Maps, plans and profiles of railroads, canals, &c., for the accurate location of railroads, canals, &c., for the accurate location of railroads, canals, &c., for the accurate location

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE, A. L. FORCE.
Editors and Proprietors.

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.

A PROCLAMATION.

By the Governor:
R. LUDLOW, Secretary of State.
By the Governor:
HARRY A. GARFIELD, Private Secretary.

DEFEATED YET VICTORIOUS!

The smoke of political battle has cleared away and the result can now be definitely summed up.

So far as New Jersey is concerned the fortunes of war are certainly not to the liking of true-hearted Democrats, the Republicans having retained their forces hold on the Senate and secured a large majority in the House of Assembly, both events caused by the lavish expenditure of corruption funds, and by the fearful dissensions in the ranks of the Democracy. Another year can and no doubt will make a widely different record.

In the County of Union the Democrats lose their Senator and Surrogate, but save the Clerkship by a small plurality, the Sheriff remaining as he has been for the past three years a Republican. Livingston for Senator, Forsyth for Sheriff and Gardner for Surrogate, should have been elected, and would, but for the reasons above mentioned, which worked evil in this County as they unquestionably did in other Democratic sections of the State.

Turning from New Jersey to New-York the great Empire State of the Union, the political skies are bright and cheering. The star of Democracy beams serenely in the ascendant, promising brilliant success in the Presidential year 1888; while in Virginia honor and decency are triumphant, and a sound Jeffersonian Democrat will oust from the National Congress a Mahonette of unenviable notoriety.

The flag of Democracy floats grandly throughout the Union!

Democrats of New Jersey!

Don't allow that standard of truth and justice to trail in the dust where, when clouds of adversity shadowed your time-honored party, you so bravely upheld it.

Rally for united and determined action.

Bangh as despoiled treason of personal ambitions and sinister designs.

Send to the rear, or beyond the rear, every disorganizer and corruption-monger no matter who he is, and place on guard only men of proven loyalty to the Constitution, the People, and Democratic principles.

Hunt down as you would ravenous wolves, those arch enemies of free representative self-government, who through the base use of money to make the ballot, that intended weapon of freedom, a servile instrument to do the will of mercenary millionaires and monopolists.

Democrats!

Do your whole duty individually and collectively, and you can readily convert temporary defeat into a future glorious victory.

GOV. GREEN ON THE ELECTION.

New Jersey's popular Governor has sent the following to the New York World. His words but echo the general opinion of every true Democrat of the land:—

"To the Editor of the World:—

Owing to my absence your telegram was only received by me in season to respond as requested.

The signs of the times have long indicated that Mr. Cleveland would be renominated by his party, and that Mr. Blaine, if he so desired, would receive the nomination of the Republican party. He has kept himself in a position to take it or not, and so far as I can learn, powerful New York has properly been regarded as the pivotal State of the next Presidential election. The effect of the recent election in that of next year was recognized by both sides. The Republican canvass in New York was in the hands of Mr. Blaine's friends. They organized as a unit, and to make it successful. The result demonstrates that New York is safe for Mr. Cleveland. This, in my judgment, makes his nomination certain practically by acclamation, and indicates the selection of some Republican candidate other than Mr. Blaine.

ROBERT S. GREEN.

Elizabeth, Nov. 14.

To Stand in the Legislature.

In the following table the new and old Legislatures are compared:

	1886.
	Senate.	House.	Joint ballot.
Republicans	12	26	38
Democrats	9	32	41
Labor		2	2
Majority	3	4	1
	1887.
	Senate.	House.	Joint ballot.
Republicans	12	25	37
Democrats	9	20	29
Labor
Majority	3	5	8

DUNELLEN.

Mr. M. A. Davis is home from a trip through Canada and Pennsylvania.

Mrs. M. A. Dunham is just returned from a visit in New York State, where she went to recuperate.

Mr. R. D. Drake and wife of Baltimore, spent Friday night with his mother, and returned to Baltimore Saturday morning.

The families of Chas. D. Bolce and family gave them a royal reception Monday evening in honor of the 10th annual anniversary. They received some very handsome presents from their immediate family.

NEW MARKET.

The New York Herald of Sunday published a paragraph under the caption of Suicide and Sorrow, stating that at the court where Estie Rantzen was discharged, a purse of $60 was raised and presented to her towards the funeral expenses. It such an amount was raised she never got it. What she did receive was a paper with threatens and amounts subscribed in 50 and 25 cents, and which was handed her by a Mr. George Green, the sum being $7.50. Will Tom Pane, kindly correct it, as a statement in the Herald reporter must have been wrongly informed upon.

ROMAN RICH.

UNION COUNTY OFFICIAL RETURNS—1887.

WARDS AND DISTRICTS.	State Senator.	Sheriff.	County Clerk.	Surrogate.	Coroners.	1st Assembly 1st Dist.	1st Assembly 2d Dist.	2d Assembly.
Elizabeth—
First Ward, First Dist.	374	332	15	372	331	372	328	332
Second Dist.	316	281	15	313	279	313	279	281
Second Ward, First Dist.	294	277	17	294	277	294	277	277
Second Dist.	196	180	1	196	180	196	180	180
Third Ward, First Dist.	264	175	179	265	177	265	177	175
Second Dist.	196	151	1	196	151	196	151	151
Fourth Ward, First Dist.	284	215	279	284	215	284	215	215
Second Dist.	214	185	1	214	185	214	185	185
Fifth Ward, First Dist.	357	274	350	357	274	357	274	274
Second Dist.	264	227	1	264	227	264	227	227
Sixth Ward, First Dist.	284	215	279	284	215	284	215	215
Second Dist.	214	185	1	214	185	214	185	185
Seventh Ward, First Dist.	357	274	350	357	274	357	274	274
Second Dist.	264	227	1	264	227	264	227	227
Linden—	148	148	0	148	148	148	148	148
Roselle—	148	148	0	148	148	148	148	148
Union—	148	148	0	148	148	148	148	148
Westfield—	148	148	0	148	148	148	148	148
Plainfield—
First Ward, First Dist.	372	197	356	372	197	372	197	197
Second Ward	122	236	11	122	236	122	236	236
Third Ward	171	231	11	171	231	171	231	231
Fourth Ward	271	221	11	271	221	271	221	221
Total

WARDS AND DISTRICTS.	2d Assembly 2d Dist.	Miller.	Long.	Goodrich.	Miller.	Long.	Goodrich.	Miller.	Long.	Goodrich.	Miller.	Long.	Goodrich.
Elizabeth—
First Ward, First Dist.	332	331	1	372	328	32	186	235	13	186	192	238	215
Second Dist.	281	279	1	313	279	32	186	235	13	186	192	238	215
Second Ward, First Dist.	277	277	0	294	277	17	294	277	17	294	277	17	294
Second Dist.	180	180	0	196	180	1	196	180	1	196	180	1	196
Third Ward, First Dist.	175	175	179	265	177	1	265	177	1	265	177	1	265
Second Dist.	151	151	1	196	151	1	196	151	1	196	151	1	196
Fourth Ward, First Dist.	215	215	279	284	215	1	284	215	1	284	215	1	284
Second Dist.	185	185	1	214	185	1	214	185	1	214	185	1	214
Fifth Ward, First Dist.	274	274	350	357	274	1	357	274	1	357	274	1	357
Second Dist.	227	227	1	264	227	1	264	227	1	264	227	1	264
Sixth Ward, First Dist.	215	215	279	284	215	1	284	215	1	284	215	1	284
Second Dist.	185	185	1	214	185	1	214	185	1	214	185	1	214
Seventh Ward, First Dist.	274	274	350	357	274	1	357	274	1	357	274	1	357
Second Dist.	227	227	1	264	227	1	264	227	1	264	227	1	264
Linden—	148	148	0	148	148	0	148	148	0	148	148	0	148
Roselle—	148	148	0	148	148	0	148	148	0	148	148	0	148
Union—	148	148	0	148	148	0	148	148	0	148	148	0	148
Westfield—	148	148	0	148	148	0	148	148	0	148	148	0	148
Plainfield—
First Ward, First Dist.	197	197	356	372	197	1	372	197	1	372	197	1	372
Second Ward	236	236	11	122	236	11	122	236	11	122	236	11	122
Third Ward	231	231	11	171	231	11	171	231	11	171	231	11	171
Fourth Ward	221	221	11	271	221	11	271	221	11	271	221	11	271
Total

THE FIREBUGS ARRAIGNED.

The case of the State vs. Lewis Van Nest and Horace Van Nest, two of the alleged Plainfield firebugs, who were indicted with Jackson for burning their own house, was called at the opening of the October County Courts on Monday morning. Judge McCormick with associates Harper and Hyer presiding. The prosecution was represented by Prosecutor Wm. R. Wilson and Craig A. Marsh. Lawyers Edwin Clark, Fred C. Marsh, W. E. Dodgson and Arthur P. Miller represent the defendants. After a number of challenges by the defence and the State, the following Surjymen were sworn in: George Dodd, Raritan; Lemuel Wade, Bridgewater; Daniel Crater, Linden; Jacob L. Bonnell, Union; Edward Ward, Elizabeth; Philip Krebs, 3d ward, Elizabeth; Jno. M. Martin, 5th ward, Elizabeth; Patrick Howe, 8th ward, Elizabeth; Edward Miller, Fanwood; Reddington Bailey; Patrick Dougherty, 4th ward, Elizabeth; Ferdinand Kuenhardt, 4th ward, Elizabeth.

Prosecutor Wilson opened the case for State, stating the points the prosecution intended to prove. The first witness called was Garrison Parse, who testified he was the owner of the house burned and had not notified Lewis VanNest on the Saturday before the fire, that he wanted to get possession of it; had known Lewis VanNest or about two years; had never heard anything wrong against him.

James McCormick, a backman, testified that on the night of the fire he met John Jackson and Lewis and Horace VanNest at Charles Smith's saloon, at about 4:45 A. M., and then went home in where Lewis VanNest lived. Jackson paid him and he charged $10; did not know what for hire.

Newton Honeyman sworn: he testified about his moving into the house at about noon of the day of the fire, putting his furniture in the parlor and in one of the bedrooms up stairs.

Mr. Wm. C. Burt was next sworn. He testified in substance the same as published in THE PRESS at the preliminary examination in this city. Court then adjourned until 1 p.m., when Mr. Clark continued the cross-examination of Mr. Burt's son. Warren, was next sworn, and corroborated his father's statement in regard to all of his experience at the Parse fire.

Theodore O. Doane next took the stand and related in detail what he saw at the fire. His testimony was published in detail in these columns at the examination before City Judge Ulrich. He testified that in his opinion the fire was certainly of incendiary origin.

Monday after T. O. Doane had testified, John W. Murray, Jr., was sworn; he corroborated Doane's testimony.

Frederick Frailey's testimony was in regard to a subscription Horace Van Nest said to buy furniture.

Richard H. Wilson's testimony was in regard to what Horace Van Nests wife told him in Jackson's house, Plainfield.

Chief Dodd testified he saw Horace Van Nest and Jackson at the corner of the coalition house where he had a long conversation with him. He told him he had the money to buy almost three times what he and thought he had a good chance to do it and gave him $2 towards the expense and Horace promised to do what he could. He could not say what conversation was had by Mr. Clark in regard to a letter wrote Horace but the chief denied having ever seen any letter sent to Hyman.

SESSION.

At 10:15 a. m., court opened, Mr. Alvah Clark appeared before the court at considerable length and cited a number of authorities with reference to the admissibility of the evidence of Mr. M. M. Dunham as to what Lewis Van Nest, Mr. Clark claimed it was inadmissable under this law.

Prosecutor Wilson replied to the arguments of Mr. Clark. After the arguments he committed Mr. Dunham's testimony.

At 2:30 p. m.—The taking of testimony was resumed. Jacob Gulick was sworn and testified. Was present at the Parse fire, my son and myself went to the fire before we heard alarm; when we first got there the first persons I saw were Lewis and Van Nests, they were doing nothing; I went to them, can't exactly tell what they said to; myself and son kicked out some of the lattice work under the stoop for the purpose of getting into the room; one of the Van Nests and let it alone, and my boy walked away; I think that there were any lights in house; after I and boys there a short time Mr. Burt and several others came, we went around house and got in by window; the smoke was not so much then.

Cross-examined by Mr. Clark—I cannot say that the fire was under the stoop. The lattice work was not the foundation of the house. The lattice was on the Northeast side of house.

By Jury—Was there a furnace in the house?

Witness—I cannot say.

DETECTIVE MURPHY TESTIFIES.

Edward L. Murphy (Murphy) sworn. Live in Plainfield; lived there nine or ten months; know Horace Van Nest; have been acquainted with him about a year. Have been in Plainfield; had conversation with the prisoner Horace Van Nest, Lewis Van Nest, Sergeant Marsh and Horace Van Nest and John Jackson in the presence of the Parse fire; was in the back of the saloon; Horace and I were standing near the stove; my conversation with Horace Van Nest, Lewis Van Nest and Jackson were about it; table within about three feet of myself; heard what Mr. Blaine if he so desired, would receive the nomination of the Republican party. He has kept himself in a position to take it or not, and so far as I can learn, powerful New York has properly been regarded as the pivotal State of the next Presidential election. The effect of the recent election in that of next year was recognized by both sides. The Republican canvass in New York was in the hands of Mr. Blaine's friends. They organized as a unit, and to make it successful. The result demonstrates that New York is safe for Mr. Cleveland. This, in my judgment, makes his nomination certain practically by acclamation, and indicates the selection of some Republican candidate other than Mr. Blaine.

ROBERT S. GREEN.

Elizabeth, Nov. 14.

To Stand in the Legislature.

In the following table the new and old Legislatures are compared:

	1886.
	Senate.	House.	Joint ballot.
Republicans	12	26	38
Democrats	9	32	41
Labor		2	2
Majority	3	4	1
	1887.
	Senate.	House.	Joint ballot.
Republicans	12	25	37
Democrats	9	20	29
Labor
Majority	3	5	8

DUNELLEN.

Mr. M. A. Davis is home from a trip through Canada and Pennsylvania.

Mrs. M. A. Dunham is just returned from a visit in New York State, where she went to recuperate.

Mr. R. D. Drake and wife of Baltimore, spent Friday night with his mother, and returned to Baltimore Saturday morning.

The families of Chas. D. Bolce and family gave them a royal reception Monday evening in honor of the 10th annual anniversary. They received some very handsome presents from their immediate family.

NEW MARKET.

The New York Herald of Sunday published a paragraph under the caption of Suicide and Sorrow, stating that at the court where Estie Rantzen was discharged, a purse of $60 was raised and presented to her towards the funeral expenses. It such an amount was raised she never got it. What she did receive was a paper with threatens and amounts subscribed in 50 and 25 cents, and which was handed her by a Mr. George Green, the sum being $7.50. Will Tom Pane, kindly correct it, as a statement in the Herald reporter must have been wrongly informed upon.

ROMAN RICH.

THE FIREBUGS ARRAIGNED.

The case of the State vs. Lewis Van Nest and Horace Van Nest, two of the alleged Plainfield firebugs, who were indicted with Jackson for burning their own house, was called at the opening of the October County Courts on Monday morning. Judge McCormick with associates Harper and Hyer presiding. The prosecution was represented by Prosecutor Wm. R. Wilson and Craig A. Marsh. Lawyers Edwin Clark, Fred C. Marsh, W. E. Dodgson and Arthur P. Miller represent the defendants. After a number of challenges by the defence and the State, the following Surjymen were sworn in: George Dodd, Raritan; Lemuel Wade, Bridgewater; Daniel Crater, Linden; Jacob L. Bonnell, Union; Edward Ward, Elizabeth; Philip Krebs, 3d ward, Elizabeth; Jno. M. Martin, 5th ward, Elizabeth; Patrick Howe, 8th ward, Elizabeth; Edward Miller, Fanwood; Reddington Bailey; Patrick Dougherty, 4th ward, Elizabeth; Ferdinand Kuenhardt, 4th ward, Elizabeth.

Prosecutor Wilson opened the case for State, stating the points the prosecution intended to prove. The first witness called was Garrison Parse, who testified he was the owner of the house burned and had not notified Lewis VanNest on the Saturday before the fire, that he wanted to get possession of it; had known Lewis VanNests or about two years; had never heard anything wrong against him.

James McCormick, a backman, testified that on the night of the fire he met John Jackson and Lewis and Horace VanNest at Charles Smith's saloon, at about 4:45 A. M., and then went home in where Lewis VanNest lived. Jackson paid him and he charged $10; did not know what for hire.

Newton Honeyman sworn: he testified about his moving into the house at about noon of the day of the fire, putting his furniture in the parlor and in one of the bedrooms up stairs.

Mr. Wm. C. Burt was next sworn. He testified in substance the same as published in THE PRESS at the preliminary examination in this city. Court then adjourned until 1 p.m., when Mr. Clark continued the cross-examination of Mr. Burt's son. Warren, was next sworn, and corroborated his father's statement in regard to all of his experience at the Parse fire.

Theodore O. Doane next took the stand and related in detail what he saw at the fire. His testimony was published in detail in these columns at the examination before City Judge Ulrich. He testified that in his opinion the fire was certainly of incendiary origin.

Monday after T. O. Doane had testified, John W. Murray, Jr., was sworn; he corroborated Doane's testimony.

Frederick Frailey's testimony was in regard to a subscription Horace Van Nest said to buy furniture.

Richard H. Wilson sworn:—An adjuster of fire losses for the Home Insurance Co. of New York. The Carmon Parse fire occurred on March 4th, 1886. The Home Insurance Co. took next train to Plainfield, went with Mr. Burt to the fire; saw the Van Nests and told them I had come there to adjust their loss. They showed what furniture had been saved. Mrs. Van Nest handed me a list of what had been got up, they did not say that any other furniture was saved. I copied my list of what furniture was saved in the presence of Lewis Van Nest, his father and his wife. All articles saved of the list, three small beds, about four chairs, in dooryard. The two lists of furniture saved were offered in evidence and so ed for identification. Mr. Lewis Van Nest said the articles named was in the upstairs front and rear of half the house occupied. He said they were about getting ready for a move and he went to and from upstairs office under the Southwest corner of the house. He said the fire occurred on the Northwest corner of house where the furniture had been put in that day. The witness produced the policy of insurance of Lewis Van Nest, and it was offered in evidence. List of articles saved: 1 extension table, 1 bedroom suit, 6 dining-room chairs, 35 yards brussels carpet, 1 stair stove, 1 parlor stove, some undergarments, a piece of rug carpet after list was read. I supposed I showed it to Mr. Butler's office and in about half an hour Mr. and Mrs. Van Nest came in. I explained to them and looked it over and questioned Mr. and Mrs. Van Nest about articles saved. The total amount of loss figured up $149. I assessed that amount to experts, the adjuster. Mr. Lewis Van Nest thought he had lost about $300, when I figured up and said your loss is but $149.00 and I guess I will settle on that basis; a proof of loss was presented to Mr. Van Nest sworn to the proof of loss. The proof of loss was here presented and identified by witness and offered in evidence. W. C. Butler is the agent of the company at Plainfield. Lewis Van Nest, after the fire, made any explanation of the fire, only he discovered the fire in the Northwest corner of the house. The loss was settled by draft for $240. Lewis Van Nest was very anxious to have the loss adjusted so that he could get the money.

Cross examined by Mr. F. Marsh.—I have been an adjuster for twenty years; am now adjuster for the Home Insurance Company do adjust the loss next day after fire. Some of the goods carried out the house. Couldn't say positively. The rest shirts had some of the feet lacking from the pressure after the Parse fire; saw fire himself; he and his wife smelt smoke in the kitchen, and he went out and discovered the fire.

The concluding witness for the State was Craig A. Marsh, who identified Mr. Lewis Van Nest's goods to the place where they were opened by detectives and they would show from the reputation the accused men believe that they were incendiaries and had set fire to their house for the insurance money. Those who testified for the defence were Mrs. Harrie, T. S. Thorn, John D. Runyon and Wm. Hand, all residents of Plainfield. They testified that all of the same description, namely, as to Horace and Lewis Van Nest's reputation were held previous to their arrest.

ELIZABETH, Nov. 15.—Court opened at 9 a. m. After calling up the jury the defence resumed the taking of testimony.

George Green sworn: Am a photographer for Carney Bros. I know where the house of Lewis Marsh stood. I took a view of the house before it was burned. I was sent there to take house to turn of sale and I took it, last. I went with Mr. Sauerville to do the work.

Cross examined by Mr. Wilson.—I am 17 years old. I stopped and plugged up the pipes myself.

Lewis C. VanNest, one of the defendants, sworn: I am 26 years old; lived at Plainfield 17 or 18 years; am a carpenter; another business I study; have been at it off and on for three or four years. I own the house 14 years old; moved it to farm two years; now in Plainfield and drive cart for Mr. Hand one year; Mr. Hand's business. It was not there I left Couch one year; then with Mrs. Haines, florist, for two years; then for J. D. Cook and Bro., one year or over; for D. D. Boice, one and one-half years in coal yard; for H. H. Bonnell, one and one-half years in grocery store, and then went into the produce business for myself and was in that business at the time of the fire; was married in 1882; two months. The house was burned on Tuesday, March 15, at about 10 p. m. I had been to New York that day and left there at 5 p. m. and supper house and went to town to collect some money. I told Horace I would meet him at C. Smith's saloon; met him at Smith's saloon, and then he went away to go home. He said you McCormick stepped up and said he would take us home for $10. Jackson and Horace Van Nest at Smith's saloon when I got there; we got home in about half an hour after; my wife, boy and brother were there. Horace's wife was away. We sat down and played cards; Post Office and also at my boarding house. He did not come to where my wife lived. I don't know what time Jackson left. Dodd engaged me as a detective. He made the arrangements with me at the Post Office. I believe there was a fire in the kitchen stove. It was quite cold the day that fire that Dodd saw me. He told me that there was no remarks on fire to my knowledge of the fire. I knew there were rewards offered, but did not know what amount or for what fires. I got acquainted with the VanNests a short time after my arrival in Plainfield; first met them in Fred. Caspar's saloon; had never got drunk unless there was business in it. I had not returned my duties as a detective when I became acquainted with the VanNests; was introduced to them at Fred. Caspar's. I understood that the Nests were private watchmen. The singing society was started by the gatekeepers of the Scott Works; the VanNests were taken in as gentlemen and gentlemen's sons. Was shortly after when Park House stables fire I had the conversation related with Horace. He gave up his business to go to housekeeping. I had no suspicion that House men had fired the C. Parse house. Never said, hope you will have better luck than I had. My brother was insured and I was. Horace and I made mine good with a subscription paper. A few months after I had a conversation with Horace and Jackson. It was a repetition of the above.

ELIZABETH, Nov. 15.—When Court reconvened at 1.15 p. m., Tuesday, Mr. Marsh continued the cross-examination of Edward S. Worsley with reference to his talk with the VanNests and Jackson in Caspar's. Up to the time I had a conversation with Horace in Caspar's saloon, I had not spoken to the other the Parse house. I had got nothing from them. Horace told me that he had been present at the conversation about the fires. After the conversation we went to them I went to report to the police officials. These boys were arrested Aug. 28. Chief Dodd was present at the time I reported to Councilman Carey, Officer Lynch and the Mayor. Dodd was there. I did not take part in action with Chief Dodd the night of the fire in the alley; at that time did not know there was any reward for setting fire.

Re-direct by Mr. C. A. Marsh.

I did not know before when I said they spoke about the fire. I meant Horace, Lewis, Jackson and myself.

Martin Vanderweg sworn: Remember the Carmon Parse fire; was at it; was present when store was carried out. When Mr. Biddle and another man was carrying out stove, Horace VanNest said, "Look at that Dodd——carry."

Cross-examined.—Didn't say carry. Heard the remark was made I went around the house; was not sworn at the coroner's inquest before Judge Ulrich. Johnny Rickert helped Gable carry out the stove. I do not know whose Rickert is now. I have not seen him since the 4th of July. The stove was carried out on the lawn. I do not think there was broke out. Don't recollect. I was about 15 or 20 feet from stove. VanNest was facing the front porch. I was right behind VanNest.

Richard H. Wilson sworn:—An adjuster of fire losses for the Home Insurance Co. of New York. The Carmon Parse fire occurred on March 4th, 1886. The Home Insurance Co. took next train to Plainfield, went with Mr. Burt to the fire; saw the Van Nests and told them I had come there to adjust their loss. They showed what furniture had been saved. Mrs. Van Nest handed me a list of what had been got up, they did not say that any other furniture was saved. I copied my list of what furniture was saved in the presence of Lewis Van Nest, his father and his wife. All articles saved of the list, three small beds, about four chairs, in dooryard. The two lists of furniture saved were offered in evidence and so ed for identification. Mr. Lewis Van Nest said the articles named was in the upstairs front and rear of half the house occupied. He said they were about getting ready for a move and he went to and from upstairs office under the Southwest corner of the house. He said the fire occurred on the Northwest corner of house where the furniture had been put in that day. The witness produced the policy of insurance of Lewis Van Nest, and it was offered in evidence. List of articles saved: 1 extension table, 1 bedroom suit, 6 dining-room chairs, 35 yards brussels carpet, 1 stair stove, 1 parlor stove, some undergarments, a piece of rug carpet after list was read. I supposed I showed it to Mr. Butler's office and in about half an hour Mr. and Mrs. Van Nest came in. I explained to them and looked it over and questioned Mr. and Mrs. Van Nest about articles saved. The total amount of loss figured up $149. I assessed that amount to experts, the adjuster. Mr. Lewis Van Nest thought he had lost about $300, when I figured up and said your loss is but $149.00 and I guess I will settle on that basis; a proof of loss was presented to Mr. Van Nest sworn to the proof of loss. The proof of loss was here presented and identified by witness and offered in evidence. W. C. Butler is the agent of the company at Plainfield. Lewis Van Nest, after the fire, made any explanation of the fire, only he discovered the fire in the Northwest corner of the house. The loss was settled by draft for $240. Lewis Van Nest was very anxious to have the loss adjusted so that he could get the money.

Cross examined by Mr. F. Marsh.—I have been an adjuster for twenty years; am now adjuster for the Home Insurance Company do adjust the loss next day after fire. Some of the goods carried out the house. Couldn't say positively. The rest shirts had some of the feet lacking from the pressure after the Parse fire; saw fire himself; he and his wife smelt smoke in the kitchen, and he went out and discovered the fire.

The concluding witness for the State was Craig A. Marsh, who identified Mr. Lewis Van Nest's goods to the place where they were opened by detectives and they would show from the reputation the accused men believe that they were incendiaries and had set fire to their house for the insurance money. Those who testified for the defence were Mrs. Harrie, T. S. Thorn, John D. Runyon and Wm. Hand, all residents of Plainfield. They testified that all of the same description, namely, as to Horace and Lewis Van Nest's reputation were held previous to their arrest.

ELIZABETH, Nov. 15.—Court opened at 9 a. m. After calling up the jury the defence resumed the taking of testimony.

George Green sworn: Am a photographer for Carney Bros. I know where the house of Lewis Marsh stood. I took a view of the house before it was burned. I was sent there to take house to turn of sale and I took it, last. I went with Mr. Sauerville to do the work.

Cross examined by Mr. Wilson.—I am 17 years old. I stopped and plugged up the pipes myself.

Lewis C. VanNest, one of the defendants, sworn: I am 26 years old; lived at Plainfield 17 or 18 years; am a carpenter; another business I study; have been at it off and on for three or four years. I own the house 14 years old; moved it to farm two years; now in Plainfield and drive cart for Mr. Hand one year; Mr. Hand's business. It was not there I left Couch one year; then with Mrs. Haines, florist, for two years; then for J. D. Cook and Bro., one year or over; for D. D. Boice, one and one-half years in coal yard; for H. H. Bonnell, one and one-half years in grocery store, and then went into the produce business for myself and was in that business at the time of the Parse fire; was married in 1882; two months. The house was burned on Tuesday, March 15, at about 10 p. m. I had been to New York that day and left there at 5 p. m. and supper house and went to town to collect some money. I told Horace I would meet him at C. Smith's saloon; met him at Smith's saloon, and then he went away to go home. He said you McCormick stepped up and said he would take us home for $10. Jackson and Horace Van Nest at Smith's saloon when I got there; we got home in about half an hour after; my wife, boy and brother were there. Horace's wife was away. We sat down and played cards; Post Office and also at my boarding house. He did not come to where my wife lived. I don't know what time Jackson left. Dodd engaged me as a detective. He made the arrangements with me at the Post Office. I believe there was a fire in the kitchen stove. It was quite cold the day that fire that Dodd saw me. He told me that there was no remarks on fire to my knowledge of the fire. I knew there were rewards offered, but did not know what amount or for what fires. I got acquainted with the VanNests a short time after my arrival in Plainfield; first met them in Fred. Caspar's saloon; had never got drunk unless there was business in it. I had not returned my duties as a detective when I became acquainted with the VanNests; was introduced to them at Fred. Caspar's. I understood that the Nests were private watchmen. The singing society was started by the gatekeepers of the Scott Works; the VanNests were taken in as gentlemen and gentlemen's sons. Was shortly after when Park House stables fire I had the conversation related with Horace. He gave up his business to go to housekeeping. I had no suspicion that House men had fired the C. Parse house. Never said, hope you will have better luck than I had. My brother was insured and I was. Horace and I made mine good with a subscription paper. A few months after I had a conversation with Horace and Jackson. It was a repetition of the above.

ELIZABETH, Nov. 15.—When Court reconvened at 1.15 p. m., Tuesday, Mr. Marsh continued the cross-examination of Edward S. Worsley with reference to his talk with the VanNests and Jackson in Caspar's. Up to the time I had a conversation with Horace in Caspar's saloon, I had not spoken to the other the Parse house. I had got nothing from them. Horace told me that he had been present at the conversation about the fires. After the conversation we went to them I went to report to the police officials. These boys were arrested Aug. 28. Chief Dodd was present at the time I reported to Councilman Carey, Officer Lynch and the Mayor. Dodd was there. I did not take part in action with Chief Dodd the night of the fire in the alley; at that time did not know there was any reward for setting fire.

Re-direct by Mr. C. A. Marsh.

I did not know before when I said they spoke about the fire. I meant Horace, Lewis, Jackson and myself.

Martin Vanderweg sworn: Remember the Carmon Parse fire; was at it; was present when store was carried out. When Mr. Biddle and another man was carrying out stove, Horace VanNest said, "Look at that Dodd——carry."

Cross-examined.—Didn't say carry. Heard the remark was made I went around the house; was not sworn at the coroner's inquest before Judge Ulrich. Johnny Rickert helped Gable carry out the stove. I do not know whose Rickert is now. I have not seen him since the 4th of July. The stove was carried out on the lawn. I do not think there was broke out. Don't recollect. I was about 15 or 20 feet from stove. VanNest was facing the front porch. I was right behind VanNest.

Richard H. Wilson sworn:—An adjuster of fire losses for the Home Insurance Co. of New York. The Carmon Parse fire occurred on March 4th, 1886. The Home Insurance Co. took next train to Plainfield, went with Mr. Burt to the fire; saw the Van Nests and told them I had come there to adjust their loss. They showed what furniture had been saved. Mrs. Van Nest handed me a list of what had been got up, they did not say that any other furniture was saved. I copied my list of what furniture was saved in the presence of Lewis Van Nest, his father and his wife. All articles saved of the list, three small beds, about four chairs, in dooryard. The two lists of furniture saved were offered in evidence and so ed for identification. Mr. Lewis Van Nest said the articles named was in the upstairs front and rear of half the house occupied. He said they were about getting ready for a move and he went to and from upstairs office under the Southwest corner of the house. He said the fire occurred on the Northwest corner of house where the furniture had been put in that day. The witness produced the policy of insurance of Lewis Van Nest, and it was offered in evidence. List of articles saved: 1 extension table, 1 bedroom suit, 6 dining-room chairs, 35 yards brussels carpet, 1 stair stove, 1 parlor stove, some undergarments, a piece of rug carpet after list was read. I supposed I showed it to Mr. Butler's office and in about half an hour Mr. and Mrs. Van Nest came in. I explained to them and looked it over and questioned Mr. and Mrs. Van Nest about articles saved. The total amount of loss figured up $149. I assessed that amount to experts, the adjuster. Mr. Lewis Van Nest thought he had lost about $300, when I figured up and said your loss is but $149.00 and I guess I will settle on that basis; a proof of loss was presented to Mr. Van Nest sworn to the proof of loss. The proof of loss was here presented and identified by witness and offered in evidence. W. C. Butler is the agent of the company at Plainfield. Lewis Van Nest, after the fire, made any explanation of the fire, only he discovered the fire in the Northwest corner of the house. The loss was settled by draft for $240. Lewis Van Nest was very anxious to have the loss adjusted so that he could get the money.

Cross examined by Mr. F. Marsh.—I have been an adjuster for twenty years; am now adjuster for the Home Insurance Company do adjust the loss next day after fire. Some of the goods carried out the house. Couldn't say positively. The rest shirts had some of the feet lacking from the pressure after the Parse fire; saw fire himself; he and his wife smelt smoke in the kitchen, and he went out and discovered the fire.

The concluding witness for the State was Craig A. Marsh, who identified Mr. Lewis Van Nest's goods to the place where they were opened by detectives and they would show from the reputation the accused men believe that they were incendiaries and had set fire to their house for the insurance money. Those who testified for the defence were Mrs. Harrie, T. S. Thorn, John D. Runyon and Wm. Hand, all residents of Plainfield. They testified that all of the same description, namely, as to Horace and Lewis Van Nest's reputation were held previous to their arrest.

ELIZABETH, Nov. 15.—Court opened at 9 a. m. After calling up the jury the defence resumed the taking of testimony.

George Green sworn: Am a photographer for Carney Bros. I know where the house of Lewis Marsh stood. I took a view of the house before it was burned. I was sent there to take house to turn of sale and I took it, last. I went with Mr. Sauerville to do the work.

Cross examined by Mr. Wilson.—I am 17 years old. I stopped and plugged up the pipes myself.

Lewis C. VanNest, one of the defendants, sworn: I am 26 years old; lived at Plainfield 17 or 18 years; am a carpenter; another business I study; have been at it off and on for three or four years. I own the house 14 years old; moved it to farm two years; now in Plainfield and drive cart for Mr. Hand one year; Mr. Hand's business. It was not there I left Couch one year; then with Mrs. Haines, florist, for two years; then for J. D. Cook and Bro., one year or over; for D. D. Boice, one and one-half years in coal yard; for H. H. Bonnell, one and one-half years in grocery store, and then went into the produce business for myself and was in that business at the time of the Parse fire; was married in 1882; two months. The house was burned on Tuesday, March 15, at about 10 p. m. I had been to New York that day and left there at 5 p. m. and supper house and went to town to collect some money. I told Horace I would meet him at C. Smith's saloon; met him at Smith's saloon, and then he went away to go home. He said you McCormick stepped up and said he would take us home for $10. Jackson and Horace Van Nest at Smith's saloon when I got there; we got home in about half an hour after; my wife, boy and brother were there. Horace's wife was away. We sat down and played cards; Post Office and also at my boarding house. He did not come to where my wife lived. I don't know what time Jackson left. Dodd engaged me as a detective. He made the arrangements with me at the Post Office. I believe there was a fire in the kitchen stove. It was quite cold the day that fire that Dodd saw me

CITY DEPARTMENT

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION

J. A. DEMAREST, - - CIE Editor

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS

NEW YORK MAILS

[illegible]

Money order office open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sundays 10 a.m. to 11 a.m.

[illegible]

Personalia.

The many friends of ex-Chief Baltzman of the Plainfield Fire Department, will regret to learn that he is confined to his bed by a painful gathering in his head.

Mrs. E. P. Towers, of Brooklyn, with her children, Mabel and Ray, and her sister, Mrs. S. C. Kennedy, of the same city, are visiting friends on Dunellen and North Plainfield.

The Courier-Times said: "The Democrats of Union have our sympathy," and the Elizabeth Herald aptly replies: "Yes, Brer Leonard, they need it, and, better than all, deserve it."

Rev. E. M. Rodman, rector of Grace church in this city, assisted Bishop Scarborough in laying the corner stone of St. Paul's Episcopal church at Bound Brook on Saturday afternoon.

A surprise party was tendered to Miss Luella Northrup by her friends at her residence on E. Front street, Friday evening. About thirty young people were present and amused themselves with games, and other favorite sports.

The wife of Street Commissioner Geo. M. Andrian has been lying dangerously ill at her home on West Fourth street for some time past, but her condition is at present so much improved as to give her friends hope for her ultimate recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Powell, entertained a few friends at their residence on East Sixth street, Monday evening, from eight to eleven o'clock. Miss Bulkley, Mr. Townsend Rushmore and Dr. Ketcham, gave some reminiscences of Spelling bee.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Thomas Tilney who died on Sunday, took place from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. William Wadsworth, on Park avenue, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Goodrich conducted the service, and at the close the remains were taken to Brooklyn for interment.

Mr. Harry Thorn, who went to Colorado a few weeks ago, with a view of regaining his health by the change of climate, is in Denver at present, but hopes to be home in this city. The change of air did not appear to benefit him, and his physician, one of the most eminent in Denver, advised his return East. He is expected to arrive home on Saturday.

We are pleased to be able to state that the rumor of the coming of Mr. George L. Fox, Esq., to Plainfield, to reside, is entirely false, as it is a fact. He has bought out the interest of Mr. J. E. White in the dry and fancy good business, and will invest into it co-partnership with Mr. White's son, Edward, taking possession December 1st. We welcome Mr. Van Emburgh back among us. Mr. Van Emburgh will probably not take up his residence in Plainfield before April 1st.

Mabel, the only daughter of Randolph and Laura E. Waldron of Grandview avenue, North Plainfield, died on Friday, aged seven years, five months and four days. The child was not well when Saturday morning came around, but was developed in paralysis of the heart and resulted in her death. Saturday noon. Married, a boy two years older, died from the same complaint. Mr. and Mrs. Waldron are to be sympathized with in their double affliction, and the community at large will extend to them a sympathetic hand.

On Monday, Oct. 17th, the day upon which the Grand Jury brought in its first batch of indictments, included in the list were bills against Mr. and Mrs. Wallace and the three Van Nest brothers. The Pizzes among other items of particular mention, charged that they served and indictments of the alleged fiends was "through the efforts of Mr. Edward S. Wendell, better known to the public as the editor of the Sheriff's Column of the same and a writer on a local sheet of the time, rebelled the enterprise of THE PRESS in ferreting out the crime." THE PRESS is forcing out to assist in all other instances, that THE PRESS was right.

Judge Van Syckel Orders a Re-Count.

It is reported that Judge Van Syckel rendered a decision in Union county during the present week, the Judge expressed himself satisfied in counting Cleveland and not Fry. December 11th is the date.

The Injunction Sustained.

The case of Westervelt vs. Hay, also Ellas R. Pope, Octavia Myers and Augustus Greene, in which an injunction was granted some weeks ago restraining the defendant, Higgins from erecting any more on Westervelt avenue to lead the main street, came up for hearing yesterday morning before Judge Depue on a motion to dissolve the injunction based on the answers of all the defendants supported by affidavits. The Chancellor took the motion to dissolve the injunction and denied the motion to dissolve it. Messrs. Wm. A. McKeen and John H. Jackson argued in support of the motion, and Messrs. Vroom & Reed, contra. After the Chancellor had decided to continue the injunction by consent of counsel, the parties had a few hours in which to prevent damage from the elements, during the pendency of the case.

Travels in Europe.

A circle of friends spent Monday, a pleasant as well as profitable evening at the residence of A. M. Pidcock on Second street. They first listened to a family letter which Miss J. E. Bulkley had collected during her recent tour in Europe and in her modesty, which is very becoming in a lady, was earnestly requested to continue. She gave a graphic description of her trip through Switzerland and in Rome the latter of which she visited during the Carnival. Higgins from meeting another on Westervelt avenue to lead the main street, came up for hearing yesterday morning before Judge Depue on a motion to dissolve the injunction based on the answers of all the defendants supported by affidavits. The Chancellor took the motion to dissolve the injunction and denied the motion to dissolve it. Messrs. Wm. A. McKeen and John H. Jackson argued in support of the motion, and Messrs. Vroom & Reed, contra. After the Chancellor had decided to continue the injunction by consent of counsel, the parties had a few hours in which to prevent damage from the elements, during the pendency of the case.

Fifteenth Wedding Anniversary.

The handsome new residence of Councilman and Mrs. Henry A. McGee, on Orchard place, Scrubban Park, North Plainfield, was Monday night the scene of a brilliant affair, the occasion being the fifteenth anniversary of their marriage. The guests, about 250 in number, included the elite both from this city and Plainfield, and many were also in attendance from New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia and other distant places. Washington avenue was brilliantly lighted by electricity, especially for the occasion, and between 8 and 9 o'clock there was a continual rattling of carriages over the pavements to the place. Many of the ladies were elaborately attired, and many of the gentlemen wore comly outfits. An orchestra composed of string music was in attendance for the occasion by discussing popular airs, and the supper was spoken of as sumptuous and grand. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. McGee were the recipients of many warm congratulations from their friends, who showered nothing but praise upon the host and hostess for the entertainment they had received, deserving ever before has North Plainfield been favored with so large and select a company of society people as that of Monday night. Festivities concluded about midnight.

Sparring.

William Cannon, the one-armed pigeon shooter, of Newark, N. J., and George Davis, the railroad employee, of Greenville, N. J., will shoot a return pigeon match on the grounds of the Middlesex Gun Club, at Dunellen, on Thanksgiving Day. The conditions are 100 birds each, 25 a side. Hurlingham rules.

Corner-stone Laying.

The corner-stone of St. Paul's Episcopal church at Bound Brook was laid at the corner of Church and Franklin streets, Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Rt. Rev. John Scarborough, D. D., Bishop of the Diocese of New Jersey, officiated. A large number of persons were in attendance. Services were held in the neighboring Congregational church.

Yale Alumni Association.

For some time past the graduates of Yale University, residing in Plainfield, have been considering the advisability of organizing a Yale Alumni Association here; and last evening a meeting was held for that purpose at the residence of Dr. J. H. Vincent. It was resolved and perfect an association be formed, the general object of which will be to promote good fellowship among the Alumni; to aid in preserving their interest in the welfare of the University, and to cultivate in Plainfield an interest in Yale. To this end the Association will at once place on file in the Public Library, the Yale Literary Magazine and the Yale Record. It is contemplated that social meetings will be held monthly, and that a banquet will be given annually. The following officers were elected: President, William R. Richards; Secretary and Treasurer, Howard C. True; Executive Committee, S. Ni. John McCutchen, Chairman, James R. Joy, William D. Murray. The following is the roll of members: Evarts Tracy, '61; S. L. Samuel Sutherland, '61; S. R. John McCutchen, '70; John Leal, '74; William R. Richards, '75, William D. Murray, '80; Frank Raymond Fay, '83; G. Goodrich, '84, T. S.; James R. Joy, '86; George E. Vincent, '85; Charles L. Hyde, '86; Louis K. Hyde, '87; Howard C. Tracy, '87.

The Only Newspaper in Plainfield.

Besides presenting the news from Elizabeth of the leading trials in progress at the County Court up to 4:30 p. m., THE PRESS of Tuesday also contained these very important and interesting items for local news, and published them exclusively:

An account of the literary reception at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Powell, on Sixth street, whereat Miss Bulkley, the Rev. Dr. Ketcham and Mr. Townsend Rushmore gave personal reminiscences of foreign travel.

The celebration of the wedding anniversary of Councilman McGee and wife, in which 250 guests took part.

The sustaining by the Chancellor of the injunction against Mr. Higgins of North Plainfield, who is thus enjoined from erecting a house on more than $2,000 on his Westervelt avenue lot.

The meeting of the Plainfield Lodge, I. O. O. F., at which Past Grand Master Green was present.

The change in the hours of the opening of the Sunday mail.

The meeting for young men at Y. M. C. A. Hall. The devotional exercises of which were led by the Rev. Mr. Scherwood. Mr. David Lyon presided at the piano.

The election of officers of the Union Co. Y. M. C. A. Association, choosing Mr. H. J. Oppyke of this city as a Vice President, and the Rev. Dr. Hurlbut as one of the Executive Committee.

The date selected by the ladies of the Branch of the Red Cross for their annual arbor sale.

And more.

Verily we are proud of our universal recognition at the end of but six months existence, as the only newspaper published in Plainfield.

A Plainfielder Building Up Other Cities

The Elizabeth Herald says: Mr. Ackerman said that is being built for the accommodation of citizens and the profit of the real estate owners. The speculative fad of the order and most enthusiastic in its favor, and all the Borough dailies of Friday morning of last week announce the arrival of, and interview with, Mr. H. I. Lemon of Manchester, this city. This gentleman is likely to be prominent in Plainfield because of his connection with the Central New York, and general enterprise except in the way of public transportation. It probably hopes with the majority of the community that a Council will come and be elected that shall show some confidence in the public demand in respect to a street railway. Meanwhile he is building up other cities and boosting the value and desirability of their real estate by the construction of means of street travel. Mr. Lemon has contemplated the building of the roads on Third avenue, and Twenty-fifth street, New York; but for the St. Joseph road he assumes the entire contract of its construction and equipment. Ground will be broken at once, and although nine months are allowed, the contractor proposes to have the road in operation by next March. He counted that city well says: "With the improvement St. Joseph cannot fail to grow. She has never boomed before, and something of the kind would give Plainfield an additional "boost."

Dr. Van Meter's Lecture on Africa.

Rev. Dr. Van Meter, pastor of the M. E. church in this city, gave a picture of great interest and power Thursday evening of last week, at Reform Hall, in the course recently begun by the Reform Club. His subject was "A peep at the West Coast of Africa," and it was such a peep at the Dark Continent as few have enjoyed in long years. Dr. Ketcham, who was present and heard the lecture, says that more than a hri 2 resume to his trip, which, taking into consideration the time occupied, was a remarkably extended one. Judge Depue said of it: "Although it may sound very parabolic to say we prefer to see our own country before we go to foreign lands and find nothing markably different from what we may see in and about New York; while, from the instant we step upon European soil, we are in the midst of history and art."

New York Philharmonic Club.

The sale of tickets for this course of charming concerts will begin at 9 o'clock a. m., Thanksgiving Day, (29th inst.). Those who prefer to purchase their subscription in another column, and we need only remark that, considering the great popularity of the Philharmonic among our people and the fact that there will probably be the only important concerts of the season in Plainfield, there is sure to be a beautifully decorated with flags, swords and handsome paintings, the whole representing battle scenes. The Committee of Arrangements was composed of Mrs. Morse and Mrs. Addis. Mrs. Ingraham of Woodbridge was present and inspected the Corps. Mrs. Huntington acted as chairman with her usual grace. Much credit is due to the ladies in charge who were untiring in their efforts to furnish amusement for all. Refreshments were served at half-past nine o'clock, and all expressed themselves as highly gratified with the evening's enjoyment.

With Ragan in Spain and Morocco.

Saturday night, at Music Hall, we may all visit these lands of wonder, and see more of interest than many a traveler ever sees. The splendid palaces of Spain, the beautiful Alhambra, the impregnable Gibraltar will be magnificently depicted on the canvas. Wilson Ragan who has been a Spanish Bull Fight and learn all about this relic of a barbaric age; and we shall cross the Straits and wander through the mosques and the narrow streets of African cities, or gossip with Arab chieftains fresh from their Deserts. Mr. Ragan has been of late entertaining Plainfield audiences with his Canadian tales, and has been rewarded by the warm congratulations of the press over the border.

A Narrow Escape From Death.

Mr. Frank B. Hartz of this city—son of Mr. F. Bret Hartz, the author, and representative of our Government abroad—has entirely recovered from the ill effects of a dose of laudanum which he had taken and administered to him a few days ago. His recovery is a narrow escape from death, and is due to the prompt and skillful action of Dr. Penfield, Mrs. Hartz in giving her son a dose of some simple remedy for a casual sickness, reparked that it was very bitter and advised her patient to swallow it quickly. Young Hartz did so, but finding the taste more agreeable than usual, picked up the bottle which he had been poured from. Printed across the label in bold letters, the warning word "Poison" caught his eye. "Mother, mother, what have you given me?" he gasped, and fell back unconscious. Stunned and dazed though she was, as a glance told her she had administered laudanum in lieu of quinine, Mrs. Hartz's presence of mind in summoning assistance at once and the applying of all known remedies, saved his life.

Defying The State's Writ.

Deputy Sheriff Coddington, of Somerset county, and Craig A. Marsh, Esq., were observed very mysteriously conferring and moving about on Saturday. They secured a hack and were followed by a Press reporter to the Station House. There two pair of handcuffs were borrowed from the arsenal of Chief Dodd and the next movement was to North Plainfield. The Sheriff here secured the assistance of Mr. Bauer-sachs and an employee of the Messrs. Coddington Bros., lee dealers. The three then were driven to Fregtown, sometimes known as Bull Frog City, and where there was enacted a miniature scene of carnage. It seems that the object of the whole trouble was the refusal of Mr. Samuel Huntington, of this city, to a certain dog of rare breed and high value pecuniarily, which was found in the possession of Mr. Bimble, of Fregtown. The Sheriff and his party were driven the dog is claimed by Mr. Huntington who says that he was lost about six months ago, and only recently was known to be in Mr. Bimble's possession. Mr Bimble is said to have come lawfully by the animal and to insist upon his legal right and ownership. Mr. Huntington having been refused when he demanded the dog or his property, has invoked the law. A suit in replevin was brought by the attempt of Saturday, the Deputy Sheriff shrewdly threw the women off their guard as to the time of his visit, by telling them that they would hear from him again on Monday next. As was expected, no fear of the Sheriff's return Saturday night had been entertained, and the dog was still in the house. The Deputy again demanded the possession of the dog and exhibited his writ. The refusal was even more emphatic than before, and the Deputy then informed his opponents of his rights in executing the process. They laughed him to scorn and refused to touch the dog, which Mr. Bimble had honestly come by. The Deputy thereupon sought to seize the dog. So violent was the resistance, that in the scuffle that ensued the front door was scattered promiscuously, and a lamp overturned and soot spinning around the room. Luckily it did not explode. It was quickly grasped and placed right side up. The struggle however continued, and ended only after the more obstreperous of the women who, by the use of such powerful build as to be more than a match for any ordinary man, had been overpowered and handcuffed. In the melee Constable Bauersachs was severely bitten in the thumb by the woman, who was afterwards handcuffed. Having subdued the rebellious women the Deputy seized the dog and quickly quit the premises, declaring that it was the toughest resistance he ever encountered in the execution of a writ. The dog was placed in the care of Mr. Voehl, who represents the Sheriff during the twenty-four hours allowed the defendant in which to sue out the writ of replevin. To this the latter bond with sureties is required, under which it is agreed to produce the dog if the Court shall find the property on the trial of the case, or the damages if any be awarded. The suit will go on in the Circuit Court of Somerset county, and will be tried before the May or June term. It is extremely probable, however, that criminal suits for resisting the execution of the State's writ, and for assault and battery and mayhem, will be the more serious dangers which menace the wife and mother-in-law of Mr. Bimble. If ignorance of law is no excuse, it is hard to see how those women can expect to escape punishment, all the more as they found. But, as the proverb has it—"Who strikes my dog, strikes me."

Sunday Mails.

In order to accommodate more fully church-going citizens and the public generally, the hours of opening and closing the Plainfield Post Office on Sundays hereafter will be as follows:—Office opens at 9:30 a. m. and closes at 10:30 a. m.

W. L. FOWLE, P. M.

Plainfielders Abroad.

It was a large and an entirely well-entertained audience that attended the first of the Ragan illustrated lectures at Music Hall, Tuesday evening. They were taken "Here and There in London," by a guide of remarkable memory, culture and fluency of speech. The company started in Anson sats and visited every place they had or had not heard of. Then they returned home with appetites whetted for the next trip—to leave Saturday evening for a "Ramble in Spain and Morocco."

Grand Army of the Republic.

The reports for the third quarter of the year show a healthy progress in the New Jersey Department of the Grand Army of the Republic. A majority of the posts report gains in membership—the total gains in the State being 358, including three new posts mustered in. The losses, including the surrender by one post of its charter, and the inroads of death, amounted to 183. The total number of members at the close of the year was 6,709, and at the end of the third quarter 7,103.

Some Young Men Coming.

The sociable of the Crescent Avenue Young People's Association to be held in the church parlors, this evening, will have additional and unusual attraction lent it by the presence of some young men. These, of course, must be imported for the occasion, and from the hundreds of students in the University of New York have been selected a triple quartette, and the inevitable soprano. The young ladies of the church will spread a supper for the thirteen early in the evening. Later, the young ladies of the other churches, who will herewith have had their billings, will join in entertaining these young men who will sing sweet songs to the entire gathering.

Concerning the Driven Well Patent.

The New York World Tuesday morning published the following dispatch from Washington, D. C., concerning the Green driven well patent:

"What is known as the driven well patent, which has been several times before the United States Supreme Court, and which has always heretofore been sustained, was today declared invalid in an opinion rendered by Justice Blatchford, based upon the record in the case of Andrew Green et al. against George Hovey, brought here from Iowa. This Court holds that the fact now made to appear for the first time in the driven well litigation, that the invention was used in public at Cortland, N. Y., by others than Green more than two years before application for patent was made is a fatal defect to the patent's validity. The decree of the Circuit Court in favor of the alleged infringer, Hovey, is affirmed."

A Fanwood Man Missing.

The N. Y. Sun on Saturday contained an account of the sudden disappearance of George Thomae, a prominent resident of Fanwood. Mr. Thomae, who is a retired business man, started in his phaeton last Monday to visit a physician at Westfield, but he did not reach his destination and neither he or the phaeton can be traced. He had been sick recently and on Sunday he was troubled with a rush of blood to the head. On Monday he started out on business to see a doctor about his illness, but the theory is that he wandered off while laboring under mental troubles. Detectives, it is said, are looking for the missing man, who is about 50 years old. He moved to Fanwood four years ago, and has been living quietly with his brother-in-law, Mr. R. L. Sweetser. He has a brother residing at Round Brook.

Warden Mission.

The general attendance at the chapel Sunday afternoon and evening is very large, and the services are made very interesting by so many taking an active part therein and the excellent singing by Mr. Dunham and his corps of trained choristers and organist. The attendance at the Sunday School is unusually large. The Berean Class under the leadership of Mr. F. H. Gardner, is especially noted to insure upon his loyal right hand support each Sunday afternoon in hearing God's words, and asking for information on all doubtful questions which arise in his mind. The right hand of fellowship is extended to all new comers. We are informed that the Berean Class are to give a sociable tea, followed by addresses on various amusements, Thanksgiving day, to their many friends and admirers. Later we will tell you all about it.

Sentence Day at Elizabeth.

Saturday was sentence day in the Union County Courts and the following sentences were imposed by Judge McCormick:

Ann O'Brien, disorderly house, sentence suspended.

Lily Beantree, petty larceny of wearing apparel, sentence suspended.

John M. Buckalew, petty larceny of wearing apparel, county jail for three months.

Thomas Cosgrove, assault, county jail for thirty days.

Bernard Gannon, disorderly house, fined $100.

Jos. Campbell, disorderly house, fined $100.

Thos. Shields, disorderly house, fined $150.

Edward Salley, assault on officer, State Prison for one year.

Bernard Rush, alias Wm. King, larceny, State Prison for three years.

Michael Cunningham, assault and battery, fined $10.

Wm. Jackson, assault, sentence suspended.

Wallace Laing, assault and battery, fined $25.

Edw. G. Delaney, disorderly house, fined $200.

William Wolf, assault and battery, fined $10.

Patrick Gavin, assault and battery, fined $10.

The Death Record.

Henrietta Kaeding, the eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Heinrich Kaeding, died at the home of her parents on Washington avenue, North Plainfield, Thursday of last week.

Joseph H. Emmons, an old and respectful resident in this vicinity, died at is home, Avon Park House, near the Fair grounds, Monday morning. The deceas was in his seventy years of age and had many warm friends in this city.

Hugh Harned, son-in-law of the late Ephriam Vail, died at the residence of Isaac Lyons, Green Brook, suddenly on Saturday night last, aged about 70 years. Deceased was a well-known and respected citizen, who of late years has resided in the South. The cause of death was pneumonia.

Mrs. Catherine Blimm, an elderly lady, died at the residence of her daughter, where she was visiting, No. 801 West 41st street, New York City, about ten o'clock Monday evening, aged 80 years and 4 months. She was the mother of Messrs. Thomas and Henry Blimm, the former proprietor of the Farmer's Hotel in this city, and the latter a resident of North Plainfield.

At the residence of her daughter, Mrs. William Wadsworth on Park ave., Monday morning, there passed away Janet Fingland, the estimable wife of Mr. Thomas Tilney. The deceased, who was sixty-four years of age, had been stopping with her daughter for some time past. She was possessed of a large circle of friends and acquaintances, all of whom loved to love her in life and will now mourn her demise. Paralysis is the cause of death assigned.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

The contractors in the employ of the South Plainfield and Roselle R. E. Co., went over the line of the road through this section, the 10th inst., to inspect the grade, decide on the culverts necessary, and to make a casual survey in general before beginning work in a day or so.

The cross-road posts for the sign-boards required by law, have arrived. They are of interlacing cedar, handsomely painted and a great credit to the County. The Middlesex Board of Freeholders by this one act alone of erecting sign-posts for the convenience of the traveling public, will shame the Board of Union County into a like act—if it is to be hoped.

The Lehigh Valley Railroad Company Tuesday began operation on the new branch which is to run from South Plainfield to Roselle. Yesterday men were engaged in erecting a blacksmith shop near the pond, where the necessary tools will be made and sharpened. An engine for hoisting the heavy stone which is to be used in bridging the New Brooklyn pond, has arrived and is now in place. The company has also placed a flag-house at the railroad crossing and stationed a flagman there. The work on the branch has been without a flagman, and several narrow escapes from violent death, are reported from this point.

WESTFIELD.

Mrs. Knowles, Secretary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, delivered an address in the M. E. church, Sunday morning, on the Foreign Missions, and Mrs. Gaddis addressed the Sunday School in the afternoon on Missionary Work in India. Miss Wilder was born in India and will return to that country in about two years. She gave her labors as a Missionary. Mrs. Gaddis occupied the pulpit in the evening in reference to the same subject among the Indians of our own country.

The funeral services of Edward Smith was held at the residence of his brother, Charles A. Smith on Clark street, on Saturday afternoon, the Rev. N. W. Cadwell officiating. Interment in Fairview Cemetery. The deceased was a former resident of our town, living on Elm street for the past year. He died in the Brooklyn City Hospital, from the effects of a severe clubbing he had received on Sunday evening, November 6th, by Policeman O'Dea of the Tenth precinct, Brooklyn, who is now confined in Raymond Street Jail to await the finding of the Coroner's Jury which adjourned to meet this Monday evening.

FANWOOD JOTTINGS.

Our Suburban Sauntere Lapses Into Poetry, as Well as Prose.

NOVEMBER.

Now November cometh on
And the sportsman gets his gun,
And prepareth for the chase,
In his heart he hearth thrills,
Then the fleet of foot he kills
And applies his hungry teeth, best, best.

Now the doddell feels the wind
And his udder tries to find
And to get to some warm place,
Now the farmer raiseth Cain
And the kitchen stove the same,
And the house is filled with smoke, smoke, smoke.

—Hello, Central, "Hello, what is it?" "Give me two hundred and nine, please." Conversations like this may often be heard at the depot, for Mr. Brown now glories in all the dignity of a patent telephone. He says it is a great convenience. It is true that you have to put the drum to your mouth when you talk, and to hear the other fellow you must shift it back to your ear, so as to use your expedition there is apt to be confusion; but these are trifling defects compared to the honor of a real live telephone. Mr. Sheppard is one at "The Gables," and thus Fanwood advances another peg in the dribbage board of civilization.

Mr. Julian Hawthorne is back Again, and, it is presumed, at work on something more for the reading public. We can tolerate Mr. Hawthorne's absence, if he will give us more of such books "like Garth" and some others. That story of his, by the way, "A Tragic Mystery," written from Inspector Byrnes' Diary, is all true, even to the last detail, and McGloin's case all told in 91 N. Y. Court of Appeals reports, beginning at page 241

Mr. Editor, your Suburban Sauntere has found himself in a fix of late already. Here is Mr. Oliver taking me to task because I told THE PRESS readers last week that he rode his two-track tricycle with two wheels in the middle of the road and one in the rut. He says that is all wrong. It is the two wheels that go in the rut, Changed accordingly. But how should a poor innocent layman who has never ridden a tricycle in his life, know the difference? The main point, after all, is that the machine makes two tracks instead of the usual three.

Mr. Ackerman is the owner of the house on Park avenue, formerly occupied by Mr. Fancher. One of the chimneys runs considerably from the perpendicular. A wag of this place was joking past with a friend the other day, and remarked that that was the first time he had ever noticed a lean on one of Mr. Ackerman's houses. At this the friend turned over and died, but the wag is still at large.

The days are now so short that most of the communings have to walk home in the dark—pitch dark at that. This would not be so if our street lamps were kept in service. It is now several years since they have been used, isn't it about time we had them again?

Well, we have survived the awful crisis of Sunday Fall election, and the boys look as if after the bullwark of our liberties from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. Not quite from 7 to 7, though, for at noon the officers calmly took a siesta for and hour, and the polls were closed for that time. Have they a right to do this?

Club men, that is Fanwood Club men, found time to leave the enticements of the flowing glasses on Saturday night, and betook themselves to their Club house to attend the opening thereof. The Club rooms were in full force.

Fanwood is full of it. With due solemnity President Martine rolled the first ball, and then many ball games were indulged in, and other ways of celebrating the opening of the Club house known to Society. The wondering populace beheld the broad fields of the club lighted by the bulbs of the electric spreading, in large letters, the name of the club to all passers-by, including YOU!

SCRUBAN SAUNTERER.

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING COLUMN.

When baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

SHILOH'S CURE IS RESPECTFULLY

Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy, a marvelous cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria, Canker Mouth and Headache. With each bottle there is an ingenious Nasal Inhaler and full directions for treatment of those complaints without extra charge. Price 50 cents. Sold by Frank A. Hall, Dalph, City Pharmacy.

ANSWER THIS QUESTION.

Why do so many people use Scrubans for Coughs, Colds and Consumption? Because they are safe, sure and reliable. Sold under a positive guarantee by Frank A. Hall, Dalph, City Pharmacy.

Shiloh's Vitalizer is the great blood purifier, guaranteed to cure them. Sold by Frank A. Hall, Dalph, City Pharmacy.

SHILOH'S CONSUMPTION CURE.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold, a few doses invariably cures the worst cases of Coughs, Croup and Bronchitis, while in a severe and dangerous case of Lung Disease, one bottle will work wonders. Three sizes, 10 cts., 50 cts. and $1. Every bottle guaranteed. If your child has a Cough or Cold, don't fail to get a bottle of Shiloh's Cure. If you have a Cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10 cents, 50 cents and $1. If your lungs are sore, Chest or Back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by Frank A. Hall, Dalph, City Pharmacy.

"Your name is legion," may be applied to those who die annually of consumption, although they might have been saved by the timely use of Dr. King's New Discovery, which cures the most obstinate Coughs, Colds, Throat and Lung Diseases. It is gratifying to know that the people have found out that there is one remedy that is largely instrumental in attaining this end. Try it.

Try, Try Again.

After trying many advertised remedies for catarrh during the past year, I tried Ely's Cream Balm, and with complete success. It is the only remedy that has done me permanent good. I recommend it to all sufferers from catarrh.—Thomas Hall, Ex-Treasurer Putnam County, Putnam, Fla., Sept. 1, 1886.

Ely Brothers, Owego, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—I have used your Cream Balm extensively, and found it a perfect cure for catarrh. Have been troubled with catarrh for years, and have used many remedies, but never found any relief until I used Ely's Cream Balm.—Rev. Wm. Wilson, Pastor Methodist Church, Dalton, N. Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall street, New York.—apr25-1y

GRAND FAIR!
Under the auspices of the "Ladies' Christian Work Society," in aid of the Furnishing Fund of the New German Reformed Church,
To be held in the Church, on Craig Place, North Plainfield, commencing
MONDAY, NOVEMBER 14th,
(Afternoon and Evenings)
And Continuing for ONE WEEK.
ADMISSION 10 CENTS.

DEMAREST'S

NEW STORE.
Choice Creamery Butter. The best in the city. Try it and be convinced. Mason's jars, with porcelain lined tops. Lighting Jars and Jelly Tumblers. Pure Spices, all kinds. Green Ginger Root, Mustard Seed, and Fruits of all kinds, in their season. All of which are sold at Bottom Prices.
P. M. DEMAREST,
27 PARK AVENUE

WHITNEY
OFFERS FOR 30 DAYS
HIS ENTIRE STOCK OF
-:DRY:-GOODS:-
AND CARPETS,
AT SPECIAL
LOW-:-PRICES!
Previous to his Annual Inventory!
Do not lose the opportunity of making selections now while the assortment is complete
Opposite Post Office.

Sebring Bros.,
Clothiers,
—AND—Cutters.
—OF—
Large Display
CLOTHS!

PECK'S CORNER. PECK'S CORNER.
All Competition Distanced
AT PECK'S.
His Inducements Excel any Offered Elsewhere.
Seasonable Goods!
Fashionable Styles!
Incomparably Low Prices!
AT PECK'S.
The Grand Christmas Opening
AT EDSALL'S!
No. 20 West Front Street.
SATURDAY, NOV. 19,
Will be shown the nicest assortment of attractive articles suitable for
HOLIDAY PRESENTS!
Ever offered in this part of the State,
AND AT
The Lowest Prices.

Y. M. C. A. SERIES OF FOUR CONCERTS
—BY—
THE NEW YORK PHILHARMONIC CLUB,
ASSISTED BY PROMINENT VOCALISTS,
—AT—
STILLMAN MUSIC HALL
1887. SECOND SEASON. 1888.
Dec. 6. Jan. 31, Feb. 21. March 20.
Reserved Seat Tickets for the Series of Four Concerts, $2.00
" Single Concert, 1.00
Course Tickets at Heyniolds Pharmacy on and after Thanksgiving Day.
Tickets for Single Concert at same place on and after December, 5th. nov18-3d

Everything at NEW YORK PRICES!
Green's Furniture Warerooms
REPAIRING AND UPHOLSTERING IN ALL BRANCHES.
GOODS TAKEN ON STORAGE.

TO THE LADIES!
EXAMINE OUR
ALL-WOOL STRIPED WOVEN SKIRTS,
MADE AND UNNADE,
A FULL LINE OF LADIES', MISSES' and CHILDREN'S Newmarkets, Cleaks and Jackets,
AT POPE'S.
FRONT AND SOMERSET STS.

C. K. COMPTON,
Confectioner and Ice Cream Caterer,
Only the Best of Ice Cream and Ices Furnished for Weddings, Parties, Receptions.
TRY MY CREAM AND HOME-MADE BREAD
First-class stock. Hot in the afternoon at 5 o'clock. Please remember I manufacture my own Candy and use only the best of sugar and No. 1 flavoring matter and vegetable coloring materials. Goods promptly delivered.
C. K. COMPTON,
36 West Front Street. Near the Opera House.

HALL'S
ELASTIC COTTON-LAP
MATTRESSES.
Next to a Horse-Hair Mattress, the most COMFORTABLE AND DURABLE
in the World, and at LESS COST.
ALL MADE IN LAPS OR LAYERS.
WILL NOT MAT DOWN.
MANUFACTURED AT
THE HOWARD MILLS.
FRANK A. HALL,
SOLE AGENT,
NEW YORK.
ASK YOUR DEALER FOR THEM.

TWO RAT STORIES.

One Is a Good Story, But the Other Easily Has Its Merits.

A horse and covered wagon stood near the sidewalk on Dearborn street the other day, says the Chicago Mail. The side of the wagon bore the legend: "Rats killed from your house at 75 cents" and on the seat and a decayed looking individual smoking a pipe, was the air of a man who had a contract for a portable rose-trade in his pocket and a $5.50 round ticket, with only 20 cents punched out of it. As a second-hand carpet stopped on to the rat-charmer lifted his foot onto one of the hubs, took a look in the box, and said in a confident tone: "Sh. I've got a few stowaways on the discovery any time you enter saw. I often sit on my back porch and watch them come out of the alley, and I've counted well and run around in the yard. There is one old fellow among the rest—a gray old fellow who is blind. He steps high and feels his way around just like a blind man. He can't find fat and all fill up and chewed almost off. I have long wondered how it happened, and suppose it came from the young rats playing with and abusing the old fellow. I can some thing that explained it all. A dog once soldiers in the yard, and they all made a dash for the hole, in the excitement with but they didn't leave the blind one behind. A stout young fellow grabbed him by one ear and dragged him to the hole, and then looked at Jerusalem him after. The old fellow was spared, but he has never been the same since. He has lost his nerve, of course, and is afraid that the chewed ears and fat."

The rat catcher turned his eyes over the whole crowd and took a pull at the "Humph," said he, "that's nothing. I did see something that was a little out of the ordinary. I was in a house on Fourth avenue, and they all made a dash for the hole, in the excitement with but they didn't, leave the blind one behind. A stout young fellow grabbed him by one ear and dragged him to the hole, and then looked at Jerusalem him after. The old fellow was spared, but he has never been the same since. He has lost his nerve, of course, and is afraid that the chewed ears and fat."

The rat catcher turned his eyes over the whole crowd and took a pull at the "Humph," said he, "that's nothing. I did see something that was a little out of the ordinary. I was in a house on Fourth avenue, and they all made a dash for the hole, in the excitement with but they didn't, leave the blind one behind. A stout young fellow grabbed him by one ear and dragged him to the hole, and then looked at Jerusalem him after. The old fellow was spared, but he has never been the same since. He has lost his nerve, of course, and is afraid that the chewed ears and fat."

ODD MATTERS IN PRINT.

A WOMAN waiting for a train in a New Haven, (Conn.) railway station saw one day had eight severed children with her.

The most valuable ink-well in the country is that kept by the author which now rests in President Lincoln's first hundred-toy consists of silver cast to fit it, as a token of friendship by one American to another. It was molded by a New York jeweler, and is valued at many thousand dollars.

A Tuscaloosa man had a very sensitive belief to the other day from which he retired in disgust. His hat contained a crow in a field and was practicing loose when he heard a gentleman say to a friend: "I wish, by, Frederick, advised me of your remedy." I used a dozen bottles of it, and was entirely recovered. I shall never cease to commend your excellent medicines, and would gladly testify to their worth."

"Yours truly, A. B. WHITE."

And here is another: Augusta, Ga., "SUPPOSE, Ark., August, 25th, 1887. "Last spring I was first-rate, afflicted with stye-sighted, and my life was despaired of by my physicians. As a last hope I tried S. S. S. and soon found myself, and in two weeks was able to attend to my business. Yours, for health,

"S. H. WITHROW, Ed. Sabine Courier."

Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Central Railroad of New Jersey

Station in New York—Foot of Liberty Street.

Time Table in Effect October 11, 1887.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 2.27, 5.43, 6.32, 7.05, 7.30, 7.50, 8.05, 8.25, 8.45, 9.12, 10.05, 11.05 a. m., 12.05, 1.05, 2.05, 3.05, 4.05, 5.05, 6.05, 7.05, 8.05, 9.05, 10.05, 11.05 p. m. Sunday—4.52, 8.05, 9.05, 10.05, 11.05 a. m., 1.27, 3.05, 5.05, 7.05, 9.05, 10.05, 11.05 p. m.

Leave New York from foot of Liberty Street, 6.00, 7.45, 8.30, 9.00, 9.30, 10.00, 10.30, 11.00, 11.30, 12.00, 1.00, 2.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 p. m. Sunday—4.00, 8.45, 9.00, 9.30, 10.00, 10.30, 11.00 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield 5.47, 6.32, 7.05, 7.30, 8.05, 8.40, 9.32, 10.37, 11.08, 11.42, a. m., 12.32, 1.21, 2.25, 3.15, 4.05, 5.05, 6.05, 7.05, 8.05, 9.05, 10.05, 11.05 p. m. Sunday—6.52, 10.05, 11.05 a. m., 1.37, 5.05, 7.05, 9.05, 10.05, 11.05 p. m.

Leave Newark—6.48, 7.34, 8.08, 9.05, 10.35, 11.00, 11.30, 12.00, 1.00, 1.30, 2.30, 3.30, 4.30, 5.30, 6.30, 7.30, 8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 p. m. Sunday—8.32, 10.30, 11.30, a. m., 1.37, 5.30, 7.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 p. m.

Passengers for Newark change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 6.32, 8.08, 9.32, 11.08, a. m., 2.08, 3.08, 5.08, 6.34, 7.34, 9.34, 10.37, 11.42 p. m. Sunday—8.32, 11.42, a. m., 5.08, 7.08, 10.14, a. m., 1.46, 5.34, 6.43, 10.45, p. m.

Leave Somerville 6.05, 8.35, 7.05, 10.05, 11.35, 9.35, 10.35, 12.35, a. m., 12.35, 2.05, 3.20, 5.05, 6.35, 7.35, 9.35, 10.35 p. m. Sunday—8.35, 11.05, a. m., 1.05, 3.20, 5.05, p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield 5.10, 9.32, 9.37, a. m., 2.08, 3.16, 4.38, 5.34, 6.08, p. m. Sunday—8.32, 9.37, a. m., 5.43, p. m.

Leave Easton 6.02, 8.37, a. m., 12.46, 4.15, 7.00, p. m. Sunday—7.14, a. m., 7.00, p. m.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

LEAVE PLAINFIELD

8.10, a. m.—For Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg and Mauch Chunk, connecting at High Bridge for Lake Hopatcong and Mountain Lake Hopatcong, etc. Sundays, to Easton.

7.10, a. m.—For Flemington.

8.32, a. m.—For High Bridge Branch, Schooley's Mountain, Lake Hopatcong, Easton, West Stockton, and Mauch Chunk.

9.37, a. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Lake Hopatcong, Scranton, &c.

2.08, p. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, &c.

4.38, p. m.—For Easton, Wind Gap, Mauch Chunk, Tunnel, Lake Hopatcong, Delaware Water Gap, Scranton, &c.

5.34, p. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Schooley's Mountain, Lake Hopatcong, &c.

6.08, p. m.—For Flemington.

7.00, p. m.—For Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, &c.

A LITTLE LEVITY.

GREAT groans from little ache-corns grow.

"Acid acquaintance" are seldom forgotten if they have any wealth.

Five should be weighed in their own scales. The extra weight, that tend by the same token takes the fish, is never correct.

A WATCHMAKER would never do as a mediator of water rates; he would be apt to make the parties mad as hatters.

A COLLEGE-MAN young man who wishes what kind of a upon "cane" was, replied: "Both common and uncommon."

BEN SHARP, of Buffalo Bill's troupe, has had his name engraved on a bullet. The inscription reads thus: "Mr. Carmine Underpinnet."

TWO COMMITTEES in the opening up of a new Southern harbor, at Jacksonville, Fla., got the lots and a newspaper to publish the key to the situation.

THE best article of refreshment a young lady can provide for a different suitor, is Hamlet's advice to Ophelia—a nun-ery.

A CHICAGO man has invented a pair of pantaloons that will not wear out. Those who have seen them say they are the limit.

"Now, Johnny, what is the difference between a pony and a horse?" asked the teacher. "One of your windows is wide open!" was the unexpected and startling response. "The one you are looking out of!"

ONE day the children were having an object lesson in the kitchen. The teacher called attention to the small tail, saying: "Of course no one has a big tail." The next day she asked the scholars to write a description of the mint, and a little girl wrote up by saying: "The kitchen has a tail, but it must not be talked about."

THE LOCAL NEWSPAPER.

A Few Comments for the Benefit of Dissatisfied Croakers.

The newspaper pays better wages, employs more skilled labor, invests more capital, takes greater risks on its investment than any other commercial enterprise, (Times.) Bosh. It pays less to Youngstown (O.) Independent. It does more advertising, expends more brains and cash, produces pabulum, for which it receives less money than any line of honest recognition and money, than any other business proposition. The newspaper publisher, and the employes of the employees, all expect the newspaper to do one of the greatest things in the world; to convince the corporation with a dozen of gorgeous prosperity, having nothing to receive and nothing to do, that patronize the streets as avenues leading to increased business and profits. Pshaw. To do so this the editor must have five dollars a day; the printer from three to four dollars; the pressman and his assistants eight dollars; the carrier boy a dollar; the paper dealer, the mailing clerks, the stereotypers, and all the living salaries—all of which are promptly paid in all honest offices, distributed by regular publication, every week.

The newspaper owner invests in the plant, and from his personal possessions meets all these expenses. His manager, in person or by deputy, is the only merchant, the manufacturer, the employing mechanic, who has no advertising department. The benefits from the advertising are mutual, but the advertiser, in many cases, while profiting largely from his minor investment, almost invariably assumes to be conferring a favor on the paper for advertising a sort of tax-a gratuity on his part. Others, with a logistical variation of this stupid simplicity that predicts the ruin of a newspaper when a good, old-fashioned, intelligent, church-going man dies, and which in conscious confusion, declares that the papers have an injury to the town! That type pedal-pushing printer, who is doing nothing grand and glowing for his family, etc., "Money paid for advertising is worse than thrown away." The people know me, and if I want to wait till they come, they'll find me." The papers ain't so good, nohow.

How we do wish all the newspapers in the country could go on a strike for one single month, just to see if these effigies of fossilized ossification are susceptible of inoculation with the virus of human progress and educational enlightenment!

An Old German War Horse.

At the battle of Marsla-la-Tour, which prevented the escape of the army of Bazaine on the road to Metz to Verdun, on August 16, 1870, the dragoons of the Prince Albert guard, by a wonderful attack upon a body of infantry, in which three-quarters of the horses perished, but which decided the battle in favor of the Germans. There is still a horse alive and capable to do all the daily work of the barracks, which was at that grand feat of bravery at the age of four. It is now twenty-three years old, and is much admired for its good looks and active song.

DEATH TO OLD AGE.

A Boston Man Rediscovers a Harmless Antidote to Time.

The hens are, over a dish of mixwalk-ble grandma was a Boston chemist for the last quarter of the 19th century. The female chemist may be indefinitely preserved. Homestead, remarks a correspondent of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, the dear creatures will suffer no amount over from the effects of baldness, and all functions being entirely done away with by the invention aforesaid. The agent employed is a secret, I should rather say, process—these savans of time, to simply the oil of shrub's wood. It is obtained by stewing the trippings of the animal in 100 degrees. The "wood fat" being precipitated appears in the shape of a beautiful yellow grease, which turns black in time, but not quite so soon as the fat. It when applied to the cuticle is a most penetrating, its chemistry being of such subtlety through the pores, and in this manner it acts directly on the roots of the hair, fifty thousand underneath. Rubbed upon the skin of an infant, it produces an artificial phenomenon of age. We smiled when to which is applied soon becomes as smooth as a young girl's cheek, and the elderly gentleman of new acquaintance, who said affects some of the virtues of youth, bought an example for the staff a few years ago and, by using it conscientiously, has almost obliterated the crow's feet which had formed a network about his brain. The wood-fat also prevents baldness, by supplying to the hair as an ointment quite grown the lack of which causes it to be slow and fall out. It is the most wonderful discovery this marvel in therapeutics is accordingly entitled. It was known two thousand five hundred years ago to the Greeks and Romans under the name of "sapo," and was used by them to make their supple the joints of competitors in athletic games. Gradually it disappeared from stages, stanga to say, is found in the shape of a fatty secretion of the human hide. It is obtained also, from cows, hens and other vegetables. Physicians use it also a base in the compounding of ointments, the medicinal ingredients of which are conveyed by its agency through the skin.

Since its virtues were known in her day, why should we not suppose that Helen of Troy, who at forty—when she was carried off by Paris—was the most beautiful woman of her time, employed some preparation from or wood-fat to obliterate the ravages of age. Many of the so-called charms of Cleopatra were not preserved by some such means as these.

Flemington Street Hand Writer.

Mr. A. E. Wilde, the well-known author of "Wilde's Elocography," famous as the Champion Shorthand Writer of the World, received the first prizes in the international contests at London, Edinburgh, Paris and Berlin; he came near being permanently disabled by rheumatism. His recovery by the use of a remedy unfailing in curing rheumatism and all blood diseases is told in a letter from his office, 27 Wellington st., Chicago, dated June 20, 1887. He writes:

"I have thought but three wonderful cures for me. For the past five years I have been troubled with rheumatic pains. My right hand had become almost useless and I was gradually losing speed as a shorthand writer. A friend, Miss Lily Dodsley, advised me of your remedy. I used a dozen bottles of S. S. S. and was entirely recovered. I shall never cease to commend your excellent medicines, and would gladly testify to their worth.

"Yours truly, A. B. WHITE."

And here is another: Augusta, Ga., "SUPPOSE, Ark., August, 25th, 1887. "Last spring I was first-rate, afflicted with stye-sighted, and my life was despaired of by my physicians. As a last hope I tried S. S. S. and soon found myself, and in two weeks was able to attend to my business. Yours, for health,

"S. H. WITHROW, Ed. Sabine Courier."

Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Central Railroad of New Jersey

Station in New York—Foot of Liberty Street.

Time Table in Effect October 11, 1887.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 2.27, 5.43, 6.32, 7.05, 7.30, 7.50, 8.05, 8.25, 8.45, 9.12, 10.05, 11.05 a. m., 12.05, 1.05, 2.05, 3.05, 4.05, 5.05, 6.05, 7.05, 8.05, 9.05, 10.05, 11.05 p. m. Sunday—4.52, 8.05, 9.05, 10.05, 11.05 a. m., 1.27, 3.05, 5.05, 7.05, 9.05, 10.05, 11.05 p. m.

Leave New York from foot of Liberty Street, 6.00, 7.45, 8.30, 9.00, 9.30, 10.00, 10.30, 11.00, 11.30, 12.00, 1.00, 2.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 p. m. Sunday—4.00, 8.45, 9.00, 9.30, 10.00, 10.30, 11.00 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield 5.47, 6.32, 7.05, 7.30, 8.05, 8.40, 9.32, 10.37, 11.08, 11.42, a. m., 12.32, 1.21, 2.25, 3.15, 4.05, 5.05, 6.05, 7.05, 8.05, 9.05, 10.05, 11.05 p. m. Sunday—6.52, 10.05, 11.05 a. m., 1.37, 5.05, 7.05, 9.05, 10.05, 11.05 p. m.

Leave Newark—6.48, 7.34, 8.08, 9.05, 10.35, 11.00, 11.30, 12.00, 1.00, 1.30, 2.30, 3.30, 4.30, 5.30, 6.30, 7.30, 8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 p. m. Sunday—8.32, 10.30, 11.30, a. m., 1.37, 5.30, 7.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 p. m.

Passengers for Newark change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 6.32, 8.08, 9.32, 11.08, a. m., 2.08, 3.08, 5.08, 6.34, 7.34, 9.34, 10.37, 11.42 p. m. Sunday—8.32, 11.42, a. m., 5.08, 7.08, 10.14, a. m., 1.46, 5.34, 6.43, 10.45, p. m.

Leave Somerville 6.05, 8.35, 7.05, 10.05, 11.35, 9.35, 10.35, 12.35, a. m., 12.35, 2.05, 3.20, 5.05, 6.35, 7.35, 9.35, 10.35 p. m. Sunday—8.35, 11.05, a. m., 1.05, 3.20, 5.05, p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield 5.10, 9.32, 9.37, a. m., 2.08, 3.16, 4.38, 5.34, 6.08, p. m. Sunday—8.32, 9.37, a. m., 5.43, p. m.

Leave Easton 6.02, 8.37, a. m., 12.46, 4.15, 7.00, p. m. Sunday—7.14, a. m., 7.00, p. m.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

LEAVE PLAINFIELD

8.10, a. m.—For Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg and Mauch Chunk, connecting at High Bridge for Lake Hopatcong and Mountain Lake Hopatcong, etc. Sundays, to Easton.

7.10, a. m.—For Flemington.

8.32, a. m.—For High Bridge Branch, Schooley's Mountain, Lake Hopatcong, Easton, West Stockton, and Mauch Chunk.

9.37, a. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Lake Hopatcong, Scranton, &c.

2.08, p. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, &c.

4.38, p. m.—For Easton, Wind Gap, Mauch Chunk, Tunnel, Lake Hopatcong, Delaware Water Gap, Scranton, &c.

5.34, p. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Schooley's Mountain, Lake Hopatcong, &c.

6.08, p. m.—For Flemington.

7.00, p. m.—For Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, &c.

THE LOCAL NEWSPAPER.

A Few Comments for the Benefit of Dissatisfied Croakers.

The newspaper pays better wages, employs more skilled labor, invests more capital, takes greater risks on its investment than any other commercial enterprise, (Times.) Bosh. It pays less to Youngstown (O.) Independent. It does more advertising, expends more brains and cash, produces pabulum, for which it receives less money than any line of honest recognition and money, than any other business proposition. The newspaper publisher, and the employes of the employees, all expect the newspaper to do one of the greatest things in the world; to convince the corporation with a dozen of gorgeous prosperity, having nothing to receive and nothing to do, that patronize the streets as avenues leading to increased business and profits. Pshaw. To do so this the editor must have five dollars a day; the printer from three to four dollars; the pressman and his assistants eight dollars; the carrier boy a dollar; the paper dealer, the mailing clerks, the stereotypers, and all the living salaries—all of which are promptly paid in all honest offices, distributed by regular publication, every week.

The newspaper owner invests in the plant, and from his personal possessions meets all these expenses. His manager, in person or by deputy, is the only merchant, the manufacturer, the employing mechanic, who has no advertising department. The benefits from the advertising are mutual, but the advertiser, in many cases, while profiting largely from his minor investment, almost invariably assumes to be conferring a favor on the paper for advertising a sort of tax-a gratuity on his part. Others, with a logistical variation of this stupid simplicity that predicts the ruin of a newspaper when a good, old-fashioned, intelligent, church-going man dies, and which in conscious confusion, declares that the papers have an injury to the town! That type pedal-pushing printer, who is doing nothing grand and glowing for his family, etc., "Money paid for advertising is worse than thrown away." The people know me, and if I want to wait till they come, they'll find me." The papers ain't so good, nohow.

How we do wish all the newspapers in the country could go on a strike for one single month, just to see if these effigies of fossilized ossification are susceptible of inoculation with the virus of human progress and educational enlightenment!

PARAGRAPHIC POINTERS.

FEAR is said to be the native land of the materialists.

The Dawson pea derives its name from Dawsons, the place of its origin.

The origin of the word "Hurrah" as an interjection of the form applied to battery is the Greeks.

In its native state the coffee tree often grows to be height of twenty-five feet.

Texas wool less than 22,000 post offices in the United States in 1887, at present there are 45,000.

The population of the United States in 1790 was 3,929,625, in 1880 it was 50,155,783, increased to 50,155,783.

Of religious sects and over people of the earth speak in 3,064 tongues languages, and have 1,100 different religious beliefs.

The oldest book in the library of the Court of Judea II., first produced was Sophocles' tragedy. They were made as a gift for her royal daughter.

Tea was unknown to the Greeks and Romans, and was first introduced into Europe by the Dutch East India Company.

It cooked to the origin of the term "cold blue" as applied to unclaimed express matter, Adams & Co. Express Co. Alvin Adams is the express business and his wagon and in old times was painted blue.

New Haven, Conn., was the first city in the world to open a telephone exchange. This occurred in January, 1878, three months after the invention of the principal cities of the United States have a total of fifty thousand exchange subscribers.

Tradition points to Central Asia as the aboriginal abode of the horse. The first horse was landed in America at Buenos Ayres in 1537. Australia had so many wild horses in 1823, it was found necessary to shoot thousands of them.

In France a glass or mug of beer or ale is called a "demi," which word is derived from the German, it originated in Munich during the reign of Louis de Baviere, who was thirsty, and, seeing a mug of which to extract it is commemorative.

The Grand Army.

Origin of the Most Powerful Organization of Union Veterans.

The organization was inception to the New York Republic by Dr. Benjamin F. Stephenson, a physician of Springfield, Ill., who had served as assistant surgeon in the 14th Illinois Infantry during the first. He first mustered the Grand Army of the Republic, and issued accounts state that December, Ill., was the birthplace of the order, but the copy having censorship of the Post Office Department at the first number and initially took the publication, governed by the Rules of Stephenson had prepared, says that it was founded at Springfield.

April 6, 1866, the formal organization of a post occurred, however, beyond question, on which command only forty-three Union soldiers.

Among the originators of the Grand Army of the Republic were Messrs. Cutrin and Post, of Springfield, Ill., Major Rutrin Yellow, and their companions, who posted the first ritual of the Grand Army as used by Dr. Stephenson.

Shortly after Post No. 2 was formed at Springfield, and others were quickly established throughout Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, Ohio, Iowa and Missouri.

On July 22, 1866, the first department encampment was held at Springfield, with John M. Palmer elected Department Commander.

A Fine Libel Judge Chambers.

Sebastian Mueller is the name of a man who has just arrived from New Haven, Conn., from which home in twenty-one. In his performance are thus described by the Chicago Times: "Sebastian is seven feet and a half high, and weighs 400 pounds. He is well built, with large and massive shoulders and chest, and his arms are of unusual development. Taking a stone about six inches square in his right hand, he will hold it out at full length from his body, and then he will hold it firmly with his left hand against his right arm, and then he will bend his arm. Then swinging his right arm around he will bend his arm. Then swinging his right arm around he will bend his arm. Then swinging his right arm around

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY,
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY,
AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XX. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1887. No. 47.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its limitations as in its authorities."—MADISON.

Rates of Advertising.

Space	1 WEEK	2	3	1 MONTH	2	3	6	12
1 in.	$1.00	$1.50	$2.00	$3.00	$4.00	$5.00	$8.00	$12.00
2 in.	1.50	2.00	2.50	4.00	5.00	6.00	9.00	15.00
3 in.	2.00	2.50	3.00	5.00	6.00	7.00	10.00	18.00
¼ col.	3.00	4.00	5.00	8.00	10.00	12.00	18.00	30.00
½ col.	5.00	7.00	9.00	14.00	18.00	22.00	35.00	55.00
1 col.	9.00	12.00	15.00	25.00	30.00	35.00	55.00	90.00

All Electric bold-face type is solid metal.
"Lists of Everything" column, 5 cts. per line.
Double rate paper in advance of above rates.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

O. L. JENNINGS, M. D.,
Homœopathist,
announces to the family of Rast Front Street, near Plainfield, N. J., and vicinity, that he has returned to his practice. 10 to 12 A. M. 2 to 4 P. M. —sep 18-87.

JAMES M. JOHNSON,
Counsellor-at-Law,
Commissioner of Deeds, Master-in-Chancery, Notary Public, Office corner of Park avenue and Second—1ost—jy6d

GEORGE W. DAY,
General Auctioneer;
Sales of Premises promptly attended. P. O. Box 192 Plainfield, N. J., or address in care of Constitutionalist office. —1ost—jy6d

DR. CHARLES H. THEIS,
Dentist,
29 West Front street. A new local anesthetic applied to the gums for dental extract pain during it entirely.—1ost—

H. BASO,
Auctioneer,
P. O. Address, Lock Box 31, Allen's Corner, N. J. Orders left at P. O. Office in Scotchwood store, or at residence, Allen's Corner, N. J., will receive prompt attention. —1ost—

OSCAR S. TEALL,
Architect,
142 Broadway, New York city, rooms 32 and 33 (Supervision and Trust Co. Bank Building.) Real Estate Agent. —1ost—jy6d

WM. K. NICHOLS,
Attorney-at-Law,
MASTER IN CHANCERY, NOTARY PUBLIC.
Counsel-at-Law of Banks, Offices, North avenue opposite the depot. —1ost—

J. H. FERSTER,
Veterinary Surgeon.
Office in A. M. Sommer's livery office corner Main street and Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Diseases of the horse carefully attended. Telephone call No. 18. Residence, corner of Second and Watchung avenue. Residence, 12 East Front street.—1ost—jy6d

ARTHUR P. MILLER,
Attorney-at-Law,
Successor to the late W. H. Maxson. Solicitor in Chancery. Commissioner of Deeds and Notary Public. Office, 2 East Front street, Plainfield, N. J. Money to loan on first mortgage on real estate security. —1ost—jy6d

F. A. DUNBAR,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor.
No. 7 Park avenue, Cowperth building. Particular attention given to the laying out of subdivisions of property into lots. Further detail, to all parties in the vicinity. —1ost—jy6d

DR. J. P. GRIFFEN,
Electric Baths.
Dr. Griffen treats chronic diseases with the Electric Bath. Rheumatism, Nervousness, Kidney Diseases, Insomnia, Dyspepsia, Female Complaints, etc., successfully treated by Electricity and Electric Baths. Consultation free. Office, Locke's block, corner Park avenue and Second street, opposite Washington.—1ost—jy6d

BUSINESS CARDS.

ROBERT JAHN,
TIN AND COPPER-SMITH,
Scotch Plains,
Has on hand Stoves and Heaters, Tinware, Hollow Ware, Wash Boilers, Wash Tubs, Pumps, Tinware, and all kinds of sheet iron work. Roofing and the cheapest and best Vulcanite Caps. Repairing promptly attended to.—1ost—jy6d

TO THE PUBLIC !

We wish to inform our customers and the public generally that we have on hand the best quality of

LEHIGH COAL,
Fresh from the Mines.

It is under cover and well protected from the weather. We are prepared to deliver it well screened and in good order promptly. We are also prepared to furnish all kinds of seasoned Lumber and Masons' Materials at short notice.

A. D. COOK & BRO.
—1ost—

J. Hervey Doane,
9 PARK AVENUE.
[Formerly Clark's.]

Watches,
Clocks
And Jewelry,
Repairing neatly and promptly done —1ost—

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, VEGETABLES, DRIED FRUIT, ETC.
CORNER EMILY AND DUER STREETS
North Plainfield, New Jersey.

Celebrated Pillsbury Flour.
THE BEST IN THE MARKET.
ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED. Charges for post-office facilities a consideration. Respectfully, WILLIAM H. SHOTWELL.
—1ost—

BOSTON CLOTHING HOUSE.
42 W. FRONT ST.
Reliable Goods at Low Prices.
Correct Styles. Right Prices
—1ost—

Geo. A. Moore,
(Of the late firm of Moore Brown)
Is now the sole proprietor of the old established store at
No. 44 NORTH AVENUE.
Where he will continue to supply patrons with the finest groceries of Fresh and Salt meats; Fish of all kinds, Oysters, Clams, Game in season, and the choicest market prices. Anything not readily kept in store furnished at short notice. —1ost—

Edward Ramonetti,
OYSTER AND ICE CREAM SALOON.
OYSTERS BY THE QUART, 100 OR 1000.
BARLOTTE RUSSE MADE TO ORDER
All Orders Promptly Attended to.
24 NORTH AVENUE.
Plainfield, N. J. Telephone Call, No. 20. —1ost—

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

Force's Hotel !
NORTH AVENUE
Near R. R. Depot, Plainfield, New Jersey.
JAMES H. FORCE, Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY HOTEL.
Transient guests taken at reasonable rates.

Bottled Liquors a Specialty.

Laing's Hotel !
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
J. B. MILLER & BRO., Proprietors.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.

James Conneely
Wishes to inform the public, generally that he has opened a
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 32 PARK AVE.,
Where he will be pleased to furnish his friends and the public with choicest brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors. —1ost—

FURF EXCHANGE HOTEL,
72 Courtlandt street,
CORNER WASHINGTON, NEW YORK CITY
FRED. W. BALLARD, Proprietor
(Formerly of Jersey City, for 20 years, conducting the Delmonico corner Washington st.; Courtlandt street, New York, formerly kept by the late James C. Curtis, and by W. m. Ballard. All their old friends will be most cordially received.—1ost—jy6d

FINE WINES, LIQUORS AND SEGARS.—1ost—

SOMERSET HOTEL,
For Somerset & Emily Sts., North Plainfield, N. J.
Permanent and Transient Board, at Reasonable Rates.
First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all reasonable hours. —1ost—

C. E. JOHNSON,
(Late Son of Shepherd, Johnson & Johnson)
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
Office adjoining City Hotel on Second, corner of Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey. Residence, 11 East Second street. Jobbing solicited.—1ost—jy6d

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent
ALBEMARLE—Madison Avenue, near Park Avenue, Plainfield, N. J.
Goods received on consignment

MRS. E. J. MARTIN'S
MAGIC RENOVATING FLUID.
For taking out grease, ink, and kind of spots from clothing, carpets, rugs, etc., without injury to the coloring for glossed, crumpled or soiled ribbons, it restores the lustre. Renders the last worn dress or coat as good as new. Sold by druggists generally. Price 25 cts. per bottle. Sent to any address, 50 East Front street, and at Mrs. W. L. Force's, 10 East Front street. Plainfield, N. J. —1ost—jy6d

JAMES K. ARNOLD,
GROCER,
Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts., North Plainfield.

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.,
TO HIRE CHARGES REASONABLE.
Hugo Weigman
EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
—1ost—

CAREY'S
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE, NO. 42 WEST FRONT STREET.
Next to opposite Laing's Hotel, Plainfield, N. J.

Having sold the above premises I am prepared to haul and sell second-hand Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, etc. I will also take Furniture in at my Furniture, etc., store.
P. O. Box 424.—1ost—

DOOR NUMBERS,
DOOR BELLS,
DOOR PLATES,
AT
DICKINSON & CLAWSON'S,
13 PARK AVENUE.
Sole Agents for

Dr. King's Spectacles.
—1ost—

BOOKS!
A Large Line of
BOOKS AT 39c. EACH.
COME and SEE THEM

A. W. RAND,
24 W. FRONT ST.

ALEX THORN
(Late of Berry & Thorn.
CAN BE FOUND AT 37 SOMERSET STREET,
WITH A FULL LINE OF FURNACES, RANGES,
STOVES,
TINWARE, Etc.
Repairing in His Line Promptly Attended To.
—1ost—

EDUCATIONAL.

RODMAN SEMINARY,
26 E. 5th Street. Will Re-open
SEPT. 15.
For circulars Address,
MRS. R. G. DINGEE, Principal.
—1ost—

MR. LEAL'S SCHOOL
WILL RE-OPEN
Monday, Sept. 19, 1887

DODWORTH'S
Class for Dancing & Deportment
—AT—
Seminary Hall, Plainfield, N. J.,
Wednesdays from 3:30 to 5:30 P. M.
Commencing Oct. 26th, 1887.
THEO. J. DODWORTH.
October 7th, 1887.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST,
Residence—Harmony street, North Plainfield, north house from Somerset street; left hand side, about 10 minutes walk from the depot. Parties can be accommodated with board. Residence, 12 East Front street, Plainfield, N. J.

Plainfield District Telegraph and Fire Alarm Co.
Prompt Messenger Service Furnished.
Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph Co.
LOW RATES. QUICK SERVICE. MONEY TRANSFERRED BY TELEGRAPH. COMMUTATION STAMPS FOR SALE.
OFFICE—4 PARK AVENUE
W. S. SLITER, Manager.
—1ost—

STEAM HEATING,
FOR
CHURCHES, SCHOOLS, and DWELLINGS.
J. N. SCHENCK,
Plainfield, N. J.
P. O. B x 1651.—sep 9-y1

JAMES K. ARNOLD,
GROCER,
Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts., North Plainfield.

JOHN JOHNSTON,
DEALER IN
COAL!
YARD AND OFFICE, SOUTH AVENUE, NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
The best quality of screened coal at the lowest market price. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Park Avenue Bakery!
JOHN WALKER, Prop't
FAMILIES and STORES supplied with the choicest
VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS,
And all Varieties of
Pies, Cake and Confectionery.
—1ost—

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.
THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS, BEST IN THE WORLD.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE —1ost—

MICHAEL UHDAL
CONTRACTOR
AND LANDSCAPE GARDENER !
Residence !
NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY
P. O. BOX 787, PLAINFIELD.
P. O. Box 2, Spencer's. —1ost—

HEADQUARTERS
FOR
Boots, Shoes and Rubbers
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION. OUR STOCK
IS COMPLETE, AND OUR
Prices the Lowest !
Doane & Van Arsdale
(NEXT TO EDSALL'S)
22 WEST FRONT STREET.

SANITARY PLUMBING,
Brick and Portable Furnaces,
GAS FITTING,
TIN ROOFING,
Etc., Etc.

I am prepared to do any of the above branches in strictly first-class manner and at reasonable manner.

Having associated myself with the Master Plumbers' Association of Jersey City, I can give none but first-class work and guarantee satisfaction. I solicit a share of the public patronage, and will endeavor to merit a continuance of the same.

D. W. LITTELL,
No. 4 NOR. AVE. opp. depot, Plainfield, N. J.

MISCELLANEOUS.

P. P. Van Arsdale,
PIANO TUNER.
Has removed his place of business to
No. 26 North ave.
(Store formerly occupied by Jessie Mosher).
ALSO OFFICE OF CITY TREASURER.—1ost—

JOHN CHANDLER,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
CLAIRMONT, N. J.
Residence and Shop No. 30 East 3d St.
Jobbing promptly attended to. —1ost—

Alex. Willett,
DEALER IN
BOOTS & SHOES,
No. 6 PARK AVENUE.
All Customers will receive prompt attention. Satisfaction guaranteed. —1ost—

G. W. FORCE
11 West Front street.
OPENING OF FALL AND WINTER STOCK
Boots and Shoes at Low Prices
A FINE GRADE OF GOODS TO SELECT FROM
11 West Front street.
G. W. FORCE.
—1ost—

J. T. ODAM
PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL
Slate Roofer and Repairer
Residence, Corner Fourth and Stremore Streets, East end Freight House. P. O. Box 1016, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Jobs will be done promptly and in a workmanlike manner, on over shingles. Also, Felt and Gravel Roofing. —1ost—

Steam Marble Granite Works.
AND
Monuments & Headstones,
Fencing for Cemetery Plots.
Large assortment of Slate Mantels.
Large variety of Granite Monuments

All work executed in the most skilful manner and at very reasonable prices. An expert only employed. C. MANNING.
Depot for sale at M. E. Ch. Plainfield, N. J. Monuments erected in Greenwood Cemetery, N. Y. —1ost—

GEO. D. MORRISON,
NORTH AVENUE.
Has opened a store for the sale of
FLOUR, FEED, HAY,
Oats, Straw, Bran, Etc.,
And hopes by promptness and fair dealing to merit a share of the public patronage.
—1ost—

SANDERSON'S
XXXX
BEST FLOUR.
FROM MINNESOTA WHEAT. A SPECIALTY. CALL AND SEE WHAT YOU BUY.
—1ost—

LIVERY.

RICHARD H. DAY'S
City Livery Stable!
OPPOSITE DEPOT, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Special attention paid to Boarding Horses by the day, week or month. All Horses Warranted as represented. Telephone Call, No. 19
—1ost—

ALBERT HEDDEN,
Livery and Boarding Stables
FOURTH STREET,
Between Peace street and Park avenue, Plainfield. Teams or shopping calls promptly attended to. Horses boarded by the day, week or month. Stable in rear of house. Telephone call No. 114.

Livery Stables !
Mr. D. S. ROBERTS
Has Removed to His New Building on
NORTH AVENUE,
(Adjoining Force's Hotel. Mr. Roberts will always be found ready and able to answer calls day or night. Horses boarded by the day, week or month. Carriages furnished for parties or shopping purposes. Satisfaction guaranteed. —1ost—

Front street, opposite Madison avenue.
Coaches for Weddings, Funerals and Private Calls. Light carriages of all descriptions for RIDING OR LIVERY.
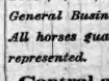
Careful, safe drivers for shopping calls or pleasure parties. Horses boarded by the day, week or month.—1ost—jy6
Leave orders at Constitutionalist office or by telephone No. 32.

ESTABLISHED 1866.
Westfield Horse Market.



IRVING & CO.,
DEALERS IN
Carriage Teams, Road, Draft, Speed, Saddle and General Business Horses.
All horses guaranteed as represented.
Central avenue,
Near Depot, Westfield, N. J.
—1ost—

PAINTERS & PAPER HANGERS.

Paints, Varnishes, Glass.
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALL PAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
A. SUTTON,
No. 8 North Avenue, Plainfield
—1ost—

Weaver Bros.
House & Sign Painting, Graining,
Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a specialty.
Office and Shop in the rear of
16½ EAST FRONT STREET,
D. WEAVER P. O. Box 91. P. WEAVER
—1ost—

W. N. ROWE,
PAINTER AND DECORATOR,
Corner of Front and Somerset streets, Plainfield, N. J. WALL PAPER, WINDOW SHADES, Etc. Paper hanging and kalsomining promptly attended to. Orders left at Constitutionalist office, or at residence, 17 FRONT, cor. S. Rocker's old stand.) Plainfield, N. J. P. O. Box 1236.—sep30y1

Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS,
Wall Papers,
PAINTER'S SUPPLIES. 38 NORTH AVENUE.
—1ost—

MILLINERY.

Mrs. J. M. Dunn,
FASHIONABLE MILLINER,
LATEST SHAPES OF
BONNETS AND HATS
FRENCH IMPORTED FLOWERS.
Feathers, Velvets, Plushes, Satins, Laces, etc. Also, Fancy Goods Notions; Dress and Infants' Caps a specialty.
PINKING, BLEACHING & PRESSING
Feathers Dyed, Cleaned and Curled
AT SHORT NOTICE.
14 West Front street.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
"O. D. CIGAR
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made of the choicest Havana Filler and Wrapper.
ALSO HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
Constantly on hand a full assortment of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Smoking Tobacco.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety
—1ost—

G. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
—SEGARS!—
5 PARK AVE., (NEAR FORMER SOMERSET ST.) PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smokers' Materials,
of every description.
The celebrated "Old Judge" smoking tobacco, with either cut or granulated, constantly on hand.

--PICTURE FRAMES--
OF ALL KINDS, AT
S. E. FLOWER'S.
41 New York Prices. Studio 31 West Front street. Mariners for drawing and oil painting. —1ost—

N. S. SMALLEY. T. SMALLEY.
Smalley Bros.,
DEALERS IN
Fresh and Salt Meats, Poultry, Etc.
SOMERSET STREET, (OPP. PLAINFIELD HOUSE)
Orders called for and delivered.—A share of the public patronage is solicited.—1ost—

Benj F. Moore.
BUTCHER,
And dealer in FRESH AND SALT MEATS, LARD, ETC. Oyster Parlor and Lunch Room (ere) will be open and ready for business Wednesday, Sept. 7, 1887. Give me a call. Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.—1ost—jy6d

MAYNARD & HILL,
PRACTICAL BARBERS
AND
Artistic Hair Dressers,
No. 36 PARK AVENUE,
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at Residence if desired. Shampooing, Etc. Satisfaction guaranteed. —1ost—

HEADQUARTERS
FOR AMERICAN WATCHES,
DIAMONDS and FINE JEWELRY.
GOLD SPECTACLES, SILVER SPECTACLES, FINE OPERA GLASSES, SILVERWARE, &c. suitable for the Holidays.
WALTHAM, ELGIN, HOWARD, COLUMBUS & LANCASTER WATCHES OF EVERY STYLE AND PRICE.
DIAMOND Watches, $5.00.
WATERBURY Watches, $2.50.
WM. H. EINHAUS,
42 NASSAU ST., NEW YORK.
—1ost—

Carney Bros.,
PRACTICAL
Plumbers, Tinners & Gas Fitters.
Heaters, Ranges and Stoves.
Dealers in all kinds of Stoves, Heaters and Ranges. Keep on hand all kinds of stoves repairs. Also, Tin, Sheet Iron, Copper and Ranges put in other houses our previous workmen. Shop in first-class workshop. Call and see us. Telephone Call, No. 31. Orders left at residence, 11 West Front street, will have prompt attention.

The Economic Gas Engine.
This little Gas Engine may be daily used in operation in our shop pumping 200 gallons of water per hour in the main building, and 100 gallons per hour in the rear building, and when we have not in these buildings we have yet in these buildings we have yet in these buildings we have yet

The Constitutionalist.
W. L. FORCE, A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors.

THANKSGIVING.

As citizens of the great Republic of the West, the native land of Washington, we have abundant cause to be thankful, rejoicing as we do blessings and opportunities superior to those of any other people on the face of the earth.

It is our duty to render heartfelt thanks to the Almighty Ruler of nations and of individuals.

Thankful for the glorious results we are permitted to call country. A mighty territorial empire, of mountains, valleys, plains, lakes and rivers, stretching from ocean to ocean, from snow crowned Alaska to tropical Florida, and rich beyond computation in all that ministers to human wants and luxuries.

Thankful for the priceless privileges of free institutions, of civil and religious liberty, of popular sovereignty, and the protecting bulwark of constitutional Government based upon equity and right.

Thankful that general good health has prevailed in lieu of fearful pestilence, that the fruitful yield of earth has removed all fear of wasting famine, and that the white winged angel of peace has spread triumphant over strife, destruction and war.

Let us render thanks, not formal and empty but deep seated and sincere, for the manifold favors we personally possess. And let us

"Strive the tokens of our present
To increase by kind returns,
For Long, as great gift of kind,
Upon Thanks, on earth."

The Coming Election.

The municipal election in and for the City of Plainfield will be held on Tuesday, December 6th, for the purpose of electing the following officers: At large—Mayor, Treasurer, Judge, Collector, Assessor, Treasurer, two Chosen Freeholders, three Commissioners of Appeal, one member of the Board of Education, and one to fill a vacancy caused from the newly ward as follows: One Councilman, one Constable, two Justices of the Peace, one Judge of Election, two Inspectors of election and one clerk of election. At the same time and place of holding the Charter election the matter of raising an extraordinary appropriation for the ensuing year will be voted upon. It is to be hoped that the people, will, by their votes, on election day, declare the negative, in favor of and in favor of better educational facilities. Plainfield is a rapidly growing city, and the matter of adequate school accommodations for children is one of the most important needs by persons who are desirous to locate here. True it may be that Plainfield has more public schools at the present time than ever before in the history of the State, but there is not yet enough schools to meet the demand.

The Board of Registry in the different wards will meet at their respective places of registration, on Tuesday, November 29th for the purpose of revising and correcting the original copy of the voting register and adding thereto the names of persons who do not already appear on the lists.

The Sheriff's Fees.

There has been considerable talk for the past few days in the Plainfield Press and Times, about what the Sheriff's office is worth. Of course as the office is one in which "fees" form a large part of the income, such a question is the easiest of business transacted. A year of experience among the people is better for the Sheriff than a three hundred dollar salary. There is a mistaken idea among the people as to the percentage the sheriff receives from sales, some persons thinking it 10 per cent. It is not. It is fixed by law to be one-and-a-half per cent. for the first $1,000, 1 per cent. between $1,000 and $5,000 and $ per cent. on all sums over $5,000. For instance, on a sheriff's sale of $10,000 he receives $1 every month he receives $1, service $1, advertising $5.50, copies for papers $1.50, at postponements $1 each week, court's fee for final return $1, personal property $1, deed $5, return for sale $1. He receives $3 per day for attending court, $10 for drawing the grand and petit jurors, serving summons $0.12½ and mileage 5 cents each way, without the summoning of witnesses. He also receives compensation for transfer of real property and for the issuing of writs, for the passing of notary notices, and such other scores of a minor character.

An Important Post Office Change.

There has been a change in probably the most important post office in Plainfield, for many reasons—in the United States, yet we have seen no notice of it in the great metropolitan dailies. When Mr. Whiting was appointed postmistress at Nether wood, about three years ago last summer, official circles were stirred. Postmaster General James and Chief Clerk Bissell, of New York city, came to Netherwood and personally instructed Mrs. Whiting in her duties. The importance of this particular office can be judged by what can be grown by even an official investigation. Now, however, Miss Whiting has resigned yet there is no change in the office. The wheels of our post office department are in part of the United States. During her term there has never been an error in the intricate accounts of the Netherwood office, nor a shortage, delay in the mails, reports of the Post Office Department that all Uncle Sam's bonds for Miss Mrs. Whiting's departure some weeks since, the authorities at Washington have been delegated with the problems of royal dimensions. It is to be hoped that because of the public importance of the office public should not fall in the hands of a mere politician. He was ordered by the recommendation of thousands of Netherwood's residents who better fitted than the office-seeker to fill the position of his own Democratic vote.

Meanwhile the leaders and active papers had been unsalaried at Netherwood station, being the headquarters of the office. Another letter would arrive and day, yet the office of postmaster was vacant. A prominent citizen was approached to put no steps had been taken to parcel out the clerkships in the gift of the postmaster when they would do the most good. Chaos was reigning supreme. It is believed order the post office was moved into the grocery store opposite the station, and one good Democrat [illegible].

Mr. Opdyke is to be congratulated on the appointment of the office public should not fall in the hands of a politician. He was ordered by the recommendation of thousands of Netherwood's residents who better fitted than the office-seeker to fill the position of his own Democratic vote.

Fair For the New Building.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal church have been busily engaged for some time past in preparations for a grand fair to be held in the City of Plainfield, in the new Sunday School building. Useful and fancy articles suitable for Holiday presents will be on sale at reasonable prices. Several special features will be introduced, including a Loan Art Exhibition, Old Curiosity shop, etc. Full particulars will soon be given in the advertising columns. The proceeds will be applied to the new Sunday school building fund.

THE FIRE TAX OPINION.

Taylor, Prosecutor, vs.
Smith, et al.

1. The imposition authorized by the "Act to incorporate the Plainfield Fire Department" approved March 4, 1884, is of the nature of a property tax, and being obligatory upon the property taxed, and being obligatory upon the owners thereof, is one which the Legislature could impose under general laws and by uniform rules according to which all taxes are imposed.

2. The Legislature has a right, after the question has been decided as to validity of an act which existed in fact, to confer upon such power to the municipality, and to delegate to it the power of passing ordinances in a part of the territory of Scotland, which board was to be named by the Judge of the Supreme Court of the State of New Jersey, and the cost of the scheme was to be defrayed in part by an assessment and a tax to be levied and collected in the township where. In the decision of Mr. Justice Depue the circumstances of the local corporations to such taxing power may be considered more than doubtful. The Legislature has no power to levy a tax if they can vote a certain territory and fix a basis to be assessed for the public good for schools, and the decision of a majority of the voters of the district, and the decision of a majority of the voters of the district, and the decision of a majority of the voters of the district

CITY DEPARTMENT.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION

J. A. DEMAREST, Jr., City Editor

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS

NEW YORK MAILS.
CLOSE—8.00 and 10.30 A. M.; 2.30 and 6.30 P. M.
ARRIVE—8.30, 10.30 A. M.; 2.30 and 6.30 P. M.

SOMERVILLE, RARITAN, &c., MAILS.
CLOSE—7.30 A. M. and 6.30 P. M.
ARRIVE—8.30 A. M. and 6.30 P. M.

SUNDAY MAILS—ARRIVE at 8.30 A. M. Office open from 9.30 A. M. to 10.30 A. M. and closed at 7 P. M. Registered packages will be received and delivered until 8 P. M., to owners or box holders.

Money order office open from 9 A. M., 1.30 P. M., and 7 to 8 P. M.

W. L. FORCE, Postmaster.

—Now is the time to become a sustaining member of the M. C. A.

—The Senior Class of the High School has adopted bronze and white for its colors.

—Advertise your holiday goods in the DAILY PRESS and the Weekly Constitutionalist.

—Everybody is enthusiastic about the reopening of the The Crescent for skating Thursday afternoon.

—Tickets for the philharmonic concert under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. will be ready for delivery to-day.

—Quite an array of cleaners are already at work getting The Crescentin shape for roller skating; Thanksgiving afternoon and evening.

—Spend this afternoon and evening at The Crescent. Even if you do not skate, you can enjoy the music and the looking on.

—On account of various entertainments the anniversary exercises of the Children's Home will be postponed from December 1st to December 15th.

—Young men especially should not forget the free lecture to be given at Reform Hall by Rev. Dr. Hurlbut, on Thursday evening. All invited.

—The old Bethel Mission building is on its way through our streets to its new location on Fourth beyond Liberty, where it will hereafter be known as the Hope chapel.

—The full Plainfield Cornet Band has been engaged to furnish the music at The Crescent, to-day. Don't miss your skates and try the fascination of the gliding rollers again.

—Those of the Bicycle Club who enjoy sport thing over frozen roads will take a run to Rahway to Captain Martin Thanksgiving morning. The start will be from the club house at nine o'clock.

—The public sale of real estate, heretofore advertised by executors of the will of the late James Thorne of 1885, was adjourned from the day set, last Friday, until Friday of this week at 10 o'clock a. m.

—The Thanksgiving union service of the churches South-east of railroad, will be held in the Crescent Avenue church, Thursday morning at seven o'clock. The Rev. W. R. Richards will preach the sermon.

—There will be a children's fair held at the residence of Mrs. H. Fisher, 1 Park and East Front street, during Friday afternoon and evening. An admission will be charged. The proceeds will be devoted to a worthy cause.

—Mr. George Fuller advertised in THE PRESS Monday for his lost Newfoundland pup "Bounce." When he came back to this office in the evening the dog awaited him outside the door. Everybody reads THE PRESS.

—Work has been commenced on Mr. Thatcher's new house on 7th street. The architect, Mr. Bicknell, has awarded the trade for the stone to Theodore Gray, mason; C. J. Noe, carpenter; Barney Brothers, plumbers; Robert Simpson, painter.

—Sunday night, really the first cold weather of the season was experienced in this locality. Early in the evening ice formed in pools of water left standing in the roadways and gutters, and next morning we showed a thickness of about one-quarter of an inch.

—Mayor Runyon and wife, of West-field, indicted by the Grand Jury for appropriating a large sum of money found in a customer's watch, as told in THE PRESS at the time, have been found guilty by a jury at Elizabeth and recommended to the mercy of the Court.

—The Democratic voters of the Township of North Plainfield, N. J., are requested to meet at French's Hall, corner Somerset street and Somerset place, Wednesday evening, Nov. 30th, at eight o'clock sharp, for the purpose of organizing a Democratic Association.

—The fourth of the Ragan illustrated lectures will be "Ramblings in Rome." No more reasons the most important in connection with the delivery of the course. It will be given at Music Hall, Tuesday evening, Nov. 29. Tickets are to be had at Reynolds' Pharmacy.

—The question is raised: Why does the Fire Commissioners call a special meeting, and accept or reject Gandy Engine? The engine now has the Company housed, specifically, worthless in case of a fire, simply because the Fire Board has not formally accepted it.

—Mr. H. Darst of North Market, whose house was entered by burglars early Monday morning, offers $25 reward for the discovery of the miscreants who he tried to shoot a good shot at. He says he shot the fellow off a Republican ticket in the hands of one of them, however.

—The reason by Judge Van Sickle of the estate of County Clerk of Union County, will be presented at Elizabeth on Monday, Dec. 12. It will probably occupy all of two days. The legal notice necessary has not yet been filed by Mr. Westcott, County Clerk Cornell's office, but must be done today or to-morrow.

—On Thanksgiving Day evening, in Reform Hall, Rev. Dr. Hurlbut will deliver his third in the series of free lectures now given under the auspices of the Reform Club. Subject:—"The Power of the Saloon." This is the attractions for Thanksgiving Day evening, and as announced, Rev. Dr. Hurlbut will probably be greeted by a large audience.

—We have no hesitation again assuring Miss Mary Coghlan that she is the only young lady vocalistsist on the boards today who can entertain an audience throughout an entire evening without producing a yawn from everybody. Her appearance in this city will be at the M. E. Church, Thursday evening of next week.

Changes at the County Jail.

Sheriff-elect Cahill has made some changes in the management of the Union County Jail. Warden Cahill has been appointed Deputy Warden and Jailer, while Constable John Dixon has been appointed Assistant Jailer, in place of Phillip Breen, ex-Chief of the Plainfield Police, who has satisfactorily filled the position of Deputy Warden to Mr. Cahill for several years. Mrs. Breen, who was the official matron of the jail, has been removed by the new Sheriff. Mrs. Dixon will probably succeed her.

Middlesex Gun Club.

There will be sweepstake shooting at live birds and inanimate targets on the Middlesex Gun Club grounds, to-day—Thanksgiving Day. In the afternoon the match between Capt. Hall of the one-armed shooters and Geo. Davis, for $250 a side, 50 birds each, will be shot off. Admission to grounds, 50 cents.

Personals.

After the first of December the Rev. Cornelius Schenck will take up his residence in the Borough, at No. 10 Craig Place.

City Judge Ulrich will probably send in his resignation at the next meeting of the City Council, when his successor will be appointed.

Miss Nettie Wilson, a daughter of theate John Wilson, who has been spending the Summer in Jacksonville, Florida, left per steamer "State of Georgia" on Thursday afternoon last.

Mr. and Mrs. L. V. F. Randolph left Monday for a few months visit to the handsome "Randolph Ranch" in Texas, where Plainfield's ex-Mayor has a large fortune invested and owns many thousand cattle.

Robert F. Compton, son of Mr. Thompton, died at his home on E. Second street, Sunday, after a long illness with consumption. Deceased was 17 years and 11 days old. Interment will be made at Boston on Tuesday.

Among the patents granted to Jersey men for the week ending November 15th, were two by Hon. Garret A. Hobart, Esq., Jr. A. M. Brooks was awarded a patent for a fence rail, and Mr. C. H. Stephens, one for a head expander.

Mr. Adam Fritz has returned from his southern trip. He brought with him a fine specimen of silver fox, the result of a glorious hunt on Mr. A. De Camp's farm in Maryland, and a fine bunch of quail to adorn same, so that fox hunting was one of the most pleasurable events of his life.

Shortly before midnight of Thursday last, Wm. Montgomery, late of Danbury, died after a lingering illness at the residence of his son, S. B. Montgomery of Madison avenue. The deceased was in the 77th year of his age. The remains of same were held in this city, and interment at Danbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford De Mott of Newark, were guests over night of the wedding of Miss Nellie Pangborn to Mr. Charles H. Lyman. Thursday evening of last week. Mrs. De Mott was formerly Miss Maude Van Camp, and the father of Mr. John W. Laing of this city, and formerly resided here. She has many warm friends in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. James Clark of Central avenue and Eighth street, tendered a reception to their neice, who's visiting them from St. Louis, Thursday evening. About thirty persons were present, and the time agreeably entertained. An orchestra discoursed popular airs, and the collation was sumptuous and tempting. The father did not disperse from one after midnight.

Cards are out for the wedding of Miss Marion Frances Packard and Mr. Warren Henry Marsh. Both are well known here. Miss Packard being a niece of Mr. Thomas Brooks of Seventh street, and Mr. Marsh being the brother of the Corporation Counsel. The ceremony will be held at 12 o'clock at the Church of the Holy Cross, Wednesday evening, Dec. 7, at seven o'clock.

Rev. Dr. J. H. Vincent left on Friday to spend a month in the South. He and the same day his wife started for Chicago to spend several weeks in that city and at other places in the West, and the son-in-law, Rev. Dr. Gillette, to Pittsburg. Miss Dansebury, a sister of Mrs. Vincent, who makes her home with the family, will remain in the house during the absence.

We have on exhibition in the window of our business office a gravure portrait of the late Thomas Fitz Randolph, who died in his residence on the 4th of July last, at the age of 72. The work is by the skilled fingers of Miss Jessie Utter, organist of the Crescent Avenue church, and her art and dexterity in such labor endowed on the likeness with every feature as in nature brought out without a harsh line.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Frances Sergia, daughter of Mrs. J. B. VanHoosen, of Syracuse, N. Y., to Mr. Arthur Louis Titsworth of this city. The ceremony will be performed in the Fourth Presbyterian church at Syracuse on Wednesday evening, Nov. 30th, at 6.17 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Titsworth will be at home to their friends in this city on Friday, Dec. 17th and 20th, from eight to eleven p.m.

Thursday, our old-time friend, Jesse Thorn of New Market, who's in his 86th year, dallied at the Press office for a copy of that journal, in company with that staunch Democratic friend, Jim Voorhees. "Father Dude Jesse" had experienced a gratifying time in the enjoyment of THE PRESS, he offered to run a foot race with a representative of the office, which was declined, because Jesse is still hale and hearty, and can run a little bit.

Fire Chief McClure started Tuesday for a four day's duck shooting trip on Chesapeake Bay. He goes upon his invitation from his brother, who is president of the Maryland Fisheries Commission, and the trip up and down the bay will be made in the Commander's private steamer yacht. The object of the four days' cruising on the bay is for the purpose of giving illegal fishing and hunting, and if the captain thinks it best, excellent opportunity for duck shooting.

Mrs. Lee, wife of Gen. Fitzhugh Lee, Governor of Virginia, Mrs. Green, wife of Governor Green of New Jersey, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Heilner, Miss Kate Crane, Miss Hanna McDaniel, Miss Roberta White and Messrs. J. and H. B. Crane, all of Elizabeth, were the guests in this city and Mrs. Charles H. Davis of Ninth street, on Sunday evening. The very distinguished party came to Plainfield especially to visit the Crane homestead. Mr. Davis' fine telescope, and returned to Elizabeth on a late train.

Mr. Harry Thorn of 9th St., was brought home to his residence last Thursday night in a physical wreck. He had left a few weeks ago for the far West strong in the hope of an entire recovery from a fatal illness that had been the bane and portion of the last few years of his young life. Growing rapidly worse, however, it was the great desire to see home and friends, and with the terrible journey, for him, was undertaken. He arrived about midnight, exhausted but so glad to be with his parents at last—filled with peace and contentment.

A Bad Break.

John Noonan, a lineman who has been in the employ of the Telephone company in this city for about a week, met with a bad accident Tuesday a. m., the result of which will probably "lay him off" all Winter. The branch of a tree in Fifth street—on which he was working with the repairing and adjusting some parts of the telephone line—suddenly gave way and dropped him to the ground with such force as to break his ankle near the joint. The pain was so intense that Dr. Hodges, who was summoned to attend the man in the Central office, was unable to be located, was compelled to administer other against the patient's wishes, before he could search for the fracture. The unfortunate man was subsequently removed to Muhlenberg Hospital for further treatment.

—General delivery of mail matter is in the near future. Postmaster Force has notified the carriers of the proper steps to be taken in numbering the houses and placing names of streets on the intersections.

—Four out of five Newark newspapers have directed their reporters at the next session of the Legislature to $100 each, to be voted by the Common Council to the regular reporters of its proceedings. The five reporters in this city don't get a chance to receive $100 cents.

—Is the Electric light doomed? Ludgen, is far ahead of it in illuminating power. Just fancy reading small print at the distance of 300 yards from the light of one lamp. And yet that is what can be done with Lucigen. And it is coming to the front every where. It is all simple and does not appear to have crossed to this side of the water yet.

Skating.

The Crescent is to reopen, during Thanksgiving Day, and young and old are to have a "final dying" for a skate will be given another opportunity. There will be the best of band music, and the boys can all the fun may enjoy a concert besides.

Change of Mails.

In consequence of the change of time table on the Central Railroad, slight changes are made in arrival and close of mails. The public are benefitted by an earlier morning mail, which is of great benefit to business men. The mail now opened at 9.30 a. m., will by the change be opened at 8.30. The Somerville and Easton mail closes at 7.30 a. m., half an hour earlier.

New York Philharmonic Club.

The sale of tickets for this course of charming concerts will begin at 7 o'clock a. m., Thanksgiving Day, (24th inst). Whoever our readers in the advertisement in another column, and we need only remark that, considering the great popularity of the Philharmonians among our people and the fact that there will probably be the only important concerts of the season in Plainfield, there is sure to be a great demand for tickets. Sale as usual at Reynolds' Pharmacy only.

Sudden Death.

Mrs. Lydia M. Sarden, a widow lady who, with a daughter, has been living in this city for the past few weeks, died suddenly Sunday night, at about ten minutes past nine o'clock. She had been sitting with others singing hymns of praise in the parlors of Mrs. France's boarding house on Park Avenue, when she felt a faintness and went at once to her room. She entered panting for breath and her daughter asked if she had run up the stairs, she said "yes," complained of a pain in her side, and then sank into a chair gasping. Dr. Lowrie was summoned from his office opposite, but the unfortunate lady was dead in a few minutes. She was fifty-six years of age and leaves besides the afflicted daughter here, a son who was immediately summoned from Mt. Vernon.

Strange Young Man in Town.

There was an unusually large attendance in the parlors of the Crescent Avenue church, Friday evening, upon the occasion of the periodical social entertainment of the Young People's Association. Tempora or less, but entirely charming gentlemen from the New York University were also present. They were a portion of the student glee club, and included a pretty good "warbler," although the official "warbler" was not in the party. Before the public festivities—at which only cake and coffee were served—a big supper was served the guests, by the young ladies, also said "eats" comprised a pain in her side, and then sank into a chair gasping. Dr. Lowrie was summoned from his office opposite, but the unfortunate lady was dead in a few minutes. She was fifty-six years of age and leaves besides the afflicted daughter here, a son who was immediately summoned from Mt. Vernon.

Read all This.

Below we give, from THE PRESS of last Thursday, the new schedule of trains between this city and New York, for the winter:

PLAINFIELD FOR NEW YORK.
Fast Mail—6.00, 6.45, 7.30, 8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 a. m., 12.30, 1.30, 2.30, 3.30, 4.30, 5.30, 6.30, 7.30, 8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 p. m.
Washington—7.30, 8.30, 10.30, 11.30 a. m., 1.30, 2.30, 3.30, 4.30, 5.30, 6.30, 7.30, 8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 p. m.
Express—7.30, 8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 a. m., 1.30, 2.30, 3.30, 4.30, 5.30, 6.30, 7.30, 8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 p. m.
Sunday—8.00, 9.45, 9.30 a. m., 1.30, 4.00, 5.30, 6.30, 9.30, 12.00 p. m.

NEW YORK FOR PLAINFIELD.
Fast Mail—2.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 a. m., 1.00, 2.00, 3.15, 3.45, 5.00, 5.45, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.15, 9.30, 11.00, 12.00 midnight.
Washington—4.00, 9.45, 9.30 a. m., 1.30, 4.00, 5.30, 6.30, 9.30, 12.00 p. m.
Express—2.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 a. m., 1.00, 2.00, 3.15, 3.45, 5.00, 5.45, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.15, 9.30, 11.00, 12.00 midnight.
Sunday—4.00, 9.45, 9.30 a. m., 1.30, 4.00, 5.30, 6.30, 9.30, 12.00 p. m.

Also an official special attention to the act that the trains at present leaving here from 6.32 to 8.23 in the morning will then, each and all, leave a few minutes earlier. This is for our readers only. Those who don't read THE PRESS are, of course, always left.

Lyman—Pangborn.

At 7 o'clock last Thursday evening at the residence of the bride's parents in Washington Park, Miss Nellie May Pangborn and Mr. Charles H. Lyman were united in marriage by the Rev. J. B. Van Meter, pastor of the M. E. church. Mr. Will Lidell, as groom's best man, and Miss Lena Pangborn, bridesmaid. A select number of relatives and family friends were present as follows: Following the ceremony, from eight to eleven, a reception to three hundred guests, was held. Lander of New York furnished the floral designs, and Clark, the confectioner, provided the elegant supper and handsome attendants. The many presents were useful, ornamental and costly. The handsome residence was profusely decorated with flowers, and the happy couple stood under a green arch from which hung a wedding bell of white flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Lyman left on the 8.30 train the same evening. Upon their return they will reside with Mrs. Lyman's parents.

A Card From Bret Harte's Son.

Our readers will remember the story of the accidental poisoning of Mr. Frank Harte of this city, first told in THE PRESS of Friday, the 11th inst., and afterwards copied in the newspapers all over the United States. In relation to it, the gentleman concerned has written the following card:

The sensational reports concerning the poisoning of Bret Harte's son, which have been circulated through the press, have received no contradiction—a statement that to-day it necessary to make certain statements which are correct.

Mr. Harte has given by mistake a non-poisonous substance—of laudanum instead of the prescription—and the child died upon the discovery of the error a physician was promptly summoned and every possible effort made to counteract the occurrence. Mr. Harte was completely restored to health. The physician remained with him less than an hour instead of twelve hours as was reported, and he emphatically denies having refused or having refused the slightest fee, as he was perfectly aware that there was no occasion to cause any such. FRANCIS BRET HARTE.

Plainfield, Nov. 17.

The Rev. Mr. Love's High-Mindedness.

We print today a communication of a kind that we have received scores of during the last few months. The majority have been verbal, and all have been rather stronger than the one of today, from the Rev. Mr. Love. We could not, however, before secure the consent of any to our publication of their expressions, and Mr. Love has the courage of his convictions—in fact we look upon him as the most courageous man in this city, today. He is disgusted with journalistic hedonism and detests professional discourtesy. He practices what he preaches, and is not afraid to express his opinions and make manifest his acts publicly. He is too modest to feel that way, but he has reason to be proud of himself.

To the Rev. Mr. Love, and the very many others who have just as emphatically—but not so boldly—expressed themselves in the same way, we take this opportunity of acknowledging our afternoon appreciation of their conscientiousness and kind heartedness. We omit the name of the paper Mr. Love censures, from his communication, because the name has never been honored with a place in these columns. But it is with a sincere regret that we are forced to done our subscription list, that we place the Rev. Mr. Love's name on that. We shall always try to keep it there. It is the thirty-fifth on our second thousand.

—The ladies of the Relief Association desire to give their beneficiaries their usual Thanksgiving dinner, and they therefore ask that liberal donations may be sent for that purpose, to the rooms of the Association, corner of Madison avenue and Somerset street, either Tuesday afternoon or Wednesday morning.

THE FIREBUGS CONVICTED.

Court reconvened at 1.30 p. m., last Thursday morning at Elizabeth. The first witness called was Geo. Reed, and the Court waited in vain five minutes for his appearance. It being impossible for him to arrive before a coming train, the defence so acquiesced, and as there were do other witnesses, Judge McCormick peremptorily declared the case closed at 1.47.

Counsellor Alvah Clark at once commenced his summing up for the defence, stating his opinion of his duty; that it was to do all he could in defence of his clients, and see that their rights were not trespassed upon. He reviewed the legal and moral criminality of arson, and because of the great punishment meted out to the guilty he called attention to the importance of establishing the guilt of the accused beyond all doubt. "You must have"—he repeated twice with impressive emphasis—"an abiding conviction, to a moral certainty, that the defendants stand guilty as they are charged." In defining the nature of circumstantial evidence, he said that the accused must be given the benefit of the doubt. That although the accused be not present in the room when the fire commenced, is consistent with the charge of their guilt, it is also consistent with their innocence, because they lived and slept there. The Counsellor's review of the evidence was thorough. Such points as the State had promised to show and had not proven, were noticed; and such as were proven, were accepted with shrewd policy, and explained as consistent with innocence, so far as possible, and with much skill.

But the great policy of his was recalled by the skill with which each evidence was pictured as entirely consistent with innocence, and the subtlety of his sophistries of "unshaken proof" was equalled by the persuasive way in which one or more or less successfully harmonized with the whole lead in a few minutes, the ages fifty-six years of age and leaves besides the afflicted daughter here, a son who was immediately summoned from Mt. Vernon.

Court opened at 10.10 with Judge McCormick and Harper on the bench. There were only Chief Dodd and ex-Judge Vaydam present from your city. Notice that the Court awaited any message from the jury was given them. They sent back word that they would like to be charged again on the statement of Councellors Dunham, but the Judge refused. The jury insisted and the Court ordered them to be brought down. The Clerk asked if they had agreed upon a verdict, and they answered, no. Judge McCormick then told them again that if they believed the confession made to Mr. Dunham was a voluntary one, they had a right to take Mr. Dunham's statement into consideration. At their request the Court also began to read the testimony of Mrs. Jackson when she stated Rowson's threat of a "hot shine" before he moved.

The jury went out again, and the Judge left the bench. Chief Dodd was called to receive the verdict if they should agree during the day. At five minutes past eleven, word was received by the Clerk that the jury was ready with a verdict. Some time was spent in finding the Court again. Horace Van Nest was brought up from his cell below, but Lewis could not be found. He had been in to see his brother and then was going to go to Newark. Horace received the verdict with composure, and was led back to the jail shortly after twelve o'clock Lewis was brought in by Chief Dodd and his bondsman sent for. His bail is increased from $1,500 to $3,000 and he awaits Mr. Brand's arrival from Plainfield to know whether he will stand by the convicted as he did by the accused.

ELIZABETH, Nov. 19, 1.30 p. m.—An interview with one of the jury after their discharge discloses that no startling information of most surprising information. The twelve had stood from 2 p. m. of yesterday, agreed as to the guilt of Lewis, and eleven to one for the conviction of Horace. All night and until 11 o'clock this morning, Juror Wm. Bonnell was still unconvinced of Horace's actual participation in the crime. But after the Court had re-read alvae by itself the damning testimony against Horace presented by Mr. Dunham and Mrs. Jackson, even he was bound to agree.

The Hon. Alvah A. Clark of the firm of Clark & Reed of this city, appeared before Judge McCormick in the County Court at Elizabeth, Monday, a. m., and made an application for a writ of error to the verdict against Lewis and Horace Van Nest should not be set aside and a new trial granted.

The Counsel held that the Court was wrong in admitting testimony such as that of T. O. Doane as "expert testimony." He read rulings as to what constituted "expert testimony," and cited cases to sustain his claim. He also insisted that the Court had improperly admitted the evidence of M. E. Dunham, telling of a confession made under certain circumstances that by law debarred such testimony from being considered in any way.

His strongest point however, was that the indictment charged the defendants with causing to be burned, or aiding or consenting to the burning of the building of Carmon Parse, whereas the facts show it was the dwelling of themselves as tenants at will. To be arson it must be the dwelling of another, where murder might result by the consuming of an occupant. But in this case they lived there themselves, and only sought to burn enough if they said inside. In short, they could not be indicted for arson in burning their own dwelling.

The Court assented to this view, and agreed that arson had not been committed. Prosecutor Wilson, however, asked for a continuance simply for the hearing of the building of another. Mr. Clark opposed this. He said if the defendants were guilty of anything they were guilty of a violation of Sec. 86 of the statutory crimes—the burning of the building of another, in their possession, with intent to defraud the insurance company. But as they were not charged with this in the indictment, they could not be sentenced under it. Therefore Mr. Clark strongly urged that they should not be remanded under any other section; because they might afterwards be indicted and convicted for violating the 86th sec., and put the fact that they were already under sentence for the same crime would not interfere with a second conviction. The defence Counsel urged upon the Court the injustice of permitting public sentiment to have about a straining of the law, and asked that no heed be paid to the clamor of the public. "We are sentinels of law," he said, "from doing anything the law would not permit."

The Court took the papers and promised its decision in a few days.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

Contractor McFaddon, who recently completed a job for the Pennsylvania Railroad at Metuchen, has been awarded the contract for the construction of the new branch of the Lehigh Valley Railroad from Perth Amboy to Dunellen. Quite a number of the bridge hands have already arrived and others will follow in a day or two.

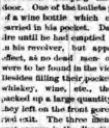
Robbery at New Market.

The saloon of Herman Danz, situated at the foot of the hill at New Market, was broken open and robbed between three and four o'clock on Sunday morning. An entrance was effected by prying open the front door, although the intruders had first tried to cut out a panel of the front door. Having gained admission to the place, the burglars lighted a lamp which they stood on the bar, and at once began to ransack the barroom. The proprietor and his wife were asleep in an upperroom but were awakened by the noise in the room below. Danz stole cautiously to the barroom, and there discovered three men in the act of packing up whiskey, cigars, etc. One of the men stood behind the bar, and the others were in front of it. He at once opened fire on the burglars, the latter escaping through the front door. One of the bullets pierced the neck of a wine bottle which one of the men carried in his pocket. Danz continued to fire until he had emptied every chamber in his revolver, but apparently without effect, as no dead men or blood marks were to be found in the vicinity yesterday. Besides filling their pockets with cigars, whiskey, wine, etc., the burglars had packed up a large quantity of stuff, which they left on the floor ready to their hurried exit. The three then ran along Prospect avenue in the direction of Dunellen. Mr. Danz describes the men as all being tall, but could not recognize any of them.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and can not be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER Co., 106 Wall-street, New York.—my21-1

DEMAREST'S



NEW STORE.
Choice Creamery Butter. The best in the city. Try it and be convinced. Mason's jars, with porcelain lined tops. Lighting Jars and Jelly Tumblers. Pure Spices, all kinds. Green Ginger Root, Mustard Seed, and Fruits of all kinds, in their season. All of which are sold at Bottom Prices.

P. M. DEMAREST,
27 PARK AVENUE

WHITNEY
OFFERS FOR 30 DAYS
HIS ENTIRE STOCK OF
-:DRY:-GOODS:-
AND CARPETS,
AT SPECIAL
LOW-:-PRICES!
Previous to his Annual Inventory!
Do not lose the opportunity of making selections now while the assortment is complete
Opposite Post Office

Agent for Crestings.

ICE SKATES—All Rivets.
Holliday Goods!
STOVES REDUCED.

COCKLE'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS.
THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY
For Liver, Bile, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Impure Blood, &c. Sold by all Druggists. Agent: C. N. CRITTENTON, New York.

PECK'S CORNER. PECK'S CORNER.

TO MENTION
All the NOVELTIES NOW DISPLAYED
AT PECK'S.
Would be an Impossibility.
COME TO PECK'S.
The Grand Christmas Opening
AT EDSALL'S!
No. 20 West Front Street.
SATURDAY, NOV. 19,
Will be shown the nicest assortment of attractive articles suitable for
HOLIDAY PRESENTS!
Ever offered in this part of the State,
AND AT
The Lowest Prices.

Y. M. C. A. SERIES OF FOUR CONCERTS
BY
THE NEW YORK PHILHARMONIC CLUB,
ASSISTED BY PROMINENT VOCALISTS,
—AT—
STILLMAN MUSIC HALL
1887. SECOND SEASON. 1888.
Dec. 6. Jan. 31, Feb 21. March 20.
Reserved Seat Tickets for the Series of Four Concerts, $2.00
" Single Concerts, 1.00
Course Tickets at Reynolds' Pharmacy on and after Thanksgiving Day.
Tickets for Single Concert at same place on and after Monday, Dec. 6th.
nov23-26

Everything at NEW YORK PRICES!
Green's Furniture Warerooms
REPAIRING AND UPHOLSTERING IN ALL BRANCHES.
GOODS TAKEN ON STORAGE.

TO THE LADIES!
EXAMINE OUR
ALL-WOOL STRIPED WOVEN SKIRTS,
MADE AND UNNADE.
A FULL LINE OF LADIES, MISSES' and CHILDREN'S Newmarkets, Cloaks and Jackets,
AT POPE'S.
FRONT AND SOMERSET STS.

C. K. COMPTON,
Confectioner and Ice Cream Caterer,
Only the Best of Ice Cream and Ices Furnished for Weddings, Parties, Receptions.
TRY MY CREAM AND HOME-MADE BREAD
First-class stock. Hot in the afternoon at 5 o'clock. Please remember-I manufacture my own Candy and use only the best of sugar and No. 1 flavoring matter and vegetable coloring materials. Goods promptly delivered.
C. K. COMPTON,
26 West Front Street. Near the Opera House

HALL'S
MACHINE PICKED.
STEAM AND DRY AIR BLAST FEATHERS
NO QUILLS.
Steam Wash Room Connected.
The CLEANEST and BEST for Family Use.
Packed in Hermetical Sealed Bags of the following sizes: 2 lbs., 3 lbs., 5 lbs., 10 lbs., 25 lbs., 50 lbs.
Every Bag bears the above TRADE MARK in RED INK. TAKE NO OTHER.
ASK YOUR DEALER FOR THEM.
Prepared only by PATENTED MACHINERY. NO ODOR. NO DUST. NO ANIMAL MATTER. at Factory of FRANK A. HALL, NEW YORK.

HIS CONFESSION.

Such deposition on his face!
What was it mean, I wonder,
To ask to see a witness for a man
I'll die or save by thunder!

"Ah! before, surely something's wrong.
No danger can I doubt in
You so urge it to yourself so long—
Come, tell me all about it.

"Your face is pale, your eye is sad,
Which usually like sun be merry;
Her Majesty the Law, don't get mad—
Come, take a Turk and Jerry.

"What I can do to ease to our case,
And nothing wrong to undergo!
There's always something that needs doing!
So please ask Who to be consulted.

"Because I ask what it may be
That has so sorely crushed you,
And in the silence of despair
So cruelly has bowed you."

A sorely sigh the witness took
Across each sense to restore;
And never, never did I look
On a more wretched creature.

"Ask? he said, "I must confess
The power of asking is quieted;
You're pain is over sensitive, and guess—
My case proud spirit's broken.

"And since you're so solicitous for the reason,
Perhaps I'll gratify your wish;
But I'm afraid my pale cheek cries me mean,
I'm decidedly ashamed."

"My brother's due to give, I know—
Or, rather, owing to me.
Till I was too confounded slow
In my fair advocacy."

—Our Boys.

THE DOCTOR'S BRIDE.

A Struggling Young Physician's Satisfactory Romance.

"Will it worry well for an office?" Dr. Arnold said, glancing round the room Mrs. Winslow had taken for him. "I will need new buy books and some additional furniture this morning. Now about a housekeeper?"

"I have one vacant. Third-story back." Up the stairs went the doctor, and after rooming found satisfactory, the doctor descended to consult with his landlady.

It was quite a long job to settle his affairs, put out his sign, "Dr. George Arnold," unpack his trunk, and get settled down. And all the time his hands were busy in this work his thoughts were busy also, being him a dance of mingled pain and delight. Pain, because he had been engaged five years old, his practice was yet to come, so that love and marriage were far away; and delight, because he had met, not only the evening before, a maiden who had taken his heart by storm.

It was to-day that Helen Arnold, blossom, who had left him was very plainly for more than a year, and who, with her father's thousand dollars might be his for the asking, had said to him:

"I have something to tell you about Miss Gardiner the next time I see you."

But what of that? Dr. Arnold had always something to tell of every girl with whom he danced the night. One girl was another flirted, a third was engaged. But one was perfect but herself.

But Miss Gardiner, Mrs. Westlake's niece, this queen of girls, certainly neither paraded nor flirted.

He knew that Mrs. Westlake was very wealthy; that herself of her husband, and his heart grew cold as that barrier of wealth reared itself around his idol, forbidding him to enter.

It was late in the forenoon when he ran down to breakfast, and he ordered his trunk and sent his last-room homeward.

Now, it must be here explained that the furnace register that opened between the front and back parlors came between the front and back rooms on the second floor, and Dr. Arnold, kneeling close to the register, unpacking his trunk, was startled to hear the voices of the next room open, and Mabel Gardiner's voice:

"Then I suppose it must be for gone when I think the first girl's voice I hear is Lucy's."

He did not listen, but this is what he heard:

"Here I am, darling, at last. And how are you? Were you very, very lonely all alone?"

A fainter voice, with an undercurrent of pain in it, answered:

"I must confess that I did never mind that. Tell me all about the party. What did you wear?"

"Garnet and pond lilies."

"Of course. How lovely it was!"

A merry laugh answered that. Then followed an animated description of a party, and a long account of the dress Mabel had worn.

"But, oh, Pauzie, I must tell you. There was a Miss Helen Arnold there, who met me on the stairs with a bang. She had had a huge bundle, the velvet dress we had embroidered last. She took one long look at me, and—you know how I look when I am—she had a handsome cousin there, Dr. Arnold, and I was pretty particular to be against all designing girls. Fancy her consternation when he danced with me! Father was a big price, talked with her and brought her to me at supper time. My dear, it was as good as a play to watch her face. But I did not know the cream of the joke until we went home. Then Aunt Katie told me that Helen had had a passionate love for Dr. Arnold, and that he had been engaged to her for years. Isn't it funny? Aunt Katie says that Helen is very handsome and her dress was awfully becoming, but I don't believe it."

Dr. Arnold ground his teeth, but listened still. The sweet voice, full of merriment, continued:

"Can't you fancy Aunt Katie, Pauzie? I was sorry for her, for I know the history of love till she told me of her fall."

"But what did Helen say?"

"She said her mamma was sewing for father, because she had too much praise to be dependent on her husband, and that she gladly give her a home of luxury and idleness."

"Your Aunt Katie?"

"She is a darling! By the way, here are some more crapes and a lot of other clothes for you. I am sloppy yet. Fancy—"

"He down here by me, and take a nap."

A little more girlish chatter and then silence.

The doctor's hopes rose! His cheerful was a great success, then, set apart from any other man who received fortune-hunting.

At dinner he was introduced to her. Mrs. Winter informed him that the Misses Gardiner's stay was on the room notice as he had far but on the sea and broken her leg, and Miss Mabel was the most devoted nurse.

"They're two sweet girls," Mrs. Winter said, "though they must be poor. They wear the clothes, and such lovely embroidery I never saw as they do. And they have a rich aunt who remains in comfort per see them, that they do not—other times, I mean—would not let them wear a stitch if they would only go home with her."

It seemed to the last one a story for the fair to tell, but Dr. Arnold was not in possession of Dr. Arnold's heart. Many were the opportunities for courting, and he eagerly grasped each and every one.

For three months his heart had been at Mabel's feet, but he had not spoken, when, one morning, as he sat in his room, closing his day, the furnace register emitted tones, and a voice said:

"Not very bold, but rude. I must warn my escape before I stand bound."

"Only the doctor!" out here thought.

"Now, girls," the doctor said, slightly, "I have made up for to talk to you, and surely. Miss Pansies is well enough now to go out, and it is for the next evening party for Mabel, to go to Mrs. Westlake's, and stay there. Stop! Don't interrupt me! I know all the arguments about independence and boarding and such stuff. You are good girls, and ought to be cared with a sense. Your aunt, in spite of her temper, is a good health, has a form of heart disease. You does not know it, and, mind, she must not know it. What she wishes, they turns are really dangerous a fit. She ought never to be down, they or night, and she has also ought to be met instantly by the remedies."

"Doctor, you don't mean she will die?" "She may live for years, or she may be here and come on a way's near her, beginning, she may die in any one of her attacks."

"We will go at once to-day!" Mabel said. "You can not refuse now, Pansies."

"No! We must go!"

"Then she'll be! Mrs. Westlake to send the carriage for you, and mind the doctor, "Is half an hour!"

"And every thing is ready! If you are going there, will you tell her to send for Helen whenever she pleases, and I will follow in an hour or two?"

Then Dr. Arnold suddenly realized that he had been guilty of eavesdropping.

Going away! He knew then, if he had not fully done so before, what it would mean to him to miss Mabel from his daily life. He had to make up his mind to do it in a dream, the preparations for departure, the last call, the last ride, the bustle of packing. Mabel was alone. In an moment his resolve was taken.

Knocking at Miss Gardiner's door he found her folding dresses, but at the sight of his anguished face she went to him.

"You are going away?" he said. "Hiding out of my life? I could speak, Mabel, do you not know how I love you?"

"I know," she answered, softly.

"And you will not let me tell you how I love you?"

A sparkle of mischief darted into the big brown eyes, as she said, very demurely: "I think I can."

Two minutes for rapture. Then he said:

"I am afraid we must wait a long time before I can marry. But if you give me a ray of hope, I know I can in time make a home for you."

"Suppose," was the grave reply, "if you were very rich, I very poor, would you think best not?"

"God forbid," he said, as gravely.

"Then it must make no difference that I am rich. You thought Fannie and I were sisters, working for our bodies for bread?"

"And are you not?"

"No, we are cousins. Pansie is poor, but I am rich. When she fell, and was brought to my home, Aunt Katie allowed me to come and nurse her. She would still now, and I would be glad to do for her, and hoped her with it. I am more than glad of my fortune at last, for pride, and some comfort Aunt Katie, who loves us both as if we were her own children. In time, all that fuss about having no nothing will wear, itself out, Aunt Katie knows, and sooner the party I send my physician, who pronounced it a sensible, and prescribed it. S. S. S. for it. I gave the baby S. S. S., and it soon got the disease under control, the nurse me, and the baby is well and healthy. I know S. S. S. saved its life, and I told our doctor so. He is a regular M. D., and prescribed S. S. S. for the baby as soon as he saw it had scrofula.

Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Central Railroad of New Jersey

Station in New York—Foot of Liberty Street.

Time Table in Effect November 20, 1887.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 5.37, 8.05, 8.30, 9.30, 11.00 a. m., 12.30, 2.00, 3.30, 4.30, 5.30, 6.30, 7.30, 9.30, 11.30 p. m. Sunday—5.37, 8.05, 9.30 p. m.

Leave New York from foot of Liberty Street, 4.00, 6.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.15, 11.00 a. m., 1.00, 1.30, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00, 12.00 p. m. Sunday—4.45, 8.00, 9.00, 11.00, m., 1.30, 4.00, 5.00, 8.00, 10.00, p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield 5.45, 6.30, 6.50, 7.30, 7.50, 8.30, 9.00, 9.30, 10.00, 10.30, 11.00, 11.45 a. m., 12.30, 1.00, 1.30, 2.00, 2.30, 3.00, 3.30, 4.00, 4.30, 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 8.00, 8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30, 12.30 p. m. Sunday—8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 a. m., 12.30, 1.30, 5.30, 6.30, 7.30, 9.30, 11.30 p. m.

Leave Newark 6.45, 7.30, 7.50, 8.30, 9.00, 9.30, 10.00, 10.30, 11.00, 11.45 a. m., 12.30, 1.00, 1.30, 2.00, 2.30, 3.00, 3.30, 4.00, 4.30, 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 8.00, 8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30, 12.30 p. m. Sunday—8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 a. m., 12.30, 1.30, 5.30, 6.30, 7.30, 9.30, 11.30 p. m.

Passengers for Newark change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 5.30, 7.14, 8.05, 9.21, 12.00, 12.44, 3.30, 5.15, 6.30, 8.05, 9.21, 11.30 p. m. Sunday—8.05, 9.30, 11.30 p. m.

Leave Somerville 6.40, 8.00, 7.00, 7.35, 8.35, 10.20, 10.54, 11.35 a. m., 2.00, 4.45, 5.50, 7.30, 9.00, 9.45, 9.40, 11.00, p. m. Sunday—8.00, 11.00, 9.40, 11.00, p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield 8.00, 8.05, 9.21, a. m., 2.00, 3.30, 4.30, 5.30, p. m. Sunday—8.05, 9.30, 11.30, p. m.

Leave Easton 6.55, 8.57, a. m., 12.40, 4.35, 7.00, p. m. Sunday—7.00, p. m., 7.00, p. m.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

LEAVE PLAINFIELD

5.30, a. m.—For Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk and Tamaqua, connecting at High Bridge for Schooley's Mountain, Budd's Lake and Hackettstown.

7.14, a. m.—For Flemington.

8.05, a. m.—For Lambertville, Bound Brook and Mauch Chunk.

9.21, a. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Shamokin, Tamaqua, Scranton, Upper Lehigh, Williamsport, Sunbury, etc.

2.00, p. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, etc.

4.30, p. m.—For Bound Brook, Wind Gap, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Shamokin, Budd's Lake, Hackettstown, etc.

5.30 and 7.30, p. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Schooley's Mountain, Easton, Allentown, etc.—For Phillipsburg.

6.30, p. m.—For Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, etc.

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c.

Leave Plainfield 5.37, 8.05, 9.30, 11.00, a. m., 2.00, 3.30, p. m. Sunday—except Ocean Grove 5.37, 8.05, 9.30, p. m.

For North Asbury—5.37, 8.05, 11.00, 12.42 a. m., 2.00, 3.30, 4.30, 5.30, 6.30, 7.30, 9.30, 11.30 p. m. Sunday—5.37, 8.05, 9.30, 11.30, a. m., 12.30, 5.30, 6.30, 7.30, 9.30, 11.30 p. m.

BOUND BROOK ROUTE.

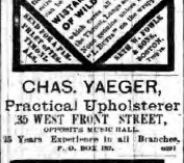
Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia and Trenton, 5.30, 9.00, 9.45, 11.44, a. m., 2.16, 5.20*, 6.05*, 10.30, p. m. Sunday—5.30, 9.00, 11.44, a. m., 5.20, 10.30, p. m.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, Camden and Atlantic City, 5.30*, 9.00, 9.45, 11.30, a. m., 2.16, 5.20*, 6.05*, 10.30, p. m. Sunday—5.30, 9.00, 11.30, a. m., 5.20, 10.30, p. m.

Plainfield passengers for trains marked* change cars at Bound Brook.

A. R. OLMSTEAD, Gen'l Supt.
H. P. BALDWIN, Gen'l Pass. Agent

CHAS. YAEGER,
Practical Upholsterer
35 WEST FRONT STREET,
OPPOSITE MUSIC HALL.
25 Years Experience in all Branches.
P. O. BOX 195.



PAXINE is the result of the best efforts of several prominent physicians and chemists. The ingredients are prepared in such proportions as the most powerful and effective in overcoming the diseases for which it is recommended. It is scientifically prepared and is capable and certain in its action, throughout the entire parts only, without inflicting healthy organs. Physicians prescribe it in their practice. Druggists find it a ready seller, and we are constantly receiving the highest testimonials from those who use it. Paxine is sold in the United States and Canada, and in all parts of the world. Price, $1.00 per bottle. Sold by druggists generally.

The Dennis Mfg. Co. Limited, St Tonys' St. S. Y.

A WONDERFUL OCCURRENCE.

Dated Oct. 3, 1886. The most wonderful occurrence in my family was the cure of my little daughter Ida, who was afflicted with a severe form of Scrofula. I could not name enough words to express my gratitude to you for the benefit she has received from your S. S. S. Before she had taken one bottle the sores commenced to discharge freely and the scrofula began to leave her system. She is now entirely free from it, and has a healthy appearance. I am satisfied that S. S. S. is the best blood purifier in the world. Yours truly, J. M. HOLLOWAY, Atlanta, Ga.

OWNS AND OPERATES OVER

6,000 Miles

OF PERFECTLY CONSTRUCTED RAILWAY.

PENETRATES THE MOST POPULOUS PORTIONS OF ILLINOIS, IOWA, WISCONSIN, MICHIGAN, MINNESOTA, DAKOTA, NEBRASKA, and WYOMING.

Running Elegant Trains Daily between CHICAGO and MILWAUKEE, MINNEAPOLIS, COUNCIL BLUFFS, OMAHA.

THE ONLY LINE TO THE BLACK HILLS
THE PIONEERS LINE TO CALIFORNIA.

For Maps, Folders, Time Tables, and full information, apply to the Ticket Agent, or address
MARSHALL CARTER, Receiver, CHICAGO.
E. ST. JOHN, Gen'l Ticket Agent, CHICAGO.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

READ WHAT

WATSON & CO.

HAVE TO SAY ABOUT CLOTHING!

Since our REMOVAL to our NEW BUILDING we have been busy preparing an entire NEW STOCK of THE BEST SHAPES AND FINEST FINISHED GARMENTS ever shown to our customers; and today we have an immense stock, ALL NEW, STYLISH, HANDSOME and VERY LOW in price. Never was such a stock of ELEGANT GARMENTS shown in the city, each a perfect copy of the most expensive custom-made work, and never before were such low prices named for garments of equal style and durability. It requires no expert to judge of the merits of our stock; for even the most inexperienced at a glance will see their IMPROVED DRESS APPEARANCE when they try them on. Think of the FINEST CASSIMERE PANTS, cut by special patterns, marked in plain figures, at $5, $5.50 and $6 a Pair. The new Cheviots and Shaded Striped Pants, now so popular in custom trade, selling for $3, $3.50 and $4, or our broken lots of FINE PANTS MARKED DOWN daily to close out quick at $2, 2.50 and $3.00 A PAIR. We are quoting prices that can only be made under LOW EXPENSES. We may not be clearing large profits; but we are selling goods, and lots of them, pleasing our old customers, and making new ones, simply by giving them BETTER GOODS than they ever saw, ALL READY TO PUT ON, and saving them all useless expenses like the cost of shows in windows, circus wagons, signs on fences, gifts, commissions, or discounts to favored customers or their friends. You can surely save from 20 to 25 per cent. on your FALL SUITS by coming direct to us. We are finishing daily full lines in all the New Cuts, complete for $10 and $12. The popular COLD THREAD CHEVIOTS that merchants tailors are using, we get up very handsome, and sell at $13 and $15 for complete suits, and in Dress Suits, we have a complete department, stocked with the very latest garments, where you can select a suit for $15, $18 and $20, for which a merchant tailor would surely charge you twice as much and rarely give you such elegant garments. OUR NEW OVERCOAT SALESROOM, on second floor, is now open; and here you can find Montaignac Beavers, satin-lined, for $25; Elysians, all new shades, at $22; Kerseys, in solid and mixed colors, at $18 and $20; Diagonal Velours, (new this season) at $18 and $16, and All-wool Chesterfield Overcoats, lined with cassimere, in all the long cuts, at $10 and $12; besides a Hundred Stylish and durable designs, in all shades, at $7, $8 and $9. Remember, these garments are all cut single by special patterns drafted from actual measure taken in our custom department, kept on convenient racks, and handled to you, fresh from the hands of our tailors, free from all creases, wrinkles, or any of the usually objectionable ready-made look. The materials from which FINE CLOTHING is made were never as low as now, and as labor is only a trifle higher you should buy your clothing from 20 to 30 per cent. below the rates of former years; and this you can do if you save all Intermediate Profits and Useless Expenses and come direct to the makers for it. Before ordering your Winter Clothing you should try on our new Garments. They are Custom Made in every detail. No tailor uses Finer or Newer Fabrics, our Trimmings are the same, the BEST CUSTOM TAILORS WORK for us. Then how can the difference in the garments be told when worn from the most expensive work? Besides, you can see just how the goods Look when Made Up and have no trouble in waiting. This is where we are pushing our "fine city trade." A REALLY HANDSOME, CORRECT CUT GARMENT, FINISHED, WITH ALL CUSTOM EXTRAS, ALL READY TO PUT ON. It is a fact well known to the public, and not disputed in the trade, that our garments are extensively copied, but NEVER REPRODUCED as we set THEM OUT. SEE THEM and none of the ordinary styles will look right to you.

GEORGE WATSON & CO.,

MAKERS OF PERFECT-FITTING CLOTHING,

795 BROADSTREET,

Four Doors Below Market Street, Newark, N. J.

A. M. Vanderbeek & Co.,

This year will sell

GUNS AND SUNDRIES' SUPPLIES, CHEAPER THAN EVER BEFORE. BOTH BREECH AND MUZZLE - LOADERS. Also Rifles, Pistols, Ammunition, Gun Materials, &c.

MUSIC AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, MUSIC STANDS, CORNETS, BANJOS, VIOLINS,

Everything in the Musical Line.

No. 33 Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

New Store! New Goods! New Firm!

BARKALEW & DUNN,

Fancy and Staple Grocers,

NO. 18 NORTH AVENUE.

We sell for Cash and will give Special Inducements.

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE.—The Board of the Overseers of the Poor, containing a list of the applicants for relief, can be seen at the office of said Overseers, in Bullens Building.
By order of CHARLEY NODINE, C. P.
Dated October 25th, 1887.—w2w10

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscriber, executor of John Hurley, deceased, will be audited and stated by the surrogate, for report to the Orphans Court of said County, on the 7th day of December next, being the fourth day of January next.
WILLIAM M. HARRIS.
25th of October 25th, 1887.—w2w10

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.

Union County, Surrogate's Office, October 18th, 1887.

Benjamin A. Shepherd, Thomas B. Hewitt, Benson F. Shepherd, Sarah M. Lewis, and William S. Wade, Executors of Joseph J. Bentley, deceased.

On application of the above named Executors it is ordered that said Executors give public notice to the creditors of the estate of said deceased to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, by causing to be copy of this order within twenty days hereafter, in two of the most public papers in the county of Union, for two months, and also within the same twenty days, by delivering the same to the overseers of the poor of the several townships in said county, and they shall respectively publish three by five days successively after receiving a copy thereof, in a public notice being given as aforesaid, such creditor shall not receive herefrom, or by law, any distribution thereof, except the said Executors.
Attest: JAMES A. MARSH, Surrogate.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.—To Mary Bailey, Robert Penn and George Penn.
By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey made on the day of the date hereof, in a cause wherein Mary Bailey is complainant, and you and others are defendants, you are required to appear, answer, demur or reply to the bill of said complainant on or before the 2nd Monday of January next.
The said bill is filed for the purpose of partition of certain lands in the township of Elizabeth, in the county of Union and state of New Jersey, of which Freeman Rankin died seized, and you, Mary Bailey, Robert Penn and George Penn, are made defendants because you are tenants in common therein.
Dated the twelfth day of October, A. D. 1887.
JACKSON & SCHOLEFIELD,
Complainant's Solicitors,
Plainfield, N. J., Box 1, New Jersey.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscriber, executors of Hannah A. Giles, deceased, will be audited and stated by the surrogate, for report to the Orphans Court of the county of Union, on Wednesday the Twenty-Fifth day of January next.
Dated November 12, 1887.
IRA ROCAP,
THOMAS BOWNE,
WILLIAM H. OSBORNE, Executors.
11-16-6w

Dissolution of Partnership.

NOTICE is hereby given that the partnership lately subsisting between Stephen A. Fleming and John F. Applegate, of Plainfield, N. J., under the firm of Fleming & Applegate, was this day dissolved by mutual consent. All debts owing to the said partnership are to be received by said Stephen A. Fleming, and all claims against the said partnership are to be presented to him for payment, at 112 North Avenue.
STEPHEN A. FLEMING.
JOHN F. APPLEGATE.
Dated November 15, 1887. 11-16-6w

TAXES.

Notice is hereby given to the Tax Payers of the City of Plainfield, that the Taxes assessed on said City for the year 1887, are now due and payable, and that

If the said Taxes be not paid by the 20th Day of December next,

The names of the defaulters, with their respective Taxes, will be returned to the City Judge for Prosecution.

The Commissioners of Appeals in cases of Taxation in said City of Plainfield, will meet in the Common Council Chamber on Tuesday, the 22d day of November next, at 10 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of hearing all persons entitled to be heard before them.

JOHN JOHNSON, Collector.
Dated Plainfield, Oct. 1st, 1887. 10-1-3m

Corporation Notice.

REGISTRATION.

The Boards of Registry of the several wards of the City of Plainfield will meet at their respective places of meeting, as designated below, on the following days, for the purpose of registering the qualified voters of the several wards of the city, for the election of all persons entitled to the right of suffrage at the next succeeding election, at the annual charter election, to be held December 20th, 1887:

TUESDAY, NOV. 29, 1887.

Beginning at 9 o'clock in the morning and remaining in session until 9 o'clock in the evening, for the purpose of reviewing and correcting the certified copy of the original registry and adding thereto the names of all persons entitled to the right of suffrage who have not applied before the time of the annual charter election, to be held December 20th, 1887.

CHARTER ELECTION.

Public notice is hereby given that the annual municipal election in and for the City of Plainfield will be held on TUESDAY, DEC. 6th, 1887.

For the purpose of voting for the following officers of said city: At large—Three Councilmen, one City Treasurer, one Clerk of the Board, one City Treasurer, two Chosen Freeholders, three Commissioners of Appeals, and one member of Board of Education.

From each of the Wards—One member of the Common Council, one Constable, two Trustees of the Poor, one Assessor, and two Inspectors of Election, and one Clerk of Election.

INCREASED SCHOOL TAXATION

Notice is hereby given that at the said time and place of holding the election for the City of Plainfield, the following question will be submitted to the qualified voters at such election, for their approval or disapproval, as provided by an act to authorize the Board of Education of Plainfield to raise by taxation the amount of taxes for school purposes in certain cases, approved April 28, 1881:

Shall the Board of Education of the City of Plainfield be authorized to raise by taxation the amount of taxes for school purposes in certain cases, approved April 28, 1881.

THE POLLING PLACES.

As designated in the Common Council, are as follows:
1st Ward, at Vail's Real Estate Office, North Avenue.
2d Ward, Crescent Building, Broadway.
3d Ward, Sharp's Carriage Factory, West Front.
4th Ward, Lasing's Hall, West Front street.
Polls open at 7 o'clock a. m. and close at 7 o'clock p. m. Intermediate to be at 4 o'clock p. m.
Done in accordance with the "Act to Regulate Elections," and the Amendments to the Charter.
By order of the Common Council.
OLIVER S. DUNHAM, City Clerk.
Plainfield, N. J., November 7, 1887.

Assessment of said Act by voters shall be in addition to the limit of taxation, against the approval of the Act authorizing Boards of Education in cities to increase the amount of taxes for school purposes in certain cases, approved April 28, 1881.

MISCELLANEOUS.

ELY'S

CATARRH

Cream Balm

Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Allays Pain and Inflammation, Heals the Sores, Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell.

TRY THE CURE.

HAY-FEVER

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail registered, 60 cents. ELY BROTHERS, 235 Greenwich street, New York city.

Dime Savings Institution

OF PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Is now receiving deposits payable on demand, and is open for business on the first day of each month. Interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum payable semi-annually. All money deposited on or before Oct. 5th, will draw interest from Oct. 1st.

JOHN W. MURRAY, President.
WILLIAM WHITE, Vice-President.
ADRIAN H. MARTIN, Secretary.
ELIAS R. POPE, Treasurer.
adv7

LUTKINS & HUMMER,

DEALERS IN

Butter, Eggs & Produce.

Meats of all Kinds.

PICTURE FRAMES MADE TO ORDER AT SHORT NOTICE, 24 PARK AVENUE, Plainfield, New Jersey.

Goods delivered to any part of the city.
A. LUTKINS. L. A. HUMMER.

R. R. FAIRCHILD,

FURNITURE WAREROOMS,

21 East Front street.

Walnut, Cherry, Oak and Cottage Chamber Sets.

Dining Room Outfits, Parlor Furniture, Lounges and Extension Tables.

A LARGE LINE OF FANCY CHAIRS.

Accommodation Express.

PETER SICKERT, Proprietor.

Office—Vanderbeek's Market store, Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey. Prompt attention given to the delivery of Packages, Freight, Baggage and Furniture. Freight, Office and Residence Telephone connection. Orders left with me will receive prompt attention. Charges reasonable. Promptness and fair dealing to all orders.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Sebring Bros.,

Clothiers,

AND Cutters.

Large Display

—OF—

CLOTHS!

adv13

P. H. BENNETT,

(Successor to R. H. Buchman)

DEALER IN

BUTTER, EGGS AND PRODUCE,

MEATS OF ALL KINDS,

Fruits & Vegetables

IN THEIR SEASON.

42 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Goods Delivered to any part of the City.
adv24

The Present Want

of a great many at this season is School Books and School Supplies, of which

ALLEN,

THE STATIONER,

has a full and complete assortment at the lowest prices.

Second-Hand Books

used in the Plainfield Schools, taken in exchange and for sale.

INSURANCE.

ISAAC BROKAW,

Real Estate and Fire Insurance.

19 PUBLIC ST., NORTH PLAINFIELD.

Agent for the following first class companies: Home Fire Ins. Co., of New York. Jersey City Fire Ins. Co., of Jersey City, N. J. Insures property on all kinds of property, for time and dwellings a specialty; at low rates. PROMPTNESS AND FAIR DEALING GUARANTEED. BARGAINS IN REAL ESTATE. HOUSES AND LOTS TO RENT AND SELL. No Mail. PROMPT RETURNS.—tf

FIRE INSURANCE

The undersigned having been a popular agent of the

Star and Merchants

Fire Insurance Co's of the City of New York, is prepared to write substantial amount against loss by Fire and solicits application for the same. Office at residence of Plainfield Park avenue.

NATHAN HARPER
adv

J. C. Pope & Co.,

GENERAL AGENTS OF THE German American Ins. Co.,

of New York.

Also represents other first-class Fire Insurance companies. Agents of the Niagara Assurance Co. of Toronto, Canada. Fire and Casualty Insurance. Office: No. 2 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

BUILDING LOTS

And Other Real Estate for sale.

OFFICE:
5 E. FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD.
JAMES C. POPE. ELIAS R. POPE.

WILLIAM A. WOODRUFF,

Fire Insurance Agent,

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.

With years of practice and experience, knowledge of Underwriters' rules, and determination to investigate, I confidently ask a continuance of the patronage so generously bestowed in the past.

AUTHORIZED AGENT FOR

Fire Association, of Philadelphia.
Liverpool, London & Globe, England
Westchester, of New York.
Norwich Union, of England
North British Mercantile, of England.
The Northern, of Scotland.
The Queen, of England.
The Merchants, of Newark.
The Washington Life, of New York.

and other equally good companies. Insurance at RENT RATES. Policies written upon all kinds of buildings, merchandise, household furniture, leases, leases and other insurable property. Farm property a specialty. MONEY TO LOAN on approved security, and negotiate a Real Estate business. Office in Dorcy's building, second floor, corner of Front street and Park avenue. Residence at Chatham road street.—tf

MISCELLANEOUS.

TWENTY

Years experience in the business.

SECOND STREET. 2 doors above Pennsylvania

MISCELLANEOUS. MISCELLANEOUS.

CLOTHING at BED ROCK PRICES.

Boy's good Knock About Suits, $3 to $5.

Children's Great Working Suits $1.50 to $5.

Mens' Business Suits, $6 to $12.

Dress Suits, $10 to $15.

Pantaloons, $1 to $5.

Pea Jackets, $4 to $15.

ENTIRE SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.

MARSHALL & BALL,

807, 809, 811 & 813 BROAD STREET,

NEWARK, N. J.

VALUES Based upon Actual Cost With the Lowest Possible margin of profit added to cover expenses.

MEN'S OVERCOATS, $6 to $15.

BOYS' OVERCOATS, $4 to $10.

CHILDREN'S OVERCOATS, $1 to $10.

Light as bright as day to examine goods.

Our Dealing is Likewise as bright as the Sunlight.

HONEST DEALING OUR MOTTO.

TO RETURN VALUE OUR DESIRE.

TO GIVE SATISFACTION OUR AIM.

MEN'S SUITS $6 TO $12.

BOY'S SUITS $3 TO $8.

CHILDREN'S SUITS $1.50 TO $5.

MEN'S OVERCOATS $6 TO $15.

BOY'S OVERCOATS $4 TO $10.

CHILDREN'S OVERCOATS $1 TO $10.

807 809

MARSHALL AND BALL,

BROAD STREET,

811 813

OBLIGING SALESMEN.

HANDSOMELY LIGHTED STORE.

SCIENTIFIC CUTTING AND FITTING.

MARSHALL & BALL,

ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS,

807, 809, 811 & 813 Broad St., Newark,

221 & 223 MAIN STREET, PATERSON.

58 AND 60 NEWARK AVENUE, JERSEY CITY.

MARSHALL & BALL, CO.

JOHN A. THICKSTUN,

DEALER IN

BEST QUALITIES.

COAL, WOOD,

AND

BLUE-STONE.

YARD—Cor. 3rd st. and Madison ave.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, Gives sleep, and promotes digestion.

Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 182 Fulton Street, N. Y.

A MAN

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y

By reason of its central position, close relation to principal lines East of Chicago and continuous lines of terminal roads West, Northwest and Southwest, is the only true middle-link in that transcontinental system which invites and facilitates the interchange of traffic between the Atlantic and Pacific.

The Rock Island main line and branches include Chicago, Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Peru, Geneseo, Colona, Rock Island, Davenport, Muscatine, Iowa City, Marengo, Brooklyn, Grinnell, Atlantic, Knoxville, Indianola, Winterset, Atlantic, Knoxville, Indianola, Winterset, Council Bluffs, Omaha, Des Moines, Colfax, Monroe City, Kansas City, Leavenworth and Atchison, Kansas; Albert Lea, Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minnesota; Kansas City, Topeka, Manhattan, Junction City, Salina, Minneapolis, Kansas; and numerous intermediate cities, towns and villages.

THE GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

Unsurpassed Speed, Comfort and Safety to those who travel over it. Its roadbed is thoroughly ballasted. Its track is of heavy steel. Its bridges are solid structures of stone and iron. Its trains are equipped with every device that will promote the safety and comfort of passengers. Its dining cars are unsurpassed. Its sleeping cars are models of elegance and ease. Its equipment in all departments is complete and first-class. Its employés are polite, attentive and accommodating. The luxury of its passenger accommodations—the elegant Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars, Pullman Palace Dining Cars, and Pullman Palace Reclining Chair Cars—and the fact that all through trains are composed of Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars, Pullman Palace Dining Cars and Pullman Palace Reclining Chair Cars, make it the favorite route between Chicago, Peoria, Rock Island, Davenport, Muscatine, Iowa City, Des Moines, Council Bluffs, Omaha, Colfax, Monroe City, Kansas City, Leavenworth, Atchison, Topeka, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Intermediate cities, towns and villages.

THE FAMOUS ALBERT LEA ROUTE

Is the direct, favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul. Over this route are run, in connection with the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, the finest trains and best service that can be furnished between the two cities.

Maps, Folders—obtainable at all principal Ticket Offices in the United States and Canada—or address

R. R. CABLE, Pres't & Gen'l M'g'r, Chicago. E. ST. JOHN, Gen'l Ticket Agent, Chicago. E. A. HOLBROOK, Gen'l Pass. & Ticket Agt., Chicago.

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY,
AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST

VOL. XX. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1887. No. 48.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its limitations as in its authorities."—Madison.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

O. L. JENKINS, M. D.,
Homœopathist,
Office on Dr. Scott's, 20 East Front Street near Peace, Plainfield, N. J. Office Hours—7 to 8 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.—sept 30-1y

JACKSON & CODINGTON,
Counsellors-at-Law,
Commissioners of Deeds, Masters-in-Chancery, Notaries Public, offices corner of Park avenue and Second street.—jan1

GEORGE W. DAY,
General Auctioneer,
Sales of Personal Property, Household Effects, &c., &c. P. O. Box 182 Plainfield, N. J. All orders promptly attended to, and satisfaction guaranteed.—jan1

DR. CHARLES H. THRIFT,
Dentist,
29 West Front street. A new local anæsthetic administered for setting teeth without pain. Gold filling a specialty.—jan1

H. HAND,
Auctioneer,
P. O. Address, Box 1, Dunellen, Middlesex County, N. J. Orders left at P. O. Box 1, or at residence, Somerset street, will receive prompt attention.—jan1

OSCAR S. TEALE,
Architect,
31 Broadway, New York; rooms 12 and 13, 1 Somerset street and Drake Building, 5 Reed street, Plainfield, N. J.—jan1

WM. E. McCURE,
Attorney-at-Law,
MASTER IN CHANCERY, NOTARY PUBLIC,
Commissioner of Deeds. Office, North avenue opposite depot.—jan1

J. H. FRASER,
Veterinary Surgeon,
Office in A. M. Sequine's livery establishment on Main street and Second avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Horses shod, lame overnight alongside. Telephone call No. 31. Residence, 72 East Front street.—jan1

ARTHUR C. MILLER,
Attorney-at-Law,
Successor to the late W. H. Matthews, Solicitor in Chancery, Notary Public, Conveyancer, and Real Estate and Money, Rent and Sale Agency of property. Office, 107 Fifth Bartlett Block.—jan1

F. A. DUNHAM,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor,
No. 1 Park avenue, Cornerly building. Particular attention given to the laying out of subdivisions of large tracts. Electric ratio.

D. R. J. F. GRIFFIN,
Electric Baths.
20 Orthic Medical Science administers Electric Baths of every description, and Electricity in all its applications. Consultation and Examination free. Office hours, 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Dr. Griffin's residence for the present, 45 East Second street, Plainfield, N. J.—jan1

BUSINESS CARDS.

ROBERT JAHN,
TIN AND COPPER-SMITH,
Scotch Plains,
(Fairwood) N. J. Roofing, Spouting and Heater work. Pumps, lead pipe, all kinds of sheet metal work. The best and the cheapest Smoke Consuming Coal Heating Stoves in market.—jan1

TO THE PUBLIC

We wish to inform our customers and the public generally that we have in the last month of

LEHIGH COAL,

Fresh from the Mines,

It is under cover and well protected from the weather. We are prepared to deliver it well screened and in good order promptly. We have also purchased to furnish all kinds of Lumber and Masons' Material at short notice.

A. D. COOK & BRO.
jan1y1

J. Hervey Doane,
9 PARK AVENUE.
(Formerly Carey's.)

Watches,
Clocks
And Jewelry,
Repairing neatly and promptly done.
apr1

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, VEGETABLES, DRIED FRUIT, ETC.
CORNER EMILY AND DUER STREETS
North Plainfield, New Jersey.

Celebrated Pillsbury Flour,
THE BEST IN THE MARKET.
ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED.
Plainfield or east patronage I solicit a continuance Respectfully,
WILLIAM H. SHOTWELL.
apr1y

Geo. A. Moore,
Of the late firm of Moore Bros.
Is now ready as proprietor to fill all orders left at market or at
NO. 14 NORTH AVENUE.
Where he will continue to supply patrons with the finest grades of fresh and salt meats, fish and all kinds of poultry. Orders known by number will be the fastest served. Prices, anything and every kind in stock, furnished at short notice.
may1-tf

Edward Ramonetti,
OYSTER AND ICE CREAM SALOON
OYSTERS BY THE QUART, 100 OR 1000
BARGOTTE SODAS MADE TO ORDER
All Orders Promptly Attended to.
24 NORTH AVENUE,
Plainfield, N. J. Telephone Call, No. 30
1y29

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

Force's Hotel!
NORTH AVENUE
Near R. R. Depot, Plainfield, New Jersey.
JAMES H. FORCE, - Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY HOTEL.
Transient guests taken at reasonable rates.
Bottled Liquors a Specialty.

Laing's Hotel!
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
J. B. MILLER & BRO., - Proprietors.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.

James Conneely
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has reopened a first-class
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 32 PARK AVE.,
where as well as formerly he intends to handle and patronize with the choicest brands of imported and domestic liquors.—may11

FURP EXCHANGE HOTEL.
73 Courtlandt street,
CORNER WASHINGTON, NEW YORK CITY
FRED. W. BALLARD, - - Proprietor,
(formerly of Jersey City), is now conducting the above well known and popular Down-town Hotel on New York, formerly kept by the late James Van Nest. Terms, $1 per day. Special rates to families with their meals conducted by Fred. Ballard.

CUBE WINES, LIQUORS AND SEGARS, 1y301

SOMERSET HOTEL,
Cor. Somerset and Emily Sts., North Plainfield, N. J.
Permanent and Transient Boarders Solicited.
First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all reasonable hours. 3jan87

EDUCATIONAL.

RODMAN SEMINARY,
26 E. 5th Street. Will Re-open
SEPT. 15.
For circular address,
MRS. R. C. DINGEE, Principal.
aug6

MR. LEAL'S SCHOOL
WILL RE-OPEN
Monday, Sept. 19, 1887.

DODWORTH'S
Class for Dancing & Deportment
—AT—
Seminary Hall, Plainfield, N. J.,
Wednesdays from 3:30 to 5:30 P. M.,
Commencing Oct. 26th, 1887.
THEO. J. DODWORTH.
October 7th, 1887.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST,
Residence—Kennedy street, North Plainfield, one block from Somerset street, left hand side, is informed in regard to separation, present and future events, luckiest marriages, journeys, law suits, etc. Satisfaction guaranteed. Her converse is in English, German and French.
My husband's a first-class Cooper, and repairs tubs, pails, barrels, etc., cheap for cash.

Plainfield District Telegraph
and Fire Alarm Co.
Prompt Messenger Service Furnished.
Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph Co.
LOW RATES. QUICK SERVICE. MONEY TRANSFERRED BY TELEGRAPH. COMMUTATION STAMPS FOR SALE.
OFFICE—A PARK AVENUE.
W. S. SLITER, Manager.
12jy87.

STEAM HEATING,
FOR
CHURCHES, SCHOOLS, and DWELLINGS.
J. N. SCHENCK,
Plainfield, N. J.
P. O. Box 1051.—aplyt

JAMES K. ARNOLD,
GROCER,
Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts., North Plainfield.

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.,
TO HIRE. CHARGES REASONABLE.
Hugo Weigmah,
30 EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J. may1

CAREY'S
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE, NO. 42 WEST FRONT STREET.
Nearly opposite Leiter's Hotel, Plainfield, N. J.
Having transferred the above premises I am prepared to haul and sell second-hand Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, etc. I will also take Furniture in exchange for moving. Furniture, etc., stored. P. O. Box 482.—apr1

DOOR NUMBERS,
DOOR BELLS,
DOOR PLATES.
DICKINSON & FLAWSON'S,
13 PARK AVENUE.
Next Apposite P.O.

Dr. King's Spectacles.
jy1ly

BOOKS!
A Large Line of
BOOKS AT 39c. EACH.
COME and SEE THEM
A. W. RAND,
24 W. FRONT ST.

SANITARY PLUMBING,
Brick and Portable Furnaces,
GAS FITTING,
TIN ROOFING,
Etc. Etc.
I am prepared to do any of the above branches in a skillful, first-class, economy and workmanlike manner.
Having contracted myself with the Hon. Plainfield Association of Fire Underwriters, I guarantee my work to be done in accordance with their rules, and to all concerned.
D. W. LITTELL,
No. 9 NORTH AVE. (under Plainfield, N. J.

MISCELLANEOUS.

P. P. VanArsdale,
PIANO TUNER.
Instruments out in thorough order. Terms reasonable. Pianos and Organs for sale and to let. Orders by postal, P. O. Box 106 or left at Wilcox's Shoe Store, No. 6 Park avenue will receive prompt attention. All REASURERS will oblige.
Residence and Office, 21 East Front street, corner Main street.—jy1y87

A. TITSWORTH,
Merchant Tailor,
Has removed his place of business to
No. 26 North Ave.,
(Block formerly occupied by Jennifer Mellon), ALSO OFFICE OF CITY TREASURER, 21 East Front street, corner Main street.—jy1y87

JOHN CHANDLER,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Residence and Shop No. 36 East 2d St.
Jobbing promptly attended to. apr9

Alex. Willett,
DEALER IN
BOOTS & SHOES,
No. 6 PARK AVENUE.
A full assortment of fashionable goods direct from manufacturers at LOW PRICES for CASH. jan1y1

G. W. FORCE,
12 West Front street,
OPPOSITE THE POST OFFICE,
Boots and Shoes at Low Prices
A FINE GRADE OF GOODS TO SELECT FROM
12 West Front street,
G. W. FORCE.
jan1y1

J. T. ODAM,
PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL
Slate Roofer and Repairer.
Residence, Corner Fourth and Sycamore Streets, East Plainfield, Somerset County, N. J.
P. O. Box 1208, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Orders left at New Work Warehouse for sale of Slate, Iron and Wood Mantles. Also, Tiles and Grates. Store No. 15 E. Front street, will receive prompt attention.—jan1y1

Steam Marble
Granite Works.
AND
Monuments & Headstones,
Fencing for Cemetery Plots.
Large assortment of Slate Mantels.
A large variety of Granite Mantels.
All work executed by the most skilful mechanics and at very reasonable prices. All stones dulled, axed and set right.
MANNING,
FRONT ST., NEXT to M. E. Ch., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Headstones erected in Greenwood Cemetery.—jan1y1

GEO. D. MORRISON,
NORTH AVENUE.
Has opened a store for the sale of the Choicest Brands of
FLOUR, FEED, HAY,
Oats, Straw, Bran, Etc.
And hopes by promptness and fair dealing to merit a share of the public patronage.
SANDERSON'S
XXXX
BEST FLOUR.
FROM MINNESOTA WHEAT. A SPECIALTY.
CALL AND SEE WHAT YOU GET.
jy1y1

LIVERY.

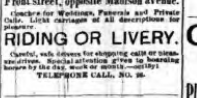
RICHARD H. DAY'S
City Livery Stable!
OPPOSITE DEPOT, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Special attention paid to Boarding Horses by the day, week or month. Fine Turnouts and Horses for a night or short notice. Telephone Call, No. 121
my11

ALBERT HEDDEN,
Livery and Boarding Stables
FOURTH STREET,
Between Front and Second streets, Plainfield. Thanks for changing calls promptly attended to. Horses boarded by the day, week or month. Telephone call No. 114.

Livery Stables!
Mr. D. S. ROBERTS
Has Removed to His New Building on
NORTH AVENUE,
Adjoining Force's Hotel. Mr. Roberts will always be found ready and able to meet the wants of his friends in turn-out or short notice. Horses for sale or to exchange. Telephone Call No. 31.
The best accommodations for boarding horses a specialty. 1my87

A. M. SEGUINE,
(Successor to John W. Laing.)
Laing's Hotel Stables
Front street, opposite Madison avenue.
Coaches for Weddings, Funerals and Private Calls. Livery carriages of all descriptions for pleasure.
RIDING OR LIVERY.
Careful, safe drivers for shopping calls or business drives. Special attention given to boarding horses by the day, week or month.—oct21y1
TELEPHONE CALL, No. 26.

ESTABLISHED 1868.
Westfield Horse Market.



IRVING & CO.,
DEALERS IN
Carriage Teams, Road, Draft, Speed, Saddle and General Business Horses.
All horses guaranteed as represented.
Central avenue,
Near Depot, Westfield, N. J.
jy1y

PAINTERS & PAINTERS' SUPPLIES.

Paints, Varnishes, Glass,
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALL PAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
A. SWALM,
No. 8 North Avenue, Plainfield.
apr1y

Weaver Bros.
House & Sign Painting, Graining,
Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a specialty.
Office and Shop in the rear of
128 EAST FRONT STREET,
D. WEAVER. P. O. Box 251. P. WEAVER

W. N. ROWE.
PAINTER AND DECORATOR,
Dealer in WALL PAPER and WINDOW SHADES. Room for display of Wall Paper and Shades, 2d floor, over Stationery and Variety Store, No. 19 E. Front st. Orders left at Gardner's and Sisler's Pharmacies, N. J. P. O. Box 1208.—apr1y

L. B. WOOLSTON. J. P. BUCKLE.
Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS,
Wall Papers,
PAINTER'S SUPPLIES. 32 NORTH AVENUE.
apr1y

MILLINERY.

Mrs. J. M. Dunn,
FASHIONABLE MILLINER,
LATEST SHAPES OF
BONNETS AND HATS.
FRENCH IMPORTED FLOWERS.
Feathers, Velvets, Plushes, Satins, Laces, etc. Also, Fancy Goods and Notions. Dressed Infants Caps a specialty.
PINKING, BLEACHING & PRESSING.
Feathers Dyed. Cleaned and Curled AT SHORT NOTICE.
14 West Front street.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR,
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havanas.
CIGAR HAVANA SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the choicest Brands of Parlor Cigars always on hand. Choice Tobaccos always on hand.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety.
Daily

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
SEGARS!
29 PARK AVENUE, (Next door to Second St.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobaccos and Smokers's Materials, Pipes, Etc.
The celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, with other popular brands constantly on hand.

PICTURE FRAMES—
OF ALL KINDS, AT
S. E. FLOWER'S.
At New York Prices, ready to West Front street, factories for drawing and oil painting. Telephone Call, No. 121

A. J. SMALLEY, H. S. SMALLEY.
Smalley Bros.,
DEALERS IN
Fresh and Salt Meats, Poultry, Etc.
No. 20 NORTH AVENUE, NORTH PLAINFIELD.
Orders called for and delivered. A share of the public patronage is solicited.—jy1y

Benj. F. Moore,
(Late of Moore Bros.)
BUTCHER,
And dealer in FRESH AND SALT MEATS OF ALL KINDS. Orders left at Sisler's Pharmacy, Somerset street, North Plainfield, will receive prompt attention. Telephone call 311.—may21

MAYNARD & HILL,
PRACTICAL BARBERS
AND
Artistic Hair Dressers,
No. 26 PARK AVENUE,
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at residence if desired. Shampooing a specialty. Satisfaction performed. 11jy1

HEADQUARTERS
FOR
AMERICAN WATCHES.
DIAMONDS and FINE JEWELRY.
GOLD EYE GLASSES and SPECTACLES. PERFECT FITS GUARANTEED.
Suitable for the Holidays.
WALTHAM, ELGIN, HOWARD, COLUMBUS & LANCASTER WATCHES OF EVERY STYLE AND PRICE.
CHESHIRE Watches, $5.00
WATERBURY Watches, $2.50.
WM. H. EINHAUS,
43 NASSAU ST., NEW YORK.
ap16

Carney Bros.,
PRACTICAL
Plumbers, Tinners & Gas Fitters
Heaters, Ranges and Stoves.
Dealers in all Kinds of Stoves, Heaters and Ranges. No pains spared to please customers. Jobbing on hand. Moore's Heaters and Ranges a specialty. Our patrons' supplied with the best goods at the lowest prices. Shop 2 doors below Depot. Telephone call No. 2. It will cost nothing to call and see us. It will save expenses later on.

The Economic Gas Engine.
This little Gas Engine can run by daily users in operation in our shop. Can be run by any one. Call and see it in operation. Can be run cheaper per hour at the small rate of 3 cents per hour. Is a favorite of prominent residences as being a safe, quiet motor. Does away with the danger of fire. Is always ready and is every case we have satisfactorily endorsed all these.

Our Sanitary Plumbing
Department is, as it always has been, conducted on first-class, and our work is the object to which we devote our personal attention. While we employ good workmen we see none but the best of material used. Our prices are low and satisfaction guaranteed or a good job at a very reasonable price.

We Guarantee Our Work.
We are under many obligations to our numerous patrons of the past for their work and their endorsements of our methods. We thank them for their favors and we will endeavor to merit a continuance of the same. Those who favor us with their work for the first time we will endeavor to make very grateful. Those who favor us with their work for the first time we will endeavor to make very grateful. Those who favor us with their work for the first time we will endeavor to make very grateful.
7 and 9 Somerset street.

A PLEA FOR THE BIRDS.

An Appeal to the Ladies of England.

Let the ornaments be what they may, Obscure all the silver sea,
What's the white-headed seaweed are curling And the wind is blowing free.
Where is a sound of wild seagulls crying, And the surge is loudest on reef;
Blood incompanions the ocean, Sweeping past Old Flamborough Head.

For the hunters come unbounded All the forests are they slay,
Herons with their aigrets nodding, Where the wings are left away.
Where for wives for left away
Take the patient bird is doomed.
With the children on her breast.
While hunters come and go,
Left to starve in yonder nest.

Well down all these fashions go,
What's not fit for them goes to kill,
Who can have the heart that shrinks
Such a cruel, cruel thing?
Birds are singin' English ladies,
Birds are singin' English ladies,
What for to kill and to destroy
All the birds that sing so sweet?

Feathers do think I and honest,
Which the silver sea-gull wears,
Does that slaughter is the same
Many a million, year by year,
Upon the sands nesting round,
Then, as at the present moment,
Means the dying and the dead.

Wear the hat, then, o' as the feather,
Wear the hat, and wear the plume,
Birds enjoy the summer weather
And they sing in the trees.
There's the robin, and the wood,
Each one's whistle is a song,
Thinks never kill trees,
Leave us singing in the nest.

—London Punch.

"ROAD AGENTS."

An Adventure on the Old Mariposa Stage.

There were five men of us in one of the old Mariposa stage coaches before the days of the railroad, and it was about 10 o'clock in the afternoon of an August day. We were on our way to Sacramento, and the passengers one was a local man in the regular army, another a theatrical manager, and the other two were speculators. The latter had evidently been successful, for they were in high spirits and had been drinking pretty freely. Three were perfect strangers, and the fifth, though a resident of Mariposa, was not known to the others even by name, for I looked over the register after reaching the city.

The Lieutenant ought to light in case we were attacked, and I was supposed to be a gunner. The theatrical gentleman had no arms, but the speculators and myself had each a revolver. I was the only one who had any money worth stealing, for the theatrical manager had given me a check for his salary, and the speculators had evidently been successful in their operations. In some instances the checks were drawn on the bank in the town we were to reach that night, and in other cases they were drawn on the "round up" and were glad to get off with their lives. I had about one hundred and fifty thousand dollars in bank bills and gold, and I was going to invest it in land or put that money without a fight. The ranch man had four thousand dollars, and the secret about these things was not known to the afterward learned, and both had driven down to Fresno City from the mines. We were armed, and had come to a lonely stretch of road, where the ranchmen said the Stanislaus and Tuolumne rivers met, it was not yet supposed to be hostile when we left Mariposa, but we had heard of the Indian war, and the Lieutenant had a rifle and a revolver, and I had a revolver. The ranchman had four

The Constitutionalist.

A. L. FORCE, Proprietor. A. L. FORCE, Editor.

ATTENTION VOTERS.

There seems interest of higher importance than the free and thorough examination of the rising generation, and all truthful treasured, that nothing has yet offered greater benefits even the city of Plainfield than the present excellent School system.

The Board of Education has been in session for some days to meet the needs increasing demand for school facilities, but finds itself powerless to accomplish needed results without some additional revenue.

As soon as the Legislature, if approved by a popular vote, will grant the necessary relief and if the ability of the voters to properly consider upon the right and just principle of the matter, no one can doubt.

Mr. Scudder is a clear and logical thinker and many trifles some of which we quote as follows:

"Labor is aware that it is entitled to its share of the development of the civilization of the age.

"Many employes have organized and the Knights of Labor is the most powerful and extensive association.

"Both of these forms of organization have the individual interest was compromised; in the first place, if the wage dissatisfied with his wages he could not leave his employ for himself, but he could as it required so much capital to start anything that the being made has lost his vantage ground, and must work for his employer or not work at all.

"Capitalistic princes have arisen and the princes take more interest in their business than in their employes.

"Finally, labor and capital are going together for the rich are getting richer and the poor are getting poorer.

"We have commercial oppression in the shape of trusts.

"Every business has its combination. Rising values and limiting production.

"This artificial interference makes it severe upon the purchaser.

"Healthy competition is done away with and trusts are formed.

"Coal famines are brought about by the combinations of railroads and coal kings.

"Most of us can see in the near future coal during the summer months.

"But how about poor men who have their money invested in these trusts?

"I do not see that capital puts the string at both ends.

"Combinations gobble up every business.

"They are to be feared because they have all the elements of perpetuity about them.

"The wealth and power of individuals do not complete, but corporations are like mortal.

"Citizens of the railroads are so powerful that they can defy the law.

"They control legislators and do as they please.

"I favor organization but not to be used for evil.

"We must study them and apply remedies.

The foregoing truthful sayings are worthy of serious consideration.

Among the giant evils of the day "double monetary monopoly."

Popular sovereignty in the architect as shall be vigorously asserted.

JUSTICE.

A Philadelphian by the name of Lesher, who had been in the employ of the Chesapeake Canal Company of that city, and finally proved to be an embezzler of a very large amount of money, received the following sentence from Judge Mitchell a few days ago:

"The Judge said:

"It seems a plain and ignorant man, whose life has been a struggle with poor pay, commits crime he must be punished, as the security of society is above all personal considerations. But as a matter of justice punishment is more severe in its instance and as light as public interests will permit. But when a man whose intelligence and position in life should give him not only the means but the opportunity to earn a fair and honest living, has been a cancer in your midst for years under the guise of a trusted employe, and has by such embezzlements arisen to affluence. The crime of which you have been guilty is one of the most difficult to detect and one of the few, but years would be none too great. I, therefore, in view of the circumstances in your favor, that having put away his ill-gotten gains, and the other that you have not sought to take advantage of the statute of limitations, but have pleaded guilty and voluntarily returned to Philadelphia to undergo sentence at their hands, I will sentence you to the Eastern Penitentiary for the period of eight years.

BUSINESS MENTIONS.

The Question Settled.

Entertainment Jan. 31 at 8 p. m. Judge McCormick has just sentenced Jackson and Horace and Law VanNest to the full extent of the statute many years in the penitentiary. Jackson gets fifteen years—five on each of the three bills to which he confessed. Horace and Law VanNest get each forty years for the Purse fire. Besides this imprisonment they must stand committed until the heavy costs of court are settled.

The sentences are considered enough to be present from your city, were President of the Common Council F. C. Marsh, City Engineer Thos. Lynch, Counsellor W. L. Hutchinson and Chief of Police C. W. Bullock. Councilman Geo. Miller, absent, Councilmen Alex. Miller, Alsbridge A. F. Miller and Messrs. Ethan Lapphear, Howard Wilson, J. F. MacDonald, E. S. Worsley and Julius Scott.

Court opened at 10 20. Judges McCormick, Harper and Hyer presiding. One or two minor cases were disposed of, and at 10 30 the prisoners Jackson and Lewis and Horace Van Nest were brought in. Prosecutor Wilson moved for the sentence of Jackson as indicted in connection with the Purse fire. Judge McCormick asked Jackson as indicted alone, and for the sentence of Jackson, Lewis Van Nest and Horace Van Nest as indicted and convicted together.

Councilor Alvah Clark then moved an arrest of judgment in the case of Lewis, inasmuch as the indictment had not been framed upon any statute. The Court denied the motion and the Counsellor presented a bill of exceptions that had been prepared in opposition of the denial. Prosecutor Wilson remembered that the Court could not review exceptions to the denial of an arrest of judgment. By so doing, he held, the Court would waive its own action. Judge McCormick did not agree with such view, and said he would look into the practice in such cases, and seal the bill if he thought proper.

Counsellor Clark then said, addressing the Court, "Jackson, the self-confessed incendiary, some time ago asked me to send to this Court, which he came to be sentenced, his own statement of his connection with the fires to which he had pleaded guilty. By reason of my promise to him at that time, I do so now. I have taken the freedom in writing, signed by him, and if the Court will bear with me I will read it now."

Judge McCormick—"Read certainly."

The confession—of which we publish in full below its important parts—was then read by Mr. Clark, after he had stated that the reason Jackson had not been called to give this testimony during the trial, was because Horace, in spite of Lewis' pleas, would not consent to have his guilt so completely fastened upon him. He then made a strong appeal for Lewis, and presented a petition just handed him, signed by a number of Plainfield citizens, asking for a lenient sentence in his case. Mr. Clark said he would be made as light as possible consistent with the law.

In sentencing the prisoners, Judge McCormick had a word or two to say to each.

JACKSON'S CONFESSION.

I, John M. Jackson, now in confinement in the County Jail at Elizabeth, make the following statement freely and voluntarily and without any consultation with any friend or buildings at Plainfield and any part taken by any other with me.

THE PARIS HOUSE.

The first fire was on the 15th of March, A. D. 1887. I then never had anything to do with any fire before this time. About two years ago I was acquainted with Horace and soon a considerable number for quite eight months and then joined House's House, being a temperance society, and was a member of the order for four months. Then on New Year-day last I was in company with Horace and was induced by him to drink and took my pledge, and then drank more or less all the time.

On the night of March 15th I saw Louis and Horace Van Nest at supper a saloon on 2d and Front streets, and after supper I was reading the paper. Horace asked me to go up to the house with him. I said "No, I hadn't time, I must go to my home to supper." He said "Come along, it is much literature," etc. I, of course, appearing in The Paris such a statement would be widely read, and not wishing to appear so, I went.

Speaking of politics, the Farmers' Club in Hall on Friday evening. They have a very neat hall, and had a full attendance. Mr. Bates was called upon to speak. He said he was not a politician, and was not in favor of getting up a club for political purposes. He thought the farmers should not be used as tools by politicians. The subject, he said, was a very large one, and he could not do it justice. He thought the farmers should be represented in the Legislature, but not by politicians. He would like to see a farmer elected who would look after the interests of the farmers. He thought the farmers should have the privilege of selling their produce in any quantities they desired. Mr. Bates' remarks were received with applause.

Mr. Bates then read a paper on "Farmers' Clubs," which was listened to with interest. He thought the object of a Farmers' Club should be to discuss the best methods of cultivating the soil, the best crops to raise, the best manner of fertilizing, etc. He thought the farmers should have the privilege of selling their produce in any quantities they desired. Mr. Bates' remarks were received with applause.

Mr. Bates then read a paper on "Farmers' Clubs," which was listened to with interest. He thought the object of a Farmers' Club should be to discuss the best methods of cultivating the soil, the best crops to raise, the best manner of fertilizing, etc. He thought the farmers should have the privilege of selling their produce in any quantities they desired

CITY DEPARTMENT.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION.

J. A. DEMAREST, Civil Editor.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

[Illegible] NEW YORK MAILS.

[Illegible] SOUTHERN MAILS.

[Illegible] EASTERN, SOUTHERN AND WESTERN MAILS.

[Illegible] NEW YORK MAILS.

[Illegible] SOUTHERN MAILS.

[Illegible] EASTERN, SOUTHERN AND WESTERN MAILS.

Post Office open from 7 A. M. and closes at 7 P. M. Sundays, open one hour after arrival of morning mail. Money order office open from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. Saturdays 10 A. M. to 4 P. M. W. L. FORD, Postmaster.

The Democratic City Nominations.

The Democrats of the City of Plainfield are requested to meet at Democratic Headquarters, Front street, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of this week, to nominate councilmen and city officers for the ensuing year. The Voters of the First and Second wards will meet Thursday evening, Dec. 1, at 7:30; and the voters of the Third and Fourth wards, Friday evening, Dec. 2, at 7:30 o'clock. At the same time 23 delegates will be selected to meet at the City Convention, at the same place, Saturday evening, Dec. 3, at 7:30, to place in nomination, three councilmen-at-large, two aldermen, collector, treasurer, city judge and assessor. The voters of the wards are entitled to the following number of delegates each: First, six; Second, four; Third, three; Fourth, six.

By order Democratic Exec.

L. F. WADSWORTH, Secy.

—Judge Nathan Harper has made an excellent member of the Board of Education for a number of years. He is especially fitted for that position.

—The regular monthly meeting of the North Plainfield Council will be held on Friday evening of this week. The City Council will meet in regular session on Monday evening next.

—It is all well enough to say that 13 is an unlucky number, but the meeting started in business with 13 States, and seemed to be holding her own up to the time of going to press.

—Prayer meeting services will be held in the Trinity Reformed church on Friday evening of this week, and on the Sunday following the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered.

—The Girls' Mission Band of the Congregational church will hold a "Dairymaid's Festival" in the "Y" rooms, on East Front street, on Monday evening of next week, from six to ten o'clock.

—The name of New Brooklyn Post Office has been changed to that of South Plainfield, to take effect on Jan. 1st, 1888. After that date direct your letters accordingly. Belmus Dunham is Postmaster.

—The several boards of registration met in the various polling places Wednesday and revised the original registry list, besides adding additional names thereto. The total registration for the day was as follows: First Ward, 14; Second Ward, 15; Third Ward, 30; Fourth Ward, 30.

—As it now looks, the anti-license party of Plainfield have the best of it in the coming municipal nominations. Well, if they can stand the detriment that Plainfield will reap from a "no-license" policy, we suppose the Plainfield will be willing to reap the harvest.

—If the Democrats will place in nomination good and capable candidates for city officials in their coming convention, there will be no chance of "knocking out" certain candidates on the Republican side of the house. There is not the host of harmony in the party's ranks.

—The crowds in attendance at The Crescent, Thanksgiving afternoon and evening, proved that the fascination of roller-skating is yet strong and that but little encouragement would rekindle the passion. The afternoon gathering was the largest matinee attendance that has been recorded in many months.

—Hazlie Engine Company No. 1, took their steamer out for a wash, Thanksgiving afternoon, on the 3d street well, near Park Avenue. Steam was got up in two minutes, and with 80 pounds of steam and 130 pounds of water pressure a stream was thrown through 300 feet of inch hose. A distance of 170 feet. Another test will be given when the new hose arrives and will give better satisfaction.

—The Lecture Committee of the Y. M. C. A. have taken a very sensible action in regard to the entertainments which they are developing upon the course indicated in the following special notice issued by the Committee, viz: These Concerts will be given each evening at 8:15 o'clock precisely. At that hour the doors to the auditorium will be closed and will remain closed during the rendering of the first selection of the first selection of the first movement. At the conclusion of the first movement the doors will be opened, and those in waiting will be ushered to their seats. In like manner will the doors be closed during every selection, and opened only between the selections.

—The grand ball of Branch No. 8, of the Emerald Benevolent Association of this city at The Crescent on Thanksgiving eve., was largely attended. The Branch Band furnished the music for the occasion, and all present enjoyed themselves. The grand march was led by Mr. M. J. Meskill of Lambertville, a member of the State Branch. The following were the Committee of the Floor Committee: Wm. White, E. B. Daly, D. C. Nolan and A. J. Nolan, and John McGrath, Jr. The Reception Committee included Messrs. F. Keeley and Thos. Shechan. We are requested to state that if the persons who went away with the wrong hooping to obtain theirs at the Committee, they will receive the thanks of the Committee, and have their hats returned to them.

The Opening Fair.

The new building that has been added to the M. E. church, for the purposes of Sunday school and lecture rooms, not being quite in available condition, the fair of the ladies' society arranged, is postponed until Dec. 13, 14, 15 and 16. During the afternoons and evenings of these dates, such a bazaar as this city has never seen, is expected, will be thrown open for the entertainment and patronage of the community.

Imported Hats for Our New Railroad

A special train over the Lehigh Valley R. R., on Wednesday of last week, about five o'clock, landed a carload of fifty Italians at New Brooklyn. They had been imported by the contractors engaged in the construction of the Bonelle and South Plainfield Railroad. The buildings on the Maguire farm that have been leased for the purpose, are turned into "hotels" for the laborers by fitting them up with shelves on which the men bunk, one above another. The wages house, barn and even the corn crib, are also pressed into service for accommodations, however, shanties will probably be built in the woods, as the contractors are anxious to get the men where they can find paying more laborers to chase they can find work in a city. The bridge at New Brooklyn is being pushed rapidly along, and at the completion of an outlet from Plainfield to New York, by way of South Plainfield, is not far distant.

Pers.nalia.

Miss Maude Bradshaw of Newark is visiting relatives in the Borough.

Mr. Henry Leland, formerly of this city, and now of Chicago, is visiting old friends in Plainfield.

Miss Mabel Brooks of Seventh street who is attending an out-of-town seminary, spent Thanksgiving day at home.

Mr. S. A. Wallace of Park street is visiting his brother in Baltimore with whom he is connected in business.

The Rev. T. Logan Murphy preached the first of a course of sermons in St. John's church, Elizabeth, on Sunday evening last.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ladell, Mr. Fred Rogers and Miss Kate Mears, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are visiting at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James Whitely, on East Fifth street.

Miss Clara Williams of Madison avenue, entertained a few of her friends at her residence Monday evening. Games and refreshments were indulged in the evening's festivities.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ladell, Mr. Fred Rogers and Miss Kate Mears, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are visiting at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James Whitely, on East Fifth street.

Accidentally Shot.

During the pigeon shooting matches 24th inst., on the grounds of the Middlesex Gun Club at Dunellen, an array of pot hunters surrounded the enclosed grounds waiting with every conceivable kind of a gun to shoot those birds which were missed by the inside shooters, and escaped to the outside. A bird fell dead just over the fence and Herman Perry, of North Plainfield, started to retrieve it with loaded gun in hand. Stumbling, his gun was discharged as he fell, and the entire charge passed a few inches from his head into the ground. Scattering shot struck a young man named Ed Wyckoff in the leg and hand. He also entering the former and two in the latter number. Blood flowed freely from the wounds, but no serious results were the consequence of Parse's carelessness.

Show Turning and Ball.

The Plainfield Turn Verein section of the Plainfield Geseng and Turn Verein gave a grand ball and show turning at their headquarters, French's Hall, North Plainfield, on Thanksgiving Eve. The spacious hall was filled with the members and friends of the society, many of the latter being ladies. The ball was preceded by an interesting programme of vocal and instrumental music, exhibitions on the parallel and horizontal bars, the forming of pyramids and acrobatic feats by the T. V. Turn Verein. The finished pyramids were formed by the turners, who were loudly applauded. Part second on the programme included twenty dances, Prof. Franz Trambley music for the same. On the whole the entertainment was thoroughly enjoyed, and nothing occurred to mar the pleasure of the guests. The Committee on Arrangements consisted of the following persons: Messrs F. Becker, H. Baurand, John Brüdenheimer, J. B. Sharp, T. Melcher.

The Mother Goose Entertainment

Given in the Sunday School room of the 1st Baptist church Friday evening, under the auspices of the Mah Myah Mission Band of the church was a grand success. The attendance was large and about $50 was realized from the entertainment. The large Sunday School room was tastefully decorated with flags and bunting, and in the centre Miss Young and a lodge of children were quartered in a huge shoe. Master Edgar Serrell, as "Little Boy Blue," looked out of the hay-loft door in the corner of the room, and Edward Wilcox and Miss Grace Cooley represented the King and Queen, presided over a table, dispensing bread and honey. "Mother Goose" was impersonated by Miss Maggie Taylor, and Miss Emma Case and Master Clifford Cooley, as "Jack and Jill" attended to the wants of the latter, while Miss Addie Gardiner as "Cross Patch" dealt out excellent coffee for a nominal sum. Misses Mary Miss Carrie Manning's (Misses Mary Manning's as Queen Mab" was much sought after by persons with a fairy appetite. Mrs. Wm. Vail represented the "Old Woman Under the hill," where confectionary and nick-nacks of the choicest kind were to be had. One of the attractions was Miss Carrie Gardiner, as "Old Mother Goose," who sat near a cupboard with her dog carefully guarding a bone. The other characters were: "Daffy-down-dilly," Miss Edith Harrold; "Jack Horner," John Sheppard; "The Milk Maid," Miss Tillie Hudson, and "Bo Peep," Miss Edith Needham. During the evening all the characters participated in a march, led by "Mother Goose," and accompanied on the piano by Wallace Serrel. The entertainment was thoroughly enjoyed by all present, and the Committee of Arrangements are entitled to credit for the able manner in which they conducted the affair.

Close of the W. R. C. Bazaar.

The bazaar and fair of the Woman's Relief Corps of this city, which has been in progress in the Republican Association rooms on East Front street during the past week, closed on Saturday evening. The result of the bazaar is very gratifying to the ladies having the affair in charge, and their efforts will be rewarded to the extent of upwards of $100. The remaining contests, were decided on Saturday evening as follows: First badge was awarded to Mrs. Wm. C. Smith; the second badge to Mrs. H. C. Drake. The total amount of money collected on the two trophies was $361 30. In the veterans' daughter badge contest there were two young ladies running. It was awarded to Miss Bertha Stevens, and the total amount realized was $58 20.

As the fair came to a close, interest was manifested in the vote for the gold-headed cane, announced to be presented to the most popular daily newspaper publisher in the city, who should receive the most votes at ten cents a vote. The final result showed a vote of 342 for W. L. Force, senior member of the firm of W. L. Force & Bro., editors and proprietors of the DAILY PRESS, against 30 votes for the editor of the * * * *. No special effort was made to secure this result, the 30 votes alone recorded having been announced at the close of the entertainment, the night before. As before stated THE PRESS is growing in popularity every day. That the same should be the case of its respectatives is but an echo of the sentiment of the people. Of course the public expect to hear some more tremendous expressed from a certain garden, that soon after the fact that THE PRESS is the most popular organ of the city. Vilification will not alter that fact. The senior editor returns thanks to the public for their appreciation of true journalism—and the cane. It will be property inscribed on its appropriate gold head in honor of the event, and to the deserved success of the Women's Relief Corps of the G. A. R., who have so faithfully labored for a deserved object—that of charity. We are glad that they have met with such success, financially and socially. This organization is composed of good workers for a good cause. They have succeeded in all their previous ventures, and we doubt not but that the citizens of Plainfield will encourage them and assist in all their future operations. THE PRESS is here to do as it has in times past—support their efforts.

Persons holding the following numbers on tea meat tickets are entitled to the handsome prizes and can have them by applying at No. 12 North avenue: No's 29, 43, 131, 451, 84, 127, 60, 100, 382, 376, 317, 547, 343. The holder of No. 56 counter ticket is entitled to an individual salt cellar; No. 147 to a silver napkin ring; No. 11 to a crazy quilt cushion. The holder of No. 39 coupon drew a handsome lamp on Thursday evening, but it has not yet been called for. Any of the above prizes can be had by presenting the proper tickets at No. 12 North avenue.

The Rev. Wm. D. Bridge, Private Secretary to Rev. E. E. Hamilton, has arrived home from his trip to London, Eng.

Best Tea.

One week ago the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wann, of North Plainfield, accidentally set fire to a window shade in one of the bedrooms of their residence on Willow avenue. Through the excitement the nurse pulled the burning shade down, and in doing so turned several large holes in the carpet, destroying two breadths of the same. The carpet was of a peculiar and rare color, but the Firemen's Ins. Co. 155 Broadway, New York, who had insured, recognized the loss, and paid for a new carpet equal in value to the one destroyed.

To Whom It May Concern.

The undersigned, pastor and consistory of the German Reformed church, thankful to God for the brilliant result of the fair arranged by the ladies of the Christian Work Society of the church, for the benefit of the building fund, held from the 14th to the 19th inst., inclusive, also wish to extend their thanks to everyone who has helped to realize this result.

F. KOEHLER, Pastor.
J. WILLIAMS, P. DORNBUSH, V. UPDEGRAFF, J. VOORHEES, } Elders. } Deacons.

Stop the Coal Extortion.

The president of one of the largest Eastern coal companies says the production of anthracite coal this year will be at least 2,000,000 tons in excess of that of any previous year, in spite of the labor troubles in the Lehigh district. Notwithstanding this fact the price of anthracite coal all over the United States is being marked up. In New York the dealers have just placed an additional half dollar on their prices and are contemplating a further increase. In this city we are charged for a ton; $5, was the prevailing Summer price. It costs no more to place a ton of coal in Plainfield today than it did in June or July.

Mr. Scott's Latest Invention.

The United States patent office last week granted Mr. Walter Scott of this city a patent on a rotary printing machine that fills quite a long felt want. In some printing offices it is often desirable to add a sheet or supplement. The object of Mr. Scott's latest invention is to connect two presses together and print both sides at once, folding devices in such a manner that the presses can be run together when desired, and part of the paper will be printed on one press and the balance on the other two presses, and the two parts will be brought together and laid in the proper positions for folding. Then also either one of the presses can be run separately, thus allowing for their up to the best advantage for the publisher.

Almost a Fire.

About 11 o'clock Thanksgiving morning smoke was discovered issuing through the roof and weather-boarding of Mr. Lewis Wyckoff's residence on Howard street, North Plainfield. Mrs. Lewis Wyckoff, who resides opposite, first saw the smoke and gave the alarm. Before assistance could arrive, Mrs. Charles Wyckoff, son of a brother of Mr. Lewis, who resided near, had smashed into bits a 11x28 window light and crawled into the blinding smoke of the burning building, and taken outside some of the furniture of the lower rooms. The alarm brought to the scene Mr. Adam Fritz and other neighbors, who succeeded in extinguishing the flames after a hard battle. The fire was caused by a defective chimney, and had undoubtedly been burning for some time. The family was absent at the time of the discovery of the fire. Mr. Wyckoff was insured in the Hanover with Isaac Brokaw.

Seventh-Day Baptist Convention.

The yearly meeting of the Seventh-Day Baptist churches of Shiloh, Marlboro and Plainfield began in this city on Friday evening and concluded Sunday morning. Services were held in the Seventh-Day Baptist church on Friday evening, and on Saturday morning continuation services were held, and Messrs. Nathan H. Randolph and Nathan S. Wells were ordained as deacons of the church. Rev. Dr. Lewis, the pastor, preached an eloquent sermon, and especially pleasing and appropriate music was furnished by a double quartette. In the evening Rev. Mr. Bowen of Marlboro preached, and Sunday morning Rev. J. G. Spurick of Shiloh preached the concluding sermon. Delegates were present from each of the above churches, and during their stay in this city, they were entertained by members of the church and congregation.

The Firebug's Statement.

The publication Monday night of two letters from Jackson, the firebug, declaring the innocence of Lewis and Theodore VanNest, created a big sensation in this city, a while the presses could not print THE PRESS fast enough to supply the demand. It was a "big beat" for a paper to be the first to publish any statement from the man whom both the prosecution and the defence have been trying to coax testimony out of for the past few months. The New York papers gleefully gobbled it all as "good news," but at the same time it has little weight in defence of the accused when the source is considered. It is noticeable that although maintaining the innocence of Lewis and Theodore, not one word comes from Jackson in defence of Horace VanNest. This is consistent with the belief of many since the first arrest was made, that the two right-hand men, Jackson and "Hot" Van Nest, are alone responsible for the firing of the many barns burned during the past. Their theory is that others may have known Jackson's plans, but were not in a "shine," here or there, during this or that night, but had no connection directly with the deed itself. Whether or not this will be the final way they will look at the matter remains to be seen, but the present form of court a review of the results will prove their opinion right. They claim the record will be

One conviction only—that for the Paris fire, that happened before Edwin Sexton Worsley came to town, and which conviction was brought about by Hosmer's threats and Lewis' insurance policy.

The acquittal of Theodore VanNest and Rob Clarmon because of insufficient evidence.

And the others arrested without cause. Messrs. Reed, Hyseny and Skinner, were released Wednesday.

Plainfield Not Duped By His Lordship.

The New York papers of Monday are full of the shock that the upper circles of Newark are experiencing upon the reported discovery that John Reginald Talbot is the bogus "Lord Courtney" and a confidence swell. All this will be reading of interest to Plainfield, but its highest society will not suffer from the shame of being duped Talbot came to this city last Spring and remained about six months. During that time he gained no entrance into the society of the Borough's representative citizens, although he was an attendant at various garden parties on Netherwood lawns. He also claimed acquaintance with the family of John Taylor Johnston, Esq., and was their guest on at least one occasion. At the Hotel Netherwood during the Summer just past, some of the society ladies called him "Lord Shrewsbury" and dropped gumdrops on his head from upper corridors as he frequently passed below on his way to the bar. But he was unsought, and at the new hotel balls he attended in a dress-suit, he was rather a wall-flower. There are in existence a few photographic groups of the upper-tendom of our fashionable suburb, that contain Mr. John Reginald Talbot's figure in flannel tennis costume. Further than that outward association with Plainfield's upper circles, however, he never got.

Leaving here in October he went to Newark, at once became a figure in its society, and was a guest in many of its best houses. He is age able and always well dressed. His manners are gentlemanly and his conversation that of an educated person. Inspector Byrnes now claims him to be a well-known confidence man, and that his career in this country has also appeared under a number of aliases, and a full account of the career of the man is now said to be, has been read by everybody this morning. In many respects the two characters do not fit, but Talbot's flight seems to prove his guilt. Inspector Byrnes, however, is not quite timely wrong in his assertion that he is "unaccounted and a poor writer.

THANKSGIVING DAY SERVICES.

M. E. CHURCH.

A large and intelligent gathering, representing the Trinity Reformed, Methodist and Baptist congregations principally, were present at the regular Thanksgiving Day services held in the M. E. church, Thursday. The pulpit was occupied by Rev. Drs. Ketcham, Yerkes, Van Meter and Rev. Mr. Schenck. Rev. Dr. Lowe was present in the body of the church. Dr. Ketchum, with his accustomed solemnity, opened the exercises with appropriate prayer; Rev. Dr. Yerkes led the responsive psalm, and the Presentor of the Trinity Reformed church, Mr. Brown, led the congregational singing. Mr. D. E. Davis presiding at the organ, singing the hymn:

"Great God of Nations now to Thee,
Our hymn of gratitude we raise.
With humble hearts and tuneful voice
We offer Thee our song of praise."

Rev. Mr. Schenck, the popular young pastor, but recently settled by a large congregation of this city, was intently listened to by an appreciative audience as he proceeded with his theme "Gladness vs. Gratitude," which was teeming with sprightly allusions to current events of the day, taking his text from Jonah 4th and part of the 6th verse, "so Jonah was exceeding glad of the Gourd." After a passing reference to local events of the dying year, the appearance of prosperity on every hand as well as the fact that, while jealously guarding the fair reputation of our beautiful city, but not forgetting the "firebugs," of whom he was addressing a stranger almost, and venturing the particulars of the fiendish acts of the condemned, the reply was returned in tones expressive of "how can it be in such a place?" which was conclusive evidence to the mind of the speaker of the influence and inference where the fair name and fame of an otherwise good community is marred by the presence of that class, who with increasing frequency from different various cautions and diffidence to self-restraint in larger cities, have been and now is the unsolved problem of local governments.

The speaker's mind was now fairly adrift on the petulant tide of anarchy, and ran the thousand miles to the tirdelity of Chicago, where he said justice at last, had laid the strong hand of the law on the outraged law. His mind was adieu with the exciting topics of the day, picturing the incoming emigrants from all nations "over the last sea, to the last shores, of a last continent—Westward ho! where the harvests of its virgin soil will finally have their fullness to feed, in our stead, our own hand, and Godliness on the other, with drawn sword—would fight the last battle, with what weapons he knew not which the world would declare—the divine right of the Prince of this World and usher in the great Kingdom of God, when peace and righteousness would reign, and violence and unrighteousness be no more. In the meantime the prophetic utterances of a raise prophet were to be fulfilled and the Gospel was to be led, as to the revelation of the regime, which had led and dominated the politics of the past, but whose existence was to be cut off in the general government, and justice prevail the cry of the unfortunate, equity prolonging over injustice to the wage-workers, and the tragedy of monopoly be crushed in the face of the present outlook and its demands upon the Christian church, while the lesson of prosperity was a tempting bait to soothe the indifferent into a sleepy indulgence to the demands of the times. The lesson of Jonah and the message he was to deliver to Nineveh was practically put forth as a lesson typifying the condition of a nation, who while they professed to follow the teachings of God, endeavored to escape from the duties laid upon them as necessary to their preservation. The Lord prepared a Gourd and made it to come over Jonah, that it might be a shadow over his head to deliver him from grief, so Jonah was exceedingly glad of the Gourd, but the plant like the God of man in which the rich find repose, is but short lived and valueless if they fail duty to the hundreds and thousands of immortal men and women is neglected, and like Jonah "which today is and to morrow is cast into the oven." In the face of your gladness of heart shall this lesson of the Gourd be lost on you? Shall your gratitude for your gladness only, or will gratitude will you follow the teachings of God to Jonah, that the continuous smiles of a merciful Providence may shield you and yours from the oncoming storms of time. Many favorable comments were passed upon the first effort of the popular young pulpit before the general public, and as the people were leaving the Thanksgiving service a desire was universally expressed that the sermon be published in full.

CRESCENT AVENUE CHURCH.

A union service of the Congregational, Park Avenue Baptist and Crescent Avenue Presbyterian churches was held in the latter, Thanksgiving morning. The Rev. W. R. Richards preached a forcible sermon from Luke 17th, 17th verse, the text for his text, "Where Are the Nine?" from the story of the one leper who returned to give thanks, while the other nine of ten cured went their way. The usual choir music was a feature of the services, and during the collection Mrs. Myers and Miss Holmes sang a duett.

HOLY CROSS CHURCH.

The Church of the Holy Cross was well filled yesterday and the congregations joined heartily in the service of praise and thanksgiving. The sacred edifice was handsomely adorned with fruits of the season, emblems of grain ornamented the chancel. Generous donations were made the day before, and these, with the fruits which ornamented the church, were sent to the poor after the services were over. The sermon was preached by the rector, the Rev. T. Logan Murphy, from Ephesians 5 20: "Giving thanks always for all things unto God." The speaker dwelt at length upon the local blessings we enjoy, the blessings of home, our city, blessings. Anarchy was severely denounced. He declared that we were today twice as strong as when we were brought into terrible ingulfment of fire and blood during the most terrible war that ever fell to the lot of the children of men, and today we are one of the strongest governments of the earth, and that we have been too mild in our treatment of anarchy and socialism, and wherever it shows itself it should be stamped out, and whatever else that is opposed or threatens our institutions or country. We should be thankful that we have a republic founded on reason and justice, which on that imperishable basis has preserved inviolable the rights and liberties of those who are intrusted to our care for over a century.

GRACE CHURCH.

The services at this church yesterday morning, was of a special nature. About the chancel there was a beautiful display of choice fruits, tastefully arranged. The music was also specially arranged for the occasion, and was rendered in a very creditable manner by the regular church choir. Rev. E. M. Rodman, the rector, officiated.

NETHERWOOD CHAPEL.

The Church of Our Saviour at Netherwood had an appropriate service which was participated in by a congregation numbering about forty persons. The tables of the church displayed their taste and skill in arranging the decorations which consisted of sheaves of wheat intermingled with the fields of pumpkins and corn about the chancel, while on the altar were arranged different kinds of fruit on either side of a handsome cross, inside of grass and purple clusters of grapes.

—The light and graceful posts for the electric light system that are to light the streets by incandescence, are fast being set throughout our streets.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and can not be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER Co., 106 Wall street, New York.—nyfly1

DEMAREST'S

EDSALL'S!

No. 20 West Front Street.

SATURDAY, NOV. 19,

NEW STORE.

Choice Creamery Butter. The best in the city. Try it and be convinced. Mason's jars, with porcelain lined tops. Lighting Jars and Jelly Tumblers. Pure Spices, all kinds. Green Ginger Root, Mustard Seed, and Fruits of all kinds, in their season. All of which are sold at Bottom Prices.

P. M. DEMAREST,
27 PARK AVENUE

WHITNEY
OFFERS FOR 30 DAYS
HIS ENTIRE STOCK OF
DRY GOODS
AND CARPETS,
AT SPECIAL
LOW PRICES!
Previous to his Annual Inventory!

Do not lose the opportunity of making selections now while the assortment is complete
Opposite Post Office

J. P. LAIRE & CO.

Agent for Crestings.

ICE SKATES—All Rivets.
Holiday Goods!
STOVES REDUCED.
Telephone Call No. 74.

COCKLE'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS,
THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY
For Liver Ills, Biliousness, Jaundice, Sick Headache, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Dizziness, Drowsiness, Cold Chills, Flushings of Heat, Loss of Appetite, Shortness of Breath, Costiveness, Blotches on the Skin, Disturbed Sleep, and all Nervous Affections. Coughs, colds, sore throats, rheumatism, neuralgia, gout, erysipelas, and kindred complaints, arising from a disordered liver, are speedily cured by the use of these Pills. They purify the blood, and restore the patient to the full enjoyment of health. Prepared only by THOMAS COCKLE, Ludgate Square, London. Sold by druggists everywhere. Price 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. per box. Sole agent for the United States, FRANK A. HALL, 34 New York.

PECK'S CORNER.

NEW STYLES OF DRESS TRIMMINGS HAVE BEEN ADDED TO PECK'S LARGE STOCK.

The Grand Christmas Opening AT EDSALL'S!

No. 20 West Front Street.

SATURDAY, NOV. 19,

Will be shown the nicest assortment of attractive Particles suitable for

HOLIDAY PRESENTS!

Ever offered in this part of the State, AND AT The Lowest Prices.

Y. M. C. A. SERIES OF FOUR CONCERTS
—BY—
THE NEW YORK PHILHARMONIC CLUB,
STILLMAN MUSIC HALL
First Concert, Tuesday, December 6, '87.
MISS JENNIE DUTTON, Soprano.
PROGRAMME
PART FIRST.
1. SEXTET—Serenade—Op. 3, D major ..... ARNOLD KRUG
2. ARIA—Casadina, Queen of Cyprus ..... DONIZETTI
3. PARAPHRASE—Last Rose of Summer ..... THOMPSON
PART SECOND.
1. QUARTET—Andante ..... A. BOHME
2. VIOLIN SOLO—Hungarian Dances ..... H. FRANKLIN
3. a. PRAYER ..... H. PALMER
b. NOCTURNE ..... J. STAINER
4. SONG—Closing Scene ..... J. STAINER
5. QUARTET—Last Rose of Summer ..... A. BOHME
TICKETS AT REYNOLDS' PHARMACY.
Course Tickets for the four Concerts, with Reserved Seat, those on sale $2.00
Tickets for single Concert, with Reserved Seat, on sale Dec. 3rd and 4th 1.00

Everything at NEW YORK PRICES!
Green's Furniture Warerooms
REPAIRING AND UPHOLSTERING IN ALL BRANCHES.
GOODS TAKEN ON STORAGE.

TO THE LADIES!
EXAMINE OUR
ALL-WOOL STRIPED WOVEN SKIRTS,
MADE AND UNMADE.
A FULL LINE OF LADIES', MISSES' and CHILDREN'S Newmarkets, Cloaks and Jackets,
AT POPE'S.
FRONT AND SOMERSET STS.

C. K. COMPTON,
Confectioner and Ice Cream Caterer,
Only the Best of Ice Cream and Ices Furnished for Weddings, Parties, Receptions.
TRY MY CREAM AND HOME-MADE BREAD
First-class stock. Hot in the afternoon at 5 o'clock. Please remember I manufacture my own Candy and use only the best of sugar and No. 1 flavoring matter and vegetable coloring materials. Goods promptly delivered.
C. K. COMPTON,
36 West Front Street. Near the Opera House

HALL'S
ELASTIC COTTON-LAP
MATTRESSES.
Best in a Horse-Hair Mattress, the most COMFORTABLE AND DURABLE
In the World, and at
LESS COST.
ALL MADE IN LAPS OR LAYERS.
WILL NOT MAT DOWN.
MANUFACTURED AT
THE HOWARD MILLS.
FRANK A. HALL,
SOLE AGENT.
34 New York.
ASK YOUR DEALER FOR THEM.

FREEHOLDERS PROCEEDINGS.

[OFFICIAL.]

ELIZABETH, N. J., Nov. 3, 1887

Regular meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union held on Thursday, November 3rd, 1887, at 2:30 o'clock p. m.

Present—Director Hubbard and Freeholders Doty, Debbie, Howard, Houston, Hicks, Kyte, Kleinhans, Littell, Noble, Person, Thompson, Vanderbeek, Wright, West.

Absent—Freeholders Carmody and Bell.

The minutes of last meeting consisting list of bills ordered paid were read and on motion approved.

RESOLUTIONS.

By Freeholder Howard:

Resolved, That the County Collector be authorized to pay to S. Schaeffer the sum of six hundred and ninety-nine dollars (699) dollars as per contract on the water's mills bridge when audited by committee.

Freeholder Debbie moved the adoption. On roll-call adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Howard:

Resolved, That the bill of A. F. Silleny, amounting to $2.50, for taking testimony road, be paid when completed and approved.

Freeholder Debbie moved the adoption. On roll-call adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder West:

Resolved, That the Director of this Board appoint a committee of three to investigate, in connection with the County Attorney, the matter concerning what fees or other payments, if any, may be charged by Commissioners of Deeds, Quarter Sessions, Special Justices, Notaries Public, etc., are entitled to receive from the county for their services, and report the proper regulations and procedure necessary to protect the interests of the county.

On motion of Freeholder Thompson adopted unanimously.

The Director appointed as such committee Freeholders West, Kyte and Noble.

Freeholder Debbie moved that when the Board adjourns it be to meet Nov. 17th, for the purpose of auditing Sheriff's bills.

Freeholder Noble moved as a substitute that the Board meet November 10th.

The amendment was carried by the following vote

Affirmative—Director Hubbard and Freeholders Howard, Houston, Hicks, Kyte, Kleinhans, Littell, Person, Thompson, Wright, West—12.

Negative—Freeholders Doty, Debbie, Kleinhans, Noble—4.

Absent—Freeholders Carmody and Bell—2.

The following bills, audited and approved, were read and ordered paid by a unanimous vote:

Stationery Account—John C. Rankin, Jr., $19.50; Wm. Hall, $10.00; Jos. Ott, $36.

Coroner's Account—William Brant, $5.

Election Account—E. M. Wood, ballot boxes, $900.30.

Jail Account—W. U. T.-l. Co. $4.60; A. N. Tenney, $6.05; D. L. W. O. Key, $9.85; W. Hall, $10.00; Jos. Ott, $36.00; Lount, 14.00; Hayes & Co., $5.20; 36; James Hickey, $ 42; Bendix Brothers, $4.25; O'Brien & Co., $1.50.

Committee Expenses Account—F. F. Hubbard, $10.00; A. Vanderbeek, $ 2.00; A. Vanderbeek, $ 2.00; S. P. Dickey, $ 2.00; John A. Hicks, 42.50; James F. Person, 11.50.

Court Account—John H. Dixon, $4.00; John A. Hicks, $ 2.00; Jos. Ott, $ 2.00; Rogers, $ 10.00; Jos. E. Rose, $ 10.00; 12.00; W. Hall, $ 10.00; Jos. Ott, $ 10.00; M. Beer, 50 cents; Jos. E. Rose, $ 6.00; William H. Wood, $ 2.50; Amos Hall, $ 2.00; Jos. Ott, $ 10.00; Jos. Ott, $ 10.00; 48; Henry J. Scott, $ 50; A. M. H. $ 50; 40; H. A. Tuttle, $ 2.00; Jos. Ott, $ 10.00; Jos. E. Rose, $ 10.00; Henry Mayer, $ 2.00; A. Vanderbeek, $ 2.00; Jos. Ott, $ 10.00; Edward Hall, $ 10.00; 8; Jos. E. Rose, $ 10.00; Jos. Ott, $ 10.00

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.
J. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY.
AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XX. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1887. No. 49.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its limitations as in its authorities."—Madison.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

O. J. JESSUP, M. D.,
Homœopathist,
Successor to the late Dr. Hall. Office, Front Room, near Police Station, Plainfield, N. J. Office Hours—7 to 9 A. M., 12 to 2, 5 to 7, and 10 to 11 P. M.

JACKSON & ELLINGTON,
Counsellors-at-Law,
Commissioners of Deeds, Masters in Chancery, Notaries Public, etc., etc., corner of Park avenue and Second street.—1987

GEORGE W. DAY,
General Auctioneer,
Sales of Personal Property solicited. P. O. Box 152 or 1 will attend to them at once. Residence, Plainfield, N. J.

DR. CHARLES H. TITSING,
Dentist,
20 West Front street. A new local anæsthetic administered, rendering extraction entirely pain free. Office hours—8 A. M. to 5 P. M.

H. HAND,
Auctioneer,
P. O. Address, Lock Box 1, Dunellen Station, N. J. Orders left at P. O. Box 1 or at residence will receive prompt attention. Sales in Plainfield, N. J., will receive personal attention.

OSCAR S. TEAGUE,
Architect,
61 Broadway, New York. Residence at 222 N. Second st. and 221 N. Fourth st., Plainfield. Hours: Plainfield, 1 to 2 P. M.; New York, 9 A. M. to 1 P. M.

WM. S. MCALPIN,
Attorney-at-Law,
MASTER IN CHANCERY, NOTARY PUBLIC.
Commissioner of Deeds. Office, North avenue, opposite Depot.

J. H. PRESTON,
Veterinary Surgeon,
Office at R. W. Stillman's Livery Stable, Front street. Residence, Somerset street, opposite Methodist Episcopal Church. Telephone connection with Livery Stable. Calls promptly attended to, day or night.

C. HEATH P. MILLER,
Attorney-at-Law,
Will practice in the State of N. Hampshire, Solicitor in Chancery in the State of New Jersey, and Counsellor at Law in the State of New York. Office, Plainfield, N. J.

P. A. DUNHAM,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor,
Will make surveys, construct working plans, and superintend the construction of water works, sewerage, and drainage systems. Residence, 12 East Fifth street, Plainfield.

DR. J. P. OSBORN,
Electric Baths.
Dr. Osborn has had a large experience in the use of Electricity and Medicated Vapor Baths, and has had the most flattering success in the treatment of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervousness, Sciatica, Lumbago, Paralysis, Kidney Troubles, Female Complaints, Blood Diseases, Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Piles, Colds, Fevers, Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption in its early stages, and all Chronic Diseases. Office hours—8 to 10 A. M., 2 to 4 and 7 to 8 P. M. Sundays, 9 to 10 A. M. Residence, 112 West Front street, Plainfield, N. J.

BUSINESS CARDS.

ROBERT JAHN,
TIN AND COPPER-SMITH,
Scotch Plains,
(Formerly N. T. Bonnell.) Pipe and Heater Work, Roofing, Spouting, and all kinds of Jobbing promptly attended to. The only Complete Assortment of Stoves, Ranges, Furnaces, Repairing promptly attended to.

TO THE PUBLIC!

We wish to inform our customers and the public generally that we have on hand the best quality of

LEHIGH COAL,

Fresh from the Mines.

It is under cover and well protected from the weather. We are prepared to deliver it well screened and in good order promptly. We are also prepared to furnish all kinds of Kindling Lumber and Mason Materials at short notice.

A. D. COOK & BRO.

J. Hervey Doane,
9 PARK AVENUE.
(Formerly Gaines')
Watches,
Clocks
And Jewelry.
Repairing neatly and promptly done and

WM. H. SHOTWELL.
DEALER IN GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
STABLES, DRIED FRUIT, ETC.
CORNER EMILY AND DUER STREETS
North Plainfield, New Jersey.
Celebrated Pillsbury Flour.
THE BEST IN THE MARKET.
ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED.
Orders for parties and hotels solicited. Satisfaction guaranteed.
Respectfully,
WILLIAM S. SHOTWELL.

BOSTON CLOTHING HOUSE.
42 W. FRONT ST.
Reliable Goods at Low Prices
Correct Styles. Right Prices.

Geo. A. Moore.
(Of the late firm of Moore Bros.)
Is now in sole possession of the old stand, and solicits a continuance of the liberal patronage of former years.
No. 16 NORTH AVENUE.
Where he will continue to supply customers with the finest groceries. Fresh salt meats, choice vegetables, canned goods, etc., etc. Also the finest maple sugar. Orders promptly sent to stock furnished at short notice.

Edward Ramonetti,
OYSTER AND ICE CREAM SALOON.
OYSTERS BY THE QUART, 100 OR 1000.
CHARLOTTE HOUSE BLOCK TO ORDER
All Orders Promptly Attended to.
24 NORTH AVENUE,
Plainfield, N. J. Telephone Call, No. 39

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

Force's Hotel!
NORTH AVENUE
Near R. R. Depot, Plainfield, New Jersey.
JAMES H. FORCE, - - Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY HOTEL.
Transient guests taken at reasonable rates.
Bottled Liquors a Specialty.

Laing's Hotel!
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
J. B. MILLER & BRO., - Proprietors.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.

James Conneely
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a first-class
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 32 PARK AVE.,
where he will be pleased to furnish his friends and patrons with the choicest brands of imported and domestic Liquors. 82tf

PURF EXCHANGE HOTEL.
73 Courtlandt street,
CORNER WASHINGTON, NEW YORK CITY
FRED. W. BALLARD, - - Proprietor.
Formerly of Dudley (Mass.) is now conducting the above well-known hotel, and solicits a share of New York patronage. By the late James Van Ness Ballard, deceased. Free Bus to and from the house. 1y

CHAS. KIE LINGER, LIQUORS AND CIGARS, 50tf

SOMERSET HOTEL,
(Late Somerset & Clair Sts., North Plainfield N. J.)
Permanent and Transient Board, at reasonable rates.
First-class Liquors and Meals at all hours.
Horses at all reasonable prices. 31ly

EDUCATIONAL.

MR. LEAL'S SCHOOL
WILL RE-OPEN
Monday, Sept. 19, 1887.

DODWORTH'S
Class for Dancing & Deportment
AT
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Will commence on
Wednesdays from 3:30 to 5:30 P. M.,
Commencing Oct. 26th, 1887.
THEO. J. DODWORTH.
October 7th, 1887.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST,
Residence—Harmony street, North Plainfield, fourth house from Somerset street, left hand side of street. Nativity is given as follows: present and future events in life, likewise marriages, journeys, law suits, etc. Information examined who contemplate

Plainfield District Telegraph and Fire Alarm Co.
Prompt Messenger Service Furnished.
Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph Co.
LOW RATES. QUICK SERVICE. MONEY TRANSFERRED BY TELEGRAPH. COMMUTATION STAMPS FOR SALE.
OFFICE—4 PARK AVENUE.
W. S. SLITER, Manager.

C. E. JOHNSON,
(Late Firm of Shepherd, Johnson & Gribbon)
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
Has adjoining City Hotel on Second street for Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey, several new, 1, 2 and 3 storied offices; Jobbing especially solicited.

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
ALBEMARLE, Somerset County, N. J.
Goods received on consignment.

MRS. E. J. MARTIN'S
MAGIC RENOVATING FLUID.
For taking out grease from any kind of goods, with all cleansing the same, and restoring the original color of the goods. Also, Mrs. E. J. Martin's Green-making Powder, for Dyeing Green. Sold by Mrs. E. J. Martin, No. 5 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Agents wanted. 1y

JOHN JOHNSTON,
DEALER IN
COAL!
CARD AND OFFICE, SOUTH AVENUE, NETHERWOOD NEW JERSEY.
The best quality of screened coal at the lowest market rates for cash. Satisfaction guaranteed. Orders left at the office will receive prompt attention.

Park Avenue Bakery!
JOHN WALKER, Prop'r
FAMILIES and the trade supplied with the choicest
VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS,
Also all Varieties of
Pies, Cake and Confectionery.

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE
THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS.
BEST IN THE WORLD.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE

MICHAEL UHDAL
CONTRACTOR
AND LANDSCAPE GARDENER
Residence:
NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY
P. O. BOX 787, PLAINFIELD.
P. O. Box 8, Netherwood, N. J.

HEADQUARTERS
for
Boots, Shoes and Rubbers
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION. OUR STOCK
IS COMPLETE, AND OUR
Prices the Lowest!
Doane & Van Arsdale
(NEXT TO EDGALL'S.)
22 WEST FRONT STREET.

SANITARY PLUMBING,
Brick and Portable Furnaces,
GAS FITTING,
TIN ROOFING,
Etc. Etc.
I am prepared to do any of the above branches in a perfect first-class sanitary and workmanship manner.
Having associated myself with the Messrs. Sherwood, of No. 20 West Front street, I am now more fully prepared to execute orders promptly and in the best manner. Call and see me at my shop, 5 North Ave., and in all cases of
D. W. LITTELL,
No. 5 NORTH AVE. opposite Plainfield, N. J.

MISCELLANEOUS.

P. P. VanArsdale,
PIANO TUNER.
Instructions given on Piano, Organ and Parlor Instruments. Pianos and Organs for sale and to let. Orders by postal, P. O. Box 186 or left at Wilcox's Music Store, No. 8 Park avenue will receive prompt attention. Residence, 21 East Front street, corner Elm street.—ply197

A. TITSWORTH,
Merchant Tailor,
Has removed his place of business to
No. 26 North ave.,
(Room formerly occupied by Atwater Mclver), and is prepared to furnish patrons with GENTLEMEN'S GARMENTS
—IN THE—
LATEST STYLES AND SHORTEST TIME.
Orders by mail promptly attended to.

JOHN CHANDLER,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Residence and Shop No. 26 East 3d St.
Jobbing promptly attended to. 1049

Alex. Willett,
DEALER IN
BOOTS & SHOES,
No. 8 PARK AVENUE.
A full assortment of fashionable goods direct from manufacturers at LOW PRICES. 50ctf

G. W. FORCE,
11 West Front street.
OPENING OF FALL AND WINTER STOCK
Boots and Shoes at Low Prices
A FINE GRADE OF GOODS TO SELECT FROM
In English, German and French.

G. W. FORCE.
1ao19

J. T. ODAM,
PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL
Slate Roofer and Repairer.
Residence, Corner Fourth and Sycamore Streets
Yard near Freight House, P. O. Box 1105, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Slate Work Warranted for one year. Slating done on short notice. Also, Tin and Gravel Roofing. may29-tf

Steam Marble
Granite Works.
AND
Monuments & Headstones.
Fencing for Cemetery Plots,
Large assortment of Slate Mantels.
A large variety of Granite Monuments on hand.
All work executed in the most skillful manner and at very reasonable prices. An orders promptly executed and left with the undersigned will receive prompt attention.
JOHN SCHENCK,
Plainfield, N. J.
P. O. Box 1051.—ap9y1

STEAM HEATING
FOR CHURCHES, SCHOOLS, and DWELLINGS
BY
J. N. SCHENCK,
Plainfield, N. J.
P. O. Box 1051.—ap9y1

JAMES K. ARNOLD,
GROCER,
Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts., North Plainfield.

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.,
TO HIRE. CHARGES REASONABLE.
Hugo Weigman,
9 EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
mch26tf

LUTKINS & HUMMER,
Dealers in
Butter, Eggs & Produce.
Meats of all Kinds.
CHOICE and VEGETABLES IN THEIR SEASON
No. 10 PARK AVENUE, Plainfield, New Jersey.
Goods delivered to any part of the city.
L. S. HUMMER.
A. LUTKINS. 39tf1y

CAREY'S
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE, NO. 13 WEST FRONT STREET.
Yearly opposite Libby's Hotel, Plainfield, N. J.
Having leased the above premises I am prepared to haul and sell second-hand Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, etc., and will also use Furniture for a consignee for sale. Furniture, etc., stored. P. O. Box 494.—ap7y1

DOOR NUMBERS.
DOOR BELLS.
DOOR PLATES.
AT
DICKINSON & CLAWSON'S,
13 PARK AVENUE.
Sole Agents for

Dr. King's Spectacles.
jy141

CHRISTMAS CARDS
AND NOVELTIES!
A Full Line at Low Prices!
A. W. RAND,
24 W. FRONT ST.

ALEX. THORN
(Late of Barry & Thorn,
CAN BE FOUND AT 17 SOMERSET STREET.
WITH A FULL LINE OF FURNACES, RANGES,
STOVES,
TINWARE, Etc.
Repairing in His Line Promptly Attended To. 47tf

MISCELLANEOUS.

Paints, Varnishes, Glass.
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALL PAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.
4y22

Weaver Bros.
House & Sign Painting, Graining,
Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a specialty.
Office and Shop in the rear of
126 EAST FRONT STREET,
D. WEAVER. P. O. Box 98. P. WEAVER.

W. N. ROWE,
PAINTER AND DECORATOR,
Dealer in Paints, Oil, Varnishes, Glass, Brushes, etc. Wall Paper and Window Shades. Paper Hanging and Kalsomining guaranteed. No. 15 E. FRONT STREET, Plainfield, and stand, Plainfield, N. J. P. O. Box 1209 —ap8y1

L. B. WOOLSTON. A. F. BUCKLE
Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS.
Wall Papers,
PAINTER'S SUPPLIES. 28 NORTH AVENUE
4y1tf

MILLINERY.

Mrs. J. M. Dunn,
FASHIONABLE MILLINER,
LATEST SHAPES OF
BONNETS AND HATS.
FRENCH IMPORTED FLOWERS.
Feathers, Velvets, Plushes, Satines, Laces, etc. Also, Fancy Goods and Notions. Dress and Infants' Caps a Specialty.

PINKING, BLEACHING & PRESSING.
Feathers Dyed, Cleaned and Curled AT SHORT NOTICE.
14 West Front street.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana.
SMOKERS' ARTICLES A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Tobacco always on hand.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety.
1y

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in Stoves & Ranges,
—No. 8 & 10 Park Avenue.—
—28 PARK AVE. (RESTAURANT SECOND ST.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smokers' Materials, of every description.
The celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, and other popular brands of cigarettes for sale.

--PICTURE FRAMES--
OF ALL KINDS, AT
S. E. FLOWER'S.
At New York Prices, Studio 28 West Front street, Plainfield. Satisfaction guaranteed. Orders solicited for drawing and oil painting. 44tf1y

N. E. SMALLEY. N. E. SMALLEY
Smalley Bros.,
DEALERS IN
Fresh and Salt Meats, Poultry, Etc.
SOMERSET STREET, NO. 7 & 9 PLAINFIELD.
Orders called for and delivered. A share of the public patronage is solicited.—1y

Benj F. Moore,
(Late of Moore Bros.)
BUTCHER,
and dealer in FRESH AND SALT MEATS POULTRY, etc., corner Park avenue and Second street will be open and ready for business WEDNESDAY, MARCH 30th. Orders left at the store will be promptly delivered. Telephone Call 113.—mh26tf

MAYNARD & HILL
PRACTICAL BARBERS
AND
Artistic Hair Dressers,
No. 26 PARK AVENUE.
Ladies' and Children's Hair Dressing, Shampooing, &c., a specialty performed. 47tf

HEADQUARTERS
FOR AMERICAN WATCHES,
DIAMONDS and FINE JEWELRY.
GOLD, ENGLISH AND AMERICAN SPECTACLES, SILVER AND GOLD HEADED CANES, SILVERWARE, &c.
Repairing a specialty.
WALTHAM, ELGIN, HOWARD, COLUMBUS & LANCASTER WATCHES OF EVERY STYLE AND PRICE.

CHESTER Watches, $5.00
WATERBURY Watches, $2.50.
WM. H. EINHAUS,
45 NASSAU ST., NEW YORK.
ajan87

Carney Bros.,
PRACTICAL
Plumbers, Tinners & Gas Fitters.
Heaters, Ranges and Stoves.
Dealers in all kinds of Stoves, Furnaces and Ranges. Agents for all kinds of Stoves, Furnaces and Ranges put in order and warranted. Satisfaction guaranteed in all first-class workmen. Don't forget the place, 15 Somerset st., it will save expense later on.

The Economic Gas Engine.
This little Gas Engine may be made useful in operation in our village pumping 300 gallons of water per hour at the small cost of two cents per hour. Number of present residences in town limits of Plainfield is 1,500 and to every case we have to offer a first-class workman. Don't fail to have us explain it to you, as it will save expense later on.

Westfield Horse Market.
ESTABLISHED 1866.
Front street, opposite Madison avenue.
Coaching for Weddings, Parties and Private Calls. Light carriages of all descriptions for sale.
RIDING OR LIVERY.
Careful, safe drivers for shopping calls or excursions. Special attention given to boarding horses by the day, week or month. Orders promptly attended to.
TELEPHONE CALL, NO. 32.

IRVING & CO.,
DEALERS IN
Carriage Teams, Road, Draft, Speed, Saddle and General Business Horses. All horses guaranteed as represented.
Central avenue,
Near Depot, Westfield, N. J.
ajan86

Our Sanitary Plumbing
Department is, as it ALWAYS has been, under new direction, and our work in this branch is in good hands to-day, and we guarantee to do it right. While we supply most workmen we are more than pleased to do our own plumbing, and have secured of a good job at a very reasonable price.

We Guarantee Our Work.
We are under many obligations to our numerous patrons of the past for their work and their recommendations, and we ask a call from them and friends, and we will endeavor to merit a continuance of favors. Shop and residence telephone connection. Store opening by fixing your kitchen stove.

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPPLIES

THE WOODCHUCK HOLE.

How come one thumpus of baptised's pushing life.
And of the weary fightin'her piano and pelf,
Comes in sharp contrast to the stolid strife,
Mid screws, and nails, and hammers, and saws,
Who is there in the city—country bred—
Though delving in his calling like a slide,
Who never, at some time, has not dreamed
And
Of one thing—and sees the woodchuck hole?

It matters not what life the notor leads,
What record in the hard world he has made,
If there the scales of justice may be pleads,
Or daily struggles in the courts of trade;
It matters not his professor and what pain
Have come to him, what has been fortune's
The dream of youth is clear, and once again
He sees the meadow and the summer happiness

He notes where most the clover-blossoms
Where narrow trails are here and there re-
He notes the hills all the little byways trend
In one, to reach the border of the field;
And on the hillside, where the bowlers grow,
He sees the grass-filled's home, the young

The entrance dark, the cool-brown clay below,
A picture pleasant to the woodchuck hole.

He catches no inner perfumes, as of yore,
His pulse beats faster with a youthful joy,
He hears the chirr of the cricket once more,
He sees the eager dog and eager boy;
He feels the thrill once more, the merry rustle
Nor wealth nor honor to the jaded soul
Brings keen delights such as the woodchuck
Held for the boy who scouts the woodchuck —Sydney Wolfinden, in Chicago Tribune.

THE "DEACON'S BOY."

How He Came to Him as One of the Lord's Poor.

Deacon Thomas and his good wife sat at the table to the noon meal. "Good for "good roast" of the old gray farm-horses, which had sheltered three generations of the Thomas family, and served good service, the deacon often declared, for three generations.

Ah, that was it. That was one reason why the worthy couple used the "dear, from" as common, to the end of the world of all the neighbors, though, to be sure, good Mrs. Thomas thought more of their health and comfort than of fading her parlor carpet.

What did afford them most was the fact that no children had blessed their union of over forty years, and the tenderness must take into other hands when they were done with it.

"Not that I will make much odds to me when we're dead," said the old man, with a sigh, "and I'd like to know that I'd been kinder in the family. What d'ye say to having a child, Jerusha, or a child's poor, to kinder be a son to us, and have him to live here when we're gone?"

"If we could be sure we'd find the right kind, Abram. Some of 'em is ungrateful, I've heard tell."

The sentence was interrupted by a timid knock at the front door.

"Who can it be at this time of the night?" ejaculated the good woman, as she hastily opened it.

There, in the rain and cold of the spring air, was a thinly-clad boy, who looked not more than ten years, although his pinched face had an old look.

"What do you want, my boy?" asked the deacon, kindly.

"Nothing, please, sir, only to get warm. I saw the light—I've been traveling all day. I was cold and hungry, and—"

"Hungry, I shouldn't wonder. Bless my soul, you shan't stay that long," and the kind-hearted wife drew the boy tenderly in the village by the teams which came to town by the lower bridge.

When Frank and the deacon reached the house, Aunt Betsey was still sleeping, and knew nothing of the death which had threatened her husband, and which had been averted by the brave, prompt action of the boy to whom they had given the only real home which he'd ever known.

"Why, Frank, you've been asleep and dreamed," he said, when Aunt Betsey awoke. "I'm little, but I was thirteen last January."

"Then! Where's your home?"

"I ain't got no home. Never if there was I'd run off, for me and my sheep," and the thin lips quivered as he gazed into the glowing bed of coals under the great fire, log, and bravely winked back the tears which had here and there welled up.

"No room! Abram, we have room, and nobody to fill it. Perhaps the good Lord sent him to us! Anyhow, I'll be bound, as she passed a moment by her husband's chair, "there shall be room."

"Come, now, and eat a bite. Here, there's nothing so warming as good hot tea. Eat all you want, my boy. Aleck! Don't it do you good to see him? Poor boy!"

"What's your name?"

"Frank Neal."

"How old are you?"

"Thirteen."

"Humph. Thought you were about ten."

"I'm little, but I was thirteen last January."

"Then! Where's your home?"

"I ain't got no home. Never if there was I'd run off, for me and my sheep," and the thin lips quivered as he gazed into the glowing bed of coals under the great fire, log, and bravely winked back the tears which had here and there welled up.

"No room! Abram, we have room, and nobody to fill it. Perhaps the good Lord sent him to us! Anyhow, I'll be bound,"

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE, } Editors and Proprietors. } A. L. FORCE,

THE RESULT.

The annual municipal election is over. It passed as quietly as the day of sunshine during which it was held. There was much cutting of tickets, personal reasons and personal matters of principle, but the will of the people—it is natural to suppose—is accomplished. Everyone voted to suit himself, and the patient box registered the ballots, to suit itself. The struggle was only between the Republican and Democratic parties of the city—for although the anti-license disciples might carry out their principles so far as to use their individual suffrage as concerned, yet the third-party placed no ticket of its own in the field.

Elsewhere we publish a complete canvass of the vote in a tabulated form easily understood. We also give a comparison of the total vote by wards for the past seven years.

The Council for the coming year, will consist of Francis E. Marsh, R.

Marvin M. Dunham, R.
Isaac J. Carey, R.,
Samuel P. T. Wilbur, R.
William Taylor, R.
G. Warren Watson, R.
Elmore D. Moffett, D.
Wilton Randolph, D.
John D. Dumont, R.
Eric N. Erickson, R.
Henry C. Squires, R.

The Board of Education will consist of Jacob Kirkner, R.

John W. Murray, R.
Rev. Jessie L. Hurlbut, R.
Louis F. Wadsworth, D.
George H. Babcock, R.

DEMOCRACY.

The principles of government continuously advocated by the Democratic party in this country for over a hundred years constitute the vitality of civil and religious liberty.

Those principles have been assailed, at times bitterly, by opposing political parties, but so far they have survived conflict, and today stand representative of the honor of the American Union and the safety and prosperity of its respective States and people.

That is the recorded truth, not partisan assertion.

Had not the governing principles of Jefferson won triumph over the aristocratic ideas and designs of Hamilton and his Federal confreres when representative institutions were in their infancy, and had not those principles been consequently maintained by the Democracy, the party founded by Jefferson himself, through trial and through evil report, from that day to this, our great American Republic, even if it had preserved the name, would now be devoid of the essentials of freedom and equity.

Democrats!

The glory of the Republic and the honor of the Democratic party are linked together.

Let the pledge increased efforts to strengthen and advance them both.

The strategy of the enemy is to raise false issues and endeavor to sow dissensions in your ranks.

Beware of him!

Rally with unity of purpose, and shirking out of sight every personal consideration, for the sake of the principles of Democracy the aim of Democratic effort.

Congress convened on Monday last, and Mr. Carlisle was chosen Speaker of the House. The President sent his Message to both Houses on Tuesday. It is a remarkably concise and interesting document. In it the President advocates genuine tariff reform. He says that the national finances imperatively demand attention before any other subject is considered by Congress. The surplus in the Treasury at the end of the fiscal year will be $140,000,000. To hoard this money will create financial distress and ruin. There is no legitimate method of releasing it to the channels of business. Therefore the taxes should be reduced. And the taxes to go first are those that bear heaviest upon the greatest number of people—namely, the tariff taxes upon the necessaries of the people and the essentials of manufactures.

THE SECRET OF THE RECOUNT.

ELIZABETH, Dec. 3.—Many of those who should know, assert that the spur of the inner-brotherhood of Union County politics, told that the recount that has been ordered was not applied for with any expectation of effecting a result in the County's Collectorship. The better posted of both parties agree that Crowell is certainly elected, and the Democrat claim that his plurality is over 200. The recount—at least twelve being added because of six votes belonging to Crowell in Springfield that were credited through carelessness to Oliver.

One reason for the expenditure of $150 by the Republican candidate for a recount, is said to be this: A fat couple of the only peculiar ticket adopted by the Democrats of Elizabeth, was got up during the night before election, on which were the two first list of Democratic City nominees but which also contained the names of the Republican candidates for the County offices. A certain "workey" was to receive a certain price for "influencing" a certain number of these ballots, at the poll of the first district of the third ward. The tearing of the ballots, however, was discovered early in the day and the plans and expectations of this worker, it is said, did not connect. He demands his pay just the same, claiming that the bargain on his part was fulfilled. So here is where the milk in the coconut is accounted for. The opening of the ballot-box of the first district of the third ward of Elizabeth, and a recount of its contents, can alone decide the falsity or justice of the claim for Democratic votes delivered to the other side for its County candidates. Mr. Oliver's friends state that only six of such ballots were found in that box on election night.

Reporters.

It is not a matter for surprise that the educated and trained members of the reportorial profession are considering what shall be done to protect it from the intrusion of the ignorant, the uncultured and, one has almost said, the disreputable. The time was when the office of a reporter was the credential of a gentleman. Sometimes it is so now, and it will always. There are reporters—many of them—who are welcome wherever business calls them, for they are gentlemen, cultured and considerate. They are the social equals of all, and the intellectual superiors of many with whom their business brings them in contact.—Ex.

THE CITY'S VOTE.

	1st WARD	2d WARD	3d WARD	4th WARD	Total.	Maj.
COUNCILMEN-AT-LARGE.
J. B. Dumont, R.	194	192	161	210	757
E. N. Erickson, R.	194	192	137	224	823
H. C. Squires, R.	162	215	188	203	768
J. S. Burnett, D.	173	109	69	257	608
L. M. Stover, D.	148	94	74	259	575
W. L. Mansfield, D.	226	96	54	286	651
COLLECTOR.
John Johnson, R.	222	233	200	220	845
ASSESSOR.
J. A. Hubbard, R.	216	233	201	228	878
TREASURER.
A. Titsworth, R.	216	233	201	226	876
SCHOOL TRUSTEE.
G. H. Babcock, R.	194	213	175	200	782	138
S. Harper, D.	136	134	71	274	654
FREEHOLDERS.
J. F. Hubbard, R.	210	228	201	218	857
A. Vanderbeek, R.	207	226	192	225	850
James Clark, D.	182	100	50	248	580
S. Plaig, D.	184	95	48	249	576
JUDGE OF COMMISSION OF APPEAL.
R. MacDonald, R.	205	225	196	224	850
M. Vermeule, R.	211	226	195	224	856
J. Manning, D.	182	101	51	247	581
J. G. Gummere, D.	181	100	50	245	576
INCREASE OF SCHOOL TAX.
For	262	238	175	132	827	559
Against	62	45	42	119	268
Republican Tickets	210	226	198	221	855	267
Democratic Tickets	184	104	49	224	588
" 1886	304	330	267	472	1443
" 1885	300	255	269	451	1375
" 1884	309	309	261	444	1323
" 1883	363	310	293	475	1441
" 1882	362	292	295	475	1374
" 1881	336	293	293	475	1304
	291	249	242	405	1187

FIRST WARD.

	Maj.
COUNCILMAN.
T. W. Watson, D.	20
J. F. MacDonald, R.	18
JUSTICE OF PEACE.
D. L. Allen, R.	20
L. Pierson, R.	20
S. Plaig, D.	18
CONSTABLE.
John W. Murray, R.	20
Rev. Jessie L. Hurlbut, R.	17
Louis F. Wadsworth, D.
George H. Babcock, R.

SECOND WARD.

		Maj.
COUNCILMAN.
W. Randolph, D.	164
C. B. Corwin, R.	161
JUSTICE OF PEACE.
C. Jones, R.	226	128
H. Ward, D.	98
CONSTABLE.
W. R. Mattox, R.	226	131
W. Callahan, D.	95
JUDGE OF ELECTION.
F. A. Dunham, R.	225	128
C. S. A. Davis, D.	99
INSPECTOR.
J. H. Doane, R.	222
R. Merritt, D.	101
CLERK.
H. A. Thorne, R.	213	109
J. Mortimer, D.	110

THIRD WARD.

		Maj.
COUNCILMAN.
F. E. Marsh, R.	197	122
R. B. Channing, D.	75
JUSTICE OF PEACE.
J. O. Nodyne, R.	196
T. J. Lyness, R.	194
L. C. Kline, D.	49
CONSTABLE.
A. Moffett, R.	193	142
H. McDonnell, D.	51
JUDGE OF ELECTION.
T. O. Dean, R.	195	147
S. Milligan, D.	48
INSPECTOR.
M. V. Thorn, R.	194
A. Saltman, D.	50
CLERK.
O. B. Leonard, R.	198	150
W. Rankin, D.	48

FOURTH WARD.

		Maj.
COUNCILMAN.
E. D. Moffett, D.	253	134
W. Adlis, R.	119
JUSTICE OF PEACE.
L. Hetfield, D.	248
A. Q. Fine, D.	257
T. J. Gillies, R.	220	7
H. W. Force, R.	215
CONSTABLE.
J. M. Compton, D.	250
P. J. Flanagan, D.	210
JUDGE OF ELECTION.
V. L. Fratzee, D.	252	33
S. C. Ryder, R.	219
INSPECTOR.
J. B. Martin, R.	216
P. Flynn, Jr., D.	253
CLERK.
J. P. Clancy, D.	222
A. Angleman, R.	246	24

THE COURT CLOSES WITHOUT TRYING THE OTHERS INDICTED.

ELIZABETH, Dec. 3.—In spite of ex-Prosecutor Fay's urgent demand this morning for the trial of the charge against Ezra Carmon, of the accounts against the Union County Bank, the case was allowed to go over to the next term of Court. The case against the Hon. Miles R. Ris for election "evasions" when he was last defeated, was also not settled outside of the box. This check to the plaintiff, and the Court then discharged the petit jurors for the term, with its thanks.

In cleaning up the docket the Prosecutor stated that the only unsettled matter was the indictment of Carmon for the firing of the Vanderveer barn on Second street, Plainfield, on the evening of Nov. 21, 1885. Mr. Wilson said that the State was not ready to try the case this term, and then it was utterly impossible to attend to with it. Gen'l Fay, counsel for the accused, then stated he had a request to make. He read the indictment, and spoke of how long the defendant had already been imprisoned awaiting trial. "I found this man," he continued, "had been incarcerated without a hearing, and was lying in jail without counsel. From representations made to me of the state of the case, I volunteered to appear here in his behalf. At the time of the fire, the accused was in Round Brook, twelve miles away. At the time it was publicly believed and so published, that the fire was inflicted from the overturning of a lantern by some boys in the barn. I have interviewed a number of witnesses—of whom I have a number here—that can testify Carmon was in Round Brook at the time. Mr. King is here, by whom the accused was employed and engaged in carting during the afternoon of the fire. There are also a number of ladies who can testify that he was helping them arrange for a fair at Round Brook that evening. In view of all these circumstances I ask that he be either tried or discharged on his own recognizance. He has already been imprisoned for two months and it would be unfair to keep him so for two months more when he stands ready for a trial when the State declares. I will admit the burning of the barn by fire, but not by incendiary means or that by the accused."

CITY DEPARTMENT.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION.

J. A. DEMAREST, - City Editor.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS.
CLOSE—7.30 and 9.30 A. M., 2.30 and 6.30 P. M.
ARRIVE—8.30 A. M., 12.30 and 4.30 P. M.

SOMERVILLE, EASTON, &c., MAILS.
CLOSE—7.30 A. M. and 4.30 P. M.
ARRIVE—8.30 A. M. and 6.30 P. M.

SUNDAY MAILS—ARRIVE at 8.30 A. M. Office open from 8.30 A. M. to 10.30 A. M. Mail closed at 7.30 A. M. for Matteawan (closes Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday) at 12 M.

Post Office opened 7 A. M. and closed at 7 P. M. Saturdays, closed at 8 P. M. Open every evening until 9 P. M., for inquiries or box business. Money order office open from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M. Saturdays to 10 P. M. W. L. FARLEY, Postmaster.

There is no finish of the political complexion of this city.

The total amount of taxes collected thus far on this year's levy, is almost $18,000.

On Friday evening of this week the Borough Council will "trade" with the electric light problem.

On Sunday next the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered in the First Presbyterian church.

Compton, the Front street confectioner, manufactures everything on the premises and uses only the best sugar and flavoring. Bear this in mind when you purchase your Christmas candies, &c.

Next Sunday evening in the Congregational Church, Mr. C. W. Leidich will give an exhibition of the "Wonders of the Kinetoscope." It will be illustrated with photographs through the stereopticon. Admission, 10 cents.

The Edgewood Reform Club, quite a strong organization in that place, and the means of much good to the community, has passed its property in the hands of the Borough Council and will hereafter be used for public purposes. This improvement is to be regretted.

The Art Gallery will be closed all of this week while the arrangements are making for the grand loan exhibition which opens in the Library Building on Wednesday evening, Dec. 14th, and continues for a week. Mr. Ed. Schenck will deliver a lecture on the opening night, which will be illustrated with views of Germany and Japanese art.

Rev. Mr. Ward will begin next week work by the ladies of the M. E. church. It will contemplate making Christmas presents—so will that "three a.m. social" of the Methodist Sunday-school, and, of course, Mr. Ed. Schenck's lecture

COMING INTO PORT.

There's contentment in the face of every cup of coffee
Where the wife-to-be is pouring out its brew.
I have observed by the roots that gurgle to form
The shadowy chat they follow
I have joyed in the tangle of the whistling sea,
And the wild wind-song across the path;
As my brave barque careened and leaped, aloof,
To the strain of the sea-shanty
Then the masterful spirit was on me,
And with nerves I wrestled glad,
And danger was the sweetest bride
And there was a storm that blew me
And the sea was the wine and the
And hope was a potion strong on
It can to play with me so.

Oh, the golden days, the glorious days
That so shrank of life we spend!
Oh, the dreamy days with the silent stars
Reach the skies by no moon rent!
Oh, the quiet, light hours and the strong hours
And the days that are filled with song!
When joy I owed with joy, and bounty begat
And gentle kind deeds begat kind
That we one were would we or before we then,
And never our spirits knew
And we never looked back, but onward, onward
Into the heaven we sailed,
Ever before us the fair horizon
Whose old and always new Alone dropped over earth from Heaven,
Like hope from life to close.

Now my voyage is well-nigh over,
And my stalwart crew are gone;
And my hair is white and my body bent
Even sooner and sooner on.
The fair haven I see at last, in the distance shoals
With its calm isles and sward,
And I strain in the silent haste of peace
To my parted friends I yearn.
To my own with a wondrous love,
And a wider welcome to learn,
And the crowning rest of the voyage,
And the sailing done at last,
And the unknown port I shall enter
With my sails all furled, and my anchor dropped.
And my voyage over, and ended.

—Boston Post.

Blackwood's Magazine

ARTIFICIAL SLEEP.

An Englishman Relates His Experience with Chloroform.

Some four years ago I suffered considerable trouble in my mouth, due to the use of Jem-o'-tooth. I had bought some railway shaved at a very low price; my housekeeper told me that I was only an to look at in the stuff and sit down upon it; all I had to do was to go to her and I should be hurry to take my profits." I followed his advice, but my stock went lower and lower, and, as I was a dear lover, I began to get quite in my self in straits. During the day it didn't trouble me much; but all night long I used to lie and think about my losses. As things got worse, my sleeplessness increased. Of course, I know it couldn't actually hurt me, but it seemed to me that I hadn't slept at all for a fortnight, and that I had an addition to my troubles in a smart attack of facial ache. So I went to my dentist, who looked into my mouth and said, "There's nothing I can do for you; but I can relieve the pain at once, and give you a few comfortable hours' rest, at all events." I jumped at the suggestion, as if you were not a personal friend of mine," the dentist went on to say, "I shouldn't do this; it's terribly unscientific. He took a bottle, and with a small glass inserted successively an aperture in the dose. "There are thirty drops of pure chloroform here," he said, "when you go to bed, pour the whole upon the centre of a folded handkerchief, lie upon your side on the edge of your bed, and hold the cloth to the drug carefully keeping your mouth closed. Stuff about it, and you will soon be in a state of sahs the pain will disappear, and you will sleep like a top."

Now I longed for night. When it arrived I jumped into bed, thirsting for sleep, and carefully carried out my instructions. Having lowered the gas, I took the folded handkerchief, emptied the contents of the little bottle upon it, lay down on my side, placed the edge of the pillow, closed my eyes and mouth, and held the cloth to my nose. Gradually, yet rapidly, a feeling of drowsiness crept upon me. First I seemed to be looking upon a black and inky darkness; then the darkness seemed softly illuminated by innumerable points of pearl-like stars. Presently the light of these stars became more intense, and I noticed that they were arranged in innumerable parallel rows. It gave me a strange pleasure to gaze upon them. For the pain, if it had not disappeared, the stars seemed to grow brighter and more distant in size. The rows of them they all began to revolve at the same instant. I gazed at them thus, as any echo, was the sensation with a soft and pleasant astonishment and curiosity. As I gazed, there appeared, with more regularity than I heard a pulling noise, which increased in rapidity, and resolved itself into a sound made by a distant engine leaving a station, and then sank into a deep, tranquil, dreamless rest. I awoke at half past 7 o'clock in the morning. I woke greatly refreshed and the pain in my face had gone. The chloroform's rest had done me an immense amount of good. My mind no longer dwelt painfully upon my misfortunes. Indeed, I could face the share list with composure. Once more I was a comparatively happy man, and I went on with my ordinary avocations in a half-content state.

But again that night sleep avoided me. I pounded one thousand, I repeated the multiplication table backward and forward, but in my mind's eye an innumerable succession of sheep jumping over a hurdle. I tried to recall the Lord's Prayer, but I could get no further than the first sentence. Then I remembered that I had a bottle of chloroform, and I went down-stairs and got it. I poured a few drops upon my handkerchief, and then, as I was all well enough, the habit of taking it was beginning to grow upon me. I was in the habit of taking it to send me out of the room.

I indignantly marched to the nearest chemist's and asked for an ounce of chloroform. He said that he could not sell me more than a dram at a time.

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY,
AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XX. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 16, 1887. No. 50.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its limitations as in its authorities."—MADISON.

Rates of Advertising.

	1 Week	2 Weeks	3 Weeks	1 Month	2 Months	3 Months	6 Months	1 Year
1 in.	$1.00	$1.50	$2.00	$3.00	$5.00	$7.00	$10.00	$15.00
2 in.	2.00	3.00	4.00	5.00	8.00	12.00	18.00	25.00
3 in.	3.00	4.50	6.00	8.00	12.00	16.00	25.00	35.00
4 in.	4.00	6.00	8.00	10.00	15.00	20.00	30.00	45.00
5 in.	5.00	7.50	10.00	12.00	18.00	25.00	35.00	50.00
6 in.	6.00	9.00	12.00	15.00	22.00	30.00	45.00	60.00
7 in.	7.00	10.50	14.00	18.00	25.00	35.00	50.00	70.00
8 in.	8.00	12.00	16.00	20.00	30.00	40.00	60.00	80.00

All Electro's must be solid metal.
"Acts of Everything" column, 5 cts. per line.
Double rate, 50 per ct. advance of above rates.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

O. L. JENKINS, M. D.,
Homœopathist,
successor to Dr. Seaman on Front street, near Peace, Plainfield, N. J. Office Hours—9 to 9. 1 to 2 p. m. 7 to 8 p. m. 1m-12-17.

J. ACKSON & CODDINGTON,
Counsellors-at-Law,
Commissioners of deeds, Masters-in-Chancery, Notaries Public. Offices corner of Park avenue and Second street, Plainfield.

GEORGE W. DAY,
General Auctioneer,
Sales of Personal Property attended to. P. O. Box 119 Dunellen, N. J., or address the party on Coe Place, Plainfield, N. J. Orders solicited.

DR. CHARLES H. THEIS,
Dentist,
20 West Front street. A new local anæsthetic applied to the gums renders teeth without pain. Gold fillings a specialty.—jy17

H. HAND,
Auctioneer,
P. O. Address, Lock Box 1, South Plainfield, N. J. Orders left at J. Hand's second-hand store, 40 West Front street, Plainfield, N. J., will receive prompt attention.—m8m

OSCAR S. TEALE,
Architect,
347 Broadway, New York city. Rooms 19 and 20. (Longfellow and Trader Bank Building.) Rent department a specialty.—jy30

WM. R. McCLURE,
Attorney-at-Law,
MASTER IN CHANCERY, NOTARY PUBLIC.
Commissioner of Deeds. Office, North avenue opposite depot.—jy17

J. H. FENSTER,
Veterinary Surgeon,
Office in A. W. Rogers's livery office, corner Main street and Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Day and night calls promptly attended. Telephone call No. 31. Residence, Somerville, N. J. All diseases of domestic animals. Residence, 72 East Pitts street.—jy15

ARTHUR P. MILLER,
Attorney-at-Law,
(Successor to the late W. H. Maxson), Solicitor in Chancery, Notary Public, etc. Will buy and sell real estate, loan money, rent and take charge of property. Office—Over National Bank.—jy29

F. A. DUNBAR,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor,
No. 2 Park avenue, Cossum's building. Particular attention given to the adjustment of disputed boundary lines. Further card to all parts of the county.

DR. J. F. GRIFFEN,
Electric Baths,
Dr. Griffen treats all Nervous affections, Electric Consumption, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sleeplessness, Dyspepsia and Chronic Diseases successfully by Galvanic and Medicated Baths. Office, Iron Free, Lady's assistant for the ladies. 42 East Second street, Plainfield.—jy29

BUSINESS CARDS.

ROBERT JAHN,
TIN AND COPPER-SMITH,
Scotch Plains,
(Fanwood) N. J. Roofing, Spouting and Heater work. Tinning of all kinds of Roofs a specialty. Rifle work. The best and the cheapest Stoke Rifle Heater in use. Repairing promptly attended to.—jy30

TO THE PUBLIC !

We wish to inform our customers and the public generally that we have on hand the best quality of

LEHIGH COAL,

Fresh from the Mines.

It is under cover and well protected from the weather. We are prepared to deliver it well screened and in good order promptly. We are also prepared to furnish all kinds of seasoned Lumber and Masons' Materials at short notice.

A. D. COOK & BRO.
Jan29

Park Avenue Bakery !
JOHN WALKER, Prop'r
FAMILY BREAD DELIVERED AND SUPPLIED WITH CAKES OF CHOICEST KINDS.

J. Hervey Doane,
9 PARK AVENUE.
(Formerly Clarke's.)
Watches,
Clocks
And Jewelry.
Repairing neatly and promptly done.
dayt.

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, VEGETABLES, DRIED FRUIT, ETC.
CORNER EMILY AND DUPER STREETS
North Plainfield, New Jersey.
Celebrated Pillsbury Flour,
THE BEST IN THE MARKET.
ORDERS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED.
Thanks for past patronage I solicit a continuance Respectfully,
apr19 WILLIAM H. SHOTWELL.

BOSTON CLOTHING HOUSE
42 W. FRONT ST.
Reliable Goods at Low Prices
Correct Styles. Right Prices
myt17

Geo. A. Moore,
(Of the late firm of Moore Bros.)
Is now the sole proprietor of the old established market at
NO. 14 NORTH AVENUE.
Where he will continue to supply patrons with the finest grades of Fresh and Salt meats, Fish of all kinds, Oysters, Clams, Game in season at all times. Prices low. Anything not usually kept in stock furnished at short notice.
Edward Ramonetti,
OYSTER AND ICE CREAM SALOON.
OYSTERS BY THE QUART, 100 OR 1000.
HAMLOTTE HOUSE MADE TO ORDER.
All Orders Promptly Attended to.
24 NORTH AVENUE.
Plainfield, N. J. Telephone Call, No. 37 jy29

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

Force's Hotel !
NORTH AVENUE
Near R. R. Depot, Plainfield, New Jersey.
JAMES H. FORCE, - Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY HOTEL.
Transient guests taken at reasonable rates.
Bottled Liquors a Specialty.

Laing's Hotel !
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
J. B. MILLER & BRO., - Proprietors.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.

James Conneely
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a saloon at
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 32 PARK AVE.,
Where he will be pleased to furnish his friends and patrons with the choicest brands of imported and Domestic Liquors. m3tf

TURF EXCHANGE HOTEL.
72 Courtlandt street,
CORNER WASHINGTON, NEW YORK CITY.
FRED. W. BALLARD, - - Proprietor,
(formerly of Jersey City), is now conducting the above hotel and solicits the patronage of his friends in New York, formerly kept by the late James Van Pelt. Free bus to and from the house. Rates reasonable. Is more conveniently located.—jy15

THE WINES, LIQUORS AND SEGARS, &c.

SOMERSET HOTEL,
Cor. Somerset & Emily Sts., North Plainfield, N. J.
Permanent and Transient Board, at fairrates.
First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all (reasonable) hours. 2jan87

C. E. JOHNSON,
Late firm of Shepherd, Johnson & Graham.
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
New addition to City Hotel on Second street, and Park avenue, Plainfield. Entrance, 11 East Second street. Jobbing especially.

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
SALESROOM—Middle (Avenue) from the Depot, Plainfield, N. J.
Goods received on consignment.

MRS. L. J. MARTIN'S
MAGIC RENOVATING FLUID.
For taking out grease from any kind of goods, without changing the colors. Also for cleaning kid gloves, crape, lace, satin, ribbons, feathers, etc. Also for taking out paint on carpets, making the same as good as new. Also for taking out spots and acids from the goods. Also for the hair, which it restores to its original color. Also for the skin, which it beautifies. Also for ring worms, at Mrs. L. J. Martin's dress-making rooms, 15 East Front street, Plainfield, N. J., or Force's Fancy Goods Store, No. 9 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

JOHN JOHNSTON,
DEALER IN
COAL!
YARD AND OFFICE, SOUTH AVENUE, BETHERWOOD NEW JERSEY.
The best quality of screened coal at the lowest market price for cash. Address all orders to Betherwood post-office.—jy15

VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS,
And all Varieties of
Pies, Cake and Confectionery.
Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.
THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS, BEST IN THE WORLD.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE.

MICHAEL UHDAL,
CONTRACTOR
AND LANDSCAPE GARDENER !
Residence :
NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
P. O. BOX 787, PLAINFIELD.

HEADQUARTERS
FOR
Boots, Shoes and Rubbers
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION. OUR STOCK
IS COMPLETE, AND OUR
Prices the Lowest !
Doane & Van Arsdale
(NEXT TO SEMALL'S.)
22 WEST FRONT STREET.

SANITARY PLUMBING,
Brick and Portable Furnaces,
GAS FITTING,
TIN ROOFING,
Etc., Etc.
I am prepared to do any of the above branches in strictly first-class, sanitary and workmanship manner.
Having associated myself with the Master Plumbers' Association of West Jersey, I am prepared to guarantee satisfaction and low estimates to all who favor me with their work. Orders left at my shop, No. 5 North Ave., will receive prompt attention.
D. W. LITTELL,
No. 5 NORTH AVE. (opposite Plainfield, N. J.

EDUCATIONAL.

MR. LEAL'S SCHOOL
WILL RE-OPEN
Monday, Sept. 19, 1887.
DODWORTH'S
Class for Dancing & Deportment
—AT—
Seminary Hall, Plainfield, N. J.,
Wednesdays from 3:30 to 5:30 P. M.,
Commencing Oct. 26th, 1887.
THEO. J. DODWORTH.
(October 7th, 1887.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST,
Residence—Harmony street, North Plainfield, fourth house from Somerset street, left hand side going from Somerset street. Can be consulted on future events, illness or marriage, journeys, love affairs, business, and the questions of the day.
In English, German and French.
My husband is a first-class Cooper, and repairs tubs, pails, barrels, etc., cheap for cash.

Plainfield District Telegraph and Fire Alarm Co.
Prompt Messenger Service Furnished.
Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph Co.
LOW RATES. QUICK SERVICE. MONEY TRANSFERRED BY TELEGRAPH. COMMUTATION STAMPS FOR SALE.
OFFICE—4 PARK AVENUE.
W. S. SLITER, Manager.

STEAM HEATING
FOR
CHURCHES, SCHOOLS, and DWELLINGS.
J. N. SCHENCK,
Plainfield, N. J.
P. O. Box 1051.—sp9y1

JAMES K. ARNOLD,
GROCER,
Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts., North Plainfield.

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.,
TO HIRE. CHARGES REASONABLE.
Hugo Weigman,
9 EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
jy29tf

LUTKINS & HUMMER,
DEALERS IN
Butter, Eggs & Produce.
Meats of all Kinds.
FRUIT AND VEGETABLES IN THEIR SEASON.
No. 32 PARK AVENUE, PLAINFIELD, New Jersey.
Goods delivered to any part of the city.
A. LUTKINS. L. A. HUMMER.
jy15

CAREY'S
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE, NO. 45 WEST FRONT STREET,
Nearly opposite Laing's Hotel, Plainfield, N. J
Having leased the above premises I am prepared to buy and sell second-hand Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, etc. I will also do Furniture and Freight moving. Furniture, etc., stored. P. O. Box 492.—m9y1

GO TO
DICKINSON & CLAWSON,
JEWELERS, 13 Park Avenue,
For your
Holiday Presents
IN WATCHES,
CLOCKS, JEWELRY,
AND SILVERWARE.
SOLE AGENTS for KING'S SPECTACLES and EYE GLASSES, the BEST MADE, and CHEAPEST in the end. jy15y1

CHRISTMAS CARDS
AND NOVELTIES !
Prang's, Tuck's,
Whitney's, and Others.
A Full Line at Low Prices !
A. W. RAND,
24 W. FRONT ST.

MISCELLANEOUS.

P. P. Van Arsdale,
PIANO TUNER.
Instructions given in theory and practice. Terms reasonable. Pianos and Organs for sale and to let. Orders by postal, P. O. Box 100 or call at Wilkinson's Music House, No. 4 Park avenue will receive prompt attention. Residence, 91 East Front street, corner Elm street.—jy15tf

A. TITSWORTH,
Merchant Tailor,
Has removed his place of business to
No. 26 North ave.,
(Formerly occupied by Fowler Bros.)
ALSO OFFICE OF CITY TREASURER.—31m1

JOHN CHANDLER,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Residence address No. 36 East 2d, St.
Jobbing promptly attended to. apr9y

Alex. Willett,
DEALER IN
BOOTS & SHOES,
No. 8 PARK AVENUE.
A full assortment to the Plainfield goods direction Manufactures at LOW PRICES
CALL AND GIVE ME A CHANCE!

G. W. FORCE,
31 West Front street,
OPENING OF FALL AND WINTER STOCK
Boots and Shoes at Low Prices
A FINE GRADE OF GOODS TO SELECT FROM
31 West Front street.
G. W. FORCE.
jan15y

J. T. ODAM,
PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL
Slate Roofer and Repairer.
Residence, Corner Fourth and Dremore Streets North Plainfield. Shop, Rear No. 5 North Ave., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
All Roofs Warranted for one year. Slating over Shingles. Also, Tin, Iron and Gravel Roofing.—m12-17

Steam Marble
Granite Works.
AND Tombments & Headstones,
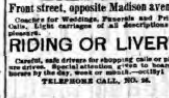
Fencing for Cemetery Plots.
Large assortment of Slate Mantels.
A large variety of Granite Monuments.
All work executed in the most WORKMANLIKE manner and at very reasonable prices. An order solicited.
FRONT ST., next to M. E. Ch., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Monuments erected in Greenwood Cemetery.—jy29y1

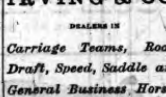
GEO. D. MORRISON,
NORTH AVENUE.
Has opened a store for the sale of
FLOUR, FEED, HAY,
Oats, Straw, Bran, Etc.,
and hopes by promptness and fair dealing to merit a share of the public patronage.
SANDERSON'S
XXXX
BEST FLOUR.
FROM MINNESOTA WHEAT. A SPECIALTY. CALL AND SEE WHAT YOU BUY.
jy15y1

ALBERT HEDDEN,
Livery and Boarding Stables
FOURTH STREET,
Between Front street and Park avenue, Plainfield. Carriages, Buggies and Horses for Weddings, Carnivals, Excursions, Funerals, etc. Horses boarded by the week or month. Telephone Call No. 11.

Livery Stables !
Mr. D. S. ROBERTS
Has Removed to His New Building on
NORTH AVENUE,
Adjoining Force's Hotel. Mr. Roberts will always be found ready and able to accommodate the public with all kinds of Horses, Carriages and Buggies for a continuance of past favors. Telephone No. 7 and Force's Hotel office.—jy15y1

Laing's Hotel Stables


Front street, opposite Madison avenue.
Coaches for Weddings, Funerals and Private Calls. Light carriages at all times. Telephone connection.
RIDING OR LIVERY.
Carriages, safe drivers for shopping calls or pleasure rides. Special attention given to boarding horses by the day, week or month.—jy15y1
TELEPHONE CALL, NO. 16.

ESTABLISHED 1868.
Westfield Horse Market.


24 W. FRONT ST.
IRVING & CO.,
DEALERS IN
Carriage Teams, Roads, Draft, Speed, Saddle and General Business Horses.
All horses guaranteed as represented.
Central avenue,
Near Depot, Westfield, N.J.

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPPLIES

Paints, Varnishes, Glass,
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALL PAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.
ajy22

Weaver Bros.
House & Sign Painting, Graining, Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a specialty.
Office and Shop in the rear of
No. 36 PARK AVENUE.

W. N. ROWE,
PAINTER AND DECORATOR
Dealer in PAINTS, OIL, Turpentine, Glass, Varnishes, etc., WALL PAPER and WINDOW SHADES. Shop on Front street, Plainfield. Orders promptly and satisfactorily executed. No. 19 E. FRONT STREET, Plainfield (Archer's old stand.) Plainfield, N. J. P. O. Box 1288.—apl6y1

L. P. WOOLSTON, J. P. BUCKLE
Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS,
Wall Papers.
PAINTERS SUPPLIES. 28 NORTH AVENUE
ap9tf

MILLINERY.

Mrs. J. M. Dunn,
FASHIONABLE MILLINER,
LATEST SHAPES OF
BONNETS AND HATS
FRENCH IMPORTED FLOWERS.
Feathers, Velvets, Plushes, Ruffings, Laces, etc. Also, Fancy Goods and Notions; Dressand Infants' Caps a Specialty.

FINKING, BLEACHING & PRESSING.
Feathers Dyed. Cleaned and Curled
AT SHORT NOTICE.
14 West Front street.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana.
CLARA HAVANA SMOKING TOBACCO.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars. Cigarettes a specialty. Orders promptly attended to.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety.
1y27

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
—SEGARS!—
No. 18 PARK AVE., (NEXT TO REAR OF SECOND ST.) PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, with other popular brands constantly on hand.
jy15y1

—PICTURE FRAMES—
OF ALL KINDS, AT
S. E. FLOWER'S.
At New York Prices. Studio 31 West Front street. Headquarters for drawing and oil painting. ap9tf

A. L. SMALLEY. H. B. SMALLEY
Smalley Bros.,
DEALERS IN
Fresh and Salt Meats, Poultry, Etc.
30 SOMERSET STREET, NORTH PLAINFIELD.
Also Stalls 1 and 2 Washington Market, Plainfield.
Orders left at either of the above stalls will receive prompt attention.—jy29y1

Benj. F. Moore,
(Late of Moore Bros.)
BUTCHER,
And dealer in FRESH AND SALT MEATS, POULTRY, etc., corner Park avenue and Second street, Plainfield, where he will be pleased to see his friends. Telephone Call No. 17.
SMALL MARKET BILLS. Orders called for and promptly delivered. Telephone Call No. 17.

MAYNARD & HILL,
PRACTICAL BARBERS
AND
Artistic Hair Dressers,
No. 26 PARK AVENUE,
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residences promptly. Shampooing a specialty. Satisfactorily performed. 27tf

HEADQUARTERS
FOR AMERICAN WATCHES,
DIAMONDS and FINE JEWELRY.
GOLD EYE GLASSES and SPECTACLES. PEARL OPERA GLASSES. SILVERWARE, &c.
CHESHIRE Watches, $5.00.
WATERBURY Watches, $2.50.
WM. H. EINHAUS,
45 NASSAU ST., NEW YORK.
a15tf

Carney Bros.,
PRACTICAL
Plumbers, Tinners & Gas Fitters.
Heaters, Ranges and Stoves.
Dealers in all kinds of Stoves, Heaters and Ranges. Repairs of all kinds done promptly, in the best manner. Always on hand a large assortment of Tinware, Granite Iron Ware, Lamps, Chandeliers, Gas Fixtures, Globes, Shades, etc. Jobbing promptly attended to. Orders left at my store will receive prompt attention. Estimates given for all kinds of work in my line.
THE PURCHASE OF NOTES.
In considering the question of purchasing bonds as a means of assisting to circulation the surplus money accumulating in the treasury it should be borne in mind that premiums must of course be paid upon such purchases, and that there may be a large part of these bonds held as investments which cannot be purchased at any price, and that combinations among holders who are willing to sell may unreasonably enhance the cost of such bonds to the government.
It has been suggested that the present bonded debt might be refunded at a less rate of interest, and the difference between the old and new rates applied to the purchase of such bonds as will endeavor to merit a contribution. But this would require legislation, and now nothing of any provisions worth considering.

The Economic Gas Engine,
Tells little the Engine says but a little and is operation is one to three gallons of gasoline per hour per horse power. Also, Gas Machines and Gravel Roofing.—m12-17

Our Sanitary Plumbing
Department, as it always has been, undergoes no change or alteration, and our work in this branch of business is performed in the most satisfactory manner. While we employ none but workmen who are master of their trade, we are also prepared to do work of a common character at a reasonable price. Estimates cheerfully given. Shop on Somerset street, rear of Park avenue, Plainfield, and we will endeavor to merit a continuance of the liberal patronage heretofore bestowed upon us. Telephone connection. Orders left at our store will receive prompt attention.
CARNEY BROS.
7 and 9 Somerset street.

THE MESSAGE

OF PRESIDENT CLEVELAND TO THE FIFTIETH CONGRESS.

AN UNNECESSARY SURPLUS.

THE SURPLUS AND THE TARIFF THE ONLY TOPICS TOUCHED UPON.

A Tariff Revision Necessary—Reduction of Duties on Necessities of Life a Paramount Importance—Some Statistics for Wage-workers and a Word to the Tillers of the Soil.

To the Congress of the United States:

You are confronted at the threshold of your legislative duties with a condition of the national finances which imperatively demands immediate and careful consideration.

The amount of money annually exacted, through the operation of our present laws, from the industries and necessities of the people largely exceeds the sum necessary to meet the expenses of the government. And we consider that the theory of free institutions guaranteeing to every citizen the full enjoyment of all the fruits of his industry and enterprise, with only such restriction as may be his share toward the careful and economical maintenance of the government which protects him, it is plain that the exaction of more than this is indefensible extortion and a culpable betrayal of American fairness and justice. This wrong falls heaviest upon the poor, for the burden of national taxation, like other burdens, bears most heavily upon those who are weakest to bear it.

The public treasury, which should only exist as a conduit conveying the people's tribute to the channels of public expenditure, becomes a hoarding place for money needlessly withdrawn from trade and the people's use, thus crippling our business energies and preventing our country's development, preventing investment in productive enterprise, threatening financial disturbance, and inviting schemes of public plunder.

A PROMINENT BUT FINANCIAL CONFUSION.

This condition of our treasury is not altogether new; and it has more than once led to the belief that the people's money in the treasury in excess of the needs of current appropriations should be left in the channels of trade and commerce, through the agency of the national banks, by means of deposits, or in exchange for bonds. But neither of these plans for relieving the embarrassment caused by the surplus has been found entirely satisfactory, and each has been opposed by many persons of undoubted honesty and patriotism. The former method is subject to the serious objection that it results in the accumulation of large sums of money in the banks, subject to withdrawal at any time by the depositors, and leaves the government in the condition of a helpless competitor for its own money when it is needed. The latter method, that of purchasing bonds, is only temporary in its effect, and is subject to the further objection that bonds must be purchased at a premium which will cause a loss to the government when they are redeemed.

SOME INTERESTING FIGURES.

On the 30th day of June, 1885, the excess of revenues over public expenditures, after complying with the annual requirement of the sinking fund act, was $112,196,158.66; during the year ended June 30, 1886, such excess amounted to $78,853,213.31, and during the year ended June 30, 1887, it reached the sum of $60,567,243.54.

THE SURPLUS HAS BEEN DONE.

The annual contributions to the sinking fund during the three years aforesaid amounted, amounting in the aggregate to $130,045,-850.94, and deducted from these surplus as stated, were made by calling in 5 per cent. purpose outstanding three per cent bonds of the government. During the six months prior to June 30th, 1887, the surplus revenue has grown so large by reason of collections, and it was feared the withdrawal of this great sum of money needed by the people would so affect the business of the country, that the sum of $79,964,100 of such bonds were purchased at a premium, and the principal and interest of the three per cent bonds still outstanding, and not yet due, were payable at the option of the government. The precarious condition of financial affairs among the people have paid, relief, immediately after the 30th day of June, 1887, the sum of $27,161,916.25 for such bonds then outstanding amounting to $25,577,350, were called in and applied to the sinking fund contribution for the current fiscal year. Notwithstanding these operations of the treasury department represented in the items of interest on bonds not only continued, but increased, and also the surplus revenue, and, in these circumstances the contribution to the sinking fund for the current fiscal year was at once completed by the purchase on the 14th inst. of $5,567,243.54, the purchase of government bonds at the premium of $1,326,726.70, and the payment of the interest accrued thereon to date, for the former and eight per cent. for the latter. In addition to this interest accruing during the current month upon the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the government was to accrue $3,000,000 more, and the banks selected as depositories of public money were permitted to somewhat increase their deposits.

STILL ACCUMULATING.

While the expenditures of the people employed, to release to the people the money lying idle in the treasury, and thus relieve the present danger, our copious revenues have continued to accumulate, the excess for the present year running on the 1st day of December to $50,726,701.19, and estimated to reach the sum of $110,000,000 at the end of June next, at which date it is expected that the bonds to prior terms will be redeemed and will swell the surplus in the treasury to $140,000,000.

There seems to be no assurance that, with such a withdrawal from use of the people's circulating medium, our business and industry may not in the near future be subjected to the same experience with which we are recently embarrassed from the same cause. And while the functions of our national treasury should be few and simple, the best and safest condition would be reached, I believe by its entire emancipation from the control of business interests, yet when, by a perversion of its purposes, it is made to directly and injuriously withdraw from the channels of trade, there seems to be reason for the claim that such withdrawal by means should be devised by the government to restore it to the money, without waste or extravagance, such money to its place among the people.

NO EXECUTIVE POWER OF RELIEF.

If such an emergency arises there now seems to be no clear and undoubted executive power of relief. Heretofore the redemption of three per cent. bonds, which were payable at the option of the government, has afforded a means for the disbursement of the accumulated surplus. But as these bonds have all been retired, and there are no bonds outstanding the payment of which we have the right to insist upon. The condition to the amount and which further stashes the occasion for expenditure in the purchase of bonds has already been paid for the current year, so that there is no outlet in that direction.

THE REMEDY SUGGESTED.

In the present state of legislation the only remedy for a surplus revenue is the power to restore, at this time, any part of our surplus revenues to the people by reducing the amount of taxation which causes that the secretary of the treasury may enter the market and purchase bonds with which the government not yet due, at a rate or premium to be agreed upon. The only question of law which such a power could be derived is found in an appropriation bill passed a number of years ago, which it is subject to the suspicion that it was intended to temporarily meet a like case and applicable, instead of conferring a continuing discretion and authority. No condition of things to exist which would justify the grant of power to a single official, upon his judgment of its necessity, to withhold from or release to the business of the people, in an unusual manner, money held in the treasury, and which does not affect the financial situation of the country; and if it is deemed wise to lodge in the secretary of the treasury the authority in the present juncture to purchase bonds, it should be plainly vested, and provided, as far as possible with such checks and limitations as will define the limits of his right and discretion, and at the same time relieve him from undue responsibility.

THE PURCHASE OF BONDS.

In considering the question of purchasing bonds as a means of assisting to circulation the surplus money accumulating in the treasury it should be borne in mind that premiums must of course be paid upon such purchases, and that there may be a large part of these bonds held as investments which cannot be purchased at any price, and that combinations among holders who are willing to sell may unreasonably enhance the cost of such bonds to the government.

It has been suggested that the present bonded debt might be refunded at a less rate of interest, and the difference between the old and new rates applied to the purchase of such bonds as will endeavor to merit a contribution. But this would require legislation, and now nothing of any provisions worth considering.

THE BANK DEPOSIT PLAN.

The government in banks throughout the country, for use by the people, in it seems to me, exceedingly objectionable in principle, as establishing too close a relationship between the operations of the government treasury and the business of the country, and as liable to result in making the use of public moneys, thus fostering an unnatural reliance on private resources by the people. Nor can this scheme should be adopted it should only be done as a temporary expedient to tide over a financial crisis. Legislation and executive effort should generally be in the opposite direction and should have a tendency to divorce, as much and as fast as possible the business of the government from private enterprises.

Of course it is not expected that unnecessary and extravagant appropriations will be made for the purpose of avoiding the accumulation of an excessive revenue. Such expenditure, beside the demoralization of all just conceptions of public duty which it entails, stimulates a habit of reckless improvidence not in the least consistent with the success of our party or the full realization of its benefit purpose of our government.

We are reminded by our duty that bring to the knowledge of my countrymen, as well as to the attention of their representatives, charged with the responsibility of legislative relief, the gravity of our financial situation. The failure to enact such legislation as may be in the power of the government which protects him, it is plain that the exaction of more than this is indefensible extortion and a culpable betrayal of American fairness and justice. This wrong falls heaviest upon the poor, for the burden of national taxation, like other burdens, bears most heavily upon those who are weakest to bear it.

The public treasury, which should only exist as a conduit conveying the people's tribute to the channels of public expenditure, becomes a hoarding place for money needlessly withdrawn from trade and the people's use, thus crippling our business energies and preventing our country's development, preventing investment in productive enterprise, threatening financial disturbance, and inviting schemes of public plunder.

A PROMINENT BUT FINANCIAL CONFUSION.

This condition of our treasury is not altogether new; and it has more than once led to the belief that the people's money in the treasury in excess of the needs of current appropriations should be left in the channels of trade and commerce, through the agency of the national banks, by means of deposits, or in exchange for bonds. But neither of these plans for relieving the embarrassment caused by the surplus has been found entirely satisfactory, and each has been opposed by many persons of undoubted honesty and patriotism. The former method is subject to the serious objection that it results in the accumulation of large sums of money in the banks, subject to withdrawal at any time by the depositors, and leaves the government in the condition of a helpless competitor for its own money when it is needed. The latter method, that of purchasing bonds, is only temporary in its effect, and is subject to the further objection that bonds must be purchased at a premium which will cause a loss to the government when they are redeemed.

SOME INTERESTING FIGURES.

On the 30th day of June, 1885, the excess of revenues over public expenditures, after complying with the annual requirement of the sinking fund act, was $112,196,158.66; during the year ended June 30, 1886, such excess amounted to $78,853,213.31, and during the year ended June 30, 1887, it reached the sum of $60,567,243.54.

THE SURPLUS HAS BEEN DONE.

The annual contributions to the sinking fund during the three years aforesaid amounted, amounting in the aggregate to $130,045,-850.94, and deducted from these surplus as stated, were made by calling in 5 per cent. purpose outstanding three per cent bonds of the government. During the six months prior to June 30th, 1887, the surplus revenue has grown so large by reason of collections, and it was feared the withdrawal of this great sum of money needed by the people would so affect the business of the country, that the sum of $79,964,100 of such bonds were purchased at a premium, and the principal and interest of the three per cent bonds still outstanding, and not yet due, were payable at the option of the government. The precarious condition of financial affairs among the people have paid, relief, immediately after the 30th day of June, 1887, the sum of $27,161,916.25 for such bonds then outstanding amounting to $25,577,350, were called in and applied to the sinking fund contribution for the current fiscal year. Notwithstanding these operations of the treasury department represented in the items of interest on bonds not only continued, but increased, and also the surplus revenue, and, in these circumstances the contribution to the sinking fund for the current fiscal year was at once completed by the purchase on the 14th inst. of $5,567,243.54, the purchase of government bonds at the premium of $1,326,726.70, and the payment of the interest accrued thereon to date, for the former and eight per cent. for the latter. In addition to this interest accruing during the current month upon the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the government was to accrue $3,000,000 more, and the banks selected as depositories of public money were permitted to somewhat increase their deposits.

STILL ACCUMULATING.

While the expenditures of the people employed, to release to the people the money lying idle in the treasury, and thus relieve the present danger, our copious revenues have continued to accumulate, the excess for the present year running on the 1st day of December to $50,726,701.19, and estimated to reach the sum of $110,000,000 at the end of June next, at which date it is expected that the bonds to prior terms will be redeemed and will swell the surplus in the treasury to $140,000,000.

There seems to be no assurance that, with such a withdrawal from use of the people's circulating medium, our business and industry may not in the near future be subjected to the same experience with which we are recently embarrassed from the same cause. And while the functions of our national treasury should be few and simple, the best and safest condition would be reached, I believe by its entire emancipation from the control of business interests, yet when, by a perversion of its purposes, it is made to directly and injuriously withdraw from the channels of trade, there seems to be reason for the claim that such withdrawal by means should be devised by the government to restore it to the money, without waste or extravagance, such money to its place among the people.

NO EXECUTIVE POWER OF RELIEF.

If such an emergency arises there now seems to be no clear and undoubted executive power of relief. Heretofore the redemption of three per cent. bonds, which were payable at the option of the government, has afforded a means for the disbursement of the accumulated surplus. But as these bonds have all been retired, and there are no bonds outstanding the payment of which we have the right to insist upon. The condition to the amount and which further stashes the occasion for expenditure in the purchase of bonds has already been paid for the current year, so that there is no outlet in that direction.

THE REMEDY SUGGESTED.

In the present state of legislation the only remedy for a surplus revenue is the power to restore, at this time, any part of our surplus revenues to the people by reducing the amount of taxation which causes that the secretary of the treasury may enter the market and purchase bonds with which the government not yet due, at a rate or premium to be agreed upon. The only question of law which such a power could be derived is found in an appropriation bill passed a number of years ago, which it is subject to the suspicion that it was intended to temporarily meet a like case and applicable, instead of conferring a continuing discretion and authority. No condition of things to exist which would justify the grant of power to a single official, upon his judgment of its necessity, to withhold from or release to the business of the people, in an unusual manner, money held in the treasury, and which does not affect the financial situation of the country; and if it is deemed wise to lodge in the secretary of the treasury the authority in the present juncture to purchase bonds, it should be plainly vested, and provided, as far as possible with such checks and limitations as will define the limits of his right and discretion, and at the same time relieve him from undue responsibility.

THE PURCHASE OF BONDS.

In considering the question of purchasing bonds as a means of assisting to circulation the surplus money accumulating in the treasury it should be borne in mind that premiums must of course be paid upon such purchases, and that there may be a large part of these bonds held as investments which cannot be purchased at any price, and that combinations among holders who are willing to sell may unreasonably enhance the cost of such bonds to the government.

It has been suggested that the present bonded debt might be refunded at a less rate of interest, and the difference between the old and new rates applied to the purchase of such bonds as will endeavor to merit a contribution. But this would require legislation, and now nothing of any provisions worth considering.

THE BANK DEPOSIT PLAN.

The government in banks throughout the country, for use by the people, in it seems to me, exceedingly objectionable in principle, as establishing too close a relationship between the operations of the government treasury and the business of the country, and as liable to result in making the use of public moneys, thus fostering an unnatural reliance on private resources by the people. Nor can this scheme should be adopted it should only be done as a temporary expedient to tide over a financial crisis. Legislation and executive effort should generally be in the opposite direction and should have a tendency to divorce, as much and as fast as possible the business of the government from private enterprises.

Of course it is not expected that unnecessary and extravagant appropriations will be made for the purpose of avoiding the accumulation of an excessive revenue. Such expenditure, beside the demoralization of all just conceptions of public duty which it entails, stimulates a habit of reckless improvidence not in the least consistent with the success of our party or the full realization of its benefit purpose of our government.

We are reminded by our duty that bring to the knowledge of my countrymen, as well as to the attention of their representatives, charged with the responsibility of legislative relief, the gravity of our financial situation. The failure to enact such legislation as may be in the power of the government which protects him, it is plain that the exaction of more than this is indefensible extortion and a culpable betrayal of American fairness and justice. This wrong falls heaviest upon the poor, for the burden of national taxation, like other burdens, bears most heavily upon those who are weakest to bear it.

The public treasury, which should only exist as a conduit conveying the people's tribute to the channels of public expenditure, becomes a hoarding place for money needlessly withdrawn from trade and the people's use, thus crippling our business energies and preventing our country's development, preventing investment in productive enterprise, threatening financial disturbance, and inviting schemes of public plunder.

A PROMINENT BUT FINANCIAL CONFUSION.

This condition of our treasury is not altogether new; and it has more than once led to the belief that the people's money in the treasury in excess of the needs of current appropriations should be left in the chann

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE, A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors.

THE ISSUE.

Never in the history of this or any other country was a public measure more clearly and ably presented by a functionary clothed with official authority to speak, than was done by President Cleveland in his recent message to Congress concerning the important question of tariff reform.

With integrity of purpose and fearless expression of matured judgment, the President points out the injustice and danger of annually raising millions more of taxation revenue than the wants of Government demand, and in a plain, practical manner suggests how the evil can be remedied.

The President is not in favor of theoretical free trade, which means the abolition of all duties, and neither does he advocate monopolistic protection, which seeks to extort endless tribute from the consuming masses for the enrichment of the favored few guided by practical business sense, strict equity, and enlightened patriotism, he aims to answer the greatest good of the greatest number, in a manner that meets the intelligent approval of all men who are not politically deaf to reason or blinded by partisan prejudice.

President Cleveland would reform the present absurd system of heavy war taxes in time of peace.

He would raise revenue amply sufficient for all the obligations and legitimate expenses of Government, but stop the snatching from the pockets of the people of one hundred million dollars surplus revenue each year, to tempt the greed of conscienceless jobbers.

He would revise the tariff in the interests of the people, not grasping monopolists, by lightening the tax on the necessaries of life, but keeping duties high enough to justly protect capital and labor, and placing on the free list of importations such crude materials as manufacturing industries require, thereby creating an additional demand for American enterprise and labor.

The issue is squarely made.

It is Right against Wrong.

—For President,
GROVER CLEVELAND,
of New York.

MANLY COURAGE.

Above all other characteristics of a President, or the incumbent of any other high office, the American people admire manly courage, the bold and dignified utterance of a well-founded opinion touching matters of vital public interest.

The sovereign people think and know a good deal more than many scheming politicians imagine.

Demagogues consult artifice.

Patriots follow the leadings of truth and honesty.

The people, by a large majority, are patriotic.

Andrew Jackson, as President of the United States, grandly assured his countrymen of right, and then defied the minions of money corruptionists could not hoodwink men from what he deemed to be public duty. He gained victory for the good of country, and popular approval on his behalf, raising like a tidal wave, swept opposition away.

History repeats itself.

The American exemplification of adamant like integrity is Grover Cleveland's mighty weapon.

The people are with Cleveland.

THE CORPORATION CURBED.

For a long time it has been maintained by Corporation Counsel Marsh and the city authorities that they had the right to prohibit or refuse to grant the approval or giving away of intoxicating liquors and acting upon this view Jacob Bimm was arrested and brought before the Court of violating the city ordinance aforesaid, although there was no evidence whatever proving a sale of such liquor through the agency of Bimm. The lawyer, Mr. Bimm appealed to the Court of Common Pleas at Elizabeth, on the 7th inst. to appeal the conviction and sentence of Judge Harper and Hyer, and Mr. Jackson in a very forcible argument, clearly demonstrated the fallacy of the City's position. Notwithstanding the strong opposition of Corporation Counsel Marsh, the Court—Judge Harper dissenting—sustained Mr. Jackson's contention as to the correct construction governing the enactment of the City Judge, with costs, and dismissed the complaint against Mr. Bimm. In Mr. Bimm's behalf the decision was held upon the position of the City charter, which fully empowers the Common Council to regulate and prohibit the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors, and it was held that the city ordinances so far as it prohibited the disposal of other liquors than those specified, were inoperative and void as being in excess of the power delegated to the Common Council by the Legislature. The decision is an important one in many aspects, and it is thought the City will be much hindered by this defeat, in enforcing the liquor ordinances. In justice to Mr. Bimm it should be stated that when the case was tried before him, he declined to pass on the question of the validity of the part of the ordinance in question, but left it for the higher court to decide.

Corporation Counsel Marsh says that nothing of value can be expected from the judgment of ten dollars fine in the case versed. The Court held in so many words that there was not sufficient evidence to prove the charge. Again, the Court held that the selling and furnishing of spirituous and fermented liquor, Mr. Marsh says that after the case was decided he asked the Court what the judgment would have been if the evidence had proved that fermented liquor had been given and sold, the Court replied it would be not guilty. Mr. Marsh said further that the City would gladly take that question to the Supreme Court if Mr. Bimm would admit that he gave away fermented liquor in his bar-room after midnight and before six o'clock of the following morning. There was no way of raising that question in the present case without such an admission, because the Court plainly put the decision on the ground of want of sufficient evidence.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

The Fanwood Improvement Company are erecting a number of handsome Queen Anne cottages on North avenue.

The engagement is announced of Miss Jennie Cook's stone crusher has been necessarily delayed for a week or two past, owing to an accident to the machinery.

The new club house is well patronized these evenings, by the young people of the place, who enjoy hearty refreshments and other social amusements.

John T. Hubbard, of Myersville, Md., who has been visiting his brother-in-law, Mr. A. C. Brown, has returned home. His family will remain here for a few weeks.

FIRE BOARD MEETING.

For the first time in several months a sufficient number of the Fire Commissioners to constitute a quorum met in regular session in the City Court House Tuesday night and practically wound up the affairs of the Plainfield Department. Although the Volunteer Department, which was incorporated in 1869, will continue to exist, the Commissioners are powerless to incur any expense for the maintenance of the same. In order that no misunderstanding in the matter should be had, Commissioner Livingston left a sick bed to attend the meeting. The other members present were President W. L. Force and Messrs. Wm. H. Hosier, Wm. K. McClure, and D. W. Rogers. In the absence of the Secretary Mr. Rogers was elected Secretary pro tem. Upon motion of Mr. Livingston the reading of the minutes was dispensed with. At the suggestion of Mr. Livingston the Board went into executive session for short period, and upon reassembling Mr. Livingston submitted the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, The Supreme Court of this State has decided that the provisions of the act of incorporation of the Plainfield Fire Department authorizing a tax to be levied for the purposes for which said corporation was created, was unconstitutional and void, and

WHEREAS, It is impossible for the said corporation to perform and fulfill the obligations and duties imposed upon it by said act without the authority to levy a tax for such purpose, therefore

Resolved, That in the judgment of the Board of Managers it is advisable and for the best interests of this corporation as well as for the public interest, that the property of the corporation be disposed of at the earliest practicable moment to the best interest and advantage of the members.

Resolved, And in order to accomplish it to negotiate with the inhabitants of the City of Plainfield and the Borough of North Plainfield for the purchase of said property.

Resolved, That the Treasurer be directed to furnish a complete statement of the assets, liabilities, assets and Boards of Direction of this corporation.

Resolved, That no further liabilities be incurred except such as are necessary for the maintenance, protection and preservation of the property of the corporation.

Resolved, That William E. Jones and Robert L. Livingston be and are hereby appointed the committee under the foregoing resolution.

Mr. McClure spoke at some length and stated that in the present crippled condition of the department the utmost care must be exercised in ordering coal for the various houses; he considered one ton a month sufficient to keep the houses warm enough so as to preserve the apparatus. He also requested the foreman of each company to furnish him with a list of the machinery, condition, etc., and the supply of coal on hand, and suggested that a report could be made at the next meeting. Several names for membership were presented, but Mr. McClure said: We have enough to be a match

CITY DEPARTMENT.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION.

J. A. DEMAREST, City Editor.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS

Close—5:30 A. M. and 5:30 P. M.
Arrive—7:30 A. M. and 1:30 P. M.

SUNDAY MAILS—Arrive at 8:30 A. M. Office open from 8:30 A. M. to 10:30 A. M.

Mail for Warrenville closes Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 5 P. M.

Post time opened: 7 A. M. and 6 P. M.
Post time closed: 8 A. M. and 7 P. M.
Sunday, 9 A. M. to 10 A. M. by owners of box boxes.
Money order office open from 8 A. M. to 7 P. M.
Saturdays to 9 P. M.

W. L. FORCE, Postmaster.

Follow yesterday and go to Allen's to get your holiday presents.

A larger line of Oxford Bibles than ever, can be found at Allen's, the Stationer.

As Christmas this year will fall on Sunday, Monday will be observed as the legal holiday.

In parks, cabinets, &c., in endless variety, Allen, the Stationer, leads; let those who can, follow.

The Town Council say the electric light poles and wires must come down. We await with interest to see who will take them down.

A nice line of hand-painted card cases, etchers and penholders can be found at Allen's, the Stationer, No. 21 East Front street.

The new express train that commences running Plainfield the 19th inst., at 8:45 a. m., stops at Westfield only and is due in New York at 9:27.

The notice has been issued that the Delaware and Raritan Canal will close for navigation at midnight on Monday, December 19, unless sooner closed by ice.

The crescent will be opened for public skating each evening Monday, Christmas, Christmas and New Year's days, Dec. 26 and Jan. 2. There will be music by a full band.

The Grand Lodge of the Knights of Pythias will meet in the city February 16 and 17th. During that session the rest of the recent session will be appointed.

The Harry Maude festival by the Mission Band of the Congregational church on Monday, was a grand success, and about $50 was realized from the refreshments served.

The remnants of the incendiary fire which consumed the Park House stables on Sixth street several months ago, have been cleared, and the appearance of the place has been improved thereby.

Rev. Dr. Hurlbut will give a blackboard Bible talk on the 23d Psalm, Dec. 20th, at M. E. Parlors, at 7:30 p. m. Sunday school society invite their young men friends to meet with them at that time.

A Tamanend, not available was held in Mt. Olive Baptist church on Thursday evening, and the net proceeds, about $70, was given to the pastor. The programme included singing, recitations and a number of short plays.

Next Sunday evening Celby Ledge K. of P. of this city will attend divine service in the M. E. Church. Dr. Hurlbut will be the pastor of the church, the Rev. Dr. Van Meter, who will preach a sermon appropriate to the occasion.

In the service of song at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Sunday evening at a quarter to eight o'clock, the choir of twenty-five voices will sing selections from the oratorio of Elijah. Mrs. J. K. Myers, organist, and Mr. H. B. May, tenor, will assist.

We have not every copy of the extraordinarily large edition of Wednesday's Press containing the only tabulated result of Tuesday's election that was published. The same form, however, was used in our weekly of which we can still furnish copies free of charge.

To housekeepers who would clean their windows in cold weather without splashing water all over, we would recommend the use of a sponge. Wet the sponge and rub the dirt off, and then polish with old newspapers, and they will look as if a white veil of water had been used.

The work in the second list of entertainments given under the auspices of the Reform Club will take place in Reform Hall on the evening of Dec. 20th. Rev. Mr. Richardson has delivered a lecture in the True Reform previous at the opening of the series, this new departure by the Reform Club is destined to be of great benefit to the organization, and to the people of the city. Each succeeding lecture and entertainment is better patronized than the one preceding it, and before the season closes we hope Reform Hall will prove inadequate to meet the demand.

Mr. H. H. Baker, who was authorized by the Council to number the houses and locate the names of streets, has begun the performance of the work of naming the streets. Mr. Baker's object is to locate the street signs where they will best subserve the public interests, and that the progress of the work will be impeded if property owners refuse to allow him the privilege to paint the signs in front of their premises. Mr. Baker requests that any and all persons who have objections to make will please notify him by postal or otherwise.

OBITUARY

TIMOTHY YAIL.

At his home on E. Second St., soon after 7 o'clock Wednesday morning, there passed away Timothy Vail, an old and highly respected citizen of this city. His death, which resulted from apoplexy, was sudden and unexpected. He arose as usual about five o'clock, and after starting the fire in the kitchen went into the bath room and head. His wife found him sitting in a chair when she came down stairs, and at her solicitation he went to bed, which was all that death followed soon afterward. The deceased was a son of the late Josiah Vail. He was born at Green Brook in 1813, and was therefore 74 years of age at the time of his death. In early life he followed farming and later married Phebe Harned, then of Rahway. Nine years ago the daughter of the deceased died, leaving a husband and child. Mr. Vail was a member of the Presbyterian church, and was highly esteemed by all who knew him.

Mrs. Ann Compton, wife of Mr. Wm. B. Maxson, went on Friday removed from their grave in the Seventh Day burying ground and deposited in Hillside Cemetery.

Mrs. John M. Jackson, wife of the convicted printing, who was sent to Trenton a few days ago to serve out a fifteen years' sentence, gave birth to twins, a boy and girl.

The success of Wilbur Randolph, Esq., The Press candidate for Councilman from the Second ward, was due entirely to the personal efforts of Mr. Karl Pomeroy, Mr. N. Stockton and Mr. H. E. Bowne.

Mr. and Mrs. Milan Hall (nee Miss Minnie Randolph) have taken up their residence in Brooklyn, where Mr. Hall again becomes associated with the firm of the Hall Steam Pump Works in which he is a large stockholder.

The first formal reception given at the residence of Gov. Green and Elizabeth, on Thursday evening last, was a decidedly pleasant social event. Many State officials and prominent personages were present, and the toilets of the ladies were handsome and rich. The recipients were from 4 to 6 p. m. Mrs. Green and the Misses Green assisted in the reception, and pleasant time was had by their charming manners. The residence was handsomely illuminated and profusely decorated with flowers.

In introducing Mr. Daft before his lecture at Music Hall, Thursday evening, Corporation Counsel Marsh paid the lecturer a great compliment at the close of his remarks. He said that Mr. Daft was probably not appreciated in Plainfield. Being asked why, he said that of course he was well known as a lecturer, but there was scripture authority for believing that "a prophet is not without honor save in his own country and in his own house." To this Mr. Marsh replied that Solomon's sayings were generally true, but it would be observed that Solomon was not a Plainfield boy, but a prophets. Mr. Daft got beyond being a prophet years ago. Now, day after day, he was fulfilling prophecy and fulfilling it in such a manner that one was constrained to quote the answer made by the Queen of Sheba to Solomon, that "the half hath not been told."

Yosemite and Yellowstone.

The last of the Hagan lectures in the Y. M. C. A. Course will be given Thursday, 22d inst., and will, perhaps, be the most brilliant of the series, having for its subject "The Wonderland of the Continent." In this region nature has wrought her grandest miracles and by no other method can they be so well studied as in the course of his lecture. Views of the wonderful geysers, of mountains and of the majestic Yosemite and what right has anyone to pay or contract debts, or to assume any responsibility whatever, except personal responsibility? These must, however, be a settlement made of the affairs of the department and the first thing to be done, it seems to me, is to let the people know how much the department owes, by the bills in bonds and floating debt, and then ascertain by a fair and honest inventory what is its resources. It must also be determined what North Plainfield's share of the assets are, and how much of the debt she is liable for. The final harvest, ing of the crop will have to be done through peculiar processes of law, and the chaff will have to be separated from the grain. I think the assets, upon a true appraisement, will be found to be much less than they have been booked at, and it will require very reliable experts to get at their real and true value.

WAIT AND SEE."

Entertainment at Reform Hall.

Announcement of a free entertainment to be given by the Reform Club Thursday evening, 8th inst., filled the auditorium and also the galleries with an interested and appreciative audience. The platform was tastefully decorated with flowers, giving it a home-like and cheerful appearance, and the entire entertainment was universally considered a grand success. Reflected applause fell alike on the club and on the performers. The willingness of the latter to assist was very gratifying and called forth sincere thanks from all. Miss Alice Smith, who was the pianist, opened the entertainment with a pretty piano solo, and afterward, by special request, played again with equal success. Miss Daniel and her well executed that she received a deserved encore, which was also finely rendered. Mr. A. Gavett gave two readings in his usually fine style. Grace and Elmer Van Aken gave "My Father's a Drunkard" in a very touching way, and Mr. Levere delighted the audience with a humorous rendition of "Yankee Doodle" was rendered. Mrs. Stewart sang two solos and they were exceedingly sweet and pleasing. Her enunciation was distinct, her tones full and clear, and the high notes as charming as a silver bell. There was much regret that she was unable to give a third solo, as many admirers would have been delighted with another piece. The recitations by Mr. Walter McGee were capitally rendered and elicited forth a storm of applause. The first piece "That boy of mine" was so warmly received that he came back and read an exceedingly funny Irish letter, that set the audience in a true roar of laughter. The second recitation, "Corney Island Down the Bay," was also highly amusing. Messrs. Bowne and Elmer Runyon closed the evening's exercises with a splendid duet, that greatly pleased every one.

Reunion of the Class of '77.

The graduating class of ten years ago of the Plainfield High School, held a reunion Thursday night last at residence of Mrs. A. B. Beers who in '77 was Miss Adele Squier. The affair was a social and convivial success, headed being literally a literary feast. Miss Julia Bulkley—then the class' teacher, and now the Principal of all the City's schools—was present, and also Miss Niles who taught the students when they were juniors. In the duties of hostess, Mrs. Beers was assisted by the "Class Baby" they are all so proud of as well as she.

The members present included, Miss Mary Maher, the valedictorian and Class President, Miss Kate Kimball, Mrs. Beers, Miss Carrie Dewey, Miss Ida Angleman, Miss Carrie Voorhees, Miss Julia Ketcham, Miss Louise Wood, Miss Mary Moulton, Mrs. Merrill (formerly Miss Allie Stelle) and Messrs. L. O. Chamberlin, Townsend Rushmore and Charles Dewey, Mrs. Chamberlin, Mr. Merrill and Mr. Beers—and the baby—were among the honored guests. Miss Mather presided over the "flow of soul" that began with dinner from the old school book, and the singing of the class ode. Miss Carrie Dewey read an original and cleverly written decennial history, and others gave extracts from the old records of the class' daily doings. The old march that so often led the class into Assembly Hall, was again played by Miss Dewey to lead them on this occasion into the dining room where the company seated themselves around a table laden with every delicacy imaginable. The cards at each plate were inscribed with appropriate quotations and pleasant allusions to past scenes and events of days now gone by. Mr. Townsend Rushmore acted as toast-master, and the following were given and responded to by different members. The Class Motto—"Age and Progress." The Teachers; The Single Members; and The Better-Halves and Honorary Members. "Mark Twain's discovery of Adam" was read, and Miss Julia Bulkley spoke for the Class' past teachers. Previous to these toasts, was discussed the adoption and presentation of a Class testimonial to the school. This matter was subsequently left in the hands of a committee. The evening's programme closed with the reading of a decennial ode by Miss Mather.

The success and effect of this reunion of the Class of '77, will undoubtedly be imitated and attained by others who have been graduated from the Plainfield High School.

—You can find the finest line of photograph frames, in plush and brass, at Allen's, the Stationer, No. 21 East Front street.

Who Is He?

In an interview published in the New York Herald of Saturday, a former inmate of the insane asylum on Ward's Island said, among other things: "There are several men there, too, who are as sane as you are. One is a Mr. W. B. Redfield, of Plainfield, N. J." As there is no family of that name in this city, there is a mistake somewhere. It is a decided fact, years since say Redfields have lived here.

Parlor Sale.

The annual parlor sale by the ladies of the Seventh Day Baptist church and Sabbath school, took place in the lecture room of the church the 7th inst. The spacious room was handsomely and artistically decorated with flags and bunting, and contained a large number of the members and friends of the church and school. About the room were distributed tables and booths for the sale of fancy articles, candy, lemonade, etc., and all were well patronized during the evening. The financial result of the sale is not known, but it is expected that the church will be benefitted to the extent of about $100.

Wake Up, Pearsall.

About the "dandiest" paper in the State of New Jersey is published at Westfield—one of the liveliest towns on the road. It is called the Family Standard in the part of the paper our neighbors are inflicted with, and it is made up of "plates," and theatrical like the following: These items are from its issue of Saturday, four days after election and weeks after THE PRESS had proven that nobody had attacked anyone, and that nobody was indignant therefore:

Rev. Dr. A. R. Lewis, who was absent at the time of his nomination for school trustee on the Republican ticket, declines the nomination. His ministry and literary work makes it impossible for him to attend to the duties of the office. The name of Hon. George R. Babcock has been substituted.

The citizens of Plainfield are indignant at the attacks on Detective Worsley, who the charge of bringing the "gas stage" to Justice Chetwood has obtained nine $1,000, or $9 a day for his services.

What Shall the Harvest Be?

EDITOR DAILY PRESS:—The Plainfield Fire Department being defunct, the question naturally arises, what is to be done with the property in possession of some of the Board (?) or in the possession of some of the members of the different companies? And what right has anyone to pay or contract debts, or to assume any responsibility whatever, except personal responsibility? These must, however, be a settlement made of the affairs of the department and the first thing to be done, it seems to me, is to let the people know how much the department owes, by the bills in bonds and floating debt, and then ascertain by a fair and honest inventory what is its resources. It must also be determined what North Plainfield's share of the assets are, and how much of the debt she is liable for. The final harvest, ing of the crop will have to be done through peculiar processes of law, and the chaff will have to be separated from the grain. I think the assets, upon a true appraisement, will be found to be much less than they have been booked at, and it will require very reliable experts to get at their real and true value.

WAIT AND SEE."

Entertainment at Reform Hall.

Announcement of a free entertainment to be given by the Reform Club Thursday evening, 8th inst., filled the auditorium and also the galleries with an interested and appreciative audience. The platform was tastefully decorated with flowers, giving it a home-like and cheerful appearance, and the entire entertainment was universally considered a grand success. Reflected applause fell alike on the club and on the performers. The willingness of the latter to assist was very gratifying and called forth sincere thanks from all. Miss Alice Smith, who was the pianist, opened the entertainment with a pretty piano solo, and afterward, by special request, played again with equal success. Miss Daniel and her well executed that she received a deserved encore, which was also finely rendered. Mr. A. Gavett gave two readings in his usually fine style. Grace and Elmer Van Aken gave "My Father's a Drunkard" in a very touching way, and Mr. Levere delighted the audience with a humorous rendition of "Yankee Doodle" was rendered. Mrs. Stewart sang two solos and they were exceedingly sweet and pleasing. Her enunciation was distinct, her tones full and clear, and the high notes as charming as a silver bell. There was much regret that she was unable to give a third solo, as many admirers would have been delighted with another piece. The recitations by Mr. Walter McGee were capitally rendered and elicited forth a storm of applause. The first piece "That boy of mine" was so warmly received that he came back and read an exceedingly funny Irish letter, that set the audience in a true roar of laughter. The second recitation, "Corney Island Down the Bay," was also highly amusing. Messrs. Bowne and Elmer Runyon closed the evening's exercises with a splendid duet, that greatly pleased every one.

Reunion of the Class of '77.

The graduating class of ten years ago of the Plainfield High School, held a reunion Thursday night last at residence of Mrs. A. B. Beers who in '77 was Miss Adele Squier. The affair was a social and convivial success, headed being literally a literary feast. Miss Julia Bulkley—then the class' teacher, and now the Principal of all the City's schools—was present, and also Miss Niles who taught the students when they were juniors. In the duties of hostess, Mrs. Beers was assisted by the "Class Baby" they are all so proud of as well as she.

The members present included, Miss Mary Maher, the valedictorian and Class President, Miss Kate Kimball, Mrs. Beers, Miss Carrie Dewey, Miss Ida Angleman, Miss Carrie Voorhees, Miss Julia Ketcham, Miss Louise Wood, Miss Mary Moulton, Mrs. Merrill (formerly Miss Allie Stelle) and Messrs. L. O. Chamberlin, Townsend Rushmore and Charles Dewey, Mrs. Chamberlin, Mr. Merrill and Mr. Beers—and the baby—were among the honored guests. Miss Maher presided over the "flow of soul" that began with dinner from the old school book, and the singing of the class ode. Miss Carrie Dewey read an original and cleverly written decennial history, and others gave extracts from the old records of the class' daily doings. The old march that so often led the class into Assembly Hall, was again played by Miss Dewey to lead them on this occasion into the dining room where the company seated themselves around a table laden with every delicacy imaginable. The cards at each plate were inscribed with appropriate quotations and pleasant allusions to past scenes and events of days now gone by. Mr. Townsend Rushmore acted as toast-master, and the following were given and responded to by different members. The Class Motto—"Age and Progress." The Teachers; The Single Members; and The Better-Halves and Honorary Members. "Mark Twain's discovery of Adam" was read, and Miss Julia Bulkley spoke for the Class' past teachers. Previous to these toasts, was discussed the adoption and presentation of a Class testimonial to the school. This matter was subsequently left in the hands of a committee. The evening's programme closed with the reading of a decennial ode by Miss Mather.

The success and effect of this reunion of the Class of '77, will undoubtedly be imitated and attained by others who have been graduated from the Plainfield High School.

—You can find the finest line of photograph frames, in plush and brass, at Allen's, the Stationer, No. 21 East Front street.

—Just received at Allen's, the Stationer, a large line of sealing wax and

The Official Report.

At the final meeting of the joint detail of the banner held by Winfield Scott Post Relief Corps No. 10, at this city, the treasurer's report was as follows:

Receipts of fair.....$764.70
Disbursements.....707.40

Net proceeds.....$56.17

ROBERT WALKER, Treasurer.

Christmas Shopping.

Within the next fortnight Christmas shopping will be one of the chief occupations of every Plainfielder, but more especially of the ladies. Our merchants have made ample preparations for the holiday trade, which is evident from the display of goods in the show windows about town. In most instances people who go to New York to make their selections, invariably return to find that they could have made better bargains at home. By consulting our advertising columns, purchasers may find something to their advantage.

Officers of the W. R. C.

The annual meeting and the election of officers to the W. R. C. for the ensuing year took place Friday evening, with the following result:

President—Mrs. E. L. Morse.
Senior Vice Pres.—Mrs. W. C. Smith.
Junior Vice Pres.—Mrs. Lydia A. Walker.
Treasurer—Mrs. M. W. Terry.
Chaplain—Mrs. C. Bittenbouse.
Conductor—Mrs. G. Rittenhouse.
Guard—Mrs. S. Moore.

Mrs. Addis was elected delegate to the Convention, and Mrs. Bray, of Hoboken, as alternate.

Preparing for Winter's Snort.

The managers of the Plainfield Tobogganing Company have had a force of men at work for some time past, putting the course in order for the season that is expected large patronage of the coming season. This is the fashionable out-door sport of young and old alike, and if the elements are favorable the Plainfield slide will undoubtedly be kept busy until Winter's backbone is broken and the toboggan-ers have slid into the lap of Spring. The slide is being put in first-class order and polished, while the supports have all been tested and strengthened until they are even firmer than ever.

HYMENEAL.

MARSH—PACKARD.

The beautiful little Episcopal church that adorns the Borough, was the scene of a brilliant and interesting event on Wednesday evening of last week. Rev. T. Logan Murphy, the rector of the Church of the Holy Cross, in that ceremony united in marriage Miss Marion Frances Packard and Mr. Warren Henry Marsh. The bride in gore white was escorted to the altar and given away by her uncle, Thomas B. Brooks, Esq., of West Seventh street. Mr. Will Bass acted as best man, and Messrs. Dexter Tiffany, Herbert Stroud, Jamed Dodraff and Paul Abel served as ushers. A reception to a large number of intimate friends was afterwards held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Packard on Madison avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Marsh left for New York later in the evening. The groom is a young resident of this city, is now Private secretary to the Manager of the Cincinnati, Jackson and Mackinaw Railroad. Mr. and Mrs. Marsh will in future reside with the Manager at his residence in Toledo.

Maj. Anderson Post Election of Officers.

A regular encampment of Major Anderson Post, No. 109, G. A. R., of this city was held in the Post room, K. of P. Hall on E. Front St., Thursday evening, 28th, with Com'r Nelson Runyon in the chair. All the other officers were present. When the business was completed, a few matters of routine were disposed of, and the election of officers was then declared in order for the remainder of the year. According to Department by-laws each Post must elect officers yearly on the first meeting night of the Post in December, and the following were chosen last night to serve the Post for the ensuing year:

Commander—Nelson Runyon.
Senior Vice-Commander—Elmore D. Moffett.
Junior Vice-Commander—J. B. Clark-son.
Quarter-Master—Peter V. Weaver.
Chaplain—T. R. Crosby.
Officer of the Day—H. B. Weaver.
Officer of the Guard—J. N. Andrews.
Sergeant—Dr. A. S. Titsworth.
Trustees—J. H. Clarkson, Charles Bartlett, James H. Bonne.

Considerable other business was transacted, which is only of importance to members of the Post.

Leo Daft's Lecture.

As to other attractions in various parts of the city last Thursday evening, a large and appreciative audience assembled in Music Hall to listen to Mr. Leo Daft's lecture on Electric Lighting.

During the day Music Hall had been wired for incandescent lighting, and from the dome of the large auditorium fifty incandescent lamps, from fifteen to twenty-five-candle power, shone brilliantly on the audience below. The stage put one in mind of an electrician's workshop, for on the platform a dynamo-machine was used in experimenting during the lecture, were known only by the lecturer himself and his able assistants, Messrs. Charles Bertheimer and Schuyler Crane. Electrical insulated wires of many varieties and sizes, were connected with the improved Daft dynamo erected at the corner of Clinton avenue in French Bros' flouring mills on somerset street, where the power for the exhibition was furnished. Corporation Counsel Osgood H. Marsh attended to the footlights and in a few appropriate words introduced the lecturer, Mr. Leo Daft of this city, although, he said, no introduction was necessary. Mr. Daft began his lecture by explaining the origin of electricity and the advancement made in the different systems, especially during the last decade. He illustrated his remarks with experiments showing powerful electric light from crude coal, and a 6,000-candle power arc light from powered coal. The latter was very dazzling and almost blinded the audience for several minutes afterward. He also illustrated, by experiments, the effect of admitting air into incandescent lamps, and the brilliant result of an excessive current on carbon pencils in the air, all of which were clear and highly instructive and highly appreciated by the audience, who frequently showed its appreciation of the lecturer's efforts by hearty applause and laughter. At the close the shower of molten iron were equally interesting experiments. In the latter experiment, steel table knives, files and other hard substances were easily melted by inserting them between the carbons of powerful electric lights. Before concluding his lecture Mr. Daft gave some additional illustrations and experiments of axial magnetism—the magnetic ram, the bridge of spikes, etc. He closed by reciting an ode on electricity.

The lecturer before retiring thanked the audience for the close attention given him throughout his discourse, and congratulated them upon the hearty support they had given so worthy a cause. The lecture was given as a special benefit to Trinity Reformed church, and the entire proceeds will amount to between $200 and $300. Mr. Daft spared neither time or expense to make his experiments successful, and the magnetic motors, etc., used in illustrating one of the greatest discoveries of the 19th century, were all his own.

—The decision of the Court of Common Pleas at Elizabeth in the Bilmn case, of which we give the particulars elsewhere, is of the greatest importance to this city. Judge McCormick holds that the Council is not given any power to prohibit the disposal of liquor other than by sale.

—Who says they want a gold pen, go to Allen's, the Stationer, and get the best sold.

A Musical and Dramatic Entertainment for the Benefit of Trinity Chapel.

The tastefully furnished parlors of Mrs. Kate C. Conant's residence at Evonia were comfortably filled on Thursday evening last week, with a gathering whose patronage will swell the funds for the maintenance of the little Church of the Heavenly Rest, about $100. The occasion was a musical and dramatic entertainment, the programme of which was already appeared in these columns. As after the usual order, for the first half hour the audience was given in the shape of melo-drama and farce, as well as a social song of his own. The result of the play's rendition was thoroughly successful, Miss Wilcox was a charming comedienne, and specially in the "balcony scene"—by Whipple after Shakespeare—was her audience fascinated by her natural sprightliness and "asking" ways. Mrs. Conant as leading lady was also thoroughly natural, and altogether charming in a part that called for more than ordinary ability—was a bit of coquetry—acted with skill—and visible through it all an odd and ever constant love of fun. Miss Brown in another performance, the sympathy of all present. Miss Stevens—whose powdered hair and role of "Aunt" could not hide her youthful features—filled the part gracefully, and at times even passed that point where amateur stiffness and professional ease meet. Mr. J. Oscar Stevens as Capt. Crosby, "fairly fell out of his role" only sustained throughout the play his character of a broker so immersed in stocks that he dreams them, and who at one of "museum aromatic sewing machine" and wonders "what's the matter with the ticker." Mr. Whipple, who had undertaken the role of "Jack Hollis," a jovial character of his own to keep up. But he was more than equal to the emergency, as after filling both parts with ease, and humorous and melo-drama, his genius still ran over.

The earlier portion of the evening was devoted for a musicale in which Miss Mary E. Hergesheimer, Mrs. Conant and J. H. Stubbs, the tenor, of the St. James Episcopal choir of Brooklyn, rendered vocal and instrumental solos that were commended by sincere applause and deserved encores. Miss McIlwaddo, especially, sang with much expression and correct-ness, and Mrs. Conant and Mr. Stubbs proved the possession of pure and pleasant voices. Mr. R. Fletcher Tilton, the organist of the same church, was a large part of this part of the programme. Besides his piano selection that displayed his skill on the instrument, he gave imitations of the operatic style of negro, bent and bass violin-ists. If he would have consented Mr. Tilton might have spent the evening replying to enthusiastic recalls with proofs of his versatility.

CITY COUNCIL MEETING.

More Electric Lights Granted—Councilman Cares Appointed a Regular Policeman—Other Details.

President Marsh called the City Council to order in adjourned session at 8:30 o'clock Monday evening, and the roll call showed the following other Councilmen present: Messrs. Bowser, Carey, Cox, Dunham, Taylor and Wilbur—6. Messrs. Dunham and Simpson were absent. The reading of the minutes of the previous meeting were dispensed with, after which Constable Peddler's and cartmen's licenses were presented and referred as follows: Willard Peck, Joseph Ball, John Emmons, Fredrick Gray, John Gray.

A communication was received from Lemuel W. Serrell, stating that he had communicated with the Street Commissioner early two weeks ago with reference to macadamizing Plainfield avenue between Front street and the railroad; also the matter had never been brought before the Council, he took this method of presenting it. The paper stated that the property owners would pay fifty of the expense of macadamizing. It was referred to the Street Committee. Petitions were received as follows: From L. W. Serrell, asking for the extension of electric Light service along West Front street to Grant avenue, and on Plainfield avenue, from Peter Hoagland, Geo. M. Phillips, Robt. E. Heard and others, asking for the extension of the service along West Front street, as far as Clinton avenue; from W. P. Smith, W. A. Darling, H. B. Drescher, Jr., and many others, asking the Council to consider and grant their request to extend the system of incandescent lighting, so as to include Belvidere and Woodland avenues on Netherwood Heights; the territory mentioned represents thousands of dollars, and the extension of electricity that locality would be the means of having it introduced into private residences; from Messrs. E. Marx, E. R. Leland and others for similar service on Park avenue as far as Second avenue. All of the above petitions were referred to the Fire, Water and Lamps Committee.

Claims were presented and referred as follows:

ELECTRIC LIGHTS.

M. W. Carpenter, 3d, $3.75; Moore, $11; B. Dunham, $7.50; Dunham, $20; V. W. Mann, $24; M. E. Thorn, $37; L. F. Wadsworth, $37; R. A. Dunham, $37; John F. Coney, $30; J. M. Dunham, $37; F. A. Dunham, $37; A. Salterson, $37; E. Merrill, $37; A. C. Archer, $37; A. Dunham, $37; Mrs. E. Dunham, $37; O. B. Leonard, $35; E. D. Mallet, $9; W. B. Ayres, $6.

MISCELLANEOUS.

John Johnson $174.20 and $66.66; F. A. Dunham, team and $20.50; R. MacDonald, $6; J. T. Vanderbeek, $6; Vanderbeek, $6; Jacob Mabie, per mounted bill on account of dedicating service, $922.50; C. Jones, $7.50.

POOR.

P. Casey & Son, $15; A. M. Runyon & Son, $12; Jno. H. Babcock, $40.

A communication was received from Mayor Male nominating as regular policeman, Tunis J. Carey. The nomination was unanimously confirmed.

Mr. Dumont submitted the following set of resolutions, commending ex-Chief Dodd's career while a member of the Plainfield police force. They were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the services of Captain Chas. W. Dodd as Chief of Police of the City of Plainfield, have been such as to entitle him to public commendation; that his distinguished ability for years in conducting the police force has been faithfully, and, we believe, conscientiously performed, and has been in every way creditable to him as an officer.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of the Common Council, and that the City Clerk be directed to transmit a copy of the same to be engrossed and sent to Captain Dodd.

D. DUMONT, } Committee.
ROWLAND COX, }

Mr. Bowers from the Fire, Water and Lamps Committee, reported on the petitions for extra street lights and recommended the location of lamps as follows: On East Front street between Plainfield and Leland avenues, five incandescent lamps; on West Front street, between Plainfield and Clinton avenues, 11 or 12 lamps; on Plainfield avenue, one incandescent lamp on the property of Mrs. Emery; at Netherwood Heights, three lamps on Belvidere avenue, and one on Woodland avenue; also one incandescent lamp followed by electric light, at Muhlenberg Hospital. The report was received and recommendation adopted, all voting aye.

Mr. Cox from the Laws and Ordinance Committee, reported as correct the bill of Mayor Male. It went to the Auditing Committee.

Mr. Wilbur, from the License Committee, returned, with the Committee's recommendation to grant, the above license petitions. The report was received and the recommendation adopted.

Mr. Dumont, from the Street Committee, reported having the communication from Mr. Serrell, with reference to macadamizing Plainfield avenue, and recommended that the same be referred to the next Council, as the appropriation available for street purposes was about exhausted. The report was received.

The monthly statement of the treasurer and collector presented at a previous meeting, were returned from the Finance Committee by Mr. Taylor, and ordered on file. The same Committee reported back as correct the bills referred to said Committee during the evening, in addition to two bills of Collector Johnson, $219.94 and $29.36, which were acted on at a former meeting. They were transferred to the Auditing Committee.

The Clerk read a letter, at the request of the Chair, that about the only unfinished business of any importance was the request for a pauper burial plot, but no action was taken in the matter.

Mr. Dumont made a motion which prevailed, that when the Council adjourn it be to meet again on Friday, Dec. 30.

New Ordinances.

Corporation Counsel Marsh was asked to give an opinion as to what time the ordinances passed at this meeting will go into form with the meeting of the County Board of Assessors. He said the object desired could be had by passing a new amendment to the ordinance on page four of the book of records, providing for a law to change the date of making assessments. Upon motion the matter was left to Corporation Counsel was requested to prepare an amended ordinance and to present the same at the next meeting.

The following claims were in at the last meeting were then taken from the table, referred to the proper committees and subsequently returned: Cooper, $5; Plainfield Lumber Co., $187.19; Plainfield Electric Light Co., $750.; F. Lane & Co., $49.60; J. B. Wilson, $263.08; Schwed Bros., $30; Times Printing Co., $21.50; H. D. Dayton, $34.45; F. A. Dunham, $10.

Mr. Dumont made a motion that the Auditing Committee report only on the election claims, that of the collectors and that of Mayor Male for detective service. The motion was carried, all voting aye.

The Auditing Committee reported in favor of paying Mr. Male's salary and the bills were ordered paid by warrants on the treasury.

Council then adjourned.

FANWOOD WRINKLES.

Falling Leaves from the Note-Book of Our Suburban Saunterer.

The building operations in the vicinity of the depot are being pushed forward in a way that marks the builder's every heart. Mr. Dunsper and Mr. Bates are the latest accessions to the list of business enterprises. Mr. Dunsper's building is nearly completed, and the Land Improvement Company's buildings are being pushed rapidly to completion. The new depot will be ready for use by the end of the year.

On the ferry boat one day last week I saw a curious thing. A young man offered a seat to a lady who was about to leave the cabin, when the lady requested him to keep his seat and take the book he was using till they arrived at their destination. The young man could hardly believe the evidence of his senses when the lady handed him a book, and looked on in blank amazement. If the young man in question will read this letter of this sort, we should soon hear the end of the discussion as to whether a gentleman should always offer his seat to a lady.

What a blessing the telephone is! A few days since I desired to let both a friend of a certain time that was to arrive that afternoon. I stepped to the telephone office and after a little delay was connected with Haines & Co. Mr. Meland being in the office, I would ask her to step to the telephone. "Is that you, Mrs. Meland?" was the reply. "Mr. Redford wants me to tell you that there will be a Hoffman matinee today, and suggests that you attend with him." "All right. I will meet him at the Vienna Bakery at one o'clock." I took her at her word in the idea, and I secretly had her left the office. "All right. "220 Law office. Five minutes elapsed, and I called again. The telephone boy announced that "the party wanted the line" and I was at the telephone. I telephoned back, "Mr. Redford will not be in town, he only wanted to let you know that the performance is to-day." My communicant repeated all the message word for word, giving my name, age, occupation and address. I discovered that I was Mrs. Redford. Then that riddle, she told her, at the Vienna Bakery, waiting, from one till two. "Why?" said she, when I appeared before her. "Because I at the telephone, and I couldn't imagine who was at the other end. And my interest brought that you meant that as Mr. Redford couldn't come, that I might take his place." So I waited. Such is life.

A meeting of the Fanwood Club was recently held; there was a large attendance, and much important business was transacted. That was on Tuesday night, and on Wednesday a notice declaring the Club House closed appeared on the front door. What's the matter now?

I understand that the sidewalk along Park avenue is to be repaired. This is a matter of news to all who are obliged to pass that way at night.

Children on the way to school look with wistful eyes at Mr. Ritchie's stock of Kodak Books. Fond parents will find their young ones willing to sink the taste of the young.

When Mr. Sykes announces in church the meetings of the Ladies' Aid, he always mentions the place of meeting as at the residence of Mrs. so and so. The change is quietly insisted upon by these feminine confabs, and the Ladies' Aid refuses to take "local option" in the matter. Although Aid-like ones, the ladies seem to work to a purpose, for a new organ is talked about more than they. Persons wishing any sewing done can not do better than to go it with the Ladies' Aid every time.

Closely allied to this is the Choir Guild, a new organization. Its second meeting was held at 21 Park Avenue, and it is said that the Guild is to give a Rag Sale next week at Mr. Wood-Hall's. All the sale all sorts of fancy rags and no-knick-nacks placed on sale. Judging from the change it will very probably find something to his fancy at that time.

Mr. Savage, the druggist, has gone the way of every other druggist who has tried his hand at that place. Perhaps the reason why a first class drug establishment herein became Fanwood is such a healthy locality that they starve. Better local for the apothecary's skill. Applications for building lots must be made to George Kyte, sole agent. All lots bought the foregoing will be inserted in this column at one dollar a piece. Make all checks payable to the order of

SUBURBAN SAUNTERER.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

Mr. John Gorry a few days ago received $1,350 from the L. V. R. R. Co., in payment for a strip of land, through which the new road is to run. On Friday last Mr. Gorry left Messrs. Morgan & Co. a strip of his land for similar purposes.

The steam shovel to be used in making excavations for the new branch of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, which runs from Plainfield to Roselle, has arrived, and is already doing service for the company. A number of improvised shanties have been erected, which is to serve as "Arch Brown's," and are tenanted by Italians, who are employed on the new line.

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING COLUMN.

Whom baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she was a Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY, a marvelous cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria, Canker Mouth and Throat. Sold by Dunham & Runyon, Druggists, 107 East Front street. Agents for the more successful remedies. Price 50 cents. Sold by Field & Runyon, Druggists, Plainfield.

ANSWER THIS QUESTION.

Why do so many people go about with a cough when so much is said and so much remarkable testimony is published in favor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs, Colds, Throat and Lung Diseases? Why do so many people suffer from Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Croup and Whooping Cough when they can have a Cough so speedily and yet so perfectly relieved by Kemp's Balsam? Why do so many people have Consumption when Kemp's Balsam will relieve them at once? Sold by Field & Runyon, Druggists, Plainfield.

"Speaking of the Winds," say all the newspapers, "the Signal Service Bureau of What Cheer, Iowa, has been discontinued." Nobody regrets the discontinuance of this bureau, for it was a humbug, and nobody ever paid any attention to its predictions.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PECK'S CORNER. PECK'S CORNER.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall street, New York.

DEMAREST'S NEW STORE.

Choice Creamery Butter. The best in the city. Choice Hams 12½c. lb. New Dates, 10c. Confectioners Sugar, 10c. English Walnuts, 16c. and a large Stock of Canned Goods, Dried Fruits, Nuts, Florida Oranges, &c., &c. All of which are sold at bottom prices. Please give me a call.

P. M. DEMAREST,
27 PARK AVENUE

WHITNEY

Calls Your Attention to

SP

"FOREVER."

"They sat together in the sun
And Youth and Hope stood hovering near,
Like dreams too sweet to come or stay
Chained by the glad moments as they sped
And still two'd their happy speech,
The lovers whispered each to each,
"Forever."

Youth spread his wings of rainbow light,
"Forever" he whispered as he soared;
They heeded not nor marked his flight,
Wrapped in their dream enamored;
And still they smiled, and still the heard
The ever-lovingly-uttered word:
"Forever."

Hope stayed, but straightway smile was gone,
Clouds o'er the sun-shine obscured;
Then, with reluctant, mournful tone
She sighed into the ear of each,
A grave stone mocked earth's pride,
And hand and answered vacantly:
"Forever."

And there—where all the sun rays met
No rainbow spanned the chasm riplead—
Distant but, where she stood here,
Beyond the open coffin-portal,
She met his look without a thrill
And replied firmly—whispered coldly:
"Forever."

O sweet, sweet Youth! O bitter Hope!
O eyes to perform—and ears to hear!
O hands weak vainly reach and grope
In the hopeless years and fears!
Time presents for us lover's rings,
Love for its sister's or for kin:
"Forever!"

—Annie Pendleton, in T. P. Independent.

SOME CURIOUS FINDS.

Treasures and Curios Yielded Up in Singular Ways.

The rea sometimes yields up part of its treasures in a curious and unexpected way, as was instanced lately by the discovery of a silver pencil case in the stomach of a herring caught at Dunbar. The finder, says a writer in the London Journal, was still luckier than a gentleman at Gravesend, who, in cutting up some whiting, found a silver coin in one of them.

Two curious links connected with municipal affairs should have an interest for Englishmen. Some old canvas that had long been stowed away in the timber loft, unexpectedly brought to light, was found to be the municipal flag of Newcastle ship The Victory. The sail was rubbed with hard fried during the battle of Trafalgar. When cut into were seen a portion of an old ship's muniment, formerly belonging to a man-of-war, and the other a piece of sailcloth iron that was observed embedded in the mast, and, on examination, was ploughed up. This was one of the largest kind of iron used in those days.

In a lake in Berkshire a large, misshapen and unwieldy chub was found, so strangely in appearance as to excite much merriment, that the most apt zoologist could not account for its lineal descent or say if it was a distinct species. The creature was at last found in a kind of cage formed by the underwood and timber left standing by the lake. When young and much smaller, this fish must have got into the cage by various means, and to a certain form, the model of that—as it must have forced its way in—did not force its way out, but, here, it soon, after years must have lapsed, lacking quite the form of the parent and straying from mark. With no room to develop, the tail had almost disappeared, the dorsal fin was pitiable, and the head, "chub" like becoming very hard, and the scales like so much incrustation and quite out of keeping. The nose was so pushed in and the gills so enlarged that, when hooked at full in the face, it had the appearance of a negro whose face had been despoiled of its shining and oily surface. Indeed, the existence was a matter of marvel, as the water subsided and it remained a fish in every manner but size and only the most mildly hostile and a semblance of life. When removed, it seemed a burden to know whether it was class this strange discovery as a reptile, fish, or any thing else.

Another proof how nature has her own way of accommodating herself to the most unfavorable circumstances of life, is afforded by the following incident. A lady lost her gold ring. Some days afterwards, during the lower's cat caught a rat, from which prey was secured, and in the rat's belly was got the lost wedding-ring embedded in the flesh. The rat must have been carried by the old rat to its nest, and a very young rat must have thrust its head into the ring. As the animal grew larger each day, the new collar would become a fixture. The wonder is how any animal could live, if, as often,

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY,
AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XX. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 23, 1887. No. 51.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its limitations as in its authorities."—MADISON.

Rates of Advertising

Space	1 WEEK	2	3	1 MONTH	2	3
1 in.	$ 0.75	$ 1.00	$ 1.25	$ 2.50	$ 3.50	$ 4.50
2 in.	1.25	1.75	2.25	4.00	6.00	8.00
3 in.	1.75	2.50	3.25	5.50	8.00	10.50
4 in.	2.25	3.25	4.25	7.00	10.00	13.00
5 in.	2.75	4.00	5.25	8.50	12.00	15.50
6 in.	3.25	4.75	6.25	10.00	14.00	18.00
1 col.	5.00	7.00	9.00	15.00	20.00	25.00

All Editor's must be sold rental.
"Lists of Everything" column, 5 cts. per line.
Double cols. 50 per cent. advance of above rates.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

O. L. JENKINS, M. D.
Homœopathist.
Office and residence No. 107 East Front Street, near Peace, Plainfield, N. J. Office Hours—7 to 9 A. M., 1 to 3 P. M., 7 to 9 P. M. —sep 16-1y.

JACKSON & CODINGTON,
Counsellors-at-Law,
Commissioners of deeds, Masters-in-Chancery, Notaries Public, Offices—corner of Park avenue and Second street—[1886]

G. SIDNEY DAY,
General Auctioneer,
Sales of Personal Property solicited. P. O. Box 132 (Dunellen, N. J.), or address in care of Con verse Furniture Co., Plainfield.

DR. CHARLES E. THEIS,
Dentist,
39 West Front street. A new local anæsthetic or painless treatment for teeth without pain or dan ger. Filling a specialty.—[1886]

H. HANO,
Auctioneer,
P. O. Address, Hanoi, Somerset County, N. J. Orders left at Dr. Carey's surgical hand store, 37 West Front street, Plainfield, N. J., will receive prompt attention.—aug27

O. PARK TEALE,
Architect,
1st Broadway, New York city. Rooms 31 and 32. Inspection and Tests for Bank Building. Real Service, Plainfield.—[1886]

WM. E. McILHENNY,
Attorney-at-Law.
MASTER IN CHANCERY. NOTARY PUBLIC.
Conveyancer of Deeds, Offices, North avenue Opposite Depot.—[1887]

J. H. FERSTER,
Veterinary Surgeon.
Office in A. M. Runyon's livery stable, corner Main and Second streets. Residence, 15 East Fifth street.—[1887]

A. HOUSE, P. MILLER,
Attorneys-at-Law,
Counsellors at the bar of W. B. Maxson, Solicitor in Chancery, Notary Public, etc. Office and Real Estate and Insurance Agency, over the Second National Bank, Plainfield, N. J. Will practice in all the courts of the State.—[1886]

DR. J. F. GORDON,
Electric Baths.
Dr. Gordon treats for all forms of chronic diseases, such as Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Catarrh, Blood Poisoning, Paralysis and all chronic diseases common to both sexes. Ladies attended by Mrs. Gordon. Office hours, 9 A. M. to 4 P. M. Electric Baths, 50 cents each. Office, 107 Madison place, Plainfield, N. J.—[1887]

BUSINESS CARDS.

ROBERT JAHN,
TIN AND COPPER-SMITH,
Scotch Plains,
(Farewell P. O.)
Roofing, stove and Heater work, Pumps, Lead Pipe, and all kinds of job work done. The best and the cheapest Stoves and Ranges in the market. Repairing promptly at prices to suit.—[1882]

TO THE PUBLIC !

We wish to inform our customers and the public generally that we have on hand the best quality of

LEHIGH COAL,

Fresh from the Mines.

It is under cover and well protected from the weather. We are prepared to deliver it by wheelbarrow and to haul other promptly. We can also prepare it to suit all stoves and Nonpareil Lumber, the genuine Waterside at short notice.

A. D. COOK & BRO.

Park Avenue Bakery!
JOHN WALKER, Prop'r
FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the Cele
VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS,
Ascutt Variety of
Pies, Cake and Confectionery.

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.

THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS,
BEST IN THE WORLD.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE

MICHAEL UHDAL,
CONTRACTOR
AND LANDSCAPE GARDENER !
Residence :
NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
P. O. BOX 787, PLAINFIELD.

BOSTON CLOTHING HOUSE
42 W. FRONT ST.
Reliable Goods at Low Prices
Correct Styles. Right Prices

Geo. A. Moore,
(Of the late firm of Moore Bros.)
is now two-story prop-ister of the old establishment
NO. 14 NORTH AVENUE.
Where he will continue to supply patrons with the finest grades of Fruit and Nuts, Candy of all kinds, Oysters, Cheese, Game in season. In fact everything kept in stock first-class or short notice.
Edward Ramonetti,
OYSTER AND ICE CREAM SALOON.
OYSTERS BY THE QUART, 100 OR 1000.
A QUOTE LOBSTER MADE TO ORDER
All Orders Promptly Attended to.
24 NORTH AVENUE,
Plainfield, N. J. Telephone Call, No. 28 1879

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

Force's Hotel !
NORTH AVENUE
Near R. R. Depot, Plainfield, New Jersey.
JAMES H. FORCE, - - Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY HOTEL.
Transient guests taken at reasonable rates.

Bottled Liquors a Specialty.

Laing's Hotel !
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
J. B. MILLER & BRO., - Proprietors.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.

James Conneely
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a first-class
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 32 PARK AVE.,
where he will be prepared to furnish his friends and patrons with the choicest brands of imported and Domestic Liquors.—aug12

TURF EXCHANGE HOTEL,
73 Courtlandt street,
CORNER WASHINGTON, NEW YORK CITY
FRED. W. BALLARD, - - Proprietor,
(formerly of Jersey City), is now conducting the above convenient and well-located stopping place on N. Y. R. to-factory kept by the late James Van Ness, and by all odds the best. All the delicacies in season constantly received.
BAR WINES, LIQUORS AND SEGARS.—[1886]

SOMERSET HOTEL,
For Somerset & Unity Sts., North Plainfield, N. J.
Permanent and Transient Board, at fair rates. First-class location and meals attached.
Meals at all reasonable hours. [1886]

C. E. JOHNSON,
Late firm of Shepherd, Johnson & Gibson,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
Shop adjoining City Hotel on Second street and Park avenue, Plainfield. Yard and shop, 11 East Second street. Jobbing especially solicited.—[1886]

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
AGENCIES—Madison Avenue (cor. Fifth), Plainfield, N. J.
P. O. Box 1051.—aug 21

MRS. L. J. MARSH'S
MAGIC RENOVATING FLUID.
For taking out grease from any kind of goods, without changing the color, or leaving a spot or mark where the grease was taken out. Also for cleaning Kid Gloves, Silk, Woolen Goods, Carpets, Shawls, Feathers, Ribbons, etc., without ripping, and sells from 50 cents to $1 per bottle. Agents wanted. Address, MRS. L. J. MARSH, 27 E. Second street, Plainfield, N. J. Also, at Mrs. Wright's Fancy Goods store, No. 6 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.)

JOHN JOHNSTON,
DEALER IN
COAL !
YARD AND OFFICE, SOUTH AVENUE, NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
The best quality of screened coal at the lowest market price for cash. Address all orders to Box 1 and leave word—coffee—[1886]

Park Avenue Bakery!
JOHN WALKER, Prop'r
FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the Cele
VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS,
Ascutt Variety of
Pies, Cake and Confectionery.

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.

THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS,
BEST IN THE WORLD.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE

MICHAEL UHDAL,
CONTRACTOR
AND LANDSCAPE GARDENER !
Residence :
NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
P. O. BOX 787, PLAINFIELD.

BOSTON CLOTHING HOUSE
42 W. FRONT ST.
Reliable Goods at Low Prices
Correct Styles. Right Prices

Geo. A. Moore,
(Of the late firm of Moore Bros.)
is now two-story prop-ister of the old establishment
NO. 14 NORTH AVENUE.
Where he will continue to supply patrons with the finest grades of Fruit and Nuts, Candy of all kinds, Oysters, Cheese, Game in season. In fact everything kept in stock first-class or short notice.
Edward Ramonetti,
OYSTER AND ICE CREAM SALOON.
OYSTERS BY THE QUART, 100 OR 1000.
A QUOTE LOBSTER MADE TO ORDER
All Orders Promptly Attended to.
24 NORTH AVENUE,
Plainfield, N. J. Telephone Call, No. 28 1879

EDUCATIONAL.

MR. LEAL'S SCHOOL
WILL RE-OPEN
Monday, Sept. 19, 1887.

DODWORTH'S
Class for Dancing & Deportment
—AT—
Seminary Hall, Plainfield, N. J.,
Wednesdays from 3:30 to 5:30 P. M.,
Commencing Oct. 26th, 1887.
THEO. J. DODWORTH.
October 7th, 1887.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST,
Residence—Harmony street, North Plainfield, north bridge from Somerset street, left hand side unfurnished in parlor as per parade ground. Will advise private, likewise marriages, journeys, law suits, etc. Satisfaction guaranteed. She converses in English, German and French.
My husband is a first-class Cor-pet, and repairs robe, patla, harness, etc., cheap for cash.

Plainfield District Telegraph and Fire Alarm Co.
Prompt Messenger Service Furnished.
Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph Co.
LOW RATES. QUICK SERVICE. MONEY TRANSFERRED BY TELEGRAPH. COMMUTATION STAMPS FOR SALE.
OFFICE—4 PARK AVENUE.
W. S. SLITER, Manager.

STEAM HEATING,
FOR
CHURCHES, SCHOOLS, and DWELLINGS.
J. N. SCHENCK,
Plainfield, N. J.
P. O. Box 1051.—aug 21

JAMES K. ARNOLD,
GROCER,
Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts., North Plainfield.

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.,
TO HIRE. CHARGES REASONABLE.
Hugo Weigman.
9 EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

LUTKINS & HUMMER,
DEALERS IN
Butter, Eggs & Produce.
Meats of all Kinds,
DELIVERED TO RESIDENCES IN THIS BOROUGH OR SOUTH AVENUE, Plainfield, New Jersey.
Goods delivered to any part of the city.
A. LUTKINS. L. A. HUMMER.

CAREY'S
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE, NO. 45 WEST FRONT STREET, directly opposite Laing's Hotel, Plainfield, N. J.
Having leased the above premises I am prepared to buy and sell second-hand Furniture, Carpets Stoves, etc., and will also take Furniture to or from depot or moving. Furniture, etc., stored. P. O. Box 696.—may1

GO TO
DICKINSON & CLAWSON,
JEWELERS, 13 Park Avenue,
FOR YOUR
Holiday Presents
IN WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY, And SILVERWARE
SOLE AGENTS for KING'S SPECTACLES and EYE-GLASSES, the BEST MADE, and CHEAPEST in the end. 27nov1

CHRISTMAS CARDS
AND NOVELTIES !
Prang's, Tuck's,
Whitney's, and Others.
A Full Line at Low Prices !
A. W. RAND,
24 W. FRONT ST.

MISCELLANEOUS.

P. P. VanArsdale,
PIANO TUNER.
Instruments out in thorough order. Tuning rea sonable. Pianos and organs for sale and to let, on orders by postal, P. O. Box 186 or left at Wil liam's Shoe Store, No. 6 Park avenue will receive prompt attention. Residence, 31 East Front street. —[1886]

A. TITSWORTH,
Merchant Tailor,
Has removed his place of business to
No. 26 North ave.,
(Room formerly occupied by Frazier Mosher),
ALSO OFFICE OF CITY TREASURER.—[1886]

JOHN CHANDLER,
JARPENTER AND BUILDER,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Residence and Shop No. 36 East 2d St.
Jobbing promptly attended to. 1879

Alex. Willett,
DEALER IN
BOOTS & SHOES,
No. 4 PARK AVENUE.
A full assortment of city fashionable goods direct from Manufacturers at LOW PRICES. Jan1y

G. W. FORCE,
111 West Front street,
OPENING OF FALL AND WINTER STOCK
Boots and Shoes at Low Prices
A FINE GRADE OF GOODS TO SELECT FROM
111 West Front street.
G. W. FORCE.
1sep1y

J. T. ODAM,
PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL
Slate Roofer and Repairer.
Residence, Corner Fourth and Evans, near Station, Plainfield, N. J. P. O. Box 1299.—aug20
All new work warranted for one year. Slate, tin and zinc Shingles. Also, Felt and Gravel Roofing.—[1886]

Steam Marble
Granite Works.
AND
Monuments & Headstones,
Fencing for Cemetery Plots
Large assortment of Slate Mantels.
A large variety of Granite Monuments
All work executed in the most skillful manner and at very reasonable prices. All orders addressed to E. MANNING, FRONTST., NEAR THE M. E. CH., PLAINFIELD, N. J. Monuments erected in Greenwood Cemetery, N. Y. 1sep1y

GEO. D. MORRISON,
NORTH AVENUE.
Has opened a store for the sale of
FLOUR, FEED, HAY,
Oats, Straw, Bran, Etc.,
And hopes by prompt attention and fair dealing to receive a share of the public patronage.
SANDERSON'S
XXXX
BEST FLOUR.
FROM MINNESOTA MILLS. A SPECIALTY. CALL AND SEE WHAT YOU BUY. 1sep1y

LIVERY.
RICHARD H. DAY'S
City Livery Stable !
OPPOSITE DEPOT, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Special attention paid to Boarding Horses by the day, week or month. All kinds of Vehicles for hire on short notice. Telephone Call, No. 16.
1sep1y

ALBERT HEDDEN,
Livery and Boarding Stables
FOURTH STREET,
Between Peace street and Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey. Livery stable prompt attention to. Horses boarded by the day, week or month. Telephone call No. 314.

Livery Stables !
Mr. D. S. ROBERTS
Has Removed to His New Building on
NORTH AVENUE,
adjoining Force's Hotel. Mr. Roberts will always be found ready and able to serve customers with the best turnouts and most satisfactory attendance. Horses on sale or exchange at all times. Terms reasonable and satisfactory. 1sep1y

ESTABLISHED 1866.
Westfield Horse Market.

IRVING & CO.,
DEALERS IN
Carriage Teams, Road, Draft, Speed, Saddle and General Business Horses.
All horses guaranteed as represented.
Central avenue,
Near Depot, Westfield, N. J.

PAINTERS & PAINTERS' SUPPLIES.

Paints, Varnishes, Glass,
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALLPAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
A. SWALM,
No. 8 North Avenue, Plainfield.
1sep1

Weaver Bros.
House & Sign Painting, Graining,
Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a specialty.
Office and Shop in the rear of
126 EAST FRONT STREET,
D. WEAVER. P. O. Box 26. P. WEAVER

W. N. ROWE,
PAINTER AND DECORATOR,
Plainfield, N. J.
Wall Paper, Oil Varnishes, Glass, Brushes, WALL PAPER and WINDOW SHADES. Shop strictly first-class workmanship guaranteed and satisfaction guaranteed. No 18 E. Front street, (G. G. Meeker's old stand.) Plainfield, N. J. P. O. Box 1299.—aug20

L. B. WOOLSTON, J. P. BUCKLE
Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS,
Wall Papers,
PAINTERS' SUPPLIES. 20 NORTH AVENUE.
1sep1y

MILLINERY.

Mrs. J. M. Dunn,
FASHIONABLE MILLINER,
LATEST SHAPES OF
BONNETS AND HATS.
FRENCH IMPORTED FLOWERS.
Feathers, Velvets, Plushes, Ribbons, Laces, etc. Also, Fancy Goods and Notions. Dress and Infants' Caps a Specialty.
TINKING, BLEACHING & PRESSING
Feathers Dyed. Cleaned and Curled AT SHORT NOTICE.
14 West Front street.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

The best brand of segars in the State, and made in the premises from the finest Havana tobacco.
CLARA HAVANA BRAND A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Imported and Domestic Segars, and a full line of tobacco, always on hand.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety.
1sep1y

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in Segars & Tobacco
SEGARS !—
DEPARTMENT, 2 SECOND ST., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smoker's Materials,
Wholesale and Retail.
Specialties—Old Judge Smoking Tobacco, and other popular Manufactures by on hand.

—PICTURE FRAMES—
OF ALL KINDS, AT
S. E. FLOWER'S.
1 New York Prices. Studio 51 West Front street, opposite Dr. Drake's. 1sep1y

L. SMALLEY. L. SMALLEY.
Smalley Bros.,
DEALERS IN
Fresh and Salt Meats, Poultry, Etc.
2 SOMERSET STREET, 109 5TH PLAINFIELD.
Orders called for and delivered. A share of the public patronage is solicited.—[1886]

Benj. F. Moore,
(Late of Moore Bros.)
BUTCHER,
and dealer in FRESH AND SALT MEATS POULTRY, etc., corner Park avenue and Second street will be found ready for business. Orders left at Dr. Carey's surgical hand store, 37 West Front street, will receive prompt attention.—[1886]

MAYNARD & HILL,
PRACTICAL BARBERS
AND
Artistic Hair Dressers,
No. 20 PARK AVENUE,
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at short notice. Shampooing, Shaving and Hair dressing in the latest (and most artistic) fashion performed. 1sep1y

HEADQUARTERS
FOR AMERICAN WATCHES,
DIAMONDS and FINE JEWELRY.
GOLD EYE GLASSES and SPECTACLES, PEARL and STEEL GLASSES. DIFFICULT REPAIRING a specialty. Jewelry purchased.

WALTHAM, ELGIN, HOWARD, COLUMBUS & LANCASTER WATCHES OF EVERY STYLE AND PRICE.

CHESHIRE Watches, $5.00.
WESTBURY Watches, $2.50.
WM. H. FINHAUS,
31 NASSAU ST., NEW YORK.
sep16

Carney Bros.,
PRACTICAL
Plumbers, Tinners & Gas Fitters.
Heaters, Ranges and Stoves.
Dealers in all Kinds of Stoves, Heaters and Ranges. Repairs and Jobbing promptly attended to. Tin always on hand. Rooting, Guttering and Spouting a specialty. Orders left at our residence, No. 5 Somerset street, will have prompt attention. Residence and Shop, No. 5 Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.

POETIC DULLINGS.

The Troublesome Twins.
There once were tw as, two tolding things
Who hunted like one another,
And just to tell which one was which
Was sometimes quite a bother.
One always felt and smelt sort of one,
He likely was the other.

Whether Ted was Ted, or Ted was Ted,
It mattered never a pin;
But somehow it seemed of consequence,
And led to blowers and mistakes
Too numerous to mention.
Yet none were smart enough to find
A positive distinction.

If Ted, while playing in the barn,
Met with slight disaster,
They'd say 'twas Ted that hurt his arm,
To clap on Ted the plaster;
They'd give Ted oil when Ted was sick,
And Ted got well no faster.

One of them didn't like ne'er knew which—
And then came—trouble!
How could they put upon the stone
A fitting epitaph?
They sum.ly turned on it "T—B."
And chose to let it stand.
—Frank P. Stanfer, in Sunshine.

A "Cane Rush" Student.
We picked a big tree with his togs and his
We knew
And we went With a down to the river;
There was Lafe, with his pants rolled up, hurry-ness
boots,
And our pants was as great as our pals.

The swift train snatched him away from our sight,
But we knew he'd come back by and by.
With wisdom-ship, honor, and vision, and prize,
For hope had endowed him with these.

They brought him back home, a week and a
day—
And the doctor who brought him said,
"Shoot,
For the sake of his ear had been carried away,
His eyes they were blacked and his nose weak
in
Two rips were given in, did the doctor man say,
And his pants were all torn in the back.

"Collision!" we shrieked; but he shook his head, "Nay!"
And seemed as he whispered: "Class rush."
—Robert J. Burdette.

My Boy Still.
Do you think I've no pleasure
Many fair children I've loved since then,
But I think still I love them the best.
For he was our first-born child, John,
And I can see him now,
To love him now, whatever may come
He's the boy still.

I remember when he was a little lad,
How he used to climb on my knee;
How proud we were of his pretty ways,
Of his wit and his mimicry,
And I know good and well he's a man now,
With a soul and a stubborn will;
But I love him so to pet, John,
He's mydoy still!

He was just like sunshine about the house,
In the days of his childish glee;
You somehow said that with all his faults
He had counted for much in the world,
And though he has wandered far away,
He's the boy still.

He has been one never a kinder heart,
And I can remember to-day
How utterly down in my heart I was grieved
And knelt at my knee to pray.
And the man will do as the boy did,
Sooner or later he will;
The Bible is warrant for that; so
He's the boy still.

A mother can feel when she can't see,
She is wherethish say sees;
My boy was truant in the good old way,
I shall certainly get my wage,
And though he has wandered far away,
And followed his wayward will,
I know when he comes to pay John,
He's my boy still!
—Indianapolis News.

A Lost Day.
What's in the day I lost—
The golden
Beyond all price and cost,
That shines so rare?

Out of my wandering eight,
My nervous habit?
Did it slip in sight
Its wings of gold?

What were the treasures rare
It hoarded?
What were the pleasures fair
I shouldn't see?

Ah, never day was yet
So fine, so fair,
So rich with precious set,
So free from care,

As that we mourn and sigh
We've lost.
"Alas, how time doth fly
Yet not a jot!"
—Rose Terry, in N. Y. Independent.

Song of Content.
I wouldn't be tethered with wealth
And the care that it's brought attends,
But I want a bit of it—just enough
To keep the wolf from the door,
And a bevy of bonny good friends.

I know not to-morrow's fate or sorrow,
I know not to-day's share of pain,
But give me Life's Joys while they last—
What a Life but the sweets of a day!

Away with Ambition!—a dream—
A shadow that scintits with the light;
He's a brother to me—I envy him not,
Lives a moment, then bursts from the sight.

But give me Contentment—'tis a power
Of the heart of the earth but possessed—
And the prince and the courtier and clown,
If they will, may make all else rest.
—Joseph Whitlis, in Chic. Herald.

A Cheerful Liar.
Across the druggist the baby creeps,
The baby that knows no cares—
And the sorrel dog with the bushy tail keeps
Leads right to the hard, sleep stairs.

Sometimes he climbs on the window sill,
Where a fish his name is Bill—
From any bottle he drinks his fill—
Not the paler fluids, you bet it take.

He sticks his hands in the bulldog's eyes
And bits to the horse's nose;
The tabby cat's tail he pulls and tries,
And kicks at his face with his toes.

Oh, thus does the baby run his race,
And I'm sure he's a welcome guest
If he ever happened to get in a place
Whose he felt would be really sweet.
—Harper's Bazar.

An Old Man's Sorrow.
"Alas!" the old man sighed, with bended head,
"What is that dreams of life have come and
fled;
How have I yearned for fame, and o'er and o'er
Spent sleepless nights in searching burning love,
And now in weary age, I sigh to find
Fleeting joy, by a mere child's hand,
The deeply seat in deliberative brow is
Marked by lines of care, and the head crowns,
To him is into a volume all unsealed,
Whose leaves are blank and words revealed.
The books he writes are read by learned men,
Who wait inquiring eyes to see what he pens,"
"But," I said, as sooner has for men,
When greater men on every hand I see
Who are no knowledge to be sought,
Instead of looking how to play base-ball."
—Leonard Prentice.

Yonkers Men Know
Went to bed sunday,
To get her feet on the bedposts to'd shore;
But, sad to relate,
After sorrow was passed,
When she found that her feet's was here.

BORING A GAS-WELL.

A Vivid Description of an Interesting Operation.

The Crude, Transitory, Simple Machinery of a Gas-Well—The Athlete Driller at Work—How the Gas Is Capped and Piped.

You drive across the city, sunny landscape behind the purple haze of the gas-well, you alight, and in agrassy field you come upon a shining black boiler, whose gauges and safety-valves glitter in the sun, a spluttering consciousness, writes Mary Dean, in the Indianapolis Journal. It stands on loose stones and logs of wood, apparently tossed down at random. A tall, swarthy boy, across his face a long, red scar, is feeding the fire. Occasionally he opens a door under the boiler, and you see a great furnace, filled with logs, with a strong, free gesture, tosses in great splinters of coal from a pile heaped on the ground near by. A long, black belt runs from this boiler into a curiously-built shed of new boards, and through cracks in the engine that runs the gas-well drill that you have come to see, you can catch glimpses of the piston-rods rising and falling as it lifts and drops the well-drill. The engine is small, sturdy, compact, and designed for the supreme purpose of drilling gas-wells.

Near the engine stands the tall, open structure of the derrick, and in its center hangs the gas-well drill, which is simply an enormous chisel continually rising and falling to the bottom of the well by means of a rope. The drill-chisel is made in a single piece, screws one side of which is a round cylinder of iron, the other side of which is a piece of steel, shaped like a chisel, and ground and tempered, and hung by its heavy point. Beyond the rim of girls, outside of the derrick, is a crowd of boys frantic to get in. "No!" says the drill-master. "Some boy will get it into one of that bunch! That bench is for the ladies." Other young fellows, in decorative spirit, nothing in, are hanging around and talking in groups outside. On the other side of the platform of the derrick, opposite the ladies' seat, is a forge in full blast, where the drill is sharpened when needful, and before the well was bored, at least a dozen blacksmiths in the well working-men had their forges there, and sharpened the drill while they watch the work of drilling, and behold! there is never a moment when they are crazy to get a peep at the drill, but unable to do so.

Nothing is more wonderful that the mighty power of a gas-well drill. It is simplicity itself. It is nothing, as regards what is simple, yet it is amazingly effective—solid wrought steel and brass, weighing a ton. A rod nailed to a beam, as if just picked up and fastened there, is exactly the right thing. A rope, with a hook at the end, and a swivel to keep it from twisting, connects the end of a rope over a pulley at the top of the derrick. At two hundred feet below the engine, which is at a right angle, is attached a hole in a board regulates the throttle of the engine, a dangling rope connects the engine, which is at a right angle, is attached a hole in a board regulates the throttle of the engine, a dangling rope connects the engine, which is at a distance; various poker handles, sticks, rings and a string—these work all the machines, for they are close to the hand of the driller, and all are within easy reach of his hand. He is "boss and all hands." He keeps down the helps, is polite to the lucky ones whose gas is struck, he directs the engine, regulates the engine and works the drill, and he hopes and endeavors to keep on striking that it may drill the hole circularly, and he has a rule of it to spoil nothing.

Once in two hours the drill is stopped and is lifted from the well by its suspending rope, which is swung around by means of the drill-man proceeds to measure the well, which is a hole four inches across, in the middle of the derrick, with a long, steel tape, an elegant implement made for the purpose, and marked in fifty feet, and one hundred a rod. He fastens a plummet to a dangle on the end of the tape, and down it drops, nine hundred feet to the bottom of the well. He winds it up again by hand, carefully noting the distance the plummet went with a close cloth, and then coiling it with methodical care, lest the tape get kinks, announces the depth of the well, and next brings up the minute, broken stone debris from the bottom.

The well is dry, being lined with pipe to keep the water out, but in clean coal veins, and times, after a shot at the end of the day, the drops a fall, kins are carefully running from another windows in the derrick. The liquid has a valve in the top through which the water rushes; the weight of the water shuts and falls down the valve while the water is being hoisted.

"Look out, now! Don't get wound up in that rope!" The driller's dry good-humor is off, and out of the way every body!

Soon the driller has the water in the bucket, handles, and, hung up comes the bucket to the well is felt, and, when it is dumped into a hole in the floor with a thud that knocks the valve off and lets the water, with the rush of stone chips and sawdust out of sight. Then the bucket flies up high in the air, and a long rope in the derrick.

Every thing is done with a perking vim—city, every thing is balanced by a readiness, or other seeming careless appliance, so that the driller has a touch of the good old way, I shall certainly get my wage,
And though he has wandered far away,
And followed his wayward will,
I know when he comes to pay John,
He's my boy still!
—Indianapolis News.

A Lost Day.
What's in the day I lost—
The golden
Beyond all price and cost,
That shines so rare?

Out of my wandering eight,
My nervous habit?
Did it slip in sight
Its wings of gold?

What were the treasures rare
It hoarded?
What were the pleasures fair
I shouldn't see?

Ah, never day was yet
So fine, so fair,
So rich with precious set,
So free from care,

As that we mourn and sigh
We've lost.
"Alas, how time doth fly
Yet not a jot!"
—Rose Terry, in N. Y. Independent.

Song of Content.
I wouldn't be tethered with wealth
And the care that it's brought attends,
But I want a bit of it—just enough
To keep the wolf from the door,
And a bevy of bonny good friends.

I know not to-morrow's fate or sorrow,
I know not to-day's share of pain,
But give me Life's Joys while they last—
What a Life but the sweets of a day!

Away with Ambition!—a dream—
A shadow that scintits with the light;
He's a brother to me—I envy him not,
Lives a moment, then bursts from the sight.

But give me Contentment—'tis a power
Of the heart of the earth but possessed—
And the prince and the courtier and clown,
If they will, may make all else rest.
—Joseph Whitlis, in Chic. Herald.

A Cheerful Liar.
Across the druggist the baby creeps,
The baby that knows no cares—
And the sorrel dog with the bushy tail keeps
Leads right to the hard, sleep stairs.

Sometimes he climbs on the window sill,
Where a fish his name is Bill—
From any bottle he drinks his fill—
Not the paler fluids, you bet it take.

He sticks his hands in the bulldog's eyes
And bits to the horse's nose;
The tabby cat's tail he pulls and tries,
And kicks at his face with his toes.

Oh, thus does the baby run his race,
And I'm sure he's a welcome guest
If he ever happened to get in a place
Whose he felt would be really sweet.
—Harper's Bazar.

An Old Man's Sorrow.
"Alas!" the old man sighed, with bended head,
"What is that dreams of life have come and
fled;
How have I yearned for fame, and o'er and o'er
Spent sleepless nights in searching burning love,
And now in weary age, I sigh to find
Fleeting joy, by a mere child's hand,
The deeply seat in deliberative brow is
Marked by lines of care, and the head crowns,
To him is into a volume all unsealed,
Whose leaves are blank and words revealed.
The books he writes are read by learned men,
Who wait inquiring eyes to see what he pens,"
"But," I said, as sooner has for men,
When greater men on every hand I see
Who are no knowledge to be sought,
Instead of looking how to play base-ball."
—Leonard Prentice.

Yonkers Men Know
Went to bed sunday,
To get her feet on the bedposts to'd shore;
But, sad to relate,
After sorrow was passed,
When she found that her feet's was here.

BORING A GAS-WELL.

A Vivid Description of an Interesting Operation.

The Crude, Transitory, Simple Machinery of a Gas-Well—The Athlete Driller at Work—How the Gas Is Capped and Piped.

You drive across the city, sunny landscape behind the purple haze of the gas-well, you alight, and in agrassy field you come upon a shining black boiler, whose gauges and safety-valves glitter in the sun, a spluttering consciousness, writes Mary Dean, in the Indianapolis Journal. It stands on loose stones and logs of wood, apparently tossed down at random. A tall, swarthy boy, across his face a long, red scar, is feeding the fire. Occasionally he opens a door under the boiler, and you see a great furnace, filled with logs, with a strong, free gesture, tosses in great splinters of coal from a pile heaped on the ground near by. A long, black belt runs from this boiler into a curiously-built shed of new boards, and through cracks in the engine that runs the gas-well drill that you have come to see, you can catch glimpses of the piston-rods rising and falling as it lifts and drops the well-drill. The engine is small, sturdy, compact, and designed for the supreme purpose of drilling gas-wells.

Near the engine stands the tall, open structure of the derrick, and in its center hangs the gas-well drill, which is simply an enormous chisel continually rising and falling to the bottom of the well by means of a rope. The drill-chisel is made in a single piece, screws one side of which is a round cylinder of iron, the other side of which is a piece of steel, shaped like a chisel, and ground and tempered, and hung by its heavy point. Beyond the rim of girls, outside of the derrick, is a crowd of boys frantic to get in. "No!" says the drill-master. "Some boy will get it into one of that bunch! That bench is for the ladies." Other young fellows, in decorative spirit, nothing in, are hanging around and talking in groups outside. On the other side of the platform of the derrick, opposite the ladies' seat, is a forge in full blast, where the drill is sharpened when needful, and before the well was bored, at least a dozen blacksmiths in the well working-men had their forges there, and sharpened the drill while they watch the work of drilling, and behold! there is never a moment when they are crazy to get a peep at the drill, but unable to do so.

Nothing is more wonderful that the mighty power of a gas-well drill. It is simplicity itself. It is nothing, as regards what is simple, yet it is amazingly effective—solid wrought steel and brass, weighing a ton. A rod nailed to a beam, as if just picked up and fastened there, is exactly the right thing. A rope, with a hook at the end, and a swivel to keep it from twisting, connects the end of a rope over a pulley at the top of the derrick. At two hundred feet below the engine, which is at a right angle, is attached a hole in a board regulates the throttle of the engine, a dangling rope connects the engine, which is at a distance; various poker handles, sticks, rings and a string—these work all the machines, for they are close to the hand of the driller, and all are within easy reach of his hand. He is "boss and all hands." He keeps down the helps, is polite to the lucky ones whose gas is struck, he directs the engine, regulates the engine and works the drill, and he hopes and endeavors to keep on striking that it may drill the hole circularly, and he has a rule of it to spoil nothing.

Once in two hours the drill is stopped and is lifted from the well by its suspending rope, which is swung around by means of the drill-man proceeds to measure the well, which is a hole four inches across, in the middle of the derrick, with a long, steel tape, an elegant implement made for the purpose, and marked in fifty feet, and one hundred a rod. He fastens a plummet to a dangle on the end of the tape, and down it drops, nine hundred feet to the bottom of the well. He winds it up again by hand, carefully noting the distance the plummet went with a close cloth, and then coiling it with methodical care, lest the tape get kinks, announces the depth of the well, and next brings up the minute, broken stone debris from the bottom.

The well is dry, being lined with pipe to keep the water out, but in clean coal veins, and times, after a shot at the end of the day, the drops a fall, kins are carefully running from another windows in the derrick. The liquid has a valve in the top through which the water rushes; the weight of the water shuts and falls down the valve while the water is being hoisted.

"Look out, now! Don't get wound up in that rope!" The driller's dry good-humor is off, and out of the way every body!

Soon the driller has the water in the bucket, handles, and, hung up comes the bucket to the well is felt, and, when it is dumped into a hole in the floor with a thud that knocks the valve off and lets the water, with the rush of stone chips and sawdust out of sight. Then the bucket flies up high in the air, and a long rope in the derrick.

Every thing is done with a perking vim—city, every thing is balanced by a readiness, or other seeming careless appliance, so that the driller has a touch of the good old way, I shall certainly get my wage,
And though he has wandered far away,
And followed his wayward will,
I know when he comes to pay John,
He's my boy still!
—Indianapolis News.

A Lost Day.
What's in the day I lost—
The golden
Beyond all price and cost,
That shines so rare?

Out of my wandering eight,
My nervous habit?
Did it slip in sight
Its wings of gold?

What were the treasures rare
It hoarded?
What were the pleasures fair
I shouldn't see?

Ah, never day was yet
So fine, so fair,
So rich with precious set,
So free from care,

As that we mourn and sigh
We've lost.
"Alas, how time doth fly
Yet not a jot!"
—Rose Terry, in N. Y. Independent.

Song of Content.
I wouldn't be tethered with wealth
And the care that it's brought attends,
But I want a bit of it—just enough
To keep the wolf from the door,
And a bevy of bonny good friends.

I know not to-morrow's fate or sorrow,
I know not to-day's share of pain,

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE, A. L. FORCE.
Editors and Proprietors.

CHRISTMAS.

Christmas is again at hand.

That greatest and best of memorial days, that remembrancer of Heavenly joys, that promiser of worldly pleasures, Sweet Christmas time, around which fondly cluster the maturest thoughts of ago, and the bright-hued expectations and delights of youth!

How pleasant to meditate upon the happy associations inseparably connected with each Christmas anniversary, and how vitally important by ponder well the lesson the day teaches, and, so learning, to render homage to Him, who born at Bethlehem, came to save sin and sorrow, establish over all the earth the blessed reign of Glory to God and Peace and Good Will to men.

To all we sincerely wish a Merry-Merry Christmas and many returns of the day.

INCONSISTENCY.

It is astonishing to what a depth of inconsistency partisan bitterness will sometimes lead men.

Among the many resolutions offered at the recent Republican Convention in Chickering Hall was one reading as follows:

Resolved, That the Convention of the Republican Clubs of the United States, representing the universal sentiment and patriotic desire of the Republicans of the United States, hereby tenders its hearty and emphatic indorsement and condemnation of President Cleveland's action in nominating L. Q. C. Lamar for the Supreme Court of the United States, and we recommend that the Republican members of the United States Senate vote against the confirmation of the same.

That sample of absurdity was finally suppressed by Senator Evarts, President of the Convention, and although it may not represent the "universal sentiment" of the Republican party, it undoubtedly speaks the intolerance of a majority of that political organization.

Who is L. Q. C. Lamar whom partisan animosity would thus wantonly outrage?

A gentleman of honor and integrity, a cool-headed conservative statesman, distinguished alike for intelligence and the honest discharge of duty, and who has served with undoubted credit in both Senate and Cabinet.

That is Mr. Lamar, of Mississippi, thoroughly qualified, in every particular, to grace the Supreme Court Bench, or to fill any office in the United States.

Why do the Republicans antagonize his nomination by the President?

Firstly, because he is, as he has the free right to be, a Democrat.

Secondly, because, being a Southern man, twenty-five years ago he sided with the lost Confederate cause.

That is the sum and substance of Mr. Lamar's offending in the eyes of political Republicanism.

And here comes in the brazen impudence of the Republican party which took into fond embrace and loaded with offices and abundant official patronage upon such unmitigated fighting rebels as Generals Mahone and Longstreet and Guerrilla Mosby.

Consistency is a jewel—a precious jewel, worn politically or otherwise.

Present appearances indicate that the Presidential candidates for 1888 will be as follows:

Democratic.
GROVER CLEVELAND,
OF NEW YORK.

Republican.
JAMES G. BLAINE, OF MAINE.

Prohibition,
CLINTON B. FISKE, OF NEW JERSEY.

Anti-Poverty.
HENRY GEORGE,
OF NEW YORK.

Prepare your ballots! Ours is ready. It bears the honored name of

GROVER CLEVELAND.

If the Republicans persist in slinging Mr. Blaine's slang—War taxes in time of peace for the sake of monopolists and a corruption-breeding surplus, they are doomed to lose several of the North-Western States. The people are chock-full of great unanimity and enthusiasm support the sound and tariff views of President Cleveland. "Truth is mighty and will prevail."

Henry George, the Anti-Poverty champion is a flat-footed free trader. He does not agree with the honest protection and prosperity ensuring plan of Cleveland, the plausible scheme with the silver and unredeemable scheme of Blaine, the Republican; nor with the dry doctrine of Fiske, the Prohibitionist; but fully coincides with George, the advocate of direct free trade, who is on record in print to the following effect:—"The increased power which the removal of restrictions upon trade would give to the production of wealth would be felt in all directions. American manufacturers would begin to find markets the whole world over. American ships would again sail the high seas. The Delaware would ring like the Clyde with the clash of riveting hammers, and the United States would rapidly take that first place in the industrial and commercial world to which her population and her natural resources entitle her, but which is now occupied by England."

What our country needs is charity and sincerity in religion, common sense and integrity in politics, and virtue and economy in society.

POINTS.

Hon. Roger Q. Mills, Representative in Congress from Texas, a statesman of practical ability, is credited with expressing the following tariff views. They are worthy of candid consideration:

"The Republicans claim that low duties will injure the American working classes and reduce wages to the scale of pauper labor in foreign countries.

That is all a mistake.

The working people of America will be greatly benefitted by a reduction of the tariff.

The American workmen are the poorest paid workmen in the world for the amount of product they turn out.

Take coal for instance.

A miner in England, Belgium or Germany gets from 70 cents to $1 a day, while in the United States he gets $2 or upward per day.

But his superior wages are not due to the tariff, but to his even efficiency.

The foreign miner only turns out a ton a day on an average, while the average turned out in America is over four tons a day.

The American miner gets say 50 cents per ton for his work, the foreign miner 25 cents to $1.

Now which is the poorest paid labor?

How can a ton of coal whose labor cost is 75 cents be imported and compete with ton whose labor cost here is 50 cents?

It is not the rate of daily or yearly wages that is imported to sell here in competition with the daily or yearly rate of wages paid in this country.

It is the ton of coal.

The cost of production is the thing that fixes its market value.

And its cost of production is lower here than in Europe.

This same fact exists in cotton and woolen manufactures, and in most of the manufactures of iron and steel.

Our people use labor-saving machinery to a greater extent than any others, and consequently they produce more in a given time than any other, and because they can and do produce more their wages are higher.

It is skill and productive power and demand for work that make high wages.

Our workmen have the skill and efficiency.

Are they want increased demand for their employment? which will give them constant work and constant tendency to earn higher wages.

What will give that greater demand for their employment?

More extended markets for the sale of their products.

How are they to get them?

By lowering the cost of materials that make the finished products, by accepting in exchange for our products the surplus of others.

The Republicans say the Democrats are in favor of free trade and mean to do away with customs.

That is silly.

We speak of free trade as we do of free men.

Yet free men have to be taxed to support government and so does trade.

When we say free men we mean men who refuse to work unnecessary burdens, and when we speak of free trade we mean trade stripped of unnecessary burdens.

We have had custom houses and tariffs from the beginning, and will have them to the end.

First View of the Loan Exhibition.

Despite the most uncomfortable and disagreeable weather, both crowded and under-foot, the first view of the Loan Exhibition arranged for the profit and pleasure of the Plainfield public, was attended by a large and distinguished audience in the Art Gallery, Tuesday evening. The tickets for this "opening" were limited to two hundred as one dollar each, and there were about two hundred present, a fine entrance fee. Secretary it was announced that the admission tickets of the evening were to be retained until another evening, so that the privileged chancers would have an opportunity to revisit the collection of paintings, enamels and porcelains, and enjoy an examination at their leisure. Because of such privilege and on account of the non-arrival of the catalogues, those present generally gathered in the main gallery and received their first look before that well promised. What is an art exhibition without a catalogue?

Directly opposite the gallery entrance stood a table on which was a costly and some harrier of antique bronze intricately carved. A fairy lamp inside, spread by its heat the pungent order of myrrh through the room, to thoroughly intellectual an audience, and one so representative of the community's best culture, has seldom been seen as that which grouped itself before this improvised altar. For over an hour Mr. F. X. Schoonmaker held the undivided attention of his audience by his eloquent and intelligent lecture upon "The Chinese and Their Arts." The frequent applause, at times, as well as the handsome volume, was most flattering commendation.

From his lecture the following description of the material and the method of manufacture of cloisonne enamels, is taken. It will be found in greater detail in the catalogues when issued: The art of making cloisonne enamels was a natural result of the carrying out to a refined ideal the ancient process of inlaying precious stones on metal surfaces for purposes of decoration. In the early process beds were dug out in the metal to receive stones of various colors were laid and fastened by raised points of the metal turned over and clamped. Following this old idea the method came that of filling the beds with a paste made of powdered glass of the desired hue, and securing it permanently to the metal surface by melting it with a blow-pipe, thus forming what was practically an enamel designed to imitate precious stones. This style of enamel is known as "Champ-leve"—surfaces cut enamel. Afterwards was invented a new process whereby the partition walls of the bed were to be filled with colored enamel, could be constructed with greater facility, enabling the artists to make the elaborately ornamented and beautiful objects now generally known as cloisonne enamels. This consisted of making the partitions separately from the body to be ornamented, by drawing out thin strips of copper strips, which were shaped to fit the lines of the drawings representing the intended partitions fastened on the body, the enclosures thus formed to be then filled with the colors. The art, under the improved method, was carried to a marvelous degree of perfection in China and Japan, but has long since died out in the latter but the mechanical features. No one today knows how to mingle the substances—powdered glass—with the proper coloring matters—that formed the beautiful vitrified enamels once made; and, no one, at the present day, imitate successfully the softened and brilliancy of the colors used by the old Chinese masters. The art of making the enamels used in the formation of all those old pieces is lost, the skill displayed in the combination of the brilliant colors employed on them, and in the blending of such extreme opposites as, for instance, greens and purples, has never been equaled by any artists but those of China, and in China by but a few whose exceptional genius found opportunity for the peculiar conditions of the imperial patronage, and within a comparatively brief period, long passed.

The Schoonmaker Collection that is exhibited, is valued at $40,000. It contains eighty-seven specimens of the finest examples known to exist. All other collections in the World together could not equal it. The South Kensington Museum in England only contains twenty pieces, and the New York Metropolitan Museum of Art, but eight. The great authority of the country, thus endorses it:

F. J. Shoonmaker, Esq.

DEAR SIR: Having personally examined the Cloisonne Enamels owned by you in this city, I am glad to assure you that for such number of rare pieces may be seen in any other museum in Europe or America.

ROGER E. MOSER.

New York, Dec. 14, 1887.

The porcelains also loaned by Mr. Schoonmaker, are exquisite and valuable specimens. One is a fac simile in shape, and almost the duplicate, of the "Pearle Slave Vase" recently sold in New York for $40,000. It was made at the same period, the Kang Hee dynasty, 1661–1722. The art that produced those porcelains is lost, probably forever.

Descriptive catalogues of all this, and more, will be sold at fifteen cents, a price too low for their intrinsic and historical worth. The book is printed in brown, with a vignette cover by Mr. George Wharton Edwards of this city, and artistic head and tail pieces.

In the absence of catalogues, it is impossible to give a general review of the paintings on exhibition, or to do the finished of favorable mention to all who have kindly loaned some treasure of art towards the success of the affair. As a whole—we have the endorsement of no less an authority than Mr. Rufus B. Moore, of the New York Metropolitan Museum of Art, who says our city owns a public art gallery that excels any of its kind in the possession of meritorious and interesting works, and is not equalled by even a city so enterprising and rich as St. Louis. In consequence, the addition of thousands of dollars worth of ceramics and paintings, offers the public such an exhibition as even the people of the largest metropolis in the World are not often favored with. In particular, there are many pieces of skill and talent in both oil and water-color. Of these we can only speak of a few today, and leave the larger majority, with the specimens of pleasure, enamel and porcelain, until a future article.

The gem of the few portraits in oil exhibited, is that of Mr. Lyon, a grave-wit power of uncertain age who resides at present in Central Park, New York. The portrait is the work of J. H. Beard, the great animal painter, who values it at $1,500. He is the present owner, and loaned the picture to Plainfield's Gallery. The flesh tints are remarkably natural, about the hands and cheeks.

W. Morgan is represented by three examples of his work, loaned by Mr. Schoonmaker. One, a girl divining if he loves her, by the petals of a daisy, shows the perfection of nature in the coloring of the neck and arms; and another, a gypsy offering to tell your fortune, has an underskirt of blanket flannel that is wonderfully true in texture.

Mrs. A. C. Baldwin loans a Cropsey. It is an autumnal scene rich in foliage colors and great in prospective.

Mr. George Wharton Edwards shows a number of typical paintings—entirely original and exceedingly artistic in treatment. There are no paintings in the exhibition that attract more attention. Mr. Edwards' forte is artistic book-illustrations, but he has easily gained a claim for his painting in many ways that some of the highest-priced artists representing in the Gallery.

We cannot understand why the "chestnut" picture in the exhibition should be the overgrown canvas that is said to depict "The Death of Gen'l Sedgwick." There is merit in it, and we are told some of the likenesses are considered good, but it is unnecessarily offensive in treatment, and incomplete and defective in drawing. Yet our principal objection is, it is given too much prominence among pictures that will excel it. Mr. Wm. Sartain, of the Metropolitan Art Academy in the Spring, the New York critics of acknowledged judgment condemned it, and the most important and effective, by far, it could not be hung in any well regulated competition."

But in justice to the painter, and out of respect to the judgment of the committee mentioned below, we with pleasure give Mr. Schoonmaker's exact words to a PRESS reporter Wednesday night. He said: "I should not have consented to speak on a subject I quite last night, I felt I would presume if I should go out of my lines and refer to the pictures, which I have studied every temptation to do so. But perhaps I may as a reader of THE PRESS to quote the remark of one of the greatest of living painters, who visited the Metropolitan Gallery just before the opening: 'The collection of pictures is astonishing in number, quality and artistic arrangement. It excels all I had supposed any town less than a capitol was capable of making. That original picture there,—The Death of Gen. Sedgwick—would honor any wall.' And the best of all the people present at the First View, I saw no one more modest than the genius who produced that canvas and whose hard work and fine taste contributed so much to the splendid arrangement of the gallery—Miss Scott."

Space being limited we must neglect other paintings, lately, though we would just briefly advise our readers not to miss a few beauties in French water-colors, that will be found in other rooms apart from the main gallery. A special notice, however, is due the handsome furnishing that has been given the ladies' parlor on the first floor. Mrs. Charles Wadsworth, Mrs. Mason W. Tyler, Mrs. Rowland Get and Mrs. Talmage, have succeeded at an expense of about $500 in fitting up a most charming room for ladies who have long desired a quiet place for reading. The walls are covered with cartridge paper in soft tints, and decorated with some of the best examples of the round above. Cretonne hangings, carpet and every article of furniture displays fine taste and good judgment.

The Trustees of the Public Library and Art Gallery, are:

HON. JOB HAIES, President.
Mason W. Tyler, V. Pres. Jos. W. Yates,
Rowland Get, Treas. H. F. Hubbard,
W. M. Sullivan, Sec. A. C. Baldwin,
J. Evarts Tracy, Jno. S. Blackwell.

ART COMMITTEE.
George H. Babcock, Chairman.
Jno. S. Blackwell, A. C. Baldwin.

LIBRARY COMMITTEE.
Mason W. Tyler, Chairman.
J. Evarts Tracy, Henry P. Talmage.
COMMITTEE ON READING AND ENGRAVINGS.
Julian Scott, C. O. Wharton Edwards.

DANGER!

Now that the Board of Managers of the Fire Department is stripped of all power to raise money by taxation for the purpose of protecting the property of our citizens from fire, the time should do something at once towards raising by donation and solicitation the little that must be had.

We may say no one who laid down to sleep on Sunday night realized that if a fire should have broken out at that time, the whole city would have been laid to the ground.

Chief Waters' hands are tied. He can turn to no one for even money to pay for sufficient salt to melt the snow from the engine-streets. If a fire should devastate the calling out of No. 1 Engine there is no money to hire horses to drag it, and all the volunteer firemen in the city could not drag it. Should the fire be in the snow-bound streets, for a dozen blocks.

Whatever is to be done should be done at once. A citizens' meeting might be called and possibly result as desired, the quicker. The Real Insurance agents should write at once to the home office of their companies, state the peculiar condition of the imperial patronage, and within a comparatively brief period, long passed.

The Schoonmaker Collection that is exhibited, is valued at $40,000. It contains eighty-seven specimens of the finest examples known to exist. All other collections in the World together could not equal it. The South Kensington Museum in England only contains twenty pieces, and the New York Metropolitan Museum of Art, but eight. The great authority of the country, thus endorses it:

F. J. Shoonmaker, Esq.

DEAR SIR: Having personally examined the Cloisonne Enamels owned by you in this city, I am glad to assure you that for such number of rare pieces may be seen in any other museum in Europe or America.

ROGER E. MOSER.

New York, Dec. 14, 1887.

The porcelains also loaned by Mr. Schoonmaker, are exquisite and valuable specimens. One is a fac simile in shape, and almost the duplicate, of the "Pearle Slave Vase" recently sold in New York for $40,000. It was made at the same period, the Kang Hee dynasty, 1661–1722. The art that produced those porcelains is lost, probably forever.

Descriptive catalogues of all this, and more, will be sold at fifteen cents, a price too low for their intrinsic and historical worth. The book is printed in brown, with a vignette cover by Mr. George Wharton Edwards of this city, and artistic head and tail pieces.

In the absence of catalogues, it is impossible to give a general review of the paintings on exhibition, or to do the finished of favorable mention to all who have kindly loaned some treasure of art towards the success of the affair. As a whole—we have the endorsement of no less an authority than Mr. Rufus B. Moore, of the New York Metropolitan Museum of Art, who says our city owns a public art gallery that excels any of its kind in the possession of meritorious and interesting works, and is not equalled by even a city so enterprising and rich as St. Louis. In consequence, the addition of thousands of dollars worth of ceramics and paintings, offers the public such an exhibition as even the people of the largest metropolis in the World are not often favored with. In particular, there are many pieces of skill and talent in both oil and water-color. Of these we can only speak of a few today, and leave the larger majority, with the specimens of pleasure, enamel and porcelain, until a future article.

MUSIC IN THE AIR.

What a Man-About-Town Thought of the Praise Service.

I strolled into church last evening, and was much surprised at many things. I thought I had a general idea of what it was all like, but discovered I had been fooling myself. I went in on principle. From the time I entered the front door and found myself in the back of the church, I was completely at fault in every way. There was not a seat to be had, although the Crescent Avenue Church holds many hundred souls with their accompanying bodies. I had arrived before the services commenced, yet even every private box in the gallery was filled with worshippers, who—an usher told me—had got there and been there since 6:30. The audience filling every seat in the church included members of every denomination in the city. Then I remembered the announcement in The Frame of the Service of Song, and ceased to wonder at the size and variety of the gathering. I also remembered how much you had said in praise of Mr. Pierson's choir, and prepared to stay and stand up through it all without a regret.

There was not fifty of the five hundred present, that absorbed the music of Mendelssohn's magnificent Oratorio of Elijah last evening, as a sermon. Four hundred and fifty, at least, came to enjoy and criticise the service merely from a musical standpoint, yet not half that number would have been there if it had cost anything. If I should speak of the affair in a worldly manner, I should say that remembering the almost insurmountable difficulties of perfect rendition that Oratorio presents to even the best ten-thousand dollar choir in the country, its presentation last evening in the Crescent Avenue Church, was a thorough success. I must be permitted to remark that in some instances it is marvellous how much Mr. Pierson is always able to accomplish. Now last night's music was sung over everybody's head, yet we thoroughly enjoyed Mrs. Myer's solo with its organ obligato by Miss Utter, Mr. H. E. May, who is the choir of the church of the "Brick Church," on Fifth avenue, New York, rang "It With All Your Hearts," with more expression than I have ever heard given it. He has much reason, since he first sang in this city with the Schubert Society of Brooklyn, in 1882. The quartette, by Thy Burden, is not the year for $2.50 Address, "TRUE worthy of comment. "He that Shall Endure" was beautifully given by the full choir, and the finale, "And then Shall Your Light," was, as THE PRESS said last Thursday, "grand." The trio for female voices, without accompaniment, "Lift thine Eyes," was—I heard a number of the church people say—"the best thing our young ladies have ever given us." I remember it sung some time ago as a trio by Mrs. Feininger and two of her pupils, and it was then rendered much less perfect. I was so pleased with it last evening that I asked the organ-blower who were the vocalists. He said only the "regular" ladies of the choir—Mrs. Myers, Miss Holmes, Miss Demarest, Miss Gilbert, Mrs. Struthers, Miss Augusta Holmes, Miss Dunn and Miss Mary Demarest.

They have just the biggest organ and the best organist in town. She's small but how she did play the accompaniments to the last chorus. Then her opening selection was a most auspicious introduction, and Gounod's "Grand March Cortege" as a recessional was almost too beautiful for church—if we are guided by pastors' other than Mr. Richards who seem to think the most material the music the more righteously joyous the pride. The Oratorio was a sermon from Elijah's life preached in sweet harmony, and the Rev. Mr.—Richards' few remarks of the same nature, added emphasis to that lesson. If all pastors preach so short and so strongly, you may expect hereafter to meet among the regular church attendants, your

CITY SAUNTERER.

I heard of an amusing mistake of a Crescent Avenue church member, the other day. I wish I might tell you his name as a guarantee of the truth of the occurrence. But I am so fair lovers to secrecy! The story, however, is this. The Rev. Mr. Richards preached a sermon recently from the following text.

"Thy raiment wasnt not old upon thee, neither did any feet swell these forty years."

The church member mentioned seems to have been less impressed with the ability of a mortal man to draw a lesson in righteousness from such words, than he was amused by the novel sentiment of the text itself. On the train the next morning he repeated it to an Elizabethan friend who was not, however, as amused as he had been, because Mr. Elizabeth did not believe such text was in the Bible. Plainfield insisted it was, and hurried through his dinner at Sanford's, on P. O. avenue, to look up the reference which he had promised to send the unbeliever. Having been successful, he wrote on the back of a postal:

DEAR SIR:
See Deuteronomy VIII, 4; XXIX, 5
Also Nehemiah, IX, 21.
Yours Very Truly

When he came to mail the card and consulted an Elizabeth directory, he discovered three or four residents of that city of the same name as his friend. But, as he supposed, he had no trouble in identifying the proper one, and sent the message on its way. But the one for whom the postal was intended, never got it. The man who did sent the astonished Plainfielder a letter in reply, to this effect:

DEAR SIR:
Surely have I scrolled the words of thy first and last epistle, but I learn not why you have exalted yourself as a prophet over me, or what manner of sin you would cast out. My raiment hath not waxed old upon me, for oft have I sent it to the tailor's to be mended, and there—ah, there—no flies upon it. Neither do my head nor my feet swell, and Bunyan's Progress suits me not at all.

May the Lord be with thee,

[illegible]

Now all that is merely amusing in view of the fortunate fact that the Plainfielder happened to address a gentleman who could appreciate the fact that a mistake had been made. Supposing the stranger had been a super-sensitive crank who insisted on punching his correspondent's head. Then your "double-dyed" reporter would have had the assignment to write up the affair, instead of your

CITY SAUNTERER.

Christmas at the Home.

MR. EDITOR:—Will you kindly allow me to answer through your paper the oft-repeated question "What Shall I Send to the Home for Christmas?" We have eight girls and ten boys, varying in age from 5 to 12 years. Shoes and rubbers in assorted sizes, stockings, hoods and mittens, handkerchiefs, flannel underwear, gingham for aprons, pillow cases, napkins and towels, will be very acceptable. "It gives without saying" that from eighteen children, Christmas candies and toys would receive due appreciation.

S. E. KIMBALL.

—If the postmasters throughout the country should enforce the law in regard to the delivery of letters to parties through the post-office, all girls under eighteen years and boys under twenty-one years of age could not get a letter from the postoffice unless by order of their parents or guardians. Here is the law as it reads: "All letters addressed to girls under 18 years of age, or boys under 21 years of age, will be placed in the care of their parents or guardians."

—Just received at Allen's, the Bazaar, a large line of sealing wax sets.

WESTFIELD WISPS.

Westfield cup head "Collector Pierce" paid the county, on Friday last, its full quota of County and State school taxes. He reports the taxes as being paid more promptly than ever before.

The new dwelling houses of Messrs. Sparkman & Seager, Frederick Decker and William Archbold, on the Boulevard, look fast approaching completion. They will be a great improvement and ornament to that portion of our town.

Jerusalem Lodge Election.

The annual meeting for the election of officers for Jerusalem Lodge No. 26, F. and A. M., of this city, took place Tuesday evening, and resulted as follows:

W. M.—John Chandler.
S. W.—Henry Woodland.
J. W.—H. S. Mason.
Treasurer—J. G. Miller.
Secretary—John Vetterlein.
Trustees—Dr. J. B. Prubasco, T. O. Doane, W. H. Selcher.

The officers following the newly elected officers into their respective offices will take place on Tuesday, Jan. 31.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

Visitors to this place are confronted with a scene of business, since work on the new railroad began. Every day extra help arrives, and during the week many horses and carts have been driven from Winfield, Pa., to be used in the work of excavating and filling in along the route. The steam shovel has not yet got to work, but this will be in readiness in a day or two. Wood choppers have been at work for several days past, clearing the way through "Ash Swamp." It is the intention of the company to have the new road in operation by May next.

THE LEGISLATIVE SESSION

Now approaching promises to be one of great interest and importance. The Trenton TRUE AMERICAN has always been conceded to be one of the best and most reliable sources from which to derive information as to Legislative matters. All subjects are fairly and fully reported, and the principal topics intelligently and independently discussed. The publishers will send the daily paper, postage prepaid, during the entire session for $1.50, or the daily during the session and the weekly for the rest of the year for $2.50 Address, "TRUE AMERICAN, Trenton N. J."

LIST OF ADVERTISED LETTERS.

REMAINING IN PLAINFIELD POST OFFICE FOR THE WEEK ENDING DEC. 22, 1887.

Adams, J S
Bailey, Miss Lena
Banker, Jr., E W
Bell, Miss Lizzie
Clawson, Miss Mary B
Cole, Miss Harry
Dott, James
Dowd, Jas
Doty, Miss Arthur B
Fredericks, Miss Mary
Green, Mrs Ella
Hall, Miss Ida
Hall sch, Mrs Geo
Hall sch, Mrs Geo
Hall, Miss Ida
Hedgwick, Miss Lena
Johnson, Miss Laura
Kane, Miss Lillie A
McKintosh Augustus
Miller, Wm
Lawson, Henry
Lyons, Miss Carrie
Meyers, Mrs E U
McCadden, Mrs E
O'Connell, Joe
Pound, Andrew S
Parks, Miss Kate
Reynolds, A S
Rowland, Miss Addie
Rogers, H F
Sayre, Mrs Julia
Scott, Miss
Scott, Mrs M
Smith, Miss Sallie
Smith, Miss Grace
Tomeris, Miss Delore
Turner, Miss
Wells, Eli-8s
White, Miss Amy

Persons calling for above please say advertised.

W. E. FORCE, Postmaster.

DEATHS.

SOULE.—In Piscataway township, December 18, 1887, Mrs. Sarah Soule, aged 72 years.

VAN SLYCK.—On Monday, Dec. 19th, 1887, Chas. V., son of Wm. H. Van Slyck.

FORD & STILES,
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
AND
PRACTICAL EMBALMERS.
Office, Warerooms and Residence,
No. 14 EAST FRONT STREET.
Telephone Call No. 44.
GEO. C. FORD. 2ly921 GEO. M. STILES.

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
UNDERTAKERS, EMBALMERS,
60 PARK AVENUE.
Telephone Call 46.
RESIDENCE—48 MADISON AVENUE.
Telephone Call 37.
Office at Hillside Cemetery.

P. CASEY & SON,
UNDERTAKERS,
OFFICE—No. 1 corner 8d.
Residence, No. 21 Third Street, corner New Plainfield, N. J. Everything pertaining to the business attended to promptly and with other firm in the State. All Calls Promptly Answered Day or Night. 6ly51

JOSEPH SATTELS,
Piano Tuner.
Best Plainfield references. Only authorized agent for the sale of the celebrated Estey & Hamlin Pianos and Organs. These instruments are now in your neighborhood with which to be bought. Address all orders for information to JOSEPH SATTELS, or P. O. Box 1, Plainfield, and leave at Mansell & Sattels, 56 Fifth street, New York.

SKATING
—AT—
"THE CRESCENT,"
DECEMBER 26,
Afternoon & Eve'ng.
FULL BAND!
12-23

You will Save CATARRH Money;
Time;
Pain;
Trouble,
AND WILL CURE
Catarrh
BY USING ELY'S
Cream Balm
HAY-FEVER
A particle is applied into each nostril, and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cts. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Street, Owego, N. Y.

WANTS AND INFORMATION.
Twenty-five Cents for one insertion of three lines under this head. Ten cents per line for each subsequent insertion of same.

PIANO FOR SALE. In perfect order and very cheap. Inquire of J. B. CONVERSE'S & Co. 6tf51 next to Post Office.

BOARDING.—NEWLY FURNISHED HOUSE, pleasant rooms, central location, home comforts. Table boarders also accommodated. Mrs. A. E. SMITH, 113 Second street, Plainfield. 12-9-4t STORAGE.—FIRST-CLASS ACCOMMODATIONS for storing household goods, pianos, furniture, carpets and like from outside. Separate rooms if desired. Apply at 113 Second street, or to Mrs. E. VERMEULE. Two buggies for sale cheap. 12-9-4t Xmas Wonder Land!

AND
Santa Claus' Headquarters!
NOW OPENED AT
ALLEN'S, the Stationer,
'23 EAST FRONT ST.
Call and see where he starts from and what he carries. From cellar to garret our store is devoted Exclusively to such articles as come under the heads of Books, Music, Stationery, Toys, Fancy Articles, Etc., and to nothing else. All suitable for Holiday Presents!
Our business being in these lines all the year round, we believe we CAN and DO offer better selections, greater varieties, and on the general stock LOWER PRICES than can be found elsewhere. At present we call PARTICULAR ATTENTION to some few lines, viz: Unusually fine lines of Children's Books, Dolls, Iron Toys, Pocket Cutlery, Pocket Books, Albums, Christmas Cards and Calendars.
Call and make your selections early. By making a small deposit on them you can have them laid aside and they will be delivered at any time you like.

CRACKED STONE,
BUILDING STONE, SAND, GRAVEL.
In Large or Small Quantities.
Grading and Macadamizing of all kinds, executed in a thoroughly workmanlike manner. Call at the office of the Street Commissioner.
GEORGE M. ANGLEMAN,
(BETTELEY'S OLD STAND.) Corner Madison Avenue and Third Street. 4ly47

COLYER & CO.,
The Popular
Ready-Made CLOTHIERS,
815 & 817 Broad Street, NEWARK, N. J.
Our $10 GENTS' BUSINESS SUITS, (Strictly All Wool) IS THE BEST VALUE IN THE MARKET.
Our $10 and $12 FALL OVERCOATS, give EXCELLENT SERVICE.
Our $2, $3 and $4 CHILDREN'S SUITS are ALL THE RAGE. People from all PARTS of the STATE come to buy them.
Our stock of FINE READY-MADE CLOTHING for MEN, YOUTHS and BOYS, is most complete; and every garment is warranted to be as represented. Goods cheerfully exchanged, or money refunded, if purchase be not satisfactory.
COLYER & CO.,
815 and 817 Broad St., Newark.

John Brown,
(Successor to John Burns.)
Cesspools, Vaults,
Etc., Etc.,
CLEANED!
Plainfield, N. J. Orders left at GARNEY BROS., No. 11 Second street, or addressed to P. O. Box 711, will receive prompt attention.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

P. O. THOMPSON
ONE PRICE CLOTHIER
258 CHESTNUT ST. 209 WALNUT ST.
PHILADELPHIA.
ECONOMY · QUALITY · STYLE · FIT ·
Specialties that please Everybody
IMPORTED LONDON $15 SUITS.
LONDON OVERCOATS $12 to $25
THOMPSON'S Patent Cut $5 TROUSERS.
ENGLISH ULSTERS $18 to $30
The only house in AMERICA inferring at popular Prices, READY MADE LONDON CLOTHING equal to Customer work made in the acceptable ENGLISH STYLE so highly endorsed by EUROPEAN and AMERICAN TAILORS and the Press.
N.B.—MAIL ORDERS PROMPTLY ANSWERED—SAMPLES FREE—Address P.O. Box 459 Philad'a
New York, 245 Broadway.

A CHRISTMAS GIFT WORTH HAVING.
We have our own ideas of enjoyment in the holiday trade, serving, as we do, so many happy people who come here to buy gifts, both useful and ornamental—ornamental in the true sense, for what better ornament for a man or boy than a neat, stylish suit or overcoat.
Then we have lots of other things appropriate for gifts. Fine neckwear, mufflers, handkerchiefs and gloves; umbrellas and canes, the fine gowns and knee costumes suitable and not unduly expensive. Can we not help you to a choice?
ROGERS, PEET & CO.,
CLOTHIERS, HATS AND SHOES,
Broadway and Prince St. Broadway and 32d St.
NEW YORK.
FASHION CATALOGUE MAILED FREE ON APPLICATION.

Mr. N. F. DRAKE, residing at 14 Duer St., North Plainfield, N. J., is engaged with us and will be pleased to see his friends and customers at the Prince St. store, or wait upon them with samples, or answer all inquiries if requested by a line through the mail.

Pure Wines and Liquors,
Persons desirous of procuring Pure Liquors for Family use are requested to call, as my goods are of the choicest brands, while the prices are lower than those charged by first-class grocers in the large cities, and quality superior.
E. P. THORN, 17 PARK AVENUE.
None but the best is offered and the National and European reputation of the different brands of Ales, Wines, Beers, Liquors, etc., is a guarantee, and a liberal public endorsement the result, of this carefully selected mellow stock.
NO EXTRA CHARGE TO DELIVER GOODS.

ABOUT OVERCOATS!
This is about the season for the crank who says "I never wear an overcoat, sir, not even in the coldest weather." But leaving him to his fate which will probably soon be a wooden overcoat, satin lined, we will talk to sensible people who want to protect themselves against the elements. It's a cold day that an overcoat selected from our immense stock won't protect you from, and at small cost, too. See below for a general idea of stock and prices:
At $5, a S. B. or D. B. Serviceable Overcoat.
At $8, a S. B. or D. B. Blue Chinchilla.
At $10, an Oxford or Brown Mixed Cassimere.
At $12 a Black, Blue or Brown Beaver, S. B. or D. B.
At $12, a Black or Blue Chinchilla, S. B., also in Fancy Cassimeres—several styles.
At $13, a Black Diagonal, worth $18.
At $14, a Brown or Blue Kersey.
At $15, a Fine Oxford Kersey, ventilated new.
At $16, a Blue Chinchilla.
At $18, a Black, Blue and Brown Beaver; a Blue and Brown Kersey; also two shades of Cassimeres—very handsome.
At $20, a Black, Blue, Oxford Mixed Chinchilla, S. B. or D. B., also, Sortouts in Blue Chinchilla.
SATIN LINED GOODS.
At $20, $23 and $26, Kerseys and Chinchillas.
ULSTERS.
At $5, a Strong, Serviceable Cassimere.
At $7, a Blue Chinchilla.
At $20, a Fancy Cassimere.
At $15, a Black, Brown or Grey Chinchilla.
CHILDREN'S OVERCOATS
In Great Variety—from $2 to $18. Every article advertised is a GENUINE BARGAIN COME AND LOOK AT THEM.
McGREGOR & CO.,
850–852, Broad St., Newark, N. J.

The Plainfield Electric Light Co.
OFFICE, 35 AND 37 NORTH AVENUE.
Opposite R. R. Station. Mulford's Real Estate Agency

DOMESTIC LIGHTING BY INCANDESCENCE.
HOUSES CAN BE WIRED WITHOUT DEFACEMENT TO WALLS AND CEILINGS, AND EXISTING GAS FITTING CAN BE USED

W. H. MOORE, Manager.

The Empire Steam Carpet Cleaning, FEATHER AND MATTRESS
RENOVATING WORKS,
No. 30 East Front St.
H. WEIGMANN, Proprietor
I beg leave to announce to my customers and the public that I have added to my business that of CARPET CLEANING, FEATHER AND MATTRESS RENOVATING WORKS, and am now prepared to do any kind of work in this line, in addition to my Old Established Business of Upholsterer, Carpet Layer and Awaning Maker, Having purchased new and latest improved machine for that purpose, I can guarantee my work, as the machine will Clean any Carpet from the Lowest Grade to the Finest Moquette & Axminster,
Without injury to the most delicate Fabric. It does not rip, stretch or shrink the goods, but raises the nap and dirt and moth eggs are all removed, and colors restored. No other and more perfect machine will do. My FEATHER AND HAIR RENOVATOR cleans Feathers and Hair thoroughly, killing moths and insects, and steam drying the same in a manner unequaled in any house. Charges reasonable. Special rates for Churches and Charitable Institutions. Goods called for and delivered free of charge within the city limits. 1y12

A. VANDERBEEK,
(CHAUTAUQUA BUILDING.)
NO. 33 PARK AVENUE, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
HAVING DISPOSED OF THE MUSICAL AND SPORTING

Goods Department I am now prepared to devote my entire time to the sale and renting of
—PIANOS AND ORGANS—
Having many years of experience in the Piano Trade I am prepared to furnish first-class Instruments as reasonable as they can be had in New York city. Pianos tuned. Give me a call before purchasing

HARDWARE, PLUMBING, TINNING, AMMUNITION.
Othello Ranges the Best.
BLACKSMITH SUPPLIES.
A. M. GRIFFEN,
Next to Post Office. Telephone Call No. 6.

CITY DEPARTMENT.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION.

L. A. DEMAREST, - - City Editor.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS.
CLOSE—6.30 and 11 A. M.; 3 and 5.30 P. M.
ARRIVE—8.30 A. M.; 12.30 and 3.30 P. M.
SUNDAY MAILS—CLOSE, 6 P. M.
ARRIVE—8.30 A. M.

CLOSE—7 A. M. and 4 P. M.
ARRIVE—10.30 A. M. and 6 P. M.

SUNDAY MAILS—ARRIVE AT 10.30 A. M. Office open from 7 A. M. to 8 P. M. Mail closed 7 P. M.

Mail for Somerville closes Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 12 M.

Post Office open 7 A. M. and closes at 7 P. M. Sundays—Open from 9 to 10 A. M. for the delivery of mail matter. Open at all other times for the purposes of their Sunday services and for such lectures and public entertainments as they may give.

W. C. FORCE, Postmaster.

—Wednesday, Dec. 21st, was the shortest day in the year.

—Follow everybody and go to Allen's to get your holiday presents.

—Mr. Bolze would like to hear that Signal Service Officer Shaw will order from the weather bureau a Christmas gift of good sleighing.

—Monday being the day on which Christmas will be observed, the employees of some Press Works will receive their pay on Saturday evening.

—Mr. Bolze has a special event on the Middlesex Club grounds on Christmas Day. On New Year's Day there will be a sweepstake shooting at clay.

—There will be a pigeon match at Campbell's Club House on Christmas Day between Andrews and Ellis & Campbell, besides sweepstake shooting all day.

—Whitney's store is filled with beautiful Christmas presents which are offered to the public at very low prices. Whitney speaks for himself in our columns to-day. Visit his establishment.

—Next Sunday is "Hospital Sunday" throughout most of the United States. Everybody is expected to contribute liberally with established precedents, will make collections for Muhlenberg.

—In our last issue of to-day appears the Winter announcement of Mr. John W. Morris the dealer who has furnished so many of the best homes our city is adorned with. Some matters of interest are contained in the advertisement.

—There men in this city do not notice into that they will experience any difficulty in getting a sufficient supply of ice for next season. Mr. Thomas John H. Tier & Sons, did not begin cutting their Winter's supply until January 3d, of the present year.

—As to every New Year's Day for the past twenty years, our faithful carrier, Mr. Charles Cook, will call on you Jan. 2, 1888, with his address and compliments for the neat and good wishes for the future. He respectfully asks a remembrance in his service.

—Many a man, or many a time, has wanted a first-class piano tuner. They have always been scarce in Plainfield. Mr. Jos. Bastien however, has reference from over 200 people, and he is the only one in the opposite page announces his address and other particulars.

—A grand band concert will be given in The Academy of Music Thursday evening, Jan. 26. A full brass band of thirty-five pieces will present a choice programme of selections. The concert will be given in the evening, to be followed by a public ball with an orchestra of twenty stringed instruments.

—Now that we have a directory giving the numbers of houses, it would be wise for citizens, when writing communications, to give the number of their places of residence, that the letters may be properly addressed. It will assist in becoming used to a system that must hereafter very free delivery comes to town.

—Rev. Dr. Rankin presented Mrs. Jackson's deserving case before the public, she is receiving assistance and succor every day. We wish we were personally to publish the names of those who have so generously contributed towards her comfort. But the truly charitable are so modest as to shun publicity.

—It is said that a purse of $500 has been offered to Thomas Newland—the plumber, who is to appear against the prize fighter from this city, who now claims assaulted him—at the trial at New Brunswick on Tuesday of last week, to discontinue his part. This cannot be done, as the contest is for the mortgage on Trinity Reformed church.

—Mr. Jackson presented Mrs. Jackson's deserving case before the public, she is receiving assistance and succor every day. We wish we were personally to publish the names of those who have so generously contributed towards her comfort. But the truly charitable are so modest as to shun publicity.

—It is said that a purse of $500 has been offered to Thomas Newland—the plumber, who is to appear against the prize fighter from this city, who now claims assaulted him—at the trial at New Brunswick on Tuesday of last week, to discontinue his part. This cannot be done, as the contest is for the mortgage on Trinity Reformed church.

—Whenever you want a gold pen, go to Allen's, the Stationer, and get the best.

—Mr

ROLL OF HONOR OF THE PLAINFIELD PUBLIC SCHOOLS FOR SEPTEMBER.

WAX NOSES AND EARS.

Curious Artificial Members and How They Are Made.

The Cork Leg a Myth—What It Costs to Wear False Limbs—A Boy with a pair of Rubber Hands.—An Old Surgeon Pensioned.

"Do you ever have requests to make queer artificial limbs?" was asked of a manufacturer, who had a window lay prominently displayed in a show-case on Broadway, by a New York Journal reporter.

"Why, yes, every day nearly, two have all kinds of orders, some of whom want very odd things. Only a short time since a man dropped in who wanted me to make him an artificial nose. It wasn't in my line, however, as I do only make legs and hands, so I was compelled to decline. He requested me to make him a nose of pure gold. There are many curious things about my business. For instance, if a man only loses his foot he is compelled to wear an entire false leg, because if he had one his stump above the knee. If he does his hand he is compelled to wear a false arm, because otherwise it wouldn't look right and couldn't be fastened to anything. With a finger, however, it is different, as we can generally fasten that on so that no one could see the difference.

"Do you make cork legs?" was asked.

The manufacturer laughed heartily as he replied:

"No, I do not, and I never knew any one who did. The cork leg is a fable, and I suppose had its origin in that famous song of Hood's.

Mynheer von Dam.

The richest merchant in Rotterdam, who lacked a nose in the middle of his face, and in doing so fractured his leg so that he was compelled to wear one made of cork, that finally run away with him, anyway. I have never seen a cork leg myself. An artificial legs and arms are now made of light wood, such as whipple, basswood, or something of that sort.
The wood is covered with kid, and is made to resemble it, just the top, as you see, is made of leather, very pliable, where it fastens on to the stump of the individual.

"What is the cost of artificial limbs?"

"An artificial leg usually costs from fifty to one hundred dollars, although we have made them as high as three hundred. Think of the FINEST CASSIMERE PANTS cut by special patterns, marked in plain figures, at $5, $5.50 and $6 a Pair. The new Cheviots and Shaded Striped Pants, now so popular in custom trade, selling for $3, $3.50 and $4, or our broken lots of FINE PANTS MARKED DOWN daily to close out quick at $2, 2.50 and $3.00 A PAIR. We are quoting prices that can only be made under LOW EXPENSES. We may not be clearing large profits; but we are selling goods, and lots of them, pleasing our old customers, and making new ones, simply by giving them BETTER GOODS than they ever saw, ALL READY TO PUT ON, and saving them all useless expenses like the cost of shows in windows, circus wagons, signs on fences, gifts, commissions, or discounts to favored customers or their friends. You can surely save from 20 to 25 per cent. on your FALL SUITS by coming direct to us. We are finishing daily full lines in all the New Cuts, complete for $10 and $12. The popular COLD THREAD CHEVIOTS that merchants tailors are using, we get up very handsome, and sell at $13 and $15 for complete suits, and in Dress Suits, we have a complete department, stocked with the very latest garments, where you can select a suit for $15, $18 and $20, for which a merchant tailor would surely charge you twice as much and rarely give you such elegant garments. OUR NEW OVERCOAT SALESROOM, on second floor, is now open; and here you can find Montaignac Beavers, satin-lined, for $25; Elysians, all new shades, at $22; Kerseys, in solid and mixed colors, at $18 and $20; Diagonal Velours, (new this season) at $15 and $16, and All-wool Chesterfield Overcoats, lined with cassimere, in all the long cuts, at $10 and $12; besides a Hundred Stylish and durable designs, in all shades, at $7, $8 and $9. Remember, these garments are all cut single by special patterns drafted from actual measure taken in our custom department, kept on convenient racks, and handed to you, fresh from the hands of our tailors, free from all creases, wrinkles, or any of the usually objectionable ready-made look. The materials from which FINE CLOTHING is made were never as low as now, and as labor is only a trifle higher you should buy your clothing from 20 to 30 per cent. below the rates of former years; and this you can do if you save all Intermediate Profits and Useless Expenses and come direct to the makers for it. Before ordering your Winter Clothing you should try on our New Garments. They are Custom Made in every detail. No tailor uses Finer or Newer Fabrics, our Trimmings are the same, the BEST CUSTOM TAILORS WORK for us. Then how can the difference in the garments be told when worn from the most expensive work? Besides you can see just how the goods Look when Made Up and have no trouble in waiting. This is where we are pushing our "fine city trade," A REALLY HANDSOME, CORRECT CUT GARMENT, FINISHED, WITH ALL CUSTOM EXTRAS, ALL READY TO PUT ON. It is a fact well known to the public, and not disputed in the trade, that our garments are extensively copied, but NEVER REPRODUCED as we set THEM OUT. SEE THEM and none of the ordinary styles will look right to you.

Since our REMOVAL to our NEW BUILDING we have been busy preparing an entire NEW STOCK of THE BEST SHAPED AND FINEST FINISHED GARMENTS ever shown to our customers; and today we have an immense stock, ALL NEW, STYLISH, HANDSOME and VERY LOW in price. Never was such a stock of ELEGANT CARMENTS shown in the city, each a perfect copy of the most expensive custom-made work, and never before were such low prices named for garments of equal style and durability. It requires no expert to judge of the merits of our stock; for even the most inexperienced at a glance will see their IMPROVED DRESS APPEARANCE when they try them on. Think of the FINEST CASSIMERE PANTS, cut by special patterns, marked in plain figures, at $5, $5.50 and $6 a Pair. The new Cheviots and Shaded Striped Pants, now so popular in custom trade, selling for $3, $3.50 and $4, or our broken lots of FINE PANTS MARKED DOWN daily to close out quick at $2, 2.50 and $3.00 A PAIR. We are quoting prices that can only be made under LOW EXPENSES. We may not be clearing large profits; but we are selling goods, and lots of them, pleasing our old customers, and making new ones, simply by giving them BETTER GOODS than they ever saw, ALL READY TO PUT ON, and saving them all useless expenses like the cost of shows in windows, circus wagons, signs on fences, gifts, commissions, or discounts to favored customers or their friends. You can surely save from 20 to 25 per cent. on your FALL SUITS by coming direct to us. We are finishing daily full lines in all the New Cuts, complete for $10 and $12. The popular COLD THREAD CHEVIOTS that merchants tailors are using, we get up very handsome, and sell at $13 and $15 for complete suits, and in Dress Suits, we have a complete department, stocked with the very latest garments, where you can select a suit for $15, $18 and $20, for which a merchant tailor would surely charge you twice as much and rarely give you such elegant garments. OUR NEW OVERCOAT SALESROOM, on second floor, is now open; and here you can find Montaignac Beavers, satin-lined, for $25; Elysians, all new shades, at $22; Kerseys, in solid and mixed colors, at $18 and $20; Diagonal Velours, (new this season) at $15 and $16, and All-wool Chesterfield Overcoats, lined with cassimere, in all the long cuts, at $10 and $12; besides a Hundred Stylish and durable designs, in all shades, at $7, $8 and $9. Remember, these garments are all cut single by special patterns drafted from actual measure taken in our custom department, kept on convenient racks, and handed to you, fresh from the hands of our tailors, free from all creases, wrinkles, or any of the usually objectionable ready-made look. The materials from which FINE CLOTHING is made were never as low as now, and as labor is only a trifle higher you should buy your clothing from 20 to 30 per cent. below the rates of former years; and this you can do if you save all Intermediate Profits and Useless Expenses and come direct to the makers for it. Before ordering your Winter Clothing you should try on our New Garments. They are Custom Made in every detail. No tailor uses Finer or Newer Fabrics, our Trimmings are the same, the BEST CUSTOM TAILORS WORK for us. Then how can the difference in the garments be told when worn from the most expensive work? Besides you can see just how the goods Look when Made Up and have no trouble in waiting. This is where we are pushing our "fine city trade," A REALLY HANDSOME, CORRECT CUT GARMENT, FINISHED, WITH ALL CUSTOM EXTRAS, ALL READY TO PUT ON. It is a fact well known to the public, and not disputed in the trade, that our garments are extensively copied, but NEVER REPRODUCED as we set THEM OUT. SEE THEM and none of the ordinary styles will look right to you.

WATSON & CO.

HAVE TO SAY ABOUT CLOTHING!

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

I have Sold my Stables in New Brunswick to Janeway & Co., Paper Manufacturers; and Removed my entire business to Newark, N. J., where I have Two large and commodious Stables—one at 520 Broad St. and 19 & 21 Atlantic St., under the management of J. B. Morehous; the other at 121 & 123 Broome St., under the management of C. B. McClellis. I shall constantly keep from 150 to 200 head of HORSES and MULES, of all kinds, sizes, and qualities, so that persons coming from a distance need have no doubt that they will find anything and everything in shape of Horses or Mules.

Also, Persons living at a distance, too far to drive, who have Horses or Mules to Exchange, I have Men for the purpose of going to examine such, and the exchange can be made by Railroad travel.

Also, Stock delivered to any part of the State Free of Expense, and satisfaction Guaranteed.

☞ From two to three Car loads arrive weekly, from Canada, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky, etc., etc.

Plenty of Second-hand Stock always on hand; good for service in the country.

In buying stock Personally, and paying Cash for the same, with my great experience and acquaintance of the business enables me to have them to sell cheaper than most anyone else.

Selling from 2000 to 2500 a year I can well afford to sell at small profits; so that it will pay anyone to look at my stock before purchasing elsewhere.

150 to 250 Horses & Mules for Sale or Exchange

AT 520 BROAD STREET,

JOHN W. MORRIS, Newark, N. J.

Sebring Bros.,

Clothiers,

—AND—

Cutters.

Large Display

—OF—

CLOTHS!

P. H. BENNETT,

(Successor to B. H. Bachman)

DEALER IN

BUTTER, EGGS AND PRODUCE,

MEATS OF ALL KINDS,

Fruits & Vegetables

IN THEIR SEASON.

42 Park avenue, Plainfield N. J.

Goods Delivered to any part of the City.

apl1

Coughs, Sore Throat, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Croup, Bronchitis, Asthma, and every affection of Throat, Lungs and Chest are speedily and permanently cured by the use of which does not dry up a cough and leave the cause behind, but relieves the irritation of the tissues, allays inflammation, tones the stomach, and gives rest and sleep. UNSOLICITED TESTIMONIALS BE CURED by a timely use of this medicine, as is certified by hundreds of testimonials. The genuine has the signature of I. BUTTS on the wrapper. SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Proprietors, Boston, Mass. Sold by dealers generally.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY,

CHAS. YAEGER,

Practical Upholsterer,

35 WEST FRONT STREET,

(OPPOSITE MUSIC HALL.)

25 Years Experience in all Branches. P. O. BOX 159. apl1y

PAXINE

CURES Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, Fever and Ague, Malaria, Indigestion, Low Complaints.

TRADE MARK.

PAXINE is the combined virtues of the best effects of several well-known physicians and chemists. The ingredients are so combined as to make it one of the most powerful and effective in overcoming the diseases for which it is recommended. It is entirely prepared and is specific and certain in its effects, operating on the disease quickly, only requiring healthy system. Physicians prescribe and recommend Paxine in the most severe cases of disease, and we are constantly receiving the highest testimonials from all parts of the country. It is the only medicine of the kind ever introduced in the United States; no person of ordinary intelligence can fail to receive benefit from its use. Price one dollar per bottle. Sold by druggists. For sale by Dan Decker, Mr. Co. (limited), 10 West 38, N. Y.

A WONDERFUL OCCURRENCE.

Dr. J. F. Kellogg, of Rochester, N. Y., writes: "Your favor of the 7th inst. received. The most wonderful cure of Paxine I have ever known was that of Mrs. Dr. Hall, of this city, who was afflicted with dyspepsia and dyspepsia. I could not relieve, nor would she take any medicine from me. She was induced to try Paxine, and after using one bottle was entirely relieved, and has since been in excellent health. Paxine is a wonderful medicine, and I am glad to recommend it to the public." Sold by druggists. For sale by Dan Decker, Mr. Co. (limited), 10 West 38, N. Y.

Central Railroad of New Jersey

OWNS AND OPERATES OVER

6,000 Miles

OF PERMANENTLY CONSTRUCTED RAILWAY.

PENETRATES THE BEST PORTIONS OF ILLINOIS, IOWA, WISCONSIN, MICHIGAN, MINNESOTA, DAKOTA, NEBRASKA, and WYOMING.

CHICAGO AND NORTHWESTERN RAILWAY

CHICAGO

MILWAUKEE, ST. PAUL, MINNEAPOLIS, COUNCIL BLUFFS, OMAHA.

THE FAST LANDS OF DAKOTA

THE ONLY LINE TO THE BLACK HILLS.

THE FAVORITE ROUTE TO CALIFORNIA.

For rates, time-tables, and information, apply to the following agents, or address the undersigned.

H. A. CROSS, Travelling Agent, Lancaster, Pa.

MARVIN HUGHITT, Pres't. R. C. WICKER, Pacific Pass. Agt. E. P. WILSON, Gen. Pass. Agt.

COUGH KILLER

GEORGE WATSON & CO.,

MAKERS OF PERFECT-FITTING CLOTHING,

795 BROAD STREET,

Four Doors Below Market Street, Newark, N. J.

A. M. Vanderbeek & Co.,

This year will sell

GUNS AND GUNNERS' SUPPLIES, CHEAPER THAN EVER BEFORE. BOTH BREECH AND MUZZLE - LOADERS.

Music and Musical Instruments, MUSIC STANDS, CORNETS, BANJOS, VIOLINS,

Also Rifles, Pistols, Ammunition, Gun Materials, &c.

Everything in the Musical Line.

No. 33 Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey.

apl1

SPECIAL NOTICE.

New Store! New Goods! New Firm!

BARKALEW & DUNN,

Fancy and Staple Grocers,

NO. 18 NORTH AVENUE.

We sell for Cash and will give Special Inducements.

apl1

HORSES! HORSES!

HORSES AND MULES OF All Kinds.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

I have Sold my Stables in New Brunswick to Janeway & Co., Paper Manufacturers; and Removed my entire business to Newark, N. J., where I have Two large and commodious Stables—one at 520 Broad St. and 19 & 21 Atlantic St., under the management of J. B. Morehous; the other at 121 & 123 Broome St., under the management of C. B. McClellis. I shall constantly keep from 150 to 200 head of HORSES and MULES, of all kinds, sizes, and qualities, so that persons coming from a distance need have no doubt that they will find anything and everything in shape of Horses or Mules.

Also, Persons living at a distance, too far to drive, who have Horses or Mules to Exchange, I have Men for the purpose of going to examine such, and the exchange can be made by Railroad travel.

Also, Stock delivered to any part of the State Free of Expense, and satisfaction Guaranteed.

☞ From two to three Car loads arrive weekly, from Canada, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky, etc., etc.

Plenty of Second-hand Stock always on hand; good for service in the country.

In buying stock Personally, and paying Cash for the same, with my great experience and acquaintance of the business enables me to have them to sell cheaper than most anyone else.

Selling from 2000 to 2500 a year I can well afford to sell at small profits; so that it will pay anyone to look at my stock before purchasing elsewhere.

150 to 250 Horses & Mules for Sale or Exchange

AT 520 BROAD STREET,

JOHN W. MORRIS, Newark, N. J.

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE.—The Books of the Overseer of the Poor, containing a list of the persons assessed, can be seen at the office of that officer, Park Avenue Building.

OAKLEY DUDLEY, O. P.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscriber, Executor of Jeremiah E. Sims, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday, the fourth day of January next.

Dated October 29th, 1887.—10-29-4t

WILLIAM H. HARRIS.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors

Union County, } Surrogate's Office:
ss. } Elizabeth, Nov. 21st, 1887.

Benjamin A. Shober, Thomas B. Hewitt, Richard C. Hogeboom, George P. Tyler, and Walter S. Wells, Executors of Joseph J. Bedley, deceased.

On application of the above named Executors it is ordered that said Executors do give notice to the creditors of the estate of said deceased, exhibiting to them their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from the date hereof, and that all such claims not so exhibited will be forever barred, in five of the most public newspapers in said county, once in each week, and also within the said twenty days, by publication of this order, and by written notice to be given to each of the said creditors whose claims are not otherwise exhibited, or their debts, demands or claims will be forever barred.

JOHN F. ARELEMAN, Surrogate.

Dated November 15, 1887. 11-16-6t

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscribers, executors of Hannah E. Sims, deceased, will be audited and stated by the surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday the Twenty-Fifth day of January next.

Dated November 15, 1887.

DIA BOSAR,
FRANK MCCONAUGHY,
WILLIAM R. CORBIN, 11-16-6t

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.—To Melissa Devereaux and John Bush, Jr.

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the 5th day of December, A. D. 1887, on the bill of complaint of Frederick Bush, Jr., and others, you are hereby required to appear, and to answer the said bill of said complainant on or before the fourth day of February next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed for foreclosure of a mortgage given by Melissa Devereaux and Samuel Devereaux her husband, to John Bush, deceased, dated the Twentieth day of October, thirteen hundred and seventy, on part of lot No. 1 in block No. 1 in Green county, and which said lot Melissa Devereaux and Samuel Devereaux her husband made defendants to said bill, by said John Bush, deceased, and which mortgage Melissa Devereaux the owner of said lands and her husband, Samuel Devereaux, now deceased, entered into a written agreement with you to convey said lands to you in exchange for property belonging to you which agreement is recorded in the County Clerk's office, and by virtue thereof you claim to have some lien upon said lands, which you have set up and claimed to the said Defendant, Lightner, Bush and others.

JOHN S. DARCY, Solicitor for Complainant, Plainfield, New Jersey.

Address

Dime Savings Institution

OF PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Is now receiving deposits payable on demand, with interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum payable semi-annually. All money deposited on or before Oct. 6th, will draw interest from Oct. 1st.

JOHN W. MURRAY, President.
WILLIAM WHITE, Vice-President.
NATHAN HARPER, Secretary.
ELIAS R. POPE, Treasurer.

apl1

R. R. FAIRCHILD,

FURNITURE WAREROOMS,

21 East Front street.

Walnut, Cherry, Oak and Cottage Chamber Sets, Dining Room Outfits, Parlor Furniture, Lounges and Extension Tables.

A LARGE LINE OF FANCY CHAIRS.

TWENTY

Years experience in the business.

GROUNDBERRY. Electric Shoes Prescribed

Mr. JOHN S. STEVENS, horse-shoer, gives the following testimonial: "I have been shoeing and handling horses for over 20 years, and I have never found anything that would keep horses in the condition that Electric Shoes and Pads do. I take pleasure in recommending them to horse owners."

INSURANCE

ISAAC BROKAW,

Real Estate and Fire Insurance.

15 DUANE ST., NORTH PLAINFIELD.

Agent for the following first class companies: GERMANIA, of New York. HANOVER, of New York. JERSEY CITY, of Jersey City, N. J. Insure or effected on all kinds of property, for others and develops a specialty of saving taxes. MONEY TO LOAN ON FIRST MORTGAGES. Mortgages in Bonds and Mortgages RENTED AND COLLECTED. No MADE. PROMPT RETURNS.—3m

FIRE INSURANCE!

The undersigned having been appointed agents for

Star and Merchants

Fire Insurance Co's of the City of New York,

are prepared to insure dwellings, household goods and merchandise in Plainfield at reasonable rates. Inspection of premises solicited.

NATHAN HARPER

Agent.

J. C. Pope & Co.,

GENERAL AGENTS OF THE

German American Ins. Co., of New York.

Also represents other first-class Fire Insurance Companies. Agents of the Tunnel Steamship Company of Hoboken. Policies issued on all kinds of property. Office in the Orphanage Building, over the National Bank Stock Bought and Sold. Also,

BUILDING LOTS

And Other Real Estate for sale.

OFFICE:

6 E. FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD.

JAMES C. POPE. ELIAS R. POPE.

WILLIAM A. WOODRUFF,

Fire Insurance Agent,

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.

With years of practice and experience, knowledge of Companies and management, in connection in instance, I confidently ask a continuance of the patronage so generously bestowed in the past.

AUTHORIZED AGENT FOR

Fire Association, of Philadelphia.
Liverpool, London & Globe, England.
Westchester, of New York.
Norwich Union, of England.
North British Mercantile, of England.
The Northern, of England.
The Queen, of England.
The Merchants, of Newark.
The Washington Life, of New York.

And other first-class companies. Insurance at BEST RATES. Policies written upon all kinds of property. Also, Agent for the sale of Real Estate, loans and other investable property. Farm property a specialty. MONEY TO LOAN on approved security, and bought in Real Estate.

WILLIAM A. WOODRUFF,
Offices in Berry's building, second floor, corner of Front street and Park avenue. Residence 41 East Second street.—apl27

MISCELLANEOUS.

Accommodation Express.

PETER RICKERT, Proprietor

Office—Vanderbeck's Medicine store, Park avenue. The undersigned has established a line to the general carrying business of the city, delivering goods, packages, &c., to any part of the city or place of delivery. Moving of Furniture, Pianos, etc., with care and safety. Prompt attention given, or it orders.

HUMPHREYS'

DR. HUMPHREYS' BOOK Cloth & Gold Binding 144 Pages, Illustrated. Sent by mail, postpaid, for 25c.

NOS.	DISEASES.	PRICES
1	Fevers, Congestion, Inflammations	25
2	Worms, Worm Fever, Worm Colic	25
3	Teething, Crying, Wakefulness of Children	25
4	Diarrhea, of Children or Adults	25
5	Dysentery, Griping, Bilious Colic	25
6	Cholera Morbus, Vomiting	25
7	Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis	25
8	Neuralgia, Toothache, Faceache	25
9	Headaches, Sick Headache, Vertigo	25
10	Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Torpid Liver	25
11	Suppressed or Painful Periods	25
12	Whites, too Profuse Periods	25
13	Croup, Laryngitis, Hoarseness	25
14	Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Eruptions	25
15	Rheumatism, Rheumatic Pains	25
16	Fever and Ague, Chills, Malaria	25
17	Piles, Blind or Bleeding	50
18	Ophthalmy, and Weak or Inflamed Eyes	50
19	Catarrh, Influenza, Cold in the Head	50
20	Whooping Cough, Violent Coughs	50
21	Kidney Diseases	50
22	Nervous Debility	1.00
23	Urinary Weakness, Wetting Bed	50
24	Diseases of the Heart, Palpitation	1.00
25	Sore Throat, Quinsy, Ulcerated Throat	50
26	Chronic Congestions and Eruptions	50
27	Sores, Ulcers, Offensive Discharges	50
28	Scarlet Fever, Eruptive Diseases	50
29	Kidney Diseases, with Gravel	50
30	Nervous Weakness, Involuntary Discharges	1.00
31	Sudden Prostration, Weakness	1.00
32	Epilepsy, Spasms, St. Vitus' Dance	1.00

HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS

MISCELLANEOUS.

MISCELLANEOUS.

AN OPEN LETTER!

ADDRESSED TO YOU!

DEAR SIR:

You are hereby cordially invited to attend our

CLEAN SWEEP SALE of OVERCOATS and Suits, to be held at our various places of business, as below, during the next 30 days.

We do not intend to quote a single price in this brief space, or describe a single article, or comment upon its merits, value, beauty, comfort or cheapness.

We simply invite you to call, pledging our word that you will be confronted with such bargains in all departments of Clothing, whether for Men, Boys or Children as shall meet with your highest approval and secure for us your perpetual custom and that of your friends.

This is our aim and we intend to hit the very bull's eye of our intent.

Yours Truly,

MARSHALL & BALL.

MARSHALL & BALL,

ONE-PRICE CLOTHIERS,

807, 809, 811 & 813 Broad St., Newark,

221 & 223 MAIN ST., PATERSON,

58 & 60 NEWARK AVENUE, JERSEY CITY,

MARSHALL & BALL CO.

JOHN A. THICKSTUN,

DEALER IN

BEST QUALITIES

COAL, WOOD, AND BLUE-STONE.

YARD—Cor. 3rd st. and Madison ave.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

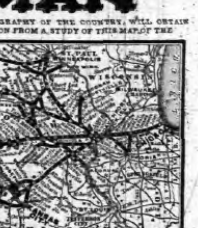
"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion." Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 192 Pearl Street, N. Y.

A MAN

UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THE COUNTRY, WILL OBTAIN MUCH VALUABLE INFORMATION FROM A STUDY OF THIS MAP OF THE



CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y.

Its central position and close connection with Eastern lines at Chicago and Commanding lines as terminal from Missouri River, Northwest and Southwest, make it the true mid-link in that transcontinental chain of steel which connects the Atlantic and Pacific. Its main line and branches traverse the States of Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas and Nebraska, and the Territories of Indian, Dakota, Colorado and New Mexico. Commencing at Chicago, Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Ottumwa, Oskaloosa, West Liberty, Iowa City, Des Moines, Winterset, Council Bluffs, Atlantic, Knoxville, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Centre and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Galatin, Tracy, Minneapolis, St. Anthony and St. Paul, in Minnesota; Kansas City, Leavenworth and Atchison, in Kansas; Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota; Winterset and Atlantic, in Iowa; Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota; Kansas City, Leavenworth and Atchison, in Kansas; Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota; Winterset and Atlantic, in Iowa; Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota; Kansas City, Leavenworth and Atchison, in Kansas; Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota; It also OPENS A CHOICE OF ROUTES to and from the Pacific Coast and Interior Points, via DENVER, COLORADO SPRINGS and PUEBLO, via COLORADO SPRINGS and DENVER, via KANSAS CITY, via COUNCIL BLUFFS, via DENVER, via DINING CARS, magnificent PULLMAN PALACE DRAWING ROOM SLEEPING CARS, and PULLMAN PALACE DRAWING ROOM DINING CARS, which are run FREE to holders of through first-class tickets.

THE CHICAGO, KANSAS & NEBRASKA R'Y

GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

Extends west and northwest from Kansas City and St. Joseph to Fairbury, Nelson, Horton, Topeka, Herington, Ellsworth, Wichita, Oakwell, Hutchinson, Newton, Peabody, Florence, Herington, Concordia, Clyde, Clifton, and other points of the celebrated Pullman manufactures. Solidly ballasted track of steel rails, new equipment of the celebrated Pullman manufactures, Solidly ballasted track of steel rails, new equipment of the celebrated Pullman manufactures, and modern improvements. Commodious, well-built stations. Comfort, convenience, safety and speed.

THE FAMOUS ALBERT LEA ROUTE

is the favorite between Chicago, Rock Island, Anthony, Kansas City, and Minneapolis and St. Paul. The shortest route to all Northern Minnesota Resorts, its Watertown Branch traverses the most prosperous lands of the great Minnesota Valley. Its Albert Lea Branch is the favorite route to Minnesota Lakes. Central Iowa.

The Short Line via Seneca and Kankakee offers superior facilities to travel between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette, and Council Bluffs, St. Joseph, Atchison, Leavenworth, Kansas City, Omaha, Sioux City.

For Maps, Folders, Time Cards, or any desired information, apply to any Coupon Ticket Office of the Line, or address the undersigned.

E. ST. JOHN, General Manager. CHICAGO, ILL. E. A. HOLBROOK, Gen'l Pass'r & Ticket Agent.

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY,
AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XX. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1887. No. 52

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its limitations as in its authorities."—Madison.

Rates of Advertising.

Space	1 WEEK	2	3	1 MONTH	2	3	6	12
1 in.
2 in.
3 in.
4 in.
5 in.
6 in.
7 in.
8 in.
9 in.
10 in.
11 in.
12 in.

All Electric notes be sold neat.
"Little of Everything" column, 5 cts. per line.
Double rate, 10 per ct. advance of above rates.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

O. L. JENKINS, M. D.
Homeopathist,
Office and Residence, No. 20 East Front Street, corner Plum, Plainfield, N. J. Office Hours—7 to 9 a.m., 1 to 3 p. m., 7 to 9 p. m. sep-1y

ALBERT & GODDINGTON,
Counsellors-at-Law,
Commissioners of Deeds, Masters in Chancery, Notaries Public, Office corner of Park avenue and Second street.

GEORGE W. DAY,
General Auctioneer,
Sales of Personal Property solicited. P. O. Box 116. Office at residence, No. 5 Arlington avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Will receive prompt attention. Terms reasonable.

DR. CHARLES R. THEIS,
Dentist,
20 West Front street, where all anaesthetic agents required for extraction will be used with safety. Gas administered. Office hours, 9 to 4.

H. HAND,
Auctioneer,
P. O. Address, Lock Box 21. Sales Rooms, Nos. 2, 4 and 6 East Front street, Plainfield, N. J. Will attend Weekly Prompt sales at Plainfield, N. J., or will receive private consignments at Office.

OGARS, TABLE,
Architect,
247 Broadway, New York city, rooms 18 and 20. Residence, Grant Block, Hamilton Square, East Front street, Plainfield, N. J. jy2-1y

WM. E. HANCOCK,
Attorney-at-Law,
MASTER IN CHANCERY, NOTARY PUBLIC,
Commissioner of Deeds, Office, North avenue opposite depot. jy22

J. E. FOSTER,
Veterinary Surgeon,
Office, A. W. Coggeshall's livery and exchange Main street and Madison avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Day and night calls promptly attended to. Horses examined for soundness, or otherwise, on shortest notice. Residence, No. 12 East Front street. jy22

ARTHUR J. MILLER,
Attorney-at-Law,
(Successor to the late W. H. Mason), Solicitor in Chancery, Notary Public, Will buy and sell Real Estate on commission, collect rents, and transact a Fire Insurance business. Office North Ave., opp. depot. jy22

F. DUNHAM,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor,
No. 1 Park avenue, Plainfield. Drafting, Engineering and surveying given to the settlement of disputed boundaries; also to the interests of all people of the country. jy22

D. C. F. GRIFFIN,
Electric Baths.
Dr. Griffin treats all Nervous Affections, Chronic Diseases, Skin Diseases, Asthma, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Paralysis, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Kidney Affections, Female Weaknesses, etc., by Electricity and Electric Baths. Only scientific method of treating these diseases. Call or send for circular. Office hours, 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Office, 15 East Front street, Plainfield, N. J. jy22

JOSEPH SATTERLY,
Piano Tuner.
Most Fashionable references. Only musical-bred tuner in Plainfield. Orders left at Dr. Griffin's, Electric Baths, Front street, Plainfield, N. J., or at Hotels, Plainfield and Dudley. Terms moderate. Visits Dudley, Wednesdays; Plainfield, Thursdays. Will exchange address cards for advertisements. Orders by mail promptly attended to. Residence, 1 Arlington avenue, Plainfield, N. J. jy22

BUSINESS CARDS.

ROBERT JAHN,
TIN AND COPPER-SMITH,
Scotch Plains,
(Fairwood) N. J. Roofing, Spouts and Heater work, Furnaces, Ranges and Stoves for coal or wood. The best and the cheapest house in Union County. Repairing promptly attended to. jy22-1y

TO THE PUBLIC!

We wish to inform our customers and the public generally that we have on hand the best quality of

LEHIGH COAL,
Fresh from the Mines.

It is under cover and well protected from the weather. We are prepared to deliver it well screened and in good order promptly. We are also prepared to furnish all kinds of seasoned Lumber and Masons' Materials at short notice.

A. D. COOK & BRO.
jan6-1y

J. Hervey Doane,
9 PARK AVENUE,
(Formerly Corry's.)

Watches,
Clocks
And Jewelry.

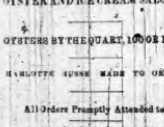
Repairing neatly and promptly done. jy22

BOSTON CLOTHING HOUSE
23 W. FRONT ST.
Reliable Goods at Low Prices.
Correct Styles. Right Prices.
may21tf

Geo. A. Moore,
(Late the late firm of Moore Bros.)
Is now the sole proprietor of the old, reliable and well-established
NORTH AVENUE,
Where he will continue to supply patrons with the finest quality of Groceries, and fast keeping goods of all kinds. Oysters, Cakes, Game in season at the lowest market prices. Everything will be kept in stock freshened at short notice. mch14

Edward Ramonetti,
OYSTER AND ICE CREAM SALOON.

OYSTERS BY THE QUART, 10 OR 1000.
HAMILTON SQUARE MADE TO ORDER.
All Orders Promptly Attended to.
24 NORTH AVENUE.
Plainfield, N. J. Telephone Call, No. 38. jy22



HOTELS AND SALOONS.

Force's Hotel!
NORTH AVENUE
Near R. R. Depot, Plainfield, New Jersey.
JAMES H. FORCE, Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY HOTEL.
Transient guests taken at reasonable rates.
Bottled Liquors a Specialty.

Laing's Hotel!
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
J. B. MILLER & BRO., - Proprietors.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.

James Conneely
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a first-class
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 32 PARK AVE.,
where he will cater to the wishes of his friends and customers with the choicest brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors. jy22

TURF EXCHANGE HOTEL,
73 Courtlandt street,
CORNER WASHINGTON, NEW YORK CITY.
FRED. W. BALLARD, - - Proprietor.
Formerly of Jersey City, is now conducting the above-named hotel, which is centrally located in the great New York business mart, by the late James Van Nostrand, and Wm. Shultis. Attentive and obliging waiters and constantly fresh cuisine.
PURE WINES, LIQUORS AND SEGARS. jy22

SOMERSET HOTEL,
Cor. Somerset & Emily Sts., North Plainfield, N. J.
Permanent and Transient Board, at Reduced Rates.
First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all reasonable hours. tyjan2

C. E. JOHNSON,
37 late firm of Shepherd, Johnson & Gridley.
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
Office adjoining City Hotel on Second street, near Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey. Residence, 17 East Second street. Jobbing promptly attended to. jy22

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
SALESROOM—Madison Avenue, near Front St., Plainfield, N. J.
Goods received on consignment.

MRS. E. J. MARTIN'S
MAGIC RENOVATING FLUID.
For taking out grease from any kind of goods, without changing the color, or leaving a spot. Ten cents per bottle. Sold at 15 Somerset street, Plainfield, for sale, private families, for hats, gents' clothing, Ladies' dress and cloaks, carpets, &c. Five 25 cents per bottle. Sold at Somerset street, Plainfield, for sale, private families, for hats, gents' clothing, Ladies' dress and cloaks, carpets, &c. Five 25 cents per bottle. Sold at rooms, 12 East Front street, and at Mrs. W. L. Force's Fancy Goods Store, No. 7 East Front street, Plainfield, N. J. jy22

JOHN JOHNSTON,
DEALER IN
COAL!
YARD AND OFFICE, SOUTH AVENUE, NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
Prompt delivery of screened coal at residences or market price forwards. Address all orders to Netherwood, New Jersey. jy22

Park Avenue Bakery!
JOHN WALKER, Prop't
FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the Choicest
VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS,
And all Varieties of
Pies, Cake and Confectionery.
jy22

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.
THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS, BEST IN THE WORLD.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE
jy22

MICHAEL UHDAL,
CONTRACTOR
AND LANDSCAPE GARDENER
Residence:
NETHERWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
P. O. BOX 787, PLAINFIELD.
P. O. Box 8, Netherwood, N. J. jy22

HEADQUARTERS
FOR
Boots, Shoes and Rubbers
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION. OUR STOCK
IS COMPLETE, AND OUR
Prices the Lowest!
Doane & Van Arsdale
(NEXT TO EDDELL'S.)
22 WEST FRONT STREET.

SANITARY PLUMBING,
Brick and Portable Furnaces,
GAS FITTING,
TIN ROOFING,
Etc., Etc.

I am prepared to do any of the above branches in strictly first-class workmanship and workmanlike manner.
Having associated myself with the Master Plumbers' Association of New York, I am able to employ none but first-class mechanics and hence guarantee all work done by me to be first-class in every respect.
D. W. LITTELL,
No. 9 NORTH AVE. opp. Depot, Plainfield, N. J.

EDUCATIONAL.

MR. LEAL'S SCHOOL
WILL RE-OPEN
Monday, Sept. 19, 1887.

DODWORTH'S
Class for Dancing & Deportment
Seminary Hall, Plainfield, N. J.,
Wednesdays from 3:30 to 5:30 P. M.,
Commencing Oct. 26th, 1887.
THEO. J. DODWORTH.
October 7th, 1887. 1y

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST,
Residence—Harmony street, North Plainfield, fourth house from Somerset street, left hand side; information in matters of health, business, and private affairs, love to marriage. Interview, how to meet the opposite sex, and how to control them. Satisfaction guaranteed. Her services
In English, German and French.
My husband is a first-class Cutter, and repairs coats, pants, harness, etc., cheap for cash.

Plainfield District Telegraph and Fire Alarm Co.
Prompt Messenger Service Furnished.
Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph Co.
LOW RATES. QUICK SERVICE. MONEY TRANSFERRED BY TELEGRAPH. COMMUTATION STAMPS FOR SALE.
OFFICE—4 PARK AVENUE.
W. S. SLITER, Manager.
ly291

STEAM HEATING,
FOR CHURCHES, SCHOOLS, and DWELLINGS.
J. N. SCHENCK,
Plainfield, N. J.
P. O. Box 1051.—ap21

JAMES K. ARNOLD,
GROCER,
Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts., North Plainfield.

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.,
TO HIRE. CHARGES REASONABLE.
Hugo Weigman,
20 EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J. my28tf

LUTKINS & HUMMER,
DEALERS IN
Butter, Eggs & Produce.
FRUITS and VEGETABLES IN THEIR SEASON.
NO. 34 PARK AVENUE, Plainfield, New Jersey.
Goods delivered at any part of the city.
L. A. HUMMER.
A. LUTKINS.
ap30-1y

CAREY'S
Furniture and Freight Express
OFFICE, NO. 42 WEST FRONT STREET,
Nearly opposite Laing's Hotel, Plainfield, N. J.
Having leased the above premises I am prepare to buy and sell second-hand Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, etc. I will also take Furniture in exchange for moving. Furniture, etc., stored. P. O. Box 491.—my7

GO TO
DICKINSON & CLAWSON,
JEWELERS, 13 Park Avenue,
For your Holiday Presents
IN
WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY, and SILVERWARE.
SOLE AGENTS for KING'S SPECTACLES and EYE GLASSES, the BEST MADE, and CHEAPEST in the market.

CHRISTMAS CARDS
AND NOVELTIES!
Prang's, Tuck's,
Whitney's, and Others.
A Full Line at Low Prices!
A. W. RAND,
24 W. FRONT ST.

ALEX. THORN
Late of Berry & Thorn.
CAN BE FOUND AT 21 SOMERSET STREET,
WITH A FULL LINE OF FURNACES, RANGES,
STOVES,
TINWARE, Etc.
Repairing in His Line Promptly Attended To. 47y1

MISCELLANEOUS.

P. P. VanArsdale,
PIANO TUNER.
Instruments put in thorough order. Terms reasonable. Pianos and Organs for sale and to let. Orders by postal, P. O. Box 169 or left at Wellbuilt's Watch and Jewelry Store will receive prompt attention. Residence, 31 East Front street, corner Plum street. jy22

A. TITSWORTH,
Merchant Tailor,
Has removed his place of business to
No. 26 North ave.,
(Store formerly occupied by Jeweler Moller).
ALSO OFFICE OF CITY TREASURER.—tf181

JOHN CHANDLER,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Residence and Shop, No. 20 East 3d St.
Jobbing promptly attended to. ap27

Alex. Willett,
DEALER IN
BOOTS & SHOES,
No. 6 PARK AVENUE.
A full assortment of seasonable goods direct from Manufacturers at LOW FIGURES. oct24y

G. W. FORCE,
11 West Front street.
OPENING OF FALL AND WINTER STOCK
Boots and Shoes at Low Prices
A FINE GRADE OF GOODS TO SELECT FROM
11 West Front street.
G. W. FORCE.
ia12tf

J. TODAM,
PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL
Slate Roofer and Repairer.
Residence, Corner Fourth and Sycamore Streets, Yard near Freight House, P. O. Box 1205, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
All Work warranted for one year. Slating over Shingles. Also, Felt and Gravel Roofing. 20Cly 17

Steam Marble Granite Works.
AND
Monuments & Headstones.
Fencing for Cemetery Plots.
Large assortment of Slate Mantels.
A large variety of Granite Monuments
All work executed in the most skillful manner and at reasonable prices. All orders promptly executed and set up. L. MANNING, FRONT ST., NEAR N. E. CR., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Monuments erected in Greenwood Cemetery, N. Y. my28

GEO. D. MORRISON,
NORTH AVENUE.
Has erected a store for the use of
FLOUR, FEED, HAY,
Oats, St raw, Bran, Etc.,
And hopes by promptness and fair dealing to merit a share of the public patronage.
SANDERSON'S
XXXX
BEST FLOUR.
FROM MINNESOTA WHEAT. A SPECIALTY.
CALL AND SEE WHAT YOU BUY.
jan29y1

LIVERY.
RICHARD H. DAY'S
City Livery Stable!
OPPOSITE DEPOT, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Horses taken to board by the day, week or month. All kinds of Turnouts for day, week or month. All kinds of Turnouts for or night at short notice. Telephone Call, No. 121
my1y1

ALBERT HEDDEN,
Livery and Boarding Stables
FOURTH STREET,
Between Peace street and Park avenue, Plainfield. Horses to board by the day, week or month. Carriages, coal and seasonably drivers. Horses broken by the week or month. Telephone call No. 114.

Livery Stables!
Mr. D. S. ROBERTS
Has Removed to His New Building on
NORTH AVENUE,
Adjoining Force's Hotel. Mr. Roberts will always be found ready and able to answer demands for Livery Stock at short notice, and hopes for a continuance of past favors. The best of horses and carriages a specialty. 13tf

A. M. SEGUINE,
(Successor to John W. Laing.)
Laing's Hotel Stables
Front street, opposite Madison avenue.
Coaches for Weddings, Parties and Private Calls. Light carriages of all descriptions for pleasure.
RIDING OR LIVERY.
Careful, safe drivers for shopping calls or pleasure parties. Careful attention to horses. Boarding horses by the day, week or month.—mch11y1
TELEPHONE CALL, NO. 95.

ESTABLISHED 1866.
Westfield Horse Market.

IRVING & CO.,
DEALERS IN
Carriage Teams, Road, Draft, Speed, Saddle and General Business Horses. All horses guaranteed as represented.
Central avenue,
Near Depot, Westfield, N. J.

PAINTERS & PAINTERS' SUPPLIES.

Paints, Varnishes, Glass.
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALL PAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
A SWAIM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.
ap29

Weaver Bros.
House & Sign Painting, Graining,
Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a specialty.
Office and Shop in the rear of
126 EAST FRONT STREET,
D. WEAVER. P. O. Box 351. F. WEAVER.

W. N. HOWE,
PAINTER AND DECORATOR,
Dealer in Paints, Oil, Varnish, Glass, Brushes, etc. WALL PAPER and WINDOW SHADES. None but strictly first-class workmen employed and satisfaction guaranteed. No. 118 E. FRONT STREET. (C. O. Booker's old stand.) Plainfield, N. J. Box 1126.—apr9y1

A. L. WOOLSTON. J. P. BUCKLE
Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS,
Wall Papers,
PAINTER'S SUPPLIES. 20 NORTH AVENUE
ap29tf

MILLINERY.

Mrs. J. M. Dunn,
FASHIONABLE MILLINER,
LATEST SHAPES OF
BONNETS AND HATS
FRENCH IMPORTED FLOWERS.
Feathers, Velvets, Plushes, Satines, Ribbons, Also, Fancy Goods and Notions; Dress and Infants' Caps a specialty.
PINKING, BLEACHING & PRESSING.
Feathers Dyed. Cleaned and Curled AT SHORT NOTICE.
14 West Front street.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The most Symmetrical in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana.
CUBAN HAVANA SUMAS a SPECIALTY.
Always constantly on hand a full line of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Smoking Tobacco.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety.
my21

G. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
—SEGARS!—
3 PARK AVE., (near corner of SECOND ST.) PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smokers' Materials
of every description.
The celebrated "Old Judge" smoking Tobacco, without any premium or coupons in its packages.

—PICTURE FRAMES—
OF ALL KINDS, AT
S. E. FLOWER'S,
at New York Prices. Studio in West Front street. Strangers for drawing and oil painting. ap29

A. L. VEALEY. H. S. VEALEY
Smalley Bros.,
DEALERS IN
Fresh and Salt Meats, Poultry, Etc.
30 SOMERSET STREET, NORTH PLAINFIELD.
Orders called for and delivered. A share of the public patronage is solicited.—tf

Benj. C. Moore,
(Late of Moore Bros.)
BUTCHER,
And dealer in FRESH AND SALT MEATS OF ALL KINDS. The best of meats can always be found at this well known and ready for business market. Orders left at the store will receive prompt attention and be promptly delivered. Telephone Call 114.—my21

MAYNARD & HILL,
PRACTICAL BARBERS
AND
Artistic Hair Dressers,
No. 26 PARK AVENUE,
Ladies and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residence. Shaving, Shampooing, &c. satisfactorily performed. 1y19

HEADQUARTERS
FOR AMERICAN WATCHES,
DIAMONDS and FINE JEWELRY.
GOLD AND SILVER HEADED CANES, SPECTACLES, PEARL OPERA GLASSES, SILVERWARE, &c.
Suitable for the Holidays.
WALTHAM, ELGIN, HOWARD, COLUMBUS & LANCASTER WATCHES OF EVERY STYLE AND PRICE.
CHESHIRE Watches, $2.50.
WATERBURY Watches, $2.00.
WM. H. EINHAUS,
26 NASSAU ST., NEW YORK.

Carney Bros.,
PRACTICAL
Plumbers, Tinners & Gas Fitters,
Heaters, Ranges and Stoves.
Dealers in all kinds of Stoves, Heaters and Ranges. Also keep on hand a full assortment of Tinners' Stock and Plumbers' Supplies. Jobbing promptly attended to. Shop and Residence, No. 20 East 2d St., Plainfield, N. J. Box 1126.—apr9y1

The Economic Gas Engine,
This little Gas Engine may be daily seen in operation in our store. It is the most reliable and economical motor for small power. Only one cent per hour. Call and see it in operation, or send for circular. Also, Gas Machines for lighting country residences. We are now ready to receive orders for the Fall trade, and we will endeavor to merit a continuance of the liberal patronage heretofore extended to us. Repairing of every description done promptly and at a very reasonable price.
CARNEY BROS.,
7 and 9 Somerset street.

FLIGHT OF THE WILD FOWL.

When the chill November darkens,
When sons to the South fly low,
Due to the clouds that fall and freeze,
Or overhead, for overhead,
Absent the sun and the blue,

Like a Wedge-shaped Airy legion
Each flock the Heavens cleaves,
To a far-off Summer region,
To a sunny sky,
Where it's June in May
With their changing cry.

Here upon riverine prairies,
Drowsy with frosts Icebroke,
They seek their fall feeding
By much a Bulldozer's Rake,
Pile on from the ice-king,
The water's drift and thaw,

To the swamps of Louisiana,
To Florida's lagoon,
Where Nature's gorgeous banner
Waves in perpetual June,
Ouse and to Night Encamping,
Voicing their stirring time.

And my heart goes down, down, down
Drawn to a Summer sky,
Follows the birds with their feeding,
Their cheery, stony cry,
Where mountain peaks smooth us,
As a hemisphere rolls by!

JAMES FRANKLIN FITCH.

BARNUM'S MUSEUM.

Strange Fights Seen at the Big Blaze in July, 1865.

The burning of Barnum's winter quarters in Bridgeport results to all who remember it the excitement over the burning in mid-summer, in 1865, of the museum building of New York, of the original Barnum's Museum, in July 15, 1865.

There were present there, says the New York Tribune, all the circumstances that could contribute to a sensational conflagration. The museum covered with visitors and employees, not only of the "moral" show, but also of the "dime" show, which Barnum euphemistically called "the lecture room." Besides the thousands of people in the small, cold and damp, harmless and venomous or carnivorous, the possible escape of each kept all the spectators in a state of fear, the proximity of important buildings and the fact that the St. Paul's Church and the Astor House, from the windows of which the whole scene could be seen, from the field of battle, viewed the fire; the exciting and demonstrative methods of the fire engines upon the occasion, which together set this fire was one of the last conflagrations in which the streets were filled by the traffic on the busiest thoroughfare on the continent.

The interest in the fire for the surging crowd that gathered was constantly heightened by incidental affairs. Many of the appearance one after another of the familiar "circus" characters, in their best costumes. At no time was the excitement greater than when Anna Swan, the giantess, with the fat lady and the thin man, and the long-legged, pink-eyed albino on the other, passed through the multitude for safety and seclusion from a neighboring hotel. Then, when the fat lady fainted, and the themselfilled the bald girls, partly ready for withdrawal of the new "transformation" exhibition.

Harrison, the vocalist who improvised impromptu songs for people in the Bella Union Billiard-room objected to having the was "figgers" which seemed to be the concerned nearly all who tried to save any of the "property" from the burning building. Each one, after the first, was "summon," the man-killing grizzly, had been removed from the museum before the fire.

The rebuttle of the then new steam fire engines of the city, which came from all over it was learned where the house came from it brought to the fire elephant, escaped and promiscuously on the streets, and there was general dash for the railings of St. Paul's church. The fire engines, which had been at one time in danger, and George Washington's bodyguard on the same, provoked which quoted as his only provocation: "I don't pay any living time for a fire engine"—was destroyed in a ballard saloon opposite, which for a long time carried and the scores within a long radius from the burning building. And every one of the particularly silent thieves and partly that the proprietors might see the fire. A few days after the destruction of Mr. Barnum's new six-hour old partner, recovered from his safe deposit in Greenwich street.

The peculiar circumstances of this fire—the interesting living contents of the building, and the fact that so nearly all the animals could do when they got loose—offered to the devices of the showmen and of the press too strong to resist. Imaginative accounts of the occurrence were published in every newspaper, or at least as having been "true stories" by the liberal. It was the only fire of any really important kind in the Tribune and was widely copied in the press of that day, and has been mentioned since among the newspaper classics.

Attracted by the howls from the third floor of the museum, where the animals were kept, he repaired to his room at Broadway and 34th street, opposite Barnum's, where he reasoned himself behind a protecting bulwark of mattresses, having a peep hole at the top through which he had a full, unobstructed view of all that occurred among the various beasts on the floor below.

"With a unmuttaneous bound," he wrote, "the lion and his mate sprang against the bars of their cage with all the force that a ravine down with a great crash, releasing the beasts, which for a moment seemed utterly amazed at their sudden liberty, stood in the middle of the floor lashing their sides with their tails and roaring dolefully." Other beasts of the desert being in various ways released, a terrible scene in the light of the hard dinner of the room, a yell of indescribable agony, and a crushing, and then was indicated that the polar bear and the tiger were added to the confusion of fighting, when the flames and smoke momentarily rolled back, and for a few seconds the interior of the room was visible to the lurid light of the flames, which revealed the lion and tiger locked together in close combat.

The monkeys perched, terror-stricken, on the window-ledges, the snakes writhed about apparently bewildered by the heat, a kangaroo flame singed every hair from the tail and a bear's paw, the elephant, with a loud trumpeting, and bossy engaged in unrestrained in corporate system with his own speech," and just then, the fire burned out the bottom of the "Happy Family" cage, precipitating the whole connection into its future home. The bewildered allegiance were exhibiting dreadful torments. The water in which they swam was literally boiling, and, at last, they rushed out on the floor, to die, gasping, or to meet other speedy ends. "Tom, monkey" and alligator became involved in a controversy with each other's tails, and joined the melee in the center of the flaming apartment."

The tropical birds, cockatoos, mockingbirds, parrots, etc., in the large light of the hard when the fire broke out, escaped to the top and, and caused great excitement in the crowd, as they took wing. "There was no escape for the large birds of prey, however, which also obtained their liberty, and, later after the rising and devouring wall for machinery; the bear and the lofty the Prowler and the secure were engaged in deadly battle. At length, the fan beat of the serpent sank, his writhing, sinuous form grew still, and, being spared by the flames, passed off the gaping multitude, together, with a scream of triumph, and bearing his prey in his iron talons, soared toward the sun."

The tendency on the part of the dentists to save the hot forms upon the fine steel picture of the "flying Brigand" throttled and hatred under the arm of reluctant "Money" libertine saloon with the "mortal Smoking," who bar an long built and constantly wagged her doll's head at his side." Franklin Pierce and Buchanan seized by the coat collars, and made room for a bundle along with the Prince Imperial of France and the "Veiled Murderess." The Thumb horn asunder by two competing boys; Henry Clay and Daniel Webster, out; George Washington twisted by the bust until his head lay in the lap of Mad Polka with Madame Roland on one arm and Lucretia Borgia on the other, and P. T. Barnum, disgusted with the whole affair, falling at full length and muttering away, glad to see no more.

The snakes were reprompted as escaping from the building and mingling with the crowd, "several of the copperhead species, escaping the fury of the flames, were killed and fricasseed crocodile. * * * Probably the recklessness of the moment, great and only true day to prepare those meals as to make them at all palatable. Englishmen, in the same manner that the Chinese, according to Charles Lamb, first discovered pig by burning down his father's house, discovered at a home on fire with a pginiable when they reached the ground."

GOOD NEWS FOR GIRLS.

Gum-Chewing Elevated to the Level of an Accomplishment.

The devotion of the American girl for gum has been remarked for this many a year, says the New York Sun, but the fullest of appreciation of its merits came to light last season in all its pristine simplicity. The gum habit was brought in contact with that of the druggist's or the confectioner's and has been inoculated with a new disease. Orders for special gum-boards to be made that an outer coat of gum should harmonize with furniture in their apartments. Heretofore the discoverer of a particularly choice morsel of tutti-frutti or spruce had to be obliged when occasion demanded the relinquishment of the delicacy to the mouth of a mastic-piece, or upon the window frame, or, when retiring, upon the bed-post. The objections to this method of preserving the morsel are apparent and need little comment. By all who have tried it placed upon the bed-post or window frame it is liable to take up with it, when removed, some of the dust that inevitably lingers upon any piece of furniture, in spite of the most careful attention of the housemaid. Besides, it is liable to take up with it, when removed, the hirsute appendage which seemed to be the concerned nearly all who tried to save any "left-over" gum. Much annoyance from knowing there was a fire. The intrepid Bella Donna's belief that the fresh gum is the effigy of "Art" Davis in petticoats was received for his pains by the crowd. When Daniel Webster's baby carriage was handed down, its waxen form dripping with fire upon the pavement, all the crowd rushed to assist what was taken to be the fat woman. The street gamins were there from over what was supposed to be going on within the burning building, and called loudly for the "fire-eater" to exhibit himself. Every moment "throat elephant" and other deformities of the museum. Fish on the "human conscience," shouted one, "I want it for a tipper." "How are you, Learned Seal!" they called out to the animal, who, if he had disciplined many by his intelligent tricks, had also learned the use of the human voice, who was said to have clambered down the fire escape with the only specimen of the word "summon," the man-killing grizzly, had been removed from the museum before the fire.

The rebuttle of the then new steam fire engines of the city, which came from all over it was learned where the house came from it brought to the fire elephant, escaped and promiscuously on the streets, and there was general dash for the railings of St. Paul's church. The fire engines, which had been at one time in danger, and George Washington's bodyguard on the same, provoked which quoted as his only provocation: "I don't pay any living time for a fire engine"—was destroyed in a ballard saloon opposite, which for a long time carried and the scores within a long radius from the burning building. And every one of the particularly silent thieves and partly that the proprietors might see the fire. A few days after the destruction of Mr. Barnum's new six-hour old partner, recovered from his safe deposit in Greenwich street.

The peculiar circumstances of this fire—the interesting living contents of the building, and the fact that so nearly all the animals could do when they got loose—offered to the devices of the showmen and of the press too strong to resist. Imaginative accounts of the occurrence were published in every newspaper, or at least as having been "true stories" by the liberal. It was the only fire of any really important kind in the Tribune and was widely copied in the press of that day, and has been mentioned since among the newspaper classics.

Attracted by the howls from the third floor of the museum, where the animals were kept, he repaired to his room at Broadway and 34th street, opposite Barnum's, where he reasoned himself behind a protecting bulwark of mattresses, having a peep hole at the top through which he had a full, unobstructed view of all that occurred among the various beasts on the floor below.

"With a unmuttaneous bound," he wrote, "the lion and his mate sprang against the bars of their cage with all the force that a ravine down with a great crash, releasing the beasts, which for a moment seemed utterly amazed at their sudden liberty, stood in the middle of the floor lashing their sides with their tails and roaring dolefully." Other beasts of the desert being in various ways released, a terrible scene in the light of the hard dinner of the room, a yell of indescribable agony, and a crushing, and then was indicated that the polar bear and the tiger were added to the confusion of fighting, when the flames and smoke momentarily rolled back, and for a few seconds the interior of the room was visible to the lurid light of the flames, which revealed the lion and tiger locked together in close combat.

The monkeys perched, terror-stricken, on the window-ledges, the snakes writhed about apparently bewildered by the heat, a kangaroo flame singed every hair from the tail and a bear's paw, the elephant, with a loud trumpeting, and bossy engaged in unrestrained in corporate system with his own speech," and just then, the fire burned out the bottom of the "Happy Family" cage, precipitating the whole connection into its future home. The bewildered allegiance were exhibiting dreadful torments. The water in which they swam was literally boiling, and, at last, they rushed out on the floor, to die, gasping, or to meet other speedy ends. "Tom, monkey" and alligator became involved in a controversy with each other's tails, and joined the melee in the center of the flaming apartment."

The tropical birds, cockatoos, mockingbirds, parrots, etc., in the large light of the hard when the fire broke out, escaped to the top and, and caused great excitement in the crowd, as they took wing. "There was no escape for the large birds of prey, however, which also obtained their liberty, and, later after the rising and devouring wall for machinery; the bear and the lofty the Prowler and the secure were engaged in deadly battle. At length, the fan beat of the serpent sank, his writhing, sinuous form grew still, and, being spared by the flames, passed off the gaping multitude, together, with a scream of triumph, and bearing his prey in his iron talons, soared toward the sun."

JOE DAVIESS' SPEECH.

The Eloquent Kentucky Lawyer in the Indiana Legislature.

"The speaker always proclaims the man," said Polonius. He was, thinks a contributor to the Washington Critic, indeed, more in not substituting a shelter for "the." It has been found that of the finest bred in not the most distinguished, but the most flashy feathers.

Years ago the staid citizens of Washington were surprised one morning at the appearance of a strange figure in their streets. He was dressed in the height of outlandish fashion, and the garments, though much the worse for wear, with several repairs, were of the costliest stuff and a "shocking hat."

Solemnly he walked the streets, six feet in height, lead by a pair of long, well-cultivated mustaches, his tall matted with bare, a pair of small pistols hung over the saddle, in which were stuffed papers and crackers and cheese. Stopping at an entire restaurant he ordered a dinner, conducted himself of life, "top most." Into the middle of the forenoon of a day when he proclaimed he stuffed his lunch, and indulged after a bundle of hay and a bottle with a hemp string. Inquiring the way to the Supreme Court, he walked forth, followed by a host of small boys, to the Capitol. Arrived at the court room, he sauntered down the aisle to the bar of the court, munching his bread and cheese. The lawyers and judges, diplomatists from England, Scotland, Canada and other provinces of the confederation of the United States. When Mr. Frelinghuysen ordered the crier to proclaim silence, and to have him removed from the court, he was prevented from his office the latter proclaimed him by the lapel of the coat, and would have assaulted him but for the good offices of the doorkeeper and messenger, who blasted the fellow to the ground.

Kolb said a crank called on Secretary Lamar and wanted a few acres of land in the West to establish a "Land of Canaan," where the followers of the religion of Moses could settle down in peace, free from the forces of civilization. He seemed quite ready to buy the land, but when Secretary Lamar jokingly informed him that the festive red man was still a predator on the land in the West, and that the followers of the unborn lamb might be beaten upon the cheek, he grew unpleasant than the vices of civilization.

HINTS FOR HOUSEWIVES.

A little salt and copperas mixed and applied to the shelves of the pantry will wash clean and keep the cellar is periodically coated.

Beef tea is thought to be tough may be made tender by rubbing it over with the fat of corn or oil, several hours before cooking.

An excellent remedy for a cough is the juice of a roasted lemon upon some powdered sugar. Take a teaspoonful when troubled.

Salt fish should never be laid to soak with the skin side down, as the salt will settle on the inside and not be allowed to escape.

A cabbage housekeeper says that boiling cabbage with a small piece of charcoal will make them last has received the contempt of every one.

Milk Porridge.—Ten tablespoonfuls sweet milk, one and a half cups of sugar, two eggs, a little salt, flour enough to roll and quite water; put in a moderate spread quickly and bake in a quick oven. Eat with butter.

Beef tea is thought to be tough may be made tender by rubbing it over with the fat of corn or oil, several hours before cooking.

An excellent remedy for a cough is the juice of a roasted lemon upon some powdered sugar. Take a teaspoonful when troubled.

Salt fish should never be laid to soak with the skin side down, as the salt will settle on the inside and not be allowed to escape.

A cabbage housekeeper says that boiling cabbage with a small piece of charcoal will make them last has received the contempt of every one.

Milk Porridge.—Ten tablespoonfuls sweet milk, one and a half cups of sugar, two eggs, a little salt,

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE, A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors.

A SALUTATION.

The wheel of time rolls round with unerring regularity. Seventy-five years fly away, leaving behind them the record of stern reality, a page worthy of attentive perusal and solemn thought.

The sun of 1887 is dipping low beneath the horizon, while in an opposite direction it awaits the coming light of 1888.

The old year will soon be gone, and the new, freighted with unknown events, of good and ill, of hope and fear, of prosperity and adversity, of happiness and sorrow, is ready at hand. To solicit encouragement for this publication is to discharge with fidelity its trust. Justice and right every imposed obligation, whether public or private, religious, social and political. Then the end will be better than the beginning.

To all our friends and patrons, without a shadow of distinction, we wish a HAPPY NEW YEAR.

GLORY AND SHAME.

Hon. Bourke Cockran, a Democratic Congressman from the City of New York, responding to the toast—Congress of the United States," at the recent annual dinner of the New England Society, spoke as follows:

"We may hope to see more American statesmen constructed by American skill and inspired by American ideas. They will be walked up every hour, their docks bathed in the light of the Southern Cross as well as in that of the Northern Star. Above the Northern skies, their flocks appear parting the waves of every harbor from the Delta of the tropics to the mouth of the Hudson.

May that eloquently expressed hope be speedily realized!

The United States has seen pressure the proud and well-earned distinction of maritime supremacy and regained its golden returns. Then our flag, followed triumphantly over the broad deep of merchantmen like children at their mother's breast, and nurtured by Peace has also every where worshipped above.

That overfulfilled National Glory.

New United States steaming vessels, both steam and sail propelled are almost unknown. They have been driven from the ocean by perverse home legislation and unpardonable neglect. Foreigners do our carrying trade and appropriate to themselves all its profits. The flag of the American Republic no longer typifies commercial renown, and never will until common sense and common honesty rules Congressional action, and equitable protection is afforded to every legitimate industry, in spite of opposition bounties fabricated piracy favored interests.

The cardinal sources of American greatness and wealth are commerce, agriculture and manufactures. They are alike deserving of protection and encouragement, and yet the first named is virtually dead and without natural means.

That now portrays National Shame.

Increased Mail Matter.

The increase in the amount of mail matter handled at the Plainfield post office during the past few days is noticeably large. Each incoming mail brought to the city Christmas presents in the shape of cards and boxes, a high mark their destination through the post office. The outgoing mails are accordingly large, all of which goes to show that the custom of remembering friends at the holiday season is still in vogue. This year, however, the mails are not so heavily laden with Christmas cards as for former years, but the majority of the mail matter is merchandise. The foreign money order business for the past few days has also been quite brisk. On Thursday, outside of the regular mail matter sent from this city thirteen extra sacks were required to ship the morning mail. Friday's additional sacks were not required besides the usual number. Besides this there were two extra pouches of first-class mail matter. Saturday's mail. Package of every conceivable shape passed through the post office at this season of the year, some of them containing very valuable articles, and it is a matter of the utmost caution in sealing and directing them, so as to insure a prompt delivery.

Mr. John Enright, former Chairman of Michigan's Democratic State Central Committee, resides in Plainfield, although holding his residence by his native State of Michigan. Mr. E. is a writer of more than ordinary ability, and is a member of the editorial staff of the New York Star. The name of Mr. Enright has been prominently mentioned in connection with the postmastership of Washington, D. C. The selection of Mr. Dickinson as Postmaster-General, who also hails from Michigan, and is a staunch friend of Mr. Enright, may possibly result in the appointment of some other candidate for this important position, as the President has expressed himself as favorable to the selection of some person residing in the District of Columbia for the place. If Mr. Enright should receive the appointment, no better or more worthy party could be selected, and his many friends in this section would heartily endorse such action.

Fire at Dunellen.

Wednesday about 2 o'clock a. m. officer Doty discovered flames issuing from the roof of the building owned and occupied by John Leible, a tailor, on Front street, Dunellen. An alarm was at once given and the family of Mr. Leible were aroused. With the assistance of Officer Doty, Mr. Chas. Wittaker and the neighbors, the flames were subdued. The upper portion of the building was considerably damaged by fire and water. The fire originated from the overheated chimney in the garret.

The Tax Receipts.

Collector Johnson informs us that the tax receipts thus far have been unusually large. Out of the total tax levy of $35,000 about $25,000 has already been paid in. Of this amount, something like $2,500 has been received at the Collector's office since Tuesday, the 20th inst., when the taxes became delinquent. Last year the total receipts up to the corresponding time this year, was a trifle over $20,000.

A Steam Inventor.

We learn that a purchase has just been made by Peter J. O'Donohoe, Esq., millionaire coffee merchant, of Front street, New York, of the seventy acre farm of Samuel Dayton at South Plainfield. This shows that capitalists are quick to see the increased values that are sure to result from the building of the Lehigh Valley railroad branch from Roselle to South Plainfield.

—The work of erecting the lamp posts for street lighting in North Plainfield is progressing favorably. Some of the posts are already equipped with globes and burners, and in the course of a week or two the borough will be delivered from darkness.

DANIEL MANNING DEAD.

THE EX-SEC. OF THE TREASURY PASSES QUIETLY AWAY.

His Death Had Been Momentarily Expected for Several Days—His Tenacity of Life Surprising to His Physicians and Friends—Countless to the Last—The Magnificent Floral Offerings of the Wonderful Career from Office Boy to Secretary of the Treasury.

DANIEL MANNING.

Mr. Manning was the son of an Albany baker, and early age found in a modest dwelling, with standing, nearly opposite the late executive mansion, only two blocks from the state capitol. The family was of Irish extraction and when the father died, leaving three sons and a daughter to be cared for by the mother. Of these John A. Manning, a wealthy citizen of that city, and Miss Manning, of Albany, and Miss the daughter, survive. Mrs. Manning died in Albany on the 2nd of August, 1876. When his father died, Mr. Manning was but a boy.

At this early age he became connected with the newspaper profession from which he never severed connection until his death. He was associated with the old Albany Argus for many years, and during the latter years of the paper's existence was its editor and proprietor. He was also interested in the composing and publishing business, and was for a time one of the managers of the Albany Evening Journal. He was also for a time a partner in the publishing house of Weed, Parsons & Co., and was for a time a partner in the publishing house of Weed, Parsons & Co., and was for a time a partner in the publishing house of Weed, Parsons & Co., and was

CITY DEPARTMENT.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION.

J. A. DEMAREST, City Editor.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS.
CLOSE—7.30 and 10.00 A. M.; 12.45 and 3.30 P. M.
ARRIVE—7.30, 9.30, 11.45 A. M.; 1.30 and 5.30 P. M.

SOMERVILLE, EASTON, &C., MAILS.
CLOSE—7.30 A. M. and 3.30 P. M.
ARRIVE—9.30 A. M. and 5.30 P. M.

SUNDAY MAILS—ARRIVE and CLOSE 9 A. M. Office open from 2 P. M. to 3.30 P. M. Mail closes at 4 P. M.
Mail for Watchung is closed Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 12 M.

Post Office open at 7 A. M. and closes at 7 P. M. Saturdays, closes at 9.00 P. M. Open every evening until 9.00 P. M., to accommodate box holders.

Money Order Office open from 9 A. M. to 7 P. M. Saturdays to 9 P. M.

W. L. FRACE, Postmaster.

Personalia.

Miss Aiken, of New York, is visiting Miss Monsen, of Grove street.

Mr. Geo. W. Moore of this city is spoken of for Deputy-Warden at the County Jail.

John Point, of Rutgers College, son of Mr. R. T. Polak, of Netherwood, is home for the holidays.

Misses Grace and Ethel Daniel, of Plainfield avenue, are visiting relations in Milford, N. J.

Miss Maggie Wilcox of Stony Point, N. Y., is visiting the Misses Radford, of West Front street.

Mr. Richard Barkalow of Newark, a brother of L. E. Barkalow of the Borough, visited our city Christmas.

President Cleveland and party passed through Elizabeth on Monday evening, en route for Albany, N. Y.

Henry King of New York, accompanied by his son, is visiting his brother Mr. John King of West Second street.

Mr. Kitchell, formerly an instructor in Mr. Leal's school, spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Izzard, of Madison.

Mr. David Atwood is at home from the Dental College, Philadelphia, to spend the holiday week with his parents.

Mr. N. C. Dunn, wife and children, of Philadelphia, Pa., are visiting Mrs. Dunn's sisters and mother at Force's Hotel.

Mr. General Bazinge Adams was on duty at the depot, extending his thanks to his friends for their Christmas remembrance.

Mr. Rosh Rhees, of Amherst College, is a guest at the residence of his sister, Mrs. R. B. Johnson, "Block View Terrace," in the Borough.

Miss Wotherspoon, formerly of this city, but now of New York, is the guest during holiday week of Mrs. Wm. T. Smith, of Netherwood.

Mr. John Broomfield and family of Evesa are spending the holiday week in this city, as the guests of Mr. Broomfield's daughter.

Rev. Dr. Ketcham was among those who enjoyed a good skate on Tier's Lake on Monday last. The Reverend Doctor is quite an expert on ice.

Messrs. R. Smythe & Co., successors to Mr. Wm. H. Shotwell, presented each of their clerks with a Christmas present in the shape of a silk umbrella.

Mr. J. E. White, formerly in the dry and fancy goods business on West Front street, started on a six month's pleasure trip to Europe. He will first visit New Orleans, La.

The Governor of the State having been invited by the Committee to be present at the opening of the Plainfield Driving Park Loan Exhibition, sent his regrets on account of sickness.

Cashier Carlson Purse is now a resident of Grove street, in the Borough, of North Plainfield, having moved into his new home, opposite Prospect Place, in Township of last week.

Mrs. R. P. Penfield of Plainfield avenue, one of the most active and efficient flower bearers workers in the State, was the giver of the supply for the communion service in the Bethel Mission.

On the end of a delicately balanced rod, Mr. M. M. Thorn has hung a vacuum lamp which rises or lowers in accordance with the density of the atmosphere. The clear or stormy weather is prognosticated.

Mrs. Horrie Cottier, of Brooklyn, N. Y., visited friends in this city last Friday. She was formerly connected with the Union Hall Academy of music.

Lewis and Frank Archibald, who formerly resided in this city, after an absence of thirteen years, spent Christmas with friends here. They express surprise at the rapid progress Plainfield has actually made since their absence.

Mr. George Denker, of the "Notch Hotel," was the recipient of several handsome Christmas presents from his friends, and lastly. Among them was a beautiful bear skin robe, which would keep any man and his girl warm when sleighriding.

Mr. and Mrs. Elden, Shirley's friends of Plainfield, entertained by their daughter, one of the most admired of society ladies of the East, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hazell of Dover street, the Borough. Mrs. Hazell is also a daughter of Mrs. Elden.

Justice John D. Jaques of Westfield, during his two years service as Justice, has had but three appeals from his decisions. Two of these were affirmed in the higher courts, and the third was withdrawn. His rulings on all cases give generally good satisfaction.

On Sunday, Jan. 1st, Col. George W. Bain, the celebrated temperance advocate from Kentucky, will speak at Reform Hall, and on the following Thursday evening, Jan. 5th, the public installation of the newly elected officers will take place, followed by a collation.

Mr. Whitfield French, of Washington-ville, has leased the new building on E. Fourth street, recently erected by Mr. Morgan Hall, and will open the same, in part, a wholesale and retail flour and feed store. Mr. French has already taken up his residence on E. Fifth street.

Mr. George Hartshorn of Dover suffered no small loss when he valued pet sky terrier dog "Fussy," on Thursday of last week, between this city and his home at Westfield. The animal had an orange colored ribbon around its neck. Mr. Thatcher will liberally reward the finder of the dog.

The appointment of Miss Emma Adams as Librarian of the Public Library will meet the approval of all its patrons. During her months of service as Assistant of the resigned Librarian, she has fitted herself admirably for the position, and proven herself capable of succeeding him.

Mrs. A. D. Shepard gave a dinner to a number of her friends at her home, "Cedar Gables," Scotch Plains, on the evening of 23d inst. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Smith of Netherwood, Miss Wotherspoon of New York, Col. Robert S. Green, Jr., of Elizabeth and Dr. C. M. Field of this city.

The funeral of the late Mason Leland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Leland, of Bound Brook, took place from the First Baptist church on Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. There was a large attendance of the friends of deceased. The Rev. Dr. Yerkes conducted the services, and the remains were interred in the First Baptist cemetery.

Among the early Christmas surprises on Monday morning was that of the B. C. F. association, accompanied by a full string band, which made a pleasant call on Mr. Jonas M. Force, of Orchard Place, and Mr. Glancy, of West Front street. The visitors were well received in both instances and met with a cordial Christmas greeting.

Rev. Theo Munnelle, President of the State University of Kansas is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Bunyon of East fifth street. The Reverend gentleman is an uncle of Mrs. Bunyon, and was the first to instruct the late President Garfield in latin and geometry when the latter was a student at Hiram College, Ohio, and was a Professor in that institution at the time.

Mr. James Smith, a former resident of this city, and now of Brooklyn, N. Y., spent Christmas with his son, Mr. Wm. Smith, of North Plainfield. Mr. Smith, who was at prominent builder of Plainfield a number of years ago, has visited this city every year for twenty years, since he took up his residence in Brooklyn. "Jim" met many old friends during his visit, among the fire laddies, with whom he was a prominent member and officer in the palmy days of the Department. He expressed himself as amazed at the wonderful growth of Plainfield during the past few years.

Royal Arch Mason Officers.

The following officers were elected for Jerusalem Chapter, No. 34, R. A. M., last Thursday evening:

W. B. Stelzing, P. H. P. H. F. P.
A. M. Stiles, S.
J. Chandler, S.
D. L. Rogers, P. H. P. Treas.
C. M. Goodspeed, P. H. P. Secy.
J. O. Miller, C. of H.
J. Gorrell, P. H. P. R. A.
D. Nelson, R. A. C.
A. Chandler, L. D. Trustees—Past C. M. Goodspeed, Nelson.

Westfield's Masonic Officers.

At a regular communication of Atlas Lodge No. 126, F. and A. M., of Westfield, N. J., held on Monday evening, December 19th, 1887, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

W. M.—Chas. Roberts.
S. W.—W. W. Gifford.
J. W.—John O. Bonnell.
Treasurer—Chas. S. French.
Secretary—Eli Bates.
Trustee—Jos. P. Connely.
Proxy to Grand Lodge—Addison S. Clark.

The Board of Education Inspection.

Upon investigation from the New Jersey Land Improvement Company, President Richard Kindred, Messrs. L. P. Maddock, John W. Murray, Rev. J. L. Hurlbut and Geo. H. Babcock, constituting the Board of Education, made a tour of inspection in the vicinity of Grant avenue, on Monday afternoon for the purpose of deciding upon a site for a new school building. Mr. C. C. Ayers, the agent for the Land Improvement company was indisposed and could not accompany the Board. The lot which the company has offered to donate to the Board is situated on Monroe avenue between Third and Fourth streets, and is considered a very desirable site. No definite action was taken, and nothing further will done with the matter until the next meeting of the Board.

Mr. Tyler's Resignation.

Mr. Arthur W. Tyler, for the past two years in charge of the Public Library, has been appointed Dean of the College for the Training of Teachers, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Training Association, at No. 9 University Place, New York. The duties of Mr. Tyler's new position will begin the opening of the next term, on the 3d of January. The Board of Trustees, Thursday evening, in accepting Mr. Tyler's resignation with regret, passed resolutions published by us in full yesterday, sincerely commending his efficiency and faithful service in placing Plainfield's Library at the head of Public Libraries in the State. The community, however, will feel his loss in many ways in which he cannot be replaced. In all departments of classics, ancient and modern works, and the literature of arts and sciences, Mr. Tyler was thoroughly informed, and every patron of the Library has always been glad to find him cordially and willing to furnish any reference or information that could be desired. By Township of last week.

Mrs. R. P. Penfield of Plainfield avenue, one of the most active and efficient flower bearers workers in the State, was the giver of the supply for the communion service in the Bethel Mission.

A Happy New Year.

With this issue THE CONSTITUTIONALIST ends its 20th year of existence, having been established Jan. 1st, 1868. That the establishment of its young competitor, THE DAILY PRESS, by the older journal's founders, has not detracted from its merits as an established and influential Journal, is evidenced by the increasing subscription patronage and circulation of THE CONSTITUTIONALIST. The oldest employee in our office is one well known to all patrons of the paper, Charles S. Cook, who has been in the employ of Force Bros. for twenty-one years, he being the first one employed to set a type in the office. Mr. Cook has since been additional firm established a Job Printing establishment in Plainfield, Jan. 1st, 1867. Through rain and hail storms, sunshine and snowdrifts, Mr. Cook—"Cookie" has faithfully fulfilled his duties as carrier of THE CONSTITUTIONALIST, and has been regularly rewarded with a New Year's Day by its patrons for his prompt services. We trust they will not forget him this New Year's Day, 1888. He will present you with a number of interest and instruction. Give "Cookie" a dime. He is growing old in years, and service. THE CONSTITUTIONALIST will continue to grow in influence and power in the coming years.

Meeting of the Board of Education.

The members of the Board of Education held a special session in the Franklin school building on West Fourth street, on Wednesday evening of last week, with the following members present: Messrs. Jacob Kirkner, Louis F. Wadsworth, John W. Murray, Rev. J. L. Hurlbut and George H. Babcock, the newly elected member. The Board proceeded at once to organize for the ensuing year, by electing the following officers:

President—Jacob Kirkner.
Secretary—Judge L. F. Wadsworth.

The Committees on Finance, Auditing, etc., will be announced at the next meeting. Each of the members, with the exception of Rev. Bryant School, Rev. Dr. Hurlbut; Stillman school, John W. Murray; Franklin school, Judge L. F. Wadsworth; Washington school, Geo. H. Babcock.

A communication was received from City Clerk O. B. Leonard, giving official notice of the acceptance by the City of Plainfield of the provisions of the act authorizing the increase in taxation for school purposes. Bills for salaries, etc., were ordered paid, and some other business of a routine nature was transacted.

The Board resolved to at once take the preliminary steps towards the erection of a new school building in the Southwestern section of the city, which has become necessary on account of the rapid increase in the population. Christmas adjournment was decided upon as the time when the Board will make a tour of inspection, and locate a suitable place for erection of the school.

Public Library.

A special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Public Library was held on Thursday evening. Present—Rev. Dr. Baldwin, Tracy, Dumont, Tyler, Yates and Stillman. A communication was received from the Librarian, Mr. A. W. Tyler, offering his resignation to take effect Dec. 31. On motion the communication was received and Mr. Tyler's resignation was accepted to take effect Dec. 31. A communication was also received from the Librarian making several suggestions as to the conduct of the Library during the six months next following the Jan. 1, 1888. It was voted that the suggestions of Mr. Tyler be adopted. They are in effect that: 1. He retain the supervision of the work, with the title of Supervising Librarian, and in his discretion make to the Library one or more visits each month, as it may be practicable for him to do. 2. That Miss Adams be appointed Librarian. 3. That the circulating department, after Jan. 1, be open every afternoon except Saturday, and on Saturday evenings during the same hours as at present. On motion Miss Adams was appointed Librarian for six months from Jan. 1, 1888. On motion the following resolution was unanimously adopted and the Secretary was requested to furnish Mr. Tyler with a copy:

Resolved, That in accepting the resignation of Mr. Arthur W. Tyler, who has acted as Librarian for the last two years, the Board desires to express its high appreciation of his very valuable services in the organization of the Library and a sense of obligation to him for his present satisfactory condition; and that in parting with him the Board be assured that not only for his important services in the past but also for his considerate and efficacious offer to gratuitously serve as Supervising Librarian for the ensuing six months.

Christmas Day—In the Churches and Elsewhere.

Christmas Day in this city was celebrated in the usual quiet manner, nothing in fact marking the day more than the delightful weather and the interesting exercises held in the various churches. There was a large number of strangers in town during Sunday and yesterday, and many of the residents also left the city to spend Christmas with relatives and friends at distant points. At ten a. m. the post office and banks closed their doors, and remained open during the day. By noon business was practically suspended and the city put on its usual holiday attire.

IN THE CHURCHES.

Christmas was celebrated at the Seventh Day Baptist church on Saturday morning, when Rev. Dr. Lewis, the pastor, delivered a sermon in accordance with the day. The singing school held a service of song in the afternoon, rendering Lorenzo's Cantata: "In the Manger." The choir, consisting of Miss May Tomlinson, Miss Randolph, Mrs. David E. Titsworth, Miss Mabel Potter, Dr. F. Wells, Mr. D. E. Titsworth and Mr. E. E. Runyon, rendered the following musical selections, with Miss Utter as accompanist:

"Festival Fantasia"..... Crowell
"Hark, the Herald Angels Sing"..... Mendelssohn
"Festival Anthem"..... Root
Soprano Solo, "There were Shepherds," A. J. Holden
Anthem, "Hark, What means those Holy Voices"..... Gounod—Thomas

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

A feature of the Christmas Day service in this church was the singing by the choir composed of Mrs. Samuel Collins, Miss Julia Ketcham, and Messrs. E. F. Hall and Frank W. Runyon. The pastor's sermon related to the birth of Christ. In the evening a Christmas service for the Sunday school was held, which consisted of carols, responsive readings, and an address by the pastor. A brother of Rev. Mr. Schenck was present and recited a poem. The decorations were both neat and tasty.

TRINITY REFORMED.

The Sunday services in Trinity Reformed church were of an interesting nature, particularly so in the morning, when Rev. Mr. Schenck, previous to his discourse on the birth of Christ, announced that the Christ-mas Eve Christmas carols, and the sacred hymns 32d and 33d verses, read the following financial statement concerning the church, and stated that he wished for no better Christmas present, at the same time taking occasion to thank the ladies of the church, for the taste and good judgment displayed by them in trimming the edifice.

PLAINFIELD, Dec. 25th, 1887.
Receipts from various sources for the payment of the mortgage indebtedness of the church is as follows:

Amount collected by the Ladies' Christian Work Society..... $1,291 80
Amount collected by the Sunday School..... 1,400 40
From Lou Park, proceeds of lectures given by him..... 207 25
From parlor sale by the Ladies' Christian Work Society..... 190 00
From parlor sale by the Infant class..... 87 00

Total..... $4,455 70

From this sum has been paid the $4,000 mortgage due the estate of John A. Lansing, deceased leaving a balance on hand toward the payment of the remaining mortgage, of $455 70.

In the evening the church was densely filled, the greater part of the auditorium being reserved for the scholars of the Sunday school. About the pulpit there was a profusion of evergreens, flowers, Christmas bells and berries, the name principal's founders, has not detracted from its merits as an established and influential Journal, is evidenced by the increasing subscription patronage and circulation of THE CONSTITUTIONALIST. The oldest employee in our office is one well known to all patrons of the paper, Charles S. Cook, who has been in the employ of Force Bros. for twenty-one years, he being the first one employed to set a type in the office. Mr. Cook has since been additional firm established a Job Printing establishment in Plainfield, Jan. 1st, 1867. Through rain and hail storms, sunshine and snowdrifts, Mr. Cook—"Cookie" has faithfully fulfilled his duties as carrier of THE CONSTITUTIONALIST, and has been regularly rewarded with a New Year's Day by its patrons for his prompt services. We trust they will not forget him this New Year's Day, 1888. He will present you with a number of interest and instruction. Give "Cookie" a dime. He is growing old in years, and service. THE CONSTITUTIONALIST will continue to grow in influence and power in the coming years.

FRIENDS' FIRST-DAY SCHOOL.

Friends' First-day School held its annual Christmas festival Monday afternoon in the venerable century-crowned meeting house on Peace street. Happy-faced children assembled in full force, and a large number of interested visitors were also there. The exercises opened with reading the XIX Psalm by Henry Adams, following which the superintendent, Mr. Jay Wigman, Lulu Jenkins, Lizzie Rossiter, Mary Shotwell, Maggie Corbell, Lina Harper, Lizzie Mesereault, Lissa Livesay, and Lillie Garretson, who alternately and with credit to themselves, repeated portions of "That Glorious Song of Old," commencing—

"It came upon the midnight clear,
That glorious song of old,
From angels bending near the earth,
To touch their harps of gold."

Several individual recitations were then well rendered by members of the different classes, including Lilla Livesey, Lilla May Wright, Epby Vail and others, when six boys—Wilmer Case, Howard Case, George Townley, Roby Mosher, Clarence Vail, and Harry Denkelow took the floor, and recited the words from the superintendent, retired verse by verse—"Touch Not; Taste Not." The exercises throughout were creditable to all concerned, and drew forth approving comments from Aaron M. Powell, who made a brief, but appropriate address. An abundant supply of gifts and confections were then placed in the hands of each scholar a box of candies and an orange, closed the plain but pleasant anniversary of Friends' First-day School.

WARREN MISSION.

Sunday was a great day for the scholars of Warren Mission chapel, for during the afternoon of that day, occurred the annual Christmas festival celebration. The services included Scripture reading and song, entitled "The True Light." It was arranged by Dr. Jordan of this city. Deacon Truman Dunham presided and the school of well-trained voices made the echo of beautiful carols ring throughout the building. Solos, recitations, too, were very neat and attractive, and considerable skill was displayed in arranging the flowers and evergreens. The instrumental music for the occasion was furnished by Mr. Geo. Rogers at the organ, Mr. C. P. Wheeler, violinist, and Mr. DeWitt Clinton, cornetist. The principal feature of the entertainment was a recitation by four girls from the Primary Department, viz: Lida Pangborn, Lillie Myron, Sadie Pollock, Elmer and Gracie Van Aken also gave recitations, the latter interspersing music, and singing "Nearer My God to Thee." The address was delivered by Rev. Mr. Schenck, who spoke of Christmas day and briefly illustrated what it commemorates. First, that day Christ was born, and the advent of his coming into the world; second, to properly observe the day we must have the spirit of the Lord Jesus Christ—kind, loving, peaceful; lastly, third, in order that the day may be a happy one, we must do good; not only receive, but give. The happiest child in this day is not the one who alone receives the most, but the one who also gives. The speaker told a touching incident of a little girl who approached him at the close of the morning service in his church and handed him an envelope, bearing the inscription: "For Mr. Schenck, from little Ruth." The envelope contained a pin cushion made by a little girl who was at home sick. His remarks with reference to the sick girl were very affecting, and many persons in the audience were moved to tears. The evening service was more largely attended. The meeting opened with singing, followed by the singing of carols and part songs under the direction of Mr. M. M. Dunham. Several of the young lady scholars of the school gave recitations.

FIRST BAPTIST.

The morning service in the First Baptist church was entirely appropriate to the day. The musical part of the programme was especially interesting and included a choir of 20 voices, with organ, solo, duet, three strikes of joyful music, by the choir joining in the chorus. No. 15 in the order of exercises was a recitation by Miss Lillie May Wright and Master Elmer Wheeler, which was recited in a highly commendable manner. The address by Rev. Mr. Schenck, the pastor, was thoroughly enjoyed by all, and the younger scholars of the school listened as attentively to his words of wisdom as the older ones did. Said he in part: There's a story told in every city and town today of the three wise men who left their home in the East in quest of a king; their only guide was a star to lead them to the earth's Redeemer; these men were determined on seeking the new born king; they followed the star for miles and miles over mantin mountains and plains to Jerusalem; they supposed that the new born king would be found in a palace, but lo! he was found lying in a manger; here is a lesson for all of us to learn; those seeking the Redeemer should not be discomfited, but press on, following the example of the three wise men of the East; you and I expect to find the Lord in crowded congregations, but oftentimes he comes in the quiet of our home; the wise men worshipped the king; they did him honor and obedience; they took up a collection; one brought gold, another brought frankincense, and the third myrrh; they gave up his means and laid his gold at the feet of the Lord; another thanksgiving and adoration and another his trials and tribulations; so with us let us lay our offerings at the feet of the Lord; in some houses today wheels all were made happy the Lord was forgotten; let us remember that the Lord's stocking hangs up; let us give to the Lord those souls which he purchased with his own blood. The exercises closed with the benediction.

CHRIST AVENUE PRESBYTERIAN.

The service in this church, Sunday morning, included an appropriate sermon by the Rev. Mr. Richards, and music by the regular choir. Gounod's "Sanctus" was sung as an anthem for the opening piece, and Miss Holmes and Mr. Gavett's solo parts were well rendered. Myers' solo in Adolph Adams' "O, Holy Light," was also decidedly pleasing. The "Gloria," from Mozart's Twelfth Mass, was rendered satisfactorily given as an offertory. The Christmas exercises of the Sunday school took place at four o'clock in afternoon. The programme included singing, responsive reading, and an address by the pastor. Because of the indisposition of Mrs. Myers, Miss Holmes sang her solo, "The Christ Child," on Saturday Van DeWater. Miss Utter's organ selections, both morning and evening, added greatly to the musical portion of the day's services. The social gathering of the scholars of this church will take place today; the primary department at 3:30 this afternoon, and the older ones at 7:30 this evening.

HOLY CROSS CHURCH.

The ceremonies at Holy Cross Church on Sunday were most interesting and the handsome edifice was elaborately decorated with evergreens and holly, the latter being furnished through the kindness of Mr. Thos. E. Warman, of Grove street. Rev. T. Logan Murphy, the rector, preached a short and appropriate sermon, and administered the Holy Communion, being assisted in the latter service by the Rev. Mr. Schroeder of New Milford, Ct. Among the choral selections were, well rendered and a large congregation was in attendance. The offering for Muhlenberg Hospital netted $70 to that institution. A Christmas service took place in the afternoon, during which each class of the Sunday School was presented with a handsome new banner. The annual Christmas celebration of the Sunday School will occur in the church on Wednesday, at 4 p. m., on which occasion the little ones of the Children's Home have been invited to participate in the festivities.

CONGREGATIONAL.

The Christmas festival in this church was held Tuesday evening, with ex-Mayor Rockfellow in command. The beautiful little chapel on West Seventh street was filled to its utmost capacity, and the evening was spent by all those present. The Sunday school sang Christmas carols, and recitations were delivered by members of the scholars. Mr. Joseph Robinson as Santa Claus, entertained the children, and the festivities came to an end after confectionery and oranges had been distributed.

CRESCENT AVENUE.

Like in the other churches above enumerated, the Sunday school exercises, in the Crescent Ave. church Tuesday evening were thoroughly enjoyed. A programme of vocal and instrumental music was rendered as follows:

Piano Solo..... Miss Carrie Dewey.
Duet—"April Time"..... Choir.
Recitation—"Mabel Martin," by Winnie Cook.
Song—Solo..... Ed. Day.
Recitation—"The Bravest"..... Ida Bell.
Song—Solo..... By a number of young Misses.
Song—Solo..... Ed. Day.
Duet—"Jack Frost"..... Choir.

The entertainment closed with a "sleigh ride" by the scholars, and an address by Rev. Mr. Richards, the pastor. Refreshments were served in abundance.

Christmas Exercises at the Schools.

On Friday last the public schools of the city were closed for the customary Holiday vacation, and the scholars went all dressed in their best suitable again on Tuesday morning, Jan. 3d, 1888. Special exercises were held in recognition of the occasion, at all the schools but particularly so at the Stillman and Franklin. At the former there were a number of visitors present, and the programme was much enjoyed. The chorus singing was by the pupils of Miss Ketcham, in opening his remarks, said it excelled anything of the sort he had ever heard, under any circumstances. He then spoke briefly upon the importance of receiving physical education, attaining intellectual education, and training the heart. He cautioned the pupils not to be always in earnest, and never to be discouraged. Miss Ella Osborne, of the Junior class, read Will Carlton's poem, "Over the Hills to the Poor House," and Miss Laura F. Baker, of the Senior class, read Thackeray's "End of the Play," with much grace. Miss Bolkom, in addressing the assembly, wished everyone a merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

At the Franklin School, exercises by the Primary Department took place in the afternoon, as the overcrowding of the building fills the chapel with scholars during school hours. Appropriate Christmas carols were sung, and the following was the programme:

Christmas in Norway..... Beatrice Crane.
Song—Signal Soldiers..... Rose Dietz.
The Little Christmas tree..... Julia Bolkom.
Santa Claus at Home..... Evangeline Read.
Song—Welcome Santa Claus..... By children.

A CHRISTMAS FEAT.
By Nellie Russell.

Mother..... Josie Jenkins.
Grandma..... Bessie Wilkens.
Boys..... Harry Bennett, Frank Bennett, Marie Brown, Marie Newman, Nellie Waters, Willie Waters, Wright Waters.
Santa Claus..... Ellery Leonard.

At the Bryant School, the Vice Principal, Miss Shreve presided, having entirely recovered from the severe cold that necessitated her absence recently. The scholars assembled singing their own Christmas march, and the exercises consisted almost entirely of carols and songs, one of the latter accompanied by the chiming of sleigh bells, outside. The Rev. J. L. Hurlbut addressed the children, and wished for them a happy Christmas time during all the coming year. He told them if they always were the bearers of rings, Kindness, Love and Contentment, they would never be unhappy.

The scholars of the Washington School only held special exercises in their respective class-rooms. Each scholar in this building, as well as every scholar in all the primary departments of the public schools, was presented with one of Mr. Frang's handsome cards—the gift of the Board of Education.

The North Plainfield public school was closed in accordance with appointment. The school will reopen on Tuesday, Jan. 3d.

Kitchen Garden Entertainment.

The kitchen garden entertainment held on Monday at Reform Hall, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., was quite an enjoyable affair. The classes, under the leadership of their Superintendent, Miss Alice Smith, did great credit to their teaching. After the scholars performed their part of the exercises. They listened to a short but edifying talk by Mrs. Thos. Inman, President of the W. C. T. U., after which they were each blindfolded and one by one tried to pin a tail on a mock-looking donkey, who was himself pinned to a sheet at the back of the room. After a half-hour of fun the girls were dismissed with a remembrance. Refreshments in the shape of a bag filled with fruit and peanuts. The boys also had a treat. The Loyal Temperance Legion, who were among the audience by special invitation from the kitchen garden classes, enjoyed the fun most heartily.

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING COLUMN.

When baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she was a Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

We have a speedy and positive cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria, Canker Mouth and Headache, in Sulfo-a Catarrh Remedy. A Nasal Injector free with each bottle. For sale by all druggists and sent by mail, price 50 cents. Sold by Field & Sandalph, City Pharmacy.

DYSPEPSIA AND LIVER COMPLAINT.

It is much worse than the worst pain to suffer from constant of every symptom of these diseases, loss of appetite, if you feel so, go at once and get a bottle of Sulfo-a Vitalizer. Every bottle is guaranteed to cure or money refunded. Sold by Field & Sandalph, City Pharmacy, Plainfield.

OH, WHAT A COUGH

Will you heed the warning when the signal reshapes of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, CONSUMPTION, which counts its victims by thousands annually? Why suffer when you can afford for the sake of saving 25 cents, to run the risk you are taking? Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is a preparation that science itself will conquer your cough. It never fails. This is strong language, but the millions bottles were sold last year. It relieves in one minute. Sold by druggists in this country and in all parts of the world. Price 25 cents. Be sure you get Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Take no other. Sold by Field & Sandalph, City Pharmacy, Plainfield.

Mr. Wm. Hall, of Frankfort, N. Y., says a number of his friends have used Sulfo-a Catarrh Remedy with the best results. He has also used it in his own family with the most satisfactory results. He unhesitatingly recommend it to health by using Sulfo-a Catarrh Remedy. Sold by Field & Sandalph, City Pharmacy, Plainfield.

If there had existed for twenty years, and used all kinds of remedies without relief, Mr. Smith, of Bound Brook, N. J., would have been dead long ago. Instead of which he is alive and well. He was singular; it allayed the inflammation, and in a very short time cured him entirely. Sulfo-a Catarrh Remedy is for sale by druggists. Sold by Field & Sandalph, City Pharmacy, Plainfield.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., New York.—91N371

DEMAREST'S

NEW STORE.
Choice Creamery Butter. The best in the city. Choice Hams 12½c. lb. New Dates, 10c. Confectioners Sugar, 10c. English Walnuts, 16c. and a large Stock of Canned Goods, Dried Fruits, Nuts, Florida Oranges, &c., &c. All of which are sold at bottom prices. Please give me a call.

P.M. DEMAREST,
27 PARK AVENUE

HOLIDAY GIFTS
MAY NOW BE PURCHASED AT
WHITNEY'S
CONSISTING OF A LINE OF USEFUL ARTICLES IN Dry and Fancy Goods
AT EXCEEDINGLY
LOW PRICES.
ALSO CARPETS,
RUGS,
MATS, Etc.
Opposite Post Office.
UNDER Y. M. C. A. HALL.

TO THE LADIES!
EXAMINE OUR
ALL-WOOL STRIPED WOVEN SKIRTS,
MADE AND UNNADE.
A FULL LINE OF LADIES, MISSES and CHILDREN'S Newmarkets, Cloaks and Jackets,
AT POPE'S.
FRONT AND SOMERSET STS.

During the Holidays
My Stock of
-CANDY-
Will be LARGE and FRESH!
C. K. COMPTON,
26 West Front Street.

HALL'S
ELASTIC COTTON-LAP
MATTRESSES.
Next to a Horse-Hair Mattress, the most COMFORTABLE AND DURABLE
in the World, and at LESS COST.
ALL MADE IN LAPS OR LAYERS.
WILL NOT MAT DOWN.
MANUFACTURED AT
THE HOWARD MILLS.
FRANK A. HALL,
SOLE AGENT,
NEW YORK.
ASK YOUR DEALER FOR THEM.

PECK'S CORNER. PECK'S CORNER.

The Winthrop Kid Glove
At Peck's!
Buy it and you will wear no other.
From Jan. 1st this Establishment closes at 7 P. M.

CAN WE HELP YOU
In the selection of a Christmas Present by a suggestion or two?
Besides a very extensive line of plush toilet cases, handsome leather covered albums, fancy cut glass smokers, vases, brass goods, and a great variety of bric-a-brac generally, we would mention in fine linen hemstitched for ladies at 30 cents and gents at 50 cents.

INITIAL HANDKERCHIEFS
Silk umbrellas, silk handkerchiefs and mufflers.
Gents extra quality embroidered back kid gloves at $1.35, 1.50 and 1.75.
The genuine "Foster" and "Harris" kid gloves in several grades for ladies at LOW PRICES.
Black lace ties and fichus, box ruchings (6 pieces) put up especially for presents at 55 cents a box.
Fancy tidies and scarfs, pocket books, in fine leather and real Alligator.
Hand bags, cuff buttons, scarf pins.
All kinds from the cheapest to the finest embroidered ladies' handkerchiefs.
Linen, Damask table sets.
Thomson's glove fitting corsets, "C. P." corsets.
Picture and toy books, fancy note paper in boxes, games, Christmas cards, etc, all much below regular prices.
And remember that our prices are greatly reduced for the Holiday Trade,

And you will find her the best selected and largest line of goods ever shown in this city, and prices were never so low as now.

EDSALL'S
No. 20 West Front Street.
The Pioneer Dry and Fancy Goods Establishment in Plainfield for LOW PRICES.

THE "WORLD" FOR SALE!

ONLY EIGHT DOLLARS!
A Practical Typewriter! Fully Warranted!
DON'T YOU BELIEVE IT! THEN SEND AND SEE.
GET ONE FOR CHRISTMAS.
BARNES & CO.,
COMPILERS FOR BRAIN WORKERS.
Box 398. 755 BROAD STREET, NEWARK, N. J.

Everything at NEW YORK PRICES!
Green's Furniture Warerooms
REPAIRING AND UPHOLSTERING IN ALL BRANCHES.
GOODS TAKEN ON STORAGE.

J. P. LAIRE & CO.
Sleighs, Skates,
Carpet Sweepers.
Parlor Stoves 10 pr. c. Discount.
All Holiday Goods.
Telephone Call No. 71.

P. H. BENNETT.
(Successor to B. H. Backman)
DEALER IN BUTTER,
EGGS AND PRODUCE,
MEATS OF ALL KINDS,
Fruits & Vegetables
IN THEIR SEASON.
42 Park avenue, Plainfield N. J.
Goods Delivered to any part of the City, free.

ALL ABOUT SPONGES.

Where and How These Queer Animals Live and Grow.

The Different Qualities Known to Dealers and the Prices They Command in America's Leading Markets—How Cheap Goods are Doctored.

Although an article commonly used every little is known or the general public about the production of the sponge. The facts connecting it are interesting and instructive, and show some strange features in the lower forms of organic life.

A New York Telegram reporter visited a well-known importer of sponges yesterday, and obtained from him the necessary information regarding the manufacture of sponges, the value of the industry, and many other points about them not generally known. He said:

"I am not to tell you when the sponge was first used in this world, but it has been known ever since the Carthaginians were beaten. American sponges were first used in this city by the old Dutch settlers, and the greatest introduced the Mediterranean sponges here thirty-five years ago by hawking them about the streets, since which time the trade has grown into millions of dollars annually, and the industry is an important one.

"Is the sponge of vegetable or animal growth?" was the next question.

"As authorities consider a question in this case of no great importance, I will take the occasion that the question is of animal growth, in its original state, of the coarser form, and of the finer, as it is in the appearance. It is fair reason from the water with a net to which it will be hard to the shore and covered with bodies under the sun from the water. The sponge it is washed in salt water. The bleaching is done by the use of muriatic or chloric acid, and the sponges are then placed in water and muriatic acids, next washed in water, and then are singed or colored with a solution of common washing soda.

"Where and how are they first obtained?"

"Off Florida Keys in this country, around the islands of the West Indies and in the Mediterranean sea, particularly on the Greek and Turkish archipelagoes. The colonies there for them, sometimes in forty fathoms of water, and in these deep sponges are found. These divers are very clumsy fellows, and as a rule they become deaf, blind and rheumatic, unless eaten by sharks as is sometimes the case. They have their own boats and vessels. It is untrue that the sponge dealers own them. A great deal of the small trash used in sponge baths, as is generally claimed, is not fished for at all, but that time of divers, after getting their vessels well provisioned, will sail work, and in the course of that trip their sponges of food are exhausted, when they will fish for sponges, and that is small, and then dispose of it on the hotel islands. Every vessel is manned by from five to six men, who live on fish and what they get, and are very fond of the variety of viands.

"What are the different grades of sponge?"

"The Florida sea grass supplies the cheapest wool, velvet, grass and reef sponges. The Mediterranean supplies the wool, but it is not as strong as the Florida article, and is not used to any extent. The larger sizes, and also the grass, velvet, reef and wire sponges, but the latter is not sold in the usual Mediterranean sponges as the Turkish bath sponge in this country, and is exported to Europe. They are brought here in the natural state and bleached. We also receive from the same source the silk sponge, which is the very finest and softest sponge. The Cuban sponges are coarse, and are used principally in Holland and Trieste do the bleaching."

"How are they made to grow sponges in this country?"

"In 1880 it was tried at Sawney Bay beach, and was successful, proved a failure."

"Where do you receive the finest sponges from?"

"The Greek archipelago the cup sponges."

"What are the principal markets?"

"New York, Liverpool, London, Hamburg and Trieste for Turkish goods. Nassau for the Bahamas, Key West, Cuba and Trieste do the bleaching."

"How are they made to grow sponges in this country?"

"The only sponges used in the hospitals and the small sponges used by dentists are those they are being dispersed to the absorption cotton. The sponges are now used principally for medical uses, such as to put a sponge tent, made of reef sponge, and to use the shearing out medicine in the different cases."

"What is the difference between fine and coarse sponges?"

"Their structure. In fine sponges the pores are small, and in coarse sponges the pores to be from one-quarter to one-half inch in diameter."

"Are there any fresh in the trade?"

"Yes. Sponges are used to 'freshen' by unscrupulous dealers. Fine and coarse sponges are bleached and put on the market as Turkish goods. Sponges of all sorts are called 'sheep' sponges. Even druggists are not free from this fraud on the customer, as of course, cannot be detected by the appearance of the sponge, but a first-class demonstrator as indicate grade of sponge."

Buy a Gigantic Slug.

Visitors at Ah-ki-napple may remember the great iron mass, estimated to weigh nearly four tons, in the upper part of the Polytechnic museum which used to be shown to strangers as one of the natural curiosities of the place. It was believed to be an ancient and very remarkable meteorite. A recent examination of the mass, however, has reduced it to the rank of mere slag, and shows that it is only a gigantic slug which had accumulated at the bottom of a primitive smelting furnace. Just when it came into existence can not be guessed. It was first brought to light in 1762, when a new furnace was being laid out, and in clearing the site this great mass was found in the soil.

SLAVES BECOME ... ORS.

The Wild Beagle Found on a Rocky Island in Georgia.

A correspondent of the Columbia (Ga.) Enquirer-Sun finds that some of the negroes of Towers Island belong to Hamlet and to the Chattahoochee river. One shot brought a negro down, and he was immediately followed by two more, hauled off, gotten, bound and taken to the mainland of human beings. They ran, beat him, at lightning speed, and disappeared over the little mound. Some of the dogs followed suit and were astounded by seeing a dozen or more turned with no resistance. They fell upon these faces and whined piteously, as if to beg for mercy.

Their den was under a ledge of rock, and was approached by a narrow, crawl-hole. No indication of fire was seen about the place. There was no charred bone upon was a pile of straw, bones and bones in the floor, and bones scattered about. The den are perfectly dry, and there is no reason why which animals had furnished. They stand and wag all but their tails, and look for mercy. The larger one of them is still full of ... ferocious. He seems about forty-five or fifty years old. The other is a little fat and large, and has decidedly marked his birth-record here. The other two are those of both have grown immense heads, so that their feet and ankles, in bearing the flesh from a carcass. With their immense brawny arms they can hurl a stone with as much force as the ball from a Gatling gun's rifle.

There is but one theory, and that is that these were, during slavery, sought through a place of refuge for their runaways. That they have never left the island since. Broken-arrived is almost certain, since they would in such case have escaped if they came ashore with fire and ammunition to find. But how did they get there? The question is unanswered. These negroes have been on the island not less than twenty-five years. No effort was ever made by white persons to reach the island. On account of its rocky and barren appearance it was not supposed to be inhabited.

Hieroglyphed for Nine Days.

Dr. J. J. Dunlap, a remarkable physician of Waterford, N. Y., is now recovering from an attack of hieroglyphs that exercised his faculties for nine days at a time. He had no relief from the complaint except while he was asleep, and as soon as he awoke the hieroglyphs would again attack him and continue until he slept. For five days the fiend was in the greatest power. On the sixth day it was gradually overcome, and on the seventh day left him.

A FEW CHURCH NOTES.

There are, it is estimated, ten million church members in this country.

There are in this country and Canada over eleven hundred Young Men's Christian Associations.

Mexico is fixed upon as the city in which a General Assembly of Evangelical Missions is to be held in January, 1888.

Wales is said to be the most Protestant country in the whole world. There is not a known Welsh-speaking congregation in existence.

Rev. Charles D. Tenney, a missionary of the American Board to China, has been appointed private tutor to the school of Viceroy Li Hung Chang.

The Y. M. C. A. of Liverpool have the largest gymnasium in the world. In a hundreds of street boys are trained in the use of their muscles.

A fleet of five vessels is employed by the Salvation Movement in various Seattle in Africa and Polynesia. The young people raise the money for their support.

Missionaries in Dakota and Montana report that because of their work in that ... reached in one month the sum of $25,197.91, and the number of Bibles issued for six months at 1,503,992 copies.

In a building erected in Tokio, Japan, for the purpose of delivering lectures favorable to Christianity, an audience of fifteen hundred recently gathered to hear a sermon by an American minister.

Wooster, O., has the oldest Reformed minister in the world in the person of Rev. D. Kellenberger, who is in early six years of age, and recently celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of his wedding.

Jesuits as missionaries are arrested, fined and mistreated by the Spanish authorities in the Caroline Islands. The Protestant churches and schools are also closed and all Protestant property confiscated.

There is a new missionary movement afoot in Germany, originated among the theologians, who have an organization the object of which is to spread the best elements of culture and morality found in educated merchants, and in this basis build up a Christian life more according to advanced ideas.

The "Emerald Purple-or-Black" are becoming an important factor in Ebulon. They are increasing in number and widening in influence. Late returns give the people 40,000 scholars and 1,400 teachers. They are also reported to be building the poor boy gems of that vast metropolis are being reached and improved, and through which Jesus Christ is manifesting great practical influences are thrown around them.

A GRIST OF GRINS.

Ten words in a short letter are like large fish in a small skin; they are too prominent.

An enthusiast on the subject of flowers remarked that he desire to obtain some "Christian anthems."

Randy accepted the gale wife's invitation with the respectful: "I'll be glad to, Mrs. Wood, sure," and the lady, "if ye're dead I'll not expect ye."

A moral person has no show in this world; it is only the veterinary surgeon who can with impunity, and that "shoeing" only, enter the ranks of the "every body."

Two fellow who was telling how he had seen a barn swallow was somewhat taken down by another fellow who said he could show him a crow's lip that was bigger than roots.

Tommy—"Say, Bobby, did you ever see a chicken hawk?" Bobby—"Well, I should say I did! One of our chickens swallowed a straw the other day, and that hawk that chicken for all it was worth!"

It is thought that the people of New Zealand are of a lively temperament, and are possessed of an uncommon degree of vigor. This may be accounted for by the fact that the word always has charge, you twice as much and rarely give you such elegant garments.

A woman need never fear being out of work. She has only to wait for a man who wants to lay off a short while, she need have no fear of her work running off; it will always be right there waiting for her. It is the man who has to stick to his job or he is apt to lose it.

Some ministers are complaining against the fashionable text paragraph, which is seriously interfering with the usual Christmas sermon. What is the paragraphing going to amount to as an appreciable a minister's buying his slippers, something should be heard about it.

The wife of a Parisian, returning home, rang at her own door. Nobody came, and she rang again. Still nobody appeared. Finally, at a louder and longer ring, the door opened, and a voice within inquired: "Pray, are you deaf?" said the lady. "I beg pardon, madam," said the man tranquilly, "but I heard only the third ring."

FROM ALL SOURCES.

The buyer of a large Cincinnati tobacco house, who is now in Europe, has ordered 50,000 cigars a year to know what 50,000 cigars are, whether smokes or chews.

A street car conductor who was the cause of the arrest of a man for stealing a ride along the streets of Boston recently said that he would not do it before the driver knew what was going on.

A Paterson woman lives at Lathrop, Mo., and has been in the habit of sending her weight home to a neighborhood twice annually. Her weight is 300 pounds, and the little ones come over eight hours or radio. Both are very sorry and are expected to join.

There is living in Buffalo a young man who has a young wife and a mother-in-law, mountain lion, whenever she gets a new dress she notices that he shall have a pecuniary fit. Her husband is the finder so much of it that he has to pay for it. He is the property of such luxury wear.

A peculiar old fool lately roughing out standard pistols, pointed with a view to upon an engineer while in his cab near Mendon, Mo. Supposing it to be a robber, he boarded the train while at a standstill. The old man was not to be seen, and as he left the engineer saw the train with a revolver. Both men were badly injured.

Considerable excitement in Buffalo in Chinese women for San Francisco are being found with the Chinese Mission. The Chinese, who boarded by two women's Chinese merchants, are supposed to be for the purpose of carrying on the trade.

A young boy was recently born in Kyrtle whose color was distinctly divided, representing the white and black races. One side from the crown of the head down is as black as coal, and the other is equally white and fair. The boy is the pride of the town of Dame. Nature is caused by the fact that the Cherokee side has thick lips and flat nose, kinky hair, &c., &c., &c., in fact, all the African characteristics, while the fairy has all the features of the white people, and soft, silky hair. The arrival created a terrible sensation in the town, and the boy the negroes were instructed to regard it as an omen of evil.

TRAMPS AND LABOR.

St. Louis is running greatly to bark with.

The glass works at North Baltimore will cost $250,000.

Surveyors of canals and coal are increasing on the Big Branch Creek (Ill.) district.

Ten McDonald mill, St. Louis, is running regularly under the receiver's manage ment.

The new fields opened up this summer at Perth, Ind., are taking out 5,000 bars per month.

A score of plate glass monuments 15x18 inches were recently made at the plate glass works at Buttler, Pa.

The Alabama and Tennessee Coal & Iron Company, of Florence, Ala., will soon begin building their coke ovens.

Pig iron is selling in Memphis, of Birmingham, Ala., and T. H. Woodward will build a rolling mill soon at Oxford, same town.

Bowmen among the tack and nail makers at Taunton, Mass., is dull, but not as dull as might be. Nearly all the shops are running for production on orders.

The Rockwell Manufacturing Company, of Pittsburgh, have formed control of the coal property owned by Mr. Hon. near Pittston, Pa., and propose to at once commence its active development.

The steel bulkheaders for the boilers of the six boats ordered by the Red Cross Minneapolis & Manitoba railroad will be 15.32 inches gauge, and 12 feet by 12 feet 6 inches.

Business at the Michigan Car Works, Detroit, the past month has been the best works is on the increase, and the companies have orders on hand for all they can employed all winter. The pay-roll at the car works for September was $110,000, or 40,000 more than for August.

ANY ONE Has Favors Her.

Man and woman are at fault with woman, yet wages touch and nail to get her. He calls her extravagant, yet yearns to pay her bills. He says she is fickle, yet devotes months to finding the spot where that heart should be. She's fickle, yet he struggles for a place in her affection. She's timid, but he asks marriage. She's courage for two. She's a fraud, but a darling. She's a goose, but a duck. She's unkept, and sweet. In fact, she's a study alone, in the very latest style of spats and the most fascinating of fads. She's a rare and graceful and dainty and dear—and everything else, for that matter. Yet she's a most desirable article of household furnishing, and there are mighty few who don't manage to get one without any chance—in a lottery—though she be.

A Distinguished Clergyman's Testimony.

Rev. R. M. Pickens, President of the Methodist Protestant Church of South Carolina, writes from Greenville:

"About four years ago I was attacked with what the physicians pronounced neuralgic rheumatism, accompanied with erysipelas. My appetite failed me entirely, and I had an intermitting pulse and very irregular pulsations of the heart. A terrible pain each come into my chest and shoulders, and I became so helpless that I could attend to no business at all. The pains were horrible, and would sometimes pass from one part of my body to another. Finally the erysipelas broke out on my left hand and arm, and produced much swelling. I was for eighteen months afflicted in this way, and of course used a great many kinds of medicines, but nothing gave me relief. I then finally persuaded me to try Swift's Specific. I took two bottles, and found myself much relieved. I took three bottles more, and I felt myself entirely well again, with no sign or disease left except a stiffness in my hand, a result of the erysipelas. After taking the medicine I gained on an average two pounds of flesh per week. I think S. S. S. a valuable medicine, and I frequently recommend it to my friends."

Write for our Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases, mailed free to anyone.

Swift Specific Co., Sole Proprietors, Atlanta, Ga.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Central Railroad of New Jersey

Station in New York—Foot of Liberty Street.

Time Table in Effect December 6, 1887.

Leave Plainfield 3.37, 8.43, 6.30, 7.30, 7.58, 8.00, 8.37, 9.22, 9.40, 10.02, 10.37, 11.00 a. m., 12.30, 1.37, 2.37, 3.31, 4.30, 4.50, 5.00, 6.27, 6.47, 7.30, 8.30, 9.10, 10.30, p. m. Sunday—3.37, 8.43, 8.37, 9.22, 10.02, 10.37 a. m., 4.30, 5.00, 6.27, 7.30, 8.30, 10.30 p. m.

Leave New York from foot of Liberty Street, 4.40, 6.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.00, 9.30, 10.00, 10.30, 11.00, 11.30, 12.00, 12.30, 1.00, 1.30, 2.00, 2.30, 3.00, 3.30, 4.00, 4.30, 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.00, 9.30, 10.00, 10.30, 11.00, 11.30, 12.00 p. m. Sunday—4.00, 8.45, 9.00, 9.30, 10.00, 10.30, 11.00, 11.30, 12.00, 12.30, 1.00, 1.30, 2.00, 2.30, 3.00, 3.30, 4.00, 4.30, 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.00, 9.30, 10.00, 10.30, 11.00, 11.30, 12.00 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield 5.45, 8.20, 8.30, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 a. m., 12.00, 1.00, 2.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 p. m. Sunday—8.00, 10.00, 11.00 a. m., 4.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 p. m.

Leave Newark, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00, 12.00, 1.00, 2.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 p. m. Sunday—8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 a. m., 12.00, 1.00, 2.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 p. m.

Passengers for Branch Brook Park will Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 5.50, 8.05, 9.21, 11.00, 12.44, 2.40, 3.47, 5.10, 6.11, 8.00, 9.30, 11.30 p. m. Sunday—8.05, 9.21, 10.05, 12.05, p. m. Sunday—6.10, 10.14, 8.30, 5.34, 6.34, 10.05, p. m.

Leave Somerville 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 7.50, 8.18, 9.15, 10.15, A. m., 12.05, 1.30, 2.30, 3.30, 4.40, 5.15, 6.40, 8.15, 9.40, 11.00, p. m. Sunday—8.00, 11.00, 12.00, 1.00, 2.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield 7.10, 9.00, 9.21, a. m., 2.05, 3.34, 5.35, 6.40, 8.15, 9.40, 11.00 p. m. Sunday—9.00, 11.00 a. m., 4.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 p. m.

Leave Easton, 8.30, a. m., 12.05, 4.10, 7.05, p. m. Sunday—7.15, a. m., 7.05, p. m.

5.20, p. m.—For Easton, Allentown, Manch Chunk, &c., &c.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

LEAVE PLAINFIELD

7.10, a. m.—For Easton, Allentown, Bead Manch Chunk, Harrisburg, Pittsburg, connecting at High Bridge for Schuyler's Mountain and Flemington.

8.05, a. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Wind Gap, Manch Chunk, &c.

9.21, a. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Schuyler's Mountain, Easton, Bethlehem, Mauch Chunk, Manch Chunk, Williamsport, Tunnelton, Harrisburg, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre, &c.

11.00, a. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Schuyler's Mountain, Easton, Bethlehem, Reading, Harrisburg, &c.

2.40, p. m.—For Flemington, &c.

5.20, p. m.—For Easton, Allentown, Manch Chunk, &c.

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c.

Leave Plainfield 8.37, 9.22, 10.37, 11.00, a. m., 12.30, 2.37, p. m. Sunday (except Ocean Grove) 8.37, a. m.

For Port Amboy—3.37, 8.43, 9.00, 11.00, a. m. 12.30, 2.37, 4.50, 6.27, 7.30, 8.30, 10.30, p. m. For Matawan—3.37, 8.43, 9.00, 11.00, a. m., 12.30, 2.37, 4.50, 6.27, p. m. Sunday—8.37, a. m.

ROUND BROOK ROUTE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia and Trenton, 5.45, 8.20, 8.30, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00, a. m., 12.00, 1.00, 2.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 p. m. Sunday—8.00, a. m., 4.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 p. m.

RETURNING—LEAVE PHILADELPHIA

North and Green streets, 6.45, 8.00, 10.00, a. m., 1.15, 3.40, 5.25, 6.45, 12.00, p. m. Sunday—8.00, a. m., 4.30, 6.00, 7.00, p. m.

From Third and Berks streets, 8.20, 9.05, 10.05, 11.05, a. m., 12.05, 2.05, 3.05, 4.05, 5.05, 6.05, 7.05, 8.05, 9.05, 10.05, 11.05, p. m.

Through passengers by trains marked* change cars at Round Brook.

I. H. OLMSTED, Gen'l Pass. Agt.

H. P. BALDWIN, Gen'l Pass. Agent.

CHAS. YAEGER,
Practical Upholsterer
33 WEST FRONT STREET,
PLAINFIELD.
25 Years Experience in all Branches.
P. O. Box 152. 1291

PAXINE
CURES
Dyspepsia. Nervous Debility.
Fever and Ague. Malaria.
Intermittent. Liver Complaints.
TRADE MARK.
PAXINE is the result of the best efforts of several prominent physicians and chemists. The ingredients are all vegetable, and the most powerful and effective in overcoming the diseases for which it is recommended. It is scientifically prepared and is specific and certain in its effects, containing no fiery spirits, only the purest and refreshing healthy opiates. Physicians prescribe it in their practice. Druggists keep it in stock. Dealers and we are constantly receiving the highest testimonials as to its merits. Sold by druggists throughout the United States, or postage of price by the Paxine Medicine Co., Chemists, Plainfield, N. J. Send for circular. Sold in Plainfield by Dr. Geo. Mac. Co. Chemist, 31 Very N. Y. Y.

A WONDERFUL OCCURRENCE.
Jersey City, N. J., Sept. 1, 1887.
The most wonderful occurrence in the history of Jersey City, N. J., is the fact that Dr. Miles' Nervine is selling faster than ever before, and thousands testify that after nearly all other remedies had failed, Dr. Miles' Nervine has restored them to perfect health. Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by druggists on a guarantee first bottle will benefit. Book on nerves and a trial bottle free at druggists. Dr. Miles' Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

OWNS AND OPERATES OVER
6,000 Miles
OF PERFECTLY CONSTRUCTED RAILWAY.
PENETRATES THE BEST PORTIONS OF
ILLINOIS, IOWA, WISCONSIN,
MICHIGAN, MINNESOTA,
DAKOTA, NEBRASKA,
and WYOMING.
CHICAGO NORTHWESTERN RAILWAY
CHICAGO
and
MILWAUKEE, ST. PAUL,
MINNEAPOLIS,
COUNCIL BLUFFS, OMAHA.
THE BEST ROUTE TO AND FROM MILWAUKEE, THE PIONEER LINE TO CALIFORNIA.
For maps, time tables, and information in the United States or Canada, call on or address
H. A. CROSS, Trav. Pas. Agt., Lancaster, Pa.
MARVIN HUGHITT, V. P. & GEN'L MGR. R. C. NICHOLS, G. P. & T. AGT.
CHICAGO, ILL.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

READ WHAT

WATSON & CO.

HAVE TO SAY ABOUT CLOTHING!

Since our REMOVAL to our NEW BUILDING we have been busy preparing an entire NEW STOCK of THE BEST SHAPED AND FINEST FINISHED GARMENTS ever shown to our customers; and today we have an immense stock, ALL NEW, STYLISH, HANDSOME and VERY LOW in price. Never was such a stock of ELEGANT GARMENTS shown in the city, each a perfect copy of the most expensive custom-made work, and never before were such low prices named for garments of equal style and durability. It requires no expert to judge of the merits of our stock; for even the most inexperienced at a glance will see their IMPROVED DRESS APPEARANCE when they try them on. Think of the FINEST CASSIMERE PANTS, cut by special patterns, marked in plain figures, at $5, $5.50 and $6 a Pair. The new Cheviots and Shaded Striped Pants, now so popular in custom trade, selling for $3, $3.50 and $4, or our broken lots of FINE PANTS MARKED DOWN daily to close out quick at $2, 2.50 and $3.00 A PAIR. We are quoting prices that can only be made under LOW EXPENSES. We may not be clearing large profits; but we are selling goods, and lots of them, pleasing our old customers, and making new ones, simply by giving them BETTER GOODS than they ever saw. ALL READY TO PUT ON, and saving them all useless expenses like the cost of shows in windows, circus wagons, signs on fences, gifts, commissions, or discounts to favored customers or their friends. You can surely save from 20 to 25 per cent. on your FALL SUITS by coming direct to us. We are finishing daily full lines in all the New Cuts, complete for $10 and $12. The popular COLD THREAD CHEVIOTS that merchants tailors are using, we get up very handsome, and sell at $13 and $15 for complete suits, and in Dress Suits, we have a complete department, stocked with the very latest garments, where you can select a suit for $15, $18 and $20, for which a merchant tailor would surely charge you twice as much and rarely give you such elegant garments. OUR NEW OVERCOAT SALESROOM, on second floor, is now open; and here you can find Montaignac Beavers, satin-lined, for $25; Elysians, all new shades, at $22; Kerseys, in solid and mixed colors, at $18 and $20; Diagonal Velours, (new this season) at $15 and $16, and All-wool Chesterfield Overcoats, lined with cassimere, in all the long cuts, at $10 and $12; besides a Hundred Stylish and durable designs, in all shades, at $7, $8 and $9. Remember, these garments are all cut single by special patterns drafted from actual measure taken in our custom department, kept on convenient racks, and handed to you fresh from the hands of our tailors, free from all creases, wrinkles, or any of the usually objectionable ready-made look. The materials from which FINE CLOTHING is made were never as low as now, and as labor is only a little higher you should buy your clothing from 20 to 30 per cent. below the rates of former years; and this you can do if you save all Intermediate Profits and Useless Expenses and come direct to the makers for it. Before ordering your Winter Clothing you should try on our New Garments. They are Custom Made in every detail. No tailor uses Finer or Newer Fabrics, our Trimmings are the same, the BEST CUSTOM TAILORS WORK for us. Then how can the difference in the garments be told when worn from the most expensive work? Besides you can see just how the goods Look when Made Up and have no trouble in waiting. This is where we are pushing the fine city trade. "REALLY HANDSOME, CORRECT CUT GARMENT, FINISHED, WITH ALL CUSTOM EXTRAS, ALL READY TO PUT ON. It is a fact well known to the public, and not disputed in the trade, that our garments are extensively copied, but NEVER REPRODUCED as we set THEM OUT. SEE THEM and none of the ordinary styles will look right to you.

GEORGE WATSON & CO.,

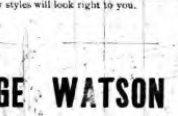
MAKERS OF PERFECT-FITTING CLOTHING,

795 BROAD STREET,

Four Doors Below Market Street. Newark, N. J.

A. M. Vanderbeek & Co.,

This year will sell



GUNS AND GUNNERS' SUPPLIES, CHEAPER THAN EVER BEFORE. BOTH BREECH AND MUZZLE - LOADERS. Also Rifles, Pistols, Ammunition, Gun Materials, &c.

Music and Musical Instruments, MUSIC STANDS, CORNETS, - BANJOS, VIOLINS.

Everything in the Musical Line.

No. 33 Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

New Store! New Goods! New Firm!

BARKALEW & DUNN,

Fancy and Staple Grocers,

NO. 18 NORTH AVENUE.

We sell for Cash and will give Special Inducements.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

HORSES! HORSES!

HORSES AND MULES OF All Kinds.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

I have Sold my Stables in New Brunswick to Janeway & Co., Paper Manufacturers; and Removed my entire business to Newark, N. J., where I have Two large and commodious Stables—one at 520 Broad St. and 19 & 21 Atlantic St., under the management of J. B. Morehous; the other at 121 & 123 Broome St., under the management of C. B. McCrelis. I shall constantly keep from 150 to 200 head of HORSES and MULES, of all kinds, sizes, and qualities, so that persons coming from a distance need have no doubt that they will find anything and everything in shape of Horses or Mules.

Also, Persons living at a distance, too far to drive, who have Horses or Mules to Exchange, I have Men for the purpose of going to examine such, and the exchange can be made by Railroad travel.

Also, Stock delivered to any part of the State Free of Expense, and satisfaction Guaranteed.

☞ From two to three Car loads arrive weekly, from Canada, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky, etc., etc.

Plenty of Second-hand Stock always on hand; good for service in the country.

In buying stock Personally, and paying Cash for the same, with my great experience and acquaintance of the business enables me to have them to sell cheaper than most anyone else.

Selling from 2000 to 2500 a year I can well afford to sell at small profits; so that it will pay anyone to look at my stock before purchasing elsewhere.

150 to 250 Horses & Mules for Sale or Exchange

AT 520 BROAD STREET,

JOHN W. MORRIS, Newark, N. J.

LEGAL NOTICES. INSURANCE.

NOTICE.—The Books of the Overseers of the Poor, containing a list of the persons liable to pay a tax for the year 1887, are now in the office of the undersigned, in Nelson Smith's building, Plainfield, N. J.

CHARLES V. SODEN, C. P.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscriber, as Executor of Jacob Hetzel, deceased, has been audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday, the fourth day of January next. 1888.—Dated—6m.

WILLIAM W. HARRIS.

Date of October 23d, 1887.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors

Union County, Surrogate's Office,

Newark, October 24th, 1887.

Benjamin A. Shepherd, Thomas B. Hewitt, Horace P. Rose, Jacob N. Taylor, and Wilmot E. Wales, Executors of Joseph J. Bentley, deceased.

On application of the above-named Executors it is ordered that they give notice to the creditors of the estate of said deceased to exhibit to the subscriber, one of the Surrogates of the said County of Union, their claims and demands against the said deceased, within three months from the date hereof, and that the said executors do cause this order to be published for the space of three months in the Plainfield Courier-News, a newspaper circulating in said County of Union.

JAMES A. HARRISON, Surrogate.

Dissolution of Partnership

NOTICE is hereby given that the partnership heretofore subsisting between the undersigned, Frank Mountain and William A. Goldsmith, under the firm of Flemings & Mountain, was this day dissolved by mutual consent. All debts owing to the said partnership are to be received by said Stephen A. Fleming, and all claims against the said partnership are to be presented to him for payment, which will be made.

STEPHEN A. FLEMING
JOHN F. ANGLEMAN
FRANK MOUNTAIN,
WILLIAM A. GOLDSMITH.

Dated November 15, 1887. 6w-pd.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the accounts of the subscribers, executors of Hannah K. Stiles, deceased, have been audited and stated by the surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday, the Twenty-fifth day of January next.

Dated November 12, 1887.

ISAAC P. MANN,
FRANK MOUNTAIN,
WILLIAM A. GOLDSMITH.

11-19-4t

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.—To Melissa Dewhurst and John Stelle, Defendants.

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey made on the 19th day of October, 1887, in a cause wherein Samuel H. Allen is complainant and you are defendants, you are required to appear, plead, answer or demur to the bill of complaint filed in said cause on or before the 19th day of January, 1888, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to foreclose a mortgage given by Melissa Dewhurst and Samuel Dewhurst to Samuel H. Allen, dated the 19th day of December, 1885, and recorded in Union county, in Book 147 of mortgages, for the premises in the said bill described, situate in the township of Plainfield, in the county of Union, New Jersey, and you Melissa Dewhurst are made defendant because you have or claim to have some interest in the said premises subject to the lien of complainant's mortgage